

Soviet troops in Cuba draw warning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department publicly warned the Soviet Union Friday the United States opposes the newly-confirmed stationing of a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba.

A State Department spokesman confirmed for the first time U.S. intelligence has determined the Soviets have moved a brigade group of 2,000-3,000 men with artillery and armor into Cuba.

The spokesman emphatically repeated an earlier statement by President Carter: "It is the policy of the United States to oppose any effort by the Soviet Union to establish military bases in this hemisphere."

The State Department called in the Soviet acting ambassador, Vladimir Vasev, on Wednesday for a meeting with a department official to express a similar U.S. concern. The U.S. official was not identified, but a department press officer said it was not Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

From his vacation in Plains, Ga., President Carter conferred with Vance Friday and said "I've instructed him what to say."

Conservative senators said Carter should delay Senate action on ratification of the SALT II treaty until the Soviets withdraw the troops.

State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said "We intend to pursue the matter... we are actively pressing the issue."

The spokesman said the top U.S. diplomat in Havana, Wayne Smith, has been instructed to voice the American concern to the Cuban government.

However, a Cuban spokesman said in Havana the government would have no comment on the troop reports. The Soviet Embassy in Washington similarly refused comment.

Hodding Carter said Soviet troops do not constitute a military threat to either the U.S. mainland or the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay. He refused to speculate on the Soviet motives.

The spokesman emphasized repeatedly the timing of his announcement on Soviet troops in Cuba had no relation to the current summit of non-aligned nations in Havana, which he described as "an important event we hope contribute constructively to world peace and a better life for people throughout the world."

Together with an estimated 1,500 to 2,000 military advisors, the new unit would bring the total of Soviet uniformed personnel in Cuba to as many as 5,000. In addition, there are an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 civilian Soviet technicians and advisors in Cuba.

It was disclosed earlier the Soviets had established a "brigade command structure" of headquarters and support personnel.

Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla., warned in July the Soviets were intent on building up their military strength in Cuba.

In early August Vance wrote Stone saying there was no indication of any Soviet violation of the 1962 Soviet-American agreement ending the Cuban missile crisis, nor any significant increase in Soviet military troops.

America being 'tested'

By DAVE MORRISSEY
Times-News writer

BOISE — By moving as many as 3,000 armed combat troops into Cuba in the last four months, the Soviet Union is "testing" the United States, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Friday.

Church also called the Soviet move "a clear violation" of the Monroe Doctrine.

The reason for the troop build-up is not yet known, Church said, "but in a sense they are testing us. If we do nothing, then we may well find that the brigade is enlarged into a division, or that the presence of ground troops will be augmented by the establishment of a Russian air base in Cuba."

In an interview with the Times-News, Church called on President Carter to demand the immediate withdrawal of the troops from Cuba. "They don't belong anywhere in this hemisphere," Church said. "Russian combat troops have no business being in Cuba 90 miles from our shore. I think we have to decide where we're going to draw the line."

Church said the Soviet action "would be like moving American combat troops into Yugoslavia." The United States "cannot allow Cuba to become a Russian military base or a springboard for possible direct military intervention by the Russians in future revolutions that may occur in our hemisphere."

Church said later on KTVB television in Boise he said he does not see the United States "allowing the Soviet to remove troops from Cuba."

The confirmation by U.S. intelligence agencies of Russian combat troops just 40 miles from Florida, however, will hamper ratification efforts, Church said.

Church placed phone calls to Carter aides Thursday evening and again Friday morning. On Friday he discussed the new build-up with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

Church said there was no way to determine how serious this Cuban incident may become, but stressed that so far it wasn't as dangerous as the events in 1962, when Soviet strategic missiles were discovered in Cuba.

This deployment of troops apparently does not represent a violation of the agreement entered into between the U.S. and the USSR in 1962, since that agreement made no reference to ground forces. But it is clearly inconsistent with the Monroe Doctrine which regard as the cornerstone of American policy as it relates to this hemisphere.

Church said he believes it may become, or what its potential may be. But the presence of a brigade of Russian combat troops in Cuba in itself poses no direct threat to the U.S., as the missiles posed in 1962.

Church said the Soviet build-up has apparently occurred within the past four to six months. The Foreign Relations Committee first received rumors of the troop presence in July and immediately held closed door executive sessions on the possibility of a build-up.

Football fans' delight

Flier football fan Cheri Kordeck provides some of the most enthusiastic support for the team during the first game of the season. She was disappointed, however, as Flier High School lost narrowly to Wood River High School, 6-4. Friday night kicked off high school football around the state, and 12 games involved Magic Valley teams. Students just returned to classes this week but athletes have been practicing all month. Results on page B2.

Farm workers end strike, boycott

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — An 8-month strike by the United Farm Workers Union against San Joaquin growers, ended Friday with agreement on a new contract giving farm workers a 57 percent wage increase and fringe benefits.

Cesar Chavez, president and founder of the UFW, called off a nationwide boycott against Chiquita Banana and all the products of the United Brands Co. because of the agreement.

A union spokesman said there would be ratification meetings held next week for the San Joaquin contract. He said it was hoped it would be approved quickly.

San Joaquin is owned by United Brands, as are A & W Food Store and John Morrell Meats.

The settlement is a victory for both the union and the company," Chavez said in a statement issued in Sacramento. "It reflects the vision and courage" of San Joaquin in helping to bring this dispute to an end.

Roland Kemp, a spokesman for San Joaquin, said the increased wage package "may have a small effect on the price of lettuce, but he added increased food shipping costs "may have more of an effect."

Kemp said the higher costs of production at San Joaquin would create tremendous competition in the states east of the Rockies where the costs of labor and shipping were lower.

San Joaquin was one of six Salinas Valley lettuce growers struck by the UFW in January. The job action followed a strike against 11 growers in the Imperial Valley in southern California. The six Salinas Valley operations are owned by six of the struck firms in the Imperial Valley.

San Joaquin broke away from joint negotiations with 28 farms in reaching agreement on the new three-year pact. On Sunday, West Coast Farms of Watsonville also broke away from the talks to reach agreement on a contract.

The contracts with San Joaquin and West Coast Farms are similar, a UFW spokesman said.

The summer harvest at San Joaquin began at the beginning of the month and the farm employs about 2,000 field hands.

The pact boosts immediately the per piece rate from 37 cents to 75 cents, 79 cents in 1980 and 82 cents in 1981. The hourly wage will be boosted to $5 an hour, $5.40 in 1980 and $5.71 in 1981. Included in the agreement is a cost-of-living clause.

Chavez said the boycott would continue against Feegberg lettuce produced by Bruce Church, Inc., under its "red coach" label. Bruce Church, the nation's third largest lettuce producer, is headquartered in Salinas.

The UFW spokesman said the Bruce Church executives were spearheading a legislative drive aimed at weakening the state's agricultural labor relations laws.

Earlier report detailed

IRS names the country's worst tax dodgers

By LARRY KRAMER
© The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — Don't make the mistake of assuming that the members of the underground economy are all shady, sneaky people of the sort you never see. They're much more likely to be your neighbors.

The General Accounting Office did a study earlier this year of people who, though they have taxable incomes, never even file returns, as opposed to those who do file but do not report all income.

The agency found that these non-filers are by no means limited to waiters who don't report tips or carpenters doing a little extra work on the side.

The report noted, for example, that:

- Six percent of all professional and

- technical people fail to file tax returns.
- Five percent of all managers and administrators fail to report their income.
- Thirteen percent of all service workers do not declare their income.
- Twenty-two percent of all tax dodgers have attended or were graduated from college. (Meanwhile, 31 percent of all non-tax-cheats attended or were graduated from college.)
- Southerners are by far the worst offenders. More than 11 percent of all Southerners do not bother to file their income taxes, making up nearly 40 percent of all tax cheats in the country.
- Another abnormally large group of tax cheats is the elderly. Twenty-one percent of all people over 70 do not file their returns,

- while only 8 percent of those from the 20 to 49 year-old age group fail to file.
- The Treasury Department reports separately that an estimated $1 billion — half of the GAO's estimate of the total governmental loss due to tax evasion — is lost because subcontractors and other so-called "independent contractors" fail to file returns.
- The category of "independent contractors" includes such traditional business people as real-estate agents, truckers, pollsters, cab drivers who own their own cabs, street vendors and others.
- The GAO study indicates that, by and large, professional people, managers and administrators are more trustworthy when it comes to filing tax returns than service

- workers, laborers and clerical workers.
- In some occupations, GAO reported, more people failed to file returns than filed them.
- For example, nearly 65 percent of all private household workers did not file tax returns, the GAO said.
- About half of all non-agricultural laborers also failed to report their incomes, the study said.
- A third of all farm laborers were non-filers.
- While 8 percent of all home or apartment dwellers failed to report their income, nearly 40 percent of all rooming house residents, and 30 percent of all hotel residents were found to be tax cheats, the GAO said.

Dominican Republic devastated by 'David'

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — Hurricane David hit the south coast of Haiti and the Dominican Republic with 110-mph winds and towering waves Friday, demolishing rubble in the streets of the Dominican capital of Santo Domingo.

"It was terrible," Rafael Herrera, publisher of the newspaper, El Listin Diario, said in a long-distance telephone call from Santo Domingo.

"I can't say how or never seen anything like this," he added.

At 10 p.m. EDT, the center of David was estimated about 100 miles northwest of Santo Domingo, moving toward the northwest at 11 mph.

The hurricane was expected to turn more toward the west-northwest direction as it neared the north coast of Hispaniola Saturday morning.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the storm's highest sustained winds had dropped to about 110 mph.

"The circulation has become somewhat disorganized during its passage over the mountains of the Dominican Republic," the advisory said. "The hurricane is expected to regain a large portion of its previous strength after it emerges over the open water early Saturday."

The wind diminished and rain turned to a drizzle in Santo Domingo late Friday, but an operator at the International Telephone and Telegraph building said, "It is totally dark here. You cannot see anything."

He said the streets were so jammed with uprooted trees, roofs and other debris that "even if you wanted to, you couldn't get around."

There was no immediate report of casualties, but President Antonio Guzman appealed to the Organization of American States for aid and at 9 p.m., announced a curfew retroactive to 7 p.m.

David was expected to emerge off the west coast of Haiti Saturday morning and hurricane conditions may spread into eastern Cuba Saturday afternoon, the National Hurricane Center in Miami said.

David's onrushing eye, which had been surrounded by waves 30 feet high before the storm came ashore, was 800 miles from Miami. The weather bureau said there was evidence that steering currents were changing and "if this occurs, David could turn towards or pass east of Florida."

