Helms says order ignored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former CIA Director Richard Helms said today he issued verbal orders in 1970 to destroy deadly toxin and poison stocks in accordance with a presidential directive, but they were ignored.

Testifying before the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, Helms said, "My recollection was that when the order was issued to destroy bacteriological warfare materials, Mr. Karamessines and I agreed we had no choice but to comply and terminate 'Operation NK NAOMI.'"

Thomas Karamessines, former deputy director for Central Intelligence Agency plans who was sitting by Helms' side as his former boss testified, agreed the orders were given.

They both said the termination order was passed on to Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, then chief of the CIA's technical service division. They said that was the last they knew about it until a secret cache of poisons and exotic weapons was discovered in a CIA vault in May.

Gottlieb, since retired from the CIA, has been subpoenaed to testify later this month.

Helms has been in intelligence work since World War II and was CIA director from 1966 through 1973 when he was appointed to his present post of ambassador to Iran.

The committee, headed by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, is trying to find out why the poisons — including lethal shellfish toxin and cobra venom — were kept hidden for five years.

Helms said the first he knew that the poisons and an electrically operated poison-dart syringe were kept in a CIA vault was when he read it in the newspapers.

On Tuesday, President Ford said he is considering altering some procedures practiced by the CIA.

kinds of covert action — beyond intelligence-gathering — Ford might permit the CIA to conduct for reasons of national security.

Senators Tuesday heard about tools of the intelligence trade that could permit the most extreme kinds of deaths or assassinations.

William Colby, who took over the top CIA post from Helms in 1973, testified the poison cache had been found after a tip from an agency employee. He agreed it was illegal.

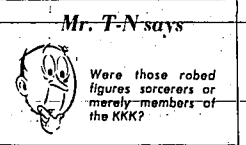

In addition to the shellfish toxin — which kills almost immediately with no known antidote — Colby said the vault contained "other lethal materials, incapacitants, narcotics, hallucinogenic drugs, irritants and riot control agents, herbicides, animal control materials and many common chemicals."

He produced from a briefcase a black poison dart gun, electrically fired, which he said could kill a man silently and almost instantly at a range of up to 100 yards.

Silent shooter

SIGHTING electrically fired dart gun is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who inspected the weapon during the first day of public hearings before the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Tuesday. (Related story, p. 8.) (UPI)

PUC rejects gas rate hike

BOISE (UPI) — In a 2-1 decision, the Public Utilities Commission Tuesday denied an application by Intermountain Gas Co. to increase rates to purchase a new supply of natural gas from Alberta Canada.

In denying the request, the PUC objected to what it termed the "unreasonable cost" of the gas, known as Zama gas, and a cost-plus price feature built into the purchase contract.

PUC President Robert Lenaghan and Commissioner M. Karl Shurtliff signed the majority order. Commissioner Ralph H. Wickberg filed a dissenting opinion, noting that Zama gas would benefit industrial customers.

"I do not wish to jeopardize jobs to Idaho's citizens by turning down an opportunity for additional supplies of natural gas unless the price is too high," Wickberg said.

He added that "1,500 therms of annual residential use would result in an additional charge of $2.76 on an annual basis."

The record indicates the price of Zama gas, initially priced at $1.61 per thousand cubic feet, could rise to $1.91 if the delivery cost increased. And, if the Federal Power Commission approval were granted, the price could go even higher.

"If the cost of delivering Zama gas during the 1975-76 heating season exceeds expectations, the pipeline will be forced to recover the increased costs via a price increase during the 1976-77 season," the majority opinion said.

"Thus a situation could develop in which next year's customers are paying for a portion of this year's gas consumption."

In addition Lenaghan and Shurtliff took exception to the probability that Intermountain could be faced with cutting back purchases of cheaper British-Columbia gas to meet its obligation to purchase Zama gas. The normal supply is purchased by the company as needed, but the Zama gas must be purchased in firm quantities.

The commission also expressed concern that part of the high cost of Zama gas is dedicated to construction of a pipeline between Alberta and British Columbia.

"There is a substantial possibility that the pipeline being built in part with Idaho dollars will be used in two years to export British Columbia gas supplies eastward," the PUC said.

"The majority opinion also found that the company failed to establish that industrial customers would be a cut off during peak periods because of shortfalls if Zama gas were not purchased."

"In its presentation to the PUC, Intermountain attempted to justify the need for Zama gas by projecting a 34 per cent increase in firm sales. The majority opinion noted the projected increase is due primarily to an increase in industrial firm sales."

"Public policy can no longer condone price increases in natural gas due to industrial sales for use as boiler fuel," the majority opinion said.

US payment balance up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's balance of payments soared to a record $4.06 billion surplus in the second quarter of 1975, the Commerce Department said today.

Commerce said the balance on current account, which measures the flow of goods, services and money between the United States and its trading partners "moved into its largest quarterly surplus since these records were begun in 1960" because U.S. exports exceeded imports by $3.3 billion.

In another report, Commerce said personal income boosted by higher factory payrolls doubled from a technically adjusted $9.5 billion in July to $18 billion in August.

The balance of payments surpluses and the rise in personal income were further statistical evidence the United States is overcoming its worst recession in 30 years.

"Current international transactions made a healthy contribution towards improving the domestic economy of the United States in the second quarter of 1975," Commerce said.

International payments deficits led to dollar devaluations in 1971 and 1973, which contributed strongly to double-digit inflation last year. The strong surplus in the second quarter shows why domestic inflationary pressures eased last spring.

The balance on current account and long-term capital, which is sometimes called the "basic" balance because it is the best indication of the nation's international trading strength, was in deficit by $673 million in the first quarter.

Robed pair seen in Blaine

By CRICKET BIRD

Times-News writer

TRIUMPH — A solitary Forest Service range rider, checking cattle about dusk Friday, reportedly spotted two men walking down Cove Creek canyon near here wearing long black robes and one-shaped hats.

Range Conservationist Don Mitchell, Ketchum, spotted the two about 6:15 p.m., according to district ranger Tommy Farr at the Ketchum station. Mitchell was out checking cattle this morning.

A Forest Service spokesman said this was the first time range riders had spotted the black-robed figures.

But he said he "wouldn't have any idea" if the unusual figures were connected with recent cattle mutilations reported in the Magic Valley.

The Forest Service is not planning to investigate the incident further, the spokesman said.

Mitchell reportedly spotted the men walking down Cove Creek canyon. They were about 100 yards away, the Forest Service spokesman said. The mouth of Cove Creek is about one mile east of Triumph.

Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler reportedly has been informed of the spotting, but he was unavailable for comment this morning.

Some theories link the cattle mutilations, which have occurred in several western and midwestern states, to Satanic cults and black magic.

Ex-Rupert councilman fatally shot

By SHANE O'NEILL
Times-News writer

BOISE — A former Rupert City councilman and business man was fatally wounded by five shotgun blasts in Boise Tuesday.

His wife was wounded.

William F. Strasser, 60, died at about 9:45 a.m. Tuesday. His wife, Frances, 48, suffered leg and arm wounds before running from their home. Strasser was killed in the downstairs office and study of his $85,000 home in the quiet, prosperous Highlands area of Boise.

Mrs. Strasser is still under heavy sedation following surgery at St. Alphonsus Hospital here. She is listed in satisfactory condition. Boise police have not been able to interview her about the shooting.

Boise Detective Lieut. Dick Mills said an official finding in the case can not be made until detectives have talked to Mrs. Strasser. He said detectives expect to be able to interview her "in the next day or two."

But Mills added, "Every probability leads us to believe we are going to find it was suicide on his part."

abdomen area. They were fired at close range. An autopsy by Ada County Coroner Steven Jablonski Tuesday afternoon revealed that only one wound was severe enough to be fatal. The other four were superficial.

Maus said the shots were fired upward and at such an angle as to indicate they were self-inflicted.

Police believe seven shots were fired from the 12-gauge semi-automatic shotgun found at the scene. The gun had at least a 30 inch barrel, Maus said.

Seven spent shells were found on the floor. The shotgun had a five shot capacity, requiring reloading to account for the seven shells.

An open box of shotgun shells was found at the scene.

Maus said one shot is believed to have wounded Mrs. Strasser in both the right arm and left leg. The seventh shot, apparently hit no one, it ripped into the ceiling of the downstairs office and study and drove corncel and wood splinters into the ceiling of the master bedroom upstairs.

The shotgun has been sent to the state laboratory for tests.

Strasser resigned his position on the Rupert City Council April 1 after moving to Boise. At the time he was serving his first term, having been elected to the council in 1971.

Ted Creason was appointed to fill the vacancy.

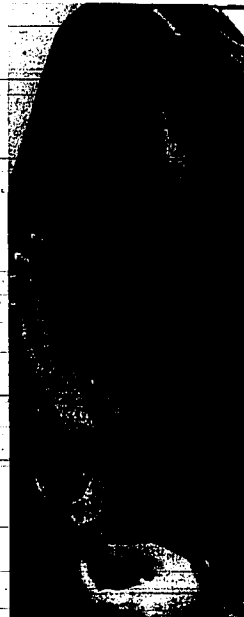

Strasser was co-owner in a well-drilling company with his brother, Robert. He had managed operations in the Rupert area until the business sold most of its well drilling rigs in Rupert as Strasser prepared to retire.

He was past president of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce and the Rupert Rotary Club and had been chairman of the Minidoka Memorial Hospital board of trustees.

The Strassers moved to Boise this past spring, but had been in the Highlands house only since the middle of July.

The shooting was discovered after Mrs. Strasser ran from the house calling for help and holding one arm up in the air. She found assistance from two workers landscaping a house four doors from the Strasser home.

Neither nearby workers nor neighbors heard the shots, Maus suggested, that natural sound barriers in the "very quiet" neighborhood and books in Strasser's office had muffled the sound.

Bail reduced

LYNETTE "Squeaky" Fromme, 26, accused of attempting to assassinate President Ford, apparently stands little chance of getting out of jail before her trial even though bail has been reduced to $50,000 from $1 million. The Manson family doesn't have that kind of money. She is expected to enter a plea to the charge Friday. (UPI)

Timber cut boost eyed in S. Hills

By LINDA LEE
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The U.S. Forest Service is considering a drastic increase in the level of logging in the South Hills to control mountain pine beetle infestation of lodgepole pine.

"Phil Straub, project timber staff of the forest service in Twin Falls, said that 8 to 12 million board feet should be removed each year.

The Sawtooth Forest District proposes to encourage the construction of a sawmill in the Cassia County area and guarantee them this amount of wood fiber every year in a 15 to 25 year program.

Last year total timber sales removed 3.57 million board feet from the South Hills. This timber was used for fuel wood, posts and poles and saw timber.

