

today in brief

Detroit starts limited busing plan

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit began a limited court-ordered school desegregation plan today with about 15,000 elementary pupils traveling to new classrooms by bus. There were no reports of trouble.

Fewer than 10 per cent of the city's 247,000 students were involved in the busing program in the city, the nation's fifth largest public school system and the largest to integrate under court order.

Appeal heard

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — A lawyer for the parents of Karen Ann Quinlan conceded today the young woman was indeed alive, but he asked the state's highest court to authorize removing her from a life-sustaining respirator.

Karen Ann's parents are seeking permission to allow their daughter to die "with grace and dignity." They contend their 21-year-old daughter is hopelessly ill since slipping into a coma seven months ago and will never recover.

Soviets open maneuvers on Turk border

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has begun full-scale army and air force maneuvers along the Soviet border with Turkey and for the first time, Western observers have been invited to attend.

An official announcement said observers from five countries in southeast Europe — Turkey, Greece, Bulgaria, Romania and Yugoslavia — were invited.

OPEC finance ministers meet in Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Finance ministers of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries met today under the tightest security ever imposed on an international conference in France to decide how to pump $1 billion of oil money into the economies of poor countries.

Trying again

ROME (UPI) — Premier designate Aldo Moro proposed today to give leadership Italy a minority government of his Christian Democrats alone but ran into difficulties over outside parliamentary backing.

Thwarted in his attempts to form a coalition, Moro told Socialist Democratic and Republican party leaders during brief meetings that he would try to set up a one-party cabinet of Christian Democrats.

Pitt teacher strike settlement nears

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A tentative contract settlement to end the nine-week city teachers' strike was reached today during prebargaining.

The Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers scheduled a morning ratification vote on the pact, the details of which will remain secret pending ratification.

Senators score Bush background

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sens. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., and Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., said today the Senate should not confirm George H. Bush as CIA director because of his political background.

Weicker and McIntyre voiced their opposition on the eve of Senate debate on President Ford's nomination of Bush to succeed William E. Colby as head of the spy agency. The vote Tuesday may be close.

Britain, Iceland confer again

LONDON (UPI) — Britain and Iceland today reconvened top level diplomatic efforts to patch up an angry dispute over fishing rights that has embroiled the two North Atlantic Treaty allies in their third "cod war" in 19 years.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson met for a second time with Iceland's Prime Minister Geir Halgrimsson at Wilson's No. 10 Downing St. office.

Diplomatic officials said the United States, concerned that the quarrel may further undermine the troubled NATO alliance, has urged the two countries to settle their dispute quickly.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's chief economists said today the nation's economy is improving steadily from the worst recession since World War II, but inflation will hover at about 6 per cent through 1976 and unemployment will moderate only slightly from 15 1/2 per cent plus level.

Ford, in signing the annual report of his Council of Economic Advisors, predicted: "We are going to do better in the rate of inflation."

Both the Council and Ford warned against pushing too hard to achieve full employment quickly, saying this could bring renewed inflation and eventually another recession.

Despite the cautious predictions of more inflation and unemployment, there was some good news in the report, particularly in the area of moderate food and energy price increases, and increased consumer spending.

Ford called the report his recipe for "a firm, steady, long-range plan for the revival of the American economy."

Ford labeled 1975 "a very tough year" because "this country went through the sharpest, deepest recession since World War II. However, the President said since the March depth of the recession, 1.2 to 1.3 million more Americans have jobs, a total of some 35 million persons. He said the annual rate of inflation fell from 12 percent in 1974 to some 7 percent last year.

"The rate of inflation is still too high but it is a lot better," Ford said.

The report itself said that "even under the best of circumstances, the return to full employment cannot realistically be accomplished this year or next."

But food and energy price increases should be moderate; housing construction should increase significantly; consumer spending should rise and the nation's total "real" output of goods and services should climb into plus figures after two years of declines, it said.

Council Chairman Alan Greenspan told a news conference that a sudden surge in inflation is the only thing that could untrack the economic recovery. But Greenspan said "at the moment we see no evidence" of price pressures beyond routine increases.

Rescuers locate 4 in Cassia

ALBION — Mini-bus search and rescue teams rescued four stranded snowmobilers early today after two had gone over the edge from the top of Mt. Harrison southeast of here early Sunday evening.

"Two of those were found 'in the nick of time,'" according to a rescuer.

Kim Hastings, Nampa, and Vance Hawley, Howe, were rescued from a ledge in Cottonwood Canyon after falling from the top of the mountain.

Henry Ammon, Paul and Ski Wojnarowicz, Idaho Falls, were taken from near the top of the 9,000-foot mountain.

The four had gone up the mountain Sunday afternoon to clean the antennae at a civil defense repeater station there and make a regular maintenance check.

Hastings and Hawley were found about 2:30 a.m. They had dug snow caves into the side of the mountain.

Both reportedly were beginning to show signs of hypothermia (loss of heat to the point of collapse). Lee Baker, commander of the search and rescue unit, said both were about frozen and had to be carried out to the parking lot at Pomerelle ski resort.

The snowmobile Hastings was riding has not been found.

The other two were found about two hours later on top of the mountain about a mile from where Hastings and Hawley had gone over the edge. Both were in good condition.

They had tipped over their machines and used survival gear to stay warm behind them and an embankment.

They were all treated and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital. Hawley suffered from some frostbite, including one ear.

The snowmobilers said they had left the cabin at about 7:30 p.m. because the storm was getting worse. They estimated they traveled about an hour before the accident.

Hastings and Hawley were in the lead, Hawley walking ahead. He stopped and turned to wave Hastings forward and both went over an edge in the swirling snow.

Rescue efforts were alerted through ham radio. The snowmobilers had left 17-year-old Brian Anderson with their ham radio equipment in a van at Pomerelle ski resort. They called Anderson and he began broadcasting for help.

The signal was picked up in Kimberly and relayed to Billy Geistrich, Burley.

In the meantime, two search and rescue members, Bill Wendt and George Botenstein, both Rupert, began organizing search efforts at Pomerelle.

Burley lad shot

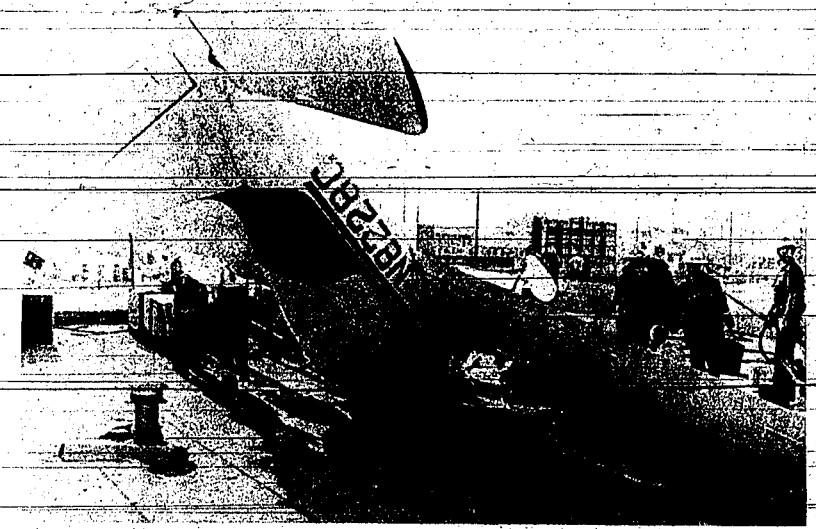

BURLEY — A 15-year-old high school band member was shot in the stomach Saturday night while walking home from a basketball game at Burley High School.

Todd Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Anderson, Burley, was reported in fair condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Anderson was shot about 10 p.m. Saturday as he left a basketball game at Burley and Alnico High Schools.

The youth walked on to his home, about five blocks away, where help was summoned.

Anderson told police he did not know who shot him. He said he was walking by the ball park

Food costs set record in '75

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer costs for a theoretical food market basket rose to a record $1,876 last year with 72 per cent of the $126 increase over 1974 going to middlemen.

Agriculture Department figures showed Monday.