At least 25 people were known dead in its passage through the Lesser Antilles into the Caribbean, and hundreds were reported missing. Damage rose into untold millions of dollars. David virtually wiped out the little island of Dominica.

In South Florida, workers were already sandbagging public buildings and lowering water levels in canals.

The Hurricane Center said winds in Santo Domingo were in excess of 100 mph before the wind equipment

"blew down" at 3 p.m. EDT when the storm made its sudden, deadly move to the north.

All but one of Santo Domingo's radio stations went off the air around 3 p.m. when the eye was 30 miles south of the city, and the only one still transmitting, Radio Clarin, said civil defense workers would not go out into the streets to aid victims until after the winds die down.

Herrera said the winds had been "high, but bearable" but about 9 p.m. when they suddenly increased.

"This must be the full force of the cyclone," he said. "I would say the winds must be over 200 kilometers per hour, about 130 mph."

Saturday briefing

Idaho anti-ERA group files

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho director of an anti-Equal Rights Amendment group Friday said the organization is launching a petition drive and supporting a lawsuit against the federal government in an attempt to validate the rights of states to rescind their amendment ratification votes.

Susan Hill, state head of the national organization which has opposed passage of the constitutional amendment giving women equal rights, presented U.S. representatives Steve Symms and George Hansen with petitions containing more than 3,400 signatures of citizens supporting the rights of states to rescind.

She also announced the group is filing a friend-of-the-court brief on behalf of Idaho and Arizona which have sued the federal government over the rescission question.

The lawsuit, brought by Idaho on behalf of Arizona, questions the U.S. General Services Administration's right to disregard the states' votes withdrawing support of the amendment. The lawsuit also asks for extension of the seven-year ratification deadline past March 22, 1979.

At the news conference with the two Republicans, Mrs. Hill said her group has asked other anti-ERA groups to join in the lawsuit, because they are already on record supporting the right of a state to rescind.

"I am presenting these petitions to Congressman Symms and Congressman Hansen today so they can act as a mouthpiece, letting the other congressmen know that we people recognize the right to rescind," Mrs. Hill said.

Symms and Hansen assured Mrs. Hill and her supporters that they will take the case to Congress but stopped short of agreeing to become advocates for the groups.

"I think there's certain room for question and doubt about how this can be handled," Hansen said. "At this point we believe the questions will be handled in the courts but I don't think the legislative channel is dead. There may be some course to revive it and I'll pursue it."

Hansen and Symms said their personal feelings on the ERA are immaterial because "the people of Idaho have spoken through the extension of the rescission of an earlier ratification vote."

Artificial spine implanted

BALTIMORE (UPI) — University Hospital surgeons Friday implanted an artificial metal spine in a newly paralyzed woman to replace her missing lower spine and protect her spinal cord. It is the first operation of its kind ever performed.

The operation to replace the entire lumbar spine began about 7:30 a.m. EDT. Originally it was expected to last about eight hours but after 4 1/2 hours it was still going on. Hospital officials said the extended time of the operation was not due to complications but to the delicate nature of the surgery.

Dr. Charles C. Edwards, head of the Division of Orthopedic Surgery at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, inserted a specially designed metal device about eight inches long into Jesse Thomas' back to protect her spinal cord.

Cleveland defaults again

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Holding a handful of checks worth $1.25 million, Mayor Dennis Kucinich complained Friday that his City Council would not let him begin paying off the city's initial default even as Cleveland's eight-hour night curfew ended.

At midnight Friday, $1.1 million worth of notes held by the city's own Waterworks Construction Fund came due. A new default, Kucinich said, could greatly delay the city's efforts to get out of default. And Oct. 1, another $14.1 million held by the waterworks fund matures.

Saturn probe hits trouble

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — Two huge bursts of radiation from the sun forced NASA officials Friday to slash in half the information flow to Pioneer II only hours before the spacecraft's encounter with Saturn.

Pioneer will become man's first probe to reach Saturn and "its enormous rings" the farthest-out planet yet to be reached by a spacecraft.

At 9:15 a.m. PDT Saturn's Pioneer will be flying at 70,900 miles per hour below the planet's rings and 13,300 miles from Saturn's cloud tops, its closest approach.

Donald McFerrry, top aide to Andrew Young

Carter picks U.N. ambassador

PLAINS, Ga. (UPI) — President Carter Friday named Donald F. McFerrry, a soft-spoken black career diplomat who was the chief negotiator in the ballroom standoff, to replace Andrew Young as U.N. ambassador.

The move got enthusiastic approval from Young himself, other U.N. officials, the State Department and the Senate Democratic leadership.

McFerrry, 42, was Young's chief deputy at the United Nations and was little known to the general public until last weekend, when he served as chief U.S. negotiator in the diplomatic fray over Soviet ballerina Ludmilla Visnova.

Carter, spending the Labor Day weekend in his hometown, announced McFerrry's nomination through deputy White House press secretary Rex Granum.

The president said in a statement that both Young and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance had recommended McFerrry for the job.

"His whole life has been committed to ambassadorial and diplomatic service," Carter said. "I had a thorough discussion with him early this week on the major issues that confront the United Nations."

Iran won't resell oil

TEHRAN (UPI) — A top Iranian oil industry official said Friday reports that Iran may resell heating fuel it purchased from the United States were based on a total misunderstanding.

"Iran intends to use every drop of its imports from the U.S. internally," said the official in a telephone conversation. "Reports that it may resell these imports are a total misunderstanding."

He said Hassan Nazh, chairman of the National Iranian Oil Co., had stressed in recent public statements that the heating fuel purchase deal had been a good one for Iran.

"Anything else should be seen in that context," said the official, who asked to remain unnamed.

Women astronauts trained

HOUSTON (UPI) — Six women became this country's first female astronauts Friday by completing their 13-month training and evaluation period.

The women, chosen to the space shuttle program in January 1978, are now eligible, along with their 29 male classmates, to be selected for space shuttle flight crews.

Palestinian state 'not wanted'

PLAINS, Ga. (UPI) — President Carter says despite their public declarations Arab leaders privately do not favor establishment of a separate Palestinian state, according to a White House text released Friday.

As the president wound up his summer vacation at home in south Georgia, his office released the text of his discussion with a group of Florida editors in Tampa Thursday night.

After conferring with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance about the situation of Soviet troops in Cuba, Carter and his wife Rosalynn took a three-hour meandering stroll through downtown Plains before an afternoon of fishing and an evening party.

Fair with warmer afternoon temperatures

Twin Falls, Burley-Rupert, Jerome Gooding areas:
Fair through tonight, partly cloudy Sunday. Warmer afternoons with high temperatures both days 80 to 85 degrees. Overnight lows 45 to 55.

Camas-Pringle, Halley, lower Wood River valleys:
Fair through tonight, partly cloudy Sunday. Warmer afternoons with highs both days 75 to 80. Overnight lows 38 to 48.

Synopsis:
Shots began to clear Friday afternoon in the north and over the southwestern part of Idaho. The showers and thundershowers associated with the storm system had moved into Wyoming and are continuing eastward.
Scattered showers continued in the extreme north until mid afternoon. Some areas in the state reported substantial amounts of precipitation, such as Powell with 2.8 inches, and Millian with more than an inch in the past 24 hours. Most accumulations were much less.
High temperature in the state was 89 degrees at Salmon. The low Friday morning was 40 degrees at Soda Springs.
Extended outlook for Monday through Wednesday calls for a chance of showers Monday, otherwise mostly clear. High temperatures will be in the 70s and 80s with overnight lows in the 40s and 50s.

Haying outlook Monday through Wednesday shows mostly dry weather through the weekend, for good drying conditions. Moderate morning dew.
Spraying forest calls for winds generally 8 to 10 mph with occasional gusts to 25 mph. Winds decreasing to between 5 and 10 mph this morning.

Puff evaporation is expected to be .25 of an inch today and Sunday.
Nevada forecasts mostly fair weather through the weekend, with a slight change of a few showers late Sunday. Utah shows a warming trend with generally fair weather through today. Gusty southwest winds and isolated showers developing in western sections Sunday.

Federal salaries raised

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter Friday awarded a higher-than-expected 7 percent pay increase to the nation's 3.5 million federal workers and military personnel to help them cope with soaring inflation.

Under the new salary structure, the average federal employee's yearly salary will advance to $18,190 effective Oct. 1, even higher — an unlikely prospect. The increase will cost taxpayers $4.14 billion, about $340 million more than under the president's previous plan.

Since January, Carter had steadfastly stuck by his decision to allot a 5.5 percent raise to the 1.4 million civilian workers and 2.1 million members of the armed services.

But the president changed his mind at the last minute and authorized the 7 percent increase on recognizing that "removes a major faced with a higher cost of living" than anticipated when he submitted his fiscal 1980 budget to Congress in January.

"Inflation continues to be the single greatest threat to our economy and is a national problem of foremost concern," Carter said in a message to Congress.

During the first seven months of this year, consumer prices have climbed at a 11.1 percent annual rate, the highest since 1946.

The administration originally projected a 7.4 percent inflation increase in 1979. But officials have revised that prediction to 10.6 percent — and some private economists consider that still too low.

Although the 7 percent boost is 1.5 percent above Carter's original intentions, it is well below the 10.3 percent recommended by federal officials who conducted a nationwide comparability survey of salaries in the private sector.

In his message, Carter justified the higher increase by saying "last January, when my budget was submitted, we expected significantly lower rates of inflation than we have actually experienced."

"I believe that the loyal and outstanding service given to the country by the government's civilian and military personnel warrants recognition of that changed circumstance and of the new pay standards for 1980."

Carter, returning to work next week, has 30 days in which to rule on Carter's decision.

U.S. protests boat seizures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Friday strongly protested Canadian seizures of American tuna boats off British Columbia and moved to block U.S. imports of Canadian tuna and tuna products.

"We have a note from Canadian Ambassador Peter M. Tove which pointed out that we do not agree with Canada's claim to jurisdiction over U.S. vessels fishing for albacore, a highly migratory species," said a State Department press officer.

"We expressed our strong objection to Canada's seizure of our tuna vessels," said press officer Mary Ann Bader Debuschier in a statement issued late Friday.

Sally Rand in heyday

Fan dancer succumbs

GLENDORA, Calif. (UPI) — Sally Rand, whose fan dance scandalized the 1934 Chicago World's Fair and still delighted fans 40 years later, died Friday of a heart attack at the age of 75.

She had been treated for a heart condition at Foothill Presbyterian Hospital since Aug. 21 and suffered a heart attack Wednesday night. She was unconscious until her death at 2:30 a.m. PDT, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Her funeral was set for 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Latter-Day Saints Fourth Ward Church in Glendale, Calif. She will be buried at Oakdale Mortuary.

