TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1975

today in brief

April 'miserable' KIMBERLY — Statistics at the U.S. Weather Bureau here have confirmed what everyone already knew — April was a miserable month. It was wet and cold.

Deadly fumes kill 2 MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Two persons were killed and at least 30 others were injured, several critically, in a chemical accident that sent deadly gas spewing through the Spencer Leather Co. Thursday.

Stassen wins in court INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Harold Stassen, the perennial losing candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has won a victory in court.

Produce cartel proposed KINGSTON, JAMAICA (UPI) — Guyana's prime minister has called on developing nations to set up a giant raw material cartel on the model of oil exporters to gain a greater share of the world's wealth.

4-way race in TT TWIN FALLS — A four-way race for school trustee has slipped in the Twin Falls School District's Zone Two.

Davis eyes NM University POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Dr. William E. Davis, president of Idaho State University, was interviewed this week in Albuquerque, N.M., as a possible new president of the University of New Mexico.

English Conservatives gain LONDON (UPI) — The opposition Conservatives scored huge gains in local government elections over Prime Minister Harold Wilson's governing Labor party, nearly complete results showed today.

BOISE — State Democratic party treasurer Mel Morgan was acquitted Thursday of charges he had obtained credit information under false pretenses. After two hours of deliberation the jury reached its unanimous verdict which was greeted by a short emotional outburst by spectators.

Jury acquits Gem Demo leader

Morgan's son, Richard S. Morgan, testified that the handwriting on the contract with the Credit Bureau was not of a former bookkeeper-employee of the jewelry business owned by his father. The judge, he said, did not have the authority to sign contracts.

Ford, Sadat meet planned in Austria

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford will meet Egypt's President Anwar Sadat in a renewed search for Middle East peace next month and confer with Pope Paul VI, Spanish and Italian leaders in his first plunge into European summery, the White House said today.

North Side papers sold

GOODING — Two weekly papers in North Side counties have been sold to an eastern Idaho publishing family.

Gem court upholds school financing

BOISE (UPI) — In a 3-2 decision, the Idaho Supreme Court upheld Thursday the constitutionality of financing the state's public schools.

Jobless rate up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of job holders increased in April for the first time since last October, but because more persons were looking for work the unemployment rate rose to a 34-year high of 8.9 per cent, the Labor Department said today.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the number of persons employed in April rose by 237,000 to 84,066,000. The number unemployed rose from 7,620,000 to 7,630,000.

The jobless count has risen by 3.3 million persons since August, 1974 when large increases in unemployment began, the bureau said.

The reason that unemployment went up as well as employment was because 430,000 persons entered the job force in April but little more than half were able to find work.

Increases in joblessness were concentrated in the construction, manufacturing, and transportation and public utility industries and among the blue collar occupational grouping, according to the department.

Jobless rates of 19.4 per cent in construction and 13.2 per cent in manufacturing were all — time record highs.

3 arrested for labor camp fire

TWIN FALLS — Three men were in Twin Falls County Jail this morning charged with first degree arson following a fire in a barracks at the labor center south of town.

The labor center management recently had been charged with discriminating against Mexican — American residents.

Arrested were Robert Salinas, 30, and Fernando Hernandez, 41, both Twin-Falls, and Jose Modesto Moreno, 37, Hansen. They were arrested by county officers on first degree arson charges.

The three lives at the labor center had been charged with discriminating against Mexican — American residents. The charges had been denied by the management.

Thailand slaps US BANGKOK (UPI) — Thailand vowed today to defend itself without American help, charging that the United States is a nation without morals that cannot be depended on to fulfill its obligations.

Foreign Minister Chatchaval Choochavanit, commended with blunt sarcasm at a news conference concerning Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger's statement that the United States had obligations of a "moral nature" to defend Thailand.

Magie Valley reaction to the decision was mixed

Sen. John Barker, Boise, head of the Idaho Senate Committee on Health, Education and Welfare, said he was "very surprised." He said he thought the court would uphold trial court Judge Durtsch's decision that proposed financing plan was unconstitutional because they relied heavily on the property tax which allowed inspection in schools, funding from districts to districts.

4-H's honor seniors

TWIN FALLS — Residents of all the senior citizens homes had a pleasant May Day Thursday because of the Twin Falls County 4-H Builders Club.

Members of this teen-age county group of 4-H's visited all the nursing homes in the county because they often are forgotten on holidays other than Christmas and Easter, according to Vicki Trvdy, extension 4-H club leader.

The youths took May Day baskets to each resident at the homes, presenting a short skill entitled "She thinks of me first...at last," in addition to musical numbers.

The builders club is organized for community service projects as well as providing opportunity for the teen-agers to meet new people and have new experiences, Miss Trvdy said.

Prisoner meal costs studied

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County commissioners are preparing a new proposal on prisoner meal costs charged for city prisoners.

Chairman Merl Leonard said there will be an increase in cost.

Presently prisoners in the county jail but arrested by city officers for offenses within the municipalities are fed and housed under city-county agreement. The cities pay 85 cents per meal for the two meals served each day.

This figure was based on estimated cost of food and meal preparation more than a year ago.

Leonard said in the period from July 1, 1974, to Jan. 1, 1975, Twin Falls City paid $266 for meals. Some months the bill was as low as only a few dollars.

Under the original agreement when court reform eliminated city police courts and stipulated all prisoners be housed in county jails, cities paid $1 per day. The county now hires a cook and purchases the food.

Costs of the food items increased over the past few years and the county feels fees charged for non-county prisoners should cover the cost, the commission chairman said.

Leonard said the housing of federal prisoners, such as illegal aliens, is big business. One Sunday the cook prepared meals for more than 140 prisoners in the county jail, including nearly 100 illegal aliens being held here for transportation back to Mexico.

Leonard said since Twin Falls became a center for such operations the county jail has been closed to capacity most of the time. The situation will probably continue, Leonard said, with many more aliens being picked up now that spring farming is starting and attracting the aliens to this area for farm work.

Last week while the prisoner count was down slightly, Sheriff Paul Corder took advantage of the situation to paint the entire old portion of the jail. He said the color is coordinated with the newly remodeled areas being done in blue and white.

Valley briefs

TWIN FALLS — The Square Rounds Square Dance Club will hold a dance Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the "Bicket school gym." The band will call. All square dancers are invited. Please bring finger foods.

TWIN FALLS — A public dance will be held Saturday night at the Odd Fellows Hall beginning at 8:30 p.m. Music will be provided by the Archie Turner Band. Admission will be $1 per person. No refreshments will be served.

Wednesday with the Idaho Department of Public Works to present preliminary plans for the "additional space. These were approved and architects were advised to prepare working drawings. As soon as these are approved by the department of public works bids will be let on the addition.

Bradley said this was part of the original building proposals but original funding did not cover it. The Idaho Legislature approved the necessary $400,000 during the past session.

Vo-tech building gets extra space

TWIN FALLS — An additional 10,000 square feet of space will be added to the College of Southern Idaho vocational technical building now under construction on campus.

Oval Bradley, director of CSI vocational college, said the $2.8 million building which will allow the vocational programs to move to the campus and operate in a single location is scheduled for completion April 15, 1976.

Benefit auction set Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Items are still being received at the Lynwood Shopping Center for the Saturday Humane Society auction.

The auction, postponed from last Saturday because of bad weather, is scheduled for 11 a.m. at the shopping center.

A large truck has been placed on the parking lot for the collection of donated items. Merv Randall, Lynwood merchants chairman, said all types of items will be accepted. Many businessmen in the downtown and shopping center areas have donated merchandise and more is being received.

Anyone wishing to donate auction items may leave them at the truck in the center or contact the Humane Society and they will be picked up.

Gem eyes insurance offer

BOISE (UPI) — State Insurance Director Monroe Gollhofer says a proposal of a Minnesota firm to provide malpractice insurance may be unacceptable to some Idaho physicians.

The Times-News reported Thursday the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co., St. Paul, was expected to offer malpractice insurance to Idaho doctors who will lose their insurance on June 1.

Gollhofer confirmed that St. Paul Fire & Marine has offered to provide the coverage to 500 doctors whose policies are being cancelled by Argonaut Insurance Co. as of June 1.

St. Paul has been in contact with this department and the office of the governor.

Gollhofer said, "We have agreed they will come in if we agree to accept their rates," he said. "We have been holding off on any firm commitment until after the hearing on Argonaut."

Thursday, Gollhofer conducted a hearing on rates charged by Argonaut. Earlier, the company filed its premiums by 300 per cent. Gollhofer said he will send St. Paul actuarial data submitted by Argonaut at the hearing and expects to hear Monday or Tuesday what rates St. Paul would propose.

"I'll immediately advise the doctors as to what offer has been made, whether the rates appear reasonable," Gollhofer said.

But he said many physicians do not like the "ratemake contract" which St. Paul plans to offer.

TF petition backs Hansen

TWIN FALLS — A "grass roots" petition drive supporting Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, reportedly has been started in Twin Falls.

Backers say about 500 persons have signed petitions asking that Hansen remain in office.

Peter Lane, Twin Falls, spokesman for the petitioners, said the drive is aimed at assuring the Standards of Official Conduct Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives that Hansen has the support of most of the voters in Idaho's Second Congressional District.

Hansen was sentenced to two months in prison on felony violations of campaign finance laws. The sentence was later dropped to $2,000 in fines, and the charges reduced to a misdemeanor.

"Most of the voters I have talked to are encouraged by the congressman's honesty in admitting that errors were made in campaign filing procedures," Lanesaid.

"For over a decade, Congress has been controlled by liberal Democrats," Lane said, "and it appears that they do not like opposition in any form, especially in the form of a popular, dedicated congressman from the tiny state of Idaho."

"That's why there has been a conspiracy among the Democrats and Liberal Republicans to take away, by underhanded means, the seat in Congress awarded George Hansen by the voters of the second district."

"According to 'Lane,' the petition addressed to the chairman of the House committee, state that Hansen "has our support and encouragement," and request that "consideration be given to ask Mr. Hansen to vacate his seat."

Lane said Hansen should not be "crucified for mistakes made by inexperienced, volunteer campaign workers."

He said the drive has been underway for about three weeks and several petitions have been sent to the committee. He asked that those interested in signing the petition call him at 734-2796.

Open house Saturday

TWIN FALLS — An open house is planned for Saturday at the YWCA to introduce the public to the new Women's Center program.

The informal event will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. and interested persons are invited to discuss the program with the committee and to make suggestions for expanding or revising the program.

Ella Nelson, member of the Women's Center program said it is an outgrowth of the Women's Awareness Week observed here recently. It provides a library of resource materials, history and legal information pertaining to women.

Though the center, women will also be able to contact resource people for information and assistance on various subjects.

Mrs. Nelson said following the Saturday open house regular office hours for the center will be maintained at the Y. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Women interested in the center facilities meet each Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. at the Y building. The center also has a telephone extension and interested persons may call the YWCA for additional information.

