Masked bandit holds up TF drive-in TWIN FALLS — A masked bandit armed with a shotgun held up attendants at the Red Steer drive-in restaurant on Addison Avenue East Wednesday night.
The robbery occurred about 11:05 p.m., Detective Capt. Tim Qualls of the Twin Falls Police Department reported.
He said the lone male bandit obtained only a small amount of money for his trouble. Exact amount of the loss could not be pinpointed by the drive-in management, Qualls said.

Wants new probe
NEW YORK (UPI) — Col. L. Fletcher Prouty, former Pentagon liaison officer, called on Congress Wednesday for a new investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy.
Prouty said there are discrepancies in the Warren Commission's report of the slaying and charged the commission did not cover satisfactorily some aspects of the assassination.

US, Soviets boycott pact signing
GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Israel and Egypt signed their second interim Sinai peace agreement today in a quick and sober ceremony boycotted by both Russia and the United States.
There were no smiles, handshakes or speeches as a soldier and diplomat from both sides signed the accord, worked out in 10 days of shuttle diplomacy by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that obligates Israel to give up another 3,500 square miles of the Sinai peninsula.

Portuguese Reds seek compromise
LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — The Portuguese Communist party, faced with growing military opposition to its influence in government, today staged an about face and urged negotiation and compromise to head off a showdown between leftists and rightists.
The plea for a compromise came after the army Wednesday armed the air force in a campaign to oust the Communist-backed former chief of staff, former prime minister Vasco Gonçalves.

Interior pick?
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thomas Kleppe, head of the Small Business Administration, has been chosen to become U.S. Interior secretary, according to Senate sources.
The White House had no comment on the report that Kleppe, 50, a former two-term Congressman from North Dakota, has been chosen to succeed former Wyoming Gov. Stanley Bathaway, who resigned in July.

Protest greets Louisville busing
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The largest court-ordered school busing program in the nation, involving 22,600 students, got underway here today. Nearly 1,000 labor union members left their jobs to join a mass protest demonstration in front of the Federal Building.
There was some confusion and a boycott at one school where only 22 white students of 300 scheduled to be bused to an all-black inner-city school showed up. A large number of white students were reported absent at other schools.

Ford off to visit Seattle, Portland
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford flew to the West Coast today for two days of public appearances.
Ford flew from Andrews Air Force Base to Seattle, Wash., to address two Republican fundraising luncheons, tour a cancer research center and speak at a White House conference on domestic and economic affairs.
He arranged to fly later in the day to Portland, Ore., and address a GOP fund-raising dinner and to appear at a youth pageant.

FTC proposes protein supplement rules
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission proposed a rule today that would prohibit makers of protein supplements from claiming they provide quick energy, improve health, delay aging and help dieting.
If adopted after public hearings, the regulation also would require that protein supplements in the form of powder, wafers or tablets be labeled to say that most Americans don't need extra protein beyond what they get in their normal diet.
In addition, the regulation would require labels on concentrated protein supplements to warn that they should not be used in the food of infants or people with chronic or acute liver or kidney disease.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House agreed today to turn over documents on alleged CIA intervention in Chile to a special Senate committee investigating U.S. intelligence operations.
The Nixon administration papers have been

Up in a court suit, but spokesmen for the two sides said today President Richard M. Nixon had agreed to their release for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.
Committee Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, and White House counsel Philip Buchen told reporters after a closed session that they had reached a "satisfactory solution" and hoped the courts would permit release of the impounded Nixon materials.

The committee has been seeking Nixon documents relating to the CIA and Chile during the brief rule of the late Marxist President Salvador Allende. Church has voiced special interest in the assassination of Chilean Army Gen. Rene Schneider.

Church at first had refused to turn over the material subpoenaed by Church. He said the White House, not Congress, had sole right to release what it thought was relevant — even if the courts allowed a search.
Nixon has been fighting in court for personal control of all of his administration tapes and documents, currently locked up under court orders in the Executive Office building next to the White House.
"With the cooperation of John Miller, Nixon's lawyer, we have been able to work out a satisfactory arrangement whereby the committee will be provided the documents relating to the subjects and they will be made available," Buchen said today.
He said Miller and his associates would conduct the actual search after the courts give approval.
Committee Co-Chairman John Tower, R-Texas, revealed a possible party-line split on the contents and release of a planned report by the committee on alleged assassination plots by the CIA and other executive branches against foreign leaders, going back to the late 1960's.
Standing beside Church, Tower told reporters that the five Republican members of the 11-man panel would immediately hold a caucus to discuss committee business.
But Church said he did not anticipate any great delay in completing the report, said to be a 700-page "draft" of the report, said to run between 250 and 300 pages, will be scrutinized "line by line" by the committee's six Democrats and five Republicans, a spokesman said earlier.
The Nixon materials in question include events in Chile in October, 1970.

Mideast pact cost nearly $3 billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has promised more than $2 billion in military and economic aid to Israel this year and up to $500 million for Egypt under terms of the new interim Sinai accord, it was disclosed today.

House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said after a 90-minute White House briefing of congressional leaders by President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that the amount of aid for Israel will run between $2.1 billion and $2.3 billion in fiscal 1975-76.
He said $1.5 billion of the Israeli aid will be in the form of military assistance, the rest in economic help.
Earlier news reports indicated the overall assistance to Israel might total nearly $10 billion over the long term.
Ford invited Republican and Democratic leaders to the White House for the rundown by Kissinger, who returned Wednesday night from his successful Middle East mission which culminated in the new pact.
Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said after the meeting that the Israeli aid package may be toned down somewhat because there is "the general impression that the Israelis are pretty well armed."
Byrd said he anticipated there will be "some problems" in getting Senate approval of the plan to station American civilians in the Sinai, but that "in the final analysis," he expected it would be approved.
Byrd said he has some personal reservations about the plan.
Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said many questions were asked about the proposal to station up to 200 American civilians in the Sinai Desert to monitor compliance with the accord by the Israelis and the Egyptians.

Congress still must vote on whether to place the American troops in the Sinai zone.

"It was a very good discussion," Sparkman told reporters. "A lot of questions were asked."

Rep. John McFall of California, the assistant House Democratic leader, said the congressional leaders were told in the briefing that Egypt would cut off ties with the Soviet Union.

Others emerging from the meeting said $650 million to $800 million had been pledged to Egypt in economic aid. But administration officials said the top figure for Egypt was $650 million.

TF assembly law drafted

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — A tough new public assembly law regulating gatherings of more than 500 persons in Twin Falls County may be adopted this month.
The Twin Falls County Commission is awaiting results of a final review by a citizens committee before taking final action on the measure.
"I hope that it would become law within the month," commission chairman Merl Leonard said today.
He said the measure is aimed at "insuring the liveability of the public here in Twin Falls County."
"We feel... this type of ordinance will give us the regulatory measures to prevent undesirable gatherings in the county," Leonard added.
Major elements or charges in the proposed law include:
— Elimination of a minimum time period allowing shorter gatherings to take place without a county license. Under the old law, events lasting less than 18 hours needed no license.
— The proposed law applies to all events regardless of how long they last.
— A requirement that an application for a public gathering must be submitted at least 60 days prior to the event. The license fee will be $300 per day.
— Bonding requirements. Under the proposed law, a minimum $10,000 bond is required to cover possible clean-up costs and county liabilities. Also, a $2,000 cash bond must be deposited with the county for possible medical costs and a $15,000 performance bond is required to insure compliance with the law.
The new law will not apply to the county fair or to "permanently established places of assembly" such as churches, stadiums, athletic fields, arenas or auditoriums.
Tom Nelson, Twin Falls, chairman of the citizens panel reviewing the measure, said his group's recommendations probably will be given to commissioners next week.

Throngs jam TF Fair site

By MARGE LIERMAN
Times-News writer
FILED — Sunny weather greeted throngs of fairgoers who poured into the Twin Falls County Fair today and Wednesday.
Officials said Wednesday's attendance had been well above last year's levels. A large number was expected to attend today, the traditional "Twin Falls Day" at the fair.
Many Twin Falls businesses reduced hours to permit workers to go to the fair. Twin Falls schools were dismissed for the day.
According to fair officials, attendance will be the largest ever if Wednesday's opening day attendance is an indication.
Attendance the first day was 14,128, compared to 13,221 the year before, according to Mrs. Tom Shouse.
Mrs. Shouse said that for the first time in fair history, every reserved ticket for the Wednesday night rodeo was sold.
Thursday's attendance last year was 15,225 and fair officials expect this year's to exceed that.
Today also is Polled Hereford cattle day, with judging conducted in the morning. The Junior Hereford show was scheduled for 4 p.m. This morning also saw Quarterhorse performance classes and 4-H demonstrations for agriculture and home economics.
The Appaloosa horse performance class is scheduled for 11 p.m. today. Also included will be the showing of exotic breeds of cattle, a 4-H tractor driving contest, 3-H and FFA Round Robin fitting and showing and the Open to the World steer show.

