Ironworkers fit truss in first step to close arch on new Perrine span

Resource meet air hopeful

PARIS (UPI) — Representatives of the industrial, developing and oil-rich nations met today in a mood of optimism that they will be able to forget previous failures and finally launch a "dialogue" on their common problems.

The United States urged the delegates to seek a "constructive dialogue." But its chief delegate, Charles W. Robinson, warned that the West cannot help the poor nations unless the oil countries allow the Western recession to end.

The last attempt at such talks collapsed in April when a meeting called to prepare a world energy conference broke down over the proposal — backed by Algeria and opposed by the United States — that other raw materials be discussed on an equal level with oil.

The preparatory meeting was attended by 10 delegations — four from oil producing nations, three from developing countries and three from the world's richest industrial groupings.

European Common Market delegation leader Cesidio Guazzaroni said all participants at the preparatory meeting were agreed that all issues confronting the world economic situation should receive equal treatment at the international conference.

Guazzaroni remarked, however, that while problems of raw materials, economic aid and monetary issues already were being discussed in other international forums, energy was the only problem which has not yet been discussed jointly by oil consumers and producers.

Rescue teams find 23 Scouts in Alps
DOMODOSSOLA, Italy (UPI) — Italian rescue teams today found 23 missing Swiss boy scouts and their four leaders in a hut in the snow-covered Alps. They said all were in good condition. The scouts had been missing since Friday in an Alpine area lashed by unseasonable snowstorms. More than three feet of snow fell in the area over the past two days.

Taxi driver latest Spanish terror victim
MADRID (UPI) — Unidentified assailants shot and killed a taxi driver from the Basque separatist stronghold of Mondragon Sunday night, police sources said today. The victim, 35-year-old German Aguirre, was found dead in his cab near the northern city of Villareal de Alava.

Portuguese left pushes anti-army drive
LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — The radical left's campaign to destroy the unity of Portugal's armed forces gathered momentum today as three well-known pro-Communist officers openly defied the government.

Traffic jams replace Beirut gunfire
BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Blaring automobile horns from traffic jams replaced the sound of gunfire in Beirut streets today, and the national reconciliation committee met to preserve the peace that descended on Lebanon for the first time in nearly four weeks.

First closing truss set for new Perrine Bridge

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Ironworkers spent about six-and-a-half hours Sunday fitting the first closing truss into the bottom chord of the arch of the new Perrine Bridge.

The remainder of the bottom chord was scheduled for closure today and tomorrow, with the top chord due for completion by the end of the week.

The closure of the two curved segments of the arch will leave the bridge for the first time self-supporting. That will mean that workmen can start on the steeldeck of the bridge which runs along the top of the arch and forms the flooring for the concrete roadbed.

Working slowly because of cramped conditions, workmen Sunday succeeded in fitting and bolting the first closing truss in the bottom chord. A second truss on the other side of the chord and a diagonal and a lateral remain to be put in place before the bottom chord is closed.

According to project superintendent Ken Upton, once the bottom chord is in place cable tie backs supporting the arch will be relieved and the arch will be self supporting.

The top chord will be put in place by jacking the trusses to a pre-determined load and then field drilling and bolting the pieces into place.

Installation of the top chord will complete the closing of the arch.

All bolting on the arch, Upton said, is "up to snuff" right behind the current erection, with all bolts put in at full torque and inspected.

With the closure of the arch, workmen will concentrate on placing the steel for the roadbed decking.

Upton said if weather permits the decking and other steel work should be completed by Christmas.

This would leave the concrete roadbed to be poured and other finishing touches to be completed for a bridge opening by summer.

The bridge, Upton said, is "looking real good."

Storey search into 4th day

TWIN FALLS — Searchers in the Sequoia National Forest near Fresno, Calif., are mounting "an all-out effort" today to locate the source of a fading signal possibly from a downed plane holding two Magic Valley residents.

The search for the light plane piloted by Rev. Del Storey, 43, Twin Falls, with passenger Ted Deffogg, 18, Jerome, is being organized by the Fresno Civil Air Patrol.

"We're still getting a signal this morning," CAP information officer Tom Shaffer said today, but he added, "We're running short of time. They won't survive too long up there."

Shaffer said the searchers had narrowed the origin of the electronic emergency signal down to a 10 to 12 square mile area. But he said the "very wooded and very dense area" of mountainous terrain could play tricks with the signal.

"There's an all-out effort this morning before we lose the signal completely," Shaffer said. Batteries on the electronic locating transmitters are probably wearing down, he said.

Clouds and stormy weather in the area have hampered searchers. Several inches of snow fell on the mountains Sunday, according to a Fresno County sheriff's officer.

The plane was lost on radar at 8,500 feet, and snow is still being reported above 6,000 feet, Shaffer said.

Air Force C130's, equipped to detect electronic signals, have been searching the plane's route since late Friday, according to an official of the Idaho Aeronautics Department.

The plane was reported missing about 3 p.m. Friday. Storey and Deffogg had left Tulare in central California at 10 a.m. MDT Friday and were expected to land in Twin Falls at 1:10 p.m. that day.

Storey, founder of the Christian Center here, travels throughout the western states preaching for the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Chinese have deployed two intercontinental ballistic missiles in Western China capable of reaching Moscow and key industrial targets with three megaton nuclear warheads.

Aides probe fatal shot

GOODING — Gooding sheriff's officers are investigating a shooting here Sunday afternoon which claimed the life of a Gooding man.

Sheriff Earl Brown identified the victim as Donald Clare Black, 29, who died at Gooding Memorial Hospital shortly after 4 p.m. Sunday.

The sheriff said officers were called to Mr. Black's apartment at 520 Seventh Ave. W. at 2:43 p.m. and found him critically wounded in the head by a .410 slug.

Sheriff Brown said upon advice of Pros. Atty. Andrew James he was unable to say whether or not anyone had been taken into custody, but the shooting "definitely was by another person."

Mr. Black had been employed by Marvin Peterson, a contractor here, and had been doing excavation work, the sheriff said. The victim's parents, from Provo, Utah, were in Gooding today.

N-plant safety methods wrong?

BY TIMED HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Recent tests at the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory (INEL) show possible "serious errors" in federal procedures for controlling 44-nuclear power plant accidents, according to Carl Hoevar, a former scientist at the INEL.

The tests in Idaho "failed repeatedly to provide satisfactory predictions of simulated nuclear plant accidents," Hoevar claims in a technical study. The INEL tests were carried out in May and August of this year.

Hoevar worked for seven years, from 1967 to 1974, at the INEL before quitting to join the Union of Concerned Scientists (UCS) in Cambridge, Mass. He helped develop the computer prediction methods used by the federal government in licensing nuclear power plants.

The computer predictions are the basis for determining whether nuclear plants are safe to operate.

In UCS news release, Hoevar says the INEL tests "raise new doubts about the safety of each reactor plant with regard to potentially catastrophic accidents." Hoevar could not be reached today for a telephone interview.

"These new tests underscore my conviction," Hoevar says in the news release, "that the government has misrepresented the adequacy of its computer predictions of nuclear plant safety."

"A number of us who worked on the development of the computer methods repeatedly informed the government in informal reports and discussions that there are numerous technical deficiencies and uncertainties in these computer predictions and that they do not yet represent a proven basis for assuring public safety against damaging nuclear accidents," he says.

"The government, however, continues to rely on the computer predictions," he adds.

"The computer methods are the product of an inadequate AEC (Atomic Energy Commission) and industry research program," Hoevar says. "The computer predictions are based on uncertain assumptions and simplifications rather than on realistic, experimentally verified analysis. Consequently, the recent failure of the computer predictions is unsurprising."

"The loss of reactor safety research needs in a long one," he says, "should the research be carried out, we will not have a satisfactory level of confidence in reactor safety."

New TF street plan drawn

By BONNIE BAIRD JOHNSON
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A new Twin Falls street plan calls for $21 million in belt routes to speed highway traffic past the city, improvement of major streets and Intersections, and establishment of the city's first bicycle paths.

When approved in final form the plan will become part of the city and county comprehensive plan used to guide future municipal decisions.

The 47-page report was sponsored by the Twin Falls Transportation Committee, Twin Falls County, Twin Falls Highway District and the City of Twin Falls.

It was prepared by J-U-B engineers, Inc., a Twin Falls consulting firm.

Merl E. Leonard, county commission chairman and head of the Twin Falls Transportation Committee, said a public meeting to review the proposals has been scheduled tentatively for Nov. 19.

"This is a flexible plan at this stage," Leonard said.

He said roadway location is tentative and indicates only the approximate area. Final routing will be determined by right-of-way and cost considerations, he said.

The belt routes would carry through-highway traffic to both the east and west of the city, and would then combine the northbound traffic to the Interstate via the Perrine Bridge.

As proposed, U.S. Highway 93 traffic from the south would follow the existing route to Orchard Drive and could then swing eastward around the city at a point about a half mile east of Eastland Drive, cutting back to Pololine Road and north to the bridge.

U.S. 93 traffic also could swing to the west, crossing Addison Avenue about one and one-half miles west of Washington Street to Pololine Road and on to the Perrine bridge.

Blue Lakes Boulevard South and the Airport Road would also carry major traffic to the south of Twin Falls.

One of the purposes of the routing would be to draw through traffic away from Blue Lakes Boulevard North.

More than 50 improvement projects including intersection and street revisions are proposed.

Poet gains in Turk vote

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Opposition leader Bulent Ecevit, poet, politician and former leftist prime minister who became a national hero with the 1974 invasion of Cyprus, scored important gains today over Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel in a mid-term Parliamentary contest.

The gains by Ecevit's Republican People's Party and the losses by Demirel's Justice Party did not upset the parliamentary majority of Demirel's four-party coalition. But both leaders had said the outcome would affect the next fight for the premiership in the 1977 general elections.

Main issues in the election campaign were the country's sagging economy and the situation of the Turkish community in Cyprus.

Although Ecevit has been described as a hardliner on the Cyprus issue, the two leaders are not far apart, with both demanding autonomy for the Turkish, Cypriot, community. Ecevit has accused Demirel of losing the initiative in the effort to secure this autonomy.

Observers said it was too early to say whether the election results would affect Turkish relations with the United States. In recent weeks Turkey has softened its stand against the United States following congressional lifting of the arms ban.