Vietnam's refugees

Wall Street Journal
With the chaotic last flights from South Vietnam, the total of refugees who have thrived in their lot with the United States has now reached some $5,000.
While no small number, this was obviously not nearly as many as those who wanted to leave, and quite possibly not a very fair selection of those who most deserved or required asylum.
Yet the refugees will shortly be entering the country from the processing centers in Guam and the Philippines, and it is up to the United States to help them make the best of their new life.
Exile, after all, is a miserable existence, and those who choose it have made one of the most important decisions a person can make.

JAMES RESTON

Last Americans in Saigon were first arrivals

WASHINGTON — In happier Vietnamese days, some cartoonist joked: "Will the last man through the tunnel please turn out the light?"
But it is an interesting sidelight on the tragedy that the last Americans remaining in Saigon were the first Americans almost a generation ago to go there — the reporters who stayed behind.

Not to be too sentimental about these human tragedies, there were reporters who not only put down the facts of the war, but predicted the failure of American and South Vietnamese policy.
It is not possible to be fair in calling the roll, but some reporters, who were vitally for telling the truth as they saw it, should not be forgotten in the end.

non-American correspondents like Bernard Fall, lost their lives in the struggle.

Official line that all was going well, and refusing to "get on the team," but in the end, the reporters came nearer to the truth in Vietnam than the officials.

There may be an important point here: It is no longer possible for a free press to fight even a limited war in a world of modern communications, with reporters and television cameras on the battlefield, against the feelings and wishes of the people.
And beyond that, whether, after Vietnam and Watergate, even the power of the American presidency can be imposed successfully. Nixon relied on "executive privilege" and "national security" to work his will, but the reporters, the Congress, and the courts brought him down.

Maybe the radio and television reporters with their cameras had more influence than anybody else, but it is not possible to record the history of the war of Southeast Asia without mentioning the role of what is called the media, for good or bad.

One result is that the reporters of the press and radio and television are now being blamed for the defeat of American policy and power in Indochina, which is another way of challenging the right of the press to be more honest with the American people than the officials, and with all their shortcomings, their contributions should not be despised or forgotten.

White House aspirants shave clean

WASHINGTON — Citizens whose lives are warmed by gentle excursions into nostalgia perhaps will join me in a lament concerning the phylloxera and their Vietnamese colleagues.
Meanwhile, some reporters have stuck it out, even against orders to leave. They are at the end of the tunnel, but they're not turning out the light.

The Wallace reminder

Christian Science Monitor
Another presidential race is starting up and the Democrats are still in a quandary over how to hold their own winning core — the northern working class and the South.
The problem is best symbolized for the Democrats in the tenacious candidacy of George Wallace of Alabama.
The Governor does have political assets: His wheelchair campaigning shows him to be feisty, a no-quitter. He strikes a populist chord on high taxes and big government that makes him a champion of the "little guy."

Hanoi spoils US hopes for talks

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials thought a negotiated solution to the Vietnam war was "highly probable" up until last Sunday night, according to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Trouble is, it does take courage to grow a moustache in Bees by the bonanza of an emulating the same old frontispiece. In the shaving mirror, I manufactured one of the things as the alternative to a face-lifting job.

Peter Lisagor

Solemn to the point of grimness and admitting the personal pain he felt over the failure of a policy he helped to structure, Kissinger said it was still "too early to judge" whether a battle over Saigon would ensue.

What's being promoted?

Editor, Times-News:
The Sunday edition of the Times-News reported that Dow Chemical Co. was giving a $4,000 check to the City of Twin Falls to help install a traffic signal on a road leading into the Snake River Canyon on the south side of the river. The money was to be presented by J. D. McCollum, district manager of the J.R. Simplot Co.

The incredible part of this news is that the money is given as "an agricultural marketing promotion program." Since there is no agricultural operation whatever at the end of that road, what is the justification for such an expenditure?

In the same article, it states "A housing development by McCollum and a golf course are reached by the south side canyon road." Is this the reason for the "agricultural marketing promotion program" check being spent for a traffic light? McCollum's golf course is being built there, but there is no housing development, nor has one ever been approved by either the Twin Falls County Zoning Commission or the county commissioners.

Several times this proposed housing development has been referred to as if it were a foregone conclusion; perhaps the promoters think if the statement is repeated often enough, people will be fooled into believing it is a true statement.

Just what is being promoted by the money from Dow Chemical Co.?

China sees US in positive Asia role

By DAVID BONAVIA
Dispatch of the Times, London.
PEKING — China regards the role of Saigon as enabling the United States to play a more positive role in Asia in future.

The government had not commented officially as of Wednesday on the news from Vietnam, but its position has been made clear over recent weeks. Ranceo, at the American role in Indochina has long since given way here to regard that the United States could not have extricated itself earlier.

Chou En-Lai, the premier, played an important role in the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina, and the Chinese leaders principally blame the late John Foster Dulles for going back on the agreements reached then. They consider this to have been the origin of America's 20-year involvement in Vietnam.

As for Cambodia, even China did not expect left wing revolution to succeed there so quickly. The fact that it did is seen as being mainly the result of American military intervention.

This kind of thinking represents the key to China's rejection of the "domino theory," which has been the rationale for America's actions in Indochina. The Chinese leaders have made it

Wednesday by a message of greetings on the anniversary of the founding of the Malayan Communist party, even though China already has diplomatic relations with Kuala Lumpur.

China would reject any suggestion that her relations with the United States may suffer as a result of the Communist victories in Indochina. Peking considers that it did its best to warn the Americans to leave Vietnam sooner and that that was the mistake it could not avoid.

The Chinese feel that the United States has other and more pressing obligations in the world, notably in holding the balance of power against the Soviet Union in Europe and elsewhere.

Now would they see any harm in a closer relationship between Japan and the United States, in a part of the world that they also consider to be seriously threatened by Soviet ideas of expansion. Having shed the burden of Vietnam, China feels the Americans may be able to turn their attention more seriously to these questions.

Naturalization questioned

Editor, Times-News:
In the April 25 Times-News in the article about citizenship proceedings in Twin Falls, speaking on the Hyland children, it says, "Although their parents are citizens, they were born in Thailand and had to go through the naturalization process although they were not required to study and pass written and oral tests as were the adults."

If children born in other countries to American parents are not American citizens, how come the World Book Encyclopedia says, "The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 combined all laws on American citizenship, nationality and immigration. This law provides that a person born outside the United States is an American citizen if both his parents are American citizens and if either one of them has established residence in the United States."

I would appreciate an explanation of this contradiction.

3 MV bean plants sold to California company

TWIN FALLS — Three Magic Valley plants of the MJ Bean Co. have been acquired by the Wickes Corp., with headquarters in San Diego, Calif.

The acquisition of the twin bean co. facilities in Twin Falls, Wendell and Bell Rapids was jointly announced effective Thursday by W.L. Gormley, general manager of the western division of Wickes Agriculture, Greeley, Colo., and Paul West, manager of the MJ Bean Co.

West will continue with Wickes Agriculture as manager of field services for the three Magic Valley plants.

Craig Hawker, formerly of New Dakota, will move to Twin Falls to become general manager of Wickes Agriculture operations in Idaho. He and his wife, Renae, and their two children are currently in Twin Falls.

Wickes Agriculture, with divisional headquarters in Saginaw, Mich., operates 27 grain and bean elevators, three grain terminals and a bean terminal as well as a bean retail packaging plant in Michigan. The western division of Wickes Agriculture operated seven bean elevators in Minnesota, North Dakota and Nebraska and now the three bean seed processing plants in Idaho. The major company maintains a highly diversified operation with division in lumber and building supplies with 270 retail outlets across the country and in Europe. It also manufactures housing, mobile homes, recreational vehicles, commercial and industrial buildings, furniture, machine tools, presses and graphite products and maintains financial services, insurance and agriculture, Gormley said.

He said the Idaho facilities were acquired to assure the firm an adequate supply of high quality seed beans to be marketed primarily through the firm's elevators in various parts of the country.

The Idaho plants will also buy commercial beans from local growers and contract for seed production of specific classes and varieties of bean seed.

Wickes Agriculture distributes dry edible beans with marketing outlets around the world. Many of the beans

Horsemanship clinic set

GOODING — A horsemanship and barrel racing clinic is planned for Saturday and Sunday at the Gooding County Fairgrounds.

The clinic is being sponsored and will be instructed by Steve Hays, Gooding, and Shirley Daniels, Shoshone. The two women recently attended a professional barrel racing clinic in Pocatello where Dale and Florence Younce, Oklahomas, were instructors.

Mrs. Younce is a former world champion barrel racer and he is a former Rodeo Cowboys Association caller.

Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Hays will be bringing some of the new techniques along with others they have recently learned at barrel racing clinics at the weekend clinic in Gooding.

Mrs. Daniels said the workshop should be of benefit to beginner horsemen and those who have green horses.

Anyone interested in registering for either day may contact Mrs. Hays, 834-5073 or Mrs. Daniels, 836-7717.

TF PTSA holds last meeting

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls High School PTSA held its last meeting of the year Tuesday evening in the high school cafeteria.

Jack Muldoon, president, introduced the new officers for the year 1975-76.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rudd will serve as co-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Meyerhoefer will serve as co-vice presidents; Mrs. Max Mathews is the new secretary, and Mrs. Tom Moore has been elected treasurer.

The new officers were installed by Tom Moore, president of the Twin Falls PTSA Council.

The new student body officers for 1975-76 were introduced to the capacity crowd of 224. They are Graydon Stanley, president; David Arrington, vice president; Wendy Walker, secretary, and Lisa Alfred, treasurer.

The highlight of the evening was a tour of the high school facilities for incoming sophomores.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. DeVoe Brown.

Soldiers' reactions vary at war's end

By JAMES P. STERBA
O.N.Y. Times Service
FT. BELLEVILLE, Ala. — American soldiers woke up Wednesday morning saddened, relieved, glad, embittered and frustrated over the news that the Vietnam war was over and that the side they had fought had lost.

A few said that when they heard of Saigon's surrender late Tuesday night, they wept.

When Brig. Gen. Joseph P. Kingston, the commander of this training base, arrived at this office, he was confronted by a local newspaper reporter's obvious question: What did he think about it? The general, a Vietnam combat veteran decorated for valor, did not hesitate — he referred the question to Department of the Army headquarters in Washington. His feelings remained private.

Eight first sergeants and sergeants major who were seated around a table here Wednesday morning were asked what they thought about the war's ending. They sat in silence for a few seconds and then responded, in order, "No comment."

Officially, Army spokesmen at posts around the country repeated basically what the information officer at Ft. Stewart, Ga., said over the telephone:

"The current Army position is to reserve comment at this time in keeping with the President's desire that this not be a time of recrimination but a time for binding up wounds."

But among themselves and to their friends, the American soldiers reacted in various ways.

"Whoopie," shouted a sergeant at Ft. Bliss, Tex. "I'm glad it's over with. We had no business over there in the first place."

A major who served in Vietnam and is based at Ft. Hood, Tex., said, however, that the Vietnam war was far from over for the United States Army, regardless of how much some of his leaders would like to put it behind them.

"We have got to remember, I study it and find out what happened in great detail," he said. "I think this is vitally important. Both our military and political mistakes have to be learned and analyzed before we can let this thing die."