Police career dream clouded for Shoshone vet

SIOHSHONE (UPI) — A young Vietnam veteran who is working as Shoshone's assistant police chief saw his dreams of law enforcement career end this week because of an exercise he can't perform with his artificial leg.
Ed Critchell, 24, said he has wanted to be a police officer for about as long as he could remember. His opportunity arrived a year ago when the City of Shoshone asked him the job.
Requirements for certification of police officers in Idaho are successful completion of a rigorous physical and Police Academy work at Idaho State University.
"Shoshone" officials several weeks ago had requested that an agility test be administered to Critchell to determine if he could meet the physical demands of the academy.
The test was administered Tuesday by Larry Platt, the executive director of the Idaho Peace Officers Standards and Training Advisory Council.

Platt said Critchell displayed remarkable attitude and courage despite his handicap. He lost one leg below the knee when a land mine exploded in Vietnam.
"He ran the 120 yards in 35 seconds. That's not bad in anyone's book," said Platt.
When the test was completed and the points tabulated, Critchell had narrowly failed the agility test because his artificial leg would not allow him to perform a forward thrust — an exercise in which the person from a squatting position thrusts one leg forward.
Critchell told the Times-News he was "stunned" by his test failure and "I'm still stunned because I have never before had one Critchell to determine if he could meet the physical demands of the academy."
"However, he said he is 'entirely behind the state' upgrading of physical and mental requirements in police officers. This should be encouraged."
"If I voluntarily turn in my resignation, it will be my contribution to support of this fact," he added.
Critchell said he has strong points that might offset his handicap if running. "My arm and shoulder muscles are extremely strong and my right leg is very strong. I can stomp better than most. I fired expert in pistol and rifle in the Marines and I am confident my mental capacities are more alert than before my accident."
"Each police officer's qualifications should be considered individually according to assets and liabilities," he said.
"I like my job and I would like to keep it. But, if in my own mind I feel that in a race I could not do justice to it, then I should resign," Critchell added.
"I don't want to make a big fuss over this," he said.

More Soviet deals ahead, Butz says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz today launched a strong defense of recent U.S. grain sales to the Soviet Union, and said still more sales would be in the national interest.

"I fully expect that we will be able to make substantial sales to the Soviet Union without harming the U.S. supply position," Butz told the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"In fact, further sales will be entirely desirable and necessary from the standpoint of both agriculture and the national interest," said the committee's Chairman Arthur F. Burns.

Butz repeated his prediction that the grain sale will drive up American food prices by as much as 25 percent.

Butz said some people have made the Russians the "scapegoat" for rising food prices, when in fact, "their grain purchases have helped our agriculture situation, our employment situation, our trade balance situation."

"It's hard to get that across when so many people can only see red when the subject is mentioned," Butz said. "It is evident that certain groups are grinding a variety of special interests axes, and pandering to a public nervousness about—and misunderstanding of—the sale of grain to the Soviet Union."

Several maritime unions are refusing to load grain on ships bound for the Soviet Union until the administration gives assurance that the Russian purchases will not drive up domestic food prices.

Thomas W. Gleason, president of the Longshoremen's Union, said today he intends to ask AFL-CIO president George Meany to summon a meeting of maritime leaders, farmers, independent truckers, gas station owners and the big grain dealers to convince them the boycott is in the American interest.

Gleason, in a speech to a convention of the Seafarers International Union, also hinted that the longshoremen would get sick en masse if they cannot beat injunctions ordering them to load the grain.

"We're in here for it to protect everything that's American," Gleason said. "And to hell with everything else."

On Wednesday, Meany attacked Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., for his criticism of the AFL-CIO supported longshoremen boycott.

Police career dream clouded

The matter was discussed Tuesday night by the Shoshone City Council and the councilmen were unified behind the young officer, saying he has been diligent and they did not want to lose him.

They agreed to keep Critchell in the post.

Wednesday, Critchell found the councilmen were not the only ones on his mind.

Police Chief John Shaffer said, "He is a diligent and competent officer and when he is needed he is there promptly. I couldn't ask for a better man."

Atty. Gen. Wayne Kidwell agreed with Shaffer, saying it was his understanding the officer was both competent and diligent.

Growers nab 8

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — Growers made eight citizens arrests of United Farm Workers organizers on trespass charges in Fresno and Tulare Counties Wednesday.

The arrests of the UFW organizers, who were booked here and then released on their own recognizance, came as Fresno federal Judge S.M.D. Crocker issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting enforcement of the California Agricultural Labor Relations Board's "access" rule adopted last week to provide union organizers access to workers at ranches. He ordered a hearing for Sept. 12 to see if the ruling should be permanent.

The rule was fiercely opposed by growers who in some cases met union organizers at gunpoint in order to keep them off ranches.

Man arrested

RUPERT — A Rupert resident with an ax was arrested by Burley police Saturday afternoon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Mario Mancias, 40, was arrested at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in front of the home of his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Julio Mancias.

The police officer said he responded to a call and was met by Mancias, who brought an ax around from behind his back. The officer drew his gun, ordered Mancias to drop the ax and arrested him.

Idaho officials cutting expenses

BOISE (UPI) — State officials are trying to counteract the effects of inflation by cutting back on travel, capital outlay and current expenses.

Budget instructions to executive agencies this year directed the officials, for one, not to consider inflation when they prepared their requests for fiscal 1977.

Hal Turner, administrator of the Division of Budget, Policy Planning and Coordination, said the state took its cue from the federal government.

"We've always allowed for it (inflation) and this year we decided not to include it," Turner said. "The federal government had a drive on to increase productivity and we feel we should make department heads aware of it, too."

Turner said Gov. Cecil D. Andrus concurred with the idea and the decision was put into the budget instructions.

Generally, Turner said, inflation has boosted costs by about six per cent a year. By stepping up productivity, he said, "We hope we'll offset the inflationary factor."

"We know we're going to have some trouble in some agencies," he acknowledged. "We'll have to be flexible and, in some cases, we may have to consider inflation."

But he said "We're really pulling the burden on department heads."

Although state officials were directed not to consider inflation in operating expenses, he said this rule does not extend to salaries. He said cost of living still will be considered in recommended pay scales for fiscal 1977.

Turner said it is too early yet to tell whether the agency heads have complied with the budget instructions. He said not enough of the big budgets are in to determine whether any trends are developing.

Crossing repair set

RUPERT — Union Pacific plans to renovate the railroad crossing at the main entrance to downtown Rupert.

The reconstruction project on F Street between Omaha and Scott Avenue will cost the railroad an estimated $75,000, Don Courtwright, assistant city engineer, told the Rupert City Council Tuesday night.

He said railroad officials in Pleasanton, Calif., told him by phone that the railroad is planning to tear out the crossing and rebuild it soon.

He said a detailed plan of the work is to be sent to the city.

The project will eliminate joints in crossing by using Precast Concrete Slab Track.

Railroad officials told Courtwright other crossings in Rupert may receive some work, but the major improvement is at F Street. The rough crossing has brought numerous complaints from residents.

City officials discussed improvement with Union Pacific several times.

Yanking Russian 'bugs' spy vessel's latest job

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The spy ship the CIA used to recover part of a sunken Russian submarine reportedly has a new mission: Yanking out underwater "bugs" the Soviets planted on the seabed only 50 miles off the California coast to listen to the U.S. Navy.

The San Diego Evening Tribune reported Wednesday that the Glimor Explorer will soon begin operations to remove and destroy Russian sensors on the ocean bottom in the vicinity of San Clemente Island.

The Navy, and the Global Marine Co., ostensible operator of the ship, refused to comment on the report.

The island, about 50 miles south of Los Angeles, is under Navy control. It and the waters around it frequently are used for maneuvers and tests by the Navy and Marine Corps.

The Defense Department has confirmed that underwater listening tests of the Trident I, a ballistic missile with a 4,000 mile range designed to be launched from submarines, are scheduled to take place there later this year. The Tribune said the Navy is sending the Soviet sensors to the island before the missile tests start.

The newspaper said "the sensors were planted in the seabed by Soviet submarines and intelligence ships" and are in the area where the tests will be conducted. The device may have been planted years ago, perhaps as early as 1962.

Exchange time here

TWIN FALLS — Food stamp recipients should exchange their old series food stamps for new ones, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announces.

The stamps, in the old series, were good through Aug. 31, and as of now should be exchanged for the new ones. Only the new series stamps can now be accepted by retailers in the area.

