Debate hogs meeting

PARIS (UPI) — Delegates to the foreign ministers conference on energy and raw materials today became bogged down in a debate over technical problems raised by Algeria and supported by several Third World nations. Algeria demanded that work to be done by commissions being established at the conference should be precisely spelled out. The West responded by asking for the commissions that will study energy, raw materials, development and finance. The snag raised doubts whether the three-day conference aimed at restructuring global economy would end today as scheduled. One compromise proposal called for yet another meeting at the expert level before Feb. 10, when the commissions are to begin their work in Paris. This would enable the foreign ministers to return home tonight as scheduled. Earlier, oil-producing nations denied responsibility for the global economic recession and instead blamed economic woes on the "failure of fiscal and monetary leadership" in some industrial nations.

AF Dam bond exemption gains Senate approval

By SHANE O'NEILL
Times-News writer
BUREAU — The Committee of Nine and the Committee of Eight, both representing irrigation and water users in the Snake River Valley, learned today the U. S. Senate has passed two versions of a tax exemption for bonds for reconstruction of the American Falls Dam. John Rosholt, Twin Falls attorney, told the committees one version was passed as part of a Medicare bill, while the other was passed with a social security rider attached. Rosholt says he does not know this morning whether the bills must go to a conference committee. The House of Representatives has passed all bills connected with the tax exemption.

Angolan aid halt sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate took up covert CIA aid to Angola behind closed doors today and its Foreign Relations Committee demanded an immediate end to a reported $60 million in U.S. funds for the African nation. Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif., was leading a move by liberals to assure that none of the $112.4 billion in defense appropriations funds would be used for Angola. The Senate discussed the matter privately for three hours Wednesday. Meanwhile, the State Department was making diplomatic efforts to end Soviet military involvement in the African nation torn by civil war. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a resolution calling for an immediate halt to all U.S. military aid to Angola and urging withdrawal of foreign forces, including Cuban and South African troops. The resolution by Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, could come up for Senate action before adjournment scheduled Friday. But it would still face House approval before going to Ford.

The resolution provided for a total cutoff of funds for covert operations in Angola but gives Ford the option of asking Congress for authorization to provide aid or informing Congress he intends to finance such operations from funds already available to him. If Ford chooses the latter course, either the Senate or House could block him.

Terry Gulley, Bureau of Reclamation, discussed reservoir and flood operations for 1977 this morning and reviewed plans for operation during reconstruction of the dam. Gulley warned that users in the Upper Snake River Valley above the dam will be called upon to divert as little water as possible after July 4, 1977, so that the reservoir can be dried up by Sept. 15. Users in the lower valley, he says, will have "water out their ears" during July. But the reservoir may not be able to fill irrigation demands in August and September. Gulley said projections were to reduce the water flow out of American Falls to 7,000 cfs during the flow by Sept. 1.

He says if there is not enough draft to meet demands of water users, the Bureau may take 50,000 acre feet out of Lake Walcott at Mindoko Dam. But he warned that such an action might force the local irrigation districts to pump water to reach its canals. Gulley says he doubts pumping will be necessary if the water level is lowered only two and a half feet. He says he thinks enough water will be available. Drafted during the time water is being released from Lake Walcott only 70 percent of American Falls will be available to users. He called on water users to make a major effort to tighten their belts; cut down on water use and use labor rather than water wherever possible. He says this might get irrigators through the season, without necessity for Lake Walcott water.

Ford's tax cut veto survives House test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House today failed to override President Ford's veto of a tax cut legislation. Democratic leaders said there probably would be no further efforts to prevent Americans from paying higher income taxes after Jan. 1. "The vote, which came one day before Congress' planned adjournment for Christmas, left little hope that any action could be taken to extend 1975's recession-fighting tax cuts into 1976. The veto in the House, where previous test votes had gone in Ford's favor, was 265 to 157.17 votes less than the necessary two-thirds majority. "I hope no one is laboring under the delusion that there will be another chance to vote on this issue prior to adjournment," said House Ways and Means chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., during a brief debate before the vote. For a family of four making $10,000, the tax increase would amount to $292 on a full year basis. For the same family making $7,000, the tax increase is $270, and at the $15,000 income level the increase is $246. For a single person, the increase is $137 at the $5,000 income level, $175 at $7,000, and $226 at $10,000. Speaker Carl Albert said just prior to the vote he would favor no further action: "My personal inclination is to live with it," Albert said. "I'm going to be hard to convince. I can take the heat." Ford's success came less than 24 hours after the bill passed Congress and about 16 hours after Ford vetoed it with a blast at Democrats for "leaving the federal cash register wide open." Congress could come back next year and pass retroactive tax cuts, but in the meantime, withholding taxes for almost all Americans would rise at a rate of more than $1 billion a month. This was the 17th effort by Congress to override a Ford veto. Ford has exacted 41 vetoes since taking office Aug. 9, 1974. Seven override efforts have been successful. It was the 14th veto cast by Ford this year, and the ninth effort to override in that same time period, with three of those efforts being successful on education, health and school lunch bills. Ford made clear that his battle with Congress over whether to attach a ceiling on fiscal 1977 spending to the bill will become an issue in the 1976 presidential campaign. "The Congress offers only to keep a temporary lid on taxes while leaving the federal cash register wide open to whatever spending Congress wants to take out in an election year," Ford said in an appearance in the White House press room to announce the veto. "That I cannot and will not accept." A Democratic-controlled Congress has made it clear it cannot accept a ceiling on fiscal 1977 spending to the bill. Time and again, it reminded Ford the newly enacted congressional budget process would set a fiscal 1977 spending ceiling May 15 after all facts are in hand. Ford vetoed the bill hours before giving a Christmas ball for members of Congress. He said passage of a new tax cut bill coupled with a spending ceiling would be "the best Christmas present overburdened American taxpayers have had in years," Rockefeller reported.

Cut red tape

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 6,000 persons who participated in White House-sponsored forums on domestic policy generally felt there is too much red tape in government, says Vice President Nelson Rockefeller. "One overriding message came through in each of the forums: People are concerned about the proliferation of federal red tape which prevents the government from delivering its promised services," Rockefeller reported.

Sierra Life wants Utah agency report squealed

BY BILL CAZARUS
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Sierra Life Insurance Co. is suing two Utah State Insurance Department examiners to prevent a report on Sierra's financial condition from being made public. In its complaint before the U.S. District Court in Boise, Sierra charges that the report is "erroneous" and "will cause great and irreparable harm" if released. Sierra also is suing the Utah examiners, Burt Gottfredson and Ross Eddington, personally for $250,000 for allegedly having sent a summary or excerpts of their findings to Nevada's commissioner of insurance. "The case is likely to hinge on whether Idaho Director of Insurance Monroe Gollaher should have the final say on what findings are made from a joint Idaho-Utah examination of Sierra's financial condition. Sierra argues that the Utah examiners should be prevented from releasing a report of examination unless Gollaher orders it published. But examiner Gottfredson maintains that Utah should have the right to publish its own report. Early this month the Idaho Department of Insurance released an examination report which found that Sierra was solvent under Idaho law. The report was signed by Idaho examiner Jack Sanguin, but Utah examiner Eddington took issue with the report's findings and refused to sign it. According to Gollaher, both Sanguin and Eddington originally found that about $5 million of property Sierra had acquired recently could not be legally accepted as assets. Most of the properties in question were first mortgages on land. The Idaho Insurance Department, Gollaher said, then found Sierra to be deficient since its liabilities did not equal its recognized assets. But Sierra protested. A hearing was agreed to and an independent private Boise attorney decided the case. In all, the Idaho state attorney, Walter Bithell, Boise, sided with Sierra. As a result, the final report of examination as released by Idaho found Sierra solvent, not deficient, under Idaho law. According to Sierra's complaint before the district court, Sierra had "reluctantly agreed" to the department's plan in the form of taking the issue to court for "a complete judicial determination" of the case. As part of the agreement for a hearing, Gollaher ordered on July 23 that the preliminary examination report, compiled by Sanguin and Eddington, be "absolutely confidential" allowing no one to examine it or divulge any of the information contained therein." Sierra's complaint says. It says that "it was further agreed" that the preliminary examination report "would be amended upon the conclusion of the hearing in conformity with the ruling of the hearing officer." But the complaint alleges that Eddington, with approval by Gottfredson, sent a summary or excerpts of the findings of the preliminary report to Nevada's commissioner of insurance, on July 23, "in direct violation of the order of the director of insurance of the state of Idaho" and the Idaho Code. Sierra's complaint states that the Utah examiners intend to release an examination report "substantially in the form of the erroneous preliminary examination report." It calls for prohibiting publication of this report permanently unless it "has been first delivered to the director of insurance of the state of Idaho and thereafter filed and ordered published by said director as required by law." Since the Idaho News today that there is a temporary restraining order against release of any of the information in the report until a court hearing on the matter takes place. A hearing date has not been set, he said. "We just don't feel that they have any grounds at all for their action. We have the right to do our audit. The Idaho commissioner isn't challenging us" about release of the report, he said. He said that Utah had never agreed to accept the findings made by the Idaho hearing officer.

New York aid bill signed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford signed into law Thursday a bill appropriating $2.3 billion in loans to enable New York City to escape bankruptcy. The first loan, for more than $140 million, was expected to be made by Treasury Secretary William E. Simon within a few days. Under the program, the city will be able to borrow up to $2.3 billion for short periods over the next 10 months to carry it through those times when expenditures exceed revenues. But the loans must be repaid by the end of each fiscal year. Simon authorized to refuse to make further loans if he thinks there is no "reasonable" chance of repayment.

Principals think teenagers cope well

Involved in alcohol and drug abuse and experience traumatic early sexual encounters. Counselors at the Department of Health and Welfare in Twin Falls believe junior high students today get exposed to some adult problems earlier than their parents realize. Drug use, for example, was not an element in junior high for most parents of today's junior high students. Alcohol abuse has grown into a more serious problem today than at any time in American history, Health and Welfare officials say, which has increased the pressure to drink in junior high.

A more open sexual attitude in society also has an effect on junior high age young people who are attracted to the boys and girls in their classrooms. "But school officials in Twin Falls aren't pessimistic about the future of junior high kids. Principal Carl Snow says the students of this year are the best class ever at O'Leary Junior High. But Snow and other people involved with junior high problems have some ideas on what can be done to help junior high kids who are coping well with their early teenage years." (Continued on p. 1)

Andrus at meet.
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford met with governors today to discuss cooperation between the states and the federal government.
 Meeting around the Cabinet Room table with Ford were Govs. Robert Ray of Iowa, Thomas Salmon of Vermont, Otis Bowen of Indiana, Patrick J. Lucey of Wisconsin, Arch Moore of West Virginia, Philip Noel of Rhode Island, Robert F. Bennett of Kansas, George Busbee of Georgia and Cecil D. Andrus of Idaho.
 The governors requested the meeting, asking to present the views of the National Governors' Conference. Ray is chairman of the conference and Moore and Noel head the group's issues committee.
 Ford welcomed the delegation, telling the governors, "You have some of the same problems I have, putting a budget together."

 Snow dreams of a new school where he can offer more career-oriented education. "I'd like to get away from being so academically oriented," he said, and offer other programs to appeal to the 80 per cent of the students who aren't academically inclined.
 Kids, he says, should "know more about things they want to be in life," and a career program at the schools can help this.
 For police juvenile officer Gene Ritchie, jobs are the important thing.
 "Probably the worst thing is that you can't find these kids a job," he said. "Even to take their girl friend out, they have no money."
 Judge Daniel Meehl feels that a crumbling family structure is causing problems and the community hasn't yet developed adequate means to deal with these problems.
 "There is a larger percentage of kids getting inadequate parental control," Meehl said. Many of the problem kids come from single-parent families, where homes are crowded, and money and supervision scarce.
 "We still have much too little resources to deal with problem teenagers," Meehl commented.
 A minister who works with junior high aged kids cited a lack of discipline at home as a destructive force.

 Some sort of alternative educational program should be started, he said, both to keep kids' interest in school and to make them aware of job opportunities, he said.
 Another improvement would be a gathering place. "We really need a community center," the minister said.
 Many of Twin Falls' higher high students probably agree with a cheerleader who said, "I think our schools are doing fine."
 Others, less involved in school, and with perhaps a less supportive home life, feel something is needed.
 "You know what would be really nice and would keep everybody out of trouble?" suggested one teenager, a place for teenagers to gather.
 "Everywhere we go we get kicked out," she said.

 Bishop is the first to be charged here under the law which bans smoking in waiting rooms of public buildings.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT IT IS TRUE THAT—
 You will regret your folly forever if you are not saved!
 The Lord Jesus shall be revealed... taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ; who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord... (2 Thessalonians 1:7-9).
 You may become a new creature, a child of God, by receiving in your heart the Lord Jesus as your Saviour!
 "But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name" (John 1:12).
 "Therefore if any love the world, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

Moynihan fires last shot at UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The U.N. General Assembly has ended its 30th session with a bitter denunciation by U.S. Ambassador Daniel Patrick Moynihan, who called the world body a forum for "acts we regard as abominations."

