Class switches proposed in Burley grade schools

BURLEY — Every fourth grader in the city of Burley may be going to Overland school next year as part of a plan to end racial segregation in Cassia County.

All the first, second and third graders currently in Overland elementary may be moved to another elementary school as part of the desegregation plan.

A major reshuffling of the Cassia County school system has been ordered by the Federal Office of Civil Rights (OCR) which found Burley to have a deeply segregated school system in 1974.

In response to the orders from the OCR, the Cassia County School Board Monday night approved a desegregation plan and proposed districts requesting more than $150,000 to hire Mexican-American teachers and to help expand Mexican-American programs in the schools.

A public hearing on the desegregation policy will be held by Feb. 4 to meet the deadlines for grant application. The funds are available under Title VII of the Emergency School Aid Act.

The desegregation resolution is identical to one adopted by the board two years ago.

GOP preference switches to Ford in network poll

By United Press International

President Ford, moving up in performance ratings, has passed and now leads Ronald Reagan in an NBC poll that asked Republicans which candidate they prefer as their presidential nominee.

NBC said today 50 per cent of 535 registered Republicans questioned in its January poll stated they prefer Ford over the former California governor if the GOP convention narrows down to a choice between the two men.

Thirty-eight per cent said they would favor Reagan and the remainder were undecided.

A month ago, Reagan had led Ford 43 to 40 per cent in the poll.

The telephone poll, in which a total of 2,175 persons were surveyed, also found 66 per cent approve of the way President Ford is handling his job — compared to 51 per cent in December.

"The biggest single reason for the President's improvement apparently is that most people think the economy is going to get better," pollsters said.

When paired against noncandidate Hubert Humphrey, Ford was favored 46 to 40 per cent. Two months ago, Ford actually was trailing Humphrey in polls.

Among registered Democrats, Jimmy Carter edged upward among registered Democrats, but he still runs behind Sen. Edward Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey and Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the poll, made public today.

CIA chief 'lonely' at times

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former CIA Director Richard Helms said today congressional oversight of overt CIA activities has been inadequate and often made him feel "quite lonely" because he could not share his problems with Congress.

Helms also said if presidents directed the CIA to undertake an illegal activity, the agency director should "argue it out with the President."

Helms, CIA director from 1969 to 1974 and now ambassador to Iran, testified before the Senate Government Operations Committee, which is studying improved congressional oversight of the entire U.S. intelligence community.

Helms' successor, William E. Colby, called a news conference Monday to denounce the lack of a House committee report that said, among other things, intelligence agencies vastly underestimated their expenses to congressional oversight committees. The report said the expenses ran in the neighborhood of $10 billion annually.

Colby, who is leaving the agency after 2½ years as director, said the leak was the "obvious burning of the dam protecting many of our secret operations and activities."

Helms said he took full responsibility for everything that occurred in the agency during his tenure.

Match Soviets, Rumsfeld asks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said today the United States must increase its defense spending because of threatening Soviet military advances.

In the Pentagon's annual "Posture Statement," Rumsfeld defended President Ford's request for an increase in military spending for 1977 to $100.1 billion, which Ford says represents a $7.8 billion increase over 1976.

Rumsfeld told the House Armed Services Committee:

"As you consider this budget, you will inevitably consider the military environment, the state of our defenses, and the facts of the world situation, as I have done. The arithmetic is not encouraging; the facts are not kind, but the task is fundamental."

City force wins wage increase

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls City Council has rejected three of five salary and benefit requests made by the workers.

One of the employee requests was approved and another was given conditional approval.

The seven-member council did agree, however, that the workers will get a 2.5 per cent hike in base pay and an estimated 7 per cent cost-of-living salary adjustment during 1976. The two benefits are the same that have been given to the city's union firemen.

The rejected employee proposals include:

- A 50-cent increase in longevity pay for each worker. They currently get $1.50 per month for each year of service. They had asked that it be raised to $2.
- A switch to bi-weekly pay periods that would have given the workers 26 pay periods each year instead of the current monthly paycheck. The proposal would have raised salaries about 8.3 per cent.

The proposal approved by the council calls for streamlining the grievance procedure for employees. A city ordinance will be written that specifies grievance procedures and sets up time limits for action at each step.

The employees also had requested that they be given leave for job-related accidents. The benefit would allow an employee time off for an accident without deducting that time from his accrued sick leave or vacation days. Currently, the employee can use up all his sick leave or vacation if he lays off after an accident.

The council conditionally approved that request. After an employee takes time off after an accident, he must appear before the city's Accident Review Board and ask that the time be considered accident leave rather than sick leave or vacation.

The board will review the case and forward a recommendation to the City Council, which must make a final decision.

City firemen have been allowed accident leave for two years, with the final decision left to the fire chief.

Patty Hearst trial starts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Patty Hearst went on trial today defended by a top criminal lawyer who will argue that she was a poor little rich girl who fell for a bank robbery because she thought she was dead if she didn't.

Jury selection was the first order of business in the federal courtroom, and a panel of 250 citizens was called for the bizarre case of a kidnap victim who seemed to have joined her abductor.

Picking the jury was expected to take at least two days.

As in customary in federal trials, the judge interrogated jurors about their bias or other circumstances which would bar them from serving.

The prosecution had 50 eyewitnesses and 40 photographs to prove that the 23-year-old heiress stood in the bank lobby with a carbine in her hands two months after she was kidnapped by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

A key question in Patty's favor was why?

The abduction and the later series of crimes blamed on Miss Hearst and other members of the SLA touched off one of the biggest manhunt in U.S. history. It ended with the capture at Guilford of Miss Hearst and three other members of the SLA in San Francisco last September.

Check plan set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Administration said today it is considering a luggage screening security program that could force travelers to arrive at airports up to three hours ahead of their flight departure time.

John McLucas, the new chief of the FAA, said the program to screen all luggage is one of many proposals growing out of the bombing that killed eleven persons at New York City's La Guardia Airport Dec. 29.

AF Dam gear ordered

TWIN FALLS — Contracts for more than $2.5 million in equipment for the American Falls Dam replacement project were awarded Monday by the American Falls Reservoir District.

The district's board of directors voted to give a $1.33 million contract to Paecco Co., Alameda, Calif., for radial gate valves and bolts; a $770,000 contract to Lakeside Bridge and Steel Co., Milwaukee, Wis., for intake gates, bolts and a bulk head; and a $444,500 contract to Thompson Pipe and Steel, Denver, for outlet liners, pumping plant intake pipe line and accessories.

John Rohoff, Twin Falls attorney for the district, today said the board also has adopted a resolution clearing the way for sale of up to $5 million in bond anticipation notes. He said the money should cover equipment and contractor payments for this year.

The notes will be sold to the best bidder about March 1, Rohoff said. He also said bids for the general contract in the replacement project will be called for in March and opened April 20.

Most CIA contracts let without bids, panel says

WASHINGTON—More than eight of every 10 contracts awarded to private industry by the Central Intelligence Agency are let without competitive bidding by contractors, the House Select Committee on Intelligence has found.

The House panel, which over the last year has undertaken what is believed to be the most extensive inquiry ever into how the CIA spends its share of the $10 billion Federal Intelligence budget, said in its still-secret final report that the agency entered into "hundreds of millions" of dollars worth of such agreements each year.

Some 85 per cent of the contracts reviewed by the committee, the report said, were "sole source" contracts awarded primarily on the basis of past performance by the contractor and his expertise in the relevant field. "Financial administration" abilities were a secondary consideration, the committee said.

The CIA told the House committee that it had been reimbursed in cash, usually dollars, for such purchases by the foreign governments or officials who received such favored treatment.

But the panel's report said that it had found such reimbursements "difficult to verify," and one committee source said it was "not at all clear" from evidence presented by the agency that they had been made.

The House report also questioned "accommodation procurements" by the CIA of American-made goods for dignitaries abroad. A practice that it said was "sometimes used to satisfy little more than the whims of foreign officials."

In one instance, the report said, a foreign official had the CIA purchase three model airplane kits for his son from a Baltimore store. In another, the agency obtained two armored limousines for a third-world leader, whose committee source identified as South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

House report leaks scored

WASHINGTON—The Ford administration and the director of Central Intelligence charged Monday that leaks of a House committee report on intelligence activities violated an agreement between the committee and the executive branch.

national security is at stake.

In a news conference called before he retired as Director of Central Intelligence, William F. Colby said that, under the agreement by which the Central Intelligence Agency supplied information to the House Select Committee on Intelligence, Ford should have been consulted before any release of secret information "and his decision would be final in the absence of further judicial determination."

He was questioned extensively on New York Times accounts of the House report published Monday. The report has not been released by the committee.

Half billion cut in aid to Israel

WASHINGTON—The Ford administration has decided to submit to Congress a request for only $1.8 billion in military and economic aid for Israel in the next fiscal year. This would be nearly $500 million less than Israel will probably receive from the United States in the fiscal year that ends this June 30.

The reduction in the anticipated aid level from $2.25 billion in fiscal 1976 to $1.8 billion in fiscal 1977 came as something of a surprise to Israeli officials and has led to expressions of concern on the eve of Premier Yitzhak Rabin's visit to Washington.

Rabin arrived at the White House today to receive a formal welcome from President Ford—touching off a 10-day visit that includes an address to a joint session of Congress on Wednesday.

The Israeli government was formally told of the administration's decision last week, State Department and Israeli sources said Monday.

In the present fiscal year, the administration asked Congress for $2.25 billion—$1.5 billion in military credits and $750 million in economic aid, including $15 million in cheap food imports.