Exchanges may be made at all food stamp issuing offices designated by the state and on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

New stamp series were introduced March 1 in denominations of $1, $5, $10 and these replace those in $5, $10, $20 and $50 provided in the original issue.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Miss Ohio, Susan Kay Banks, won the first of three preliminary talent contests Wednesday night in the Miss America pageant and Miss Rhode Island, Debra Jean Cusick, won the first swimsuit competition.

Miss Banks, of Ravenna, Ohio, sang "Sempere Libera" from the opera "Traviata" and received loud applause and several "braves" when she finished.

The 24-year-old Kent State University music education major wore a black gown with Filineston trim during the talent contest—the first of three.

The 15-year-old Miss Cusick, whose measurements are 35-23-35, wore a bright pink swimsuit with a low back and high heels during the first swimsuit contest.

Miss Cusick, of Providence, R.I., was judged the best in the first of three swimsuit contests by a panel of three women and four men.

The remaining swimsuit and talent contests will be held tonight and Friday.

Fire truck bid wins OK at Burley

BURLEY — The Burley City Council Tuesday night approved a single bid for a pumper truck and 750-gallon booster capacity for the fire department.

Fire Chief Doug Hill told the council—the city—also is acquiring a large boom truck through Civil Defense from Mountain Home Air Force Base.

The council accepted the bid of Starline Equipment Co., Boise, at $53,874. The acceptance is conditional on the 1976 budget to be approved in January.

City Attorney William Parsons warned that the acceptance could be cancelled by the new council, since it was not covered in the 1975 budget.

Hill said Starline knew this when it bid and that might have been the reason two other major companies did not bid. Hill said the bid was in line with the $55,000 estimate.

Delivery is expected in February or March, within the 180-day deadline.

The boom truck has a 65-foot reach and is mounted on a 10-wheel chassis, Chief Hill said Wednesday.

He said the truck will have to be completely remodeled, but should be useful to the fire department.

He said the truck had not been used by the Air Force for firefighting. It was used for spraying deice on the wings of B-47s. He said it had only a 1-inch line; the department will need a minimum 3-inch line.

Low bid okayed by TF council

TWIN FALLS — A bid of $293,000 for construction of interceptor sewers was accepted Monday night by the Twin Falls City Council.

The low bid, submitted by Idaho Construction Co. Twin Falls, was among eight received by the council. Federal and state funds will cover 90 per cent of the project costs. The sewers are part of Twin Falls' new waste treatment system.

The council Monday also accepted a bid of $18,195 per year from Parks and Sons for monthly collection of trash in the city's alleys and streets. The pickups will be in addition to regular collection and provide disposal of all refuse except auto bodies, earth and manure.

In other action, the council:

- approved a conditional ordinance permitting the Eastside Southern Baptist Church to conduct a weekly early education program. Conditions added to the approval included erection of a fence around the playground area, and the removal of a sign advertising the program.
- rejected a request by

Snake River Enterprises for out-of-city water and sewer services at a planned 79-acre residential development near the intersection of Eastland Drive and Falls Avenue. A planned unit development (PUD) is proposed at the site. Councilmen turned down the request because the city has no PUD ordinance to serve as a guideline for determining the acceptability of the proposed development.

— hired Max Mueller, Twin Falls, to draft a PUD ordinance and update the city's subdivision and mobile home ordinances. Mueller will be paid $12.50 per hour up to a total of $500.

— heard the first reading of an ordinance changing the method of determining yard setback requirements in residential local, residential medium and residential professional zones. Under the proposed law, the setbacks will be determined by the street center line rather than the property line.

— adopted a resolution declaring Nov. 4 as the date for the next municipal election.

Prison term commuted

BURLEY — A two year penitentiary term in a stabbing was commuted to three months in jail Tuesday in Fifth District Court.

Judge Sherman Bellwood cut the sentence on Domingo Aguilana, 31, Burley, to 90 days in county jail.

Aguilana had pleaded guilty on July 21 to assault with a deadly weapon. Charges arose out of the June 28 stabbing of Paulino Sanchez, 41, Burley, in a downtown Burley tavern.

The original sentence given Aguilana was two years in state penitentiary.

Rupert locates more lines

RUPERT — The City of Rupert found during the last few days it has more sewer lines than it knew.

Some streets have an alternate collection line in addition to the main sewer line.

Fire Chief and Building Inspector Odell McLane said there are "quite a few in the east part of town" because of the subsurface water level.

The discovery came when Don Price complained that sewage was backing up into his house at 302 B St. in the east part of the city.

City crews determined that the flow was proper in the main line and told Price his own line must be plugged.

Price had a backhoe dig out his line, but found no trouble other than the backhoe broke his own pipe.

Public Works Director Elmer Schenk told Price to continue digging until he reached the main line. He said the city would pay for the extra digging if the stoppage was in the main line.

An hour later Price reported that he had found a line that was not supposed to be there. It was an alternate line laid as a collector about 4 1/2 feet east of the main line in the middle of B Street.

Price told the council he was willing to pay half the backhoe cost. "The city should be responsible if the city put it (the alternate line) in there," remarked Councilman Clark Cameron.

Councilman Duane Allen agreed, pointing out that Price acted on city instructions.

Don Chisholm, legal counsel for the city, suggested a claim for a ruined bathroom rug be denied and the city proceed with the backhoe matter.

Schenk had asked for a set policy on maintenance of lines. Mayor Wendell Johnson suggested the city maintain sewer lines in the property line.

But Schenk said there was a problem with access to the individual lines and the city might as well take responsibility for all sewer lines if it did that.

Rodeo queen at Filer

FILER — Connie Della Lucia, the reigning Miss Rodeo America, will be at the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo to crown the new Miss Rodeo Idaho.

Miss Lucia, Ogden, Utah, won the coveted crown and title in the 20th annual Miss Rodeo American Pageant in Oklahoma City Dec. 2, 1974.

She competed against queens from 36 states and two Canadian provinces. Candidates were judged on horsemanship, personality and appearance throughout the six-day contest.

Connie, who won the appearance portion, staged riding in the Junior Posse when she was 13 and was named Queen of the group when she was 15. She participated in barrel racing, poles and goat tying and attended Utah State Rodeos for three years.

While attending Weber High School in Ogden, Connie was a member of the Utah and National High School Rodeo Associations, the student council and various dance and assembly committees. She was also a junior varsity cheerleader, head varsity cheerleader, and a member of the Student Council. She received an academic scholarship to Weber State College in May of 1974.

Sanitation crew 'unsung heroes'

FILER — The unsung heroes, or in this case the unsung chore, of any large event are the hard-working members of the sanitation crew.

Mrs. Vera Chandler, Mrs. Lynn Chandler and Mrs. Eddis Lammers come to work at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds each morning at 7 a.m., and at least two of them stay until midnight or 1 a.m. when the rodeo is over and most of the crowd has gone home.

They will be working every day at the fair, as well as a week after the fair, and their labors on the grounds started over a month ago when they began painting the rest rooms on the grounds and cleaning and painting the interiors of the other buildings. They put clean paper on the shelves and tables which hold exhibits, washed the windows in all the buildings, and did a number of other chores to get the buildings in shape for the big four-day event.

Sets of restrooms at the fairgrounds are in the 4-H Club pavilion, the race track, behind the Art Guild building, three under the grandstand, and two different buildings near the youth building.

These are all cleaned each morning and night, and checked every two hours during the day to replenish supplies of paper towels, toilet tissues and soap.

Patricia A. Gilling — the fairgrounds often comment how clean and well kept the restrooms are. Mrs. Tom Shouse, wife of the secretary-manager said, and credit certainly should go to these capable sanitation engineers.

SALT confrontation awaiting Kissinger

WASHINGTON - When Secretary of State Henry Kissinger returns from his Mideast triumph... he will find on his desk an extraordinarily harsh letter demanding his presence at a long-delayed confrontation with Sen. Henry M. Jackson over SALT.

deportments inconsistent with your assurances to the Congress (about the SALT I agreement) raises serious doubts about the manner in which that agreement was negotiated.

questioning. Although the hearing would be behind closed doors, Jackson would push for quick publication of a transcript. Either option guarantees escalation in the political debate over détente.

The Jackson subcommittee heard closed door testimony about this from CIA Director William Colby on Feb. 11 and Defense Secretary James Schlesinger on March 3.

Controlling growth

Caldwell News-Tribune

Cities faced with the problem of uncontrolled urban sprawl, untidely and costly housing developments plus a community desire to retain a desirable small town "way of life" will be very interested in a decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco on this controversial matter.

The case arose when the city of Petaluma, 40 miles north of San Francisco, passed a city ordinance in 1972 restricting its growth to no more than 500 housing units per year in large development.

