

Warming wind floods Northwest

By United Press International

A near heat wave brewing in the West unleashed torrential rains, melted snow and sent water cascading down the mountains Friday, triggering floods that swept away houses.

At least one death was reported. Idaho law enforcement officials had not evacuated any homes. Friday evening even though some North Idaho streams had flowed over their banks and others were filled to the brim.

Authorities declared a state of civil emergency in Washington's Snohomish County, where the raging Skykomish River washed two houses downstream from the small community of Index.

Several families were ordered out of their homes in the town of Baring, Wash., eight miles west of Skykomish, but no injuries were reported.

The State Patrol closed the north-bound Interstate 5 bridge across the Toulde River temporarily because of flooding and high water.

Water slashes river sections of the Snoqualmie Pass Highway, Washington state's main east-west thoroughfare, but the road remained open.

National Weather Service forecasters said storms will continue to move across Idaho throughout the extended Christmas holiday weekend.

By Friday afternoon, the North Fork of the Coeur d'Alene River at Enaville had swelled to flood stage at nearly 75 feet. The National Weather Service said the river was expected to continue to rise to nearly 75 feet by early Saturday.

The river at Cataldo, with a flood stage of 43 feet, was predicted to rise to 47 feet by Saturday morning.

The St. Joes River near St. Maries also was nearing flood stage at 32 feet. Forecasters expected the river to rise to 38 feet Saturday. Near Calder, the river was expected to rise to 16 feet by midnight, surpassing its flood stage of 13 feet.

A Bonner County sheriff's spokesman said the department had made no formal evacuations although it had received "a lot of flooding reports."

The spokesman said some streams had flowed over roads, and some chunks of roadway had been washed away. He said some bridges were in danger of washing out if the rains continued, but "so far, so good."

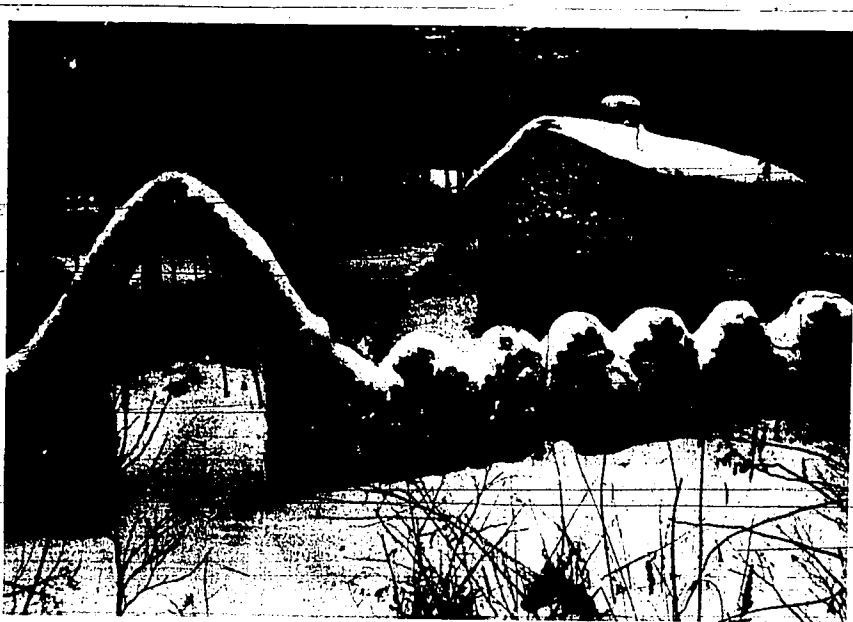

A warning for minor flooding also was issued for the Weiser River near Weiser earlier Friday. The river had risen to 8.66 feet Friday afternoon and the National Weather Service said minor flooding would begin when the river reached nine feet.

The heavy rains that began before Christmas sent Oregon rivers gushing over their banks.

The hardest hit area was along the Willamette River in Oregon's Tillamook County, where 20 businesses were forced to move their equipment and supplies to higher ground Thursday, when the Willamette poured over its banks.

The Alsea River flooded some homes in Oregon's Lincoln County.

Oregon Route 38 between Scottsburg and Reedsport, Ore., was plagued by mud- and rock-slides. One woman was killed Christmas Day when her car ran off the road near a slide.

Hope is urged by hostages

By United Press International

Iran released poignant new film footage of the hostages Friday.

It showed more than two dozen of them singing Christmas carols, extending holiday greetings to their families and thanking people in the United States for supporting them through their 419-day ordeal.