Before, any lumbering industry can be developed in the South Hills, the forest service must improve the access road through Rock Creek and/or Shoshone Basin. At the present time forest road and trail funding is not available. To obtain funding by 1977 the Twin Falls forest service must present Regional Forester Vern Hamre in Logan, Utah, with a proposal by Sept. 30.

The plan to encourage a lumbering industry is one of three developed by the forest service. It is their "optimum level proposal."

Staub said, "In order to maintain any forest on a sustained yield basis, you must cut a certain proportion of the total wood pile. We must raise the proportion cut in Cassia County and lower the proportion cut in the northern Sawtooth." He said these proportions will not be adjusted until 1977.

Hawk sale block eases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford assured Congress today that Jordan would use 14 batteries of U.S. produced Hawk missiles only for defensive purposes and leading congressional opponents said they would drop efforts to block the arms sale.

Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., told a news conference he was satisfied with the assurances and would withdraw his "resolution of opposition" to the sale.

In a letter today to the House speaker and the Senate president, Ford repeated the administration's intention to sell Jordan the full complement of 14 batteries requested by King Hussein.

Case added: "The government of Jordan has informed us that it intends to use the Hawk missiles solely for the defense of the Amman-Zerka area."

Congressional opponents had feared Jordan might be able to use the Hawk missiles as offensive weapons against Israel under the newly created Jordanian-Syrian military command.

"The batteries will be permanently installed at these locations as fixed, defensive and nonmobile anti-aircraft weapons," Case, releasing Ford's letter, said he was satisfied the Hawks placed in fixed positions could not be turned against Israel in any new outbreak of Middle East fighting. He could not say what specific assurances the Ford administration had received from Hussein.

New park proposals in works

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Responding to complaints by Harmon Park area residents, the Twin Falls Parks and Recreation Commission is drafting recommendations for controlling crowds and lighting at the park.

More than 30 homeowners have signed a petition protesting what they claim are unruly crowds and glaring lights connected with recreational events at the park.

Some of the homeowners attended a parks commission meeting last week to voice their grievances.

According to commission chairman Harold Gerber, the panel members agreed on the following recommendations at a follow-up meeting today:

Organized recreational events should be curtailed during "times of great usage" at the park. This recommendation is aimed at the three-day swim meet held annually at the Harmon pool.

Homeowners complained that the crowds attracted by the swim meet are too large when joined by groups attending other events at the park, such as softball games.

Areas for campers who attend the swim meet should be "designated."

The homeowners said campers, who are allowed in the park only during the swim event, are not restricted in locating their tents and vehicles.

Proponents of the swim meet should spell out sanitation requirements to those attending. Some area residents claimed the campers have dumped wastes in park ditches and on private property.

Softball games should be stopped about 11 p.m. The commission recommended that no new innings be started in a softball game after 11 p.m. Homeowners have complained that bright lights connected with the games are disturbing.

The commission still must draft a recommendation concerning "security" at the park, Gerber said. The panel probably will ask that police surveillance of the park be increased during large events, he said.

The commission will complete the list of recommendations and forward it to the City Council before Oct. 6 (the next regular council meeting), Gerber said. The council will take final action on the recommendations.

CSI trustees give nod to anchoring new center

TWIN FALLS — Trustees of the College of Southern Idaho Monday approved spending $34,034 to make sure the college doesn't have a floating exposition center.

Dr. James Taylor, CSI president, told trustees he needed formal approval of the action he had already taken to alleviate flooding problems encountered during the construction of a new exposition center on campus.

Excavation for the building's foundation uncovered a canal company drainage well.

To correct the problem, contractors changed the water well system and put in two manholes to keep tabs on the situation. Fillings were drilled into bedrock to assure the building won't sink if seepage is still a problem.

The tab came to $34,034.50.

But Taylor said there may be some "deducts," meaning a smaller bill, when the college's engineers take up how much dirt was actually moved.

The original bid on the building was about $577,000. Adding the $34,034 for the flood problem, the total cost could amount up to about $611,000.

Original estimates set the cost of the building at about $500,000.

Taylor also reported to trustees that he and business manager Karl Black were working on budget projections for 1977 to send to the State Board of Education.

The budget must be prepared for board members by Oct. 22, Taylor told trustees.

Reporting on on-going construction projects Taylor said "construction is moving along at a pretty good pace now." The voice building was five weeks behind schedule last month, Taylor said, but now is only three weeks behind.

Full enrollment at the college is up, Taylor learned from Taylor, but the president said actual figures were not yet available.

Computer studies

Snake R.

TWIN FALLS — A computer study to determine possible changes if more of the Snake River's water is put to use is being initiated by the Idaho Department of Water Resources.

Department planning administrator C. S. Hills tree cut may rise

According to Staub, there is an estimated 300 million board feet of merchantable timber in the South Hills area. The optimum level proposal would cut 50 percent of these merchantable diseased pines over a 15-year period.

The forest service is recommending that merchantable, diseased plots of even-aged trees be entirely removed. This process is called clear cutting and is only done where conditions for reproduction are suitable.

Another proposal, called the "first level" proposal, would allow the South Hills timber sales to be maintained as is. This plan would require no road improvements and no sawmill construction. It would include a program of burning diseased pines.

Straub and Munson both said that the first-level proposal would not do much to prevent the possibility of forest fire hazards in small wood products and require a sawmill in the South Hills.

District Ranger Lew Munson would like alternative suggestions from the public on how to use wood fiber, now being lost to the mountain pine beetle.

A public tour of the infested areas will be conducted Saturday. For reservations call the Twin Falls district ranger's office at 734-5490.

US granted rate boost by Moscow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford was told today during a Cabinet meeting on grain sales to Russia that the Soviet Union tentatively agreed to pay U.S. shippers $16 a ton — more than a 50 percent increase over the old rate.

"It looks like we got a $16 rate on the freight," Commerce Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton was heard to say at the meeting, which was getting underway. Morton said he had talked with an American official in Moscow and "he got a handshake on the deal."

Negotiations for the two nations have been meeting in Washington and Moscow for the last month on a new freight rate that would be paid to American shippers to handle one-third of the grain shipment.

The previously negotiated rate, which expired early this summer, was $9.50 a ton and the American maritime industry had demanded a higher fee.

The $16 rate would be a victory for U.S. negotiators because industry sources had predicted it probably would not exceed $12 or $13 a ton.

343 said enrolled at Filer

FILER — Gordon Larson, Filer school attendance officer, told the school board Monday night there are 343 students enrolled at the high school.

He said that 332 students finished the school year last year.

Larson said there are 536 students attending grades kindergarten through eighth. Mrs. Bill Heaps, elementary school secretary, said there are 46 kindergarten students enrolled and the total for the other grades shows a loss of about 50 from last year.

Kindergarten classes are being taught at the elementary school by Dorothy Morris and Judy Snyder, both former Filer school teachers.

Mrs. Helen Cannon, Twin Falls, certified public accountant, presented an audit report to the trustees.

Supr. Ray Baker said the board plans to open a needs assessment program with a special meeting soon. He said the program is planned as meetings between trustees, teachers and parents to determine the needs of the students for improvement of the educational program.

Commitment exercises have been scheduled for 3 p.m. May 23 at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds grandstand.

Collection problems aired at hospital board meet

TWIN FALLS—Several pregnant teen-agers, a truck driver and people who have been helped by Magic Valley Memorial Hospital's uncollectible accounts to $199,648.87.

Controller John Hayden told hospital board members Monday night the sum accounts for about 3.4 per cent of the bills sent from the first of the year through April 30. The bills at most hospitals are from 5 to 6 per cent of their bills, he said.

During the same period last year, uncollectible bills amounted to $128,446.66, but Hayden said a "significant" rate increase had helped make this year's bills higher. In the first eight months of 1975, 183,000 bills were uncollectible, compared to 1,450 in the same period in 1974.

Hayden blamed the economy and unemployment for a lot of the collection problems.

"Young people are not the bulk of the whole picture," he said, but often their bills are high. Nationally, hospitals write off a high number of pregnancies, he said.

"Most insurance companies have little or no coverage for pregnancy, and complications at birth make matters worse. The whole bill falls back on the individual, and if she is unemployed and her parents refuse to pay, there's not much you can do about it," he said.

Hayden praised the hospital staff's collection efforts, saying that three bills and a warning are sent before the bill goes to a collection agency. "It's a two-way street. It's not all bad," Hayden said. As unemployment shrinks in the Valley, he said, people have begun making payments. He said people had written the hospital to say they would pay when they got work and have lived up to their promises.

He described some uncollectible cases: A 17-year-old had a $1,316.05 bill for complications during pregnancy and delivery. Her family refused to pay the bill after repeated calls and the young woman has no job. It was written off.

A pregnant 16-year-old incurred a $327 bill and another pregnant 17-year-old had another $1,100 bill. A 17-year-old who had a $1,316.05 bill for complications during pregnancy and delivery. Her family refused to pay the bill after repeated calls and the young woman has no job. It was written off.

A pregnant 16-year-old incurred a $327 bill and another pregnant 17-year-old had another $1,100 bill. A 17-year-old who had a $1,316.05 bill for complications during pregnancy and delivery. Her family refused to pay the bill after repeated calls and the young woman has no job. It was written off.

Over $1,100 was billed to a young man who had an accident in a borrowed truck. The man, who had a wife and four children disappeared and the bill was uncollectible.

An out-of-county truck driver refused to pay a $700 bill and another man told the hospital to add his bill to his other bills at the collection agency.

Another man thought he had insurance. His employer told the hospital he carried insurance for his workers, but later he learned that he carried only workman's compensation and not general health insurance. The man is now unemployed with his illness and can't pay the nearly $1,400 bill.

Andrus urged stronger controls

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Cecil D. Andrus wants the State Board of Health and Welfare to make it tougher to build a coal-fired power generator in Idaho.

Andrus has urged the board to adopt an amendment requiring such power plants to use the best currently available control technology to regulate air pollution. The board will consider it at a meeting starting Thursday in Idaho Falls.

Andrus wrote each board member that western states have adopted emission standards lighter than those of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Ketchum grant denied

KETCHUM—The Ketchum City Council in a quick session Monday night laid the groundwork for city elections and informed citizens a $500,000 water grant has been denied.

Ketchum applied for the Environmental Protection Agency grant to supply a water system to the Warm Springs area. Although the grant was denied, City Manager Charles Corwin said

J-U-B Engineers, Twin Falls, have been retained to study options the city may have if it applies for another grant.

In other action the council said voters in the city election can register from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and 7 through 9 p.m. Oct. 1 through Nov. 1 or during any regular city hall office hours before then.

Petitions can be obtained from the city clerk.

A city registration is different from registration for a county election and Ketchum residents must be registered in their town to vote.

City Clerk Betty Coles said anyone wishing to run for mayor or councilman must have lived in Ketchum 90 days, be 18 or older and a United States citizen.