Petaluma had grown to a population of 30,500 - an increase of 25 per cent in just two years. The Petaluma restrictive ordinance provided for a 200-foot "green belt" around the city for a 5-15 year period and pulled a ceiling of 500 dwellings per year on developments of five units or more.

A group of builders took the city to court arguing that the ordinance restricted immigration into the city. And a U.S. District Court upheld their contention claiming that the city action restricted the right of movement of the public.

Petaluma appealed, however, and the result was the favorable decision from the appeals court. Significantly, many small California communities are aware of the uncontrolled growth problem and contribute funds to Petaluma for its legal expenses in continuing the case.

Petaluma city officials say that since the passage of the ordinance no permits have been denied to builders of four units or less, which were not part of a larger project.

Builders think that the ruling will result in higher construction costs, a loss of quality and choice of homes and a lack of mobility to the population of the area.

The court held that the Petaluma ordinance did not freeze growth, but provided for an orderly increase of about six per cent per year. It noted also that it did not exclude home seekers on either an economic or minority group basis.

With the flight to the suburbs which has characterized America's living pattern for the past decade or more, residents of former small towns and rural areas have become increasingly alarmed by what they saw as the destruction of a way of life which they considered desirable.

Builders and labor unions with a direct economic interest in continued construction have argued for an almost wide open unrestrained opportunity to develop.

In a comment the court said that it was not a judicial function to rule on the application of the zoning powers delegated to the cities by the states. It suggested that any remedies sought in this area must come from state legislatures rather than the court.

The builders group opposing the Petaluma ordinance are speaking of carrying their protest to the Supreme Court. In the meantime, however, it is probable that smaller communities, bolstered by the appeals court verdict, will look to plans which maintain desirable environment for their residents.

Los Angeles Times - Only one year after he inspired the movement that led to the independence of Bangladesh from Pakistan, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman has been deposed and murdered...

There is evidence to support the first two of these charges, though they hardly justify assassination. But the latter allegation is absurdly unfair, a tragic distortion of facts to help justify the seizure of power.

No man, no government, could have hoped or been expected to "solve" the problems that make Bangladesh probably the poorest of countries. A new regime might manage affairs with somewhat greater efficiency and honesty...

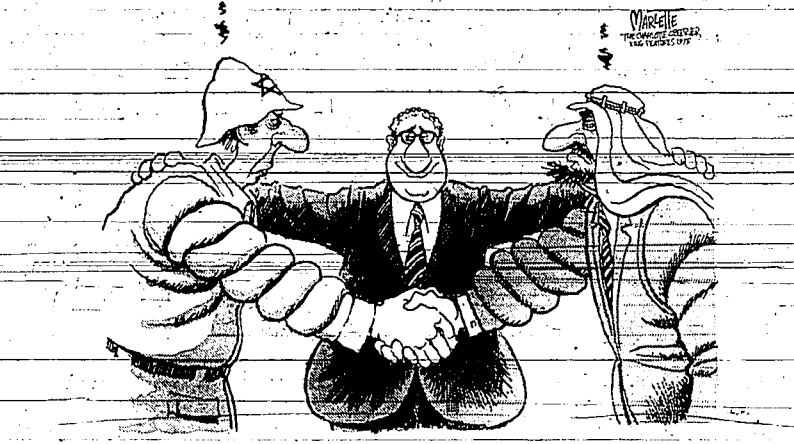

Secretary of State Kissinger once called Bangladesh an international basket case. The description is harsh, and apt. The signs now are that the new leadership, headed by President Khandakar Mushtaque Ahmed, will move more vigorously than the former government to solve the problems...

When East Pakistan, with the vital backing of the Indian army, became Bangladesh, a major goal of India's foreign policy was satisfied. Pakistan, its rival on the subcontinent, was weakened and isolated. Now the prospect has been raised of closer Pakistan-Bangladesh relations...

Israelis disagree on shape of times to come

JERUSALEM - Like everybody else in the Middle East, Israelis disagree sharply about the shape of things to come. Among those I asked to speculate about the condition of this region 20 years hence were Premier Rabin, Defense Minister Peres and Gen. Ariel Sharon...

Speaking with deliberate hesitation, Rabin thought peace would prevail but that in two decades "instability and hatred" might still be evident in the area. He hoped, nevertheless, for some kind of "confederation" between Arab-dominated Jordan and Jewish-dominated Israel by then, with joint condominium over the West Bank...

Economic factors as well as wisdom call for one large community. Each member would keep its own identity but there would be open frontiers, joint ventures and mutual defense arrangements.

Time is on the side of peace. You can't escape from this. But I am not convinced formal some might work against the Russians. They can be invited to a country and they welcomed by that country. But a third dialectical stage can come - a growing desire to get rid of them. The Russians may look on themselves as liberators but other people look on them as foreigners.

Rabin is far more cautious than his defense minister. He stresses "what we will see in the Middle East today is a continuation of tremendous oil wealth and a backward Arab society, a backward society and medieval ideas confront the capabilities and realities of the second half of the twentieth century."

For Rabin, Moscow is a source of danger. Seeking to maintain tension in the Middle East and to encourage difficulties in the free world and price of oil for the industrial free world. He adds: "Unless that world is more unified in its position by action of consumers vis-a-vis producers, it will erode. To relate this to the Arab-Israeli situation is to misinterpret the real issue."

What you must understand is the developing between the Arabs and the Russians. Dialectics will precede the establishment of agreed frontiers and a community. On the contrary, the economic approach often provides a better beginning than the political one.

He shouldn't have gone

WASHINGTON - Whenever I go away on vacation I have to get briefed when I get back to Washington on what I missed.

The man I depend on to catch me up on things is Doc Dalinsky, my pharmacist, who keeps up on the news when he unstacks the papers every morning.

"What happened while I was gone?" I asked him. "We sold 10 million tons of grain to the Russians which means the price of bread is going up in this country this year."

"Oh," I exclaimed. "It was a big mistake," Dalinsky told me. "How's that?" "Well the original idea was to sell the Soviets 10 million tons of New York City grains. But somebody in Washington got his signals mixed and sold them the grain instead."

"Why would the Soviets want New York City bonds?" "Because several of the banks in New York said that if the city couldn't sell them someone would have to eat them. It was Mayor Beame's hope that the Russians would rather eat his bonds than somebody else's wheat."

"But it didn't work out that way?" "No. The Soviets insisted they wanted grain so New Yorkers have to eat their own bonds for breakfast."

"What else happened?" I asked Dalinsky. "Let's see. Oh, yes. The United States is ending its trade curbs against Castro, and we'll probably recognize Cuba soon."

"That's a switch," I said. "Well, the thinking is that, after trying to knock Castro off for 24 times and failing, the only thing left to do was open diplomatic relations with him."

"How does the Mafia feel about it?" I asked Dalinsky. "They were kind of hurt that they weren't consulted, but I must say they were magnanimous about it."

One of the heads of the families said "We have a saying in the Cosa Nostra: If you can't kill 'em, join 'em."

"What else is going on?" "Kissinger's in the Middle East," Dalinsky said. "That's not news," I said. "The price of gasoline is going up."

"That's not news," I said. "We're going back to double digit inflation." "That's not news," I said. "Nixon said he did nothing wrong."

"That's not news," I said. "Liz Taylor and Richard Burton are back together again."

"That's not news," I said. "Yes it is. Because this time they say it's forever."

"Forever?" "That's what their press spokesman said."

"What a story? They really said forever?" "I'm not making it up," Dalinsky said. "Is there anything else I should know?"

"Well, are you sitting down?" "How can I be sitting down? I'm standing here talking to you."

"All right," Betty Ford revealed to "Myra" McPherson in McCall's magazine that she and her husband have spun up the White House tradition of separate bedrooms for the President and his wife.

I whistled. "That's news." "And she also said if anyone ever asked her how often she slept with her husband she would say, 'as often as possible.'"

I said, "I knew I shouldn't have gone on vacation."

All right, Betty Ford revealed to Myra McPherson in McCall's magazine that she and her husband have spun up the White House tradition of separate bedrooms for the President and his wife.

It is hard to compose or even to relate these three divergent views coming from three key Israeli leaders and then to deduce conclusions. However, knowing both Rabin and Sadat, I venture to say they share more views in common than either suspects and that Cairo is by no means so far from endorsing the Rabin dream as today's emotional arguments might indicate.

There is no question that the Rabin administration has chosen to ignore its pledge to expedite the deployment of the new Soviet SS-19 missile as a heavy missile and therefore one whose deployment contravenes the U.S. interpretation of the agreement.

That has the tone of a challenge, not an invitation. How Kissinger reacts to it could cast a long shadow over future political and diplomatic events.

Under the new rules, newspapers which were lively, free and instructive, can say nothing about what is going on except what the government tells them to print.

