

Reclamation law revision passes

WASHINGTON — The Senate Friday rewrote federal reclamation law in such a way as to leave most of the huge agribusiness empires in the West intact.

The Senate's revision of the 1902 Reclamation Act, fell far short of Carter administration proposals and now faces tough odds in the House.

Prompted by a phalanx of lobbyists representing large irrigators, the revision will exempt at least 2.2 million acres of the world's lushest crop land from acreage limitations. Some of the biggest winners would not be the "family farmer," whose name was invoked repeatedly during two days of debate, but major corporations with access to water provided through federal tax subsidy.

After the 47 to 23 vote for final passage, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, called the vote a victory for the West.

Before the 1,280-acre limitation was approved, two attempts to reduce the limitation were defeated. One would have set an acreage limit of 60 acres, and the other 320 acres.

During the emotional debate, one senator after another hailed the contributions of the "family farmer" on irrigated land, but the bill that finally emerged may affect him little.

In the 17 Western states where Bureau of Reclamation dams provide low-cost irrigation water for 11 million acres of land, about 96 percent of the farmers are in compliance with the 160-acre limitation set by the 1902 law to promote small farms.

But because the 160-acre limit was only irregularly enforced, farms of immense size were created, and the subsidies have gone to landholders that include railroads, oil companies, canning companies and multinational corporations.

The reclamation program through 1976 had provided some $5 billion in tax subsidies — water cheaper than its delivery cost — to irrigators.

Pressure by small-farmer groups to enforce the 1902 law by requiring big operators to dispose of excess holdings led to the Senate rewrite of the act. Under current law more than 1 million acres qualify as "excess."

The rewrite would pare the excess figure to about 300,000.

The amount of land involved, the scrambling for the federal water subsidies and the power they imply sent Senate debaters into rhetorical acrobatics.

Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, likened some of the small-farmer groups to Marxists. Sen. David L. Boren, D-Okla., invoked the sanctity of private property. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said he was "sick and tired" about all the pabulum about subsidies. Church, the floor manager, said the program has been "an investment in America" that needed only some fine tuning to fit the times.

The main efforts to alter the bill involved California projects — Imperial Valley and a group of districts in the Central Valley whose water comes through Army Corps of Engineers storage dams.

The bill exempted the Imperial growers from the acreage limitations on the grounds that they were exempted from the law in the 1930s by the Department of the Interior, notwithstanding later federal court rulings against them.

California Sen. Alan Cranston also won his fight to keep Kings and Kern River irrigators exempt from the acreage limitations of the bill. Nelson wanted the bill to apply even though their water is from the Corps and not the Bureau of Reclamation.

Under Cranston's approach, the Interior Department would study the cost of the subsidy and then the operators would have the option of paying or withdrawing from the irrigation districts, leaving them free of the limitations.

But another major district, Westlands, near Fresno, would mount a massive lobbying effort to weaken the legislation, did not fare as well.

The bill, with its 1,280-acre limitation, its ban on the leasing of additional acres and its prohibition of large corporate participation in the water subsidy program, would require the sale of thousands of acres of excess lands in the district.

With its 800,000 acres, Westlands is the largest irrigation district in the country. Its biggest landowners include the Southern Pacific Railroad (105,000 acres) and Standard Oil of California (11,530).

A series of efforts by Cranston, Robert Morgan, D-N.C., and Bob Dole, R-Kan., would have provided them relief from the limitations through complex financing arrangements, but they were defeated.

Patterns in light and dark

Billions of dollars in steel structures are being destroyed. A search for chickens that may be laying poison eggs spread through eight western and midwestern states Friday.

But health officials said chances of anyone becoming ill from an omelet laced with the chemical compound PCB were pretty slim.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration attempted to track down distributors in Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota.

FDA Rocky Mountain Regional Director Leroy Gomez in Denver said investigators were checking to see how the PCB got into animal meal that contaminated and forced the destruction of 400,000 chickens at the Blinwood Egg Co. in Franklin, Idaho, and Oakdale Farms in Riverton, Utah.

Bridge's substructure were blasted clean with an abrasive, then repainted in an off-white shade. The project required several weeks to complete, during which time traffic was restricted to one lane during working hours.

A search for chickens that may be laying poison eggs spread through eight western and midwestern states Friday.

But health officials said chances of anyone becoming ill from an omelet laced with the chemical compound PCB were pretty slim.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration attempted to track down distributors in Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota.

FDA Rocky Mountain Regional Director Leroy Gomez in Denver said investigators were checking to see how the PCB got into animal meal that contaminated and forced the destruction of 400,000 chickens at the Blinwood Egg Co. in Franklin, Idaho, and Oakdale Farms in Riverton, Utah.

Hundreds of thousands of eggs were being destroyed.

Health officials said as many as 18 million eggs were consumed by people in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming before the poison was found in mid-August.

The contamination was discovered when "spent hens" from poultry farms in Montana and Idaho were processed at a Butterfield Foods Plant in Butterfield, Minn., and a Swift and Co. plant in Clinton, Iowa.

The Butterfield chickens had been destined to become Campbell's Soup and Swift was making pot pies from the birds. But in neither case was the contaminated meat sold for public consumption.

"It never made it out of the plants," Gomez said. "In both cases the quality control at the plant caught the contamination.

Meal which poisoned the Idaho chickens was traced to the Pierce plant, but Gomez said investigators didn't know if Pierce was responsible. FDA Investigator Charles Breen in Billings, Mont., was inspecting trucks used to ship animal meal to Pierce customers.

Investigators also checked a malfunction in the heating system in the plant that occurred in June, according to FDA investigator Edman Sturges, in Salt Lake City. But no connection could be found.

Polychlorinated biphenyl, or PCB, is a man-made oil which was used for many years as a high temperature lubricant in motors and transformers. But due to its toxic qualities, manufacture of PCB was banned by the Environmental Protection Agency in 1976.

PCB is common in the environment because it was used as a lubricant for so many years, Gomez said. "Everybody already has a certain amount of PCB in their bodies."

BLM clears sludge disposal near Berger

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

TWIN FALLS — Bureau of Land Management officials have approved use of the Berger Grazing Area for the depositing of Twin Falls city sewage treatment plant sludge.

The area may never be used as a sludge dumping site, however, because the city is now disposing of its sludge on land closer to the sewage treatment plant, a city official said Friday.

At the same time the BLM granted the city use of the Berger site, it denied the city's application to use other BLM lands for the same purpose, specifically lands north of the Snake River in Jerome County and south of Twin Falls in the Hub Butte area.

Approval of the Berger site is contingent upon the city's meeting nine specific requirements and providing there are no major protests prior to Sept. 24.

One of the stipulations is that all sludge taken to the site be worked into the ground with subsurface injection equipment.

Assistant City Manager Tom Courtney said Friday this would be no problem as the city's contractor now has such equipment and is currently using it for all sludge applications.

However, selection of the Berger site may create problems for the city for other reasons.

"We would be hauling the sludge between 20 and 30 miles every day and this represents a pretty high cost," Courtney said. "We would like to stay as close to the plant as possible to hold down expenses."

At present the sludge is being used on farms nearer the city than the Berger site and is being injected into the ground.

"We are getting enough requests now to take all of our sludge supply. The farmers have found out this is good fertilizer. It's free, and when we apply it with the injection equipment, they also get their fields disked. If we continue as they are now, we should be able to dispose of all of the sludge and provide a beneficial service to the farmers," Courtney added.

He said the city has not received a single complaint about odor or health hazards since the injection equipment went into full use.

But sludge disposal during winter months presents a problem that has not been solved, Courtney said.

"We are working on that, but we haven't come up with the answer. If we have a fairly open winter, we can probably continue the injection on farm land at least most of the winter, but if we have a long period of frozen ground, we will have to locate some ponds somewhere," he said.

Courtney said the ponds, formerly used by the city are out of the question now because of the court order prohibiting deposit of sludge within three and one-half miles of the city-county airport.

Larry Fairbanks is the city's sludge contractor. He hauls and applies the sludge with the large injection machine.

In denying use of the closer BLM land north of the Snake River, BLM officials said the ground in that area is rocky with shallow soil that would prohibit use of injection machines.

The dumping of sludge there would result in possible contamination of the ground water aquifer and create an offensive odor for residents living near the application area. It could result in possible risk of human and animal health, the BLM report said.

The BLM also said this area is popular for recreation and the sludge dumping would not be compatible.

Further, the BLM said, many public and local governmental units' protest intentions by sending a Russian combat brigade on maneuvers in Cuba last month.

Denial of the application for Hub Butte was based on a conflict with grazing use in that area. A rest-rotation program on Hub Butte grazing lands will continue with frequent sludge dumpings, and residential property is too close to assure against offensive odors, the BLM ruled. Numerous protests were also voiced by residents in the general area of Hub Butte.

Approval of the Berger site is a temporary one, covering only six months, after which it will again be reviewed. If the site is used, the city will be required to demonstrate to the BLM that the injection can be accomplished without any damage to the ground, which, according to that area BLM studies, indicate the site could be used in connection with the present rest-rotation program there, having adequate lime between grazing and sludge applications.