"None will learn with surprise that for the United States, at the very least, the 30th general assembly has been a profound, even alarming disappointment," Moynihan told delegates before the 14-week session adjourned Wednesday night.

Soviet Ambassador Yakov Malin walked out of the hall just before Moynihan spoke. He returned to hear the closing remarks of Assembly President Gaston-Thorn of Luxembourg.

Moynihan, whose frequent outspoken criticism of the United Nations has angered other delegates, said throughout "the world, individuals and governments have observed this General Assembly with dismay."

In a reference to the Nov. 10 resolution equating Zionism with racism, the American ambassador said, "This splendid hall has, since the opening of the Assembly, been the scene of acts we regard as abominations."

Moynihan said the 141-nation Assembly sought to "pretend that it is a parliament... which it is not."

"It is a conference made up of representatives sent by sovereign governments which have agreed to listen to its recommendations — recommendations which are, however, in no way binding."

US, Russ develop giant hovercraft

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union are both developing giant hovercraft for military purposes, Jane's Surface Skimmers said in its 1976 edition today.

The U.S. Navy is developing ocean-going hovercraft of up to 10,000 tons, Jane's said. The Soviet Union is also developing military hovercraft "substantially larger" than the 200-ton vessels currently in operation, it reported.

A hovercraft, which rides above the water on a cushion of air, has the advantage of being speedier than conventional ships.

Jane's said naval planners were turning to the hovercraft, also known as a surface effect ship, "to regain the edge in speed that has gone to the submarine with the advent of nuclear power."

Test exercises show the hovercraft can play an important role in antisubmarine warfare, especially when used in conjunction with helicopters to protect convoys from underwater attack, the authoritative military reference said.

Antisubmarine helicopters using hovercraft as a base for operations had between 20 and 40 per cent greater range than helicopters based on conventional warships, Jane's said.

It said the U.S. Navy is currently working on a 2,000-ton prototype naval hovercraft expected to be ready for sea trials by mid-1981.

Truce threatened

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (UPI) — Heavy gunfire rocked the outskirts of Tripoli today, threatening to demolish a new truce between Muslims and Christianists, who seized a ship in the city's harbor and threatened to blow it up but the owners quickly agreed to negotiate the pirates' demands.

Radio Beirut said clashes in the capital had died down and the situation there was "relatively calm" after 11 days of bloodshed that left 550 dead and more than 900 wounded.

The fighting around Tripoli, 50 miles north of Beirut, involved Muslim leftists and right-wing Christians from the nearby town of Zghorta. The leftists sent jeeps through the city appealing for blood donors.

Pope issues appeal

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI said today the "great sickness" of Roman Catholic dissent is endangering the church's evangelization and scandalizing its potential converts.

The 75-year-old pontiff appealed for a new "wholeness of unity" in an Apostolic Exhortation on evangelism released one week before the end of a Holy Year dedicated to reconciliation.

"The power of evangelization will find itself considerably diminished if those who proclaim the Gospel are divided among themselves in all sorts of ways," the Pope wrote. "Is this not perhaps one of the great sicknesses of evangelization today?"

The Pope addressed himself to the episcopate, clergy and all the faithful of the entire world and said his words were meant to be a meditation on contemporary evangelization.

Soviets will talk

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — The Soviet Union said today the American plan to reduce the number of U.S. tactical nuclear warheads in Europe in return for a pullback of Soviet tanks has grave shortcomings but can be discussed.

Soviet Ambassador O. N. Kholstov said Russia would examine the proposal when the East-West force cut talks resume in Vienna after a Christmas recess the week of Jan. 26, a Soviet bloc spokesman said.

Kholstov gave the promise at the 20th meeting, the last before the recess, of the Mutual and Balanced Force Reduction in Central Europe conference.

The stand of the Warsaw Pact on the American proposal was told to reporters after the meeting by Czech Ambassador Tomas Taha, who acted as Soviet bloc spokesman.

Crisis meet held

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (UPI) — Government leaders held a crisis meeting at The Hague today in their quest for a solution to the two-week-old siege of the Indonesian consulate.

Other officials gathered at Amsterdam police headquarters two miles from the five-story red brick consulate where seven South Moluccan gunmen, seeking independence from Indonesia for their island home, have held 25 hostages since Dec. 4.

The meeting of the government "crisis team," headed by Prime Minister Joop den Uyl, began at the Justice Ministry in The Hague before daybreak and was reported still in session after six hours.

Ministry officials did not disclose details of the emergency talks.

Troops captured

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — South Africa says four of its soldiers have been captured 600 miles inside Angola by Soviet-backed troops fighting in Angola's civil war.

Defense Minister Plet Botha said Wednesday the soldiers — a corporal and three privates from the Technical Service Corps — "probably lost their way" trying to find and repair a broken-down vehicle.

Botha earlier called up an unspecified number of civilian reserve units for deployment in the "operational border area," but defense sources said this was "nowhere near" mobilization.

"We underwrite the standpoint that no foreign troops should be in Angola," Botha said. "The Angolan people should decide their own future."

Principals think teens cope well

(Continued from p. 1) Snow dreams of a new school where he can offer more career-oriented education. "I'd like to get away from being so academically oriented," he said, and offer other programs to appeal to the 30 per cent of the students who aren't academically inclined. Kids, he says, should "know more about where they want to be in life," and a career program at the schools can help this. For police juvenile officer Gene Ritchie, jobs are the important thing. "Probably the worst thing that you can find these kids with," he said, "is even to take their girlfriend out, they have no money." Judge Daniel Meehl feels that a crumbling family structure is causing problems and the community hasn't yet developed adequate means to deal with these problems. "There is a larger percentage of kids getting inadequate parental care," Meehl said. Many of the problem kids come from single-parent families, where homes are crowded, and money and supervision scarce. "We still have much less little resources to deal with problem teenagers," Meehl commented. A minister who works with junior high aged kids cited a lack of discipline at home as a cause of some of the behavior. Some sort of alternative educational program should be started, he said, both to keep kids' interest in school and to make them aware of job opportunities, he said. "Another improvement would be a gathering place. We really need a community center," the minister said. "Many of Twin Falls' junior-high students probably agree with a cheerleader who said, "I think our schools are doing fine." But others, less involved in school, and with perhaps a less supportive home life, feel something is needed. "You know what would be really nice and would keep everybody out of trouble?" suggested one teenager, a place for teenagers to gather. "Everywhere we go we get kicked out," she said.

Meeting under the Cabinet Room table with Ford were Govs. Robert Ray of Iowa; Thomas Salmon of Vermont, Otis Bowen of Indiana, Patrick J. Lucy of Wisconsin, Arch Moore of West Virginia, Philip Noel of Rhode Island, Robert F. Bennett of Kansas, George Busbee of Georgia and Cecil D. Andrus of Idaho. The governors requested the meeting, asking to present the views of the National Governors' Conference. Ray is chairman of the conference and Moore and Noel head the group's issues committee. Ford welcomed the delegation, telling the governors, "You have some of the same problems I have, putting a budget together."

No-smoke law brings citation

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Joseph Bishop will appear in justice court Dec. 29 to answer a citizen's misdemeanor citation charging him with violating Nevada's new no-smoking law. Bishop is the first to be charged here under the law which bans smoking in waiting rooms of public buildings.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT IT IS TRUE THAT—

You will regret you folly forever if you are not saved!

"The Lord Jesus shall be revealed... taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ; who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord..." (2 Thessalonians 1:7-9).

You may become a new creature, a child of God, by receiving in your heart the Lord Jesus as your Saviour!

"But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God; even to them that believe on His name" (John 1:12).

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new!" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

Moynihan fires last shot at UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The U.N. General Assembly has ended its 30th session with a bitter denunciation by U.S. Ambassador Daniel Patrick Moynihan, who called the world body a forum for "acts we regard as abominations."

"None will learn with surprise that for the United States, at the very least, the 30th general assembly has been a profound, even alarming disappointment," Moynihan told delegates before the 14-week session adjourned Wednesday night.

Soviet Ambassador Yakov Malik, walked out of the hall just before Moynihan spoke. He returned to hear the closing remarks of Assembly President Gaston Thorn of Luxembourg.

Moynihan, whose frequent outspoken criticism of the United Nations has angered other delegates, said "throughout the world, individuals and governments have observed this General Assembly with dismay."

In a reference to the Nov. 10 resolution equating Zionism with racism, the American ambassador said, "This splendid hall has, since the opening of the Assembly, been the scene of acts we regard as abominations."

Moynihan said the 14-nation assembly sought to "pretend that it is a parliament — which it is not."

"It is a conference made up of representatives sent by sovereign governments which have agreed to listen to his recommendations — recommendations which are, however, in no way binding."

US, Russ develop giant hovercraft

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union are both developing giant hovercraft for military purposes, Jane's Surface Steamers said in its 1976 edition today.

The U.S. Navy is developing ocean-going hovercraft of up to 10,000 tons, Jane's said. The Soviet Union is also developing military hovercraft "substantially larger" than the 200-ton vessels currently in operation, it reported.

A hovercraft, which rides above the water on a cushion of air, has the advantage of being speedier than conventional ships.

Jane's said naval planners were turning to the hovercraft, also known as a surface effect ship, "to regain the edge in speed that has gone to the submarine with the advent of nuclear power."

Test exercises show the hovercraft can play an important role in anti-submarine warfare, especially when used in conjunction with helicopters to protect convoys from underwater attack, the authoritative military reference said.

Anti-submarine helicopters using hovercraft as a base for operations had between 20 and 40 per cent greater range than helicopters using conventional ships, Jane's said.

The U.S. Navy is currently working on a 2,000-ton prototype naval hovercraft expected to be ready for sea trials by mid-1981.

Truce threatened

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (UPI) — Heavy gunfire rocked the outskirts of Tripoli today, threatening to demolish a new truce between Muslims and Christians. Leftists seized a ship in the city's harbor and threatened to blow it up but the owners quickly agreed to negotiate the pirates' demands.

Radio Beirut said clashes in the capital had died down and the situation there was "relatively calm" after 11 days of bloodshed that left 650 dead and more than 900 wounded.

The fighting around Tripoli, 50 miles north of Beirut, involved Muslim leftists and right-wing Christians from the nearby town of Zgharta. The leftists sent jeeps through the city appealing for blood donors.

Pope issues appeal

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI said today the "great sickness" of Roman Catholic dissent is endangering the church's evangelization and scandalizing its potential converts.

'Golden age' lacked some glitter

Letter from the editor

Dear Junior high students. You are probably pretty mad at the paper now. You may be somewhat embarrassed that so much attention has been focused on problem areas faced in junior high.

WASHINGTON — Airline stewardesses have been complaining lately that they're not treated with enough respect by pilots and passengers.

"Keep the cabin windows dusted and use a small broom on the floor before every flight."

ART BUCHWALD

"Face the rear of the plane when talking to passengers or serving lunch. Bending while facing toward the front of the plane tends to place the seat of your pants in the next passenger's face."

Everyone has his own favorite airline story from years gone by. My favorite took place in the late Forties when I was flying from Belgrade to Zagreb in Yugoslavia.

What about any holes in heads?

ATLANTA — More than 3,000 teachers, principals, school superintendents and other educators met here this week, but teaching was one of the last things they got around to talking about.

Came the dawn, and they say. With urbanization and progressive education came look-and-guess for the teaching of non-reading. Then the New Math. Libraries became media resources centers.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

This is a program instituted this fall in the public schools of Raleigh, N.C. You will say I am making this up; I swear I am not. A Raleigh teacher has sent me along the instructions and form sheets.

The program is known as the Wake County Weekly Sulfur Fluoride Mouthrinse, and it goes as follows: One day a week is to be identified as Fluoride Day.

"(a) Starting simultaneously, they will swish the solution around in their mouths for 60 seconds with their lips tightly closed and their teeth in contact.

"(b) After 60 seconds of rinsing, the contents of the mouth will be expelled back into the paper cup. Before each rinsing the children will be told that at no time during the procedure is the solution to be swallowed.

"(c) The swish-and-spit will be studied into the paper cup up to an excellent solution and the liquid-free cup, containing the saturated nappin will be disposed of in the garbage can.

The Raleigh School Board approved the swish-and-spit program in September after a dental hygienist member of the method has a "guaranteed" reduction of 22 per cent in cavities." School board members who buy that kind of guarantee should be condemned to spend the rest of their lives playing the role of rubes at the Wake County Fair.

Clear up the holes in their teeth, the theory goes, and never mind the holes in their heads.

Editor, Times-News: We, the "Women for Constitutional Government," are surprised and bitterly disappointed that you would relegate to page 13 of the December 2 issue anything as important as news of a petition to repeal Idaho's 1975 Land Use and Zoning Act.

A newspaper's purpose, as we see it, is to provide information: legal, economic, social or otherwise. Surely an attempt to repeal the Land Use Bill, a bill that would authorize confiscation of any or all land, should deserve front page coverage.

The "Renaissance Gazette" had this to say regarding the Land Use Bill. Quote, "With Washington controlling us, the titles to property would become worthless scraps of paper in a modern system of federalism."

BOISE (UPI) — The U.S. Census Bureau says Idaho is the fourth fastest growing state in the nation and could have a population of more than one million within eight years. At present, the census figures indicate Idaho's population is about 818,000.