If there is a commonly expressed opinion among American veterans of Vietnam it is this: The United States sent to Vietnam an army with its hands tied behind its back. It could not fight all out to win because politicians and diplomats were running the health district medical director, on health aspects of poops and a talk on the contractor's view of public poops by Leon Uribe of Urie Pools Co.

Robert M. MacConnell, assistant attorney general, will discuss legal aspects and Roger Perotto, registered microbiologist, will speak on pool microbiology, during the afternoon.

Environmentalists from the health district will outline local district regulations.

On the second day's agenda are such topics as pool record keeping by district environmentalists; operational techniques of public poops by Sun Valley pool officials; pool water relationships, problems and answers; Stephen Bastian, southeastern district environmentalist, and equipment and operation by Carl Ellsworth health and welfare engineer.

A $5 registration fee will be charged.

Several officers at Army posts around the country agreed with a sergeant here at Ft. McClellan who said, "Americans hate to lose, and getting over this is not going to be easy."

Some were bitter over the waste of American lives, the loss of friends, and especially, the rout of the South Vietnamese forces in the final stages of the war.

"I lost 37 people the last time I was there, with my Air Cavalry troop," another sergeant said here. "And to see it go down the drain so quickly hurts. It really hurts."

Some were deeply moved as they watched television programs reviewing the war as it was ending.

Ford vetoes hikes in farm price support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite congressional claims that higher crop supports are needed this year to protect farmers and assure heavy future food production, President Ford Thursday vetoed a bill boosting 1975 price guarantees for wheat, feed grains, soybeans, cotton and milk.

Ford said in a veto message that spending under the bill would add an unnecessary $1.6 billion to his budget deficit and would be "costly not only to consumers and taxpayers, but to American farmers in the long run."

The one-year "emergency" bill became law, Ford said, it could dry up markets for farm products and "lead back to 'discriminated polities' resulting in huge surpluses, multibillion-dollar federal spending and a revival of government acreage controls for farmers. In the long run, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said, the bill would also have meant higher food prices for consumers.

Democratic lawmakers charged Ford's action would leave farmers without adequate price protection at a time when their costs are at record levels and the government is calling on them for all-out food production. They said administration cost estimates were greatly exaggerated.

Ford did not say Butz earlier predicted he would soften the impact of his veto by ordering administrative action to raise wheat and feed grain support loan rates to about halfway between present levels and those proposed in the bill. But he took two steps designed to mollify farm critics.

The President promised he would order increases in support loan rates for wheat, feed grains and soybeans later if unforeseen further declines in farm prices require such action. Also, in a move strongly urged by GOP lawmakers, he announced "we are determined to do everything possible" to avoid any revival of federal export controls on farm products.

Farmers had protested bitterly against federal restraints on exports of soybeans in 1973 and a wide range of crops in late 1974 and early 1975, claiming the action had driven down their prices. Ford asserted in his statement that "our farm products must have unfettered access to world markets."

Chairman Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., of the House Agriculture Committee said the House would probably vote on overriding the veto late next week, but conceded it would be "a difficult, uphill fight." But he predicted the veto would be upheld, partly because of a recovery of farm prices in mid-April.

New Viet Cong rulers slap S. Viet labor chief

By United Press International

The new Viet Cong rulers of South Vietnam took over the nation's labor movement today and branded the country's top union leader a traitor.

The Viet Cong, in a broadcast over Radio Saigon, said Communist workers seized the headquarters of the Confederation of Labor, the umbrella organization for South Vietnam's unions.

The broadcast, monitored in Bangkok, said 2,000 workers "belonging to the committee for the defense of labor rights" seized the labor building in Saigon.

The Viet Cong called the leader of the confederation "traitor Tran Quoc Huu," but made no mention of his whereabouts. Huu had been considered a possible presidential candidate before the fall of the former government.

The Communists said the confederation would be replaced by a liberation trade union and ordered all members of the old organization to report within 24 hours.

The new regime, moving rapidly to impose a Communist society on South

Vietnam, has already nationalized all farms, factories and businesses in the country.

The Viet Cong said "many persons in the Saigon puppet administration took dozens of workshops, cargo ships, cargo planes and jet fighters" to neighboring countries.

The statement, broadcast by Peking's New China news agency and monitored in Hong Kong, said the Viet Cong has "the right to recover all property recently stolen and taken away by members of the puppet army and puppet administration."

But in Washington, Defense Secretary James Schlesinger said the United States "retains ultimate title" to South Vietnamese warplanes because of aid clauses prohibiting transfer of military hardware to other governments.

"So I would not think that we would have difficulty in reasserting title to those aircraft," Schlesinger said Thursday.

Thai Prime Minister Kuleit Pramoi, in an apparent attempt to avoid offending the new government in Saigon, has promised to return South Vietnamese aircraft down to Thailand.

The Viet Cong's liberation Radio, in a broadcast from the conquered country, said today all overseas diplomats of the fallen government, including officials at the United Nations, have ceased to represent South Vietnam.

The broadcast, monitored in Singapore, called on South Vietnamese embassy staff members abroad to "remain at their posts and await new orders."

The Viet Cong said all properties, documents and bank accounts held by the former government in foreign countries "now belong to the people of Vietnam."

"Those who perform meritorious service in this regard will be commended and rewarded," the radio said. "Those who desert and destroy or steal property will be dealt with according to the law."

Communications between Saigon and the rest of the world were cut soon after the Communists captured Saigon Monday, ending three decades of war in Vietnam.

Budget deficit defended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has proposed the largest deficit in history, but Sen. Edward S. Muskie and Rep. Brock Adams are in the politically unenviable positions of defending even larger deficits proposed by Congress.

Muskie says he has spent 40 days in Maine since Jan. 1 explaining to skeptical Democrats why a deficit this year is inevitable, desirable and bound to be larger than Ford prefers.

Muskie steered a resolution through the Senate Thursday calling for $86 billion in spending in the fiscal year which starts July 1 and a resultant "recession deficit" of $67.2 billion.

Adams, D-Wash., with the help of only three of the 13 Republicans who voted, won the narrowest of victories in a 200 to 196 House vote. Approved was a resolution for spending $368.3 billion with a deficit of $70 billion and a $3 billion increase in taxes through tax reform.

These figures, which now must be negotiated into one nonbinding congressional recommendation — compare with Ford's proposal to limit spending to $335.6 billion and the deficit to $40 billion.

Muskie and Adams, as chairmen of the Senate and House Budget Committees, were the chief proponents of going beyond Ford's recommendations.

They took heat from conservatives and liberals, and they may be in for further trouble down home. Polls show the idea of a balanced budget has great popular appeal even though economists say it would plunge the country into a depression.

Adams said he fears no fallout from being out front on a $70 billion deficit proposal.

"The people understand that the deficit is to a great degree produced by the recession," he said. "If we can turn this economy around, the people are prepared to say hooryay."

Muskie says the pressures to cut government spending are strong — "even from people whose problems are such the government can't ignore them."

Most of the 16 blacks in the House rebelled against Adams. They felt the proposal budgeted too little relief from the recession's victims and not enough money to stimulate recovery. Many economists agree.

Cypriots huddle

VIENNA (UPI) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders met again today in the last day of a five-day meeting they said has made progress toward establishing a central government on the bitterly divided Mediterranean island.

But U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim told newsmen at the opening of the final Vienna session not to expect unrealistically optimistic results.

"As I said before the meeting started, it would be unrealistic to expect a solution of the whole problem to be reached here in such a brief time, but I do feel we have made some progress here," Waldheim said.

Glafkos Clerides, the Greek Cypriot leader, and Rauf Denktash, the Turkish Cypriot leader, have agreed that negotiators from the island's two communities will meet again in either New York or Vienna before June 15.

Chrysler joins auto sale slump

DETROIT (UPI) — A $117 million loss at Chrysler Corp. — the worst in its 50-year history — pushed the automotive industry "Big Three" into the deepest three-month deficit since the 1930s Great Depression.

Chrysler was the last of the auto giants to report results of the January-March quarter in which new car deliveries were at a 14-year low. Its top officers, despite the large amount of red ink, expressed confidence that "the worst of the economic crisis appears to be behind us."

Chrysler said its net loss, before a change to a new accounting method, was $117 million compared with a net profit of $1.6 million in the energy crisis — affected first quarter of 1974. It had a record $89.8 million profit in the first three months of 1973.

The loss at the No. 3 automaker was even greater than the $75 million deficit it had in the final three months of 1974 and reflected its sharp drop in new car deliveries and huge worker layoffs that still have 40,000 hourly employees off the job.

Together with reports earlier this week from General Motors and Ford, the "Big Three" suffered a $156 million loss compared with a $245.6 million profit last year.

Shoshone youths perform

SHOSHONE - Special services at the Shoshone LDS Church Sunday night featured a program by the Seminary. Seminary teacher Mrs. M. J. Dille was presented a corsage in appreciation for her work.

Alan Garrett, member of the class, conducted. A vocal duet was sung by Laurie Hansen and Vikki Stimpson and the entire class participated in singing a number.

Speaking parts were by Kathy Stowell, Lorna Thorne, David Casper, Vikki Stimpson, Robert Heath, Terri Larsen, Laurie Hansen, Mrs. Dille and Bishop Lamar Duffin.

Mrs. Phil Mitchell and Tommy Bateman were presented certificates of appreciation for their work on the ward road show. Miss Bateman wrote the script and Mrs. Mitchell was director.

Wednesday night youth meetings for the church will begin at 8 p.m. until further notice. They have been meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Darlene Hansen was sustained as chorister of the Relief Society.

Youth Sunday observed

TWIN FALLS - Youth Sunday will be observed at the Presbyterian Church of Twin Falls this week at the 11 o'clock service of worship.

Taking part in the service will be Susan Argyle, Cheryl Greenup, Norm Dowd, Lisa Gerber and Sherry Greenup. Rev. Thomas E. Young and Bill Ward will deliver the sermon entitled "Christian Behavior and Virtues."

Cindy Marlin will deliver a children's sermonette for the young people of the church school. The youth choir, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Airhart, will sing.

The 9:30 service of worship in the Fireside Lounge continues with a coffee hour following. Church school is held at both 9:30 and 11 and child care is provided during both services.

Knights elect leader

TWIN FALLS - Dick Henning Jr., Twin Falls, was elected state secretary of the Knights of Columbus at the group's convention here last Friday and Saturday.

Jim Schindler, Twin Falls, was elected first alternate to the Supreme Convention to be held in Miami, Fla. in August.

Other officers include Frank Hartstein, Moscow, state deputy; George McDowell, Coeur d'Alene, state treasurer; Jerry Young, Boise, state advocate, and Frank Trippel, Mountain Home, state warden. Father Thomas Lahey, Twin Falls, is currently state chaplain.

The Twin Falls Knights of Columbus Council 1416 was awarded the State Council Activities Award during the convention.

Assembly activities listed

SHOSHONE - A teen talent playoff for the Southern Idaho Assembly of God churches will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the Twin Falls First Assembly of God Church.

In other upcoming activity for the area churches a mother-daughter banquet will be served at 7 p.m. Monday at the Jerome Church for Missionaries and their mothers.

Guest speaker at the Shoshone Assembly of God Church Sunday was Rev. Jerry Field, Twin Falls. He spoke at both the morning and evening worship services.

