

Mondale, Dole on tonight

HOUSTON (UPI) — Walter Mondale and Robert Dole have debated before, but usually with a handful of Senate gallery spectators looking on.

Tonight, a nationwide audience will take their measure for 75 minutes in the first debate in history of vice presidential candidates.

The two running mates engaged in a bit of psychological warfare upon their arrival in Houston Thursday, with Dole admitting to some nervousness, and Mondale projecting a confident pose.

Dole, the Kansas senator who served for three years as GOP chairman, won the coin toss and will read the opening statement and the first question. Democrat Mondale closes the debate with his summation.

Dole said he was "nervous" about the encounter in Houston's Alley Theater, while Mondale admitted only to a "certain air of anticipation."

The debate, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, begins at 7:30 p.m. MDT and will be broadcast live on television and the three commercial networks.

Under the league's format, the candidates will answer questions from three reporters chosen for each debate.

Dole, a conservative, and Mondale, a liberal, will each have an opening statement of up to two minutes. The questions will rotate among journalists and the answers will rotate between candidates.

"I don't think they're going to be dull," Mondale said of tonight's exchanges, "but I don't know how Dole plans to perform." The Minnesota senator said the encounter "will be slightly more lively" than the two previous debates between President Ford and Jimmy Carter.

For whatever reasons, Dole, known for his biting sarcasm, has spent much of the pre-debate period downplaying his significance. He has repeatedly asked whether more people will be out watching high school football games than inside watching the two candidates.

On the other hand, Mondale's aides say he will stress his serious side, in anticipation of a possibly lighthearted treatment by Dole. That assessment, they said, was based on years of watching both men in Senate debates.

Mondale, his aides said, would emphasize economic issues, "mismanagement" by the administration, and a foreign policy he says does not reflect the values of the American people. He said he had not discussed his approach with Carter.

WASHINGTON — The political effects of President Ford's blunder on Eastern Europe in the second debate with Jimmy Carter may have been prolonged because Secretary of State Henry Kissinger didn't have the heart to tell Ford immediately that he had made a mistake.

It was learned yesterday that Ford called Kissinger in Washington five minutes after the Oct. 6 debate in San Francisco to discuss his performance. But Kissinger, though convinced the best thing would have been to admit the mistake right away, could not bring himself to tell the President.

Fifteen minutes later, however, Kissinger phoned Gen. Brent Scowcroft, the White House national security adviser, and conveyed his frank opinion on the blunder. Scowcroft promptly called a press conference in San Francisco to explain that when Ford said there was no Soviet domination of Eastern Europe, he meant to say that he did not accept any Soviet domination. However, the White House staff could not persuade the President to issue a clarification until the next afternoon. And he did not, in fact, admit making a mistake until Tuesday, giving Carter six days to exploit the issue.

Drug tests draw blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With a slap of the entire drug industry for test methods, the Food and Drug Administration is cracking down on a widely prescribed non-aspirin arthritis painkiller whose manufacturer allegedly covered up "damaging laboratory studies."

The drug, Naprosyn, came on the U.S. market only last March. It boomed from 3,000 prescriptions that month to nearly 100,000 a month later in the year.

Church paid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Election Commission has authorized an additional $35,623 in matching funds for four Democratic primary candidates, bringing the total federal payments to 15 candidates in both parties to $23,223,121.

The FEC Thursday approved $14,165.96 for Morris Udall; $10,241.52 for Edmund G. Brown Jr.; $8,226 for Birch Bayh and $2,809.39 for Frank Church.

'Clean' Ford hits campaign trail again

PRESIDENT FORD ... 'very pleased'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jubilant that the special prosecutor gave him a clean bill of health on past campaign financing, President Ford turns once again to vote seeking today with a two-day midwestern swing that will include an Illinois "whistle stop" train tour.

The Fords danced until nearly 1 a.m. today at the White House, celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary and saluting dancer — Martha Graham who was presented the Medal of Freedom at a dinner party in her honor.

Earlier in the evening Ford held a press conference — his first full-scale televised meeting with reporters since February — and said he was pleased at having received the prosecutor's notice that the investigation of congressional campaign financing questions was being closed with no evidence of wrongdoing.

He said he was "glad he has finally put this matter to rest once and for all" and hoped the campaign could now be devoted to more serious national issues.

Leaving early today for Des Moines, Ford planned to spend most of the day stumping Iowa with a speech on the campus of Iowa State University and a visit to the King Farm at Boone, where he will tour farm facilities.

In the early evening he will fly to Chicago and motorcade to Joliet, Ill., for the night.

Investigation of congressional campaign financing questions was being closed with no evidence of wrongdoing.

Carter seeks liberal aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jimmy Carter, still a stranger to many of them, is asking Democratic liberals to cast off their doubt and join his crusade for the White House.

The former Georgia governor, who slorned to the Democratic presidential nomination despite the active opposition of liberals, conceded "we may not agree on everything" and said that they may consider some of his beliefs conservative.

But he added, "I think we can agree that this nation has been in trouble for eight years and needs new leadership if it is once again to achieve its full potential for greatness."

In a major speech to a dinner of New York's "Liberal Party," Carter bluntly said: "I need your help."

The speech, warmly but not enthusiastically received by close to 2,000 persons, capped a day of campaigning through New York state including stops in Rochester and Syracuse where big crowds turned out to greet him on the sidewalks and at rallies.

arriving in time to watch his running mate Sen. Robert A. Dole and Jimmy Carter's running mate Sen. Walter Mondale, engage in a 75-minute nationally televised debate in Houston.

Mrs. Ford will join her husband in Joliet for the train ride.

Saturday morning, Ford boarded the "Honest Abe" for a nine-hour whistle stop trip from Joliet through Pontiac, Bloomington, Lincoln, Springfield, and Carlinville to Illinois.

He will then motorcade to St. Louis where he will appear at a rally at the Northwest Shopping Center, and return to Washington Saturday night.

Next week Ford was expected to return to his "Host Garden" campaigning sticking close to the White House while he does intensive homework for his third and showdown — debate with Carter at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va., next Friday.

From then on except for a day or so respite, Ford will take his political show on the road until election day Nov. 2, winding up in his native Grand Rapids, Mich., on election eve to vote in his hometown before returning to Washington.

Carter also paid an unscheduled visit to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., who is recovering from cancer surgery, and watched President Ford's news conference in a small room of a Queens restaurant.

He later told reporters he did not feel Ford had "really" answered questions about whether the President sought to block an early Watergate investigation before the 1972 election.

Asked to comment on Ford's charge that Carter was slandering the country, Carter said "my criticism of this administration cannot be translated into criticism of the whole country."

In the speech, Carter alluded to the press conference and said, "I don't know how well I did in the first two debates, but I think I did pretty well in the press conference tonight."

Carter is running on both the Democratic and Liberal Party slate in New York state. The sometimes maverick Liberal Party has endorsed Carter, thinking that could bring him perhaps 150,000 to 200,000 votes which could be crucial in the quest for the state's 41 electoral votes.

Checkbook fudging even by President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Even President Ford has to fudge a little in his checkbook to cover those ever present bills.

Ford said as much Thursday night during his news conference when he was asked about some aspects of his personal finances which emerged in a review of his bank records and tax returns during his vice presidential confirmation hearings.

The examination showed that at one point, the checks Ford had written put his bank account $3,000 in the red but the account was reimbursed by that amount.

The President was asked how then Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., came up with that much money so quickly?

"That was my next paycheck," Ford said to a good deal of laughter.

He continued, "I think a few people in this country have written checks, and then waited until the end of the month and then mailed the checks. We mailed those checks after we had the money in the account but I wrote the checks before the end of the month," Ford said.

"It's a perfectly legitimate thing and there was never an overdraft in my account."

Ford did not respond directly to a question on how he said his wife Betty managed to live in high-priced Washington on only $3 to $15 in each week during 1972, as tax returns while he was in Congress showed.

He said instead, that Congress, investigating him before he became vice president, had given him "a clean bill of health."

"Those are the facts of life," Ford said. "I write checks."

'Generic' drug sale a good idea

In an Idaho election year—where issues are as rare as white elephants' legislative candidate George Anthony has come up with a good idea...

Anyone who has compared the prices on different bottles of aspirin knows how retail charges vary for essentially the same product...

Prices also vary on prescription drugs. Doctors, like 'any consumer,' have favorites...

In some cases, generic drugs are 50 per cent less expensive than trade-name drugs.

If Anthony's idea is adopted, buyers of prescription drugs can request their prescription be filled with a drug with a different brand name than the doctor recommends...

Certainly the elderly and low-income groups would endorse this proposal. In fact, all consumers probably would like the idea of saving a few dollars at the drug counter...

