

Philippines jolted again

Oil embargo asked

FBI files seized by federal aides

MANILA, The Philippines (UPI) — A mild aftershock rocked Cotabato City today only hours before President Ferdinand Marcos and his wife, Imelda, toured the devastated area that was hit by a major earthquake and tidal waves.

The National Disaster Center said the shock registered 3 on the Rossi-Forel scale and was the second reported since the quake devastated the southern Philippines Tuesday.

It struck at 2 a.m. local time, one hour before a tremor of the same intensity was felt in Manila. No damage or casualties were reported there.

Marcos flew south from Manila unannounced today and toured both Cotabato and Zamboanga cities to survey damage caused by the earthquake and the tidal wave responsible for up to 90 per cent of the estimated 2,750 dead and 2,282 missing.

Government reporters on the scene said the president issued directives on the spot to start rebuilding projects to provide income for the homeless and ordered banks to set aside loan funds for displaced families.

In Manila, at the military airport relief center, a constant stream of aircraft destined for the south was being loaded with relief goods, at least 75 percent of which was donated by international relief agencies.

One hundred Filipino and American doctors, all volunteers from Manila universities also flew out for the south.

The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Manila, Cardinal Jaime Sin, urged the Filipino Christian community "to dig deep into your pockets, deprive yourself of some luxury" to aid their fellow countrymen, most of them Moslems, in the devastated Mindanao-Sulu region.

The official casualty list compiled by the National Disaster Coordinating Center and the Philippine news agency stood at 2,750 dead, 2,282 missing and 2,282 injured.

The quake Tuesday registered 8.0 on the open-ended Richter scale, according to the National Earthquake Information Center at Golden, Colo.

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (UPI) — Third World leaders ended their 5th Summit Conference of Nonaligned Nations today with a call for an oil embargo against France and Israel.

The leaders, representing two thirds of the world's nations and more than half of its people, also demanded the United States pull its 42,000 troops and nuclear weapons out of South Korea.

Although all of the documents approved by the conference were not immediately released, sources disclosed that a demand for Israel's expulsion from the United Nations did not survive in the final draft.

WASHINGTON — Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation assigned to investigate a series of burglaries carried out by their colleagues, removed Thursday what one federal official termed "the cabinet after file cabinet" from the bureau's headquarters here and from its field office in New York City.

The agents took possession of the documents in what the official described as a carefully coordinated action with no advance warning to the bureau. They were acting under instructions from justice department prosecutors.

The documents, now in the possession of the prosecutors, are believed to be relevant to the Justice Department's inquiry into a number of burglaries committed by bureau agents in the New York City area in the last five years.

In a related development, bureau sources said that J. Wallace LaPrade, an assistant FBI director who heads the agency's Manhattan office, had authorized some of the burglaries that have come under investigation.

Earlier this week, two former senior FBI officials, Edward S. Miller and W. Mark Fell, said in interviews that they authorized burglaries in 1972 because they believed that L. Patrick Gray III, who was then acting director, had given his approval. Gray denied through his lawyer that he had ever approved an illegal act, particularly burglaries in the Weather Underground cases.

The Justice Department Thursday subpoenaed Fell and Miller to appear before a grand jury in New York on Aug. 26. The grand jury is investigating the burglaries.

River change set

LONDON (UPI) — Engineers are planning to reverse the flow of the Ouse River north of London to help combat the searing drought that is quickly developing into a nationwide calamity.

The plan to close all locks on the river, build a temporary dam and install pumps is the most unusual proposal so far in the growing effort across England and Wales to counter the worst drought since records started in 1727.

The drought battle, with farmers' protesting in vain for at least another month, was taking on the appearance of a King Canute campaign.

Millions of tons of cucumbers, fruit and vegetables have been wiped out; sending food prices soaring. Housewives have begun hoarding canned and frozen vegetables.

Lebanese barrages kill scores

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Rightist and leftist gunmen rained rockets and mortars on rival districts today, killing and wounding scores of civilians.

The bombardment, which continued day and night with only intermittent pauses, killed at least 20 civilians — 14 in both sectors — and wounded more than 60, hospital and security officials said.

"Shells are coming in all over the neighborhood," a man in one hard-hat area reported. "One just exploded down the street. We've moved the beds into the hall, but the children can't sleep because of the noise."

One explosion killed a young man in a street in the Muslim quarter of Musseibeh as his mother watched in horror from a nearby window. A taxi driver was critically wounded by flying shrapnel as he walked the short distance from his car to his home.

Fighting on the country's two main warfronts, in Beirut and the central mountains, settled into a bloody stalemate with only sporadic clashes with rockets and machineguns.

Christian forces massed for expected new attacks in the mountains and on a strategic road leading to Beirut's closed airport, but held back from any major push.

Nightist commander Maj. Fadi Malek told a news conference that the war would continue "until we finish every Palestinian conspirator and leftist saboteur."

Leftist chieftain Kamel Jumblatt repeated his warning that "the doors are closed to negotiations."

"We have nothing to do with the talks between the Palestinian revolution and the Christian Phalangists about a possible withdrawal from the mountains," Jumblatt said, confirming signs of a growing split between his leftists and the Palestinians

Second string Veep candidates

Walter Mondale, Then Richard Schweiker, Now Robert Dole. If ever three political second-stringers have emerged on the political scene in such rapid order, we'd like to know when...
The choice of a vice presidential running mate surely is the first vitally important decision made in any presidency.

No. Korean effrontery

Is the United States looking at the start of the second Korean War? That question has to be considered in the aftermath of a brutal attack by North Korean troops Wednesday, in which two American army officers and five South Koreans were killed in the so-called demilitarized zone...
There are several courses of action the United States could take. Keep in mind that the Pueblo episode of 1968 marked Uncle Sam as a "paper tiger," so far as North Korea is concerned.

But the party's second and more strategic task hangs heavier still, and it is the source of the underlying pessimism in Kansas City this week...
Where are the Eastern Establishmentarians, the heirs of Wendell Wilkie, Dewey and Rockefeller, who provided the muscle of Wall Street and the gloss of urbanity in the years of America's industrial and urban growth?

The Republicans' only prominent recruit of recent years is former governor and Democrat John B. Connally of Texas, who spoke of a "Republican revival."
And Carter, though the envied enemy of the moment, can be seen as an inspiration to a party that wonders, much as the Democrats did only a short time ago, where they shall ever find new leaders who could reconstruct the national base that is essential for lasting political power.

Freedom's defenders win skirmish

WASHINGTON — The struggle for personal freedom is a long and drawn-out war, composed of innumerable battles.
The defenders of freedom, said to say, don't win many fights these days, but they do win a few. They win a few, and they win a fine one the other day in Columbus, Ohio.

Justice Celebrezze found "the" minimum standards "pervasive and all-encompassing."
The regulations allocated instructional time "almost to the minute," with the result that no time could be set aside for religious instruction.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

The rules demanded that "all" school activities must conform "to policies adopted by the board of education." Under the Minimum Standards, the Christian Tabernacle School would be compelled to submit constant written evidence of its "separation and interaction" with the community.

act in accordance with established rules of social relationships and a system of social controls." Brother Levi couldn't figure out what that sentence meant, but he figured it out. He said something or would be there: He saw his religious freedom in jeopardy, and he fought back. Hallelujah! He won.

It was a victory not only for the Rev. Wil, but also for William B. Ball of Harrisburg, Pa., the brilliant lawyer who five years ago led the fight for the Amish that resulted in WISCONSIN v. YODER. On a long hard road to religious freedom, this Ohio case is a happy milestone.

Letters Experience with OSHA

Editor, Times-News:
It's ironic, in the year we're celebrating the 100th anniversary of our forefathers' fight for liberty from oppression, entry without notice, fines without consultation and many other Tory tactics, the same thing is happening to many small business men today!
Ours is a small manufacturing concern. We originated as a small blacksmith shop, operated by one man, and have grown to a business which grossed $1.6 million in sales during 1975, and employs an average of 50 people at an annual payroll cost in excess of $500,000.

One year ago, a man entered our office and identified himself as an OSHA inspector. After a three hour inspection, we were cited with fourteen non-serious violations...
Regarding these inspections, there is no forewarning or consultation, except to inform you at the end of the inspection, that there are violations and penalties will be imposed.