The biennial election is set for Nov. 4 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Union payment vote sought

HEYBURN—Some non-union employees at the J.R. Simplot Co. plant here seek to end payments to a union.

Monday they began circulating a petition for an election to terminate the agency shop agreement signed last year after a four-month strike here.

The agency shop clause was part of a three-year collective bargaining pact signed in September 1974. It replaced a union shop agreement that had expired the previous May and had required that Simplot employees join the American Federation of Grain Millers within a specified time of being hired.

The agency agreement requires that all employees pay dues or their order to retain employment at Simplot during the term of the agreement. It does not require union membership.

In last year's negotiating sessions the company has sought an open shop under which employees were not required to become union members or to make payments to the union.

Peter G. Snow, retained as attorney for the dissenting employees, said the union dues (and non-union agency fee) were $6.50 per month. He said he heard a lot of complaints then.

Snow said dues and fees now have been raised to $8.50. He said a group of non-union employees seeks to have the National Labor-Relations Board rescind the grain-millers authority to enter an agency shop agreement.

Snow completed and delivered the petitions to the group Monday.

During last year's strike some Simplot employees organized an independent union and sought an election to challenge the bargaining authority of the grain millers union.

More than 400 signatories were collected on petitions for an NLRB-sanctioned election to determine which bargaining agent employees wanted. That number more than met the required 30 per cent of the 1,016 employees then in the bargaining unit, but the NLRB refused to allow the election on other grounds.

The new petition opposing the agency clause alleges there are about 900 in the bargaining unit now.

TF 'energy workshop' set

TWIN FALLS—A group of local citizens is planning an "energy workshop" here sometime in November.

The Twin Falls session will be one of eight in different parts of the state, according to Bell Heffner, assistant project director for the workshops.

The project, she said, was originally proposed in a grant application by the Idaho Conservation League. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has granted $10,000 for the project, which now is operating independently of the conservation league.

—In speaking before a group of about 10 Twin Falls citizens Tuesday night, Ms. Heffner said the original proposed topic for the workshop was Idaho Power Co.'s proposed Pioneer coal-fired power plant. But to make the workshop more relevant to the Twin Falls area, she said, a variety of topics might be discussed.

Besides Pioneer, topic suggestions at this first organizational meeting held at the home of Kenneth Self ranged from the proposed regional airport to abuse of firewood cutting privileges in nearby forests.

Several local people were suggested for a local "steering committee" for the workshop or to be speakers. None have been chosen yet. Both Ms. Heffner and Self emphasized that a wide cross-section of people is desirable for planning and organizing the workshop.

Persons interested in the workshop may call Self at 734-1842.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PLAN retained in Central Office, Boise, for three years for review and will be made available to anyone statewide upon request.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN PROPOSED PLAN PUBLISHED JULY 1 AND THE FINAL PLAN ARE AS FOLLOWS:

2. PERSONS ELIGIBLE TO BE SERVED
 - a. Persons, in accordance with Federal regulations, children 18 years of age and under who would be considered neglected, exploited or abused and in need of protection.
 - b. Persons, in accordance with Federal regulations, adults 18 years of age and over who would be considered harmed or threatened with harm and in need of protection.
3. FEES FOR SERVICE
 - a. Revised the fee schedule to show monthly gross income rather than annual gross income to conform more specifically with Title 23 requirements.
6. SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED
 - a. Defines Information and Referral Service in more detail to indicate it is limited to a "brief assessment" (but not diagnosis and evaluation) and to define more specifically what means by referral to and follow-up with community resources to provide ongoing support.
 - b. Adoption Services has been redefined to include individuals who are recipients of ADC, ADC/FC or SSI whose family income is below 80% of median income, or harmed or threatened with harm to assure clarity as to who is eligible for services.
 - c. Youth Rehabilitation Services has been redefined by adding the following: "Services to children who are harmed or threatened with harm by virtue of their status as recipients of ADC, SSI or State Supplemental Security Income whose family income is below 80% of the family median income" to assure clarity as to who is eligible for services.
 - d. Services to Unmarried Mothers has been redefined by adding "identifying potential development for treatment program where abuse or neglect seems likely or has been established as a fact" to assure clarity as to who is eligible for services.
 - e. The objective of Day Care for Children to provide child care for 345 children of abusive or potentially abusive parents was revised to read "provide child care for 341 children." and added the definition "as a part of the therapy and training program for the family." These changes were made to clarify the definition to clarify care and the intended purpose for the service. As a result of public comments, an objective was added to provide day care and the situation places that an estimated 341 children and their parents are engaged in long term work when it is determined that the protection places that exist at risk of neglect or abuse.
 - f. Services under Adult Protection and Child Protection have been reworded to more clearly indicate the services the agencies intend to provide.
 - g. Child Foster Care has been redefined to include recipients of ADC, ADC/FC and SSI as eligible persons.
 - h. Developmental Services—has been redefined to specify persons eligible for services as all persons listed under section 6.10. Persons eligible for services are:
 - i. "Congenital means" was excluded from Home-Delivered Meals due to fiscal restraints.

Poverty levels may be most important

WASHINGTON — In the next couple of weeks, Secretary of State Kissinger and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union will be meeting both in Washington and in New York in a new effort to control the arms race.

despite all the talk by Kissinger and Gromyko about detente and the reduction of tensions in the world, the fact is that U.S. and Soviet shipments of weapons to other countries have steadily increased during the last five years.

according to official Pentagon figures, and deliveries of these weapons have now grown to such proportions that Secretary of Defense Schlesinger will be sending a team of experts to Moscow in the next few days, headed by Erich Von Marbod, to supervise the shipments.

Easing the secrets hassle

Christian Science Monitor In addressing the question of external supervision of U.S. intelligence functions, the Rockefeller Commission noted that "the problem of providing adequate oversight and control while maintaining essential secrecy is not easily resolved."

But there is enough blame for both sides in the current dispute; the House need not, in essence, have defiantly thrown down the gauntlet, and the White House response only served to heighten the confrontation.

For the present, a negotiated settlement needs to be worked out whereby the Pike committee will continue to have access to the intelligence material it seeks, but only with definite measures to protect national security information and proper governmental secrecy.

Some practitioners can make politics fun

WASHINGTON — An amiable fat man named Jamie Humes, who used to write funny lines for President Nixon's speeches, has published a book which should be read and reread by every politician in the country to remind them that dullness is a capital crime.

Humes notes that President Ford hired a professional funny man, Bob Orben, to draft one-liners for his speeches. Unfortunately, Ford botched one of Orben's first offerings during an Indianapolis speech.

Public strikes

Respect for law and order should be an attitude acquired by every child in his school days. It is the firm foundation without which the structure of civilization may be replaced by anarchy.

This ominous development is not merely confined to the teaching profession. By the same reasoning, how much respect can you give a policeman who by striking defiance of court orders violates the law he is sworn to uphold?

To go on strike and to refuse to return to work when ordered by a court to do so is blatant hypocrisy. It bodes ill for the future of America.

Ford moves near anti-bus orbit with criticism of judicial rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford, moving closer to foes of forced school busing, said Tuesday federal courts "in many instances" apparently have ignored a 1974 law requiring them to consider other proposals "before they actually use the busing remedy."

Without citing any specific cases, Ford leveled the criticism while holding a copy of the law during an informal Oval Office news conference. He said he wanted federal judges to give more weight to "the priority of remedies" set under the statute sponsored by Rep. Marvin L. Bach, R-Mich.

"I just happen to have a copy of the Bach amendment here that sets forth seven specific proposals that the court should follow before they actually use the busing remedy," Ford said, recalling that he signed the law Aug. 12, 1974, three days after taking office.

The President ticked off some priorities listed in the law, including "assigning students 'closest' to their homes," building new schools or creating different attendance zones "without requiring transportation."

"Then it goes on to say that students should not be transferred to a school other than the school closest or the next closest to his place of residence," Ford said.

"Now those recommendations included in law in many instances apparently have not been followed by the courts," he said, "I think the court ought to take into cognizance the legislative recommendations that are a matter of law at the present."

In his political travels around the nation, Ford has criticized forced busing to achieve "quality education" and suggested that improved facilities or teacher-student ratios were "better ways" to get it.

In taking that position Tuesday, he said enough federal emergency school aid was available to finance

Ford answers press queries in office alternatives to busing "if you focus it on the places where the tension is the highest, and the problem is the greatest, particularly if the courts follow the law as was enacted by the Congress in 1974."

The President said he knew such aid had been made available to Boston, scene of prolonged violence over the busing controversy, and that he thought funds also had been given to Louisville, another trouble spot.

In responding to other questions during the 32-minute news conference, Ford said:

— He would ask Congress to order changes in U.S. intelligence operations, but would not rule out necessary political activity by the United States "if it involves our security."

The United States has agreed to supply "substantial amounts of military hardware" to Israel as part of that country's recent interim accord with Egypt and that, although there were "no firm commitments yet," the ultra-modern F16 warplane and the ground-to-ground Pershing missile "are on the shopping list."

— He will decide "in a reasonably short period of time" whether to recommend a one-year extension of the tax cut Americans got last spring, and that he remained "totally against" a repositioning of any wage and price controls.

— He would not turn over any more classified information to the House Select Committee on Intelligence until assured

Poison available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CIA Director William F. Colby said today Gary Powers, pilot of the U-2 spy plane shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, was provided with a tiny poison needle concealed in a silver dollar in case he wanted to commit suicide.

But Colby told the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, Powers "obviously did not use it, and was not instructed to do so. It was offered to him to provide him with an option."

Colby said on earlier "L-pill" designed for agents to commit suicide during World War II, "took some time to work and was agonizing."

He said agents who might have the need to use such a pill would want "instantaneous" results and that was why the poison, such as was supplied to Powers, was developed.

Anti-Ford word found

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — An anti-administration missive scrawled on an inside wall of a new Administration building added a new twist to the investigation of a policeman's report he saw a gunman in the building a hour before President Ford spoke there Friday.

Police said today the graffiti discovered on a fourth floor wall was "fresh," but a report on the finding did not say how recent the writing appeared to be.

Board, foes win counsel

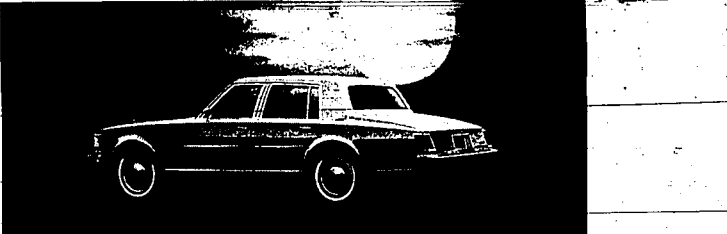

BOISE (UPI) — The attorney general's office told the Endowment Fund Investment Board today it will provide legal counsel to the board in a suit filed by the state treasurer against the board.