That request is now being acted on in Congress and is expected to be approved by both houses in coming weeks as part of the overall request for $4.7 billion aid, of which about 70 per cent was earmarked for the Middle East.

The large administration request for Israel in this fiscal period evolved out of Israel's willingness under American pressure, to sign a new Sinai agreement with Egypt last summer.

Some Israeli officials have said that they assumed that the administration would submit similarly large requests in coming years, but administration officials denied Monday that any specific totals were ever promised.

For the next fiscal year, which for the first time will run from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30, the administration has decided to ask for $1.8 billion—$1 billion in military credits and $819 million in loan for housing loan guarantees, officials said.

Putting our mouth where our money is Grumbling and complaining like never before, Americans this month began filling out their federal income tax returns.

While most taxpayers will admit some of their hard earned income must go to support government, the disillusionment over how government uses taxpayers' money is stronger today than ever before.

Taxpayers are irked by the unaccountability of the federal government. After paying a sizeable chunk of money to Washington citizens watch in horror as the government sets up federal programs which either regulate the activities of the public or seem completely unnecessary.

A simple way for the federal government to get an idea of what taxpayers would like to see would be to add a page to the IRS form 1040 where the taxpayer could express his preferences.

The preferences could then be fed into a computer and an itemized list and a set of national priorities for tax dollars would be established.

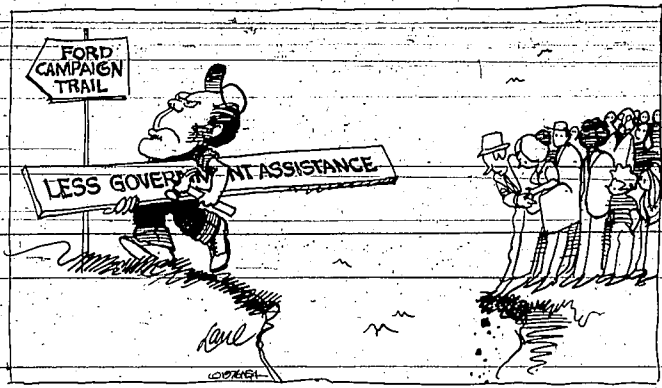

Since the IRS tax forms reach over 90 per cent of the American adult population the preferences on how government should spend tax dollars would be a direct reflection of the nation's priorities.

With the preferences of the people known, politicians would have a tough time hiding from public wrath if they voted against the documented preferences of the taxpayer and the public could see just how responsive government was to the voters.

The idea of having a spending priority survey on the tax forms has a small but growing following in Washington. The biggest opponents of the plan are bureaucrats who say the people aren't smart enough or adequately informed to make decisions on how tax money should be spent.

That's the problem. Government experts have decided they know what is the best way to spend taxpayers' money while the taxpayer must meekly oblige by providing money for programs which do little good for him.

The tax preference poll isn't likely to be included on next year's tax form or even the form two years from now. But with the public writing to Congressmen and Senators the poll could be established in the future and would be a tremendous help in letting the taxpayer put his mouth where his money is—in Washington.

Base plank for a platform

TF school consolidation proposed

Editor, Times News:

An effort to build a new high school in Buhl was recently voted by Buhl taxpayers. Twin Falls citizens will soon be asked to vote on a bond issue to build a new junior high.

It appears that within Twin Falls County we have some common problems. Perhaps a broader school construction program for the county would be beneficial. At a time when many of us are expressing dismay over the growth and cost of government at the federal level, we are living with and paying the bill for some rather odd activities here in Twin Falls County. To add to our problems the growth rate that has been projected for Idaho and Twin Falls County in the next few years to come, should be a warning signal that some wider planning is going to be needed.

At the present time Twin Falls County is supporting seven school districts with seven high schools, seven high school principals, seven libraries, seven shops, seven gyms, etc. The cost and duplication of effort in this county has got to be on the exorbitant side.

In each of these seven school districts can be found some very excellent school buildings and some very inadequate and mediocre school facilities.

I would suggest that some thought be given to plan that would build a new high school in the Kimberly-Twin Falls area and it could be "East" High with students attending from Burdough, Hansen, Kimberly, and the east side of Twin Falls.

I would further suggest that another new high school be built in the Filer-Twin Falls area that could be "West" High and attending would be students from Castleford, Buhl, Filer and the west side of Twin Falls.

Bringing the high school students into these two new schools would improve efficiency of operation, provide a more balanced teacher load, and offer a much broader and varied course of study to all students in the county.

The creation of these two schools would provide a strong, broad base of taxation to the taxpayers of the county would be supporting only two high schools instead of seven high schools.

Local school districts would then be in a position to better utilize the existing adequate facilities presently available in the county and would be able to meet and handle any growth problems for many years to come.

We can be critical of expansion and waste at the federal level and feel powerless to stop it or stop it. The county's schools are something that we can do something about if we are interested in providing higher quality education at a lower cost to the taxpayers.

I personally feel that Clyde and Florence Thomsen have done a good job running the Twin Falls City Golf Course.

I for one, will miss Clyde and Florence and his two golfing sons who gave Twin Falls quite a lot to be proud of, and take this opportunity to wish them the best. Good luck.

Veterans' battle goes on

Editor, Times News:

Referring to the enclosed article taken from the December, 1975 issue of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States Magazine: We, the forgotten combat defenders, who took up arms to defend the country and the rights of freedom that everyone enjoys today, 100 years after our country's beginning, should stand up and be counted again.

It seems like our elected representatives and our new commander-in-chief in the hall in Washington, D. C. have a very short memory of history. They don't seem to realize that they could have been appointed payors of a dictatorship in 1945 had it not been for the gallant and brave veterans of this country.

Borrowing a phrase from the pages of history it is time to make again, "The pen is mightier than the sword," all veterans in Minn-Cassia area of all wars read the handwriting on the wall and write to the President and the representatives on the bill your views on the items in the above V. F. W. article. If we don't, then all the time, blood, sacrifice, disability and lives will have been lost in vain.

Rise up all veterans and stand up for your rights, you will be in your 70's and 80's one of these days and wonder where the money went for your pension and Medicare.

We want to pay tribute to our World War I veterans, they are in their 70's and 80's and they fought legislation for 36 years and are still fighting to get veterans benefits (The G. I. Bill). They started it, so let's not let them down and become an unknown soldier.

Again write to your President, your senator, and your congressman before it's too late. Best of all for strength and unity, join a veterans' organization like the American Legion and V. E. W. today.

Truck driver speaks out

Editor, Times News:

This is in regard to a recent article that appeared in your paper awhile back and I would like to comment on it and express my views. This concerns the article captioned "Playing Chicken on Gem Highways Charged by McLean."

I am a professional driver and with 25 years service somewhere near two and a half million miles logged, I have driven in the state of Idaho for 16 years as a resident of this state and have to commend the state patrol for their work. I have found them to be considerate of the trucker and still perform their duties well.

This same to my attention the first time when it was in the news about the patrolman pulling Mr. McLean over for impeding traffic. At the time I thought Mr. McLean's charges against the patrolman and the trucker were an excuse for his own attitude on the highways when confronted with a charge of obstructing traffic. Now after reading this last article I'm thoroughly convinced that Mr. McLean is strictly a politician with an axe to grind.

His statement that the weigh master at the scales was an acquaintance and told the trucker that Mr. McLean had been a trucker most of his life. This could be true but by his own admission he is not a professional driver for pulling around a truck and slowing down is not the act of a professional driver no matter what the reason.

Mr. McLean wants to be damn sure that the state gets the federal money that are available and so do some more of these do-gooders that have the say so in this state. In the first place, anyone that has driven these big rigs knows that the 35 mile speed does not save any fuel with these big rigs. Also, half of the autos will not save gas at this 35 mile speed.

I do believe there is a speed that will save fuel and gas providing the driver is a qualified driver. I have tested my own vehicles at different speeds and have tested different vehicles and find that in this part of the country where there are rolling hills and long pulls, the 35 mile speed is for the birds and I think if a poll was taken of the professional drivers you would find that 99 per cent will agree with me.

I feel that the people that set this speed don't have any idea about the operation of heavy equipment and what a disadvantage it is for a driver. He drives by the mile. As a rule the D.O.T. tells him how many hours that he can drive (which is a good rule).

But he is trying to deliver a load of goods on time and also trying to make a living for his family and pay high taxes. So, time is money both for him and the state as they get taxes on the fuel and permits and all the added expenses that the politician cares to levy against him.

These federal funds that Mr. McLean speaks of mean double taxation on this same poor trucker, for he is paying to the state as they can pay more ways. This is my view and I think I have the experience to back up my opinion.

CIA insists on truthful advertising

Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON—Under President Ford's new edict, every government department must have a consumer affairs adviser.

It is not generally known, but the CIA has had a consumer affairs adviser for years, but she has never granted an interview before.

Her name is Sarah Matlarchy and under the Freedom of Information Act, I was given permission to visit her out at CIA headquarters at Langley in her test kitchen.

There were a dozen people working in the kitchen as Mrs. Matlarchy gave me a tour. "Chief, we just picked a diet in the oven."

"What's she doing?" I asked her. "He's testing a new recipe for Oysters Rockefeller. The oysters were all harvested during a month without an R in it."

But isn't that dangerous? I asked. She didn't say anything. We walked along and someone was whipping up a cake. "We test all our cakes right here."

The pastry chef was pouring in an entire box of cyclamates. Mrs. Matlarchy got very angry and yelled at the chef. "Didn't you get the diet?" All cyclamates have been declared safe. That means we are not allowed to use them any more. She then took me over to a cupboard. It was filled with canned vichyssoise.

"Remember the scandal a few years back about botulism in vichyssoise? Well, we bought up the entire stock. Our agents say their victims can't get enough of it."