Some drug stores probably would balk at the idea of prescription substitution because the practice could cut into their profit margin.

Democratic candidate Anthony doesn't suggest all pharmacists abide with the change in the drug laws...

Other drug outlets, however, certainly would welcome the chance to sell lower-priced drugs, betting that most customers would like to pay less for drugs...

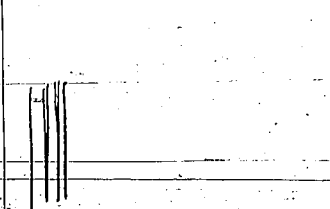

District 24 candidate George Anthony may not win on Nov. 2 even with one good idea...

George Anthony's idea might ease the strain on the pocketbook of every Idahoan who has ever had a prescription filled.

Silence reigns supreme

By NEA/London Economist News Service NEW DELHI — (LENS) — Indians were in a glee-filled mood before Indira Gandhi proclaimed her emergency a year ago...

The telephoneless millions of course have no worries about taps and bugs' Urban intellectuals, who have never got much closer to their impoverished neighbors than the foreign passers-through...

But the poor are not the only people in India for whom emergency survival comes first. The fear of losing a livelihood is what prevented more than two top civil servants from resigning in protest against the emergency...

The writers on India's censored newspapers are a demoralized lot. Some have retained a sense of integrity by writing in coded political jobs...

telephoned order to print such and such a story on page one — as well as negative ones, leeway is extremely limited and most editors find it safer to conform.

Lawyers are another group directly affected by the rash of new restrictive legislation. The only law have gone to battle in defense of the legal system, contesting the curbs on civil rights in the courts...

Businessmen are a hapless group, largely because of the recent budget which confirmed the rightward shift in economic policy that began before the emergency...

The drive against corruption which is one of the flashpoints of the emergency has turned out to be a convoluted cover for dealing with anybody who is defiant or uncooperative.

The effect of the emergency on genuine corruption is difficult to measure. Some people have been fired from the civil service, mostly at lower levels, but notably not a single Congress party functionary has been hit.

A group of intellectuals is working on a new political framework to counter Mrs. Gandhi's plan — which seems to be to institutionalize the emergency.

The problem with such worthy prescriptions is that they assume a free marketplace of ideas.

Democratic forms can assist the functioning of a democracy but they can also be used to disguise its opposite.

Softball, fire ants ahead?

WASHINGTON — There is always a suspicion amongst Republicans that the working press favors the Democratic candidate. This may have been the case in the past...

The White House Press Corps, as most people know, have to follow the President wherever he goes. When President Kennedy was in the White House they could look forward to going to Hyannisport in the summer and Palm Beach in the winter.

From the point of view of traveling, President Nixon was a dream subject to cover. When he was in the White House, the only thing missing from the blue waters of the Pacific Ocean was the President's wetsuit.

When Gerry Ford became President the White House Press Corps traveling was cut down tremendously except for occasional trips to Vail. This took a lot of the fun out of covering a President...

nights holed up in Americus, Ga., a town that has been stonewalled in 20 years.

'The only thing to do in Plains,' complained a friend of mine who has been covering Presidents since Kennedy, 'is playing softball and kill fire ants. The idea of playing shortstop for four years is enough to make you sick.'

'Maybe they'll organize square dances for you?' I said, trying to cheer him up. 'It's not funny,' he said. 'When we covered Nixon we could hand in expense accounts of $100 a day and no one would bat an eye.'

'I think you're being too honest. In time you will even look forward to going to Plains, Ga. The air is fresh, the sun is warm and the people are friendly.'

'What you're not telling me is that you're not going to vote for Carter?' I said.

'I'm not, but my wife is,' he replied. 'After all the stories she's heard about what we did in Hyannisport, Palm Beach, Austin, San Clemente, Key Biscayne and Vail, she thinks Jimmy Carter's ocean farm would make the perfect summer White House.'

If accepting this worthy environmental objective will slow down our effort to regain energy independence and a stronger economy, then of necessity I must weigh all factors involved.

Mao's widow, radical trio denounced, arrested

HONG KONG (UPI) — Mao Tse-tung's widow and three other radical leaders purged from China's top leadership in two major attacks, Peking sources said today.

Wall posters attacking Chiang Ching and three other members of the so-called "Shanghai Mafia" by name reportedly appeared in Shanghai and the central city of Wuhan, Peking sources, speaking with UPI in Hong Kong by telephone, said the posters had been seen by foreign travelers.

The German news agency DPA today quoted "reliable sources" in Peking as saying the four had been arrested at a mountain resort about 18 miles from the capital.

The posters in Shanghai and Wuhan described Madame Mao and the others — Chang Chunghang, Wang Hung-wen and Yao Wen-yuan — as "conspirators," the sources quoted the travelers as saying. "All four were members of the party's politburo."

The sources said a Chinese official in Peking told a foreign diplomat that three persons had been killed in events of the past week, sparking rumors that the radicals had tried to assassinate new Communist party leader Hua Kuo-feng and were killed in the process.

The sources emphasized, however, that the assassination theory was "only a rumor" at this stage.

"The Chinese official did not say whether the three killed were among the four radical leaders or not," the sources said.

Many new posters went up on the campus of two major universities in Peking which have been hotbeds of radical activity in the past. But it was not known whether they attacked the radical leaders by name because foreigners were barred from the campuses of Peking and Tsinghua universities, the sources said. Earlier in the day, Peking Radio reported that students and faculty members at both schools had put up posters declaring support for Hua-as Mao's successor and the decisions taken by "the party center headed by Hua Kuofeng."

Rhodesia accord path set

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Prime Minister Ian Smith said today he would make a pact with "moderate" blacks outside the nationalist movement if the Geneva conference on establishing an interim government for Rhodesia collapses.

Smith, in a television interview aired today, said he would "genuinely and honestly" attempt to reach agreement with the moderate nationalists at the conference, which opens informally next Thursday and officially convenes Oct. 25.

Asked what his options would be if the British-sponsored talks break down, he said: "I would then come back to Rhodesia, I believe, and gather the more moderate black Rhodesians and together we would go forward."

"There are many black Rhodesians here, moderate people, who want to work with us," Smith said. "I've had a number of messages over the last few weeks indicating this to me."

NEWHOUSE NEWS SERVICE — WASHINGTON — W. Averell Harriman, one month short of his 85th birthday, stated his credentials: "I have been dealing with the Soviet Union for 50 years, since Trotsky."

"The Kremlin," he said, "has committed itself to a policy of peace, and detente with us."

Syrians, leftists fight for highway

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Palestinian and Syrian troops battled along the Damascus highway southeast of Beirut today and Christian forces inside the city pounded the Moslem half of the capital with heavy mortar and rocket fire that claimed dozens of civilian casualties.

Shells fell indiscriminately all over the Ras Beirut and Hamra residential sectors of west Beirut. One mortar alone caused 22 casualties when it slammed into a street outside the city's old, outdoor, cafe-spoken for the American University Hospital said.

Palestinians said they stopped a Syrian advance toward Beirut late Thursday night at the main traffic intersection inside the town of Bhandoun, 13 miles from Beirut on the Damascus highway.

The Syrians replied with heavy artillery barrages in Palestinian positions along the western edge of the town. The thunder of the Syrian guns could be heard as far away as Beirut.

The Palestinians said heavy noise-to-house fighting was raging inside Bhandoun as they tried to face off Syrian tanks with recoilless rifles, rocket-fired grenades, machine guns and mortars.

The neighboring town of Aley, the Palestinians' other main stronghold on the highway, was also coming under heavy assault from Syrian artillery and Christian forces attacking its northwestern outskirts from nearby Kahleh, military spokesmen said.

In the south, the Syrians were reported to have advanced well past Roum, captured at the start of their three-day offensive to the approaches to the Hillyeh hills overlooking the eastern entrance to Sidon, 30 miles south of Beirut.

Canadian strike fails to impress

More than a million Canadians marched, demonstrated, and banged the prime minister in effigy in a nationwide one-day general strike against wage and price controls Thursday, but it failed to impress the government.

In what was called by one labor leader "the birth of the Canadian labor movement" workers in steel and auto plants, mines and forests, hospitals, newspapers and transport and service industries joined in mass rallies, placard-waving parades and demonstrations in over 150 Canadian cities from Nova Scotia to Vancouver Island.

Philippe of Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and Anti-Inflation Board chairman Jean-Jacques Pepin, who administers the wage control policy, were dangled from the pillars of the Ontario legislative buildings.

But Labor Minister John Munro said: "The government will not abandon controls because of the day of protest. To do so would be a tragic disaster for Canada's economy."