Economists said food costs are expected to rise about 1 per cent in each of the first two quarters of this year — about half the pace of last year's food inflation — and predicted that continuing increases in middlemen's costs will account for "much" of the 1976 rise in retail food prices.

Experts said the department's food market basket, a collection of U.S. farm-produced foods which could feed a theoretical average household of 3.2 persons for a year, averaged $1,876 for the 12 months of 1975 compared with a $1,750 average for all 12 months of 1974.

The $126 increase, down sharply from the $213 leap in the previous year, was divided into a $33 gain in average returns to farmers for market basket foods and a $91 gain in the middlemen's spread, which covers all costs and profits in handling and processing the basket foods.

Calculations by Agriculture experts showed farmers averaged $743 for the foods they contributed to the market basket last year, compared with $748 in 1974. Middlemen averaged $1,093 for their services and profits in 1975, compared with $1,002 the previous year.

Agriculture economists meanwhile disclosed they have made a minor cut in their estimate of 1975 retail prices for all foods — a figure which includes items like fish, produce, coffee, and other items not included in the market basket of foods from American farms.

Previously, officials had been estimating the 1975 average food price increase at 10 per cent compared with 14.5 per cent in each of the two previous years, but a new report lowered the 1975 increase to "about 8.5 per cent" because a firm price slump in the last quarter of the year kept retail gains below earlier forecasts.

Economic worries epidemic

CHICAGO (UPI) — Worry over the economy in recession — rising prices, loss of jobs or basic "security" — has reached epidemic proportions, and brought on an increase in mental illness, two doctors of the National Institute of Mental Health said today.

Prices holding

TWIN FALLS — Coffee prices in Twin Falls are still holding the same level as in the past several months, but consumers still may be in for an increase.

A weekend survey of major retail outlets indicate the increase of 15 cents per pound on regular coffee and 2 cents per ounce on instant, which was ordered last week in New York by major wholesalers has not reached here as yet.

Grocers here say, however, if and when the price increase is passed on to retail prices will have to reflect the increase.

In an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Louis E. Kopelow and Frank M. Oelberg, said that men who study epidemic trends have long known the relationship between some physical ailments and living factors such as poverty, inadequate housing, malnutrition.

All of society pays the cost of the worry produced by the economic downturn, they wrote. Its components include the cost of treatment and prevention of mental illness; cost of reduction in ability to produce; cost of illegal or antisocial behavior; intangible costs stemming from "the insecurity, bewilderment, frustration, embitterment and occasional hostility that often results from emotional distress."

Mr. T-N says
Economic worries we have with us always. Their intensity is inverse to the state of the economy.

Twins separated

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — A team of 11 doctors headed by Boston began surgery today to separate Siamese twin girls.

The operation was expected to last about four hours at St. Joseph's Hospital and Rehabilitation Center.

Dr. Robert M. Filler, a thoracic surgeon from Boston's Children's Hospital who has performed other separations, said last week he felt "very confident that things will go well."

The twins were born Nov. 7 two and a half months prematurely.

Valley HAW chief named

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Health and Welfare Director Mitt Klein today appointed a new director of the department's Magic Valley region.

He is Dennis McDermott, 32, manager of the department's medical and financial assistance program in the Pocatello-based Region Six.

McDermott will assume the Region Five directorship Feb. 9.

He has headed the medical and financial assistance program in region six for the past three and one-half years. Prior to that, McDermott was county director in Payette for the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services for one year. Earlier, he worked for three years as a "case worker" and county director for the Department of Public Assistance.

He is a 1966 graduate of Idaho State University, with a bachelor's degree in sociology. A native of Challis, McDermott was graduated from American Falls High School.

Klein said in making the appointment that McDermott's "demonstrated management ability in Region Six provides a solid management background necessary to direct the eight county Magic Valley region.

Clay Robertson, who has been acting director since Jan. 18, when Klein became state director, will return to his duties as Region Five manager of substance abuse programs when McDermott joins the region.

TWIN FALLS — YOU CAN'T BLAME GOOD SMARITAN Richard Gobel if he's less trucking in the future.

Gobel, 77, Twin Falls, lost his car Saturday night to a man who claimed to be a police officer.

A "pretty well dressed" man with "bush hair and a scraggly beard" flagged Gobel down about 8 p.m. in the 200 block of Fourth Avenue West. Since his window wouldn't roll down, Gobel pulled over and got out of the car.

"He said he was working for the police department and hopped in the car and took off," Gobel said today. "It really surprised me."

"I went down to the police station and asked if they had anybody that looked like him working for them and they said 'No.'"

"Gobel found the 1966 Ford himself. He spotted it about noon Sunday in the Sears parking lot. The keys were gone.

Twin Falls police are checking the car for fingerprints, Gobel said.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Rival Christian, Moslem and Palestinian militia units thinned out their forces on the streets of Beirut today in a key test of their latest truce but politicians were divided whether it would last.

Policed by tough Eilatine Liberation Army troops from Syria, the four-day-old ceasefire generally held despite scattered violations that claimed another 10 dead and 50 wounded over the weekend.

The overall toll from 10 months of civil war rose to more than 10,000 dead and 21,000 wounded.

Sporadic gunfire echoed across troubled spots in the remaining capital before dawn but by midmorning shooting died down in all areas and hundreds of citizens moved onto the streets.

In the Hamra Street shopping district the first traffic policemen seen for months came on duty at one intersection.

Gunmen moved out of their barricades in city and suburban areas, but militia forces were still in control of the streets around the devastated seafloor hotel area.

The architect of the current truce, Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam, met with Christian militia leaders Sunday and won their approval of a 48-hour timetable for demilitarizing the capital and countryside.

The first phase of the timetable—the opening of international highways Sunday night—went off without hitch. But the critical test comes over the next two days when the rival factions are to withdraw their men from the streets.

Leftist gunmen around the battered Phoenicia and St. Georges hotels said they would only go home when Christians left the nearby Holiday Inn.

"We hear that Lebanese troops will come in this afternoon," said one of the gunmen. "We will wait and see. There was a big fight here this morning."

A spokesman for the rightwing Christian Phalangist party said he thought the Holiday Inn would be the last building evacuated, but added, "We are standing down our men in the zones ready for a complete withdrawal."

Phalangist Premier Basil Haddad, who resigned last week but returned to office after the Syrian intervention, said he felt that for the first time "we have actually started the march towards peace."

"What matters is its implementation and cannot say that I am extremely optimistic but I do want to be optimistic," said Interior Minister Canille Klammann.

Pierre Gemayel, whose Phalangist party has the largest militia fighting on the Christian side, said the truce represented a false security because it was being enforced by Syrians and Palestinians, not Lebanese.

WASHINGTON—Sen. Henry A. Jackson secretly advised the Central Intelligence Agency in 1973 on how to protect itself against an investigation by Sen. Frank Church into the agency's relations with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation and Telegraph Corporation in Chile, according to the final report of a House committee.

The report, by the House Select Committee on the activities of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation and its relations with the covert activities of the CIA. The subcommittee was headed by Church, the Idaho Democrat, who now heads the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, which last year conducted a subsequent investigation into intelligence agencies.

But the multinational subcommittee began its investigation the CIA had never been scrutinized by any congressional committees other than the principal oversight subcommittee of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriation Committees.

As a result of this conviction, Senator Jackson would work with the agency to see that we got this protection," the memorandum said.

From the beginning of sweeping investigations of intelligence community last year, no paramount criticism has been that Congressional oversight committees were protective of the CIA and did not attempt to control truly the agency's functions.

Reached by telephone, Jackson said the author of the South African pullback ends; key battle looms

LUSAKA, Zambia (UPI)—South Africa was reported today to have completed withdrawing its troops from the Angolan civil war front and pro-Western troops established a final "right to the death" defense line to block an expected armored and air offensive against their capital, Luanda.

Dr. Jonas Savimbi, leader of the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola, was quoted by reporters returning from Angola as saying the estimated 1,200 South African troops on the Southern front had completed a full and orderly withdrawal Friday—two days after receiving orders from their government to pull out.