Press sees 'blackmail' in Andrus' aide action

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — Alder to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus apparently are so concerned about his public image they'll resort to almost anything — even third-party blackmail — to protect his office.

At least, that's the way most members of the news media read a threat by Chris Carlson, the governor's press secretary, this week.

Jay Shellely, political editor of the Lewiston-Morning Tribune, came up with a column on the paranoia of the governor's office about possible leaks of the executive budget, before Andrus presents it to the legislature.

When Budget Director Hal Turner asked the Department of Administration to provide security for the budget books until Andrus gives his message Jan. 8 staff members called Security Police in Boise.

They were informed an armed guard indeed could be provided for the sum of $4 an hour. Considering what is paid some staffers in the Department of Administration that looked like a good deal to the staff.

Trouble was, Director D. E. "Skip" Chibberg hadn't heard about it. He did, after Shellely started inquiring, and cancelled the plan — directing that the one-man Statehouse security force be used, if necessary, to guard the budget from prying eyes of reporters and legislators.

Shellely still felt he had an interesting story, however, and called the governor and his staff for comment. It was then that Carlson informed him that if he published the story he might jeopardize the wire services' chance for an advance briefing on the budget — a briefing requested to meet some difficult copy deadlines.

ST. MARIES, Idaho (UPI) — All of those speaking at a public hearing Wednesday voiced support of an $18 million project to widen and improve the only road into the upper part of the rugged St. Joe River Valley.

The hearing was the first of several on an environmental impact statement dealing with improvement of 23 miles of road between Calder and Avery on national forest land.

The Kootenai Environmental Alliance, for one, opposes the project.

But a number of persons at the hearing, including State Sen. Cy Chase, pointed out that parts of the road are so narrow that only one vehicle can pass at a time.

They said the road should be improved for safety reasons, as well as to provide better access to logging operations. Support of the road to provide better recreational access was also voiced.

In all, eight witnesses offered statements, and another dozen or so asked questions regarding the project.

The road project, expected to be finished sometime within the next ten years, will require cutting away hillside in some areas, and land fill in others.

Wednesday's hearing was conducted by the Federal Highway Administration, with assistance from the Idaho Department of Highways.

analysis

Carlson acknowledged he made the statement to Shellely but says he merely was trying to protect what he and the wire services' considered a good plan for handling the budget advance.

He said he actually felt that a story of this nature, because it might be embarrassing, might dissuade the governor from an advance briefing.

If the governor's press secretary is reading the chief executive accurately that's pretty rough commentary on Andrus. To deny a reporter access — to normally provided information because of something he writes is bad enough — to retaliate against a third party is worse.

That's not the sort of person with whom some citizens are comfortable in public office.

However, perhaps that's not the case — perhaps Carlson is misreading the chief executive's "sensitivity" to news reports about his administration. That, then, doesn't say much about an aide whose job is to interpret his boss's views for the reading-listening-and-viewing public.

If, as some reporters read it, Carlson was trying to blackmail a newsman into silence — then, that, too, says something about him and this administration.

As a matter of fact, some reporters just cannot understand the Andrus administration penchant for secrecy about the budget until the message is delivered. In some states — Arizona, for instance — the governor simply calls a news conference prior to the session and announces the basic details. It's no big deal.

Idaho roads 'improved'

BOISE (UPI) — Road conditions improved in Idaho today but there still were icy spots in the north and fog with icy spots in the Boise Valley.

By road, this was the report from the State Departments of Transportation and Law Enforcement:

- U. S. 95 — Marsing to Mica Hill, icy spots.
- State Highway 88 — Boise to Banks Canyon, icy spots; Banks Canyon to Round Valley, ice, broken snow floor; Cascade to New Meadows, icy spots.
- Interstate 90, U. S. 10 — Fourth of July Canyon, icy spots; Lookout Pass, broken snow floor.
- U. S. 12 — Orofino to Lolo Pass, icy spots.
- State Highway 21 — Boise to Idaho City; icy spots; broken snow floor; Idaho City to Lowman, icy spots.
- Interstate 80N — Caldwell to Mountain Home, icy spots.
- U. S. 93 — Halley to Stanley, broken snow floor.
- State Highway 51 — Grasmere to Nevada line, icy spots.

Long, cold scrub

GRESHAM, Ore. (UPI) — The car wash brushes went up and down, scrubbing, scrubbing, scrubbing for 45 minutes while Deputy Sheriff Don Wright shivered inside his trapped car at an automatic auto wash.

A motorized truck was moving Wright and his vehicle through brushes and spray without incident Wednesday until a freak gust of wind sprung the facility's exit door with a crash on the hood of the car.

"Soup and water was blasting me from all sides. The brushes were going up and down, scrubbing, scrubbing, scrubbing," Wright said. "Have you ever been in a car wash? Well you should have seen this. You just wouldn't believe it."

After all around me, I couldn't see a thing and it was making me get pretty cold inside," he said.

He finally used his two-way radio to call for help. A fire district rescue squad brushed away shattered glass and prised away twisted metal from the fallen door to free the deputy.

SEATTLE (UPI) — Unemployment is high in Seattle — even for dogs.

A recent advertisement for a dog to fill a position in the Police Department's K9 Corps drew 300 applications.

Police Department spokesman Gary Flynn said rigorous physical tests, breeding requirements and the need for extreme stability knocked all the K9 applicants out of the running.

"I don't want the department wants a pure-bred male German Shepherd, about 10 months old.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mrs. Stanislaw Jellinski, 67, plans to fly to Poland today with a sack containing $1,000 in 100 bills to rescue her son from the last five years of a 10-year prison term.

She said she had been assured by "a friend" of her son's release in return for cash. She also said she trusted no one since her work was snatched last week and $800 of the ransom money was taken. She said she says why her son was in prison.

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Wilfredo Guzman, 39, has claimed a world altitude record for hang-gliders for a flight off an 18,150-foot Andes mountain peak.

Guzman was taken Tuesday to the summit of the peak El Plomo near the Argentine border aboard an army helicopter.

Thief takes valuable gifts

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Christmas is a week away, but two Wendlings is gone.

All the gifts they bought were stolen and they have no money to buy more.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wendling, both disabled and dependent on government assistance checks, had said they wanted their four children to have the best Christmas Christmas.

They'd been doing without medicine and not going to the doctor "in order to save money," said Mrs. Betty Wendling, confined to a wheelchair with a heart condition and an arthritic hip. "We've been saving money for months."

Last week they finished their shopping and stored $300 worth of gifts in a padlocked storage bin in the basement of their suburban Sedamsville apartment building.

One day this week Wendling, who can't bend his neck or hips, discovered the storage bin door had been pulled from the hinges and all the gifts

By United Press International

Soldiers were camped at San Francisco International Airport awaiting Christmas flights home today as Pan American World Airways plied on some of the crunch of the strike-bound travel industry by making limited domestic flights.

Thornton Clark, a travel agency official in Cambridge, Mass., said this is the worst Christmas season for travel in a decade. Nevada's Gov. Mike O'Callaghan asked President Ford to step into the holiday travel crisis and name a mediator to expedite settlement of the mechanics' strike against United Airlines — the nation's largest domestic air carrier.

The 12-day-old strike against United and a cabin attendants' strike that has grounded National Airlines for 3 1/2 months have left other airlines swamped and scores of thousands of persons scrambling for seats aboard alternate airlines, trains and buses. In Minneapolis, some cabin attendants of Northwest Airlines said they planned a work stoppage Christmas week to protest lack of progress in negotiations, but a spokesman for the union said she knew of no such plans.

The San Francisco Airport was jammed to capacity by 3,000 Ft. Ord trainees homeward bound for the holidays and forced to camp out in the terminal.

Extra buses were called in to handle the crunch and Amtrak booking agents were swamped with calls. Amtrak reports most major routes were filled.

The four Airlines' Board member to alleviate part of the problem Wednesday by authorizing Pan Am, an international carrier normally barred from serving cities on the U.S. mainland, to carry travelers between New York and San

Fire in NY club kills at least 7

NEW YORK (UPI) — At least seven persons were killed and 12 others injured early today in a smoky four-alarm fire in Manhattan's Blue Angel Club. The blaze sent scores of patrons scrambling in panic for the exits.

Fire Commissioner John T. O'Hagan said the dead included five women who were trapped in the nightclub's powder room when the lights failed and two men, one found near the entrance to the cloakroom and the other in another part of the building.

None of the victims was immediately identified.

O'Hagan said there was a "slight possibility" that some other bodies might be found, "but we won't know for sure until we've made a final search."

The commissioner said additional bodies may be under a collapsed balcony.

Fire officials said three civilians and nine firemen were injured in the blaze which broke out about 2:30 a.m. at the 405th St. 5th St. None of the injuries was considered serious.

The fire went to a third alarm minutes after it started and a fourth alarm shortly after 3 a.m. It was declared under control at 5:42 a.m.

O'Hagan said the blaze was "probably of an electrical origin, originating behind the stage" of the club. The commissioner said the nightclub was apparently "in compliance with the fire code."

Asked if he thought there were enough exits for the patrons, O'Hagan said, "I don't think the exit factor played a great role" in the death toll.

The charred bodies of the victims, enclosed in plastic covers, were carried from the club to a garage across the street to await the morgue wagon.

Longer may be safer

Washington News Service

WASHINGTON — Four-day holidays for Christmas and New Year's — the kind many people will be able to take this season — show a consistent pattern of fewer highway fatalities than the one- or two-day Christmas and New Year's periods, an insurance industry study has found.

The Christmas holidays producing the most fatalities per day, according to an analysis by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, are the one-day and three-day variety. The same holds true for New Year's, says the insurance institute, a non-profit group supported by major casualty insurance companies.

The Christmas holidays with the lowest average number of auto crash fatalities per day from 1968 to 1974 all were four-day holidays.

In 1968 and 1969, when Christmas fell on Thursdays, there was an average of 148 and 151 deaths per day, respectively. When Christmas fell on a Tuesday during the period studied, in 1962 and 1973, the average deaths per day were 161 and 160, respectively.

The four Christmas holidays producing the highest per day averages during the 1958-1974 period were in 1963, 1966 and 1975 — all one-day holidays and in 1965 and 1967 — three-day holidays. In each, the average exceeded 200 fatalities per day.

A similar pattern was observed over the one-day and three-day New Year's holidays.

Hurt man rescued

TROY, Ala. (UPI) — Martin Lane Bartoll lay in his car four days with broken bones and dehydration.

Bartoll had broken both his collarbones and his jaw, had suffered a concussion and had drunk no water since the accident a mile west of Troy, on U.S. 28 late Friday.

Mud on his clothes indicated he had left the car and tried to climb from the ravine to summer help, but had tumbled and returned to the car.

Doctors said he would live, and Wednesday removed him from the critical list.

Rescuers had to drag him from the vehicle.

Woman with Mafia and Kennedy link denies conspiracy

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Judith Campbell Exner, linked in a Senate committee report to John F. Kennedy and Mafia chieftains involved in assassination plots against Fidel Castro, said Wednesday her relationships with the late President did not involve "conspiratorial shenanigans."

"I can at this time emphatically state that my relationship with Jack Kennedy was of a close, personal nature and did not involve conspiratorial shenanigans of any kind," Mrs. Exner, who is in her mid-30s, told a news conference.

The dark-haired Mrs. Exner, wearing sunglasses and a blue plaid suit, told newsmen a "mutual friend" introduced her to Kennedy in early February, 1960, in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Exner called the news conference after news reports identified her as the "close friend" referred to in the Senate Intelligence Committee's report on alleged CIA assassination plots.

She said her relationship with Giancana and her friendship with John Roselli, who testified about his role in a plot to assassinate Castro, were "of a personal nature."

She said the relationships "in no way related to or affected my relationship with Jack Kennedy nor did I discuss either of them with the other."

She said she was aware that Giancana and Roselli were "part of the underworld, but I didn't concern myself with that because I was not a part of it."

Squeaky's apple misses judge, hits prosecutor

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Lynette Fromme, sentenced Wednesday to a maximum life term for attempting to murder President Ford, insists she intentionally did not fire when she thrust a loaded 45-caliber pistol at him.

During the tumultuous 90-minute sentencing hearing, Miss Fromme hit the prosecutor with an apple — and was dragged screaming from the courtroom.

In a 100-page private statement submitted to U.S. District Judge Thomas MacBride, the Charles Mason cultist said the thought of confronting Ford in Capitol Park Sept. 5 "tore me in two."

For the first time, she declared that before she walked to the park from her apartment she loaded the automatic with live bullets, including one in the firing chamber. She said she then deliberately ejected the round from the chamber and watched it fall to the floor.

In the document, a copy of which later was shown to UPI, Miss Fromme said she was "filling" with the weapon and could have shot the President if she had wanted.

Defense attorneys argued in the trial Miss Fromme drew the weapon to draw attention to her environmental concerns and demands that Manson be given a new trial. She refused to testify on her own behalf.

MacBride said the letter "was too late" to change the trial's outcome and handed down his first life sentence in more than 14 years on the bench. He called her act "irreprehensible and despicable."

She could be eligible for parole in 15 years.