Unofficial final tabulations showed the Republican People's Party picked up 17 seats, in end with 25 of the 54 places contested in Sunday's elections. The Justice Party ended up with 27 seats, a loss of six. Two seats went to the National Salvation party.

Election officials said the official final returns would not be announced until Tuesday.

Ecevit's party campaigned for greater state control of the economy and higher subsidies to farmers, who make up 64 per cent of the population, while Demirel's party advocated a capitalist economy.

The six-month-long election campaign sparked violence in several parts of the country, with 18 persons killed and over 500 injured.

Ecevit's party not only hoped that a clear vote in its favor would be an indicator for the 1977 elections, but speculated it would also create dissension among Demirel's coalition partners—the Salvation Party, the Republican Reliance Party, which was not involved in Sunday's ballot, and the Nationalistic Movement Party.

"If the government parties lose ground in the by-elections, it is definite that the latent power struggle among them will come out in the open as a new government crisis," said Orhan Birgit, information minister in Ecevit's cabinet which stepped down in September last year.

As the nation was awaiting the election results, bomb blasts shattered windows at three American buildings in Ankara early today — at the U.S. officers club, the Boeing Co. building and the offices of the organization that enters for U.S. army personnel in Turkey. No casualties were reported.

Venezuela proposes payments

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — The Venezuelan government today began handling 29 U.S. and other foreign oil companies compensation offers for the nationalization of their properties here Jan. 1.

The over-all compensation, according to government reports, will come to nearly $1 billion, representing the unamortized part of the companies' 35 billion investments in the 24 million barrel per day industry.

Some of the larger payments will come in the form of government bonds that are recoverable over a 10-year period while other, smaller amounts may be paid in cash, according to official sources.

The companies will have 15 days in which to accept or reject the government offers. The allegations for non-compliance is legal action before the Venezuelan Supreme Court.

"I have the impression that the companies will accept our offers," Mines Minister Valentin Hernandez said last week upon announcing that the offers would be made by Oct. 13.

One company, Occidental Petroleum Corp., will not be among the firms receiving offers, President Carlos Andres Perez suspended negotiations and any compensation payments for Los Angeles-based firm following press reports that the company had bribed Venezuelan officials.

Refinery blazes

A NINE ALARM fire at the Atlantic-Richfield refinery in Philadelphia raged out of control most of the night and continued to burn today. Mr. Frank Rizzo, 51, suffered a broken leg when he was knocked down when a group of firemen and refinery officials stampeded to escape an explosion. Origin of the fire was not known. (UPI)

Arkansas bridges worst

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The General Accounting Office has counted 105 structurally deficient bridges and another 74 that are functionally obsolete on the 20-year old Interstate highway system.

Arkansas has more than half of the structurally deficient bridges, those unable to safely carry the weight they were originally designed to bear.

The congressional investigating agency said the functionally obsolete bridges are those that are too narrow, have inadequate overhead clearances or are poorly aligned with the roadway. Most are in Illinois, New Mexico, Texas, Kentucky, Virginia and Arkansas.

Rep. Edward L. Koch, D-N.Y., asked for the study to support his campaign to rescind the increased truck weight limits allowed by Congress last year.

An earlier GAO report said that of the 230,000 bridges on federal-aid highways — including the Interstate — 7,000 were structurally unsound and 25,000 were functionally obsolete.

An amendment allowing higher truck weights was added last year to a highway construction bill. The measure raised maximum truck weight limits on interstates from 73,200 pounds to 80,000 pounds.

The GAO report listed the number of structurally deficient in each state as follows: Arkansas 67, Oklahoma 15, Mississippi 7, Idaho 3, Texas 2, and one each in California, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, New Mexico, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia and Wyoming.

There was no explanation in the GAO report for the high number in Arkansas.

The report listed the number of functionally obsolete bridges in each state as follows: Illinois 130, New Mexico 112, Texas 76, Louisiana 62, Virginia 51,

Arkansas 53, Nevada 30, South Carolina 22, North Carolina 20, Kentucky 14, Washington 14, South Dakota 13, New Hampshire 12, and several others with 10 or less.

Chill dominates Western mountains

By United Press International

Winter weather spread through the central Rockies today, but clear skies and warm temperatures dominated most of the nation.

A storm system moving through the central Rockies resulted in a winter storm watch for the Colorado mountains for today and tonight.

Rain mixed with snow fell at higher elevations early today and was expected to spread over much of Colorado.

Showers and a few thunderstorms also continued from Utah into Montana and Wyoming with some snow at the higher elevations. Showers rained in Oregon and northern California Sunday night.

Snow fell today at both West Yellowstone, Mont., and Rock Springs, Wyo.

There was considerable cloudiness from the Pacific Coast states through the central and northern Rockies into the northern Plains.

Bul skies were clear and temperatures warm from the southern and central Plains through the Mississippi Valley.

It also was clear through the Ohio Valley and central and south Atlantic Coast states, and most of the Gulf Coast states also were clear except for early morning fog.

A travelers advisory was issued over the southeast Louisiana due to extensive areas of heavy fog.

A few thundershowers lingered in northern Michigan and along the southern New England coast, but most of the rain ended in the Northeast. A few showers also lingered in southern Florida and near the Louisiana coast.

Question...

Is my widowed mother eligible for Social Security disability benefits even though she is not yet 60 years old, and I am willing to support her?

Answer...

Your ability and willingness to support your mother have no bearing upon her entitlement to a widow's disability benefit. She is eligible if:

1. Your father was insured under Social Security.
2. She is disabled as defined by Social Security regulations.
3. She is over age 50, and became disabled within 7 years of your father's death; or is she became disabled while receiving benefits as a mother, or within 7 years thereafter.

Minico indigent payments shatter budget this year

BY SHANE O'NEILL
Times-News Writers

RUPERT — A late spring gets partial blame for the enormous rise in subsistence payments to indigents in Mindoka County this year.

Mindoka apparently is the only south Idaho county with an increase. Other counties in the Magic Valley report payments were not significantly affected.

In Mindoka, subsistence payments this year have shattered the budget for that item. County Commissioner Elmer Ketterling recently predicted they would triple those of a year ago.

A conservative estimate is that the payments to indigents will double a budget that was 25 per cent higher than a year ago. Through August they have more than doubled the $4,076 paid out a year ago.

Mindoka County is believed to have the greatest number of migrant farm workers in the valley, although there can be no accurate count of those numbers. Lyle Barton, chairman of the county commissioners, believes they caused a major part of the increase.

Mindoka County paid out $8,633 in the first eight months of 1975 for subsistence. That was more than 213 per cent of the amount for the entire year in 1974.

The budget for 1974 subsistence was $4,000; actual payments were $4,076. This year's budget was $5,000.

County Clerk August Bethke estimated that costs for 1975 would be $10,000, but he admitted the county might be "hit heavily in December."

"It won't be 300 per cent," he said, but his estimate would mean only $1,307 in payments during the last four months of the year.

"I think we have an obligation to take care of the poor," said Bethke. "I don't think anyone in the United States should go hungry."

Bethke, who has the authority to give up to $50 to an individual for subsistence, said the highest is $25 and they run from $10 to $25.

"We're the bottom of the barrel," he said, adding that the payments are made only to those who do not qualify for food stamps, social security, public assistance, migrant council and other sources of help.

"How many farmers turn down their ASC payments?" he asked. "I'm a firm believer in helping the poor, but being prudent about how you do it."

Mindoka County once used the food commodities program, which was eliminated over a year ago by federal mandate for the food stamp program. Bethke said he has kept potatoes, beans and dry milk and even peanut butter, to give to people who seek food.

Cassia GOP chief resigns

BURLEY — The chairman of Republicans in Cassia County has resigned.

Ernest R. Blauer, elected only three weeks ago, confirmed Sunday he had resigned.

Several candidates now are being considered to replace him.

Blauer cited other community commitments as reason for his resignation.

"It was a matter of making a choice," Blauer said. "I just felt I was assigning myself to carry too heavy a load and I had so many other public responsibilities."

Blauer heads the local bicentennial committee for the LDS Church and is on the boards of directors for the Idaho Youth Ranch and the Burley Community Council Association.

He was elected county chairman of the GOP late last month to replace Dr. Charles Terhune, who served for two years. Terhune resigned because he plans to spend about half of each year outside the state.

Blauer said he had discussed the position with several people prior to his election, but did not go into the full responsibilities of the position. After his election, he decided it would divide his attentions too much.

"We're awfully sorry Ernie couldn't take it," Dr. Terhune said.

Terhune, who plans to leave Wednesday or Thursday for the winter in Arizona, said several candidates are being considered.

Terhune said another meeting of precinct committee chairmen will be called to select a new chairman. If that is not done within 30-60 days, he said, one would be appointed by the chairman of the Fifth district.

But Terhune was certain this would not happen, since some already had indicated they would accept the position.

Public awakens to decline of Idaho deer herds

By DONALD P. BRESSETTE SR. (Special to the Times-News) (Editor's note: The following analytical article was prepared by Donald P. Bressette Sr., an outdoor writer and columnist who lives in Twin Falls. His work has been published in several Idaho newspapers and in Western Outdoors Magazine.)

At long last, the general public is finally accepting the fact that Idaho's deer and elk herds are declining at an alarming rate. I have been trying to get the public for five or six years now to realize this, but it's like shouting into a raging storm trying to get people to listen and face reality, especially the Idaho Fish and Game Department. Now it seems every time one picks up a paper there is an article about the drastic decline in Blaine County's or Idaho's deer and elk herds, and as I expected, the fish and game department is trying to pass the buck.

preposterous," a "subtle, cunning ploy" which has the virtue, at least, of being above board and not as Nixon played it, "under the table."

Gem campus question: To drink or not?

Alumni Center. John Orwick, a sometimes student at Idaho the past 11 years, slipped into the press party with a friend in the student press, caged a drink and called the law. Unfortunately, for Orwick, the timing was bad. Somebody caught on and put away the booze and the guests — some of them unaware of the imminent police raid — left the party for dinner.

By RICHARD CHARNOCK. BOISE (UPI) — To drink or not to drink? That is the question at the state's college and university campuses. And it is one that probably will require legislation to resolve.

Alford feels the political climate is such that the only way to resolve the problem is through a lawsuit. He feels both the board and the legislature are hamstrung by practical politics. It may be that he is correct. The two members from eastern Idaho, for instance — Clint Hoopes of Rexburg and Dr. Leno Seppi of Lava Hot Springs — wouldn't dare vote for drinking even if they did approve the idea personally.