"Why should anyone want to give up just when all our efforts are beginning to show results?" he said, proposing continued talks between labor, business and government on economic problems.

The national day of protest was organized by the Canadian Labor Congress against the government's three-year program of wage-price controls enacted a year ago. An estimated 1.05 million of a total workforce of 10 million walked off their jobs.

"No other labor group has ever in the history of the world organized a protest which spanned an entire continent," said CIO vice-president L. H. Lorrain. "History will call this the birth of the Canadian labor movement."

Virus said fever cause

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — A virus spread by the green monkey has been identified as the cause of a mysterious bleeding fever that has killed at least 300 people in central Africa, the World Health Organization says.

The disease, known as Green Monkey Fever, causes a high fever, body aches and loss of blood and other body fluids through violent vomiting and diarrhea.

"This disease is extremely dangerous," a spokesman for the Geneva-based health organization said in identifying the fever Thursday.

A deadly green monkey virus was discovered nine years ago, but the outbreak in the Sudan and Zaïre is a new variety, WHO said.

No vaccine exists to combat the new strain.

"We finally know the enemy but we still have to find a weapon to defeat it," said Dr. Stefan Pattijn of the Institute of Tropical Diseases in Antwerp, Belgium.

people Entertainer not recognized

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The NBC television network didn't know that Country Music Association Entertainer of the Year Mel Tillis was in the music business when it rejected four stuttering dog food commercials he did, a spokesman said Thursday.

"How were we supposed to know who he was?" said Ernie Otis, the head of NBC's public relations department. "We didn't know Tillis was famous for his stuttering."

Tillis and CBS had turned down the commercials for Purina Dog Chow saying Tillis' stuttering could be offensive to some viewers.

Princess pregnant?

LONDON (UPI) — A tabloid newspaper speculated today that Princess Anne, the daughter of Queen Elizabeth, is expecting her first baby.

The Daily Mirror said George Douglas Pinner, the queen's gynecologist since 1963, canceled a lecture tour of South Africa scheduled for next year.

"Instead, he says, he has to be in England between Feb. 14 and March 14 next year. The Mirror said "medical sources" at his hospital "believe his trip is off because Anne is expecting."

"We do not know whether or not she is pregnant," a Buckingham Palace spokesman said of the queen's daughter. "Presumably she will be one day."

The princess is married to Captain Mark Phillips.

Actor bankrupt

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Former actor Vincent Edwards has filed a bankruptcy petition, claiming debts of more than $102,731 and assets of only $1,064.

Edwards, who starred in the "Dr. Ben Casey" television series, said his liabilities were, for the most part, personal loans and fees owed to business management agents.

Edwards listed his occupation as screenwriter but said he was unemployed.

Dancer honored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford Thursday presented modern dance pioneer Martha Graham with the Medal of Freedom — the highest civilian award he can bestow.

It was no White House secret that Miss Graham's selection stemmed in part from urging by Mrs. Ford who danced with her company before her marriage to the President.

New disorder, MBD diagnosed

SPOKANE (UPI) — When Mary Chapman was a little girl taking ballet lessons she had to wear a pink ribbon around her ankle so she could tell her right foot from her left.

"It was awful. Everybody laughed at me at school. I couldn't tell right from left. I couldn't remember the spelling bees," she said.

The doctors call it minimal brain dysfunction. It is a relatively new diagnosis that encompasses hyperactivity and dyslexia — a combination of the wiggles and reading disability that hits five to ten school children out of 100.

Mrs. Chapman, 29, still reads like a first grader. She said she is striving to get to a third grade level.

Experts say 80 per cent of MBD cases are boys, though they don't have a clue why girls are less prone to the disorder.

Doctors started pulling together the idea of MBD in the 1960s to cover children of average or above average IQ's that have mixed symptoms of hyperactivity and dyslexia.

"Before that, most children went undiagnosed," said Dr. John Peters, head of the child center study at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

"Now I'm afraid we have the opposite problem — a tendency to jump to MBD whenever a child has trouble in school," he said.

Peters was in Spokane for a symposium on MBD. He said typical symptoms include a short attention span, inability to distinguish right from left, trouble speaking, reading and writing.

Peters said he favored prescribing medication for severe cases. Common drugs for the disorder are Ritalin, Dexedrine and Cylert — stimulants to help the attention span and aid the child's concentration.

"Children don't get a high from it because the doses are so low," said Peters. "They don't get addicted. We know now that it doesn't make the child tend toward drug abuse."

Peters said his experience has been that medication is effective in one third of his cases, uncertain in one third and no improvement in a third.

'Doing nothing makes me sick,' says German woman

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — Many would think Felicitas Strippen has a dream job. She says it's a nightmare.

Mrs. Strippen, 57, a senior civil servant, says she is getting paid $280 a week for doing nothing.

"I have put on 20 pounds because of idleness," she said. "How would you like to sit in a small office day after day with nothing to do but look at a few newspapers."

Mrs. Strippen took the unusual step of going to court to sue for more work.

Her action has aroused widespread interest among West Germans, many of whom believe that too many bureaucrats are doing too little with their tax money. Word is spreading in Bonn that other civil servants, angered by their own idleness, are going to sue the government, too.

Mrs. Strippen's suit was settled Tuesday before a labor court in Bonn. To her disappointment and that of the German Employees Union, the court did not order the government, for wasting money.

But it did direct the housing ministry to give Mrs. Strippen "at least a minimum of work consistent with her pay scale."

Mrs. Strippen presented a "work diary" to prove her case. The entries showed that for one 31-day period she did absolutely nothing — with the exception of one day in which she had a flu attack.

Her entry for July 16 was typical. It read: "Hours. Two files have been placed on my desk." But then a postscript: "It was a mistake. They were for someone else."

During her first 14 years with the ministry, she said she had no complaints. Then she was ill for five months when she returned someone else's

Ford invites himself to Iowa farm

BOONE, Iowa (UPI) — What do you say when the President of the United States invites himself to dinner?

"Well, our first reaction is that it's kinda awesome," says Marshall King, who was selected to be Ford's host as the President makes a major campaign drive to regain himself with Iowa farmers.

"It's a shock, but it's quite a humbling experience."

As the first phase of Ford's two-day campaign swing through the upper Midwest farm belt, Ford campaign officials earlier this week tapped King and his wife Alice to prepare the President's dinner for what'll be like living on a Iowa farm.

Although the Ford trip comes during the final days of the tall harvest season, King said what few reservations he had about today's visit quickly dissipated.

"You do have mixed emotions," he said. "You're kind of happy, yet you have first day to get your feet back on the ground and most every emotion you possess goes through you at one time or another."

Ford was scheduled to spend more than an hour on the King farm, touring the operation that annually produces 1,400 head of cattle, 100,000 bushels of soybeans, hay and oats.

"Anything he might be interested in, we're going to show him," King said, adding he was "glad to see the imposition of the presidential visit in exchange for what he termed "an experience that you wouldn't trade for anything once it's over."

King said he saw his role as showing him "Ford's a good Iowa farm and giving a good image for agriculture." As part of that image, Ford campaign officials decided the President should join the King family for dinner — an event that passed problems of its own.

The guest list included Marshall and Alice King, their mothers, one grandfather, five children and one grandchild.

Mrs. King was charged with preparing the menu.

"We want to serve him like anyone else," King said. "We're in the beef industry, so we'll have a beef tenderloin and a hamlet, but an adequate dinner."

The 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals court said Thursday that the transcript of her trial must be ready by Oct. 29.

Miss Hearst still faces trial in January, in Los Angeles, on charges of taking part with SLA members William and Emily Harris in a crime spree.

Arguments slated

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Oral arguments in Patricia Hearst's attempt to win a new trial on bank robbery charges are set for March 7.

Miss Hearst, 22, was sentenced Sept. 21 to seven years in prison on charges of robbing a San Francisco bank with the Symbionese Liberation Army 10 weeks after her kidnapping by the terrorist group Miss Hearst's daughter of San Francisco, E. X. Ammer, President Randolph A. Hearst, was convicted by a U.S. District Court jury.

She will be eligible for parole in 15 1/2 months and is serving her term at the Federal Youth Center in Pleasanton, Calif. 30 miles southeast of San Francisco.

Russian missile new threat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "It raises both a qualitative and quantitative problem with respect to the theater nuclear balance," Haig said.

Rather than being a matter for discussion in the current talks with the Russians on mutual force reductions in Europe, Haig said he considers the SS20 missile "a matter that we have to address in the context of modernization of our theater nuclear capability."

Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., the U.S. officer who commands NATO troops, commented in an interview on the intermediate range Soviet SS20 missile. U.S. government sources have said it is being deployed by Soviet forces in Europe.