In the handwritten document, Miss Fromme recalled the evening before the incident. "I watched the news that night and it reported Ford coming in at 11 p.m. that night. I thought 'I should go and see him.' The thought tore me in two. Here he was, the leader of the country and its leadership.

"I knew he would smile, and wave and walk by. I ate dinner thinking about it, probably crying."

She recounted her fears the world was being overcome with pollution. "I want federal orders made now for the cleanup of waters, air and land and the protection of wildlife," she said.

She threatened the judge and midway through the hearing hurled an apple she had drawn from the sleeve of her red "unity" robe at District U.S. Attorney Dwayne Keyes above the right eye when he asked for the life sentence. She said the apple had been intended for MacBride.

MacBride, flinching off her attempts to interrupt him, told Miss Fromme she could not be rehabilitated.

Stevens confirmed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Paul Stevens, praised as a man of the "highest intellectual discipline," will be sworn in Friday as a justice of the Supreme Court.

Following less than five minutes of debate, the Senate voted 89-0 Wednesday to confirm Stevens, a U.S. Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals judge from Chicago, to become the 101st Supreme Court member.

Stevens, 55, fills the vacancy created by the retirement of Justice William O. Douglas, one of the high court's leading liberals.

In a statement issued from Chicago, Stevens said he was "deeply moved" by the unanimous vote of approval.

"Like others who have traveled this road before me," he said, "I know that the end that awaits for the night is not the journey's end. A judge, like a traveler, must be ready for the morrow. I shall constantly strive to be ready for the morrow."

FBI snooping cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal Communications Commission investigation has revealed the FBI and other federal law enforcement agencies may have received information about private Western Union telegrams without required court orders.

The disclosure came in a reply by Western Union to FCC inquiries of reports that communication firms worked with federal intelligence operations in intercepting cables.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. disputed the FBI on wiretaps for both voice and nonvoice communications in cases the Justice Department said involved national security.

Two other major international communication firms, ITT World Communications and RCA Global Communications, refused to disclose such information, saying it was classified.

GM hikes work force

DETROIT (UPI) — In one of the strongest indications of the auto industry's recovery from a 1969-year slump, General Motors plans to add more than 5,700 jobs when it resumes afternoon shifts at three assembly plants.

General Motors chairman Thomas Murphy said Wednesday most of the workers to man the second shifts at Lakewood, Ga., Leeds, Mo., and Fremont, Calif., will come from the 33,000 GM employees still on long-term layoff.

Some date back to the start of the slump. Murphy said even more workers may be recalled at parts plants.

Judge reduces Wendy's bail

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Wendy Yoshimura, arrested with Patricia Hearst and other remnants of the Symbionese Liberation Army two months ago, will be out of jail on bail by Christmas, her attorney says.

She was granted a bail reduction Wednesday, from $100,000 to $25,000, by Alameda County Superior Judge Lionel Wilson. He stipulated the money must be posted in cash.

Her attorney, James Larson, said he expected to make the bail money and have Miss Yoshimura out of the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center within a week.

Wilson earlier had reduced bail from $200,000 to $100,000 for the 31-year-old artist, charged with possession of a machine gun and explosives found in an apartment she rented in Oakland 2½ years ago.

Miss Yoshimura went underground shortly after the arrest of her boyfriend, William Brandt, who was convicted of a plot to blow up the University of California's School of Naval Architecture and sentenced to 15 years in Soledad State Prison.

Wilson said he was persuaded to lower Miss Yoshimura's bail because of widespread support and progress from the Japanese-American community that she would respect cultural traditions and appear for her trial.

SALT violations hidden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Intelligence reports on alleged Soviet violations of the Strategic Arms Limitation agreement were withheld from former Secretary of State William Rogers and other high officials and sometimes were delayed or rescinded, former President Jimmy Carter said Wednesday, according to House testimony.

Declassified documents put in evidence Wednesday by the House Intelligence committee showed that Henry A. Kissinger, when national security adviser to Nixon, ordered in 1972 that judgments as to Soviet SALT violations not be put in writing by intelligence officials and that these judgments be made by the National Security Council, of which he was chairman.

An unidentified director of strategic research reported in a memo Oct. 17, 1972, that Col. Jack Merritt of the NSC had telephoned and said that he had been asked to get in touch with us and say that, in the reports of the intelligence community concerning SALT monitoring, Dr. Kissinger wanted to avoid any written judgments to the effect that the Soviets have violated any of the SALT agreements. If the director of intelligence believes that the Soviets may be in violation, this should be the subject of a memorandum from him to Dr. Kissinger. The judgment that a violation is considered to have occurred is one that will be made at the NSC level.

Another heavily censored memo dated July 15, 1972, on possible Soviet violations, said "it is now 24 days since we reported to Dr. Kissinger on the detection of several."

"During this period this and related evidence have been held in a strict hold status on instructions of the NSC staff."

The memo said that James R. Schlesinger, then briefly in charge of the CIA, had learned of alleged violations and named several others who knew about them.

"No one else . . . is aware of this information nor, of course, are any members of the key congressional committees concerned with SALT verification matters," the memo said.

"Among those not now authorized to know about the matter are Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, head of the SALT delegation, and Sidney Graybeal, the U.S. commissioner on the U.S.-Soviet Standing Consultative Commission set up to deal with problems of compliance . . ."

ALVARO GONZALES
... first taste

Mexican likes cold and snow

SALMON — Alvaro Gonzales, who at 16 is getting his first taste of snow and cold, says he likes it.

He's learning to ski at Lost Trail Pass and says it's something about keeping warm in the cold but nothing about the heat in Mexico.

Alvaro arrived in Salmon Nov. 17 and plans to spend the next eight months here. He is enrolled in Salmon High School to learn English.

Alvaro was graduated from high school in Guadalajara where his father is a cardiologist.

The youth is here under the International Fellowship program and is residing with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shulenberg and family.

Alvaro, who is learning English "very fast," is adept at mechanics and has learned to milk the Shulenberg cow at night. He also repaired a washing machine and motorcycle. His hobby is playing the guitar.

The Shulenbergs commented: "Alvaro isn't any problem; he is very easy to get along with; anything you ask him to do he does."

Alvaro commented: "It is a good family. The people here are very sincere."

Mrs. Ethel McFarland, language teacher at Salmon High School, said the youth is doing very well.

She noted the idea behind the International Fellowship Program is to achieve an understanding of cultures.

No apple polishing

© 1975 N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — Polishing apples has become as obsolete as rug-beating. These days, apples, like cucumbers, tomatoes, green peppers, citrus fruit and even other fruits and vegetables, are often waxed, although there is no labeling at the point-of-sale to indicate that fact.

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, a national trade association for the industry, says that the main reason for waxing is not appearance, but the preservation of quality and nutrition.

The continuing trend toward centralization of agriculture in areas far from urban centers like New York means that fruits and vegetables must be shipped long distances, and during travels they are subject to decay, dehydration and shrinkage, all of which the waxing is supposed to help prevent.

According to R. A. Sell, a consultant to the association, however, the value of waxing for some fruits and vegetables — other than for appearance — is open to question.

Christmas party held

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Motel Association met Friday at the Alley for a Christmas party and election of officers. Officials reported today.

Al Hughes was elected president; Jack Ainsworth, vice-president; Shirley Easton, secretary-treasurer; Betty Ainsworth, program chairman; and Kenneth Easton, membership chairman.

Plans were made to hold the meetings the third Friday of every month. Motel owners are encouraged to attend and discuss upcoming issues on which action will be taken.

The next meeting will be Jan. 23 in a location to be announced later.

American Falls Dam vote scheduled in January

BY BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer
BURL—John M. Barker, Buhl, president of the American Falls Reservoir District, says elections will probably be held in January to authorize pay-back contracts for reconstruction costs of American Falls Dam.

Barker explained there will be separate elections for various water user groups with Jan. 12 set as the proposed date for the American Falls Reservoir District election. This will include the Northside Canal Co., Twin Falls Canal Co., The Aberdeen-Springfield Water Users and Woodville-Martin Irrigation District.

Barker said the proposal calls for bonding in the amount of $44.75 million to cover replacement of the present dam, and the election will be a "yes" or "no" vote on authorization of the reconstruction of the dam.

"If the elections carry by the required majorities, reconstruction to the dam could begin as early as June 1976," Barker was quick to point out the elections are being scheduled on the condition legislation now pending in Congress is approved and signed into law. If this is not done, he said, the elections would be cancelled prior to the January dates.

"Barker said he is optimistic the legislation which would make the district's bonds tax exempt, will pass. He said he has received assurance from Idaho senators passage appears probable."

Barker said the nearly $45 billion figure has been established as the maximum needed in bonds for the reconstruction. Before bonds are sold, however, Barker hopes the contract can be let so only the amount of bonds needed to cover actual costs will be sold.

The proposal calls for bond repayment over a 40 year period. Although it is not signed into law, it is not available at sale time, assuming it is an 8 per cent figure, he said, water users would pay $1.08 per acre foot per year.

representing 70,867 per cent of the 1.7 million acre feet of the Reservoir water storage space, Barker said. Assurance has been received that substantially 50 of the canal company organizations plan to take official action in December to schedule elections in mid-January.

Barker said if the elections are successful much remains to be done to meet the June 1976 construction date. Final contract terms and engineering plans are in closing stages of review by the Department of Interior and Bureau of Reclamation. Barker said the need continues for replacement of the dam at what is Idaho's most critically located reservoir.

He said completion of the dam would take about one and one half years but it is not expected construction will hinder water deliveries. The only period of possible water shortages due to construction work would be in the fall of 1977 but by that time water needs have diminished.

DEL HANKS
 Scout Executive

Snake River council hires scout leader

TWIN FALLS—Del Hanks, a professional-scout executive with international as well as extensive U.S. experience, has been named to head the Snake River Area Council which serves 5,389 youth in the eight Magic Valley counties.

The appointment was announced recently by Council President—Elyse Cain—Twin Falls, and Roy Roper, selection committee chairman. The new council scout executive succeeds Darl Glead, who moved to Ogden, Utah, as scout executive.

Hanks "comes home" to Twin Falls—where he was born Oct. 30, 1932—from the Columbia Pacific Council, BSA, headquartered in Portland, Ore. There, he served as council field director before becoming director of the exploring division, which serves some 8,500 youth in 15 counties and almost doubled in membership during Hanks' tenure in that position.

Previously, Hanks served three years in scouting's Far East—Council—working with Scouts in Okinawa, Taiwan and Thailand. He entered professional scouting in 1964 in Los Angeles, where he worked with minority groups. He has been active in scouting for almost 30 years since he first "joined up" as a Cub Scout in 1947 in Nampa.

Transferring with him from Portland to Twin Falls are the rest of the Hanks family, which includes his wife, Judy, a registered nurse, and three sons.

Guns reported stolen

TWIN FALLS — Margaret A. Cagle, 293 Sunrise Blvd. N., told city police someone entered her home and took four guns from the bedroom where her husband kept them on a gun rack.

She said the guns disappeared Sunday and included a revolver, a rifle and two shotguns. She estimated value at $400.

Patricia Labrum, 1402 7th Ave. E., reported a $450 loss. She said someone entered her home and took a calculator, a set of matching wedding rings and a Timex watch.

Jerry Jones reported someone broke into his pickup truck while it was parked at his home, 1421 Lindy Lane Monday night and took a citizen band radio and microphone. He estimated loss at $100.

Wendell school board adopts employment policy

WENDELL — The Wendell school board has adopted a policy statement on equal opportunity and fair employment practices.

Supl. Lawrence LaRue said today the statement is in compliance with Title 9 federal regulations, which call for each school district to publicize its adoption of such a policy. The policy provides there will be equal opportunity and no discrimination because of race, color or creed.

The policy was adopted at this week's trustee meeting, LaRue said. Trustees also approved a request for Mr. and Mrs. Gail Carpenter, Twin Falls, former Wendell residents, to send their kindergarten-age boy to class in Wendell.

One-man security force guards Andrus' budget

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — The one-man security force at the State Capitol in Boise has been pulled off his regular duties to guard the governor's budget books at the State Print Shop, the Lewiston Morning Tribune reported today.

In a story by Political Editor Jay Shelley, the Tribune said the guard — who doubles as a parking lot attendant — will be used to guard the books until after Gov. Cecil D. Andrus gives his budget address Jan. 8.

An earlier proposal to hire a $4 per hour armed guard to keep watch over the budget books was abandoned, the newspaper said.

William Shields, deputy director of administration, said hiring an armed guard was considered as an alternative to his personnel piloting guard duty on the documents as they have in the past.

"I didn't think we should have to pull a 16-hour day," Shields said.

Shields said when he first talked to Shields about the security guard he was under the impression the proposal still was under consideration.

But, he said, he received a long-distance telephone call a short time later from D. E. "Skip" Chilberg, director of administration, saying it was only one of the alternatives suggested and "that alternative is no longer being considered."

Chilberg confirmed that the plan now is to utilize the existing Statehouse security guard. Asked what happens if a problem arises at the Statehouse, he said, "I'm sure that if a security problem arises he will be pulled off the books."

"It is the governor's desire not to have any information released until he gives his budget message," Chilberg said.

Andrus refused to make any comment "whatsoever."

