Jordan rejects Hawk sale terms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jordan has refused to accept the Ford administration's qualified offer to sell 14 batteries of Hawk missiles because the conditions were insulting to that country's national dignity, congressional sources said today.

Informed of Jordan's sudden turnaround, Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., is leading critics of the sale, said "This matter is too serious to be treated merely on dignity."

Eloise drenches east Cuba, weakens

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Eloise hit eastern Cuba with torrential rains today after leaving 34 dead and nearly 12,000 homeless and causing more than $50 million damage in Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic.

The storm began to weaken after sloshing ashore on the Communist island and at 9 a.m. the National Hurricane Center said Eloise was becoming disorganized as it moved over land.

The weather agency said hurricane force winds of 75 m.p.h. "remain only in a few squalls."

Ky Paps US

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Former South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, opening a U.S. speaking tour, blamed corruption in the Saigon government of Nguyen Van Thieu for the nation's fall to the Communists.

Ky said U.S. involvement in Vietnam was not a mistake but the criticized American presidents for not giving him the capability to invade North Vietnam and for the nation's "no-win" policy.

Durkin sworn in by US Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrat John A. Durkin was sworn in as New Hampshire's second senator today, ending the longest Senate election campaign in history.

The swearing in meant that the Democrats' control in the Senate was expanded to a 62-38 margin over the Republicans.

Beirut cease-fire broken again

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The second cease-fire in Beirut in as many days was shattered today by sporadic mortar, rocket, and machine gun fire from warring factions of leftist and rightist militias.

At least 26 persons died in fighting that began after midnight, and dozens of others were wounded, police sources said. The toll was expected to go higher when full casualties were announced.

A cease-fire, the second arranged in two days, was set by rival religious and political leaders at 4 p.m.

Foresters dallied as beetles spread

By LINDA LEE Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — During the past decade while the Mountain Pine Beetle spread through the South Hills, the Forest Service failed to take adequate steps to stop the infestation.

During that period, about 30 per cent of the South Hills' mature and over-mature lodgepole pine trees were lost to the beetle, according to Forest Service estimates.

The current beetle epidemic started in the middle 1960's. In 1968, the Forest Service unsuccessfully attempted to stop the limited beetle infestation by spraying the infested trees. But according to Forest Service officials, the method proved ineffective.

In that same year, a major fire drew further attention to the beetle problem. The fire destroyed 70,000 acres of timber much of which already had been killed by the beetle.

In order to prevent future fires and stop the beetle's spread, a report was prepared recommending development of a commercial timber industry to remove infested trees.

But there was no local sawmill capable of handling the job. The Forest Service was forced to continue relying on local timber sales. Straub said this method did not do much to stop the epidemic.

Lew Munson, district ranger in Twin Falls, said that in 1969 he began requesting funding for a commercial timber sale evaluation from the Regional Forester in Ogden, Utah. For the next three years nothing was done. He said in 1972 a "piece-meal evaluation" began which took three years to complete.

Finally, Straub said, "In 1974 the Deadline Fire brought in Forest Service officials who finally recognized the problem in the Cassia Division." This recognition apparently speeded up the evaluation process.

Munson said now that the evaluation has been completed, he is preparing a special request for funds to develop the South Hills for commercial lumbering. He said he will need approximately $100,000 to improve the access roads and mark the forest plots to be harvested.

Forest Service experts reported to Munson Wednesday that within the next three to five years over half of the older Lodge Pole Pines in the South Hills will be killed by the beetle.

About 30 per cent of the mature South Hills trees, representing about 30 million board feet of lumber have already been lost.

The rangers are convinced that the only way to control this beetle is to institute harvesting of the older pines.

"In the past, the emphasis on commercial timber sales in the Sawtooth National Forest has been the north. The Fairfield sawmill harvests Douglas fir and Ponderosa Pine which are more merchantable than the Lodge Pole Pine."

In 1974, after the Deadline fire, the Forest Service prepared three large plots of fire and insect salvage pines in the South Hills for public bid. But no sale was made until the spring of 1975.

Straub said that a company from Montana bought one of the insect salvage plots but has been unable to harvest it due to an inadequate road system out of the South Hills.

Munson said that the Targhee National Forest received about $1 million this year from the Forest Service to help develop a commercial timber industry.

He said that the Targhee's a much larger forest than the South Hills and has an even worse epidemic.

No ties between robbed pair, stock mutilation

HAILEY — The Blaine County sheriff has no information linking cattle mutilations to two black robbed figures seen in a wooded area a week ago.

Sheriff Orville Drexler said there have been no other reports of black robed characters with hoods in Blaine County.

Last Friday, while watching a herd of impounded cattle on Cave Creek southeast of Triumph, Don Mitchell, Forest Service employee, spotted people about 5:45 p.m. walking down Cave Creek about 10 feet off a rough road in the sage.

Sheriff's officers responded about 8 p.m. that day and searched the area. Deputy Sheriff Glenn Simpson said creek crossings and moist areas were checked but no tracks were found.

He said tracks could have been missed, however, since it was night and all crossings could not be checked.

A roadblock was set up on East Fork Road throughout the night, but no suspects were found.

Two dead cattle were found at the junction of cabin and creek, which flows into Cave, and at the top of Quigley Canyon, but both are believed to have died of natural causes.

Kenneth Buttram, owner of the cattle, said they died of natural causes and had not been mutilated.

A four-wheel drive vehicle or horse can follow Cave Creek Road into Quigley Canyon, into Hailey or Bellevue and into Muldoon Canyon.

Sheriff Drexler said there is no pattern to the mutilations.

Fall kills Rupert man, 55

RUPERT — A 55-year Rupert man working on a charitable project was killed Tuesday evening in a fall from a tree.

Theo Martindale, Rupert, died after a fall at the Harris Rest Home. The home is operated by Clifford L. Harris, two miles west of Rupert on Highway 95.

A group of LDS Church members were doing cleanup work at the home when the accident occurred. Martindale was trimming a tree and was about 10 to 15 feet from the ground, according to Rudy Howard, Minidoka County deputy coroner.

Martindale landed on the side of his head when he fell, Howard said, breaking his neck. Death was believed to be instantaneous.

County Coroner Kim Christensen said Martindale had a history of blackouts since suffering wounds while serving in the armed forces in World War II.

The coroner said Martindale has passed out numerous times and this may have occurred Tuesday.

Christensen said no inquest will be held.

US intelligence aides taken in WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former CIA official told Congress today the United States was caught off guard by the 1968 Tet offensive in South Vietnam because of "corruption in the intelligence process."

"Although our aim was to fool the American press, the public and the Congress, we in intelligence succeeded best in fooling ourselves," said Samuel A. Adams, a former Central Intelligence Agency analyst.

Adams said "in the months before the offensive, U.S. intelligence had deliberately downgraded the strength of the enemy army in order to portray the Viet Cong as weaker than they actually were."

Adams told the House Select Committee on Intelligence he was the only full time CIA analyst studying the Viet Cong between September, 1965 and November, 1967.

He testified the Tet offensive "which caught the American intelligence community largely by surprise... stemmed in large measure from corruption in the intelligence process."

Adams testified the CIA became aware of a considerable build-up of Communist troop strength in South Vietnam during late 1966 and 1967. He said the CIA wanted to increase the official estimate of Communist troop levels, but the Pentagon, "fearing the public reaction to higher numbers," lobbied to keep the estimate at a lower level.

"Adams said he did not know if President Lyndon B. Johnson knew of the estimates. Asked whose policy it was, Adams replied, "I assume you are asking if Mr. Johnson was the head of that policy. I don't know. You have to realize I was not a very high official so I did not know what was going on in the White House."

The committee, chaired by Rep. Otis Pike, D-N.Y., heard testimony from Adams while the White House studied an offer from the panel to compromise on declassification of secret documents involving U.S. intelligence activities.

Pike today predicted the committee would go to court to force White House compliance with its subpoenas for secret documents if the materials cannot be obtained "without strings attached."

Among the documents requested by the committee where reports dealing with the Tet offensive.

Adams told the panel "it is my belief, and I think the evidence shows, that American intelligence had so denigrated the Viet Cong's capabilities that we simply could not have predicted the size of the Tet attack."

Adams said in the second half of 1966, he discovered a series of documents at CIA headquarters indicating the strength of the Communist forces, then officially estimated at about 300,000, was more likely doubled. He said in the following months intelligence officials concluded his findings were valid.

"By mid-1967, the documentary evidence for higher numbers were so massive that there was no longer any question that the enemy army was much bigger than we thought," he said.

"The CIA's position at this point was that we should increase the enemy's strength estimate to reflect the estimate," Adams said.

"Fearing the public reaction to higher numbers, however, (Gen. William C.) Westmoreland's command was lobbying to keep the estimate at his official level, that is, below 300,000."

Order ignored

RICHARD HELMS, former CIA director, told Senate investigators Wednesday he issued verbal orders in 1970 to destroy poison and toxic materials but they were ignored. (UPI)

Expert says fish toxin still could kill 50,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A biology expert said today that unless steps are taken to remove shellfish toxin was stored illegally for five years it was still potent enough to kill 50,000 persons.

Dr. Edward Schantz, former senior researcher at the Army's biological laboratories at Ft. Detrick, Md., told the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence that one gram of the shellfish poison could kill 5,000 people.

"Therefore, he said, the figure shows that the Central Intelligence Agency stored in a vault contrary to presidential orders could kill 50,000 persons."

Later, Schantz told reporters the deadly toxin is extracted from shellfish contaminated by minute organisms called marine dinoflagellates, popularly known as the "Red Tide."

This poison is so toxic that a person eating just one infested clam would die within half an hour. Just two-tenths of a milligram of the purified toxin, a drop about the size of a pinhead, can kill within 10 seconds.

Schantz, who retired from government service in 1971 and is now a biology professor at the University of Wisconsin, testified before the Senate committee in Congress' ongoing investigation of the country's intelligence agencies.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate committee, said the panel had an Army list of where all experimental samples of shellfish toxin and other poisons had gone.

From time to time, Schantz said, he would requisition small amounts of the toxin to be sent to outside laboratories and institutions to find practical applications for it.

He said the poison "was put in glass vials, packed around with cotton, protected by a metal container and put in a cardboard box" and then sent through the U.S. Postal Service.

He said he had no reports that any of the shipments went astray or were broken in transit.

The Senate panel is investigating the discovery in a CIA vault last May of a stockpile of chemical substances and weapons more than five years after such stocks were assumed destroyed on orders of President Richard Nixon.

Freeze or hike

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — The secretary general of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries said today the oil exporters would either freeze or raise oil prices but not lower them.

He brushed aside Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's recent warning that a price hike would seriously jeopardize the relations of the oil producing countries with the United States.

Mechach O. Feyide of Nigeria, the OPEC secretary general, told a foreign press club lunch, "It is difficult to keep up with the number of Kissinger statements. It is even more difficult to understand their content. But if he said that, it is an improvement on his old remark about military intervention."