Chief Deputy Pete Heiser told the board there are attorneys on the staff who could represent it but that it is the board's desire or attorney's fees will be paid through the attorney general's office if the board wants outside counsel.

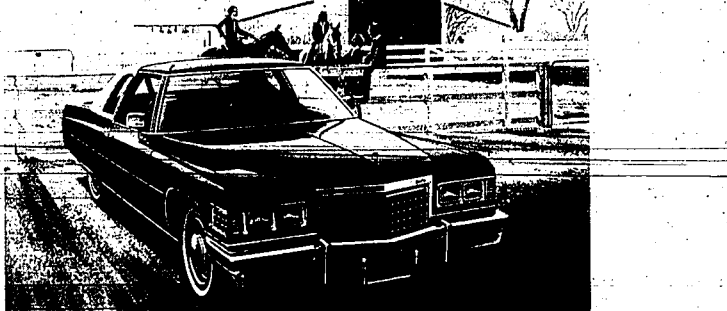

The board voted to keep tape recordings of general sessions in the future but will erase recordings of executive sessions verbatim transcripts are made.

The board elected Gregg Wharry, Boise, temporary chairman and Lewis Gurgay, a new member from Idaho Falls, vice chairman. They will serve until the governor completes new appointments to the board.

Planets recognized

Editor, Times-News:
The planets (Jupiter and Venus) and stars Sirius and those forming the constellation Orion are worthy of observation in the early morning sky, but also conspicuous by their presence at the time are the planets Mars and Saturn, making four planets to be seen in this morning sky. Venus rises the latest.

Mars, the red planet, is quite near Aldebaran, the red star in Taurus. Mars being the farthest to the left in the eastern sky. Saturn is almost directly under the two bright stars in Gemini, Castor and Pollux.

I thought of adding about the presence of the two because it is not very often one can see that many planets at one time and so easily. Your article (editorial) about the morning sky in Sunday's paper — Times-News, Sept. 14 — inspired me to give recognition to the two that weren't included and might feel slighted.

Woman arrested, Idaho guardsmen plan open house

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls woman was arrested Monday and charged with four counts of forgery and unauthorized use of a credit card.

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Army National Guard is sponsoring an open house for the public Saturday and Sunday at the National Guard rifle range.

TV franchise granted

HAILEY — The Hailey City Council, using emergency rules, has approved amendments to a cable-vision franchise granted to Sawtooth Cable-Vision.

The amendment generally stated that public hearings are required before rates can be raised and that the franchise is in agreement with all rules of the Federal Communications Commission.

MR. AND MRS. RON HARNEY

Brenda Clark, Harney wed in home rites

JEROME — In a wedding ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clark, Jerome, their daughter, Brenda, became the bride of Ron Harney, Kimberly.

The Rev. Glen Waltman of the United Methodist Church performed the evening ceremony Aug. 31 before a background of brass candleabra with burnt orange tapers and tall gladioli bouquets in shades of orange, yellow and blue.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length white polyester crepe gown with a wide lower ruffle, sweetheart neckline and nylon lace-trim, made by her sister, Becky Clark. Her long veil of English silk illusion-trimmed with lace was made by Beette Clark, sister-in-law.

She wore a single pearl necklace and carried a bouquet she made of blue dwarf phlox, orange and yellow mums, roses, and white snapdragons.

Becky Clark, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Dave Hoppe, Twin Falls, was best man.

Piano music was furnished by Jack Nelson, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony with the bride's table covered with a hand crocheted tablecloth made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Tom H. Clark. A two-tiered white wedding cake, decorated in theme colors, centered the table. Miniature bouquets and tapers—all in crystal—complemented the cake in orange and yellow colors.

After the guests were served the bride and bridegroom opened their gifts.

The evening was concluded by a dinner at the Hanes Restaurant's Colonial Room for all the wedding party and guests, when they were family and relatives, and hosted by the bride's parents.

The bridegroom is a Kimberly High School graduate and attended CSI. He is in business at Haney Building Supply, Kimberly.

The bride is a graduate of Jerome High School, and was graduated from CSI this spring. She is employed by CSI Vocational Department.

Special out-of-town wedding guests were Mrs. Wylene (Sharon) Simmons, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride, and Dr. Theron Nelson, Nampa, uncle of the bride.

The couple will reside in Twin Falls.

A kitchen shower was given for the bride by the women from the College of Southern Idaho Vocational Department at a noon-hour luncheon at George K's Restaurant.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Would you explain for me just what endometriosis is? I am confused about it. My doctor says it means that a woman menstruates outside of the vagina, thereby necessitating birth control pills.

What causes this? What do the pills do? A simple explanation would be appreciated. — Mrs. P.H.

Simple explanations are seldom found in medicine, but I'll give it a try.

Begin by forgetting about the vagina. Consider the uterus and, more specifically, the uterine lining — the "endometrium." The "osis" ending of that word refers to a disease process — in this case to an abnormal growth of the tissue involved. How does this happen? The uterine lining undergoes changes throughout the month, beginning with ovulation. The cycle ends either with implantation of the fertilized egg (pregnancy) or with the sloughing off of tissue cells (menstruation).

Pill can alleviate problem

Flecks of endometrial tissue can migrate from the uterus and be implanted elsewhere in the lower abdomen, which is a pretty fair description of endometriosis. It occurs in about 5 per cent of all women. The problem arises because the misplaced tissue behaves very much like the corresponding tissue in the uterus.

Thus, with the hormonal changes occurring at ovulation, the misplaced tissue responds appropriately, and the result is pain in its "strange surroundings." It is why a woman experiencing increasing pain during her periods is examined as a possible endometriosis patient.

Birth control pills prevent ovulation and certain changes in the endometrium, thus relieving pain. In endometriosis, the woman continues to menstruate via the vagina, as she would normally.

I hope I've cleared up some of your confusion.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Could you explain to me what a cornea transplant is? What is done to the eyes? How long is the recovery period?

If a person needed this operation and didn't have it done, would he lose his eyesight? Also, when a person is past 50, how often should he have an eye examination? — Mrs. V. G.

The cornea is the transparent portion of the front covering of the eyeball. It lies over the pupil. If it becomes clouded from injury or as a result of some eye disorder, the transparency is, of course, lessened, and eyesight reduced. Progressive clouding would lead to total blindness in the affected eye.

In a corneal transplant, a donated healthy cornea from a deceased person is used to replace the damaged one. It has become a rather commonly performed procedure, and the success rate for suitable patients is quite good.

However, only one blind person in every 25 is considered a suitable patient. The candidate is considered one whose blindness is due to corneal damage only and not to disease within the eyeball. The operation is made possible through a network of eye banks set up across the country, which collect the healthy corneas.

The operation normally requires hospitalization of up to ten days, and complete rest for three weeks following surgery.

Valley briefs

TWIN FALLS — Square dance lessons will be held this Thursday and next at 8 p.m. at the Bickel School gym in Twin Falls. The lessons to be taught by Chet Hundley are open to beginners. For more information call 734-7050.

FILER — David K. Anderson, Filer, received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Northern Colorado, Greeley, Colo., during a summer commencement ceremony in August.

TWIN FALLS — The Delta Gamma sorority will hold a rummage sale Sept. 25-26 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Episcopal Church, 210 Blue Lakes Blvd. N.

But this can vary, as can the period of healing and restoration of visual acuity. It is often many months before the degree of success of the operation can be judged.

An eye examination should be a routine part of any general physical at any age. For a person past 50, an annual examination is advisable. This is the age when most cases of developing glaucoma, for example, can be detected — and treated.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Is it possible for a person who is anemic to have hypertension at the same time? — Miss K.O.C.

The person with severe anemia usually has fatigue and a general depression of bodily functions. He would tend towards low blood pressure rather than high.

But it is possible to have high blood pressure (hypertension) along with anemia, although there is no direct connection between the two. Their causes are different.

Burley chamber sets new teacher luncheon

BURLEY — The Burley Chamber of Commerce luncheon for new teachers will be held Sept. 29, but not at the new Burley Junior High School.

The chamber had planned to hold the luncheon in conjunction with a tour of the facility. But Cassia County Superintendent Harold Blauer told the chamber members Monday that the new structure will not be completed in time for the tour.

Because of the number of new teachers in outlying areas the chamber is attempting to get principals to let these teachers have a two-hour lunch break to attend the chamber program.

Next week's chamber program may be a talk on employment practices legislation.

Dr. Paul Brown suggested Monday that a legal expert be invited to discuss the Title IX regulations.

"You can be in violation and not even know you're doing it," he warned.

Dr. Brown cited a lawsuit against three merchants in Logan, Utah. He said three Negro students went to the three stores and applied for Introducing Ore-Ida All Purpose Potato Cubes.

They're ready for anything.

Inside this bag of Ore-Ida All Purpose Potato Cubes you'll find nearly a half-hour's worth of washing, peeling, slicing and cubing already done for you. Two pounds of convenient pre-cooked potato cubes that are just right for casseroles, soups, salads, stews, main dishes and side dishes. If you run short of ideas, just look on the back of the bag. You'll find recipes for the four delicious dishes pictured here: curried potato casserole, country potato soup, potato salad, and just plain pan-fried potatoes. Like all Ore-Ida potato products, All Purpose Potato Cubes are made from firm, fresh Russets. Then they're cut into those neat little half-inch cubes, pre-cooked and quick frozen.

You'll find a 10¢ coupon below. If you don't like cubing potatoes by hand, cut it out.

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune, N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Do you know anything about dreams? My husband calls out his ex-wife's name in his sleep, so he must be dreaming about her, right?

When I tell him that he was calling her name in his sleep, he says he must have been dreaming—but he never can remember what he has dreamed. (Is this possible?)

Abby, if a person dreams about someone, doesn't it mean that that someone must be on that person's subconscious mind?

My husband swears that he loves me and that he never even thinks about his ex-wife, but if that's true, why is he dreaming about her? And if he's not dreaming about her, why is he calling her name?

He swears he can't help what he dreams or what he says in his sleep. I can't believe that, can you?

WORRIED

Quit the reminders

DEAR WORRIED: Yes. And if you're wise, you'll lay off and quit reminding him of his ex-wife while he's awake.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to tell "Philadelphia," whose Jewish cousin passed away, not to worry about whether she goes to heaven or not. As a good person, her goodness will precede her no matter where she goes.

I came across an article by a reverend in which he said: "Adolph Eichmann had a better chance of going to heaven than his millions of victims because he believed in Jesus." I cannot imagine myself being in heaven with Eichmann and his co-murderers.

If believing in Jesus is the only condition to getting into heaven, I refuse to go there!

CONNECTICUT CHRISTIAN

DEAR CHRISTIAN: I wonder where that reverend thinks the millions of Buddhists and Muslims go?

