

Carter appeals for support against big oil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter attacked "the oil lobby," criticized Congress and said he has "no apology to make" for his Cabinet purge Wednesday night in a performance that gave the nation a taste of his new fighting style.

He ridiculed Sen. Henry Jackson's suggestion that Democrats might dump him in favor of Sen. Edward Kennedy in 1980, depicting Jackson as a loser to him, Jimmy Carter in the last Democratic presidential sweepstakes.

Mixing flashes of sarcasm with stern oratory and easy banter, Carter peppered all manner of targets for 30 minutes in the first Washington news conference he has held in nearly two months.

The calculated change in style was visual as well, with Carter holding forth under blazing chandeliers in the elegant White House East Room instead of the drab Executive Office Building auditorium.

His backdrop was an opulent gold brocade tapestry, his suit a presidential dark blue.

He made his first order of business a broadside against the oil industry lobbyists and a direct appeal to the public to back him up in "a terrible struggle to get the windfall profits tax proposal through Congress."

Calling the tax "critical to the future of this country" as the means of financing his 10-year energy independence program, he said the oil lobby will battle to "gut" it and said he cannot win the struggle alone.

"This is a democracy," he said, looking directly into the cameras.

"You're voice can be heard. It must be heard... Please speak to Congress and especially to the U.S. Senate" which has not yet taken action on the windfall tax proposal.

Carter opened the news conference with a six-minute formal speech pitched directly to the prime time TV and radio audience, recalling that he had addressed the nation 10 days ago about the "crisis of the American spirit" underlying energy shortages and the economic slump.

"Millions of Americans have responded positively to what I said — because they know I was telling the truth," he said. "But we also know we can put pessimism aside and, with patriotism and hard work, move forward together."

Reporters quickly zeroed-in on the prime topical issues — energy setbacks in Congress and, above all, the Cabinet purge. One reporter suggested the shakeup has "demoralized the government," confused the nation and "destabilized the dollar" abroad.

Carter chuckled at the lengthy accusation, and rejected it. He said he had moved swiftly to put together "a team that will be unified, a team that will be full of confidence, a team that will be in good-fighting shape to meet the challenges ahead."

"I have no apology to make," he said.

"I've had many congratulations given to me by members of Congress... I have no hesitation in saying the changes I made are for the best and it was better to get it done in two days rather than dragging it out."

Gas rationing plan dealt surprise blow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Wednesday dealt a surprise blow to President Carter's standby gasoline rationing plan and Carter accused them of "timidity" in facing tough issues.

"The action today by the House illustrates the timidity of Congress in dealing with a sensitive political issue," Carter told a Wednesday night news conference.

Three hours earlier, embarrassed Democrats' leaders pulled their bill off the floor after members adopted a cumbersome amendment that would "hinder" any rationing plan from ever going into effect.

The bill could be resubmitted but House leaders acknowledged they had lost a chance to give the president's energy program a new lease on life.

The House voted 232-187 for an amendment by Rep. Benjamin Gilman, R-N.Y., that added a new layer of congressional approval before rationing could be put into effect.

Carter said he had no objections to a "one house veto" over a rationing plan but he complained restraints erected by Congress could tie his hands if there were a 50 percent shortfall in supplies.

"I need authority to go ahead with a good plan," Carter said, adding leaders of both houses had told him such a law could be passed.

Proponents of the emergency authority wanted the process streamlined to allow the president to order rationing with relative ease if an emergency arose.

"We haven't failed yet," said Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., the House manager of the bill. "There was a misunderstanding, a misunderstanding, a misunderstanding, concern over rationing, the lateness of the hour, some sense of mischief by some of our colleagues, and some confusion."

Tax commission told to hike 1980 appraisals

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho attorney general's office said today a 4 percent inflation index should be applied when the 1978 market value levels for property taxation are first placed on the 1980 tax roll.

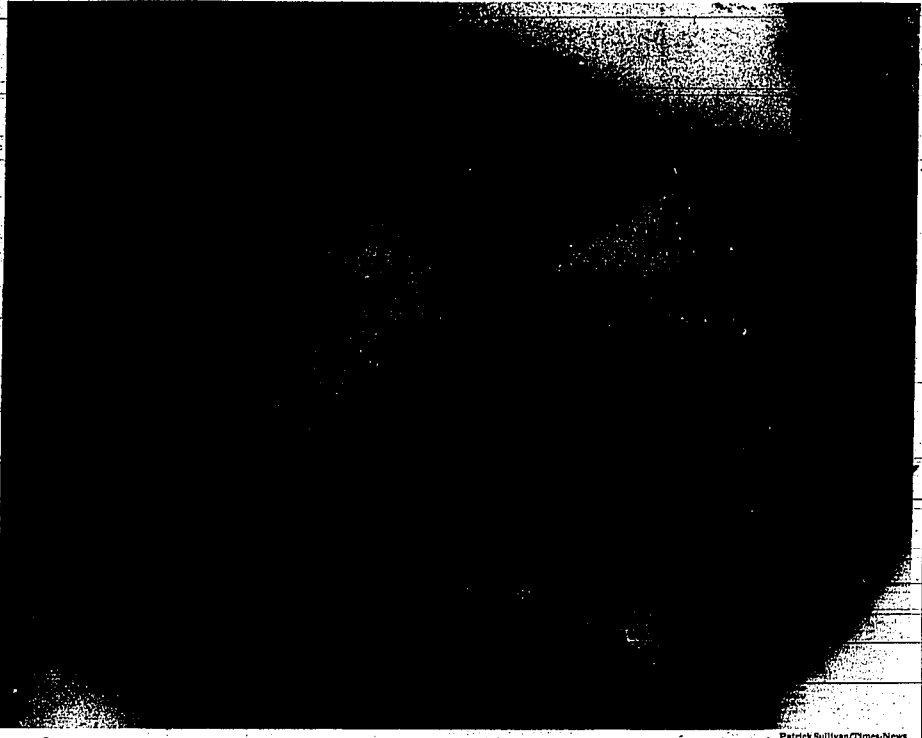

In an opinion sought by Tax Commissioner Don J. Cleveland and Carl M. Dick, Deputy Attorney General Theodore V. Spangler Jr. also said the cost of conducting reappraisals "should be considered as a part of the county's operating budget subject to the freeze imposed by (Idaho law)."

"It may be overridden by election as discussed in (a May 31 opinion). Additionally, in property cases a county is able to fund the reappraisal using established emergency expenditure procedures."

The two commissioners had asked the attorney general if the property values should be increased for inflation for 1979 and 1980 when the 1978 market value levels for the 1980 tax roll.

"That is, can they be increased by an amount not greater than 4 percent?" the commissioners asked.

"Alternatively, is the first adjustment for inflation to be reflected on the 1981 tax roll?"

Reversing his earlier stand, David Alan Osborn says he wants to live to see his five-year-old son grow up

Death row inmate wants life

Editors Note: This is the first in a four-part series on capital punishment in Idaho.

By DAVID MORRISSEY Times-News writer

BOISE — David Alan Osborn said Wednesday he wants to live less than a month after he was sentenced to die.

The Statesville, Utah, native, convicted June 29th of first degree murder in the beating and shooting death of a Pocatello woman, told a room packed with Idaho reporters he will now fight his conviction "because I want a chance to see my son grow up."

The short, slightly balding 36-year-old former chef also said his trial and sentencing had deepened his Catholic religious beliefs. Saying he had started Bible studies since entering prison, Osborn said religious faith helped him face the thought of possible execution.

"Jesus will forgive you for anything," Osborn said. "He died for our sins. There's no sin too great he won't forgive you for."

Osborn pleaded guilty on May 21 of this year to the October, 31, 1978 slaying of 30-year-old Charlotte Carl. The body of the Pocatello woman, when found, had been shot five times. According to medical testimony at a preliminary hearing, her face had also been beaten, severely enough to flatten her nose.

But Osborn said yesterday he didn't expect to die, adding it was his hope to someday be released.

"I don't care if I have to spend 50 years here, as long as I can see my son," he said.

But he added, "I don't expect parole to come for a minimum of 10 years. I'm sure I can be rehabilitated, I want to be."

Until his Wednesday statement, issued at a press conference attended by 28 newspaper, televi-son and radio reporters, Osborn had said he wouldn't appeal his lower court conviction.

Prior to a stay of execution, issued last week by the Idaho Supreme Court, he had been sentenced to die Aug. 20. Until the stay, Osborn was to be the first man in the United States to die by intravenous injection of a lethal substance.

Osborn would also have been the first man executed in Idaho since 1957. Two years ago the Idaho Legislature changed the method of state execution from hanging to injection, arguing the new form of death was more humane.

Osborn said his family has now given him the will to fight for his life.

The first impression was surprise. When David Osborn walked into the side conference room at the Idaho State Penitentiary, flanked by his court-appointed attorney, what stood out was his diminutive size, perhaps a height of 5 feet 3 inches in his low cut green leather slippers.

But his body was muscular and his arms sinuous. He wore short cropped, white prison-issue overalls.

On his right arm was a blue and red tattoo of a rose climbing through a cherry red heart. Above that was the word "Ozilo." As he sat down in his yellow and black plastic chair he clenched his hands tightly together in front of him, about his knees. He tucked his legs underneath the chair, and moved tensely to the very edge of his seat.

On his left arm was another tattoo, a blue sketching of a beautiful young woman, a profile stretching half way up his arm.

He talked to reporters for 28 minutes in an unusual interview, created by the large number of questions about the first Idaho man in nearly a quarter of a century to face execution. Three times he unclenched his hands, twice to brush a wisp of neck-length brown, stringy hair from intense blue eyes, and once to sit back and cross his arms across his chest after a hostile question.

A three-quarter-inch scar creased his right cheek. His brown mustache is neatly trimmed.

Though unaccustomed to interviews, he answered questions quickly. He said his attorney had recommended he not answer specific inquiries about his appeal.

Was he guilty? "I don't know," he answered, saying the matter was in the courts.

He'd have lost his mind without the support of his wife Nena and 5-month-old son David, he said.

No, he didn't believe he received less than a fair trial because he was poor, and no, he didn't "come to a life of crime," simply because his father's death forced him to drop out of the eighth grade and seek employment.

And he's not talking about "all-house religion," he insisted. His faith is deeper than that. "I believe in God," he said, and discussed his Bible studies.

If things work out, he added, he could make a better life for his son.

What kind of life? "I'd like to say, 'my son, the doctor,' who wouldn't? I'd like to say, 'my son, the lawyer,' who wouldn't? But the decision would be up to his son, Osborn said he would place only one restriction on his child's career.

"I don't want him to be a criminal."

Amtrak compromise heads for Senate

(C) The Washington Post WASHINGTON — The House voted Wednesday to eliminate one-fifth of the mileage in Amtrak's nationwide rail passenger system in an effort to concentrate a reduced federal subsidy on the busiest trains. The Carter administration had wanted to cut service by 43 percent.

Rep. James J. Florio, D-N.J., chairman of the House Commerce subcommittee on transportation, said the compromise, to which the Department of Transportation agreed, will retain a transportation network that will be "cost effective and efficient."

The legislation, approved by the House, 387 to 18, now goes to the Senate, where another effort will be made to retain the 27,500-mile system in light of soaring ridership resulting from the energy crisis. A proposal to preserve the existing system with a one year freeze was defeated in the House Tuesday night, 214 to 197.

The Senate may try to get a vote on its Amtrak bill before the August recess. Supporters of the full system are rallying behind an amendment by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, which is similar to the amendment that lost in the House.

"It appears we have the votes, I'll press for enactment of my amendment" to retain the whole system," Church said. "If it looks like the votes are not there, then we are considering another strategy which would authorize continuation of a more limited system, including the Pioneer."

The Pioneer runs from Seattle to Salt Lake City, passing through several southern Idaho cities, including Shoshone and Boise.