Further, the BLM ruling indicates there would be no danger to livestock grazing the area because of that time lapse, and the injection into the ground would eliminate odor problems.

BLM would require the city to carry $800,000 in liability insurance to cover any outbreak of cattle measles that could be traced to the sludge site.

Further the city would have to maintain all roads to the site and would be responsible for signs at the area advising the public of the potential health hazard. The city would be required to daily patrol the fences and gates that border the area and locate and repair any breaks to keep livestock from the dumping site. Other requirements stipulated by the federal agency include meeting all state health requirements and installing a sludge monitoring program.

The agency said the Berger area could be used only during dry and unfrozen ground conditions.

Persons wishing to protest the decision should contact the Turley BLM district manager by Sept. 24. If no protests are received by then the approval of the Berger site becomes final.

GM, union draft pact, avert strike

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp. averted a midnight strike deadline Friday and reached a tentative agreement that is expected to serve as a model contract for 750,000 auto workers.

Agreement came at 7:30 p.m. MDT, 2 1/2 hours short of the deadline. It followed a marathon 27-hour bargaining session during which GM revised its previous offers on wages, pensions and working hours.

The settlement averted a strike that economists said could have pushed an already sluggish national economy into a full recession.

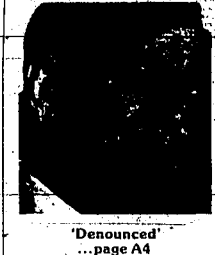

Both sides declined to discuss whether the agreement was within any government wage guidelines.

It was the first time in 15 years giant union has agreed to an agreement without staging a nationwide strike against a target firm.

The auto talks began July 16, but focused exclusively on GM after Aug. 30.

Although the tentative agreement technically affects only GM's 430,000 workers, it will be used as a pattern in negotiations with Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Soviet brigade called test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla., said Friday the Soviets deliberately set up a test of U.S. intelligence by sending a Russian combat brigade on maneuvers in Cuba last month.

Stone, whose persistent questioning led to stepped-up U.S. intelligence surveillance in Cuba, commented as Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin held their third negotiating session on the troop issue. They are to meet again Sunday or Monday, Vance met reporters but gave no indication of progress.

Stone told UPI. "The Soviet brigade conducted maneuvers in August and they were photographed by U.S. intelligence.

The fact that they openly conducted maneuvers, after the publicity flap in July, means that it could only be a test of the administration's resolve."

Stone referred to reports he made public that the Soviets had combat troops, as well as training officers, in Cuba. On July 27, Vance wrote him saying there had been no increase in Soviet military forces in Cuba.

"That U.S. intelligence estimate was reversed a few weeks later by the photographs of a Soviet brigade of 2,900 to 3,000 men in apparent combat maneuvers."

Rescue of genius, 16, mysterious as his disappearance

DESOTO, Texas (UPI) — A 16-year-old genius, missing from the Michigan State campus almost a month in a bizarre case involving the fantasy world, was reunited with his family Friday, but his rescue remained as mysterious as his disappearance.

Private detective William Dear Friday said James Dallas Egbert III was joined by his family about 3 a.m. Friday.

Dear, however, would give only cursory insight into the baffling disappearance that involved tales of an arcane fantasy game, the Lansing, Mich., homosexual community and possible kidnapping.

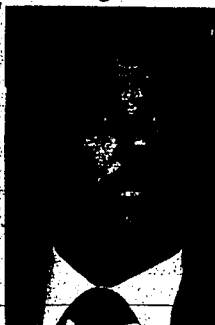

Dear said he spoke with Egbert Thursday and flew him to Dallas from an undisclosed location where he had been kept in a "dirty old room." Dear would not say where the boy was found — only that it was not in Texas.

Egbert's disappearance originally was thought to be connected with "Dungeons and Dragons," a complicated fantasy game based on the writings of J.R.R. Tolkien and popular among college students.

Dear said when investigators located the teen-ager, he told them only, "The (J.R.R.) Tolkien group is a far out group." Dear, however, said the game was not involved in the disappearance.

WILLIAM DEAR

Dear said Egbert phoned him three times within a 30-minute period earlier this week and that the student was craving intermittently.

He said that during the calls he heard a man's voice with a "Yankee accent" saying "Cool if you, don't lose your cool," but said a $5,000 reward he offered for information about Egbert was never claimed and no ransom was involved in his return.

Dear said the boy was healthy except for cuts on his elbow and chin but was being kept under medical observation somewhere near Dallas for a few days.

"The family will not be talking about it," Dear said from his office in Desoto, a suburb of Dallas. "And as far as I'm concerned the case is over."

Egbert's grandmother, Sylvia Moore, said the boy probably would remain under doctor's observation for two or three days in the Dallas area.

Dear would not say if Egbert, described by his parents as susceptible to unusual people and activities, had been held against his will. No ransom was demanded and no charges have been filed, but the detective said he spent three days "determining" about the boy's return.

"He was not in as bad a shape as I had anticipated," Dear said. "They just had him in a dirty old room. He didn't talk too much on the flight to Dallas and I think he felt better when I told him that unless he wanted to discuss it, he didn't have to. He chose not to."

"I don't know when, if ever, the veil of secrecy will be lifted from this case. Perhaps for the good of the boy it shouldn't ever be. The boy has undergone a tremendous ordeal. He's only 16 and we hope this ends quickly so he can regain a normal life."

Authorities thought a bulletin board with an odd arrangement of thumb tacks found in Egbert's dormitory room was a "Dungeons and Dragons" map.

During his weeks on the case in Michigan, Dear also questioned members of the Lansing gay community where it was learned Egbert was a member of a homosexual group.

Dear returned to Texas and thought

Egbert was dead until he was contacted by people claiming to know of the boy's whereabouts.

"In this particular case we had a lot of strange people contact us," he said. "We didn't know for sure if these people were real. They seemed to act like they knew what they were talking about."

"I had been dickering with the people who said they would release him under the right conditions," he said. "First they said Monday and that failed, then Tuesday and that failed, and then Wednesday. Finally yesterday afternoon we got a call from the boy."

Probe of Presley's doctor ordered

...maintains stand

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Tennessee authorities Friday ordered a criminal investigation of Elvis Presley's personal physician amid reports the legendary entertainer died a drug-induced death.

District Attorney Hugh Stanton said the investigation grew from a complaint from state health officials that Dr. George Nichopoulos may have illegally prescribed thousands of stimulants, depressants, and painkillers for the late rock 'n' roll star.

Nichopoulos was placed under police guard because of threats against his life.

Meanwhile, the medical examiner who conducted an autopsy after Presley died on Aug. 16, 1977, at the age of 42, said he was not involved in a "cover up" of the circumstances following the death of the legendary entertainer.

"I am not involved and never have been involved in a cover up," said Shelby County Medical Examiner Jerry Francisco, who stood by his findings that Presley died of a heart attack, not drug abuse.

Francisco's denial came after Stanton revealed he had launched an investigation to determine whether Nichopoulos broke state law by issuing thousands of prescriptions to Presley and others.

Police Director E. Winslow Chapman immediately placed the white-haired physician under 24-hour police protection because "he has had several serious threats."

Stanton said the investigation was prompted by a complaint from state health officials that Nichopoulos prescribed more than 3,000 stimulants, depressants and painkillers for Presley in the seven months preceding the star's death.

Nichopoulos faces a hearing before the State Board of Medical Examiners within the next six weeks to determine whether his medical license should be suspended or revoked for "misdiagnosing" prescribing drugs for Presley and 15 others. If criminal charges are also brought by Stanton for illegal pill-peddling, the doctor could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $20,000.

ABC-TV reported in its news magazine program "20/20" Thursday night that Stanton's investigation might also be aimed at determining whether Nichopoulos is liable for a drug-induced death.

ABC concluded that Presley was a "medical drug addict" who died as a result of persistent abuse of drugs prescribed to him by doctors and dentists.

FBI admits Seberg smear

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI admitted Friday it ran a smear campaign in 1970 against actress Jean Seberg, who committed suicide last week, by telling gossip columnists she was pregnant with the child of a Black Panther Party member.

At the time, Miss Seberg was a supporter of the Black Panthers. Last week after she died of a drug overdose, her second husband, French diplomat Romain Gary, blamed the FBI for her death, saying the baby was stillborn and the shock made her psychotic.

The FBI, in response to Freedom of Information Act requests, made public 1970 memos showing the effort to embarrass Miss Seberg was part of the bureau's counterintelligence program.

In a statement accompanying the documents, FBI Director William Webster stressed that "the days when the FBI used derogatory information to combat advocates of unpopular causes have long since passed. We are out of that business forever."

Miss Seberg, 40, became a star in 1956 when she was cast as Joan of Arc in the movie St. Joan. She moved to France in the late 1950s.

Talmadge 'denounced,' may face charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Ethics Committee Friday "denounced" Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., for financial misconduct and said it will ask the Justice Department to consider criminal charges against him.

The action — harshest against a sitting senator in 12 years — was approved by a unanimous vote of the panel.

The panel said certain charges before the committee, if true, would be crimes, and that it will turn over its files to the Justice Department "for such action as the attorney general of the United States may take to determine if violations of law have occurred."