Ideal for almost any activities

Twin Falls: Burley-Rupert and North Side areas: Fair tonight through Saturday. High temperatures Saturday will be in the 60s with lows near 20. Sunday is expected to be fair and mild.

The potato harvest shows soil temperature averages will be lowering to the 50s through the weekend and lows will be in the 30s, rising to 45 by about 10 a.m. The haying and harvest outlook is dry through Tuesday giving good drying conditions. Frost can be expected in early morning hours.

Chamber Prairie, Halley and Upper Wood River Valley: Fair through tonight. Highs in the lower 60s on Saturday and overnight lows, upper teens. Sunday's outlook mostly fair.

Synopsis: The high pressure area that has been dominating the weather pattern over the Idaho area, weakened enough Thursday to allow a cold front to move into Idaho during the night.

But most of the cold weather associated-to-with-the-front were confined and should remain east of the continental divide in Montana.

Another high pressure ridge is returning along the Pacific Northwest. This should continue to keep fair skies over the area during the weekend, but temperatures will be a little cooler.

The extended outlook Sunday through Tuesday, calls for good progress in all farm activities. High pressure continues to block incoming storms. Mostly-dry-conditions should prevail along with near seasonal temperatures. Highs mostly in the 50 and lows in the 30s. Light frost will occur during early morning hours. Soil temperatures should continue to rise above the 45 degree mark after 10 a.m.

Government spending brake need

DETROIT (UPI) — Nobel Prize-winning economist Milton Friedman said Thursday another President Ford nor Democratic challenger Jimmy Carter has devised a way for the United States to avoid the "enormous financial crisis" that has crippled Great Britain.

"While there are differences, neither presidential candidate has offered changes of a kind that would stop ever-rising government spending," the University of Chicago professor told a news conference just moments after learning he won the 1976 Nobel Prize for economics.

"I think the real problem for the American economy is not the short-term but the long-term situation," Friedman said. "We are on a path, this nation, like that of Great Britain which is in great financial difficulty, is an enormous financial crisis."

"We are following the same road only about 20 years behind. If we keep going this way, we too will face utter chaos."

Gen-agency backs panel

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — The Association of Idaho Cities has endorsed HJR6, the constitutional amendment authorizing a citizens' committee to establish compensation and reimbursement levels for state legislators to be voted on in the general election, the executive director said today.

Floyd Decker, the association's executive director, said, "In my experience, I know that more often than not legislators end up paying more money for their living expenses while they are in session than they receive in compensation."

Here is a hand from our match-point file. South was Barbara Kachmar of New York, who has won major tournaments under her maiden name of Colyer and her first married name of Cook.

The one-trump contract was normal although the very favorable lie of the cards made three trump the normal result. Barbara made four for what turned out to be a match-point top.

East's queen of hearts fell to her king at trick one and a second heart was led to dummy's nine. Barbara returned to her hand with the ace of clubs and led a diamond to dummy's king. A diamond was led back. West won with the ace in order to conceal the queen and played ace and another heart. A spade and diamond were discarded from dummy and East checked a spade and the diamond 10.

Barbara cashed the king of clubs, led a spade, finessed dummy's queen, and cashed the ace. West dropped the king.

Assuming West was Jelling the truth, he was down to the jack-small of clubs and the last heart. Barbara led the last club from dummy and East followed. Where was the jack of clubs?

West had surely falsified cards once. Why not twice, thought Barbara? In that case he was holding the queen of diamonds, a spade and a heart and East was marked with the jack of clubs. She finessed the 10 and made four odd for a top score.

A Manitoba reader wants to know what you should bid after opening one heart and being raised to two-hearts-by your partner. Your hand is:

♠ 6 ♥ K Q 10 6 5 ♦ K J 4 ♣ A Q J 2

The correct bid is four hearts. You may not make game, but you want to be there and there is no reason to shyly-shally around and give the opponents information.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices opened lower in moderate trading Friday on the New York Stock Exchange. The Dow Jones industrial average, which plummeted 12.38 points Thursday, was behind 1.58 to 394.34. The Thursday retreat erased most of the gains piled up in Wednesday's rally and left the Dow's loss at 73.37 points in the past 14 sessions.

Declines led advances 181 to 82, among the 391 issues crossing the tape. Volume came to roughly 400 million shares. After the market closed Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board reported the nation's basic money supply surged $4 billion to $308.8 billion in the week ended Wednesday after dropping $1.2 billion in the previous week. The sharp rise could prompt the Fed to tighten monetary policy, driving up interest rates and boosting the cost of corporate borrowing for business expansion.

On another negative note, the Commerce Department reported Thursday retail sales fell 1.1 percent last week. The market's reaction to the previous day's report—consumer confidence improved "substantially" between May and early September and the near-term outlook for consumer spending for "very favorable."

Land 'racket' under fire

NEW YORK (UPI) — The promotion of large new communities in the nation's deserts, swamps and mountains has deteriorated into "the old snake-oil racket, sold by the acre instead of the bottle," according to a study released Thursday.

Buyers spent millions of dollars on the installment plan for plots of land—often sight unseen—that today have no resale value or do not provide basic services to sustain housing, the study said. Water and sewage facilities are not available at many.

The 56-page report was compiled by INFORM, a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization that conducts "research on the impact of American corporations on the environment, employees and consumers."

The first volume of the study covers retail land sales and subdivisions in Arizona, California, Colorado and New Mexico. A separate volume on Florida will be released this winter, INFORM said.

In a preface, Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said the "mass marketing of remote subdivision lands appears to be a prime vehicle for corruption."

"Increasingly, the business has degenerated into an updated version of the old snake-oil racket, sold by the acre instead of by the bottle," Udall said.

"Companies aim for volume sales, not development, and this goal has created a built-in incentive to overpromise; once the contract is signed, the paper is peddled to a finance company, the promoter's only incentive to carry through on promises is tough, persistent, even nagging regulatory efforts."

The first volume of the INFORM study concentrated on six large retail land sales companies of 10 subdivisions. They were:

- Arizona: Horizon's Arizona Sunsets, GAC's Rio Rico and McCulloch Oil's Lake Havasu City.
- Colorado: Great Western Cities' Colorado City and McCulloch's Pueblo West.
- New Mexico: AMHEP's Rio Hachos, Great Western's

Cocati Lake and Horizon's Rio Communities.

—California: Dart Industries' Tahoe Donner and Bear Valley Springs.

"These subdivisions, by and large, are falling far short of fulfilling their promises in terms of actually creating 'new communities,'" the study concluded.

"From both the consumer and environmental perspectives, their records are poor. Consumers are generally left with lots which years later are not worth what they paid for them. Careless environmental planning has either already caused or threatens to cause severe land and water resource degradation."

Hylton dam gains Nevadan's support

ELKO, Nev. (UPI) — Construction of the Hylton Dam on the South Fork of the Humboldt River would provide a fishing area equal to Wild Horse Reservoir, City Councilman Dale Porter said Wednesday.

Porter said the fishing area would be bigger than Wild Horse and would have cleaner water. He told the Elko County Sportsman's Association the downstream area also would be one of the best fishing places in the state.

Porter explained the proposed Humboldt River project which includes a series of dams for flood control and irrigation purposes.

He said the Elko County Fair and Recreation Board would fund the first portion of $2.8 million out of its receipts from the hotel room tax.

Grain loan rates boosted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department, reversing earlier indications by its top officials, is increasing government loan rates to farmers raising wheat, corn and other feedgrains.

to President Ford's commitment.

The Agriculture Department, reversing earlier indications by its top officials, is increasing government loan rates to farmers raising wheat, corn and other feedgrains.

JOHN KNEBEL... lists new rates.

nominee Robert Dole called the decision "welcome news to hard-pressed grain producers."

Dole, in a statement, said the hike in loan rates had been under "active consideration for several weeks and I have personally discussed it with President Ford at least three times."

Knebel also announced another 100,000 metric ton sale to the Soviet Union of U.S. hard winter wheat. It brings what sales this year to 26 million metric tons (95 million bushels).

would not be economically justified.

The loan rate for the 1977 wheat, crop per bushel, was raised from $1.50 to $2.25, and from $1.25 to $1.50 for corn. The soybean rate remained at $2.50 per bushel.

Other feedgrains increased proportionately, based on corn: sorghum, $1.19 to $1.43; barley, $1.02 to $1.23; oats, $0.60 to $0.72; and rye, $1.00 to $1.20.

Knebel said the new rates also would be immediately applicable to the 1975 crop.

He called it "a very human decision."

Knebel said banks in farm areas have extended all the credit they can, and the hike in the loan rate will allow farmers flexibility to hold onto their crop until prices come back up.

