Ranch work helped Betty Schnell prepare for Miss Rodeo America crown

Betty Schnell named Miss Rodeo America

By LINDALEE Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A young Magic Valley woman was crowned 1976 Miss Rodeo America Sunday night in Oklahoma City.

Betty Schnell, 21, Hogerson, is the third Miss Rodeo America from the Magic Valley and the fourth from Idaho since 1952.

"I wish all of Idaho could be here to feel the feelings that I have," Betty said, this morning. "It was just amazing and a real honor."

Betty competed with 42 other women from the United States and Canada. She said the competition was "tough."

Betty won first place in the Miss Personality and Miss Appearance competitions. She said all the "girls were being judged on personality and appearance by the judges every minute throughout the entire contest week."

Former Miss Rodeo America, Karen James, Jerome, said today she wasn't surprised Miss Schnell won. "She is a heartthrob girl with a terrific personality and good horsemanship," James said.

"She wears really bright colors which would help attract the attention of judges," James added, "and when you meet her she makes you feel like you have known each other for 20 years."

Betty said she began riding horses when she was 5 years old.

"I learned from my mistakes while helping my father with the cattle on our ranch near Rogerson," Betty said. She said she had received no formal horsemanship training until she entered the Miss Rodeo contest last summer.

To prepare for the contest in Oklahoma City she took special horsemanship training, and took courses at College of Southern Idaho in speech and political science. She also enrolled in a special modeling training.

"The toughest part of the contest was the horsemanship," Betty said. "we had to draw for horses. I was real lucky with my horse."

Betty will travel for a full year, making many public appearances as Miss Rodeo America. She will have a particularly busy schedule because her term as Miss Rodeo America falls on the bicentennial, the nation's 200th birthday anniversary.

Her first appearances will begin this week at the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City. The top 15 contestants in each event will compete for the national championships.

Ray Rostrin, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, said Betty will be telecast Saturday night with the National Finals Rodeo.

Betty said she feels women from the Magic Valley area have won so often because "we live the western way of life on cattle ranches here and people from this area give us a lot of support."

She was especially appreciative of her cheerleaders, Tam and Neema Shouse, managers of the Twin Falls County Fair. She said the fair board provided a lot of her expense money. Other Magic Valley people who accompanied her to the contest were her parents, Ralph and Hazel Schnell; and her sister, Janie Morton, and about 10 others.

"Without the support of these people, I wouldn't be here," Betty said.

Betty's future plans include finishing college in the field of secretarial sciences and possibly a career in the airlines as a stewardess.

But she said, "I wouldn't trade ranching life for all the money in the world."

"In the city I wouldn't have had the same opportunities."

She said she hopes someday to marry a rancher and spend her life on a ranch.

She quoted Bob Flanagan, president of the professional Idaho Cowboys Association. "These experiences are one that could never be bought or replaced."

Madrid cops stall demonstrators

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — Hundreds of riot police sealed off the Madrid suburb of Ventus today, frustrating left-wing plans to hold a demonstration at the grave of the founder of Spanish socialism, Pablo Iglesias.

Police arrested an unspecified number of persons.

The plan to demonstrate today was part of a campaign by Communists and other leftwingers to press for political freedoms following the death of Generalissimo Francisco Franco 18 days ago and to test how much change may come under new King Juan Carlos.

Lebanese premier issues appeal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Lebanese Premier Hafez Karami appealed today to warring Christian and Muslim gunmen to stop fighting "in the name of God, humanity and Lebanon."

Karami, desperately trying to reassert government authority over the war-torn streets of Beirut, made his appeal in a statement issued after an emergency cabinet meeting as the sound of exploding rockets and machine gun fire echoed across the city.

Clergyman fails in release effort

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (UPI) — A mediator tried for two hours today to negotiate the release of four children held by South Moluccan rebels at gunpoint in the Indonesian consulate but he failed and left the building grim-faced and silent.

The children are among a group of more than 20 hostages held in the consulate by gunmen demanding freedom for their south Asian homeland from Indonesia. Another 11 hostages were being held for a seventh day on a hijacked train near the town of Belian.

Poland plans to extend Western ties

WARSAW (UPI) — Communist Party head Edward Gierek told Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and 1,011 delegates to the party's 7th congress today that Poland plans to expand its contacts with the capitalist world.

Magle Valley pioneer dies at 89

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Annie E. Wilson, 89, Twin Falls, a pioneer Magle Valley resident who was the first bride to reside in Buhl, died Sunday at Magle Valley Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Wilson was a waitress at the Perrine Hotel Cafe prior to her marriage to the late Andrew D. Wilson at Albion in 1900. Funeral services for Mrs. Wilson will be conducted Wednesday. (Obituary, p. 2)

High court nominee endorses full equality for women; queries ERA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court nominee John P. Stevens said today he favored full equality for women, but questioned whether the proposed Equal Rights Amendment would be more than symbolic value.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., pressed Stevens on the issue in the first day of Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on the nomination.

"While I recognize the symbolic value of the Equal Rights Amendment, I wonder about what effect it would have on the law," Stevens replied.

He said women "have not achieved full equality but are marching in that direction," and added, "I would apply the same standard to both male and female."

Asked whether he thought racial problems were more important than sex discrimination, the nominee said, "I suppose I asked to do so I would be more concerned about racial discrimination because they are a more disadvantaged group."

The National Organization for Women has expressed opposition to Stevens, saying his record while a judge at the Court of Appeals in Chicago was one of "consistent opposition to women's rights."

Stevens also was questioned today about his health, and he told the committee he had recovered fully from open heart surgery last year.

"I had any doubt whatever about my physical capability, I would not be sitting here at this time," said the nominee to succeed William O. Douglas on the high court.

Stevens, 55, noting his mother is now 92, said his family had a history of longevity.

Warren Christopher, who chaired an American Bar Association search committee, meanwhile, issued a statement repeating the group's conclusion that Stevens meets the high standards of competence, judicial temperament and integrity needed for the high court post.

Christopher said the ABA investigation revealed Stevens had made a "complete recovery" from heart surgery and "he is in excellent health."

Christopher also said Stevens told the search committee he held no outside positions since being appointed to the federal bench in 1970 and had no possible conflicts of interest.

Timor meet asked

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Portugal asked for an urgent meeting of the Security Council today, charging that Indonesia had militarily intervened in Portuguese Timor.

The Portuguese request for a meeting accused Indonesia of committing an act of aggression.

The request followed an announcement by Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik in Jakarta that Indonesian-led forces had captured Dili, capital of Portuguese Timor.

Portugal has broken off relations with Indonesia and the Indonesians, in turn, have ordered the Portuguese diplomatic representative in Jakarta to leave the country.

Environment cases taken by US court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today agreed to straighten out a phase of environmental law important to land developers and home buyers.

A basic law enacted by Congress in 1969 requires federal agencies to produce environmental impact statements for actions significantly affecting the environment.

The issue is how this requirement fits into legislation passed a year earlier requiring private developers to disclose information needed by potential purchasers.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development determines if the developers' information is accurate and complete but goes no further in behalf of people wanting to buy.

Two lower courts said HUD must also include an environmental impact statement. But the agency appealed to the high court on the ground that this additional responsibility would impose a crushing administrative burden.

In another environmental case, the justices rebuffed efforts by an association of Portland cement producers who objected to air pollution standards imposed on the industry by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The association's appeal was rejected in a brief order.

In other actions the Court:

- Agreed to hear a Massachusetts case involving procedural rights of prison inmates, along with a New York case on the same subject.
- Let stand the conviction of Dwight Chapin, who was President Richard M. Nixon's appointment secretary, for lying to a grand jury.
- Let stand a $39,100 libel judgment against the Colorado Springs Sun and its editor-publisher, William J. Woestendiek.
- Rejected a bid to include foreign investors in a multimillion dollar securities suit by purchasers of shares of I.O.S. Ltd., the bankrupt investor service operated by Bernard Cornfeld.
- Rejected appeals by two top Chattanooga, Tenn., teamsters union officials convicted in connection with the 1971 bombing of a car dealer's showroom during a strike.

Aid foe yields

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring that further opposition was futile, Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., said today he would no longer filibuster against providing federal loans to help New York City solvent.

"If we still had the opportunity to kill the bill, I'd be willing to debate it until the end of the session," Allen told reporters in a Senate cloakroom before the start of today's session.

"It's futile to discuss it after the votes have been counted," he said.

Wyoming says Sierra Life, 'statutorily insolvent'

TWIN FALLS — Wyoming state insurance officials say the Twin Falls-based Sierra Life Insurance Co. is "statutorily insolvent" and has attempted twice to suspend the company's license to sell insurance in the state.

The Wyoming state actions stem from an interpretation that certain properties held by Sierra Life cannot be counted as assets under Wyoming law, according to Allan Brodeur, chief examiner.

After adjusting Sierra Life's "assets in accordance with Wyoming's statute, (Sierra's) liabilities exceed its assets by $2,634,882," he said.

However, Wyoming officials agree that Sierra owns the properties which Wyoming refused to count as assets.

Sierra officials say that when the additional properties are counted, Sierra's assets exceed liabilities by a healthy $1.9 million.

Wyoming officials say they believe the Idaho insurance firm is insolvent under Wyoming State law, but not that it is "insolvent" in any other sense of the word.

In an earlier story, the Times-News had reported Wyoming's claim that Sierra was "statutorily insolvent." But a headline on the story, carried on page 1, had referred only to the "claim" of insolvency. The headline read:

"Wyoming suspends license of insolvent Sierra Life."

While the story made clear that the company was considered "statutorily insolvent" by the Wyoming officials, the headline used only the word "insolvent."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 8 — Gen. Washington ordered that Connecticut troops leaving the service be mustered for review so that any arms useful to the Army might be confiscated. He instructed officers to keep the plan secret to prevent the men from hiding their weapons.

Delay probable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Diehard opponents of federal aid to New York City will probably be delaying federal loans to the city past Thursday, when default was to have occurred.

But assured, the federal money is coming as soon as the opposition runs out of time in Congress. New York officials are expected to avoid defaulting on the city's debts by borrowing from trustees of the city employee pension fund.

The Senate was to vote this afternoon on limiting debate on a motion to take up for consideration an appropriation bill including the funds for $2.3 billion in federal loans to New York.

Secretary sees easing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A moderation in food and energy prices and an increase in worker productivity should cause the inflation rate to come down to 6 percent for the next year, predicts assistant Commerce Secretary James Pate said Sunday.

"Six per cent inflation is still unacceptably high, though it would represent continued improvement from the 9 per cent increase this year and the 11 per cent increase in 1974," Pate said Sunday.

But he cautioned that several unknown factors such as the cost of various fuels could upset the forecast.

World petroleum prices were raised at an official 10 per cent in October. But assistant Treasury Secretary Gerald Parsky said the average rate of increase has been 8 per cent or less.

Unless they are further by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, energy costs to American consumers should hold steady or rise only slightly, Parsky said at a briefing last week.

Ford home after journey to Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford returned home today from the 10-day, 27,000-mile journey in which he discussed affairs of the world with Mao Tse-tung, solidified U.S. relations with Indonesia and the Philippines and declared a new Pacific Doctrine.

He said "everything went extremely well" on his trip. And an impromptu news conference before his plane landed at 2:15 a.m. hinted his next foreign journey may be to the Middle East.