Talmadge said he was "pleased" the committee did not make a harsher recommendation and considered the decision a "personal victory." He said the reprimand backed his basic contention that while he had been negligent in overseeing financial af-airs, "I have committed no wrongdoing."

The committee recommendation, which now goes to the full Senate, said Talmadge "either knew or should have known" of the bizarre financial activities in his office "and therefore, by the gross neglect of his duty to faithfully and carefully administer the affairs of his office, he is responsible for these acts and omissions."

"Resolved further, it is the judgment of the Senate that the conduct of Senator Talmadge, as aforesaid, is reprehensible and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute and is hereby denounced."

Before voting on its final recommendation, the committee rejected on a 5-1 vote a proposal by Sen. Harrison Schmidt, R-W. Va., that Talmadge be censured — the strongest disciplinary action available short of expulsion from the Senate.

Schmidt said he will file his own

HERMAN TALMADGE ...feels vindicated

report with the Senate explaining why he believes Talmadge should be censured. He said committee lawyers who prepared the case "did in my opinion establish clear and convincing evidence of knowledge on the part of Senator Talmadge and the action of his subordinates."

The ethics panel, although carefully picking its words to convey the finding of guilt, made clear it considered Talmadge's actions a serious breach of committee rules and possibly the law.

The committee dropped one of the five financial misconduct charges against Talmadge — his failure to pay gift taxes on a messy stock transfer to his ex-wife Betty that became entangled in a bitter divorce suit.

The other charges, although somewhat altered, remained intact. And again, through careful wording, the committee linked Talmadge to a secret Washington bank account that was used to launder $34,000 in false

Senate expense checks and unreported campaign contributions.

The committee demanded that Talmadge repay $12,894.57 — the total of two Senate expense vouchers that ended up in the secret account — plus interest on about $43,000 in false expense payments.

Last fall, Talmadge repaid the Senate $27,000 for the false expense filings, but refused to include the two checks that went into the secret account.

The committee concluded Talmadge was guilty as charged of failing to sign and properly supervise 15 Senate expense vouchers between 1973 and 1977 that resulted in his receipt of $43,435 for expenses that were not incurred.

Also, the committee said Talmadge violated Senate rules by failing to properly disclose his financial holdings between 1972 and 1977 and violated federal law by filing either inaccurate or tardy candidate receipts and expenditures.

In addition, in the most significant finding, the committee concluded that unreported campaign contributions to Talmadge in excess of $10,000 went into the secret bank account opened in Talmadge's name by his former top aide and now chief accuser, Daniel Minchew.

When pressed on the exact meaning of that, chairman Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., told reporters the finding involved the amount of money that passed through the Riggs National Bank account, but could not be found in Minchew's financial records.

It nearly parallels the amount of money Minchew claimed to have given Talmadge and his late son, Bobby, from the secret bank account.

HAMILTON JORDAN ...another allegation

Party host suspected drug use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI is investigating a second allegation that White House Chief of Staff Hamilton Jordan sniffed cocaine, this time at a 1977 Los Angeles party, sources said Friday.

Leo Wylar, a former Carter campaign worker who hosted the 1977 Beverly Hills party for officials of the administration and the Democratic National Committee, said he did not see anyone using drugs in his home.

But he said he "had a feeling that was going on."

Wylar, now leading a dump-Carter committee, said he was suspicious because of "the way people behaved ... the offering of 'hits' ... slang for a drug dose."

FBI agents were just completing their preliminary inquiry on whether Jordan used the drug at New York's Studio 54 in June last year when the new allegation surfaced, officials said.

Sources familiar with the first inquiry — now three weeks old — said the FBI had not been able to prove the charge that Jordan used cocaine at Studio 54 and has found no witness to back up the charge he sniffed it in Los Angeles.

Some officials said they suspect the new charge was planted by lawyers for Jordan's original accusers — the owners of Studio 54 who are offering drug information in hopes prosecutors will drop some of the tax evasion charges pending against them.

But Mitchell Rogovin, lawyer for Studio 54 co-owner Ian Schrager, said he has not tried to prove Jordan used cocaine anywhere but in New York. Asked about the Los Angeles party, he said, "I don't know anything about it."

Under the new Ethics in Government law, the Justice Department must investigate any serious criminal allegation against high-ranking government officials. The attorney general must appoint a special prosecutor within 90 days of the probe unless the charges warrant no further investigation.

White House press secretary Jody Powell said Jordan stands by his blanket denial that he ever used cocaine.

Another administration official said he fears Jordan will face "allegations in droves" and compared his problem to that of Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., following Chappaquiddick.

Young, Arafat set Beirut meet

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — Andrew Young, outgoing U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, will meet Palestinian Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat in Beirut in November, the Middle East News Agency said Friday.

The agency in a London-dated dispatch quoted well-informed sources in the British capital, with close contacts with PLO officials, for its report.

It said the meeting will take place during a tour that Young will make in the Middle East.

Young resigned last month from his post at the United Nations in a furor touched off by disclosure that he had held an unauthorized meeting with the PLO observer at the U.N.

Papal mass may attract huge throng

CHICAGO (UPI) — Church officials expect about 250,000 people to attend an Oct. 5 mass to be celebrated in Grant Park by Pope John Paul II, a spokesman for the archdiocese of Chicago said Friday.

Peter J. Forte Jr., archdiocesan communications director, said the archdiocese planned to print 600,000 copies of a booklet containing the liturgy of the papal mass.

Forte said the mass will be held in the park as scheduled, despite suggestions the site be changed because of possible safety hazards.

Stress tests on the roof of the Grant Park underground parking garage were to begin as early as Friday night to determine if it can withstand the weight of the huge crowds expected.

If the garage roof is judged unsafe for the large crowds, Forte said, the area will be roped off and people will not be allowed on it.

What's what

Termites more spectacular builders than mankind

The average female bust measurement in West Germany has increased markedly in the last five years, and nobody seems to know why. The West German Federation of Underwear Manufacturers says its research proves there has been a three-fifths-of-an-inch expansion in that time. The typical grownup woman there now tapes 38 inches plus.

The termites nests of Africa stand a thousand times as tall as the termites that build them. So? Compare their height to the height of the world's tallest buildings. The man-made structures are only a little more than 200 times as tall as their builders. Clearly, the termites do a more spectacular job than the men do.

A: No, sir, a bomb, used specifically to blow open a door or gate or whatever.

You know those hotel room water glasses packed in paper bags marked "Sanitized for Your Protection"? They're not. Or at least, 90 percent of them aren't, according to the Environmental Health Administration, which claims they're crawling with bacteria. But you were aware of that, surely. Likewise.

Water is incompressible. Alcohol is incompressible. But if you mix a quart of water with a quart of alcohol, you wind up with slightly less than two quarts of liquid.

Treasury chief says recession half over

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary W. William Miller said Friday the "moderate" recession, already costing some Americans their jobs, is at least half over.

Using Miller's timetable, the economy should begin to turn around early next year. But unemployment, he said, could climb above 7 percent before the recovery takes hold — slightly higher than the administration's official forecast.

At the same time Miller was talking with reporters, the Federal Reserve Board reported that the nation's industrial output fell 1.1 percent during August, with automobile production declining by 15 percent.

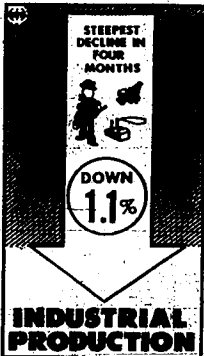

The drop in the output of the nation's mines, factories and utilities was the steepest since the 1.4 percent plunge in April caused mainly by the nationwide Teamsters strike.

Production had risen by a slim 0.1 percent in July and was unchanged during June.

Some economists believe the production slowdown may have some positive aspects, such as inventory reduction.

The Federal Reserve said the output of durable consumer goods fell sharply for the third straight month, mainly because production of autos, small trucks and vans slowed once again.

Automobile assemblies were at 7.5 million-unit annual rate during August, well below the 8.9 million rate during the first half of this year. Production of home goods, such as carpeting, furniture and appliances, also dropped last month.

The industrial production index stood at 150.9 percent of the 1967 average last month. That represented a 1.4 percent drop from the peak March level, but was 2 percent higher than a year earlier. Miller, the administration's chief economic spokesman, said the 60 percent rise in worldwide oil prices this year caused the economy to fall into a recession during the second quarter.

"I believe the recession will be moderate and I believe it will not be terribly long duration," he said. "I believe we're half way through it, at least, now."

Miller projected that unemployment — which rose to 6 percent in August from 5.7 percent in July — would reach at least 6.5 percent by December.

"Next year it would well get up above 7 percent for a while until the economic recovery," he said. "How far above 7 percent, I'm not able to say now."

Reiterating administration opposition to an anti-recession tax cut, Miller said, "I do not see conditions that would justify departing from our commitment for fiscal austerity. At the moment it would be inappropriate to consider a tax cut."

And no matter how bad inflation gets, he said, there is no chance the white house will move for mandatory wage-price controls.

"The president is unalterably opposed to it (because) wage and price controls are inequitable and ineffective," Miller said. "They are just unworkable and it will not happen in this administration."