"It looks good enough to eat," I said. "I wouldn't if I were you." She reached into a soup kettle and gave a teaspoon of it to a white rat, who staggered for a few moments and then keeled over.

"That's fantastic," I said.

"ART BUCHWALD"

"I think it needs more salt," she said. Then she took me over to a counter. "Here's something I think you might be interested in. It's a fortified breakfast cereal with vitamins mineral and fruit and a special powder that will make your hair fall out."

"You people here really know your stuff!" "My job is to see that the CIA doesn't get cheated when you buy something. For example the other day we ordered frozen pizza that was supposed to be sprinkled with lead. We discovered that instead of lead—the food processor was using an inferior brand of arsenic.

"We got a consent decree from them saying that they would list the amount of lead on the package so every secret service organization would know the exact contents of the pizza."

"You people here really know your stuff!" "My job is to see that the CIA doesn't get cheated when you buy something. For example the other day we ordered frozen pizza that was supposed to be sprinkled with lead. We

"You do good work," I said. "This is interesting," she said, taking me into a room where eight people were scratching themselves. "We're testing a new itching powder that will drive people crazy."

"Didn't you have an itching powder you were using to irritate Castro?"

"We had to stop using it. The job, we had to recall a million cans of it. The company that made it was forced, by the court to pay for full-page advertisements saying its product could not guarantee the fantastic itch it promised. If there is one thing the CIA insists on, it's truth in advertising."

Nuclear age logic poses new queries

Have you noticed that although there is a great deal of talk about a new morality that issues from the arrival of a nuclear age, some of the conclusions are very far from the acceptance of that proposition are resisted?

It is easy enough to find a politician or a poet who will tell you that war has become unthinkable in a nuclear age—but almost impossible to find anyone who will suggest that from that proposition, it follows that any extrakonventional step necessary to prevent nuclear war is admissible.

The CIS is in general disrepute primarily because — or so the Senate report informs us — a division of the city recommended the assassination of two heads of state, Patricio Lumumba, and Fidel Castro. Concerning Lumumba, I cannot conceive of the reasoning behind the recommendation, and therefore tend to join the critics. Concerning Fidel Castro, one could think that certain points should be mediated.

I except for the fact of the nuclear age, the United States would certainly have declared war against Castro's Cuba. The provocations far exceeded those that conventionally precede a declaration of war. Castro had invited our principal enemy into his country, to arm that country with destructive weapons aimed at American population centers; Castro had confiscated the property of American citizens; Castro was sending out platoons of revolutionaries to disturb the peace of the continent; Castro had violated the Monroe Doctrine which was the basis of our hemisphere policy.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

But Congress did not create war, any more than it did in Korea, or in Vietnam, and for much the same reason. War suggests the commitment of all your resources; and our resources, in a nuclear age, are sufficient to make the island of Cuba an unwelcome part of the face of the earth.

Under the circumstances, that which is traditionally unthinkable arises as a possible alternative. If it becomes necessary to remove the threat posed by a single leader who has a handle on nuclear weapons, does one prefer the sniper, or a massive amphibious military operation?

During the Japanese war we took great pride in tracking the airplane of Admiral Yamamoto, and blasting it out of the air. That was the equivalent of an assassination, of sorts; though he was not the leader. If we had been able to track the building in which Hitler squatted, we'd have gladly sent a bomber zipped through those august corridors.

The ethical question becomes: is it hypothetically possible that the sniper can avoid a nuclear escalation? And the answer is not so much that, viewed in retrospect, such a situation didn't obtain in Cuba in 1962 and 1963; but that ethical men might have considered that it obtained; and might therefore, in good conscience, have recommended the elimination of a single individual.

I have used the image before, but it is enduringly usefulness because practically everybody agrees that General Amin is mad. Moreover, everyone agrees that the looming threat is of atom bombs in the hands of madmen. The solution is making the atom bomb a burglar basement item. Most people agree that the fanatical opposition of Amin to Israel could bring him, if he had the necessary equipment, to land an atom bomb in one of his wheezy air-planes and, send it over the Golan Heights. Our CIA finds out about it. Tipping off Israel is one thing; but Israel has no ABM system that is proof against that kind of thing.

Does the Israeli version of the CIA have the right to send a spy down to Uganda and, at the point that it is all much more difficult than we make it out to be in routine denunciations of assassination. Murder is a terrible instrument. And tyrannicide is, traditionally held to be the exclusive prerogative of the indigenous oppressed.

But again, the logic of the nuclear age extends these old ethical boundaries, and there is no point in keeping this from ourselves.

Radios pay off

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) About 100 Connecticut state troopers have equipped their cruisers with Citizens Band radios at their own expense — and the investments apparently are paying off.

Troopers say CB radios, sometimes from interstate truckers, often have beaten their own dispatchers on reports of accidents, drunken and errate drivers and abandoned cars. The radios range between $79 and $200 each.

Commissioner Edward Leonard, impressed with results of the voluntary program in Hartford, has requested a federal grant to make the radios standard equipment.

Troopers say a Stafford Springs woman was able to use her CB to call for help in the midst of a fierce family fight after the phone had been ripped out.

"In another case, a woman's life may have been saved when truckers reported seeing her slash her wrists while parked on a highway rest area."

Decisions near for Gem solons to chart course

BOISE (UPI) — Now in the fourth week, the 43rd Idaho Legislature is getting close to making some basic decisions that will chart the course for the remainder of this election year session.

One of the big ones will be whether it grants any tax relief to either permanent or temporary. A bill to increase the grocery credit on income taxes to $20 from $15 is up for final consideration in the House today. If it passes it will take $3.2 million out of the general fund's ongoing revenues.

A House tax subcommittee is looking at another measure to cut the eight mill county school levy to four mills again. This bill calls for permanent tax relief, taking the $6.8 million out of the sales tax revenues.

The House Transportation Committee has sent to the floor a favorable recommendation a bill to take Law Enforcement out of the motor vehicle fund. This would mean financing it out of the general fund. As written, this bill could cost the general fund $8.2 million in ongoing revenue.

Still another bill before the legislature would top two per cent of the general fund revenue for building projects. That would chop off $5 million.

In addition, the House Education Committee has recommended $10 million more for education than recommended in Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' budget. A legislative revenue estimate is only $1.2 million higher than the governor's.

Obviously not all of these proposals can be enacted — not without a general fund tax increase. And both Andrus and the legislature are dead set against any increase in those taxes.

In fact, one of the reasons the Transportation Committee wants to finance Law Enforcement out of motor-vehicle funds is to free the money for road building in hopes of forestalling a highway user tax increase of at least another year. "But year," the legislature circumvented a gasoline tax increase by using general fund surplus to build roads. There does not seem to be a lot of sentiment for doing that again even though there will be an estimated $9.9 million surplus. Some prefer funding Law Enforcement out of the general fund.

Many of the decisions hinge on what is done for state employees' pay by this session. This is the issue that kept the first regular session in an uproar last year and until it was resolved the legislature could not make many of the other decisions that brought the session to a conclusion.

This year the Legislative Council contracted with Boeing to use its computer and has plugged in some basic payroll information. By the end of the week the leadership hopes to have some answers about where the bodies are and how many of them there are.

Until this is available, House Speaker Allen F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, says the legislature cannot make the political decisions it must about pay increases and then establish other priorities.

Arrival of the computer printout from Boeing does not mean a quick end to the session necessarily. But Larsen believes the legislature can give revenue recommendations to start making some kind of decisions on where it wants to go.

ERA rescinder to Senate floor

BOISE (UPI) — Without debate and by unanimous voice vote, the Senate State Affairs Committee sent to the floor without recommendation a joint resolution to rescind the Equal Rights Amendment.

Earlier in the day the resolution was reported printed and referred to committee for action. It is the second resolution before the Senate calling on the Idaho Legislature to repeat its 1971 action in ratifying ERA.

Under normal procedures of the Senate, a concurrent resolution sponsored by proponents to rescind ERA should be up for final Senate consideration Tuesday.

The proponents argue that the concurrent resolution will take only a simple majority and not two-thirds required by the joint resolution, which in the normal course of the Senate will be up for a final vote in the Senate Wednesday.

But a year ago, Lt. Gov. John V. Evans ruled that the House Concurrent Resolution rescinding ERA needed a two-thirds vote for approval by the Senate. Evans has indicated he will ask the Senate Judiciary and Rules for his recommendation in the matter and will rely heavily on the committee's decision.

This is the fourth year in a row since its ratification by the Idaho legislature that it has been before the legislature. Twice the Senate killed House passed rescinders and once the House defeated a rescinder of its own.

Senate panel OK's Klein as HAW head

BOISE (UPI) — Unanimous approval was given by the Senate State Affairs Committee Monday to send to the floor the confirmation of Milton G. Klein of Twin Falls as director of the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare.

At a confirmation hearing before the committee, Klein was praised for his "candor" and "forthrightness."

Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, ex-chairman of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee said, "I have had three years of trauma in dealing with inept and ineffectual. Referring to three years that Dr. James A. Bax was director of the agency. High said in those three years the state agency "lost its credibility...in dealing with its budget and programs." He said employees had been intimidated under threat of losing their jobs.

The senator said Klein had been "excellent director" of Region V of the department and "the governor has made an excellent choice" for the full-agency directorship. High said Klein's attitude with legislators has been "forthright."

Sen. John Barker, R-Butte, chairman of the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee, said Klein has been forthright with the committee and "I recommend him."

The committee also sent out the confirmations of former Idaho Judicial Council member J. Eugene Lewis, a majority of the State Board of Correction and Lewis J. Gault of Idaho Falls and Eleanor F. Perry of Lewiston to the Idaho Endowment Investment Board.