Though they had pulled back from the front itself the South Africans, with their artillery and armored cars, did not leave Angola completely, the reporters said.

They retreated to the border area with South West Africa (Namibia) where they were still defending the vital Cuneo dam just inside the Angolan border.

Johannesburg, the South African newspaper Brand Daily Star, quoted another spokesman for the National Union as saying that South Africa had demanded recognition by 22 African nations as the price for continuing to support two pro-Western Angolan guerrilla movements.

Henry's Latin trip on February docket

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, last week's official visits to Moscow and Madrid, is planning to make his postponed Latin American trip late next month with stops in Brazil, Costa Rica, Peru and Venezuela, according to diplomatic sources.

The sources told UPI the State Department is planning for the Kissinger trip to begin sometime during the third week of February.

The Department has neither confirmed nor denied those reports. Spokesman Robert Fumstall said Jan. 16 that Kissinger "definitely" plans to travel to Latin America, but gave neither dates nor itinerary.

The current negotiations on the Panama Canal—the criticisms in Latin America against the new U.S. Foreign Trade Law and the reform of the Organization of American States are the most important issues that would be included on the agenda of a Kissinger trip.

The Secretary has been planning to go to Latin America since late 1974, but events in other regions—including Southeast Asia last spring—have prevented the trip so far.

Kissinger was scheduled to fly to Buenos Aires last March for the third meeting of his "New Dialogue" with foreign ministers of Latin America and the Caribbean.

Question . . .

You cared for my husband a short time ago, and now I would like to know you have a list of anything that will serve as a guide to help me get my affairs in order.

Answer . . .

Your attorney, accountant and bank will usually take the initiative in the major things to be done; perhaps you will find the following list helpful:

1. If you have a will bring it up to date.
2. Change the beneficiary of your life insurance.
3. Review the title to jointly owned real property.
4. Re-title securities, bank accounts, credit union and Savings and Loan.
5. Ask your attorney to bring to your bank for beneficiary change.
6. Change Safe Deposit Box to your name.
7. Change car title.
8. Call out and house insurance agents.
9. If you have a home mortgage, notify the lender.
10. Review withholding exemptions, if you are employed.
11. Call us for your free copy of Personal Affairs Record.

Indian leader decries arrest

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Jailed Indian Leader Dennis Banks has charged that his arrest by FBI agents fit "a pattern that was established throughout the decades of Indian-white relations."

Banks, cofounder of the American Indian Movement, was captured Saturday in nearby El Cerrillo on a fugitive warrant issued Aug. 5 when he failed to appear in court in South Dakota for sentencing on riot and assault charges.

Banks will be arraigned today before U.S. Magistrate Thomas Rothwell here.

He was arrested at the home of Lehman Brightman, Contra Costa College Native American Studies program director and a founding member of the United Native Americans, Inc. He was charged with harboring a fugitive.

"The arrest of myself by government agents again is a pattern that was established throughout the decades of Indian-white relations," Banks said in a statement released by his attorney.

"Every lawman should live on a reservation and, perhaps, they would begin a campaign against those who have caused the misery that prevails daily in Indian homes."

Banks was convicted last July in Rapid City, S.D., on charges stemming from a 1973 courthouse melee in Custer, S.D., during the trial of a man charged with killing an Indian youth. He was released on bond but failed to show up for sentencing. The charges carry a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Most Gem roads 'good'

BOISE (UPI) — Most Idaho roads were in good shape for travel today although some snow, fog, ice and fog persisted in the northern part of the state.

By road, this was the report from the State Departments of Transportation and Law Enforcement:

U. S. 95 — Craigmont to Cuddeback Hill, icy spots; Sandpoint to Bonners Ferry, icy spots.

Interstate 90, U. S. 10 — Fourth of July Canyon, icy spots; Kellogg to Wallace, snow floor; Lolo Pass, icy spots.

U. S. 12 — Orofino to Lolo Pass, broken snow floor.

U. S. 33 — Galena Summit to Lost Trail Pass, snow floor.

Interstate 15 — Idaho Falls to Monida Pass, snow floor.

U. S. 20 — Ashton Hill to West Yellowstone, snow floor.

Body recovered

IDAHO CITY, Idaho (UPI) — Divers have recovered the body of Calvert Timothy Berryman, 24, Boise, who died early Sunday when a car went off a Boise County road into the South Fork of the Boise River.

Idaho State Police reported the single-car accident occurred at 1:45 a.m. Sunday above Arrowrock Dam. Police said four other persons in the car escaped unharmed, including the driver, Barbara Amex, 17, Boise.

New trial sought

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (UPI) — Former Blackfoot magistrate Eugene L. McCoy, convicted on four counts of embezzlement in December, has filed a motion for a new trial.

McCoy was found guilty of the embezzlement charges in Blaine County, where the trial was held on a charge of venue. Judge Sherman Bellwood of the Fifth District Court, Rupert, who tried the case originally, will hear arguments on the motion for a new trial Feb. 9 at 10 a.m.

McCoy was found guilty of appropriating $4,269 in cash bonds paid by traffic violators and other lawbreakers in Blackfoot Magistrate Court.

In his motion McCoy said the prosecutor's information at the original trial did not contain sufficient facts to prove he committed a crime against the state.

Blue pencil presented

TWIN FALLS — Mary Akkerman won the blue pencil for the best speech at a meeting of "Magic Toast and Toasting Club" Thursday. Mrs. Akkerman, 42, of 1014 N. Deanna Vallmer, was toastmistress. Marguerite Lewis and Greta Smith were evaluators. Eileen Cappel gave the inspiration. Aldo Strong spoke on a trip to London, England, and Europe and the International Parliamentarian convention she attended in San Francisco, Calif.

Burglaries probed

TWIN FALLS — Three auto burglaries were reported to Twin Falls police Saturday.

John Spafford, Twin Falls, told police someone entered his automobile while it was on the ACE Hansen lot undergoing repairs. He said a citizen band radio valued at $99 was taken. The vehicle had been there since early December and the theft was discovered when he went to pick up the vehicle.

Kathy Parker, 352 5th Ave. N., told police someone broke into her vehicle while it was parked in front of her home. She said a 55 millimeter camera valued at $380 was taken along with some stereo tapes. A set of LSK Tracks from the top of the car was also taken.

Marlene Welch, Twin Falls, told police she parked her vehicle behind a home at 305 5th Ave. W. and someone entered an unlocked door and removed her leather shoulder strap purse. It contained $15 in bills and $15 in dimes, she said. Clothing and vehicle were not removed.

Officers were also asked to investigate the disappearance of about $96 from the cash drawer in the Falls Restaurant of the Blue Lakes Inn. Helen Valleau told officers the theft occurred between 6 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. apparently while she was taking breakfast to the employee at the front desk of the inn. She discovered the loss on her return from the errand, she said.

South hit by tornadoes

By United Press International
Tornadoes flipped roofs from homes in the South. Six persons died in a cold weather fire in the Northeast. A small plane struck a snowmobile in Wisconsin.

Foul weather of one sort or another was having a field day Sunday and early Monday over a large part of the United States.

Subzero temperatures plagued the Northeast and cold weather fires claimed at least a dozen lives. Yet another snow storm swept through the Midwest. In Louisiana, a pair of tornadoes danced out of thunderstorms racing across the state.

The storm that swept into the Midwest from the Rockies dumped several inches of snow from Nebraska to Michigan. In Illinois, the snow touched off a rash of traffic accidents, and at least one death was blamed on the storm. Ervin Deutscher, 39, of River Grove, Ill., died Sunday from an apparent heart attack after shoveling snow.

The storm forced a plane to make an emergency landing near Champaign, Ill., but no one was injured. Delays of up to 12 hours were reported at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

The storm marveled across lower Michigan late Sunday, glazing roads with freezing rain. "We're pretty much advising people to stay home unless they have to travel," said a State Police sergeant in Niles.

Travel in southeast Wisconsin slowed to a minimum Sunday night after at least three inches of snow fell. Heavy snow warnings remained in effect through the night, and up to four additional inches of snow was predicted.