Air Force One arrived from Hawaii in a light snow, a contrast to the tropical weather he left after commemorating Pearl Harbor day at a memorial atop the sunken battleship Arizona—and enunciated at the University of Hawaii a Pacific Doctrine of "peace toward all and hostility toward none."

It was in that speech he made conciliatory gestures toward Communist regimes in North Vietnam and North Korea and said American military strength is "basic" to stability in the Pacific.

Asked about reports he might travel to the Middle East early next year, Ford said "only there are no definite plans—no specific plans—an indication such a trip might be under consideration."

He told reporters traveling with him he will be holding sessions with the National Security Council in the next week or 10 days to discuss progress in strategic arms talks with the Soviets.

Ford, appearing fatigued from the journey, but chipper upon landing, said he would be at his Oval Office desk at 7:30 a.m. and would meet with his staff.

Mrs. Ford remained in Hawaii for a few days to recover from the trip and to visit a school for the handicapped.

In his final speech in Hawaii, Ford said, "I learned during my visit that our friends want us to remain actively engaged in the affairs of the area. We intend to do so."

In a pointed conciliatory gesture, the President said he stands ready to "consider constructive ways of easing tensions" between North and South Korea, but will resist excluding the South from a discussion of its future.

Air line hopes talks will gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Airlines has had little trouble helping passengers book alternate flights. Today the nation's largest air carrier hoped it could get off the ground in negotiations with its striking machinists union.

United flights have been canceled at least until Wednesday by a walkout of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers. Negotiations broke off Sunday, but more were scheduled to resume today. A spokesman for the airline said "as long as we are still talking there is room for optimism."

The IAM represents 16,700 mechanics and ground support personnel who struck United Saturday. Among its regular charter passengers are 10 of the 26 National Football League teams. But a company spokesman said arrangements had been made to fly visiting teams to their game sites and back, including the Denver Broncos, scheduled to play tonight in Oakland, Calif.

London police offer IRA gunmen food for woman captive's freedom

LONDON (UPI) — Police offered food to four besieged Irish Republican Army gunmen in exchange for the release of one of their two hostages — a woman.

A police spokesman said the IRA gang believed responsible for the deaths of more than two dozen persons in recent London area bombings, was considering the deal.

Authorities turned down two requests for food since the gunmen burst into the home of Jean Matthews, 54, and her wife, Sheila, 53, Saturday night.

Early today, they insisted there would be no food for the gang until they came out "with their hands up."

Hours later, they made the offer in return for Mrs. Matthews' release.

The gunmen have threatened to kill the Matthews' if police burst into the room in a capture-rescue attempt.

Scotland Yard put its five-man force on alert against a possible IRA attack elsewhere aimed at taking the pressure off the besieged four.

Hundreds of police patrolled the streets around the building in a fashionable neighborhood near Regent's Park in northwest London.

They installed sophisticated eavesdropping equipment to listen in on the gunmen's conversations.

A police spokesman said exchanges between police and gunmen over a specially installed hot line were becoming more frequent.

"Negotiations are at a very delicate stage now," he said early today. "I am more optimistic than a few hours ago."

The captors allowed Mrs. Matthews a 30-second telephone conversation with police and she assured them she was well. "She appeared calm and self-possessed," a police spokesman said.

Officials believe Michael Wilson, the most wanted man in Britain, is one of the four.

Wilson is being sought in connection with a series of bombings and the murder two weeks ago of Ross McWhirter, publisher of the Guinness Book of Records.

From the start police adopted a hard line and flatly rejected the gunman's demands for a plane to Ireland.

Metropolitan police commissioner Sir Robert Mark, aware the terrorists were listening to him on radio and television, called them "ordinary vulgar criminals" who would "be going nowhere but to their cells in Brixton prison."

"There is absolutely no question of doing a deal with the hostages," Mark said.

Palestinian state due?

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Foreign Minister Yigal Alon will propose a peace plan to the cabinet that will include creation of a Palestinian state on the occupied West Bank of Jordan, the influential newspaper Ha'aretz said today.

A foreign ministry spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Ha'aretz said Alon would submit his plan to the cabinet next month. It said he already has held unofficial talks on the subject with European and Israeli political leaders but has excluded negotiations with the Palestine Liberation Organization at present.

According to the newspaper, the plan lists three alternatives with Alon leaning toward a confederation between Israel, Jordan and a Palestinian state. The other two are:

- Confederation between Israel and a federated state that would include Jordan and a Palestinian state.
- Confederation between Israel and Jordan with Jordanian rule in the West Bank.

unruly led by pro-Communist.

The Socialist — the nation's biggest party — have adopted the position that the Communists should publicly condemn the rebel officers and pledge their loyalty to the government, but have consistently supported that party's continuation in the coalition.

Communist leader Alvaro Cunuhal has remained steadfast against both arguments. He has refused to even acknowledge the Socialist proposition and countered Sa Carneiro's attacks by demanding that the Popular Democrats be thrown out of the government.

Many of the nearly 800 delegates expressed satisfaction with the results of the nearly three-week conference, noting it had already achieved its major aims with only minor frustrations.

The government gave him a conditional release from prison last month.

Sino-US relations look up

TOKYO (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger told Japanese officials today U.S.-Chinese relations are good and will gradually get better, U.S. embassy sources said.

Kissinger stopped in Tokyo to confer with the Japanese, notably Prime Minister Takeo Miki and Foreign Minister Kiichi Miyazawa, after accompanying President Ford to China, Indonesia and the Philippines.

The sources said Kissinger reviewed Ford's travels during a breakfast meeting with Miyazawa, as he did later with Miki and also discussed various U.S.-Japanese issues.

They said Kissinger told Miyazawa there was some discussion of the Taiwan issue in Peking, but that the secretary said the main thrust in Peking was international relations.

Earlier, a senior American official aboard Kissinger's plane said Soviet action in Angola is certain to have had effect on American relations with Moscow.

The official said American efforts in July preventing a takeover of the former Portuguese territory by forces aided by the Russians and Cuba troops.

But the situation has worsened in Africa's new nation and it is a tussle between the Moscow-Havana forces and those backed by Washington and Peking, he said.

He said Moscow's maneuvers in Angola will affect U.S.-Soviet relations, which now center on trying to reach agreement on limiting offensive strategic nuclear weapons.

Portugal party leader's walkout deepens dissent

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — A former secretary general of the left-of-center Popular Democrats stormed out of the party's national convention today, adding to the political dissension that grew out of an abortive leftist military revolt two weeks ago.

Emidio Guerreiro quit the party after accusing Popular Democrat leader Francisco Sa Carneiro of trying to dictate party policy at the convention in central Aveiro. He was joined in the protest by three other well-known men identified with the party's left wing.

The walkout grew out of a dispute over Sa Carneiro's demands that the Communist party be ousted from the tripartite coalition government because of its role in the unsuccessful uprising. He sought to defuse the issue by softening his stance during the course of the congress, but was unsuccessful.

For Guerreiro, who headed the party for six months earlier this year, and his supporters said they considered this anti-Communist policy as only one element of a general swing to the right by the party.

The dissension over the Communist's future in the coalition has become the major focal point of politics in Portugal since the abortive uprising led by pro-Communist.

The Socialist — the nation's biggest party — have adopted the position that the Communists should publicly condemn the rebel officers and pledge their loyalty to the government, but have consistently supported that party's continuation in the coalition.

Communist leader Alvaro Cunuhal has remained steadfast against both arguments. He has refused to even acknowledge the Socialist proposition and countered Sa Carneiro's attacks by demanding that the Popular Democrats be thrown out of the government.

Arms flow halt sought

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — The World Council of Churches today urged the United States and the Soviet Union to halt all arms shipments to the Middle East — and to convene the Geneva peace conference with Palestinian participation.

"We are concerned at the continued escalation of military power in the area, which can only aggravate the threat to world peace," said a policy statement issued by the Council's fifth assembly.

The Geneva peace conference should be resumed shortly and "should necessarily involve all parties concerned" including the Palestinians," the statement said.

During lengthy debate on the resolution, the assembly accepted an amendment calling on the United States and Russia to stop all weapons shipments to the Middle East.

The statement said an "international consensus has emerged" calling for Israeli withdrawal from territories occupied in the 1967 war, the right of all states in the area to live in peace, and implementation of the Palestinians' right to self-determination.

The council called on all churches to "help promote mutual trust among the parties and develop a responsible involvement in a peaceful solution."

Conference sources also said the assembly will probably approve a strengthened program to combat racism, with funds channeled to liberation movements around the world.

Leader stricken

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Jayaprakash Narayan, India's most prominent opposition leader, suffered a heart attack in a Bombay hospital today, the Press Trust of India reported.

The news agency, quoting sources at Jaslok Hospital, said the 73-year-old Narayan had been placed in an intensive care unit following the attack. He was admitted to the hospital Nov. 22 for treatment of a kidney ailment.

Narayan, along with hundreds of opposition party leaders and workers, was arrested hours before Prime Minister Indira Gandhi declared a state of national emergency June 25.

The government gave him a conditional release from prison last month.

Smoker status check proposed

Editor's note: With the exception of Christmas Day, the Times-News appears on your doorstep every weekday and Sunday of the year. The only way it gets there is by the work of Times-News employees, including the editor.

Editor, Times-News:
As a non-smoker I appreciate the recent attention and regard given by both public and private officials to the non-smoker.

Not only were we at work on the day after Thanksgiving but on Thanksgiving Day itself, and the Fourth of July, and Labor Day.

I am sure that many smokers do not realize how distasteful it is to the non-smoker to be confined in close quarters with the smoke from the smoker. Likewise, I doubt that many of us non-smokers can imagine the "satisfaction" that comes to the smoker. To give both of us our fullest rights it becomes necessary to separate us in some situations.

Perhaps knowing that will relieve your pain.

There is one area I would suggest another separation and that is in our public and private hospitals. This thought was prompted by an experience I had this past week while helping an elderly neighbor of mine into the Jerome hospital. He is a non-smoker and was assigned to a room with a smoker.

You also gave his address and the kind of a house he lives in.

I asked the nurse if it was possible for him to be assigned to another room. She graciously responded and made the change. I appreciate her attitude.

Due to the large number of motesters of the elderly, the breaking in of the homes, I think it is so very detrimental to a person for their address and description of their home to be aired in the newspapers.

I wonder why it couldn't be a part of the admittance procedure to determine if the patient is a smoker or non-smoker and assign him to a companion that has similar habits. As a non-smoker I would appreciate this.