There are 27 states and provinces with larger deer herds than Idaho. Fifteen are eastern states. They are: Pennsylvania with 700,000; Michigan 650,000; Wisconsin 550,000; Alabama 500,000; North Carolina 500,000; Florida 475,000; Minnesota 450,000; Mississippi 400,000; Virginia 303,500; Arkansas 300,000; Louisiana 300,000; New York 300,000; South Carolina 250,000; West Virginia 165,000; and Georgia with a herd of 160,000.

It is interesting to note, however, that sponsors of the party hid the evidence when they learned the police were called.

Time for 'silent' to speak

Editor, Times-News:
I am sending the following letter to my senators and congressmen:
"I am writing this letter in support of President Ford's proposed tax and federal expenditure reduction. I believe that government involvement in the private lives of American citizens has grown far out of proportion, and I feel, very strongly, that the "silent" majority of Americans today feel this way. If taxes and expenditures are not curtailed, eventually the motivation to work will be... especially so will need additional federal programs: the proposed National Health Insurance would be one giant step in the wrong direction. Instead, I would like to see present programs strictly evaluated, then reduced or eliminated wherever practicable.

"I believe the Ford Administration has developed a workable plan, and I hope you, as my representative, will support it fully."
If I, and people who feel as I do, truly represent the "silent" majority, we have no one to blame but ourselves if we do not speak up and ask our representatives to act in our behalf.

Report means little to him

Editor, Times-News:
I try to keep up with the times and, hence, the government market report. I must say that the government market reports mean nothing to me. The only meaningful thing is the price I pay when I go to my grocery store.

I observed that we made a brief survey lately about the price of milk and we were apparently confused about it. Milk, it says here, is worth a low of 88 cents per half gallon in Boise up to a high of 88 cents in Fruitland. It has been some time since I paid less than 94 cents.

Last winter, when sugar went up to $3.59 for a five pound package, I observed that all sugar products went up accordingly — and instantly. Such as honey, syrup, cocoa-cola, jams, jellies and all like that there.

Now that I pay somewhat less than half for five pounds of sugar, I have observed that sugar products did not go down accordingly or instantly. How come?

All the fault cannot be laid to the food processing companies who never paid their employees a living wage and still don't. How come?

Answer obvious

Editor, Times-News:
The controversy concerning the "middle Snake River" will have to be resolved by each individual himself. The question is short. The answer is short, simple and obvious.

Shall the middle section remain in the "wild river" classification or shall dams producing pollution-free energy be permitted?

Electrical energy produced by said dams could be incorporated into the "northwest power pool" — thereby furnishing energy for the production of food and fiber, thereby furnishing a taxable base for the benefit of the state of Idaho and the nation along with mankind in general.

The answer is short. "Yes."

TF conservation group supports Greenley

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Fish and Wildlife Conservation Corporation has come out in support of Joe Greenley, director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department. A petition now being circulated seeking Greenley's dismissal.

Les Hazen, president of the Twin Falls Fish and Wildlife Conservation organization — which has about 700 members in the Magic Valley — said today, "We believe the people circulating this petition to be uninformed and take exception to their claims. The following claims were taken as they appeared in the Times-News article: The information in the answers is published and public information available to anyone willing to take the time to look it up."

Charge: Dedicating time to political endeavors and public relations.
Answer: The public relations budget for 1975-76 is 3-6 percent of total budget and this includes the printing of all licenses, regulations and brochures. They have no paid lobbyists. They are required to make recommendations and submit budgets and other pertinent information to the legislators.

Charge: Everything is for the out-of-stater and not for the in-stater.

Answer: License increases to the out-of-state sportsman for 1975 was $50 for license plus $100 for elk tag plus $25 for deer tags and they have to pay extra for fishing. This compares to the rates before the increase of $15 for both big game licenses and fishing licenses, plus $5 for both the elk and deer tag. Concerning upland birds, the bag and possession limit was reduced to two cocks only, daily, bag and possession for the first six days to discourage the out-of-state hunter.

Charge: Hunting and fishing season usually opens in the middle of the week.
Answer: Greenley personally supported the weekend opening. The commission overruled his objections. Their argument was to reduce hunting pressure on the opening day. This charge was against Greenley's recommendation. However, the big game opening date is the only one of all the opening dates that opens in the middle of the week. Fishing, grouse, pheasant and waterfowl all open on weekends.

Charge: Greenley should be held accountable for all fish and game poaches.

Answer: The fish and game commission sets the regulations. The department makes the recommendations. Actual policy is part commission and part the director.
Charge: Department has failed to adequately protect our fish and wildlife resources and has concentrated its efforts on office planning and sacrificed the supervision in the field. Poachers abound without sufficient policing to make anyone fearful of being apprehended.
Answer: Greenley has placed a regional supervisor in each county of the state to more closely supervise the entire department and so that the public could communicate at a local level.

The conservation officer must report time spent in each category of his job. The following is an accounting of all Idaho conservation officers: 65 to 75 percent in law enforcement; 10 percent in management; 10 percent in public relations, and five percent in administration.

Charge: Feeding and caring for standard big game animals has been neglected.
Answer: The department has been feeding on the South

For of the Boise River for the five years. Last year the program was expanded. A new feeding program was initiated last year for the Black Pine — Sublett herd. Interstate 80 fences were lowered for migration purposes. Two drift fences are now under construction to help the Black Pine — Sublett herd migrate. In the planning stage are Interstate 80 overpass and underpass routes for the same herd.

Also, they have a feeding program on Warm Springs Creek of Blaine County. There in a planned increase in acquisition of winter range. There is now $475,000 dedicated funds for land acquisition and rehabilitation for 1975.) Closer supervision of wintering animals including closures of winter sports in some big game wintering areas.

Charge: Over-grazing of mountain areas has resulted in the lack of habitat.
Answer: This is a forest service and Bureau of Land Management responsibility. The department of fish and game can only make recommendations to them.

Charge: Stocking and caring for fish in our rivers and streams has been neglected.

Answer: The stream protection program has been aggressively pursued since Greenley came to Idaho. The department feels it is not nearly a strong enough law in its present form.

The department planted 1,638,674 pounds of fish in 1971. This was the first year Greenley was director. These fish were the result of Woodruff's last budget. The following were planted since Greenley's term began: 1972 over 2 million pounds; 1973, 1,930,377, and 1974, 1,767,406. Every year has shown an increase in plantings over 1971.

In 1974 the price of fish food doubled. The budget is set a year in advance so this unforeseen increase in costs could not be planned for consequently the pounds of fish planted were down from the original plan. However, the total number of fish planted was greater. The fish were planted while smaller to conserve food.

Charge: Idaho residents have been cut off from hunting in southern Idaho by lack of game and cutbacks on resident permits.
Answer: These recommendations were by the local sportsmen. Three severe winters in southeastern Idaho have taken the toll of animals. The present measures are to protect and preserve this reduced herd.

Charge: Fish and Game licenses and permit revenues have been squandered, on administrative expense when they should be directed to more field supervision, policing and caring for wildlife.

Answer: There are only two areas of expense that take less money than administrative expenditures: Information and education at $426,000 and environmental services at $117,000. The administrative budget for 1975-76 is $1,118,100 or 12 percent of the budget.

Charge: William Gardianis stated, "I understand he was fired from his job (as fish and game director) in Nevada. I feel that if he couldn't do his job there then he can't do it here either."

Answer: Completely erroneous. Greenley was not fired from his job in Nevada. Greenley was not the director of the department of fish and game. He was big game supervisor for that state. Greenley came to Idaho with very high recommendations and was chosen from a large number of well qualified applicants.

Set produces exasperation

Editor, Times-News:
I only want to say one thing about TV reception in the Magic Valley.

Between the local channel going off the air repeatedly and not one for AM America and at other times and cable vision channels going snowy repeatedly, you better believe one thing, I have taken more abuse than I ever began to take from my children from the TV.

Soon as the TV set is broke down, no repairs, why repair TV for what? Just exasperation instead of entertainment.

Lousy TV and all the money we spend for it and all the quack ads we are forced to watch. Lousy TV.

Procedure set for selection

Editor, Times-News:

On Oct. 8, the executive and personnel committees of the South Central Community Action Agency met for the purpose of establishing procedures and time lines to be used in the selection of an executive director. In establishing this procedure, the Board decision of Sept. 26, to re-evaluate all original applicants for the position, was reaffirmed.

The procedures and time lines are as follows:

Oct. 8 — Review goals of the agency.
Oct. 15 — Establish selection criteria (task list for executive director); establish reference criteria and draft letter of reference requests.
Oct. 21 — Screen applications; identify no less than five and no more than ten candidates to be given preliminary interviews.

Oct. 23 — Continue same activity, if necessary.

Oct. 27 — Deadline for clerical staff to mail reference letters.

Nov. 5 — Preliminary interview of five to ten candidates; identify three to five candidates to be given final interview.

Nov. 14 — Interview final candidates and make final selection.

To delay, conjecture and misquoting, the above letter is submitted by the Executive and Personnel Committees of the South Central Community Action Agency Board of Directors.

Connally sees Ford-Reagan 'horse race' in 1976

By United Press International
Former Treasury Secretary John Connally says he expects a "horse race" between President Ford and Ronald Reagan for the GOP presidential nomination next year, and that Reagan might win the New Hampshire primary.

He said until 10 days ago he thought Reagan would not challenge the President. "I have changed my mind," Connally said Sunday. "I think it's going to be a horse race."

He said Reagan, the former governor of California, might take the New Hampshire "other primaries" and he does, it might be more than a horse race.

Connally, who switched from the Democratic Party to the GOP during the Nixon administration, also said Ford's endorsement trips were designed to keep Reagan out of the running but instead had the opposite effect.

Connally, former Democratic governor of Texas, appeared on CBS Face the Nation.

Connally, however, did not say whom he supports for president, but said Ford may lack ability to lead the nation. Connally said Ford "should be much better, much more forceful, I think he ought to be discussing a great many issues that he's not."

For example, he said, Ford personally should have made the speech in which United Nations Ambassador Daniel Moynihan referred to Ugandan President Idi Amin as a "racist murderer."

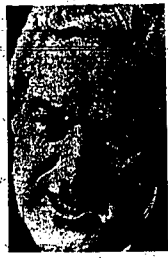

Among Democratic presidential candidates, endorsements from other politicians used to be a main ingredient of any campaign.