Florio said the threat of a Carter veto may have made the difference in defeating the freeze proposed by Reps. Albert A. Gore Jr., D-Tenn., and Wyche Fowler, D-Ga. One of the administration officials who lobbied more forcefully against the Gore-Fowler plan was Acting Department of Transportation Secretary W. Graham Clayton Jr., former president of Southern Railways system.

Generally, long-distance trains will be eliminated if they average less than 150 passengers and lose more than 7 cents per passenger mile, under the House bill. Shorter-haul trains must carry at least 80 passengers and cannot lose more than 9 cents per passenger mile. An amendment by Rep. Robert Duncan, D-Ore., assures that no section of the country will be without passenger service as a result of the new standards.

Florio said trains targeted for cancellation, which account for one-third of Amtrak's operating losses, will permit Amtrak to shift cars to trains on more profitable routes.

Which trains they will be decided by DOT this fall, based on 1980 ridership projections.

Creech enters plea to murder

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Thomas Eugene Creech, who is serving two life sentences in Idaho for murder, pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of murder in the 1974 slaying of a church sexton in Portland.

Marion County officials said they would not decide whether to prosecute Creech on a murder charge there until they "see what kind of a sentence he gets" in Portland.

Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge John Murchison set Aug. 3 as the date for sentencing Creech for the gunshot slaying of William Joseph Dean, 22, in Portland in 1974.

If Marion County decides not to prosecute Creech he would be returned to Idaho to finish serving the consecutive life sentences for killing two transients in November 1973. If he is paroled from the Idaho terms he would be sent to Oregon to serve whatever sentence is meted out by Judge Murchison. Creech is charged at Salem with killing Sandra Jane Ramsamog during a grocery store holdup in August 1974.

Des Connall, Creech's Portland attorney, said Creech entered the guilty plea against his advice.

Boston shooter surrenders

BOSTON (UPI) — A disgruntled, former city employee who held six members of his family hostage after critically wounding a top ranking police officer, surrendered to police Wednesday night, ending four hours of tense negotiations during which snipers kept their rifles trained on his apartment.

David Sundstrom, 36, walked out the front door of the three-story building shortly after 8 p.m. with his hands up. He was immediately surrounded by officers and taken away. None of the hostages was injured, police said.

Sundstrom was charged with shooting Police Superintendent Edward F. Connolly, the department's No. 3 ranking officer and a 32-year veteran of the force.

At just about the same time Sundstrom was giving himself up, Connolly was being taken out of the operating room at nearby Faulkner Hospital where he was listed in critical but stable condition with a single gunshot wound in the chest.

Banks nationalized

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — The Nicaraguan junta Wednesday nationalized all private banks, placed restrictions on foreign bank operations and said it would not pay back a $5 million debt to Israel and Argentina because those countries supplied arms to deposed President Anastasio Somoza.

The five-member revolutionary junta said that before flying to exile Somoza and his aides took almost $1.5 billion from the national treasury and government companies. But the junta said that most of that money had been recovered or secured through the help of foreign governments including the United States.

Junta member Alfonso Robelo said that the nationalization of the private banks does not indicate "the start of a chain of indiscriminate nationalization of private enterprise in Nicaragua."

Refugees rescued

United Press International

American ships patrolling the South China Sea for Vietnamese refugees have rescued 19 "boat people," the U.S. Navy said Wednesday. Hanoi protested the American mercy flotilla and said it might increase the flood of refugees.

A Navy spokesman said the 7th Fleet off U.S.S. Wahassi picked up the 19 Vietnamese in an open boat Tuesday about 100 miles west of the Philippines.

They were the first such group rescued since President Carter ordered the Navy to be "particularly alert for refugees and to render all possible assistance to vessels in distress."

Two Italian warships and a support vessel also were out in the South China Sea on a search and rescue mission.

Peltier captured

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (UPI) — Leonard Peltier, the convicted killer and American Indian Movement leader who escaped from a federal prison last week, was recaptured Wednesday, offering no resistance.

Two county sheriff's deputies in northern Santa Barbara County and one FBI agent took Peltier into custody in an area only about 20 miles north of the prison where he was serving a life sentence for the killing of two FBI agents at the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota in June 1975.

SALT II debated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A powerful senator decried SALT II a setback Wednesday by saying he couldn't support the treaty without a big U.S. arms buildup, but a veteran of Cold War diplomacy countered with belated praise for the pact.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., told the Senate Armed Services Committee that SALT II without new spending would be "nothing more than an instrument for registering emerging Soviet military superiority."

Sen. Tom, America's hardline ambassador to Moscow, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that his last doubts about the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks

HEDLEY DONOVAN

President names new adviser

It didn't take long for Hedley Williams Donovan, former editor of Time magazine and a half-dozen other Time Inc. publications, to come out of retirement. Donovan, 65, who left his post as editor-in-chief of Time Inc. on June 1, was named Wednesday as a "senior adviser" to President Carter.

He will be the only presidential staff member bearing that title and the only aide reporting directly to Carter rather than to newly-appointed Chief of Staff Hamilton Jordan.

Reached by telephone at his Sands Point, N.Y., home on Long Island, Donovan declined to say if his direct access to the president was a condition of accepting the appointment.

He also declined to discuss the nature of his new duties. A White House spokesman had said Donovan will "provide substantive advice on the full range of matters that come before the president."

Donovan, who traveled widely as a reporter, editor and corporate official of Time, has expressed an interest in foreign affairs and has interviewed numerous world leaders.

His experience and influence have been almost completely exclusive of the world of politics, a factor that markedly differentiates Donovan from most members of Carter's personal staff.

His sole governmental appointment was as an official U.S. observer to elections in the Soviet Union.

Federal funds being used to sterilize minors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader health study group Wednesday released government data showing 1,000 minors each year are sterilized through the Medicaid program even though federal funds are not permitted for such surgery until a person is 21.

The Health Research Group, headed by Dr. Sidney Wolfe, noted that federal funding for sterilizations of persons under 21 was outlawed in 1973. However, he said states performing sterilizations are claiming "federal financial participation" in defiance of the laws.

The data came from a Health Care Financing Administration report covering the period of January 1977 to March 31, 1979.

"In 1978, the last full year for which data was supplied, 1,298 people under the age of 21 were sterilized," Wolfe said, "including 48 men and 1,250 women."

He said all the operations occurred in 19 states, and six states accounted for 86 percent of the total.

"These results follow by one week a Health Research Group survey of teaching hospitals that showed 63 percent still sterilize women under the age of 21, 12 percent don't require a waiting period of at least 72 hours after consent and 18 percent will obtain consent for sterilization during a woman's labor."

"It's time HEW takes a much more aggressive stand against abusing young people," Wolfe said.

Brown fundraising committee founded

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. will form an exploratory committee for his presidential campaign against President Carter early next week, one of the governor's top strategists said Wednesday.

The long-expected step by the 41-year-old Democrat renews his rivalry with Carter, which started with Brown's late entry in the 1976 presidential primaries and never really ended.

Tom Quinn, one of Brown's top political lieutenants, said the committee "will be formed in the first half of next week," perhaps as early as Monday. "I think we're all looking forward to it," he said.

Brown enters the race at a time when Carter is in deep political trouble. Public opinion polls show voters prefer Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., or Republican Ronald Reagan.

While these same polls show Brown is favored by fewer voters than Kennedy or even Carter, this has done little to diminish the Californian's enthusiasm.

He is an unpredictable blend of fiscal conservatism that has its roots in Proposition 13 and liberalism buoyed by his alliance with activists Jane Fonda and her husband Tom Hayden.

His trip this year to Africa with singing star Linda Ronstadt and his vocal ~~opposi-~~ ~~tion-~~ ~~to-~~ ~~development-~~ of nuclear power have put him at odds with the Washington establishment and conventional political wisdom.

His campaign against nuclear power erupted earlier Wednesday in a sparring bout with Republican presidential hopeful Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee.

At the National Conference of State Legislatures, Baker called for creation of "nuclear parks" — clusters of power plants away from population centers, which would be "monitored by an elite corps of technicians."

But Brown ridiculed the idea as a creation of a "nuclear elite. I call it a nuclear priesthood that manages these parks with the long-lived wastes."

Brown's committee is the first formal step in declaration of his candidacy to challenge Carter. It will enable him to collect campaign donations and some are already rolling in.

Anthony Dougherty, Brown's chief fundraiser, said the committee hoped to collect $100,000 by the time it is formed and filed. So far, he said, "several thousand dollars" have been taken in.

"We are actively seeking and accepting checks," said Dougherty.

Carter selects New York banker to fill Fed chairmanship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter Wednesday nominated New York banker Paul Volcker to head the Federal Reserve Board in a rebuilding move widely hailed by economists and key members of Congress.

Selection of Volcker as chairman of the pivotal economic policy-setting board fulfilled Carter's "first priority" in plugging the holes left by last week's cabinet housecleaning. His choices for HUD and Transportation secretary were expected shortly.

The Volcker nomination also marked the first time the president has reached outside the current government establishment to fill any of the six top-level posts vacated in last week's reshuffle.

White House Chief of Staff Hamilton Jordan meantime dismissed as "incorrect" a report that presidential counsel Robert Lipschitz will be the first top aide to be fired in the anticipated White House staff shakeup.

As for the Carter's plans for revamping his White House staff in a phase two follow-up to the Cabinet reshuffle, aides indicated Wednesday the major decisions were still pending.

Volcker, 51 chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and a treasury official in both the Nixon and Johnson administrations, will succeed departing FED chairman William Miller, the new treasury secretary-designate.

The Federal Reserve manages the nation's money supply and credit and influences interest rates. Its decisions have a major effect on inflation, jobs, economic growth and the health of the dollar.

Like many who make the switch from blue chip corporate jobs to the government, Volcker will take a hefty pay cut — from $116,000 to $57,500 — in agreement to fill out the unexpired portion of Miller's 11-year Federal Reserve term, which runs until Jan. 31, 1992.

The White House quoted Carter as saying Volcker "enjoys an outstanding international reputation" and will support "my determination to vigorously pursue the battle against inflation at home and to insure the strength and stability of the dollar abroad."

Miller led a wave of praise for Volcker that flowed in from many quarters.

"The appointment of Paul Volcker as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board," he said, "guarantees continuity in the conduct of the nation's monetary policy and provides a recognized leadership that is required if we are to assure a sound dollar internationally."

Similar opinions were expressed by outgoing Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, banking executives and the chairman of the House and Senate Banking Committees, Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Volcker has been president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York since 1975. He is a former vice president of Chase Manhattan Bank and an undersecretary of the treasury in the Nixon years and a deputy treasury undersecretary in the Johnson administration.

Volcker's nomination filled the fourth of six top-level posts vacated in last week's stunning Cabinet reshuffle, and represented the first "new face" in the series.

Besides the Miller-for-Blumenthal move, HUD Secretary Patricia Harris was tapped to succeed Joseph

Callfano as secretary of health, education and welfare; Deputy Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti takes over for Attorney General

Griffin Bell; and Deputy Defense Secretary Charles Duncan replaces James Schlesinger at the helm of the Energy Department.

Little known Federal Reserve affects most all Americans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Little known when less understood by the public, the Federal Reserve makes economic policies which affect every American.

Its decisions are central to the rate of inflation, economic growth, the unemployment rate and the health of the dollar abroad.

Despite this, G. William Miller, the outgoing chairman, is fond of saying that if Americans were polled on what the Federal Reserve is, they would describe it variously as an Indian reservation, a wildlife preserve and a brand of liquor.

What the Federal Reserve actually does is manage the nation's money supply and credit.

When there are too plentiful inflation rises. When they are too scarce, production slows and unemployment increases.

Right now the country is suffering from both inflation and unemployment, and the Fed is trying to balance those two perils and eventually help bring both under control, as well as strengthen the dollar abroad.

The Federal Reserve is run by a seven-member board. Each member serves a 14-year term, but the chairmanship is for four years.

The Federal Reserve System operates through 12 regional Federal Reserve Banks, the most important being the one in New York, headed by Paul A. Volcker, President Carter's nominee for Fed chairman.