DEAR ABBY: I work in a bank where there are 21 employees.

One of the girls was getting married. The hat was passed and I was asked to give a certain amount. I felt I couldn't afford that much, so I gave what I could.

The next day I left on my break, and when I returned, the amount I had contributed was in an envelope on my desk. I had no idea who placed it there. Everyone I asked denied it.

Finally, one of the girls told me who had put it there. It was the office troublemaker.

I asked her what her idea was in returning my money, and she said she did it for "a purpose." What the purpose was she never did tell me.

Was she right in returning my money? Or did she just show her ignorance? And how should I treat her in the future?

HURT

DEAR HURT: She showed not only her ignorance but also her rudeness and meanness. Avoid her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E" IN MILWAUKEE: Regret is the cancer of life. Forget it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box 384-89700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Frank points out that North could bid three notrump and there wouldn't have been any problems. But that wasn't the case. West ruffs the third one and leads a club. North settled for four hearts. The defense starts with three rounds of diamonds. West ruffs the third one and leads a club.

Record prices hint rise in consumer pork costs

By United Press International
Record high prices on the nation's largest livestock markets may mean an almost immediate rise in the already high price of pork.

Experts said Tuesday increased prices would be felt by the consumers at meat counters soon.

Record highs of $63 per hundredweight were reported Tuesday at Florida, Ill., and Indianapolis.

Hogs hit an all-time high, $62 hundredweight, up 50 cents from Monday's record $61.50 in South St. Paul, Minn., considered the largest hog market in the country.

Other records were $62.50 at East St. Louis, $61.85 at Sioux City, Iowa, and $61.50 at Omaha, Neb.

Joe Cordell, head of the U.S. Department of Agriculture office at Springfield, Ill., said the higher prices should be reflected at grocers' meat counters in a few days.

"Industry spokesmen said the price of pork is rising because farmers simply are raising fewer pigs following a year of low prices when they lost money.

"It is strictly a case of supply and demand," one spokesman said.

One spokesman said there has been a sharp decline in the sale of pork this year because of the high prices.

"Shoppers are passing up pork to buy beef, some processed meat or turkey or chicken," he said.

The latest figures show a 20 per cent reduction in hogs in the nation's 14 major producing states.

Also, figures on farrowing shows indicate production will continue to decline through the fall.

Cordell said, "Raising hogs is risky to begin with. Farmers don't need and don't want the additional risks which have popped up in recent years."

He said another reason for the shortage is the high price of corn, around $3 a bushel. He said grain prices have fluctuated so much in the past four years that it has become difficult to project operational costs accurately enough to earn a fair profit.

"Raising hogs is a fulltime job," Cordell said. "Farmers apparently would rather concentrate on crops."

Cordell said there were 1.2 million hogs slaughtered last week compared with 1.6 million a year ago.

REP. TED STEVENS
... flays FEC plan

Alaska senator defends slush fund

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A senator has to be either very rich, or accept money from what critics call "slush funds" if he is going to do his job right, says Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska.

Stevens, speaking on his view of life as a public office holder, told the Federal Election Commission Tuesday his proposal to virtually eliminate such funds would "make the Senate a rich man's club."

The "slush funds" — or "constituent services funds" as Stevens prefers they be called, are monies from private donations used to pay office expenses not covered by the expense account Congress has voted itself.

There have been numerous printed reports that in the House, where such accounts are not reported on the public record as they are in the Senate, there are cases of members converting the funds to personal uses.

The FEC has proposed such funds be treated as campaign money, subject to spending limits, and fully reported in both houses. Congress has 30 days to reject the FEC plan or it becomes effective.

Sen. J. Bennett Johnston Jr., D-La., also appeared at the FEC's public hearing on the funds to argue they were used only for "ordinary and necessary expenses of being a United States Senator."

"Among these expenses are a senator's travel costs in his state, un reimbursed staff lunches for constituents in the senator's dining room," Johnston said.

Stevens said he has 18,000 in my case, travel by a congressional wife to official functions when her presence is necessary or expected and travel for constituents in the senator's dining room," Johnston said.

Teachers return to class

PRESIDENT Albert Shanker of the New York United Federation of Teachers said Tuesday "nobody likes" the contract that ended an eight day walkout and sent 56,000 teachers back to the classroom. But he said, given the fiscal condition of the city, it's probably the best contract the teachers could obtain. (UPI)

YOKYO (UPI) — The Japanese government today approved a massive $6.67 billion emergency spending program designed to shore up the country's slumping economy.

The program is expected to be followed later this month by the fourth reduction this year in the discount rate of the Bank of Japan in order to ease credit for businessmen.

The wholesale spending program was approved by the cabinet's council on economic affairs, headed by Vice-Premier Takeo Fukuda.

Guards gone

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — For the first time since anti-busing violence broke out two weeks ago, schools were quiet enough to allow school buses to roll today without the protection of National Guardsmen.

PEK probe opens anew; test set

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two questions surrounded the brown paper box and the wrinkled paper bundle of bloodstained clothes brought into a courtroom here:

Was someone beside Sirhan Sirhan shooting when Sen. Robert Kennedy was assassinated?

Can the bundles provide a reliable answer, confirming or laying to rest once and for all the "second gun" theory?

A deputy district attorney and a police technician who conducted the first laboratory tests on Sirhan's gun and recovered bullets testified Tuesday that after seven years and alleged mishandling in the county clerk's office the material is useless as evidence.

The court session opened a new examination of Sirhan's gun, the bullets and other evidence by a panel of seven experts from around the nation who will referee the

The Kennedy family opposes the reopening of the case.

At the order of Superior Court Judge Robert Wente, the head of the county clerk's criminal division "appeared Tuesday with the exhibits: a cardboard box containing Sirhan's 22-caliber revolver, eight spent cartridges from that gun and five bullets red from the bodies of Kennedy and four wounded bystanders.

Also included was a wrinkled paper bundle of clothes Kennedy was wearing.

The "retesting" of Sirhan's pistol was ordered in a suit brought by one of the wounded bystanders, former union leader Paul Schrade, and CBS-TV, who are trying to force publication of secret police files on the assassination.

"Second gun" theorists argue that not all the recovered bullets could have come from the same gun.

Northwest wheat crop fixed

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says Washington and Oregon's wheat harvests will total 19.4 million bushels.

That's 4.5 million bushels greater than earlier predictions and the largest crop ever for both states.

In Washington, 140 million bushels are anticipated while in Oregon, the crop yield is expected to total 52.7 million bushels.

The estimates are based on field observations by crop service staff members and by farmers' estimates.

In other crops, the reporting service estimated barley production at 20.8 million bushels, up 41 per cent from last year.

The oat crop was placed at 3 million bushels, whole sugar beet production is projected at 1.3 million tons and dry pea output is estimated at 1.1 million hundredweight.

Dry pea production was down 27 per cent at 1.3 million hundredweight while lentils and grape production was expected to increase and pears and hops harvests were expected to show declines.

Jack Frost threatens Valley

Twin Falls, No/inside, Burley-Rupert area — Fair and colder tonight with a chance of scattered frost. Low temperatures in the middle 30s. Tender vegetation may need protection. A stronger chance of frost is likely Thursday night. Sunny but cool Thursday with highs 50 to 70. The probability of precipitation is less than 10 per cent through Thursday.

Halley-Camas-Prairie, lower Wood River Valley — Fair and colder tonight with low temperatures 25 to 30. Sunny but cool Thursday with highs in the middle 60s. The probability of precipitation is less than 10 per cent through Thursday.

Synopsis — Much cooler air is spreading into the Intermountain region and a frost threat will be in the Magic Valley for the next two or three nights.

Some bean leaves may be burned by frost tonight, but potato vines are not likely to be killed. Tender garden vegetables and flowers may need protection for the next two or three nights.

A warming trend should begin over the weekend. The thunderstorm activity has moved eastward and no precipitation is expected during the next five days!

Conditions should be excellent for bean combining and hay baling through the weekend. Weekend campers and hunters can expect below freezing nights in the mountains.

State contest at Burley

BURLEY — The Idaho Soil Judging Contest will be Oct. 15 in the Burley area.

The agricultural committee of the sponsoring Burley Chamber of Commerce will meet at 1 p.m. Monday at the county extension office to select sites and make final plans for the contest.

Wayne Cole, Cassia County extension agent, said the event usually draws 25-30 FFA and 11 teams from throughout Southern Idaho.

The winner goes to the national competition, which will be in Oklahoma in late April.

Cole said the state contest used to be held in the spring, but was shifted to fall because of the weather. This will be the fourth contest held in the fall here.

Cole said entry forms for the contest were sent out of the Twin Falls extension office last week.

He said four contrasting soil types would be selected for the judging contest.

On a related subject, the chamber announced at Monday's luncheon that the annual Farmer's Night will be held Nov. 21 at the Ponderosa Inn in North Burley.

Tickets are to be available within 30 days. Entertainment will be local, possibly including the Burley High School jazz band.

Forest act complaints die

BOISE (UPI) — Four complaints challenging the constitutionality of the Idaho Forest Practices Act have been dismissed by Federal District Judge Iray Mc Nichols because the plaintiffs failed to answer a motion of dismissal.

The complaints were filed July 1 by the Committee to Repeal the Forest Practices Act and Jack A. Williams, committee president, and the Kootenai County Christian Pesse Comitatus and Richard G. Butler, posse marshal. Defendants in the actions were the State of Idaho and the State Land Board.

The plaintiffs asked that the defendants be enjoined from enforcing the act, passed by the 1975 Idaho Legislature, until its constitutionality could be challenged judicially and until the 1975 Local Planning Act could be implemented without denying citizens their rights.

A motion to dismiss was filed by the defendants Aug. 11, contending U.S. District Court was without jurisdiction on a number of the alleged grounds.

Court records showed Tuesday that Mc Nichols dismissed the four complaints last Friday after the plaintiffs had failed to answer the dismissal motion within the 30 days allowed them.

Experts test Idaho lakes

TWIN FALLS—A team of federal water-quality experts is sampling 13 of Idaho's lakes to determine their levels of pollution.

The Idaho study is part of a nationwide survey that could result in state or federal standards limiting pollution of lakes.

The federal team, drawn from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Las Vegas, Nev., headquarters, took samples from Magic Reservoir this morning. A helicopter equipped with flotation devices was used to collect water and lake bed deposits.

Other Idaho lakes in the survey are American Falls Reservoir, Payette Lake, Cascade Reservoir, Lake Lowell, Island Park Reservoir, Palisades Reservoir, Coeur d'Alene Lake, Dworshak Reservoir, Hauser Lake, Hayden Lake and Upper and Lower Twin Lakes.

William Fort, field coordinator for the study said Tuesday the survey is "aimed at assessing the impact of nutrients" on lakes.