Petite and still trim in her later years, Miss Rand celebrated her 70th birthday on Jan. 2, 1974, with a fan dance at the Los Angeles Music Center.

Miss Rand once said she had been "going barefoot up to her neck" since living on her grandfather's farm in the Ozarks.

When asked if she wore anything behind her five-foot-wide ostrich plumes, she usually would reply, "Come and see the show." — The Rand is quicker than five.

Dealer denies seeing Jordan use drug

WASHINGTON — The man who allegedly gave cocaine to Hamilton Jordan, the White House chief of staff, last year at Studio 54 has denied the entire allegation in testimony to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to sources close to the case.

The sources said that the man, known as Johnny C., told the bureau earlier this week that he was not at the New York discotheque the night of June 27, 1978, the evening Jordan acknowledges he visited the discotheque, these sources said. Johnny C. also told federal agents that he never supplied cocaine to Jordan at any other time, they said.

Jordan is alleged by the owners of Studio 54 to have asked for and used cocaine on a visit last year.

According to the allegation made by the owners, Steve Rubell and Jan Schrager, who are under indictment for tax evasion, Johnny C. supplied cocaine to Jordan and witnessed him inhaling it.

Lawyers for Rubell and Schrager have said that Johnny C. confirmed the allegation in a recent conversation with Rubell that was tape-recorded without Johnny C.'s knowledge.

Mitchell Rogovin, a lawyer for Schrager, said Friday: "We're not surprised that he denied the story to the FBI. We have tangible evidence, however, taken in a neutral setting, in which he corroborates that Jordan used cocaine in his presence."

Rogovin said that Rubell and Schrager would turn the evidence, apparently the recording, over to the government sometime in the future, suggesting that they might hold it back to give to a special prosecutor, if one is appointed.

GM rejects top demand in first-day bargaining

DETROIT (UPI) — Negotiations for a pattern-setting contract for the auto industry began at General Motors Corp. Friday with the company's adamant and final rejection of a top United Auto Workers demand.

George B. Morris, GM's vice president for industrial relations, said the company will never accept pension increases tied to the cost of living or any other automatic improvement factor.

Church news

Christian Science Church

TWIN FALLS — The title of the lesson-lesson Sunday at the Christian Science Church will be "Christ Jesus."
The community is invited to a free Christian Science lecture by Joanne Shriver, Leominster, Mass., entitled "God's Mandate to Live," at 8 p.m. Thursday at the church, 609 9th Ave. East. Child care is provided.

Church of Religious Science

TWIN FALLS — The Church of Religious Science will meet at 11 a.m. (note time change) at the YFCA Chapel. The Rev. Allan Albright's sermon topic will be "Who Has the Power?" The public is invited.
A picnic will be held at Harmon Park following the service. Bring a covered dish and table service.

Tyler Street Baptist

TWIN FALLS — The children's church puppet program of Tyler Street Baptist Church will begin its new year this Sunday.
The teaching emphasis for the year will be on the attributes of God.
Children's Church is open to all youngsters ages 4 through grade 5.
Visitors are encouraged to attend. The morning services start at 10:30 a.m.

Church of the Nazarene

TWIN FALLS — Pastor Chastain will speak on the subject, "Little Child Shall Lead Them." There will also be a child dedication in the morning worship hour. Special music will be furnished by Dortha Stokesberry and Dan Edwards, offertary.
Rich Nixon and his father will be sharing during the evening service at 6:00. Jay and Jan Chastain, Russ Rosenau and Bob Stewart and Kameia Evans, offertary will be doing the special music.

Christian & Missionary Alliance

TWIN FALLS — On Thursday, Sept. 6 at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Bible study will be on the topic, "Christ the Mediator." His Work is Prolonged. The study is on one aspect of Christ's ministry on Earth.
The Bible study is held in the home of Jim Evans at 201 Caswell Ave. W. #25. It is an informal setting, and all are welcome to attend and fellowship with us around God's Word.
For any additional information feel free to call 734-4299.

First United Methodist

TWIN FALLS — The Rev. Ernest Wilson has announced he will be back in the pulpit this Sunday following his vacation.
Topic of the sermon will be "To Be Better." To Be Better... scriptures reading from Luke 18:18-27. Sermons will be Gary and Mary Kirby.
Services start at 10 a.m. at the church located on Shoshone at Fourth Street.

Buhl First Christian

BUHL — Northwest Christian College, in conjunction with the First Christian Church of Buhl, will offer classes titled "History of the Life of Christ" and "History of the Early Church" in Buhl beginning Sept. 23.
The courses are offered on either credit or audit basis, and credits may be transferred to any college. Northwest Christian College is fully accredited by the Northwest Regional Accreditation Association. The classes are open to high school seniors and adults regardless of educational background.
Teaching the class will be Dr. James Huckleba, a part time continuing professor with the college and pastor of the Buhl church. Students will meet weekly at the church from 7 until 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays. A total of nine terms will be offered.
Any interested person in the Magic Valley is welcome to participate, but the class will be limited to 25 on a first come, first served basis. Contact the church, 344-1102, for information concerning fees and registration.

Eden Seventh-day Adventist

EDEN — "Receiving the Holy Spirit," is the title of the lesson study this Saturday at the Eden Seventh-day Adventist Church. This lesson is based on Acts 1:1-21.
Sabbath school begins at 9:30 a.m. with the worship hour at 11 a.m.

Filer United Methodist

FILER — The United Methodist Church has set Nov. 17 as the date for its annual Harvest Festival, also a new adult group has been organized. The group will meet on the fourth Thursday of each month.
The Sept. 22 meeting will be at the home of Ralph and Virginia Smith. The group will include couples as well as single persons who are interested in working toward betterment of the church.

Jerome Presbyterian

JEROME — The First United Presbyterian Church of Jerome will hold its final service this Sunday at 3 a.m. The Rev. W. Daniel Klinger will speak on the theme, "Enlightened Progress Beyond?" based on Proverbs 9:14-20 and Ephesians 5:15-20.
Worship will be held in the basement this Sunday so slides may be shown as part of an extended 30-minute service.
Corporate worship will go back to 10:30 a.m. on Sept. 9.

King Hill Presbyterian

KING HILL — United Presbyterian, potluck dinner Sunday at 12:30 p.m. will be followed by a session meeting.
The Rev. Joseph Arnold of Boise will be moderator at the meeting.

Wendell Presbyterian

WENDELL — The Rev. Dr. Tony Gamble of Los Angeles, formerly of Wendell, will be featured speaker at the "Issue Class" to be held Sunday at 10 a.m. At the same time the young people of the church are invited to a "Youth Round Up" to be led by Youth Pastor Sherry Bryson.
Child care is provided at all Sunday morning functions at the church. At the 9 and 11 a.m. services Pastor Francis E. Horner will continue his series of sermons on Acts.

Pope and theological dissent

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

When John Paul II addresses the U.S. Roman Catholic hierarchy, probably in Chicago during a special session of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, one point he is likely to underscore is doctrinal discipline.

Doctrinal discipline or lack of it has been a growing concern among leaders of the U.S. church and there are indications the Vatican, under John Paul II, is equally concerned.

The most recent dramatic case of theologians departing from the conventional teaching (or magisterium) of the church involves two young, old but still controversial, study, "Human Sexuality: New Directions in American Catholic Thought," commissioned by the prestigious Catholic Theological Society.

Early in August of this year, the Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, noting its duty to intervene in the attention to the errors... and by inviting the authors to correct these errors... blasted the report as replete with "erroneous conclusions" that were potentially harmful to the correct formation of the Christian consciences of so many people.

The study sought to develop "pastoral guidelines" in a number of areas involving human sexuality and suggested that in some circumstances such traditionally forbidden actions such as premarital sex, the use of artificial birth control devices, and even homosexuality... should be considered harmful to the faith.

While the debate has swirled around the headline grabbing issues always involved in questions of human sexuality, a more fundamental concern has also begun to surface — the increasing adversary relationship between the church's theologians and traditional doctrinal and moral teaching.

There has always been dissent from the church and its teaching. Each reformer John Hus died at the stake in 1415 after being condemned as a heretic. In the winds of democratic reform that swept through the church following the Second Vatican Council, theologians have created a particularistic, acute crisis.

When Pope Paul VI issued his anti-birth control encyclical in 1968, the crisis became more acute in the United States when a number of priests and theologians openly counseled defiance of the birth control ban.

While the headlines have diminished the dispute continues. As recently as 1976, moderate theologian Avery Dulles, of the Catholic Theological Society of America, presidential address stressed that "we theologians shall

Theologian: married clergy is possible

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — One of the foremost theologians in the Roman Catholic Church, a priest, himself, says the day will come when celibacy for priests will be abandoned.

The Rev. Karl Rahner, a German priest, was interviewed by the Milwaukee Sentinel through two Jesuit interpreters, the Revs. Michael Zeps and Paul Imhof. Rahner was in Milwaukee to accept a Marquette University award for his theological leadership.

"Dogmatically, there is no doubt that a married clergy is possible," Rahner said. "However, one must differentiate between questions of dogmatic theology and ecclesiastical discipline."

He said the day will come when the Catholic Church "will certainly have to give up its celibate clergy."

Pope John Paul II has said the celibacy rule must remain inviolate. But Rahner said when the church runs out of priests it will have to change its mind about married clergy.

Christian TV premiers fall schedule

TWIN FALLS — The Christian Broadcasting Network began its new fall season Aug. 25. The satellite-delivered CNN is carried over Cablevision Channel 9 in Twin Falls. Kinberly Hansen and Peter Hansen, TV-25, will be the hosts of the program.

The fall schedule that includes a half-hour children's programming each afternoon at 5 p.m., a two-hour children's block on Saturdays mornings starting at 9 a.m., plus a series of family-oriented programs featuring noted authors, travelers, scientists, and medical people. Some of the featured series include "Dodging Traffic" in Los Angeles to dodging head-on collisions in Latin America.

Also included in the lineup is "Footbal, Basketball and a Series of Specials on subjects such as prison life and life behind 'The Iron Curtain.'"

Heading up the new family shows is "Focus on the Family," hosted by Dr. James Dobson, author of the million-seller "Dare to Discipline." The program's format is similar to the Phil Donahue Show, with audience participation and phone-ins.

Pacing will be lively and will deal with contemporary, controversial topics in a family-building light.

Episode titles include, "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew," "Bible Parables, Travel, Adventure and Games," "Television in the Home," and "Depression in Women."

Each week on the Family Focus three times a week, Sundays at 10:30 a.m., Wednesdays at 6 p.m. and Fridays at 11:30 a.m.