The film was seen as an attempt to allay U.S. fears over the hostages' well being and came amid growing signs Iran does not want to abandon negotiations with the United States on the release of the Americans.

The head of Iran's hostage command, Behzad Nabavi, told Tehran Radio that Iran, whose "final demand" calls for the United States to deposit $24 billion for the hostages' release, was willing to discuss "any other kind of guarantees" with Washington.

Two Algerian diplomats acting as intermediaries between the United States and Iran were taken blindfolded to the secret place of detention where 49 of the hostages were held and briefed them on the release talks. They made a similar visit to the three other Americans held at Iran's Foreign Ministry.

In Plains, Ga., President Carter said he believed all the captives were alive and well and that it was known where the 49 Americans were held this week. He said they were not luxurious and that it was "insulting" to see them held prisoners.

The American networks — ABC, CBS, NBC and Cable News Network — all broadcast the film or segments of it in specials during the day they shared the cost for the satellite transmission from Tehran via London.

The messages from the captives were filmed Christmas Eve and early Christmas morning during visits by the Vatican representative to Iran and several Iranian clergy members and were broadcast to the world Friday.

Looking fit and dressed in casual clothing, the captives were shown in small groups in a room with a table bedecked with trays of food and two candles and a Christmas tree with a yellow bow at its top.

In perhaps the most emotional segment of the film the two women among the hostages — Kathryn Koob, 42, and Elizabeth Ann Swift, 39, — sang "Silent Night" with Archbishop Annibale Bugnini, the papal nuncio, and Bishop Johannan Issaie of the Catholic Chaldean minority.

Both women wore yellow ribbons in their hair and during a message to her family Miss Koob, asked some relatives to join her in singing "Be near me Lord Jesus." She then sang the song alone in a breaking voice.

The groups of captives were led into the room laughing and joking and apparently ignoring the television camera as the clergymen greeted them.

But the lighthearted banter stopped once the microphone was passed from one captive to another and each spoke a personal message to wives, sons, daughters, grandchildren and in many cases, the American people.

Kissinger leaves on 'unofficial' diplomatic trip to Mideast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, with the approval of President-elect Ronald Reagan, leaves for the Mideast Saturday on a new mission of unofficial shuttle diplomacy that will include visits with five heads of state.

A Kissinger spokesman said Kissinger's first stop Sunday will be Egypt and a meeting with President Anwar Sadat. Later on Kissinger will meet with Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin and the heads of state of Saudi Arabia, Morocco and Oman.

The entire trip is expected to last about two weeks.

Kissinger spokesman Peter Rodman confirmed that the former secretary of state will explore chances of breaking the stalemate in Egyptian-Israeli peace talks and of broadening the Camp David initiatives to include other Arab countries, although the mission will remain "private and unofficial."

Rodman said Kissinger is "trying to keep the trip private and low key" and will be with "friends" but not any members of the press or the Kissinger staff.

Rodman, an aide to Kissinger in his Washington office, described the trip as something Kissinger "planned long ago" and said he has since discussed it with both Reagan and Alexander Haig, Reagan's choice to be secretary of state.

"They have no problems with it," he said.

Rodman said Kissinger will return to Washington in time for the inauguration Jan. 20 and then will "probably discuss the results of the visit with Reagan and Haig."

Rodman would not say who was paying for the trip but said Kissinger would "probably have a private plane" at his disposal.

The trip confirms that Kissinger has once again re-entered the realm of at least informal government service in the same Middle East arena in which he was so active as secretary of state.

Kissinger was instrumental in negotiating the first breakthroughs in the Arab-Israeli conflict. It was during Kissinger's many visits to capitals in the Mideast that the term "shuttle diplomacy" was coined. His constant traveling between Egypt and Israel carrying messages from the two nations, and his skill as a mediator, won him the admiration of both sides, in particular Egypt's Anwar Sadat, and helped re-establish American influence in the region.

However, since Kissinger at most will be an unofficial emissary of the incoming administration, the State Department made it clear Kissinger has no assignment from the Carter administration.

A department spokesman said he was aware of Kissinger's trip to the Middle East but that it was a "private visit" and not on behalf of the United States government.

Another State Department staff aide said Kissinger has received logistical support but nothing else from the State Department. Rodman says the embassies of the "host governments" are handling trip arrangements.