The 13 OPEC countries, converging at Vienna headquarters Sept. 24, would either raise prices or keep in effect the freeze that expires Sept. 30.

Recreation area upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Interior Committee today reaffirmed its approval of a bill to create the Hells Canyon National Recreation Area by a record vote of 32 to 0.

The legislation, which would prohibit construction of dams on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon, was tentatively approved by voice vote a week ago but Rep. Steven D. Symms, R-Idaho, asked for the roll call vote.

Joining Symms in voting against the measure were Reps. Sam Steiger, R-Ariz.; Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif.; and Virginia Smith, R-Neb.

The bill is similar to a Senate-passed bill that would establish the recreation area along 101 miles of the Snake, a white-water river which races through the deepest canyon on the North American continent.

The proposed recreation area has been endorsed by the governors of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Both Idaho senators, Democrat Frank Church and Republican James A. McClure, also voted to create the park.

Cyanide legal anti-coyote weapon again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cyanide, that deadly poison with the smell of bitter almonds, is once more a legal weapon in the stockman's war on coyotes — but environmentalists fear it also may kill children or their pets.

Protection Agency as a weapon against coyotes, renews the gray foxes that prey on livestock. EPA chief Russell Train's removal of the ban Wednesday was a major setback for the environmentalist movement.

Animal or person tugging on the bait can get hit with a lethal dose of the poison. Train said he lifted the ban "because of substantial new evidence on the safety and selectivity of the M44 and restrictions surrounding its use," including discovery of a human antidote to sodium cyanide poisoning.

Local voice in rules due

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil Andrus says local governments will have a role in plans to implement federal air quality regulations because the regulations are a land-use planning tool. Effective since last January, the regulations allow states to designate air masses in one of three classes — each of which could influence the rate of growth in the state.

Can propellant maker asks rules delay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An official of the nation's largest maker of rocket and missile propellant asked Congress today to delay regulatory action for two or three years.

Department of Du Pont's organic chemicals division, which makes Freon, told a Senate subcommittee there are not enough facts on which to reach a decision restricting the use of gases known as fluorocarbons.

show that certain fluorocarbons cannot be used without a threat to health. Du Pont will stop production of those compounds," he said in a statement prepared for the committee.

more harmful ultraviolet radiation would reach Earth's surface. There is concern the result would be an increase in skin cancer, disruption of global weather patterns and possible damage to vital plant life.

TF thefts reported

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls police today were investigating the theft of nearly $200 in tools from a Twin Falls man and a case of purse snatching involving a Twin Falls woman.

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Wednesday he is looking for someone with management expertise rather than academic degrees to head the state's department of Health and Welfare.

the large agency and knowledge of how to work with the federal bureaucracy. Discussing plans for the Western Governors' Conference which will meet next week in Sun Valley, Andrus said Idaho is hosting the meeting this time "because it's our turn."

rules and regulations to implement the act is a party line vote. Asked about his plans to replace revenue the state is losing from tourism and the higher price of gasoline, Andrus said he "probably will wait until the eleventh hour" to make the recommendations.

Bax successor sought

The Twin Falls sheriff's office was looking into the burglary of about $500 in plumbing tools from the manager of the Twin Falls Labor Center.

He said implementation of the regulations will require careful study. "We do not believe the ozone depletion theory is such a case."

He hopes the state gets $50,000 good out of the Hay and Associates study made on the state personnel system that it was commissioned by the legislature and so far is not completed.

Portugal political deadlock broken?

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — Portugal's military rulers summoned political leaders to new talks today, indicating that the political deadlock blocking the formation of a new government may have been broken.

when the Communists tentatively withdrew their demand for an equal number of cabinet posts with the left-center Popular Democrats.

Schuyler conceded that fluorocarbons used in such products as insecticides, deodorants and air fresheners as well as in refrigeration units are reaching the upper atmosphere and can be broken down into chlorine atoms.

The Du Pont executive said there is a growing trend toward legislation and regulation banning products speculated to be harmful on the basis of inconclusive evidence.

TWIN FALLS—Members of the South Central District Health Board Wednesday stood against issuing multiple permits for tracts less than five acres in agricultural areas.

The board earlier had taken a stand against issuing multiple permits for tracts less than five acres in agricultural areas.

Health board attorney Thomas Nelson, present at the Wednesday afternoon meeting, recommended the board approve the Lees' request while taking definite action to find a long-range solution to the problem of subdivision of agricultural County law permits an owner to subdivide his land once and sell the parcel without platting a subdivision, Nelson said. Then, the buyer of the plot can subdivide his land once and sell off the parcel, and so on down to one acre.

The Lee property is located in a chunk of 80 acres. Other five-acre plots in the same area have already been subdivided down to as small as an acre.

But most health board members took the stand that "If all of the land in the 80-acre parcel continued to be subdivided, a serious danger of well contamination" could result, board members said.

In addition, Cassia County representative John Clark said, "There is no allowance for roads or anything else," in the 80-acre area.

Twin Falls County zoning official Ed Woods and board chairman William Chancey protested against the ruling.

Woods told board members, "We're quite anxious to arrive at some logical solution to this thing. I think people are quite frustrated here."

Nelson told the board he recommended a revision of the county ordinance to "make the you're trying to regulate public health with a subdivision control," he said.

Dr. Wayne Carte suggested an overall development plan be submitted to the health department when the entire portion comes up for sale. In the Lees' case, it would mean a complete development plan would have to be drawn up for the whole 80-acre area.

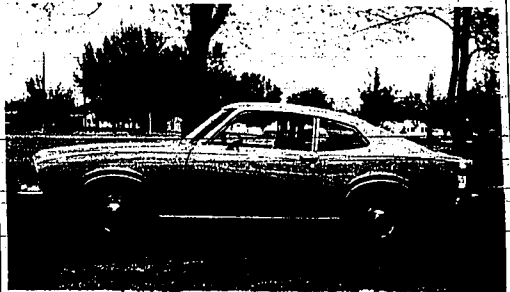

Otherwise, with the type of "hopsotch" development going on, officials lose control of all public services, such as roads.

But Woods protested, "The people have to have someplace to go and you can't slam the door. The city can't put out sewer lines fast enough. Some have to be on septic tanks and they can't all own five acres."

Carte said he would be in favor of reducing the minimum lot size to one acre in the county with the understanding that a septic-tank permit would not be automatically granted. If soil conditions or neighboring development required a larger lot, the health department should be able to demand it before issuing a permit, Carte said.

The board members turned down the request by the Lees.

Burley driver escapes injury

DECLO — A bulk gas truck overturned in a borrow pit east of here, Wednesday morning.

Driver Steven DalSoglio, 19, Burley, escaped by crawling through the partially opened window on the passenger side of the truck. He was treated, checked for head injury and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

The accident took place about 8:40 a.m. a mile east of Declo on Highway 81.

said the accident was caused when another driver tried to make a left turn while DalSoglio was attempting to pass.

Davis said DalSoglio was overtaking a pickup truck driven by Willett F. Martin, 18, Heyburn, when Martin signaled for a left turn.

The gas truck went on to the left shoulder of the highway. Davis said DalSoglio overcorrected and the load shifted, sending the truck across the highway to the right side.

'900 FEET AND LEVEL, SKIPPER—SAY, DID WE BRING THAT GO-GO DANCER IN FROM THE FOREDECK?'

Students hit by check policy

College of Southern Idaho Horizon A problem has developed over the course of the summer that I believe has more significance to CSI students than the traditional welcoming editorial. That problem is the new check cashing policy adopted by Magic Valley merchants...

Valuable in peace as well as war

WASHINGTON The skipper of the submarine Finback was reprimanded last week for letting a topless go-go dancer named Cat Futch perform on the deck of his sub as it set sail from Port Canaveral for a three-month stint in the Atlantic...

The Mark I Cat Futch will be placed in one of the missile containers forward of the conning tower. When an enemy ship is spotted, the U.S. sub will immediately surface and the skipper will push this button here which will raise the go-go dancer to the deck...

The Russians have nothing like it. "I don't think the Chinese do either," someone else said. The admiral flipped the chart. "The importance of the Mark I Cat Futch is that it can be used in peacetime as well as war..."

Other examples abound. The other day 186 scientists solemnly united in a statement of warning against "denuclearization" of the world. You will think I am making this up. I am not. Dr. Bart Bok, an eminent astronomer, took himself so seriously that he worked up a manifesto published in The Humanist...

ART BUCHWALD

The admiral flipped the chart and showed a close-up of Cat Futch. "The dance should mesmerize the crew of the enemy ship, while they watch with mouths agape, the skipper will zero in with his torpedoes and let them fly. After the ship is sunk, the go-go dancer will be returned to her pad and lowered back into a dehusked position until the next general quarters..."

"What a great way to show the flag!" an admiral exclaimed. "All right," the assistant secretary of the Navy said. "It's a viable weapon, but what will it cost?" "The Mark I Cat Futch can be leased for $50 a day..."

The Federal Trade Commission over-reacts. The Food and Drug Administration over-reacts. The Consumer Product Safety Commission has the galvanic twitches. And not to put too fine a point upon it, we of the media, hated word, over-react to over-reaction. Until a week or so ago, when the tale of the Finback busted loose, Cat Futch was unknown. Now her name is in lights...

Pentagon fleeced in Senate shell game

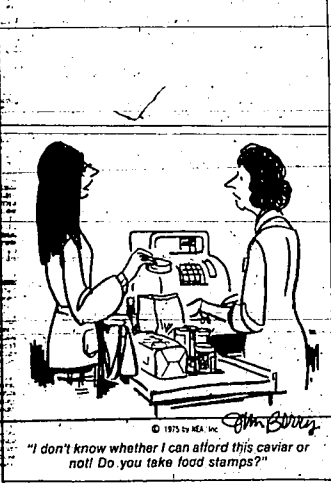

WASHINGTON — The most recent "snoozekeeping" report by the Senate Budget Committee, showing excessive defense spending and reduced non-defense spending, suggests that the much acclaimed congressional budget reform is really a Senate shell game to fleece the Pentagon...

minor social welfare cuts with major defense cuts and an impenetrable budgetary accounting. The Aug. 1 roll call reflects a possible landmark change in Capitol Hill defense policies that deeply displeases the Pentagon...

defense officials hope to break the coalition by convincing its conservative Republicans that they are victimized by figures which magnify defense spending and shrink non-defense spending. But the impulse for stronger national defense immediately following the Indochina debacle seems to be fading...

Resisting imported big name Democrats led Durkin to New Hampshire win

By STEWART POWELL

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) — Democrat John A. Durkin deliberately rejected offers of outside help from Democratic headlines — and won.

Republican Louis C. Wyman gladly accepted assistance from President Ford, former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and lesser luminaries — and lost. Seeking his first elective office, Durkin sensed a resistance to big-name imports in politically proud New Hampshire.

It was the first statewide election since the Watergate-inspired Democratic congressional landslide last fall, and provided evidence the Democratic tide still runs strong.