Three Wisconsin children were hospitalized in good condition after the snowmobile they were riding was struck by a single engine plane in Indian Lake, about 15 miles north of Timberland.

GOP drive under way

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Republican Party has started a fundraising drive to raise $87,500 from 3,500 contributors in what may be the largest effort of its kind in the state.

GOP's chief, Sanette Clark, state finance director, said 80 per cent of the funds raised by the March 1 deadline will be used to support the state's staff.

Letters Council action assailed

Editor, Times-News: I am addressed in this letter to the Twin Falls Council and Gentlemen: I am utterly appalled by the gutless manner by which you terminated the contract of Clyde Thomson as Golf Professional of our municipal course.

I am sure that Mr. Thomson has ordered thousands of dollars of merchandise for the coming year. With the season opening in about six weeks, it seems poor timing. It was common knowledge that your Golf Advisory Commission had unanimously supported Mr. Thomson's re hiring. Why have a commission if you pay in attention to it?

I believe if you take a poll of the active golfers, you will find 80 per cent to 90 per cent in favor of Mr. Thomson. I know, and respect Mr. Bancroft. When he stated that "Thomson had the public relations ability of a saber-toothed tiger," I cannot help but feel that he talked with some uninformed people.

I can get hundreds of letters from golfers around the state outside the state that have told how great they are treated on our course.

don't know Mr. Talkington. I cannot recall either him or Mr. Bancroft being around our golf course. Our esteemed Mayor said he had been dissatisfied with his performance for years. I have never seen him attend the Golf Association meeting nor have I heard him offer any constructive criticism. I have been around the game for forty-five years and many different professionals. Evidently, Mr. Ostin has not been around many. I have to wonder if it isn't Mr. Thomson said - it's something personal between Mr. Ostin and myself. I am sure that Mr. Thomson has ordered thousands of dollars of merchandise for the coming year. With the season opening in about six weeks, it seems poor timing. It was common knowledge that your Golf Advisory Commission had unanimously supported Mr. Thomson's re hiring. Why have a commission if you pay in attention to it?

Red ink brings Minidoka action

The Minidoka Irrigation District may well be a good example for a number of organizations, especially those in government.

When the district discovered in an audit that it had overspent its 1975 income by over $26,000, its board voted to cut back.

The cutback was drastic. The district's ditchriders were laid off until good weather returns. Its maintenance crew was laid off. Two employees, including the district's manager, lost their use of district pickups. And the manager was placed on a probationary status.

That's a pretty decisive way to deal with red ink. Some of the cutbacks may be only temporary as income meets expenses. But it is pretty clear that district spending will be directly tied to its income from now on.

Perhaps we should run the Minidoka Irrigation District's directors for Congress.

Unions also must give value

Business Week

In their public pronouncements, leaders of the building trades unions are still expressing well-orchestrated outrage over President Ford's veto of the "common situs" picketing bill. As they see it, the right of a union to picket a nonunion contractor on the same job was part of a bargain they had made with the Administration. The veto and the resignation of Labor Secretary John Dunlop this week cloud the prospects for responsible bargaining in the construction industry this year.

But in the meantime, the unions are wisely yielding to the same market forces that common situs picketing was designed to abridge. In Pittsburgh, the officials of 77 local craft unions have tentatively agreed to ease up on a long list of restrictive work practices. The unions themselves initiated the idea, hoping to lower costs and enable union contractors to compete with the growing movement toward the open shop in construction.

Among other things, the union officials agreed to eliminate the organized coffee break, which often has meant a full stop in all work to halt the practice of forcing contractors to pay non-working stewards, and to set uniform starting and quitting times. The unions also suggested that Pittsburgh-area contractors institute stricter accountability methods to determine who is working and who is not.

All this is a healthy response to the growing strength of the open-shop movement in construction. According to the estimate of a group of open-shop contractors, 40 per cent of all industrial and commercial construction is now performed by nonunion workers. To stop that trend, the unions must start offering a full day's work for a day's pay.

The unions must institute workmanship provided by the extensive apprenticeship system of the unions. But it cannot afford to pay premium wages and tolerate elaborate feather-bedding practices at the same time. The common situs bill was an attempt to turn the clock back. The right way for the unions to deal with the open shop is to match what it offers - value for value.

Food weaponry

Hutchinson, Kan. News

Sen. Herman Talmadge told Kansas that "agri-business means agri-power," a term which has been popping up lately in President Ford's talks about the farm.

Talmadge said "agri-power" has "political clout all over the world and is a powerful lever in our foreign relations." At the same time, the chairman of the agriculture committee said "farm families ought not to be made pawns on some sort of world chess board for diplomats to use in grand political schemes."

This is a now-familiar theme. Use food as a tool, but not at the expense of farmers. It's difficult to see how we can have it both ways.

Consider Angola, for the current example. The State Department has been urged to drop plans for trade concessions to the Soviet Union unless the Russians leave Africa alone. Some politicians and lobbyists have said we should quit selling wheat to the Communists until they behave.

We could do those things. But to what effect? The Soviet Union survived, and even grew, for a half-century without any trade benefits from us.

So far as sales of farm products are concerned, the wisest course is the oldest - to sell what we can spare wherever and however we can.

To talk of food as a strategic weapon has a nice dramatic sound, but it ignores the realities of the world today - particularly the totalitarian world.

Which is better for West?

Editor, Times-News:

The communists still carry on the cold war against the West while the West deludes itself that he cold war is over. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger finally managed to take to task Soviet Russia and Castro's red Cuba for sending arms, troops, into Angola, Portugal's former colony in Africa.

A civil war is raging in Angola in which the communists fight for control of the rich African territory. Our secretary of state finally spoke out against the Russian and Cuban intervention only after a great deal of time and an accomplished fact.

The real meaning of "détente" was put very well by the London Daily Telegraph. "If the Americans were intervening in Angola on the same military scale as the Russians now clearly are, there would be a concerted campaign at the United Nations to disarm them, with mass rallies all over the world protesting against such an act of great-power bullying imperialism."

Yet because it is the Russians, they may well be allowed to grab a foothold in this economically and strategically important part of Africa without any upset to the smooth waters of Detente diplomacy.

"In the Cold War days the Russians would be acting with much greater caution than they are now."

"As it is - the West's" paralyzed into inactivity in Angola as elsewhere, while the Russians press forward with impunity. Besides the conventional conventional military backing - the South Atlantic - directly opposite our South American neighbor, Brazil - Angola has large deposits of copper, iron, manganese, sulphur, gold and petroleum.

If the London Daily Telegraph is correct that "in the Cold War days the Russians would be acting with much greater caution than they are now" - the basic question is: Which is better - cold war or detente - for the interests of the free world and America?

Think on these things "America." Happy Birthday - hope you have many more. JACK STREETER Mountain Home

Ownership issue

Editor, Times-News:

The issue on Silver Creek is not methods of angling, but whether or not the land will be in public or private ownership. The present owner says the land will be sold.

The question then must be asked, what happens if a private party or corporation buys the land? Will it be subdivided? Will it be held as an exclusive hunting and fishing club? In either case, the access would be lost to the people of Idaho forever.

Most of Silver Creek including the Sun Valley Ranch is already under private ownership with limited access.

With the opportunity to obtain this property as public domain, let support the acquisition effort. That the excellent bird hunting and fishing will remain available to the sportsmen of Idaho. KEN PACI, Twin Falls

Budget cuts worry FBI

Chicago Daily News

WASHINGTON - FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley says he doesn't intend to be "contaminated" by President Ford's proposals to reduce the bureau's budget, but "is concerned about its possible impact on law enforcement."

Kelley indicated in a meeting with reporters that he is mainly troubled by a budget feature that would require states and localities to pay half of the costs for training local police to fire FBI Academy at Quantico, Va.

If the requirement substantially reduces the number of officers attending the academy each year, it "would be harmful to law enforcement," he said. The federal government has picked up the full tab of police training at Quantico.

