

More bad news hits economic front

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government came out with more economic bad news Friday: unemployment climbed to 8.2 percent in August, the highest in over a year, and inflation at the wholesale level surged again, paced by food and energy.

Not only that, inflation continued to erode the buying power of manufacturing workers, with the index for August showing their "real" hourly earnings, adjusted for price increases, dropped 3.4 percent.

The jump in unemployment, from 8.7 percent in July, was primarily due to workers being laid off as the recession began to take its toll in the job market.

And the 1.2 percent increase in wholesale prices was mainly attributed to a big jump in food costs after four straight months of moderation, along with another whopping 8.8 percent rise in energy prices, particularly gasoline and home heating oil.

Although wholesale price hikes do not necessarily translate into higher consumer costs, they do give an indication of how much Americans will pay for goods and services in coming months.

The Labor Department said its producer price index for finished goods jumped to 217.3 during August, meaning goods and services which cost $100 at wholesale in 1967 went for $217.30 last month.

During the past year, the index has increased 11.1 percent.

In another economic development, several of the nation's large banks upped their prime lending rates — some to as high as 12.75 percent.

The Labor Department report on unemployment represented a turnabout from the pattern of the past year.

The percentage of unemployed Americans reached its highest level last month since July 1978, when it was 8.1 percent. It had hovered around 5.8 percent for most of the past year, and was as low as 5.6 in June.

The news confirmed what economists and the administration have been saying for months — that the economy is due for a rise in unemployment as a result of the recession, which most analysts say began in the second quarter.

By year-end, according to the administration, unemployment should reach between 8.6 and 8.7 percent.

The number of unemployed people, the Labor Department said, rose from 5.6 million in July to 6.1 million in August.

Janet Norwood, commissioner of labor statistics, told a congressional panel that payroll jobs in the automobile industry have declined by nearly 200,000 since May. Unemployment among auto workers now has reached nearly 14 percent, she said.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, chairman of the Congress' Joint Economic Committee, cited the new jobs report as additional evidence a quick tax cut is needed.

"We are starting to feel the effects of the recession and it's going to get worse before it gets better," Bentsen said. He is pushing for a $20 billion tax cut — divided equally between individuals and business — to take effect next Jan. 1.

The administration opposes a tax reduction on grounds it might worsen inflation.

The August wholesale price rise was the highest since a 1.3 percent advance last January.

Food ready for sale to groceries jumped 1.1 percent. Wholesale food costs had fallen or remained unchanged between April and July.

Energy prices jumped 5.8 percent last month, compared to 6.2 percent in July. Since August 1978, the wholesale cost of energy items has soared by 47.4 percent.

Gasoline prices rose 6.1 percent, compared with 3.6 percent in July. Home heating oil increased 8.8 percent, as against 9 percent in July.

County fair, rodeo head into last day

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times News Writer

FILED — Friday, West End Day at the Twin Falls County Fair, saw a large crowd streaming through the gate as perfect fall weather continued and attendance grew.

Last year's Friday attendance was 19,903 so this year's attendance is expected to easily top that.

Fair board members were elated over Thursday's record-breaking crowd of 21,634 at the fair, showing an increase of 1,834 over last year's second day attendance.

Friday was the Big Western Register of Merit Herford Show and classes began immediately following the morning flag raising by a boy scout troop.

Bess Harrell, Baker, Ore., won the

Mark Harrison, Heyburn, received a grand champion trophy for his steer in the Open to the World Steer Show with reserve champion going to Doug Heins, Rupert. Harrison also received the top hereford award and Heins the reserve award in the steer show. Michael Kohnopp, Buhl, took the top Charolais steer award.

Connie Molyneux, Twin Falls, was winner of the special award for best display in junior flower gardeners. Susan Chojnacki, Jerome, was second and Michelle Romans, Filer, was third.

The Garden Friends Club, Buhl, won the trophy for best quality exhibit in the flower department with Petal Pals, Castleford, second. The Bowl and Blossom Club, Twin Falls, won first for best artistic exhibit with Countryside Flower Club, Twin Falls, second. The Dahlia Club, Twin Falls, won first in best quality exhibit of one kind of flower with the Saintpaulia Club, Twin Falls, placing second. Petal Pals, Castleford, won first in house plants, and the St. Francis Club, Twin Falls, second. Martha Carlson, Twin Falls, had the best display of house plants.

Doyle Shriver, poultry superintendent, said he had more exhibitors in this department this year, but fewer entries.

Bill Keppner, Twin Falls, a young poultry raiser, is starting his own game farm, the Double B Game Farm, where he raises guineas, chukars, Chinese pheasants, and quail some of which he brought to the fair. Although they were not eligible for prizes, since there were no classes for them, they have created a great deal of interest.

The children's barnyard is one of the most popular fair spots both for children and adults. The Twin Falls FFA Chapter brings small ducks and chickens, rabbits, kittens, and puppies, as well as larger animals, such as goats, calves, and the appealing Mediterranean donkeys.

Although some viewers express concern about the puppies treating the kids too roughly, FFA members assured them they keep a careful watch on the animals so that none get hurt.

The 4-H awards assembly was held Friday afternoon in the Parks Pavilion with 4-H members receiving their special awards, trophies, gift certificates and scholarships.

The 14 contestants for the Miss Rodeo Idaho pageant demonstrated their horsemanship in the rodeo arena in the afternoon, while spectators watched. The new Miss Rodeo Idaho will be crowned during tonight's rodeo.

First-even schedule for today is the 4-H and FFA hot stock sale at 10 a.m. in the beef barn. Free entertainment this afternoon includes the Filer Wranglerettes Horse Show and the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers.

Carter says not to panic

© The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — President Carter, speaking out for the first time on the week-old Cuban situation, Friday sought to reassure the nation that it has no reason to panic over the presence of a 3,000-man Soviet combat brigade in Cuba. He appealed for time to allow "firm diplomacy" to work.

But while reiterating the U.S. position that "this status quo is not acceptable," Carter gave no indication of what the U.S. response will be if there is no change in the situation.

An administration official later disclosed that American protests to Moscow had drawn a "responsive" answer from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. "They did not close any doors," the spokesman said. "We are not accusing the Russians of stalling."

But Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who was among congressional leaders briefed by Carter on the Cuba-Soviet situation Friday, put less significance on the Soviet response.

"The Soviet message was of no consequence," Church said. "It was simply an opener on the part of the Soviet Union. Serious negotiations have not yet begun."

In his statement — a low-keyed, three-minute appearance before reporters at the White House, with no questions permitted — Carter repeated the assurances of Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance on Wednesday that the Soviet brigade has no transportation or weapons that would give it the capability of attacking the U.S. mainland.

"The issue is of a different nature," Carter said.

Then, in the bluntest part of his statement, the president referred to the role that Cuban troops have played in Africa — and south Asia, serving as surrogates for the Soviet Union.

The issue confronting this country, he said, "involves the stationing of Soviet combat troops here in the Western Hemisphere, in a country which acts as a Soviet proxy in military adventures in other areas of the world, like Africa."

"We do have the right to insist that the Soviet Union respect our interests and our concerns if the Soviet Union expects us to respect their sensitivities and their concerns. Otherwise, relations between our two countries will inevitably be adversely affected."

McClure: troop presence covered up

POCATELLO (UPI) — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, feels the United States should take a "tough stand" short of going to war over the presence of Russian combat troops in Cuba.

McClure, told the Idaho State Journal in Pocatello U.S. intelligence agencies for years have participated in a coverup of the presence of Soviet combat troops in Cuba.

Idaho's other senator, Frank Church, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, revealed at a Boise news conference

Aug. 30 that intelligence agencies confirmed the presence of a Soviet brigade of between 2,000 and 3,000 combat troops in Cuba.

McClure said he felt that U.S. intelligence agencies have known for a long time.

"I think it was detected, but they didn't want to admit it," McClure said. It didn't fit in with their plans to have the public know about that.

McClure said "the state Department doesn't like to raise issues like this. Their general tendency was to get along with Cuba and the Soviet Union."

Relocation camp probe supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James A. McClure says he is trying to drum up support for an investigation into possible criminal acts against Americans of Japanese descent who were imprisoned 35 years ago during World War II.

The Idaho Republican is a cosponsor of a bill which would establish a 15-member presidential commission to investigate what went on while 123,000 Japanese Americans were incarcerated in western camps by the federal government.

"It's past due time when this question is examined and appropriate actions taken," McClure said. He said the commission would determine "whether any wrong was committed against those citizens or resident aliens by the federal government."

"All we want is a short-lived commission," said McClure's press aide, Tod Neunenschwander, when contacted Friday. "I don't know how much it will cost."

McClure said the investigation would take about 18 months, with the commission during that period conducting public hearings in a dozen locations.

"We in Idaho are very familiar with the unjust treatment of American citizens, many of Japanese descent, at the Minidoka Relocation Center in southern Idaho," the senator said. "Such action by our government must never be allowed to happen again."

Some 10,000 Japanese Americans were interned near Hunt at Camp Minidoka during the war.

Utah, Nevada picked for MX sites

By HELEN THOMAS
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter announced plans Friday to deploy the MX missile system on giant "racetracks" in the West, ending the long search for a way to base the next generation of U.S. nuclear weapons.