The nutrients, primarily phosphates and nitrates, will be examined to determine their role in promoting algae growth or "accelerated aging" in the lakes, Fort said.

The nutrients come from "a variety of sources," he said, including agricultural fertilizers and cattle feedlots.

"If you add an inordinate amount of nutrients to any body of water, after a while the algae problem becomes real bad," Fort said. The algae uses up oxygen in the water, which could cause fish kills, he added.

Also, after the algae dies, it settles to the bottom and consumes more oxygen in the decaying process.

"The idea behind the survey is ultimately to get a feel for bodies of water in various geographical areas and for how much nutrient you can artificially put into lakes," Fort said.

Asked if the data collected in the study will be used to establish standards limiting pollution by nutrients, Fort said, "Perhaps."

Most of the information will be turned over to the states, he said. The states then might use it to set up standards or for limiting certain types of growth.

For example, Fort said, the state might reject plans for an industrial operation near Magic Reservoir if it would add too many nutrients to the body of water.

The national survey started in the New England states in 1972 and has "worked west," Fort said. The study, which ends this year, will cover 850 lakes in the continental United States, including 150 in the 11 western states, he said.

The Idaho study will be completed Thursday, according to Fort.

Elm 'epidemic' strikes TF area

TWIN FALLS—An "epidemic" of dutch elm disease has hit the Twin Falls area, according to Jack Wright of Kimberly Nurseries.

The tree expert today said he has had about 60 reports or sightings of the disease during the past year. The blight, which has wiped out the American elm in the East, is "concentrated" south and east of Twin Falls, he said.

"There's something that can be done," but that's "no where near what it's going to be in the next year or two," Wright added.

He said the disease hits only the American elm. The Chinese elm rejects the infestation.

"It's wiped them all out back East. It's wicked stuff," Wright said.

"There is something that can be done" to fight the blight, he said, "but it's kind of expensive."

"There's no sure thing that I'm aware of," he added.

Wright said he plans to attend a "school back East" to learn more about the disease and methods of combating it.

"He said the disease 'spreads like wildfire' and can kill a tree 'in a matter of a few months.'" Twin Falls has many American elms, he said.

"Some people aren't taking (diseased trees) down because they can't believe the tree has been there 30 years and all of a sudden it's no longer with them," Wright said.

However, "next spring, when they don't leaf out, people then will really understand."

Wright said he has spotted many diseased trees on private property but none on public land.

Twin Falls City Manager Jean Milar today confirmed the city has had no reports of diseased trees on public property.

Milar said he was "not aware of it at all. In fact, the last time I ever heard of dutch elm disease in Twin Falls was three years ago."

That tree was removed and buried, according to Milar.

Diseased trees on public land would be removed at public expense, he added, but those on private property would be the responsibility of the landowner.

Plague carriers absent in MV

TWIN FALLS—No badgers or other animals carrying bubonic plague have been reported in the Magic Valley area, health officials said today.

Ten badgers whose blood was found to contain the plague antibodies have been discovered south of Boise this year, it was reported Tuesday by Wayne Helikari, carrier control officer for the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare.

The badgers were trapped between April and July in southern Ada County on the Snake River Birds of Prey conservation area during studies of migration being conducted by the University of Idaho.

According to Alan Bierman, environmental specialist at the South Central District Health unit in Twin Falls, there never has been an incident of bubonic plague infested animals in this area.

He said the disease is relatively rare, with the highest incidence in New Mexico. "Bubonic plague can be transmitted either by fleas carried by rodents or from direct handling of rodents."

Helikari said only nine cases have been reported in the entire country this year, all in the New Mexico area. While up to 50 different mammals can be carriers of the fleas, antibodies are found mostly in rodents, because of the concentration of population of such animals as rats, prairie dogs or badgers.

Robert Arneson, director of the state commission, said the cities and counties accounted for 75 per cent of the crime in Idaho.

The cities and counties must submit applications and violate plans for dealing with crime problems to qualify for funding, according to Arneson.

The amount of available funds has not been determined, he said.

TF, Burley to get priority funding

TWIN FALLS—Twin Falls County and the cities of Twin Falls and Burley have been named by the Idaho Law Enforcement Planning Commission to receive priority funding to fight crime during fiscal 1979.

They are among nine counties and 13 cities on the priority list. The other cities are Boise, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Nampa, Coeur d'Alene, Lewiston, Caldwell, Blackfoot, Moscow, Payette and Rexburg.

The counties are Ada, Bonneville, Bannock, Canyon, Kootenai, Nez Perce, Latah and Blingham.

The health officer of the state commission, said the cities and counties accounted for 75 per cent of the crime in Idaho.

The cities and counties must submit applications and violate plans for dealing with crime problems to qualify for funding, according to Arneson.

The amount of available funds has not been determined, he said.

Shoshone man faces charges

SHOSHONE—Jimmie Jacobson, 22, Shoshone, was arraigned today on charges stemming from the fatalization of a 14-year-old Shoshone girl Saturday.

The arraignment was in Lincoln County Magistrate Court. The charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor specifies furnishing beer to a minor, according to county officials.

Sheriff B.J. Anderson said Jacobson was arrested Tuesday on the charge following investigation of incidents leading to the hospitalization of the girl at 12:30 a.m. Sept. 6.

The sheriff said the girl was first taken to St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, and then to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for observation and treatment after she possibly consumed a combination of alcohol and LSD either at or following a ball game in Shoshone Friday night.

He said the girl was in the hospital "several" days, but has been released and is attending school.

Anderson said this morning he expects that several felony warrants will be issued to others involved in the incident.

Minico bond defeated

BY SHIANE O'NEILL
Times-News writer

RUPERT—A proposed intermediate care facility at Minidoka Memorial Hospital was defeated Tuesday.

Only 17 county residents went to the polls Tuesday to vote on an $800,000 bond issue for construction of a 45-bed geriatric addition at the hospital.

The majority of them favored issuing the bonds, but the vote fell short of the necessary two-thirds for a bond issue. The vote was 845 for the bonds and 817 against, for a favorable percentage of 57.7.

Larry Duff, chairman of the hospital board, expressed his disappointment with the result, this morning. He blamed the defeat, at least partially, on recent criticism of the projected cost.

"The cost was right in the national average," Duff said. "We feel we can't build it for less and still meet the standards."

Hospital administrator Ed Richardson said, "I'm quite disappointed simply because so many people had put in a considerable amount of work and time and effort in the plans and the bond election, especially the Pink Ladies."

"I realize the two-thirds vote on anything, especially if it's going to increase taxes, is hard to get."

"I'm sure that we will continue to pursue all other avenues, if there are any, to try to build this facility to meet the need, because the need is clearly defined in Minidoka County for this type of facility," Richardson said.

Duff said the result was "particularly frustrating" because he had worked on two other projects in Minidoka County that first failed, then were approved at double the original cost.

He referred to the county's new law enforcement building, which doubted in cost during the seven years it took to gain approval.

"The other way the 10-year effort for a new courthouse addition. He said the judicial building was the result, at basically the projected cost but without the planned courthouse offices which had to be remodeled at their old site.

"We don't have that kind of time to deal with here," said Duff.

The hospital board chairman said the intermediate care facility proposals will be reviewed.

"We'll simply have to look at this and decide where to go and what to do," he said. "I doubt if there will be any decision in the next 30 days."

"Two areas, with a combined vote of more than all the county's total, gave the hospitals bonds more than the required two-thirds majority. Seven hundred votes were cast in the six Rupert area precincts, with a favorable percentage of 70.25. The vote there was 492 for and 208 opposing.

Acquella voted 97 to 71 in favor of the bonds.

But the Pioneer School precinct north of Paul was the only one where the voters voted against, and only by eight votes at 89 to 81.

One of Heyburn's two precincts showed a majority favoring the care facility bonding, but the combined total of the two Heyburn voting sites showed 104 against and only 87 in favor.

The breakdown by precincts (with those in favor listed first) follows:

Acquella, 97 to 71; Burson, 21 to 41; Heyburn, 1, 60 to 48; Heyburn II, 27 to 56; Paul, 59 to 112; Pioneer, 89 to 107; Rupert I, 72 to 177; Rupert II, 85 to 51; Rupert III, 62 to 32; Rupert IV, 47 to 26; Rupert V, 125 to 38, and Rupert VI, 101 to 44.

The controversy over costs of the intermediate care facility at Minidoka hospital arose in the past two weeks as officials of the Burley Care Center strove to override state rejection of their project for a 50-bed expansion.

The Department of Health and Welfare had turned down the Burley plan at the same time it approved Minidoka's proposal, an appeal on the Burley-Care Center ruling was heard Thursday in Boise. A decision is pending.

Core Center officials claimed that Minidoka's $800,000 plan was too costly. They said their 50 beds could be constructed for $400,000.

Ruby Workman casts vote

GOODING—The Antique Festival Theatre is "reasonably sure" of retaining its new home in Tyler all on the old TF hospital grounds here, despite unsettled future of the state facility.

Aldrich Bowler, founder-producer of the repertory theatre which now creates three tours yearly throughout the state in summer, fall and spring, spoke at the Gooding Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday noon.

He said if the state could sell the facilities to someone who could put the three-building complex to fuller use it would be the best for the state and taxpayers. "But that is not likely to happen," Bowler said.

Currently the Department of Health Welfare occupies part of two of the buildings with the Antique Festival Theatre housed in Tyler hall.

The theatre has contracted with the Idaho Arts Commission which pays the rent to HAW, Bowler said.

Every effort is being made to keep the same occupancy," he said, "but to get more use of the facilities."

Future use of the state facility has come into question in recent months since HAW officials say they cannot pay operational costs.

According to Joe Nagle, aide to Gov. Cecil Andrus, the maintenance of the facility has been accepted by the state land board.

Gimlet land plans denied

HAILEY—The County Commissioners have denied another subdivision belonging to Ted Teren in Gimlet along the Big Wood River.

The county now has given preliminary approval to the northern and southern subdivisions in Gimlet, but turned down plats 8 and 10 in between.

The subdivision stretches on both sides of Big Wood River from the East Fork bridge upstream to the Gimlet steel bridge, about 1.5 miles.

Teren has been trying for months to get the county to approve the subdivisions, including planning and zoning commission here turned down all four subdivisions.

The county commissioners, however, reversed that decision on subdivisions 9 and 11 and gave preliminary approval after Teren promised to make all buyers build on high spots back from the river.

A formal presentation last week before the commissioners netted Teren a negative decision on subdivision 8 which is on the east side of Big Wood River near the southern end of the group of subdivisions.

Experts called in to testify said much of the land in all of the subdivision is in the flood plain. Charles Brackley, University of Idaho hydrologist, said 20 per cent of the lots in subdivision 10 had water on them in the high water year of 1974. No water reached the proposed building sites, he said.