Trustees mull tuition case at Gooding

By LORAYNE O. SMITH Times-News writer
GOODING — The Bliss parents who are being sued by the Gooding school board over payment of last year's tuition, have offered to pay the district's attorney fees if the case is dropped.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erkins Bliss, have told Gooding trustees they and the other seven couples named as defendants, feel that if the case does get to court it will be costly to both sides and would prove nothing since the Gooding school board suit is based on a state law which now has been changed.

However, Supt. James Muscat said he sees the case as having a major bearing on whether or not the board will change its decision made last August to regrade charging tuition to the Bliss parents this current school year.

Trustees took the Erkins proposal under advisement and instructed their attorney, Cecil Hobday, to proceed with the collection of last year's tuition.

Muscat said any future change in the board's present policy of not charging tuition, this year will depend upon "what happens about last year."

The superintendent said the board's decision in August to quit charging tuition was based upon an opinion on the new law, issued that month by the state attorney general, Wayne Kidwell.

But in September school districts received a second memorandum based on Kidwell's opinion which Muscat said "changed the picture somewhat. The board hasn't changed its position yet, but we're looking at it," he said.

Gooding district has sent tuition bills to the Bliss parents for several years and last year filed a collection suit which is still pending in district court.

The Bliss parents, who have transported more than a dozen children to Gooding, have refused to pay because they say Gooding district receives an estimated $10,000 in state funds based upon the average daily attendance of the 15 or so Bliss students.

The Bliss parents petitioned the State Board of Education to hold a hearing last year on their efforts to get their children into Gooding tuition free, as was provided under the law at that time.

Erkins said the state board failed to schedule the hearing, thereby denying the defendants the right to plead their case.

Whichever side wins in the case, Erkins told trustees, the only legal point which can be decided is whether or not the State Board of Education should have held a hearing and was negligent in not doing so.

Erkins said in response to efforts by the Bliss couples the law covering tuition and acceptance of out-of-district students was changed in the 1975 legislature thus causing a confusing legal situation since the Gooding board's suit is based upon a law no longer in effect.

City takes over garbage 'emergency' at Burley

By SHANE O'NEILL Times-News writer
BURLEY — Faced with the start of the annual fall "clean-up" campaign Monday, the City of Burley moved into its second day of garbage removal service for city residents.

Mayor Chuck Shaddock said Thursday night he believes the city will be able to handle its new chores under a contingency plan designed for such emergencies as the one created Thursday when Teal's Sanitation Service announced discontinuance of service.

"All our trucks will be in the alleys," Mayor Shaddock said.

The city has one garbage truck it purchased for park pickups and emergency use. Thursday it rented a garbage truck from local contractor Robert McIntire. It has the ability to handle the large commercial dumpsters mechanically.

Shaddock said Parks & Sons, Twin Falls, may send a truck to Burley Monday to help with the additional load from the fall clean-up. He said Rupert also has offered two trucks.

Shaddock said he plans an emergency meeting of the council before its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Monday. He said the city already has been looking into a new system of garbage collection which uses multi-family plastic containers mechanically dumped into trucks.

In his surprise announcement to the public Wednesday night, Teal charged that Burley and Cassia County have forced him into bankruptcy by refusal to adjust charges allowed for the services... to a rate which would allow Teal's to pay their employees' wages and make payment of the general operating expenses, including equipment repair, operating expenses and replacement.

"The present rates simply do not provide sufficient funds to pay our employees and our monthly operation costs," the announcement said.

Vealton Teal, who has been unavailable for comment since Wednesday night, issued his announcement to Burley and Heyburn residents and commercial customers. He did not specifically direct the statement to the entire county, although the firm had a contract to operate the county's sanitary landfill and make pickups at various dumping locations throughout the county.

The sanitary landfill was closed Thursday. Cassia County Clerk Frank Kearns said there was "not a soul around" when he visited the landfill Thursday in search of Teal.

"It did not look like there had been any activity out there for quite a while," he said. Kearns said a truck-equipped tractor was loaded on a truck, but he doubted that Teal owned it. He said he saw a smaller one going up the road and said it apparently was one belonging to the firm.

Teal has been under fire numerous times from all three governmental entities the firm served. Complaints usually have been answered with explanations that trucks or other equipment had broken down or that the problems arose from new crews on the trucks.

The Burley council discussed complaints last month and Teal's service again was mentioned two weeks ago, although without discussion. Before hearing of the service halt, the Heyburn council again discussed garbage pickup complaints Wednesday night.

The Cassia County commissioners criticized Teal's operation of the county landfill in their meeting Monday, particularly citing the condition of the county area pickup sites. They commented that the Albion landfill site had not been cleaned up, although the Declu dump site had been improved "because the public took an interest."

County Commissioner Weldon Beck said Thursday, "His (Teal's) service has been entirely unsatisfactory.

"We've harped and harped and harped," Beck continued. "Many times we've told him that he wasn't living up to things in his contract."

Despite the dissatisfaction with service, Beck said the county commissioners have given the firm "a cost-of-living index raise every year since the contract was signed in 1972. Such clause was written into the contract."

Gem court denies judge's petition

By SHANE O'NEILL Times-News writer
RUPERT — The Idaho Supreme Court has blocked Minidoka County Magistrate Judge Jerry Wegman's attempt to cross his own resignation in the wake of a blighted romance.

The Supreme Court judges this week denied Wegman's petition for a writ of mandamus to have his name placed on the Nov. 2 ballot for retention in his position.

Judge Wegman said he was notified of the judges' decision late Thursday morning in a telephone call from William Young, clerk of the Supreme Court.

"I'm not sure what I'm going to do," the magistrate said.

Wegman resigned from the bench in July, effective at the end of his term or as soon as a replacement would be appointed, and stated he would not run for public confirmation of his two-year-old appointment.

The magistrate had planned to marry a Ketchum woman and move to that community. He planned to resign since state law requires the magistrate to live in the county he serves.

The engagement was broken Sept. 23, too late for the Sept. 8 filing deadline for the November election. State law requires that a magistrate, once appointed, face public vote for confirmation after two years.

The Idaho Code also prohibits the magistrate commission from allowing the appointment of a magistrate. The commission has already met once for the purpose of appointing Wegman's successor, but delayed action to seek further applications for the position.

Wegman's petition called for the court to direct Fifth District Judge Douglas Kramer, head of the magistrate commission, and the commissions itself to order Minidoka County Clerk August Bethke to accept Wegman's late filing.

In the wake of the Supreme Court refusal of his petition, Wegman admitted there is little hope of meeting legal requirements for retaining his office. But he said he is considering alternative efforts.

"It appears it's only a legal technicality," Wegman said Thursday. "If the people want me to stay on, and I want to stay on, it seems a shame that I wouldn't be able to do so."

Wegman said he could seek another writ of mandamus asking the Supreme Court to waive the provision of state law that states "a magistrate who does not file shall be ineligible for two years after his term of office has expired."

"If I do that, I should do it (Friday). The court would have to act mighty fast," Wegman said. "Since they declined the first one (petition), I'm not sure how effective another one would be."

Wegman also was considering going to the people with a write-in campaign.

"I'm not sure that a write-in is possible," he said, "but I'm looking into it."

Idaho law states that if a magistrate does not file for retention, the magistrate commission will fill the vacancy by appointment and cannot consider the magistrate who has not filed.

A write-in campaign runs into a practical difficulty since the magistrate's position will not appear on the ballot at all, due to earlier contemplation of a commission appointment.

Also, a successful Wegman write-in campaign, even if possible, would be left in a legal limbo until a determination could be made on whether or not the elective vote of the people could supplant the legal technicality of failure to file.

Wegman Thursday repeated earlier assertions that, although he now wants to remain on the Minidoka County bench, he only wants people of the county to have the opportunity of deciding the issue.

more controls, or less government, less controls. I went to Washington pledged to cut down big government and I think in the year and a half we've made great strides," Hansen said.

He acknowledged "it's a little difficult to turn Congress around because of the 434 other people with minds of their own."

Hansen late on taxes

After 1969, the Tribune reports records show Hansen filed his income tax late a number of other years.

Hansen's 1969 return was filed August 29, 1970, the paper said.

Hansen's 1970 and 1971 returns were filed jointly April 13, 1975, according to the story.

Hansen's 1972 return was filed April 5, 1975, and that filing was prompted by a taxpayer delinquency investigation, the Tribune reported.

In addition, the paper mentioned Hansen yet to file a 1975 tax return.

Both Hansen and Kress said they wanted to stay on issues and avoid the then unpublished reports of Hansen's tax delinquency.