Kelley also seemed troubled by the proposal to reduce FBI personnel by 322 positions, through attrition rather than outright dismissal, and said he would speak out if it "damages" the operations of the FBI.

"The FBI chief rejected the notion that the cuts resulted from a 'lack of confidence' in the bureau as a result of recent disclosures of improper and illegal actions. He said he assumed it was a matter of money, or fiscal restraint."

Under the late J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI budget was virtually untouchable. Office of Management and Budget officials disputed the $2 billion figure, maintaining that only 250 personnel would be reduced "automatically." An additional 372 were being "re-categorized," one OMB official said. He explained they were being placed in "reimbursable positions," and they would keep their jobs in the academy training program to the extent that the states and cities agree to pay 50 per cent of the costs.

Kelley said the FBI was training 1,000 men at the academy annually. In four classes of 250 students. The former Kansas City police chief said he thought it was "essential" to continue the program because the local police "depend their knowledge" to their home police departments. The president's budget request for the bureau for fiscal 1977 was $166,777,000, compared to estimated outlays of $481,792,000 for the current fiscal year.

The budget said the FBI outlays will "decline slightly due to expected productivity increases. Improved management practices, and deferred acquisition of selected equipment. The intensive effort to combat white collar and organized crime will not be diminished."

Kelley said that "if you don't direct your ef-orts toward reduction of crime, you're not doing your job." He suggested the FBI will concentrate more heavily on crime leaders rather than petty criminals.

Kelley said he was not unaccustomed to oversight of his work when asked how he felt about congressional moves to tighten review procedures of FBI operations. "It can be too stringent. It can be too restrictive," he cautioned.

He expressed special concern about guidelines established by Congress that might threaten the confidentiality of FBI sources, which he said was the "lifeblood" of investigative work. Fear of having their identities disclosed has already discouraged some FBI sources, he said.

PETER LISAGOR

Kelley bristled slightly when a reporter noted that in recent speeches he appeared to be suggesting that Americans might have to "relinquish" a measure of their civil liberties if the FBI is to deal adequately with terrorists. The question grew out of the recent bomb explosion in a locker at La Guardia Airport in New York.

He said he had no intention of trespassing on anyone's civil rights, adding with some vigor that "I do have a burning desire to protect this country."

He advocated the use of electronic surveillance in dealing with suspected terrorists - where there were reasons to warrant it. "What are you going to do - sit around and get bombed off the map?" he exclaimed.

Kelley described FBI relations with the CIA as excellent, and said he had a "warm relationship" with retiring CIA Director William Colby. He also said he had "a very fine relationship" with Atty. Gen. Edward Levi. He was unequivocal in stating that he considered Levi his boss.

During Hoover's heyday, the Justice Department held often had problems exercising authority over the FBI director. Hoover regarded himself on occasions as a law unto himself. Kelley obviously does not.

To me it's life's greatest thrill to learn a new skill - or soo someone else, especially a child, become adept at something he really wants to do.

Also, we used to dance at noon and recesses in the old gym just to please the office. You all have probably danced, to "Oats, Peas, Beans and Barley Grow," at one time or another, to the piano where the teacher's involvement made it more fun. It was a progressive dance and you looked forward to dancing with certain people.

Editor, Times-News: This is a public letter of protest in regard to the ousting of Clyde Thomson, city golf pro. A handful of discontents can raise more of a stink than two hundred or more golfers who feel the world about. Clyde - and perhaps look it for granted that his contract would be renewed.

Anyone who has to deal with the public on a regular basis knows what an impossibility it is to please everyone. With all the people I come into contact with I have never heard a complaint about Clyde.

The nearly perennial success of our Twin Falls High School golf team is due almost exclusively to the instruction an encouragement Clyde gives the youth of this community. It is ironic that last fall he was selected as golf pro of the year by the Northwest Association only to lose his job before spring.

I, for one, consider the city council's action an injustice and hope enough golfers who know the real man really the situation by making their feelings known. FATHER COSMAS WHITE, O.S.B. Twin Falls

Editor, Times-News: There is an article in the Sunday, January 18, 1976, Times-News of Twin Falls, Idaho entitled: "Ex-CIA agent attempts to expose all."

It is in Paris and was written for the UPI. So I assume it will appear in many papers. It spoke of a Philip Agee who worked for the CIA. It stated that he now is trying to expose CIA agents. . . not to get them killed but to force them to go back home so that through constant changes of personnel their effectiveness will be reduced. . . He further states, "My main contribution has been to help people acquire the techniques for identifying the CIA people . . ."

It would be interesting to note who wrote the article. He somehow failed to mention that Philip Agee is a self-proclaimed defector to Communist Cuba and has himself claimed "strong Soviet ties." He received "encouragement" not only from the Communist Party of Cuba, but from the North American Congress for Latin America in the U.S. and the International Commission for Peace and Disarmament in Britain.

Hubert, Wallace differ over Demo ticket

By United Press International
 Senator Hubert Humphrey, non-candidate presidential hopeful, says that no matter what happens in the primaries Alabama Gov. George Wallace is not going to be on the Democratic ticket this year.

Wallace, virtually ruled out another third party race this year, and a new poll showed Ronald Reagan leading President Ford in New Hampshire.

On ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers" Sunday, Humphrey was pressed on whether he would support a Wallace ticket.
 "He is not going to be on the ticket this year," he replied. "You know it and I know it."
 Wallace campaigned in Florida even as returns showed him with an impressive victory in the precinct caucuses of Mississippi Saturday. He had some 41 per cent of the first-round selections to 18 per cent for Jimmy Carter, his nearest competitor, and around 14 per cent for George Wallace.

or more, but the early results made the March 9 primary in Florida crucial to Carter's claim that he is the only Democrat who can compete against Wallace in the South.
 Addressing an overflow crowd in Plant City, Fla., Saturday night, Wallace all but eliminated the chance of a third party effort this year.

"I believe, you could, say I have ruled out the probability of running as a third party candidate," he said. It was the closest he had come to ruling out a repeat of his 1964 run on the American Independent Party ticket.

On the Republican side, Newsweek magazine reported Sunday Reagan "has built a significant early lead" over Ford in the first phase of the New Hampshire primary campaign.

The situation is volatile at this early stage," Newsweek said, but "if the Feb. 23 primary were held today, Ford would have to win the undecided vote at a rate of two to one to win the state."
 The magazine said "most Democratic voters in New Hampshire are still undecided, but among those who have made up their minds the leading contenders are Sen. Birch Bayh, Carter and Morris Udall.

In other developments...
 Rogers C.B. Morton, who soon will become the President's liaison between the White House and the campaign committee, predicted Ford will do "very well" in the primaries and said he sees no circumstances under which Ford would bow out of the campaign before the GOP national convention.
 Slurver conducted a weekend blitz of Texas to boost efforts to get his name on primary ballots in seven districts—the theme was "Most of all, we've got to get rid of the Republicans."

 Udall talked busing alternatives and labor programs in Wisconsin and told a student gathering that "for the eighth year in a row, I hear an American president say that 'because times are bad, we are going to have to sacrifice people to profits.'"
 Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp said he wants to be a national candidate and predicted the "pundits are in for real surprises in Massachusetts and Florida, where I expect to win delegates."

Rabin starts US visit

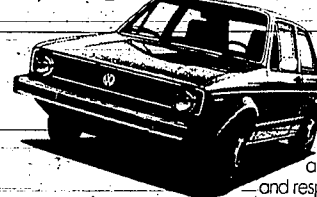

Chicago Sun-Times
 WASHINGTON — Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin arrives today to seek official support here and public support in the nation's big cities for a no-compromise position on the Palestine issue.
 Israeli officials said Rabin is bringing no new proposals to break the deadlock with the Arab and expects no pressure from President Ford to change his policy.

 The officials portrayed the 10-day visit as a harmonious effort to coordinate U.S. and Israeli peacemaking efforts in the aftermath of last week's vote in the United Nations Security Council on the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Agencies 'beyond scrutiny'

N. Y. Times Service
 WASHINGTON — The House Select Committee on Intelligence has concluded following a year-long investigation that the Federal Intelligence agencies, as they are currently constituted, operate in such secret ways that they are "beyond the scrutiny" of Congress, according to the panel's final report.
 The 328-page report, disclosed a number of irregularities uncovered by committee investigators. These include an apparent violation by the Central Intelligence Agency of a 1957 presidential directive prohibiting it from providing secret financial assistance to any of the nation's educational institutions.