Under the Blaine County ordinance, Teren cannot reapply under the same plan for one year. He may reapply for preliminary approval on subdivisions 8 and 10.

The next alternative, if Teren does not wish to alter his plans, is to go to district court.

AFT to stay in new home

Cattlemen offer reward

ROGERSON—The Idaho Cattlemen's Association is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of cattle mutilators.

The reward also applies to rustlers.

Robert Patrick Rogerson, ICA president, said the reward is being offered informers who assist in supplying information leading to the arrest and conviction of offenders.

Patrick said "There is an unusual number of stock on grass and the rustling and slaughter and mutilation must be eliminated some way."

The $1,000 reward, he added, will be distributed to informers in amounts consistent with the value of information supplied.

Patrick's statement, although applied to rustlers as well as mutilators, followed a rash of suspected mutilations of Magic Valley cattle.

Nine cases in which sexual organs, tongues and other parts were mysteriously removed from cattle have been reported in Blaine County in the past few weeks. Another case is under investigation in Camas County and still another in Twin Falls County and there are rumors of unreported mutilations in other parts of the Valley.

In the Twin Falls case a steer was found Aug. 29 with its skin stripped from its lower body and its tongue and left ear removed.

Sheriff Paul Cordeir said Tuesday the Twin Falls steer, found in its pasture northeast of Kimberly, reportedly had a slight swelling of the neck, a mark found in other mutilation cases. He also said the owner of the animal reported a surgical-like cut where the skin of the jaw had been removed.

Cordeir also said the steer's owner reported no tracks in the area of the dead animal, a third common feature.

"There's got to be an answer. Somebody, sometime, someplace is going to see something," Cordeir said.

WELDING a chain saw, Twin Falls School District maintenance man Frank Fluecher cuts down limbs of once-beautiful elm tree at Lincoln School. A special campaign was mounted to save the tree, but dutch elm disease felled the plan. Maintenance man removed the dead tree Tuesday morning.

Dutch elm disease kills historic tree at Lincoln

TWIN FALLS—The historic tree at Lincoln School is dead.

The beautifully full American elm was the object of a save-the-tree campaign by retired Lincoln school teachers and others.

They wanted the school district to save the tree. Instead of removing it as part of a construction project at the school.

But Tuesday morning, school district maintenance men brought the tree down with a chain saw.

The "save-the-tree" group, called both historical and aesthetic reasons for keeping the tree. One of the first classes at Lincoln School had buried a keepsake jar deep under the sapling's roots. Over the years the tree grew, providing a shady hideaway for generations of Lincoln School children.

The "tree boosters" persuaded the school district to save the wide-branched elm at a cost of about $800, according to school Supt. George Staudacher.

New blacktop was installed around a built-up dirt base circling the tree trunk.

And Lincoln School Principal William Stover says the tree was watered. "We watered it for a time," he says, "and then the sap came through the bark and the leaves fell off." After that they didn't water the tree anymore.

But according to a tree expert Jack Wright of Kimberly Nurseries, it wasn't the contractor, the pavement or lack of water which killed the tree.

"The tree died of dutch elm disease," Wright said. "The disease, which has destroyed thousands of trees in the east and mid-west, can kill a tree within a week, according to the nursery owners."

Stover voiced the opinion that the tree died because some of its root system was removed during grading of the playground to prevent a water buildup in low areas of the blacktop.

But Wright maintains that the disease killed the tree, even though the grading undoubtedly didn't help it much.

Charges pending in Norland raids

NORLAND—At least one person will be charged with from one to four crimes after a drug raid Friday at the Neibaur-Stevenson Farms west of Norland.

B.J. Anderson, Lincoln County sheriff, said he hopes warrants will be issued today on charges which may include assault with a deadly weapon, arson and larceny—and possibly other crimes.

The charges stem from the setting of two fire, shooting of an electric motor and damage to vehicles in looting and vandalism at the farm.

Apparently nine men were involved in the raids on the Neibaur-Stevenson labor house in Lincoln County and on a small trailer house across the road in Minidoka County.

Misael Caetano Rivera, 24, a Mexican alien, suffered slashes on the left arm that required surgery to tie together the severed tendons. He occupied the trailer in Minidoka County.

On the other side of the gravel road that marks the county boundary, the attackers chased four men from the labor house.

Bert Stevenson, partner in the farming operation, said the employees were asleep until the two carloads of men drove up and started shooting. The men escaped.

Stevenson said the attackers tore the cupboards off the walls of the labor house and set fire to mattresses and bedding. He said they shot an electric meter and set fire to one car.

They also slashed the tires and smashed in the windshields on another car and a pickup truck.

Stevenson said they stole all the food, clothing and bedding, except what they set fire to.

The raiders also stole a pickup truck and wrecked it about a mile away, Stevenson said. He estimated damages at over $2,500.

Sheriff's departments of both Minidoka and Lincoln counties are still investigating the raid. No motive for the attack has been made.

Deputies for the attack has been made.

The Lincoln County department said Tuesday there had been some shooting and arson. Sheriff William Anderson, who personally investigated the thefts and vandalism at the Neibaur labor house, was unavailable for comment.

Grains advance, feeding report sends meats down

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market opened mixed Wednesday in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was up 0.08 to 795.21 shortly after the opening. Declines led advances, 226 to 137, among the 592 issues crossing the tape.

The major reason for the market's slide so far this week was the decision, by the nation's leading banks over the past several days to raise their prime rates to 8 percent from 7 3/4 percent.

Analysts said that decision underscored inflationary trends and drew investors either to the sidelines or to the market for short-term money instruments.

Treasury offered $3 billion worth of two-year notes Tuesday and this drew money away from the stock market, analysts said.

President Ford, saying he was "firmly opposed" to wage-price controls, disappointed many investors Tuesday by saying, "If we find that the economy is continuing to come out of the recession as it is...we probably would not recommend a tax cut extension."

Courtesy Sinclair & Co. CHICAGO—Grains were up and meats were down in Tuesday's commodity future market.

Commodity News Service said specialty buying plus spots of commercial demand gave wheat gains of 2 to 4 1/2 cents despite scattered commercial hedge selling. Export inspections of 35.9 million bushels was up from 18.4 a week earlier. Chicago cash basis was nominally unchanged for hard winter of 9 cents; under September, while soft red was a cent higher at 9 under September. Gulf basis was unchanged for regular soft winter at 18 over Kansas City December and soft red winter at 15 under Chicago December.

Expected disappearance figures including larger weekly export inspections, the preliminary report on U. S. negotiations in Moscow, and unexpectedly large number of cattle placed on feed during August fueled strong speculative demand which moved corn 5/8 to 6 1/2 cents higher for the day. Buying enthusiasm overruled shorts, but at times substantial hedge selling in mixed commercial Chicago.

Chicago cash corn basis was unchanged for boxcars at December price while hoppers were quoted 2 cents higher, 6 over December.

Speculative support also helped the soybean complex, with beans closing 10 to 13 cents higher and providing scored small declines and after an active trade of 4.716 lots closed 30 cents to 27 cent down. Sugar 12 saw 12 trades with prices settled 20 cent lower. The world spot price leadership. Oil closed 10 to 55 points higher, and meal was 1.30 lower in the spot contract but with sizeable gains in the deferred contracts.

Silver closed on its lows, down 4 to 6 1/2 cents, on the Chicago Board of Trade, with back options heavier as spreads narrowed. High were 2 to 3 cents above Monday's close.

COST gold closed down 1.30 to 2.40, at near the lows, in a narrow trading range of 1.70. Higher interest rates and a stronger dollar compared with European currencies weakened gold.

Technical selling and the bearish chart on feed report sent live cattle plummeting to heavy losses. The 4 percent increase in placements surprised the trade. February and April hit limit down in mid-session and stayed there to December followed later but rebounded slightly. October bounced back, and closed 4 cents down. February forward options got the brunt of the pressure.

Feeder cattle prices were lower in moderate action. Live hogs broke sharply, closing limit down 1/2 point but October which ended 5 1/2 months shy of the permitted lows at 59.55, off 145 points. Futures were on the defensive all day despite strong cash markets.

Pork bellies came under pressure from long liquidation after five days of limit up closing, and wound up at limit lows across the board. February hit 70 points up and took the first three months to seasonal highs with it before the break came after cattle and hogs failed.

Erickson defends title in Cactus Pete's Open

Bob Erickson of San Antonio, Tex., tees-off in defense of his Cactus Pete's Open golf championship Thursday to start four days of action. The $20,000 event, which has attracted 220 professionals and amateurs, will be divided between Twin Falls municipal and the Jackpot course.

The professionals will play Thursday and Friday at Twin Falls, then switch to Jackpot for the final two rounds. The low handicap amateurs will play Twin Falls muni Thursday with the high handicappers at Jackpot. Those two amateur squads will switch for Friday's play.

The amateur division will compete over three days only. All amateurs will be at Twin Falls Saturday and the top 21 gross and to 24 net prizes will be awarded that evening.

NFL's striking capacity threatens league openers

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer
"National Football League teams, their scheduled season openers just five days away, started choosing sides Tuesday with two more teams joining the New England Patriots on strike.

Players from the New York Jets, annoyed at the growing "fishy-washy" attitude of some other clubs, and the Washington Redskins left their training camps Tuesday, hoping to touch-off a chain reaction that would either produce a general strike or a settlement.

Playoff possibilities

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American League Tuesday awarded Baltimore the home site on a coin toss in the event a one-game playoff is needed with current leader Boston to settle the Eastern Division championship.

Hockey playoffs okayed

MONTREAL (UPI) — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell said Tuesday agreement has been reached with the players which will permit them to compete in next year's proposed six-nation World Cup tournament.

Maroons won't talk about probation

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi State University officials, apparently acting on NCAA instructions, remained silent Tuesday on reports the school has been placed on probation for two years for alleged football recruiting infractions.

Dr. William L. Giles, university president, declined to confirm or deny the reports carried in Jackson and Memphis newspapers regarding the alleged penalty imposed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

NCAA representatives, contacted in Kansas City, also refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The school appeared before the NCAA committee on infractions last month to respond to alleged recruiting violations over the past two years that included improper offers of money, jobs, clothing and other inducements to prospective athletes.

Mississippi State, under head coach Bob Tyler, posted his best record in years last season with nine victories against three losses including a 26-24 win over North Carolina in the Sun Bowl. The Bulldogs opened this year with a 17-7 triumph over Memphis State two weeks ago.

A university official confirmed the school received a letter last Friday from the NCAA but would not reveal its contents.

NCAA rules provide that a school has 15 days to reveal whether it intends to appeal an adverse decision involving infractions. In the event of an appeal, no public announcement would be made until the matter had been submitted to the NCAA Council at a meeting in St. Louis Oct. 6.