The Federal Reserve regulates about 5,600 commercial banks, or about 38 percent of all the banks in the country. These have roughly 70 percent of the nation's bank deposits.

The Fed controls the amount of money in the country in three ways:

• By setting the amount of reserves its member banks are required to maintain in cash for loans they make. Lower reserve requirements allow more loans. When a bank makes a loan it is essentially creating money.

• By buying and selling government securities on the open market. When the Fed's Open Market Committee sells, it pulls in cash from the economy; banks then have less reserves and the money supply declines. When the Fed buys, the money it shells out increases bank reserves and the money supply rises.

Dollar, gold take a break

By United Press International
The dollar's sharp decline and gold's spectacular climb took a breather Wednesday as international markets assessed the appointment of a new U.S. central bank chief and awaited President Carter's news conference.

Carter's appointment of Paul Volcker to head the Federal Reserve Board came too late in the day to seriously affect the dollar in Europe, but the initial reaction to the announcement, which was thought to have been accompanied by Fed intervention in the market, resulted in a slight strengthening.

Volcker's appointment was applauded by the nation's big commercial banks as positive to the dollar.

The dollar finished around its best levels of the day. Dealers in Europe and New York said trading was moderate as the markets awaited Carter's news conference and tried to assess the new Fed chief.

In Tokyo, where markets were closed before Volcker's appointment was announced, the dollar rose in value as dealers said was a correction of Monday's overall position. The dollar closed at 214.75 yen, up from Tuesday's 70-day low of 213.95.

In Frankfurt it closed at 1.8163 German marks, up from Tuesday's 1.8105; in Zurich at 1.8404 Swiss francs, up from 1.8325; in Brussels at 30.14 Belgian francs.

By raising and lowering the "discount rate," which is the interest the Fed charges its member banks. Raising it makes it more difficult for member banks to maintain the required reserves, and they must scale down their loans. They in turn generally raise the interest rates they charge others.

Banks have been lobbying the Fed because of its cash reserve requirements, which impose a cost on them not borne by non-member banks. Congress is considering legislation to make these costs more equal and thereby stop the flight from the Fed.

Birthplace of oil industry losing visitors to gas lack

By LILLIAN SWANSON
TITUSVILLE, Pa. (UPI) — The gasoline shortage is keeping visitors away from Drake's oil well — the birthplace of the petroleum industry 120 years ago.

"We've had less people because they don't have the gas to get here," bemoaned Vance Packard, son of the widely known author and an archeologist by training who administers the historic site.

Last year, 35,000 tourists paid admittance to the museum about 15 miles north of Oil City in northwest Pennsylvania. Packard estimates a 25 percent drop this summer.

Col. Edwin L. Drake was looking for oil mainly for lighting and heating when he drilled into the sands along Oil Creek in August, 1859. He came up with America's first commercially successful well, dug for the now-defunct Seneca Oil Co.

Gasoline, an oil byproduct, was considered by businessmen of the day to be a waste product and a hazardous one at that, because of its explosive nature. But the popularity of the automobile after the turn of the 20th century changed all that.

In honor of Drake's work, a replica of his well and engine house was reconstructed at the original site in 1945. The museum — the second largest run by Pennsylvania — was added later.

"It's a little awesome to think that in the 120 years since then we've developed to almost total dependence on hydrocarbons," Packard said.

The administrator, who took over his post in early July, plans to get the museum's steam generator going again and open up a few demonstration wells on a nearby lease. But to conserve energy, the air conditioning at the museum remains turned off.

Asked if tourists realize the importance of Drake's success, he said, "If we're doing our job, they do when they leave."

The 7,000 residents in Titusville have not escaped the gasoline crunch, but its impact has not been as severe as in major Eastern cities.

"We've had gas lines and we had the panic," said Mayor Bob Rhoades. "It's definitely cut down on the use of the automobile."

Rhoades, a driver education teacher in the summer, said he has noticed his students have not been talking about family vacations.

"I know families that have trailers that haven't moved this year."

Most of the oil drawn from area leases are paraffin-based and are refined into gasoline and lubrication, Rhoades said. Oil pumped in Oklahoma and other areas is refined into gasoline.

Rhoades said he expects foreign oil problems and President Carter's emphasis on domestic production to mean more pumping in the Titusville area.

"We have a problem — OPEC has us at their command. We have to break away. But what the repercussions will be, what the results will be, I don't know," he said. "It's really hit home."

Test tube baby year old, healthy

BRISTOL, England (UPI) — Louise Brown, the world's first test-tube baby, celebrated her first birthday Wednesday happy, healthy and with 30,000 miles behind her as an international celebrity.

Her Caesarian birth on July 25, 1978, at Oldham Hospital stunned the medical world and brought new hope to thousands of sterile women.

But only one other test-tube baby has been born since then, involving the same pair of British doctors, and no other medical team has been able to do it since.

Her parents, John and Lesley Brown, who sold exclusive rights to coverage of the baby's first 400 days to a British newspaper group for a reported $565,000, planned a modest birthday party, in contrast to the carnival atmosphere of her birth.

"We're trying not to make too big a fuss about it," Mrs. Brown told the London Evening News. "Some of the family will be coming round and we will just have a little party. We couldn't be happier to have a beautiful new home and Louise has adapted very quickly."

She was quoted as saying the curly-haired, blue-eyed baby was happy and healthy despite travelling some 30,000 miles, including visits to Japan, Canada and Florida.

Her parents also were busy writing a book titled "Our Miracle Called Louise" to be published in October.

Mrs. Brown was a patient of gynecologist Dr. Patrick Steptoe and research physiologist Dr. Robert Edwards, who had been working for 12 years on the problem of sterility caused by blockage of the Fallopian tubes, which carry eggs from the ovaries to the uterus.

The technique they used involved bypassing the Fallopian tubes by removing an egg from the mother and fertilizing it in glass laboratory apparatus with sperm taken from the father, then replanting it in the womb.

Mrs. Brown was the first to carry the embryo to the full term, and Louise was born weighing 5 pounds 12 ounces.

Five months and one week later another test-tube baby, Allister Montgomery, was born in Scotland to Mrs. Grace Montgomery.

Drs. Steptoe and Edwards waited until January to make their first scientific report.

Kangaroo season quotas increased

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — The Australian government, bowing to a request from the state of Queensland, agreed to increase by 20,000 the number of kangaroos that can be killed.

Australia's decision, which will be reviewed each year, means that 1 million kangaroos can be killed this year in the Queensland harvest.

Queensland has been trying for two or three years to increase the state's kangaroo harvest from 800,000 a year in an attempt to halt what it says is a growing kangaroo plague.

Queensland Minister for Wildlife Jack Newbery said the extra quota will be related to landholders now suffering severe damage to crops and grazing lands from kangaroos.

The kangaroos are killed by professional hunters.

Moon Children advised to take care in handling of money matters; Virgos can improve their health

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to handle details with meticulous care. Also, seek the best ways and means by which you can have increased abundance in the days ahead. Become a more dynamic person.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure that you keep promises made to associates and maintain your high level of integrity. Be alert in motion.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Show others how much they mean to you and get excellent response. Handle an important business matter in the right manner.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study details of a new project that could mean added income in the days ahead. Be more thoughtful of others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be careful in the handling of money matters at this time. Handle correspondence wisely and gain the best results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study monetary affairs wisely so you know where you stand and how you can improve your position's life. Be logical.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can get your health improved, and then improve your personal relationships with others. Strive for happiness.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Anything of a personal nature can be handled well at this time. Avoid a tendency to be extravagant. Relax at home tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show those small kindnesses to your friends that can further endear them to you. Express happiness at your work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have pre-arranged about some outside affairs and now is the time to get down to work and get them out of the way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study new interests and learn about as much information about them as you can. Make contacts that can be helpful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be more willing to do those little errands for your mate which means much to the both of you. Think objectively.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) See what it is that others expect of you and try to please to the best of your ability. Avoid one who pesters you too much.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... ...he or she will be one who wants to learn and work that means important to others. Be sure to give the best education you can and your offspring could become a leading scientist. Be sure not to neglect religious and ethical training.

What's what

August, not April wettest month in year; hibernation time arrives for all bears

It's not enough to report that actress Ida Lupino was born during a reppin' raid in World War I in London. You need to say, too, that she was born under a dining room table.

Natives on the island of Java are taught never to admit that they're unemployed.

Somebody gets injured or killed in one out of every 10 car accidents, about. Somebody gets injured or killed in eight out of every 10 motorcycle accidents, about.

And in Chicago, a woman may be fined for driving a car while wearing a hat that covers one eye.

When it comes to rain showers, April has been given all the credit. That's not right. April ranks ninth in the monthly U. S. rain report. Wettest month over the years is August.

BEARS

Q. How do you account for the fact that the bears in Yellowstone Park all go into hibernation simultaneously? I don't mean on the same calendar day each year. But when they go wherever the day, they all go together?

A. Can only make a guess from what the science boys report. Those bears appear to have some instinctive knack for knowing when the big winter storm will come along and lock up lakes and close down roads. How they know is a mystery. But you can count on it. They always move into their dens just before blizzards cover their tracks.

WOOD CHIPS

At a novelty shop in St. Tropez, France, on June 20, 1965, more than 100 women paid $65 each for little pieces of wood which had been advertised as chips from the tree of Zaira, which had belonged to the late Errol Flynn. Whether time ever wanted a memento of something real or imagined isn't clear.

An ask to identify the largest tavern in the world, believe that definition goes to the Staudacher Hofbrauhaus in Munich, West Germany. It seats 5,000.

Was more than that. Huges who said, "We have two ears for a reason in order that we may hear more and speak less."

That word "philosophy" actually means "love of wisdom," says our Language man.

Melba Caldwell shares her creativity

By LORAYNE O. SMITH
Times-News writer

Now her lifelong interest has developed into a ceramic shop which keeps her life productive even though at 72 she is widowed and has no close relative here.

Mrs. Caldwell has been "doing" pottery for 30 years. No longer able to handle the heavy molds and pour them herself, she now buys the greenware (unfired and undecorated plaster of paris objects) and teaches some 50 students techniques of designing and painting their own ceramics.

She has as many as 75 students, broken into almost daily afternoon and evening groups.

Since she can seat only eight people around the work table in her shop behind her house, the classes become rather intimate affairs.

"Sometimes it's more like a party," she smiles, white-haired Mrs. Caldwell said. "Often someone brings cookies or cake and I put on the coffee pot or have cold drinks." Her students are of all ages and include not only women but men. Sometimes a man whose wife already is into ceramics will become interested in the craft also.

"They often do beautiful work," she said. "For those unfamiliar with the world of ceramics, there is considerably more involved than in merely picking out an interesting looking greenware vase or container."

First the would-be artist much clean off the rough seams by using scrubbers of rough sponges. Using wet sponges he or she then sands the entire piece so that it is smooth and sits level.

"I'm very particular about making sure my students prepare their work carefully," Mrs. Caldwell said.

After this preparation comes the fun of painting one's own design or color scheme onto the as-yet-unfired greenware. Mrs. Caldwell urges her students to develop their own creativity, although admitting that "after all copy from things of nature."

"The objects are painted and covered with a glaze," Mrs. Caldwell fires them at 1800 degrees Fahrenheit in her kiln. Then another coat of clear glaze is applied and they are fired again.

There is deep personal satisfaction in creating something as lasting as ceramic work.

"When you put your initials on the bottom of something you've made and give it to someone," Mrs. Caldwell said, "it truly is an individual gift."

The firing or heating at high temperature creates the difference between the limited use for unfired plaster of paris objects and ceramics, from which "you can make anything."

Plaster of paris is a nice hobby for children, Mrs. Caldwell said, but the

Mrs. Caldwell holds her favorite ceramic creation unfired products can't be used for eating or cooking both because of possible danger of lead poisoning if the right glazes are not used and without firing the exterior chips easily.