Even President Ford's 11-hour, 25-stop campaign swing across southern New Hampshire on Wyman's behalf five days before election day failed to stop the tide.

In the aftermath, Ford's effort left the larger question of his own vulnerability in next year's New Hampshire presidential primary, the nation's first. It could encourage not only Reagan but other Republicans to challenge Ford for the GOP nomination.

New Hampshire, after all, is changing. Increasing Democratic migrations from liberal Massachusetts no longer make it a surefire Republican stronghold. For the first time since the GOP was formed before the Civil War the state now is represented by two Democrats in the U.S. Senate.

Another signpost of the changing political complexion might be seen in the state's often unpredictable voters ignoring predictions of little interest and turning out in greater numbers than in the original Durkin-Wyman stand-off.

Apparently relying on a poll taken in July before the Senate returned the disputed election to voters for a decision, Durkin turned aside offers of public support by Democrats campaigning in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary.

"The days were gone," he said, when one politician's popularity carried over to another — although his campaign did receive some behind the scenes organization help from some Democratic presidential aspirants.

"Teddy Kennedy offered to campaign for or against me, whichever would do the most good," Durkin often quipped during the rerun. Kennedy did neither.

While Durkin, a self-styled consumer champion, rejected public support from outsiders, almost half his campaign financing came from out-of-state labor unions.

One factor that had no impact on the outcome was the presence of third party candidate Carrietta Chimento. He had been viewed in somewhat of a spoiler role if the rematch results rivaled the original close count. But the 53 per cent Durkin victory margin dismissed him from the picture.

Influencing the candidates daily were their young political strategists — Joe Grandmalson, 32, for Durkin and Wyman's George Young, 30. Both have built national reputations on packaging politicians for voters.

Grandmalson, a native of Nashua, rose to notice in 1972 as George McGovern's New Hampshire campaign manager. Young is credited for Reagan's successful effort to become governor of California.

Grandmalson said his candidate won because of Durkin's style, personality and "average voter" concerns. He described Wyman as a "government as usual candidate."

Insurance post built reputation

By United Press International

While eating a mid-morning English muffin at an ice cream parlor across the street from his office in Concord, N.H. one day, John A. Durkin learned he had lost his job.

That was five months after a conservative Republican governor took over. A State Police lieutenant accompanied Durkin's replacement to his office to make sure the deposed Democratic state insurance commissioner cleared out his desk with dispatch.

The last of four children born into a Democratic household during the Depression, Durkin learned early the rewards of being a scrapper with a quick tongue.

He was raised in a political household. His father was appointed postmaster of the tiny mid-Massachusetts community of Brookfield by a Democratic administration. The family photo album includes a shot of his sister on Franklin D. Roosevelt's lap when FDR stopped on a whistlesop tour.

But politics wasn't his first love. He settled for the law and government only after giving up a dream of playing major league baseball.

The appointment as state insurance commissioner, a job he held for five years started him down the trail to public service. It was also in that position he built a reputation as a consumer advocate.

Now 39, with gray starting to frost his hair, Durkin is headed for the U.S. Senate from the traditionally Republican state of New Hampshire.

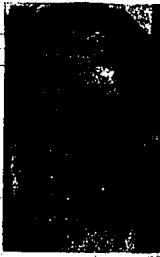

He campaigned for almost 18 months through a primary and two elections before winning his first elective office Tuesday in the rerun of history's closest Senate election. He called his victory a message from America to President Ford and Congress alike.

"It's time for some changes down there," he often said while campaigning through factories and working class neighborhoods he will now represent.

Durkin portrayed himself as an angry young man before and after he had defeated a GOP giant in the state, former five-term Rep. Louis C. Wyman.

"I'm not the smoothest item to come down the turnpike," Durkin told cheering supporters Tuesday night. "But I'm gonna stand up. I'm gonna speak up. I'm gonna rock the boat in a responsible manner until Washington starts listening to the people of this country."

Panel OK's grain check

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Agriculture Committee, reacting to widespread charges of corruption in the handling of export grain, Wednesday approved a bill designed to temporarily tighten federal supervision of grain inspection.

The measure also includes permanent provisions which, for the first time, would require big private grain trade companies to register with the government and disclose full details of their ownership.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chief sponsor of the reform bill, predicted it would pass without controversy as a prelude to congressional consideration of permanent grain inspection reforms early next year.

Committee Chairman Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., agreed permanent legislation should await the conclusion of investigations into the grain scandal.

Registration lauded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James McClellan, R-Idaho, said today he feels the registration of sodium cyanide in 44 predator control by the Environmental Protection Agency is a step in the right direction.

He said he was hopeful that "the spirit of today's decision will be followed so that careful, controlled use of the device can begin to help lower livestock and game losses inflicted by coyote predation."

The decision to register the device for use in interstate commerce follows a long series of meetings between McClellan, other members of Congress and President Ford.

"This decision, if it will accomplish what we hope, is long overdue," he said.

Hookup could give California extra Idaho power

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A set of huge power lines transporting enormous amounts of electricity from the Northwest into California.

Idaho soon may be hooked directly to the north-south power line. The hookup would enable surplus power from Idaho to flow directly into energy-hungry California.

Northwest utilities and the Bonneville Power Administration have moved more than $4 billion to build a high-voltage electricity line from California to the state since 1968.

California, meanwhile, has sent only five billion kilowatt hours of electricity to the Northwest, BPA records show.

The energy flow along a giant transmission system stretching 84 miles from near The Dalles, Ore., to Los Angeles, Calif.

BPA literature describes this three-line "inter-tie" as the largest transmission system on the American continent with a capacity massive enough to handle the amount of power that would serve the combined needs of the cities of Philadelphia and Chicago.

According to Larry Dean, chief of BPA's branch of power supply, the line often is filled to capacity. Plants in Washington and Oregon have supplied most of the power flowing into California, he said.

But this situation could change somewhat if Pacific Power and Light Co. completes its planned 500,000-volt line leading from an Idaho Power substation to Malin, Ore., where it would meet the 1.8 million-volt inter-tie system.

Jack Vogel, public relations director for PP&L, said the company plans to use the line to supply energy from the Jim Bridger coal-fired plant in Wyoming to its own customers. But he said that at times "surplus" power would be available to sell along the inter-tie.

BPA figures on the power sold on the inter-tie show that as of July 31 this year 85.5 billion kilowatt hours (kwh) have flowed south to California. About 5.1 billion kwh have come into the Northwest.

Dean said that 57 per cent of the energy going south over the years has been "firm" and the rest "surplus" power. "Firm" power is the energy load which a utility must meet. Surplus power is whatever energy a utility has on hand after meeting the needs of its regular customers and which it can sell on an "as available" basis.

About two-thirds or 47 billion kwh of the firm power sold to California originally belonged to Canada but has been bought by American private utilities in the Northwest through the year 2003. Since spring, however, most of this Columbia Storage Power Exchange energy has been committed to the Northwest.

The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation's California Valley project has been sent 9.8 billion kwh of electricity or "firm" power to California. The bureau obtains the power through owning a share of the coal-fired power plant near Centralia, Wash., Dean said.

The Bonneville Power Administration has sent 3.2 billion kilowatt hours of firm power to California since 1968 in "exchange" for other firm power sent north, he said. A few smaller sales from private utilities in the Northwest account for the rest of the firm power sent to California.

BPA has been the main supplier of "surplus" energy to California, sending more than 42 per cent of the total, Dean said. Private utilities, headquartered in Portland, Ore., have been the other main suppliers of this surplus.

Idaho Power Co., he said, has sent less than 1 per cent of the total surplus energy which has traveled down the inter-tie to California.

Dean said the reason for sending huge amounts of surplus electricity to California is tied to the nature of the Northwest's largely hydroelectric system. BPA and hydroelectric-based utilities must plan to meet their own customers' needs on the basis of possible low-water years. That means when normal or high-water years occur, there is surplus energy to sell.

BPA figures show that the Health board cuts budget hike

TWIN FALLS — South Central District Health Board members Wednesday cut more than half the unit's next year's proposed budgetary increase.

Dr. Wayne Cardé, medical director for the district, proposed a budget in August which would have raised the per-capita assessment for all eight counties in the district from $2.50 last year to $2.78 this year, a 23.6 per cent jump.

But health board members agreed to hold the increase down to about 13.3 per cent, raising the per-capita assessment to $2.55, not $2.78.

Cardé predicted after the meeting the cut in his proposed budget would mean two employees would be cut from the district payroll. The reduction in per-capita assessment would mean $23,000 less for the district's operation, Cardé said, adding, "That's two people."

The proposed budget still needs the approval of the budget committee made up of a commissioner from each of the eight counties, which will meet to discuss the proposal next month.

The vote to lower the assessment to $2.55 was divided, with two members of the board, William Chancey, Twin Falls, and Robert Thackeray, Jerome, in favor of a further reduction to $2.50.

Cardé said the lower level of funding would not mean a reduction in the number of programs offered by the district. "If you have a program, that's going to be maintained the program but with one less person," he said.

"Time may become the crucial factor. With less employees, it may take a little longer to obtain the same results," Cardé said.

Board members voted to reduce the assessment while at the same time "recognizing that (it) will mean a cut in our services," in the words of Blaine County representative, Charles Parker.

Health board cuts budget hike

Lincoln County representative Walter Bowman, a county commissioner, said "Every time we meet up there, we're faced with increases. I don't know what we're going to do with them."

The 13.3 per cent increase will just about pay for salary increases mandated by the state, according to Cardé. Each employee received a boost of $30 per month beginning this past July and a 3 1/2 per cent salary increase also.

Salaries account for the biggest portion of the budget, with nearly 65 per cent of district funds being paid to employees.

AFT organizing drive under way

TWIN FALLS — The American Federation of Teachers (AFT) is holding an organizing drive in school districts across Idaho, including Twin Falls, the state executive director said Wednesday.

Alan Rose, Moscow, national representative for AFT and executive director for the newly formed Idaho Federation of Teachers, was in Twin Falls to talk with local chapter officers.

Rose claimed AFT was meeting success in its organizing drive. The National Education Association (NEA) is "beginning all the time to lose members to us," Rose said. "In the past two months we've grown 60 per cent across this state." However, Rose said he had no specific figures on the growth in membership yet.

There are several basic differences between the AFT and the NEA, Rose said.

AFT represents teachers alone, Rose said, with no principals or supervisors included.

"The teachers are aware of what they go AFT, the lines are clearly drawn between teacher interests and administrative interests. Sometimes those things overlap, sometimes they don't," Rose said.

And he said "teachers in Twin Falls are very disgruntled" because their average salary increases this year were much lower than administrators pay raises.

Another strength of AFT, Rose said, was "its affiliation with organized labor." "You have an union, affiliated with AFL-CIO, and that means when we go in to speak to legislators at both state and national levels, we speak with the support of organized labor."

This affiliation, Rose said, tends to minimize the Arraignment set for Burley man

BURLEY — One defendant was to be arraigned in magistrate court here today in connection with the stabbing, shooting, fires, theft and vandalism west of Norland Friday night.