Ford charges into fray

By PETER LISAGOR Chicago Daily News KANSAS CITY — President Ford, neither acted nor sounded like a man whistling past a graveyard. As he took his party's inheritance to Colorado, with him today to debate Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter, who the Georgian immediately accepted. He also left a GOP national convention emotionally charged up by the ritual reconciliation with his challenger Ronald Reagan, who came to the podium with his wife Nancy and brought tears to the eyes of many delegates with fragments of what may have been an acceptance speech if he had won the nomination. The convention has accepted his choice of Kansas Sen. Robert Dole as a vice presidential running-mate, a conservative farm-belt spokesman, with something less than complete hysteria. But Dole, a former party chairman was a neutral in the Ford-Reagan brawling, and therefore unprovocative and quite agreeable to the disappointed Reaganites. Almost as surprising as his last-minute addition to his speech of the "face to face" campaign debate challenge to Carter was what "most delegates and political observers would describe as a parting gem. It put nobody to sleep, rather, it kept the delegates on the edges of their seat with a litany of applause lines condemning the Democratic-controlled Congress and halting peace, prosperity and public trust as themes certain to be reiterated endlessly this fall. And the President predicted that on Nov. 2 the voters will say, 'Jerry, you've done a good job. You're right on doing it.' It was a hard-hitting acceptance speech at times defiant, triumphant, presidential and raw-meat political. And Ford demolished his reputation for being unable to deliver a speech with punch and fire. He seemed to have rehearsed every line, and to belt it with a suretouch. "We concede not a single state. We concede not a single electoral college vote. We're echoing Carter's own hyperbole. The President, aware that the polls show Carter leading him almost 2 to 1 at this juncture, emphasized the need for party unity. He said the delegates had gathered, "not on a battlefield to conclude a cease-fire, but to join in a new recommitment that has conditioned us all for the rugged contest ahead. "Let me say this, from the bottom of my heart: after the scurrillages of the past few months it really feels good to have Ronald Reagan on the same battlefield as I. Ford turned from the lectern to wave his hand at Reagan in the upper reaches of the arena. The former California-

White House. The President never strayed too far, however, from his criticism of the Democrats in Congress for failure to act on his proposals on taxes, school busing, crime and illegal drugs, and defense. "Let me say this, Washington is not the problem — their Congress is the problem," he declared. Ford praised his management of the economy, noting that inflation has come down, jobs increased and "profits are up; production is up; purchases are up." He failed to mention a 7.8 unemployment rate, which the speech, it was a hammer-blow at Democrats, and an augury of the GOP campaign strategy. The convention was in a festive mood for the acceptance speeches and Dole's nomination and approval as a running-mate. Vice President Nelson Rockefeller nominated Dole in what must be a last hurrah in Republican politics for the New Yorker. The delegates followed a custom in voting for a variety of persons for vice president, including columnist William Buckley, Dallas Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach, Reagan's campaign strategist John Sears, Defense Sec. Donald Rumsfeld, and Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina, who was actually placed in nomination but withdrew his name. "A highlight of the evening was the appearance of actor Cary Grant, who in an amusing speech introduced his "candidate," Mrs. Betty Ford. The First Lady made brief remarks about winning in November. A 10-minute movie of President Ford's boyhood and his growing up to be a Michigan center, a Yale Law School graduate, a congressman, vice-president and President preceded the President's appearance. But the fervor of the evening came when Ford, at the end of his acceptance speech, called upon Reagan to join him on the podium. It was one of those patch-it-up moments, but Reagan added a filip to it by recalling a letter he was asked to write for a time capsule in Los Angeles to be opened a 100 years hence. It was a bit schmalzy, but it evoked tears. Reagan climaxed the evening by quoting a general who said, "There is no substitute for victory."

'Murder,' Henry charges

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today called the beating deaths of two U.S. Army officers by North Vietnamese guerrillas a "premeditated act of murder." "We cannot permit the principle to be established that Americans can simply be assaulted with impunity any place — that some dictator or some aggressive country decides to score snuff points," Kissinger said in an interview on the NBC-TV Today Show. The administration's response to the incident, he said, "depends on what it indicates about North Korea." Kissinger also depends on whether we get any satisfactory response to our demand for explanations and reparations." Kissinger declined to talk specific numbers concerning U.S. troop strength in South Korea but he said "There have been certain reinforcements sent in order to discourage any attempts by the North Koreans to escalate it and we've increased the readiness of our forces there. "There are an estimated 42,000 U.S. troops in South Korea." Kissinger noted that the incident began over a dispute about pruning a tree which was obscuring the view from a guard post. "Words were exchanged — and the Americans were attacked." "Now that is a premeditated act of murder. And whatever the merits of the dispute about that tree nothing justifies such a procedure," he added. The Joint Chiefs of Staff Thursday formally ordered U.S. commanders in Korea to increase the alert status of the troops. Leaves and passes were cancelled. Equipment was checked to make sure it worked. Security and reconnaissance patrols increased. Tanks and trucks were filled with gas. In addition two Air Force squadrons were deployed to Korea — a Squadron of F4 aircraft from Kadena Air Base, Okinawa, and a Squadron of F111 aircraft from Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho. The Washington Special Action Group, a subcommittee of the National Security Council to deal with crises, met twice Wednesday and again Thursday in the Situation Room in the White House. Kissinger was chairman. One of Kissinger's calls was to Huang Chen, the head of the Chinese delegation in Washington.

governor had been given a warm-hearted ovation when he and his wife entered the hall. It was emotional, intense, passionate, for real. The President's gesture touched off another demonstration, and a sense of unity actually began to permeate the hall, where bitterness and not a little hostility had prevailed for three days. Ford owned the keys to the store but not the hearts of the Reaganites — not yet, at least. The President said he respected those who wanted a change in Washington. "I want a change, too," he said. "After 22 years of majority misrule, let's change the U.S. Congress." He made no mention of the Watergate scandal that propelled him into the White House. But he did recall what he called "an hour of history that troubled our minds and fore at our hearts ... the polarization of our political order had aroused unworthy passions of reprisal and revenge. "Our governmental system is closer to stalemated than at any time since Abraham Lincoln took that same oath of office." He said he may have "made some mistakes," but Americans and Americans "have made an irreparable comeback" since he took office on Aug. 9, 1974. He said Nixon took his disgraced leave from the Democrats put at the top of their priority list. "With Secretary of State Henry Kissinger in the guest book with members of the Cabinet, Ford defended his foreign policy vigorously, noting that no American is at war anywhere and that ties with vital Allies "were never stronger." The United States, he said, is "again the confident leader of the free world." He mentioned relations with China, Russia and Eastern Europe as being "firm, vigilant and forward-looking," ignoring a platform amendment mildly critical of détente with the Russians. He said his record was one "of progress, not platitudes and specifics, but smiles, performance, not promises." He then listed a series of promises, pledging urban progress to assure safety in the streets, healthy environments and the restoration of neighborhood pride. He also promised to return control of education to parents and local school authorities, equal rights, a fair tax structure, improved Medicare and the integrity of Social Security, and care for "less fortunate citizens." All the while, he promised to "reduce the growth and the cost of government." The President said he would come out fighting — and he did. Despite the obvious contradictions and ironies of

'No contest' plea by Kepone makers

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The firm that developed the pesticide Kepone, which has tainted major East Coast fishing grounds, has pleaded no contest to the bulk of federal pollution charges against it in a landmark environmental case. Federal prosecutors said the action against Allied Chemical Corp. was the largest environmental case filed to date. A company spokesman said the plea could leave the firm liable for as much as $13 million in fines. In a surprise move at an unscheduled U.S. District Court hearing Thursday, counsel for Allied Chemical entered the no contest plea to 940 counts of dumping pesticide manufacturing wastes into the James River from a Hopewell, Va., chemical plant which made Kepone. A no contest plea differs from a guilty plea in that a defendant admits no guilt. The Allied Chemical spokesman said the firm's decision was not the result of plea bargaining. Prosecutors, who said they wanted the case aired in court, objected to the plea. A trial on the charges was cancelled. Gov. Mills' Godwin banned fishing in the lower James River last year because of persistent Kepone contamination. But he stopped short of closing Chesapeake Bay, where 10 times the safe limit of Kepone has been found in some fish samples.

TWA workers ponder strike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Trans-World Airlines flight attendants are deciding whether to accept a contract proposal or to strike tonight, which could delay departures for some of those attending the Republican National Convention. The airline's 5,100 attendants began voting by mail last week on the contract which TWA termed its "best and final offer." Results of the voting were expected at 8 p.m. EDT tonight. A strike would cancel air reservations for an estimated 3,500 persons booked on flights Saturday and Sunday. "We've had quite a few calls from a number of concerned individuals with the convention who have asked that we keep them apprised of the situation," TWA spokesman Jerry Cosley said. "No one's been irate with us at all. They share our concern." Costly said TWA officials would meet today to review the situation. Transport Workers Union spokesman Jan Hefflinger said if the flight attendants reject the offer the walkout would begin at midnight. Miss Hefflinger declined to speculate on the outcome of the vote. Peck researches MacArthur role BREMERTON, Wash. (UPI) — Gregory Peck finished the first taping session of the movie "MacArthur" Thursday.