In picking the deserts of Nevada and Utah for the $3 billion mobile missile network, Carter expressed hope "this may be the last system of enormous destructive power we may ever have to build," in a bargaining chip, he told a news conference. "It enhances our nation's security, it makes it clear to the Soviet Union that they will gain no advantage out of continuing the arms race."

Under the basing system chosen by Carter, the 200 MX missiles will be shuttled on mammoth transporters among 4,600 shelters located around circular roadways or "racetracks."

With the rezzamattaz of a gigantic shell game, the "racetrack" system will try to keep the Kremlin, from ever being able to figure out which of the 200 missiles are in which of the 4,600 shelters at any given time.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown

predicted the new system will begin operating in 1986 and reach full capability by 1989. He said it will cost about $400 million a year to run it.

Some generals have expressed concern that environmentalists might try to block the building of the "racetrack" system on 25 square miles of desert.

But MX planners, while insisting the desert area is good for almost nothing but missiles, have promised to abide by environmental legislation and consult conservationists about concerns.

The search for a mobile basing system began about two years ago when U.S. strategists predicted

Kimball undergoes surgery

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Mormon Church President Spencer W. Kimball underwent a successful emergency operation Friday for removal of blood and fluid which had formed a lump on the covering of his brain.

"The president is resting well," said Dr. Bruce F. Sorensen, the surgeon who performed the operation on the 84-year-old church leader.

"He is doing fine. We could not expect him to be doing any better. We are pleased with his progress," Sorensen said.

Kimball, leader of the four million member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, entered the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake City about 7 p.m. Thursday after experiencing weakness. Doctors performed the operation between 1 a.m. and 2 a.m.

Church spokesman Jerry Cahill said surgeons removed a subdural hematoma, a swelling filled with blood and other fluid — from between Kimball's skull and the covering of his brain. The lump had been causing pressure on his brain.

"The doctors drained the area and they expect a normal recovery. They believe the president will be able to resume his activities with no loss of function," said Cahill. "The president was aware and alert this morning. He visited with members of his family."

The church spokesman said Kimball is expected to remain in the hospital about two weeks, but he should recover in time to preside at the church's semi-annual world conference in Salt Lake City Oct. 6-7.

Five held hostage in bank

ADAMSVILLE, Quebec (UPI) — Two gunmen trapped in a bank they attempted to rob released the last of four women hostages Friday, but still held five men and negotiated with police.

Bank cashier Christian Bouchard, who was trapped in two previous holdups at the Caisse Populaire d'Adamsville, was released after being taken hostage Thursday along with nine other persons, four of them women. The last woman was released more than 35 hours after the gunmen first seized the bank.

Hijackers release passengers

ROME (UPI) — Three Lebanese gunmen who hijacked an Allitalia DC-8 airliner with 186 people aboard over the Mediterranean released the last of their passenger hostages Friday night and took off for Tehran, Iran.

Officials said the jetliner lifted off from Fiumicino airport shortly after 10 p.m. EDT, twelve hours after it was forced to land in Rome.

Ten crew members were aboard the plane enroute to the Iranian capital, officials said. Among them were two pilots sent on board to help the original crew, who were exhausted by the lengthy ordeal.

Airline officials said they had obtained permission for the plane to fly over Greece, Cyprus and Iraq on its way to Tehran.

Italian authorities allowed the plane to leave only after the hijackers freed the final 23 passengers still aboard the plane.

End of odd-even gas halted

NEW YORK (UPI) — Residents of northeastern states Friday halted the lifting of odd-even gas rationing. Californians pressed to end their plan and other areas poised to continue rationing plans brought on by shortages earlier this year.

Gasoline station attendants in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island were back pumping gas Friday without having to examine license plates to confirm rationing plans.

Delaware ended its rationing system at midnight Wednesday, and Pennsylvania was scheduled to go off Saturday.

Bishop's stay extended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice William Rehnquist Friday extended until late September the stay of execution he granted earlier to convicted Nevada killer Jesse Bishop.

Rehnquist said he is continuing the stay granted Aug. 28 until the full court can consider it at its regularly scheduled conference the last week of September, in preparation for opening of the new term on Oct. 1.

Bishop, 46, was sentenced to death for killing David Barclay, a newlywed from Baltimore, Md., during a Las Vegas robbery in December 1977.

Let the judging begin

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — More than 70 million television viewers will "judge" the Miss America Pageant this Saturday night, but the votes that count are the eight cast from front row seats in Convention Hall.

A three-woman, five-man panel will ponder 50 pairs of legs; listen to jazz, opera and popular songs; evaluate a baton twirler, harpist and acrobatic dancers; and probe the minds of the contestants in seven-minute interviews.

Then the judges will carve another slice of the American pie.

"We are looking for someone who will represent this country around the world and the world is changing daily," said judge Gavin Macleod, star of the television series "Love Boat."

Macleod and two other judges, Chicago Sun-Times columnist Roger Simon and Irene Dally of "Another World," are here for the first time.

Judges said they rely on their intuition as they narrow down the field in three nights of preliminary competitions until only the top ten remain to star in NBC's two-hour television show.

Columnist Simon said, "It's not like the Super Bowl. It's very subjective."

23 fetuses found in ditch

TURKEY CREEK, La. (UPI) — The bodies of more than 20 fetuses, some well developed, were found in a ditch Friday night in a rural section of central Louisiana.

Most of the fetuses were in hospital-type containers, said one reporter who went to the scene.

The remains were found by a young woman walking near a rural community outside Turkey Creek. The woman, Brenda Johnson, notified sheriff's deputies.

The acting Evangeline Parish coroner, Dr. Pedro Mora, also went to the scene.

At first, Miss Johnson, 20, thought the body she had noticed was a doll. But on closer inspection she realized it was a fetus and called authorities.

Another resident of the area said she had seen the fetuses Thursday but had not realized what they were and did not think anything of them.

Deputies at the scene said at least 23 fetuses were found. They were taken to the coroner's office.

L.A. transit workers settle

By United Press International

Striking Los Angeles bus drivers voted to accept a new contract offer from the Southern California Rapid Transit District Friday, giving rise to optimism about prospects of settling with two other striking unions.

"We're pleased to hear the operators accepted our offer and we are optimistic about settling the entire strike," said Jack Gilstrap, RTD general manager.

Today's weather

Turning partly cloudy and cooler by evening

Twin Falls, Burley-Rupert, Jerome-Gooding areas: Fair this morning, becoming partly cloudy at times this afternoon. Cooler Sunday. Highs 65 to 90 today and in the low 80s Sunday. Overnight lows under 40s.

Camas-Fralick, Halley, lower Wood River valley: Fair this morning. Partly cloudy and windy at times this afternoon through Sunday. Cooler Sunday. Highs middle 80s today and upper 70s Sunday. Overnight lows near 40.

Synopsis: Cooling temperatures and a threat of showers are expected across southern Idaho late today as a low pressure area moves eastward along the Canadian border.

That system will disrupt high pressure centered over the Rocky Mountain area Friday which kept skies clear and temperatures warm throughout Idaho. Readings in southern Idaho were well into the 90s Friday afternoon, and at near-record levels at some reporting stations.

Pocatello's 89 set a record there.

Forecasting low readings: From Stanley's 29 to the middle 40s and 50s elsewhere.

The hazy outlook through Wednesday for the Magic Valley calls for continued dry for good cooling conditions. Temperatures near normal. Moderate morning dew.

The spraying forecast calls for winds between 5 and 10 miles an hour through this afternoon. Fan- evaporation is forecast at 31 inch today and 27 inch Sunday.

For northern Nevada, the weekend outlook indicates windy with a cooling trend and partly cloudy skies on Sunday, when high readings will be around 90 degrees.

A cooling trend is expected to reach Utah on Sunday, along with isolated thundershowers. High readings in northern Utah will be in the 80s and overnight lows in the 50s.

Panama issue looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although it was two years ago Friday that President Carter signed the Panama Canal treaties, Congress is still wrestling with details of the bitter decision to give up U.S. control of the vital waterway.

The treaties were signed Sept. 7, 1977, in glittering ceremonies attended by dignitaries from nearly every Western Hemisphere nation. Most nations hailed the decision to give up the American-built canal, but in this country it produced some angry recriminations that continue even today.

After more than two months of debate early in 1978, the treaties barely won Senate ratification. In June of that year, Carter flew to Panama to exchange the historic documents with controversial Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos.

Under the treaties, Panama is to take over control and operation of the canal in the year 2000, gradually getting a larger management role before then.

The treaties take effect Oct. 1, and it was understood before then Congress would pass legislation providing for the continued smooth operation of the canal in the next 20 years. But with that deadline rapidly approaching the House and Senate are still negotiating on terms of the bill.

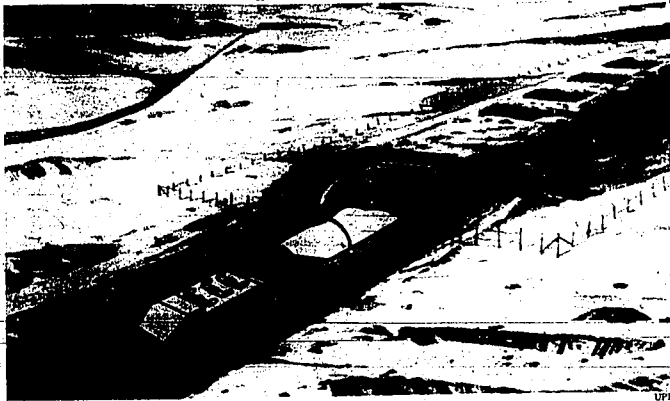

After losing the main battle, transfer opponents continued to fight and have tried to use the implementing bill to impose conditions Panama has said would violate the basic treaties.