Gilbert Schapa, 24, Burley, is charged in Minidoka County with attempted robbery and assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to commit murder.

He was arrested about 2 a.m. Wednesday at a Burley motel and has been held on $200,000 bond.

Schapa is accused of slashing Mistral Caciuno Rivera, 24, a Mexican alien, during a raid on the trailer Rivera occupied. The attack took place late Friday night six miles west and a mile south of Norland — just inside the Minidoka County line.

Rivera suffered slashes on the left arm that required surgery to tie together the severed tendons.

The attackers chased four men from the Nelbaur and Stevenson Farms labor house

Faculty strikes settled

By United Press International
It was back to the classrooms today for teachers in Chicago and New York — and a resumption of classes for more than 1.6 million children. The settlement of school strikes in the nation's two largest cities cut to less than 350,000 the number of children affected by teacher strikes and lockouts in 10 states.

Chicago's teachers ended the second longest strike in the city's history and permitted the school year to open today for 530,000 public school students.

The Chicago Teachers Union 900-member house of delegates voted overwhelmingly Wednesday night to end a walkout that had idled 26,000 teachers and kept classrooms closed for 11 class days.

The 655-to-10 vote came after negotiators for teachers and the school board reached a tentative contract settlement. Technically, the strike was suspended for one week. Teachers were to vote on the contract proposal Sept. 23.

New teacher strikes hit communities in Indiana and New Jersey Wednesday.

Teachers at Fort Wayne, Ind., walked out when a marathon bargaining session failed to produce an agreement. School officials urged the city's nearly 40,000 students to stay home.

Similar all-night negotiations failed in the Parsippany-Troy Hills, N.J., school district and 11 schools with 11,000 pupils were shut down.

Thirty-two strikes or lockouts idled 121,000 children in Pennsylvania.

The Wilmington, Del., school board threatened to fire secretaries who stay off their jobs in sympathy with striking teachers. Police have served more than 100 of 170 summonses issued against the strikers, who are charged with criminal contempt and unofficial misconduct. The strike, which affects 14,200 children, entered its third week Wednesday.

Only 17 of 552 teachers in Pawtucket, R.I., reported for work under a third court order to end their two-week strike.

Candidate

FORMER Philadelphia Bulletin executive editor George Packard said Wednesday he will seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Minority Leader Hugh Scott. (UPI)

N-strike cruiser scrapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional negotiators, forced by the Senate to make deeper cuts in the Pentagon Budget, have scrapped funds for the controversial nuclear strike cruiser.

"It's dead now," chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said Wednesday. "I think it would be revised sometime. I think it's the coming ship."

The House and Senate negotiators trimmed $250 million from an earlier compromise military procurement bill — rejected by the Senate 46-44 — to bring the total for fiscal 1976 and the following three months to $30.9 billion.

"We got all the reductions we could," Stennis told reporters but conceded the total was still some $500 million above the ceiling set by the Senate Budget Committee.

The House, which approved the original bill, will vote first on the new compromise and the Senate will follow. There was no indication whether Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, would mount a fight against the new bill.

The other cuts included $85 million by eliminating one of 10 patrol frigates; $52.7 million through a reduction in spare parts for aircraft; $22.3 million through a slash in the F15 fighter program; and $30 million by a reduction in the Airborne Warning and Control System (AWACS).

Poisoning tactics tried

Chicago Daily News
WASHINGTON — Hundreds of U. S. workers here and thousands of New York subway riders "participated" without their knowledge in Army and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) experiments on mass "poisoning" of the water supply and "spreading" of infection.

A glimpse into such black arts of the government's back-alley operators was given the Senate select committee investigating the CIA Wednesday.

The committee is seeking to determine the amount of control higher-ups maintained over the CIA operation, and its public accountability responsibility.

The reports and testimony about the experiments were read into the record eliciting less excitement than the display earlier of the "dart gun" for shooting poisoned needles into a potential enemy.

A "moldscorable micro-inoculator" was the CIA title applied to the weapon for use by the clandestine services.

After it had served its purpose — attracting the TV cameras and news photographers endless picture snapping — hardly anything more has been heard about it. Ambassador to Iran Richard Helms, who was director of the CIA during the period including 1970, in which the committee is concentrating its probe, said he first knew of the electrically operated pistol when he read about it in the papers.

The same applied, he said, to a cache of shellfish and cobra poisons, found at Ft. Detrick, Md., five years after they were supposed to have been destroyed in the wake of a presidential statement.

The water supply "poisoning" was described by Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., a member of the committee, who read portions of a report prepared by the Army "special operations division" and shared with CIA officials.

The experiment was carried out between June, 1968, and June, 1969, at the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) headquarters here. Its purpose was to determine the vulnerability of the water system in federal buildings to a "biological attack."

A non-poisonous substance identified as "collipage" was introduced into FDA's water system "using the technique a saboteur might use," the report said.

"Neither the occupants nor the operating personnel were advised the test was planned. Those conducting the test went without challenge and were undetected."

$97,000 funding change sought

By BART QUINNELL
Times-News writer

HAILLEY — The Blaine County commissioners want to re-open the 1975 budget set in February so $97,000 can be transferred to the district court fund.

An application to amend the county's 1975 budget has been filed with Fifth District court here. The money has to be transferred to meet the order by Fifth District Judge Douglas Kramer that new suitable courtroom facilities be constructed; the application says.

According to the application, the board adopted the 1975 budget in February and included $200,000 in the district court budget. Kramer made his order in May, 1975.

The application says there is presently $77,000 unappropriated in the district court fund.

The order constitutes a charge against the county and that further funds are required to be transferred to the district court budget to meet the expenses that will be incurred in complying, the petition says.

The application states further that at the time of the adoption of the budget the board failed to foresee both the pressing need for the judicial facilities and that the district court would in fact order the construction of such facilities.

The county is also seeking to apply $20,000 in federal revenue sharing funds forthcoming in October to the district court budget.

That would bring the total to $97,000 if the application is approved. Kramer recently released $200,000 in county funds he had impounded to build a courtroom after it was reported the commissioners had created an illegal building fund earlier this year.

The commissioners discontinued that fund after it was found to be illegal and said the $200,000 in alleged surplus county budget funds would be turned back to the general county fund.

The general tax levy was decreased for 1975 because the money was turned back, according to county commissioner C.W. Gardner.

Even though the money was turned back, the judge's directive still stands. The county commissioners were chastised by state Rep. E.V. McHan, R-Ketchum, last week for not giving the people the right to vote on the building.

The commissioners told McHan the people would probably vote down a levy now for construction of a courthouse, leaving the county in the same position under the judge's directive.

The day the commissioners announced the illegal fund a press release stated "the board is exploring several possible alternative methods of financing and constructing the judicial facilities required by the court's order." Gardner said this was one of those alternatives.

Spanish ballot use questioned

BURLEY — The first questions on Spanish-language ballots came before the Burley City Council Monday night.

Mrs. Gladys Escobal asked if the council would have ballots printed in Spanish for use only 4 weeks.

City officials could not answer. They said they have received no information from federal or state officials regarding the new "language minority" law. It requires ballots in a foreign language where a "language minority" of more than 5 per cent exists with an illiteracy percentage higher than the national average of 4.6 per cent.

Councilman Jerry Vegweri pointed out that the Burley ballot on Nov. 4 will only be the names of those running for council seats. He said these would not change in any language.

Asked her own feelings on Spanish ballots in Burley, Mrs. Escobal said she had to warrant on the defendant about 4 p.m. Monday at Twin Falls where she was being held by Twin Falls police and sheriff's department.

A Burley police detective said the credit card was stolen in Twin Falls. It was used at several businesses in Burley. The forgery charges arose out of signing the receipts on the credit card use.

Felony bond set
BURLEY — A Kimberly woman was arraigned here Tuesday on forgery and credit cards felonies.

$500 CB radio stolen
TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls police Wednesday were investigating the theft of a citizens band-radio from the truck of a Utah man.

Edward D. Elson, Bonanza, told police Wednesday morning a CB radio valued at $500 had been stolen from his pickup truck late Tuesday while it was parked outside a Twin Falls motel.

Elson said the truck had been broken into and the unit unplugged and removed.

Chavez claims ballot victory

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — United Farm Workers leader Cesar Chavez claimed a key victory today in balloting at more than a score of ranches belonging to the Western Growers Association, where workers are currently represented by the rival Teamsters Union.

Chavez said the latest figures show the UFW with 2,000 votes of member ranches to 300 for the Teamsters.

Chavez' union Wednesday won a state ruling in the dispute over farm union elections at the 156 ranches belonging to the association.

The state Agricultural Labor Relations Board decided balloting elections at the ranches would be counted on a ranch-by-ranch basis as requested by the UFW.

The Teamsters and growers wanted the ballots counted on a statewide basis, with the winning union representing all the association's farm workers.

Death sentence given

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — A military court today sentenced to death five guerrillas, including two women who were said to be pregnant, for the murder of a policeman.

A Spanish law forbids execution of expectant mothers.

A sixth defendant was ordered imprisoned for twenty years.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty for five defendants and a 30-year sentence for the sixth.

The six, aged 20 to 29, are confessed members of the Maoist guerrilla group Revolutionary Antifascist and Patriotic Front.

After-tax profits soar

By United Press International

Manufacturers' profits soared 34.4 per cent after taxes in the April-June quarter, the Federal Trade Commission reported today.

After-tax profits, which had dipped 43 per cent to $9.3 billion in the first quarter, bounced back to $12.5 billion — another indication the economy is recovering from its worst recession in 30 years.

The FTC said in Washington the biggest gains were made in rubber, glass and textiles. Despite lagging auto sales, after-tax profits swelled 800 per cent from a low $114 million base for transportation industries.

The financial improvement for manufacturers helps account for widespread job gains for furloughed factory workers since June.

US objections overruled

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States has lost its first two confrontations in the new General Assembly session.

The assembly's steering committee overruled U.S. objections Wednesday and voted to give priority to a Communist resolution on Korea and to debate the admission of the two Vietnams.

The committee decided to discuss the applications for membership of North and South Vietnam despite U.S. vetoes in the Security Council last month.

The delegates also decided to give priority to a North Korean resolution calling for the replacement of the U.N. sponsored Korean armistice by an immediate peace agreement.

The recommendations of the steering committee go before the General Assembly Friday for consideration.

Seeks missiles

SPEAKING to the National Press Club Wednesday, Israel Defense Minister Shimon Peres said Israel is seeking nuclear missiles from the United States but without nuclear warheads, to offset similar weapons already in Arab arsenals. Peres also said Israel would never ask the U.S. troops to be sent to the Middle East. (UPI)

Hughes status queried

NEW YORK (UPI) — Howard Hughes is either alive or dead — and that is about as far as New York courts are willing to go.

The courts once again have been asked to declare the billionaire recluse legally dead. After a day of hearing arguments for both sides Wednesday, Justice Thomas J. Hughes reserved decision in the case.