Besides Egypt, Kissinger's itinerary will include Israel, Oman, Morocco and Saudi Arabia but not Jordan. King Hussein is out of that country.

Brezhnev tells Polish minister he's confident problems solvable

Analysts divided on meaning

MOSCOW (UPI) — President Leonid Brezhnev met Friday with the Polish foreign minister and said he was confident the Warsaw regime would solve Poland's problems.

Brezhnev's comments appeared to be cautiously optimistic and the official Tass news agency account of his meeting with Jozef Cyrak lacked the tone of earlier Kremlin pronouncements interpreted in the West as threats of an imminent Soviet invasion of its communist ally.

Analysts were divided over Brezhnev's meeting with Cyrak, who was the highest-ranking Polish official to visit the Kremlin since the Warsaw Pact summit conference three weeks ago.

Some felt the message from the Kremlin was intended as a vote of confidence for the Warsaw government of communist leader Stanislaw Kania. Others contended that Soviet authorities were discreetly signaling to Polish leaders their growing impatience over labor unrest in the nation.

Friday's session appeared to be a review of the progress of the Dec. 5 meeting, which aroused widespread fears in the West that a Soviet invasion of Poland might be imminent.

Both Brezhnev and Cyrak expressed satisfaction with the results of that meeting and reaffirmed the success desire of the Soviet Union and socialist Poland to continue making their contribution to recovery of the international climate. Tass said.

"Leonid Brezhnev expressed the wish that the working people of Poland would overcome as soon as possible the difficulties that arose on the road of socialist development and expressed confidence that the task would be accomplished under the guidance of the Polish (Communist) United Workers Party," the news agency said.

The official summary of Brezhnev's remarks closely followed the paraphrasing of communiques issued earlier this month following the Warsaw Pact meeting. The communist summit brought Western fears of a possible Russian invasion to a peak, but the ensuing three weeks have brought a series of tense atmosphere here seems to have eased slightly.

One of the concessions reluctantly made by the government recently was a relaxation to censorship in the media and greater access to the media for religious programming in the strongly Catholic nation.

Tragic Christmas fires kill at least 48 across nation

By United Press International

Fires, fed by the trappings of Christmas, were blamed for at least 48 deaths since Christmas Eve across the nation.

A wood stove set a Massachusetts home ablaze Friday, killing five members of one family.

One blaze that killed a father and his two children went unreported for a half hour, though neighbors were aware of it. A man moved his car from in front of the burning house to prevent it from being damaged by the heat — but didn't bother to call the fire department.

Iowa and South Carolina reported the highest number of deaths, with eight people perishing in house fires in each state. Ohio reported six fire deaths and New York, like Massachusetts, had five.

Flames that engulfed a single-story home at Shirley, Mass., killed Ronald Jeffrey, 34, his wife Donna, 25, and their children Stacy 10, Sean 8, and Christina, 4 1/2. All died of smoke inhalation, officials said.

Fire officials said the blaze apparently was started by a wood stove in the kitchen and spread quickly through the house.

destroyed a two-story frame home in Chicago's suburban Palos Hills, killing two women and injuring four other people. The blaze forced evacuation of surrounding homes.

A woman collapsed and died early Friday when trying to fix a fire that started in the bedroom of a home in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Tragedy struck a Sioux City, Iowa, family on Christmas Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Woods stepped out of their house to get some Christmas gifts they had stored at the nearby home of a relative.

When they returned, they found their home engulfed in flames, their six children trapped inside.

A epileptic neighbor who witnessed the fire collapsed in the late night chill and was pronounced dead on arrival at a nearby hospital.

A 52-year-old man who rescued his six children from his blazing Nora Springs, Iowa, home was killed when he collapsed inside the house after helping his children escape.

Flames from burning Christmas gifts killed a father and his two young daughters, ages 7 and 14 months in their Brooklyn, N.Y., home. The children's mother was critically injured.

Authorities said the fire went unreported for as long as 30 minutes.

Sparks from a fireplace killed six members of an Upper Arlington, Ohio, family, including four children and a young woman who was expecting her first child in two weeks.

Three other fires in New York's Bronx and Manhattan forced dozens of families to flee into the bitter cold night. Several people were hospitalized for frostbite.

An 83-year-old woman died in a fire in Queens.

Tenants of a century-old three-story apartment building in Wallon, N.Y., were driven outside into 20-below-zero temperatures early Thursday by a blaze that destroyed their homes.

Two elderly women were killed in separate fires in upstate New York.