Endowments gain

BOISE (UPI) — The Endowment Fund Investment Board reported a biennial net capital gain of $81,186 in its report to the legislature Monday on investments administered by the board for fiscal years 1974 and 1975.

The board report said there were no losses to be made up by appropriation as required by Idaho Code.

Estimated interest income has been increased to $8.52 million from $7.59 million for fiscal year 1976 and to $9.20 million from $8.26 million for FY '77.

The report also said the net income from investments in 1975 was $7.91 million compared to the $6.75 million returned on investments the year before.

Andrus awaits PUC hearing

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil Andrus plans to make known his position on the proposed Pioneer coal fired generating plant at a public hearing tentatively scheduled by the Public Utilities Commission for February.

Andrus told a news conference Friday he would wait until the hearing before the utilities commission to announce his position on the proposal by Idaho Power Company to build the plant near Boise.

Change clears hurdle

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to take the Department of Law Enforcement out of the motor vehicle fund cleared its first hurdle Monday when the House Transportation Committee sent it to the floor with a favorable recommendation.

If the bill is enacted into law the department will have to be financed out of the general fund.

Rep. Ernest Hale, R-Barley, said he felt this measure will lead in the next year or two to an increase in general fund taxes. He urged the committee not to approve the bill.

But Rep. Russell Westerberg, D-Soda Springs, said the legislature is not in the mood to increase highway user taxes at this time and this seems the only alternative to that in raising necessary road building revenues.

Even this bill, which increases by $8.2 million the amount of highway user revenue available to the Department of Transportation, doesn't do the full job needed, Westerberg said. That agency still will be about $2 million short of need, he said.

Rep. Noy Brackett, R-Twin Falls, also urged approval of the bill, saying "I feel the Highway Department needs money this year" and that he doubts either a license fee increase or motor fuel tax raise could pass the legislature.

Chairman John O. Sessions, R-Driggs, told the committee that the attorney general says it is legal and proper to finance Law Enforcement out of the highway users fund. Earlier, some committee members had questioned the legality of that in light of a constitutional ban on diverting highway user revenues to other purposes.

In other action, the committee approved for introduction a bill to increase the maximum allowable reimbursement for driver training to $60 from $55 per pupil.

Rates rise in Oregon

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Power Company, acting on a decision in a circuit court suit, Monday put into effect new rates for Oregon customers increasing the charge for 1,000 kilowatt hours by seven cents per day.

The new across-the-board rates raise Idaho Power charges to all classes of Oregon customers by 12.8 per cent to produce additional revenues in Oregon of $639,000 annually, Idaho Power applied for the increase in Oregon rates 18 months ago on July 15, 1974.

Richard Sablin, the former Oregon public utilities commissioner, dismissed the case Jan. 2, 1975, without a hearing.

Church lauded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Columnist Jack Anderson listed Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, among 25 public figures he feels could provide the nation with renewed leadership.

Anderson lists Church in a political article he wrote for "Mantler" magazine, a publication distributed by United Airlines.

Ethics under query

BOISE (UPI) — Democrat Ken Pursley, a candidate for first district congressional, questioned the ethics of congressmen backing the actions of the CIA when their concern assassination attempts on foreign leaders.

"Too often we discuss public policy six days a week, and ethical questions on the Sabbath," Pursley told the Unitarian Fellowship.

Referring to a recent statement in Nampa by Rep. Steve Symms, R-Idaho, Pursley said, "When a U.S. Congressman says 'more power to the CIA' concerning the assassination of a foreign leader, it is absolutely frightening."

Newsman elects Kalb

BOISE (UPI) — Adam J. Kalb, publisher of the Idaho Free Press at Nampa and the Caldwell News-Tribune has been elected president of the Idaho Newspaper Association.

Kalb was elected at the association's annual meeting in Boise over the weekend.

Vice presidents named by the group were Robert M. Hammes, publisher of the St. Maries Gazette-Record, and publisher Theron M. Gough, of the Parma Review.

Purchasing agent 'makes good buy'

NEW YORK (UPI) — In its fiscal crisis, the city may be short of one variety of greens, but last week it picked up 637 cases of lettuce for $50.

The transaction began with a newspaper story of how the U.S. Army had stopped shipment overseas of 1,000 cases of lettuce that was too old to survive a one-week ocean crossing.

Nat Gurland of the city's purchase department read the story and he and a city inspector stopped by the Army Military Ocean Terminal in Haywood, N. J., finding the lettuce perfectly safe for immediate consumption. They offered $50 for 637 cases in the lot.

"Sold" said Army officials, and the lettuce was distributed to the city's hospitals and jails.

Noting the city normally pays about $7 a case for iceberg lettuce, Municipal Service Administrator John T. Carroll said, "What would normally cost us $4,459 cost us only $50, and in these days that's quite a savings for us."

Rocky wants jobs

SALEM, W. Va. (UPI) — Vice President Nelson Rockefeller urged the federal government to play a major role in developing energy and providing Americans with more jobs.

He told a capacity audience of 1,400 at a Salem College convocation Monday it has become "fashionable" with some to view America's future with pessimism.

Papers left at scene

DENVER (UPI) — Police didn't have much trouble finding a suspect in the theft of a stereo record player from a private home.

Detective Jim Huff said Monday officers found honor farm inmate Anthony Nickles' weekend furtago papers at the burglary scene. He said Nickles, 19, apparently dropped the papers during the burglary.

The stereo was found in Nickles' locker at the Camp George West prison honor farm, where the inmate was serving a maximum five-year term for burglary, Huff said.

Fulbright gets medal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On the same day former Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., registered with the Justice Department as an agent for a group of Arab blackmailers, he was awarded a high-Egyptian decoration.

Fulbright, former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and now a member of a Washington law firm, with a large foreign clientele, registered Monday as legal counsel for the United Arab Emirates and the Council of European and Japanese National Ship Owners' Associations.

Not enough jobs

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (UPI) — Some 25,000 persons showed up Monday to apply for 2,000 seasonal jobs at the Marriott Great America Park.

Company officials said they gave out 14,000 applications and sent the rest of the job seekers home. They said that those given applications would be interviewed later for jobs.

The 200-acre amusement park will open March 20, and the available positions include parking lot attendant, cashier, ticket-taker and food vendor.

Many job seekers arrived Sunday night and slept in sleeping bags.

Barry Jr. may run

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., scheduled a news conference for this evening, apparently to announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate in the Republican primary in June.

A spokesman for Goldwater would not comment Monday on the purpose of the conference.

Doctor files counter suit

Chicago Daily News

CHICAGO — Dr. Eugene R. Balihazor, unsuccessfully sued for $100,000 by a female patient whom he treated at his free clinic in suburban Aurora, has turned about and sued her for $1.

The 73-year-old physician, who contended that malpractice suits are "harassing" the medical profession and raising the cost of medical care, also sued the patient's lawyers for $50 in actual damages and asked $10,000 for punitive damages.

A spokesman for the Illinois State Medical Society said he believes it is the first case in the state of a doctor suing his accusers in a malpractice case.

James Slawny, assistant executive director of the society, predicted more doctors will file similar suits in an effort to reduce the rising trend of malpractice actions.

Balihazor, spending his retirement in operating and financing a clinic at which patients pay nothing, was sued for $100,000 last year by Mrs. Maria B. Reyes, 40, who said she was left with a scar after treatment for a facial malignancy.

The case was dismissed Oct. 8 in Kane County Circuit Court after no one appeared to testify against the physician.

Balihazor said the suit brought him great anguish since he had dropped his million-dollar insurance policy after retiring from practice at age 70.

Mrs. Reyes was accused in the suit filed Monday of taking legal action "without reasonable evidence to support the allegations of liability and damage."

The law firm representing her was accused of "reckless disregard for truth or falsity of allegations of incompetence, carelessness, negligence and damage."

The defendants are Donald Dowling, Roy Safanda and Warren Swanson, all of Geneva, Ill.

A suit also was filed against the lawyers by Dr. Frederick G. Schoenfeld of Aurora who had also been unsuccessfully accused of malpractice in connection with the treatment of Mrs. Reyes. He is asking $550 for compensatory and $10,000 for punitive damages.

Opinions differ on UFO sightings

CLOVIS, N. M. (UPI) — One investigator thinks there's validity to the recent reports of unidentified flying objects over eastern New Mexico. But two other investigators say the sightings are merely the result of natural phenomena viewed through overactive imaginations.

The UFO reports began last Wednesday night and numerous reports were received for four successive nights. By the weekend, when the nation had converged on the area, cloud cover temporarily halted the sightings.

But the clouds began clearing Monday night and reports of UFOs began anew.

At least two UFO sightings were observed from outer space.

Showers may dampen Magic Valley

Twin Falls, Northside, Burley-Boise area: Mostly cloudy and a little warmer with a slight chance of rain tonight. Cloudy with a chance of more rain Wednesday. Overnight lows 25 to 30. Highs Wednesday near 40.

Outlook for Thursday, chance of showers.

with scattered rain or snow showers at times through Wednesday. Highs Wednesday in the 30s with overnight lows mostly in the 20s.

The outlook for Thursday, chance of showers.

Synopsis: A Pacific front is moving rapidly eastward across Washington into northern Idaho today. The south portion of the front is trailing across northwestern Oregon and westward into the eastern Pacific.

The front is expected to pass through the Magic Valley area late tonight or early Wednesday morning. Warmer air in advance of the front has started to warm northern Idaho and this should spread into southern Idaho tonight and into Wednesday.