"You can make anything with ceramics," she said, "because the glaze is lead free and the firing at high temperature makes the finish permanent."

Unless they are dropped, hand painted ceramics can become as treasured family heirlooms as any other art form.

While people have been making things from clay since even prehistoric times, and many American Indian tribes have excelled in pottery, the widespread interest in working with ceramics has developed mostly since World War II.

Mrs. Caldwell attributes this both to the fact there are growing numbers of people with time to develop hobbies and the manufacture of safe and beautiful glazes.

Longtime Twin Falls resident, Mrs. Caldwell was born in Ogden Dec. 16, 1906, but grew up and attended school here. In 1924 she married Otto Caldwell who died Dec. 30, 1976.

He was a meat cutter, who worked at several shops including Shelby's and Independent Meat Co. and also had his own meat market at the old Wall's Grocery.

About 1940 the Caldwells moved to Oregon and later to Washington before returning to Twin Falls in the early '50s.

It was while living in Everett, Wash., that Mrs. Caldwell really became "hooked" on ceramics through taking a course at the University of Washington. Her two boys were then in the service during World War II.

She always had enjoyed painting and other artistic hobbies and was teaching an adult education class on painting plaster of paris when a friend suggested she take the class on ceramics.

The immense versatility of ceramics appealed to her, compared to the unfired plaster of paris medium which is pretty much limited to figurines or something to hang on the wall," Mrs. Caldwell said.

When they returned to Twin Falls Mrs. Caldwell went to work for Hilda Mall who had a ceramic shop on Kimberly Road. Later buying the business, she now operates out of her own shop at her home on Fourth Avenue East and Blue Lakes.

When she worked for Mrs. Mall she poured her own molds and at one time had some 600 molds. But her doctor told her she had to quit lifting the molds, some of which are extremely heavy when filled with liquid clay.

"But some of my students said they were going to continue to come over and paint—even if I couldn't make my own molds," she said.

Mrs. Caldwell obtains the greenware from other hobbycrafters in Boise, Pocatello, Burley and even from former students in Twin Falls who now pour their own molds.

Mrs. Caldwell has always liked art and one of her earliest memories is of painting plates with a girlfriend whose mother did china painting.

"She would give us an empty plate to paint, then criticize our work," she said. "I couldn't have been more than 6 years old at the time."

Painting china is really her first love, but over the years she has also done textile and tile painting. A former member of the Mary Davis Art Club, she also has done canvas painting with oils and water color.

In between her classes and time spent with her kin she occasionally still paints pieces of china. But these days her son, daughter-in-law or one of her five grandchildren claim it for their own.

"If I ever give up ceramics, I'll have time to do more china painting," she laughed.

Mrs. Caldwell once took painting lessons from Mrs. Jennie Nicholson of Filer, who is now in a nursing home here. But mostly all her work with china and ceramics has been gained through experience.

There are so many different phrases to ceramic work — that "you never catch up with what you want to do," Mrs. Caldwell said.

Her artistic creativity proved a Godsend in helping sustain Mrs. Caldwell when her oldest son was killed in the Pacific theatre during World War II and especially since she lost her husband.

"The evenings would be so long," she said, "I don't know what I would do without my classes."

Although her one son, Blaine Caldwell, has urged her to move to Salt Lake City to be near his family, Mrs. Caldwell is happiest right here where she can continue to share her expertise and enthusiasm with others.

Admitting she doesn't charge enough to make a living from her ceramic classes, her work has its own reward.

"It's my pleasure to help others learn to create something beautiful," she said.

Cash checks from Medicare quickly

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and help you to cash your check, your check number would be canceled by your Medicare carrier within six months to a year after the check was issued. This does not mean that you will never receive your money! It does mean, however, that you will have to turn in your check to your Medicare carrier and have it re-issued under a new number. It is always best to cash or deposit your check as soon as possible to decrease the chances of loss or misplacement.

a weekend or a legal holiday. In such cases, checks will be mailed earlier — even in the preceding month, if necessary. Any overpayment that occurs as a direct result of the earlier delivery would be waived and would not be subject to recovery.

HEARTLINE: I have been looking for a health insurance policy for myself. The main thing that I want covered is hospital benefits if I should need them. I am not that interested in getting a policy for medical bills. Is it possible to get a policy that covers only hospital costs? — U.D.

Yes, many health insurance policies (including most Medicare supplements) do pay hospital charges only. The policy may pay all or a percentage of your hospital charges directly to the hospital, or the policy may pay so many dollars per day plus the Medicare deductibles to you while you are hospitalized.

For people who have problems understanding their health insurance, Heartline has developed a book to help them. Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance covers the major questions you may have concerning the purchase of health insurance. This book covers Medicare supplements, disability income policies and regular health insurance policies. There is also a policy check list in this book which will help you in asking questions of an insurance agent who may call upon you. To order, send $1.75 to Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance, P. O. Box 1124, Chicago, Ill. 60611. This book is completely guaranteed.

Dear Abby

Her concern reaches others

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© The Chicago Tribune
New York News Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I was raised to believe that charity begins at home, so I want to ask you what you think about a lady who spends three whole days-a-week-as-a-volunteer-in-a nursing home for old people.

She says they need the love and attention she can give them. Well, they have a staff paid to care for those old people. And their families are supposed to give them love. So where does a volunteer who is a stranger fit in?

This lady has a retired husband and a 40-year-old handicapped daughter, and I'm sure they need her at home. What do you think?

T. B. FROMKY

DEAR T. B.: I think anyone who works as a volunteer three days a week can't be all bad. Nursing homes need volunteers to keep the residents in touch with the outside world and make them feel that they are still a part of the community. Staffs often are overburdened and some families aren't able to visit often. And, as for the retired husband and handicapped daughter, don't assume that they are being neglected. Chances are they manage nicely without her and they all appreciate time away from each other.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married 23 years and have two sons, 20 and 18.

The problem is this: My husband and I were married (briefly) to others before we met each other. Both marriages ended in divorce. There were no children involved. We have never told our sons about our previous marriages, but now I have the feeling that we should tell them. My husband disagrees. He says, "It's all in the past and it's best to let sleeping dogs lie."

What do you say?
I'VE GOT A SECRET
DEAR SECRET: I say sleeping dogs have been known to awaken at the most unexpected times to set up a disturbing howl. Tell the boys.

DEAR ABBY: Lenny and I have been married nearly three years. He's 26 and I'm 24. We have good jobs—a car of our own, a neat apartment and no serious problem. However, I do have one mini-problem. I'm curious, suspicious, or maybe I'm just plain nosy. Anyway, when Lenny is in the shower I can't resist going through his wallet.

The last time he caught me he just about hit the ceiling. What do you suppose he has to hide?

SNOOPY

DEAR SNOOPY: Maybe he has nothing to hide; he just resents your nosiness. If you don't want your mini-problem to grow into a maxi, stay out of his wallet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. B.'s B. H.: Heed the wise advice of Joseph Zabarra—the 13th-century Spanish Hebrew physician and poet who wrote:

"Before the trouble comes, advice obtain; After it has come, advice is vain."

Are you the lovely face in the crowd? Friends make you a winner, and Abby tells you how to win them in her booklet, "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (25 cents) envelope to Abby; 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

TWIN FALLS — Megan von Lindern and Mike LaPray, both Buhl, exchanged wedding vows July 7 at the St. Ann's Lutheran church with the Rev. Kasimer Schmack officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren von dem Buhl and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Mrs. Raymond LaPray, also of Buhl.

Rocky Fields of Buhl was maid of honor. Bridesmaid is Jeanne Watkins of Buhl.

Best man was Danny LaPray of Buhl, cousin of the bridegroom. John Hays of Buhl served as usher.

The bride's brothers Ian and Sean gave the bride away.

Wedding music was provided by Jean Pippitt of Twin Falls and Terry Lechner of Buhl, who sang and played guitar.

Reception was held at the Rusty Nail in Buhl. Jackle Christoffersen was in charge of the guestbook. Paula von Lindern of Twin Falls helped with the reception. Marilyn Wells of Buhl assisted with the reception. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClure of Buhl.

The couple took a wedding trip to Redfish Lake. The bridegroom works for Pepsi Cola of Twin Falls.

Open house Saturday

RILER — Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Kimerling will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house July 28 at the Senior Citizen Center, 228 Main St. Riler from 5 to 8 p.m. The time was inadvertently omitted from the original open house announcement.

TWIN FALLS — Deanna Louise Latimer and Tracy Norman Beutler of Twin Falls exchanged wedding vows July 15 at the Blue Lakes Country Club with LaVern B. Thorbeck, the bride's uncle, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Latimer and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beutler, all of Twin Falls.

Edie Gomez, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Manon McBride, Michelle Wolfe and Lori Gomez. Kara Kwamoto served as flower girl.

Best man was Craig Steven Beutler, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Randy Dule Beutler, brother of the bridegroom, Wiley Dobbs and Greg Dobbs. Josh Howa served as ringbearer.

Wedding music was sung by Tammy McCord and Greg Heiler, accompanied by Jan Olsen.

A reception at George K's followed the ceremony. Kelly Howa and Lisa Ellodite were in charge of the guestbook.

In charge of the gift table and serving table were Guannel Conant, Sue Burwell, and Linda Holt.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Pauline Latimer of Thermal, Calif., grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Clarissa Stanford of Twin Falls, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gomez of Palm Springs, Calif.; Dale Stanford of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mrs. Sharon Stanford of St. Louis; and Mr. and Mrs. Randy D. Beutler of Charleston, S.C.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the newlyweds will live in Twin Falls where the bride is employed at the Arctic Circle and the bridegroom is employed at George K's restaurant.

Engagements

Stacy McCullough
TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. McCullough of Twin Falls announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Stacy LuAnne McCullough, to Marlon Wayne Nussbaum, son of John Nussbaum and Faye Nussbaum, also of Twin Falls.

Miss McCullough is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and the College of Southern Idaho. She is presently employed at Williams Shoes.

Nussbaum graduated from Twin Falls High School and is currently employed by Logos Inc.

The couple plans a Sept. 29 wedding at the Christian Center.

Cherie Wiser
RUPERT — Mr. and Mrs. Clare Wiser of Pullman, Wash., announce the engagement of their daughter, Cherie, to James C. Meservy, son of Mrs. Jane Meservy of Rupert and James L. Meservy of Dietrich.

Miss Wiser graduated from high school in Pullman, Wash., in 1974 and from Washington State University there in 1979 with a degree in horticulture.

Meservy graduated from Dietrich High School and from the University of Idaho in 1975. Last May he received a doctorate of law degree from the Moscow School.

The couple will wed July 31 at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple with a reception to be held the same evening at the Shoshone LDS Church. Another reception will be held Aug. 4 at the LDS Institute of Religion in Pullman.

Karen Taylor

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Byron Taylor of Idaho Falls announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Beth, to Douglas G. Hillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hillman of Twin Falls.

Miss Taylor was graduated from Bonneville High School in 1978 and attended Ricks College. She is employed at a travel agency in Idaho Falls.

Hillman, a 1975 graduate of Twin Falls High School, attended the College of Southern Idaho and is now serving in the Navy.

An Aug. 18 wedding is planned in Idaho Falls.

90 persons to attend MV day

TWIN FALLS — Some 90 persons are scheduled to go to Sun Valley Friday for Magic Valley Day at the Sun Valley Center for the Arts and Humanities, according to Doris Youtz of Twin Falls, chairman of arrangements.

Participants will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the dance studio at the center where an introduction to the dance program will be given by Samantha Thomas, director of dance, from 10 a.m. until noon. They also will view the master class with Elizabeth Gottleif of the New City Ensemble.

After a no-host lunch at the Kneadery restaurant there will be a tour of the graphics studio with David Wharton, director, at 1:15 p.m.; the photography studio with Ellen Manchester, director, or Mark Klett, assistant director, at 2:15 p.m. and a tour of ceramics with Jim Romberg, director, at 2:45 p.m.