But though their value diminished after Edmund Muskie locked up most available endorsements in 1971 only to prove a failure in the 1972 primaries, endorsements are back again.

Sen. Birch Bayh, President Robert Abrams Sunday endorsed Sen. Birch Bayh, Abrams, one of the early supporters of Sen. George McGovern in 1972, said Bayh is "both strong on the issues and strong at the polls." His endorsement comes so early, Abrams said, because "the greatest threat to a Democratic victory in 1976 is for liberals to permit themselves to be splintered among many candidates."

John H. Garbrith, Harvard professor and former ambassador to India, Sunday endorsed Rep. Morris K. Udall. He said the Arizona Democrat is a "calm, solid liberal with a sense of humor."

Of the announced candidates he views the first to oppose the Vietnam war. His electability, no small detail for all who have developed an aversion for losing causes, has been amply established in the conservative state of Arizona.

JOHN CONNALLY... holder Ford needed

Egyptian military aid plans not set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is not ready to make specific commitments of military aid to Egypt, says Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

He said President Ford, when he meets with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Washington later this month, will discuss military aid only in "general terms."

"We don't know whether in fact he (Sadat) will have a specific shopping list or will ask for it in general," Kissinger said Sunday.

He was interviewed on NBC's "Meat the Press." The secretary was asked what he or Ford would say if Sadat, who has broken his relationship with the Soviet Union, asks for American — The Democratic party's executive committee Sunday approved new rules for the national-convention—key committees. Likely to be approved by the full national committee meeting in Washington this week, the rules require 25 per cent backing to bring minority reports from the platform, credentials and rules committees to the convention floor. In 1972, only 10 per cent of the 153-member committees could force an issue to the convention floor for public airing.

Republican National Committee Chairman Mary Louise Smith said Saturday there needs to be a "basic overhaul" of government.

Speaking in Indianapolis, she said: "Government is going in the wrong direction. It is falling to save the problems that trouble America. America can no longer afford to pile new layers of bureaucracy on the existing patchwork. We need a basic overhaul if we are to once again make our government work."

Favors tax cut

CHAIRMAN William Proxmire, D-Wis., of the Senate Banking Committee, said Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., rights President Ford's tax cut and spending bill proposal on ABC television Sunday. Proxmire said he favors the move but they must come at the same time. (UPI)

Ford's tax plan draws new blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman George Mahon of the House Appropriations Committee says President Ford's tax and spending plan could take the nation "down the road of New York."

The Texas Democrat was asked about President Ford's proposal to enact permanent tax reductions totaling $28 billion and later on cut spending by $20 billion during an interview on ABC's Issues and Answers television panel program. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., was also on the program.

"I think that would erode the tax base — the President's plan," Mahon said. "I don't think it is a plan that we can adopt as a permanent situation. If we want to go down the road of New York and reduce our revenues, that is one thing."

Mahon said a tax reduction should not be permanent and not as large as $28 billion "and if you are going to couple it with the tax cut in January and come along and apply the cut in spending about the time of the election next October."

Proxmire said both taxes and spending should be cut but he said he agreed with Mahon that the "tax cut should be temporary, not permanent, at least until Oct. 1, 1976."

Proxmire said the President would "give the economy a drop during the presidential election year and let it go down the drain right afterward."

Mahon said he saw no "meaningful way of tying these two together."

"There is no practical way that I see to meet the President's proposal. It is a very attractive proposal that you cut taxes at January 1 and nine months thereafter, just before the election, you place in operation a $28 billion spending cut."

Mahon said he wanted to see the President's budget, noting that for years his committee "always cut the President's budget."

CIA chief target of 'spy' operation

WASHINGTON — A clandestine operation, worthy of a spy novel, is under way here to get rid of CIA director William E. Colby before he blows too much more about the dirty tricks of his agency and other high-level government officials.

Last Tuesday, Helen Thomas, respected White House correspondent of United Press International, reported that President Ford and Sen. of State Henry A. Kissinger wanted former Treasury Secretary George Shultz to replace Colby as head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The story did not say where the information came from, but in the process of checking it the Chicago Sun-Times learned that the report was being put out by "sources close to Kissinger."

But the effect of the report was to undermine Colby's position and to push him further along the road to resignation. Ford evidently had planned to retain Colby for a decent interval after his forthcoming reorganization of the intelligence apparatus.

"I think it would be a disservice to the country and Bill (Colby)," a key White House official said. "To have it thought that the only problem we have in the intelligence field can be solved by the appointment of a new director."

But the official conceded that Colby probably would be replaced "at any future date by a person of some command and authority."

Other officials of command and stature clearly would like the date to be in the very near future. Colby has been sharply criticized privately by Kissinger and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller for opening a Pandora's Box in testifying so candidly about the CIA's misdeeds.

In their view, the time has long since passed when the CIA should have reverted to its traditional policy of keeping Congress and the public in the dark about its secret operations. With each new disclosure more and more officials, past and present, dead and alive, become tainted by the CIA scandal.

For the traditionalists, the model of proper behavior is Colby's predecessor, Richard M. Helms, now ambassador to Iran. He managed to disarm Congress with a broad smile, a few spy stories, and much circumlocution.

Wallace in Europe

LONDON (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama opened his first European tour today with a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Elliot Richardson — a session involving two men on opposite sides in the 1976 presidential campaign.

Wallace arrived after midnight to kick off a 13-day visit aimed at broadening his appeal as a Democratic candidate. Richardson, a Republican, is expected to make a leave of absence to campaign for President Ford.

As photographers clicked away in the opening minutes of their meeting, the two men broke the ice with talk of the World Series and of London.

"It's a fine city," said Wallace.

"Great place to live," Richardson replied.

Cult member writes folks

Space crews ready for visit

Guerrilla group sought

By United Press International
A young artist who reported seeing an unidentified flying object last summer has written home from Illinois that he is with the followers of a mysterious couple who promise a higher form of life through metamorphosis and a ride on a UFO.

The six-page handwritten letter from Neil Brown, 22, Eugene, Ore., to his father, Dale Brown, Lebanon, Ore., was postmarked In-Walnut, Ill., Oct. 7 — 12 days later than any other communication known to have been received from followers of "The Two."

Brown said his son had long had an interest in such things as "the Chinese, I Ching, astrology and reincarnation and had reported seeing a UFO Aug. 1.

"That led him to think he was called to the movement outlined by the couple," Brown said.

With the addition of three persons to the list during the weekend, the number of persons from Oregon believed to have gone as followers of the couple rose to 23.

The elder Brown said the letter was in his son's handwriting.
"It sounds like him," Brown said in telephone interview. "I know it's him but the ideas he's trying to put across sound like somebody's got to him and he's swallowed it hook, line and sinker."

The son wrote, "I am very safe and am not in any danger anything to break the law. We do not break laws." He also said, "This is my thing. I am happy to be part of it."

He referred to "a lot of people" in the group but did not state a number.
Brown said his son told him members of the group were not supposed to have two-way contact with outsiders and asked his father not to give any information about the group. Brown said, however, he felt "the more people know the fewer will be taken in by this foolishness."

Brown said, however, he does not fear for his son's safety since receiving the letter.

"It appears they are still traveling. I got the idea these prisons were not with them," the elder Brown said. "It sounds as if they were preparing to find the couple."

The mysterious couple appeared at a meeting in Walpoor, Ore., Sept. 14 and told the 200 persons who attended they must give up all their possessions and children if they wished to join a program training them for metamorphosis to a higher form of life.

Chicago Daily News
CHICAGO — The Apollo-Soyuz space mission crews of the U.S. and the Soviet Union make another belated link-up in Chicago Tuesday, for the first visit to an American city since their joint space mission last July.

The crews — three American astronauts and two Soviet cosmonauts — will be paraded down State Street, the city's "route of heroes," just before noon.

Col. Jack Reilly, the mayor's special events director, who has staged parades for all the nation's astronaut crews in the wake of their space flights, said the parade will step off with aerial bombs bursting overhead. The Chicago fireboats will give their famous colored water salute in the background.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina
Troops searched the lush cattle-grazing lands of northern Argentina today for a guerrilla group that raked a police checkpoint outside the city of Santa Fe.

The soldiers, aided by armored cars and reconnaissance planes, hunted across the pampas grasslands.

Puff of 'pot' convinces cult convert to 'split'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The cult which promises a higher form of life to members who climb aboard a UFO has bored one member in search of sex, and tantalized a new follower who thinks its philosophy jibes with the Bible.

Franky Coleman, 25, said Sunday that after two weeks with the Human Individual Metamorphosis in Oregon, a puff of pot convinced him that the movement was not for him.

"Nobody was having sex and everybody was talking about it," he complained.

But Michael Carrier, 26, San Francisco, said he and his friend, Michael Puffer, 25, are ready to go even though they have yet to make contact with the UFO cult.

Carrier said his enthusiasm for HIM stemmed from its congruity with "every important metaphysical book" he has read, especially those by Edgar Cayce, Leisang Rampa and Jane Roberts.

Carrier said his readings have convinced him that the Bible's Book of Revelations in allegorical form tells of extraterrestrial beings who came to earth 2,000 years ago and now promise to return.

Coleman, perhaps the first member of HIM to tell his story to the public, told the San Francisco Chronicle that they (the mag and woman leaders — or The Two, as they are known to followers) may be from outer space. "I don't know."

"Or they could be crazy."

"Or they could know exactly what they're doing."

He explained: "My head has really been spinning since I left. They seared us into a lot of things by emphasizing that if we 'understand' and decide to leave (the movement), we'll never be allowed another chance..."

He said that followers are told they must believe 100 per cent in The Two's capacities to die and then resurrect. After the promised event... full... believers... supposedly... will be rewarded by a UFO dispatched to carry them to a higher plane of existence.

Coleman said this translated into a dull routine at HIM retreats in Oregon, which came down to cooking, eating, meditating, and trying to recruit new converts.

Coleman said he came out of the spell of The Two when somebody smuggled some marijuana into the group's camp in Oregon. HIM officially forbids drugs and other earthly pleasures.

He said the marijuana "calmed me" and convinced him that the trip was not for him. He said he then just walked away from the camp.

He said contacts with The Two were restricted to twice-a-day camp meetings.