Another high-pressure system is forecast to rebuilding to the Idaho area Wednesday, but another fast moving front is approaching the Pacific coast and will likely spread a little rain into the Magic Valley late Wednesday or Thursday.

The extended outlook for Thursday through Saturday calls for continued wet weather Friday with mild temperatures. Highs 45 to 49 with overnight lows 25 to 30.

Medics losing coverage

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Most physicians in the Southern California area hit by a doctors' strike are refusing to pay the higher insurance premiums that set off the walkout and face the loss of their malpractice coverage Wednesday.

With less than 48 hours to the deadline, surveys showed eight out of 10 doctors had refused to pay the 327 per cent premium increase that is the target of the 27-day-old strike.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown reportedly had virtually given up on a solution to the crisis and a leader of the strike movement predicted it could spread to Northern California next week.

The Travelers Insurance Co. has warned that Southern California doctors who do not make the first quarterly payment at the higher rates by midnight Wednesday will lose their coverage for the year.

At last count, only 900 physicians in Los Angeles County had paid up. Another 1,350 signed with two doctor-owned insurance cooperatives, formed in response to the malpractice crisis — leaving more than 7,000 of the county's 9,500 doctors close to losing their malpractice coverage.

The Los Angeles Times reported from Sacramento that the governor's chief negotiator in the crisis, Deputy Health and Welfare Secretary Robert Gnatz, had abandoned earlier administration proposals and urged physicians to find their own solution.

"It appears now the medical profession is so divided that no state solution would be acceptable to a majority of doctors, legislators and the public," Gnatz told the newspaper.

Brown, who met with doctors Sunday, said he was worried that meeting the demands of the doctors for state help would create a multi-billion-dollar obligation on the government "that could come back to haunt us" and urged the doctors to form their own insurance companies.

About 2,000 general practitioners joined the strike for two days last week in support of the specialists who have carried most of the action.

Trudeau, Castro discuss Angola

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau entered today's formal talks with Fidel Castro, expecting a difference of opinion on the question of Cuba's intervention in Angola.

"I think in many areas we have to agree to disagree," Trudeau said Monday night when questioned on the possible outcome of talks on Angola.

Trudeau told Canadian newsmen shortly after his arrival in the Cuban capital that he opposed military intervention everywhere in the world.

"We fear it can lead to an enlargement of hostilities instead of a reduction," he said.

Cuba reportedly has 8,000-10,000 troops fighting with pro-Soviet forces in the Angolan civil war.

Trudeau said he planned to discuss Angola with the Cuban leader, but "I don't think that Prime Minister Castro will share my opinion."

Trudeau denied that his Cuba trip might be viewed as anti-American by the United States, which opposes Cuba's involvement in Angola.

"We have deep relations with the United States," Trudeau said.

Rupert man faces charge

BURLEY — A Rupert man was arrested about 1 a.m. Sunday at a residence here on a technical charge of first-degree burglary.

Gilbert Flores, 21, was recognized on his own recognition by Cassia County magistrate Judge George Granata.

The burglary charge was made on the grounds that Flores broke into the home of Richard Winfrey, 1334 Malta Ave., with intent to commit a felony.

Burley police said Flores broke into the house with the intent of doing bodily harm to Sandra Pinkham.

Witnesses at the house told police that Flores pulled a kitchen butcher knife from his trousers. Winfrey, Richard Gutierrez, Gloria Burkett and a 17-year-old girl struggled with Flores as he kicked down the door to the bathroom, where Mills Pinkham was.

Flores was subdued by the people at the house and suffered cuts on the hands and arms and one large cut on the head.

On arrival at the scene, police took a knife from Flores and carried him out of the house. Police said when they returned, the knife had disappeared. Flores was treated and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital. He was charged with first degree burglary and disturbing the peace by a fight. Police said other charges are pending.

Flores was found and guilty two weeks ago of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. The charge was in connection with a November stabbing of Lado Diaz, 49, Burley, at Diaz' apartment.

WE'VE CHANGED THE WAY TO BORROW!

NOW YOU CAN CONTROL THE AMOUNT OF INTEREST YOU PAY

A First Security Timeway Simple Interest Loan gives you more freedom and more control than you've ever had in borrowing money. It's a whole new way of looking at borrowing that can save you money. And it's all written in simple, understandable language.

You only pay interest on money you are using. It's like borrowing money on a day-to-day basis. You pay interest only for the actual days you use the actual dollars.

With a Timeway Simple Interest Loan, you can save on interest. It's your option. If you pay off your loan early, you eliminate the interest you would have paid.

It's also possible to take an occasional payment holiday — just let us know. Of course, if you skip payments or make payments later than due date, the final amount of interest could be increased because you may be using the money longer.

The outcome of the loan is in your control. You have the options.

You determine the amount of interest you pay. Come in to any First Security Bank and see how simple it can be.

DEAR ABBY: My 1 please respond to INDIGNANT MOTHER, who tried to justify placing her child in a harness to save him from being lost or run over, or falling down a flight of stairs?
A child should be taught—not leashed! To defend using a harness by saying it's for the child's protection is a cop-out used by parents who are too lazy or busy to look after their own children. There is no substitute for a mother's personal attention.

Readers give views

Of course, unkind remarks from strangers are out of place, but someone should open the eyes of mothers who put leashes on children. Maybe the mothers should put leashes on THEMSELVES and be walked through the streets and airports for their "protection." Adults also get lost, run over, and fall down stairs.
I say, God giveeth and God taketh away, harness or no harness.

UNLEASHED IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR UNLEASHED: Please read on for another point of view.

DEAR ABBY: This is for INDIGNANT MOTHER, who frequently subjected to insults from strangers because she used a harness on her 2-year-old child.
I, too, used a harness, and a plain, old-fashioned dog leash (many two children when they were toddlers). They were only 11 months apart in age and quite a handful. While I worked in the yard or hung my clothes outside, I'd clip their leashes to the clothes line so they could run and play within safe limits.
While shopping with my harassed youngsters, I collected many cold stares from strangers. Some even reminded me that I was raising children—not dogs.
Then, something happened that made it easier for me to bear those insults. A beautiful, 2-year-old neighbor girl was killed. Two minutes earlier, she was beside her mother in the kitchen. There was one broken-hearted mother, one dead child and one unsuspecting driver who didn't see the wee curly head dart from between two parked cars until he felt the thump of a wheel go over her little body.
That was 24 years ago. I am the mother of two living children and six grandchildren, and I thank God that He gave me the intelligence to value the lives of my children above the criticism of a few "know-it-alls."
Indignant mother, forget your indignation and rock your crying baby to sleep. Keep him harnessed, until he's old enough to understand simple danger. It's much better than carrying flowers to a small grave.

MRS. O.K. IN VA.

DEAR ABBY: Bravo to the mother who uses a harness for her small child! Many mothers don't use one because they are afraid of appearing "cruel."
As a physical therapist, I have treated many small children for dislocated shoulders, caused by impatient parents who have literally pulled their children's arms out of their sockets holding onto their hands in traffic.
A dislocated shoulder can go undetected for a long time while causing much damage and discomfort.

Research advances

BALTIMORE—CUPRI Johns Hopkins University researchers say they have found an enzyme which may allow doctors to chart the effectiveness of drug and radiation treatments of cancer patients.

Although he is uncertain how it works, Dr. Stephen B. Buxin, head of a research team, said the enzyme histaminase may be used as a "marker" in measuring the value of chemotherapy and radiation treatments.

"What we've found is there's an enzyme by the name of histaminase that is present in the serum of some patients and to a degree present in the tumor tissue of others," he said. "This may provide another potential marker for measuring therapy."

Buxin said histaminase is found in the blood of some lung cancer patients and in the blood of sufferers of small-cell cancer, one of the most lethal forms of the disease.

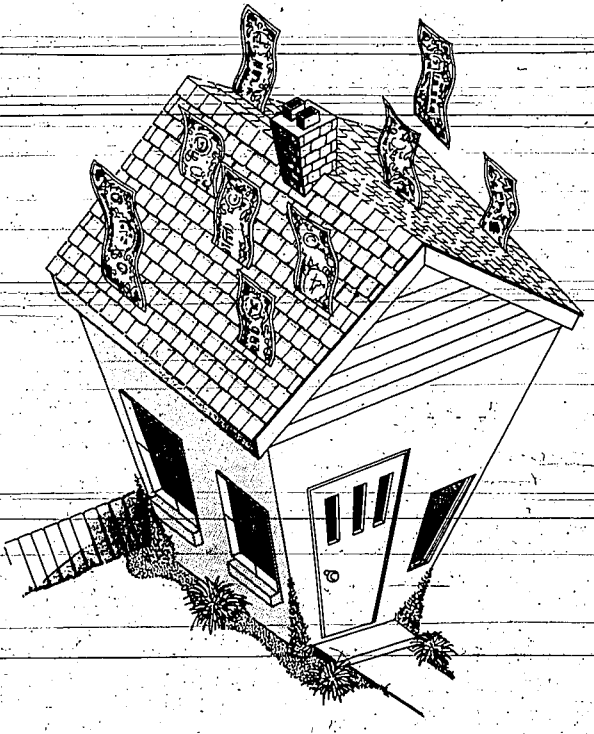

Drugs and radiation are common forms of treatment for small-cell cancer because the disease's rapid growth precludes surgery. The cancer is often widespread before diagnosis.

Up through the rafters Like so much hot air

Heating dollars floating away?

An insufficiently insulated attic can be responsible for a costly loss of energy. The problem, however, is easy to correct, and the cost of adding insulation should be quickly recovered in energy savings.

Idaho Power Company recommends, in addition to adequate weatherstripping and storm windows, 10 inches of insulation overhead (R30), four inches in walls (R12) and six inches in floors (R21). The "R" figure indicates the insulation's resistance to heat penetration.