I hope this will be corrected from now on. ROSE HOSKINS Ketchum

Glass house for Idaho offices raises queries

BOISE (UPI) - Idaho's new, five-story office building in the Capitol Mall is partially closed in now and the mirror-like effect of its glass walls has raised some questions.
These include heat reflection on adjacent buildings, its own efficiency in cooling and heating and a possible glare effect on motorists.
D. E. Chilberg, whose Department of Administration is responsible for building construction, said the only problem that concerns him is the possible glare on State Street traffic.
"With respect to the energy efficiency of the building itself," he said, "the architects have assured me time and again it will be more efficient than conventional construction."
He said the glass walls, set in panels, are one inch thick and insulated. In addition, he said, there is further insulation under every other row of paneling.
"Most of our utility expense is in cooling rather than heating," Chilberg said. "The reflective quality of the glass is recognized as being about 75 per cent more efficient in reflecting heat from the building which we expect will result in greatly reduced cooling costs for the building."
Chilberg said shade trees between the new office building and the Statehouse itself will negate any significant heat-reflection on the Capitol. He said the Legislature's Building to its east does not have very much exposed area so the heat reflection problem there, too, should be minor.
The former Idaho Education Association Building between the Jordan Office Building and the Statehouse "will be torn down" this summer so the reflection should not be a problem there, either, he said.
But Chilberg said he is concerned about the possible glare problems on State Street traffic.
"I'm not sure there isn't a problem but if there is a problem I don't have the solution," he said. "That's a problem for the architects to address."
Chilberg said there were two principal reasons for utilizing the glass outer wall construction.
The building is three times larger than originally envisioned for that site and a conventional building of brick and concrete exterior would detract from the Capitol and the LBJ Building.
"It's immensely, would be overwhelming," he said.
With reflective glass "we are reflecting the beauty of the Capitol, the Jordan Office Building and St. Michael's Cathedral."
Being erected at a cost of approximately $5 million with State Insurance Fund reserves, the building will be amortized at $4.35 per square foot over a 20-year period with rent charged the agencies using it. Title then will go to the state.
The cost per square foot compares with $6.50 the agencies would have to pay in rent locally, he said.
Scheduled for completion by May 1 and occupancy July 1, the building is going up slightly ahead of schedule.
When completed it will be occupied by the Departments of Health and Welfare, Finance, Insurance, the Personnel Commission and the Law Enforcement Planning Commission.
Chilberg said his agency has not as yet determined the design for any future buildings in the mall but has asked three architects to submit ideas on design for two, 10-story office towers to be built east of the Jordan Building and the site of the old St. Alphonsus Hospital. He said the legislature has approved the first of the towers.

Extra job hours workday factor

Editor, Times-News:
As employees of one of the agencies concerned in your Sunday, November 1, editorial, we would like to take exception to some of the statements made.

The directors of many of these state and local departments are not always able to adhere to an 8 to 5 p.m. five-day week schedule. Have you inquired into how many times these people are involved in evening or weekend work? Certainly, if you are concerned about their time off, you should be concerned with the extra hours they are on the job.

As for employees taking annual leave, this is time earned, and most departments try to give it at the time requested by the employee. Also, in many departments the day after a holiday is slow and is the best time for annual leave to be taken.

For the most part, we believe employees of these agencies give a day's work for a day's pay and are more concerned with service than hours.

Editor, Times-News:
Idaho's current Democratic Senator Frank Church under a Republican administration, is making world headlines and being defied by the U.S. news media through his "exposures" of the same CIA which ran particularly rampant from 1961 through 1968, under Democratic administrations.

Perhaps a May 19, 1961 letter from Idaho's Republican Senator Henry Dworshak, then serving under a Democratic administration, may be revealing.
"I appreciate your letter of May 8 expressing your views that you believe the CIA should be investigated."
"As you may know, Dr. James R. Killian, Jr. of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been assigned by the State to head a board which will investigate our foreign intelligence activities.

"For several years I have been extremely critical of the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency, and tried unsuccessfully a few years ago to have the Appropriations Committee of the Senate, of which I am a member, make an investigation. I considered this essential because the CIA has the inherent weakness of operating without proper checks by the Congress. Its appropriations are approved with little, if any, consideration. Under such circumstances, it is inevitable there will be many abuses. It is extremely vital in these crucial times to have a most effective operation of CIA.

"Your views on this matter are appreciated.
During the 1960's many Americans were distressed at the reported conduct of certain government agencies and representatives, including the CIA, remembering Korea, Laos, etc., and were disturbed by unrest in the Caribbean and Latin America. Shortly before the assassination of Trujillo of the Dominican Republic on May 31, 1961, attributed to assistance from the CIA and other pressures in the U.S., they had read a Senate Committee Report which suggested: "For the good of America, would there were a Trujillo in every Latin American country!"

Idaho's Senator Church made no protest then, nor during the almost eight years of unrest to follow. In that area, Cambodia, or the Far East — under Democratic administrations. He did not protest the "assassination" of the Diems of Vietnam, at the time the finger of suspicion pointed to assistance from the U.S. and the CIA — and he was a signer of the Tonkin Gulf Resolution. But now, with his eyes focused on the Presidency, Idaho's Democratic Senator Church, serving under a Republican administration, sanctimoniously points to an agency which was suspect under Democratic administrations when Republicans were urging investigation.

Can it be that his motives are somewhat suspect, as he carefully "guides" his investigations? Could it be, even that in 1975 the CIA's abuse of powers years ago, had been sufficiently questioned to bring about correction; that today's pressures are designed to have the CIA and the FBI go the way of the Subversive Activities Control Board, the House Internal Security Committee, the Internal Division of the Justice Department, and the Attorney General's list of Subversive Organizations?

Our present Attorney General, Edward Levi, with his lurid and leftist record, elicited little confidence. J. Edgar Hoover is dead, and his image is under attack along with the agency in which we have all put so much trust for so long.

If the American people succumb to the pressures of the Church committee, then we shall have a complete agency of government functioning to protect the security of our country, internal or external.

Is Idaho's Senator Church so lustful for power in his key roles today in the United States Senate, as regards energy, water resources, and the CIA, that he will risk the internal security of the United States through his so-called "exposures", in order to advance himself and his political party in the eyes of the American voters?

CIA ran rampant under Demos, too

Nominee opinions queried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At least one Supreme Court Justice believes it is the Senate Judiciary Committee's duty to determine how John Paul Stevens stands on the issues facing the high court before confirming him to replace William O. Douglas.
The Justice is William H. Rehnquist, who faced some tough interrogation himself when he was confirmed in late 1971.

In an article published by the Harvard Law Record in 1959, Rehnquist then a lawyer in Phoenix, Ariz., said Supreme Court Justices often make law by interpreting the vaguely worded phrases of the Constitution.

"If greater judicial self-restraint is desired, or a different interpretation of the phrases 'due process of law' or 'equal protection of the laws,' then men sympathetic to such desires must sit upon the high court," Rehnquist said.

"The only way for the Senate to learn of these sympathies is to inquire of men on their way to the Supreme Court something of their views on these questions."

The most compelling question Stevens may be asked is his stand on capital punishment. The Supreme Court has postponed a new ruling on abolishing the death penalty until it reaches its full complement of nine justices.

Other issues involve the rights of women, whether traditional society systems must be modified to keep minorities from being the first fired, abortion laws and whether private schools must admit blacks.

Legal experts have conflicting opinions on the propriety of asking a Supreme Court nominee to commit himself in advance as to how he might vote on issues facing the court.

Some contend it is unfair to ask a nominee how he might vote before he actually is confronted with the cases. A staff member recalled that in the past senators have asked high court candidates how they might vote on an issue but rarely got a straight answer. He said: "It makes sense because no nominee wants to put himself in a corner."

The Senate's confirmation role is required by the Constitution. According to the constitutional debates, the Founding Fathers were afraid of unchecked appointive power by the President.

Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., a member of the Judiciary Committee, recently pointed out that Supreme Court nominees were rejected frequently in the 19th century, and one out of five had been turned down since the nation was founded.

"There have been far fewer rejections in this century," Abourezk said, although one nomination, submitted by President Herbert Hoover was turned down and two of Richard Nixon's nominees were rejected.

Harris leads vote at Eastern liberal session

By United Press International
Liberal Democrats in New York and Massachusetts held conventions to endorse a presidential candidate this weekend and got nowhere.

But Fred Harris, who did well though not well enough to win, may have won more respect for his candidacy.

In both conventions, no one got enough votes to win an endorsement. Harris, former Oklahoma senator and former party chairman who espouses a "populist" viewpoint, was the most consistent vote getter.

President Ford will prove his vote-getting ability on a wider scale than he did in his last election in Michigan's 5th District, says his campaign manager, Howard "Bo" Callaway, head of the President Ford Committee, said Sunday Ford would win the first three major primaries.

He said Ronald Reagan is waging a "two-state" campaign, pinning his hopes on doing well in New Hampshire and Florida.

But Callaway predicted flatly Ford will beat the former California governor in those two states plus Illinois, thus defeating Reagan in his three best states, with Ford strongholds to follow.

Callaway, appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," also said Ford would be wise politically to veto the tax cut, energy and common situs picketing bills now before Congress.

The New York New Democratic Coalition, whose 1972 endorsement helped George McGovern win the nomination, met Saturday and after five hours of talking failed to endorse a candidate. A 60 per cent vote was needed, and Sen. Birch Bayh came within a single vote, at 59.99 per cent, of winning the prize.

It was the opposition of forces backing Harris and Rep. Morris Udall that kept Bayh from winning. Harris was second in New York with 30.2 per cent.

Both, however, got only 4.4 per cent at Sunday's four-ballot meeting of the Massachusetts Citizens for Participation in Political Action. Harris won the highest vote total among the candidates, 38.7 per cent, but that was far short of the two-thirds needed for endorsement.

Udall was second in the Massachusetts balloting with 25.7 per cent, followed, surprisingly, by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, with 23.7. "The two meetings were the last of their kind before actual delegate selection begins in Iowa in mid-January and were considered important because they came in states with large populations and liberal voting trends.

New York, which has long been considered a top prize by all candidates in both parties because of its large number of delegates, said its placement on the primary calendar.

But recent developments indicate that most of the New York delegates will be controlled not by any of the candidates but by George Wallace, appearing in the Democratic and Vice President Nixon Rockefeller for the Republicans.

Each has begun maneuvering to field and win uncontested delegate slates.

In other developments: — Alabama Gov. George Wallace, appearing in support of separation of church and state, but the founders of this country, of this republic, never did intend a separation of God and state, and that's entirely different." He was speaking on behalf of prayer in schools.

Ford defends trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford today defended his trip to Asia at a time of pressing domestic problems.

Speaking with reporters aboard Air Force One, Ford said he put in "a good many hours" on domestic matters during his trip to China, Indonesia and the Philippines. He said he spent a lot of time reviewing next year's proposed budget and legislation now before Congress.

He refused to say whether he would sign the compromise energy bill, a decision aides have said would be a "close call."

Ford said it was "mandatory" that he make the trip because the Peking talks could have been held only at the highest level.

"I think the discussion we had in Peking was mandatory at my level and discussions with Indonesian President Suharto and others could only have been carried out at that level," he said.

Newspaper heir stabbed fatally in robbery-try

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — What began as a quiet evening with three friends ended in the beheading and fatal stabbing of John S. Knight III, heir to the Knight newspaper empire, at the hands of unidentified assailants, police said today.

Knight was killed in his downtown apartment early Sunday and two of the friends were bound and gagged, officers said. The third guest she left the apartment earlier.

Police said they were searching for three white men, all in their 20s, who apparently killed Knight in a robbery attempt.

The assailants were described by a house guest, Rosemary McKinnon, who was stabbed when she tried to rescue McKinnon, told police she and her husband, John, were asleep in a guest room when she was awakened by noise in another room.

She said she found three men had entered the expensively adorned apartment, Knight, who was slumped and McKinnon were bound and the apartment was ransacked. It was not known what was taken.

"There was no sign of forced entry to the blood-spattered apartment, police said.

Joseph Golden, chief of detectives, said Knight, special projects director for the Philadelphia Daily News, a member of the Knight-Ridder newspaper group, apparently was killed about 2:30 a.m. MST. He was found in a bedroom bound and fully clothed. His body was mutilated with multiple stab wounds.

A friend of Knight, who declined to be identified, said she was with Knight and the McKinnons, of New Haven, Conn., earlier but left at midnight.