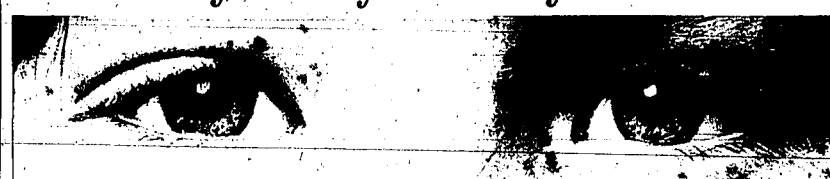

He said they "lived in a tent like every body else. At times, I thought they were quite saintly."

He said he gave the $40 he brought with him to Oregon to the group, and that he thought others might have given more.

Coleman said HIM members were ordered to "keep a steady working communication with members of the next level who are fathering you through the process. I tried all this, but I did not find any communications with the higher beings."

FBI joins robbery case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — FBI agents have joined the investigation of a bizarre case in which a small-town banker — believing he was wearing a deadly bombpack — turned over a substantial amount of cash to two men who held his wife hostage.

Agents and Humboldt

County Sheriff's deputies Sunday said they had "no idea" who pulled off Saturday's robbery. The agents said they stepped into the case because there was an apparent violation of the Hobbs Act prohibiting interference with interstate commerce.

Officers said they were still trying to determine the amount of cash taken. They also said the bombpack turned out to be harmless.

Agreement defects eyed

CHICAGO (UPI) — Former Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban says his nation's Sinai agreement with Egypt "will only hold up safely if other agreements follow."

Eban, in Chicago to address some 2,500 persons attending the $100-a-plate annual dinner of the Weizmann Institute of Science last night, said he voted for the pact "with a lucid understanding of its defects and shortcomings."

Oswald: "Holmes and Watson took three diamond tricks and then Watson had to lead a club. Betty played for the club honors to be divided and wrapped up the rubber."

Jim: "Had Holmes opened a diamond there would have been no end play and no way to make the contract."

Ask the Jacobsys

A Missouri reader wants to know if it is true that Bryant McCampbell of St. Louis invented the 4-3-2-1-point count.

The answer is that back in 1915 McCampbell wrote his friend Milton Work suggesting that for notrump valuation he should count an ace as 4, a king as 3, a queen as 2 and a jack as one point. Work adopted this and for many years it was called the Work count. Goren extended it to suit bidding by adding one point for each doubleton, 2 for each singleton and 3 for each void. Today, it is called either the point count or the Goren count.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobsys" — one of this newspaper. The Jacobsys will answer individual questions that for notrump valuation he should count an ace as 4, a king as 3, a queen as 2 and a jack as one point. Work adopted this and for many years it was called the Work count. Goren extended it to suit bidding by adding one point for each doubleton, 2 for each singleton and 3 for each void. Today, it is called either the point count or the Goren count.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Sherlock Holmes — Bridge Detective" was so successful that Frank Thomas has produced a sequel called "The Return of Sherlock Holmes — Bridge Detective."

Jim: "The hands are interesting and almost all show the great detective at his best. However, even Sherlock is not perfect and today we see him making a rare slip."

Oswald: "Sherlock deduced from the bidding that a trump lead would be the best answer individual questions defense. It turned out not to be stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. in her refrigerator. She never wore the corsage once during the whole day!

Exactly five days later, my sister-in-law (her daughter) showed up at a high school graduation wearing the same corsage we had given my mother-in-law! I was so angry and hurt I nearly cried. It wouldn't have bothered me at all to have seen my sister-in-law wearing the corsage if my mother-in-law had worn it for only an hour.

I would like your opinion of this.

HURTIN UTAH

DEAR HURT: If this is your biggest problem, dear, you are indeed a very lucky lady. Some women (including myself) love flowers but do not enjoy wearing them. In any case, I think you have blown up a few blooms way out of proportion. Please forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I'm nobody's fool, but this is going to sound like a foolish letter.

I'm 31, have two sons and have been divorced twice. I am a beautiful woman with a home in the country and many friends, and everybody thinks I've got the world by the tail.

They should only know how miserable I am. I recently met a man who seems interested in me, but he's very bashful. He stops by, sets and plays with my boys, but he never stays long.

He's married but says he wishes he weren't. No children. He's a big, rugged cowboy and looks like George Montgomery — Dinah Shore's ex-husband.

Abby, I've dated lots of men in my life, but this is the only one I really want.

I have never messed with a married man and vowed I wouldn't, but he isn't happy, there are no children involved and I truly think he cares for me.

Nobody's fool

Should I go after him, throw my body at him, or forget it and keep daydreaming? I've never felt like this about a man with whom I've never even been intimate.

What I want from you is a yes or "go-ahead sign" to clear my conscience. I really want this man.

NAMELESS IN TEXAS

DEAR NAMELESS: If he wanted you as much as you want him, he'd do something about it. He's married and strictly off limits. With all you have going for you, you should be able to rope a nice single man.

DEAR ABBY: I am a fisherman by trade and own a medium-sized fishing boat. The engine of my boat burned out two days before my daughter's graduation from high school, so I didn't attend her graduation because I had to work on the boat.

She is mad at me now and said she hopes my boat burns, the engine burns and the whole thing sinks!

I said since she feels that way, I am not going to pay her college tuition. She says if I don't pay her tuition, she will still come for the rest of her life and I will have to support her.

What do you suggest I do?

J. IN GLOUCESTER, MASS.

DEAR J: By now, both your daughter and you have no doubt cooled off. Tell her that you realize she spoke in anger and haste, and admit that you did, too. Extend the olive branch, and you'll no longer be out on a limb.

DEAR ABBY: Something that happened last Mother's Day is still on my mind, and I want to know if you think I'm justified in feeling hurt.

My husband and I took a lovely corsage to his mother on Mother's Day. She thanked us for it and immediately put it

Instead of just offering an auto loan plan, we think of ourselves as a complete service station.

We don't lube cars, you understand.

But we can lubricate the buying process for your next car... kind of grease the skids, so to speak.

It works this way.

A number of places will finance your auto on reasonably attractive terms and we do too. But, we counted up the other day and we have four other auto loan services that make buying easy and save you time.

And we'll do more.

First — when you finance at Idaho First, you can buy auto insurance wherever you choose. Shop around. There's potential savings right there.

Second — if you're an Idaho First checking customer, you needn't write the repayment check each month. We do it for you and keep you posted too.

Third — you have the option of buying Credit Life Insurance which protects your estate against the debt for only pennies a day.

Fourth — you may finance direct with us or through your dealer, whichever you prefer. An added convenience.

As we say, we're more like a service station... for car buying. If you want to see our loan people come alive, just walk in and say, "Fill 'er up!"

your health

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Can a diet consisting of apples, (one a day) and meat, no fish, be harmful?
The reason for this diet is to stabilize my blood sugar. It's either too high or too low. A couple of years ago my doctor told me I was a mild diabetic. I used to take pills, but discontinued all medication.

At present I'm not under the supervision of a doctor. I'm 20 years old and female. — A.A.D.
Your letter has confused me.

If you are not under the supervision of a doctor, how do you know your blood sugar varies so? You certainly cannot have the equipment necessary to conduct "kitchen" blood tests. And if you are going only on the basis of do-it-yourself urine tests, you may be fooling yourself.

Apple a day won't keep doctor away

The condition of the urine is not necessarily an indication of the condition of the blood. If you were once suspected of having diabetes, you should find out if there is still cause for that suspicion, and I'm afraid only a doctor can provide the answer to that. Diabetes cannot be cured — only controlled.
Your apple a day may keep the doctor away, but, in your case, I'm afraid not for very long. The diet you mention lacks variety, bulk and vitamins. It is unsatisfactory.

I suggest you end the attempt to be your own diagnostician, dietician and chemist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Could you please print some information regarding tapeworms? I've heard so many pros and cons about it I am completely confused.

Music Booster club organized in Shoshone

SHOSHONE — An adult music booster club is being organized in conjunction with the Shoshone Music Department, according to Ray James, music instructor.
James said plans are to hold fund-raising projects to raise money for new band uniforms for the high school. About $1,500 is needed.
Dues to the music club will be charged and projects planned to raise funds.
The organizational meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the high school band room.

What does the cure consist of? I've heard curing them is a very painful process. — Mrs. A.F.

This is an intestinal infestation by parasites, mainly from improperly cooked or raw beef, pork or fish. The worm that develops is flat and tapelike, from which it gets the name.

The cause is the eating of eggs (larvae) or a part of a worm with the poorly cooked or raw meat.
Also, unclean fruits and vegetables — contaminated in handling or grown in an area contaminated by human waste — can be the source.

In the intestine, the head of the worm attaches to the bowel wall and its body grows in segments, the head-type worm often reaching 15 to 20 feet in length.

There may be only mild symptoms of digestive disturbance, a mild diarrhea, for example. There may be anemia, but ordinarily appetite and weight are not affected.

The first conclusive symptoms are the presence of the worm segment in the stool, or there may be eggs in stool specimens.

The treatment is not painful, but it can be lengthy — until the head of the parasite is removed. Albendazole (quarantine hydrochloride) is the usual treatment, and it must be prescribed. The harsh treatment you mention may be a reference to aspidium oleoresin, which can produce toxic effects and is no longer used. Cathartics are also given in this therapy.

With closer inspection of meat and other food sources, the tapeworm problem has been reduced greatly in recent years.

Miss Shouse and Newbry marry in TF ceremony

TWIN FALLS — Penny Shouse and Chuck Newbry were united in marriage Sept. 27 by Rev. Raymond Thompson in the United Methodist Church, Fireplace Room.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frayne Shouse, Rupert, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Newbry, Twin Falls.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of locale satin featuring a V-neckline outlined with gathered lace which also circled the cuffs of the long puffed sleeves.

The front bodice and midriff were covered with re-embroidered lace. The chapel-length train was appliqued with roses from the bodice lace. The gown was designed and made by the bride. Her shoulder-length veil held in place by miniature daisies was borrowed from the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Elmer Parker Jr.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and baby's breath featuring blue pearls and white satin streamers with lover's knots. She also carried a white linen handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother.

The best man, Gregory Utah, was maid of honor. Judy Shouse, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Steven Johnson, Twin Falls, was best man and William Newbry, Adatto Falls, brother of the bridegroom, was usher.

Wedding music was played by Vicki Van Eaton, Twin Falls.