Nazarenes honor babies

TWIN FALLS - Babies younger than four years old will be especially recognized this Sunday at the Nazarene Church with a gift from Mary K. Chastain, supervisor of the cradle roll department.

The pastor's sermon will be, "And a Little Child Shall Lead Them."

The Hendrix Trio will furnish music for the morning service. At the 7 p.m. service there will be a special installation of Sunday school workers including the bus ministry, Sunday School teachers, supervisors, officers and children's church workers.

Refreshments will be served in the fellowship hall after the evening service.

Twin Falls delegates to the 63rd annual district assembly in Nampa May 7, 8 and 9 will be the pastor and his wife, the John Nelsons, Don Burchfield, and Mrs. Rossel, Gary Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Garlington, Gladys Coxen, Rose Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lowry.

Singer-guitarist 'testifies'

TWIN FALLS - A former Las Vegas entertainer who is now a minister will present a testimony Thursday at the Twin Falls Christian Center.

REV. Chico Holiday, described as a "brilliantly talented young singer-guitarist," will present his testimony at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Rev. Holiday, according to press releases, formerly sang in Las Vegas, Reno and Lake Tahoe, where he began interspersing his program with religious songs.

The public is invited. The Christian Center is located at 181 Morrison St.

Primitives entertain

ALMO - Youth and Almo LDS wards Primary organizations combined for the children's sacrament meeting Sunday at the Almo chapel. The theme "I Will Follow Jesus" was carried out in dialogue and songs.

Singing was directed by Mrs. Rulon Koyle with Mrs. William Jones as accompanist. Officers and teachers assisting were Mrs. Robert Ward, Mrs. Zenith Taylor, Mrs. William Tracy, Mrs. Betty Tracy, Mrs. Dorena Erickson, Mrs. Ronald Ward and Carolin Kington.

Performance scheduled

THE Western Baptist College Trio from Salem, Ore., will present a musical program at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Grace Baptist Church, 788 Eastland Drive N. Pastor Robert Seaman invites the public to hear the singers.

Papyrus document stirs controversy in France

CHICAGO Daily News PARIS - A "Fifth Gospel" based on a papyrus document possibly older than the earliest existing copies of Matthew, Mark and John, is stirring controversy here.

A new French translation of the 1,600-year-old book of the gospel according to Thomas is being presented by its author, Philippe de Saurez, as an older and more authentic message than the New Testament gospels.

The ancient book consists of 114 sayings of Jesus using concrete images to project a philosophy close to many modern-day ideas and paralleling some of the great official beliefs.

Fathers of the Christian Church rejected the Thomas gospel about 300 years after Christ and French Catholic theologians are displaced by the new attention it is getting.

"It calls into question our knowledge of Jesus," the big weekly magazine Paris-Match headed.

Other scholars dismiss much of De Saurez's claims for the Thomas gospel. "But some of them concede that parts of the book probably are the authentic words of Jesus, even though not quoted in the four official gospels.

The Thomas gospel was discovered 30 years ago in an Egyptian tomb near Nag Hammadi in upper Egypt. It was part of a papyrus scroll library possibly buried with a pharaonic prince.

Bound in leather, it is written in Copt, the ancient Egyptian language still used in the Egyptian Coptic (Christian) Church.

The first English and French translations were published in 1959. One by William R. Schoedel of the University of Chicago was included in a book by Chicago Prof. Robert M. Grant and David Noel Freedman of Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, "The Secret Sayings of Jesus."

Most of the earlier writings on the Thomas gospel played down its importance by viewing it as part of the agnostic tradition already condemned and banned by church fathers.

All the other translators started with the same hypothesis, that Thomas could only be a remake, and prolongation of the four gospels," De Saurez said in an interview.

Brethren provide relief

ELGIN, Ill. - Among the recent signs of spring are carloads of volunteers trekking hundreds of miles to Alabama and Mississippi to work in tornado-stricken communities.

The volunteers, more than 3,000 since 1972, are participants in the Disaster Response Program of the Church of the Brethren. Entire families, retirees, students, ladies and clergy donate from a few days to several months to special assignments.

A Disaster Response Network, composed of district and local units, has been established nationally to enlist and schedule the short-term service of both skilled and unskilled volunteers before moving into a community.

Plans are slated with the Red Cross and local and federal governmental agencies. Generally the Disaster Response Program continues several months after direct relief services have ended.

Major efforts by Brethren to disaster victims in recent years have centered on the Gulf Coast of Mississippi, and in Los Angeles, Calif., Buffalo Creek, W. Va.; Inverness, Miss.; Fort Fort, Pa.; Rodney, Miss.; Nemia, Ohio; Monticello and Talma, Ind.; Huntsville, Ala.; Ninety Six, S.C.; and San Pedro Sula, Honduras.

TWIN FALLS - Catholic women from throughout Idaho will gather at St. Edward's Parish Hall, Twin Falls, for the diocesan convention of the Idaho Council of Catholic Women (ICCW) today through Sunday.

FILER - Rev. R.C. Muhy presented the devotional service to Pease Lutheran Walter League member at their meeting in the fellowship hall. Mr. and Mrs. Kent Lierman are new counselors for the group. Tammy Allen and Christy Greck served refreshments.

TWIN FALLS - The United Methodist Church announces the sponsorship of the special milk program. Milk will be made available to children at no separate charge and will be provided without regard to race, color or national origin. Milk will be provided at the Sawtooth United Methodist Camp.

Mormons convene at Declo

DECLO - "Go Ye Into All the World" was the theme of the Declo LDS Stake quarterly conference held last weekend at the Declo Stake Center.

Bishop H. Burke Peterson, Phoenix, Ariz., presided. As guest speaker he stressed the importance of knowing the Savior. Ways to do this, he said, are by prayer, reading the scripture, giving service and being unselfish.

Bishop Peterson was named first counselor in the presiding bishopric of the LDS Church April 6, 1972. For two years prior to moving to Salt Lake City on his fulltime assignment as a general authority of the church, he was a regional representative of the Council of Twelve.

State President Joseph A. Gillitt stressed the importance of keeping the Lord's commandments. "Be missionaries, pay your tithing and do the work of your Heavenly Father," he said.

Other speakers were Elmer Rogers, Jay Cottle and Elmer Boyer.

A sustaining vote was taken to advance James Darrington and Herber Darner to the office of elders; Clarence Barrett, Willard Bowen and Roscoe Ward to office of high priest.

Mrs. Albert Fillmore, was released from the state Relief Society presidency along with her counselors: Mrs. Wallace Baker and Mrs. Reid Alred. Mrs. Alred was sustained as president of the society with her counselors: Mrs. Gert Gerner, second counselor, and Mrs. Gene Baxter, secretary-treasurer.

David Boden was ordained as bishop of the Almo ward with Curtis Durfee, first counselor; Rexce Ward, second counselor, and Elbert Durco, executive secretary.

Special music was provided by the Elmo ward choir with Mrs. Orville Sears organist and Mrs. Ray Douthit, director. Prayers were offered by Dennis Barrow and Ricky Booth.

Lutherans expand ministries

MINNEAPOLIS - Members of the American Lutheran Church have pledged nearly $30 million through the United Mission Appeal to expand the church's ministries in the United States and other countries.

Surpassing a "minimum expectation" of $25 million, UMA directors from the church body's 18 districts last night (April 21) reported pledges of $27.1 million.

Another $10-million in major gifts and miscellaneous contributions raised the current total of $32.2 million.

Noting that the pledges represent involvement of slightly more than 60 per cent of the ALC's 3,825 congregations, some observers are suggesting that the special appeal may reach $35 million.

The announcement came on the eve of the American Lutheran Church's 15th anniversary.

NAOMI and BILL HAYES missionaries

Evangelists appear

TWIN FALLS - Evangelist Bill and Naomi Hayes will be in special meetings at First Assembly of God Church starting Wednesday and continuing through May 18.

The public is invited to attend the service in the church at 189 N. Locust St. here in Twin Falls. Services will be held each night at 7:30 Monday through Friday - Sunday will be 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Evangelist Hayes presents a living account of the saving and keeping power of the Lord Jesus Christ. Pastor James Hicks says and he is a dynamic speaker with an important message for every age group.

Both Bill and Naomi Hayes have traveled throughout the nation holding revivals and seminars. They are former Teen Challenge directors.

Gooding Methodists set 'Laity Month'

GOODING - The month of May will be celebrated as "Laity Month" with the 11 a.m. worship services planned and directed by the laity.

Sunday will be "Youth Sunday" with the high school youths in charge. They will present a dramatic sermon on the theme "Is This Our Church?!"

Following the morning service there will be an all-church potluck dinner with homemade ice cream. People are invited to wear their casual picnic clothes to church. Family games will follow the church dinner.

May 11 is "Mother's Day" and the program will be planned and directed by the Methodist Men's Club.

May 18 will be "Women's Day," the theme being: "Communication and Love." The program will include a voice choir presenting a chorale reading. A coffee hour to honor the graduates will follow the service.

May 24 will be a "Service of Sacred Music" by the choir. All the favorite anthems, solos and special musical groups

Is it really necessary to run an ad more than once to get results?

That's a good question.

and here's a good answer.

There have been, of course, ads which obtained results just one appearance in the newspaper, but this is rare. The average time span is 3 1/2 days. This is a relatively short time to find a cash buyer for most items. However, three and a half weeks can be a very long time for people in need of the cash the sale of any item will bring. This is why our best approach is to run your ad each day, cancelling it after the money your item has been sold. This not only assures you of quicker results, it also lets you run your ad at the lowest rate.

TF band announces scholarship winners

TWIN FALLS — Linda Stevens and LeAnn Gates have been selected to receive $250 scholarships from Twin Falls Bank and Trust to attend the college of their choice.

According to Curtis Eaton, bank president, Miss Stevens plans to attend the University of Idaho, majoring in accounting. She is the daughter of Wayne Stevens, Richland Ore., and Lorraine Stevens, Twin Falls. She is a member of the National Honor Society, International Club, Pep Club and Future Teachers of America.

Miss Gates, daughter of James O. Gates, Culver City, Calif., and Bonalyn Gates, Twin Falls, plans to attend Boise State University to major in accounting and data processing. She is a member of the National Honor Society, International Club, Students League and Office Occupations Club.

The two scholarships are awarded annually to Twin Falls High School seniors selected on the basis of scholastic standing, character, leadership and citizenship, Eaton said.

TF woman elected district director

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Tom Hicks, Twin Falls, was elected to serve as district director of the Magic Valley District Federated Garden Clubs at a spring meeting Wednesday.

Other new officers include Mrs. Glenn Draper, Burley, first vice director; Mrs. Victor Nelson, Twin Falls, second vice director; Mrs. Merle Clayville, Burley, secretary-treasurer; all for two year terms. Mrs. Jo Ricketts, Jerome, was installing officer.

The Twin Falls Garden Club was the main attraction for the meeting, which was at the Colonial House. Mrs. Ivan Mink, Jerome, outgoing district director, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Jake Reichard, Jerome, was featured speaker, reporting on a fairytale and theater she developed at her home over the past several years. Rex Studvin, who has helped her with the puppet theater, demonstrated the use of puppets. This summer's main production will be "Cinderella," Mrs. Reichard said.