An Idaho Power Energy Adviser will be glad to discuss energy-saving opportunities in your home or place of business. Call now for an appointment. It's free, and it could help stop your dollars from floating through the rafters.

The prime requirement for an opening bid is some high cards. Usually is or more high-card points and surely at least 11.

The prime requirement for a competitive bid is playing strength. Taking tricks, but not necessarily any high-card points. Some are necessary, but not 10 or even 11. The normal minimum is seven.

Enough good reason to get into competition is to hold spades. If you have the spade suit you have an edge against all other suits in that your opponent will have to go one trick higher to take the bid away from you.

South holds a typical minimum spade overall of East's opening heart bid. Seven high card points and a good six-card spade suit.

North's jump to three spades is strictly competitive and South goes on to four spades purely as a defensive measure.

West doubles and with both black suit finesses wrong South is one down. Not a bad result since four hearts would wrap up.

Ask the Jacobys

An Ohio reader wants to know what is meant by a deep-sea finesse.

This is when you finesse against several cards at once. The most common case is when you lead toward A Q 9 and play the nine. You intend to finesse with the queen later, but try the deep sea just in case both jack and 10 are in front of A-Q-9.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

School slates jazz festival

Buhl - The Buhl High School music department will sponsor a jazz festival Saturday at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium.

George Garabedian, Buhl music director, said 17 bands from throughout the state will participate in the festival.

Competition will begin at 8:30 a.m. and no admission will be charged during the day, until the final concert scheduled for 8 p.m.

A directors' clinic is scheduled at 4:15 p.m. Any proceeds left after paying expenses will be used to help pay for Buhl music students to attend festivals and other area music events this spring.

Stage bands and jazz ensembles will participate from Lewiston, Bonneville, Highland, Nampa, Council, Nez Perce, Kuna, Marsing, Burley, Gooding, Castledale and Buhl.

Members of the I-V group, composed of parents and other backers of the Buhl music department, are assisting with arrangements for the festival.

Tickets for the evening final concert are $2 for adults and $1 for those under 12. They are available at the Realistic Music, Music Center, Warners and Mark's Music Stores in Twin Falls.

Consulting firm suggested

By GORDON JUDD Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS - The new head of the Twin Falls County Joint Planning Council wants to save county residents money by hiring a consulting firm as the county's planner.

Chairman Ann Cover, who was elected last week to take over the job of getting a comprehensive plan for Twin Falls County residents, said today she thought it would cost less to have J.U.B. Engineers Inc. finish the plan.

Mrs. Cover said that although she had not received a new bid from J-U-B since taking over the reins of the council, she assumed the proposal made by J-U-B last year would still apply.

Speaking on the same subject, outgoing chairman Jack Muldoon, told an audience of Twin Falls County Republican Women Monday that he personally favored having a consultant finish the plan.

"We need a coach," Muldoon said. He added that it would also be important to have that coach be a "low key" and definitely not a person who "attacks" local persons in what appeared to be a reference to former planner David Richey's bid at elected officials.

Muldoon said after the meeting that he favored a consultant planner such as J-U-B in the belief that their knowledge and expertise would get the job done sooner. The council under Muldoon's leadership had said previously that it hoped to get the plan before the public by spring. But this seems unlikely, however, according to information made available by two state planners last week. Instead their estimates suggest the plan won't be finished until late this year.

Hearing probes Sierra assets

By BILL LAZARUS Times-News writer

CHEYENNE - The Wyoming Department of Insurance is challenging about half of Sierra-Lite's Insurance Company's assets in a hearing which opened in Cheyenne today.

According to the insurance department's chief, supervising examiner Tom Power, the hearing will bring to question about $9 million in assets that "Sierra says are admitted and we say are not admitted."

However, there now may be a question as to what constitutes Sierra's assets, since the company reportedly sold nearly half of its policies - representing all of Sierra's out-of-Idaho business - to Sandia Life Insurance Company, Sierra's wholly-owned New Mexico subsidiary. About $2.2 million in assets - most of which are being challenged by Wyoming - followed the policies to Sandia. The Wyoming Insurance Department maintains that Sierra is still responsible for the Sandia policies, and so is challenging Sierra.

Wyoming examiner Power said the underlying question is the status of Sierra's policy holders. The policy holders stand to receive future benefits from Sierra. To be able to pay these benefits, Power said, the insurance company "must make money on its investments."

If they have a bunch of investments that aren't making any money, they are working to the detriment of those policy holders," he said.

In an interview Monday, Power outlined to the Times-News the issues the Wyoming Insurance Department plans to bring up.

Despite calls by Sierra for another hearing officer, Wyoming commissioner of insurance John Langdon is presiding at the hearing. If Langdon's findings go against Sierra, the company's permit to solicit more business in the state will be revoked.

The Wyoming insurance department already has suspended Sierra's permit twice, but the suspensions were lifted by court order. In line with Sierra's protest, it was decided that a hearing must be held first.

Last winter, following a joint examination by Utah and Idaho, the Idaho Department of Insurance found Sierra to be "impaired" - that the company's assets did not meet its liabilities.

But Sierra protested, so a hearing was held, and on each major issue, the hearing officer sided with Sierra - Sierra was found to be solvent under Idaho law with a $1.4 million surplus of assets over liabilities.

However, Utah would not accept the Idaho findings and prepared to release its own examination report.

In response, Sierra now is suing the Utah Insurance Department in an attempt to prevent release of the report. Meanwhile, another state, Nevada, has revoked Sierra's license to do business in the state.

The hearings in Wyoming are the first hearings outside of Idaho on Sierra's financial condition. The hearing, Power said, is expected to last two and one-half to three days. He said 12 issues are to be considered.

The first issue is whether Wyoming or Idaho law should be used in judging Sierra's assets.

Power said Wyoming law permits the regulations of another state to be used in judging the admissibility of investments by an insurance company whose base operations are in the other state. But, he added, the investments must be of a "quality equal" to the investments required under Wyoming law.

The Wyoming Insurance Department maintains that Idaho law allows Sierra to list its assets at a higher value than Wyoming would allow. Power said there were several differences between the laws of the two states, but cited three main ones:

- Idaho considers property abutting developed property to be "improved" and admissible as an asset for an insurance company. But Wyoming requires that the property itself must have utility - installations - buildings - or other types of improvements to be an admissible asset.

- Idaho allows insurance companies to make loans on up to 75 per cent of the appraised value of property taken out as security, while Wyoming only allows loans up to 67 per cent of the appraised value.

- Idaho permits insurance companies to invest up to 15 per cent of their assets in subsidiaries, but Wyoming only permits insurance companies to invest up to the amount of their surplus.

Another issue, Power said, concerns whether mortgages on land would secure several loans made by Sierra involving improved or unimproved properties. To be admitted assets, the mortgage holdings must be on improved property.

The department is questioning about $5 million in loans secured by property in Mesa County, Colorado; Custer County, Idaho; Riverside County, California; and on Molokai Island, Hawaii. Power said the department will question these assets even if Idaho laws are determined acceptable.

The department also will challenge Sierra's $2.7 million investment in United Industries, a wholly owned subsidiary. Power said the department maintains that Sierra is "over invested" in the subsidiary, since Wyoming law would allow the company only to invest 15 per cent in a subsidiary corporation.

He said the insurance department also will question the value of property owned by United Industries.

Bonds held by Sierra will be up for question. Power said Sierra claims about $400,000 in bond assets by listing the bonds at "par value" - the value they are worth when cashed in. But, he said, the insurance department believes these bonds should be listed at market value - the value they could be sold for currently. In this case, he said, the difference amounts to about $230,000.

Another issue the department plans to examine is the "propriety of the appraisal methods used on some of those mortgage loans."

Sierra based several of its appraisals on the likely value of property, were it to be developed.

TF aides to reconsider contract for golf pro

TWIN FALLS - It appears certain that the recent termination of golf pro Clyde Thomson's contract will be reconsidered Monday night by the City Council.

Mayor Paul Ostyri last week announced that Thomson would get a hearing before the council, but he would not say whether that action means the council will take another look at its decision not to renew Thomson's city contract.

However, at a luncheon meeting Monday, Councilman Leon Smith said, "If someone else doesn't put it up for reconsideration, I will." Such a motion would require a second by another member of the council before a vote could be taken.

In a 3-2 vote Jan. 19, the council rejected a proposal to renew Thomson's long-standing contract to operate the municipal golf course. Ostyri and Councilmen Chris Falkington and Stephen Baneroff cast the negative votes. Smith abstained, and Councilmen H. E. Cheney and Stephen Lincoln supported renewal.

The action, which abruptly ended Thomson's 15 years of service at the golf course, sparked a public controversy. Supporters of Thomson and Thomson claimed he should have been given a hearing. Thomson's backers also said termination of the contract so near the golf season would cripple the pro's chances of finding another job and burden him with expensive equipment that he has already ordered for the coming season.

Cheney suggested Monday that, regardless of what happens after Thomson's hearing, the golf pro contract be amended to require a renewal decision no later than Oct. 1 each year. Such a provision would give a pro "time to make plans if he hasn't been rehired," Cheney said.

"In fairness to whoever we have out there, the deadline should be adjusted," he added.

Ice dangerous at Dierkes Lake

TWIN FALLS - City officials say Don't go ice skating at Dierkes Lake.

"The lake looks frozen clear across, but since it is fed by underground springs it has soft spots all over," Arnold Bryson, superintendent of Twin Falls Parks and Recreation, told the Times-News Monday.