Another of the programs is "Missionaries in Action," which will air Mondays at 2 p.m. and Thursdays at 6 p.m.

Using mini-cams and electronic news-gathering equipment, camera crews visit remote areas of Asia, Africa, and Latin America to record the lives of a "Christian Peace Corps." The corps consists of local native missionaries supported by a single church, the College Heights Baptist Church of Erie, Ohio.

The program is a testimony to the effectiveness of what the church can do to change the world and improve lives in a positive way.

For the science aficionados, there is "Evolution in the Classroom," a production done in the documentary style which correlates scientific truths with Biblical events.

Also from the same Canadian production house is "Circle Square," a children's program aimed at the elementary school level. The format is a mix of cartoons with crafts, Bible parables, travel, adventure and games.

Continuing through another season is the Paulist Production award-winning dramatic series, "Insight," featuring a variety of all-star performers ranging from Ed Asner to Eric Roberts.

Paul Harvey joins the fall lineup as host of "The Bible Story," a children's program airing Fridays at 5 p.m.

Other highlights of the season include Exchange College Football.

Horoscope

Scorpios, Libras should concentrate on affairs at home, improving ties with friends, relatives

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Start the new month right by thinking out advanced ways by which you can have more security in the future. You can now engineer conditions to your benefit. Be more optimistic.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You may find it difficult to get going early in the day but all will be fine as the day progresses. Show others you have wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are now able to get ahead via new channels, so don't waste valuable time. Spending more alone at home today is wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can now come to a far better understanding with both debtors and creditors so that you can breathe easier.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Fine day for gaining more cooperation with neighbors and making real progress. Think along logical and practical lines.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find a better method for advancing in your line of endeavor. Be sure to control your temper at all times today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can derive much enjoyment from today's recreations. Rendering a particular favor to the one you love leads to happiness.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to give more thought and time to home affairs if everything is to work out smoothly there. Be careful of outsiders.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Maneuver conditions around you so that they are more to your liking. Try to please your close friends and relatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are able to handle monetary matters well now and build up your assets. Family members need more attention.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to gain personal aims with relative ease now. Joining congenial in favorite hobby is fine later in the day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take time today to concentrate on making your future brighter. State your true aims to mate and come to a better understanding.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do whatever will give you more support with good friends and get right results. Strive for increased happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will do very well in matters of finance, business and property, so be sure to give good training in ethics, good manners and religion to balance the materialism in this chart. Teach to use diplomacy in dealing with others.

PEANUTS: SCHOOL STARTS NEXT WEEK. DON'T REMIND ME. I'M NOT SURE I REMEMBER A THING I LEARNED LAST YEAR. CAN YOU REMEMBER ANYTHING YOU LEARNED LAST YEAR? I REMEMBER WHERE THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN IS!

BLONDIE: HOW WAS YOUR CLUB MEETING THIS AFTERNOON? MARTHA POWELL READ EXCERPTS FROM SHAKESPEARE'S 'AS YOU LIKE IT'. AND? NOBODY LIKED IT!

ANDY CAPP: YOUR GIRLFRIEND'S IN THERE ANDY CALLED POLICE WHILE YOU WERE OUT HERE AND SHE'S BEEN AT IT FOR TWO HOURS DISCUSSING WHO SHE WOULD LIKE TO MARRY.

DOONESBURY: OFFICERS ALSO CHARGE THAT YOU'RE DRIVING YOUR CAR IN THE WRONG DIRECTION. THEY WON'T CARE HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT IT. I DON'T KNOW SON, I JUST DON'T KNOW. FORGIVE ME, I'M A FEW FEET OFF. NOT A WORD OF A BIRD'S EYE VISION. WELL, HE DO HAS A FEW OLD QUESTIONS WITH HIM.

GASOLINE ALLEY: YOU JES IN TIME FOR BEANS, RUFUS! AIN'T YOU START MOVIN' YOUR STUFF OUT? It's only a hour till destruct time! Wash yer pan when yer finish! I want th' place lookin' nice when th' man come!

WIZARD OF ID: MISS LARUE IS THE WINNER OF THE 'QUEEN FOR A DAY' CONTEST. I SHALL BE AT YOUR SIDE CONGRATULATING MY DEAR. IS IT TOO LATE TO TAKE THE TWO WEEKS 'IN EMPLOYMENT, NEW YORK'?

THE BORN LOSER: WHAT ARE YOU TRYING TO REMEMBER? HAVN'T THAT STRING ON YOUR FINGER TO REMIND YOU OF SOMETHING? BY GEORGE, SEVREUR RIGHT!

ALLEY OOP: HAVN'T FOUR DOWN AND ONE TO GO... YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE LEFT, BUSTLE! PERHAPS FOR NOW, BUT THERE'S OTHER GUNS MY FRIEND. NOT FOR YOU, MY FRIEND. BEFORE YOU DO YOU'D BETTER LOOK AT THE GUN. HOLY MACKEREL!

BEETLE BAILEY: WELL, WE'LL HAVE A DAY OFF, BEETLE IS THERE ANYTHING SPECIAL YOU'D LIKE TO DO? YEAH. I'M DOING IT. NOBE BUZZER.

DENNIS THE MENACE: CAN'T GET TO THEM, BLACKHOLE! THEY'RE FIRING FROM GUNPOPTS! ENOUGH EXCUSES, YOU SCUM! MOVING! AT TACK!

STAR WARS: THAT MUST BE HIM, JAX. THE SHADOW-MAN WHO TORTURED BEMMIE... RIGHT! NOW ALL WE HAVE TO DO TO SAVE OUR SKINS IS HAND PRINCESS LEIA OVER TO HIM, YOU READY?

FAMILY CIRCUS: "Starting now all the months end with 'br' because it's getting colder."

What's what

Preventing cavities can be accomplished.

Dr. Frances Glens is a children's dentist in South Miami, Fla. She undertook a 15-year research program, studying more than 800 youngsters, 106 of whom were born to women who took 2.2 milligrams of sodium fluoride daily during pregnancy and 16 of whom took a combined vitamin-fluoride pill. Of the total 822, the children of 17 developed no cavities up to age 18. Remarkable, what? Young lady, there's a 97-percent chance your child will grow up without a dental cavity, if you take sodium fluoride tablets while expecting. Or so the dentist concludes.

Worcester's sauce—pronounced WOO-stee-aher here—about in England is simply called Worcester sauce—pronounced WOO-ster.

FLERA BARGAINING

Q: What would happen to the justice system if plus bargaining were outlawed? Would the courts be flooded so badly with criminal cases that defendants would have to wait behind bars for years before trial?

A: Possibly not, Alaska ruled out plus bargaining four years ago. Defendants still plead guilty there about as frequently as they did earlier when 95 percent of Alaska's criminal cases were settled in deals. Report is that judges in Alaska seem to be handing down shorter sentences now. Understand it's the only state so far that bans plus bargaining.

Q: Ask your Love and War man why the average gdt would rather be beautiful than have brains.

A: Because, he says, she thinks the average man can see better than he can think.

THAI TV

Television in Thailand does indeed show the "Laraine and Shirley" program. But the Thai officers don't put up with fresh female. So they run a blur behind the show that reads: "These women are from a lifeline sayim."

It was H. C. Wierwer who said, "College bred refers to something which requires a fearsome amount of dough, a sidon self-thing, and usually proves to be nothing more than a four-year loss."

Consider the number 15,873. Multiply it by any single number. Now multiply that total by seven. See, all the numbers in the answer are the same as the single number that you first multiplied it with. Weird subject, math.

ACLU to appeal ruling in racial/religious case

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union will appeal a federal judge's decision that the principal of a church school had the constitutional right to expel a white girl because he thought she had a black boyfriend.

U.S. Attorney Victor Glasberg said Thursday he will file the appeal in U.S. District Court in several weeks to challenge Judge Lewis' ruling that the expulsion was protected by constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

Glasberg said the ruling violated the 14th Amendment, which guarantees a legal end of racial discrimination.

He also said he would argue that the school's expulsion of the girl violated the religious freedoms of the church, which has religious tenets against interracial relationships.

Bledsoe expelled Misses Foster, 15, from the Miramonte Christian School in January, but she thought she was completely involved with a black, 17-year-old boy, also 14.

The Foster family, supported by the ACLU, sued the school for $20,000 damages. A federal judge in favor of the school Aug. 21.

Special report, music set

TWIN FALLS — Included in the regular schedule of Sunday services, the Community Christian Church will present two special features.

Following the Bible school hour at 10:00 a.m., the first special feature will be the "Bibles in Mexico" report by Ray Knobel, a member of the ministry of supplying Bibles for study and training in Mexico. Friends of this ministry are invited to attend these Sunday morning programs.

At 6 p.m., the Family Gospel Hour, will feature Steve Moss and his harpsichord. Moss is a resident of Twin Falls and attends college at the University of Redlands in California, where he is a music major, specializing in harpsichord. There will also be a Gospel message by Pastor Herald Haskett.

The 7 p.m. period offers Bible study groups for all age levels.

The public is invited to attend all of these events at the church located on Grandview Drive just south of Magic Valley Hospital.

Drive-In Church ends season

TWIN FALLS — Sunday at 8 a.m. will be the last Drive-In Church of this season, beginning at 8 a.m. on Sept. 23. This is the final service of the Motor-Vu Drive-In ministry in the Magic Valley community at the Motor-Vu Drive-In.

This ministry is sponsored by the Twin Falls First Christian Church and supported by the Twin Falls Ministerial Association.

This Sunday's message will be given by E. Weston Scott, pastor of the church.

Takeovers boost stock market

By FRANK W. SLUSSER
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scrambled to a 10-month high Friday as takeover situations dominated the market.

Trading prior to the Monday's Labor Day holiday was the slowest in 12 weeks.

The Dow Jones industrial average, a 1.20-point loss Thursday, managed to gain 3.93 points to 887.63, the highest level since it finished at 872.09 on Oct. 13. The Dow, which has traded in a narrow range the past two weeks, gained 7.43 points for the week.

The New York Stock Exchange index gained 0.20 to 62.40 and the price of a share added 15 cents.

Advances topped declines, 382 to 358, among the 1,940 issues traded at 4 p.m. EDT.

Big Board volume totaled only 26,370,000 shares, down from the 29,700,000 traded Thursday and the slowest turnover in 24,000,000 shares changed hands June 4.

With the market in a virtual stalemate the past two weeks and the Labor Day holiday approaching for all exchanges, investors took much of the last day of August off.

Some analysts were surprised traders didn't sell more in wake of the government late Thursday report that July factory orders skidded 2 percent and order for non-durable capital goods orders dropped 6.6 percent.