"All was fine when I left," she said.

Golden said police were not notified of the slaying until shortly before 6 a.m. MST when Mrs. McKinnon contacted a guard at the fashionable high-rise building.

"Mrs. McKinnon somehow made it down the elevator and notified police," Golden said. "She was stabbed in the hand."

Knight, only grandson of John S. Knight, founder of the Knight newspapers, was a cum laude graduate of Harvard.

Disaster area named

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Ford has declared Hawaii a major disaster area because of the Nov. 29 earthquake that caused seismic sea waves and volcanic action with extensive property damage.

Ford's declaration, made on his arrival in the island state en route home from a week-long Asian tour Sunday, will allow the use of federal funds for relief and recovery efforts in the designated areas of the state.

FTC rules Turner scheme not legal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission ruled today that promoter Glenn Turner and his colleagues engaged in an illegal cosmetics marketing scheme that cost persons involved in it up to $44 million.

The agency said it would not order restitution for those victimized because the company, Koscot International Inc., of Orlando, Fla., is in bankruptcy and Turner and his associates claim to be broke.

It did, however, leave the door open for consumers to seek possible redress later on.

The record reveals a staggering human toll — money borrowed, jobs quit, homes mortgaged, and even personal bankruptcy for some who dared to be great," the agency said in an opinion written by Commissioner Paul Rand Dixon.

Turner promoted his services with the slogan, "dare to be great."

Dixon wrote that he regretted authorities moved so slowly on the case in which he said an FTC official "estimated that $44 million was taken from consumers and no more than a fraction of that

House Democrats attack synthetic fuel research

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several House Democrats have attacked an energy bill they contend will result in a billion giveaway to major oil companies.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., was among others who try to lead a bill to fund the Energy Research and Development Administration because a House-Senate conference committee tacked on a $6 billion loan guarantee program for synthetic fuel development.

Dingell said there were no hearings on the conference committee action. But a Senate committee official said there were extensive hearings on the proposal in the House before it went to conference.

The bill started out as a $5 billion authorization for ERDA for the new agency that coordinates federal energy research.

But the Senate added the loan guarantee provision and the House members of the joint conference committee accepted it. The money is for guarantees to encourage industry to build plants for synthetic fuels from materials such as shale and coal.

"Who are the chief beneficiaries of this $6 billion giveaway?" Dingell asked in a statement, and answered himself: "None other than those great and benevolent giants of our energy supply industry — the oil and natural gas pipeline companies.

"Those wonderful, consumer-oriented bastions of free enterprise are seeking a $6 billion handout from the public treasury to finance ventures they find too risky to finance for themselves out of corporate assets," he said.

Senate Interior Committee staffer Dan Dreyfus said the charge that the bill is "ridiculous." He said that after the Senate passed the bill in July and long before it went to conference the House Science Committee held hearings in Washington and elsewhere.

"The only thing they (opponents) can make a claim for is that the House never had an opportunity to vote" on the loan guarantee provision. He said it is standard procedure for one part of a bill passed in one house but not the other to be added to the conference version and passed by both houses without new hearings.

Dreyfus said the loan guarantees are needed to encourage construction of synthetic fuel plants "to find out if they work."

Major issues face Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With Federal aid to New York City now on the verge of finally, there remain several major issues in dispute between Congress and President Ford that raise the prospect of holiday season votes.

They are: — A $45 billion appropriations bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Labor. It is roughly $1 billion more than the administration asks for and it faces veto.

A comprehensive tax revision package, which continues the $12 billion personal income tax reduction due to expire Jan. 1, has cleared the House. Ford said he would veto it unless the bill carries a spending ceiling. A compromise might be worked out in the Senate, extending the cuts for three months and setting off a permanent package, coupled with a spending ceiling, until spring.

An $8.6 billion program to rebuild bankrupt railroads in Pennsylvania and the Burlington-Boston rail line has been approved by the Senate. Ford has agreed to veto the bill and Congress into special session during the holidays.

unless it is scaled down. The House may come in with a smaller version, which the Senate might accept and avoid the veto.

A comprehensive energy package, waiting for final clearance in the Senate and House, which faces a possible veto.

Before adjourning, Congress also must give final approval to the Defense, Interior, Public Works, and supplemental appropriations bills. Foreign aid and District of Columbia appropriations bills have been put off until next year.

A number of bills are close to final passage but may be put off because of the adjournment crunch. They include legislation to provide natural gas for areas facing shortages, authority to siphon military oil reserves for civilian use, a public works employment program.

Grand jury to hear testimony on Hoffa abduction

Chicago Daily News

DETROIT — A federal grand jury will start this week whether an eyewitness to the abduction of former teamster president James R. Hoffa identified any of the three men who allegedly took part in the kidnapping last July.

The three are either employees or officials of a New Jersey-union local and all, according to law enforcement sources, have underworld ties. They are Gabriel Briguglio, his brother Salvatore and Thomas Andreotta.

If the eyewitness recognized any of the three, that information was "written on a small white card which was then sealed pending its presentation to the grand jury. It is not known if federal authorities are aware of the outcome of the lineup held in a heavily guarded, Oakland County Jail in Pontiac, 25 miles north of Detroit.

The three were ordered to appear for the lineup by a federal court judge last week after they balked at a grand jury's request that they stand for a lineup.

Federal officials said the three "tried to walk out of the lineup Saturday and were arrested for failing to comply with a court order, a technical charge that allowed authorities to hold them until the session was complete.

Those charges were expected to be dismissed today. Meanwhile authorities were continuing to focus their investigation into Hoffa's baffling disappearance in three related areas.

They are the New Jersey teamsters local where the three suspects work; the local's former president Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano, who Hoffa thought he was going to meet the day he vanished; and a New Jersey dump where a government informant says Hoffa may be buried.

reports from there indicate officials would begin digging in the refuse mound today.

Among the several theories FBI investigators are working on is one that involves Hoffa being killed in Michigan and his body shipped to New Jersey in a metal drum for disposal.

There were also reports over the weekend that Hoffa and Provenzano had two fights in the last few years, one of them allegedly resulting in a "contract" being put out on Hoffa's head.

Almost two years ago Hoffa and Provenzano "punched it out" in a Miami hotel, according to a copyrighted story in The Detroit News. The fight ended with Hoffa, who had a reputation as a tough guy, breaking a bottle over Provenzano's head.

After the fight, The News reported, Provenzano allegedly put out a contract on Hoffa's life but it was cancelled by one of Provenzano's relatives, Anthony (Tony) Jacki Giacalone, a reputed Detroit underworld kingpin. Giacalone, instead, attempted to mediate the dispute.

Anti-inflation plan proposed for elderly

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, says federal legislation is needed to tie the fixed incomes of the elderly to the cost-of-living index.

"People on fixed incomes have been hit hardest by inflation and a lot of things elderly people need are not covered by programs that they're on," the chairman of the Senate's Special Committee on Aging said during hearings here Saturday.

"Periodic adjustments need to be made that reflect the needs of these people," he said.

Sen. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., who also attended the Cancer cause cited

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The three American winners of the 1975 Nobel Prize in Medicine today blamed outside environmental factors for causing up to 80 per cent of cancer in human beings.

About half of the cancer from these factors could be eliminated, but the population appears to turn its back on expert advice, they said. The three researchers said the most prominent outside cancer-causing factor was cigarette smoking.

David Baltimore, Howard M. Temin and Renato Dulbecco won this year's prize for their "discoveries concerning the interaction between tumor viruses and the genetic material of the cell."

Appearing at a news conference prior to the Nobel Prize awarding ceremonies Dec. 10, Temin, of the University of Wisconsin, said, "Well over half or up to 80 per cent of cancer in human beings is caused by things in the environment. The first thing is to recognize them and the second is to remove them. It has been estimated that about 30 per cent of these cancers could be prevented."

Baltimore, from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said even if these factors are identified, he doubted if the population would heed the advice of the experts.

"People still smoke," he said. "The number of youngsters smoking is appalling."

Baltimore said some cancers are caused by high fat content in food and to warn people of the risks they are running "is just not going to work to get them to avoid these things."

Legislation backed

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Commission on Women's Programs has endorsed legislation to be introduced in the Idaho Legislature to change the state's divorce and rape laws.

"These are very distressing statistics and clearly deserve our attention," Brock said. "In my judgment, inflation is the most pernicious social evil of our time. The impact on our elderly citizens is particularly severe."

Flights canceled

BOISE (UPI) — All United Air Lines flights in and out of Boise have been canceled at least through today due to the strike by members of the International Association of Machinists.

Negotiations on a new wage contract are continuing today after the strike Friday night grounded 2,800 United Air Lines flights nationwide over the weekend. A spokesman in the Boise office said they're working on a day-to-day basis until the strike is over.

Travelers are being switched to other airlines, such as Al Northwest, or advised to defer their trips if at all possible. Meanwhile, hundreds of travelers were forced to change their plans Saturday and Sunday after the strike was called.

The proposed legislation also would change the "test of divorce" in Idaho's law to "dissolution of marriage" or "legal separation." Parties involved would be called "spouses" instead of "husband" and "wife."

The rape law legislation endorsed by the commission is similar to a bill introduced in the 1975 session of the legislature which also was recommended by the women's commission.

The commission also voted to:

- Condemn "any practice in an education institution or agency which fails to provide equal opportunity to males and females for participation in school-sponsored activities without an undue or unequal financial burden."
- Submit a petition to the Public Utilities Commission asking for a public hearing on changing regulations to allow telephone book listings of both spouses' names as a single listing with no additional charge. A statewide petition drive to support the action will be undertaken during the next two months.
- Write Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, asking for his specific objections to Title IX educational requirements.

Nominees listed

BOISE (UPI) — Four nominations for the vacant judge's seat in Fourth Judicial District were forwarded to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Saturday by the Idaho Judicial Council.

Idaho Supreme Court Justice Henry F. McQuade, the council's ex-officio chairman, identified the four as Boise attorney Jim Christiansen; Mountain Home lawyer-magistrate Robert Melton; Boise lawyer-magistrate Gerald Frank Schroeder; and Boise attorney Jesse Raymond Walters Jr.

Sierra Life has demanded the headline be retracted. The Times-News agrees the original headline should have used the term "statutorily insolvent" to avoid any possible misinterpretation.

Attorney for Sierra Life, Gomer A. Davis, Boise, said Tuesday the headline should have been written to show the average persons who would read that headline that Sierra Life is not insolvent under the common, ordinary sense that everybody reads "insolvent," and hereby retracts the original headline.

Sierra Life's attorney also said that Sierra had no question about the news report beneath the original headline:

and noted that it had been run verbatim in other Idaho newspapers, including the Idaho Daily Statesman.

Since then, Wyoming insurance officials twice attempted to suspend the company's license to sell insurance in the state, and twice the courts have blocked the suspension.

Last week, a Wyoming District Court Judge, Joseph Maier, stayed an order by Wyoming Insurance Commissioner John Langdon suspending Sierra's license to sell insurance.

Judge Maier said the temporary delay was intended to give him time to consider the constitutionality of such a suspension prior to a hearing on the matter. A hearing on the

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 24-year-old daughter, Phyllis, is getting married, and her plans are unbelievable. In the first place, Phyllis and Rick have been living together for two years and they have a 10-month-old baby. Phyllis wants to walk down the aisle with the baby in her arms and Rick by her side!