Mrs. Ida Kramer, Castleford, reported her Junior Club, high school students, received two regional prizes this year. The Leaf and Petal Club, Jerome, has completed a two-day garden school. The Mini-Cassia Club, Burley, is sponsoring a youth group led by Mrs. Rena Clark, Rupert teacher, which is raising three to four thousand marigold and petunia plants for this year's project.

The state convention will be June 3 and 4 at Lewiston. The Magic Valley District has been selected to receive 100 favors for the judges luncheon. The next district meeting will be in October, with the place to be announced later.

your health

By GEORGE C. THOMPSON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thompson:
My doctor tells me I have a hiatal hernia and says: "Don't worry about it unless it slips." Could you explain what he means? What effect would a pregnancy have on this? Will it recur? — Mrs. R.D.

He probably referred to a sliding hiatal hernia, one that moves up through an abnormally widened opening (hiatus) in the diaphragm. This opening is normally just wide enough to allow the esophagus to pass through on the way to his joining with the stomach. In a sliding hernia, a portion of the guttles or sometimes a portion of the stomach alternately slips out, then slips back again into its normal position.

Yes, a pregnancy can exacerbate such a hernia because of the increased pressure it exerts. The condition is rather common and often goes unnoticed until middle age. Often hiatal hernias become apparent after any great weight gain, since the extra fat tends to put the hiatus under more "cramped quarters," so to speak.

Surgery to repair the hernia is required only in the most severe cases. In most others conservative methods suffice. I outline methods for controlling such hernias in my booklet on the subject (beginning on page 8; for those who have it). These include diet and the spacing-out of meals so as not to aggravate the problem. The booklet, entitled "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," might help you further understand your condition. If you want a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of this newspaper. Also, include a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thompson:
Is snuff harmful to a person who holds it in the mouth? It is held between the lip and gum. My mother has done this for years. She is now 63. There appears to be no problem. She is in good health. — Mrs. M.C.

There may be no problem now, but prolonged use of snuff, either in the mouth or sniffed through the nose, can cause cancer in those areas.

Dear Doctor:
Does a woman ever completely recover from menopause? That is, does your body continue to change? I am 49, and as far as I can determine I haven't had a period for nearly four years. How can you tell when you have started the menopause? — Mrs. Y.C.

"Recover" is not the precise word you want. First of all, with no period in four years, you have quite obviously passed through the menopause, and, I assume, without the more dramatic symptoms some other women report. Menopause means cessation of the menses (periods). Although many women find it hard to believe, a good number of their sisters slip through this phase of their lives with hardly a symptom. If we knew why, we would be much nearer to knowing why other women do have such obvious problems. Based on 1970 census figures, it is estimated that the average age expectancy for women of 50 (the usual age limit for menopause) is 78. This means that the average woman can expect to live 28 years past menopause.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old unmarried woman. My father is Jewish, and my mother is Irish. I have always looked more like my father because I have the same little blip on my nose that he has. I never minded the bump because I love my father very much, and I never did get along with my mother.

Well, I got into an automobile accident, and they called in a plastic surgeon to "fix up my face. Since my nose was in a pretty bad shape, this doctor took the bump off, and I now look like my mother instead of my father.

Even though people remark on what an improvement it is, I feel very depressed. I even went to a psychiatrist, and he said I should have the plastic surgeon restore my nose the way it was. That's what I want to do.

My problem is everybody I talk to. They tell me I should have my head examined. What do you say?
LOVES DADDY

DEAR LOVES: You DID have your head examined and were advised to do what you want to do about your nose. So do it.

She wants nose job

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I weighed 400 pounds. My life was hardly worth living. In fact, I planned to commit suicide after reaching the age of 21. (I was going to take heroin.)

I am now 22 and weigh 200 pounds, and I haven't touched drugs, of any kind, and that includes alcohol and cigarettes for two years.

I owe it all to a wonderful doctor at the University Hospital in Iowa City, Iowa, who performed a gastric bypass on me. Now I can eat as much as I want (which isn't very much anymore) and never worry about putting on a pound.

I wish you would print this for others who have found that dieting didn't work for them.
ONE HAPPY FELLOW

DEAR HAPPY: You make it sound so simple. After considerable research, I learned that gastric-bypass surgery, which proved so successful for you, is not for everyone. There are risks involved. Those who are interested should discuss it with their physicians.

DEAR ABBY: As a police officer, may I say something to the man who objected to women wearing pants suits? Not one victim of the rape cases I have handled was wearing a tailored pants suit. One was wearing a slinky pajama sort of thing; the others were wearing either skirts or shorts.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question to ask that has been bothering both my husband and me for a long time. We have two little girls. Our third daughter was stillborn. When people ask us how many children we have, what is the best answer?
WISCONSIN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: The best answer is your own: "We have two little girls. Our third daughter was stillborn."

"I think your play might well go in the Guinness Book of Records," remarked North. "It took you just two seconds to throw that rubber out the window."

South had really played the hand rapidly. He ruffed the third diamond, led a club to dummy's ace and a second club back to his king. Then he led a third club and ruffed with dummy's seven of trumps. East overruffed with the jack for the third defensive trick. Then he led back a trump and eventually South had to lose his last club.

Do you see where South went wrong? He had sent a boy on a man's errand. He should have ruffed that first long club with dummy's king of trumps. Later on that seven spot. East could overruff or not, but South would still make his contract.

As a matter of elegance, South should cash dummy's ace of hearts before playing clubs.

Basic crop support increase proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture committee of the nonpartisan National Planning Association said today that 1975 price support rates for basic crops should be raised "appreciably" to stimulate production needed to help fight world hunger.

"Prompt and decisive actions of this kind would provide assurances to farmers for stepping up grain production this year," the NPA committee said in a statement. It also urged the government to press negotiations for an international agreement on building food reserve stocks, but added that "the United States should not delay action on its own if international cooperation is not promptly achieved."

The report said expanded grain output is needed this year, even though U.S. market prices have declined in recent months, because of the possibility of continuing shortages of foodstuffs for another year and because the nation does not now have a "food reserve."

The NPA committee report also urged farm leaders awaiting word from the White House on an expected presidential veto of an emergency bill raising 1975, support loan rates and support "target" prices for grains and several other commodities. Administration officials had said earlier, however, that President Ford might permit some compromise rise in grain support loan rates by administrative action.

The report said that for the short run, the United States should work with other countries to continue and expand famine relief operations. The United States should buy needed foods on the open market and should end "bureaucratic procedure and foot-dragging" in order to speed deliveries to hungry people in South Asia and other areas, NPA spokesmen said.

For the longer run, the NPA committee report urged a "highly flexible" domestic farm policy geared to cope with other temporary food surpluses or with shortages. It said farm commodity loan rates — which undergird market prices — should be geared to international markets.

The committee said loans should be set annually on the basis of a recent three-year period of actual market prices with up or down adjustments based on changes in farm production costs.

The report also recommended continuation of the current "target price" system under which growers — in addition to the basic protection afforded by crop loans — get direct federal payments if market prices drop below the "target" and approach the long-run floor.

NPA agriculture committee members said "target" prices should be set to yield a "parity income" for efficient family-sized farmers.

In most years, the committee said, this might mean prices only moderately higher than 1975 crop loan rates. The panel added that target price payments should continue to be limited to $20,000 per farmer so that the income protection they give would be concentrated on small and medium producers.

farm Income 'poverty' guides increased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department announced Wednesday there will be increases of about 11 per cent next fall in the family income — poverty — guidelines used in qualifying children for free or token-priced school meals and milk.

Officials said the basic income ceiling for a family of four seeking free lunches, breakfasts or milk for its children will be raised from the present $4,510 a year to $5,010 for the 1975-76 school year. The increase was required because of hikes in the Consumer Price Index, officials explained.

Spokesmen said all schools in federally-subsidized child feeding programs, such as the school lunch program, are required to give free meals and milk to children whose family incomes meet the basic poverty guideline. However, individual states are free to set eligibility levels up to 25 per cent above the federal floor.

For the year beginning next fall, this means the free lunch income ceiling for a four-member family can be as high as $6,260.

Some schools also serve lunch and meals, with lunches priced at not more than 20 cents, to needy

Snow depth at record

MCCALL, Idaho (UPI) — Snow depth of 64 1/2 inches at the Rock Flat Summit snow course set a record May 1, a range conservationist for the Payette National Forest said today.

The depth was 51 per cent above average. Its water content of 24 inches was 46 per cent above average and only 7 of an inch less than last year's record.

Snow depth at the Brundage Mountain course was 149.75 inches, above last year but below the record 166.25 set in 1967. It was 13 per cent above average. Water content of 62.25 was eight per cent above average but below the record 67.88 set in 1972.

Pressure halt requested

DENVER (UPI) — A growers association Wednesday asked a federal judge to order Great Western Sugar Co. to stop trying to get 6,000 sugar beet growers in the Rocky Mountains to accept settlement of a $43.2 million judgment.

U.S. District Judge Fred Winner heard arguments of attorneys for Great Western and the growers' Great Western Producers Cooperative before recessing the hearing until Thursday.

Officers of the cooperative asked Winner restrain Great Western Sugar from using newspaper advertisements and the mails to try and convince the growers for settling for less than the judgment awarded their organization earlier this month.

Winner had ordered the sugar company and its owner, Great Western Limited, to pay the cooperative $3.7 million in interest on money held back last November in payments for beets sold the company.

Last weekend, Great Western Sugar used newspaper advertisements to offer a settlement. In making the award, Winner had ordered the sugar company not to communicate with the growers.

The company also offered a $1-25 million to the growers to settle a breach of contract suit filed by the cooperative. The suit followed a decision last September of the company to back out of an agreement to sell the company to the growers because of rising sugar prices.

Idaho college farm program aids Libya

MOSCOW — There are ripples of excitement in the University of Idaho College of Agriculture generated by a program destined to affect the people of an African nation.

The program, now starting, holds the promise of better living for the people of Libya, a mostly desert Arab nation in northern Africa.

The seeds of the program were planted by Issa Farag, a University of Idaho Ph.D. degree candidate from Libya, studying plant sciences.

Farag, on leave from the University of Tripoli College of Agriculture, felt his country could benefit from greater numbers of Libyan students being trained in the agriculture sciences at the University of Idaho.

He discussed the subject with his advisor, Dr. Harry Fenwick, UI extension professor of plant pathology, and Dr. Lucas Calpouzos, head of the UI Plant and Soils Sciences Department. They were interested.

Dr. A.M. Mullins, UI dean of agriculture, felt the matter had merit when it was discussed with him.

Farag during a visit to Libya early in 1974, broached the subject to his dean of agriculture at the University of Tripoli. He found a receptive listener.

Farag reported with word his dean was interested in a planned visit to the United States during the year and hoped to meet in Moscow with UI College of Agriculture administrators.

The meeting did not take place, due to the press of a tight schedule. However, Calpouzos, Fenwick, Farag and the University of Tripoli dean got together at a scientific meeting in Vancouver, British Columbia, last summer.

The University of Tripoli dean, apparently liking what he heard at Vancouver, invited Calpouzos and Mullins to visit the University of Tripoli, discuss the educational opportunities at and operations of the UI College of Agriculture, and get a first hand look at Libyan agriculture.