That is the language of practically all leaders who seize power and intend to rule by force. If the people are not sure what is happening to them, they have no basis for complaint.

Prowler guard proposed

By JACK C. LANDAU © Newhouse News Service WASHINGTON — Congress goes into session this month, it will debate a bill which would make it a federal crime for a citizen to shoot a night-time prowler on the spot.

Another lawyer said it was his understanding that the law in most states permitted the use of "deadly force" against a person who "breaks and enters the home at any time."

Several states such as New York have changed their laws to require "safe retreat" rather than shooting but several lawyers said the law is not working.

What reportedly happens is that the home dweller who shoots the intruder testifies that he thought the intruder went for a gun or made a menacing movement — and most juries tend to believe him.

National Health Insurance and a consumer agency are opposed by President Ford, and tax revision and gun control have strong opposition in Congress and may be delayed by the crush of other legislative business.

The bill, which is supported by the Ford administration and a coalition of Republican and Democratic senators, would negate the widely held belief that a person can shoot a night-time prowler with no questions asked.

There is considerable debate arising over this provision of the Federal Criminal Justice Reform Act of 1975. The American Bar Association (ABA) at its annual meeting last month voted to oppose the provision.

But a well-known Washington attorney, Norman Ely, says that the provision goes beyond most state laws.

Striking teachers on picket line in 10 states

By United Press International
Teachers marched picket lines in 10 states today while nearly a million students took an extended holiday or sat in understaffed, half empty classrooms.

Chicago public school teachers manned picket lines for the second day, idling some 530,000 students and strike threats loomed in New York and Los Angeles.

In all, some 943,000 students were affected by teachers' strikes.

The Chicago Teachers Union and the school board, nudged by Mayor Richard J. Daley to settle their differences, resumed negotiations for a new contract only hours after 25,744 union teachers began picketing the city's 669 elementary and high schools. However, the talks failed to produce an agreement.

"By God, why don't we first get the children back into school!" Daley (joked) to reporters. "Then we'll negotiate—and we can."

Chicago Schools Supt. Joseph Hannon ordered classrooms closed to students as teachers struck on the opening day of classes Wednesday, but the schools were open to principals and staff members. Police stood by in the schools and at Loop offices of the board to prevent violence.

In suburban Chicago, teachers at Elgin struck today but classes were kept open for the 26,000 students. A strike by high school teachers at Joliet, Ill., affected 6,500 students and a week-old strike at Urbana, Ill., affected another 7,000 students.

The strikes affected 569,500 school children in Illinois, 100,000 in Pennsylvania, 80,000 each in Rhode Island and Michigan, 41,000 in New York state, 24,000 in California, 11,000 at Marlon, Ind., 8,000 in Hoboken, N.J., 14,200 in the Wilmington, Del., school system and 16,800 in Great Falla, Mont.

Only 19 per cent of Wilmington's 1,200 teachers reported for work on the opening day of the fall term Wednesday.

FORMER WHITE HOUSE chief of staff H. R. Haldeman formally appealed his Watergate coverup conviction Wednesday in Washington, D.C. federal court (UPI).

Mail rates draw blast

Chicago Daily News citizens are being overcharged on first-class postal service, according to the president of the National Association of Greening Card publishers.

And he urged them to flood the board of governors of the U.S. Postal Service with protests against a plan to raise first-class postage to 13 cents by year's end.

"Private first class mail users are taking the brunt of the 'postal-cost' because they don't have a strong, effective lobby," said Robert H. Bustler. "It's time the situation be put on a fair basis."

Bustler said an administrative law judge estimated that consumers are overcharged on first class mail by 20 per cent — or 2 cents on a 10 cent letter.

Viets worry US aides on Guam

WASHINGTON — The Ford Administration has become increasingly concerned about 1,802 South Vietnamese seeking to return to their homeland from temporary quarters on Guam.

Those seeking repatriation were among the more than 130,000 Vietnamese evacuated from South Vietnam before the completion of the Communist take-over last May. They have been in American custody since then.

From the outset of the evacuation last April, the administration has made it clear that anyone seeking later repatriation would be assisted in his return by the United States, Julia Vadalay, chief director of the interagency task force on Vietnam, said in an interview Wednesday.

However, not a single refugee who wanted to return has been accepted by the Communist government in Saigon since it took power last spring, she said.

As a result, frustration among those seeking repatriation "has been accepted by the Communist government in Saigon since it took power last spring, she said.

American officials believe there may be a small group of agitators — perhaps 20 or 25 — among those seeking repatriation who could be acting on orders from Vietnamese officials in Hanoi to stir further trouble among those seeking repatriation.

One American official cited as evidence recent broadcasts from the Hanoi radio asserting that only those Vietnamese on Guam who actively demonstrated against "Yankee imperialists" would obtain repatriation.

Water trickles in TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Hoses stretching from Pennsylvania provided only a trickle of water to thirsty residents today, forcing them for the fourth day to develop ways of coping with a water shortage caused by a malfunctioning valve.

The three line tank trucks and bottled water have supplied only about eight million gallons of water daily. The 250,000 residents of Trenton and four affected suburbs normally use about 35 million gallons.

Frozen dinners have solved many of the problems of cooking without water.

The state Transportation Department suggested its employees plan their schedules to accommodate a shuttle bus set up to take them to lavatory facilities.

Dozens of trucks from the Civil Defense and National Guard, bringing water from as far away as Philadelphia, have been sent to caches around the city to provide enough water for sponge baths and toilets.

At the state Supreme Court, 200 female secretaries threatened to leave work rather than use portable toilets. They were given the day off.

name demonstrators burned a barracks and a guard hut on Guam. Four United States marshals were struck by rocks during the incident.

Scotts questioned

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Investigators, whose efforts to question Jack and Micki Scott were delayed for almost five months, had an opportunity today to question the couple concerning the Patricia Hearst case.

Prosecutors reportedly were considering immunity offers that could mean jail terms for the couple if they refused to cooperate with the grand jury.

But both have pledged to remain silent, claiming they have done nothing wrong, and have accused the government of harassment and illegal tactics in its search for Miss Hearst.

Scott, former Oberlin College athletic director, and his wife were scheduled to testify along with one of their friends, Martin Miller, before a grand jury investigating reports Miss Hearst stayed in Pennsylvania last summer.

Prosecutors reportedly were considering immunity offers that could mean jail terms for the couple if they refused to cooperate with the grand jury.

The Scotts allegedly rented a northeastern Pennsylvania farmhouse where the FBI suspects Miss Hearst and several other fugitives were harbored.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The voice of face car figure advertising agency, Steve Walters & Simmons, accepted a cease and desist order Wednesday that bans 11 specifically named advertising claims that were alleged to be false and misleading.

Two of the five FTC commissioners did not support the order saying it was "too weak."

Chairman Lewis Engman said, "STP Oil Treatment is of no significant value to the majority of cars which regularly use the proper grade of oil. I accordingly have difficulty in accepting an order which does not explicitly require STP to qualify its future claims." He was joined in the dissent by Commissioner M. Elizabeth Hanford.

FTC sources said Engman had wanted to require STP to include a statement in all future advertising specifically saying the additive "were of little use in most cars."

Death probe slows

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Medical sources said the FBI, stymied in its hunt for the cause of a baffling series of breathing failures that killed at least 11 men, will soon wind down its investigation at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

At the same time, the hospital said it will resume normal operations starting next Monday.

The sources said the FBI would continue the investigation, but would reduce the number of agents and amount of time spent on the case.

The FBI said only that its investigation would continue. The decision to commit manpower and time to the case came, the sources said, after exhaustive investigation failed to turn up any solid leads to the cause of the respiratory failures.

Some administrators at the hospital believe the failures were caused by a killer who injected a powerful paralytic drug into patients. There were more than 50 respiratory failures between July 1 and Aug. 15, when the FBI entered the case.

No new cases have been reported since Aug. 15 although three men who suffered breathing failures before that date have since died.

The investigation virtually brought the hospital to a standstill.

More nice fall days in store

Twin Falls, Northside, Burley, Rapier Area:

Continued fair and warm through Friday. Lows tonight in the middle 40's. Highs in the middle 80's. Light winds tonight. Probability of precipitation near zero through Friday.

Synopsis: Warm dry weather is expected to continue through the weekend. Temperatures are likely to approach 90 Saturday, followed by some cooling Sunday. Some moist air now over Arizona and New Mexico may cause some showers over the South Hills Saturday, but none are likely in the Magic Valley.

We can expect continued very favorable weather for the fall and for harvesting through the weekend.

However, it would seem advisable to take advantage of this good weather. The 30 day outlook for the month of September to average cooler and wetter than normal. Some interruptions in farm work are likely later in the month.

The past records show that the average date of the first killing frost in Twin Falls is Sept. 24.