Debate has been most intense in the House, barred by the Constitution from any role in the decision to ratify treaties.

On June 20, the controversy caused the House to go into its first secret session in 149 years so opponents could air secret committee testimony indicating Panama supported revolutionary movements in neighboring countries such as Nicaragua.

The bill passed the House June 21 and the Senate's version cleared July 28.

The implementing bill would form a commission of five Americans and four Panamanians to run the canal in the transition years. Unlike the Senate, the House wants the commission's annual budget subject to congressional approval.

Artist's concept of vehicle-launcher and shelter for Air Force's MX missile

Carter picked missile racetracks in the desert for many advantages

America's silo-based Minuteman force would be vulnerable to the sophisticated Soviet weapons of the 1980s.

But it soon seemed as though the administration would be faced with almost as many proposals for basing the new MX missiles as there were generals at the Pentagon.

One proposal called for the MX to be launched from planes, another from barges on the Great Lakes and a third — transporters cruising along public highways in the United States.

Trucker spokesman defends regulation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A spokesman for federally regulated truckers Friday told the Senate Commerce Committee President Carter's claim that deregulation would save fuel is a "false and misleading statement."

"It is simply amazing to me and frustrating to the entire regulated industry to have fuel efficiency as one of the arguments we face in deregulation," said Bennett Whitlock Jr., president of the American Trucking Associations.

Other suggestions called for firing the MX from submersible sea barges, special cars using the U.S. rail system and trains running along underground trenches.

In picking the "racetrack" method, Carter said the MX missiles will be able to change position in the time it takes for an attacking missile to leave the Soviet Union and hit desert regions.

Because the missiles will be built in the open, he said, the Soviets will be able to verify that the United States has only 200 — the number agreed upon in the new Strategic Arms Limitation Talks treaty. He said each shelter will have viewing ports that could be opened to show the Russians — if they raise a challenge — that there are only 200 missiles in the entire system.

"The MX provides us with a modernized unsurpassed strategic deterrent," Carter said. "As long as the threat of war persists, we will do what we must to insure the security."

He likened his MX decision to Harry Truman's decision to establish the Strategic Air Command and to John Kennedy's decision to establish the Minuteman system.

YOU'VE NOTHING TO LOSE. Your gas savings alone can pay for your AES Scover Energy System.

Here's what it does:
Far better mileage, because an ultrasonic pulse actually atomizes gas for a more complete mix of fuel and air.
Much less engine wear, because combustion is more efficient and cooler, with less carbon buildup.
Less pollution, less of burning, better performance. Actually smoother running, quicker starts.
All this and a one-year, 12,000-mile warranty!

The AES Scover Energy System easily fits into the exhaust manifold.

AUTOMOTIVE ENERGY SYSTEMS, INC.

Tests prove the new AES Scover Energy System gives up to 15% better mileage* with less engine wear.
Actually, the AES Scover Energy System is only new to America. It's been used all over Europe, on thousands of vehicles, over millions of miles.
In fact, it's won the Gold Medal for Inventions in Geneva and the Birmah-Castrol Award for Energy Conservation.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Drive with care, especially during morning hours. You have fundamental longings that can be easily realized.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to improve the situation with associates and then all will work out well for you later. Take a short trip that will add to your assets.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Support a bigwig early and then you can get your own talents working admirably. Pressures ease and you make progress.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get rid of personal worries that are holding you back. State your aims to an associate who can help you to attain them. A social affair could lead to advancement.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to be helpful to good friends who are having financial problems. Do what you can to improve your own position in life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Follow through with whatever is expected of you by bigwigs and everything goes smoothly for you. Don't neglect community affairs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get that boring work behind you early and gain the cooperation of fellow workers. Take needed treatments to have better health.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Come to better terms with creditors and debtors and feel more secure in the future. After a difficult day, find comfort with your family.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take care of domestic chores early and you have the goodwill of kin. Study into new interests that can bring more income in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talk over misunderstandings with friends and come to a better understanding. Take time to visit close allies.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use a better system for making your home more comfortable and functional. Show appreciation to fellow workers. Avoid the temptation to spend money foolishly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have every capability to giggle in new interests and make a big success of them. Teach objectively early and permit to participate in healthful sports that will build up the body. A lover of music here, also.

What's what

Fermenting berries can intoxicate some animals

Q. Didn't you say some animals in Africa get drunk on berries?

A. Something like that. What was said was that the macoos, berries of southern Africa are not alcoholic, at least. But they tend to ferment in the stomach of an animal that eats them. An elephant, for instance. A perfectly sober elephant, without compulsions or neuroses, might find himself flatulent loaded. In this condition, said elephant reportedly waddles feebly and sometimes winds up leaning against a tree. Another African animal known to get drunk intentionally on those fermented berries is the lion. And the baboon more notoriously than any. An inebriated baboon gets belligerent. But a lion is said to become kitchy. Playful. As previously reported, I'd like someday to film a television wildlife special featuring a drunken lion with a one-ton ball of yarn.

SNORERS

Heavy snorers rarely remember their dreams.

Wasn't it all uncommon 150 years ago for Americans to spit on the floors of their homes.

Maybe you didn't realize that both George Washington and Thomas Jefferson grew marijuana on their plantations.

Only state where the men's average life expectancy is more than 70 years is Hawaii.

Airlines owned by U. S. corporations outnumber airplanes owned by commercial airlines by about 20 to one.

Given a choice between tuna and macaroni, the typical cat will always turn first to the tuna. Why I don't know. Or care. But studies prove it.

SPOON LURES

Q. Who was the first to use spoon lures to catch fish?

A. A Vermont boater named Julio Buel. About 165 years ago, that was. He dropped a teaspoon into a lake one afternoon and watched fish strike at it all the way down. So he fished another with a book and pulled in quite a haul.

Q. How much bigger is the Pacific Ocean than the Atlantic Ocean?

A. About 15 percent bigger. The Pacific takes up about 40 percent of the earth's surface, the Atlantic about 25 percent.

Cancer claims Antoinette Slovik with her war unended

DETROIT (UPI) — Antoinette Slovik, widow of the only American serviceman executed for desertion in World War II, died of cancer Friday, just days before a bill granting her government insurance was to be considered in the Senate.

Mrs. Slovik, 64, died at Sinal Hospital, where she had been admitted less than nine hours earlier.

Her sister said she was alone when she died. Funeral services were scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Agatha's Catholic Church in Detroit's suburban River Rouge.

Mrs. Slovik was widowed on Jan. 31, 1945, when her husband, Pvt. Eddie Slovik, stepped before a firing squad and was executed for desertion. He was the only American soldier since the Civil War to be shot for desertion.

It was not until nine years later that she learned how and why he died.

The daughter of Polish immigrants, Mrs. Slovik met and married her husband — who she called "Daddy Blue Eyes" — upon his release from reform school, where he served several years for petty theft. He was drafted 15 months after they were married.

For the last three years of her life, she fought to have his court martial records changed so she could receive his $10,000 life insurance policy, plus $80,000 in interest.

Previously, she had been more concerned about her husband's name than his insurance. She had asked seven presidents, including Dwight D. Eisenhower, to pardon her husband — one of an estimated 40,000 World War II deserters. All others had their sentences commuted.

In testimony before a military hearing in 1977, former Chaplain Rabbi David Max Elchenhorst said Eisenhower, then supreme commander, singled out Slovik as an example to the other troops.

The Senate Judiciary Committee was to vote next Tuesday on bills giving the insurance benefits to Mrs. Slovik — who, for many years, used the name Annie Lavassan to avoid notoriety. It was not immediately known what action Congress now will take on the bills.

"She said in the paper many times, 'They are just waiting for me to die for them to forget this matter,'" said Robert DeFinis, a Lancaster, Pa., publicist who had been helping Mrs. Slovik in her battle for the insurance money.

"But the case is not closed. It will never be closed until the finalization of justice."

Community leaders representing Polish organizations collected money to help cover Mrs. Slovik's medical expenses.

Shirley St. Souver, a spokesman for the nursing home in which Mrs. Slovik lived, said the woman was alert when she was taken to Sinal.

"She made me promise 'we'd save a bed for her,'" Mrs. St. Souver said. "She was totally alert as a bell, but a very sick lady, of course."

Mrs. St. Souver, who had known Mrs. Slovik for 10 years, said she was "a lovely person — a very fighting-type lady. Nobody was going to step on her, ever."

No clue in network of tunnels to missing computer whiz, 16

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — An eerie labyrinth of steam tunnels below the Michigan State University campus Friday failed to yield a single clue to the disappearance of a 16-year-old computer whiz.

Two teams of police officers scoured the cramped and filthy tunnels, believed to be the fantasy world of a cult to which the missing youth belonged. So far, they have found several uncharted tunnels.