The nation's basic money supply fell $1.1 billion in the latest week but the Federal Reserve said the growth rate over the past month exceeded its guideline. That indicated more credit tightening was in the offing.

The nation's banks have raised the prime lending rate to top customers to a record 12 1/2 percent, with Citibank, the usual benchmark, joining the pack on Friday.

On the brighter side, farm prices dropped 4 percent in August. Foreign investors seemed impressed with a U.S. Geological Survey report said there may be a significant amount of oil beneath 1,000 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Ocean.

Composite volume of NYSE issues traded on all U.S. exchanges and over the counter totaled 27,825,568 shares, compared with 30,645,300 Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange index climbed 2.45 to 3,217.31, an all-time high, and the price of a share rose 19 cents. The National Association of Securities Dealers NASDAQ OTC index gained 0.35 to a record 150.44.

Tennesso was the most active NYSE-listed issue, up 1/2 to 38 1/4.

approached Smith's about a merger, but no firm offer has been made.

MaecMillan Inc. was the third most active issue, slipping 1/4 to 20 1/4. Mattel sold late Thursday, it may buy MaecMillan for $24.50 a share. Mattel common stock and subordinated debentures—Mattel stock fell 1/4 to 21.

Reliance Electric rose 3/4 to 64 1/2, in fairly active trading after Exxon revealed it was holding meetings with the Federal Trade Commission to negotiate a settlement of Exxon's proposed merger with Reliance.

McIntyre Mines soared 6 1/4 to 64 1/4. Late Friday, Superior Oil, which owns 44 percent of the firm, denied speculation it was about to buy McIntyre stock in McIntyre. Superior stock slid 2 to 467.

Smith's Transfer, which jumped 4 1/2 points Thursday, gained 2 1/2 to 27 1/2. Another company has

Crop, livestock prices dip in August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prices paid to farmers for their crops and livestock fell 4 percent in August, the Agriculture Department said Friday.

Declines in prices of cattle, hogs, soybeans, corn and oranges, more than offset increases in prices of lettuce, milk, lemons and blueberries.

Prices were 11 percent above a year ago, but farmers' expenses were the same as last month, and were 14 percent above a year ago.

Government economists say that recent increases in farm prices are over for the short run.

After leading an upward trend in farm prices over the past year, beef prices have declined as a result of competition from increased supplies of pork and poultry.

Farmers are getting less for pork and poultry, often less than it costs to produce them.

Grain prices, which rose early this summer, have moderated as a result of prospects for abundant American crops.

With a record American grain crop, exporters of the economy is expected to be able to absorb heavy Russian demand for U.S. grain, government economists say.

The farmer receives an average of one-third of consumer food expenditures. The remainder pays the marketing bill.

Fluctuations in monthly food prices do not show up immediately at the supermarket, but administration inflation-fighters have charged that declines in farm prices were not passed on quickly enough to consumers in recent months.

President Carter in August invited food industry executives to the White House and urged them to pass an anti-inflation bill. The bill would encourage farmers to plant crops in fields were not taking into consideration their rising costs.

Government economists say consumers still are not getting the full benefits of lower farm prices, but they are getting better deals for pork than for beef.

In future months, expected moderate increases in food prices will be caused by increases in marketing costs, not farmers' prices, economists predict. Retail food inflation is expected to average 11 percent this year.

Beef cattle prices averaged $61.50 per 100 pounds at mid-August, down from $55.00 in mid-July.

Hog prices averaged $33.50 per 100 pounds, down from $37.50.

Soybeans sold for an average of $6.91 a bushel at mid-August, compared to $7.36 for the entire month of July.

Corn prices averaged $2.61 a bushel, down from $2.65. Oranges sold for an average of $8.01 a box, down from $8.18.

Farmers received an average of $11.90 per hundredweight for milk, up from $11.60 in July.

Discount note rate changes posted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Thursday announced the following changes in the rates posted for its consolidated discount notes: 30-day, 9.90 percent; 90-day, 9.55; 180-day, 9.20.

The six primary dealers in the notes are Discount Corp. of New York, the First Boston Corp., Aubrey C. Hanson & Co., Inc., Wm. E. Pollack & Co., Inc., Bank of America, and Goldman & Sachs & Co.

United Kingdom oil production at peak

LONDON (UPI) — Oil production from the 12 offshore United Kingdom oil fields rose to a record level in July, the Department of Energy said Thursday.

Production came to 7,036,162 metric tons, the highest total ever recorded for a month. Output for the month from the 10 land-based wells currently in operation remained at approximately 12,000 tons.

At that time, Church said, "we talked in the State Department and the Department of Defense and the intelligence people, who told us that at that time they had no evidence to substantiate the rumors."

That substantiation came late Thursday evening, Church said, "while he was in his Boise home."

"David Newsome, the Undersecretary of State, called me to say, our intelligence had now confirmed the presence of a combat unit of the approximate strength of a brigade. That would have meant some 2,300 and 3,000 troops, combat troops."

Prior to this announcement, Church said, it was known only that the Soviets had less than 1,000 advisors, instructors and technicians in Cuba.

Church said he conferred with the Secretary of State and both agreed the information should be made public in a formal presentation. Vance suspected the information would be leaked to the press in a matter of days in any event, Church said.

Yesterday morning Church also talked with aides to President Carter. The president, returning from Camp David, could not be reached. But Church said late Friday afternoon he expected to hear from the president within hours.

Church said the Soviet move into Cuba was more serious than actions in other parts of the world.

"I have never been very exercised about Russian or Cuban involvement in places like Angola. In the end I think Africa will belong to the Africans. There is little likelihood of permanent Russian satellites being established on that continent. But moving Russian combat troops to within 50 miles of our own borders in the Caribbean, which has always been part of the American sphere of influence, would be like moving American combat troops into Yugoslavia."

Old bike buffs bring best rigs to city park

TWIN FALLS — Collectors of vintage motorcycles will be displaying some of their prize possessions in Twin Falls Sunday in the third annual Idaho Vintage Motorcycle Club show, rally and picnic.

Lloyd Libert of Twin Falls, vice president of the Idaho group, said a picnic will be held at noon followed by displays of the bikes at various locations around City Park. The public is invited to view the machines and to vote for their favorites. Trophies will be awarded in various classes based on the spectators' votes. Awards will be presented at 3 p.m.

Libert said several hundred persons attended last year's show and more are expected this year. The club was formed in 1977 and now has 60 members who own nearly 200 classic and antique bikes. These range from the 1930's through the late 1960s, and many were manufactured in other countries. Libert has a collection of bikes made in Italy and Great Britain. He said there are about a dozen members of the Idaho club living in Magic Valley. A large delegation is also expected from the Boise area and others will be coming from eastern and northern Idaho and from Nevada.

Following the display and presentation of awards, members will take a short ride using the antique and classic machines. A banquet will be held for club members at the Prime Cut at 5 p.m. to climax the annual event.

Appointment of Lenaghen found to be within the law

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. John V. Evans acted within the law when he appointed former Idaho Public Utilities Commission President Robert Lenaghen as acting director of the state Office of Energy, an attorney general's opinion said Friday.

An opinion written at the request of Attorney General David H. Leroy by Deputy Attorney General Roy I. Eiguren said state law does not define the directorship of the energy agency as a "civil office."

Following Lenaghen's appointment to the energy post Aug. 29, some Republicans blasted Evans for moving his "lucky" into the office.

Downtown Twin Falls goes dark

TWIN FALLS — The northwest section of downtown experienced a brief blackout about 10:30 a.m. Friday when Idaho Power Co. turned off the juice to do some electrical switching.

Businesses located between Addison and Shoshone streets, including the Times-News, lost their lights and use of their telephones for two minutes while workers connected an underground crossing light cable on Addison.

Grant Turner, IPC division supervisor, said turning off two electrical feeders to the area was the only way to make the switches.

He said the police and some businesses were notified of an impending blackout. As for the others, such as the Times-News whose computers were jangled by the sudden power loss, "We forgot," he said.

Nurses blast hospital chief

By BEN MCKELWAY
TWIN FALLS — Discontented employees of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital met briefly with the Twin Falls County Commissioners Friday morning to complain about the hospital's administrator, William Burns.

Representatives of the 27 employees, most of them nurses, told the commissioners they hoped the county's management contract with Hospital Affiliates International, Burns' employer, would not be renewed at the end of the fiscal year Sept. 30.

Commission Chairman Merl Leonard told the group to take their case to the 14-member hospital board, which hired HAI to manage the county-owned hospital in February. He said he would sit in on a meeting between staff and board if the employees wanted him to.

"We would certainly usurp their (board's) position if we tried to get involved at this point," Leonard said. "The county commissioners do not have the authority at the present time to make changes in the hospital."

want Burns to attend the meeting. "He has a tendency to take over any meeting that he's at and get completely off the track," said a nurse.

"Mr. Burns is apparently painting a very different picture to the board than what is actually going on at the hospital," said another nurse. "The picture must be a very good picture, otherwise the board, as intelligent men, would not be going along with it. We want to give good care; but there is no way you can give good care when you are undercut to such a point where all you can do is answer lights and do the bare essentials."

Burns, contacted later, denied the employees' charges. He said the number of nurses and nurse aides has not dropped significantly since he took over in April. The quality of care has not dropped, and the nurse-patient ratio has not changed, he said.

"There have been no major reductions, he said, adding that six vacant nurse's aide positions would be filled soon. Some departments have chosen not to fill vacancies, he said, but new positions have been added elsewhere. Although he did not have access to exact personnel figures, he promised to supply them in the near future.

On the question of demotions, Burns said there have been only two demotions since he arrived, both for proficiency reasons. And he said no staff-level employees have been asked to resign.

"I think there is a lot of overreaction," said Burns.

The employees were divided on the question of unionization at the hospital. Some of them had attended a meeting Aug. 23 with local Teamster representatives, and they said they intend to meet with the organizers again. One nurse said over 50 percent of the hospital staff must sign cards requesting Teamster representation before a vote can be held.

"I don't think there is a big enough representation in favor of the union," said one nurse.

"Union" has always been a dirty word for me," said another, "but I'm ready for one now; if there were another way we could do it, we would. The union is our last recourse."

"Don't think for one minute that we would unionize," said a third.

Burns said a union is not necessary at the hospital.

"Any time there is a change in management, in any organization, there will be frustration, anxiety, and uncertainty," he said. "I personally feel a union is not necessary to resolve those problems. The board, the management, and the employees can work together to resolve any differences."

My deceased husband was a veteran. I am employed and not eligible for a widow's pension. Do my children have any entitlement to a veteran's pension?