"How the budget will be prepared and how the budget bureau handles it is its business," Andrus told the Tribune.

Chris Carlson, Andrus' press secretary, said a private guard was only one of the options Chilberg asked to be considered.

"It is something the governor would not have approved of," Carlson said.

McClure road bill signed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has signed into law Sen. James Mc Clure's "Road Credit" bill which authorizes a more flexible road credit policy for logging roads in national forests, the senator reported today.

The bill allows for the transfer of credits earned by loggers who construct roads in National Forests for the harvesting timber and allows the timber companies to log an acre without such a long-term tie-up of their cash resources.

"It often takes several years after the roads are built for the companies to receive the credit," Mc Clure said. "For a small timber company, this can prove a hardship because their capital is tied up."

Gooding trustees study space plans

GOODING — Gooding school trustees are studying plans to obtain more space for the district, Supt. James Muscat said Wednesday.

The board discussed for two and a half hours Monday the pros and cons of obtaining the space needed by the school district "all the way through" both elementary and high school, Muscat said.

Kindergarten classes now are being held in leased space at the old Tyler Hall at the former TB Hospital and buses shuttle to the facility east of town.

More space is needed at the junior high school, especially for vocational classes, Muscat said.

There are no industrial arts facilities at all in the Gooding High School which is only a few years old, Muscat said. "We ran out of money before we got that in."

So high school students are shuttled to the junior high for ag and shop classes.

The trustees are studying and planning to determine what type of project will best meet the needs of both present and future educational needs in Gooding, Muscat said.

The board also approved the high school debate team's participation in an invitational debate match at Pocatello.

Poster deadline extended

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Heritage announced today the extension of its deadline to Jan. 1 for its Bicentennial Poster Contest.

Officials said the deadline was extended because artists throughout the state requested more time to complete their entries.

The poster topic must concern the celebration of the American Bicentennial in Idaho and the overall winner will be awarded a cash prize of $50 and the winning poster will be published as the cover of the Idaho Heritage Bicentennial issue in February. Posters may be in color or black and white.

Reunions 'painful'

© Chicago Daily News

CHICAGO — Holiday family reunions can be painful for some by opening old wounds, a psychiatric social worker says.

"Old, unresolved conflicts that have been lying quietly because of separation of family get stirred up," warns Rebecca S. Cohen, director of clinical social work at Michael Reese Medical Center.

"Adult children and parents act as adolescent and parents again. They relieve the conflicts they never resolve."

Nevertheless, Ms. Cohen says one should not resist the pressure to get together again. "Holidays are rituals in the process of living. Painful rituals, sometimes," says Ms. Cohen.

If some of the old conflicts come out in the open, well and good.

"Quarrels can lead to closeness," she says. "The same process that opens feelings of anger also can open up feelings of love."

Changing family life-styles can lead to upsots. It used to be traditional for everyone to go to grandma's house, she points out, but now grandpa and grandpa come as guests, traveling from their retirement condominiums in Florida, Arizona or California.

your health

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

My mother has a hiatal hernia, and she doesn't seem to get much reassurance about how to cope with it. Her biggest difficulty lies in trying to eat solid foods. She seems to have an unusually small capacity to take in food, and it seems to pass through her intestines very fast.

Could you recommend a diet for her, plus any other advice in this? We would like to have your booklet on the subject of hiatal hernia. I'm enclosing 25 cents to you (in care of this newspaper) and also a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. — Mrs. R.K.H.

There are varying degrees of herniation in this condition, which is an abnormally large opening at the diaphragm where the gullet passes through.

If your mother has not been checked for peptic ulcers already, this should be done. Peptic ulcer often accompanies hiatal hernia. And, of course, this would account for other disturbances in the intestinal tract. X-Rays would show the exact degree of herniation or any ulceration.

There is much you can do to cope with this situation. The title of the booklet you requested is "Hiatal Hernia: Eight Ways to Combat It." These are specific diets available, and they usually parallel those prescribed for ulcer itself — frequent small feedings of bland foods with low residue.

Twin problem

Your mother should avoid clothing that fits tightly around the stomach area. If the hernia is troublesome at night, she should sleep with her upper body slightly elevated. This avoids the "reflux" of stomach juices into the upper gullet.

Hiatal hernia requires rather careful diagnoses. Surprisingly, in cases of moderate herniation such conservative methods are effective in control. Surgery to repair the opening is rather rare. If your mother is overweight, she should reduce. Obesity makes matters worse in this. I think my booklet will help you. Diet is discussed on page six.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I recently had freezing treatment at a dermatology clinic for removal of red, scaly spots on my face and legs. I was told this was keratosis, actinic. My dictionary calls this a scale caused by albumin. I'd like to find the cause.

I was given no diet instructions. I have thin, light skin. I'm trying to figure out whether I get too much albumin in my diet, whether I lack estrogen, or what. I never had any skin problems in all my 70 years before this. — I.V.E.

This has nothing to do with albumin, estrogen or diet. Keratosis refers to skin growths. The adjective "actinic" pinpoints the cause as the actinic rays of the sun. Keratosis tends to form in older people. Your thin skin probably makes you more susceptible.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I am 26 and in excellent health. Four months ago I gave birth to a nine-pound boy. For many years before this birth (my first) I had a constipation problem. The root of it was never getting the urge. Why after having the baby has the problem completely disappeared.

Could delivering the large baby have corrected any internal or rectal problem? No complaints, just an over-whelming curiosity.

My O.B. says no connection. — Mrs. I.D.P.

I agree with your O.B. The most likely answer is that your routine with the baby has stabilized your activities, both psychologically and physiologically.

What are ulcers? How can you help yourself get rid of ulcers and stay rid of them? Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers." For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his columns whenever possible.

Sign-up deadline nears

TWIN FALLS — This is the final week for all boys and girls in the first through fourth grades to sign up for the Magic Valley YMCA's Christmas Fun Club.

The Annual Fun Club will be held on Dec. 22, 23, 24 and Dec. 25, 30, 31 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the "Y". The daily program includes: games, crafts, swimming, singing, and lots of fun. Director Peter Blumenthal said that two trips were planned during the fun club session.

Blumenthal also indicated that children attending should plan to bring a sack lunch and their swimming suit and towel each day.

Finally, Blumenthal said, that boys and girls can sign up for one day or all six. Have a "merry" Christmas vacation, join your friends at the YMCA's Christmas Fun Club.

Doctor links 'overprescribing' with uterine cancer cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Estrogens, prescribed to millions of American women going through menopause, may be causing 8,000 to 10,000 more cases of uterine cancer, than would normally occur, a doctor has told the Food and Drug Administration.

Dr. Sidney Wolfe of Ralph Nader's Health Research Group testified Tuesday that physicians are guilty of "massive overprescribing" of the estrogen preparations.

Studies recently described in medical journals have suggested a strong relationship between estrogen hormones and increased incidence of cancer of the uterus, although the studies do not prove the hormones cause cancer.

"The risk of getting cancer of the uterus as a result of using these pills is as great or greater than the operative mortality for gynecological procedures where written informed consent is required," Wolfe told the FDA Advisory Committee on the Use of Estrogens during menopause.

"If 2 million women are using these drugs on a long-term basis and the increased risk of uterine cancer is four to eight times more than the 1-per-1,000 risk in the general population, Premarin and the other similar estrogens may be causing an excess of 8,000 to 10,000 cancers in these women," he wrote in testimony said.

More than 7.7 million prescriptions were written for women during a recent year for one drug company's estrogen preparation, Wolfe said, and total annual prescriptions for these drugs is about 22 million.

"Consequently, more than three-fourths of the prescriptions for these drugs are not warranted, either by virtue of lack of efficacy or by offering benefits trivial in comparison to the risk of cancer," he told the advisory committee.

"The panel is hearing industry, medical and other testimony in its review of estrogen therapy."

Estrogen preparations are used to treat such symptoms of menopause as hot flashes and night sweats and for postmenopausal conditions.

Safety commission probe gives poinsettias 'bum rap' this year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The people who sell flowers think the poinsettia is getting a bum rap this Christmas season from those who say it's poisonous. And the Agriculture Department seems to agree.

An investigation being conducted by the Consumer Product Safety Commission into whether the flowers should carry warning labels telling buyers to keep them out of children's reach sparked a new round of bad poinsettia publicity last week.

But the American Association of Nurserymen says charges against the plants are a "myth" and that no fatalities or even serious injuries resulting from eating poinsettia leaves have ever been confirmed.

Among other things it cites a 1971 study done at Ohio State University in which rats were fed ground poinsettia leaves. The rats, the study said, showed "no mortality (and) no symptoms of toxicity."

The group also said that a frequently mentioned report of a child dying from eating a poinsettia leaf in Hawaii in 1919 has been proven to be "heresy."

One Agriculture Department researcher agreed "all sorts of other 'poisonous' plants could have caused the Hawaii death.

"We firmly believe there is no basis for saying they are poisonous or toxic at all," the researcher said. Some persons are prone to a "little skin reaction" from touching the poinsettia leaves, he said, but thousands of the plants are processed in the florist industry every year and few problems result.

The nurserymen also claim mistletoe sold in this country presents no hazard — unlike the European variety which has been linked to poisonings. The difference, one official said, is that U.S. mistletoe grows wild, unlike the European type which is cultivated and a different variety.

The commission began its investigation in response to a petition from a New York man who asked for warning labels on both poinsettia and mistletoe, citing reports that they are poisonous. The commission has made no decision yet on the petition.

Response lacks positive action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leaders of two dozen women's groups are disappointed that Health, Education and Welfare Secretary David Mathews did not react more positively to recommendations they presented during a two-hour meeting Tuesday.

"I was very disappointed in the secretary's failure to make a clear statement that he supports energetic enforcement of the laws and regulations which guarantee equal rights for women," said Julia Lear, president-elect of the Federation of Organizations for Professional Women.

"We were disappointed he said only that he would take our recommendations under advisement rather than promising positive action," added Margaret Dunbar, chairman of the National Coalition for Women and Girls Education, which requested the meeting.

The women had been spurred in earlier attempts to get Mathews to meet with them. The organizations presented about a dozen recommendations to Mathews during Tuesday's meeting, including a request for a "strong" public statement affirming his personal commitment to enforcing anti-discrimination laws for which HEW is responsible."

Official says parents should step-up poison precautions

DENVER (UPI) — The director of the Rocky Mountain Poison Center says parents should step-up precautions about dangerous household products and decorative items because the number of accidental poisonings increase during December.

The increase in accidental poisonings during December probably can be attributed to the frantic holiday rush which preoccupies most adults and to the presence of gifts and decorative items which may be dangerous to curious tots," said Barry Rumaek.

He said parents should keep ketchup and opson salts on hand for emergency use. He estimated that 80 per cent of the accidental poisoning cases could be treated at home under the direction of the family doctor if the remedies were on hand.

He said aftershave lotions, bubble bath soaps, and shaving cremes can cause vomiting and sometimes more serious problems for a youngster who decides they look good enough to eat.

Rumaek also said model paint or glue, green and purple marking pens and spray cans with freon propellant all represent potential hazards to children.

The poison center official said mistletoe was the most dangerous of the decorative holiday plants and that one or two berries could kill a young child.

"Yew, holly and leguirty beans also can cause poisoning, while poinsettia leaves, stems or sap can give a child a severe stomach upset," Rumaek said.

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Nearly a year ago, after 24 years of marriage and four children, my husband asked me for a divorce.

"It seems that although we were the same age when we got married, I suddenly got "too old" for him, so he found himself a girl his daughter's age and traded me in for her. Somehow I survived the blow, but listen to this: Yesterday he phoned and these were his exact words, "Honey, if I sent Maria (his young wife) over, would you please give her some cooking lessons? She's a great kid, but she never learned how to cook."

"I was so shocked at his colossal nerve I didn't know what to say, so after a long pause I said, "I'll think about it and let you know."

Abby, the last thing I want to do is give this girl cooking lessons. Am I wrong? How should I handle this hot potato?
NUMBER ONE

DEAR ONE: With asbestos mittens. Tell your husband that you've thought it over and decided to let him eat crow.

Let him eat crow

DEAR ABBY: I have a 2-year-old grandson about whom I am worried. His father gives him "sips" of a martini, beer or anything he happens to be drinking.

I have tried to tell my son-in-law that it is harmful to the child, but he says it won't hurt the boy, and he continues to ignore me.

I have seen that baby take two, three and four sips of a martini. Every once in a while he makes him think it's cute, so he is encouraged to take more.

Is it possible for a child to become an alcoholic this way? Or will he (as my son-in-law says) develop a tolerance for it?
NEW JERSEY

DEAR NEW JERSEY: The possibility of developing a "taste" for alcohol is greater than developing a tolerance for it. Your son-in-law must have onion soup for brains.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's parents died nine years ago and we inherited the family home. The other children were given various items by the will, and we thought everything was fairly divided since no one complained at that time.

These past few years, two sisters and a sister-in-law have acquired an appreciation for antiques, and since they will regard this as their family home, they are constantly coming back to remember that Mother promised them the dishes and Dad said they could have the desk.

The other day, a sister-in-law tried to take possession of an old ice chest that I had bought at a garage sale and had restored.