From the first, however, Kress hammered away at what he interpreted as a lack of openness by Hansen.

"The only thing Mr. Hansen would have to do would be to make sure the Tribune never again brought up in the campaign would be to lay them forth for the people 1974," Kress said.

Hansen refused to answer questions about his tax returns and repeatedly said what voters really should be looking at were the contrasts between himself and Kress.

"Voters have a clear choice this year," Hansen said, "whether you want more government.

Most TF copy machine funds handled legally

By BOB ZUCKERMAN Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — Almost all copying machine funds in county offices other than the sheriff's office are handled in compliance with the law allegedly violated by the sheriff, according to an auditor's office spokesman.

Sheriff Paul Corder has been charged with failing to keep and turn over fees charged for public use of the sheriff's office copying machine.

Funds collected for the use of four other copying machines in other public offices — magistrates' court, district court, auditor's office and treasurer's office — are turned in at least once a week, according to the spokesman who asked not to be identified.

The question of whether funds collected for the use of two other copying machines are handled in compliance with the law remains unanswered.

The two machines in the assessor's office, primarily are used for office business, and normally no charges are made for their use, according to County Assessor Ron Taylor.

But a person who uses the machines for outside business is normally charged 10 cents a copy, Taylor said. This money is usually not allowed to accumulate and is spent on postage stamps, he said.

The sheriff is charged with not turning in on a quarterly basis $1,650 collected from his copying machine during a roughly three-year period.

Taylor said money from his machines rarely accumulated because it was spent on postage stamps.

He said he did not know whether any money from the machines in his office was left over at the end of any quarter, but said if money had accumulated, it probably was not reported to the auditor.

Taylor said he was confident no wrong-doing had occurred in his office.

He noted his office could go "several months without even charging for one copy," and then charge "as much as $6" for copies one month.

What's indicated is men are nowhere nearly as apprehensive as are women about weddings. At least, that's what the sleep researchers contend.

Mandatory power cutbacks face US, utilities say

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States must prepare for "mandatory curtailment" of electricity unless major federal actions are taken, including the creation of a government-owned utility, a group of public power utilities warned Thursday.

In a report prepared for presentation to President Ford and Jimmy Carter, the American Public Power Association said the nation must develop a comprehensive energy policy responsive to consumer needs if a crisis is averted.

"If there is not a national commitment on the part of the federal government to see that the nation's energy requirements are met, plans should be formulated now for curtailment of use of electricity," it said.

The association represents more than 1,300 of the 2,215 local public power systems that supply the electrical needs of more than 200 million Americans in 48 states.

Many of its recommendations, particularly those calling for the government to complete directly with private firms, clashed sharply with the aims of the oil, natural gas and nuclear power industries.

The association pointed to its own members as an example of why competition by government firms is needed.

saying publicly owned utilities sell electricity to their customers at "considerably lower" rates than privately owned firms.

"Because their users and owners are one and the same, local public power systems have a unique opportunity to reflect the interests of the citizens they serve," the report said.

"They represent a competitive alternative to service by private power companies controlled by stockholders and to provide a performance yard stick."

The report said vast quantities of the nation's oil, gas, coal, uranium, oil shale and geothermal energy resources are owned by the public. But it said unique energy companies do the development and fix the price of all fuels at the going rate for the most expensive.

Noting that more than 10 federal agencies, bureaus and commissions now play a role in energy regulation, often without any coordination, the report called for major regulatory reforms and the creation of a single Department of Energy.

Federal Power Commission members should be appointed who are "sensitive to consumer needs," the report said, and the Federal Power Act should be modified to strengthen ability to protect smaller utility systems from anticompetitive abuse and unjust rates.

Merger rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission said Thursday it has moved to break up a planned merger between Richfield and the Anaconda Co. on the grounds "it may lessen competition and restrain trade in the production and sale of uranium oxide and refined copper."

The agency also said it will ask for temporary court order halting the merger — which is scheduled to be voted on by Anaconda stockholders at a meeting next Wednesday — pending the outcome of its complaint.

The FTC said ARCO's sales and assets in 1975 each exceeded $7.3 billion. In 1975 Anaconda had sales of about $1.1 billion and assets of more than $2 billion.

Vermin infesting Nevada's prison

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — Cockroaches and mice infest the Nevada State Maximum Security Prison, where two inmates were killed in a recent riot, according to a brief on file in U.S. District Court today.

The statements were in a special report U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson ordered in response to a civil rights suit by 11 inmates who alleged mistreatment and brutality during a lock-down and shake-down this summer.

"Cockroaches and mice were breeding in some cells," it said. "Thousands of roaches began to flee when curtains were moved in one cell."

Former Warden Ed Pogue had interfered the shake-down in response to charges there was widespread narcotics traffic and lax security at the century-old prison.

After two black inmates were stabbed to death in a riot Sunday, wives and friends of some inmates also said there was a lack of heat, blankets, health aids, and medical attention to keep the inmates busy.

In the civil rights suit, inmate Antonio Garcia said he was beaten by guard Vance Shearer. The prison report replied he was one of several inmates removed from a cellblock where inmates had set a number of fires during the lockdown. The prison report said he was one of several who refused to be evacuated and had to be moved with physical force.

The prison report said Garcia admitted during interviews he was not beaten by Shearer. It said when Garcia was being moved by guards, he was in a cell with a guard who had sexual relations with a guard's 15-year-old daughter when he is released from prison. It said medical reports listed only minor injuries to prisoners evacuated by force.

The inmate suit also contended their legal documents, letters between them and their attorneys, and their personal property were confiscated during the lock-up. The prison report said some cells were so filled with papers and other materials the inmates barely had room to walk. In such cases, it said, some of the materials were moved into storage for safety and health reasons, and inmates were promised free access to it.

Capt. William Paccitte said quantities of old food were found in some cells, along with cockroaches and mice breeding. He said inmate James Scherer, 42, was so full of papers, trash, garbage and boxes there was no room for him to walk. He said Scherer threw out four 30-gallon barrels of trash.

FEC rejects Mac's bid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Election Commission on a party line vote, Thursday rejected Eugene McCarthy's bid to have his campaign committee declared a party and thus eligible to spend on a par with the Democrats and Republicans.

On a 3-2 vote, with the GOP members voting in favor of the former Democratic senator and the Democrats against, the commission turned down his request for an advisory opinion stating his Committee for a Constitutional Presidency could be considered a political party.

If the request had been granted, the committee would have been entitled to spend $12 million in the campaign and receive up to $200 in donations from individuals. Current law limits individual contributions to a candidate to $100.

A McCarthy spokesman James Yeager said, "The Democrats on the commission are trying their best to strangle this operation. They would naturally try to do their best to prevent us from having any parity with the Democrats."

Missile aid hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress' Joint Committee on Defense Production changed Thursday that the Pentagon's research director gave "considerable assistance" to Rockwell International Corp.

Efforts to produce the Combar air-to-ground missile.

The report found that Dr. Currie and his principal deputy, Mr. Robert Parker had apparently acted in a manner that gave "considerable assistance" to well-intentioned and thereby raised doubts as to their protection of the government's interest. A committee statement said

Report says the pill doesn't favor girls

WASHINGTON — Contrary to earlier reports, a Harvard University research team has found no increase in the proportion of female babies born to users of birth control pills.

British researchers in 1973 noted a preponderance of girls — 27 — among babies born to 30 women who had used oral contraceptives. In a follow-up study using a much larger sample, the researchers said only 46 per cent of the births were boys, and that they could not rule out the possibility that the pills were responsible.

In 1974, a Hungarian team reported that of 170 women who had used the pills for more than two years, only 34 per cent of their babies were male.

The dramatic findings were thought to have wide-ranging implications for society if confirmed by later studies.

The Harvard team examined the sex ratio among 6,109 children born to oral contraceptives users in the Boston area over a four-year period. These births were selected from an earlier sample of 20,000 users who had been questioned about how long they had used the pill and when they had stopped using them.

Thus the researchers, in a study published by The New England Journal of Medicine, were able to break down the sex ratio of births according to how long the mother had been using pills and how much time had elapsed between their going off the pills and conception.

Irish magistrate sets skipper's fine

CORK, Ireland (UPI) — Magistrate Bernard Carroll Thursday ordered a Soviet fishing captain to pay a minimum of $161,500 for poaching in Irish territorial waters.

The Irish lawyer for Capt. Nikolai Shinkaruk of the 2,500-ton trawler Bismarck said he expected new instructions by Monday whether he should appeal the convictions on three charges.