A blaze which authorities say may have ignited near a Christmas tree claimed the lives of four members of a family in a rural area west of Michigan City, Ind.

A fire in a small village of Shannock, R.I., killed three young brothers and another man. A blaze in a hotel for the elderly in downtown Frankfort, Ky., claimed the life of one resident, a woman in her 70s. A man in his 80s was critically injured.

Afghanis protest anniversary

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Afghanists marked the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion Friday with protests and appeals for aid for Moslem rebels fighting 90,000 Russian troops in their country.

Soviet troops initially 30,000 — invaded Afghanistan in an airlift last Christmas. Radio Kabul secretly broadcasting from the Soviet city of Tashkent announced on Dec 27, 1979 the installation of Babrak Karmal as president and the execution of his predecessor Hafizullah Amin.

Afghan rebels inside the country marked the first anniversary by calling on the United States and other countries to bolster the guerrillas' Jihad, or holy war, with arms and other badly needed supplies. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat was the first world leader to respond, promising to send arms, blankets, food and clothes.

Executive shot, killed

RIALTO, Calif. — A cement company executive, fatally wounded Christmas Eve by a bullet that crashed through his window, was the first homicide victim in a string of unsolved arsons and shootings that have plagued the firm's officials.

Charles Osberg, 45, was struck in the neck by a single bullet as he sat in his living room and died three hours later on Christmas Day at San Bernardino Community Hospital during surgery.

Chief Deputy Coroner Leo Reyes said the slaying apparently was connected with a series of assaults on company officials and their families, including the Osberg's, whose home was mysteriously set afire last year.

Reyes said the plant had experienced labor problems and Osberg was a company supervisor at the time.

Mud washes traffic victim

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) — A 14-year-old boy covered his body with mud to save himself from following a motorcycle accident which claimed the life of his companion.

Rodney Duplechien was found on the bank of the Vermilion River Christmas Day, suffering exposure and a broken leg he received in the wreck that killed 25-year-old Steve Sonnier.

The accident occurred late Christmas Eve, but the victims were not found until Thursday. Sonnier's body was retrieved from the water, but Rodney was found on the river bank.

HUD blasted for accounting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development, by refusing to undertake a $35,000 computer reprogramming operation, cost taxpayers more than $2 million, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Friday.

Proxmire said "a simple computer reprogramming change" could have cut "excessive interest payments" to financial institutions holding federally insured mortgages.

"HUD missed a beautiful opportunity to get $500 back for the taxpayer for each dollar invested over the five-year period," Proxmire said in a statement released by the Washington office.

Proxmire, chief of General Accounting Office report, said HUD rejected suggestions that it change its method of calculating interest due on reimbursable expenses by institutions holding mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Rare Japanese coins stolen

POINT LOOKOUT, Mo. (UPI) — A $1 million collection of Japanese gold coins — some of them 500 years old — was stolen Friday from a museum at a southwestern Missouri college.

The collection of 76 ancient coins that once belonged to a Japanese emperor and dated to between 1400 and 1900 was stolen from the Ralph Foster Museum, said a spokesman for the Taney County Sheriff's Department. A private collector had donated the coins to the museum 12 years ago, said Esworth.

The coins, described as between three-eighths of an inch and 5/8 inches in diameter, weighed 10 pounds. They had a gold weight value of more than $100,000 and a collector's value of more than $1 million, police said.

Nation alerted for escapees

GRETNA, La. (UPI) — Law enforcement officials issued a nationwide bulletin Friday in a bid to recapture six inmates who cut their way out of the Jefferson Parish Correctional Center.

The sheriff's office and other agencies expanded their search for the six — including a convicted murderer and a rape suspect — and questioned relatives and associates of the inmates who pulled off the Christmas escape.

Sheriff's office deputy chief Gene Fields said the fugitives were considered armed and dangerous.

Cop stops jet singlehanded

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — A policeman singlehandedly stopped a moving Boeing 737 jetliner and averted a collision with another Egyptian jet, the remains of his home, 21 Yom said Saturday.

Apparently someone forgot to put halting barriers in front of the Egypt Air jet after it landed at Cairo airport, and a strong gust of wind moved the plane towards another Egypt Air jet parked nearby, the newspaper said.

A policeman spotted the moving Boeing, ran after it and managed to put in place the wheel barriers when the moving plane was just 10 yards away from the other. There were no injuries or damage reported.