I want to keep peace in the family, but I don't want to be taken advantage of. What do you suggest?
ANNONCED

DEAR ANNONCED: I suggest that you learn how to say no and smile at the same time.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

CPSC gives safety tips for novice and expert skiers

Thursday, December 18, 1975 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 17

Newhouse News Service
WASHINGTON — With snows starting in the mountains, the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has offered ski safety tips to help novices and experts alike make it through the winter.

CPSC estimates that each year 84,000 skiers are injured seriously enough to require first aid in a hospital emergency room.

To prevent such accidents, you should keep your equipment in top working order and know your limitations as weather and mountain conditions vary.

"It is not surprising that beginners have far more accidents than veteran skiers," the commission says. "They have less technical knowledge of the sport, they know less about their equipment and they often easily misjudge their abilities."

"One study revealed that at one resort new skiers suffered 55 per cent of the injuries even though they represented only 21 per cent of the skiers."

For the novice's first few times on the slopes, the commission advises lessons so he'll know the basic turns and have "the right amount of confidence — neither too much nor too little."

Even before you line up for ski school, though, make sure you are in shape. Other skiers, the commission says, can tell you exercises to build up your leg and your endurance. Starting a week before your trip isn't soon enough.

Proper conditioning will help cut the fatigue that can lead to accidents. Proper equipment will help prevent spills.

Boots have to fit right or you shouldn't even leave the lodge. If they're too big, your feet slip and you can't control the ski. If boots are too small, your blood circulation will be affected, and before you know it you may have frostbite.

Beginning skiers should be wary of the high, stiff boots the skilled skiers wear. They know how to use them for stability; you don't and may get a severe break when you fall.

The commission advises parents who are buying ski boots for their children: "Don't succumb to the temptation to economize by buying boots too large for them, thinking they can wear extra socks until their feet grow to fit."

Have a reputable ski shop adjust your bindings to your technicians you're better than you are. The bindings may have to be adjusted to release more easily if you still fall a lot. If they don't release, you will run a higher risk of serious injury. But they must not release too easily, either, or you might be hurt in an unnecessary fall. Bindings should release in two directions: in forward falls and in twisting, sideways falls.

Anti-friction devices between boot and ski also help hold boots to the ski and prevent some leg injuries in forward falls, CPSC says.

Skis should be marked for each foot and shouldn't be switched because a binding adjusted for one foot may not exactly fit the other foot.

Keep your equipment clean and lubricated, too. You will especially need to give everything a thorough check a few weeks before your trip to allow time for any necessary repairs.

When you reach the mountain, be careful getting on and off lifts. A dangling ski tip or a loose scarf can cause a

The finesse was not as much of a gamble as it might have been. West's bid had marked him with a lot of high cards and he was more likely than not to hold the king of diamonds.

Sgt. Richard Skinner operates new radar system

No hiding place from new radar

By LINDA LEE
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — In case you think you have a system for avoiding Idaho State Police radar screens, think again.

Lt. Ray Thomas, chief officer of the Twin Falls office of the State Police, reports his patrol cars are now equipped with a new device called the MR7 Moving Radar.

"This thing is really getting them," Lt. Thomas said Wednesday.

Thomas and Sgt. Richard Skinner say they are anxious to let the public know about the presence of this new device so they won't be surprised if they are caught speeding.

The difference between the MR7 and more conventional, stationary traffic radar is the ability of the MR7 to read the speed of vehicles moving in the opposite direction from the patrol car.

"Many people who see a patrol car coming in the opposite direction try to adjust their speed down and assume the officer has no system for accurately measuring their speed," Thomas said.

A demonstration of the MR7 proves this is no longer true. In a trial run, Sgt. Skinner, cruising down Interstate 80, was able to read the speed of the traffic coming from the opposite direction.

In addition, if the system is adjusted properly the officer will be able to measure the speed of oncoming vehicles from a distance of one-half mile. Consequently, a speeder may be detected before he has even seen the patrol car advancing from the opposite direction.

"The guys are taking a terrific amount of verbal abuse on this thing," Thomas said, "and we want people to realize it's out there."

The MR7 contains a Velocity Tracking Circuit (VTC) which searches out and locks to the speed of the patrol vehicle. After the VTC has "locked on" it generates a number representing patrol vehicle speed which is to be subtracted from the closing rate between the oncoming car and patrol vehicle in order to display the true speed of the target car.

"The VTC also operates velocity tracking filters to eliminate the range reduction effect caused by terrain and low speed traffic."

According to Skinner, each state police district in the state received two of these MR7 Moving Radar devices a week ago and have been stopping many more speeders than before.

Thomas said because this system does not require the patrol car to be stationary, even crition band radios will not be of much help to truckers trying to avoid being caught.

Reports of "Where's smoky, where's smoky" will not be answered very well because a smoky (patrol car) will not be in any particular place any more.

Sgt. Skinner said when tracking a group of vehicles moving together, the VTC will zero in on the closest vehicle or the fastest moving vehicle in the group.

He also said the VTC was more sensitive to trucks because of their larger mass.

A check of 84 vehicles during the trial run indicated an average speed on I-80 at about 3:30 p.m. to be 59 m.p.h.

Sgt. Skinner agreed that many vehicles are exceeding the 55 m.p.h. speed limit, but added that the average speed of cars is considerably lower than it was before the new energy conserving speed limits were set by the U.S. Dept. of Transportation.

He added it is a rare occurrence when an officer has to pursue a speeder at speeds in excess of 80 or 90 m.p.h. to issue a citation.

Planning council endorses JUB

By GORDON JUDD
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Joint Planning Council voted Wednesday to recommend spending up to $15,000 to hire a planning firm even though the council only has $2,923 in its budget.

Chairman Jack Muldoon suggested hiring J-U-B Engineers to finish the Twin Falls county comprehensive land use plan earlier this year they could complete the land use plan for $15,000 or less.

The Twin Falls county commissioners now must decide whether to fund the comprehensive plan and come up with the money for J-U-B.

Some difference of opinion surfaced at the planning meeting over whether to hire J-U-B before the 4-2 vote in favor of the firm was made.

County Commissioner Bill Chaney, who at first said, "I'm here to listen - I'll reserve my judgment till later," broke his silence to say that he thought the council "should hear from other consultants and check their price and performance."

"The plan (comprehensive plan) will be no good until it gets thru public hearing," declared Chairman Muldoon in opening the discussion. "It is not ready for public hearing now," he said.

Other members and other members initially complained that the J-U-B's price sounded high and was a "cost plus" basis with a top estimate of $15,000.

Some council members expressed concern with that type of arrangement and felt that a firm-price-should-be-negotiated before any further consideration be given to hiring a consultant.

Other members thought that "you got what you paid for" and that any attempt to get a lower price from J-U-B or some other firm might not be successful.

Council member J.A. "Al" Clawson said "unless a firm price is quoted I would be against J-U-B or anyone else."

Council members appeared to feel that the need for "professionalism" in the plan which had drawn heavy criticism from some elected officials and others during the time it was being developed by recently fired planner Dave Richey should be assured by hiring a firm like J-U-B Engineers Inc.

A letter pointing up the possible conflict of interest in hiring J-U-B was read from lawyer Jeff Stoker who called the council's attention to the fact that J-U-B Engineers had recently acted "as a consultant to Snake River Enterprises" who had tried unsuccessfully to get a planned urban development (PUD) on Fallie Ave., East passed by the City of Twin Falls.

Chairman Muldoon said he felt that whatever consultant they chose to work on the plan could not make it (the consultants) plan and largely discounted the possibility that any conflict of interest problems would be present.

"The final plan is going to be up to the citizens," Muldoon said.

"Jean Miller agreed, and thought that any engineering firm hired should be able to recognize any conflict of interest that might develop and could probably be counted on to point it out to the council if it developed."

In other council business further action was taken to restructure the council to include a (non)member from the Soil Conservation districts (there) who have in the past been invited to the present but were not given any vote in council affairs.

Lamar Orton, Community Development Director, City of Twin Falls, presented the Council with information about possible funding that might be obtained by the council from The Association For Humanities of Idaho.

Orton pointed out that the council might be able to obtain matching funds from this organization to put on a "panel discussion" which could be filmed for later use in the media to acquaint residents with the purpose of the comprehensive plan before they are confronted with it at public hearings.

The next meeting of the council will be their Annual meeting, January 14, '76 at which time he nominating committee will submit nominations for Chairman and Vice Chairman, along with election of the "Member at Large" not presently a part of the council.

Mediation possible

SUN VALLEY — If a 10 a.m. meeting tomorrow between the United Transportation Union and Sun Valley Co. ends in a stalemate, a federal mediator will be called in.

Wally Huffman, vice president of recreation at the resort, said UTU representative Bill Henry had asked for a meeting with the company at the Holiday Inn tomorrow.

Huffman said the company would meet with the union representative. The two sides are trying to settle a strike by 14 UTU bus drivers at the resort.

The UTU claims benefits were written out of a contract that has been in existence since Union Pacific first opened the resort.

Huffman says if this situation is not resolved Friday a federal mediator in Boise will be called in. Both Sun Valley County representatives and Henry have been in touch with the mediator but have as yet not asked him to intercede.

Statement could affect grazing

By DAVE HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Court-ordered environmental impact statements might alter grazing practices on federal land in Idaho, according to Bureau of Land Management (BLM) officials in Burley and Shoshone.

Charles Haszler, manager of the Shoshone BLM district, said the required statements might call for more emphasis on "rotating from one pasture to another — a series of grazing and resting."

Rotation is a long-standing practice on BLM land, "but it hasn't received the emphasis that the grazing suit has given it," Haszler said.

The National Resource Defense Council (NRDC) a California-based environmental group, sued the BLM in 1973. The suit charged that the BLM wasn't complying with a federal law requiring impact statements on programs that affect human environment, including grazing privileges on BLM land.

Prior to the suit, the BLM had followed an "umbrella approach" which took in 11 western states evaluating the environmental impact of grazing.

However, the NRDC won the suit and the judge ordered the BLM to prepare 212 impact statements on specific areas. Thirty-four of the statements are scheduled in Idaho.

The first of those statements will be completed for the BLM's Challis district in Idaho. It must be finished by June of 1976.

The rest are scheduled for completion over a 12-year period.

The first BLM district will write statements for each of four areas. The first will be completed by fiscal 1979, for the Madras area, which includes Power and Oneida counties. The other area, which includes Power and Oneida counties, the other three will be completed by fiscal 1982 (the Magic Valley area, including Twin Falls county east of Salmon Falls Creek.), fiscal 1983 (Cassia County) and fiscal 1984 (the Pocatello area).

Nick Cozokos, manager of the Burley district, said the statements might alter grazing practices. "But I don't think they will any more than the allotment management plan program that was already in effect" prior to the suit.

Under the management program, impact statements were written only if "environmental analysis" showed they were necessary.

The suit effectively halted the management program until the statements are written, according to Cozokos. "It curtailed most of the range improvement program although we can go on with maintenance."

The Shoshone BLM district will write three statements. The first, for the Bennett Hills, Magic and Timpanian Hill regions of Gooding, Lincoln and Blaine counties, will be completed by fiscal 1977. The statement for the Camas, Sun Valley and Muldoon regions of Blaine and Camas counties will be finished by fiscal 1979. The final statement, for the Wild Horse, Wendell and Canyon regions of Lincoln, Blaine and Jerome counties, has not been scheduled yet but will be done after 1981.

Shoshone district manager Haszler said, stockmen are "worried" about the statements "because they look upon them as more restrictions on the numbers or seasons they can graze."

Some are also "concerned that we may propose combining allotments," he said.

Some grazing allotments are reserved exclusively for one stockman's cattle or sheep.

However, the "group" allotment allows two or more stockmen to graze their sheep or cattle on the same area and the "common use" allotment permits grazing of cattle and sheep together on the same area.

Asked if the impact statements might result in reduced grazing privileges or more joint allotments, Haszler said, "In some cases, they may. But we're still in the assessment stage ourselves. It must be a cooperative effort between the BLM and the stockmen."

The Boise BLM district will complete an impact statement by fiscal 1979 for an area that includes Twin Falls County west of Salmon Falls Creek.

Hansen students will pay for 2nd helping at lunch

By LORAYNE O. SMITH
Times-News writer

HANSEN — "Munch mouths" at Hansen School now will have to pay for any second helpings.

School trustees Wednesday night officially approved the policy of no second helpings without purchase of another meal ticket. Supt. Garth Miller said the policy was begun Monday.

The small number of students presently going back for additional helpings has boosted the cost of the hot lunch program, he said. It was felt that increasing the cost of lunches would work a hardship on everyone. So now those who want more to eat will pay for an additional lunch.

Because the Hansen School lunch program is classed by federal regulations as a "class A lunch" no part of the menu can be sold separately, Miller said. So if a boy wants only more potatoes, he still will have to pay for another entire lunch.

Milk will continue to be sold separately and students can buy six many options as they want.

In other business, trustees agreed to carry out recommendations from the Idaho Department of Labor and Industrial Services for installation of additional stair railings in the two older school buildings.

The board also agreed that Ski Club members can go to Magic Mountain with the lifetime sports class for skiing if there is room on the school bus.