Phyllis' father and I have been divorced for 14 years, but Phyllis wants us to walk down the aisle together. Then she says my present husband and her father's present wife should be a "couple" to walk down the aisle together. (Have you ever heard of anything so insane?)

The wedding will be held in church and the kids are paying for everything. Phyllis and Rick wrote their own vows, and they, along with the pastor, approved all these plans. Do you believe it?

This wedding should take place in a zoo—not a church. I am happy that Phyllis is finally going to marry Rick, but do you think I should take part in this farce, or should I stay home with a migraine headache?

MOTHER-OF-THE-BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: Unconventional as the wedding may seem, it's the bride's day, and she may do things her way. Please don't get a migraine. Your daughter needs you, and you'd be missing one of the most unorthodox weddings of all time.

DEAR ABBY: This past year, my husband and I have entertained three couples for dinner in our home. Upon leaving, all have said, "We will have to have you over soon."

Well, "soon" never came with any of them. I was accidentally run into them somewhere, they say. "We've been meaning to call you..."

Abby, these three couples get together often. We know because we see their cars parked in front of the homes of one or the other. However, none of them has made an effort to see me.

My husband says that I am foolish to stand on ceremonies—that as long as we enjoy their company (and I do) I should invite them back.

I think these invitations without being invited back is enough. I'd like your opinion.

ALWAYS THE HOSTESS

DEAR ALWAYS: I'm with you. One for one is the proper ratio, but two for none should be the absolute limit.

DEAR ABBY: Eleven years ago, when my son was 10 years old, I was financially unable to care for him so I placed him in a home where I knew he would be properly cared for. I had no choice, Abby.

Now he is 16, and when he visits me, he makes demands, uses abusive language and treats me in a most cruel and insulting manner.

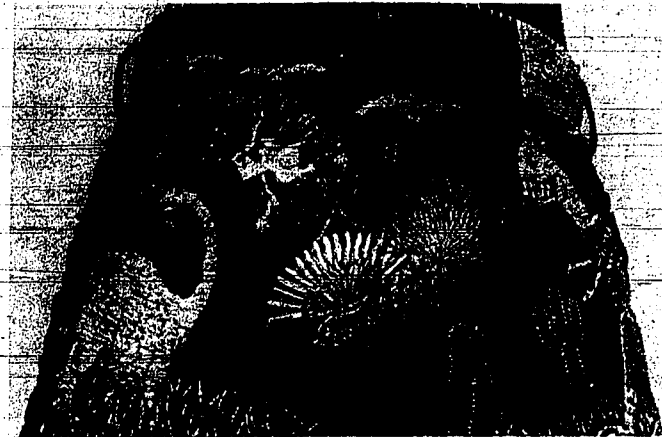

I feel that this is his way of punishing me for having put him in a home.

What is the best way to cope with this situation? I don't appreciate this type of treatment from my own son. Thank you.

ABUSED

DEAR ABUSED: If you can't make him understand that you placed him in a home because you thought it would be best for him, perhaps a clergyman or counselor can. Your son desperately needs to be assured that he was loved—not abandoned.

LAST CALL FOR EXERCISE

By Mary Sue Miller

Tight faces, sharp voices, exasperated gestures begin to appear on the scene as women lighten up from the increased pressure at this time of year.

When you can't walk away from it mentally, take an outdoor walk. Give 15 minutes of your day to any sort of exercise. You city girls, for instance, get out of the bus habit. Walk those 10 short blocks you once rode. In locales where fares have gone up, people have made a saving by walking and, to their surprise, find it salutary.

Biking is also recommended. Only a deluge of snow should keep you from a ride. Swimming, indoors or out, depending on your climate, provides first-rate workouts. Swimming facilities are available in most areas these days. Tennis, too, is becoming an indoor-outdoor sport.

Whatever you decide on, do allow sufficient time for workouts. Give at least two half-hour periods each week to swimming or biking, play two or three sets of tennis, walk daily. We have not mentioned lucky, good-climate golfers. Eighteen holes weekly is the minimum.

Mysterious plants

MIAMI (UPI)—They stood tall and healthy among the other plants growing in the nursery at Miami Agricultural School. After all, they were receiving the best of care, including regular watering by automatic sprinklers.

And although nearly all of the 471 students in the school knew it was growing there, school administrators didn't know about the 176 marijuana plants until Tuesday.

Jim: "The rest of the bidding is worth study. North shows his diamond ace and second-round heart control after South cue-bids in that suit. South's six-club bid is an attempt to get North to show second-round diamond control, but North just bids six spades."

Oswald: "Six makes easily and the partnership has kept out of the impossible grand slam."

ASK THE EXPERTS

A Florida reader wants to know the worst bid made in a slam auction.

There was no particular worst bid, but one player went through a series of complicated bidding maneuvers when he could have simply raised his partner's suit. It was failure to use "KISS" (Keep It Simple Stupid) that led to the trouble.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "We have been getting so many questions about the standard American forcing two bid that we might well discuss that bid."

Oswald: "The great advantage of that bid is that it is so nice when you get one."

Jim: "There are three general requirements: The first is a hand that will make or almost make game by itself. The second is slam possibilities and the third is enough high-card strength so that you fear a one bid may be passed out."

Officer is 'amazed' by decision

PARROT, Tenn. (UPI)—Ailing Maj. Richard Wall, an 18-year-career officer, faced with early discharge and reduced retirement benefits before the Army reversed itself Friday, says he's stunned by the decision.

"I'm really amazed by the Army's decision," said Wall, 40, who doctors say may have cancer. "But I feel just great."

"I don't have any complaints about the Army itself," he said. "The problem is with the people at the upper end of the chain."

Wall was one of 2,500 officers passed over twice for promotion and tagged earlier this year for involuntary discharge in an effort to reduce the number of officers in service.

He said he was unhappy about being forced out before earning full 20-year retirement benefits.

Then he learned that his kidney ailment might be cancerous and was doubly disappointed by the prospect of losing full retirement pay plus medical coverage and commissary privileges.

Under existing diagnostic tests at Brooke Army Medical Center at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., when he was told Wednesday he would be discharged immediately, just hours before his 18th anniversary in service.

Shortly after being told he would be discharged, Wall left Ft. Sam Houston to visit his aunt and uncle. Mr. and Mrs. E. Lynn Foster, and to take his ailing uncle to Paducah, Ky., to see a doctor.

He could not be found for several hours after the announcement and there was speculation he was looking contact with Army officials in an effort to thwart involuntary retirement.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
My husband and I have been trying to have a child for three years. My husband's sperm count showed about 80 million, but the motility is only 30 per cent. What does this mean and what can be done about it?

Is it possible to become pregnant with these kinds of readings? — Mrs. R. T.
The 80 million reading (80 million sperm per milliliter of seminal fluid) is within normal range. The motility (the percentage of viable sperm) while on the low side, should not be a bar to conception. Pregnancy has occurred with much lower readings than the ones you report. Motility refers to the ability of the sperm to migrate to the waiting ovum, so the odds are reduced somewhat.

Thyroid deficiency on your part can be a factor, and thyroid therapy has been helpful in improving things. An endocrinologist (a gland specialist) could advise you further.

problem can lead to serious complications, as an obstruction of the bowel at this point. That would be accompanied by pain and bowel disorder generally.

A peculiarity of this problem is that it can begin with an attack, then subside, often with no symptoms evident for years. And early symptoms can mimic appendicitis. This section of the intestine is located close to the appendix.
Diagnosis is by X-ray. With prompt diagnosis, conservative treatment is usually effective, and this can include rest, special diet and medication to reduce excessive bowel activity or to combat whatever infection is present. A low residue diet is usually prescribed.

Because of the sensitivity of the problem, surgery to remove the affected bowel section is reserved for those patients in whom conservative methods are ineffective.

About half the cases of regional ileitis occur in persons from 20 to 30 years old.

Couple waits three years

Barring such disorders as glandular malfunction, other problems such as a physical barrier in the sperm's pathway, can be involved. You do not mention your own status in all of this.

All things being equal (as far as you are concerned) there are steps you can take to increase the chances of impregnation. You might try remaining in a reclining position an hour or two after intercourse. You and your husband should avoid frequent intercourse, concentrating chiefly on the time of your ovulation (mid-cycle). Determining the time of ovulation as closely as possible would be helpful.

Lately on artificial insemination with your husband's sperm is another possibility to consider.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Do you have any information you can give me on ileitis? I have had this diagnosed, and I am told it is in the last 18 inches of my small intestine. — Mrs. C. H. A.

The facts given in your letter indicate what is called "regional ileitis," an inflammation within the last foot or two of the ileum, the ileum being the final portion of the small intestine before it joins the large intestine. So it is in a rather delicate location.

But you have not told me enough in your letter. Your age and the severity of the inflammation would be important, as would the specific infecting organism. Untreated, the

Your physician may advise you to take an extended vacation in order to rest completely. If you can, follow this advice. The rest can repay rich dividends in such a problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
My grandchild has whitish tongue. We used to call this "coated tongue," and I was told this was a sign of stomach upset. Kindly tell me just what it means and what condition it indicates. What is the best treatment for it?
— B. A.

It's still a good name for it, but it doesn't indicate a stomach disorder. In the absence of other symptoms, such as pain, sore throat, fever, reddened pharynx, or other lesions, the coating is nothing more than a result of extra large papillae, which are normal tongue structures. Debris can settle between these papillae and give the whitish appearance.
No treatment would be necessary.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Newspaper editor flag Murphy Friday said an appeals court decision reversing the conviction of the man who kidnaped him last year was "a laughable decision" made without consideration of "guilt or innocence."

Comedian's home $125,000 'lemon'

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Actor and comedian Geoffrey Cambridge knew something was wrong when his foot went through the living room floor of his $125,000 home.

Cambridge became more than concerned when he peeped through the rotting floor and found that his just-purchased Ridgfield home did not have the full basement as advertised.

Cambridge said the repair expenses have gone for "luxuries such as heat and water."

Children of slums hit by death toll

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — Summer heat and poverty are beginning to take their annual death toll in Brazil, and as before the victims of dehydration are the most innocent — the children of the slums.

The heat of the southern hemisphere summer has just begun in Brazil and the children already are suffering.

The primary cause of the dehydration is the sun which usually the body fluids. Under healthy circumstances that water could simply be replaced.

But the children who live in the slums of Rio, Nova Iguaçu and Sao Paulo don't live under healthy conditions.

Diarrhea, which frequently develops as a natural result of the insufficient diet of the poor, aggravates the dehydration and the combination is one of the major causes of fatalities.

The water that is available near most slums is contaminated and causes diarrhea.

political kidnaping was to be "a lesson for the leftist, liberal press in America."

Upon his release, Murphy wrote a widely circulated 4,000 word story detailing his experience at the hands of his kidnaper.

In reversing the 30-year conviction given Williams in an Atlanta court, the appeals court ruled pretrial publicity and the prosecutor's inflammatory closing arguments made it impossible for Williams to receive a fair trial.

"Juries keep convicting obvious thugs and criminals and courts on the slimmest legal technicalities keep overturning those convictions without any consideration of guilt," Murphy said in an interview before his 30-minute speech. "It is a laughable decision."

'Geologic footrace' on in NE Washington

NEWPORT, Wash. (UPI) — A geologic footrace is going on in northeastern Washington and the stakes are high: an estimated eight million tons of uranium to feed fuel-hungry nuclear plants that will number 230 in the next 20 years.