The invitation was accepted. Mullins and Calpouzos left for Libya on Jan. 31. They were back 11 days later, enthusiastic about the possibilities for a mutually beneficial relationship between Idaho and Libya.

A meeting of UI College of Agriculture faculty was called to tell them about the Libya trip and possibilities of an educational program between the two universities.

Mullins reported he was impressed with the country's emphasis on agricultural education. Huge amounts of funds "are being dedicated to education and agriculture," he told the faculty.

He and Calpouzos were also impressed by the scale of operations of agricultural projects they visited. At one location, 10,000 head of sheep — the main source of cash — were being fed. The goal and facilities are for 100,000 head.

The visitors from Idaho saw government agricultural projects involving subsidized settlements and land developments for farmers and ranchers. Included were new homes and established vineyards and forage crops.

Farmers and ranchers, selected on a trial basis, are moved into the new government-built settlements and given an agricultural unit to manage. The selected persons to work closely with an extension agriculturalist for a three-year trial period.

At the end of the trial-training period, those judged to be proficient farmers and ranchers are offered the land — from 16 to 200 acres — at government subsidized prices. Among sites visited was a 25,000-acre agricultural complex operated by the military to feed military and civilian personnel. It plans to materialize, the operation will soon have 1,050 milk cows and a million laying hens.

The Libyan government also contracts with foreign firms to grow agricultural produce on Libyan soil for Libyan consumption.

"This all underscores the fact that Libya is a food deficit nation and short of trained agriculturalists," Mullins pointed out. "They are looking to agricultural science to remedy that situation," he added, "and has asked the University of Idaho to help by training their short-couraged students in the agricultural sciences."

At the UI College of Agriculture faculty meeting, Mullins was given an endorsement to proceed with formal arrangements for an educational program between the colleges of agriculture.

The Mullins proposal has been approved by UI administration, including the Board of Regents.

Under the new program, entirely financed by Libya, the first students are expected at the University of Idaho in time for classes this fall. They will enroll in the UI graduate school just as do all other graduate students. No special classes or curriculum are to be offered.

"It is intended that research projects of the Libyan students, as part of the requirements for a doctoral or master's degree, will be carried out in their home country, thus contributing to Libya's agricultural development even before graduate programs are completed."

Mullins explained that short-term research — and possibly teaching — assignments of UI agricultural scientists to Libya may be available. It is also expected that University of Tripoli agricultural faculty will visit the University of Idaho from time to time.

In addition, the agreement allows for "occasional" American graduate students, interested in international agriculture to gain field experience in the Libyan Arab Republic.

"The unique and pleasing thing about this undertaking," Mullins said, "is it is a college to college relationship and in the finest American tradition of helping others help themselves."

Rain, cold chill crops

Courtesy Sinclair & Co. — LOS ANGELES (GIN) — Spring has hardly sprung in California this year, with late rains and extended cold damaging or delaying crops in many of the state's 58 counties.

Average temperatures up and down the state were above normal during the first week of March but have been mostly below normal ever since. Subfreezing temperatures have been recorded for short durations at some coastal and central San Joaquin Valley locations.

A series of storms has brought continued rainfall, although average rainfall is only slightly above normal.

Roy Cambin, agricultural commissioner for San Bernardino County, "conservatively" figures two-thirds of a cutting of alfalfa has been lost to the rains, a loss valued at $500,000 to $600,000.

In neighboring Los Angeles County, David Dyer, deputy county agricultural commissioner, said "We've had to replant several thousand acres of grain, 200 acres or more of sugar beets and 200 acres or more of sweet corn."

All told, Dyer puts the crop loss from the wet and frigid weather in Los Angeles county at more than $1.5 million so far.

"We have a serious problem in cotton planting," says Paul Cook, Fresno County's senior agricultural inspector. "Growers can't get the seed into the ground, or if they do, can't get it to sprout. Some of the earlier planted fields are up and look pretty good, but a lot of acres were planted just prior to the rains and the ground has crusted and sealed."

Cook believes the 1975 cotton average will be down. Some estimates are that California's total 1975 cotton production may be down some 30 per cent.

Hints given prospective horse owner

MOSCOW — Prospective buyers should consider several important factors before purchasing a horse.

That's the suggestion of Morris Hemstrom, University of Idaho extension livestock specialist, who recommends:

First, decide if you can afford a horse. They're not inexpensive but, in addition to the outright cost of the horse, there's equipment to buy. It usually costs more than a dollar a day to feed your steed. Other costs include pasture rental or boarding fees, veterinary bills, equipment upkeep and taxes. Costs will increase substantially if you take part in horse shows.

Select a horse to fit the rider. This means selecting for disposition as well as size to match the rider's training and capabilities.

Select a sound and unblemished horse. The horse should move freely and be pleasing to the eye.

Be certain the horse is serviceably sound. If the prospective owner is not qualified to judge, engage the services of an authority such as a veterinarian.

Make sure the horse has no vices such as cribbing.

Match breed and color to prospective owner's preferences. Each breed provides certain advantages.

After the purchase is made, have one person do the feeding so the horse does not founder from being overfed.

These basic recommendations, says Hemstrom, "help make it fun to own and ride your own horse."

ANCA gains intervenor approval

Courtesy Sinclair & Co. — DENVER — The American National Cattlemen's Association today announced court action in support of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed changes in beef grading standards.

An ANCA motion to become an interviewing party was granted by U.S. District Court Judge Robert Deane in Omaha.

USDA has been prevented from implementing the grading changes as a result of a preliminary injunction obtained by the Independent Meat Packers Association, Omaha.

A pre-trial conference was scheduled Thursday and the trial of the case is set to begin on May 12. The issue in the trial will be whether or not to permanently enjoin USDA from implementing the standards which had been ordered into effect on April 14.

Gordon Van Vleck, ANCA president, said ANCA is intervening in the case because the proposed standards are substantially in agreement with the association's recommendations for modifications.

"We are joining in the action," he said, "in order to make the beef cattle industry better known. We believe that the grading changes will provide substantial benefits to the public as well as the industry."

When Wickes Agriculture Acquired M.J. Bean Company Facility May 1...

People wanted to know more about Wickes, where we came from, why we were interested in Idaho beans, etc.

"We were sensitive to their concern and assured them things would run pretty much as they have, except where we could improve them."

"Our manager explored to a local grower and his son, 'Wickes has been in the bean business since 1915.'"

"Our main office is in Saginaw, Michigan."

"We operate more than 35 elevators in five states and our trading department markets beans here and abroad."

"And since we sell bean seed to thousands of growers it just made sense to be able to buy and process our own seed requirements here in Idaho as well as processing beans for commercial markets."

The grower's son wondered if we carried with the Wickes cash and carry lumber yards. The answer was "yes."

"We are one of many divisions of the Wickes Corporation. Other divisions manufacture farm buildings, furniture and mobile homes."

"Wickes Agriculture is investing in today's farmer... helping him increase yields... introducing new marketing techniques and providing information about new methods and technologies that will help make him more successful."

"That's what we're all about."

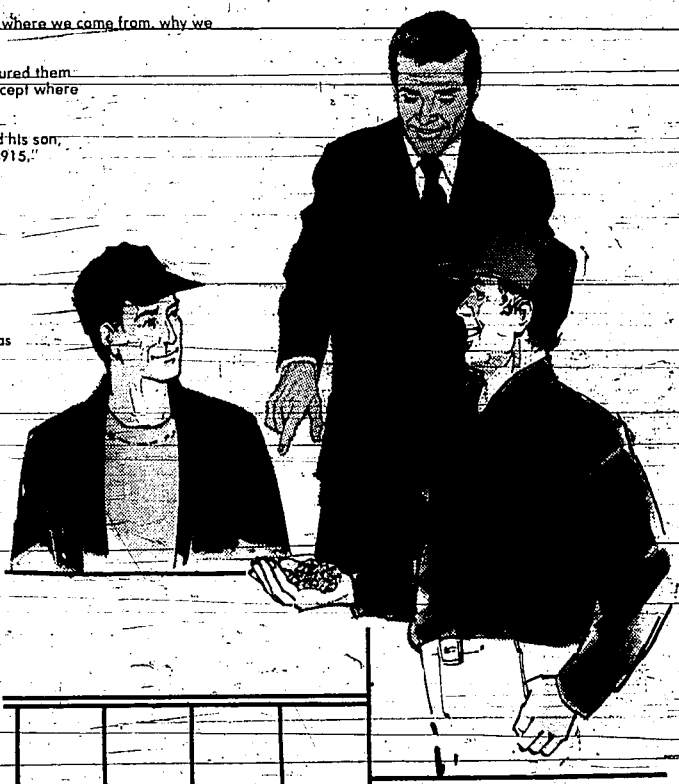

"Wickes Agriculture is more than just a new name."

Anti-rabies clinics planned across Idaho

BOISE — Rabies, well known and widely feared as a fatal, infectious disease of man and animals, will receive special attention in Idaho during the week of May 4-10 as veterinarians throughout the state participate in immunization clinics.

Dr. A. P. Schneider, Boise chief of the Bureau of Animal Industries division of the Idaho Department of Agriculture, pointed out that the best possible insurance against rabies risk is vaccination of pets.

TF plant aide retires

TWIN FALLS — Earl Fullmer, superintendent of the Twin Falls sewage treatment plant since it was constructed 13 years ago, has retired from the city staff.

In Snake River Canyon north of the city was built. He said he plans to remain in Twin Falls. A party was held Wednesday at the treatment plant for Fullmer. Acting superintendent will be Don Shafter, who has served with the city since June of 1966. He has been foreman supervisor at the plant the past several years.

These clinics will be held at specific points in the various communities, such as fire stations, shopping centers and even in city parks.

Service organizations would assist in these open-air clinics, taking care of the cost of normal.

Cassia OK's pay increase

BURLEY — Cassia County school teachers were granted an 1 1/4 per cent salary increase Wednesday night by school board action.

Beginning teachers will receive a base salary of $7,700 next school year. This year, the base salary was $7,500. With fringe benefits, beginning teachers will receive from $8,518 to $8,692. Fringe includes partial payment of health insurance, life insurance, retirement and $115 a year for Idaho Education Association dues.

The board also approved hiring Charles A. Eberhard, Bruneau, as assistant principal for the Burley Junior High School.

Eberhard, a BYU graduate, is principal of Rimrock Junior High and grade school, Bruneau. According to Cassia school authorities, Eberhard has accepted the Burley position and will move to Cassia County in August.

The 1975-76 school calendar adopted by the board sets Aug. 25 as the opening date for schools next term. School will end May 20, 1976.

Meeting, exhibit under way in TF

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Idaho Industrial Education Association are in Twin Falls today for their annual meeting and an exhibit of industrial class work by students from all parts of the state.

Bill Jacobsen, Twin Falls Industrial Arts Instructor, said the exhibit in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium will be open to the public through Saturday afternoon. It will feature work of the student including some special grade school exhibits.

Everything from grandfather clocks to jewelry and many furniture items, all made in industrial arts classes, will be exhibited.