Shinkaruk, 34, denied his vessel violated Ireland's 12-mile fishing limit early this month. The vessel was arrested and taken into Cork after the Irish navy ordered sailors and soldiers aboard when Shinkaruk ignored a series of warning shots fired across his bows. Three government officials seized the Bismarck's fishing and other equipment, which was ordered confiscated, at $208,726.

US apologizes to Japan for tasteless air show

TOKYO (UPI) — The United States apologized to Japan Thursday for the tasteless Texas air show, which recreated the atomic bombing of Hiroshima with a simulated mushroom cloud and the pilot of the famed "Enola Gay" at the controls of a leftover B29.

Japan had lodged a formal complaint with the U.S. Embassy about the show last weekend in Harlingen, Tex., sponsored by a private group called the Confederate Air Force which maintains a museum of World War II vintage planes.

Retired U.S. Air Force Gen. Paul Tibbets, commander of the B-29 strato fortress nicknamed the "Enola Gay" which dropped the first atomic bomb in war, flew a B29 at the air show to reenact the nuclear bombing of Hiroshima on Aug. 15, 1945.

Chambliss powers Yanks into world series

Chambliss connects

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chris Chambliss and Mark Littell were thinking the same thing Thursday night when the New York Yankees first baseman stepped into the batter's box to start the bottom of the ninth inning: fastball.

The start of the Yankees' ninth was delayed when the public address announcer asked the crowd to stop littering the field. Then Chambliss, who had driven in two previous runs with a sacrifice fly and an infield out, delivered his shot into the right field stands ending the game.

Putter carries Shaw to Texas open lead

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Veteran pro Tom Shaw, who said he is putting so well it scares him, fired a six-under par 66 Thursday to take a one-stroke lead after the first round of the $125,000 Texas Open golf tournament.

Shaw, seeking his first tour victory since 1971, sank six "solid" birdie putts to finish a stroke ahead of Babe Hickey, Frank Conner and Peter Oosterhuis, all of whom came in with 67s over the 7,039-yard Woodlake Country Club course.

Cincinnati doesn't like, but will use designated hitter

CINCINNATI (UPI) — "It's a joke, the biggest joke of our game, and I'd love not to use it," Cincinnati Reds manager Sparky Anderson was saying about the controversial designated hitter rule which, for the first time, will be used in the World Series.

Anderson said Thursday prior to the Reds' workout, "It's an absolute that it's almost out of existence. You have to be fair to your ballclub. It would be a terrible thing to put pride ahead of winning and have it cost you a game."

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Now I think I know how Bobby Thomson felt." Twenty five years ago Thomson rocked the baseball world with a dramatic home run in the 1951 playoffs that sent the New York Giants to the National League pennant-clinching victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Chambliss' homer was his 11th hit of the playoff series, a record. "I'm just so glad we won. I didn't think I was going to get around the bases. I was punching and struggling and people were trying to drag me down and rip my clothes off. My only thought was to get around. I knew I had to touch all the bases. A couple of the guys (teammates) came out and dragged me out of the crowd and a little later, the cops came into the dressing room and I went out and made sure I touched them all."

Jerome cops 28-18 win over Gooding

JEROME — The Jerome Tigers bowed into their South Central Idaho Conference schedule Thursday night with a 28-18 decision over the Gooding Senators.

Coach Duane Alexander's crew mounted a lead in the first half by shutting off the Gooding offense until it was too late. Gooding rebounded in the second half but never was able to get close enough to threaten for the lead. Its final tally came on an 80-yard bomb from John Mann to spring-end Jim Borer on the final play of the game.

The game barely started when Jerome had its first threat going. That was because Brad Carpenter returned the opening kickoff 66 yards. Gooding tucked on a 15-yard penalty and Stone dashed for 12 yards on the third play to set up a four-yard scoring burst by Rick Hillier. Rich Sturgeon booted the first of four points after.

The Tigers expanded their lead on their third possession when they mounted a drive that culminated in a 33-yard scoring bomb from Greg Thibault to Dave Ilove on the first play of the second period.

With 7:57 left in the half, Hillier scored off a cutback on a pitchout from Dave Ilove.

Stevens with a pass of about 15 yards and then romping 40 yards down the left sidelines. On the third play Mann again hit Stevens at the one-yard line and two plays later he sneaked over from the one.

But Jerome rebounded immediately, grinding out the eight-yard line before Carpenter sprinted in.

Gooding had another threat minutes later with a couple of passes and a long run by Stevens on a draw carried to the Jerome 25. Two pass interference calls helped Gooding to the seven-yard line but Thibault ended it all with a pass interception.

In the fourth period Gooding cut the deficit to 28-12 on a 22-yard pass from Mann to Butler. Jerome then used up a lot of the clock before Sturgeon missed on a 35-yard field goal attempt with 10 seconds left.

That was enough time for Gooding as Mann left a pass just over the reach of a Jerome defender about 30 yards away and once the 10.1 dash man Butler had the ball, no one could catch him.

Tigers sweep three divisions of Cross State championships

BURLEY — The Jerome cross country team grabbed its second conference championship in three days Thursday when it won the Cross State league title.

Coach Tim Dunn's crew placed five men in the top 10 in winning the boys' varsity with 24 points. They were followed by Blackfoot at 31, Caldwell 94 and Burley 132. The Jerome girls had it considerably easier. They took the first 10 places in a sweep helped by the fact that no other conference member entered a full team. It gave the Tigers girls a perfect 15 total with a Caldwell girl placing 11th.

Mike Thompson and Monte Tolman went one for Jerome in the boys' division. They were followed by Thornell, Blackfoot, Loveland, Blackfoot, Allen Ploss, Jerome, Kevin Van Hooser, Jerome, Lusk, Blackfoot, Williams, Blackfoot, Know, Blackfoot and Tim Carroll, Jerome.

For the girls, Beth Last of Jerome was first, followed by Leann Mates, Marsha H. Boguslawski, Bell, Ireton, Mecham, Scarrow, Thomas, Van Orman and Ostler.

Jerome's Jayvees made it a sweep, taking that portion with 17 points against 35 for Blackfoot. Caldwell had 64 and Burley 123.

The Tigers got their first four places from Jerry Leininger, Al Weeks, Brad Craig and Brian Thompson. Martinsen and Alley of Blackfoot took fifth and sixth and Kent Trefon, Brad Maybury, Barry Neil and Mike Traugher rounding out Jerome's top 10 finishers.

Filer girls collect loop volleyball title

WENDELL — The Filer Wildcats swept to the Big Six Conference girls volleyball championship Thursday night without losing a match.

Coach Julie Astorquia's team defeated Kimberly 15-6, 15-9 in the first round to nail down the title while Shoshone went up third, losing in the loser bracket 15-13, 15-9 and 15-3 to Kimberly.

Action started with Filer downing Valley 15-4, 15-4 and Kimberly topping Wendell 4-15, 10-15. In the second round, Filer bested Glens Ferry 15-8, 15-3 while Kimberly was downing Shoshone 15-13, 15-10.

Wendell sent Glens Ferry to the sidelines 16-14, 15-6 and the Trojans followed them out when Shoshone collected a 15-13, 15-8 decision. Filer downed Kimberly 15-6, 15-3 in the championship semi-finals to set up the final two games.

Action now switches to district competition opening Monday night at Valley High School gymnasium.

The first-round pairing include 4 p.m., Valley vs. Castleford 5 p.m., Oakley vs. Glens Ferry, 6 p.m., Ratt River vs. Hansen; 7 p.m. Filer vs. Hagerman, and 8 p.m., winner of Castleford-Valley vs. Murtaugh.

Action will resume Tuesday night.

Staubach still leads uppi

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach, taking advantage of coach Tom Landry's spread offense, continues to menace opposing defensive backs by completing a phenomenal 73.5 percent of his passes to lead the NFL statistics.

The former Heisman Trophy winner from Navy has completed 183 of 113 passes for 1,199 yards and seven touchdowns to compute a 120.7 rating, 23 points ahead of his nearest rival, Greg Landry of Detroit.

Federal tax must be dropped to drive illegal gaming away

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special "governmental" commission declared Thursday that federal income taxes on individual winnings must be repealed if state authorized gambling is to compete with illegal bookmakers and underworld syndicates.

That was the highlight of a 415-page, final report, being submitted to President Ford and Congress by the Commission on the Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling, following a comprehensive three-year study.

The panel unanimously opposed federally sponsored gambling and reported that the 50 states be allowed to set their own policies "with Washington maintaining a strict hands-off attitude."

It termed the federal income tax on legal track or lottery winnings "the greatest single obstacle to effective competition with illegal gambling."

The report said: "Taxation of legal gambling winnings is the most critical issue affecting the right of each state to compete in the gambling arena, and it is clear to members of this commission that the present policy has a totally negative effect. In fact, if this tax policy is not changed, the commission would recommend that states not continue to introduce new forms of gambling that cannot compete successfully with illegal facilities."