ANSWER

If you're ineligible to receive a pension this will have no bearing upon any entitlement your children may have. Any child of your deceased husband who has an income less than $2890 per year (not including money received from the child's own earnings) may receive a monthly pension as follows:

One eligible child receives $57 per month
Each additional child receives $24 per month
The total amount payable is divided among them.

Arizona, CSU to kick off '79 season

By United Press International

The Arizona Wildcats, in their second year in the Pac-10, kick off the 1979 college football season tonight in a non-conference game against Colorado State which may clarify its dark-horse status in the conference.

Coach Tony Mason's team finished seventh in its second Pac-10 season last year but their home opener may indicate a different story this year as the Wildcat lead the series between the teams 10-1 dating back to 1925.

Hubert Oliver, with 866 yards last year, and Larry Healer, who gained 790 yards, pace the Wildcats' running game against Colorado State's duo of Larry Jones (830) and Alvin Lewis (609). The game may depend on how well quarterback Jim Krohn, who missed the last half of 1978 with an arm injury, can control CSU's defense.

Odds-makers rank Arizona as much as 20-point favorites against CSU, which has been placed in the bottom of the WAC this year in many pre-season polls.

"I fully expect our good players from last year to be even better," says Mason. "And I'm much more confident going into this season than any of the last two. We know much more about our own football team, and we have more good players."

CSU seventh-year coach Sark Arslanian says pre-season practice injuries have cut deeply into the team's depth and still to be decided is the starting quarterback job being contested by seniors Keith Lee and Steve Fairchild.

Arslanian says both the offensive and defensive lines are still question marks. "We have some talent but we have to mold them together. They are a very inexperienced group," he says.

In another top game today, New Mexico takes on Louisiana Tech.

New Mexico is one of four WAC teams to get an early start into the season this weekend. The Lobos have watched BYU capture three straight conference titles but are given an even better shot this year as they have more than 40 lettermen back including versatile quarterback Brad Wright and running back Mike Carter, who chose to stay at home rather than accept offers from Pittsburgh or Texas A&M, was the most highly recruited player in the state's history as a high school senior two years ago. Although he saw only limited action last year he still managed to rush for more than 500 yards.

New Mexico State opens defense of its Missouri Valley Conference championship against Wichita State and in other top games, Utah faces Long Beach State, Tulsa takes on McNeese State, West Texas State plays Southern Illinois, North Texas State battles Texas El Paso and Northern Michigan goes against Eastern Michigan.

After seven years Phillies fire Danny Ozark

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies, entering the last month of a disappointing season floundering in fifth place in National League East, Friday night fired manager Danny Ozark, a named minor-league director Dallas Green as interim manager.

General Manager Paul Owens, who announced the move at a hastily called Atlanta Stadium news conference before the Phillies' game against the Braves, said Green, 45, would evaluate the team's players over the last 30 games of the season.

He said Green then will report to him at the end of the season to determine what, if any, changes in the team will be made.

Ozark, who had led the Phillies to three consecutive Eastern Division titles but never to the World Series, was considered expendable after the Phillies sputtered to a record of 65-87, their worst showing this late in the season in five years.

"I tell we had to do something for the good of the organization, and there's not much more I can say about it," Owens said.

Ozark, 55, was fired one month short of completing his seventh season with Philadelphia, a term that made him the senior manager in the National League.

"I've let a lot of people go but this is different," Owens said. "I think Danny knows how I feel about him. I thought when I let Frank Lucchesi go (in 1972), that was the toughest thing I had ever done. But this is even tougher because of Danny's success with the club."

"The thing I feel bad about is that Danny and I started in 1972 and built what we thought was a good ballclub. One thing I wanted was for us and him to all be together for 10 years and then retire. I'm going to win it. I still think that, but I feel a little bit bad because Danny won't be with me when I do it."

Owens and Ozark completed what he thought was a championship team after signing free agent Pete Rose last December and trading for Manny Trillo and Nino Espinosa during spring training. But they were bitterly disappointed.

Ozark's critics contended he failed to motivate the club properly and that he was not strict enough with his high-salaried team. The Phillies apparently lost all their drive on a recent nine-game home stand during which they went 1-8.

Ozark said too much emphasis was placed on the team's numerous injuries.

"Because of injuries, the players' let that override the good ability we had on this club," said a somber Ozark, who was present at the news conference. "They didn't depend on one another as they did in the past. When we got one guy hurt, another guy tried to go out and do more than what he was capable of doing instead of worrying about the opposition."

"They got carried away with injuries, the schedule, the bad weather, little things like that. They never went out there with the thought of playing against the opposition like they're capable of. I tried to tell them, 'Let's think more on the positive side,' but they never got the positive attitude that they had in the past."

Ozark said he had no hard feelings about his firing.

"(Owner) Ruly Carpenter and Paul Owens have been super to me, and what's done is done," he said.

Green, a former pitcher with the Phillies, was named Director of Minor Leagues and Scouting in 1972. He was hastily summoned to Atlanta from Oklahoma City, where the Phillies farm club had participated in the American Association playoffs.

"It's shocking that we had Danny Ozark is one of the finest guys I've ever been around in baseball. We just did not jell this year and didn't come around. Paul was very patient with Danny and allowed him to work it out, but it didn't work out."

Green promised that the Phillies, the Phillies in 1977, manager of the Pittsburgh entering play Friday night, aren't going to play out the string.

"I'm going to do the job and manage the last 30 games of the season and see what happens," he said. "I think this team will have a great deal to say as to what goes on in the National League if we get our act together, and we will. We intend to be part of what's going on."

Ozark, the senior manager in the NL, coming into the season joined the Phillies in 1977, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers' organization, where he spent 11 years as a player, coach and minor league manager.

Galloping for yardage

Richfield's Bill Naylor had the Gary defenders trailing him most of the day as he led the Tigers to a 28-14 victory in an eight-man high school football game. Naylor scored the opening touchdown on a 30-yard run and also added an extra point when he caught a pass from quarterback Debert Treece. For complete high school football results page B2.

Tapie leads B.C. Open by 1 stroke

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (UPI) — Alan Tapie, aiming at the biggest prize of his career, passed the early leaders with a 4-under-par 67 Friday and took a one-stroke lead in the halfway point of the $275,000 B.C. Open Golf Tournament.

Tapie's 36-hole total of 10-under 132 stands one-stroke better than Gil Morgan and gallery favorite Larry Webb, both of whom shot 67 Friday.

Tapie, a 30-year-old Californian who has never won on the PGA tour, was the leader at the end of three rounds in this year's Borden Open in March. He finished in a tie for fourth, earning his biggest check of the year, $10,431.

"I've been in this position before, so I'm just trying not to press a lot," said Tapie, who didn't get serious about golf until arm surgery as a teenager ruined his dreams for a professional baseball career.

"I'm not forcing the shots that I normally would. Just like yesterday (Thursday), I was a little bit off the key," said Tapie, who sank two, 45-foot putts and a 30-footer Friday.

Tapie is playing for the sixth consecutive week as he tries to protect his position among the top 60 money winners, which would guarantee him exemption from having to qualify for tournaments next year.

"Yes, I'm tired, but I'm thinking well and seem to be making the shots when I need them," said Tapie, who currently ranks 57th on the list.

Morgan, defending champion of next month's World Series of Golf, has now fired 10 consecutive sub-par rounds on the 6,915-yard En-Joe Golf Club. He won the tournament in 1977.

"I don't believe that I've ever had a streak like this on any other course—lower than 60," said Morgan, the tour's No. 2 money winner in 1978. "I've always considered myself an accurate driver and this course rewards good drives while the rough penalizes you when you're off line."

Webb, who has earned just $4,300 on tour this season and needs at least $7,700 to retain his playing privileges, fought a "hinky" driver throughout the day.

"I was hitting them where the elephants go to die, nobody but me was walking in some of the places where my drives landed today," said the 61b, 263-pound Texan. "But I seem to come back with luck when I needed it most."

Top seeds advance

Austin wins battle of top teenagers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tracy Austin, who jokingly refers to herself as middle-aged, headed the headline debut of tennis' newest kid prodigy by beating Andrea Jaeger 6-2, 6-2 Friday night in a second-round match of the U.S. Open Championships.

Jaeger, at 14 years, 3 months, became the second youngest person to play in the Open, but she didn't fare as well as Austin, who was 14 years, 8 months, when she reached the quarterfinals on her first attempt in 1977.

Tracy, like Austin, wore her blonde hair tied in pig-tails and both played a similar, hard-fied game using two-handed backhands. The match was featured by long baseline rallies with the girls simply lobbing the ball back to each other.

"Austin, always so steady from the baseline, broke service in the second and eighth games of the first set, then won the last five games of the second set."

Jaeger, who is 5-foot and weighs about 105 pounds, won the Orange Bowl World Junior Championship earlier this year and recently won the Girls' 18 singles and doubles. She received her first national title in 1977.

Earlier, defending men's champion Jimmy Connors, after desperately fighting from behind in the first two sets, was handed a second-round victory when Vijay Amritraj defaulted.

Connors was leading 7-6, 7-5 when the Indian ace had to withdraw because of what was described as a nervous tremor in his right thumb which prevented him from holding his racket.

"I think my game improves as the situation comes along," Connors said about his struggling effort. "I'll play better."

Until the default, Connors was extended to the fullest for an hour and 53 minutes on a bright, warm day, and the difference of a few points was all that prevented Amritraj from winning the first two sets.

Amritraj raced to a 6-3 lead in the opening set (break), giving him three set points, but Connors rallied to take the next five points.

In the second set it was again Amritraj taking charge for a 5-3 advantage before Connors won the next four games.

"I had a great chance to win the match," Amritraj said. "I was playing real well, but my thumb started doing this (ditching) and I couldn't hold the racket."

It was the second consecutive victory for Connors over the Amritraj clan as he bested Arantxa in the opening round.

"I have to go out to practice this afternoon, but that's not like being under the gun in a match situation," said Connors, who contends he likes to have stern workouts in his early rounds. "The last five or six games I started playing better. I don't know what would have happened if we'd continued." If I would have gotten stronger or popped out, so I'll go out and practice."

Following the bitter emotion of the early morning hours during the John McEnroe-Lib Nastase sideshow, all was quiet and peaceful Friday afternoon with one major upset marking the occasion.

This was produced by 19-year-old Yankick Noah, who was discovered by Arthur Ashe in the Camerons eight years ago. The 6-4 No. 4, who now lives in Paris, defeated 12th seed Wojtek Fibak of Poland, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4, winning the break 11-9.

"I'm very happy because this is my best win ever," said Noah, who surprised Fibak with his aggressive play on important points. "I'm latter and stronger than him and I have to hit the ball hard. If I want to play well I have to go for winners."