Seven major oil companies and half a dozen foreign companies as well as smaller, local firms are tying up exploration leases and making core drillings while geologists are wading through ancient meisters' maps looking for clues as to where the radioactive "yellowcake" can be found.

There are now 50 operating nuclear plants nationwide and at the current rate of construction, most experts agree domestic deposits of high grade uranium will last until the early 1980's.

Other big name prospectors include Exxon, Getty Oil, Continental Oil, Burlington Northern and Western Nuclear, Inc. Exxon, currently the fifth largest uranium producer, has had geologists on the scene in the Newport area near the Idaho border since last summer.

Bar's songs barbed

CHICAGO (UPI) — To the tune of "I Gotta Be Me," a make-believe Betty Ford sings: My son may try pot, I won't really care, I'm not surprised when Susan has her affair, A woman, you see, His gotta be free.

It is all part of the Chicago Bar Association's annual Christmas Spirits review which debuts Monday under the title of "Laws."

Some '80 lawyers sing and sink their collective teeth into Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, Illinois Gov. Daniel Walker, the late FBI director J. Edgar Hoover and Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, all in the interests of satire.

J. Edgar Hoover's song is long to the tune of "Getting To Know You."

Getting to know you Getting to read every letter And even better Getting to hear what you say: Haven't you noticed? Suddenly there's heavy breathing Each time we hear some Beautiful and new Dirt for Using against you Day by day.

The show ends with "Happy Birthday America," a giant birthday cake which explodes.

'Super-scooper' replaces diapers

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — Historic Charleston has given up on the idea of putting diapers on its carriage horses and has arranged for a speedy super-scooper instead.

The issue of horses leaving their droppings on the streets arose last month when one influential citizen called the mayor and demanded he do something about the growing, noxious pile of horse manure that was collecting in front of her home.

At the next City Council meeting, Councilman Joseph McGee introduced a resolution to require the city's carriage drivers, who make a living hauling tourists around the 300-year-old city, to clean up after their horses.

But David Fuller, the first carriage driver arrested under the new ordinance, dug in his heels and refused to comply.

Friday, the city agreed not to enforce the new pollution ordinance, but on condition that the streets are kept clean.

The carriage owners said they had worked out an arrangement whereby they will equip their carriages with two-way radars and when there is the need, they will radio for a clean-up man.

The clean-up man will speed to the scene on a motorcycle and will immediately tend to the chore.

A good, speedy scooper, drivers believe, can have the job done in 10 minutes.

Fuller more time to arrange a defense.

Boisean raises NY fund

BOISE (UPI) — "My love affair with New York is going to continue for a long time," predicts Shirley Greer Clark of Boise, Idaho, who has instituted a number of garage sales nationwide today to raise money for the financially beleaguered city.

Her own New York fund-raising garage sale is going well, she commented. She and her husband, who own an antique shop in Boise, donated most of the items themselves, although many came from other Idahoans.

"We have hundreds of dollars worth of stuff here, most of it our own," she said. "People have been very cooperative. One man drove about 100 miles to get here. We've had so many people I haven't been able to keep track of them all."

"The sale is being conducted at 1614 Broadway Avenue and 2307 Illinois, the Clarks' shop, in Boise. We usually stay open as long as we have customers and merchandise," Mrs. Clark said. She urged people to call her at 344-0224 if they wanted to drop by and buy something.

Her fund-raising efforts on behalf of New York began earlier this year with a donation of $10 sent to Mayor Abe Beame. The Clarks also plan to donate 20 per cent of their profit this week to the city.

"After her efforts were publicized, Mrs. Clark said she received letters from New Yorkers as well as people from all over the country some of whom wanted to help and others who opposed the idea. She welcomes both kinds of letters."

"I appreciate people writing to let me know their feelings, even the ones against it," she said. "Public input is what we want."

She said she had no idea how many other garage sales were being conducted today on behalf of New York, but she had printed up 1,000 brochures describing how to run a garage sale and distributed many of them.

"I am not a professional fund raiser," she said. "My husband and I have taught school for many years" and now run the antique shop.

But Mrs. Clark said she became concerned about comments suggesting New York should handle its problems alone. Even though she has only visited the city for one weekend a year ago, "I am in love with New York City," she commented. "The first love affair I've had with anyone besides my husband."

FBI memo reveals dirty tricks failed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI Friday revealed it used dirty tricks for two years in the 1960s to try to provoke a fight between the Communist Party U.S.A. and the Mafia, but the whole effort flopped.

The saga of project "Hoodwink," as the FBI called it, unfolded in records of the late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's use of phony letters and other tricks to disrupt organizations he considered to be security threats.

A memo dated Oct. 4, 1966, proposed a long range effort to turn the Communist Party U.S.A. against the La Cosa Nostra so "both groups would spend their time, energies and money attacking each other." Hoover approved it the next day.

But for two years spurious letters to LCN members and labor groups got no visible results. Fake communist pamphlets attracted no attention. Letters to the editor of The Worker, a Communist Party publication, were not printed.

On July 31, 1968, the FBI abolished Hoodwink in a memo that said none of the efforts had "produced substantial results." The communists and the Mafia were still ignoring each other.

Ask A Chiropractor

You may want chiropractic care for that "on-the-job" injury or for the after-effects of that accident.

Did you know that all major insurance companies recognize chiropractic under basic plans—and under major medical and comprehensive medical insurance plans. You may be overlooking some vital aspects of the accident and injury coverage to which you are entitled.

All states now include chiropractic care as a part of the workmen's compensation program. Chiropractic care is available if you desire it.

Acceptance of the science of chiropractic of official government agencies and by major insurance companies proves to an even greater degree that the science is gaining wide recognition by producing results.

New Soviet policy may stabilize prices

By BERNARD BRENNER
UPI Farm Editor.
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A little-noticed change in Soviet policy may contribute substantially to stabilizing world grain and food prices...

embarked on a program of building grain storage facilities, which will enable them — for the first time — to carry major reserve stocks.
'We think the Russians have decided to carry their own reserves. We think they are building storage capability for 3 million tons,' the Agriculture Secretary told newsmen here recently.

If the Soviets are able to build a substantial reserve, Buz and other experts believe it would serve as a shock absorber for world grain markets. Working in connection with the recent Soviet-American grain deal under which Russia is permitted to buy at least 6 million tons of American corn and wheat annually, regardless of the size of its own harvests...

As a result of those policies, the burden of dealing with the impact of short crops was dumped on farmers and consumers in the United States and a number of other countries, including developing nations, Johnson pointed out.
The Chicago economist noted that American farmers, reacting to a high price, reduced their use of livestock feed grains in the 1974-75 season by 34 million tons below the previous year, while Europe and Russia made little or no reduction in grain usage.

D. Gale Johnson, head of the University of Chicago economic department, said the primary cause of world food crisis scares in the early 1970's was a policy of 'greed' in Europe and the Soviet Union — not a shortage of supply.

TF extension advisory council elects Kelley

TWIN FALLS — Richard Kelley, fruit grower from the Buhl-Filer area, was elected president of the Twin Falls County Extension Advisory Council at the annual meeting at the College of Stillinger Idaho Thursday.
Kelley replaces Duane Ramseyer, who has served in the office for two years. Terry Holtfield, Adams, was elected vice president replacing Gary Grindstaff, Buhl, and Mrs. C. J. Boss, Hollister, was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Roy Jessor, Kimberly.

Mrs. William Dougherty, Filer, who has been coordinator of the Expanded Food and Nutrition program until July 1st, reported on this program which is an educational program in nutrition with low-income families. This program has since been changed to a three-county program and is coordinated on a district level by Mrs. Sharon Allred.

Others and are planning others for next year.
Hazen reported that the 4-H program consists of about 500 4-H members completing about 150 projects. These members are supervised by about 160 volunteer leaders and Junior Leaders. Hazen said in the near future a half-time paraprofessional aide would be hired to work on expanding volunteer efforts.
Youtz reported on the agricultural program, educational programs.

Burros' grazing harming desert animal habitat

RIDGECREST, Calif. (UPI) — Wild burros in the California desert are eating other animals out of their natural habitat, the National Advisory Board on Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros was told Friday.

The board, which is concerned with wild horses and burros in the southwestern United States, held a public meeting at the China Lake Naval Weapons Center near Ridgecrest to gather information on the problem created by the burro population in the California desert, which covers about 25 million acres.

Scientists, conservation groups and individuals asked for immediate action to reduce the number of burros, which eat up the plant life that native animals in the desert depend on to survive.

Conservation organizations represented at the meeting included the Sierra Club, Desert Protective Council, California Wildlife Federation, National Wildlife Federation, Sportsmen Council of Central California, Desert Bighorn Council and Animal Protection Institute.

Public grazing meet set Dec. 15

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association will meet at 1 p.m. Dec. 15 to discuss livestock grazing of public lands.
The meeting will be in the Twin Falls Livestock Commission Co. sales arena and will feature a seven-member panel which will discuss the policies, problems and issues, present and future, according to C. J. Boss, association president.
Speakers will include Nick Cozakes, district manager of the Bureau of Land Management, Burley District; Joe Grogan, director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department; Ed Fournier, forest supervisor of the primary concern of the groups was the desert bighorn sheep, a rare and native species.

The board was told that the burro was brought West during the Gold Rush to be used for labor and abandoned when the miners left. It has since taken up residence in the desert and is competing with the natural wildlife for the sparse food available in the desert.

Other animals endangered by the burros are the desert tortoise and various desert rodents.
A spokesman for the National Parks Service said in the Bannock National Monument near Mexico, the burros overgrazed the sparse vegetation and destroyed overland, causing a 70,000 pound loss of soil per acre.

Actual "shortfalls" in production were not big enough to have sent major shock waves through world food markets if Soviet and European governments had not insisted on keeping grain consumption high by controlling domestic grain prices at comparatively low levels, Johnson argued.

TF testers report

TWIN FALLS — There were 27 herds with 1,801 cows on production testing in October in Twin Falls County.

Testing supervisors Ike and Linda Smith, Kimberly, reported that the 27 herds totaled 1,613 cows milking and 188 dry cows, says Donald Youtz, county extension agent.
Production averages for October are listed with highest average daily production herd first and the rest in sequence noting the number of cows milking, total cows, average daily milk production and average daily butterfat production of each herd.

Kimberly man named

KIMBERLY — Milton Ballard, a farmer from the Kimberly area, was re-elected to a three-year term on the Twin Falls County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASCC).

He was chosen by farmers of the county in the Monday election for county commissioner.

Carryover members are Earl Heidel, Castleford, serving the third year of a three-year term, and R. W. Pierce, Filer, serving the second year of a three-year term.

Also elected as first and second alternates to the committee are Mike Stasny, Murtaugh, and Earl O'Harrow, Twin Falls, who will serve one-year terms.

Indian purchases, harvest aid stock

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — India is building up its drought-depleted grain stocks with huge purchases of American wheat and a near record harvest, U.S. embassy officials said Friday.
The officials said Indian orders for American grain bought on the open market could exceed 5 million tons during the fiscal year ending next March 31.

The Indian government had a grain reserve of about 9 million tons in 1971 but used up about 7 million.

It has already begun building up its reserves, now estimated at 4 million tons. Government authorities say they want to stockpile at least 8 million tons more.

The U.S. officials said India already has signed contracts to buy 4.2 million tons at market prices, and another 800,000 or 1 million tons more.

In addition, it expects to receive at least 250,000 tons from the United States on easy terms under a special U.S. law.