A reception was held at the Round Up Room of the Rogerson Hotel immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white net over blue linen and accented with blue bows.

The five-tiered cake, topped with fresh blue and white daisies, centered the table. Two heart-shaped cakes with the names of the couple bordered the wedding cake.
The cake was baked, decorated and given to the couple by Mrs. Vern Vinyard, Jerome. Silver candelabra decorated with fresh flowers and blue lighted tapers flanked the cakes.

Guests were seated at quartet tables covered with white lace over blue satin. The tables centered with brassy salters holding white daisies floating in blue water and decorated with blue gathered net.

The cake was served by Mrs. John Winkie, Piler, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Larry Mahler, Twin Falls. Mrs. Larry Newbry, Las Vegas, served punch which was made by Mrs. Ardelean Van Eaton, Mrs. Charles Fearing, Buhl, aunt of the bride, presided over the coffee service.

Kelly Shouse, Pocatello, sister of the bride, presided over the guest book. Mrs. William Newbry and Mrs. Elmer Parker Jr. were in charge of gifts.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for a dinner following the rehearsal.

Showers honoring the bride were given by Mrs. Vern Vinyard and Mrs. Donna Driesel, Jerome, and by Mrs. William Newbry and Mrs. Elmer Parker Jr. in Twin Falls.

Special guests were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McKay, Piler, and Mr. and Mrs. John Laite, Twin Falls. Guests attended from Boise, Idaho Falls, Granger, Utah, and Las Vegas, Nev.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in Twin Falls where the bridegroom is based by Compographic Corp., Boston.

United Way pledges reported

TWIN FALLS — The first United Way report on the 1976 campaign announced Saturday by campaign chairman, Dr. Terry Smith shows $17,753.10 pledged during the initial week. The campaign kicked off Tuesday with a luncheon in which assignments were announced. Dr. Smith said the $17,753 represents collections from eight separate divisions of the campaign organization. These include special efforts $350, loaned executives, $2,112.69, commercial, $851; professional, $577; medical, $485; educational, $3,334.50; rural, $75; and blue chips, $9,968.

Board to inspect school

BURLEY — Members of the Cassia County school board will inspect the new Burley Junior high 2 p.m. Tuesday. The board's regular monthly meeting, postponed from tonight, will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Main business on the Board's Tuesday agenda will be consideration of the district civil rights program. Harold Blauer, superintendent, said the general assistance center in Portland, checked 10 people while visiting the district two weeks ago. Six or seven will be chosen to run a language dominance testing program in the district. The tests will be conducted in the homes of students in kindergartens through fourth grade to determine the bilingual problems in the district.

TF man charged

TWIN FALLS — Leonard Dean Plansky, 50, Twin Falls, was in custody here Saturday on charges of driving while intoxicated and escape.

City police said a vehicle driven by Plansky crossed the center line of Filer Avenue East about 8:30 p.m. Friday and collided with a vehicle driven by Eileen McNeely, Twin Falls.

She and her two children, Eric, 5, and Mark, 7, were treated for cuts and bruises following the accident.

Mrs. McNeely was listed in good condition Saturday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Officers cited Plansky with driving while intoxicated and brought him to the police station. Officers said he was left in an interrogation room while the arresting officer answered another call.

On returning, the officer found Plansky had departed. He was apprehended downtown and returned to custody.

Truck cab razed by fire

PICABO — A large Land Freightier diesel cab burned completely Friday night about three miles west of here.

Driver Daniel Watson, Idaho Falls, said the fire started around the manifold. The Blaine County sheriff's report said it was possible someone had left the oil cap off and oil spilled onto the manifold, starting the fire.

Watson was unhurt. Sheriff's officers and the Bellevue Rural Fire Department responded about 9:30 p.m. and put out the fire. Watson was able to disconnect the cab from the trailer and the trailer was not burned.

The cab was completely in flames by the time the officials arrived.

Display signs stolen

KETCHUM — Two metal display signs have been stolen from the Galeta Overlook on U.S. Highway 93 about 30 miles north of Ketchum.

According to Tom Kovalecky, Sawtooth National Recreation Area assistant superintendent, the theft took place sometime between 4 p.m. Oct. 5 and 8:30 a.m. Oct. 6.

The two stolen signs measure one and one half feet wide by four feet long and were installed at the overlook last May. Total value of the two signs is about $100.

According to a forest spokesman, $100 is being offered for information leading to the identification of those responsible for the theft. Any person having information should contact the SNRA Supr. Gray Reynolds, U.S. Forest Service, Ketchum, or by calling collect 726-4117.

5 seek GF posts

GLENN'S FERRY — Five candidates are seeking the two Glenns Ferry council posts to be filled in the Nov. 4 city election.

City Clerk Ed Bostic said Monday the terms of Larry Stevenson and Dora Mae Sellers are expiring. Both are seeking re-election.

Other candidates for the two posts include Clifford Mitchell, a school teacher; Larry Rose, bank employee, and Robert Mullen, who works at a potato processing plant.

The clerk also said bid opening is tentatively set for Nov. 6 for installation of a pump and controls on a new well of the city. This will provide about 200 gallons more water per minute, Bostic said.

The city water supply has been "holding its own" in recent months, he said, despite a sudden lowering of spring water last summer. The springs long have been the city's main source of supply.

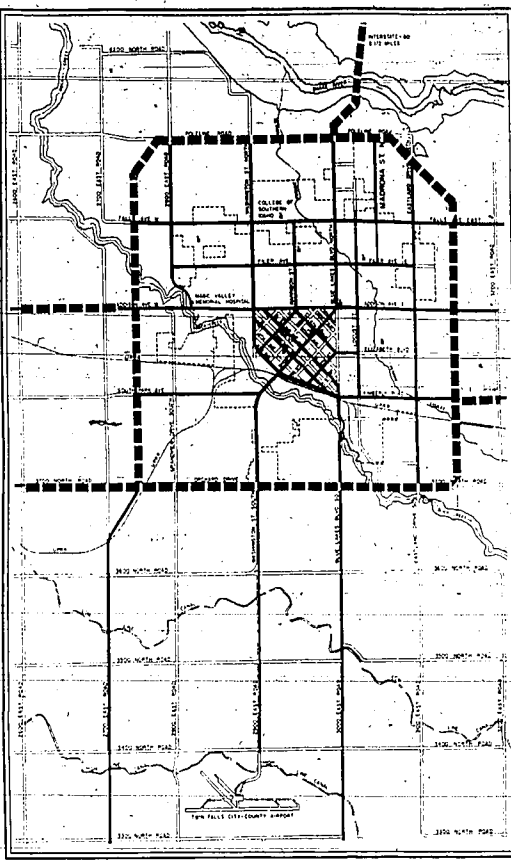

GF council opposes Pioneer plant

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenns Ferry City Council has gone on record opposing construction of the proposed Pioneer plant southwest of Boise.

Councilman Larry Stevenson said today in a local Chamber of Commerce had earlier taken the same stand. He said the biggest reason members are against Idaho Power Co. plans to construct a coal fired plant is that it will "take water from the river that never will be returned and we need the water for agriculture."

Stevenson said he understands there are no new fillings left on Snake River water and it dams were put on

'Belt route' outlined

A summary of the report states total cost of needed improvements would run about $27 million and cover a 20 to 25 year period, breaking down into $867,440 per year on the arterial system in the total study area.

It is estimated costs to the city would be less than $150,000 annually with federal revenue accounting for 78 per cent and city costs 22 per cent.

The plan, Leonard said, is one which continually can be modified to meet changing traffic needs of the area depending on growth trends.

Among the plan's recommendations are:

- Turn North Five Points into "North Four Points" by closing Blue Lakes Boulevard

- Reconstruct West Five Points to provide for left and right turning movements and two-way traffic on Washington Street South.

- Reconstruct the intersection of Blue Lakes Boulevard North and Filer Avenue to provide left and right turning movements.

- Remove parking and provide for 4-lane operation along "Addision Avenue East" between Blue Lakes Boulevard and Eastland Drive.

- Reconstruct Washington Street North between Filer and Falls Avenues to provide 4-lane operation.

- Reconstruct Blue Lakes Boulevard South from Kimberly Road to Highland Avenue to provide 4-lane arterial operation.

- Complete fill across Rock Creek at Orchard Drive and open the cross-canyon road.

- Investigate need for traffic signal at Eastland Drive and Addision Avenue East.

- Improve Addision Avenue from Blue Lakes Boulevard to Washington Street allowing 4-lane traffic.

- Replace the "Singing Bridge" on Shoshone Street over Rock Creek with a 4-lane structure.

- Widen Filer Avenue from Harrison Street to Blue Lakes Boulevard North to provide for 4-lane traffic.

- Widen Washington Street North from Addision Avenue to Filer Avenue to provide 4-lane traffic.

- Upgrade the intersection of Pole Line Road and Blue Lakes Boulevard North.

- Reconstruct Addision Avenue West as divided 4-lane highway.

MAP shows proposed location of major traffic arteries serving Twin Falls City and vicinity. Heavy dotted lines show the approximate location of a "belt route" designed to allow through highway traffic to bypass the city.

— Reconstruct Addision Avenue West as divided 4-lane highway.

Erkins seeking Gem GOP office

BLISS — Bob Erkins, Bliss rancher and trout farmer, today announced his candidacy for chairman of the Idaho Republican Party. Erkins said he was running essentially to provide an alternative to Vernon Havenscroft, Tuttle, who has been the only announced candidate for the position.

"I think an election held with only one candidate is not much of an election," Erkins told the Times-News today.

He said he has had a number of requests to run from people who were concerned that a possible decision by Havenscroft to run for governor in 1978 could conflict with his position as head of the party.

But Erkins was not optimistic about his chances.

"I've been told by many that it is almost a foregone conclusion that he (Havenscroft) will win because of the groundwork he is doing. I'm definitely an underdog. But I've been an underdog in most things I've done anyway. When you're down at the bottom you can only come up," he said.

The Republican State Central Committee will elect the party chairman in Boise Saturday.

Erkins said he is now mailing a letter announcing his candidacy and listing his qualifications to each member of the committee. He plans to follow the letter with phone calls.

Erkins served as finance chairman of the central committee from 1968 through 1974. He owns five trout farms in the Magic Valley, a feed manufacturing company and a packing plant. In addition to his ranch north of Bliss where he is trying to develop geothermal energy.