But the search — sometimes conducted on hands-and-knees — has yielded no collections of beer cans and graffiti.

Authorities have said the missing youth, James Dallas Egbert II, and other students apparently used the tunnels to get out a complicated fantasy game called Dungeons and Dragons — a role-playing game involving such characters as wizards, elves and halflings and an assortment of monsters, including dragons, dopplegangers and wraiths.

Officials said it takes several days to complete the inspection of the 10 miles of tunnels.

As the frustrating investigation entered its third week, there were signs of strain between campus police and the Texas-based team of investigators hired by the boy's parents.

Campus officials fumed over published reports asking that tips about the disappearance of the 16-year-old computer science sophomore be phoned to the investigators' headquarters at a local motel.

Egbert last was seen Aug. 15 in a dormitory cafeteria. The investigators now believe he is dead.

Left behind in Egbert's dorm room were two major clues: a bulletin board studded with hand-drawn notes in which he reportedly asked Precocious James Dallas Egbert II in happier moment. Officials believe the thumbtack pattern could be a map or a "bad rep joint."

Kennedy out of sight, family remains silent

NEW YORK (UPI) — David Kennedy, the troubled 29-year-old son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, stayed out of sight Friday and family sources had nothing to say about his being roughed up and robbed in a New York City Harlem "gallery" in New York City's Harlem.

"We have no idea where David is," said a spokesman in the Washington office of young Kennedy's uncle, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Reports in the New York Daily News and the New York Post quoted Kennedy family sources and friends as saying David had a history of drug abuse that began with marijuana at the age of 12 after his father's assassination in a Los Angeles hotel in June 1968.

The Kennedy family also had used cocaine and heroin.

Kennedy, a dropout from Harvard, was hospitalized last year at Massachusetts General Hospital for drug-related problems, the reports said.

David's uncle, Edward, dined with friends Thursday night at the Le Madrigal restaurant on Manhattan's East Side in the same neighborhood where his nephew maintains a luxury apartment.

But family spokesmen would not say whether the senator had met with David to discuss the incident Wednesday night in which young Kennedy was beaten up by three men and robbed of $30 in a seedy Harlem hotel police described as a "bad rep joint."

Narcotics detectives were assigned to the case and Police Capt. Louis G. Ralford, in charge of the investigation, said, "We're pursuing this one vigorously."

Police declined comment on reports that Kennedy went to the rundown Shelton Plaza Hotel to buy heroin but said they were investigating the possibility that the mugging was related to a drug deal.

Officers arriving at the scene in response to a call to the emergency police telephone number found 25 glassine envelopes containing heroin in the hallway of the hotel.

Neighborhood residents and police said the hotel was a "shooting gallery" whose hallways were frequented by pushers and drug addicts.

Residents said they had seen Kennedy in the hotel several times known as a major drug trafficking center — numerous times.

Police found a number of unpaid parking tickets in the glove compartment of the green 1960 Buick Kennedy parked outside the hotel Wednesday night.

In 1977, Kennedy pleaded guilty to reckless driving in Cambridge, Mass., but also was arrested during this year on charges of driving without a license.

reference to Dungeons and Dragons. But experts do not believe Egbert was the author of the note.

Acting on a tip that Egbert, if dead, could be found in the tunnels, two two-man teams of officers scoured the "dirty, humid system-in heat as high as 130 degrees."

Several uncharted enclaves were found, including one littered with beer cans, authorities said. Graffiti was common.

But, officers said, they found no evidence that Egbert had been there.

A man and woman who play the game reportedly told investigators the contests sometimes range to the far corners of the system. They said they never played with Egbert because he was too "difficult" a player.

Former Manson family member weds in prison

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (UPI) — Former Manson "family" member Charles "Tex" Watson, serving life terms for murder, married his popular in a prison waiting room Friday before a small group of guests and prison officials.

Watson, 33, is serving life terms at the California State Prison in San Luis Obispo for the 1969 Tate-LaBianca slayings by members of the Charles Manson "family."

Only 10 guests were allowed during the prison wedding of Watson and Kristin Joan Svege, 20.

Miss Svege began corresponding with Watson after reading his autobiography, "Will You Die For Me," which included details of the murders of actress Sharon Tate and a group of her friends in 1969, and his subsequent conversion to Christianity.

Details of the brief ceremony were not released nor were the names of the guests.

"We decided we don't want to talk about it. We both decided it's best," Miss Svege told a reporter for the San Luis Obispo Telegram-Tribune.

They were married by a local minister, Rev. John Melton. Prison Chaplain Stanley McGuire was to perform in the ceremony but was called out of town.

Both Watson's and Miss Svege's parents were reportedly in town for the wedding.

Watson became a born-again Christian and has been an associate pastor and teacher of bible study classes at the prison chapel since December 1978.

Acquaintances of the couple said Miss Svege, who turned 20 in July and is also a born-again Christian, read Watson's book while she was living in New Jersey and began the correspondence.

Watson, who receives considerable mail from readers of his book, reportedly invited her to see him at the prison and arranged for members of the Christian community to help her get settled.

The couple took out a marriage

Liquor, soup prolong life

TOKYO (UPI) — Shigehiko Izumi, a 116-year-old man who likes sweet rice liquor and miso soup, leads the list of Japanese who have lived more than a century, the government said Friday.

The list was increased by 145 to 637 over the past year, the Health and Welfare Ministry said.

Izumi is the only Japanese born in the Edo period when Japan was closed to the outer world.

He said he owes his long life to a regime of light walks, eating miso (soybean paste) soup, and drinking a liquor brewed from sweet potatoes, a concoction that is more than 90 proof.

Belli sending checks back

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Famed lawyer Mel Belli has reached the age of 72, but says he won't accept Social Security payments now due him.

Instead, he will return his checks to the government, endorsed to "Uncle Sam."

"I'll never retire," he wrote the Internal Revenue Service. "I'm trying more cases now, doing more lectures and writing more books than ever before. But if I didn't live in a country like the United States, I wouldn't have the health or freedom to do this, so in some small repayment, I'm returning my Social Security checks to Uncle Sam in grateful appreciation for what he's done for my family and me these 72 years now and, God willing, some 30 years to come."

Zimbabwe forces level base

SALISBURY, Zimbabwe Rhodesia (UPI) — Zimbabwe Rhodesian forces destroyed an army base, a supply train and several ammunition dumps Friday in the third day of a massive invasion of Mozambique.

A military spokesman said more than 300 Mozambican army troops and Patriotic Front guerrillas had been killed in the three-day invasion, which continued even as Zimbabwe Rhodesian Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa left for London and British-mediated peace talks.

In Washington, the State Department condemned the attacks as "particularly regrettable because they come just before the upcoming London constitutional conference" between Muzorewa and the Patriotic Front, whose bases were being destroyed by the invasion force as it criss-crossed through southern Mozambique — apparently without meeting much resistance.

A military communique said operations on the third day of the invasion were centered in Mozambique's rice bowl along a road and rail route essential to transport both military and civilian supplies from the south to the central and northern tiers of the country.

Against the 300 Mozambican army and Patriotic Front casualties, the communique listed 13 Rhodesians dead — all of them killed on the first day of the invasion Wednesday when their American-made Bell helicopter was shot down.

"The operations are continuing," a military spokesman said.

Dispute sends non-aligned conference into extra day

HAVANA (UPI) — Bitter clashes between Cuba and moderate nations Friday over which Cambodian delegate to seat at the non-aligned conference forced summit officials to extend the meeting by one day, diplomatic sources said.

The summit was originally scheduled to end Friday, but the long line of heads of state, government and liberation movements yet to speak caused officials to move the final session to today.

All the angry debates concerned the issue of which of two Cambodian delegations to seat at the summit. The choice was between the current Cambodian ruler or one from the Pol Pot regime ousted by a Vietnamese invasion in January.

Sources at the meeting said Cuban President Fidel Castro, who favors the new Cambodian regime, exchanged "acid" words with representatives of nations that favor seating the Chinese-backed Pol Pot delegation.

"He said we were trying to sabotage the conference," one source said, adding the bureau ultimately decided to sidestep the issue until the next non-aligned summit in Baghdad in 1982.

The Cambodian dispute has been the center of controversy since the summit opened Monday because many nations view it as a struggle between the Soviets, who back the current Heng Samrin regime, and China, which backs Pol Pot.

"This is the start of an attempt to align the non-aligned countries in great-power conflicts," Singapore Foreign Minister S. Rajaratnam said in the text of a speech he will deliver to the summit.

Diplomatic sources said the drafting of the declaration to be adopted at summit's end — stating the movement's purpose for the next three years — was "proceeding smoothly on all fronts."

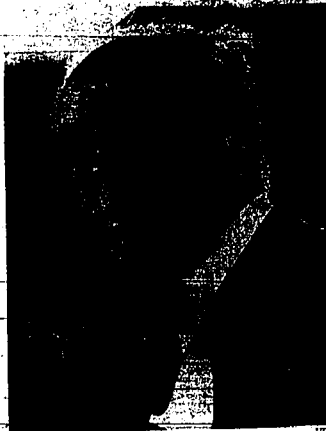

Yugoslav President Josip Broz

Tito, sole surviving founder of the movement "alliances" in 1961 to oppose both U.S. and Soviet power blocs, had clashed with Castro over the original wording of the declaration drafted by Cuba, the summit host.