Six rave Rabbit reviews that weren't written by Volkswagen.

Road & Track "This car does it all. It's small, light, roomy and fast, with nimble and responsive steering, ride and handling. Best sedan under $3500!"

Car & Driver "Whole populations of drivers will live for years with this car, strongly impressed by its generally nimble disposition and its sensitive feel of the road through the steering wheel and brake pedal!"

Road Test "The Volkswagen Rabbit should be recognized as a true world car... It is the finest example to date of a totally integrated passenger car, useful anywhere in the world..."

Esquire "It is the specific type of car that Detroit will be building in the 1980's."

Popular Mechanics "The most important new import..."

Popular Science "...the feeling of control is ever present, even at high speed and in extreme turning tests... VW has it now. The others have a way to go!"

Malpractice crisis solution near?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. says a "solution" to California's growing malpractice insurance crisis, which has touched off a doctors' strike, may be near.

Brown told the striking physicians, "frayed" with an insurance renewal deadline Wednesday, that a proposed bill creating a state-administered physician's liability insurance fund should get positive action in the state legislature.

One doctor at the meeting Sunday, sponsored by the United Physicians of California, agreed with the governor. He suggested the bill "will be the eventual solution to the malpractice problem."

The doctors have been on strike protesting the sharply rising cost of malpractice insurance.

While the measure, written by State Sen. Alfred Song, originated in Brown's office, the governor cautioned the doctors to make sure the solution is the one they want before they grab it.

"I think it's important that we consider all the ramifications of a multimillion state fund that may come back to haunt us," Brown said.

"I want the physicians to know what they're getting into," Brown said.

Brown said the fund — created by $4,000 a year payments from individual doctors — might have to be mandatory for all medical practitioners "in order to remain solvent."

Later the governor suggested he is willing to modify his "Peace Corps" proposal — to make doctors spend a set amount of time serving the poor. Apparently acting on assurances poor residents will not be neglected, Brown indicated he would be willing to make the program voluntary.

Roadway support pledged

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
I am a new mother. I have been told that it is not good to allow too much bottle nursing of babies, that it can cause tooth decay. I find this hard to believe.
My baby is 8 months old, and I am not breast-feeding her. When should I try to get her to drink from a cup? — Mrs. C.R.
Dentists have been expressing concern in recent years over what is called the "nursing bottle syndrome," or the "nursing bottle tooth decay."
A recent communication to me from the American Society of Pediatric Dentistry for Children expresses this concern.
It is caused by letting the child nurse for long periods of time on milk, juices, or other liquids containing sugar, such as sweetened formula, sugar water, even soft drinks, according to R. L. Paterson, D.M.D., spokesman for the society — much is excess of the time required for normal intake of nutritional needs.

SHOSHONE. — Continued support to improving Magic Reservoir. West roadway was pledged at the meeting of North Side Communities, Inc., and new officers took over duties for the year.
Newly elected president, Robert Burkes; Wendell, in produced Phyllis Bunn, Wendell, as the new secretary. Howard E. Adkins, Shoshone, is the vice president.
A February meeting, to be held next Thursday at the Manhattan Cafe, Harrell Thorne, Shoshone, will make a report on status of roads and work on the Magic Reservoir roadway.
For the program Thursday night, Burkes reported on the meeting of principals in the American Falls, Oregon, area, held in Boise, Thursday morning, where the go ahead was given on the $15 million structure.
Community reports were given by Burkes, for Wendell; Robert Thomas, Jerome; Merle Hanna, Rupert; James Muffley, Gooding; Howard Adkins, and Harrell Thorne, Shoshone.
Progress was reported on converting the old TB hospital in Gooding to an alcoholic treatment center, on installation of safety devices at the Shoshone Railroad crossing and completion of the new District Bureau of Land Management office; on land use planning operations in Jerome and activity of the Southern Idaho Chamber of Commerce sponsoring a bowling tournament for senior citizens, on problems of traffic buildup at Railroad crossings in Rupert and status of the regional airport plans.
Robert Myers will be asked to facilitate a North Side meeting for further discuss the airport activities.
Change students for late this year.
John Baxter said parents who would be interested in having an exchange student in their homes during the next school year should contact an AFS official, Mrs. Baxter, at 227-2747 or Paris Vain of the Twin Falls High School will accept applicants.
Mrs. Baxter said the AFS is interested in families preferably with a high school-age son or daughter.

"Bottle mouth" worries mom

"Milk normally does not cause decay, but when milk sugar or fruit juice sugar is sucked from a bottle-hour after-hour, day after day, bacteria in the mouth produce decay-causing acid that attacks tooth enamel," says Dr. Paterson.
The tongue and nipple cover the protect the lower teeth in nursing, hence the results are noted in the upper front teeth mainly.
Also, says Dr. Paterson, bottle nursing at nap and bedtime not only increases the production of acid on the teeth, but tends to delay weaning so the same children are kept on the bottle beyond the age of two. He suggests that the child, if he begins to drink from a cup at the age of one, will not have this problem.
Dentists report an increase in the nursing bottle syndrome appearing in one-to-five-year-olds.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
I was told I have bursitis. I'd like to know what this is and whether or not it is curable. Would a certain food be at fault? I am 67 years old. — Mrs. A. L.
Food has nothing to do with bursitis — unless the underlying problem is gout.
A bursa is a sac-like structure that lies over certain bony prominences as where tendons ride over a bone of the shoulder joint or in the heel.
Normally these structures do their jobs well: facilitating joint movement. When they become irritated bursitis, there can be swelling and an accompanying "hot" swelling. The condition is usually curable with application of heat, such as a hot, wet compress. Other measures include diathermy (use of an electrical current) and ultrasound. Steroid injections have also been helpful.
The affected joint should be rested as much as possible during treatment. If the bursitis is of the heel, a foam rubber cushion can be worn in the shoe to relieve pressure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can emphysema be caused by anything than smoking? — Mrs. E.R.
About 90 per cent of all emphysema victims have been heavy smokers, so that is considered the major contributing factor. It can occur, however, as the result of long — standing respiratory problems such as bronchial asthma, bronchitis or tuberculosis. Any factor that causes a loss of elasticity in lung tissue (which is what emphysema is) can be at fault — including air pollution, which incidentally, is what smoking is anyway.
Dear Dr. Thosteson:
Does the calorie content of a piece of bread change if the bread is toasted? — S.A.S.
The calorie content remains the same. Toasting reduces the weight of the bread, but this is through water loss, which doesn't affect the calorie content.

Dr. Thosteson's answers are good, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

DEAR ABBY: I wanted to start the New Year right, so I went to my doctor for a complete physical checkup. He told me I had to lose 30 pounds and I had to quit smoking.

Well, I wish you could have seen this doctor. His stomach was hanging over his belt. If he'd been a woman you would have sworn he was in his eighth month!

All the while he talked to me he was smoking up a storm. I noticed the ashtray he was using had about eight cigarette butts in it—all less than a quarter of an inch long.

Why this doctor is supposed to be the best. Can you tell me how a patient is supposed to have confidence in a doctor who can't do what he orders his patients to do?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Just because he lacks the willpower to lose weight and quit smoking does not mean he's a poor physician. It only means he's afflicted with the same weaknesses that some of his patients are.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL EATON

Doc preaches, not practices

DEAR ABBY: I work 10 hours a day. I teach school in a poverty area and teach English to Vietnamese people after school.

When I get home to my large, four-bedroom house, I am tired but I must resume my "housewife" role. Since my husband and I have no children, it is assumed by our friends that I have nothing to do.

My husband sometimes reluctantly "helps" me with the housework. Since I work as hard as he does, why doesn't he come home and automatically start the housework so I can "help" him?