"Furthermore, if the present status quo is retained, existing legal facilities should be reviewed with an eye toward determining whether their advantage to the individual state offsets the advantage given to the illegal market."

"To this end, the commission recommends that winnings derived from legal gambling entities be excluded from gross income, with the affirmative burden being placed upon the taxpayer to declare and prove the legality of the source."

"Professional gamblers whose primary source of income is from betting would not be allowed to claim the exemption under the commission's proposal, however. Casino and other gambling operations also would be subject to corporation income taxes.

The panel further made a pinpoint recommendation that the recently enacted law withholding 20 percent of winnings over $1,000 at the track or over $5,000 in a state lottery be repealed. It also suggested rescinding older levels of an occupational stamp tax and an excise on betting wagers.

The report took a dim view of the states venturing to set up betting on single pro games or other sports events on grounds they lack the knowhow and because of the existing federal tax bite would make them noncompetitive.

The commission concluded that "a legal single event sports wagering system would provide relatively little revenue for the state and existing federal tax policies make effective competition with illegal bookmakers impossible. A sports betting operation that is unable to compete with the illegal operators is in grave danger of creating many more customers for the illegal bookmakers."

Vandals entertain Weber St. Saturday

MOSCOW, Idaho — Crucial Big Sky Conference action for the University of Idaho Vandals after having played four non-conference toughies.

The silver and gold sported a 3-3-0 record card, will host Weber State's Wildcats on Saturday night in Kibbie-ASU Dome (10,000). A crowd of some 10,000 is expected for this conference action.

Coach Ed Troxel's third-year unit hasn't been in Big Sky since the season opener at Boise on Sept. 11. Idaho took that one 19-3 and now stands second in the league standings behind undefeated Northern Arizona (4-0-0, 2-0-0) and Montana State (3-1-0, 2-0-0).

The Patinae County squad last Saturday night moved above the .500 mark for the second time this fall by crushing New Mexico State's Aggies 23-6 behind a potent rushing attack.

The interior work defensive coordinator's support job. Troxel said after the game that the Vandals had to play the contest against New Mexico State of the Missouri Valley Conference with four defenses sidelined.

"The defense did one hell of a job," Troxel said after the contest which played before 10,166 fans. "We were in poor shape physically, and our men came off the bench and did a terrific job. Troxel singled out sophomore end Chris Fouts, the team's defensive player of the week, freshman Randy Ralph and senior Jeff Pfister.

The Weber State contest on Saturday night should be a domyromatch despite the Wildcats' 0-5-0 slate. Ever since the teams began playing each other in 1965, the games have always been intense and there hasn't been one lopsided result.

In last year's wild scoring affair in Ogden, the Cats came from behind late in the game to notch a 40-10 tie, setting a new NCAA record for highest slatage.

"I am sure each Gvinn will remind his players of the game last year," Troxel said. "At that point they were on an eight-game losing streak. We gave them new life, and they finished 1-1-1 in the final outings."

Weber quarterback Bud Beckwold currently is ranked fourth in Division II statistics (Idaho is Division I). He's completed an average of 17 aerials per game for 983 yards and seven touchdowns. He's connected on 82 of 134 attempts and has been intercepted on seven occasions.

A year ago Beckwold, a former wide receiver, was switched during the UJ matchup and led his team to the comeback tie.

Gallon suspended

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Six-foot-11 Ricky Gallon, starting center for the high-ranked University of Louisville basketball team, has been suspended from the squad for scholastic deficiencies.

"He is suspended until he can prove to me by either a phone call or letter from each of his teachers that he is attending class regularly and is making satisfactory progress," Coach Denny Crum said on the eve of the opening of practice sessions.

Crum said Gallon's attitude toward classroom work "is creating problems for the athletic department and making a bad image for the rest of the team."

The junior center from Tampa was Louisville's leading scorer (15.3 points per game) and top rebounder (7 per cent) last season when the Cardinals went to the national invitation tournament.

With all five of last season's starters returning, plus the addition of such stand-out freshmen as Darrell Griffith and Bobby Turner of Louisville, Louisville is expected to be one of the top teams in the country this season.

'Skins lose Scott

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Redskins defense, which needs all the help it can get these days, received a setback Thursday when safety Jake Scott had to sit out practice because of a hamstring injury.

Idaho State to help Montana State celebrate homecoming

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI) — Idaho State's Bengals are guests of honor at Big Sky co-leader Montana State's homecoming Saturday at 2 p.m.

KSEI Radio and the Bengal network will carry the game. Larry Eckenrode on the play-by-play. Airtime is 1:30 p.m. The MSU Bengals of Sonny Hollander are in the season's 2-9 in league to date through their first with Northern Arizona Idaho is 1-9. But Coach Joe Pascale of ISU thinks the Bengals are in the drivers' seat. "Montana State is really rolling," he says. "They have an outstanding team and an edge in the blocking line. It is very physical with outstanding interior lines both on offense and defense."

league player of the week recently for throwing a pair of TD passes in a big win over Boise State.

"Denney isn't a picture passer," evaluates Pascale, "but he does get the job done. He doesn't throw much because Coach Holland likes to keep the ball on the ground."

Montana tests BSU in Big Sky battle

BOISE, Idaho — It's back to the Big Sky Conference wars for Jim Criner and his Boise State University Broncos this Saturday night in Boise.

The Broncos host the University of Montana Grizzlies at 7:30 p.m. in Bronco Stadium. BSU takes an 0-2 league mark and a 2-2-1 season record into Saturday night's game while Montana is 1-1 in league action and 1-3 for the year. Last Saturday Boise State and Cal Poly (SLO) battled to a 14-1 tie in San Luis Obispo while Montana was losing to Northern Arizona 23-21 in Missoula.

The largest point spread in Montana's losses this year has been two points. They have also lost to Las Vegas 21-19 and Portland State 30-49. Montana's win was a 28-21 decision over Weber State.

Boise State has suffered league losses to Idaho, 16-9, and to Montana State, 24-21—BSU will be back in Bronco Stadium for the first time since Sept. 25 when they beat Humboldt State 43-0.

"After being 0-1 on the road, it will be nice to be back home," commented BSU head coach Jim Criner. "I hope that we can be as hard on our opponent here as other home teams have been to us on the road."

Montana's offensive line averages 243 pounds per man with the largest of the group being 6-8, 260 pound junior Murray Pierce at center. The line will be protecting sophomore quarterback Mike Roban who has completed 30 of 63 passes this year for 281 yards and two scores. It has carried the ball 39 times for 98 yards.

That offensive line also provides blocking for UM's top rusher in RB Del Spear. Spear has 47 carries for 289 yards and no scores. Fullback Paul Fiskness has 40 carries for 224 yards and one score.

Five veterans rejoin Broncos

BOISE, Idaho — Five lettermen, three of whom are returning starters, will be greeted by Boise State head basketball coach Bus Connor and his staff Friday as 1976 fall practices begin at 3:30 p.m.

O, the joy of having a business of your own.

Your newspaper carrier. A school-age tycoon.

This Saturday we celebrate International Newspaper Carrier Day.

The day salutes the youngest operator of a business in your neighborhood. A business person who works not from a store or office, but from a bag! An entrepreneur. A tycoon. A nabob. A whiz kid. Your newspaper carrier.

Your carrier buys the day's newspapers from us, and retails your copy to you, the home delivery customer. (If you aren't one, you should be.) And so the business makes a profit, which is what any business is about. But profit comes through good management. Through sound business practice, attention to business—these a young carrier learns by direct experience.

And in operating a business of your own are other lessons learned, more pivotal perhaps to a young person than profit (although that could mean and has meant a college education to many a youngster). Lessons that make for the right start in life.

1. The lesson of responsibility. That fourth big R. Anybody in business must learn it, especially in a service business like your carrier's—getting the newspaper to you each day on time and where you want it, whatever the weather, and even in the baseball season!

2. Your carrier learns to keep accounts (this could make this youngster the best math pupil in the class). Your carrier learns to work with figures, gets good practical experience in handling money, and comes to understand the value of money.

3. O, the joy of having a business of your own! And of making it grow, because your carrier is a salesperson, too.

4. And the headaches. Don't forget the headaches. Everything doesn't always go right, even in a thriving business. Your carrier learns to cope. That's another lesson for life. And another of the reasons we ask you to congratulate your carrier on International Newspaper Carrier Day. Tell your carrier: "You've earned it, young business person—this day of your own!"

And a day of your own.

It's International Newspaper Carrier Day. Saturday, October 16.