Peck, playing the title role of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said he has done lots of research about MacArthur and considers himself a "minor league authority" on the former general.

Peck said MacArthur was a small, dim-witted character who at times was "outrageously pompous" and at others "simple, warm and compassionate."

The actor said MacArthur always followed a "very personal code" which was instilled in him at West Point: "Duty, Honor, Country."

Peck said the movie represented the biggest challenge of his acting career. The most difficult part, he said, was presenting MacArthur in all his complexities.

At the press conference following the filming session, Peck appeared in general's uniform, wearing sunglasses and sporting a corky gob pipe, a familiar MacArthur trait.

The movie is being filmed aboard the U.S.S. Missouri, the ship on which the peace treaty between Japan and the United States was signed in Tokyo Bay in September, 1945.

The ship is on the inactive list at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard.

Trial dismissed denied

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Third-District Court Judge Thursday refused to stop the sex solicitation trial of Congressman Allan Howe on grounds that prejudicial publicity made it impossible to find an impartial jury.

Judge Bryant Croft also denied dismissal motions claiming entrapment, the unconstitutionality of the anti-prostitution law, and sexual discrimination against men in the way the city enforces the ordinance.

Croft's ruling cleared the way for Howe's trial a second time on a charge he tried to buy sex from two police women posing as prostitutes. That trial is scheduled to begin Aug. 23.

The freshman Democrat was convicted of the misdemeanor last month in city court. But, under Utah law, he is entitled to a new trial in district court with the presumption of innocence.

Argest made in payoff scandal

TOKYO (UPI) — Authorities probing Japan's $12 million Lockheed payoff scandal today arrested a former parliamentary transport minister on bribery charges, the second ranking politician nabbed in "Japan's Watergate."

Arrested was Takayuki Sato, 48, a Lower House lawmaker and member of the ruling Liberal-Democratic Party.

Authorities said. He was vice transport minister from July 1971 to July 1972.

Sato, elected from Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido, was the second politician arrested in the scandal that has rocked Japan's political world.

The first was former Premier Kakuei Tanaka, who was released on bail after his indictment Monday on charges of accepting a $1.67 million bribe from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. He was premier from July 1972 to November 1974.

Fred falls

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Fred Astaire has broken his wrist. The 77-year-old entertainer, a symbol of grace for five decades, is expected to be out of the limelight for at least a few weeks.

"It was a clean break but his wrist will be in a cast for six weeks," the spokesman said.

"We wanted to have a picture taken with the cast but he's a little shy about the accident."

Astaire, who completed a role in "The Amazing Bohemians" for Golden Films Monday, fell off the skidsteer while exercising in the front yard of his home Tuesday, he said.

Reems moves headquarters

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — With some help from poet Rod McKuen, sex movie star Harry Reems, fighting a controversial Memphis conspiracy conviction, has moved the headquarters of his fund raising campaign to Hollywood.

Reems, who has starred in many adult movies, was convicted of conspiracy to distribute obscene material for his role in "Deep Throat." Some film groups and individuals are supporting his appeal, saying it sets a precedent in making performers criminally liable for the content of movies.

Reems said he will be based in Los Angeles for the next six to eight months, because it is the center of the film community.

McKuen donated office space, he said, adding that his campaign has raised $25,000 of the $50,000 he needs.

Sartre okay

CAPRI, Italy (UPI) — Philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre Thursday denied West German news reports he was sick and showed reporters his dinner of spaghetti and tomato, which he said proved he was hard.

"I want to say that I am well," Sartre said, pointing to his dinner.

The 71-year-old French existentialist philosopher and author is vacationing on this Italian resort island with writer Simone de Beauvoir until the end of the month.

Royalty visits

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — King Juan Carlos and Queen Sophia of Spain paid a visit Thursday to the nuclear air craft carrier Nimitz, flying over the U.S. 5th Fleet.

The national news agency said it was the first time a Spanish king had visited a U.S. warship, and the first time the 5,000-ton Nimitz had been visited by a foreign monarch.

Quinlans donate $10,000

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (UPI) — The parents of Karen Ann Quinlan, who has remained in a deep coma for 16 months, have presented a $10,000 check to the Catholic Diocese of Paterson, N.J., to be used for the needy.

The check, presented Thursday to the Most Rev. Lawrence B. Casey, bishop of the diocese, was one of two checks. Julia and Joseph Quinlan said they would give to charity in the state.

The money was part of the payment for a series of articles the Quinlans wrote for the Ladies Home Journal magazine on the ordeal they have gone through since their 22-year-old daughter lost consciousness on April 15, 1975 after taking a mixture of alcohol and tranquilizers.

They refused to discuss the contents of the first of the articles that appear in the September issue of the magazine.

The Quinlans said questions on that subject and on their daughter's condition would be answered at a news conference today in New York.

The New Jersey Supreme Court, overturning a lower court decision, granted the parents' request last March to allow Miss Quinlan to die "with grace and dignity."

Miss Quinlan is now at the Morris View Nursing Home where she has been breathing independent of a respirator which had sustained her for more than a year since she slipped into a coma.

The Quinlans said they would receive about $22,000 for their story. They said that money not donated to charity will be used to offset expenses they incurred in writing the articles.

Mrs. Quinlan would not discuss what other projects might be in the works, but her husband said, "There wouldn't be any book or any magazine article if there weren't some higher goal."

'Legionnaire's Disease' remains mystery to medics

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The "Legionnaire's Disease" that struck down more than 170 persons is as much of a mystery as ever, but health officials say the danger it posed apparently is over.

State Health Secretary Dr. Leonard Bachman said Thursday only a few new cases with symptoms similar to the illness had been reported in the last five days. Many of these, he said, may turn out to be seasonal acute pneumonia.

Bachman also said no secondary cases have been reported, indicating the disease is not contagious.

Twenty-six persons have died from the disease and the list of persons who meet the illness criteria totals 173.

Experts have examined scores of varieties of bacteria, viruses, poisons and toxic substances but have yet to pinpoint the cause of the illness.

"The American Legion malady which has taken its toll in death and sickness during the last three weeks finally appears to be behind us," Bachman said in a statement released in Harrisburg.

"At this time, I can state positively that we see no signs of secondary infection. There further appears to be no evidence of on-going risk to persons staying at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel."

The Bellevue Stratford served as headquarters for the state American Legion convention in Philadelphia July 21-24.

Bachman said federal epidemiologists have found no connection between the illnesses and 19 plumb-ing-violations found at the hotel. But he said water has not been definitely ruled out as a possible carrying agent for the disease.

Bachman also said the majority of federal epidemiologists are returning to the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta to continue analysis of the information they gathered through questionnaires and interviews.

A spokesman for the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health also announced the agency's industrial toxin experts could find nothing wrong at the Bellevue.

Edward Bauer, deputy director of the institute, said, investigators found "nothing significant" in the plumbing violations uncovered by city inspectors at the Bellevue Stratford.

Bauer said that as a result of the investigation, "what has been discounted is the hotel itself, at least from a toxic chemical standpoint."

4 charged in shooting

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four members of the Jewish Defense League have been charged with two shooting incidents at Soviet diplomatic compounds and the attempted bombing of the Iraqi U.N. mission.

A federal indictment unsealed Thursday said the four wanted to harass "the USSR, Iraq, Iran and other 'enemies' believed by the JDL to be antagonistic to the Jewish people and the state of Israel."

The Jewish Armed Resistance, a JDL splinter group, had claimed responsibility for the incidents.

One suspect, Russell Kerner, 35, is on probation for threatening the life of Yasser Arafat, leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization, at a New York news conference in November, 1974.

New leaders revive

Jerome Red Cross

JEROME—The Jerome County Red Cross chapter, languishing for leadership the past several years, is off to a new start.

Bob Gomes, temporary chairman, said Tuesday 11 directors have been found and the new board will meet at 7 p.m. next Thursday to elect permanent officers.

Volunteers include Claribel Jackson and Barbara Weigle, who have served as co-chairmen of the blood drawings which have continued despite the fact there has been no active county chapter in recent years.

Other new board members include Keith Bird, Dr. W. Harold Lloyd, Dick Cohen, Al

Wilby, S.A. Kolman, Dan Wagner, Helen Wagner, Jo Ann Schwarz and Gomes.

The Wagners, Wilby and Gomes are trained first aid instructors who want to continue offering first aid instruction in the community.

Gazelle Vandiver, who has had experience with Red Cross activities in another state, will serve as a special youth assistant to the county board.

Gomes said Jack Colman, Boise, Red Cross field representative, will attend the Aug. 26 meeting to assist with formal organizational details.