We've talked about this, but he doesn't seem to understand. Do you?

Thanks for listening.

BUSHED

DEAR BUSHED: If your husband doesn't understand, it's because he doesn't want to. He's still playing with yesterday's rules. Educate him.

DEAR ABBY: I just read where they are trying to pass a law in North Carolina to make all horse owners put diapers on their horses in order to keep the streets clean. I know it sounds crazy, but if you think about it, it makes a lot of sense. I hope they pass that law. And after that, maybe it will catch on and they'll do the same thing for dogs!

FED UP IN N.Y.

DEAR FED: And now let's hear it for pigeons!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Miss Durfee, Eaton married in Gooding

GOODING - Pamela Durfee and Michael R. Eaton were married in a Jan. 10 ceremony at the Gooding LDS Church.

Bishop Willis Cheney conducted the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis O. Durfee, Gooding, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Eaton, Wendell.

The bride wore a gown of white organza and lace. The skirt and cathedral train were trimmed with wide scalloped lace. The bodice featured a lace yoke and a stand-up collar trimmed with lace. The long sheer sleeves were fitted and had ruffles of wide lace at the wrist.

Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by satin hearts and pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums, peach roses and stephanotis.

Diana, Marianna and Taunja Durfee, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Dan McCloud was best man. Groomsman were Mark Miller and Kip Dennis. George Ambrose, Wendell; Charlie Bryan, Boise; Britt Durfee, Orem, Utah; Curt Eatop, Wendell, and Brandon Eaton, Boise, served as ushers.

Laraine Shaver was soloist. Grace Paulsen was accompanist. Mrs. Faeth Eaton, Wendell, grandmother of the bridegroom, was organist.

The couple was honored at a reception following the ceremony.

Mrs. Lael Prince, Lake Tahoe, Nev., aunt of the bridegroom, made the wedding cake and assisted with serving at the bride's table. Others assisting were Jeri Bryan, Jan Eaton, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Brandon Eaton, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Corrine Remm, Cheryl Hoskins, Julie Koyle and Pam Hecklander attended the gift table.

The bride was graduated from Gooding High School and attended Riggs College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wendell High School and attended Idaho State University and the bride is employed by the Idaho Department of Employment.

Couple recites vows

SHOSHONE - Norman B. Dille, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dille, Shoshone, and Jeannie Bentl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Bentl, Miles City, Mont., were married Jan. 8 at the Idaho Falls LDS Church temple.

They were honored that evening at an open house at the home of his parents in Shoshone.

Guests attended from Burley, Kimberly, Wendell, and Gooding.

They are making their home in Houston, Tex., where he is employed by the Shell Oil Co.

Hints

The single most important item to remember when making muffins is to stir - not beat - the batter. The ingredients should be moist and still lumpy. Muffin tins should be filled no more than two-thirds full, to allow for expansion.

SCCAA locates jobs for 20 area youths

TWIN FALLS - The South-Central Community Action Agency has located jobs for 20 area youths participating in a new CETA Experimental Youth Project.

The project is under the leadership of Vicki Kidd, youth coordinator and operates under a contract with the Idaho Manpower Consortium.

Twenty participants in Blaine, Cassia, Jerome and Twin Falls counties have been placed in workites and several are now enrolled in adult education classes at the College of Southern Idaho in preparation for obtaining their high school diplomas.

Some of the workites now being utilized are Blaine County, CSI, Cassia School District, the National Guard, the winterization project and Head Start.

The purpose of the program is to provide disadvantaged out-of-school youths with comprehensive manpower services such as assessment, counseling, education, employment and other supportive services which will provide a transition into the labor market or the educational system.

This is an experimental approach to serve high school dropouts, to determine if individualized services can produce a better integration into the labor market.

Philip Morris Announces The First Major Step Since The Filter Cigarette.

'Enriched Flavor' discovery revealed for new low tar cigarette.

Ever since filters were first introduced to cigarettes the trend has been to limit cigarette tar.

And with every new refinement in filtration, the tar levels went down.

Unfortunately, in most cases so did the taste.

Regardless of all the "low tar, good taste" claims you've read; regardless of all the fancy filters and space-age filtering systems you've tried - your own taste told you: the less tar, the less taste.

This is a report on a new kind of cigarette.

MERIT. Only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Yet with incredible flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now - you'll be interested.

Smoke Cracked: 'Enriched Flavor'

After a twelve year research effort, a team of scientists at our Richmond Research Center succeeded in isolating the "key" flavor ingredients of tobacco as they exist in cigarette smoke.

By adding only those ingredients which were of extreme high quality as flavor producers yet low tar producing as well, we're now able to pack incredible flavor into a cigarette without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor'. 'Enriched Flavor'. It's extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't drop out, can't do anything but come through.

We packed 'Enriched Flavor' into the tobacco used to make MERIT.

And began an extensive series of taste tests. The results were startling.

Taste Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much - or more - taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

From Philip Morris.

Family planning visits increase

TWIN FALLS — There was so much interest in the family planning program of the South Central Health District that the number of new patients had to be limited during 1973.

Mrs. Ann Kaster, R.N., said the number of new patients in the program has been held down because "we have quite a demand and we don't have enough money to meet" an increased patient load.

Even with the slowdown, patient visits increased 71 per cent in 1973, according to the report.

Return visits by patients cost as much as initial visits, Mrs. Kaster said.

She said the appointment book for new patients is filled up until early March.

Although the same number of Family Planning clinics was held in 1973 as the year before, and the new patient load remained about the same, the total number of visits increased greatly, district officials report.

As a result of this increase, the inability to secure physician time and only a small increase in funding "the district was forced to limit new patients."

Dr. Wayne Carte, medical director for the district, said Mrs. Kaster has attended a special Women's Health Care course at Harbor General Hospital, Torrance, Calif.

The family planning staff is a women's health care specialist in April and will be able to help the district increase clinic time to handle larger number of new patients.

During 1975, the annual report shows, the district introduced a special course in "Communications in Sexuality" in the area through the Idaho State University programs. This was offered for graduate or undergraduate credit to counselors, social workers, and nurses. Twenty-one registered for the course.

The course graduates will be introducing the material offered into schools and other areas of the community and using it in individual counseling.

Wage growth in Lincoln rated lowest in Valley

By GORDON JUDD Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County workers' wages and salaries experienced the least growth of any Magic Valley County during the eight year period from 1965 to 1972.

Total incomes, including proprietors' incomes, grew at a better rate 150 per cent from $8.22 million in 1965 until they reached $12.36 million in 1972.

These facts became available recently following publication of a study conducted by W. Lamar Bollinger, professor of economics at the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Lincoln County was one of 13 counties statewide where payrolls increased less than 50 per cent. Of the eight counties making up the Magic Valley four of them — Camas, Gooding, Jerome and Lincoln, shared this problem of no salary growth.

Lincoln County's 29 per cent growth for wages and salaries hardly kept pace with inflation which grew at the rate of 33.4 per cent during the same eight year period, according to U.S. Department of Labor statistics for the same period.

Lincoln County experienced an out-migration of population during the eight years of the study, and ended with 178 fewer residents (3,200 vs. 3,278). The remaining dropped behind or barely kept up with inflation using the U.S. Department of Labor figures.

Lincoln County, as a result, lost ground in statewide per-capita income ratings slipping from 19th to 17th during the study period; only Gooding County ranked lower statewide (24) in 1972.

Farm workers salaries in Lincoln County only rose 11 per cent (608,000 vs. $677,000) for the eight years.

The lack of growth in farm workers salaries is partially explained by the decrease in the total number of farms from 328 in 1965 to 288 in 1972.

Proprietors (owners) farm income did better however rising 66 per cent during the same period from $2,580,000 to $4,305,000.

Contract construction salaries did better, jumping from $36,000 in 1965 to $82,000 for a gain of 127 per cent.

Food processing employment incomes also increased. These wages amounted to $83,000 in 1965 and rose to $164,000 for a gain of 84 per cent.

Local, state and county government payrolls increased approximately 40 per cent during the study period suggesting that these employees at least were receiving salaries which would let them keep pace with inflation (33.4 per cent) during the period.