On a lesser scale, 15th-seed Ann Kiyomura of San Mateo, Calif., was eliminated by Laura DuPont. Kiyomura was losing 7-5, 5-4, when she was forced to withdraw after spraining her wrist.

The other seeded men to play advanced to the third round with relative ease as only No. 9 Eddie Dibbs was extended to four sets in defeating Gene Matis, 6-1, 7-6, 7-5, 7-6.

Seventh-seed Harold Solomon beat John Astin, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4, and No. 13 Gene Mayer ousted Tom Gullickson, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1.

Tom's twin brother Tim, the No. 14 seed, survived to the third round with a 6-2, 6-2, 7-6 victory over Andrew Pattison.

In the tightest match played thus far, John Lloyd of England edged Paul McNamee, 7-5, 6-7, 7-5, 7-6, taking the fifth set tiebreak 7-5 after trailing 4-1.

Evonne Goolagong Cawley, the fifth woman's seed, enjoyed an easy 6-2, 6-3 victory over Rayni Fox, and later said she felt she was in position to win the Open "if I'm up to my game at the right time."

Also winning second round matches were seventh seed Woody Turnbull and 10th seed Greer Stevens. Turnbull beat Maria Fernandez, 6-4, 6-2, and Stevens overcame Rosalyn Fairbank, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0.

Tracy Austin, the former babychild of tennis and now a 16-year-old third seed, met 14-year-old Andrea Jaeger in an evening match, and also scheduled to play at night were Roscoe, Tanner-Ivan Lendl, John Alexander-Hank Pfister and Kathy Jordan-Andrea Whitmore.

Injured Lions face tough Tampa Bay

By United Press International

The Detroit Lions, who have had just four days to ready reserve quarterback Joe Reed and revamp their offensive line after outstanding quarterback Gary Danielson suffered a knee injury, kick off the NFL's new 16-game season tonight against a tough Tampa Bay squad.

The Lions' playoff hopes, which looked so promising in the preseason, suffered a severe setback Sunday when Danielson suffered the knee injury and underwent surgery which put him out for the rest of the year.

Danielson had fired a team record 199 completions in 331 attempts last year and his 2,294 aerial yards was the best by a Lion this decade and many considered the Lions the choice for the Central Division title until the injury occurred.

Reed, 31, has been used in a backup capacity since 1975 and was questionable himself because of stomach problems. He started in the Lions' 1977 game against Tampa Bay which Detroit won 20-0, one of the Lions' four victories over the Buccaneers in losses.

Defensive end Al Baker, the NFC Rookie of the Year, will team with newly acquired defensive tackle Cleveland Flum to pressure opposing quarterback Duane Williams, but conference-leading punter Tom Skladany is out indefinitely with a back injury.

"I'm not one of those guys who likes to go off half-cocked," Coach

Monte Clark said of Detroit's NFC prospects "this season, but I see some room for optimism. One day soon, I'll be able to talk about the Super Bowl with some degree of realism."

Williams will start his second season as the Buccaneers' quarterback after getting a stiff challenge from Mike Rae during the summer. Williams will be starting with a returning line including tackle Tom Greg, Roberts and wide receiver Gordon Jones.

Monday night, the Pittsburgh Steelers, seeking their fourth Super Bowl victory, open defense of their title in New England.

On Sunday, the NFC champion Dallas Cowboys visit St. Louis and in other games Oakland visits Los Angeles, Cleveland visits the New York Jets, the New York Giants travel to Philadelphia, San Francisco takes on Minnesota and Atlanta visits Tampa Bay.

All-Pro quarterback Terry Bradshaw and wide receivers Lynn Swann and John Stallworth are back to spark Pittsburgh's passing attack. Sideline Cleveland tackle guard ahead of the injured Rocky Bleier alongside Franco Harris in the backfield as the Steelers try to spoil New England coach Ron Erhardt's debut.

Bears hope strong 'D' will continue this year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Another in a series of NFC Central stories. The Chicago Bears.)
 By ANDY MINKOFF
 UPI Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears are counting on momentum gained at the end of the 1978 season to provide a springboard for a return to the NFL playoffs this year.

Unfortunately, there are other things they will carry over from last year's 7-9 season, including a major question mark at quarterback and middle linebacker.

Nell Armstrong begins his second season as head coach, promising a smoother running ship from his rocky rookie season which saw the Bears fall from their playoffs the year before to an eight-game losing streak midway through last year.

But Chicago won four of its last five games playing strong defense, something Armstrong is hoping will carry over to this year.

"Last year is last year, good and bad," Armstrong said. "But obviously, we are counting to play like we did at the end of last season. You know last season was an adjustment for the coaches and the players, and it took us awhile before everyone got used to one another."

Talk about the Chicago Bear offense usually begins and ends with one man — Walter Payton. The defending NFC rushing leader gained less yards in 1978 than the year before but was due in part to the rise of fullback Roland Harper.

Harper felt eight yards shy of the 1,000 mark last year and broadened the dimension of Chicago offense.

"This year, if Roland is hot, he'll rush the ball one, two or three straight times," Payton said. "If I'm hot, then I'm going to run it. But it's not going to be a one-way offense."

What the Bears need is an even broader offensive dimension which includes the pass. Chicago was next to last in the NFC in passing last year (they were second in rushing thanks to Harper and Payton).

Bob Avelitt was the Bears' quarterback for a majority of the games last season but came under criticism from fans for a weak passing attack. Veteran Mike Phipps saw some action but fared no better and third string Vince Evans, the choice of the Bears' fans, saw limited action.

"We'll have this settled one way or the other by the start of the season," Armstrong said. "I have an open mind and the pressmen games should tell the story."

Avelitt is confident he will remain No. 1, but Phipps, after contract hassles during the off-season, said he did not come back to the Bears to sit on the bench.

"If I didn't sign a contract to sit and be the backup," Phipps said, "Armstrong promises to open up the attack more to relieve some of the pressure off the Payton-Harper tandem.

Defense was on the mind of Bears' General Manager Jim Finks during the college draft. With two first round choices, Finks selected defensive linemen Al Harris of Arizona State and Dan Hampton of Arkansas.

But when linebacker Don Rives filled the team physical and linebacker Tom Hicks a question mark due to injuries, Armstrong was looking for the idea of using one of the rookies at middle linebacker.

At least one Bear veteran linebacker, Doug Buffone, remained skeptical of the idea.

"The middle linebacker is the one that calls the signals and it would be a heck of a responsibility for a rookie," Buffone noted.

Then Harris suffered a knee injury and the idea was scrapped.

Even with the problems at linebacker, the Bears' defense figures to continue to improve.

Tracy Austin: She's not just a little girl anymore

By Joe Gergen
©1979, Newsday

NEW YORK — That certain smile is reserved for the special moments. It appears suddenly, flashing across her face and lighting the surroundings. There are few things in life more illuminating than the joy of a 15-year-old girl.

Tracy Austin showed that happy face at Wimbledon. Walking onto Centre Court alongside Billie Jean King, preparing to play, many considered the biggest test of nerves in her brief career, she was radiant. And her exuberance carried into the match, which she won in three sets.

The smile reappeared two days later under more difficult circumstances. She was playing Martina Navratilova in the semifinals, had lost a 5-3 lead and the first set and was struggling to avoid embarrassment in the second set. Finally, at 0-5, she held service. As she turned toward the section where her parents and coach were seated, the light clicked on. Austin's parents smiled back and the sting of defeat had been soothed in the wordless exchange.

The world and a definite threat to make this tournament hers.

Yes, she has come so far so fast that nothing is beyond her reach. Her game has grown with her body, making her a lot stronger. "Ever since the other day," she's hitting the ball harder, playing more aggressively. She's a lot more confident. I think she feels if she's ever going to be number one, now is the time to do it." And now happens to coincide with the 1979 Open.

"I have to be honest," said Robert Landsdorf, Austin's coach, "and say if she's playing well, she can win the U.S. Open. I think her chances are as good as anyone's."

And if the thought appears remarkable, consider this: There exists the real possibility that the U.S. Open champion will be whisked to the airport shortly after the final match to keep a very important date. For the day after the conclusion of the tournament Rolling Hills High School opens its doors for another term. Austin will report as its junior. "She's living," said Betty Stove, her friend and doubles partner, "in two worlds."

She met Navratilova again, three weeks ago, in the finals of a tournament in San Diego. The day before the match Navratilova had said she wasn't concerned about her opponent, that she knew exactly what Tracy would do in the match. So on the very first point Austin rushed to the net for a volley. Surprised Austin hit the point but lacked the initiative. And as she walked back to the baseline, she looked directly at her rooting section and beamed. It said everything about her determination and her self-assurance. She handily defeated Navratilova, the two-time Wimbledon champion, in straight sets.

There is reason for Austin to smile this week as she approaches the 1979 U.S. Open championships. She is no longer the little girl in the pinafore and braids who played in the state and city tournaments. She earned the warm applause of the Forest Hills crowds and a telephone call from President Carter. She is no longer the fast-rising amateur among professionals whose visit to Flushing Meadows was cut short in the quarters by Chris Evert. She is, at 16, the third-ranking woman tennis player in all the world and a definite threat to make this tournament hers.

Yes, she has come so far so fast that nothing is beyond her reach. Her game has grown with her body, making her a lot stronger. "Ever since the other day," she's hitting the ball harder, playing more aggressively. She's a lot more confident. I think she feels if she's ever going to be number one, now is the time to do it." And now happens to coincide with the 1979 Open.

"I have to be honest," said Robert Landsdorf, Austin's coach, "and say if she's playing well, she can win the U.S. Open. I think her chances are as good as anyone's."

And if the thought appears remarkable, consider this: There exists the real possibility that the U.S. Open champion will be whisked to the airport shortly after the final match to keep a very important date. For the day after the conclusion of the tournament Rolling Hills High School opens its doors for another term. Austin will report as its junior. "She's living," said Betty Stove, her friend and doubles partner, "in two worlds."

She meets that other world, a world of book reports and school friends and gossip and 455, a world which groups can remember vaguely but never fully understand. "I really enjoy it," Austin said. "On the circuit I'm always with people older than me. And we all know how grave that can be."

On the circuit she is expected to act in a manner consistent with the goals of the Women's Tennis Association. Be here, be there, pose for pictures with the tournament sponsors, set aside 20 minutes for another interview. It is for her own welfare and the good of the whole tour, of course, but as a teenager it sometimes has the effect of someone advising, "Don't slouch—stand up straight."

Austin must bear a greater responsibility now that she has defeated Navratilova and Evert, now that she has amassed $256,444 in earnings, now that she has emerged as one of the four or five real attractions on the circuit.