Miller said school will be dismissed for the holidays at 2:15 p.m. Friday. He plans on having the gymnasium open "part of the time most every day" for student use during vacation, but has not worked out details.

First flag for city hall

CASTLEFORD Councilman W.G. Roenckers, left, and Mayor E.P. Pinkston raise a new flag over the Castleford city hall. It is the first time the city building has ever had a flag, as far as current officials can determine. The city purchased the flag in recognition of the Bicentennial observance, according to Cecil Childs, chairman of the West End Bicentennial committee.

Magistrate judge's tardiness criticized

By SHANE O'NEILL
Times-News writer

JEROME — Magistrate Judges in Mindoka and Cassia counties were criticized by a Mindoka County Commissioner for showing up late to court sessions.

Fifth District Administrative Judge Douglas Russell, Twin Falls and Administrative Magistrate Judge Russell Shaud, Jerome, have been asked to meet with county commissioners in Mindoka and Cassia counties to discuss complaints against two magistrate judges.

The criticism centers on magistrate judges Jerry Wegman in Mindoka County and George Granata, Cassia county magistrate.

Elmer Ketterling, Mindoka County commissioner, said Judge Wegman often shows up 45-50 minutes late for court and "when he even shows he still has clients waiting for him."

"I've are going to have a judge in the area I think he should have to work just the same as anyone else," Ketterling said in a meeting of the Magic Valley Association of Governments, Tuesday.

"I think Judge Wegman is a good judge," Ketterling added on Wednesday, "but I think there could be improvement in some areas."

Ketterling said he was a witness in a case where Wegman was late for a hearing and the commissioner said he has been told of other tardy appearances by the judge.

Ketterling also complained about an incident involving Cassia County Magistrate Judge George Granata, hearing Mindoka cases during a recent absence by Wegman.

He said Granata had arrived 30-35 minutes late for a hearing, found it was a woman suing for her uncle and postponed the hearing two weeks until Wegman's return. Ketterling quoted Granata as saying he did not want to become involved in another county's family affairs. He added the case was five weeks reaching a hearing and only took 30-45 minutes.

Another major objection, passed on to Ketterling by Mindoka Sheriff Theo Thompson, was the work release program in sentencing of prisoners. That allows a prisoner to work at his job, returning to jail each day to serve his sentence.

"I don't think somebody in jail should come out and go when they want to," Ketterling said. "If you're going to give them a sentence, then give it to them — not just when they want to do it."

Ketterling said the late opening of court was a hardship and cost to law enforcement agencies, as well as an inconvenience to the public.

Thompson complained, "We have to let them (prisoners) out at all hours and let them back in again. I don't have the manpower to run a hotel here."

The sheriff said weekends have been a particular problem. He said prisoners "come in on Friday and Saturday nights half-drunk. We have to give them aspirin to sober them up to go to work again on Monday."

Thompson said he has one prisoner now who is let out at 4 p.m. and must be put back in jail at 1 a.m. He said such activity is an expense to taxpayers for deputy time and such things as laundry, which is stripped every time the prisoner leaves the jail.

"If a man's given five days, I think he should serve five days," Sheriff Thompson said. "If he makes a mistake and is convicted, he should pay the penalty. I don't think we should have to cater to them."

The work release complaint puzzles Wegman. He said he could not recall handing down such a sentence. One man had asked for a work release, Wegman said, but he had denied the request.

The magistrate said he had faced weekend sentencing extensively "so it wouldn't disrupt the man's working at his job and so families wouldn't suffer." But he said he stopped that practice more than a month ago.

"I didn't realize the problem it was creating," Wegman said, until he met with law enforcement agencies in Mindoka County 6-8 weeks ago.

"A few I let serve on weekends got the idea it was not serious," Wegman said. "It didn't inconvenience them and that made them think lightly of it. I've pretty much cut that out."

The magistrate said he asked the sheriff for a list of those serving on weekends only, but never received it.

Wegman expressed disappointment that the weekend sentencing failed and that prisoners "didn't make use of it."

Of the complaint on time spent in the courtroom, Wegman denied he adjourned court with cases still to be heard.

"Sometimes I've been here until nine o'clock in the evening when the work was there," he said.

Wegman admitted he has been late to court, adding he did not realize there had been any problem.

He said everyone else frequently was late for court "and that encouraged me" to arrive late.

"I should be here at nine o'clock," he agreed.

"From now on I'll just be an 11 m."

The magistrate said no one had mentioned the complaints to him directly.

"I'm surprised that anyone would string up a bunch of complaints and spring them someplace else," he remarked. "If I had known, I would have done something about it."

New system for INEL

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — An improved communications system for the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory in eastern Idaho to replace the system established some 20 years ago was announced today.

The Energy Research and Development Administration and Mountain Bell Telephone Company said the new switching system will be installed to improve telephone communication capabilities at the site.

R. Glenn Bradley, manager of the Energy Research and Development Administration's Idaho Operations office, said the existing system has nearly reached full capacity to handle voice communications and computer data transmissions.

The new system will permit expanding site telephone services to meet its needs, Bradley said. It includes a means of increasing inter-area service without installing additional cabling.

Bradley said the system substitutes electronics and computer technology for the current mechanical switching arrangements. He said it will provide the Energy Research and Development and its contractors in Idaho with a more efficient means of placing telephone calls, higher error-free data transmission speeds and automatic handling of miscellaneous telephone functions now handled by switchboard operators.

The area of high pressure has caused the storm track to move into Canada and is expected to continue this pattern for the rest of the week. While Boise continues to have extensive valley fog, the Magic Valley area can expect near normal temperatures and mostly clear skies for the rest of the week.

The extended outlook for Saturday through Monday calls for continued dry and fair weather with temperatures near normal. Highs will be mostly in the 30s. Overnight lows will be in the teens and low 20s.

Canadian imports concern gas aide

BOISE (UPI) — R. D. Grimm, president of Intermountain Gas Company, says it is imperative that the nation develop more domestic natural gas sources and become less dependent on gas imported from Canada.

In the company's annual report, Grimm noted that most of the gas used in southern Idaho is produced in British Columbia.

"The shortfalls in delivery and the rapid increases in price of this Canadian gas are of most serious concern to the company," he said.

He pointed out that efforts to improve gas supply and the management of those supplies now available to the company have received primary attention during the year.

"We feel that Intermountain can meet its commitments to present and future firm gas customers with the natural gas now contracted," Grimm said.

Grimm said it was important that the remaining supplies of natural gas "are discovered and used wisely." But he added that "they will not be discovered unless the forces of a free market are in operation."

The gas executive noted that it was vital that a dependable gas supply on the most economic basis available to the company's market area, be maintained for both the short term and long term futures.

Citizen rights restated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James A. Mc Clure said today a nationwide gun control survey shows 82 per cent of the American people believe in the right of citizens to own guns and a half of those surveyed believe a national gun registration program would lead to confiscation of guns by the government.

The Idaho Republican said he was urging other members of Congress to sign a letter detailing the results of the survey, which then would be distributed to all members of Congress.

"Deep Throat" terms reversed by court

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed the five-year prison terms given five persons for showing the film "Deep Throat" at a Dallas theatre in 1972.

The appeals court ruled prosecutors erred in arguing pornographic movies led to sex crimes.

According to trial testimony, vice squad officers seized the movie from the Arcadia Theatre in Dallas where it was showing March 28-31, 1973.

A trial court convicted Robert James Moore, Shirley Phillips, Cynthia Stringfellow, Robert C. Theford and Larry Ray Jones of conspiracy to exhibit obscene material. Theford owned the theatre, Moore and Jones managed the theatre and Phillips and Stringfellow sold tickets and managed the concession stand.

Prosecutors introduced an expert witness who testified that movies such as "Deep Throat" were not harmful or unhealthy for "average" persons of "normal sexuality" — implying such movies cause abnormal persons to commit sex crimes.

Road board powers defined

BOISE (UPI) — Highway district commissioners have ordinance-making powers, for matters within the province of maintenance and operation of a county road system, the attorney general said today.

In an opinion for Ben Cavness, American Falls, assistant attorney general, David G. High said the law gives highway district commissioners certain powers and duties vested in county commissioners in the absence of high districts in their county.

Soviets seek sub-Saharan air, navy bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is developing a significant military presence in Africa in an apparent search for air and naval bases south of the Sahara, State Department officials say.

Such bases, one official said, would give Russia enormous advantages in both the South Atlantic and Indian Oceans. He said the Soviet aims were still far from clear.

"However," he added, "it is kind of ironic that in a period when all western countries are being forced to give up their military bases on the continent, the Soviets are moving in."

Excluding Angola, into which Moscow is pouring in "massive" military supplies, according to Secretary of State

Henry A. Kissinger, the biggest recipient of Russian military aid is Somalia, at the Indian Ocean gateway to the Red Sea.

In addition to 49 MIG aircraft, an official said, Moscow has supplied Somalia with three Ilyushin bombers, helicopters and transport aircraft, 250 tanks, more than 300 armored personnel carriers, artillery, naval landing vessels and patrol craft capable of carrying missiles for which the Russians have built a missile supply base at the Somalia port of Berbera.

"What this is all for is a good question," the official said, "and it is fair to assume that such neighboring countries as Ethiopia and Kenya would like to know the answer."

According to military strategists, Ethiopia and Kenya have reason for misgivings. Not only are Somalis scattered throughout their countries but it is a Somali tactic of faith that all Somalis must be reunited under one flag.

However, there have been no indications of aggressive intentions.

No information is available as to the terms on which Somalia has received Soviet military hardware but, since Somalia is a poor country, officials believe it has mostly been free, or at most, given long-term, low-interest rates.

In return, the Soviet Union apparently has secured an invaluable port as well as nearby airfields with runways of lengths far beyond anything Somalia could possibly need or even use.

A total of 13 African countries have received Soviet military aid, but only one of them, Nigeria, is known to have paid cash for all its Soviet supplies as well as equipment it receives from other sources.

The principal beneficiaries, according to officials, are:

- Uganda: 42 MIGs, 15 tanks, approximately 100 armored personnel carriers, all received within the past year.

— Nigeria: an unknown number of MIGs.

— Guinea: where Soviets have enjoyed good relations for some time; 15 MIG 17s and two MIG 15 trainers as well as several transport aircraft.

— Mali: One MIG 15 and six MIG 17s. Two MiG helicopters.

Military supplies to other countries, excluding Angola, have been on a much smaller scale. For the most part, deliveries have been modest. Initially, officials said, these weapons could have been justified as necessary for security of the countries concerned, with the exceptions of Somalia and Uganda.

In Guinea, the Soviet Union has stationed two naval craft more or less regularly, but the reason for their presence was to protect Guinea from Portuguese invasion. However, even though Portugal has now quit Africa, they are still there. The Soviets still use Guinea airfields for staging of long distance reconnaissance aircraft.

Snoop data helps form policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Court documents show the United States uses wiretaps, electronic bugs and satellite surveillance against other governments, not to prevent espionage, but to gather intelligence to help form U.S. foreign policy, the Washington Post reported today.

The existence of eavesdropping without court warrants against foreign officials in Washington, was revealed for the first time, the newspaper said. In Justice Department documents filed as part of a journalist's suit against the government for allegedly having listened in on his telephone conversations without a warrant.

The department's brief, the Post said, argued: "In order to adequately protect itself in a hostile world, the United States cannot depend upon chance to find out what is happening."

Previous court decisions have held the government must get a warrant on national security wiretaps.

Lawyers for Journalist Tad Szulc and his wife, who claim their conversations were overheard, said warrants are required for all government wiretaps, including those designed to gather foreign intelligence.

Mr. Claus recommends the Walker Bankard, the year-round Christmas card.

That's because the Walker Bankard gives you benefits all year 'round. The first time you notice it will be in January when you start making payments on all those gifts you charged in December. The Walker Bankard has a lower average annual percentage rate than the other major charge cards—so you pay less overall. That's a nice gift for you!

Another bonus is that your checks will be guaranteed up to $100 for cash and up to $500 for merchandise by the Bank & Trust. And you won't have to worry about overdrawing your checking account, either. The Bank & Trust will cover you up to your credit limit, if you hold a Walker Bankard.

More than four hundred merchants and thirty-five hundred consumers in the Magic Valley now take advantage of the Walker Bankard, the year-round Christmas card. Like Mr. Claus, they know a good deal when they see one.

Carey beats Bliss

BLISS — Carey shut out Bliss in the third quarter Tuesday night to claim an 18-0 girls basketball victory. Bliss was ahead 11-7 at intermission when the cold snap hit and Carey pushed ahead 17-11. Bliss managed only two points in the last half, so never threatened.

Lori Shaffer led Carey with six points, the same posted by Bliss' Sally Lenker.

USC coach names aides

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — New USC head football coach John Robinson named as assistants Wednesday two former USC coaches. Quarterbacks Steve Bartkowski and Joe Roth at California, and Bob Toledo, who led UC Riverside to undefeated league championships the past two seasons.

Hackett, 28, and Toledo, 29, were the second and third coaches hired by Robinson, who replaces John McKay after the season ends.

Creighton downs Iowa St.