The court action stemmed from a $100 million class action suit filed last month by Victor and Ellen Kurtz of New York on behalf of stockholders in Air West, a California airline acquired by Hughes in 1969, charging Hughes with stock manipulation and fraud.

Two weeks ago, Justice Thomas Chimeria had directed Hughes to appear Wednesday to show cause why an order declaring him dead should not be issued.

Cancer, sunlight linked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cancerous moles are becoming more common among light-skinned people and a new study shows they are increasing on parts of the body exposed to more sunlight because of changing lifestyles.

Dr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the department of dermatology at the Harvard Medical School, said the rate of malignant moles on the head and neck have not changed much but more are occurring on the legs of women and the upper backs of men and women.

"Also, people born after 1920 had higher incidence and mortality rates, implying that the young people of the past few decades spend more time out of doors and wear less clothing," Fitzpatrick reported Wednesday.

Malignant melanomas represent a relatively uncommon but often fatal form of skin cancer. They are increasing at the rate of 3 to 5 per cent a year. A total of 9,000 new cases was expected this year, and statistics show that only four out of every 10 melanoma victims survive five years.

Pauling gets honor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Linus Pauling, a two-time Nobel Prize winner who has long been at odds with presidents over U.S. foreign and nuclear policy, was invited to the White House today by President Ford to receive the nation's highest scientific award.

Pauling was to receive the prestigious National Medal of Science at a White House noon ceremony after he was twice refused the honor during the presidency of Richard M. Nixon.

Poisonous pickings

CEVA, Italy (UPI) — Guido Salvatico, 62, killed a snake while mushroom hunting and decided to eat it along with the mushrooms he had gathered.

During the night he was taken violently ill and rushed to a hospital.

But doctors said it wasn't the snake that sickened him but rather a poison mushroom he picked along with edible ones.

Ministers attempt to influence FCC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three ministers today set out to convince the Federal Communications Commission it should get rid of the "ex-plantation of sex and violence" on television and radio.

Representing "Morality in Media," an interchurch group whose watchwords are "Love, Truth and Taste," the ministers are Rabbi Julius G. Neuman and the Revs. Morton A. Hill and Winfrey C. Link.

After a scheduled conference with FCC Chairman Richard E. Wiley, the ministers planned a news conference to report on Wiley's response.

Hill and Link were members of the "Presidential Commission on Obscenity and Pornography," which filed a report former President Richard M. Nixon rejected as too liberal. Hill and Link filed a minority opinion.

The three ministers came to ruffed a diamond, ruffed another club and played two more rounds of trumps. South was down to one trump, one diamond and two spades. The simple play to make the hand would be to lead a spade toward dummy. But after considerable star gazing, South came to the conclusion that West held the last club and East the last diamond. In that case it didn't matter who held the ace of spades. South just led his last diamond. East had to win and lead a spade up to dummy's king.

Ask the Jacobys

A Virginia wit:
 "You are vulnerable and hold: ♠ A 4 ♥ A K J 8 5 ♦ K 5 4 3 ♣ 7 3."
 "The bidding has gone one spade-pass-two spades. What do you do?"
 "We bid three hearts and get ready to duck if we get doubled. The hand is too strong for us to sit back and let our opponents play at two spades. You never get hurt if you never take a chance, but you never get anywhere if you don't."
 (Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

 "Well," said North, "my overbid paid off."
 "Deleted, deleted," said West. "If I had opened a trump I wouldn't have. In addition my partner had to really play the hand well."
 "South had given the hand a fine play. He took dummy's ace of clubs, led the jack of diamonds and let East hold the trick with the queen. East shifted to a trump. South, in dummy, ruffed a club, cashed the ace of diamonds,

Couple marries

FAIRFIELD — Debbie Tate and Steven Johnson were married Aug. 23 in an evening ceremony at the Fairfield Community Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Tate, Corral, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence E. Johnson, Vancouver, B.C.

Rev. Harold Hake performed the double-ring ceremony.

Kathy Fields, Corral, was maid of honor while Jan Johnson, sister of the groom, and Paula Bauscher were bridesmaids.

Scott Maroiz, Ashton, was best man and Mark Tate, brother of the bride, and Ken Meservy were attendants.

Mrs. Margaret Brackenbury, Fairfield, was the organist. The bridesmaids and flower girl, Shelby Tate, cousin of the bride, were all candlelighters.

Tori Kendall was in charge of the guestbook. Helping with the gifts were Stefanie Westfall, Nampa; Karen O'Brian, Pocatello; Daniel Wolf, Corral, and Jean Rickland, Fairfield.

Clinton Wolf was the ringbearer.

The couple was honored at a reception at the bride's home after the ceremony.

Helping at the reception were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Joyce Bruel, and Mrs. Maxine King, assisting with refreshments were Mrs. Helen Tracy and Mrs. Marge Bauscher.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for the bride by Kathy Fields and Paula Bauscher.

The couple honeymooned in San Francisco, returning to Boise where both will work and the bridegroom will attend Boise State University.

National observance

ANNOUNCING plans for Magic Valley's observance of National Beauty Salon Week are Bonnie Fry, left, general chairman, and Jan Confield. The observance is set from Oct. 5 through 12, with activities scheduled throughout the Valley.

Attends convention

TWIN FALLS — Sue Ellis, Utah-Idaho District Circle K secretary-treasurer, recently returned from Canada where she attended a Circle K convention.

Miss Ellis' ten-day trip to Toronto was made as representative from the College of Southern Idaho to the Circle K's 28th annual international convention.

Traveling with Miss Ellis were Joseph Seekora, governor of the District Circle K, and Dirk Surber and Connie Halby, all representatives of CSI's Circle K Club.

Miss Ellis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weedon M. Ellis, Jerome, was a member of the elections committee and the house of delegates. She is presently a student at Idaho State University, Pocatello.

National Beauty Salon Week scheduled

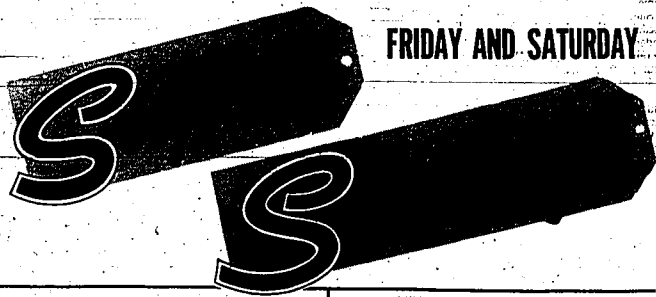

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Magic Valley Hairdressers Association will be joining hairdressers across the nation in observance of National Beauty Salon Week Oct. 5 through 12.

The group will be visiting the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Oct. 6 doing the hair of patients. All through the week various shops will be doing hairstyles for some of the more underprivileged youngsters.

Projects will be scheduled throughout the week ending with a hairstyling and fashion show along with a luncheon Oct. 12 at 1 p.m. at the Turf Club.

Plans are also made to do hair for patients at St. Benedict's Hospital and the Twin Falls Clinic.

The total look in fashions and hairstyles will be featured at the luncheon which will highlight the week's activities. Tickets for the luncheon can be obtained from all participating beauty salons.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter Prissy had been going steadily with Jonathan, a charming young man she met at college. I expected her to come home with a diamond any time.

A young lady suddenly reappeared in Jonathan's life—his high school sweetheart who had married someone else. Her marriage was being dissolved, and she needed someone to "talk to" and help straighten out her life. She contacted Jonathan and he started seeing her. Prissy, because resentful, and Jonathan asked her to please be more understanding. Prissy said, "I'm sorry, but that girl should be talking to a marriage counselor or a clergyman. It's not your place to straighten out her life."

Jonathan returned, he says, having told her that he was seriously involved with someone else. Instead, he played the moth. Prissy could be the lucky one.

—PRISSY'S MOM

Old flame still burns

DEAR MOM: Even if Prissy had been more understanding, I think the high school sweetheart would have won out. If Jonathan truly cared for Prissy, when his old flame returned, he really should have told her that he was seriously involved with someone else. Instead, he played the moth. Prissy could be the lucky one.

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who is quite old but by no means senile. She has mentioned several times that she has no one in her will for a sizable amount of money. Frankly, I doubt that she is worth that much.

Is there some place I can write to find out exactly how much money she is really worth?

I want my inquiry to be absolutely confidential. Please don't use my name, initials or location.

—ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: You won't (and shouldn't) know until the will is probated. Meanwhile, I suggest you respect your relative's right to privacy.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of "awards" for first and second graders when only four or five students from the class receive them? The other students feel so bad. Some even cry.

The students who receive the awards may invite their parents to attend. The other students may not.

This upsets me so that it takes me weeks to get over it. I

Library adds books

FILER—A number of new books have been added to the Filer City Library this past week, according to Mrs. F. E. Albion, librarian.

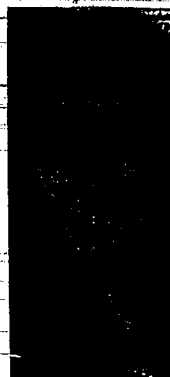

New works of fiction include "The Promise of Joy," Drury; "If Beale Street Could Talk," J. Baldwin; "Massacre at Fall Creek," West; "The Will of Magda Townsend," Banning; "Wind and Shilling West," Gray; "Shardik," Adams.

"The Boat," Bucheala; "The Great Train Robbery," Critchton; "Anya," Schaeffer; "Harlequin," M. West; "Marcelan's Daughter," Galtman; "Pikes Peak: a Family Saga," Waters.

Non-fiction includes "How The Good Guys Finally Won," Breslin; "The Hilde of the Pyramids," No Surrender; "My Thirty-Year War," Ondaatje; "We Are Your Sons," Merropel; "A Naturalist Buys An Old Farm," Teale; "Strictly Speaking," Newman; "The Bermuda Triangle," Berlitz; "Conservation With Kennedy," Bradlee; "Nice Guys Finish Last," L. Durocher; "Centennial," J. Michener; "Commemorations," H. Herlich; "A Bridge Too Far," C. Ryan; "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy," LeClairre; and "New York Times Book of House Plants," J. Faust.

JEROME—Mr. and Mrs. Dale Welch announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Lynn, to Harvey Reynolds Taylor, all Jerome.

Miss Welch is a senior at Jerome High School and Taylor, a graduate of Jerome High School, is employed by Safeway.

The wedding will be held Sept. 26 at the LDS Third Ward, Jerome.

FIRST GRADE TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: I am all for rewards for outstanding achievements, but they should be given in a way that will not humiliate those who receive none. Instead of complaining to me, why don't you complain to the authorities and try to get them to change the system?

Boise Philharmonic Orchestra will present concert in TF

TWIN FALLS — The Boise Philharmonic Orchestra will present a concert in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium Oct. 8.

Sidney Herb, violinist, will be featured soloist, playing Beethoven's "Concerto In D Major" for violin and orchestra. It will be the first time the Boise Philharmonic has appeared in Magic Valley.