HAW chief highest paid Gem executive

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI)—Health and Welfare Director James A. Bax still is Idaho's highest paid executive department head, state pay records showed Wednesday.

Bax's salary went to $38,064 a year from $33,092 as of July 1. Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, the man who appointed Bax, makes $33,000.

Another high paid appointed official is William C. Hepp, investment trustee for the Endowment Fund Investment Board. He was raised to $33,360 from $33,000.

Transportation Director Darrell Manning also is receiving a high salary, by Idaho standards. Manning's salary jumped to $30,360 July 1 from $28,080—an increase of $190 per month.

Harry Day, secretary to the Transportation Board, received a good sized increase—to $28,716 from $24,840.

Some officials, like Hepp, received only the $30 per month raise voted state employees by the Legislature. For instance, E. Dean Tidale, the state highway administrator, who went to $28,428 from $28,068. At least one official—Gene Rutledge of the Nuclear Energy Commission—received no raise.

He still gets the $27,482 to which he was raised last Oct. 1.

One of the bigger pay hikes this summer went to John D. Hough, administrative assistant to the governor. Hough's position changed, however, from that of a special assistant to chief deputy for Andrus. His pay shot up $500 a month—to $23,004 from $17,004 annually.

Andrus' special assistants previously received varying sized paychecks. Most now appear to be standardized at $18,356 a year. An exception is Matthew Mullany Jr., a former deputy attorney general, who was raised to $19,356 from $18,504 a year.

Directors of some of the larger departments now receive $25,356 a year. These include Wilson Kellogg of Agriculture, Donald R. Erickson of Corrections, John Bender of Law Enforcement, Joe Greenleaf of Fish and Game, Gorton C. Trembley of Public Lands and Glenn Nichols of Employment.

In a couple of cases the increases were big ones. Bender's raise amounted to nearly a month and Kellogg's, $498 per month.

Department heads required to have special qualifications appeared in some cases to do better than the average appointees. R. Keith Higginson, director of Water Resources, for instance, makes $29,352—a boost more than $400 per month from the $24,228 he previously received.

Higginson's administrator for planning, Stephen C. Alfred, also got a healthy raise July 1—to $27,032 from $24,228.

Other branches of state government raised salaries for top appointed officials, too. Carl Bianchi, administrator for the Supreme Court, for instance, climbed to $28,892 from $24,000. H. (Bill) Young, clerk of the Supreme Court, went to $22,092 from $19,100.

Myron Schlechte, director of the Legislative Council, was raised to $25,356—the same as major department heads in the executive branch—but only the $30 per month all state employees received.

Legislative Auditor Clyde Koonitz fared somewhat better. His salary was raised to $24,228 from $20,904. John C. Anderson, legislative fiscal officer, also did well at the pay window July 1. His salary was hiked to $22,100 from $19,428.

Other executive salary increases, by the month and with former pay in parentheses, include Retirement Director T.F. Ferrill, $2,152 ($2,122); Hal Turner, director of the Office of the Governor and administrator of Budget, Policy Planning and Coordination, $2,030 ($1,795); Robert N. Wise, planning chief, $1,893 ($1,907); Larry Senle, budget chief, $1,835 ($1,507); Lonnie Lee Woods, another bureau chief for your health

Dear Dr. Thoseson:
I'm planning on buying a new bicycle to 10-speed, and I was wondering if the carrier handlebars for the bike would be all right. I've heard that it can really wreck a person's posture. I have a good posture now, and I don't want to change it. I would really appreciate your opinion. I am a girl — J.M.P.

You should tell me your age, which could be important. However, from some hints in your letter, I am assuming you are a teenager.
The handlebars to which you refer (for the benefit of non-bicyclists) are the type that are set forward and curved downward. This type of handlebars is a good forward and downward curve, after all, with the back nearly horizontal to the ground.
I've tried them and, believe me, they call for some pretty strenuous contortion.

Can bike affect posture?
However, I have known professional riders who have adapted to this style and who have perfectly wonderful postures, so that should not concern you, especially since you tell me you have a good posture now... and after all, I don't suppose you would be spending too great a part of your life riding a bicycle.
I would not recommend this for older persons, however, because it could lead to back problems that wouldn't be encountered by this young, apparently athletic woman.

Dear Dr. Thoseson:
I have had arthritis in my hands for 26 years. My fingers are stiff and the joints swollen. I am still able to write, knit, sew, and do my housework.
I've been told that a series of gold shots will straighten my hands out in three months. I am reluctant to go through with this treatment, because of a friend who had them 20 years ago and is worse off than ever.
My arthritis is not bothering me much, and I certainly would not want to end up in worse shape than I am in now. L.C.

Gold salts injection is an effective treatment, but I doubt that after 26 years of arthritis it would do much good. A three-month trial would not hurt you, however. If your doctor feels it will help. As to your friend's experience, everyone, or almost everyone with a chronic disorder of this type, can encounter someone who has had an unfavorable experience with any treatment.
There have been many treatments for arthritis, and few are as effective as aspirin or sodium salicylate.
Chronic rheumatoid arthritis is a disorder that requires adjustment by the victim, and you apparently have made that adjustment nicely.

Physiotherapy is an often neglected form of treatment. Heat massage and exercise will limber up stiff joints and lessen pain. My booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis," lists other therapeutic programs along with more general information on the subject. The gold shot therapy is discussed also. For a copy, send 35 cents to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.
The booklet would be particularly helpful to others who may not have adjusted in a quarter-century of arthritis as well as you apparently have.

Dear Dr. Thoseson:
My doctor informs me that I have three healthy kidneys. I've never heard of such a thing in all my 70 years, and I am anxious to know if this is a common thing, or a rarity. — L.T.
It is relatively rare. In many cases, the supernumerary kidney is attached to one of the regular ones with two separate collecting funnels. This is known as a "double kidney."
It is a genetic quirk. An extra kidney is about as rare as having six toes, one extra on each foot.

What do you lead from a three-card suit? The old rule was to lead the top-unsuit head of an honor in which case you would lead the lowest. The modern expert practice is to lead the bottom from three small. Today's hand shows the advantage of the modern practice.
West opens the deuce of spades against South's three-ntump. East rises with the ace and leads the suit back. Now put yourself in South's position. If his opponent makes old-fashioned leads, he knows where the queen of spades is. He rises with his king and loses the club finesse, but it doesn't cost him his contract. West's queen blocks the suit. There might have been an unexpected dividend. West might drop his queen to unblock and thereby establish South's jack.
South might make the same play against a modernist, but he would be guessing well — not playing a cinch.

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Charles Scribner's Sons, Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My brother's wife recently died leaving him with a 13-year-old daughter. When the child feels unhappy, afraid or lonely, or when there are houseguests and a shortage of beds, her father allows her to sleep with him. (This occurs every two weeks.) He says he doesn't want her to grow up remembering that her father made her stay alone at night when she was blue or upset. He worries about her emotional security, as she has demonstrated a fear of losing her parents since she was adopted as an infant. The recent death of her mother was very traumatic for her. Could you or your readers offer some experiences that would enlighten this father or me?

SIS

DEAR SIS: Under NO circumstances should a 13-year-old girl be sleeping with her father. In fact, my psychiatric consultants state that beyond the age of four, no child should sleep with a parent of the opposite sex. If your brother tries to justify his actions, he desperately needs professional help. No doubt he is also lonely, but substituting his daughter for his wife (which he could unconsciously be doing) is sick.

DEAR ABBY: We are the parents of a 1-year-old daughter. We both work and do not plan on having any more children.

How do you feel about raising an only child? I am tired of hearing that it's "unfair" to our daughter to be raised as an only child.

We feel that as long as she gets plenty of love and discipline she will be all right. Have you any statistics to support or oppose raising an only child?

TULSA PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Don't look for statistics. You have the right idea.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I had dinner at an expensive restaurant and the total bill (for eight people) came to $60. When the waiter handed me the bill he whispered, "A 10 per cent tip is not included in the bill. Is it proper for a waiter to try to hustle a tip this way? He caught me off guard."

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: It was not only "improper" but a good way for the waiter to lose his job. You would have done him a favor had you warned him of the consequences.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's new booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Bubonic plague claims California youth, 14

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Officials here confirmed a 14-year-old youth died of the bubonic form of bubonic plague that ravages the European continent with epidemics of "Black Death."

Funeral services were scheduled today for the 14-year-old boy, William R. Handley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob R. Handley of San Rafael, Calif.

Health officials said Wednesday Handley, who died near Tijuera, east of Albuquerque, died of pneumonic plague.

"This is the first case of this type of the bubonic plague in New Mexico in about 20 years," said Dr. Victor Zalma, director of the State Health Agency.