"We are locking the main gate every night in an effort to keep people from entering the grounds near Dierkes Lake," Bryson said.

He said this condition may exist for some time and he hopes parents will make sure that their children don't go to the lake to ice skate.

Stamp plan eyed

TWIN FALLS - Food stamp increases which began Jan. 1 will mean an additional $4 a month for a four-person household, according to Mrs. Carol DeVall.

Mrs. DeVall, food stamp outreach coordinator for the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare, Region V, says under the new increases, a four-person household purchases $166 worth of food stamps instead of the previous $162.

Mrs. DeVall says the amount the household pays for the stamps varies up to $142, depending on the family's income. A family with a yearly income of $3,450, the average income of a four-person family on food stamps according to a report presented to Congress in June by USDA, pays $77 for $166 worth of stamps.

About 83 per cent of all four-person families using food stamps have incomes below $6,000 a year, Mrs. DeVall says.

Households presently purchasing food stamps would automatically receive the increases, she says, but families needing assistance in buying food should contact local health and welfare offices.

Minico wages up 75% in 1965-72

By GORDON JUDD Times-News writer

RUPERT - Minidoka County wages and salaries grew 75 per cent during the 1965-72 period, according to a study just released.

Minidoka County's payrolls grew faster than any other Magic Valley County during this eight-year period with the exception of Blaine County.

These and other facts became available recently following publication of a study conducted by W. Lamar Bollinger, professor of economics at the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

"Personal Income in Idaho Counties 1965-1972," Although Minidoka's wage and salary growth surpassed its neighbor Cassia's, a comparison of county per capita income showed the reverse with Minidoka coming in slightly behind Cassia ($3,997 vs. $4,077).

Statewide rankings of per capita income reported in the study show Minidoka to be fourth highest of the eight Magic Valley counties and 11th on a statewide ranking. However, this represents a drop in rankings from 8th to 11th during the study period.

The study shows that Minidoka had a 2.37 per cent dip of Idaho's income by counties in 1965 slipping slightly to 6.32 per cent in 1972.

While wages and salaries grew at the 75 per cent rate mentioned, total incomes, including proprietors (owners) incomes grew at a slightly slower 68 per cent. Just slightly behind the statewide average of 72 per cent.

Farm workers' salaries increased only 28 per cent ($3.4 million vs. $4.3 million) during the period.

According to U. S. Department of Labor Statistics for the same period, inflation grew in the United States at the rate of 24.4 per cent making it questionable whether farm employees in Minidoka County were able to keep pace with inflation during this period.

A drop in the number of farms in Minidoka County from 1,991 to 976 during the same period probably resulted in fewer employees however, possibly allowing each of them to earn enough to keep pace with inflation.

Bollinger's study discloses however that population increased in the county from 15,156 in 1965 to 17,000 in 1972. This 12 per cent increase exceeded the statewide average (nine per cent) for the same period.

TF woman faces charges

TWIN FALLS - A Twin Falls woman has been arrested on charges of embezzlement in connection with funds missing from Bingham's Milkyway Dairy.

Sheriff Paul Corder said Cerese Valon Annis, 20, was arrested Monday on charges of taking $100 from the dairy. She has been released on her own recognizance, Sheriff Corder said. Investigation is continuing.

identifiable school. He explained that the Mexican-American students in any school must be under 25 per cent.

Blauer was OCR recommended that the district consider more than one plan. He offered the alternative of taking enough Mexican-Americans out of Overland in each grade to cut the percentage below 25 per cent.

However, both he and Hurst said it would be difficult to draw boundaries and oversee the balance making no school reached 25 per cent Mexican-American population.

Blauer proposed the district consider moving fourth graders to Overland as a tentative desegregation plan, publish for a public hearing and see what the people would say.

"What if they don't want to desegregate?" Trustee Gerald Frost asked.

Dr. Paul Brown said he would like to preserve the neighborhood school concept. He said he believes this was the reason that such schools as Oakley and Raff River have fewer problems.

"The U. S. Department of Justice will be pushed to come in and help accomplish it (desegregation)," Hurst replied.

Irrked by the new stipulation of OCR, Crute commented, "Ten years from now we're going to be no closer than we are now to compliance with OCR regulations."

Frost warned that the next group that could be forced on the district is homosexuals, who are demanding recognition of their rights as a minority.

Charles Ward expressed concern about the solidity of the Parent-Teacher Association under the proposal, but said maybe parents would follow their youngsters from school to school.

Brown moved for adoption of the resolution, commenting he felt like Charlie McCarthy sitting on the OCR lap with his strings being pulled.

Blauer told the board that the district will be in competition with Nampa for the ESAA grant funds. He said Nampa has a higher percentage of minority students than Cassia County, but not over 50 per cent in one school.

Hurst said Idaho has been allotted $150,000. There is a possibility that both Cassia and Nampa could receive some funds.

The Cassia County district, under directive from OCR, has adopted a comprehensive education plan and an affirmative action program designed to bring it in compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

HEW has ruled the district in violation for discrimination in employment, education and disciplinary measures.

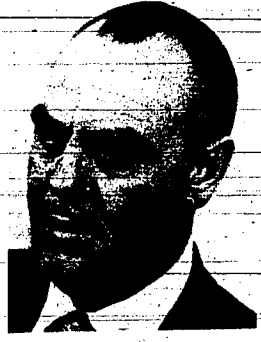

Hurst pointed out that the board had agreed to hire numerous Mexican-American personnel under its affirmative action plan and must desegregate Overland School anyway. He said the district should obtain any federal money it could to help accomplish that.

The board approved hiring of a Title I Reading teacher, Monday night. Julia Anderson, who speaks Spanish and will be stationed at Mountain View School, where she will teach reading in the mornings and develop a bilingual-cultural program in the afternoons.

Warriors whip Bucks

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Rick Barry and Phil Smith combined for 53 points and Gus Williams scored 14 points in the final period to lead the Golden State Warriors to a 115-104 win over the Milwaukee Bucks Monday night in a National Basketball Association game.

Barry had 28 and Smith 25 as Golden State stretched its lead in the Pacific Division to 11 1/2 games over Los Angeles. The loss reduced Milwaukee's lead over Detroit in the Midwest Division to one-half game over the Detroit Pistons.

Barry and Smith scored 40 points between them in the first half to give Golden State a 66-53 lead. The Warriors led by 19 early in the third period before the Bucks mounted a comeback and closed the gap to 88-83 at the end of the third quarter.

Other members of the French squad include high jumper Paul Poinleau, who has done 7.5; pole vaulter Francois Trancanel and Patrick Abada and sprinter Jean-Claude Amoureux.

Hall of Fame picks

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Pro Football Hall of Fame Board Chairman Earl "Schreiber announced Monday that Ray Flaherty, Jim Taylor and the late Len Ford will be inducted into the hall July 24.

Flaherty, first an outstanding end at Gonzaga College, played with the New York Yankees and New York Giants of the NFL in the 1920s and 1930s, twice receiving all-NFL honors.

Taylor, the power runner from Louisiana State who helped Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers dominate football in the 1960s, follows the late Lombardi as the second enshrinee from those powerful Packer teams.

Ford, a defensive end from the University of Michigan and one of the stars of the Cleveland Browns' dynasty of the 1950s, died in 1972 at the age of 48. His widow Geraldine is now a municipal judge in Detroit.

Woody Hayes drops All-American player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes has dismissed second-team All-American and first-string All-Big Ten defensive tackle Nick Buonomani from the Buckeyes football team for "disciplinary reasons."

"Nick Buonomani is no longer a member of the team," Hayes said Monday before leaving on a recruiting trip.

Announcement of the dismissal came approximately 12 hours after conference champion Ohio State players were honored at the school's annual appreciation banquet.

A 6-3, 236-pound junior, Buonomani was at the banquet. He did not receive the team's outstanding defensive lineman award, however, as reportedly scheduled.

Buonomani and Hayes supposedly had "a hassle" during a team meeting Sunday night, said a source close to the coach.

"It was just something between Woody and Nick which blew up," the source said.

The problem between Buonomani and the veteran coach had been brewing for some time, indicated another source.

The Brentwood, N.Y., native became a regular in the middle of his sophomore year and started every game last season.

NFC wins Pro Bowl on last second pass

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Philadelphia's Mike Boryla, who made the Pro Bowl game only because of injuries to several other National Conference quarterbacks, rallied the NFC to a 23-20 win over the AFC Monday night, hitting Mel Gray of St. Louis with the winning pass from eight yards out with 69 seconds left in the game.

The AFC appeared to have the game wrapped up when it took a 20-9 lead on a 90-yard punt return by Billy "White Shoes" Johnson of the Houston Oilers midway through the fourth period.

But Boryla brought the NFC back to its second straight triumph in this series by first hitting Terry Metcalf with a 14-yard scoring pass and then finding Gray with the winning throw two minutes later. Boryla was chosen to back up St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart after both Fran Tarkenton of Minnesota and Roger Staubach of Dallas had to withdraw from the game because of injuries.

Other notable NFC quarterbacks such as Billy Kilmer of Washington, young Steve Bartkowski of Atlanta and Archie Manning of New Orleans were also on the injured list and that left Boryla, a second-year pro who took over from the Eagles' Roman Gabriel this season.

Until Boryla cranked up the NFC rally, the only points his team could produce had come on a 42-yard field goal by Jim Bakken of the Cardinals and a four-yard pass from Hart to Chuck Foreman of Minnesota.

The AFC had jumped in front, 13-0, at the end of the first half on field goals of 20 and 35 yards by Kansas City's Jan Stenerud, who previously had missed on two other attempts; and a 64-yard pass for a touchdown from Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini to teammate Ken Burrough with 12 seconds left in the second period.