Cornerstone placed for Moscow embassy

MOSCOW (UPI) — With a few diplomatic jobs, outgoing U.S. Ambassador Malcolm Toon Friday presided at the cornerstone laying of the much-delayed new U.S. Embassy, a $100 million complex specially designed to prevent Soviet bugging and resist microwave bombardment.

The new 10-acre complex — adjacent to the cramped yellow stucco building used since 1952 — should be completed by 1981, at which time the Russians will move into their new diplomatic quarters in Washington, already under construction.

The ceremonies for the most expensive U.S. embassy in the world went no smoother than negotiations on the complex, which dragged on for 17 years and several times came to a dead halt. U.S. officials said the new embassy will be constructed by a Soviet work force, but will be supervised by Americans, who among other things, will check for electronic surveillance devices.

Sensitive sections of the new embassy will be constructed inside a lead-lined structure, officials said, to minimize the chance of bugging.

Special materials are also being brought in that will resist microwave bombardment of the embassy, something the Soviets have been doing since the early 1960s, possibly to try to disrupt radio communications.

Okinawa base use assailed

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union accused the United States Friday of creating a "propaganda hubbalooboo" over Soviet troops in Cuba to disguise its own military aggression and cited the presence of U.S. troops on Okinawa as an example.

In a lengthy commentary, the official Tass news agency charged that Okinawa "serves as a foremost outpost of the Pentagon's aggressive strategy in the Far East."

Tass said 38,000 American troops were stationed at 60 bases on Okinawa, adding that "it is difficult to believe that the purpose of these U.S. war bases is to ensure the security of the United States."

The Soviet charges were apparently an attempt to deflect attention from U.S. demands that the 3,000 Russian combat troops stationed in Cuba be withdrawn.

Using language similar to that of American officials who described the Soviet troops as a threat to U.S. security, Tass said of the Okinawa situation, "These bases are spearheaded against the Soviet Union and other socialist countries."

The United States returned control of Okinawa to Japan in 1972 but kept its military bases there under an agreement with the Japanese.

"The brigades of Soviet troops in Cuba has become a stumbling block to Senate passage of the SALT II treaty, and was being discussed in Washington by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

But Western sources said it was "not likely" that the Soviets were trying to set up a "trade-off" of their troops in Cuba for U.S. troops on Okinawa.

Residential subsidy for gas use delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission said Friday it plans a one-year delay in a system that would require industrial natural gas users to subsidize residential customers who heat with the fuel.

The commission's proposed one-year delay on "three-tier gas price subsidies" will take effect in a month, unless the House or Senate vetoes the idea.

As a stopgap measure to help residential and small business natural gas users cope with higher prices — resulting from federal decontrol — the commission approved a less complicated subsidy plan.

Under the latest system, gas pipeline and distribution firms would pass on natural gas price hikes to their biggest customers, provided the increases do not exceed the price of high sulfur, No. 6 residual oil.

High sulfur oil is the cheapest alternative boiler fuel to natural gas, and the FERC does not want the big users to switch.

The action will moderate price increases for residential and small business customers who cannot switch to oil.

Mondale, Vance head delegation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Walter Mondale and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will head the U.S. delegation to the Oct. 1 ceremonies in Panama when the new Panama Canal treaties go into effect, the State Department said Friday.

State Department spokesman Robert Carver said that even though the full plans have not yet been worked out, Vance was expected to sign the treaties through Monday, Oct. 1, and probably return to Washington the following day.

Vance, who is going to New York next week for the United Nations General Assembly, will return to Washington before his planned trip to Panama to be present during Sept. 30 state visit of Mexican president Jose Lopez Portillo.

Immigration treatment aim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Jimmy Carter Friday urged his administration chiefs to make sure illegal aliens are treated "fairly and humanely" during any contact with government officials.

In a memorandum to Cabinet members and the heads of other executive agencies, Carter reiterated his concern for human rights, but said the policy "can only be effective if we ensure the rights of all persons in the United States, whether or not they are citizens of this country."

switch from natural gas. There are 40 million residential users of natural gas, and about 200,000 large industrial consumers.

The FERC said it had no idea how much money residential users save under its proposed plan.

"We can't tell you what the effect is going to be," said Charles Curtis, the commission chairman. "It's likely to be significant, but the studies on it are very very weak."

Congress directed the commission to impose the three-tier subsidy plan last year when it enacted the Natural Gas Policy Act that will phase out price controls by 1983.

Testimony disputed

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI) — The defense attorney for capital murder defendant Mark Hopkinson Friday disputed the testimony of a witness who maintains he is the person who blew up the home of Evanston, lawyer Vincent Vehar.

Salt Lake City criminal lawyer Robert Silver said there is no way the witness, Michael J. Hickey or Lonetree, Wyo., could have caused the explosion at the time authorities said the blast occurred.

On another matter, Hickey revealed Friday that he has been wearing a bullet-proof vest while testifying. It was his third day on the stand in the trial of Hopkinson, who faces four counts of first-degree murder and two counts of conspiracy to kill.

Van Selver questioned Hickey closely about his activities the night of the August 1977 bombing which killed Vehar, his wife, Beverly, and son, John.

Authorities have set the time of the explosion at 3:30 a.m. Van Selver said Hickey said that Hickey to have done all he claimed and still light the 10-inch fuse in time.

Van Selver further questioned Hickey about his statement that he did not hear the explosion. "I probably wasn't thinking about it and I was in my truck, driving away," he said.

Alcohol warnings proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Calling alcoholism "our $2 billion hangover" and a major factor in early death, government health experts urged Friday that Congress require labels be placed on liquor bottles and in advertisements warning against excessive use.

Excessive drinking "is a major factor in premature illness and death in this country," John Deluca, director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, told a Senate subcommittee on alcoholism and drug abuse.

"We believe it to be the federal government's obligation to inform the public of scientifically established health risks," Deluca said. He supported legislation that would require warning labels be put on alcoholic beverage containers and in advertisements.

Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., called alcoholism "our $2 billion hangover" and a major contributing factor in most leading causes of death and disability, "including some types of cancer, cardiovascular disease, cirrhosis of the liver, diabetes, automobile accidents, suicides and homicides."

Estrogen danger outlined

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Experts brought together by the government concluded Friday, the sex hormone estrogens can help women during menopause and after — but it substantially increases the risk of uterine cancer.

The conference, organized by the National Institutes of Health, said it could not tell the nation's 31 million older women whether the risks of the drug outweigh the benefits.

Instead, hundreds of experts participating in the meeting, said in a "consensus report," each woman has to make that decision for herself, in consultation with a doctor.

Migrant group plans school ruling appeal

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Migrant Council indicated Friday it will appeal a court decision that said the state is not required to coerce local school districts into improving bilingual education.

Council attorney Gabriel Robles said Mexican-American students in Idaho are wasting away in class rooms because they aren't being taught the English language and therefore can't learn other subjects.

"We've pretty much decided to appeal," said Robles.

U.S. District Judge Fred M. Taylor ruled Thursday against the council's effort to force the education board to oversee local school districts and shore up bilingual education.

Taylor said local school districts have control over their own programs and the state board has no authority to interfere.

Robles said today he believed Taylor was swayed by the state's argument, as phrased by Robles: "Judge, don't change this because that's how it's been in the past."

Robles said the state based its arguments on past practice, not law. He said the law does not prevent the state from asserting itself with the local districts.

"My argument was that what was done in the past doesn't mean it's correct," said Robles. "I think the judge was not persuaded by this and he didn't want to be the one to change the practice of the past."

"They (the education board) never told them (the local districts) what to do, therefore they think that's got to be right."

The migrant council's class action suit was filed in April on behalf of all the Mexican-American families in Idaho, said Robles. "Substantial numbers of Mexican-American students attending school in Idaho are having really serious and basic problems in the use of the English language, and the local school districts are not doing anything to assist the students with that problem," he said.

Robles said the students are trapped in the schools without the benefit of learning.

The suit asked the education board to "require each school district to devise and cause to be implemented a uniform, comprehensive and appropriate" bilingual education program in the 30 or 40 Idaho districts where Mexican-Americans attend school.

Robles said he would prepare the council's appeal to the 9th U.S. District Court of Appeals in San Francisco as soon as he receives a copy of Taylor's ruling.

State not liable in mine deaths

BOISE (UPI) — The State of Idaho is not liable in the deaths of 91 miners killed in the May 1972 Sunshine Mine disaster near Kellogg, the Idaho Supreme Court said Thursday in upholding a summary judgment in favor of the state.

But the court reversed a First District Court summary judgment in favor of the United Steelworkers of America.

Survivors of the deceased miners, who were killed when fire broke out May 2, 1972, in the Sunshine Mine, brought actions against the state and the union for wrongful death. The actions were consolidated for appeal.

The survivors charged the union with misrepresenting its safety concerns and expertise and failure to develop an adequate safety program and the state with negligence in inspecting the mine and securing safe working conditions for miners.

In a majority opinion written by Justice Allan Shepard, the court said under provisions of the Idaho Tort Claims Act, the state was not liable for the "discretionary acts" of its officials.

Quarter for phone call irks Evans

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's governor is not so sure he wants to cough up a quarter for a phone call.

The state Public Utilities Commission drew fire from Gov. John V. Evans Friday after the commission approved a telephone company request to boost the price of a call from 10 to 25 cents.