There have been eight other cases of bubonic plague in New Mexico this year. In one case, a 2-year-old girl died from the disease. But previous cases were identified as the form of plague transmitted by the bite of a flea infected by a rodent.

Pneumonic plague, also transmitted by fleas, can be spread by germs carried on the victim's breath.

Handley was treated in an Albuquerque hospital, but did not manifest the usual signs of the disease, said Zalma. The boy died Monday in a San Francisco area hospital.

Nell S. Weber, chief of the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Agency Insect and rodent control program, said the youth apparently contracted the plague from fleas in the Tijuera Canyon area. Health officials checked the area to try to identify the rodent source of the disease.

"Although the disease was diagnosed as terminally pneumonic or contagious, we feel certain it had not reached a contagious stage while the victim was in New Mexico," said Dr. Jonathan Mann, State Health Agency Epidemiologist.

Weber said persons near the boy while he was in California after the plague developed into the pneumonic stage were being treated for the disease. Mann said all persons believed to have been in contact with Handley while he was in New Mexico had been located and were being given preventative antibiotics.

Moderates key

WASHINGTON — The liberal-moderate "Wednesday Club" of U.S. Senate Republicans has warned President Ford that it — rather than the conservatives — holds the key to the 1976 election, and has demanded that Ford campaign chairman Howard "Bo" Callaway be ordered to "lay off" Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The meeting at the White House was arranged by Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Clifford Case of New Jersey on the theory that the squeaky wheel gets the grease — and that the right-wingers have been squeaking along long enough.

Fringe taxes ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business executives should pay income tax for fringe benefits such as the use of their firms' hunting lodges, beachfront condominiums, jets and chauffeured limousines, the Internal Revenue Service says.

But IRS said the rule would not apply to gross income of a secretary who accompanied her employer on nonworking time, since she was not the direct beneficiary of the fringe benefits.

The IRS Wednesday called for public comment on the proposals to tax goods, services and other compensation paid other than in cash.

Car salesmen also would have to pay income taxes for the use of company autos that are later sold as "demonstrators" at reduced prices, the federal tax agency said.

Ambassadors, fire chiefs and other government employees would not have to pay income tax on the value of automobiles, or services of chauffeurs provided free for their use. Nor do the tax proposals apply to nonincome fringe benefits such as medical insurance and vacation leave received by all employees in a company, the IRS said.

The proposals are aimed primarily at executives who enjoy the exclusive use of corporate hunting lodges, aircraft, beachfront condominiums, cars, theater tickets and other "non-cash" benefits.

They would apply when these and other corporate assets are used by the businessmen on vacations, weekends, evenings and other times when they are not actively working.

IRS said the executives would be exempt from taxation if all employees from the lowest janitor to the chairman of the board enjoy the same privileges.

Firm asks silicone shots OK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration has been asked to approve the use of liquid silicone injections for cosmetic purposes, but not for breast enlargements, the Dow Corning Corp. announced today.

The fluid would be restricted to use for deformed faces, depressed scars, post-surgical scars, acne repair, wrinkles and other skin conditions, a company spokesman said.

FDA confirmed receiving the formal request for a new drug application which, if approved, would permit marketing of injectable silicone fluid to qualified doctors.

A Las Vegas plastic surgeon, who says he has seen hundreds of women "disfigured" from silicone breast treatments, urged FDA earlier this year to withhold marketing approval of such liquid injections. "It (silicone) doesn't deserve to be let loose on the American public," Charles A. Winkler told a House investigations subcommittee staff.

Dow Corning of Midland, Mich., said more than 1,300 patients during the last decade have received treatments for the conditions for which it wants the fluid approved, and no significant adverse side effects have been reported.

Swensen's Magic Markets have noted with great sadness, the extreme shortage of jar lids and the fact that numerous assorted politicians (including Frank Church) and two or three government agencies have not produced any more jar lids than the lid companies were already making, so Swensen's "BRILLIANT" solution to the lid problem is to have the world's most unpopular jar lid sale where you can buy all the JAR LIDS you want with the JARS ATTACHED. Gem, Maine spuds drop; meats, grains advance

Courtesy Sinclair & Co. CHICAGO — Potatoes plunged, grains and meats advanced.
 That in Wednesday's commodity-futures-trading in a nutshell.
 The May delivery of Idaho russet potatoes lost another 33 cents and closed at 13.10 per hundredweight.
 Commodity News Service said Maine spuds closed down the 50 cent limit in all months in a strong technical reaction to two weeks of steadily advancing prices after the Aug. 11 report of lower crop average. Downward pressure was applied by profit takers on a number of 59 trades.
 Wheat firmed early in the face of exporter hedge selling, then picked up strength and despite last minute hedging wound up 19; to 15 cents higher — Chicago, cash, basis was nominally unchanged while Gulf basis was 2 cents higher. Japan bought eight cargoes of U.S. wheat and additional business is expected from South Korea, Brazil and Bolivia.
 Corn gained 1/2 to 3/4 cents after a session of large parity.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market, unable to generate much buying, turned mixed Thursday in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange as many investors waited to see if a solution could be found to New York City's financial problems.
 The state legislature was to meet in Albany Monday to consider a $2 billion program to help New York City meet its soaring debt payments. A number of commercial banks promised to buy $100 million worth of Municipal Assistance Corp. bonds if the program were adopted.
 Some investors were concerned by the Commerce Department report that businesses have cut back further on spending plans for expansion in 1975. This would indicate a slow economic recovery.
 In light of the news, the Dow Jones industrial average, up more than three points at the outset, was off 1.25 points to 831.20 shortly before noon.

Snakebites

CHICAGO (UPI) — Snakebites very seldom kill.
 Some 45,000 persons are bitten by snakes each year in the United States, says a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association.
 The article reminding physicians of the proper treatment for snakebite, a group from the University of California School of Medicine, Los Angeles, report that of the 45,000 bites, some 8,000 are by venomous snakes.

Grain check bill drawn

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz Wednesday urged Congress to design a bill to restore integrity to the nation's scandal-racked grain inspection system through tighter federal controls.
 The plan would retain the present system under which all initial grain inspection is handled by federally-licensed private and state agencies.
 Butz would step up federal supervision of the private and state inspectors and impose a stiff new code of interest-free private inspection to restore integrity to our national grain inspection program, the Agriculture Department said.
 The bill, a watered-down version of reform plans initially proposed by Butz in the administration's response to charges of corruption in grain inspection and handling.

games highlight weekend

Minico invades Burley while Twin Falls tests its Friday to highlight a 12-game weekend for Magic Valley football teams.

Minico will be debuting under a new coach and without benefit of a previous game when they collide with the rival Bobcats of Budge field. However, Minico did get a chance to scout the Bobcats when they dropped a 12-0 decision to Burley last week. And that might help offset Burley's advantage of having played a game.

Meanwhile, Jerome will be at Twin Falls for a Jerome home game, an oddity that occurs on alternate years since all games at played are the larger capacity Bruin stadium.

That means that Jerome student activity and booster cards will entitle the bearer to admission while Twin Falls activity and Bruin Booster cards won't be good for this one.

Jerome figures to be down from last year's fine outfit — which lost only to Twin Falls in a head-clanging game. But not even Coach Ed Peterson knows how his Tigers will shape up.

"If we'd played last week we could've had gotten all the first two weeks on nothing but fundamentals. We've been working the boys hard and they've been responding."

"But we only have seven seniors on the roster so it just depends on how well the juniors can adapt. I think if we can get past the first few games without being blown out or ruined by injuries, we could have a pretty respectable team.

Coach Alquist, however, isn't breathing easy. "Listen, we know Jerome will play good defense. They've given us fits the past three or four years with that stacked four-four and bringing everybody. We also know that Jerome always comes over here to play and we expect a tough game," he says.

"We expect them to throw the ball more than they have in the past few years," he continued. "But the thing I'm really interested in seeing is how our offensive line — all Juniors but two) does against them. Because I know Jerome will be tough to move the ball against."

In other action, the Gooding Senators return home to host Emmett and still are smattering. From a 7-4 defeat at the hands of Bishop Kelly, Coach Gary Garland was unhappy with his offensive unit's inability to get the ball out of trouble as Kelly used a strong kicking game to control field position.

Wood River, fresh from a victory at American Falls, will entertain the Salmon Savages at 2 p.m. Friday. Salmon is an unknown quantity in this area.

In a renewal of an east-west rivalry, the Kimberly Bulldogs go to Murtaugh and both teams are 1-0. "Murtaugh's quickness on defense really impressed me," Kimberly Coach Gordon Hogan says. "I hope we're enough bigger to slow that pursuit down a little. I don't know . . ."

Dojo, which scored once on defense, will be at Shoshone which didn't score; as those teams head into their second game.