Participants will see the facilities, work in progress and programs currently under way.

At 3:30 p.m. Richard Hart, director, will discuss the center's Institute of the American West programs and Carol Cotton will summarize the center's community arts program she has directed.

This will be followed by a tour of the Sun Valley Center Gallery with Mary Rolland. Complimentary tickets to the New City Ensemble performance at 8 p.m. in the Opera House will be available.

Other activities, all scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m., include a piano master class in the Opera House, an instrumental master class at the Community Art School and a dance master class at the Dance studio.

Dinner is scheduled at 6 p.m. at Louie's Restaurant.

Wendell Masonic picnic Sunday

WENDELL — The Wendell Masons No. 54 AF and AM, the Star of the West No. 35, and Job's Daughters No. 12 and their families and sojourning members will have their annual picnic at the Wendell City Park at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Drinks, rolls, coffee, and ice cream will be furnished. Everyone should bring his own table service.

Mixed day for most futures

(Courtesy Sinclair & Co.) CHICAGO — Meats were mixed and grains lower in commodity futures trading Wednesday. Commodity News Service said live cattle traded over a 200-point range before settling 115 points off 53 cents to 50 points higher on a volume of 5,777 contracts.

Live hogs ended with losses of 7 to 70 points with the two actively traded nearby months closing near the highs. Volume was 7,473 contracts. Pork bellies hit contract lows, then rebounded for big gains of 142 to 102 points except for nearby August which lost 62.

Wheat fluctuated but lost 14 to 30 cents, corn slipped 7 1/2 to 5 cents, and soybeans were down 19 1/2 to 4 cents. Meal dipped 2 1/2 to 1.60 and oil declined 77 to 5 points.

Maine potatoes settled 19 to 30 cents off with May the most at 13.66 per hundredweight. Volume was 882 lots. New York Sugar II gained 15 to 26 points on a trade of 4,780 lots. International Money Market gold lost 190 to 320 points in a quiet trade of 12,492 contracts. Chicago Board of Trade silver settled 140 to 30 points higher.

Second quarter profit soar for giants, other oil firms

By United Press International
Mobil Corp., the nation's No. 2 oil company, Wednesday reported a 37.8 percent increase in its second-quarter profits.

Standard Oil Co. of California announced a 50 percent surge in earnings for the period. Shell Oil Co., another giant, reported a 55 percent earnings gain. Other major oil companies also disclosed hefty profits for the second quarter.

Wall Street analysts had predicted Mobil, Social, Exxon Corp., and Texaco Inc.—the four U.S. partners in the Arabian American Oil Co.—would show sharply higher second-quarter profits because Saudi Arabian crude is cheaper than the average OPEC price paid by most domestic oil companies.

The Aramco partners produce approximately 6.5 million barrels of oil a day from Saudi Arabia, the largest U.S. source of foreign crude.

Exxon Corp., the No. 1 oil company, Monday announced a 23 percent rise in its second-quarter earnings. Texaco has not yet released its results. A New York oil specialist said they are buying Saudi crude at $18 a barrel and then selling their refined products at world market prices determined by companies that are paying $20 or $23.50 a barrel for

Mobil had second-quarter earnings of $404 million, equal to $1.91 a share, for an increase of 37.8 percent over the $293 million, or $1.38 a share, earned in the same quarter last year. Revenues climbed 20.4 percent to $10.6 billion versus $8.8 billion a year earlier.

Social earned $412 million, or $2.41 a share, in the second quarter for a gain of 52 percent over net income of $256 million, or $1.51 a share, a year earlier. Revenues were up 16.6 percent to $7.9 billion from $6.8 billion.

Social Chairman Harold J. Haynes said domestic petroleum earnings fell for the second consecutive quarter, dropping 9 percent to $88 million. Profits on Social's foreign operations jumped 60 percent, however, to $274 million from $144 million a year ago.

Elsewhere, Shell had second-quarter earnings of $277 million, or $1.83 a share, compared with $179 million, or $1.21 a share, a year earlier. Revenues were up 24 percent to $3.5 billion from $2.8 billion.

Phillips Petroleum Co. reported its second-quarter earnings climbed 44 percent to $214.6 million, or $1.39 a share, from $149 million, or 97 cents a share, in the same period last year. Revenues advanced 29.4 percent to $2.2 billion versus $1.7 billion a year ago.

Conoco Inc. had a 40.3 percent profit gain for the second quarter to $215.8 million, or $2.01 a share, from $153.8 million, or $1.43 a share, a year earlier. Revenues were 20 percent higher at $3 billion against $2.5 billion.

Cities Service Inc. earned $76.7 million, or $2.77 a share, in the second quarter for a 90 percent spurt over profit of $40.4 million, or $1.49 a share, in—the corresponding—1978 quarter. Revenues rose 25.2 percent to $1.44 billion against $1.15 billion.

Marathon Oil Co. had a 67 percent jump in second-quarter earnings to $34.8 million, or $1.40 a share, from $20.6 million, or 94 cents a share, last year. Revenues totaled $1.59 billion, up 38.2 percent from $1.15 billion a year earlier.

Marathon said its second-quarter profit gain essentially came from foreign operations, and attributed a 2,200 barrel-a-day drop in its domestic oil production during the quarter to the tightness of world oil supplies.

Sweetened by $345.1 million in capital gains on the sale of petroleum properties, earnings of Ashland Oil Co. soared 809 percent to $305.4 million, or $12.35 a share, from $43.5 million, or 95 cents a share, a year ago.

Simplot expands Canadian plant

POCATELLO (UPI) — The J.R. Simplot Co. Wednesday announced a $3 million expansion program at the Simplot Chemical Co. Ltd. fertilizer manufacturing complex in Brandon, Manitoba, Canada.

The expansion is designed to increase the production capacity of its urea plant and add an additional facility to produce a new Simplot product — a nitrogen and sulfur solution.

The new ammonium thiosulfate plant will be the seventh fertilizer plant housed by the Canadian complex, where dry and liquid fertilizers are produced.

"We are extremely pleased with the progress we have made with the Brandon plant," said Ben D. McCollum, president of Simplot's minerals and chemical division.

"Ever since we located there we have had excellent cooperation with our customers, with the community, and with the national and provincial governments. We believe our expansion will serve the interests of everyone in the area."

Ford reports profits decline as sales skid

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. has become the first of the Big Three U.S. automakers to report an effect of the current big car sales slump — a decline in profits. The No. 2 carmaker said Tuesday it earned $512 million in the second quarter of 1978, down 52 percent from the same period of 1977 and off 14 percent from the first three months of this year.

Not since the third quarter of last year has Ford recorded a year-to-year earnings decline.

"In the United States, the earnings decline resulted from lower unit volumes, the shift to smaller cars and higher marketing costs," a Ford statement said.

"In view of the slowdown in the U.S. economy, high dealer stock, and energy-related problems, industry car and truck sales in the U.S. market are expected to be below last year's levels in the third and fourth quarters."

The profits of $512 million, or $4.28 a share, were 5.2 percent below earnings of $540 million in the second quarter of 1977 and 14 percent less than the $595 million reported in the first quarter of this year.

At the same time, Ford said its earnings represented 2.3 percent sales, down from 4.1 percent a year ago.

For the first six months of 1978, Ford's profits amounted to $1 billion, still ahead of the $1 billion reported in the first half of 1977. Industry executives laid part of the blame for the relatively poorer performance on the big car sales slump which began in March and said they expected depressed earnings the rest of this year.

Sinai portion gives Egypt a north-south link

Israel returns part of Sinai

By United Press International
 Israel returned 2,400 square miles of the Sinai to Egypt Wednesday, keeping to the schedule set in their peace treaty despite a dispute with the United States over the posting of unarmed U.N. observers in the desert.

But while the two most powerful nations in the region reaffirmed their pledge of peace, Middle East tensions triggered violence on three fronts.
 A top Palestinian guerrilla official was shot and critically wounded in Cannes; France, a bomb exploded in Israel, wounding 12 persons, and right-wing Christian militiamen clashed with U.N. forces in south Lebanon as well as with Syrian troops in Beirut.
 French police said Zuhair Mohsen, leader of the Syrian-backed Saiga guerrilla group and chief of the military department of the Palestine Liberation Organization, was ambushed outside his Cannes apartment Wednesday by two assailants who shot him once in the head with an 8-mm pistol and then fired.

U.S. calls for restraint in Lebanon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department urged Israelis and Arabs Wednesday to show restraint and halt "the cycle of violence" in Lebanon.
 The department also expressed confidence in finding a replacement for the abolished U.N. peace force separating Israeli and Egyptian armies in the Sinai Desert.
 Department spokesman Hodding Carter III said the United States has recent confirmation of the recent Israeli incursion into southern Lebanon.

Security Council Tuesday allowed the mandate of the 4,000-man force to expire.
 The United States has said the smaller U.N. Truce Supervisory Organization would be a satisfactory replacement, but Israel has called instead for a multi-national force to replace UNEF.
 "There is no crisis here," Carter said. "It will take some weeks to draw down UNEF forces and in the time remaining, we are confident a solution will be reached."

CARTER TURKEYS

After three years in office, Jimmy Carter suddenly decided last week that all his cabinet and staff positions were held by a bunch of turkeys. He didn't call 'em turkeys when he asked 'em all to leave, but we could tell what he meant.

Naturally, with all those fat, plump, unemployed turkeys running around, it meant super low turkey prices for Swensons sale this weekend.

P.S. Swensons can only wonder if Carter is replacing turkeys with Southern Chickens. If so, there are a lot more where his came from — offered at extremely low prices by Swensons this week. Stock up now and save.

Out of control

Two firefighters worked to knock down flames on part of a 3,500-acre forest fire burning out of control 10 miles west of Bend, Ore., Wednesday. Forest Service officials said afternoon winds would determine whether the fire would be contained or spread by today. Nearly 700 firefighters are battling the blaze, which burned through the city's watershed and threatened a number of homes.

Utah woman relieved by Bundy verdict

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The girl who Theodore Bundy tried to kidnap five years ago says she was "relieved but not surprised" to learn the former law student had been convicted in Florida of the brutal slayings of two coeds.

Carol DaRonch was 19 when she was abducted at gunpoint by Bundy from a suburban shopping mall in Salt Lake County in 1974. Two years later, she testified against her assailant, and saw him convicted of the charge and sentenced to a term in the Utah State Prison.

"Now he won't be able to hurt anyone else," DaRonch said late Tuesday, following the return of a guilty verdict in Miami.

There were a number of similarities between the kidnaping trial in Utah in 1976 and the trial in Florida.

In both cases, the testimony of eyewitnesses was attacked heavily by the defense as unreliable in the kidnaping trial, defense lawyers put a psychologist from Harvard University on the stand to discuss the "unreliable" nature of eyewitness recollection.

In Miami, prosecutors introduced as evidence a mask allegedly worn by the person who clubbed two women to death as they slept in a Florida State University sorority house in Utah, the physical evidence consisted of a crowbar and a pair of handcuffs which the state charged had been used by Bundy in the DaRonch abduction.

And evidence from Bundy's person was considered in both cases. Third District Judge Stewart Hanson, Jr. ruled in Salt Lake that blood taken from a coat worn by Ms. DaRonch could be presented to the jury. In Florida, Judge Edward Cowart permitted the jury to consider a comparison of Bundy's teeth with bite marks found on one of the victims.

Former Miss Wyoming arraigned

SEATTLE (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted Joyce McKinney, who fled London to avoid trial on charges of kidnaping and seducing a Mormon minister, on a charge of making a false statement to obtain a passport.

The indictment accused Miss McKinney, a former beauty queen, of using a fictitious name, Cathy Vaughn Bare, when she applied for the passport on July 16, 1977.

Miss McKinney currently is undergoing psychiatric tests in Asheville, N.C. She and Keith Joseph May were arrested there last Wednesday on charges of making a false statement on a passport application at Seattle.

Tuesday's indictment supersedes the federal complaint.