Lincoln County residents who work for federal, state or local government agencies definitely account for the greatest number of paychecks countywide.

Lincoln County "farm workers" and "transportation workers" payrolls only amount to 14 per cent of county wages.

Social Security income payments rose 87 per cent during the Bollinger study period, suggesting that retirement benefits that were more people reaching retirement age during the years from 1965 to 1972.

Rally planned

WENDELL — All three of the state's Republican congressmen are scheduled to attend a political rally at 8 p.m. Feb. 7 in the Wendell Elementary Grade school multi-purpose room.

The rally, at which Rep. Steve Symms will be the main speaker, is sponsored by the Gooding County Republican Central Committee, as well as the local Republican party chairman.

The congressman have confirmed their attendance at the informal event, she said.

She said Sen. James McClure and Rep. George Hansen are scheduled to attend as well as Atty. Gen. Wayne C. Hall, Secretary of State Pete Cannon, Vern Haverscroft, state party chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

There will be live entertainment and refreshments in addition to the speakers, Mrs. Sears said. After the meeting, the congressman will be available to answer questions.

John Faulstich, county chairman, said the $5 tickets may be purchased from him at 834-4093, Mrs. Sears, 934-4059 or any member of the central committee and at the door.

Consequences eyed on 'unfair' charges

SUN VALLEY — A decision on charges of unfair labor practices in the Sun Valley strike will have major consequences for both sides according to a federal investigator.

The charges were brought by the Federal Union Trades Council against Sun Valley Company two weeks ago and were directed specifically to Idaho Employers Council representative, Tom Hazzard, Boise, according to Larry McCaragar, National Labor Relations Board investigator.

He said the trades council is generally contending that the company promised legal assistance to strikers who crossed the picket line.

McCaragar said union strikers will have to be reinstated and given back pay if Sun Valley Company has committed unfair labor practices.

He said the council is also alleging Sun Valley Company solicited to all non-striking employees when the strike is called.

The budget for current expenses, which covers wages and expenses of operating various county offices, is set at $229,601.25, compared to $213,509.07, with per cent at $100 compared to $100 a year ago.

The increase this year includes $9,000 for the election, not needed last year, and a $300 per year salary increase for all county officers and employees.

A big cut in the budget is in the county weed fund where all that is required this year is a weed supervisor to handle bookwork and planning. The weed control spraying work is being done by the Idaho-Orange Cooperative through a contract type program on a one-year trial basis.

Ed Schwager has been hired to serve as Lincoln and Camas county weed supervisor.

The budget for current expenses, which covers wages and expenses of operating various county offices, is set at $229,601.25, compared to $213,509.07, with per cent at $100 compared to $100 a year ago.

Work on the landfill is expected to begin as soon as weather permits. Preliminary plans were made last year and commissioners expect to call for bids for equipment and work soon.

The county budget hearing will be held at 10 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 9, at the courthouse. At that time the Commissioners may lower the approved budget, but they cannot increase it over the figure set this month.

One area of concern by county elected officials is salary. Since the budget figures were set, state statistics have shown that Lincoln county officials are at the very bottom of the wage scale in the state of Idaho, with Ada county second.

Several county officials, including the Sheriff, the clerk and treasurer, have spoken out against these low wages and Lincoln county rules pertaining to new employees in the offices, he said.

Treasurer Myron-D. Johnson, said he feels this rule should be changed.

Both districts failed to approve the contracts, although 55 per cent of the MID watersheds, voting favored the project, less than the two-thirds necessary for approval.

BID was the only irrigation-district with special elections at American Falls that showed a majority against the project. Burley watersheds had voted opposition several times during the effort to put the project together.

The two districts hold over 14 per cent of the 17.2 per cent of storage space at American Falls Reservoir that rejected the contracts. The other 73.9 per cent that have voted approved the project.

Because of a water rights transfer to American Falls Reservoir, BID has 157,842 acre feet of water, there for its 48,000 acre land. MID holds 83,563 acre feet of water at American Falls for 73,000 acres of land.

Nichols and BID Chairman Jay Holbrook say their districts have not decided what further action might be taken to insure water rights.

Bids have already been taken on three equipment jobs and the contracts are ready to be awarded.

Plans and specifications for the overall project will be prepared under the supervision of three representatives already appointed by American Falls Reservoir District (the prime agency), other specialholders and Idaho Power Co. Idaho Power will pay more than half the $37.47 million in construction for filling water rights.

Red Vissla, regional director for the Bureau of Reclamation, said the bureau will hold a final review with Bechtel Engineers on the project in Denver, Feb. 12 before the specifications are prepared for bid.

Vissla said he hopes to have the contracts between the specialholders, Idaho Power and the Secretary of Interior signed by about the middle of February.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Don't be dismayed if you have a big upset regarding some plan today because this will clear the way for much more personal happiness and also success in practical ways. If invited to some entertainment, recreation tonight, be sure to accept.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get into that new activity for fine benefits; rid yourself of responsibility that is a drawback. Enjoy social life, sports.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your responsibilities and discharge them briskly. Change attitude with mate for good results. Stop being stubborn, dogmatic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Polish off work quickly. Some association matters then work out right for you. Plan how to align to future civic matters.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Discuss work commitments with co-workers so you get needed cooperation. Study your clothing and make needed changes.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find better ways of enjoyment within your budget, with congenials only. Know how to put your fine, creative ideas across.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Focus attention on home and family to get good results. If you handle a current matter well, a big amount of success opens.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use more direct methods with partners for better results and successful new plans can be formulated. Avoid a bickering.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Changes need to be made in your monetary structure; experts can help. Schedule some family, safe-guard assets.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Think along personal lines and make your life more as it should be. Use positive methods. Goad about socially later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Think over intimate aim and make sure it's right for you before taking action. Don't be belligerent with true friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make some new acquaintances who can help you restore your faith in your fellow man. Stop neglecting social side of life.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make any changes that tie to your best interests. Bring your finest talents to the attention of bigwigs. Increase success.

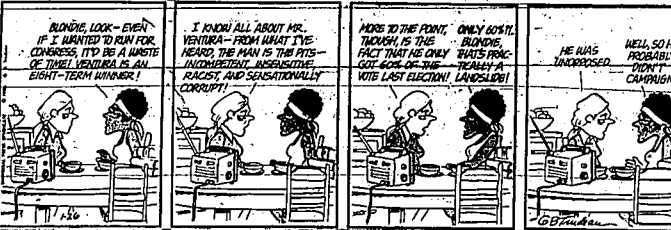

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be blunt speaking and could spend much time fighting with others instead of using the fine energy here along constructive channels, so teach early to think before speaking and to use tact. Give as fine an education as possible and add foreign language to the curriculum, since there can be much success in foreign countries here. Religion a must early.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

That major league baseball players live longer than average citizens is common knowledge. Less widely known is the fact that third basemen live longer than any other such players. Shortstops live next longer. Statistics show pitchers and first basemen live less longer than other major leaguers. These figures only pertain to players who do not become team managers, please note. Managers still outlive average citizens, true. But their longevity records do not compare well at all with players who go into different lines of work when they retire.

Think Of All The Money You Can Make By Selling With A Times-News Classified Ad DIAL 733-0931

GUARANTEE

Get RESULTS in 10 Days

Or Your Money Back!

Place your ad to sell — buy — or trade in our Classified Advertising Section for 10 days. Play your ad before the 10 days are up. (Rates are based on the number of words in your ad.) If, at the end of 10 days — you have not sold — you have not purchased what you're looking for — or you haven't traded for the item you wanted to swap — COME IN to the Times-News Office and we'll cheerfully refund your money. IF YOU DO get results before the 10 days are up — call and cancel your ad. You'll be charged only for the days your ad actually appeared — and you will receive a refund check for the difference.

Serious, this offer good for private party ads only. Best Eastern advertising cannot be accepted. Deadline for receiving ad copy is 11:00 a.m. for the following day's publication.

If you advertise more than one item and you sell one or more of the items, your ad must be considered successful.