Awards will be given in eight separate divisions including metals, woods, crafts, drafting, electricity, plastics, elementary schools and mass production. In addition to first, second and third place awards eight best-of-show trophies will be awarded in the eight divisions.

Jacobsen, who is president of the state association, said sessions began Thursday evening with a conference meeting. Exhibits were also set up Thursday evening.

Today James Dixon, coordinator of professional services for the American Industrial Arts Association, Washington, D.C., gave the opening convention address.

Workshop sessions continue today and Saturday with speakers representing industrial suppliers, educational experts and leaders in various trades and crafts.

Many commercial exhibits including such items as foundry furnaces and tools are also being offered.

The annual awards banquet to honor winning student exhibitors will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the high school. A luncheon for IIEA delegates will be held Saturday at noon in the Turf Club.

Mindoka to name assessor
RUPERT — Mindoka County Commissioners plan to name the new county assessor tonight. The position was made vacant by the recent death of Claude E. Bowman. Scott Erwin and Lawrence Boldt have petitioned for the position. Both are now employed at the assessor's office.

Commissioner Eyle Barton said two other persons have indicated an interest in the $10,850 a year job.

Persons interested in applying must submit a petition with 25 signatures to the commissioners before they will be considered for the post.

The commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the courthouse.

Burley hike-bike Saturday
BURLEY — Four groups of hikers and bikers will participate Saturday in the joint Mini-Cassia '1975' Hike-Bike for retarded citizens.

Organizers expect from 150 to 200 participants for the annual event that will see hikers walk up to 17 miles and bikers ride 32 miles starting at 8 a.m. for the Armory.

The joint hike and bicycle caravan are sponsored by the Cassia and the Mindoka County Association for Retarded Children.

Eden hearings May 7 and 12
EDEN — The city of Eden has scheduled public hearings for 7 p.m. May 7 and 12 in the city hall on its application for a federal grant.

Eden is asking $152,000 to improve the city water distribution system. The request must be approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Hearings are for public comment and explanation of the program.

Hazelton hearings set
HAZELTON — Hazelton has scheduled public hearings at 8:30 p.m. May 7 and 12 at the city hall on its application for a federal grant to improve its water system.

It is asking for $180,000, which must be approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The money would be part of $1.5 million provided for small communities in Idaho to improve housing and environment under the U.S. Community Development Act of 1974.

Jerome walk-a-thon Saturday
JEROME — The seventh annual Jerome County March of Dimes Walk-a-thon will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Jerome City Park.

Walkers will cover a 20-mile area in two phases. The first 10 miles will follow a route southeast of town and return to the park where walkers will be served lunch by the Jerome Lions Club.

The second 10 miles will be over the same route followed earlier in the morning.

Items recovered
TWIN FALLS — Capt. Tim Qualls, Twin Falls police detective division, said the arrest of two 18-year-olds has cleared up some nine burglaries in the city in the past several weeks.

The two, Bryan Keith Franklin, and Allan Lynn LaMarche, were arrested Wednesday night in the Dell's Distributing Co. building. Officers said a search warrant issued for their home following their arrest resulted in recovery of items taken from Ken's Manufacturing Co. earlier the same night.

He said his department also considers the burglaries of the Idaho Power Co. the YWCA, the Episcopal Church, Sunny View recreation building and two other churches within the past few weeks.

Fill work at Rock Creek soon will be completed

TWIN FALLS — Fill work which began about 12 years ago on Rock Creek west of the independent Meat Co. is now nearly complete.

Keith Anderson, engineer for the Twin Falls Highway District, said all but the final surface is now finished. A large steel pipe was installed two years ago to carry the creek under the fill area and highway equipment and crews are now hauling gravel on the upper portion of the road bed.

A temporary paving surface may be added at a later date, but a final surface will come when other portions of the trans-county road are completed.

Hansen supports proposed highway improvement plan

HANSEN — Ranchers and recreationists voiced support here Thursday night to a proposed highway improvement project on the lower portion of Rock Creek Canyon road south of Hansen.

Keith Anderson, engineer for the Twin Falls Highway District, said the hearing was one of the best attended he has seen. He said there were no protests to the proposed improvement of some 3.5 miles of road, but some questions were presented about alignment of the road.

The proposal calls for widening the right-of-way about 10 miles to lower portions of the road will match more recent improvements to the south. Some curve straightening is also planned which will require additional right-of-way.

Anderson said the heavily used road is in need of improvement throughout the original paved section. He said nearly all of the property owners adjacent to the project attended as did summer home owners, skiers, snowmobilers.

U.S. Forest Service representatives, civic and service organizations with summer camps and others.

Anderson said the project will probably not be underway until the fall of 1976 because final alignment and right-of-way acquisition is awaiting a detailed plan.

Sleepy burglar?

RUPERT — A suspected burglar fell asleep on the job Wednesday night and had to be awakened by Rupert police.

Police said they arrested Leonard Hardeman, 37, Rupert, for burglarizing the Chicken House drive-in restaurant of 111 Hardeman was found asleep in the drive-in.

According to police reports, Sgt. Wally Smith noticed a broken window at the restaurant shortly after 1 a.m. Thursday. Smith notified the restaurant owner and resumed his patrol.

A short time later, Smith was dispatched back to the drive-in when the owner notified police the burglar was still in the building.

Hardeman was found asleep in a back room. Police said the suspect had $11 from the drive-in still in his possession.

TWIN FALLS — The state attorney general has ruled that any member of the Idaho Endowment Fund Investment Board who makes private profit from board investment is subject to criminal prosecution.

Atty. Gen. Wayne Tidwell advised Tom McElmow, finance director, Thursday that it is a felony for any public officer to make a profit out of public funds. The opinion was requested after activities of board members raised the question of possible conflict of interest.

Idaho jobless rate on rise

By DIANE ALTERS
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Department of Employment today released the state's unemployment figures with a disclaimer attached questioning their truth.

The forecasted unemployment rate for April is 7.7 per cent, according to labor market analyst Steve Seward in Boise. The rate increased slightly from the 7.5 per cent rate in March, down from the 7.7 per cent rate in February.

But Seward said these rates were "uninterpretable. It's hard to tell if conditions are getting worse or better from the rate," he said.

They way the rate is figured has been changed in a "questionable" way by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the federal office which oversees state statisticians, Seward said.

"The assumptions upon which the revisions are based are pretty questionable," he said. If the method of figuring the rate had not been changed, Seward said, the rates would have been 7.9 per cent in March instead of 7.5 per cent and about 8.1 per cent in April instead of 7.7 per cent.

Seward said that the economy would not do as well as it did last year at this time; but it's

Blaine parents back tot classes

By BART QUENNEL
Times-News writer

CAREY — Parents here and in Ketchum have told the Blaine County School Board they will support a plant-facility levy for kindergartens throughout the district.

Parents from Hal's Carey and Ketchum in three days of kindergarten hearings also support a program in their individual towns whether the entire district can afford it or not.

School trustees said the cost of the program in its first year will probably exceed available income.

In addition, the district has no room in its schools according to trustees.

Each city in the county has found temporary quarters which can be rented until county residents vote for a plant facilities levy or bond issue.

Mrs. Deborah Flood, representing the parents' auxiliary at Hemingway School, Ketchum, said Wednesday night "we are strongly in favor of starting the necessary details for building on additions to the three elementary schools for kindergarten space."

"We think at the moment a plant-facilities levy is the best way of handling it," she said.

Mrs. Lois McDonald, Ketchum, speaking for the Parents Club, a children's music singing club, said kindergartens should have first priority use of surplus funds.

Supt. Wayne Baggs said the district had surplus funds. They are earmarked for other building purposes including football fields at Halley and Carey, an all-weather track at Carey, a multi-computer for a math course in Halley and other uses.

Mrs. Flood said directors of the Ketchum Catholic Church have indicated appeal to rent space for kindergartens.

Board Chairman Ronda Hunt, speaking before parents at Carey, said "it may sound like doggerel, this isn't the case. The people's wishes is what we will work for and toward."

Mel Morgan acquitted

"It's a great contract which nobody lives up to," he said, adding that the Credit Bureau commonly gives out credit information to unauthorized persons with no questions asked.

The prosecution maintained that much circumstantial evidence shows that Morgan knew he should not have that credit report on George Hansen.

Prosecutor Dan Dennis said Morgan issued a "false statement" to the press on Aug. 29 saying that he had not given out the credit report to anyone eight days after he personally delivered the report to Orval Hansen's office.

Neither did he ever tell the Credit Bureau manager what the report was for nor had ever obtained such a report for political purposes.

But Olson said no public disclosure had been made of the report. Also, he said, Morgan had the document sent to himself and not just to his business, showing that no attempt to deceive had been made.

The not guilty verdict follows the acquittal of Rose Bowman, state Democratic party central committee member, who had been charged with conspiring with and aiding and abetting Morgan to obtain by fraud the credit report on Hansen.

With proof only that Mrs. Bowman had suggested that Morgan get the report, there was not enough evidence to uphold the charge of conspiracy, U.S. District Court Judge Fred M. Taylor said Wednesday.

Ruling issued on endowment conflict

BY LORAYNE O'SMITH
Times-News writer

"brought a good yield to the state" as well as boosting the Buhl area economy.

He said his bank took 10 per cent of the loan and the Small Business Administration loaned the remaining 90 per cent so the "credit was as good as the credit of the federal government."

He said the law requires that four members of the seven-member investment board must be members of the business community, yet "it is wrong if you're banking knowledge." It apparently is wrong.

"It's a situation where you're damned if you do and damned if you don't," Hamilton said.

A representative from the attorney general's office said no prosecution is intended from that office. The opinion was issued to define what the law says — "if any violation is proven, it will be done in the county where it occurred," the aide said.

The Ada County prosecuting attorney's office is investigating possibility of legal action there. Gregg Wharry, Boise stockholder at the time he was on the board, and Steve M. Melke, Rexburg, president of Valley Bank in Rexburg, earlier were reported in possible conflict of interest.

The attorney general's office, in the opinion prepared by Christopher Bray, assistant attorney general, said the state constitution "demands the making of a profit out of public funds by any public officer to be a felony."

"We are not saying anyone has committed a crime at this point," the aide said. "If the facts warrant a legal action, that will have to be initiated in the county where the action occurred," he said.

Copies of the legal opinion are being forwarded to each county prosecuting attorney.

Twin Falls Prosecutor William Holtfied said he had no comment as he has not yet received a copy of the opinion.

Hamilton, whose term on the investment board expires July 1, said he could see where the ruling would mean broken work. "I want to serve on the board and I will eliminate them if potential members because of the probability of conflict of interest."

Foolish Pleasure trainer happy with No. 3 position

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Trainer Leroy Jolley was less than enthused Thursday after Foolish Pleasure's final workout for the 101st Kentucky Derby, but his spirits brightened considerably when the favorite drew the No. 3 post position for Saturday's classic.

Although Jolley had said earlier the post positions were not that crucial, immediately after the drawing he broke into a grin and said, "It doesn't hurt my feelings."

"What had slightly hurt his feelings was the 48-second pre-dawn half-mile breeze. Foolish Pleasure turned in over a Churell Downs track made heavy because of mud and silt. "I don't know if that's bad or good over this race track," said Jolley.