Tito was known to believe that Cuba's harsh references to American "imperialism" and praise for "progressive" countries was an attempt to tilt the bloc toward Havana's friends in Moscow.

The new wording being worked out tones down the anti-U.S. language in the Cuban draft but does not specifically attack Soviet "hegemonism" as the Yugoslavs had demanded, summit sources said.

On the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, the compromise language will urge Cairo to declare the pact "null and void" because it does not resolve the Palestinian issue. But will not be too harshly critical of Egypt, the sources said.

U.S. negotiator Robert Strauss

Strauss leaves for Middle East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Middle East negotiator Robert Strauss said Friday he intends to bring up the fighting in southern Lebanon during his next round of talks with Egyptian and Israeli leaders.

Strauss, who spoke to reporters before taking off for the Middle East, said the Egyptian-Israeli negotiations can't be separated from the warfare in Lebanon.

"I am damn well going to discuss southern Lebanon, because it has a spill-over effect into my responsibility in the negotiations," he said.

The State Department has repeatedly condemned Israeli raids into Lebanon, but has yet to comment on whether American weapons are being used in violation of U.S. law.

Strauss, who has yet to be confirmed by the Senate in his special envoy's job, said he has been instructed by President Carter to bring back an "in-depth report" on the recent Hafiz summit between the leaders of Egypt and Israel.

He said he has also been instructed to invite President Anwar Sadat and Prime Minister Menachem Begin to the United States for a new summit with Carter.

Strauss said he isn't going to make public progress reports at every stage of the Egyptian-Israeli negotiations toward Palestinian self-rule on the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

"You can't measure progress by taking my temperature every 15 minutes," he said. "Damn fools measure progress that way. I used to be a damn fool."

Israel holds 70 terrorist suspects

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Security forces have detained 70 persons on suspicion of terrorist activities, including the son of a PLO supporter who met with Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan last week, a military spokesman said Friday.

The roundup in the occupied Gaza Strip and northern Sinai began two weeks ago and ended Thursday.

A military spokesman said several suspected members of three PLO groups — Al Fatah, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine and Saiga — were among those arrested. But he said none of the 70 detainees has been charged yet.

Among those detained on suspicion of belonging to the PFLP was Tarek Heider Abdul Shaif, the 19-year-old son of Dr. Heider Abdel Shaif, a prominent Palestinian leader in the Gaza Strip.

Dayan met Shaif in the Gaza on Aug. 29 to discuss Israel's relations with the Palestinian population of the occupied West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

The military refused to release the number of persons suspected of involvement with each guerrilla group. The spokesman said the suspected PFLP cell was rounded up in the Gaza arch and had not carried out any terrorist acts.

Others accused of membership in Al Fatah admitted to carrying out an attack against a bank in Gaza

Aug. 26, the spokesman said. He said several suspected members of the Syrian-backed Saiga organization admitted preparing an attack and were found with seven explosive devices.

Anglican Church names new Archbishop of Canterbury

By ROBERT MUSEL
LONDON (UPI) — Anglican Church commissioners announced Friday the Right Rev. Robert Alexander Kennedy Runcie, Bishop of St. Albans, for election by the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury in the place of the Most Rev. and Right Reverend Frederick Donald Coggan, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England and Metropolitan.

ROBERT A.K. RUNCIE
... to head church of St. Albans and World War II tank commander hero, will be the next Archbishop of Canterbury.

Runcie, 57, will succeed the present Archbishop, Dr. Donald Coggan, 69, next Jan. 26. Coggan announced his decision to retire on that date June 5 this year, saying he wanted "to make way for a younger man."
The Archbishop of Canterbury is also Primate of All England and head of the worldwide Anglican Communion.

Runcie has been Bishop of St. Albans, an ancient cathedral city just north of London, since 1970. He entered the church shortly after World War II.
During World War II Runcie won the Military Cross as an officer in the Guards Armored Division in Normandy. His citation said he crossed open ground under fire and pulled one of his men out of a damaged tank and captured a gun emplacement which had knocked out five Allied tanks.
The appointment of Archbishop of Canterbury is formally made by the British monarch, who is head of the Anglican church, on the recommendation of the Prime Minister. But

Church of the Nazarene plans farewell service for pastor

TWIN FALLS — Joseph E. Chastain, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene for nine years, will leave for a pastorate in California this month.
He was born in Springfield, Mo., and was educated in California. He has also pastored in Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Hawaii.
According to Pastor Chastain, his congregation has evidenced a healthy growth. During his pastorate here, he began an Outreach Program which brings 10 worship services per month to local rest homes. The program has functioned for seven years, and will add a fourth rest home, Woodstone, to its list soon.
Also under the Outreach umbrella is the MOP Squad (Ministry of Puppets), directed by Rod and Bobby Kiron, and a Bus Ministry, which provides transportation to children whose parents are unable to take them to church.

Pastor Chastain also initiated a Tape Ministry, which utilizes a telephone answering service to exchange church news and to request prayers.
He has served as wing chaplain for the Civil Air Patrol for five years and is a member of the Intermountain District Advisory Board of the Nazarene Church.
His wife, Mary K., was employed at the Christian Book Store in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center.
The new pastor, Aaron Knapp of Omaha, Neb., will arrive Sept. 30. A farewell will be held at the church Sept. 16 at 6 p.m. The choir, directed by Rich Nixon, will present a special mini-cantata titled "We Have Come."

The public is invited.

Otter slams Anybody But Church ...

State agriculture director Kellogg announces retirement

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Agriculture Department Director Wilson Bill Kellogg Friday said he intends to retire before the end of the month.

The 44-year veteran of state and federal government service said he has discussed his plans with Gov. John V. Evans, who will notify Kellogg when a replacement and effective date for the retirement have been chosen.

"I'm retiring on my own initiative," Kellogg said. "There's no rift. I have served at the governor's pleasure and, really, it's been a pleasure to serve him. I just don't want to leave him in the lurch, so I'll wait until he's chosen a replacement."

Kellogg, 67, said he has "recommended a few names" to Evans but refused to divulge their identities. He said Evans may appoint an acting director until a final choice is made.

Kellogg, who began his full-time career in 1935 as a shipping-point inspector, worked his way up the ranks in the federal and state civil service. Since he began his career, he said, he has worked simultaneously for the Idaho and U.S. agriculture departments, a standard practice in most states.

The California native moved to Lotus, Idaho, with his family when he was four years old and said he considers himself a native of the state. From the time he was 12 years old, he was working in agriculture, he said.

His father ran the railroad station in Lotus, he said, so he knew Idaho government officials from childhood.

"In 1974 the department was reorganized and commissioners' titles were changed to director," Kellogg said. "I'm the only guy alive who knew all the previous commissioners since 1918. Of course, I was just a small boy then, but they used to use the train to travel on state business and so I got to know them when they came to Lotus."

Kellogg said he also has known "every governor since 1933" although he received the gubernatorial appointment to director of the Agriculture Department just seven years ago.

"I've enjoyed the people I work with and working with the governor and his staff," Kellogg said. "I'm not going because I'm mad — it's just a matter of time running out."

BOISE (UPI) — A prominent Republican has protested tactics being used by the Anyone But Church political action group whose goal is to unseat Democratic Sen. Frank Church in 1980.

Former gubernatorial candidate Butch Otter Thursday said his bid for the Idaho chief executive spot may have been marred by what he calls a "cheap and ugly spectacle" now being used against Church.

"I kind of feel I may have been a victim of similar tactics by the same author in the gubernatorial election although I want to make it clear this isn't a vengeful thing on my part," Otter said. The "author" to which he referred is ABC Chairman Don Todd, who worked with the winner of last year's Republican gubernatorial primary, Allen Larsen, who defeated Otter and later lost the election to Gov. John Evans.

"In my opinion that campaign (against Church) has turned into the kind of cheap and ugly spectacle that creates political disillusionment and apathy among all voters, whether they are Republican, Democratic or independent, conservative, liberal or moderate," Otter said.

He said he is urging the ABC committee to disband and completely cease "what I consider to be its descriptive and counter-productive activities."

He said he believes such tactics will become a campaign issue in themselves rather than achieve the goal of informing citizens about Church's congressional voting record.

"Frank Church will not be replaced as a result of slick and emotion-charged ads that take license with the truth and dwell on hate, but rather by a positive and forward-looking candidate who can demonstrate competence to and a kinship with Idaho voters," Otter said.

He said he hopes Church and other Democrats will join with him in calling for "fairplay" in the 1980 Senate race and future campaigns.

Otter has expressed interest in seeking the seat now held by Steve Symm, R-Idaho, in the House of Representatives if Symms declares candidacy for Church's post.

... and a young GOP doesn't like it

BOISE (UPI) — Tom Williamson, chairman of the Idaho Young Republican League, Friday condemned the "fright-peddling" tactics he said Sen. Frank Church has used in his counterattacks on two political action groups.

Williamson also urged the state's leading Republicans not to listen to Church's "begging" to them to denounce the groups, the Anyone

But Church committee and the Idaho Committee for Positive Change.

Both committees repeatedly have attacked Church's voting record, and the senator often has responded bitterly to their accusations. At one Boise news conference, he said the ABC committee was using Adolf Hitler's "big lie" technique to smear him.