The NFC's win was its third against three losses since the merger of the NFL and the AFL. Johnson, who threatened to score almost every time he returned a punt or kickoff, was voted the game's most valuable player, but the ballots were collected for that award before Boryla's late heroics.

The NFC's winning touchdown was set up by a wild punt return that started from its own 21.

Steve Odom of Green Bay fielded the punt and ran four yards before lateralling the ball to Lem Barney of Detroit. Barney then dashed uptick to the AFC 39.

A five-yard penalty against the AFC moved the ball to the 34, from where Boryla hit Phoenix for a 26-yard gain.

On first down at the club, Boryla threw incomplete and on second down found Gray in the back of the end zone for the winning touchdown.

The previous NFC touchdown came at the close of a drive that followed Johnson's 760 yard Pro Bowl punt return.

Boryla moved the NFC from his own 36 in eight plays, the big one in the drive a 25-yard throw to Gray that took the ball to the AFC 37.

AFC's Billy Johnson dances his way up field on a 57 yard punt return early in the pro Bowl game Monday night. Johnson also had a 90 yard effort late in the game. The NFC rallied to win the game 23-20. (UPI/telephoto)

Filer outlasts Buhl

FILER — Filer defeated Buhl 29-21 in Girls Basketball Monday night.

Buhl was playing without the help of Karla Meier who broke her kneecap last week. Meier was Buhl's leading scorer with a 21 1/2 average per game.

Filer's superior outside shooting was the deciding factor in the game. Buhl was able to stay close with a slow down type game but could never take the lead.

Chris Evert dates President's son

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jack Ford brought tennis star Chris Evert home to meet his parents over the weekend and will escort her to a White House state dinner Tuesday night. It will be the couple's fourth date in a week.

Jack, 23, met Miss Evert for the first time early last week when she invited him to watch her play in a Virginia Slims tournament here. He was in the crowd again Sunday to watch her win the championship.

Asked to describe their relationship, Mrs. Ford's press secretary, Sheila Weidenfeld, said only that "they enjoy each other's company."

Mrs. Weidenfeld said Jack took Miss Evert to the White House "for a short time" Saturday night to meet the President and Mrs. Ford before going out to dinner.

She said Miss Evert will be his date Tuesday night at a state dinner the Fords are hosting for Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

Miss Evert was asked about her dates with Jack after her victory Sunday and a reporter suggested she had spent more time with the President's son than she did playing tennis.

"Maybe that helped," she replied. "I wasn't bored this week. Usually I am."

University of Utah players charged

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — University of Utah Coach Jerry Pimm has decided to keep Charles "Buster" Matheny and Mike Grey on the squad despite charges they stole a stereo from a campus dormitory.

"It's unfortunate things like this have to happen all the time in our season," Pimm said. "However, both Buster and Michael will remain on the team."

"They are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. For me to take any action at this time would be prejudicial to both."

The two 19-year-old sophomores appeared in City Court Monday to answer to the theft charges. They waived preliminary hearings on the third-degree felony charges and Judge Floyd Gray ordered them to return in District Court Friday for arraignment.

"The other players are 100 per cent behind Buster and Michael," the coach said.

"Utah, ranked 17th, is 2-1 in the Western Athletic Conference after three straight road games and 12-4 on the season. Matheny, a 6-foot-9 center from Los Angeles, has started 10 of Utah's 16 games and is the team's second leading scorer with a 14-point average.

Grey, a 6-foot-11 reserve guard from Pasadena, Calif., has been used only sparingly this year behind starters Jeff Jonas and Doug Terry as well as reserve Earl Williams.

The two are charged with forcing entry to a residence in the university's Ballif Hall and taking a stereo set valued at $500. The alleged theft occurred sometime during the Christmas-New Year holiday break. The stolen property was recovered Jan. 6.

Detroit Pistons first place coach

DETROIT (UPI) — Ray Scott, the former Detroit player who turned into the most successful coach the Pistons ever had, was fired Monday night during a team practice.

Assistant coach Herb Brown, brother of the ABA champion Denver Nuggets' coach Larry, will run the team the remainder of the year.

Scott was working on the second season of a three-year contract and would be paid off, owners Bill Davidson and Herb Tyner said.

The firing was blamed on a "communications breakdown" which the Pistons' principal owners apparently felt was responsible for Detroit's current 17-25 record, one game behind first-place Milwaukee in the Midwest Division of the National Basketball Association.

Davidson and Tyner, plus club general manager Oscar Feldman, met with Scott for 15 or 20 minutes during a team workout in suburban Southfield, Mich., to give him the bad news.

He walked out, talked to the players briefly, wished them well and left. The owners then officially informed the players following another 15-minute meeting with Brown.

Detroit plays its first game under its new coach Tuesday night in Cleveland against the Cavaliers.

If you get hurt in a car that was in an unsafe condition when you bought it from the dealer, can you sue said dealer? So inquires a client. You can sue anybody for anything, what? Still, it looks as though judges both in Oklahoma and New Jersey recently set up a new bonanza for the attorneys. They've ruled that car dealers are legally responsible if the machines they peddle are proved unsafe.

You've been birds catch fish. But have you ever seen fish catch birds? A lot of fish do so. Muskies, pike, European catfish. When the birds skim close to the surface, zap, the fish get them. Happens frequently.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS

Q. "What's a Navajo convertible?"
A. A pickup truck. Pritear every family on the Navajo reservation drives one of same.

Q. "Was Annie Oakley her real name?"
A. Yes, but her first name was Phoebe and her last name was Mozes.

Q. "Give me the price of vodka in Russia?"
A. The equivalent of about $5 a pint.

Was a time in China once when only a woman's husband was allowed to see her bare feet... That ailment known as rheumatoid arthritis afflicts women, mostly, in four out of five cases, specifically... If that ailment is labeled by the professor as "vine ripened," it was picked when the green was just barely starting to turn pink... Most car rental companies won't put out a vehicle to anybody under 25 years old... Possibly the reason there are no telephone directory service operators in Russia is there are no telephone directories.

WEDDING PRESENTS

When H.L. Mencken quoted the line about it being more blessed to give than to receive, he said he meant wedding presents. You'll recall the cynical Mr. Mencken was the fellow who advised, "Never overestimate the decency of the human race." It was also he who said, "When women kiss, it always reminds me of prizefighters shaking hands."

Why does the ending of a dove upstart a crow? It does so, idently. A Georgia bird-watcher says every time he uses his dove call, all the crows within earshot start to chatter in some irritation.

The money that horse bettors channel through the bookies exceeds by 10 times the money they put out at the tracks.

Hopes fading for cutting Minico fair length

RUPERT—Hopes of cutting the length of the Minico County Fair are dimming. The fair board will meet Feb. 4 to decide on dates for the 1976 event. Vice-Chairman Clyde Kendall said Sunday that chances of shortening it from the past two years are "not too good." The fair traditionally ends on Labor Day, the last of three days of parades thorough-with a style show and music on Saturday, a week before Labor Day. Livestock entries were entered on Sunday, with breed and quarter horse racing. In 1974 and 1975, the fair has stretched 10 days, starting showing on Monday and Tuesday and the fat stock sale on Wednesday. Fair board members would like to return to a schedule similar to the one used previous to the last two years.

At that time, the livestock was entered on Wednesday, shown on Thursday and Friday and sold on Saturday. The problem confronting board members is opposition to moving the fat stock sale.

The board met last week with 411 and FFA leaders. They contend they are getting more participation in the sale because it is held on a weekend. "It's quite a job to spend eight or nine days down there putting on the fair," Kendall said. He added that attendance

ACP funding level near same in Idaho

TWIN FALLS—Recent congressional action provides that the national funding level for the 1976 Agricultural Conservation Program will be $175 million. Idaho's allocation is $2.159 million, approximately the same as last year. The program will offer 50 per cent cost-sharing for carrying out approved soil and water conservation practices under both the annual program and long term agreements.

This year's program will give priority to practices that are consistent with a conservation plan developed for the farm. ACP suggests interested farmers contact the Soil Conservation Service and discuss details as to the size and length of the projects needed. This information is necessary in order to apply for cost-sharing.

Challis herd OK, BLM official says

SALMON — A Bureau of Land Management official told officers of the Lemhi Cattle and Horse Growers Association reports there are numerous sick and crippled horses among the growing wild horse herd near Challis are unfounded.

Grant Harbour, Muckey Challis area resource manager, told the group that the latest check on the herd "showed the cut with something wrong with its front leg but that it was getting along okay."

"In the past few years we have only known of one mare that was real sick," Harbour said.

The local cattlemen questioned Harbour as to why "it is that the government or the individual who has accepted wild horses under custodial management from the BLM, in case of damage by the animals."

Harbour said there are several court cases now where horses turned over by the BLM for custodial management, have caused damage and it will be up to the courts to decide.

The group also questioned whether the BLM can destroy a sick or crippled horse. Harbour said that it could if it was felt the animal was suffering.

Harbour said he would favor the BLM using motorized vehicles, mainly helicopters, in gathering wild horses.

Idaho honey crop drops

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says Idaho's honey production for 1975 totaled 4.4 million pounds, 30 per cent below 1974's total of 6.3 million pounds.

Except for 1971, Idaho honey production last year was the lowest on record dating back to 1939, the service said.

Yield at 42 pounds per colony, down 18 pounds from 1974, was responsible for the decline in production as the number of colonies remained unchanged at 105,000, the service noted.

The report added the value of 1975 honey production in Idaho was placed at $2.13 million, down 32 per cent from last year. The price received by honey producers in 1975 averaged 49.3 cents per pound, down 1.2 cents from 1974.