The Twin Falls appearance of the 80-piece orchestra is being sponsored by the Magic Valley Symphony with Mrs. Donald Youtz as general chairman and Mrs. John McKain, ticket chairman.

A matinee for all interested students in Magic Valley is scheduled for 2 p.m. Oct. 8 with the evening concert at 8 o'clock. Mrs. David Mead is chairman of the matinee.

The Boise group is directed by Daniel Stern who has initiated "Family night" concerts and also introduced children's concerts during the school day. He is conductor in-residence at Boise State University where he teaches conducting, violin and viola, is a member of the BSU faculty and is music director for the Boise Civic Opera.

The philharmonic is considered unique to a city the size of Boise, according to Mrs. Youtz. For half a century the group was maintained and directed by the players. In 1950 a board of directors assumed administrative tasks and the women's auxiliary, now the Symphony Guild, took over responsibility for programs, tickets, publicity and fund raising.

In 1960 the philharmonic association had its first full-time resident conductor, Jacques Brourman. The professional guidance of Brourman and Mathys Abbas helped build the philharmonic into what it is today, Mrs. Youtz said.

Stern received his bachelor of music degree from Eastman School of Music, his master's and doctorate from the University of Oregon.

Concert planned

PLANNING for the Oct. 8 Twin Falls concert of the Boise Philharmonic Orchestra are Mrs. Donald Youtz, left, and Mrs. David Mead, seated, with Mrs. John McKain, ticket chairman, and Ernest Moss, president of the Magic Valley Symphony, standing. Mrs. Youtz is general chairman and Mrs. Mead in charge of the matinee scheduled for all interested students.

Pinehurst miss, Johnson wed

FAIRFIELD — Joni Kaye Thompson and Mark Wayne Johnson were married Sept. 6 in an evening ceremony.

The two were united in the Community Bible Chapel, Spokane, Wash., by Rev. Earl Morlock, dean of the Inland Empire School of the Bible, in a double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joe Pendergrass, Pinehurst, and Carl Thompson, Coeur d'Alene. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Fairfield.

Given in marriage by step-father, the bride wore a white lace floor-length gown, with a chapel train, trimmed with lace and sequins. The gown had long sheer lace sleeves and a stand-up collar trimmed with sequins. The gown had long sheer lace sleeves and a stand-up collar trimmed with sequins. Her short veil was attached to a headpiece trimmed in lace and sequins.

She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses on a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. James Schott, Princeton, cousin of the bride.

Elmer Johnson, the bridegroom's father, was best man. Candeligher was John Thompson, brother of the bride.

Dick Cross, director of the Union Gospel Mission, sang at the ceremony and Mrs. Dick Cross sang, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Pat McGuire, who also played the processional. A dinner at the Golden Hour in University City hosted by the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The three tiered cake was decorated in burgundy and pink roses and was topped with a cross.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Kellogg High School and is attending Inland Empire

School of the Bible. The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of Camas County High School and the College of Idaho and is now a student at Inland Empire where he is preparing for the ministry. He also serves as a counselor at the Union Gospel Mission and at Ogden Hall, a home for drug addicts.

Hiring of principals recommended at Minico

RUPERT — Each school should have its own principal, Dr. Harold Catmull told the Minico County School Board.

Catmull, chairman of the board, said the district should put a principal in each building next year and find a stopgap measure now to alleviate the burden on elementary principals now supervising two schools.

Gene Snapp is principal for Memorial and Lincoln schools. Garth Baker is principal for Washington and Pioneer schools.

He said Snapp had received a 4 per cent increment above the regular salary before Hatfield became superintendent. Baker has not received that increment.

But the main discussion centered around eliminating the double load which both principals said they would rather not have.

Trustee Blaine Anderson, Heyburn, suggested that the needs assessment study, for which a steering committee was appointed only minutes earlier, cover the problem and come up with some type of solution.

"In another year I think we should have two more principals," Dr. Catmull said. "I think we should recommend to the board for next year that they plan to hire two extra principals."

Catmull also talked of having a head teacher at each school. Trustee Fern Hunter liked that approach, but no action was taken. It was left with members to consider.

Snapp told the board he realized that the district does not have the money now but, if new principals were not hired, assistant principals were needed.

Snapp said he had taken the extra school for only one year and it had stretched out into several years. He said he would be "happy to give up the $300-$500."

"I'm not getting a lot done that I'd like to," he said, "and I'm probably not doing it as well as I'd like to."

Snapp said he realized that it might cost another $12,000-$15,000 in the two schools, but added that it was sound education to have a principal in each school.

Baker also favored elimination of the double load over any bonus. He said first and sixth graders "need a lot of help" and he had not found time to counsel and visit with students, as well as make the double reports and attend double PTA functions.

"The ones I feel sorry for is the kids," he said.

Driver attempts brotherly revenge

SUPERIOR, Wis. (UPI) — Ronald Moon didn't like the idea of his brother, Robert, being jailed for a year for driving with a revoked driver's license.

So Ronald Moon called police Monday and warned them that he was going to drive his car into the building where his brother was housed.

Police were waiting and arrested Moon after he tried to drive up the steps.

Burley okays basins

BURLEY — The Burley City Council reversed itself this week and voted to pay for two catch basins and pave Hilland Avenue in the 16th to 18th Street area.

The unanimous vote came at a meeting Monday night at the Shaddock building during discussion raised Monday night. Supl. Darrell Hatfield about a salary discrepancy.

The remarks came during discussion raised Monday night. Supl. Darrell Hatfield about a salary discrepancy.

The unanimous vote came at a meeting Monday night at the Shaddock building during discussion raised Monday night. Supl. Darrell Hatfield about a salary discrepancy.

Work on the paving project had begun earlier. It was stopped when the council voted 3-2 on Sept. 2 against paying for the catch basins. The council held up paving until the owners of four corner lots put in curbs and gutters.

Councilman John Croft, who led the opposition to installing catch basins, was absent. Councilman Jerry Vegwert, who favored the city paying for catch basins, arrived Monday just after the vote was taken.

The city earlier had agreed to pave the street but wanted the property owners to install curbs and gutters first. Owners of the four lots not curbed agreed; then one later decided he could not because of finances.

The other owners asked that the city pick up the tab on two catch basins that serve the area.

Protesters seeking the paving were led Monday by Bill Johnstone who lives on 17th Avenue just east of Hilland. He warned the council that youngsters play in the area and walk across Hilland. He said truck traffic was heavy in the area and created a danger.

Donald Lee, 908 E. 18th St., told the council he had changed his mind and would install the curb and gutter on his property, but if the city or someone will pay for the catch basins.

The other three property owners already had said that. Don Nelson, 901 E. 17th St., went beyond that. He said he did not want to "pay for someone else's gutter drainage, but I will if I have to to get the dust taken care of."

V.V. Summers, 950 E. 17th St., told the council cost of the catch basins was supposed to have been covered. He said the Bureau of Reclamation said the city agreed to fill the street and install the catch basins.

Mayor Shaddock and Councilman James Roper pointed out that the people and developers there had closed the ditch. The confusion arose because City Atty. William Parsons had represented two developers privately.

Johnstone told the council each homeowner had paid $45 to fill the ditch to 18th Street, with excess to be returned equally to the property owners. He said the ditch had been filled for another 15 blocks and no money returned.

Johnstone suggested the excess be put toward the catch basins. Mayor Shaddock pointed out that the city was not involved in the ditch filling.

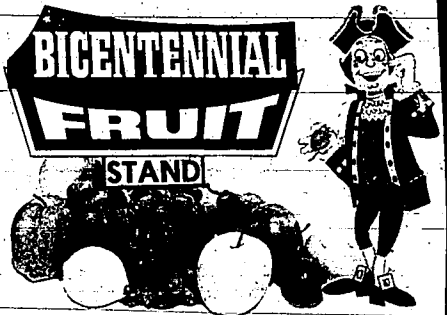

Charles Roy Warren, 901 E. 16 St., the fourth property owner without curb and gutter, was asked if he was willing to help pay for the catch basins.

"Negative, as of the moment," he replied.

Warren said the catch basin would serve 100 feet of his property, 100 feet of his neighbor's and "halfway up the street."

Councilman Cloyd Taylor, who had voted against city installation of the catch basins two weeks ago, pointed out that the city is ready to pave the street at its own cost. He said the city could put in the catch basins and let the property owners pay for the street, but it would cost the property owners $800-$900 instead of $300.

Burley plans hook-up

BURLEY — This city may have the opportunity to annex another piece of property on South Overland Avenue soon.

Meanwhile the City Council instructed the city attorney to draw up a contract for sewer hook-up to The Side Door, a new business at 2735 Overland Ave. handling used furniture and antiques. The business is just outside the city limits.

Owner Larry Stephenson appeared before the council Monday and asked for the hook-up from the sewer easement at the back of his property.

Asking about annexation, Stephenson said he had no objections and had thought about it because of the high fire insurance rates outside the city.

Mayor Charles Shaddock said the city will make private contracts for service only on the signed agreement that the property owner will not oppose annexation at a later date.

Councilman Cloyd Taylor pointed out the burglary hazard too and suggested Stephenson apply for annexation. Councilman Jerry Vegwert learning that the business already is in operation, said the council should approve a contract and Stephenson could pursue annexation.

After the council ordered drafting of the contract for service, Stephenson asked, "What do I do to see about getting annexed?"

He was referred to Planning Chairman Chuck Skaggs or City Atty. William Parsons. The council held up on another request for a hook-up. It was made by Otis Orton who wanted service to a house in Highland Subdivision No. 2.

Orton had been before the council two weeks ago concerning service to several houses. The council tabled those requests while investigating but told him developers were required to install improvements before hook-ups were granted outside the city.

The council tabled Monday's request until Orton discusses the matter with the mayor.

Vegwert remarked that Orton had agreed he would develop the properties and put in water and sewer lines, streets, curbs and gutters before annexation or asking for city services.

"He's not fulfilling his obligation," Vegwert charged.

Horse run scheduled Oct. 4

JACKPOT, Nev. — Riders in the annual Diamondfield Jack cross-country horse race Oct. 4 will be on camera.

KVM television station in Seattle, Wash., has selected the event for an installment in its documentary series, Exploration Northwest. Robert L. Harney, Twin Falls, founder of the highland run, reports.

As in previous years, the race will start with a pistol shot at Crockett Meadows near Kimberly, Idaho, but will terminate differently at Jackpot.

Instead of falling short of the town on the northeast, riders will circle to the north and west, crossing the finish line directly across U.S. Highway 93 from Cactus Pete's parking lot.

This will add two or three miles to the course measured last year at 94 miles.

Named for an ex-cattle range detective falsely convicted of murdering two Utah sheepherders in Idaho, the sagebrush-scented race mounts Deadline Ridge. The ridge was the demarcation line between grazing sheep and cattle.

Compared with 27 last year, Hafney expects 50 entries. Entries will close at dark Oct. 3.

Of the $1,500 in prize money, $200 will go to the first-place winner.

Harney says Mrs. Hanna Hollander, Powell Butte, Ore., who won last year on an Arabian horse in a little over three and a half hours, has written she will be back.