A PUC spokesman said it appeared the new 25-cent rate is the highest in the United States.

The governor questioned Thursday's PUC order giving Mountain Bell

Telephone Co. the pay-phone increase, when the company had asked permission to raise the fee to "just" 20 cents from the present 10-cent rate.

"It's a little irregular," Evans said.

"I can carry two dimes in my pocket just as well as a quarter. I would have liked to see the commission move in the direction of holding down prices as much as possible."

"Maybe they (the commissioners) are right. I'll decide after I meet with them."

Commission President Conley Ward

Jr. dissented in the decision, saying the 20-cent rate would be enough to cover Mountain Bell's costs in establishing dial-tone first- and emergency number service.

"I think it was a good idea to raise the rate to 25 cents," said Haco Carlson, Mountain Bell public relations manager in Boise.

"Maybe in their (the commission's) judgement, they feel it is generally more convenient for a person to have one quarter rather than two dimes," Carlson said.

Evans blasts FDA for delay on eggs

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. John V. Evans celebrated the U.S. Food and Drug Administration Friday for not telling the public immediately last month that millions of PCB-contaminated eggs were on the market.

Evans, fresh from a 10-day trade trip to two Asian nations, said he was "most upset" about a communication breakdown between the FDA and the Idaho Health and Welfare Department.

The governor dismissed a suggestion that the state agency was responsible for not announcing the eggs contained poisonous PCB.

"The eggs should have been pulled off the shelves immediately," said Evans. "The communication breakdown was inexcusable."

"This is an example of the federally bureaucracy setting itself aside. The state Health and Welfare Department should have been notified at once."

High levels of PCB were detected by the FDA Aug. 15, but the agency said test results were not confirmed until Sept. 3, when sale of the tainted eggs was banned.

HEAV officials said they did not learn of the problem until Sept. 3. News of the contamination was not made public until Tuesday.

"We must take steps to make sure that this (communication) is improved," said Evans at a news conference.

The governor also said he brought good news for Idaho from Taiwan and the Philippines, where he went with representatives of other states to drum up trade for the U.S.

Evans said Taiwan announced it would embark on another grain pro-urement mission to the U.S. this fall, planning to spend $500 million — as much as $40 million in the Gem State.

And the Filipino government is thinking of buying substantial phosphate shipments from Idaho, he said, noting that Evans said Idaho has a good chance of luring the Philippines' phosphate trade away from Florida.

Both Taiwan and the Philippines want to increase purchases of Northwest wood products, Evans added.

Evans in addition endorsed a proposed amendment to the state constitution that would remove language that is discriminatory to Mormons. The amendment was proposed earlier this week by Sen. Edith Miller Klein-R-Bolse, and endorsed by the Idaho Human Rights Commission.

Fiscal post given to prison inmate

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Former deputy director of the Nevada Department of Taxation Robert Lien, currently serving a prison term for embezzlement, has been hired by the Metropolitan Police Department as a fiscal analyst.

Lien, who pleaded no contest in 1978 to charges involving the embezzlement of some $19,000 from St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Carson City, is to be transferred to the Southern Nevada Correctional Center in Jean to begin work for Metro Oct. 1 through a work-release program. Lien is scheduled to be released from prison Nov. 28.

Lien, a former "man of the year" and mayoral candidate in Carson City, is to receive about $24,000 in his new post.

Clark County Sheriff John McCarthy said Lien had high recommendations and had made full restitution of the church funds.

Oil stocks increase

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Chevron U.S.A. says its storage of distillate products, including home heating fuel, is filled to capacity in preparation for the winter demand.

The oil company reported Wednesday that it has 9 million barrels in storage and is presently on a 90 percent allocation factor which should continue for the remainder of the year.

Although not a major supplier of heating oil, Standard has been in the business for several years, supplying about 60,000 barrels a day out of its total product sales of 1.1 million barrels.

Jet fighter crashes

NELLIS AIR FORCE BASE, Nev. (UPI) — An F-15 fighter jet crashed early Friday about 25 miles northwest of here in Southern Nevada.

A spokesman for the Air Force said the whereabouts or the condition of the pilot was unknown. A military helicopter began searching the area at dawn.

The downed aircraft was attached to the 43rd Fighter Weapons Squadron. The crash occurred shortly after midnight.

Grace man killed in truck collision

SODA SPRINGS (UPI) — The broadside crash of a semi truck into a station wagon Friday morning killed a 24-year-old Grace man, Caribou, County authorities said.

Sheriff's deputies said a station wagon driven by the victim, Kevin Lee Wakley, was westbound on U.S. Highway 30 at about 6 a.m. when he attempted a left-turn onto State Highway 24.

A truck driven by William Richard, 56, of American Falls, smacked into Wakley's car, throwing it several yards, deputies said. Richard was not injured.

Wakley was pronounced dead at the scene.

Deputies said it took more than an hour to remove the body from the demolished station wagon.

Yule commercialism organization target

SPOKANE (UPI) — The Spokane Peace and Justice Center has scheduled a public meeting Sept. 21 aimed at encouraging people to take commercialism out of Christmas.

A national brochure titled "Alternative Christmas '79" will be the center of discussion.

It encourages families to seek and find the real meanings of Christmas and try to avoid the crass commercialism that appears to be growing rather than diminishing in society.

Singleton paces Orioles

By United Press International
 Morning Singleton would love to open his newspaper and see an asterisk next to Baltimore in the AL East standings. That asterisk, of course, would represent a clinched division title.

Singleton drove in three runs with a homer and single Friday night to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

With the Orioles trailing 2-1 in the third inning, Singleton hit his 34th home run of the year to tie the score.

Baltimore added three runs in the fifth when Rick Dempsey reached first on a fielder's choice, Bumbury singled and Kiko Garcia singled to load the bases. Singleton then drove a single to left, driving home Dempsey and Bumbury. Eddie Murray doubled Garcia home.

Steve Stone, 11-7, went 7 1/3 innings to pick up the win and Don Stanhouse finished up for his 19th save. Bob Stanley, 15-10, took the loss.

Boston had taken a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Fred Lynn's left groundout and Carl Yastrzemski's sacrifice fly. The Orioles made it 2-1 in the bottom of the inning when Al Bumbrey scored on Pat Kelly's sacrifice fly.

In other games, Toronto edged Cleveland 4-3, Oakland defeated Kansas City 5-3, Seattle topped Kansas City 7-5, Texas downed Minnesota 6-3, Baltimore added three runs to 7 and Detroit at New York was rained out.

Rick Carey hit a two-run triple and Dave Blue scratched in hits to pace the Blue Jays. Blue, 7-4, struck out three and walked three in registering his sixth complete game of the year.

Wynne Graceland's grand-slam homer to cap a six-run eighth inning and rookie Brian Kingman tossed an eight-hitter to propit the A's.

Leon Roberts knocked in five runs with a grand slam and a double and Willie Horton knocked in two runs with a pair of singles to give the Seattle Mariners a 7-5 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Horton singled in his first run and Roberts doubled home another to give the Mariners a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Roberts then put the game away in the third with his third career grand slam and the fifth by a Mariner this season.

Julio Cruz led off the third with a double off loser Larry Rura, 11-11, and Ruppert Jones walked. Tom Frazier sacrificed the runners and Horton drew an intentional walk before Roberts socked his 15th homer.

The Mariners capped the scoring in the seventh when Jones singled, stole second and third and came home on Horton's second single to make it 7-2.

Mickey Rivers collected five hits, including two solo homers to power the Rangers. Ferguson Jenkins, 14-13, threw a personal four-game losing streak.

Red Carey's sacrifice fly scored Bobby Grich with the winning run in the ninth inning to give the California Angels a 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

The triumph, coupled with Seattle's 7-5 win over Kansas City, increased California's lead in the American League West to four games over the Royals.

Grich led off the ninth with a single, was sacrificed to second by Rick Miller, advanced to third on a wild pitch by Bill Carter before Carey's long fly to center field.

Broncos looking for first victory

BOISE (UPI)—Boise State University will be looking for its first win of the young football season tonight against a team BSU Coach Jim Criner says should provide a "very exciting offense."

Boise State, which came out on the short end of a 9-7 battle with Long Beach State at home last weekend, travels to California to tangle with Cal State Fullerton, loser of its football opener to Nevada Las Vegas, 35-14.

Criner said Fullerton will show the Broncos a strong offense. "We expect Fullerton to have a very exciting offense again this year," he said. "Their quarterbacks and running backs have great ability, and they keep you off balance with the way they mix it up on offense."

Fullerton has two fine quarterbacks in sophomore Erick Bullock and redshirt freshman Kim Green. Both threw the ball well last Saturday against Nevada-Las Vegas. Bullock connected on 4 of 4 passes for 23 yards, while Green was 12 of 16 for 122 yards and a touchdown. In total, they combined for an 80 percent completion rate with no interceptions.

Andy Gray was the leading Fullerton rusher, carrying the ball 14 times for 109 yards. He also caught 10 passes for 100 yards.

Criner said he was pleased with the defensive play the Broncos displayed in their loss to Long Beach State, which score all its points on field goals.