So successful has Austin been in this public world, this world of adulation, that she has been incorporated to protect her burgeoning financial assets.

College football

The East has gained respect

(Editor's note: Another in a series of college football stories previewing the upcoming season by geographical sections. The East.)

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — For many years college football in the East got about as much respect as cartoon Rodney Dangerfield. That is to say, practically none.

Only Penn State and, once upon a time, Syracuse really made much of an impression on the rest of the nation, and even the Nittany Lions felt they never quite got their due in the final years of the season.

In recent years the image of eastern football has changed for the better with the rebuilding of programs at Pittsburgh, Navy, Syracuse, Temple, Rutgers and Wake Forest. With new stadiums being built at Syracuse and West Virginia, the industry is expanding its stadium to 85,000, it can be said that the prognosis for the sport in the East is very healthy.

Four eastern teams — Penn State, Pittsburgh, Rutgers and Wake Forest — played last season, and Penn State came within a few inches of being Alabama in the Sugar Bowl and winning the second national championship for the East in the last three years.

Once again Penn State figures to be the class of the East. The Nittany Lions return 11 starters from last year's 11-4 season, including All-America defensive tackles Matt Millen and Bruce Clark and All-America defensive back Pete Harris.

Coach Joe Paterno's big problem will be to find a quarterback to replace graduated All-America Chuck Fusina. If Paterno can find one from a group of four experienced youngsters, the Nittany Lions should be strong enough to contend for the national championship again.

Pittsburgh figures to be Penn State's stiffest competition for the Lambert Trophy as the best in the East. The Panthers have a fine quarterback in Rick Troceno and, with 13 starters returning, Coach Jackie Sherrill is optimistic the Panthers can once again reach a bowl game.

The Panthers' also will be facing an easier schedule than they have in recent years with such tough opponents as Florida State and Notre Dame having been removed from the agenda.

Many college football followers felt Syracuse was ready to make its move last season into the national spotlight, but an injury to quarterback Bill Hurley in the opening game turned the season into a horror show for Coach Frank Maloney.

Hurley returns this year and he will be directing an offense that could be one of the best in the nation. Hurley, who established 11 Syracuse records in 1977, may just be the best all-around quarterback in the country. He will be joined in the backfield by running back Art Monk and sophomore speedster Joe Morris. Monk, also a talented receiver, is considered a surefire first round pick and Morris became the first freshman in Syracuse history to reach the 1,000-yard mark in rushing.

Chargers' Jefferson wants to be top receiver in NFL

By DAVE DIEHL
(c) 1979, The Los Angeles Times

SAN DIEGO — His is lonely world. He splits wide to one side of the field or the other. The play starts and he is on his own, moving swiftly and elusively behind enemy lines.

But John Jefferson is no secret operative. In the National Football League defensive backfield, they know he is coming. "We're going to throw the ball," he says, "and they're going to have to stop us."

That's the San Diego Chargers, known hereabouts as Air Coryell. They? Anyone who has to stop Don Coryell's offense?

Jefferson likes the word "we." A Charger executive describes him as "the quintessential team player."

As Jefferson said the other day: "Right now, we're on the cover of Sports Illustrated. We got there because people think we're going to win. When we win, we get recognition. When we win, people are going to flock down here."

That's his is thoughtful 25-year-old with simple tastes who does not even own a car. He does not want to drive a Rolls-Royce, he wants to be a Rolls-Royce.

Jefferson wants to be the best NFL receiver. Not just today, ever.

"I'd like to come some doing," Jefferson said, "and you've got to be lucky with injuries. Charlie Taylor had 14 good years. But you can reach that plateau by people saying you were the best."

Teammate Lydell Mitchell, the No. 10 all-time rusher, thinks Jefferson is already the best among his contemporaries.

"People talk about Lynn Swann and those guys," Mitchell said, "but I think John is the best. He's young, but he's the best. The sky's the limit for him."

Quarterback Dan Fouts has a number of "good receivers." When he discusses Jefferson, the word he uses is "great."

Fouts' backup, James Harris, was asked to contemplate what it would be like without Jefferson.

"Take the best receiver in football out of my lineup," he said, "and it has to have an effect. Charlie Joiner's one of the smartest receivers in pro football and we've got other guys who do a good job, but John Jefferson lets us dictate certain things to the defense."

Harris, like Mitchell, thinks Jefferson is the best in the game today. He said he has never played with anybody better.

Jefferson himself finds it hard to describe what it is that makes him what he is. Maybe modestly inhibits him. He is modest. He talks frankly about what he would like to become and what he would like to attain, but he leaves it for others to judge.

"I guess," he said simply, "it's gotta come from inside."

Mitchell would agree, though he elaborates.

"It's innate," he said. "He has a grasp for catching the football wherever it is. He's disciplined in his patterns — and he can catch the ball in the middle."

New Mexico opens play

By PETE HERRERA

New Mexico is considered the prime challenger to Hirschman Young's bid for a fourth straight Western Athletic Conference title and the next two weeks should provide a good indication of how the state's 11 teams will fare.

Wright, a dangerous runner and adequate passer, led the WAC in total offense last season. His 2,403 yards were also the best over in the WAC by a sophomore quarterback and his per game total offense average of 210.5 yards per game ranked him fifth nationally.

Louisiana Tech will be looking for its first victory under new head coach Larry Beightel, the former offensive coordinator at Arkansas. The Bulldogs were 4-7 overall last season but 4-1 in the Southland Conference. The Louisiana school has not had a losing season since 1970 and during the past eight years has posted an impressive 73-17 record.

Ricky Sobers thinks he has found a home

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ricky Sobers, a fast-rising all-around South African player, says he hopes he has found a home at last — and Chicago is it.

The 6-foot-3, 185-pound star was acquired by the Chicago Bulls last Tuesday from the Indiana Pacers as compensation for the Pacers' signing ex-Bulls forward Mikeey Johnson. Sobers said at a news conference he is looking forward to playing for Chicago this season and is expecting a lot from himself.

Sobers said it had to be Chicago. He is in the final year of his contract and the Pacers does not intend to let him go. He will be a free agent at the end of the 1979-80 season.

"I like the idea of playing with Artis Gilmore and Reggie Theus. I am very optimistic about this season," Sobers said. "The Bulls finished last season at 3-51."

"I'll play the same as I have the last three or four years," the 26-year-old continued. "I can play defense and I can be a playmaker. Over four seasons, too with the Phoenix Suns and the last two with the Indiana Pacers, I've averaged 20 points and shot 47 percent from the field.

"One of my goals is to win the championship. I have other personal goals that I set before the season, but I don't wish to discuss them," he said.

"I heard John Havlicek say once, 'The best way to get in and stay in this league is to play defense. That's what I try to do.'"

Bulls Coach Jerry Sloan said "Sobers will complement Theus in the back court. He can be a very good defensive player. That's where he's the best."

Chicago still owes the San Antonio Spurs compensation for signing free agent Calby Dietrick.

"We are quite a ways apart," said Chicago General Manager Rod Thorn. "If it's not settled by next week, it will probably go to the commissioner."

The Bulls also have not signed their top draft pick David Greenwood from UCLA. "We are continuing discussions with him and his lawyer, and we anticipate we'll sign him. We feel closer," said Thorn.

Fires could improve game in some areas

BOISE — The fires that scorched about 150,000 acres in south central and southern Idaho this month will eventually improve habitat for many species of wildlife, according to a Fish and Game report.

Hunting seasons for big game and birds will not be changed because of the burned areas, if the Fish and Game Commission and the department follow the recommendation of Bob Sherwood, regional wildlife manager.

Sherwood prepared the report following his inspection of some of the fires and from information on others collected from department, Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management personnel.

Displacement of wildlife and loss of winter range this season are short-term impacts that will generally be offset by and revegetation in future years, he said. Burn patterns which left islands of cover and forage in most of the fires were another saving factor, he said.

But to ensure long-term benefits, he said, the department should carefully monitor revegetation and furnish rehabilitation teams — with renewal recommendations.

Cherry wins tourney

JACKPOT. Nev. — Tom Cherry of Caldwell won low gross in the men's division of the fourth annual Utah-Idaho Sears Roebuck Invitational Golf Tournament last weekend on the Jackpot golf course.

Neal Poulter of Boise won the women's low gross.

Respective place winners below Cherry were Rob Jackson of Salt Lake City, Mel North of Salt Lake City and Walt Nageoletti of Boise.

Men's low net went to Greg Roebuck of Twin Falls and behind him were Bob Jackson of Salt Lake City, Dale Snow of Twin Falls and Cecil Pitkin of Logan.

Closest to the pin award in the Callaway system meet went to Jack Tiekman of Idaho Falls. Longest drive was turned in by Bill Nelson of Twin Falls.

Awards were formally presented by Rex Hansen of Twin Falls during a buffet in Cactus Pete's Gala Room.

Bengals on the air

Idaho State football and basketball games to the state of Idaho

KWIK Radio of Pocatello will originate the broadcasts and send them to nine additional Idaho radio stations, making a total of 10. Locally, the Bengal football and basketball games will be carried on KSKI Radio of Hailey and KBAR Radio of Burley.

Hamlin takes lead

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Pat Bradley, defending champion of the LPGA Fall Charity Classic finished the first round Friday in a three-way tie for the lead thanks to three birdies and consistent play.

Ovett hits mark

LONDON (UPI) — Steve Ovett, Britain's controversial track star, became the third man in history to run a mile under 3:41 when he won an invitation race in 3:49.36 seconds Friday at an international meet at London's Crystal Palace.

Fight postponed

NEW YORK (UPI) — A back injury has forced Vito Antuoferno to postpone the first defense of his world middleweight title against Marvin Hagler until November or December. It was announced Friday.

Antuoferno, who won the title in late June with a split decision over champion Hugo Corro in Monte Carlo, sprained his back competing in the Superstars competition in the Bahamas earlier this month.

Carew suspended

NEW YORK (UPI) — American League batting champion Rod Carew of the California Angels was suspended Friday by A.L. President Lee MacPhail for two games commencing Friday for physical contact with umpire Nick Bremigan during Wednesday night's game in Detroit.

Carew, the seven-time A.L. batting champion, bumped Bremigan during a fifth inning strike call dispute and was ejected from the game.

Tricky strategy succeeds his four spot to dummy's jack. Now East takes his queen, as he probably will.

South wins up with four diamonds and his contract. He will win an overtrick by trick if he bothers to take the spade finesse.

Ask the Experts

You open with one club. Your partner reads with one heart, A Nebraska reader asks what the experts bid in this situation.

There is a simple but expensive way to play today's hand. South wins the heart, plays his king of diamonds, continues to play diamonds.