However, he felt a bit better when Frank McMahon's Diabolo ran four furlongs in 48.34, Roland-Aristone-Bombay-Duck in 50.25 and Pedro Diaz-Gatchin in 48.45.

Following the post position drawing, Foolish Pleasure was installed as a 9-5 favorite in the field of 15 for the $125,000-added classic which actually

Derby bettors don't always cash win tickets

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Not everyone who places a winning bet on the Kentucky Derby cashes in his or her parimutuel ticket, not by a long shot.

—$60,000-worth of win tickets on Cannonade in last year's 100th Derby remain uncashed and nearly $12,000 worth of win tickets on Secretariat in the 1973 Run for the Roses are still out, according to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

In an interview preceding Saturday's 101st running of the thoroughbred classic, James O. Filburn, in charge of the parimutuel operation at the track, said "The Secretariat Derby and last year's 100th were the two biggest souvenir Derbies—we have had in modern history."

"Who knows? The tickets still out could increase in value as great deal as collectors' items in years to come," Filburn added. "Look at what happened with comic books."

He said the number of win tickets still uncashed from last year's Derby included 4,552 two-dollar tickets, 613 five-dollar tickets, 215 $10 tickets, and even one $50 ticket.

Win tickets still out from the Secretariat Derby include 1,581 of the two-dollar denomination, 161 five-dollar tickets, 61 $10 tickets and five $50 tickets.

While the total uncashed win tickets is much higher for the past two Derbies, Filburn said

Indy practice opens Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The famed race course is ready, awaiting the roar of the engines.

The gates to the ancient Indianapolis Motor Speedway swing open Saturday, signaling the start of 500-mile race practice.

And with only one week to go until qualifications get underway for the million-dollar spectacle May 25, heavy traffic was anticipated by early next week as drivers and crews toil to work the bugs out of their highly sensitive equipment.

"The track is clean—we're ready to go," said Clarence Cagle, the Speedway's longtime superintendent.

Sonny bows out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pro football star Sonny Jurgensen became business executive Christian Adolf Jurgensen Thursday, slightly cheerful and somewhat bitter that he was forced into retirement.

Washington Redskins coach George Allen, the 40-year-old quarterback who was tops as a passer among NFL active players during a press conference he thought he could still have played football and make a contribution but pointed out that Allen told him he wasn't wanted and was "a luxury they couldn't afford at his $120,000 a year salary," Jurgensen said.

He could understand Allen's reasoning but commented: "I would have liked to have made the decision myself to get out of the game."

The former Duke star said that he has been made an offer by the Philadelphia Belts of the World Football League and that his lawyers will discuss the proposal with attorneys for the NFL team but said that he thought it "unrealistic" that he would try to resume his playing career.

He also predicted that Allen may encounter problems keeping the present No. 1 Redskins quarterback, Bill Kilmer, happy.

CSI sweeps past Ricks, into regional tournament

College of Southern Idaho's Golden Eagles earned a berth in the regional junior college tournament Thursday afternoon by taking 8-2 and 8-1 decisions over Ricks College.

The Golden Eagles will entertain the University of Montana Grizzlies in another doubleheader at 1 p.m. Saturday at Cowboy diamond. Coach Walker hopes to pick up some extra games next week since the regional is two weeks away and the regular season schedule has been completed.

Jim Rogers, Billings freshman, survived a rocky start to win the opener and Roger Bills, with Mark Stover taking over the last two innings, took the second one. The sweep gave CSI a 2-1 edge in the decisive four-game series.

Ricks jumped on Rogers in a hurry. Dennis Gibson, Jess Gentlin and Wally Foster banded out doubles in the first inning for two runs. Scott Becker's throw to home cut

Late by half step

LEAPING Scott Becker of College of Southern Idaho came this close to beating out a punt attempt against Ricks College Thursday. CSI swept the doubleheader 8-2 and 8-1 and moves on to the regionals in Oregon May 15-18.

Spartans cop pair from Idaho Falls

IDAHO FALLS — Doug Brown and Bill Cowell pitched Minico to 9-7 and 4-1 victories over Idaho Falls Thursday afternoon.

Minico scored three times in the first inning of the opener on three walks and a two-run single by Greg Vanholster. Another scored on a fielder's choice.

Idaho Falls rebounded with two in the second, both on Baldwin's hit, and one more in the fourth. But the Spartans led it in the fifth with six runs.

Hammond opened with a double and Vanholster, Mickey Hanks, Brown and Kerry Van Every followed with RBI hits. The last two runs scored on an error.

Public hearings for big game seasons set for Magic Valley

By STU MURRELL Regional Staff Conservationist The Idaho Department of Fish and Game will be holding public hearings in Twin Falls, Burley and Hialeah to obtain public opinion on proposed big game regulations for 1975. The Twin Falls hearing will be May 9 at 7 p.m. in Room 115, Shields Bldg., College of Southern Idaho. The Burley hearing will be conducted on May 12 at 7 p.m. in the Ramada Inn, Sportsman Inn. The Big Wood Valley will have the opportunity to attend the meeting on May 15 in the Hialeah Army building at 7 p.m.

each big game Unit. These will be sent to the Fish and Game Commission along with public comments for final approval at their May 19 Commission meeting in Boise.

There are some proposed changes in the controlled deer hunts in Magic Valley. These are: 1) Setting a late season in Unit 47 to allow those permits that didn't take deer in the "October" portion of the season to hunt in December on the migrant deer coming into the area from Nevada. 2) Increase the deer permits by 450 in Unit 54 and by 300 in Unit 53. 3) A general open hunt is proposed for Unit 54 of three days "either sex" followed by three days "buck only".

Seton Hall, Huskers slapped by NCAA

MISSION, Kan. (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association's Committee on Infractions Thursday announced disciplinary action against Seton Hall University and a reprimand of the University of Nebraska.

The form of fines and suspension against the three. Nebraska was publicly reprimanded by the committee for permitting four ineligible athletes to accompany its football team on bowl game trips.

Seton Hall was placed on two-year probation which prohibits its basketball team from competing in postseason games and from appearing on any NCAA-controlled television series during the first year.

The committee also supported action by Seton Hall in publicly reprimanding Athletic Director Richard Regan, Basketball Coach William Rafferty and Assistant Coach Horace Mahon for providing "incomplete and misleading information" to the university and the NCAA on their involvement in erroneous eligibility certification of a student-athlete.

By STU MURRELL Regional Staff Conservationist Personnel of the Department of Fish and Game are in the process of developing their recommendation for big game seasons this fall. These will be presented to the Fish and Game Commission at their May 19th meeting for the final decisions. Many people do not realize how many steps go into the controlled hunt regulations which come out in mid-June and familiar big game regulations at their opening October 15th for most of the deer and elk units in southern Idaho. It was hoped the opening weekend pressure would be reduced somewhat by this uniform opening date.

since they are required to conduct post season herd composition counts which show the number of fawns, does, young bucks, and older bucks in the herds. Aerial census for trend information is also flown on selected areas. The effect of winter conditions on the herds are evaluated as the season progresses.

constitutes a "rook" hunt for the "range herds." What enforcement problems will occur if you change a boundary or type of hunt? All of these and many more are discussed at length by Fish and Game personnel.

TF drops Mtn. Home in finale

The Twin Falls Bruins dropped the Mountain-Home Tigers 7-4 Thursday afternoon to wind up their 1973 baseball season with a 13-5 record.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Fine day for carrying through with new plans that you have thought up recently. Use a modern approach to achieve your goals. A good time for seeing friends and enjoying the simple pleasures in life.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): This is the right time to get to work on a decision you've made recently. Contact business experts for the advice you need.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Take time to analyze regular activities and know where to make changes for greater benefits. Don't be too extravagant.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Obtain the data you need for new aims you have. Be sure to arrive on time for any appointments you have. Take it easy tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Use modern methods in all your business transactions. You are capable of achieving your aims today. Be cheerful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Complete talks with associates and get the right results now. Know what is expected of you. Show more devotion to mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Complete duties that need immediate attention and show associates that you do your fair share of the work. Relax tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Engage in pleasurable pursuits and make this a pleasant day for you and others. Be active and strive for happiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Attending to small tasks early in the day can give you more time to engage in favorite hobby later. Use good judgment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Handle those duties that are difficult to do during work-week. Take time to improve your surroundings. Keep poised.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Study budget so that you really know what your financial position is. Make necessary repairs to your property.

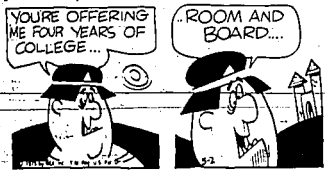

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Give attention to those personal affairs you have been neglecting. Find the right way to achieve greater happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Handle those secret affairs early so that you can attend to more important matters later. A book can bring you solace.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who is always engineering new ways of getting things done, which is fine; but be sure you first teach true and tried methods. Allow playmates around the house early in life so your progeny will learn how to deal with others.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Maybe you were aware that the cardinal has been designated by more states as their official bird than any other fowl. But can you name the two states which identify the chicken as their official bird? The Rhode Island Reds of Rhode Island, of course. And the Blue Hen chicken of Delaware, too.

THE TYPICAL: Mother's Day card costs approximately twice as much as the typical Father's Day card. Is that fair?

ANOTHER: of those relatively rare words with opposite meanings, please note, is dust. As in dusts the crops in one instance and dusts the piano in another. Cleave is such a word, too. Any others?

SUICIDES

Q: "Is there any one suicide in particular when the most people commit suicide?"

A: Can only report the statistics out of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center. Wednesday is the peak night there, it's said.

Q: "WHAT musicals have won the Academy Award as best picture of the year?"

A: Can think of five. "An American in Paris," "Sing," "West Side Story," "My Fair Lady" and "The God of Music."

PLEASE don't forget what old Abe Lincoln said about fighting... Quarrel not at all. No man resolved to make the most of himself can spare the time for personal contentions. Better give your pants to a dog than be bitten by him.

CLASSIFIED

In that matter of fancy classified ads, here's one that turned up some time back in Seattle: "Our pet terrier slipped her chain and so we're peddling pups again. Cockers? Bulldogs? German Shepherds? For all we know they may be leopards." John W. Holmes wrote that.

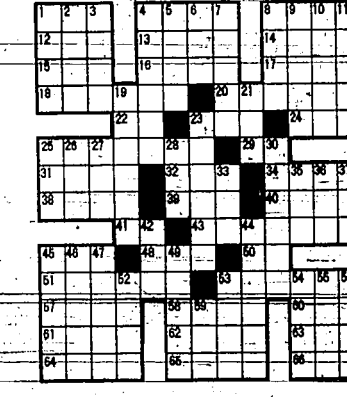

WHAT, YOU hate to clean the oil-based paint out of a brush when you have to stop in the middle of a job? Why bother? Just put that brush in a plastic wrapper and freeze it. When you want to start painting again, thaw it out for 30 minutes, then have at it.

ACCIDENT statistics are what the insurance boys work with. And said statistics indicate far more mishaps occur in gasoline stations than in explosive manufacturing plants; that's why the party who works in such a plant is a better insurance risk than is a service station attendant.