Valley, which was caught in that quick Murtaugh defense, will take his 0-1 record to Hansen where the Huskies own a 16-6 decision over Mackay. Lack of speed hurt Valley against Murtaugh, but the difference may, have been exaggerated since Murtaugh appears to be one of the faster teams around.

Raft River, looking for its 10th consecutive regular season victory, will be at Westside of Dayton. Hagerman, a 14-0 loser to Wendell, will move out of the area to play at Rimrock.

Meanwhile, Bliss, which scored 62 points in its first six games last year, and 64 in its opener, will entertain the Camas County Mishers.

Camas County, which hasn't lost a game since who can remember, dropped an overtime decision to Richfield last week. "This Camas Bliss game won't count in conference standings."

In another of those non-conference games — but a geographical rivalry — the Carney Panthers will be at Richfield.

SCATBACK Mike Allison will lead the Twin Falls Bruins against the Jerome Tigers Friday night at Bruin stadium. Allison, a three-year starter, has amassed 1,870 yards in two seasons, giving himself a good shot at the 3,000-yard career mark. He also holds the one-game school record of 287 yards.

Judge sides with 'Bama against NCAA

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — A federal judge ruled Wednesday night the National Collegiate Athletic Association does not have the right to restrict the size of football squads traveling to games away from their school.

U.S. District Judge Sam C. Pointer Jr., ruling on a suit filed by the University of Alabama, said he would issue an order preventing the collegiate athletic governing body from enforcing the new rule limiting the number of players on a team's traveling squad to 48.

The new NCAA rules limiting the size of home squads to 60 players and travel squads to 48 were adopted in an economy move at the NCAA special convention last month. "Only the 60-man limit can be applied to both the home and visiting teams," Pointer said. "The court will enter preliminary injunction forbidding the defendant (NCAA) from enforcing the limit as sports events away from home beyond the squad sizes for at-home events."

The judge said his decision was based on the NCAA by-laws which state that "It is implied that actions must be consistent with fair competition."

Pointer said having one team with 60 players and one with 48 "is totally inconsistent with the basic concept of fair athletic competition."

The ruling came after more than four hours of testimony from NCAA officials, Alabama Coach and Athletic Director Coach and Athletic Director Bruce Bryant, former Auburn Athletic director Jeff Beard and others.

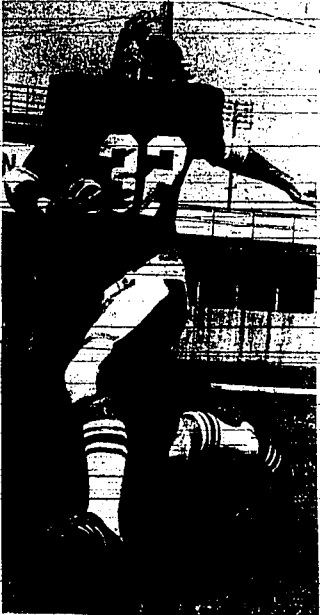

N.M. State liable

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — The New Mexico Court of Appeals Wednesday upheld a lower court decision that former head football coach Rudy Feldman had the right to sue the University of New Mexico for firing him.

Feldman, who assumed a coaching position with the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League after he was fired, was head coach at UNM from 1968 to 1973. At the time he was fired, he was paid $24,000 per year, court records showed. Feldman filed suit against the university when it refused to pay him the balance of his salary for the remainder of his contract. Feldman's contract was to have expired in 1977.

The suit sought damages for breach of contract, interference with a prospective contract, slanderous statements, and loss of reputation. The suit asks a maximum of $1.3 million.

BIG AND FAST, senior Ron Iik, a 10.2 sprinter in track, gives Twin Falls a strong outside potential this fall. The 190-pound halfback and his Bruin teammates go against Jerome Friday night in the season opener.

Young line offsets TF backfield depth

Veterans' and talented skill people are offset somewhat by question marks in the line for the Twin Falls Bruins preparing for Friday's opener against the Jerome Tigers.

Coach Donny Alquist has a lot of pluses and he's interested in seeing his charges. "We're a small team but I think we have good quickness. The boys will show a desire to hit and we'll have to wait to see them under fire before we really know whether we are quick enough to offset that lack of size," he says.

The problem is found mainly in the line — both offensive and defensively. "We'll probably start one senior tackle and one senior end on offense," the coach says. "Defensively we have only three starters back but will have a couple more seniors on that unit."

Creighton and/or holding of the pass rush will be very important since Twin Falls has everyone back in the backfield.

The least experienced is senior quarterback Jeff Osborne, 150 pounds, but Osborne has seen considerable action and has pleased Coach

Alquist with his throwing. "The runningbacks are solid with will to the wise Mike Allison back for his third starting year and 190-pound, 10.2 sprinter Ron Iik starting his second season."

Gene Turley, 170 pounds, returns at flanker while Randy Barbour is back at wide receiver. The tight end is Craig Nielsen, 6-1, 180-pounder, who Coach Alquist could be the best in the league.

"We've really been happy with the way those men — plus Ken King and Jim Deahl have been catching the ball. They've made some great receptions. I think our passing game will be a lot better than last year," he said.

Returning senior linemen are Tom Matthews, 135-pound guard; Joe Ballanger, 185-pound tackle; George Steve Schultz, 145, and Carl Murphy, 180, tackle Bruce Wright, 200, and defensive end Randy Cree, 170, and Stan Williams, 175.

Nose guard starter is Steve Harr, 160 pounder, and Cliff Gambrel returns to linebacker after missing the last seven games with a broken leg last year.

Darl Gleed, 170, will be the veteran of the secondary, joined there by newcomers Brent Thomas, Bob Latham, Todd Schultz and Kurt Carr.

Juniors having a good shot at starting are Doug Smith, center; Jim Human, guard; Chuck Swisher, tackle, and Joe Head, guard. Swisher is a 195-pound transfer from Nevada who made all-state selection in eight-man ball as a fullback.

"I think it will be very important to us if we can win the first two games," Coach Alquist said. "I think a little success could help our confidence and make us a pretty scrappy team. Offensively I know we're well ahead of last year. The improved passing also should help our good running backs get loose a little more often. They (opponents) really stalked against the run on our last year."

Coach Alquist also believes that Turley gives Twin Falls some solid field goal possibilities. "He's kicking with good distance right now and with accuracy most of the time. He just needs a little more practice to consistency."

Right now Twin Falls is working with 25 seniors — four of whom didn't letter last year — and 37 juniors.

Despite that, the coach says, "we have good depth only in a few positions. We need some experience to get the others up to a two- or three-deep situation."

Jerome cops cross country decision

GOODING — The Jerome Tigers, sweeping four places from fourth through seventh, won the Gooding State cross country race Wednesday afternoon.

Jerome scored 32 points while Twin Falls had 34. Wood River had 82 and Gooding 122.

In other action, Jerome's Jayvees won that portion with 20 against 31 for Twin Falls and 102 for Wood River and the Twin Falls girls took the distaff race with 23 points against 50 for Jerome and 57 for Wood River.

Thompson, Jerome; Kevin Vanhoover, Jerome; Dan Archambault, Jerome; Rocky Bartholomew, Jerome; Tom Kennedy, Twin Falls; Jerry Mottern, Twin Falls, and Allen Ploss, Jerome.

Girls results were Brenda Falasz, Twin Falls; Debbie Brizze, Twin Falls; Becky Lasz, Jerome; Cindy Garret, Twin Falls; Tracy Engelhart, Twin Falls; Tina McCannahan, Wood River; Bridget Sewell, Wood River; Jill Meacham, Jerome; Sue Shan, Wood River, and Jay Meacham, Jerome.

Rick Adams, Twin Falls, took the individual first in the Jayvee race.

That fancy French lady Coco Chanel isn't around any more, but her lingo lingers: "Women of a certain age talk to me openly about having their faces lifted. A face of 50 should show something. If it looks like 20, empty without a line of experience, it looks morose." Should Lincoln have had his wrinkles removed? We are born with one face; but laughing or crying-wisely or otherwise, eventually we form our own lines. A good face is composed of thoughtful laughter.

GYPSIES

Q. "How many gypsies live in this country?"
A. Figure more than 200,000. One group is made up of tribes who don't move around much. They headquarter in Chicago. The other group consists of traveling tribes. They headquarter in Washington, D.C.

HAPSBURGS

Client asks the name of the most powerful ruling family in history. Wouldn't that be the Hapsburgs? Members of that batch reigned almost 19 generations. Offspring pushed the family weight around in almost every European country. Take Archduke Francis Ferdinand, for instance. When he died in 1914, he had 2,047 known ancestors, counting 1,486 Germans, 196 Italians, 124 Frenchmen, 89 Spaniards, 52 Poles, 47 Danes and 20 Englishmen. A busy bunch, that.