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Sophomore Rick Apke scored 21 points and freshman John C. Johnson added 19 to lift Creighton to a 73-61 victory over cold-shooting Iowa State Wednesday night and hand the Cyclones their sixth straight loss.

Apke, brother of Creighton Coach Tom Apke, was instrumental in helping Creighton pull away when Iowa State threatened midway in the second half. Johnson helped Creighton stay in command by hitting six straight free throws in the final four minutes of the game.

France claims ski-win

CORTINA, Italy (UPI) — Falienne Serrat gave France its first victory of the new World Cup season Wednesday with two fast and flawless runs down a tricky course that defeated favorite Lise Marie Moreard of Switzerland.

Rosie Miller, a third-year skier, won the top bonus points for the best combined showing in the slalom and Tuesday's downhill. She moved into the lead in world cup standings. Skating through freezing rain on the first run and down a softening icy crust on the second, Serrat built up a margin of 31 seconds over second place Pamela Behr of West Germany.

Moreard, 18, winner of the first slalom and giant slalom of the season, had the fastest intermediate time on the first run but spun out on the second.

Cindy Patterson, 20, of Sun Valley, Idaho, finished eighth.

NFL committee rejects membership bids by franchises, Birmingham, Memphis

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League expansion committee Wednesday met with representatives seeking franchise for Memphis and Birmingham, but rejected their applications although promising to put the matter before the full league membership.

John Bassett, owner of the Memphis Southern of the defunct World Football League, and representatives of the NFL's Birmingham franchise met with Pittsburgh Steelers owner Dan Rooney, San Francisco 49ers president Lou Spadilla and Dallas Cowboys general manager Tom Sciarum. The fourth member of the NFL expansion committee, Denver Broncos chairman of the board Gerald Phipps, was in telephone contact with the meeting.

Bassett's was considered by far the more realistic application as the Memphis owner still has approximately 25 players under contract, including former Miami Dolphins Larry Csonka, Jim Killek and Paul Warfield. Running back Willie Spencer, who outgained Csonka and is coveted by many NFL teams, also is under contract to Memphis.

But, with Tampa Bay and Seattle franchises joining the league next season, the NFL committee was opposed to further expansion and Bassett was unable to change any minds.

"We felt at this time we should not have any additional expansion," Rooney said. "At this time, because of problems that exist — in litigation, finances and personnel — we should not have a further dilution in the form of players, television revenues and public relations which would be necessary to make these teams known."

However, Rooney told Bassett the decision could be appealed to the full league membership and the Memphis owner was welcome to try and win what votes it might.

"We listened to their views," Rooney said. "We told them that we felt we should not do it at this time. But we would get back to our full membership. We'd do it in any way they desire, a special meeting or a small balllot. They said they'd get back to us in a couple of days and let us know how they wanted it done."

Bassett came to the meeting with pledges to buy more than 40,000 season tickets. The Memphis owner, of course, also argued his entry into the league would not cause a serious dilution of talent as he already has the nucleus of his own club.

Twin Falls and Minico to entertain Nampa, Boise

Twin Falls and Minico stay in SIC play while Kimberly and Glenns Ferry open the Little Five Conference slate this weekend.

Boise and Nampa will provide the opposition for Twin Falls and Minico, both returning 0-2 from a swing into the Boise area last week. Boise will be at Twin Falls while Nampa is at Minico Friday. The teams swap Saturday night.

Boise, with a load of men who began playing varsity ball as sophomores, loomed as a Western division contender along with Capital and Meridian. But the Braves fell to Nampa last weekend.

Glenns Ferry and Kimberly always meet before Christmas — for some reason. And this year it could have a key step in the league outcome. Those two, along with Shoshone, are expected to be the ones to beat — based on early results. But most of the conference games won't be played until next month.

Most of the other 23 games on the weekend — fall into the "luncheon" area. Buhl, 1-1, will make its first showing at home by entertaining American Falls last week.

Burley will be home to the Jerome Tigers, who are trying to find some points. As a team the Tigers are shooting only 22 per cent over the first three games. That seldom beats anybody.

Filer and Valley are rematched at Eden. Hazelton while Declo maintains its usual role of getting at least a nodding acquaintance with A-3 teams before getting into the A-4 Magic-Valley Conference slate. The Hornets will entertain the Wendell Trojans.

There will be three inter-league games between the Magic Valley and Northside Conferences. Oakley will be at Carey, the Fanbers having won the first meeting by a point. Hansen repays a visit to Camas County where the Musers are trying to break an 0-4 start — and not really finding the points to do it as yet. Castletown, which is playing mean defense but not scoring that well as yet, will be at Dietrich, where the Blue Devils have been nothing but close ones all season.

Richfield, running along with a 5-0 mark, will entertain Rockland in a conference battle. On Saturday night, Buhl leaves the state to play at Elko while American Falls stays in this area to play the Tigers at Jerome. Hagerman comes up the hill to play Wendell where the Trojans are within an eyelash of opening up their new gymnasium.

Raft River takes on a pair of junior teams, hosting Burley Friday night and traveling to Minico Saturday. In other Saturday non-league play, Richfield will be at Oakley while Declo stays home to play Valley. Murtaugh takes the long jaunt to Camas County with North Gem moving in to test Carey. Dietrich will be at Bliss.

Richards returns as White Sox manager

CHICAGO (UPI) — Paul Richards, the manager when the late Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso were the key-speedsters of the "Go Go" Chicago White Sox, returned to Comiskey Park today, named to pilot the team for a second time by new owner Bill Veeck.

Veeck, only one day after he signed final papers to take ownership of the team from John Ailyn, announced Wednesday that the 67-year-old Richards would replace Chuck Tanner.

But Veeck said that he hoped Tanner, whose contract runs through 1978, would remain with the White Sox in what he called "a capacity he chooses." Tanner, also present at the news conference, said he would make a decision in a few days.

Richards, whose managerial career with the White Sox extended from 1951 through September of 1954, directed the team to 342 wins and 255 losses, never finishing worse than fourth in the eight-team American League. He also served as field manager at Baltimore and general manager for the Orioles, the Houston Astros and the Atlanta Braves.

Also one of the investors in the Veeck group which bought the Sox, Richards disclosed that he had been party to the discussions which led to six trades by Veeck in the first 54 hours after the American League approved the purchase from Ailyn on Dec. 10.

But he did nothing about selecting a coaching staff, and said, "I've got to get busy."

"I tried to talk Bill into keeping Chuck," Richards said, "but I've known for a long time that one of Veeck's ambitions was to have me manage for him. I don't know why."

Richards, who emphasized speed and defense in his previous tenure with the White Sox, said the team's "biggest problem is around the edges. If we can strengthen our pitching and four or five young kids come through, you can do miracles."

"This park always has been demanding of speed and defense, base running and pitching. The first thing is get a catcher, and we've got one so I've been told, shortstop, second baseman and a centerfielder. You've got to have a centerfielder who can turn triple into outs, or triples into singles."

Veeck said he chose Richards to manage because "this coming season is so important to me, I feel I have to go with people I do know well."

But he said he tried to convince Tanner we want him desperately to stay with the organization. This is not to shuffe him off to the underbrush.

Tanner indicated he would prefer to continue as a field manager, saying, "I'm too young (46) to move into the front office."

But he did not rule out the idea that he might remain with the Sox. "I'll go home and think it over," he said, "and decide in a few days."

The Sox finished second once and third once in a six-team division during Tanner's five-year term as manager. Tanner's contract with the club runs through 1978.

Pitchers head hall of fame candidates

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Lemon and Robin Roberts, a pair of standout right-handed pitchers who made winning 20 games a habit during the 1950s, head a total of 32 former baseball stars eligible for the Hall of Fame this year.

Ballots for the 1976 election were sent out Wednesday to more than 500 active and honorary members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Mention on 75 per cent of the ballots is necessary for election to the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine.

Roberts, who pitched from 1949 to 1965 with the Philadelphia Phillies, Baltimore Orioles, New York Yankees and Houston Astros, won 20 games six straight years from 1950-55 with the Phillies and wound up with 286 career victories. Roberts' 263 votes were second in last year's balloting behind Ralph Kiner, the only electee. A total of 272 was necessary for election.

Lemon, who was third in the '75 balloting with 233 votes, won 20 games seven times from 1948 through 1956 — all while a member of the Cleveland Indians. Lemon wound up his 13-year career with the Indians in 1958 with 207 lifetime victories.

In addition to Lemon and Roberts, other eligibles on the list include longtime Braves' third baseman Eddie Mathews, who belted 512 career homers; former Brooklyn Dodgers slugger stars Duke Solder and Gil Hodges; recently-deceased second base star Nellie Fox and Don Larsen, author of baseball's only perfect game in a World Series.

Newcomers to the eligible list this year are former Braves catcher Del Crandall and ex-Pittsburgh Pirates relief ace Elroy Face.

ISU's Griffin wins coaching honors

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Idaho State University's Bob Griffin Wednesday night was named NCAA Division II football coach of the year for District VIII, by Kodak's coaching selection committee.

Griffin's Bengals, picked to finish in the lower half of the Big Sky Conference this fall, surprised the forecasters with a 4-2 conference record and 7-3 overall mark.

Nationally ranked all season, ISU barely lost the Big Sky title 21-17 to defending champion Boise State in the final game of the season on a blocked kick returned for a fourth quarter touchdown.

"It's quite an honor," said Griffin about the regional award. "It's a reflection of hard work by a great many individuals, including the players and coaching staff."

"The award comes to Idaho State University, not just to one individual. Anytime we receive an award such as this it's significant. But one from your peers is especially significant. I'm very, very happy."

SI selects Rose as sportsman of year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pete Rose has a romance going with the Big Apple.

Two months ago, Rose visited New York to receive an automobile as the most valuable player in the recent World Series against Boston. On Wednesday, the Cincinnati Reds' third baseman returned by a award by Sports Illustrated magazine as its 1975 Sportsman of the Year.

The affable Rose, a terrific, player-by-any-other-name, helped beat the Red Sox in a seven-game world series that belongs among the greatest seasons in baseball history.

"Pete Rose's contributions to the Reds' drive to the world championship are incalculable," said the magazine's editors in selecting the 33-year-old third baseman for the trophy.

The nickname of "Charlie Hustle" aptly applies to the switch-hitting Rose, whose philosophy is: "I give 110 per cent. I don't give 100 per cent because some guy opposite me might be giving that much."

"If you have a guy equal in ability to me, I'm gonna beat him because I'll try harder."

The indefatigable Rose hit .317 during the regular 1975 season and batted .370 in the world series.

He believes the Reds will return for the 1976 classic, especially after trades that brought utility strength in infielder Mike Lum from Atlanta and Bob Bailey from Montreal.

"We put it all together in 1975. We're coming off a great year and the experience we picked up should help us tremendously. We were the best defensive team in the National League last season and when we have Don Gullett on the mound, we have nine hitters in the lineup."

Rose credits speed and defense for Cincinnati's success.

"We have a number of parks in the National League with artificial surfaces and that means a lot for speed. The American League has few stadiums with that mock grass surface. Regular turf slows down a runner."

Pretty soon it'll be June in January for Rose. He knows that when New Year's Day rolls around, the baseball season can't be far behind.

Utags trim BYU

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — Guard Blair Reed added 16 points to the Utah State attack, including seven fast break baskets; Craig Taylor had 14 points, and Santos 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Mark Handy led Brigham Young with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Reserve guard Steve Craig had 15 and backup forward Reed Noble '11. Cheesman finished with only eight — 10 points below his average.

Utah State kept building to an 87-64 edge with five minutes to go when coach Dutch Belnap pulled his starters and Brigham Young scored the last 12 points in the game to avoid being completely humiliated.

Gregg held BYU center Jay Cheesman scoreless in the first half and teamed with Santos to limit forward Troy Jones to one basket and forward Verne Thompson to a pair of foul shots.

Grand jury will investigate illegal pay to Texas athletes

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — District Attorney Robert O. Smith said Wednesday he will ask a grand jury to investigate disclosures of illegal pay made to athletes of Texas universities.

UPI revealed Wednesday at Jost four University of Texas athletes — three this year and one in 1974 — received unearned pay from the Texas Senate in violation of state laws and National Collegiate Athletic Association rules.

A fifth athlete implicated by fellow employees denied similar allegations.

Smith said he is looking at the given Texas athletes as part of a larger investigation into charges of kickbacks and other wrongdoing by Senate Secretary Charles A. Schnabel. He said he plans to present evidence to a grand jury next month but everything he uncovers.

The district attorney said he will decide Dec. 30 whether to ask for an extension of the current county grand jury's term or call a special panel to consider the Schnabel case.

In addition to the four athletes who admit receiving unearned pay, a check of payroll records indicates two other athletes violated NCAA rules but not state laws by working during the time they were in school on football scholarships.

working Jan. 224. Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Tommy Townsend said his records show Shearer working Jan. 2-13 — the first day of classes in the 1975 spring semester. Shearer said he quit before Jan. 13.

House payroll records indicate Burleson was paid $410

a month as an assistant sergeant from April 17 through Aug. 23, 1973.

"I don't know if it was illegal for me to work during that," Burleson said. "I was red shirting that year. I wasn't doing anything anyway. I just thought I'd get an early start on the summer."