Last year they signed contracts for 600,000 tons this way.

India's mounting purchases of American grain in the open market have resulted in an increasingly favorable balance of trade for the United States.

It reached $200 million in 1974 and $486 million in the first six months of this year, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Idaho is three-fifths agriculture
Many of the goods and services produced in the state depend on agriculture. And when you figure the jobs related indirectly, it jumps to 40 to 60%.
As the state's major industry, it's also the major taxpayer. Agriculture accounted for more than $25 million in real estate taxes last year and $110 million more in sales taxes and income taxes.
Idaho needs its agriculture.

Colts shut out Giants

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lydell Mitchell rushed for 119 yards Sunday to become the first Baltimore running back ever to gain 1,000 yards in a single season in leading the Colts to their seventh straight victory, 21-0 over the New York Giants.

Mitchell, who has now rushed for 100 yards in a club record five games this season, has 1,000 yards this year to erase the previous club record of 963 by Ed in 1973. Mitchell also scored the only touchdown the Colts needed on a nine-yard run just 3:29 into the game.

The victory, the Colts' eighth against four losses, put Baltimore within a half game of first place Miami in the AFC East. The Giants fell to 3-9 with their fourth consecutive loss.

Cardinals trip Dallas

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Jim Hart threw three touchdown passes, including tosses of six and 49 yards to fleet Mel Gray, to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 31-17 victory over the Dallas Cowboys Sunday and first place in the National Football Conference's Eastern Division.

The victory put St. Louis one game ahead of Dallas, with the Cardinals facing only games with Detroit and Chicago on the rest of their schedule.

Bengals rip Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Rookie cornerback Marvin Cobb intercepted two passes and the Cincinnati Bengals turned them and quarterback Fred McMillen's mistakes by Philadelphia into 24 points Sunday on route to a 31-0 romp over the Eagles.

The victory kept the Bengals 10-2 and in the thick of the race for the AFC Central Division title.

Steelers whip Browns

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Terry Bradshaw and Lynn Swann combined for two third period touchdowns and Franco Harris crashed the 1,000 yard mark Sunday as Pittsburgh clinched a playoff berth for the fourth straight year with a 31-17 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

It was the third time in his four-year career that Harris rushed for 1,000 plus yards, becoming only the seventh player in NFL history to have three or more such seasons. Going into the game with 899 yards, Harris rushed for 103 yards—his fourth 100-yard game this season and 17th in his career—and two touchdowns.

Redskins nip Falcons

ATLANTA (UPI) — Mark Moseley kicked a 39-yard field goal with only two seconds left Sunday to give the Washington Redskins a 30-27 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

The Falcons had tied the score with only 61 seconds left in the game on a 44-yard field goal by Nick Mike-Mayer.

But Billy Kilmer, the veteran quarterback who completed 25-of-38 passes for 302 yards and three touchdowns Sunday, guided the Redskins into scoring position by completing 5-of-6 passes in a last-minute drive that carried from the Washington 23 down to the Falcon 22.

Kilmer was locked up all afternoon in a sterling passing duel with rookie quarterback Steve Bartkowski, who completed 14-of-28 passes for 281 yards and three touchdowns.

Jets defeat Patriots

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — John Riggins ran for 154 yards and two touchdowns, one of them 37 yards, and Pat Leahy kicked three field goals Sunday as the New York Jets halted a club-record eight-game losing streak with a 30-28 victory over the New England Patriots.

Riggins also scored on a skyray run, Leahy's field goals came from 42, 27 and 44 yards and former Patriot Carl Garrett ran for a four-yard TD to give interim coach Ken Shipp his first victory, and the Jets' first since a win over New England on Oct. 5.

Steve Grogan threw touchdown passes of 20 and 21 yards to Randy Tate and scored from a yard-out and Don Calhoun, picked up 20 yards on a 20-yard run from Buffalo, ran 18 yards for the Patriots' points. New England and the Jets are both 3-9.

Vikings thump Packers

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Fran Tarkenton threw for three touchdowns Sunday, giving him a career total of 289—just one short of John Unitas' National Football League record—to power the Minnesota Vikings to a 24-3 victory over the Green Bay Packers.

Tarkenton, who already has eclipsed the retired Baltimore Colts' great completions mark, hit 20-of-30 passes for 211 yards, including two scoring passes to John Gilman and one to Chuck Foreman, who left the game in the third period with a bruised ribs.

Foreman, the NFC leader in rushing, receptions and touchdowns, carried 13 times for 64 yards and caught six passes from Tarkenton for 81 yards. Foreman has 961 yards rushing, just 11 short of the Vikings' single-season record of 972 set by Dave Osborn in 1967.

The victory lifted Minnesota's record to 11-1. Green Bay dropped to 3-9.

Rams slip by Saints

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Linebacker Jim Peterson ran a fumble back 67 yards and defensive end Jack Youngblood scored a safety, leading the playoff-bound and offensively sluggish Los Angeles Rams to a 14-7 win Sunday over the business-leisure Saints.

Former Saint Tom Dempsey kicked field goals of 47 and 37 yards, the only points scored by the Rams' offensive unit.

Chargers top Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — San Diego backer Rickie Young and Sam Scarber ran for three touchdowns Sunday and quarterback Dan Fouts added another to lead the Chargers their first victory this season, 20-20 over the Kansas City Chiefs.

Young ran five yards up the middle for a touchdown in the first quarter and scored on a three-yard run in the fourth. Scarber scored his touchdown from the eight in the third quarter and Fouts, who had missed several games with a bruised shoulder, ran nine yards for a score in the final.

Chicago wins Detroit

CHICAGO (UPI) — Roland Harper pulled out of the grasp of two tacklers and raced 27 yards for a touchdown with 4:32 left Sunday to give the Chicago Bears a come-from-behind 25-21 triumph over the Detroit Lions, breaking a three-game losing streak.

The defeat virtually eliminated the Lions from contention for a wildcard playoff berth since it was their sixth loss in 12 games. The Bears turned Detroit turnovers into points to win. Harper's 27-yard run came after Detroit's Horace King fumbled and Craig Clemons recovered for the Bears on the Lions' 42. The Bears' first touchdown came, after Clemons hit Detroit quarterback Joe Reed while he attempted to pass in the end zone and his wounded duck pass was intercepted on the Lions' 20.

Ken Howard takes ninth Scratch title

Ken Howard of Nampa picked up his ninth Idaho state scratch bowling association title Sunday at Magic Bowl.

The former four-veteran-defeated young and nervous Terry Clark of Twin Falls 222-171 in the final as he won four straight in the head-to-head final round.

Howard, who ended the qualifying round tied with Dave John of Pocatello, lost that roll-off but that was the only one. He defeated Bill Thompson of Nampa 204-195 and the picking of a five-seven split saving that game and springboarded him into the title.

He came back to defeat John 184-163, then picked up six straight strikes in his 259-212 decision over Lee Wilks of Pocatello.

In the final match, Clark opened with a strike but flatted out in the second and sixth. Meanwhile, Howard opened with a spare and then string four strikes together to ice it.

A total of 127 participated in the two-day event at Magic Bowl, making this the second largest ever. The record of 128 entries was set at Pocatello earlier this season.

For his effort Howard picked up $500 while Clark pocketed $250 for second.

A total of $3,042 was paid out—$485 added money from sponsors Shirley-Wyatt, American Realty, D and L Bus, Outlaw Inn, Seven Up, Koto's Cafe, Horse-Shoe Club, United Oil, 93 Club, Master Sheet Metals, Holiday Inn and Pepsi-Cola.

Miami takes Buffalo

MIAMI (UPI) — Don Strock, a third-string quarterback making his first NFL start, passed for two touchdowns and ran for another Sunday to give the Miami Dolphins a 31-21 win over the Buffalo Bills and keep them on top in the AFC East.

Strock, playing for the injured Bob Griese and Earl Morrall, hauled a 21-0 halftime lead but then the Dolphins had to hold off a furious Buffalo rally in the second half.

The clinching touchdown, a one-yard burst by Norm Huaten with 8:12 left in the game, was set up by a 56-yard ramble over left tackle by stubby fullback Don Nottingham.

The Bills looked like they were coming right back but their fourth quarter drive was aborted when Dolphin safety Jake Scott intercepted a Joe Ferguson pass on the Miami 10 and returned it to the 32.

Oilers defeat 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Willie Rodgers and Ronnie Coleman ran for a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns Sunday. Coleman's coming after a 76-yard punt return by Billy Johnson, to give the Houston Oilers a 27-13 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

The victory was Houston's eighth against four losses but it came too late to keep the Oilers in the race for the AFC wild card berth in the playoffs. When Cincinnati beat Philadelphia earlier in the day, that eliminated Houston.

Warriors whip Sonics

SEATTLE (UPI) — Veteran Rick Barry and rookie Gus Williams each scored 10 points in the final period Sunday to lead Golden State to a nationally televised 115-106 National Basketball Association victory over the Seattle SuperSonics.

For the Warriors, it was back-to-back victories over Seattle in two games played within a span of 17 hours. And it preserved Golden State's slim hold on first place in the Pacific Division.

Neither team proved dominant over the first three periods, perhaps because of fatigue. The Sonics didn't arrive back in Seattle until 3 a.m., only 10 hours before game time. The Warriors had arrived a little earlier.

Golden State opened the fourth period with six straight points on two quick buckets from Williams and one from Barry. The Warriors stretched that lead to nine points, 89-80, on center Clifford Ray's lay-in. Barry wound up with game-high honors of 28 points and Williams added 27.

Shick Watts and guard Fred Brown were high for Seattle with 22 each.

Watts, not noted for his deadly shooting, led Seattle scoring through a ragged first half, popping in several long shots.

Bradley wins Colgate

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — American Pat Bradley's stunning victory in the Colgate Four East Women's Open Golf Championship Sunday has won her a place in the field for next week's $63,000 Colgate Triple Crown Golf Tournament at Palm Springs, Calif.

She finished in a sixth place tie in the points list for the nine-golf field, based on the results of Colgate's three world tournaments this year.

Nastase wins Masters

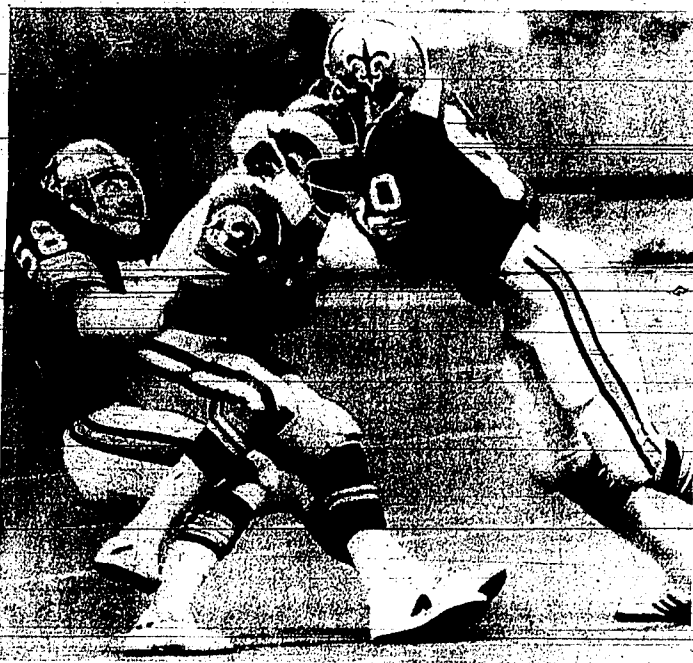

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Ilie Nastase, turning on his talent instead of his temper, Sunday defeated Sweden's Bjorn Borg 6-2, 6-4 to win the $100,000 Masters Tennis Tournament for the fourth time in six years.