Norman Barstead, Los Angeles, Calif., who won with an Arabian in 1973, will also be in.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government experts say natural gas shortages are expected to keep farm fertilizer supplies in the current 1975-76 season "slightly" below last year's level.

Industry experts estimated that if manufacturers had no gas shortage problems, ammonia production for farm fertilizer production could reach 12 or 12.5 million tons.

TF, Minico meet Borah, Boise in doubleheader

Twin Falls and Minico travel to Boise Friday night to help Borah and Boise stage a doubleheader in the Boise State Stadium.

Minico will take on the highly-touted Braves at 6:30 p.m. with Twin Falls and Borah colliding in the nightcap somewhere about 8:30 p.m. means according to Southern Idaho Conference statistics, three of the top four spring teams in the loop will be on display.

Twin Falls, in a rarity, ranks second in scoring with 93 points while Borah ranks No. 1 at 97. Boise and Minico share third with 84 points each.

Even at that Coach Denny Almquist of Twin Falls isn't sure what to expect.

"They are a heckuva ball club — really good offensively. They really come at you. They have good speed in (Oedric) Minter who's been timed in under 10 seconds in the 100-yard dash, they believe their quarterback (Scott Richardson) may be the best one they've had in years, their wide receivers are very good (headed by Derek Rudd, who also ranks in the top two in kickoff and punt returns), and they're bigger than we are."

"Still — we know we have a good football team, too, and we're going up there to win. It could be an offensive game or the defenses might take over," he says.

Twin Falls is fighting some of those "inangibles" like never having beaten Borah again having played a good game in Boise for at least four years. This bunch of seniors did beat Borah's sophomores — but that was two years ago.

"Borah has shown a liking for the forward pass this year, something the Lions usually don't do much of. It just gives the defense something more to think about. Rudd already has caught 11 passes for 283 yards and four touchdowns. The Lions also burned Boise last week by throwing short stuff to Minter and letting his speed and running ability work in an open field.

Richardson has thrown for 406 yards and hit 20 of 30 attempts for six touchdowns.

What has worked out for Twin Falls doesn't start up well with Borah because Coach Almquist's Bruins have been masters of getting points over yardage. They have accumulated only 563 yards in two games but scored the 93 points.

So dominating have the Bruins been on the scoreboard that — premier backs — Mike Allison and Ron Iik so far have carried only 16 and 11 times, respectively. Neither is liking the lack of action. But Coach Almquist assumes that will change Friday night.

"We want those two to carry the ball 15 to 20 times a game apiece but it just hasn't worked out that way," he says.

What has worked out is the passing of Jeff Osborne, first in percentage with 16 of 21 completions and fourth in yards with 207. Osborne also has been working the keep off the option well as Allison and Iik occupy a lot of the defense's thoughts.

Both Randy Barbour, six catches for 106 yards and two touchdowns, and light end Craig Nielsen, six catches for 65 yards, ran in the top five in league receptions.

Allison is a category leader statistically, his opening kickoff rumbuck against Idaho Falls showing him ahead of Rudd 146 yards to 105. Allison's 26 points are second to the 36 pointed by Boise receiver Curt Jackson. Osborne leads the league in punting with a 39.8 average.

Minico's problems are very bit as obvious. What the Spartans will be fighting is Ray Dittus — 228-pound fullback with good speed, who leads the SIC with 452 yards and a 19.0 average and also tops the total average with 511 yards and 13.8 average. He's thrown twice, both for completions.

If that's not enough, Minico will also see Jeff Moll, a three-year starter at quarterback, who has hit 20 of 30 passes for 312 yards and give touchdowns.

Many felt it was Boise's year to win the SIC — but that was before Borah bounced the Braves 41-36 last week. Which brings up the matter of whether Minico will run into a "down" Boise lean or one that is madder than heck.

For Minico statistically, only quarterback Kyle Escala shows up in the first SIC stats. He ranks third in punting with a 36.5 average.

Quarterback Jeff Osborne will lead the Twin Falls Bruins against Borah Friday night at Boise State stadium. Minico meets Borah at 6:30 p.m. in the opener of the SIC (win bill).

NCAA suspends Mississippi St.

MISSISSIPPI, Kan. (UPI) — The NCAA today suspended Mississippi State University on probation for two years for recruiting and other violations in its football program.

The probation means Mississippi State will not be able to play in post-season games after the 1975 and 1976 seasons nor appear on any NCAA-controlled television broadcasts. The University agreed to admonish three assistant football coaches and to sever ties with three other persons representing the club.

Five football scholarships for the 1976-77 academic year will be cut as another punishment.

Rules violated by the university included the provision against extra benefits for student-athletes, failure of the university to exercise proper control over persons representing its athletic interests, improper recruitment of prospective players, and erroneous certification by the head of the university last year that it was complying with NCAA regulations.

"The committee on infractions believes the penalties imposed are meaningful in that they recognize the seriousness of the violations in this case, and are directed toward institutional responsibility for the violations as well as athletic representatives involved," said Arthur R. Reynolds, chairman of the committee.

Specific violations included: — Through arrangements of a university athletic representative, a student athlete in the fall of 1974 received clothing at a discount at least twice.

— A cash payment was offered a prospective athlete by a representative of the university's athletic interest if he would sign a Southeastern Conference letter of intent.

— Numerous prospects were given cash for entertainment expenses by assistant football coaches.

In all, the NCAA detailed seven different violations against Mississippi State.

Bell, Buhl dominate SCIC statistics

To the surprise of no one, Chris Bell and the Buhl Indians dominate the first statistics of the South Central Idaho Conference coaches.

Bell leads the league in rushing with 481 yards and a 18.7 average, tops the total offense category with the same stats and is first in scoring with 24 points.

Teamate Gary Schmickpeper, another junior, seconds Bell in total offense with 386 yards and tops the league in passing with 364 yards in hitting 14 of 30 attempts for five touchdowns.

Another Indian leader is Oby Paulson who has returned six punts for 109 yards.

Cole Bernicoch, Mountain Home, has the receiving lead with eight grabs while Gooding's Jim Butler has 159 yards in seven catches. Nick Frings of Jerome is tops in kickoff returns with 116 yards.

Some of that flotski got formed at his little Friday night when highly-touted Shelley goes to Buhl. The two are considered among the best couple-three A-2 teams in the state.

It's a rematch of the notorious "field goal" game of last year when Shelley tried a field goal on the last play and a Buhl man gathered it in and ran it about 99 yards for an apparent touchdown. But an official had forgotten the ball was live and killed play with a whistle when it was evident the try was unsuccessful. The game ended in a tie.

In non-conference play, the Filer Wildcats, fresh from snapping a 12-game losing streak, will be at Glenns Ferry for a night game. Gooding, its record tarnished by Buhl last week, will be at Shoshone.

Johansson, Graham win golf meet

JACKPOT — Kjell Johansson and Ernie Graham carved out a 17-under par 127 to win the championship flight in a two-man best ball tournament Tuesday.

But, as usually happens in these all-net events, the other two flights were lower. Tom Lewis and Bill Davis, Filer, took the first flight at 121 while Mark Davidson and Vic Peterson fashioned a 126 to win the second.

The tournament also saw women's lib come into play, perhaps demanding it be called a two-person best ball. Linda Yeary and Bonnie Beemer took eighth spot in the second flight while Joanne Downs and Bev Sturt finished just out of the money.

Other places in the title higher places in the title were taken by Bill and Bill Anderson 131; Brett Schneiter and Curt Child, 132; Veri Child and Mike Bick, 134; Dale Thompson and Bus Hammet, 137.

First flight, Ralph Orgill and Keith Burkerson 132; Hank Hemingway and Bob Tucker 133; Charles Ellis and Ron Urry, 134; and Ace Hansen and Dick Lingnan, 135.

Second flight, Duke Richards and Jess Hiett, and Terry Hansen and Dale Pelhaman, 132; Ken Tucker and Harrel Grant, 133; and Joe Gattu and Ron McDowell, 147.

Giants, Lions join walkout as NFL season threatened by 'steamroller'

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer
The New England Patriots picked up further blocking support Wednesday when the New York Giants and Detroit Lions voted to join the strike against the National Football League owners. The football league owners threatened to cause a steamroller movement toward a general walkout and curtailment of Sunday's season opener.

Giants' players immediately after their decision to strike at the Pleasantville, N.Y., training camp elected to send a delegation to the NFL Management Council meeting here with the object of airing their views to club owner Wellington Mara.

"We realize the consequences of our actions and have unanimously agreed to strike," the Council's announcement that the Lions were on strike came as a surprise since it was understood Detroit players had merely voted to boycott Wednesday's practice session.

The players rejected a six-point owners' offer and the Management Council refused an eight-point proposal made by U.S. Army. Nine clubs have voted against a strike—Atlanta, Miami, Minnesota, New Orleans, Cleveland, Houston, Denver, Dallas and Baltimore.

May contacted 15 other NFL clubs to determine their stand and felt most of the teams were sympathetic with the New England cause. But the Broncos could not support any type of boycott," he explained.

Pro sport tax shelter removed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday approved changes in the tax treatment of sports team franchises which could cost professional team owners $120 million or more over the next six years.

Wednesday's action essentially requires the buyer and the seller of a team franchise to divide the purchase price in the same way for tax purposes. If one claims that half the purchase price was for player contracts, then the other must claim the same.

Suppose a partnership purchases a sports franchise for $10 million. The buyer arbitrarily says most of the purchase price was for player contracts, which can be depreciated for tax purposes. But the seller arbitrarily says most of the price was for the franchise, which gets capital gains tax treatment.

New Orleans player rep Rick Kingea emphasized that "we reserve the right to take another strike vote at any time." A Denver meeting that was to have lasted 30 minutes turned into a three-hour verbal battleground.

"It would be a terrible economic sacrifice for them to give all this up," but he said he was prepared on his part to pay "tremendous" sums if forced to abandon the season.

These shelters can combine to transform a money-losing team into a very profitable one, especially if the owners have outside incomes that put them into a high tax bracket.

While it is uncertain exactly how this would affect team owners, a rough staff estimate added up to almost $150 million over the next six years.

In the first year, suppose the net income from the team is $450,000. However, the new owners charge off $1.6 million to depreciation of their players, leaving a paper loss of $1.2 million despite the actual profit of $450,000.

Bliss-Camas rematch

features prep slate

The Bliss Bears look for a repeat of a precedent-setting and the Burley Bobcats keep their eyes on the EIC title in Friday high school grid action.

Bliss, which tipped Camas County, 14-12, in a non-conference meeting, must travel to Fairfield Friday afternoon for one that will count in the Snake River eight-man alignment.

The Bears haven't played since that win two weeks ago while Camas County blitzed Clark County, prompting Coach Louis Andersen to believe his young Musers were starting to jell.

Meanwhile, Burley, which dropped to Blackfoot where a win would put the Bobcats within a couple wins of the EIC championship. They received some good news this week, the return of defenseman Saldaña. He was injured against Minico and first reported to be out for the year.