"The play by our linebackers was perhaps most pleasing of all," Criner said. "On the defensive line, Willie Tufono, Fill Isala, Doug Scott and Steve Sosnowski all played exceptionally well. The secondary was adequate, but we do have some work to do."

Cornerback Don Walkbridge could be lost for the season, having suffered a knee injury in the opening game. Other than that, Criner said the team is healthy.

"Overall, I thought our team played with enthusiasm against a very physical Long Beach State team. Long Beach will give their toughest battle this season all they can handle. We made mistakes but they were the kind that can be corrected. We'll be working on that and consistency. One game doesn't make a season. With better execution we might have won the game."

Northern Arizona next for Vandals

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—A Vandals loss to the Lumberjacks from Northern Arizona today will mean bad news for the rest of the season, University of Idaho football coach Jerry Davitch said.

The Vandals meet the Lumberjacks in Flagstaff for one of the most important Big Sky Conference games in 1979 season, with Arizona defending its right to the conference title after posting an 8-2 overall mark and 6-0 record in the conference last year.

Davitch said, if Idaho hopes to win the game and have success the remainder of the season, the team must not make costly mistakes.

"More than anything else, we have to be in a situation where we don't create opportunities for other people—both offensively—and defensively," Davitch said. "For instance, we gave Fresno three opportunities—two fumbles and a pass interception. We gave them at least as many defensively on third-and long situations and let them off the hook."

Davitch was referring to last week's game against Fresno State that saw the Vandals defeat 20-10, giving the team a 9-1 season record. The Lumberjacks pulled out a 22-21 victory over Portland State last week when they successfully converted on a two-point conversion play with no time remaining on the clock.

"I don't think we'll have any problem getting our kids up emotionally for the game with Northern Arizona for three reasons," Davitch said. "It's early in the season. It's a conference game. And, third, it was Northern Arizona that, a year ago, perhaps turned our season around."

Lumberjacks coach Duane Painter, a former assistant coach at U.I., replaced Arizona's Alvin Salem and the end of last season. The team returns 12 lettermen this season, including seven offensive starters and six on defense.

Bengals open four-game home stand

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI)—The Idaho State Bengals kick off the first of a 4-game stretch on home territory today with a battle against Northern Colorado.

Coach Bud Hake said he's hoping for a win this week after the Bengals were tromped by Nevada-Reno 24-6 last week.

"Personnel-wise Reno is as good as anybody we'll face this year," Hake said. "They're smart, shrewd, expected, physical as well as talented. But Northern Colorado lost 6-0 at Omaha. They are run-oriented with a southpaw quarterback and are more run-oriented than last year with the loss of their outstanding quarterback, Jeff Knapp."

The Bengals continue to field a young team, having traveled to Reno with only 19 lettermen, six on offense and 13 on defense. Tailback Devon Hightsham received a knee injury in that game and will be redshirted after he went through surgery Sunday.

Last year the Bengals picked up one of its two 1977 wins against Northern Colorado 18-14 and 9-7 despite having only 83 yards total offense, an N.C.A.A. Division I-A record for lowest yardage by a winning team.

Steve Budke tossed a 3-yard scoring pass to Greg Smith in that game last season with less than two minutes to play. Smith was at it again last week when he caught three passes for 27 yards. He now has caught passes in 17 consecutive games dating back to Oct. 1977 against the University of Idaho.

Fullback Bruce Bachmeyer, playing his first football game in two years last week, was picked as the Bengals' best offensive back or receiver after scoring I.S.U.'s only touchdown and rating high in his blocking assignments in the game against Reno.

Steelhead ban ahead

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. John V. Evans Friday said Oregon and Washington must order a stop to steelhead salmon fishing in the Columbia River system or the upstream spawning run to Idaho will be critically low.

Evans asked that steelhead fishing be ceased as soon as possible to prevent Oregon and Washington from violating a provision of the Columbia River Compact.

CSI baseball opens

TWIN FALLS—The College of Southern Idaho baseball team will open its fall schedule with a noon doubleheader against Boise State University today at the CSI field.

Coach Jim Walker said he would suit up 23 of the 45 players who have reported to the fall practice sessions.

"I'm not expecting us to look that good," he said. "In fact, I kind of hope we look bad, so it will give the players some incentive to improve."

Walker has been pleased with the mental attitude of the team as it works to improve on last year's second place showing at regionals.

"They all have good baseball savvy," he said. "And the contact with the ball has been fine."

Two sophomore pitchers have drawn the praise of the coach including Greg Shroppe of Denver, Colo., and Darryl Banks of Reno, Nev.

Walker said 15 of the 32 players turning out are freshmen. Practice sessions will run until Nov. 1, with six to 10 games tentatively scheduled.

Baseball in Olympics

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's chances for inclusion in the 1984 Olympic Games "have gained momentum and look good," according to Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who met recently to discuss the subject with representatives of 20 countries in Los Angeles.

"The meeting is a key to making it a reality," Kuhn told the annual conference of the Amateur International Baseball Association, the governing body of all world competition in amateur baseball. "It dramatizes the effort that representatives of 20 countries are in favor of such an idea."

Fans hope to stop games

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A citizens group said Friday it will file a lawsuit to block the Baltimore Orioles from holding playoff games in Memorial Stadium because the club has refused to provide adequate seating for handicapped fans.

Phillip Farfel, a spokesman for Disabled in Action, said the "intent of the suit is to seek an injunction against the playoff series unless handicapped persons are accommodated."

Attendance record set

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American League announced Friday that with 58,710 fans attending games Thursday night, the league had set a record in total paid crowds with 20,331,405.

The mark surpasses the 1978 AL mark of 20,529,963, and the AL anticipates a total of more than 21 million to have attended games with 108 playing dates remaining on the schedule.

People in sports Cubs may hire Dark

From the Chicago Sun-Times and United Press International
It almost is a certainty Herman Franks will not return to manage the Cubs in 1980, his work in getting the team back on its feet completed.
It is almost as certain that Alvin Dark, being paid $75,000 not to manage the Padres, will succeed him.
Sparky Anderson, it was learned, had agreed to manage them next season, with an announcement due Aug. 1. But the Tigers came along in June to say, "We'll take you right now," and they did.
"How about that?" said general manager Bob Kennedy of the expected Dark appointment. "It's pure speculation. We don't know what Herman wants to do." And Anderson, he said, "I would have to say so. We didn't have him."
Reached at his home north of San Diego, Dark had "no comment." However, Anderson in Detroit said he had a bet with Tigers general manager Jim Campbell that Dark had the job. On his own supposed deal with the Cubs, he said, "You know I can't comment on anything like that."
A "formal announcement" of Franks' intention is set for the last day of the season, Sept. 30 at Pittsburgh. Kennedy said he would fly there to be in on the ceremony, or whatever retirement is called.
The fact it is being held away from Wrigley Field indicates a quiet changing of the guard is imminent. Franks never has been much on press conferences, or even once-on-one dealings with the press.
Dark, a pale-wisage with Franks and Kennedy, having coached them all together in 1977 before taking over for John McNamara at San Diego. The three have been associated on and off for three decades.
Dark has managed five teams, including the A's twice. When the Padres let him out on March 23, 1978, he became the manager to be fired the earliest in the season the history of the game. He broke the record of Phil Cassetta, who was dropped by the Cubs just before the start of the 1974 season, because of alleged sexual conduct for a sex saint. They didn't, finishing seventh in the eight-team league under Stan Hack.
The rumor of Dark's appointment by the Cubs is being met with disbelief by close followers of baseball who say he doesn't use his coaches, calls all pitches from the dugout and does not relate to his players.
At the end of the '77 season, after he had succeeded McNamara as manager, it was said that at least 10 Padres did not want to play for him in '78. They got their wish before the next season could start.
His time was up with the Padres when a team official walked into a team's training building at the University of Texas at Austin, and saw the coaches sitting around coffee and crackers. He asked them why they weren't on the field where the players were using their air. "Oh, Alvin sent us in. He said he didn't need us," said one.
Boston Red Sox slugger Carl Yastrzemski has been invited to the White House Oct. 8 for a reception with President Carter and Pope John Paul II.
Yastrzemski, who Wednesday chalked up the landmark 3,000th hit in his baseball career, received the invitation Thursday, when it was relayed to him by mayoral candidate Joseph Timilty.
"I had a call at the ball park this morning from Timilty," Yastrzemski said during a Qly Ball reception hosted by one of Timilty's opponents, Mayor Kevin R. White. "I said to call him collect."
"An aide to Timilty later explained the candidate had made the call to invite Yastrzemski to the White House function."
Center Perry Turnbull, the second player chosen in last month's NFL draft, Friday signed a contract with the St. Louis Blues.
Last season, Turnbull scored 75 goals and 81 assists as a left winger for the Portland Winter Hawks of the Western Canada Hockey League.
Olympic champion Edwin Moses joined his 36th consecutive 400 meter hurdle victory Friday, finishing more than one and a half seconds ahead of fellow American James King at an international track and field meet.
Moses, undefeated in this event for two years, ran away from the field to clock 48.2 seconds, the fastest time ever on British soil but well outside his world record of 47.7.
American sprinter Houston McFarlane gained revenge over Brian Wells with victory in the 100 meter sprint in 10.21 seconds at the British Isles. They have now met five times and McFarlane has won three. Wells took the 200 meters after in a wind-assisted 29.20 from James Gilkes of Guyana, who clocked 29.25.
The much-heralded attack on Sebastian Coe's world mile record of 3:49.0 was ruined by the wind. Coe's British rival Steve Davel, who has had the third fastest ever mile, coasted to victory in 3:55.3 for his last straight victory at this distance in three years.
Dave Ramsay of Britain placed second in 3:57.1, one tenth of a second ahead of Ruten Senorens of Denmark.
Gale Goodrich, a 14-year NBA veteran, won't return to the Utah Jazz this year, says the teams' general manager.
Frank Layden said Friday that Goodrich, who averages 16.6 points a game last year as a guard, is a free agent. Goodrich was a UCLA star and started his professional career with Los Angeles going on to play for the Seattle SuperSonics and Houston Rockets.
Layden said he would try to find a spot in another team for Goodrich and the initial talks have been with Los Angeles and San Francisco.
Thursday, the Jazz traded away veteran Spencer Haywood for 23-year-old Laker forward Adrian Dantley. Haywood, 30, averaged 20.3 points last year for the Knicks and the Jazz.
"We're definitely moving for a younger team," said Layden in commenting on the departure of the two veterans.
Former world golf champion Ingemar Stenmark of Sweden, a slalom and giant slalom specialist, took the first full downhill run of his career Friday and pronounced the trial satisfactory.
Stenmark lost his world cup title to Peter Luescher of Switzerland when the speedier Austrian won the slalom and the championship races to give the advantage to skiers who took part in all three events last year.
"I think it went well," a smiling Stenmark said after going down the run three times. "We'll see in the next few days how it goes and then decide whether I compete in the downhill in the World Cup events."