The mercenary Romanian, whose volcanic temper has won him more headlines than his tennis this year, swept Borg of his home court in just five minutes over one hour with a display of vintage tennis.

Borg, who at 19 is 10 years Nastase's junior, had a nightmare final—Nastase took control from the start on the Royal Tennis Hall's sleek synthetic surface and only allowed Borg one chance to break his service.

Kentucky tops Virginia

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — With Artis Gilmore scoring 32 points, the Kentucky Colonels trimmed the host Virginia Squires 112-98 Sunday night and extended their mastery over the Squires to 18 straight victories over three seasons.

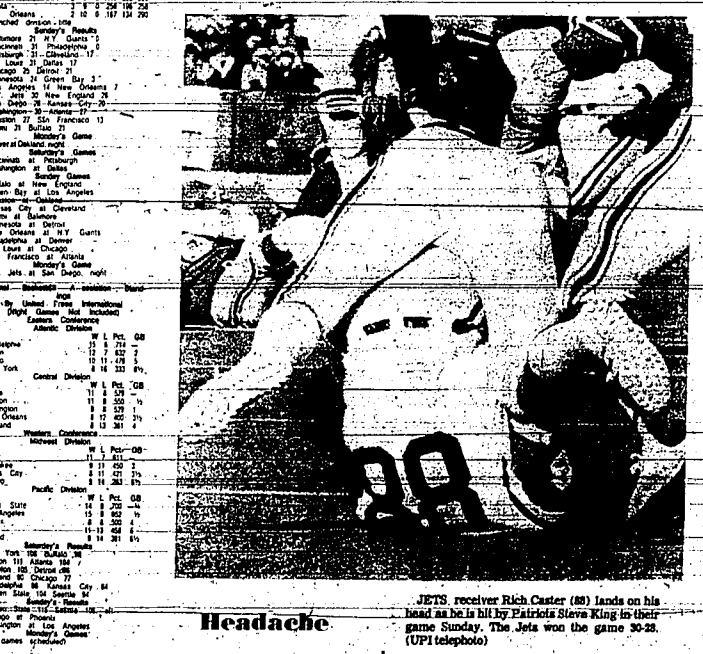

RAMS quarterback James Harris gets the high-low treatment as he is sacked for a loss by the Saints Joe Federspiel and Greg Westbrook in their Sunday game. The Rams won 14-7. (UPI telephoto)

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, DEC. 9, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to attend to the various tasks that need to be done and to get them in back of you by a stick-to-itive approach. You can now fine-tune the answers that eluded you in the past.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Take care of the duties awaiting you without delay and the rest of the week can be more lucrative. Think constructively.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Know what your personal aims are and plan just how to attain them with relative ease. Be sure to accept a social invitation.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Attend to any civic or outside tasks and do much to raise prestige you now enjoy. Look out any differences you have with mate.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Obtain all the data you need so that you can put a new project into operation. New associates can be helpful to you now.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Handle all those duties ahead of you with vim and vigor. Know what is expected of you by mate and do your best to please.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): If you are not certain just what is expected of you by associates, ask directly and be sure. Don't neglect a civic duty.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Organizing your work so that there will be more accord with co-workers is wise. Find new items for enhancing your wardrobe.

SCORPIO (Oct. to Nov. 21): Take time to make long-range plans for the future. Loved one is expecting something special from you. Do not disappoint.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be sure to see that home conditions are improved. Make plans for the holidays ahead and take care of necessary chores.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Be sure to keep important appointments today. Handling communications may take more time than you thought. Be patient.

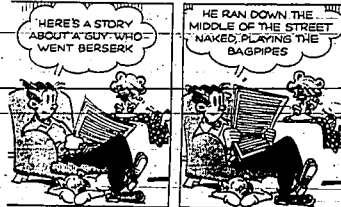

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Handling finances should be first on the agenda today. Improve your surroundings and take care of repairs that should be made.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A good day to improve your health and appearance. Take steps to make your life more meaningful. Evening is fine for sociability.

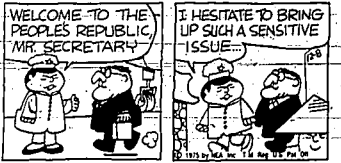

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... ...he or she will handle duties in a very direct way, but can also add a flair to them, be it at home or elsewhere. Teach to be more modern since there's a tendency to be old-fashioned. Be sure to give spiritual training early in life.

All I can tell you about Theresa Vaughn of England is that she had 61 different husbands consecutively. That certainly beats the record of Calamity Jane who only had 12 husbands. Comes to mind because a client asks who was the most married person in history. Credit King Mongat of Siam with that distinction. He had 9,000 wives and concubines. Combined. They might as well be combined. You can't tell a wife from a concubine in a crowd like that.

Prison transfers electronics wizard

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Robert E. Porth, resident electronics wizard at Central State Prison here, is scheduled to be transferred to a minimum security prison where he will be eligible for work-release programs — but he may not get to build the yacht he wants.

Convicted of killing his wife in 1960 and sentenced to life in prison, Porth, 66, has saved the state an estimated $100,000 by building various electronic systems at the prison, ranging from a public address system to closed circuit alarms. He has been provided with his own electronics shop.

Porth, of Winston-Salem, has asked for a transfer from Central Prison and said that he would like to build a yacht. The request has touched off a squabble among prison system officials.

"I tend to consider it a subversion of the work-release program," said Parole Commission Chairman Jack Seism. The work-release program allows inmates to spend daytime hours working and return to prison at night.

But Fred Morrison, head of the Inmate Grievance Commission, said he felt the yacht would be more of a hobby and he favored the idea of allowing Porth to build the boat.

"They talk about work-release, but let's be realistic," said Morrison. "The man is 66. He's probably not going to work again. The commission just doesn't want to parole any life-termers. If they did they couldn't start with a better one than Robert Porth."

Seism said a man of Porth's abilities could get a job despite his age and said legal questions were his major problem.

"This job Robert Porth wants is like the one he's had all these years — working by himself," said Seism. "I have no doubt he can build a yacht, but he ought to be doing something that will help him get used to society after eight and a half years' in prison."

Tax cheaters faced by 'Honest Abe'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Illinois citizens thinking of cheating on their state income taxes this year will be faced with "Honest Abe."

The state Department of Revenue said Thursday it is including a picture of Abraham Lincoln on the cover of 4.6 million income tax return forms being mailed out this week.

Department Director Robert Alphin said the picture is a bicentennial year tribute.

"It's Mr. Lincoln, Illinois has given the people of the United States a model for honesty and fairness," Alphin said. "These were the attributes on which this nation was founded 200 years ago, and they are valid today."

Alphin said the income tax forms are being mailed early this year so the state will save $73,000 in postage, since the U.S. Postal Service plans a rate hike soon.

Liquor selling restricted

PORT MORESBY, Papua New Guinea (UPI) — The government put regulations into effect today to reduce excessive drinking and work absenteeism on paydays.

The new laws restrict for four hours the selling of liquor in bars, liquor stores and clubs, on Thursdays — payday for most New Guineans — compared with seven hours on other days.

"Any measure which encourages people to put their work and families before drink is worth trying," said Liquor Commissioner John Nikare.

Papua New Guinea became an independent nation in September.

Nampa school Santa lacks gifts

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI) — What do you do when you're playing Santa Claus to nearly 500 people and only have about 50 gifts to go around?

The Idaho State School and Hospital, ISSH, at Nampa is facing that problem this year. With 477 residents, the institution has only received enough donated gifts for about 100 of them.

"Christmas is probably the biggest thing that happens to the residents here all year and we want to be sure everyone gets at least one gift," commented Anne Burdick, director of volunteer services for ISSH.

"We have a real need right now for gifts for the residents," she said. Ms. Burdick explained some of the residents receive gifts from relatives or agencies which sponsor them for Christmas and birthdays, but these gifts have fallen off recently and donated gifts will be the major source.

"We are contacting every available source to ask for gifts," she added, including service clubs, church groups and individuals. She said local wards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are providing parties for the residents and the local DeMolays donated 40 Christmas trees.

But Christmas decorations to put on the trees and presents to put under them are in short supply. Ms. Burdick attributed the lack of gifts both to the economy and a lack of publicity on the need.

She said the only requirements placed on donated gifts is that they be unused, wrapped and clearly marked as to what they are. "Otherwise, we have to open them to see if they're safe."

However, less expensive gifts such as a color book and/or finger paints are as welcome to the residents as almost anything else.

The institution compiles a preference and size list of all the residents starting in August so a master list can be completed by the time donated gifts come in. The gifts are checked with the list and each resident receives his preference.

This year popular items include recreational and play supplies such as balls, building blocks, books, cowboy hats, cards, dolls, play dishes, games, model and hobby kits, roller skates, simple wooden puzzles, palanquin-cubes, sets and all types of toys, preferably educational.

Under clothing are requests for belts, blouses, gloves, hats, mittens, hose, pajamas, scarves, shirts, sweatshirts and T-shirts in bright colors, and ties. One girl who watched the "Wonder Woman" television show has asked for a T-shirt with her heroine's name on it, Ms. Burdick said.

Residents also can use personal items such as aftershave lotion, billfolds, coin purses, hair brushes, lipstick, manicure sets, nail polish, perfume or cologne, shaving cream, stationery, wallets and transistor radios.

Records and eight-track tapes are another needed item at ISSH. Ms. Burdick said these may be in used condition and most residents prefer semi-western or rock and roll music.

Monetary donations also acceptable, although gifts are preferred because staff members don't have much time to go out and shop for nearly 500 people, she added.

"Gifts or other donations may be dropped off at the ISSH administration building switchboard, which is open 24 hours a day seven days a week; or the Nampa Fire Department, which has agreed to deliver some of the gifts up until Christmas; or mailed to Box 47, Nampa, Idaho, 83851.

Besides donations of gifts and money, the institution can always use people willing to give of themselves and their time," Ms. Burdick added. She said after Christmas the big push will be to get more volunteers to work at ISSH. "We need all kinds."

There is no age limit or other qualifications for volunteers, and no prior experience is needed. ISSH is in the process of developing an in-service training program for volunteers, including a tour of the campus and meeting with staff and residents to see how programs really work.

"The volunteer will decide what he or she feels most comfortable about doing," Ms. Burdick commented. "It's a little frightening to come in here, not knowing what a mentally retarded person is like, not knowing what the staff expects of you."

Most unusual Christmas cards

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) — "Dimples Darling," an exotic dancer at Joe's Convention Lounge, is beating the high cost of postage by handing out her Christmas cards in person.

After each performance, Dimples circulates through the audience and distributes the cards. They are embossed with a wreath surrounding a picture of Dimples in the middle. But Dimples apparently was unable to find a complete Santa Claus costume. In the picture she wears only a Santa Claus hat.

Rocky greeting

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Elizabeth Rosenholm and her husband Oswald returned home from a Thanksgiving holiday trip and found a birthday greeting on their front lawn; two-ton boulder with the painted message: "Smile Liz! Happy 40th."

"I'm pretty sure it was my rotten brother-in-law. No one else would do a thing like this," Mrs. Rosenholm