The temporary chairman said both Kolman and Bird have offered to provide office space for use of the county chapter directors.

Principal named

MALTA—Glendon Jones will be the new principal at Malta Elementary School this year.

Lois Jones will teach business at Raft River High School. Keith Wilson, head football coach at Declo High School for several years, has been named to the same post at Raft River High School.

Wilson spent last year on the staff at Sugar-Salem High School, Sugar City. He replaces Kay Harper, who resigned from Raft River to become head coach at Minico High.

Wilson also will teach English at Malta.

ALTHOUGH young Jon Robert Johnson doesn't quite meet minimum age requirements for Monroe, La., police officers, he is all set to join forces with the city's men in blue. The son of auxiliary policeman and Mrs. Kenneth R. Johnson, Monroe, celebrated his fourth birthday Tuesday by touring the local police facilities.

Reagan: 'cause will go on'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Choking back tears, defeated presidential challenger Ronald Reagan emotionally told his closest campaign staffers Thursday the "cause will go on because it's right."

Flanked by his wife Nancy and his designated running mate, Sen. Richard Schweiker, Reagan thanked his staff for its support in his unsuccessful campaign to oust President Ford as the GOP presidential nominee.

"Sure, there's disappointment at what happened," Reagan, his face flushed and his eyes shining with tears, said haltingly. "The cause, the cause goes on."

"Sure it's just one battle in a long war that is going to go on as long as we all live."

At one point Mrs. Reagan's disappointment obvious, turned away from the assembled 150 staffers and an aide handed her a handkerchief to dab her eyes.

But Reagan promised Nancy and "are outgoing back and sit on a rocking chair on the front porch and say 'that's all for us'."

Reagan, who lost by a thin margin of the GOP convention vote to Ford, urged his campaign staffers to go on and work for their political belief.

"The individuals on this stage may change but the cause will prevail because it is right," he said. "So don't give up your ideas. Don't compromise. Don't turn to expediency and don't get cynical."

His voice breaking, Reagan told his staffers that there were "millions and millions of people out there who want what you want — who want it to be that way, who want it to be the shining city on the hill."

Schweiker, who offered to step down as the vice presidential running mate on Wednesday if it would benefit the Reagan candidacy, told the staff members that "we feel very strongly that the country has missed a great leader."

Schweiker also attending the session with staffers were Schweiker's wife and family and Gen. Jim McMurdo of South Carolina who said there "we shall be back to fight another day."

Jerome will not get new swimming pool

JEROME—Some Jerome residents want a new swimming pool in the city, but the mayor says "there is no way" the budget will allow a new pool.

Mayor Charles Hancock said the new facility would cost an estimated $100,000 and was not feasible.

Hancock urged the residents to explore the possibility of forming a recreation district to fund the new pool.

A recreation district could encompass whatever geographical area was decided upon and could provide a larger tax base from which to obtain funds, he said.

Jim Thackeray and Sally Towle, who were among the spokesmen, said they felt it would be a waste of money to spend an estimated $10,000 to remodel the existing city pool.

The Health Department has told city officials they will have to refine the pool and remodel the deck and other facilities if they cannot use the pool next season.

Teen will plead insanity

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—A teen-ager charged with killing three persons and wounding six others during a downtown sniping attack will plead innocent by reason of insanity, according to his attorney.

Michael Soles, 19, of Sand Springs, Okla., was treated for "mental problems while in grade school," his attorney, William Cather, said during Soles' arraignment Wednesday.

Cather said he will ask for a court-ordered psychiatric examination. Soles, confined to a wheelchair, was moved to the courthouse for arraignment from St. Francis Hospital under heavy police guard.

He had been hospitalized since the Aug. 14 sniping attack on a busy downtown street from the 26th floor of the Holiday Inn Plaza, Kansas tallest building.

Police shot Soles to end the 15-minute attack. He was wounded in the arm and legs by shotgun pellets.

Police said Soles has given them a motive for the sniping, but it will not be disclosed until his trial.

He appeared in court attired in blue jeans and a T-shirt and sitting in the wheelchair. Following the court proceedings he was taken to the county jail.

Sheriff Johnny Darr had the hospital emergency room entrance heavily guarded by officers. A police helicopter circled overhead.

US exports may decline

(Courtesy Sinclair & Co.) WASHINGTON (UPI) — Export volumes of major agricultural bulk commodities may fade somewhat in fiscal year 1977 beginning Oct. 1 from 1976's level of 103 million tons, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Gardens for half US homes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly one in every two American households has a vegetable garden, according to Agriculture Department statistics. Evelyn F. Katz and Jon P. Welmer of the Economic Research Service, said Monday that a nationwide survey last spring showed the interest in home grown vegetables, which began several years ago when food prices started going up suddenly, is still rising.

The survey results indicated a slight, but steady growth in home gardening over the past three years. With 73 per cent of the households planting a garden in 1975, up from 65 per cent in 1973, and 49 per cent having or intending to have a garden in 1976, they said.

Prices up on feeders at TF sale

TWIN FALLS — Feeder cattle were 1.00 to 3.00 higher at the Twin Falls Livestock Auction on Wednesday.

Pea, lentil prices told

SPOKANE — Average prices for Aug. 18 were reported by the Pacific Northwest Peas Growers and Dealers Association.

USDA says U.S. Farm exports in FY 1977 are expected to total approximately $22 billion, about equal to the $22.1 billion worth expected in the year ending June 30.

The value of U.S. agricultural imports in FY 1977, USDA says, is expected to rise about 16 per cent to around $11.7 billion with higher prices accounting for most of the expected increase.

In issuing the report, prepared by USDA's Outlook and Situation Board, Economic Research Service and Foreign Agricultural Service, USDA warns the FY 1977 forecasts are not perfectly comparable with FY 1975 and 1976 data because of a switch from a July-June fiscal year to a new Oct. 1-Sept. 30 fiscal year.

In recent years, USDA says that as US exports have expanded and prices have risen, the split-year export value for the October-September period has been slightly higher than the corresponding July-June total for instance, USDA says, U.S. agricultural exports were valued at $21.6 billion during July 1974-June 1975 and at $21.9 billion during October 1974-September 1975.

USDA says that beginning in November, the export outlook report will be based entirely on the October-September period, and historical data will cover the periods October-September 1974-75 and 1975-76.

Dry bean output up

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's dry bean crop is expected to break production records this year, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Wednesday.

Commercial dry bean production is expected to be up by about nine per cent from last year, the highest level of record.

IDaho FALLS — Lambs were 1.00 higher with ewes steady at the Idaho Livestock Auction this week.

John Byrne, 'Little Devil'

Demonic squeaks produce victory

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Little Devil, a Bantam rooster, entered by a hen, squeaked to victory Tuesday over defending champ Hawkeye in a David and Goliath battle for the Illinois State Fair Rooster Crowing crown.

Little Devil's 56 squawks were enough to lift him to victory over Hawkeye, an Araucanas almost twice his size. Hawkeye and Black and Blue, an Old English game bird, tied at 54 crows in the allotted 20 minutes and were forced into a sudden death crow-off for second place.

Competitors could do anything they wanted to in the 20-minute time limit, except touch the raised foot. Hawkeye's owner, Emil Lynch, 14, Mount Pleasant, Ill., worked his bird the hardest, banging on his cage and whistling sweet melodies to the one foot tall bird.

Another competitor, promised his master "a plate of eggs and extra women," but the bird refused to be strayed.

Black and Blue was apparently spurred by the warning of his owner, Steve Grooms, Tolson, Ill., that "You'll never see another hen as long as you live if you don't get going."

TF fruit-entries may be top grade

FILER—Magic Valley is seeing a bumper fruit crop this year so entries in the fruit department of the Twin Falls County Fair Sept. 7-11 should be outstanding.

Sugar firm agrees to drop ad claim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — C and H Sugar has agreed to stop claiming its product is different or better because it comes from sugar cane grown in Hawaii, the Federal Trade Commission announced today.

The agency said the California and Hawaiian Sugar Co. of San Francisco and its advertising agency agreed to stop an advertising campaign suggesting sugar derived from beets or coming from somewhere other than Hawaii was inferior.

Idaho pea crop dips

BOISE (UPI) — Dry pea production in Idaho is down about 21 per cent from last year, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Wednesday.

The service said 49,000 acres of peas will be harvested but the crop is 29 per cent below a year ago.

Appointed

BOISE (UPI) — Walter B. "Bud" Henry has been named director of government relations for The International Gas Co., R. D. Grilman, president, said Wednesday.

Henry will add his new responsibilities, in his present position as director of area development.