Walton the Clipper

San Diego Clipper center Bill Walton goes through a light workout during the first day of the NBA team's training camp. Walton says the foot injury that prevented him from playing last year with the Portland Trailblazers shouldn't be a problem this year.

Dave Bristol got the chance to manage his fourth minor league club Friday when the San Francisco Giants signed him to a contract running through 1980.
Bristol, who started the year as a coach for the Giants, was named interim manager following the firing of Joe Mabeilli on Sept. 6, but made it clear he wanted a permanent position.
Following his first game at home as manager Tuesday night, when the Giants lost 2-1 to Atlanta, Bristol said Giants owner Ben Lucas and General Manager Spec Richardson had been reluctant in naming him to a permanent post.
"They hemmed and hawed around it, but I can't do things my way, there'll be other jobs around. If they don't want me to manage this team, tell me now so I can go after another job," Bristol recounted.
He got his wish when the club announced his appointment Friday. Terms were not disclosed.

Massachusetts' most favorite son on Capitol Hill Friday was neither Ted Kennedy nor House Speaker Thomas O'Neill, but a modestly built baseball player with a shy smile, 3,000 hits and no big league name.
Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox, who on Wednesday night achieved the rare feat of hitting safely 3,000 times plus accumulating 400 home runs in a player career, was given a luncheon in the Speaker's private suite of offices.

Raymond Clayborn, the New England Patriots' cornerback who was involved in an altercation with a sports writer last Sunday, has been ordered to appear at a hearing in the National Football League office on Tuesday, it was announced Friday.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle called the hearing to determine if any disciplinary action should be taken against Clayborn, who traded punches with Boston Globe sports writer Will McDonough Sunday after the Patriots defeated the New York Jets 55-7. Clayborn also had an incident with another reporter the previous week at a Pittsburgh game.
The fight took place after Clayborn allegedly shoved several reporters who were interviewing wide receiver Harold Jackson, who had been tackled by Clayborn. The league office said no decision will be made on disciplinary action until a review of the hearing. Time of the hearing was not announced.

Five reserves will be in the starting lineup Sunday for the Pittsburgh Steelers when they meet St. Louis in Busch Stadium.
Running back Sidney Thornton, guard Steve Courson and tackle Ted Petersen will be making their third starts of the season. Tackle Gary Dunn will be starting in place of Steve Furness and end Tom Beasley will call the call for L.C. Greenwood. The Steelers game will be the second start for both Dunn and Beasley.
The Steelers will be seeking their 11th consecutive victory, to tie a team record.
The Steelers held a two-hour heavy workout Friday. They will fly to St. Louis Saturday afternoon and then hold a special team practice at Busch.

Former world ski champion Ingemar Stenmark of Sweden, a slalom and giant slalom specialist, took the first full downhill run of his career Friday and pronounced the trial satisfactory.
Stenmark lost his world cup title to Peter Luescher of Switzerland when the speedier Austrian won the slalom and the championship races to give the advantage to skiers who took part in all three events last year.

Stenmark lost his world cup title to Peter Luescher of Switzerland when the speedier Austrian won the slalom and the championship races to give the advantage to skiers who took part in all three events last year.

Pro football picks Jets in favorite's role

BY JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Executive Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Strange things are happening in the National Football League.
The New York Jets, who suffered the worst defeat in their history last Sunday, a 56-3 rout by the New England Patriots, have been listed as six-point favorites this Sunday against the Detroit Lions.
And the Buffalo Bills, who erupted for 51 points in a 51-24 rout of Cincinnati, are 10-point underdogs to the unbeaten San Diego Chargers.
Detroit Coach Monte Clark doesn't care one bit to go against a team that lost by 53 points a week ago, especially when his club is on the road.
"It concerns me a great deal," says Clark. "It's like going into a hornet's nest. I'd much rather they won 56-3. I expect them to come out with fire in their eyes."
Buffalo's young, rebuilding club, stunned Cincinnati last week with 41 points in the second half. But the Bills will be facing a powerful San Diego team which they have not beaten since 1965, going 1-11 in the series.
San Diego ranks second in the league in points scored with 63 and has allowed only 28 points in victories over Seattle and Cleveland.
Other key games Sunday are Chicago at Dallas in a battle of unbeaten division leaders and Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

Here's the way the NFL shapes up this weekend:

Sunday
Dallas 27, Chicago 10 — Cowboys should start putting their game together after struggling to two victories. Warren Fayton isn't enough for Bears' offense.
Pittsburgh 20, St. Louis 14 — Steelers due for a letdown after emotional win over Houston and it could come at St. Louis. But even a defeated Pittsburgh team has enough talent to win.
Denver 14, Atlanta 10 — Broncos got a good break from the schedulers and Falcons got a bad one. Denver has 10 days-rest while Falcons' white Falcons are coming off tough Monday night win over Philadelphia.
San Diego 31, Buffalo 14 — Back to reality for the Jets, who scored 51 points last week. Chargers' offense, led by Dan Fouts and John Jefferson, should keep Buffalo on defense most of the day.
Miami 27, Minnesota 7 — Like Dallas, Miami is about to break these Cleveland Vikings could be the victims. Minnesota fell apart last week after good opener.
Tampa Bay 24, Green Bay 21 — Buccaneers will have to make adjustments with three straight wins but defense must play to its potential.
Seattle 24, Oakland 24 — Frustrated Seahawks should break into win column after losing to a pair of toughies, San Diego and Miami.

Monday
New Orleans 31, Philadelphia 16 — New Orleans, with tough losses in its first two games, should take out frustrations against tight Eagles, coming off Monday-night battle, with Atlanta.
New England 24, Cincinnati 21 — Patriots bound to sag a little after crushing Jets last week. Bengals, totally embarrassed last week, should be fit to win.
New York Jets 27, Detroit 14 — Jets should be in foul mood in front of the home fans after last week's debacle. Injuries have almost totally decimated Lions.
Houston 31, Kansas City 17 — Oilers are always tough at home and want to bounce back from drubbing by Pittsburgh last week. Steve Fuller, Chiefs' rookie QB making his first pro start, may have problems with rugged Houston defense.

Tuesday
Los Angeles 27, San Francisco 17 — Rams have had 10-day rest and young 49ers forced to play third division champion in three weeks.
Cleveland 27, Baltimore 13 — Brian Sipe shouldn't have to resort to any last-minute heroics this time. Colt defense remains shaky.

Washington 27, New York Giants 17 Redskins simply love those Monday night games at home — they're 7-0. Giants don't have the offense to win.

Bruin sophomores dump Capital Eagles

BOISE—A tough defensive effort by the Twin Falls Bruin sophomores produced a 20-0 football victory over Capital Thursday night.

Led by a hefty line, the Bruins managed to stop two potential touchdown drives of the Eagles inside the 10. On one series, the Bruins held at their own three-yard line.

The victory, the second without a loss for the young team, provided the team some incentive heading into a game with rival Minico next Thursday night at 7 in Bruin Stadium.

The sophomore offense, at times consistent and at other times sputtering after long drives, was led by quarterback Todd Wiggington who passed 12 yards to Lance Sellers for one touchdown. Sellers also scored on an exciting 75-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The Bruins' other score came when Doug Bateman intercepted an Eagle pass and ran it back 30 yards just before halftime.

"It was a great defensive effort," said assistant coach Larry Lewis about the Bruins' first win over Capital in at least six years. "The whole team played extremely well."

Lewis also said the offense had improved greatly over the effort against Boise last week.