"He (Church) is evidently frightened that these independent committees are succeeding in disseminating the facts about his liberal Washington voting record," said Williamson, of Boise.

"Obviously, any Republican who falls for this Church ploy to divide Idahoans who are opposed to the senator's liberal voting record is sadly misguided."

Study, headed by Meyer, says keep vo-tech school apart

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A special study committee recommended to the Idaho Board of Education today that Eastern Idaho Vocational-Technical School should remain separate from Idaho State University.

The board received the report, which was prepared by a study committee headed by a former Twin Falls assistant superintendent of schools, but delayed discussion until members have time to study the recommendations.

Earlier this year the board appointed the study group to consider the role and mission of EIVT, including the advantages and disadvantages of an administrative merger with ISU.

Camden Meyer, Twin Falls, a member of the State Advisory Council for Vocational Education, and chairman of the study committee, said the group concluded "there would be some benefits to being connected with a university, including greater prestige for student credit. But, he added, the "community of Idaho Falls identifies very well with EIVT and EIVT identifies with Idaho Falls."

Meyer, who recently retired as assistant superintendent at Twin Falls, also said the study group looked at economic advantages and disadvantages but, "we couldn't see there would be any saving of money in merging the two schools."

"We're kidding ourselves when we think there would be any great savings in costs, I believe."

During the meeting, board members participated in dedication ceremonies for the new 70,000-square-foot mechanical building at EIVT. John Christofferson, EIVT director, said the 8-year-old school is ready to shift its emphasis from the "establishment mode — getting things off the ground and moving — to the maintenance mode."

The board also authorized Christofferson to use $15,000 from the school's local account to install a $5,000 security alarm system to protect the building from vandals and to install food service equipment at the school.

Christofferson also told the board as many as one-third of the students require some housing during their studies at EIVT, but said currently they themselves must look for off-campus living.

He said the school is organized as an area school to serve residents of Idaho Falls, but said many students now are commuting from distant homes to take advantage of some of EIVT's "unique" vocational programs.

Board member Cheryl Hymas of Jerome asked Christofferson to explore various ways to provide local housing for students because "we can't give you any kind of answer until you give us a proposal."

Other recommendations presented by the EIVT study committee to the board included:

— Development of closer relationships between the board and the director of EIVT to give the school "direct communication to the state board on major items of business and concern."

Judge retains charges against meatpackers

SEATTLE (UPI) — A federal district court judge has denied a defense request that four meat-packing firms be acquitted of charges they conspired to fix beef prices in Washington state.

U.S. District Judge Donald Voorhes turned down the defense motion made when the prosecution finished presentation of its case Thursday afternoon. Defense arguments began late in the afternoon and will continue when trial resumes Monday.

Earlier in the day a government economist testified that during certain periods between 1971 and 1978 two of the four meat-packing firms charged with price fixing submitted identical bids to Safeway in Bellevue as high as 93 percent of the time.

But a defense attorney criticized the prosecution's figures as having been selected to make the government's case. Attorney David Foster told the federal court jury that the evidence did not support the claim that the four meat-packing firms made identical bids more often than other companies.

Jerry Bodily, an economist with the Department of Justice antitrust division, showed the jury charts which he said showed how often the accused companies offered to sell cross beef to Safeway at the same price.

Named as defendants are Schacke Packing Co., Ellensburg, Wash.; Hygrade Food Products Corp., Southfield, Mich.; and Bilcoo Packing Co. Inc., operated as Magic Valley Packing of Gooding, Idaho — all charged with criminal violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The fourth firm named in the indictment — Flavorland Industries of Denver — has pleaded no contest to the charges.

All four companies sold beef products to wholesale and retail outlets throughout the Northwest.

Bodily said that between 1971 and 1978, for example, Schacke and Flavorland offered to sell Steer Category 1 carcasses to Safeway at the same price 93.47 percent of the time.

He also testified that during the same period Schacke and Hygrade made identical bids to Safeway 83.14 percent of the time, and that Flavorland and Hygrade made the same bid 70 percent of the time during the same period.

At other times, he said, the percentage of times two or more of the firms made the same bid was lower.

The government contends the firms arrived at identical prices by conferring on the telephone the morning before the weekly bids were offered.

But Foster, counsel representing Hygrade, attacked Bodily's figures. He said the use of Safeway and the beef category had been chosen only because they "most strongly demonstrate" what the government set out to prove.

Foster ran through a computer printout produced by Bodily which included the sale prices offered to Safeway by seven meat-packing firms.

He pointed out that all seven firms made identical bids and that in other weeks the three companies not named as defendants sometimes made identical bids.

Foster said he was "looking for weeks in which the defendants did something different than what the others did."

Pediatricians' case to last through Monday in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — One court battle between the Twin Falls Clinic and pediatricians Harold Gest and Paul Miles will continue into next week.

District Court Judge Theron Ward adjourned the proceedings at 2:30 p.m. Friday after Robert Stephan, attorney for the clinic, said he had at least one witness who was unable to testify until Monday. The hearing will continue at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Dr. Joseph Weinberg, a former clinic pediatrician who will leave town next week, testified that there is an advantage to a young doctor to enter a group practice like the clinic right after completion of his or her training. Under questioning by Stephan, he said he was busy from the first day he began work at the clinic.

"There is obviously less trauma to going into an established group," Weinberg said.

Stephan then asked Weinberg if he had to sign restrictive agreements at the pediatric center where he will be working in Connecticut. But before he could answer an objection to the question by attorney Edward Benoit was sustained by Judge Ward. Benoit, who represents Gest and Miles, said the question was irrelevant to the case.

Dr. Donald Pica, chief of staff at the clinic, told the Times-News an out-of-court settlement before Judge Ward rules is unlikely.

"You just can't have doctors coming in, using the clinic to get established in the community, and then going across town," Pica said.

The clinic is asking Judge Ward to extend a ban on private practice by the two doctors, who signed an agreement not to compete with the clinic within a radius of 25 miles for two years after resigning their positions. Both resigned Aug. 24 and began to practice with local pediatricians Benjamin Katz and Elmer Wright.

Wright testified Friday morning that pediatricians are in great demand all over the country and that it is difficult to recruit them to Twin Falls.

Vandals, burglars strike

TWIN FALLS — Vandals and burglars caused losses to a number of Twin Falls properties during the past several days, police reports showed Friday.

A large 9-by-12-foot window in the Idaho First National Bank at 103 Main Ave. E. was broken when someone shot a hole through it Thursday night. Bank officials estimated damage at $1,700. It was discovered by employees at 17:30 a.m. Friday.

Another act of vandalism was reported at the Robert Stuart Junior High School. Police said someone used paint to paint the sidewalk, trash container and part of the building. Damage was estimated at $50.

counties, Engineer Howard L. Johnson of the Department of Transportation, Division of Highways, has announced.

He said the firm bid $49,693 for two projects. One is to install guard rail at the Rock Creek crossing on the county road 5.5 miles south of Kimberly. The other project is for guard rail at Tupper Grade, 1.5 miles east of Hagerman in Twin Falls and Gooding counties.

Johnson said bids will be opened Sept. 18 for repaving decks and construction of plant mix overlays at several locations on U.S. 30, I-80N, SH 27 and SH 46 in Gooding, Twin Falls, Jerome, Blaine and Cassia counties.

Two boys injured on bike

BUHL — Two small boys suffered fractures and other injuries Friday night when the mini-bike they were operating collided with an automobile northeast of Buhl.

Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers identified the two as Steve Bonar, 8, believed to be the operator of the mini-bike, and Jimmy Fleming, 7. The accident occurred just after 7 p.m. on a county road four miles east and three and three-quarters miles north of the Burley Center at Buhl.

Deputy Francis Johnson said one of the boys, probably Bonar, was operating the mini-bike and the other was riding beside it when it pulled from a driveway and into the path of a vehicle driven by Mildred Moore, 59, also of Buhl.

Johnson said there would be no citations. Parents of the two boys are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bonar. Both families live in the vicinity of the accident.

Both young victims were hospitalized at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Officials said they suffered leg and shoulder fractures.

Unemployment rate at 5.2%

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's unemployment rate rose slightly last month but was at the same level as in August a year ago, the Idaho Department of Employment reported Friday.

The agency said the 5.2 percent seasonally adjusted rate for this August was just above the 4.9 percent in July.

In its monthly employment forecast bulletin, the agency also noted that leading economic indicators have declined for the last 3 months, "which suggests the economy is not improving."

The number of seasonally adjusted unemployed increased by 1,700 workers from 21,400 people in July to 23,100 in August. The increase can be attributed to the continued slowing in residential construction and related services along with the maintenance shutdown in the food processing plants, the agency said.

Although the rate of unemployment was up, the agency noted that total employment increased 5,500 workers in August from July's 414,300 jobholders.

"The industry primarily contributing to this growth was government," the department said. "The federal government added an additional 2,000 workers to its fighting Idaho's major forest fires."

The department said also schools began increasing their employment in anticipation of the opening of school year.

QUESTION

Our high school age son is interested in your profession as a career. Please tell me the requirements he must have to qualify.

ANSWER

There are no uniform standards which apply to all of the states except formal examination and licensing. Several basic minimums are common to all states.