Philosophically, he said, "Vern (Havenscroft) is much more conservative than I am," Erkins added, however. "That doesn't mean I'm a liberal."

But stances on specific issues would not be so important for a state chairman whose job would be to unite all factions of the party, Erkins maintained.

A chairman's job does not involve "grinding anybody's axe or goring anybody's ox," he said.

Erkins said he has a personal preference between President Ford and Ronald Reagan for the Republican nomination. But he said the state chairman of the party should not express support for either one in the primary. Following the primary, Erkins said, he would be able to support either one.

Planets visible Friday

By DAVID HORSMAN

SHOSHONE — A once-in-a-lifetime astronomical spectacle will be visible in pre-dawn Idaho skies beginning Friday, according to amateur astronomer Melvin Laraway, Shoshone.

"Five planets will be lined up in a 'great arch' from the east to the west horizons, Laraway said today. The planetary show, which will include Mercury, Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter, will be visible about 6:30 a.m. Friday and will reappear each morning for about the next 10 days.

Laraway said the five planets can be seen simultaneously only "once every 50 or 100 years."

The "hardest to see" will be Mercury, which will appear just above the east horizon, he said.

"It stays quite close to the sun, so the maximum amount of time between when Mercury can be seen and when the sun rises will be about one hour," Laraway added.

Next in the east-to-west lineup will be Venus, then Mars (just east of a line running north and south), then Saturn (just west of the north-south line) and finally Jupiter on the west horizon.

Venus will be "by far the brightest... It will be brighter than any object in the sky except the moon," Laraway said.

Mars will be "a dull red color... quite bright, brighter than any of the stars," he said.

Seen through binoculars, Venus will be "crescent shaped... like the moon between the new moon and the first quarter," Laraway added.

Also, four of Jupiter's 14 moons might be viewed with the aid of binoculars, he said.

The planets can be distinguished from stars because they "will not appear to twinkle," according to Laraway. Planets do not have the "atmospheric disturbances" that cause the apparent twinkling of stars, he said.

The view will depend a great deal on weather conditions on Earth. But "we will probably have one or two clear mornings" with optimum viewing conditions, Laraway said.

Asked if any of the recent reports of UFO's and curious "bright lights" in southern Idaho skies could be explained astronomically, Laraway said, "Some of them just don't fit in with any astronomical phenomena I'm familiar with."

"I'm not really skeptical myself about the sightings because I've heard too many reports from reliable people," he added.

"I think there is a possibility there are phenomena going on that we don't have any scientific explanation for," Laraway said.

"Some can be explained but an awful lot can't be," he said. "I have an open mind and have to be non-committal. I'd sure like to see one of those UFO's myself."

Wendell okays sewage project

WENDELL — The Wendell City Council has accepted the recently completed sewage treatment improvement project. City Clerk Owen Collett said today.

Bill Block, of JUB Engineers, Twin Falls, reported Thursday the $261,232 construction project has received final approval from the Environmental Protection Agency and was officially complete, subject to the council's acceptance.

Block told councilmen the EPA grant for the project was $210,924, with the state providing $42,185 and the city of Wendell $28,123. The expansion project is supposed to increase the capacity of the Wendell sewage system to a population of 3,000, Mrs. Collett said. She estimated the city's population is now about 1,700.

AF not probing UFO sightings

HAILFAY — The Mountain Home Air Force base has not sent jets to investigate recent "project blue book" in 1969. He said calls about UFO's are relayed to local law enforcement agencies which now have the responsibility of investigation.

Ray-Con, the radar system employed by the base, has not picked up any UFO's, he said. He said the system can extend as far as 120 nautical miles if an aircraft requires a fixed condition.

"We are no longer in the business of officially doing it," he added, referring to the now defunct Air Force project of observing and analyzing UFO sightings and information.

MOUNTED SOLDIERS Q. "Why are you always supposed to get up on a horse from its left side?"

A. That ancient custom was started by mounted soldiers. Most were right-handed. So they wore their sword scabbards on the left. They had to swing up from the left to keep the scabbards from getting in the way.

QUESTION ARISES as to whether attorneys tend to be prejudiced against women in the selection of juries. Depends on the case. A counselor defending a damage suit on behalf of an injured child is likely to be prejudiced against women jurors, that's common knowledge. And a prosecutor who seeks the death penalty is apt to be prejudiced against women jurors, too, except in rape cases. These prejudices are also attributed to lady lawyers, please note.

MAJOR HOOPLE

LA nips Chargers in overtime

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Veteran Tom Dempsey kicked a punting 22-yard field goal with 5:33 remaining in overtime Sunday to give the heavily favored Los Angeles Rams a 13-10 "sudden-death" victory over the stubborn San Diego Chargers.

Dempsey's second field goal of the game came after an 80-yard drive, featuring a key third-down pass from James Harris to tight end Bob Klein for 29 yards, on a fourth-and-one situation on the Chargers' six.

Chiefs stunn unbeaten Raiders

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The upstart Kansas City Chiefs used a pair of interceptions by Kerry Pearson and Emmitt Thomas as a springboard to three touchdowns in three minutes during the first quarter Sunday and stunned the previously unbeaten Oakland Raiders, 42-10.

The 32-point margin was the worst loss suffered by Oakland since a 42-7 waxing by Kansas City in 1964.

Dolphins thump Eagles

MIAMI (UPI) — Bob Griese hit Nat Moore for one second half touchdown and former Eagle Norm Bulach crashed up the middle for another Sunday to give the Miami Dolphins a 24-16 win over Philadelphia.

After a one-saw first half which ended with the Dolphins ahead 10-9, Griese and the Dolphin offense took charge with two scoring drives, one capped by Griese's 13-yarder to Moore and the other by Bulach's 7-yard run.

Saints overhaul Green Bay

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Rich Szaro, playing his first game in the National Football League, kicked a 20-yard field goal with 22 seconds left Sunday, to give the New Orleans a 20-19 victory over the Green Bay Packers for the Saints' first victory of the season.

The Saints spotted Green Bay 16 points, including two Packer touchdowns in the first 1:05 of play, then came from behind to win it.

Bills slip by Colts

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Fullback Jim Braxton bulled his way into the end zone three times Sunday to carry the Buffalo Bills' 38-31 win Sunday over the Baltimore Colts.

Braxton, who had accumulated 243 yards in the first three games of the season, gained only 13 yards on nine carries as a determined Colt defense forced Buffalo quarterback Joe Ferguson to go to the air.

O. J. Simpson fared better, rushing for 159 yards, to boost his four-game total to 697 yards.

Steelers whip Denver

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Terry Bradshaw, who achieved a Steeler milestone Sunday, threw two touchdowns to lead Pittsburgh to their first regular season victory over the Denver Broncos, 20-9.

Bradshaw needed only 29 yards passing to become the third Steeler quarterback to go past the 8,000 yard mark and he picked that up with his first pass of the game as Lynn Swann leaped between two Bronco defenders at the goal line for a 43-yard touchdown.

Lions dominate Bears

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — Quarterback Bill Munson, making his first start of the season, threw three touchdown passes Sunday and the Detroit Lions' defense dominated the Chicago Bears for a 27-7 victory.

Oilers trounce Browns

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Dan Pastorini threw three touchdown passes to Mack Alton and Billy Johnson scored on a dazzling 81-yard kickoff return Sunday to lead the Houston Oilers to a 40-10 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Vikings rally past Jets

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Joe Blahak blocked a Greg Gant punt out of the end zone for a safety midway through the final quarter Sunday and Chuck Foreman scored his first touchdown of the game minutes later to rally the unbeaten Minnesota Vikings to a 29-21 victory over the New York Jets.

Bengals down Patriots

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Bengals raced to their fourth straight victory Sunday by scoring two touchdowns within 51 seconds late in the third quarter to break a 10-10 tie enroute to a 27-10 romp over the winless New England Patriots.

Sun beats Steamer 39-30

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Sensational rookie Anthony Davis, of the World Football League's No. 1 rusher, scored twice, added two action points and gained more than 400 yards for the seventh time this season Sunday to lead the Southern California Sun to a 39-30 victory over the Shreveport Steamer.

Davis, also the WFL's scoring leader, ran his point total to 118 and increased his rushing total for the year to 1,001 yards by carrying the ball 25 times for 129 yards.

His yardage total is 378 ahead of runner-up Jim Nance of the Steamer.

Hornets nip Express

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Safely Ike Thomas ran 92 yards for one score and recovered a fumble to set up another, leading Charlotte to a 23-17 World Football League victory over Jacksonville Sunday.

Thomas took a kickoff on the eight yard line following Jacksonville's first score and romped 92 yards for a touchdown. The action point, a pass from quarterback Tom Sherman to Don Highsmith, put the Hornets ahead 8-7 and they were not in serious trouble the rest of the game.

The Hornets scored another touchdown late in the second quarter on a 13-yard pass from Sherman to wide receiver James Thompson.

That possession came when Thomas recovered a fumble at the Jacksonville 47.

WFL owners hold critical meetings

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — World football league owners, apparently by their backs to the wall again, are to hold a "critical" meeting in New York Monday to discuss the troubled league's future, Memphis Southern owner John Bassett said Sunday.

"You're damned right it could be critical," said Bassett, confirming plans for the meeting.

"I can't say what will happen," answered Bassett when asked whether folding the league was a possibility. "Anything could happen."

One possible result of Monday's meeting reportedly, could be folding Portland and Philadelphia, the two WFL franchises hurting most at the game.

Portland drew an average of 8,861 fans to its first six home games and the league already has assessed its other nine teams, the most successful of which (Memphis) is averaging less than 20,000 fans a game, $300,000 to keep the thunder rolling.

The Bell is said to be in a stronger financial position but had an average attendance of only 3,705 for its first four home contests.

A major problem for the league, which was revived through the financial wizardry of WFL president Chris Hemmeter after a disastrous opening season last year, is the lack of a major television contract.

Redskins confront Cardinals Monday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George Allen will opt for added speed in lieu of experience when the Washington Redskins confront the St. Louis Cardinals in their Monday night showdown.

The Washington head coach has described the nationally televised contest as of "championship" caliber and has indicated he may resort to two newcomers with impressive speed in an effort to revitalize the Redskin running game after their upset 26-10 loss to the Philadelphia Eagles.

Larry Brown, still having problems after off-season knee surgery, will probably open with Moses Denson, a veteran from the Canadian Football League, as his running mate. But Allen intends to switch Brown to Denson's fullback slot during the course of the contest and use either rookie Mike Thomas or Ralph Nelson, a free agent picked up from the World Football League, to generate some swiftness.