USC newcomer leads NCAA in rushing

MISSION, Calif. (UPI) — Ricky Bell, who ranks as another find by Southern Cal's John McKay, turned in the NCAA's best season-opening rushing game in six years last Saturday to gain the major college football statistical leadership.

Bell, a 6-1, 215-pound junior tailback, rushed for 256 yards and scored four touchdowns in USC's 35-7 victory over Duke.

The yardage and points make him the national leader. According to the NCAA statistical service, although he has obtained 276 yards against Dayton in 1969.

Other first week leaders include Gene Swick of Toledo in passing with 41 completions in 63 attempts for 304 yards

Much of the current confusion was caused by counter offers earlier in the day from the head federal labor mediator working on the strike and the NFL Management Council. In fact, until the Management Council presented its six-point proposal, it appeared that a shaky truce could be affected.

During an all-night session that ended at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, the federal mediator, William J. Usery, presented a compromise package that, among other things, would have reinstated the 1970 contract until Oct. 1 and would have retained a 46-player limit until the same date with three of the players to be on a trial squad.

It also would have required a no-strike pledge from the players and a no-lockout promise from the owners; no recriminations against the Patriots or any other players.

Stennett sets bat mark against Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rennie Stennett set a modern record of seven straight hits, including a pair in both the first and fifth innings Tuesday to place him in the 24th hit barrage as the Pittsburgh Pirates crushed the Chicago Cubs, 22-0.

Stennett, collecting two doubles, four singles and a triple in seven at-bats, also scored five runs, including two in the first inning when the Pirates scored nine runs.

The 22-0 score eclipsed by one run the largest margin of any team being shut out in major league history. In September, 1901, Detroit blanked Cleveland, 21-0, and August of 1939 the New York Yankees shut out the old Philadelphia Athletics by the same 21-0 margin.

The 22 runs scored by the Pirates were the most by any team in the majors this season, topping by two the 20 scored by Boston against Milwaukee last week.

Only legendary Wilbur Robinson, with the 1892 Brooklyn Dodgers, had managed seven hits in a nine-inning game.

Mets outlast Expos in 13th

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reliever Don Demola issued a fourth pitch loaded walk to Del Unser, forcing home Roy Sievers with the winning run in the 13th inning Tuesday night to give the New York Mets a 4-3 victory over the Montreal Expos in which rookie Mike Vail's record 23-game hitting streak came to an end.

With one out, Steiger singled up the middle and moved up on Mike Phillips' single. DeMola, 4-6, then walked pinch hitter Jerry Grote and Unser to end the four-hour-and-39-minute game.

Vail, the Mets' rookie sensation, had hit safely in 23 games, which tied the record for a rookie set by Joe Rupp in 1921 and equaled by Richie Ashburn in 1948.

Indians' power sinks Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Boog Powell, Oscar Gamble and George Hendrick homered Tuesday night, sparking the Cleveland Indians to a 9-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers and giving Dennis Ekersley his 12th win of the season.

A's win pair, near pennant

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Home runs by Sal Bando in the first game and Reggie Jackson in the nightcap powered Oakland to an 11.5, 6-4 doubleheader sweep over the Texas Rangers Tuesday night, reducing the A's' magic number in the American League West to five.

Bando highlighted an eight-run eighth inning for the A's in the first game with a three-run homer that ignited an Oakland comeback. Jackson produced a two-run homer, his 32nd, in the first inning of the second game that allowed the A's to coast to victory.

The twin victories, combined with the loss by second place Kansas City, increased the A's' lead over the Royals to eight games.

Giants edge Braves in 9th

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Willie Montanez singled with one out in the ninth to score Bobby Murcer while the winning run Tuesday night and give the San Francisco Giants a 7-6 triumph over the Atlanta Braves.

Murcer led off the ninth with an infield single and Gary Matthews followed with another single to left to put runners of first and second. Montanez then drove in his 9th run of the season with a single to right that ended the game.

Phillies edge Cardinals in 13

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mike Anderson's sacrifice fly in the 13th inning drove in pinch runner Alan Banister with the winning run Tuesday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory enabled the Phillies to remain six games behind first place Pittsburgh in the National League East.

Twins rally past Angels

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Craig Kusick hit a three-run pinch hit homer with one out in the ninth inning Tuesday night to give the Minnesota Twins a 4-3 victory over the California Angels.

Sox overhaul Royals 6-5

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Deon Johnson smashed a three-run homer, his 18th of the season, to cap a six-run fifth inning Tuesday night and give the Chicago White Sox a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Brewers top New York 5-2

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Bobby Mitchell drove home four runs with a pair of homers Tuesday night to help 23-year-old southpaw Gerry Augustine gain his first major league victory in a 5-2 decision by the Milwaukee Brewers over the New York Yankees.

Record bat, record number
HAPPY HITTER Rennie Stennett of Pittsburgh holds up seven fingers indicating his modern day record of seven straight hits during game against Chicago Tuesday. Stennett set another record of getting two hits in an inning twice as the Pirates crushed the Cubs 22-0. (UPI Telephone)

Boston hikes lead over Baltimore 2-0

BOSTON (UPI) — Rico Petrocelli and Carlton Fisk led off another victory Tuesday night with another victory reducing the Red Sox' magic number to five and all but knocking the defending division champion Orioles out of the race.

The victory reduced Boston's magic number to seven and gave the Red Sox a 9-8 series edge over Baltimore this season.

Tiant, 17-13, and Jim Palmer, 21-11, locked in a pitching duel but Palmer made two mistakes. Petrocelli rocketed his seventh homer of the year into the left field screen in the third inning and Fisk hit his lob, a towering drive to left, in the fourth.

Tiant, who didn't allow an Orioles baserunner past second base, struck out eight and walked one. Palmer also struck out eight and walked two.

A crowd of 34,723 watched the contest, marking the 20th time this season the Red Sox have drawn at least 30,000 fans to Fenway Park.

Lopez, Dodgers trim San Diego

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dave Lopes stole his 72nd and 73rd bases and scored twice while Jimmy Wynn homered Tuesday night to spark a 5-2 triumph by the Los Angeles Dodgers over the San Diego Padres.

The two bases Lopes stole tied him with Tommy Harper for eighth place on the all-time base stealing list for a single season with 73. The two runs he scored ran his season's total to 100.

FORECAST THURSDAY, SEPT. 18, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much confusion exists today. It is wise to confine your efforts to the mundane and the specific. Try to organize your day so you can utilize your time to get better results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study quietly and come to the right decisions—where important matters are concerned. Seek an expert if you need advice.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If invited to a social affair, make sure you don't become involved in an argument. State your goals to a trusted friend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Some work connected with your career is annoying but has to be done. Don't jeopardize your credit by not paying a bill.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A new project needs more study before putting it in operation. Don't go by appearances with anyone or anything.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over most points with loved one and avoid misunderstanding that now exists. Don't rely too much on intuition now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know exactly what is expected of you by associates and consult with them before you get into any new deals. Be alert.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Quickly handle obligations awaiting your attention. Use the direct approach with others. Don't neglect health treatments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show in some tangible way that you appreciate your friends and add to the goodwill you now enjoy. Show devotion to mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Give attention to those problems at home that require immediate handling. Show that you are a loyal family member.

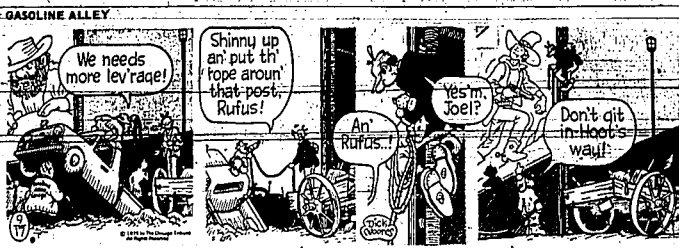

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Being alert in motion could prevent an accident. Think before you speak or you could say the wrong thing today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take care you don't spend your money on foolish things or you will later regret it. Avoid the social tonight and be safe.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have personal aims that require proper perspective if you are to attain them. Improving your charm is born today.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be full of fantasy and should be given the right training to permit steady advancement in chosen career. Learning comes quickly here. Education should be directed along investigative and scientific lines.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

what's what

J.M. Boyd

Was reported that the average woman's waist measures 28 inches around, and the average man's arm measures 28 inches long, thus making the man's arm a perfect fit around the woman's waist. Client asks where those measurements came from. The big movie studios compiled such statistics years back so they could more easily alter their costumes.

PUT 64 hard-working men on an eight-hour shift. How much energy would they expend. Plenty. It's said to be the same amount of energy expended daily by all the household appliances in the average American home.

AUTOMATISM
Q—What's an automatism?
A. Something you do without conscious thought. Pretty important, automatisms. You'd be hard-pressed to drive a car properly, if you didn't react mostly with them. Still, they can get you in trouble, too. When a man addresses his new girlfriend with her predecessor's first name, that's an automatism.

THAT FRENCH PHRASE "hors d'oeuvre" means "out-side the main works."

A VETERINARIAN who runs a small animal clinic says cat owners are more inclined than dog owners to give their pets cute, quaint, oddball names.

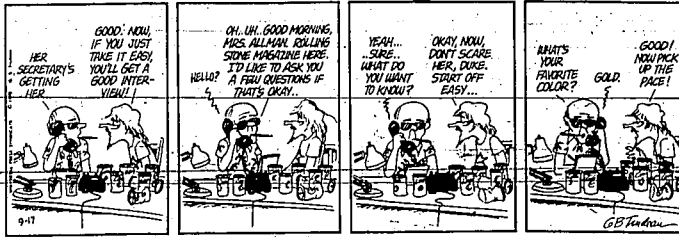

PAPER MONEY. The amount of paper-money-in-circulation-nation-wide has jumped 13.5 per cent in the last nine months. Some jump! The banking boys say it's because a lot of people are sugar-bowling all the currency they can get their hands on. They say it's they've lost confidence in the economy. Understandable. But considering inflation, it's a little figure-out-why-they-slash-money-instead-of buying land, for instance. That stuff called money is becoming worth less, not more.

ALTHOUGH many admirers of raccoons won't believe it, it has been established now that the panda is a sort of bear, remember that.

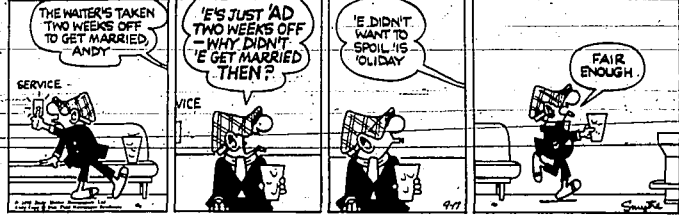

YOU WON'T CRY when you peel onions, if you whistle continuously. So reports a lady client who says she has proved it repeatedly.