- Age 21 and at least a high school education is required universally. Most states have specific college requirements.
- Attendance in a school of mortuary science is a requisite of all states.
- Internship is a minimum requirement of all states.

There is a need and a place for sensitive and dedicated people in our profession. We suggest you also pursue his interest with his school guidance counselor. It is possible we may have some books that will be helpful in his decision.

Leininger leads Tigers' effort

POCATELLO — It was Idaho Falls and Pocatello winning the team championships in the annual Game City Cross Country Invitational Friday afternoon.

Idaho Falls edged Twin Falls 33 to 37 for the girls' crown, while Pocatello nosed out Jerome 50 to 51 for the boys' team title. The Twin Falls boys trailed in third with 77 points.

Twin Falls and Jerome, however, claimed both individual titles. Cindy Crow, running for the Bruins, came across the finish line in 11:30 to beat Kerrie Pinder of Idaho Falls in the girls' race. Tammy Crow of Twin Falls was third, Marge Marshall of Jerome fourth, Sandy Ford of Twin Falls fifth and Debbie Warr of Jerome ninth.

In addition, Julie Yergenson of Twin Falls placed 12th and Cindy Stansell of Twin Falls 16th.

In the boys' competition, Jerry Leininger of Jerome set a new course record of 16:16 (the old mark was held by Brian Ochsner of Piler). Fourth was Cory Armstrong, fifth Earl Lara of Minico, sixth Brian Mein of Jerome, seventh Doug Robinette of Jerome, ninth Eric McManamon of Twin Falls, 14th Hal Hoigard of Twin Falls, 24th Sven Mikessel of Twin Falls and 28th Jeff Summers of Twin Falls.

It was the first cross country race of the season for all local teams. The following are the complete team standings: Boys

Pocatello 50, Jerome 51, Twin Falls 77, Minico 95, Wood River 144, Idaho Falls 180, Blackfoot 193, Highland 194, Skyline 195, and Buhl incomplete.

Girls

Idaho Falls 33, Twin Falls 37, Jerome 53, and Pocatello 55.

In junior varsity racing, the Idaho Falls girls and the Jerome boys were the team leaders.

Jerome's boys were led by Barrett Craig who took third, Jim McKinstry fourth, Doug Abrams fifth, Todd Bates ninth, and Dustin Calhoun 10th.

Individual winner was Greg Stone of Wood River with a time of 17:34. No other local runners placed in the race.

In the girls competition, Idaho Falls edged Twin Falls 34 to 36. Bruin runners placing were Cindy Haddock, second, Kim Grooms fifth, Terry Barron eighth, and Jerr Barron ninth. Wood River's Mary Grant took third.

Team totals for the junior varsity matchups: Girls

Idaho Falls 34, Twin Falls 35, Pocatello 105, and Jerome 107.

Boys

Jerome 30, Highland 48, Wood River 115, Pocatello 140, Idaho Falls 147, and Twin Falls 205.

Indians to entertain John Day team today

BUHL — Offense is the keyword tonight when the Buhl Indians entertain Grant Union of John Day, Ore., in the second game of the season.

The Indians weren't happy with their ball-moving ability last week when they topped Madison of Rexburg 15-0. Coach Gregg Stora has spent the week gearing up the offense for tonight's game which starts at 8 at Bowers Field.

"Our offense really needs to have some success," the coach said. "We've spent a lot of time on it this week — more than on any single thing since I've been at Buhl. And we're looking for a good offensive performance."

"Defensively, we'll be basically the same. We had only one defense practice this week and made a few adjustments concerning things we've heard John Day does."

Coach Smith said Grant Union is a "power kind of team" with a multiple-type offense with motion, etc. "They try to fool you by running as much as they can but when who start reacting to the run too much, they turn to play-action passing."

MURTAUGH

Murtaugh turned the tide on the ground but won it in the "Friday night" as the Red Devils knocked off the Kimberly Bobcats 20-8.

The Red Devils, trailing through the game, scored twice in the last five minutes to ice the game.

In the end, it was a 17-yard flip from frosh quarterback Roy Nebeck to Barry Stubbart that sent the game Murtaugh's way. That came on fourth and 11 and carried to the Kimberly 20. Rick Flores belted in from there and Curt Upton hammered the two-point conversion.

Just three plays later, Murtaugh led the cake when Chet Crossman picked up a Kimberly fumble. That led to a rushing touchdown — again on fourth down — by Monte Bates.

It was the second win for Murtaugh Coach Florin Huse, coming out of a 24-year "retirement" from superintendent due to a late designation by former Coach Barry Berr.

BK 32, Burley 16

BOISE — The Bishop Kelly Bobcats turned back early bids by Burley as the two teams went on to capture a 32-16 decision Friday night.

The Bobcats, fresh from a rousing 45-16 offensive 60-8 decision over Kimberly last week, started as if a repeat might be in order. In the opening moments, Jeff Wright caught a 67-yard bomb that carried to the Kelly 37 but the Knights turned that bid back.

After two first downs, however, Kelly fumbled the ball back to Burley at the 41 and the Bobcats were back on the defensive half yard line. But at that point the much larger Kelly line began stunting and shooting galls and the second golden chance ended on an under throw.

From then on Kelly's size seemed to wear the Bobcats down and big back Doug Hammond had a good night running up the middle.

Oakley 20, Indians 0

SHOSHONE — The Oakley Hornets threw up a strong defense and overpowered the young Shoshone Indians 20-0 Friday night.

It marked the longest straight 20-0 loss in the Indians' history and relied heavily on sophomores.

Oakley scored a touchdown each in the first and second quarters and added the final one in the fourth period.

Madison 18, Jerome 6

JEROME — The Madison Bobcats shrugged off a strong Jerome Tiger defense to come from behind and defeat the Tigers in a game marred with safeties and high snaps.

The Bobcats scored two safeties and two touchdowns in an 18-6 victory. For the Tigers, it was their second straight loss.

Juggling to get on the scoreboard in both halves, battled back and forth for a scoreless first quarter.

In the second quarter, Madison scored a drive that stopped at the Jerome 48 and was forced to punt. With 11:38 left, Jerome was deep in its own territory when Kerry Klinger and Robert Weekes came busting through the line snapping Jerome quarterback Brian Crossland in the end zone for a seven yard loss and a safety.

Both teams traded unsuccessful offensive drives but Madison was forced to punt on Jerome's 21-yard line. Bobcat center Greg Snell snapped it over kicker Mark Gallups head into Madison's end zone where John Decker came charging through the line and pounced on the ball to give the Tigers a touchdown and a 6-2 lead. Jerome's conversion attempt was wide left.

"It was a different defense than we anticipated," said Madison's head coach Preston Haley. "The same thing happened to us last week against Buhl and we were used to this, but we just couldn't generate any offense."

And no offense was generated for the rest of the half as both teams defended defensively. The only other scoring attempt by either team was a missed Madison field goal with six seconds remaining in the half.

Madison started some offensive carry in the second half but in the quarter but failed to score which left Haley slightly disappointed.

"We had the momentum going and failed to score which let down a lot of the kids," said Haley.

But it didn't take long for the Bobcats to get it back as Kyle Christensen intercepted a Crossland pass and returned it to the Jerome 15 yard line. From there out, Mike Jensen and Derek Tingey bulldozed to Jerome's four-yard line where Tingey took it in for the score. The conversion was good and Madison regained the lead.

Madison jumped on their second safety of the night when Jerome snapped the ball too high on a punt and the kids made the score 11-6 with 8:43 left in the game.

Hansen 26, Valley 16

EDEN — Cooper Urie and the Hansen Huskies turned two turnovers into four quarter touchdowns and dropped the Valley Vikings 26-16 Friday night.

The Huskies had four long plays that led to most of the scoring. Most of the time it was a slugging match between the defensive units.

Valley took the lead, Gary Taylor hitting Russ Pharris with a 54-yard bomb that carried into the end zone. Rod Tilley ran the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter, Jeff Connor replied for Hansen, breaking cleanly off tackle and rambling 55 yards. Urie's two-point run tied it. Valley Scheid punched in on a fumble and the Vikings 13 and drove for the go-ahead points. They came on a three-yard burst by Brent Borah with Valley stopping the conversion play.

On the first play of the second half, Darrell Baker broke a 65-yard run for the Vikings to get inside the 10-yard line and four plays later Bob Scheid punched in on a fumble and away. The conversion ended in a fumble but Valley got the two points later when, after its defense pinned Hansen against its goal line, the Huskies converted a fumble at the punter's head and out of the end zone.

But that 16-14 lead wasn't going to last. Early in the fourth period Hansen converted a fumble at the Valley 38 and took it in, Urie getting the last seven yards.

That forced Valley into a passing game and Hansen's Pat Lierman intercepted. Hansen capitalized on that, Urie again scoring on a seven-yard run.

Major League roundup

Houston clings to lead

By United Press International

Houston continues to cling to the barest of leads. Vida Blue scattered six hits and Larry Herndon knocked in three runs with a double and two singles to give newly named manager Dave Bristol his first victory Friday night and lead the San Francisco Giants to a 9-2 decision over the Astros.

The win, coupled with Cincinnati's 6-5 loss to Los Angeles, allowed the Astros to remain in first place in the National League West by one-half game.