DEAR ABBY: My wife, just had her fourth child, and we now have two boys and two girls, which are all we want.
My problem is that she wants me to have a vasectomy, but I'm chicken. It's not the pain I'm afraid of; it's just that I'm afraid I'll feel like a man just knowing that I won't be able to father any more children.
My wife can't tolerate the Pill, and the other methods of birth control turn her off, so it's up to me.
I feel dumb asking this, but should I or shouldn't I? What do other men who've had it say?
CHICAGO CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: If you're afraid you'll feel like "less of a man" after a vasectomy, the chances are you WILL, and no man can overcome that feeling. I wouldn't recommend it.

The surgeon then inserts a scope, locates both tubes and seals them permanently. The incision is then closed with a small stitch, covered by a Band-Aid. The patient can go home an hour later.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 32-year-old divorcee. No kids, thank heavens. I met a wonderful man. He's 68, but before you say he's too old for me, let me say that he can do everything a 25-year-old man can do, and I'm not just guessing.
He has had two bum marriages and says this is the first time in his life he's ever been in love. I got along fine with his two married daughters, and his grandchildren are crazy about me.
He has a summer home in Indiana and a winter home in Florida, and he's been retired for 10 years.
He has a pacemaker, but you'd never know it unless he told you.
My brother is trying to talk me out of marrying him because he's afraid I'll end up being a young widow, but my mother and father both died before they were 50, so I could be dead at 35. What is your advice?
WILLING TO GAMBLE

DEAR WILLING: No one knows how long he's going to live or what shape he'll be in next year, so gamble if you like. But if you live to be 50, and he's still alive, you'll have an 86-year-old husband.

DEAR ABBY: Howie and I have been married for two years.
Everything is fine except for one thing. Whenever Howie needs to see a doctor, he goes to his pediatrician, Abby. Howie is 20 years old and I think it's time he stopped going to a pediatrician and went to a regular doctor.
I've told him this, but he doesn't pay any attention to me. Maybe if YOU told him, he'd listen.

A BABY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: A pediatrician has all the training of a regular doctor, plus specialized training in the care of children, so if Howie is more comfortable with his pediatrician, why make waves?

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Here is a hand that may well have decided the 1950 Vanderbilt Cup competition.
At both tables the queen of diamonds was led against the seven-club contract. One declarer called for the ace of diamonds, without any thought. Then he hesitated several minutes before discarding his jack of spades. Several minutes later he was down.
The other declarer did his thinking before playing from dummy and finally called for a low diamond. He ruffed, cashed the ace of spades to see what happened, cashed the ace of hearts for a second look at possibilities and then played the king of spades. When that dropped the queen he led to dummy's ace of clubs, discarded his four of hearts on the ace of diamonds, came back to his hand with heart, drew trumps and claimed his grand slam.
This grand slam swing decided a first-round match. The lucky winners then went on to win the tournament.

Ford ticket mate tough in fighter

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—With the Republicans need a tough political fighter who can take it all as well as dish it out, they fell on Ford.

A tough campaigner, Ford has a President Ford needs facing an uphill fight against Democrat Jimmy Carter and again, Dole was called in to help, this time as Ford's running mate.

With a fight smile, the Kansas legislator can deliver a scorching oration on the Senate floor or a biting joke to a crowd back home. The joke often aimed at himself.

With the experience of two years as GOP national chairman, Dole, 53, perhaps was the natural choice for temporary chairman for the 1976 Republican National Convention at Kansas City, honoring his home state, and those same qualities undoubtedly were a factor in President Ford's selection of a running mate.

Well known in Washington and among strong Republicans here, Dole had been mentioned before as one who could shore up weak spots in the campaign against Carter.

Before the selection, Dole said he thought his chances were remote, but asked if he would accept, he said, "I think anybody would want to be vice president."

Dole also has avoided enemies among the defeated supporters of Ronald Reagan.

Despite the fact he was a Ford delegate to the convention, the conservative senator refrained from attacking Reagan.

Even when he spoke in Ford's behalf at the Kansas state Republican convention—following an appearance by Reagan—Dole's tone was conciliatory. He said both were "people who are going to get the job done."

One of his stronger staidists about Reagan on that occasion indicated the former California governor was "a fighting and forthright" Democrat-congressman.

"I think the Reagan is making a mistake in who runs that show," Dole told the Kansans.

"The senator was warned by people—including his wife, Federal Trade Commission Elizabeth Hanford Dole—to stay away from the fight."

Republicans said if he got embroiled in the national party fight it could bring him as much trouble at home as his earlier involvement in the national GOP.

Dole's close identification with Richard Nixon and the fact he headed the national party at the time of the Watergate break-in are considered major reasons Dole stepped last his Senate seat in 1974.

As the Capitol Hill observer quipped, "If you like Dick Nixon, you'll love Bob Dole."

Dole deflected former Rep. William Roy, D-Kan., by 13,542 votes of 79,147 votes cast in 1974.

But in spite of the warnings, Dole got involved this year.

"Well, I think most of you voted for me for Congress because I didn't stay away from a good contest," he told the Kansas state convention.

Dole's term of office ends at Russell, Kan., where he has a home. He received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Arizona and law degrees from Washington University in St. Louis.

He served 15 1/2 years in the Army in World War II, including a stint as an infantry platoon leader in the 1st Mountain Division in Italy. He twice was wounded and twice decorated for heroism.

He was hospitalized 30 months as a result of wounds that left him with a crippled right arm and hand. During his hospitalization he met his first wife, Betty, whom he divorced in 1972.

Dole began his political career at 26, with election to the Kansas House of Representatives in 1951. He served four terms as Russell County attorney, 1953-1961.

Roman Catholic risks excommunication

Chicago Daily News — A traditionalist Roman Catholic ex-archbishop whose followers claim thousands of supporters in the United States plans to ignore a papal ban and risk excommunication.

Monignor Marcel Lefebvre, 70, who directs two seminaries in Switzerland and one in Armada, Mich., intends to go ahead with a scheduled celebration of the mass in Latin Aug. 29 at Lille, France, an aide said.

Pope Paul VI stripped Msgr. Lefebvre former archbishop of Dakar, Senegal, and later of Tulle, France, of all priestly functions July 24.

There are 10 Americans studying to be priests at Econow," he said. At Armada, 60 miles north of Detroit, "there are 20 seminarians with 10 more arriving in September."

Pope Paul's order of June 29 also suspended the priestly functions of the 13 newly ordained priests at Econow.

Msgr. Lefebvre made a "highly successful" fund-raising tour of the United States in May, visiting Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Texas, Colorado and California. Rev. Boldeu said.

There are an estimated 300,000 traditionalist or integralist Catholics in the United States, he said. "Our great need is for priests."

A graduate of Catholic University of America, Rev. Boldeu was ordained by Msgr. Lefebvre three years ago. He is in charge of the Paul X Society's American property and also directs 14 chapels with 3,000 communicants in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Missouri and in Mexico.

Msgr. Lefebvre attacks the present "conciliar church" which he charges is "a schismatic church, turning its back on tradition and breaking with the church of the past 2,000 years."

The reforms are "running the Catholic church in such an event that even governments and non-believers are worried," he said. "To use the church law, its institutions and authority to annihilate the Catholic faith and to longer communicate life—to practices—spiritual abortion or contraception."

Msgr. Lefebvre charged. "A crime worse than fleshly abortion."

Writing in the Paris Daily Le Figaro Wednesday, he suggested that Pope Paul VI may have invalidated his position as pope through these reforms.

Replying Archbishop Rene Elecheguy of Marcellin, head of the French Bishops Conference, said he regrets to see a bishop systematically discredit the last council, reject the authority of the church of today in the name of yesterday, and by his example detach some of the faithful from the bonds of obedience to their legitimate pastors."

He called for "tract, patience and absolute loyalty to the Pope" in the "crucial and excruciating postconciliar periods."

In a manifesto, Msgr. Lefebvre has accused the new church of "neo-modernism and neo-Protestantism." He attacked French Cardinal Francis Marty, archbishop of Paris, for addressing a Communist party-Christian Marxist meeting at Lyons.

Rev. Boldeu insisted that Msgr. Lefebvre and his followers remain "within the Roman Bishop church. I am subject to the authority of any Catholic bishop who still adheres to the sound (traditional) teaching of the church."

Grace Baptist Church Choralaires

Choralaires present homecoming concert

TWIN FALLS—The Choralaires of the Grace Baptist Church will present a "Homecoming Concert" at the Grace Baptist Church, 728 Eastland Drive N., on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The Choralaires is composed of high school students who function as a gospel team in the year around in rest homes, at youth rallies, in churches nearby and in the home church. The group has just returned from a 2,000-mile tour of Western Idaho and Washington.

Their program consists basically of many of the old familiar hymns especially arranged for teenage voices. A women's trio and men's chorus, plus instrumental numbers, lend variety to the program.