The victory upset the unbeaten Wolverines record to 3-0 for the season.

A 25-yard touchdown pass from Paul Laggis to Bob Montgomery got the Wood River offense going early in the second quarter. Brian Christensen ran for the two-point conversion.

The same pair hooked up again just before the gun sounded ending the first half for 26 yards. This time, the extra point run failed.

Laggis was seven for 12 through the air which gained the Wolverines 112 yards. They also gained 83 yards on the ground.

Coach John Hopkins singled-out linebacker Mike Seal for an outstanding defensive effort.

"The whole defensive concept looked good," he said.

Wood River will host Nyssea Ore. next Friday.

Pacific-10 games on tonight

By United Press International
Barring a tie, either Arizona or California will be in first place in the Pacific-10 Conference race to the Rose Bowl after tonight.

The two meet in a conference game at Tucson with the Wildcats' 10-point favorite. An Arizona victory would put the Wildcats in excellent position to win the conference in only five more league games to go.

A Cal victory would give the Golden Bears a 2-0 record but with seven league games remaining, Cal is the only Pac-10 team playing nine conference games. Oregon, Oregon State and Washington State play eight each while Arizona State, Stanford, UCLA, Southern California and Washington, like Arizona, play only seven each.

Since Arizona plays neither Washington, Stanford nor UCLA, the Wildcats can be in excellent position to challenge USC, the defending national champion and big favorite to win the Pac-10, by beating the Trojans when they meet in Los Angeles on Nov. 9.

The Cal-Arizona game is a night contest. Earlier in the day, USC meets Oregon State at Corvallis in the only other conference game. The Trojans, who beat Texas Tech last week, are 24-point favorites.

Washington, which opened with an easy victory over Wyoming, plays Utah at Seattle. Stanford hosts Idaho State, Oregon at Michigan State, UCLA hosts Purdue. Arizona State is at Florida State and WSU is at Montana in other games featuring Pac-10 teams.

Washington is favored by 21 points and Stanford by 14. Otherwise, all the other Pac-10 teams are underdogs — Oregon by 13 points, ASU and UCLA by 6. There is no line on the Montana game.

In the PCAA, Utah State is at Montana State, Fresno State is at Nebraska, Fullerton State hosts Boise State and Pacific hosts Cal Poly SLO. Long Beach State is idle.

TANK McNAMARA

HAILEY — Kuno River put two touchdowns in the first half and then held off an inspired Kuna team in the late going to register a 14-7 non-conference victory Friday afternoon.

The victory upset the unbeaten Wolverines record to 3-0 for the season.

Raiders out to get revenge

By United Press International
The Oakland Raiders are on the road with a hurting defensive line for the third consecutive week Sunday when they travel to Seattle, where the Seahawks are favored to gain their first victory of the season.

The Seahawks started the 1979 season as they have for the past four years, dropping their first two games, but last year they battled back to miss the AFC playoffs by just one game. In the process they became the first team to sweep the season series with the Raiders since 1965 with a 2-0-7 record in the Knudsen and a 12-6 win at Oakland making the Raiders are not likely to forget.

"I'm sure they'll be coming to the Kingdom with fire in their eyes after we beat them twice last year," said Seattle's strong safety, Artie Beaumon.

The Seahawks are three-point favorites over Oakland even after losing their home opener 33-16 to San Diego and then dropping a 19-0 decision to Miami. Nevertheless, the Seahawks have gained 459 yards total offense in the Orange Bowl, with All-Pro quarterback Jim Zorn passing for 210 yards and one touchdown.

Oakland, which opened the season with a 23-17 win over Los Angeles, evaded its record last week when it was defeated 26-17 by the Chargers. The Raider offense gained 283 yards in San Diego led by tight end Raymond Chester's seven catches for 91 yards.

Head coach Tom Flores is expected to start Ken Stabler at quarterback Sunday after he was 17-for-34 and gained 183 yards. Guard Miltie Marvin, with a knee injury, is on the injured reserve list and defensive end Jim Matlack is doubtful with a shoulder injury. Wide receiver Morris Bradshaw (hamstring) and cornerback Monte Jackson (knee) are both questionable.

The Seahawks will start without right guard Bob Newlin (thigh) and running back David Sims (neck), as well as without linebacker Keith Butler, who injured his shoulder.

Newlin (thigh) and running back David Sims (neck), as well as without linebacker Keith Butler, who injured his shoulder.

In a battle of undefeated teams, Chicago travels to Dallas, while undefeated Tampa Bay shoots for its third straight victory when it travels to Green Bay. Its other games Sunday, Philadelphia at New Orleans, Detroit at the New York Jets, Baltimore at Cleveland, Denver at Atlanta, New England at Cincinnati, Kansas City at Houston, Miami at Minnesota, Buffalo at San Diego, Pittsburgh at St. Louis and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

In Monday night action, the New York Giants travel to Washington.

When the Bears face the Cowboys it will be the first meeting of the two teams since Dallas defeated Chicago 31-7 in the 1977 playoffs en route to its Super Bowl title.

The Bears have been playing outstanding defense, allowing just 10 points in their victories against Green Bay and Minnesota, while Dallas has been rather lackluster in its two victories over St. Louis and San Francisco.

"We've progressed further at this point in the season than we were at this time last year," said Bears Coach NFL Arlington. "I don't know how good we are but playing a team like Dallas will find out in a hurry."

Dallas has survived solely on the passing of Roger Staubach, who will start again despite a sore elbow. Tom Brock, last year's running star, is recuperating from a knee injury and returning to the lineup last week, just in time to tangle with the Bears' Walter Payton.

Payton, who was the NFL's leading rusher with 1,295 yards last year, has been able to gain only 101 yards in 26 carries in two games against the Cowboys.

Eichelberger grabs two-shot lead

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) — Dave Eichelberger overcame a 5-3 lead to grab a two-shot lead after the second round of a $150,000 PGA tournament at Warwick Hills Country Club.

The 35-year-old Texan, who opened the tournament with a 68, fought off Friday's windy conditions by a 70, good for a 36-hole total of 6-under-par 138.

U.S. out front in Ryder Cup play

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — The United States paced by the strong play of Lanny Wadkins and Larry Nelson, Friday took a 5-2 1/2 lead over the 22-bracketed European team after eight of 25 matches in the International Ryder Cup golf competition at the Greensboro.

Wadkins and Nelson played two matches together and won both of them, defeating Spainiards Severiano Ballesteros and Antonio Garriga, 2 and 1, in the morning's four-ball Eichelberger's 70 earned him the lead over first-round co-leader Cesar Sanudo, who hit a 73. George Burns, who shot a 72 and former Masters champion George Archer, who carded a 72.

Nine other golfers were bunched at 3-under 141 while 21 players stood within five shots of Eichelberger heading into the third round.

Despite morning temperatures in the low 50s and winds gusting up to 20 mph, Warwick Hills again suffered an onslaught of rain.

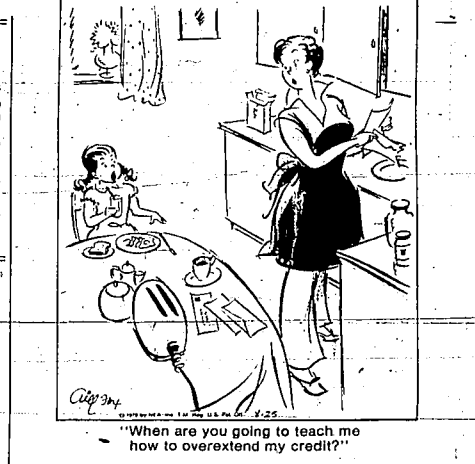

The Americans are 10-3-1 in Ryder play and have not been beaten since the 1967 win at the 1967 Ryder Cup, played in Southampton, England, ended in a tie.

The Europeans are 10-3-1 in Ryder play and have not been beaten since the 1967 win at the 1967 Ryder Cup, played in Southampton, England, ended in a tie.

Kazniarski and Sandra Spuzich, who were 9-under with a 64.

Along at 8-under were Janet Coles and Lauren Howe.

The four's top money winner, Nancy Lopez, and her partner Jim Am Washburn had a 7-under 64, according to Washburn, that put them in "good position because I don't think any team is going to shoot 12 under every day."

Opening lead: ♦ 4

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The bidding in the box is taken directly from the Sommerville book. The two-spade response was reasonably correct 50 years ago. South's three hearts and North's four hearts were also normal. Then came the fireworks!

South decided that he would be sure to make the heart slam provided he could stop a diamond lead. So he bid five diamonds! North just bid five hearts. He had run out of constructive bids when he jumped to two spades.

Confident that he had stopped a diamond lead, South went on to the slam in spite of the slip-off and dutifully opened his fourth-best club whereupon South had no trouble making all 13 tricks.

That diamond bid by South was a bit of deceptive bidding that was popular in the early days of contract and is still in use today although this particular five-diamond call should have acted like a red rag to a bull and produced a diamond lead from West even if he did not hold the ace. We will discuss various fancy attacking bids next week.

With no one vulnerable, your right-hand opponent opens one heart. A California reader asks if we consider bidding two diamonds. Yes, but not seriously. This is the sort of hand with which you don't want to stick your neck in the noose. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