In A-1 and A-2 action, Minico meets Boise at 6:30 p.m. with Twin Falls taking on Borah in the nightcap of an SIC doubleheader at Boise State Stadium.

Jerome travels to Wood River in an afternoon contest while Buhl entertains air-conscious Shelley in an inter-district battle of highly rated teams.

The Little Five offers only one loop game, the Valley Vikings traveling to Wendell. Both have losing records thus far.

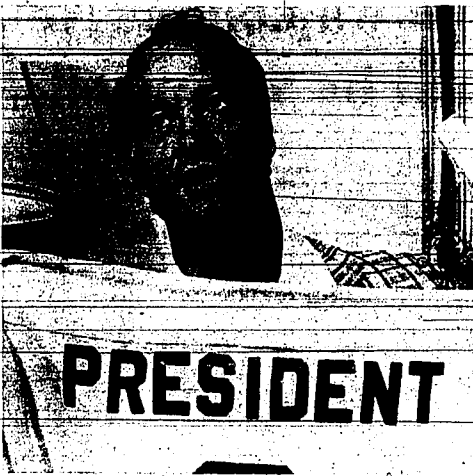

Glenns Ferry, its offense have trouble getting points in dropping two decisions, will entertain Filer, which is coming off its first win since 1972. Shoshone draws a tough one in Gooding. Shoshone will be home team.

Kimberly, the other Little Five member, will travel to Hansen for a reunion of sorts. Coach Gordon Hogan brings the Bulldogs there for the first time since leaving Hansen after a seven-year stay. Everyone's jacked for this one.

In the Magic Valley Conference, its contenders against the also-rans — at least based on recent results: Both Murtaugh and Raff River, rated the most likely to succeed — draw winless opponents. Murtaugh will be home to Declo while Raff River goes to Hagerman where Coach Ron Knowles hopes his team will score a touchdown, anytime now. Castelford will be at Oakley for an afternoon battle.

While Bliss and Camas County are battling it out at Fairfield, another key eight-man game is slated between Richfield and the Bulldogs at Rockland. Those four are expected to be the strength of the league and the two Friday winners will take a big step toward the post-season playoffs.

Leading from the inside

VETERAN Gordie Howe announced Wednesday he would play another year of hockey — his 28th as a professional and this third with the WHA's Houston Aeros. Howe, 47, named president of the Aeros after he had announced his retirement, said his love of the game and his wish to promote the WHA convinced him to return. (UPI/Telephoto)

Flag football organized

Team selection and the final sign ups for the Magic Valley YMCA's six man flag football league will take place this Saturday 10:00 a.m. at Harmon Park.

Y.M.C.A. Director, Chuck Upton, indicated that 60 boys have already signed up, but there is room for more players, particularly in the first and second grade league and in the fifth and sixth grade league. Upton also mentioned that the league is not limited to Twin Falls youths, but is open to all boys in the first through sixth grades throughout Magic Valley.

Boys interested in playing flag football should call the Y at 733-4384 or come to Harmon Park Saturday.

Auto-cross set Sunday

TWIN FALLS — An auto cross in the parking lot of the College of Southern Idaho is planned for Sunday.

A small-entry fee-for-trophies will be charged. The event is being sponsored by the Magic Valley Sports Car Club.

For more information on this and future events, phone 734-5692.

Americans heavily favored in Ryder-cup matches on-weekend

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — The "British" and "American" Ryder Cup teams stool final practice rounds today in lining up for the biennial matches, which the Americans again are heavily favored to win.

This year's renewal of the three-day competition begins Friday over the rolling Laurel Valley Golf Club course, home club for America's nonplaying captain, Arnold Palmer.

The British golfers do not appear to be a match for the team of four-hardened American professionals.

Britain's 12-man team consists of John O'Leary, Eamonn Darcy, Christy O'Connor, Tony Jacklin, Peter Oosterhuis, Brian Barnes

Maurice Bembridge, Bernard Gallacher, Brian Huggett, Tommy Horton, Norman Wood and Guy Hunt.

"Britain has not won since 1957 and has won only three of the 20 matches. It managed a 16-18 tie in non-playing captain Bernard Hunt's last appearance in 1969.

Hunt, who scored 7½ Ryder Cup points during his career, is taking the challenge stoically, in the best British tradition.

"It doesn't make any difference," said Hunt of his team's underdog role.

"We've lived with it long enough. Much of it, in fact, comes from our own writers."

The Ryder Cup matches consist of alternate shot (Scotch foursome), better ball and individual match play.

Hunt noted the American team is picked from depth.

"Once we've picked our 12 players, the next 12 wouldn't begin to compete. I imagine you could get three 12-man teams and they could all compete," he said.

"We were going very well one year when Bernard Gallacher became sick. I couldn't find another Bernard Gallacher to take his place. Say your Billy Casper went down sick. I imagine you could find quite a number of equally fine players to take his place.

"Then there's the American tour. There's the intense pressure. It tends to pull everybody up. I think we'll always be behind the Americans in this respect, but we're improving."

Hardly anyone thinks the British have improved enough to win this year, but that does not seem to faze the visitors at all.

"The British would never think of canceling the matches, which play to large galleries across the ocean, but are virtually ignored when they are played in this country.

Appeal court restores limit

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —

The nation's colleges will have an extra week to adjust to a federal appeals court decision reinstating the NCAA's 48-player limit for football travel squads.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said Wednesday visiting teams will be allowed to take up to 60 players to this weekend's games while the paper work associated with receiving the court order and notifying member schools is under way.

Byers issued the statement a short time after the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals granted the NCAA's request for suspension of a federal district judge's order setting aside the 48-player limit on the road trips. The order by U.S. District Judge Sam Pointer of Birmingham, Ala., resulted from the University of Alabama and Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant's challenge to the new rule.

The circuit court did not rule on the validity of the player limit, but merely permitted its use while the case is on appeal.

"We have not received the written court order as yet," Byers said. "Consequently, the 60 travel decision will be observed this weekend. We anticipate the 48 travel rule voted by the membership at special convention in Chicago will be effective for all games after Sept. 22."

The NCAA adopted the rule reducing the size of travel squads to 48 and limiting home squads to 60 players, as a means of cutting football expenses. But Bryant, who customarily used upward of 60 players a game, protested vigorously and turned to the court.

His reaction to the latest development was: "Naturally I'm disappointed. I do not plan to have any further comment. We'll just do the best we can."

Unless Bryant appeals to the Supreme Court and wins a reversal of the circuit court order, the 48-player limit apparently will remain in force through the current football season. The 5th Circuit denied the NCAA's companion request to give the case priority, meaning it may be next year before the court rules on the validity of the rule.

FOR RELEASE FRIDAY, SEP. 19, 1975
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This could be a day of arguments and much tension coming into the open unless you make a point to maintain self-control. The calmness and poise you display can impress others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ask questions of an associate and then you will know better what is expected of you. A private matter can be resolved now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make certain you understand the motive behind a favor a friend wants to bestow upon you. A social affair could be costly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Carry through with what a bigwig expects of you instead of wasting time foolishly. Be careful of your reputation tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) First handle an important business matter before engaging in any amusements. Show that you are conscientious.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't bring friends and advisers together or you could get into trouble. See them separately. Control your temper today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show kindness with one who offends instead of becoming vengeful. Making certain to keep promises is important today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is important that you carry through with routines, instead of going off on some tangent. Take health treatments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't jeopardize your security by spending lavishly for entertainment. Save your money instead and invest it wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't get involved in an argument between a family tie and acquaintance at this time. Streamline your social activities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may be provoked, do not argue with a co-worker who is out of sorts. Concentrate on your personal affairs.

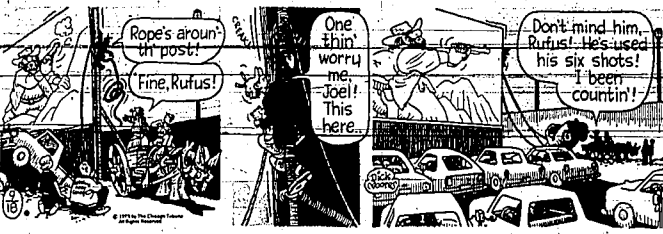

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a more practical system for operating in the days ahead. Listen carefully to what a successful friend has to suggest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try to get at the bottom of an unpleasant situation at home and establish harmony quickly. Strive for increased happiness.

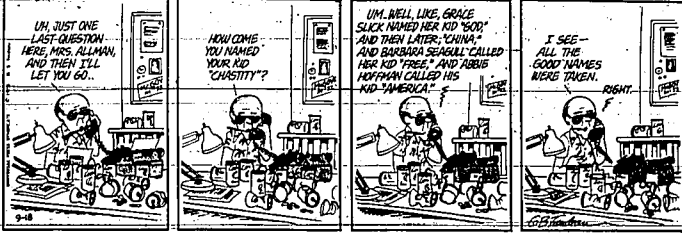

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she could be inclined to get in arguments with little accomplished, so teach to get at underlying causes of trouble. Make sure your progeny develops the right philosophy of life. Give time for sports to build up the body.

what's what

L. M. Boyd

Tall men are not more intelligent than short men, everybody knows that. But tall men generally are more successful. For instance, one study has shown that service station owners tend to be taller than the attendants who work for them. Extra height gives the taller fellow the psychological advantage of greater self-confidence, that's clear.

TO HIS LIST of reconditioned proverbs, our Language man has added Mrs. Walter R. Koch's lines: "One swallow does not make a drunk." "A Miss is as good as a Mrs." And: "A Bud in the hand is worth two in the Anheuser Busch."

LUNCH

Q. "What goes into that German sausage known as bockwurst?"
A. Veal, cream and eggs among other things. It's great. Let's break for lunch. Maybe I'll try bratwurst, instead. Its meat is flavored with ginger and coriander. Or polish sausage with its aroma of garlic and marjoram.

COUPLE MORE WORDS, each of which bears two exactly opposite meanings, are citation and banishment.

ARE YOU AWARE that 2,573 name brands of cars have been manufactured in this country since 1895? And that only a dozen have survived?

HOW PEOPLE got around to sleeping in pajamas, I do not know. Can only report they were not originally intended to be sleeping attire. They were first used in India as lounging costumes.

JOE PENNER

Consider yourself a Seasoned Citizen, if you remember the burlesque comic Joe Penner whose routine almost invariably included the query: "Want to buy a duck? Why was that line funny? Most mysterious. Yet it brought me howling every time Penner himself never understood it. In building his act, he originally asked: "Want to buy horses?" Then: "Want to buy an elephant?" And: "Want to buy a giraffe?" Nobody laughed. But the audience always roared over the "duck" line.

CLIENTS CONTINUE to ridicule the claim that no deer killed instantly by a 30-30 bullet ever heard the sound of the shot. How do I know? they ask. Did I interview the dead deer? That's cutting. The velocity of a 30-30 bullet is about 2,200 feet a second. Sound doesn't travel that fast.