Rev. Robert J. Seaman, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church and director of the group, extends an invitation to the community to hear these young people present the gospel in music.

Parishioners beat would-be robber

DETROIT (UPI)—Rev. Stanley Pickard was not about to let a gunman interrupt his sermon at the 25th Street Church of God.

The holdup man and three accomplices ordered about 60 parishioners attending morning service to place their valuables in plastic bags.

But Pickard, 40, and several church deacons jumped the gang leader as he approached the pulpit and took his gun away, police said.

The suspect, Benjamin Carroll, 25, of Detroit, was so severely beaten by the angry churchmen that he had to be treated at Detroit General Hospital before he was booked.

His accomplices—escaped with about $385. The service went on as scheduled after Brown was taken into custody.

"They (the congregation) seemed to feel like God had really protected them in the church, which I guess is a way He did," said George Daniel, 23, who witnessed the holdup from a back pew.

Ancient cathedrals short of craftsmen

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's ancient cathedrals and churches have been hit by a shortage of skilled craftsmen needed to keep them in repair.

Lincoln Cathedral, receiving stone restoration for the past 89 years, has only two stone masons on its staff and needs at least three others.

Westminster Abbey, in a bid to beat the shortage, look on a 12 apprentice mason.

Canterbury Cathedral is an exception. As befits the mother church of the Anglican faith, it has ample masons.

"We are fortunate in having and keeping some really brilliant craftsmen in our team," said Canon Donald Ingram Hill, vice dean of the cathedral.

"We are certainly luckier than in New York where, so I am told, there are only five stone masons available to work on St. John the Divine, the Episcopalian cathedral."

West signs as new coach of LA - after dropping $6 million suit against team

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) - Less than two years after he tearfully announced his retirement as a player, former NBA superstar Jerry West...

Cooke was not in attendance at the news conference where the signing of West was announced. It was in the same Forum room in which West announced on Oct. 3, 1974 that he would not play another season because "the older you get, the harder it is."

"Needless to say I'm extremely happy," said the emotional West whose eyes were misty. "I think it's every professional basketball player's dream to come back and become the head coach of his former team. That was mine."

manager during Shurman's coaching tenure, was not far from bringing in Nevada-Las Vegas coach Jerry Tarkanian. West, an All America '44 West Virginia and regarded by many as the greatest guard to play the game, spent 14 seasons playing with the Lakers and was the driving force behind their 14 consecutive playoff appearances and their 1972 World Championship.

Basketball Association. Shurman, who coached the Lakers for five years after leaving the old Utah Stars, said he had not talked to any other clubs about a coaching job.

Jerry West - new Laker coach

In accepting Laker owner Jack Kent Cooke's multi-year contract offer, the 39-year-old West - who virtually has done nothing but play-all the past two years - settled his $6 million law suit filed against Cooke last Oct. 7.

The suit stemmed from an oral agreement West said he had with Cooke for a lifetime job of some sort with the Lakers. After West's unexpected retirement, however, Cooke assertedly refused to honor the agreement.

Shurman, who coached the Lakers to their only NBA championship in 1972, failed to get Los Angeles into the playoffs the past two seasons. Directly after West's retirement as a player, the Lakers finished last in the five-team Pacific Division with a 30-52 record in 1975.

Despite the addition of 72 superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the Lakers missed the playoffs again last season with a 40-42 record, finishing behind Green State, Seattle, and Phoenix.

"I wanted this job very badly. I have not seen a player-coach who is not smarter than his coach. I guess I probably always wanted to be a coach."

Shurman's wife and father both died during the Lakers' 1974-75 season and insiders felt Cooke thought the former Boston Celtics' star had lost his enthusiasm and zest. The same insiders felt West was Shurman's selection as coach while Newell's general

"I considered many outstanding candidates for the job," said Cooke in a prepared statement. "But in my opinion, Jerry West's great basketball knowledge and background which the Lakers uniquely qualifies him for the position."

"It was inevitable that a man with Jerry's leadership, drive and intelligence would move into coaching. I'm pleased to have him back in the Laker family and I know that he will bring the Lakers back to their rightful place at the top of the National

A 14-time All-Star, West was the Most Valuable Player in the 1972 All Star Game. While he never won the NBA's MVP award, he finished runner-up in the voting three times. He earned the nickname "Mr. Clutch" for his brilliant last minute performances, stealing the ball and scoring in close games. He is the NBA's all-time leadership scorer with 4,457 points, a .91 average, second only to Abdul-Jabbar's 82.7.

He finished his NBA career as the league's third all-time regular season scorer with 25,192 points.

Pros dominate Idaho cup play

JACKPOT - The pros dominated the scotchball and best ball phases Thursday and all but wrapped up the annual Idaho cup competition. The professionals ended the 36-hole day with 20+ strokes against 10 for the amateurs. The amateurs have a chance to get back in Friday's closing head-to-head match play round but would have to sweep seven of 10 matches to do it.

The professionals held basically a two-to-one advantage through Thursday. They ended the morning scotchball competition with a 10+5 lead and moved ahead 10-5 in the afternoon bestball.

Competition was tight, shown by a battle in the afternoon between host pro Billy Downs and Idaho Falls pro Bob Eames and amateurs Dave Muller and Tom Smith. Both Boise - They finished dead even in points - splitting both nines and the 18 - with eight-under par scores.

The match play finale was scheduled to leave the Jackpot first tee at 11 a.m. Friday.

Soviet Olympic defector runs out of chances to change mind

MONTREAL (UPI) - On and off Soviet defector Sergei Nemtsanov Thursday climbed aboard a plane bound for Russia, leaving behind him a Russian-Canadian legacy of sports world mistrust.

Nemtsanov, a diver who was very much the invisible defector during his three weeks in Canada, again shunned the public eye and was brought secretly aboard a Soviet flight late Thursday.

A lengthy cut and mouse game between newsman and Soviet officials at Montreal's Mirabel Airport ended only when an airlines official confirmed the youth had been brought aboard the plane by an entrance other than that used by 23 other mostly Russian passengers on the flight to Montreal.

The 17-year-old diver's disappearance from the Olympic Village July 29 stirred up a diplomatic row between Canada and the U.S.S.R., with charges by the Soviets of kidnapping and threats of the possibility of Soviet withdrawal from the major Canada Cup hockey series in September.

Nemtsanov approached Soviet officials Tuesday and declares his wish to return to the Soviet Union. "He was very glad to come back home and he's very glad he will see his mother, grand-

Rozelle optimistic on new contract

NEW YORK (UPI) - Nearly 400 National Football League players will have to wait another two weeks to find out whether they'll have jobs this season.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle sounded a cautiously optimistic note Thursday that an agreement might soon be reached in the three-year-old contract stalemate with the NFL Players Association.

In view of this progress, Rozelle said further discussion of a regular-season player limit was put off until a meeting of the owners next Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Rozelle said the current 60-player training camp limit, not including rookies who participated in the All-Star game, will drop to 49 for each team except expansion clubs Tampa Bay and Seattle next Tuesday, Aug. 24.

My view is that if, by looking at the clubs at that time, we appear to be unbalanced, I'd favor a lower limit than the present 43. If we appear to be in good shape, I'd prefer a higher limit.

"I'd prefer that we'd set a stable limit higher than 36 but I doubt if it will happen."

The NFL players, who are likely to be vehemently opposed to a further reduction of squad size, have been without a collective bargaining agreement with the owners since the end of the 1973 season. But Rozelle believed a new agreement was close at hand.

Negotiators for the NFL players and owners, however, progressed to the point where memberships on a new collective bargaining agreement is a possibility prior to the start of the regular season," Rozelle read from a prepared statement. "The negotiators agreed this would be the extent of their comment at this time."

By the time that first regular season game is played, the players' left may find themselves the object of headline pools in Delaware. The state is trying to establish a lottery based on pro and college football games.

"We're still in discussion with state officials," Rozelle admitted.

Reminded that Nevada and Montana already have such pools in operation, Rozelle said they weren't as much a threat.

"We don't view those as seriously as to have something set up in or near league cities," he explained. "From there, it could spread from state to state and escalate from cards to OTB betting."

"We are considering" an injunction in some kind of court in Delaware.

Rozelle also said he hadn't intervened in the matter of superstar running back O.J. Simpson's desire to be traded from the Buffalo Bills 'to a West Coast team - probably the Los Angeles Rams - or else quit football."

"I'd like to see O.J. play," Rozelle said. "Obviously he's one of our biggest names. But I can't press it too hard, I won't unless there's a feeling by both clubs to start talks - then it could be an intermediary."