Council gets $8 million budget

By MARTY TRILLHAASE
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls City Council members will review behind closed doors a preliminary $8 million budget prepared by the city administration.

The budget is only in draft form and is subject to changes deemed appropriate by the council, City Manager John Miller said.

The council will meet Friday to review the draft. Both that meeting and the draft budget itself have been closed to public inspection.

"There won't be any decisions made at this session. It's just a work session," Twin Falls Mayor Leon Smith said.

The procedure is not new, Smith said. The council usually reviews draft budgets before release to the public.

"This is just a working paper with some suggestions from the city manager to initiate the budgeting process," he said.

But this year's budget is of special concern to the city's 200 employees. The city faces a financial crunch as a result of legislative implementation of the percent initiative.

As part of the implementation, the Legislature froze local government expenditures for next year at this year's level. That in effect means a 10 percent reduction given the rate of inflation.

Personnel services make up about half of the city's budget, making it likely that some budget cutbacks will be aimed at employees.

"The budget contemplates that, and that's one of the reasons the council does not want to release it until we have come up with some preliminary suggestions for public hearing," Smith said. "We're going to cut personnel undoubtedly and we don't want to alarm any department prior to making that decision."

Whatever decisions are made will begin surfacing next month when the council advertises and holds a public hearing set for Aug. 20. The advertisements will be placed Aug. 5 and 16, Smith said.

The draft budget was given to the council Monday. It is the result of two months work by the administration.

River search for drowned Buhl man enters fifth day

BUHL — The search for the body of a Buhl man suspected of drowning Sunday continued Wednesday with no success.

Alvin Machacek, about 60, of Buhl, presumably drowned Sunday in the Snake River near the Thousand Springs after his boat capsized.

The search enters its fifth day today. Twin Falls County and Gooding County sheriff's officers began the search Sunday and have been using divers, boats and a helicopter.

Based on information from persons who saw Machacek on the river and later found his capsized boat, he has been presumed drowned.

Twin Falls County Sheriff James Munn Wednesday said the search will continue through the week.

Jerome squabbles surface

By RAY SULLIVAN
Times-News writer

JEROME — Budget time set off a round of arguments over duties and fees among Jerome city and county officials this week.

The county commissioners, led by Commission Chairman Mel Grindstaff, began Monday.

Grindstaff questioned whether the county should pay the salaries of two of three secretaries in County Prosecutor Eugene Frederickson's office, when the city of Jerome pays only a flat fee for legal services from City Attorney Robert Williams, one of Frederickson's two partners.

The county also pays salaries for Frederickson and Williams, who serves as deputy prosecutor.

Then, it was the City Council's turn to complain late Tuesday night during a budget work session. Up for debate was whether sheriff's dispatchers, who are contracted to provide that service for the city police, should also collect dog licensing and dog pound fees.

That would free up more time for City Clerk Marilyn Bragg, and her assistant, Dora Harris, who now handle those chores. The city pays an average of $2,670 a month for the county to provide dispatching services, house and feed jail prisoners and answer fire calls.

Neither governmental group resolved the issues, but budget discussions are still continuing.

Frederickson responded to the commission's query at the budget talks, saying the two secretaries do very little city or private legal work. The third secretary offices that by doing county work, he said.

He recalled Wednesday that he was contemplating last fall of not running for the office again because of the low pay and the shortage of help. Then the county paid for one full-time and one part-time secretary.

He said he only agreed to run again after the commissioners promised him more help.

This is the second time in two weeks a question of an arisen involving the prosecutor's budget for 1980 and Frederickson, a Republican, said Wednesday politics could be the reason.

The first instance involved County Clerk Linda Rogerson, a Democrat, who had erred in putting together Frederickson's salary request for Williams, showing he was requesting an average of $255 a month when the amount is $87.

The latest inquiry was triggered by questions from Grindstaff, a Democrat.

"I begin to wonder," Frederickson said, "I really do... It hurts my feelings. You beat your head-off and they start nitpicking."

Frederickson defended adding the second secretary, pointing out that in 1971, when he first took office, to more than 80 in 1978. With the $17,000 he will receive next year, the time is practically donated, he added.

"My Lord, the percentage you make for an hour with county business versus what you make in private practice? You spend 10 percent of your time and make 80 percent of the money for the firm in private practice," he said.

Williams, who is slated to get $1,525 as deputy county prosecutor, said Wednesday that the $700 the city pays for his advice covers all legal services, including secretarial.

He estimated secretaries average between five and 10 hours a week on city work.

On the dog fees issue, Sheriff Elza Hall said his dispatchers used to collect licensing and pound charges until about four years ago when the city took over the duties.

Mrs. Bragg said that was done so city personnel could keep closer track of the cash being collected.

It isn't a duty Hall favors the district court.

He contends the city gets "its money's worth on the contract because the county occasionally exceeds its contract obligations by including such extras as paying costs of feeding city prisoners before they are arraigned.

"We could go back to what used to be if you take off half the population," Hall surmised.

Chinese note timidity of US business

By LONNIE ROSENWALD
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — American businessmen have taken an unexpected "sit back and wait" attitude, a member of a mainland Chinese delegation indicated Wednesday.

"And they will be nosed out by the other nations if they don't adopt more aggressive trading practices," Li Zhong, an agricultural engineer with the Foreign Affairs Department of the Ministry of Agriculture, warned.

European salesmen are making a strong pitch for products in Peking, he said.

Li and five other Chinese agricultural-research officials stopped in Twin Falls Wednesday as part of a nine-state tour of food research and processing facilities. Wearing American caps with labels from "Utah State University" and "Colorado State," the group of five men and a woman toured two Magic Valley bean seed companies, where they looked at equipment and spoke with researchers.

Although the delegation spoke enthusiastically of expanded trade with America, they made it clear the trip's main purpose was to spur China's own agricultural industry.

"Our mission this time is to seek some useful experiences and to promote the movement for modernization," Li said, speaking through a Chinese interpreter.

Premier Tung Shiaoqing has set a national goal of full modernization for Chinese agriculture by the year 2000, he explained.

To aid that effort, the delegation has bought some small agricultural machinery during their trip, and "is quite interested in your seed processing machines and equipment," said delegation leader Xu Yuntian, deputy director of the Crop Germplasm Resources Institute of the Chinese Academy of Agricultural Sciences. They haven't decided whether or not to buy anything in the Magic Valley, Xu said.

The purchases provided a contrast to Xu's earlier visit to the United States in 1974, when he said he didn't even bring money.

Now, "with the development of diplomatic relations between the two countries, scientific research and trade will increase," Xu said.

But Li said the extent of trade between the two nations hinges on American salesmen.

"Your businessmen, especially seed salesmen, should be more active in introducing your products. In Peking, ambassadors from France and other countries everyday send products and seeds to our agricultural ministry to try," he said.

The delegates praised their hosts, officials of Gallatin Valley Seed Co., Agrow Seed Co., Rogers Bros. Seed Co., and Idaho Seed Bean Co., as "frank and friendly," and added, "we have learned from you."

Xu declined to say whether China will lift a three-year moratorium on purchases of Northwest wheat. The ban was imposed after the Chinese discovered a fungus, called "TCK smut," in the wheat.

"We recently sent a quarantine delegation to your country. Their main purpose is to solve this problem," Xu said.

China already produces five million metric tons of wheat annually, but is a heavy importer. Last year the country bought 63 million worth of wheat from the U.S.

Day care center decision forthcoming

TWIN FALLS — A request from the Bethel Temple Church for a day care center on the church property east of Twin Falls will be decided by the Twin Falls County Commissioners Aug. 2.

An appeal hearing held before the commissioners Tuesday morning brought opposition from home owners appealing the county Planning and Zoning Commission's recommendation for approval of the center.

Robert Alfred, who said he represented some 16 home owners in the area, said the property is zoned as low density residential and home owners there do not want any commercial interests developing in the residential zone.

Most of the families in the subdivision adjacent to the church believed the property was planned for a park rather than another building, Alfred said, adding he represented the subdivision property owners except one couple that is out of town and another couple who are members of the Bethel Temple Church. He presented a petition signed by 16 property owners asking the county deny the center.

Rev. Carroll McGruder, pastor of the church, said the proposed day care center would be to accommodate working mothers of the Bethel Temple congregation and other working parents who need suitable day care for small children.

He said it would include a gymnasium so children could have a play area regardless of weather.

Rev. McGruder said he has the support of many property owners in the area although those in the adjoining subdivision are opposed. He also offered to build a fence around the church property where the center is proposed.

Ed Woods, zoning administrator, told the county commissioners the Planning and Zoning Commission voted 6 to 2 to recommend the day center be approved.

Filer program funded

FILER — Filer High School has received a $17,142 grant to improve its special education program for pupils with learning disabilities.

The money will provide the students with more attention from all their teachers on an individual basis, according to program director Tlatiana Cochauer, who wrote the 22-page grant application and runs the school's resource room.

Emphasis will be horticulture, said Ms. Cochauer. "Already she has commitments from local landscaping and bean and seed research companies to help develop job training plans. She hopes seniors will be able to work half-days for one of the companies."

Although the grant, the only one of its kind in Idaho, will directly benefit only 15 students, the program will indirectly help all students, Ms. Cochauer said.

She will work with Filer High School teachers later this summer to create minimum skills lists for classes in industrial arts, home economics, agriculture, general math, and office occupations. The purpose is to guarantee that every student receives certain basic skills needed for life after high school.

Ms. Cochauer, who teaches a special education language skills class, will now have an aide to help her and other teachers increase the individual attention given to the 15 students.

The money comes from the federal government but is awarded to the school by the Idaho Department of Education.

One brother sues another

JEROME — A dispute between two brothers over 360 tons of hay has ended up in a lawsuit filed here recently in 5th District Court.

Richard E. Helm is suing Andrew B. Helm for $15,400 and legal costs, according to the court record.

The suit, filed by Robert Williams, lawyer for plaintiff Richard Helm, claims Andrew Helm agreed Feb. 15, 1978, to buy three hay crops guaranteed by brother Andrew during the 1978 season, at $40 a ton.

Despite being contacted by his brother, the suit contends, Andrew Helm failed to take delivery or pay for the hay. Richard Helm sold the crop at $25 a ton on July 10 to a third party.

He is suing for the $5,400 difference between the $40 Andrew Helm allegedly agreed to pay, plus $10,000 for loss of interest on the unpaid amount.

Times-News case due in November

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Supreme Court is expected to hear the appeal of the Times-News libel suit when it convenes for the fall term in Twin Falls.

R.H. Young of Boise, clerk of the Supreme Court, said the fall term in Twin Falls is scheduled for the week of Nov. 5. While no date has been set for the Sierra Life Insurance Co. vs. the Magic Valley Newspapers Inc. (Times-News) case, the appeal probably will be included on the calendar for that session.

The Times-News appealed the decision of 5th District Court Judge Theron Ward awarding $1.5 million damages to Sierra Life Insurance Co.

Sierra Life and the firm's president Fred Frazier brought a $36 million suit for libel against the Times-News, former managing editor Richard G. High and reporter William Lazarus in connection with an article published in 1975 about the firm's financial operations.

Ward struck the Times-News defense in the case when High and Lazarus refused to reveal the names of a certain requested information sources.

The newspaper contends all information about the insurance firm was accurate and that no information from the unrevealed sources was ever printed or made public.

Idaho Power has asked the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for permission to reduce water releases below the Hells Canyon development and start rebuilding Brownlee's lost storage as soon as possible. The utility has borrowed more than 41.1 million kilowatt-hours from three Northwest utilities, including 9.2 million kilowatt-hours from the Bonneville Power Administration. Idaho Power has repaid about 4.2 million kilowatt-hours of the power borrowed from BPA, but must buy additional supplies from other systems to return the remainder by the July 31 deadline.