Blue, 11-3, walked four and struck out four in recording his 10th complete game of the year. Joquin Andujar, 12-1, and giving up the loss while going the first 1-3 innings and allowing four runs and six hits.

Elsewhere in the NL, Chicago edged Philadelphia 4-3, San Diego blanked Atlanta 5-0, Los Angeles nipped Cincinnati 6-5 and St. Louis got by Montreal 5-4.

Barry Foote's one-out double scored pinch-runner Miguel Dilone from first base in the bottom of the ninth, hitting Chicago to a victory over Philadelphia that snapped the Cubs' seven-game losing streak.

Dave Winfield ripped a three-run homer and drove in four runs and Eric Rasmussen tossed a five-hitter, leading San Diego over Atlanta.

Gary Thomsen's non-inning, bases-loaded sacrifice fly off reliever Tom Hume, carried LA past Cincinnati. Steve Garvey and Ron Cey led off the ninth with consecutive singles and one out later, Steve Yeager bent out an infield hit to load the bases and set the stage for Thomsen's game-winning sacrifice fly.

Tony Scott's sacrifice fly in the seventh inning scored Keith Hernandez from third base with the winning run and helped St. Louis snap a 10-game winning streak for the Expos.

In the American League, Carl Yazstrzemski moved to within two hits of the 3,000-hit plateau Friday night — but the Baltimore Orioles were not impressed.

Gary Roenneke's leadoff-home run in the seventh inning snapped a 1-1 Friday night, hitting the Orioles to a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Baltimore jumped to a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Eddie Murray led off with his 22nd homer of the year off Boston starter and loss? Chuck Rainey, 5-5. Boston answered with a run in their half of the inning when Jim Rice blasted his 33th homer, with two out.

In other games, Detroit blanked New York 6-0, Cleveland beat Toronto 9-8 and Texas edged Minnesota 4-3.

Munson broke spine

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — New York Yankees catcher Thurman Munson, killed in an Aug. 2 airplane crash, broke his spine upon impact and died of asphyxiation when he could not climb out of the burning wreckage, a coroner's report said Friday.

Summit County Coroner Anastasius H. Kyriakides said Munson, who was fully conscious after the accident, did not have his shoulder harness connected when the plane struck a stump while he was practicing touch-and-go landings at the Akron-Canton Airport.

The report said Munson's head struck the instrument panel, causing the paralysis that prevented him from getting out of the $1.3 million Cessna Citation after it burst into flames.

Kyriakides said he could not say whether Munson would have survived if he had the shoulder harness hooked up.

He did say that if the 32-year-old Canton native had survived it was "highly probable" he would have been paralyzed from the neck down.

Soccer still scheduled

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The vice president of Soviet Olympic Committee, Viadimir Koval, said Friday there "was no indication to think" that soccer would not be included in the 1980 Olympic Games opening in Moscow next July.

Koval, in Mexico for the 10th World University Games, made his statement in response to newspaper stories saying soccer will be eliminated from the Olympic schedule.

The news accounts said that several countries, mostly Latin American, asked the International Soccer Federation not to sanction Olympic soccer competition because, they charge, most East European players are professionals.

Koval said he didn't know of Latin American complaints to the ISF.

"We do know that if eliminations for the Olympics conform with ISF programs, I can say there will be soccer in the games," Koval said.

He added that the matches will be played in a new stadium being built in Moscow, Kiev, Minsk and Leningrad. He held the playoffs for first, second and third place will be in Lenin Stadium.

Borbon found guilty

CINCINNATI (UPI) — San Francisco Giants relief pitcher Pedro Borbon was found guilty Friday of assaulting a former employee of a Cincinnati disco.

The employee testified at the jury trial that Borbon "chewed" on his cheek for two minutes during a late-night fracas at the disco.

Borbon, who pitched nearly 10 years for the Cincinnati Reds before being traded to the Giants earlier this year, is to be sentenced by Hamilton County Municipal court Judge Donald Schott on Oct. 5, five days after the baseball season ends.

Reds recall batter

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds called up the top batter from their Nashville farm club Friday in order to have a switch-hitter available to pinch-hit in the Reds' stretch run against the Houston Astros for the National League West title.

Called up was infielder Rafael Santo Domingo, 23, who led the Nashville Sounds of the Class AA Southern League in hitting this season with a .312 average.

Bud-Bid show opens

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bud and Bid show opened to spectacular reviews Friday morning on the backstretch at Belmont racetrack.

Spectacular Bid, favored in Saturday's $300,000 Marlboro Cup after the defection of 1978 Triple Crown winner Affirmed, arrived from Maryland at 8:30 a.m. accompanied by trainer Bud Delp and his non-stop monologue on the virtues of the 3-year-old colt.

"He has never been better," said Delp. "He's in better shape that he was before the Belmont and at that time he was in the best shape of his life. If I get beat there are no excuses and he's running against the best horses in the country. Bud, I do get beat it's not as if they're getting a maiden."

Coastal, undefeated this year, will be among the six horses to challenge Bid in the 1 1/2-mile Marlboro Saturday and is the solid second choice after reeling off six straight wins. Also entered are the older horses Cox's Ridge, Star de Naskra, Text and the mare Ways as well as the 3-year-old General Assembly.

Car reaches 556 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI) — Carrying only one-third of a load of fuel, California stunt driver Stan Barrett drove his 48,000-horsepower rocket car to a top speed of 556.53 miles per hour Friday in another test run before he attempts to break the world land speed record.

Hal Needham, owner of the pencil-shaped car, and designer-builder Bill Fredrick, announced after the run that Barrett would attempt to break the record Saturday.

They said Barrett, a movie stunt man from Bishop, Calif., would make two runs Saturday. He will attempt to reach the 600 mph mark between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and go for the one-way speed record at about 6:30 p.m.

Hull makes decision

WINNIPEG (UPI) — Veteran Bobby Hull said Friday that he was moving back to the United States and will permanently end his 20-year hockey career if he doesn't play with the Chicago Black Hawks.

"Things are getting a little bit late and I just wonder if anything will ever be resolved," Hull said of the negotiations between Chicago and the Winnipeg Jets over the playing rights to the 40-year-old leftwinger.

Hull had a brilliant 15-year career with Chicago before jumping to the Jets before the 1972-73 season. He led the negotiations between Chicago and the World Hockey Association. He said his playing days at Winnipeg are now over.

"I have not changed my mind," the aging star said. "I've definitely said I wouldn't play in Winnipeg and that still stands. I am going to be moving to the States whether I play or not."

NFL game switched

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Because Pope John Paul II will be in Washington, D.C. on Oct. 7, the Eagles game scheduled to be played with the Redskins that day in RFK Stadium has been switched to Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia.

The two teams will meet again Oct. 21 at RFK to complete their series for 1979.

Hundreds of thousands of people are expected to be at hand at the mall for the Pope's mass Oct. 7. That location is five minutes from the stadium, whose parking lots will be used to accommodate those attending the mass.

Cactus Pete Open deadline is today

JACKPOT — About 130 amateurs and 45 professionals have signed up for the annual $20,000 Cactus Pete's Open, which begins here Wednesday morning.

Entry deadline is Saturday evening.

Under a new format, the tournament is divided into three parts this year. The amateurs will play for $10,000 in merchandise prizes in net and gross Wednesday and Thursday. The pros come in Friday for a special scramble, which will combine two amateurs with each pro. That scoring will be based on the professional combining his score with the scramble result of his two amateur partners.

The professionals will play Saturday and Sunday.

Host Professional Bill Downs said the scramble will be relegated to the first 100 amateurs and 50 pros to sign up for the tournament.

The amateur flights will be 0-10 in championship, 11-15 in first flight; 16-22 in second flight, and 23-36 in the third flight.

The playoffs will run from $300 for first to $125 for sixth for both net and gross in each flight. The tournament committee said that if there are disproportionate numbers in the various flights, the playoffs would be adjusted on a percentage bases to compensate the larger flights. However, the $10,000 total payoff will remain the same.

The professionals will play for a top prize of $2,500 with $2,000 for second and graduating down to $100 for 12th place.

The social events will include a Hawaiian luau in the Gala Room at Cactus Pete's Thursday night. Cocktails, snacks and dancing will be available to the field at 6 p.m. Friday at the Horseshoe club.

High praise for Dorsett

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — It was big talk, even for Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson.

"He's the best-running-back I've ever seen," said the Dallas linebacker, who plays with Tony Dorsett, last week after weighing St. Louis rookie Otis Anderson run around and through the Cowboys for 183 yards in the Cardinals' bitter 22-21 loss. "He's as strong as O.J. Simpson."

Sophs play tonight

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls sophomores will open their 1979 football season by hosting their Boise counterpart at 7:30 p.m. today at Bruhn Stadium.

Coach John Astorquia describes the sophomore team as the best he's had in three years at the sophomore helm.

luck. Trump finesses wrong, both diamonds in back of dummy, etc., etc. All this had to be sweet music to the ears of East and West because the contract was in the bag all the time.

There was no law recoubling South to take the trump finesses right away. Instead, we should have led a heart to his ace and a second heart back toward dummy's queen. Since West held the king, that play would have set up dummy's queen for a club discard. South would still lose the trump finesses, but he would not have to lose a club and his contract.