Massengale's 65 earns lead in greater Hartford golf tournament

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) - Rik Massengale, a winner just once in seven years on the PGA Tour, shot a six-under-par 65 to grab the first-round lead Thursday in the $210,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Massengale, a 29-year-old Texan, missed only one green in building a two-stroke lead on the field, which is seeking a $12,000 top prize, highest in the tournament's 25-year history.

"That's the closest I've hit my wedge in some time," he said after blistering the back nine with five of his birdies.

"And on this course, you sure do get your wedge going," WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) - Rik Massengale, a winner just once in seven years on the PGA Tour, shot a six-under-par 65 to grab the first-round lead Thursday in the $210,000 Greater Hartford Open.

A formidable quartet of J.C. Snead, Art Wall Jr., Chi Chi Rodriguez and Billy Casper were at 67, two shots behind Massengale.

Ten players were grouped at 68, including gallery favorites Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino and 64-year-old Sam Snead, uncle of J.C.

While many players' match or bettered par, the 6,598-yard Wethersfield Country Club course did not take the beating it usually does. Shift winds early in the day accounted for the relatively high scores.

Dave Stockton, who won the tourney in 1974 with a 16-under 68, was in the clubhouse with a 73.

course, and today they gave me four real easy birdies."

Massengale, presently 31th on the PGA money list, won the 1975 Tallahassee Open, his only career victory.

Both Wall and J.C. Snead said they had "dull rounds" in posting 67, while Casper, always a threat at Wethersfield because of his putting, "liked the way things looked" after the first 18 holes. Casper has won this tournament four times.

Palmer, struggling through his lowest season at 123rd on the earnings list, capped the first hole, a par 4, with a 75-yard wedge shot.

"I didn't see the ball go in the hole," Palmer said, "but I knew it was a pretty good darn shot."

Palmer had just one birdie, a four-footer on the ninth, and 16 pars to go along with his opening eagle.

Sam Snead, who fired a 34-34, won in Wethersfield in 1955 and had not returned since.

"More scores like the one I had today," Snead said, "will coax a man to coming back more often."

Asked if the course played harder today than 20 years ago, Snead grinned. "For me, it did."

Two share title in many women's meet

TWIN FALLS - Eighteen under par was no good in the Twin Falls women's annual Invitational Thursday.

In fact, 19 under par could get you only a tie for first place as a total of 84 women and 21 teams participated in the four-woman, best ball competition.

Sharing first-place was the quartet of Carol Coontz, Arda Amende, Ruth Dugan and Bernice and the foursome of Virginia Morgan, Dulce Hatch, Wilma Driscoll and Veronica Detweiler.

Tied at 52 were Leonora Kasworm, Mildred Lynch, Marg Hurbert and Mildred Spran and Vannie Standlee, Ruth Burgess, Peggy Shockley and Grinda Staff.

At 53 were Sergene Sorenson, Charlotte Van Engelen, Donna Michael, Merriam Sellers and the team of Pat Williams, Meyer, Saxe and Hopkins.

Coontz, Amende, Dugan and Bennett had the best frontside score, a 19-under 22 while three teams shared the best second nine at 24.

Virginia Undermyer fired an 87 on her home course to win medalist honors.

Bryant and Paterno top NCAA coaches

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Alabama's Bear Bryant and Penn State's Joe Paterno head into the 1976 football season with the best records among major college coaches.

Bryant, whose teams have compiled a record of 253-72-16 over 31 years, has more victories than any active coach. Woody Hayes of Ohio State is a distant second with 213 wins, against 72 losses and eight ties in 30 years.

But Paterno, who has been a head coach for a much shorter 10 years, has the best winning percentage among the active major college coaches.

Paterno's Penn-State teams have amassed a record of 94-101 for a winning percentage of .483. Arizona State's Frank Kush (151-29-1) is second at .793 following a 12-0 season last fall.

Michigan (106-20-1) is third with a .709 percentage followed by Bryant at .705 and Hayes at .764.

US golfers blanked in world match play

GLENEAGLES, Scotland (UPI) — Johnny Miller slumped dejectedly onto a stool in the caddy shed at Gleneagles Thursday and glumly surveyed the wreckage of an American golf disaster in the first round of the $45,000 World Match Play championships.

The 29-year-old British Open champion had just been humbled 2 and 1 by Spanish teenager Severiano Ballesteros, runner-up to Miller at Southport, England two months ago. Dave Hill and Mark Hayes fell victim to an 18th hole bunker and 1975 U.S. Champion Lou Graham had troubles all day. When it was all over, the U.S. was whitewashed 4-0 by the all-Spanish Europe team in its first round.

An exhausted Miller said to his teammates: "Okay fellows, it's bad but one defeat doesn't mean we are going to be the dogs for the rest of the week." "Jerry, I'm exhausted," Miller said to Jerry Heard, who did not play the first round. "The kids woke me up at 2 a.m. asking if it was time for breakfast. They have got jet lag just as bad as I have. So I am not playing tomorrow morning against Wales, you take over."

Miller hurried back to his luxury suite to catch up on lost sleep and leave Ballesteros, happily savoring his hour of glory. "If Miller had played like that at Birkdale he would have lost by plenty. Today I am much contented," said the 19-year-old Spaniard.

Miller, who had arrived direct from San Francisco only 24 hours before his first golf outing in three weeks following a motorcycle accident, blamed lack of local knowledge for his downfall. But it was soon evident the American had underestimated the confident young Spaniard.

Miller went out of bounds at the back of the second hole to take a double bogey six and never held the initiative. He was two down after 13 and departed at the 17th in a nice twist to the match play reprise of their British Open battle.

Miller took a driver and hammered his tee shot into the bushes. Ballesteros, having been taught the lesson by his Open conqueror, took a one iron and arched his ball down the center of the fairway, twisting the knife with a winning par four.

Hill, the Ryder Cup international from Colorado, took two shots in an 18th fairway bunker to go down by one hole to Salvador Balbuena, the Portuguese Open Champion, who had a 66 against Hill's 67.

Hayes followed Hill's unfortunate example to fall by the same margin to Antonio Garrido, while Graham's poor putting sent him crashing 2 and 1 to 23-year-old Manuel Pinero, the new Swiss Open champion and captain of the Europe side.

The U.S. must win both its remaining games against Scotland and Wales, who tied 2-2 in the afternoon, to have a chance of reaching the semifinals of the eight-team tournament.

England, after storming to a 3-1 victory win over Australia in group one in the morning, went down by the same score in the afternoon session.

Skipper Tony Jacklin, promoted himself to top spot only to lose to South African Hugh Baloch 2 and 1, while Tommy Horton, another morning winner, was soundly beaten 5 and 3 by Argentinian Vicente Fernandez, who had replaced world team captain Gary Player of South Africa. Rhodesian Simon Hobday defeated Neil Coles 2 and 1 and it was left to Martin Foster to gain England's only point with a 4 and 2 victory over Kazuo Yoshiikawa of Japan.

Ireland, who had tied 2-2 with the rest of the World team in the morning thanks to Eddie Pollard's last green win over player, also drew 2-2 with Australasia in the afternoon.

The top two in each group Friday night go forward to Saturday's semifinals.

Steelers impressed with new attack of New York Giants

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The New York Giants may not be ready to call themselves a turnaround football team after two straight exhibition victories, but Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Chuck Noll is. Noll watched two game films of the Giants to prepare for the Steelers' preseason home opener with them on national television here Friday night, and he came away impressed. "In all aspects they're improved," Noll said Thursday after the Steelers' last tune-up before the game at Linc Laitrobe, Pa. training camp. "Their ability to possess the football against Houston shows their running game has lots of muscle, and we know they can throw the ball. The defense played well when Houston started coming back, and their kicking game is improved." Noll said the Giants, 5-9 nine in last year's regular season, "are a much improved team." But veteran Giants are not so sure—despite their last minute 16-14 victory over the New York Jets and their 30-14 triumph over the Oilers last week. "We've got to find out if Houston had a bad day or we just had a good one," said veteran Giants' linebacker Brad Van Pelt. "Pittsburgh will be a good challenge for us. Noll, although usually cautious in his assessments, probably would agree after watching his two-time Super Bowl champions rack up four straight preseason victories. "We're fine; we're making normal progress," he said. "Our defense has played well in preseason games. We've got a lot of our backup players who are playing well." Noll's only complaint is that several injuries to first year players have prevented him from making fair assessments of the rookie crop. But those first year players who have seen a lot of action are making good impressions. Noll is particularly pleased with the play of tight end Bennie Cunningham, the Steelers top draft choice, and running back Jack DeLoatch out of Salem College. Marv Kellum's back-up play at middle linebacker has offset the absence of injured veteran Jack Lambert, while a couple of stalwart substitutes from last year, Steve Furness and John Banaszak are filling in capably for Dwight White, who injured a knee. "The Giants also have injury problems. Fullback Larry Coker is hurting his neck against Houston and will not play, leaving a spot open for the Giants' top rusher last year, Joe Dawkins. Giants' quarterback Craig Morton is expected to play despite back spasms during the week. At wide receiver, only two veterans are healthy: Walker Gillette and Ray Rhodes. Giants' Coach Bill Arnsparger said neither the injuries nor the Steelers' apparent strength were worrying him. "We'll play this one just like all our other exhibitions," he said. "Number one, we want to look at people, number two we want to give our regulars some work and number three we want to win the game."