Dallas drops New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Roger Staubach hit Jean Pugett with a four-yard touchdown pass four plays after a Mark Washington interception to give the Dallas Cowboys a 13-7 triumph over the New York Giants, spoiling the Giants' return to New York City after a two-year absence.

Washington picked off a Craig Morton pass at the New York 40 and returned it 23 yards to the 17, setting up the Cowboys' lone touchdown.

Reds square series, beat Sox 3-2 in ninth inning

BOSTON (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds, the gears of their "Big Red Machine" stripped by Bill Lee for eight innings, shifted into high speed in the ninth inning Sunday when Dave Concepcion switched from put to hero and triggered a two-run rally that produced a 3-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox to even the World Series at one game apiece.

Concepcion, whose sixth-inning error had set up the go-ahead run for Boston, singled home the tying run, then stole second and scored the winning run on Ken Griffey's two-out double as the Reds rallied to win in their last at bat for the 25th time this season.

The best-of-seven series now shifts to Cincinnati for the third game Tuesday night. The next three games will all be played at Riverfront Stadium where the Reds posted a record 61 victories this year.

"We came in here expecting to win two games. We always come in expecting to win," said Reds' second baseman Joe Morgan. "I'm happy with the split, considering we lost the first game. But I'd rather have the sweep. I think we can go back to Cincinnati and win three straight, but those Red Sox have a scrappy team."

Held to only four hits by Lee over the first eight innings and once again looking nothing like the club that had won 108 regular season games, the Reds suddenly broke loose against reliever Dick Drago with two out in the ninth after Johnny Bench had finished Lee with a headoff double.

Drago, the Red Sox top reliever down the stretch, looked almost as forlorn as Lee when he retired, the first two batters easily. But, Concepcion bounced a grounder up the middle and beat out a hit when second baseman Denny Doyle, who fielded the ball over second, was unable to make a throw.

Bench, who had moved to third on Tony Perez' infield grounded, scored on the play and a moment later Concepcion put himself into scoring position by executing the Reds' first steal of the Series. The Reds had stolen a perfect 11-for-11 against Pittsburgh in the National League playoffs, but had been caught twice by the powerful arm of catcher Carlton Fisk in their first two attempts of the Series.

Concepcion's steal set the stage for Griffey and the Reds' outfielders who had retired to bat the ball out of the infield in three flies against Lee, lined a two-strike pitch into the left-center field alley for a double to score Concepcion.

"I knew Drago was a fast ball pitcher," said Griffey. "I was looking for a fastball and that's what I hit."

Prior to their ninth inning rally the Reds had done very little offensively for the second day in a row. Blanked by righthander Luis Tiant Saturday, the Reds posed only one serious threat to Lee over the first eight innings. That came in the fourth inning when Morgan walked, moved to third as Bench snapped an oblique 18-post-season slump with a single to right and scored when Perez bounced into a force-out.

Cubans upstage U.S. in Pan-Am opening

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The Cuban team upstaged the United States contingent Sunday at the spectacular opening of the VIII Pan American Games at a colorful spectacle that included ritual Indian dancing on this the 625th Birthday of Mexico City.

The Cubans, who have made it clear all along their only concern is to defeat the United States in the 16-day competition, received a thunderous cheer when they entered the 105,000 capacity Aztec soccer stadium.

When the American team, with marksman Maj. Lones Wigger of Columbus, Ga., carrying the stars and stripes, entered the arena, the Cubans pulled miniature Cuban flags from their pockets to wave to the capacity crowd and this led to more cheers for the Latin team.

The Americans, the only team to wear hats, looked smart in blue uniforms, but the Mexican public received them with a mixture of whistles and polite applause.

Mexican president Luis Echeverria, whose six-year term of office ends next year, received only hos from the audience, which was in festive mood to celebrate a triple event—the opening of the Games, the Columbus day holiday and the 625th birthday of Mexico City.

Veteran observers of Olympic opening ceremonies agreed that the Mexicans pulled on Sunday surpassed any previous opening ceremonies. Even the most demanding Hollywood producer would have been satisfied with the three-hour spectacular played out under overcast skies.

An innovation was the spelling out of the name of each of the 33 competing nations with place cards, with the national flag being traced at the same time. The effect was dramatic. Mexico is noted for its color, but the dramatic entrance of the Indians in giant Quetzal headdress brought the house down. They were assisted in their ritual dancing by girls from Tehuacan in white and blue.

The stadium hushed when the Indians performed the "sum ritos for the new year" by reciting the prayer in its original dialect.

Sewers near completion

ALBION — The full containment lagoon sewage system for Albion may be completed by the end of this year.

The project is estimated at 70 to 80 percent completed. Construction of the lagoons is nearly completed. All pipe is in the ground. All that remains is installation of the sprinkler and pumps and wells.

Larry Fairbanks, owner of PMF, Inc., Twin Falls, told Albion councilmen this week that his construction company hopes to have the system near completion in 2 1/2 months.

The $312,740 system is designed to serve a population of 375, with 110 residential and commercial users. The Environmental Protection Agency and the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare provided grants of $145,988. The cost to the city is $166,750.

Councilmen this week approved a partial payment to the contractor.

The lagoons are on 18 acres of land southeast of the city. They were designed by J-U-B Engineers to provide sufficient water surface to evaporate all incoming waste water and have complete storage or containment of all inflows (including precipitation throughout the year). The wastes will be decomposed by bacterial action that produces ammonia, carbon dioxide and water.

EPA requires that the lagoon be sealed to prevent any appreciable loss of water from it by percolation. It allows a maximum leakage of one-fourth inch of water drop per day.

Albion voters authorized a $185,000 bond issue in March, 1974, to construct the lagoon system. The additional money was a cushion against inflationary costs. The Farmers Home Administration approved a loan on those bonds in June 1974.

The bond election came after Albion was issued a waste water discharge permit to discharge sewage into tributaries of the Snake River until Feb. 1, 1975. It was told that it would lose that permit if not secondary standard effluent facility was under construction by that time.

The Idaho health department had checked Marsh Creek and one of its tributaries, Rock Creek, over 10 years for sewage strength and disease-causing bacteria. The city discharges sewage from its inflow tank and directly from several homes into Marsh Creek. The city's outfall sewer, which served 26 homes, was not meeting federal standards for strength reduction.

In other action this week, the council:

- Passed a resolution to enforce the Green River ordinance banning house-to-house sales. It made no provision for issuing permits for such sales.
- Authorized City Clerk Galia Mahoney to appoint election officials from an approved list of names.
- Voted to join the Albion Chamber of Commerce in its centennial celebration project.
- Informed questioning residents that the swings in the park have now been repaired.

Minidoka rural roads classified

RUPERT — Rural functional classifications were designated this week on highways and roads in Minidoka County.

Following a public hearing, the Minidoka Highway District commissioners adopted the classifications developed at a workshop with state officials earlier this year.

"The classification shows that Minidoka has no arterials, either major or minor. Federal Aid-Primary is available for arterials."

Minidoka's County officials interest lies in numerous sections of highways and roads designated major collectors. These are included in the Federal Aid — Secondary system administered by the highway district and the state.

Minor collectors and local roads are not included in the aid system, but some federal funding may become available soon under a program approved last year for improvement of off-system roads, according to Lee Merrill, secretary of the highway district.

Ron Klebe, district engineer, is preparing a map and report for the state.

The map shows a dozen sections of road as major collectors. The longest single one is State Highway 24 from the Burley-Heyburn bridge northeast to Minidoka and then northeast through Norland to the Lincoln County line in the direction of Shoshone.

Another major collector is Highway 27 from the Burley-Paul bridge through Paul and the Paul Road north toward Kimma to the Lincoln line.

Highway 25 also is a major collector from the western Minidoka County boundary through Rupert and south to where it crosses the downward bridge through Dech. The road from that south turn eastward to the Montgomery bridge also is designated major collector.

Other than those highways, the north-south roads with sections designated major collectors include Meridian Road and 850 and 400 West roads.

Meridian Road is a major from its intersection with Highways 24 and 25 in Rupert north to Norland and its intersections with Highway 24.

The major collector section of 450 West and 400 South from Highway 25 past Budget pumping station to 400 South Road, which is a major collector from there east to Highway 27 and on through its intersection with Alfredson Road.

Major collector status is given 400 West north from highway 25 to 300 North Road. On north from there is designated a minor collector to Highway 24 in the area of the Kevo Land Co.

GF council to oppose Pioneer

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenns Ferry City Council has voted unanimously to oppose construction of the Pioneer coal-fired plant proposed by Idaho Power.

The $80 million facility is planned in the Orchard area about 20 miles southeast of Boise. The proposal was submitted before the Idaho Public Utilities Commission, and hearings have not been completed.

Mayor Doyle Messerly said the council's action is in support of a similar resolution by the Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce, opposing construction of the Pioneer plant.

Messerly said both actions were prompted by the concern of citizens for their health and the price of electricity.

Bureau seeks help with dam

RUPERT — The Bureau of Reclamation is seeking help from the Minidoka County Highway District with the bridge and road access to Minidoka Dam.

Representatives met this week with the highway commissioners and asked help in planning for improvements of the access.

Since the bridge and the road near the dam are in Bureau of Reclamation land, the highway district is unable to enter into construction, according to Lee Merrill, secretary.

The federal officials, however, asked for advice on road routing and bridge placement.

The bureau considers the narrow, restricted bridge and the winding road as dangerous for the traffic it now bears. That traffic is expected to increase with the opening of a planned museum and the development of more recreational and park facilities, along with more boat docks.

The highway officials also met with Minidoka County commissioners regarding weed control and established definite areas of responsibility.

A problem arose this year because of overlapping of crew work by the two entities. Some areas did not receive weed control work.

Clean-up to follow set rules

RUPERT — Fall clean-up refuse will be picked up by garbage trucks in Rupert, but residents must follow regulations.

Public Services Superintendent Elmer Schenk made the announcement because of "some laxity in complying with provisions."

Schenk said residents must notify the city to have solid, large rocks, concrete chunks and large limbs picked up. He said there will be a charge for these.

Schenk said smaller limbs, prunings and garden refuse, such as corn stalks, should be tied in bundles no more than five feet long or over 50 pounds.