Training required Guards can't give medicine

BOISE (UPI) — Prison guards cannot administer prescription medication to convicts unless they have medical training, the attorney general's office ruled Wednesday. The ruling could cost the state thousands of dollars for employment of medically-trained personnel hired to give drugs to convicts. Deputy Attorney General Michael Kennedy, who wrote the opinion, said the ruling did not address the administration of the state's 1978 death-by-injection execution law. He said, however, it likely would be legal for guards to shoot a prisoner through a convicted killer's veins in accordance with policy recently outlined by the Idaho Corrections Department on the method of carrying out injection executions. "I don't know the answer because it was not addressed in the opinion," Kennedy said. "But lethal injection is not a prescribed medication, so it may be legal" for prison guards to participate in the execution, he said. "It may very likely be" that an attorney general's opinion may be required before the injection execution could be carried out, Kennedy said. Osborn, 30, Slaterville, Utah, is appealing his death-by-injection sentence handed down in June by District Judge Arthur Oliver in Pocatello. State corrections officials earlier this month said men sentenced to death in Idaho would be executed at the state prison by one of three persons in an adjoining room. The three persons — volunteers from the prison staff — would inject solutions through tubes into the condemned man in the next room, but only one of the injections would be deadly. The attorney general's opinion said only persons "primarily engaged in the provision of medical services with prior medical training" may give prescription medication to inmates. Kennedy said Idaho Code requires control-of-substances to protect against acts or conduct which may endanger the health and safety of the public. Executions may be exempt from medical control because the health and safety of death-row convicts is not considered during an execution, Kennedy indicated.

Rams, ewes to be sold at Filer

FILER — The 58th Annual Ram and Ewe Sale will be held at the Filer Fairgrounds Friday and Saturday. Suffolk crossbreds, Hampshires and white face rams, registered and stud ewes will be sold. Friday there will be 30 Suffolk ewes, 30 Suffolk ewe lambs, 10 Polypay lambs, three Columbia ewes and four Columbia ewe lambs. Saturday's ram sale will feature 48 Suffolk rams, 37 crossbred rams and five Hampshire rams. Fifty-nine purebred brooders have consigned sheep for the sale. Consignors are coming from all over Idaho. The ewe sale begins Friday at 8 p.m. The ram sale is Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

Preston mayor subject of recall

PRESTON (UPI) — Preston Mayor Wayne Bell is the subject of a recall drive that netted 20 signatures during its first day, leaders of the effort said. Paul Christensen, spokesman for the recall group, said 20 "kickoff" signatures were gathered Monday. He said 304 signatures — representing 20 percent of the number of registered voters on the last city election day — must be collected in 60 days if a recall election is to be forced. Christensen said Bell has acted "contrary to the people's wishes on a number of issues," including his support of the creation of a city police force.

Evans seeks diesel fuel guarantee

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. John Evans asked President Carter again Wednesday to guarantee adequate fuel supplies for Idaho farmers, especially because harvesting activity is quickening.

Evans told the president in a telegram diesel fuel shortages recently have appeared in the state and he expressed "great concern" that fuel availability may tighten further in the coming months.

Hot weather and subsequent heavy use of diesel fuel for irrigation pumping — coupled with increased demand for diesel as a result of wheat trucks from the Midwest bound for the Port of Lewiston — has severely depleted Idaho's allocation, Evans said.

The governor earlier this summer called on Carter to implement the Department of Energy's Special Rule 9, which guaranteed Idaho farmers all the diesel fuel they needed. Carter rescinded the order during the nationwide independent truckers' strike.

Evans also urged the president to prevent implementation of a DOE "limit farmers' each month this year to the amount of gasoline they received in the corresponding month in 1978.

"If economic catastrophes are to be avoided in an agricultural state, our farmers and others involved in farming must have a guarantee of adequate fuels for the harvest season," Evans said. He called Idaho farmers' need for fuel "absolutely essential."

BPA slates hearings on power price boost

PORTLAND (UPI) — The Bonneville Power Administration announced Tuesday it will hold a series of public hearings next week to discuss its plan to raise wholesale power rates by 30 percent.

A technical meeting will be held next Tuesday at BPA's headquarters in Portland. The following day there will be six general meetings in Idaho Falls, Idaho, Helena, Mont., Portland, and Spokane, Seattle and Walla Walla.

The increased rates would help pay for the cost of building nuclear power plants being built by the Washington Public Power Supply System. BPA has agreed to purchase power from the two plants and buy 70 percent of a third.

BPA Administrator Sterling Munro said this is the agency's "first opportunity in five years to adjust rates. We have a legal requirement to pay our own way, and costs have risen considerably in those five years."

After 30 days of public meetings and written comments, a final BPA wholesale rate proposal will be transmitted to the U.S. Department of Energy.

Crippled jet lands safely at Boise

BOISE (UPI) — Crippled by a hydraulic system failure, a United Airlines Boeing 727 jet landed safely at Boise Municipal Airport Tuesday night as fire trucks and ambulances lined the runway.

A United spokesman said it appeared a hydraulic pump in the nosewheel steering system failed, but the exact extent of the failure and its cause had not been determined. The spokesman said technicians were examining the plane.

The plane, flight 248 originating in Seattle, arrived three minutes late at 9:08 p.m., as the pilot guiding the craft in on a slower, lower-than-usual approach, said Beth Page, United's Boise supervisor.

"The pilot simply lost the ability to make sharp turns with the nose wheel," Ms. Page said. She said she could not identify the pilot or say how many persons were on board the plane.

Passengers said the pilot told them of a problem in the hydraulic system and flight attendants received emergency procedures.

A passenger who did not wish to be identified said he fell asleep about halfway through the flight.

Teamwork aids escape

PAYETTE (UPI) — Teamwork and a faulty air conditioner have allowed two Payette County Jail inmates to escape, authorities said.

James Martin, 19, and Donald Christie, 21, got out through the back door Sunday night and still are at large, jailers said.

Jailers said the men were taken outside into a fenced yard for about 15 minutes of fresh air because the jail's air conditioner was broken.

Apparently the men bent the door off its hinges when they returned from the yard so it would open without a key, then escaped when a "inmate" distracted jailers.

The escapees, who were being held on misdemeanor charges, were not considered dangerous by sheriff's deputies.

Crossing deaths target

BOISE (UPI) — State transportation officials say they hope a $300,000 railroad crossing safety improvement project will curb a recent surge in the number of automobile-train accidents in Idaho.

Idaho had 69 such mishaps in 1978, 32 of them involving injuries and five resulting in death, the state Transportation Department said. This year so far there have been 48 accidents, three of them fatal — a 65 percent increase over the same period last year.

A recent inventory indicated most of the 2,200 railroad crossings in Idaho needed advance warning equipment to bring them into compliance with state and federal safety standards.

Pacemaker Industries, Spokane, has submitted an apparent low bid of $467,000 for a statewide rail crossing improvement project, which transportation officials hope will mean fewer people will die in car-train smashups.

The 1978 Legislature established a $100,000-per-year appropriation from the dedicated highway fund for upgrading of railroad crossings. The money will be used in the statewide project to help out local governments that are not able to pay for crossing improvements.

Before the appropriation was approved, transportation officials said, many local governments could not come up with funds to match federal grants. Now, the department said, the state will provide much of the matching funds.

Easley strikes out 18 in big Cowboy win

B district set in Buhl

BUHL — Action will get underway today in the annual Region 3 American Legion B Tournament to be played this year at Faux Diamond in Buhl.

Seven teams will compete for the right to advance to the state tournament Aug. 2-5 in Boise.

The Pocatello area will square off in the tournament opener at 2 p.m., followed by Wood River and the Twin Falls B's at 5 p.m.

Wendell will play the host Buhl team in the final game at 8:15 a.m. with Valley drawing the first round bye.

Action will resume Friday with three more games beginning at 2 p.m., and four games will be played Saturday beginning at 10 a.m.

Tournament championships have been set for Sunday at 4 p.m., with a second game played Monday at 10 a.m. if necessary. It is a double-elimination tournament.

Buhl won the tournament last year and went on to win the state championship. With a 22-5 record so far this season, the Indians have to have the favorite's role again this year.

Admission to the tournament will be $1.50 for adults, $1 for children 12-17, 50 cents for children under six. A tournament ticket for all 12 games will also be sold for $5.

least get the ball over the plate so he won't hurt us with the walk."

"But not only has Easley not hurt the team with the walk, he has become by far the most consistent pitcher on the Twin Falls American Legion baseball team."

Wednesday, Easley tossed a five-hitter and struck out 18 while the Cowboys buried Burley 10-0 at Juvayr Park.

Not only did Easley impress the spectators, he impressed his coach, Gary Barker, and College of Southern Idaho coach Jim Walker, for whom he will play next spring.

"He can throw the ball hard," said Barker while watching Easley strike out the side in the first inning and fan two hitters in the second.

"And he seems to get stronger as the game goes on," said Barker. Easley struck out the side in the sixth and struck out two hitters in each of the next three innings.

The big right-hander looked like he had been throwing all his life, but the truth is this is the first season he has pitched regularly.

"I was supposed to pitch for the high school team this year but the coach Ron Watson never used me," Easley said. "I think I pitched one inning."

Now he finds himself the staff pitcher. While Easley was throwing it past the Burley hitters, his Cowboy teammates were hitting it past the Burley fielders. Twin Falls scored two in the first and one in the fifth before exploding for six runs in the seventh to put the game out of reach.

For Burley, the roof fell in in the seventh inning. John Miller led off with a walk, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Krumm-Krumm stole second and scored on a single by Nass.

Cummings followed with a perfect hit-and-run single to right to move Nass to third, and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Brown then hit a ground ball to third which was booted into left field for an error. Cummings scored all the way from second, and Brown scored when the catcher tried to cut him down taking third.

Ferrin leads Minico Sage

POCATELLO — Trent Ferrin picked up his seventh victory and came up with two timely hits Wednesday night when Minico Sage dropped Pocatello Legion 11-7.

The victory brings Minico to a crucial situation Friday when the Sage winds up its regular season with a doubleheader at Rexburg. For seeding purposes, Rexburg holds an 8-3 record while Minico is 8-4.

Ferrin survived some early-inning trouble when Pocatello jumped off to a 4-1 lead but came back to scatter 10 hits, fan eight and walk but two.

The teams traded singles runs in the first with Pocatello jumping ahead when Mark Evans doubled in two of Pocatello's three runs in the second.

An inning later, Minico went ahead to stay. Don Dugan started it with a walk and Denny Stimpson and Kevin Dean singled to load the bases while two outs were being registered. Ferrin then singled in two runs and another scored when the ball skipped through the Pocatello centerfielder. A passed ball let Ferrin bring in the go-ahead run.

In the seventh inning, moved out of reach when Stimpson opened with a single and scored on Ron Barras single. Dean followed with another hit and he and Barras rumped in on Ferrin's two-bagger. Jeff Schow then singled in Ferrin.

PGO runner advanced to third. Hall appealed the play, but the second-base umpire asking for help from the plate official since his back was to the base-preventing judgment whether the ball was caught or not. The appeal was upheld, the runner called out, and in the ensuing argument PGO lost a player by ejection. That meant PGO was unable to maintain 10 men on the field and the forfeit resulted. In other action, Irving's of Ketchum dropped Coors, while Kerbs outlasted Flier Mug and July 12-11. Big O Tire downed John Lutz Construction and Idaho Migrant Council defeated Wood's Cafe of Jerome. Ramsay's overpowered Idaho Frozen Foods in the nighttime. Action continues at the two Harmon Park fields Thursday night. In the B division, Gallic Construct meets Mountain Bell; Blincoe takes on Hawkins, and Basterrecha meets Idaho Dairy.

America finally strikes gold in Soviet Spartacade games

MOSCOW (UPI) — And on the fifth day, the Americans finally struck gold.