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is not a good time to make serious decisions. Conditions change later enabling you to handle them sensibly. Evening is a good time for entertaining at home.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Avoid an irate partner in the morning; later all goes smoothly. Get as much work done as you can during the day.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Avoid one who keeps you from getting your work done. A letter you receive may annoy you at the time, but is to your benefit later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Financial problems bother you early, wane until lunch so you can come to right decisions. Improve diet and feel better.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Difficult situations arise early in the day, but later you think clearly and can take care of them wisely. Take time for fun later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You find it difficult to handle personal problems early in the day, but later you think of clever ways to handle them. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Help a friend in need early, then enjoy his or her company later. Leave more serious thoughts for a later time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Tackle chores early and you free time for some new and interesting outlet later in the day. Avoid an idle gossip who wastes your time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are thinking of having fun, but first take care of necessary chores. Drive with utmost care today and tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your intuition is not working well this morning, but later it is just fine. Rely on it. Out with a loved with this evening for some fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Avoid arguments early in the day. Enjoy a good friend come on the scene who makes you happy. Take no chances with reputation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A good day to put your surroundings in order and to plan how to make your work easier in the future. Good day for updating wardrobe, too.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have creative ideas that need work on them early so you can later have success in public with them. Recreation best after lunch.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... ...he or she will want to have the best of everything even though the parents are unable to supply it; Teach early to be content despite some deprivations and teach to work for what is wanted. Then this becomes a successful chart.

Ecclesiastes 10-20 reads: "Reville not the king, nor in thy thought; and reville not the rich in thy bedchamber for a bird of the heavens shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall carry the matter." Our Language "man" says "that fancy bit of poetry was where we got the kitchen-vernacular phrase: "A little bird told me."

It has been widely reported that the four basic tastes are salty, sweet, sour and bitter. Can you figure out which of these is the primary taste of fish? It's sweet.

The original print was the volume of one pound of wine at wine-cellar temperature... Claim is that $8 Million in change and currency is lost annually in the back seats of taxicabs... Octopuses swim singly or in pairs; but squids-like-to-move about in schools; got that?

EPILEPSY

A. Ida McKinley. That's why President William McKinley set aside previous White House protocol to let his wife sit beside him at state dinners. He wanted her close.

Ants, too, talk to one another; that's been proved. Though scientists have taken pictures of the sound waves with oscillographs, they haven't yet been able to translate that ant talk. Stand by, however.

More than half the people on earth rely solely on animal muscle for power.

THREAD OF GASOLINE
Is it conceivable that a thread no thicker than the hair from a horse's tail could tow a car for 15 miles? If that thread were made of gasoline, it is. A gallon of gasoline squirted into a fine stream over 15 miles would be of such horsehair thickness. And give it take a mile or five, depending; that's how far that gallon will move that car, sir.

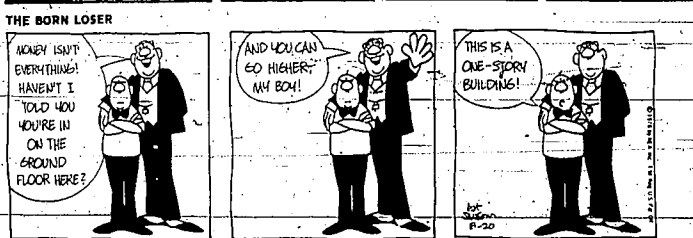

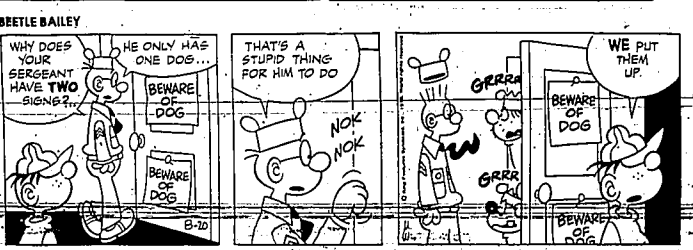

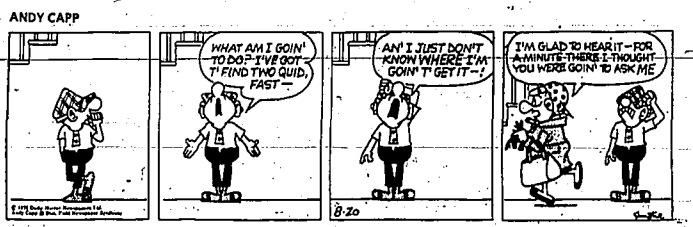

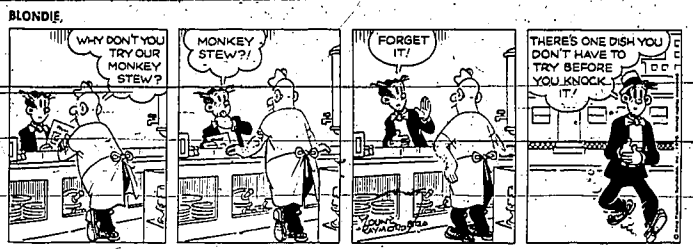

Rum, too, originated in China... Tea used to be pronounced "tay"... Dogs do, indeed, get hay fever.

The map makers have never drawn a map that needs more than four colors, yet usually, they've not been able to prove that four colors are enough for any map.

Nervous robber hits self

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — A nervous robber who didn't watch where he was going backed into a restaurant door and shot himself in the foot.

"He didn't realize when he shot himself, he just took off running," said W. D. Starks, who was alone in his restaurant at the time of the robbery Wednesday.

"He was shaking all over when he got the money and my jewelry off," Starks said, "he backed up to the door and the gun went off."

Police arrested Clarence Winn, 33, at a hospital, where he sought treatment.

Summer pays Idaho return visit

Halley, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Mostly fair through Saturday and a little warmer. High temperatures Saturday 75 to 80, overnight lows tonight in the mid-30s.

Sunday's outlook: increasing clouds.

Synopsis: A cold front extends from the Pacific Ocean through Washington into northern Idaho today. The strong westerly flow aloft will keep this front from moving southward, therefore having little effect on Magic Valley weather. Good drying conditions are expected to return to the Magic Valley area over the weekend with lots of sunshine and light winds expected.

Extended outlook for Sunday through Tuesday: slougers near the mountain area. High temperatures in the mid-70s to lower 80s, and overnight lows in the 40s.

New method tests blood sugar level

NEW YORK — A new method of measuring the amounts of sugar in human blood has been developed by a group of medical researchers working at Rockefeller University here.

The technique, based on measurements of the levels of one type of hemoglobin in the blood, is expected to provide a more accurate system of monitoring the effectiveness of therapy in diabetics, a disease that afflicts about 10 million Americans.

The new procedure, according to the researchers, also holds out the hope that it may eventually be possible to pinpoint more precisely the relationship between diabetes and its secondary life-threatening complications, such as kidney, heart, eye and vascular ailments, which occur more often in diabetics.

The results of the scientists' research, conducted on five hospitalized diabetics and 30 diabetic outpatients, are described in Thursday's issue of The New England Journal of Medicine. A supportive editorial accompanies the report.

Diabetes, known in its most common form as diabetes mellitus, can produce weakness, weight loss, fatigue and excessive urination, depending on its severity. These symptoms are caused by a chronic metabolic disorder in which the body's ability to break down and metabolize sugar in the blood is impaired or lost, usually because of a hormonal insulin deficiency.

Therapy consists of insulin injections in the more severe cases and, in less severe cases, oral doses of chemicals that control the symptoms of abnormal amounts of sugar in the blood. The type and amount of therapy depend on regular monitoring of blood sugar levels.

Current monitoring methods consist of blood and urine tests that disclose the amounts of blood sugar present at the time of the test. Because blood sugar levels are subject to wide daily fluctuations, the existing methods are relatively imprecise unless they are conducted on an almost daily basis.

Aware that recent laboratory studies had shown that concentrations of one hemoglobin (that part of the blood that transports oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues) increased significantly in the diabetic state, the researchers' blood sugar levels caused changes in the levels of the hemoglobin component.

Thus, if a patient's therapy was altered to further lower his blood sugar levels, a proportionate reduction in the hemoglobin component occurred.