Former world record holder John Powell, taking encouragement from a toy bear which talked to him, gave the United States its first gold medal of the Soviet Spartacade Summer Games Wednesday, breaking the meet record for the discus with a heave of 206 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Minutes later, Warren Gilbreath, who had to do some talking to himself after a poor spring, captured the men's 200 meters in 20.84 seconds, leading teammate Don Coleman across the wire, and Henry Marsh made it three victories for the Americans by coming from behind on the last hurdle to win the 3,000 meters steeplechase in 8:21.1.

"We're starting to come along now," said the 24-year-old Gilbreath, who couldn't even qualify for the finals in the AAU Nationals. "It's been tough for us to get adjusted to the time difference, and a lot of people came here after tough competition in the Pan American Games."

Gilbreath, a resident of Houston, Tex., said the Americans now were pointing to a world record in the 800 meter relay later this week.

Powell, a former cop in Sausalito, Calif., and a bronze medalist in the 1976 Olympics, also had to fight back to win the discus on his last throw.

"The competition was difficult for me," said the 32-year-old Powell who is working himself back into shape following a three-year retirement. "But I was in first place going into the last throw, and I had one of the Russian bears Misha, and it told me, 'try a little harder, John,' and I believed it."

Powell only arrived in Moscow two days ago, and leaving Thursday morning to compete in the National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"I haven't been practicing as diligently as normal if I knew I was coming to Moscow," he said. "And I've had an injury. I taught a discus clinic and one of my students said I wasn't fast enough in the 50. I took a challenge, so I took him on. Only thing is I pulled hamstring, so did he."

Coleman, runnerup in the AAU 200 meters, was favored Wednesday but a poor start and a bad turn relegated him to second behind Gilbreath.

"This was a good confidence builder for me," said Gilbreath, a former University of Arizona student. "I had a bad AAU meet and went home to build up my training. Then they (the AAU) called and asked me if I could compete here. It means a great deal to me coming to Moscow where the Olympics will be getting this experience."

Marsh, of Eugene, Ore., was last in the field of 12 in the first half of the steeplechase and third with only 5 meters remaining. In the closing yards the leader Romanian Paul Copu, made the classic mistake of looking over his right shoulder while Marsh, on the inside, sped past to win by half a second.

Too many distractions

U.S. won't train in Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — To combat the tedium of Moscow, the U.S. track and field team very likely will shun the Soviet capital in favor of another European outpost in preparation for next year's Summer Olympics.

"We plan to fly the athletes into Moscow just a few days before their events — say three days just to let them settle down," said Jimmy Carnes, track and field coach for the U.S. team at the Spartacade Games. "That should be enough."

Carnes said track coaches Stan Huntman and Jim Santos will leave Moscow next Monday in search of an alternative training camp in Europe, mentioning such possibilities as Helsinki, Oslo, Munich, Stuttgart and Dortmund.

However, Carnes denied that Moscow's lack of facilities had anything to do with the decision.

"I would recommend doing this wherever the Olympics were," Carnes said. "When you come into something like this, there's always so much going on that it's difficult to get your team together as a group. You get broken up, and you become just a bunch of individuals."

"There are so many distractions — reporters asking you a lot of questions and you have to fit in with other teams using training facilities and so on."

It is a fact, though, that the American athletes have complained about the lack of anything to do in Moscow in their idle hours, and there is talk of bringing in English speaking films next year as a form of entertainment.

Burley golf entries close

BURLEY — Entries for the Burley Amateur Golf Tournament will close this evening, reports host Professional Earl Simpson.

The tournament, which is expected to draw in excess of 220 players, will run Saturday and Sunday. Players may ask for morning or afternoon tee-off times Saturday but will be paired with players approximating their handicaps.

Simpson said defending champion Mike Sweet of Weiser heads a championship flight that will include several former champions.

He added the 24-karat gold-plate putters, donated by Bonanza Motors of Burley, will be awarded to all flight winners plus the winner of a closest to the pin contest on No. 17 Sunday. The tournament also offers $1,000 in added money, provided by various Burley businessmen.

Tempers flare in district softball

TWIN FALLS — An odd forfeit marked the second night of action in the class A and B District Slopitch Softball Tournaments Wednesday night.

In the final result, Otis-Hall Construction of Twin Falls earned the forfeit over PGO of Ketchum. It started in the third inning with the score tied 4-4. With a runner on second, PGO had a batter line a shot toward the outfield. It was halted in on a grab by a Hall infielder as the runner advanced to third. Hall appealed the play, but the second-base umpire asking for help from the plate official since his back was to the base-preventing judgment whether the ball was caught or not. The appeal was upheld, the runner called out, and in the ensuing argument PGO lost a player by ejection. That meant PGO was unable to maintain 10 men on the field and the forfeit resulted. In other action, Irving's of Ket-

Good year on the way for Vandals

TWIN FALLS — Money and schedule.

Those were the two things that University of Idaho Football Coach Jerry Davitch held out to Twin Falls area Vandals Boosters for improvement in this year's gridiron wars.

Davitch addressed a large crowd at Blue Lakes Country club along with several other university administrative and athletic personnel in the annual summer booster meeting.

Davitch said the Vandals were just "this far away" from being a good football team—and indicated, that distance by holding his thumb and index finger less than an inch apart.

"We told you a year ago here that we hoped we had a chance to compete," Davitch said. He said the group's response with a solid fund raising drive have helped.

"We have the best locker rooms, the brightest roof in the conference," Davitch said. "We won all the pre-games. But on the field we were like a Kamikaze pilot with 25 successful missions — involved with no results."

He said the schedule was more desirable from two standpoints, the Vandals will be home six of 11 times this year and the opponents are more attuned to Idaho's budgetary limitations.

He said the trust of coaching will be pointed in other directions this year. "We're good enough to be very good if I can take care of the mental and emotional aspects," Davitch said of the 1979 prospects.

Earlier, baseball Coach Don Mosier ran down a list of new recruits available this year. He said the newcomers plus the year's association between the players, and the coach's new system should be "a positive thing."

He said probably his best recruiting job was the "re-recruiting" of playmaking and high-scoring guard Don Newman. "Don was drafted in the fourth round as a future choice," the coach pointed out. He noted for a while the youngster had considered foregoing his last year's eligibility.

40,000 Mile Limited Warranty
Every Bridgestone Passenger Car Steel Belted Radial tire, except snow and original equipment tires, for use on passenger cars only, is warranted by Bridgestone for 40,000 miles of tread wear within 48 months from date of purchase, and for materials and workmanship for the original useable tread depth (2/32" without time or mileage or tread wear down to 2/32" before the mileage or time specified, an exchange for the worn tire Bridgestone will replace the tire, charging the customer for tread wear, provided by multiplying the Bridgestone Suggested Retail Price of the tire due to defective materials or workmanship. Bridgestone will replace the tire, charging for tread wear, provided by multiplying the retail price of a defective tire by the percentage of useable tread depth that has been worn from the tire. If such failure occurs during the first quarter of warranty, the tire will be replaced at no charge. To receive a replacement tire under this warranty, present your tire, invoice, and Warranty Certificate to any authorized Bridgestone Dealer. This warranty is not assignable and does not cover tires rendered unusable due to installation, improper mounting or inflation, road hazards, mechanical or body irregularities, fire, collision, commercial or off-road service, or other non-responsible uses. Bridgestone tube type tires must be used with proper sized Bridgestone tubes exclusively. This warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.

Briefly in sports

Unlimited fishing

JEROME - Fish limits from Fish Creek Reservoir have been removed, announced Stu Murrell of the Idaho Fish and Game Department. The decision came at a special meeting of the state fish and game commission and is due to the possibility of the reservoir, which is located northeast of Carey, going dry near the end of the summer. Murrell said the intent is to allow the fishermen to make use of the fish before a potential drawoff. He made it no other relaxation of regulations in the region is expected despite the low snowpack in the northern mountains.

Falls to Falls Run

TWIN FALLS - Today is the final day to register for the Falls to Falls Run, set for Saturday morning at the Twin Falls. Any entry after today will be considered late, and an extra dollar will be added to the $5 entry fee. Sponsored by the Magic Valley YFCA and Idaho First National Bank, the run will start at the Twin Falls and end at Dierkes Lake near Shoshone Falls. Check in time will be 7:45 a.m., with the run starting promptly at 8:15 a.m. YFCA officials report registration has been good so far, with many more entries expected. Runners were signing up at a rate of one every 15 minutes Wednesday. Prizes will be awarded to the winners in five age groups: 14 and under, 15-19, 20-29, 30-39 and 40 and over. Overall winners, male and female, and the youngest and oldest runners will also be honored. YFCA officials will be given to all runners, who may register at the YFCA or wherever posters for the event are displayed.

Bartkowski signs

SWANEE, Ga. (UPI) - The Atlanta Falcons' Steve Bartkowski, second season on the bench but wound up with several team passing records, has become one of the higher-paid quarterbacks in the National Football League. This fact was disclosed Wednesday when it was revealed that Bartkowski, going into his fifth NFL season, signed a four-year contract this past weekend which will pay him an estimated $225,000 a year in addition to incentives and some deferred payments which could push the total package past $1 million.

Philadelphia golf

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, encouraged by a second-place finish in last weekend's British Open, looks for his first 1979 PGA tour victory in the $250,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic beginning Thursday. Nicklaus and Ben Crenshaw, also competing here, tied for second last week three shots behind Seve Ballesteros over the tough seaside course at Royal Lytham in England.

Top LPGA field

STE. JULIE DE VERCHERES, Que. (UPI) - Nancy Lopez and Canada's Sandra Post, ranked one-two on the money list, head an impressive field that includes all but one of this year's LPGA tournament winners teeing off Thursday in the $150,000 Peter Jackson Classic. "Jo Ann Carter, last year's Peter Jackson Winner, is recovering from a wrist injury. She is the only major tournament winner not entered. But the field remains impressive. It includes veteran Jane Blalock who has notched four wins and Pat Bradley, the third leading money winner on this year's tour.

Foster disabled

CINCINNATI (UPI) - The Cincinnati Reds asked the National League Wednesday to place outfielder George Foster on the 15-day disabled list as of last Sunday. Foster returned to Cincinnati Sunday during a road trip for treatment of an injured adductor muscle above the right hip. Club officials have said only that Foster is undergoing treatment for the injured muscle, although Foster has reportedly told friends the muscle is torn. The adductor helps control side-to-side movements of the leg.

Venable leads PBA

AMARILLO, Texas (UPI) - New Yorker Charlie Venable averaged 240 a game Wednesday to take the first-round lead in the $70,000 PBA Amarillo Open. The Bronx right-hander bowled games of 245, 275, 214, 248, 246 and 213 for a six-game total of 1,441. He holds a 76-pin lead and 1347 per game average over his closest competitor, five-time PBA champion Gary Dickinson of Fort Worth.

Skier David moved

ROME (UPI) - Italian slalom and downhill star Leonardo David, still deep in a coma after a fall last March 3 during a World Cup race in Lake Placid, N.Y., will be moved from an Italian clinic to a specialist hospital in Austria, it was reported Wednesday. Italian press reports said David, 18, will be transferred from a clinic in the northern town of Novara to Innsbruck in the Austrian Alps.

Scoring overtrick points

Diamond to dummy's ace and when East dropped the queen, South was sure of a trick. How could he get the extra 30 points for five odd without any? Obviously East was going to lead long in hearts and clubs.

A squeeze against East was the obvious way to get that 11th trick. So South proceeded to give the king to the queen.

West, laugher, muttered a sarcastic, "Thank you" and claimed the rest of the trick. There was no problem. He cashed his queen of spades, leaving dummy with three clubs and three hearts in his own hand with four hearts and two clubs and East with a high ace.

Each had only six cards. They could not include four hearts and three clubs and South had the king with the king's partner (KING'S PARTNER ENTERTAINMENT ASSN.).

Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Experts," care of this newspaper. Individual questions will be answered if accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most interesting questions will be selected for this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.

In duplicate bridge overtricks are most important. In rubber bridge they aren't worth much, but if you can get out on a risk to yourself it is worth going after.

After the jack of spades lead produced the king from East, South could count nine top tricks.

At trick two he led a