Art thieves steal Renoirs

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI) — Burglars entered the Buenos Aires Museum of Fine Art Christmas night and stole 16 paintings, three of them Renoirs, and other artwork with a value of $24 million, police said Friday.

Police said the robbery was one of the largest in Argentine history.

Professor Adolfo Ribera, director of the museum, said the stolen art works were of "incalculable value" and added that police "at least should make sure they are not taken out of the country."

Speaking in a radio interview, Ribera asked "those who had the audacity to rob them, please don't destroy them, although you hold them hidden for 20 years."

Dolphin rescuer charged

TOKYO (UPI) Police have decided to file charges against a Canadian environmentalist who freed 150 dolphins captured for slaughter, officials said Saturday.

The fishermen threatened to kill anyone who tried to release more dolphins.

Police said Greenpeace Foundation activist Patrick Wall 55, will be charged with "obstruction of business" and "releasing the dolphins captured by fishermen at Futu on the Izu peninsula, about 60 miles southwest of Tokyo.

The dolphins, part of a larger haul, were destined to be butchered and sold at the market place as food. Japanese treat dolphins as fish.

'Army' gets big donation

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (UPI) — Christmas is a time of charity, and there was someone here who felt very charitable here this holiday season.

Capt. Verle Wilson of the Salvation Army reported that someone deposited 23 $100 bills into the Army's kettle at the Logansport Post Friday.

Wilson said it was the most money he had ever seen placed in a kettle, and it pushed the local organization over its $22,000 goal.

Arthur York and sons look at what remains of their house

First the car hit the house...

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — Four days before Christmas, a speeding car crashed into Arthur York's house. On Christmas Eve, burglars ransacked what was left of his Christmas belongings. But he's more thankful than bitter.

"It isn't been a very good Christmas, but we did get one really great present," York said Friday, looking over the remains of his home. "We were able to get out of the house after the car struck. None of us were seriously hurt."

The runaway auto rammied the family's four-room home Sunday, tearing apart floors, walls and ceilings, and narrowly missing York, 40, and his wife, Barbara, as they watched television while their two children slept.

They saw the headlights of the speeding vehicle headed toward them and ducked behind a sofa to avoid being hit.

Then burglars entered the tiny wooden home Wednesday night, after the family moved out to spend the holiday with relatives living nearby.

"It's got to the point where my two sons (ages 10 and 12) and my wife are afraid to even go into the house," said York, who is unemployed because of medical disabilities.

The Yorks lost all their furniture and nearly all their Christmas gifts when the car, driven by Thomas D. Jones, 34, struck the front of the home, and plowed through to the back yard. Jones was listed in stable condition Friday at the Kennebec Valley Medical Center in Augusta.

The car pushed the family Christmas tree out the rear of the home, along with the presents that were lying beneath it.

York said he returned to board up the home the next day, nailing the windows and doors shut.

"We got a call from the police Christmas Eve, telling us someone had kicked in a panel to the kitchen door," he said. "Everything we had left was thrown around. Our tapes and records and little stuff were all broken."

"And no one saw anything," he added.

"The kids had just gone to bed when the crash occurred. And now with the burglary, they're really shook up," York said.

But in a welded safe?

OWATONNA, Minn. (UPI) — Roy Collette got his pants again this Christmas.

"This year, they were wrapped in a 600-pound, red-and-green-striped safe with the door welded shut."

Every other year, Collette, 42, has been getting the same pair of pants for Christmas. On the alternate years his brother-in-law, Larry Kunkel, has gotten the pants.

But there's always a surprise. The pants come wrapped — in about every kind of package imaginable.

This year Kunkel received the pants in the safe, while attending a board meeting at Viracorn Corp. in Bensenville, Ill., where he is general manager.

Collette knows he'll get the pants back "in heaven knows what form" next Christmas.

"This thing has gone from the sublime to the ridiculous," Collette said. "It's beginning to get a little expensive but it's fun."

The pants exchange started when he was a student at St. Cloud State University. They almost froze stiff in the winter and he could hardly walk, so he gave them to Collette the next Christmas.

Hostages

"Don't worry about us," Lt. Cmdr. Robert Englemann of Hurst, Texas, said. "The day that we are released will be our Christmas."

"The support and concern shown by our fellow Americans has been of immense value to us," another captive said. "God bless you all. God bless America."

The hostages tried to assure their families they were well and that they looked forward to being reunited soon. Words such as "optimism," "hope" and "faith" punctuated the messages.

About 27 of the captives appeared in the 40-minute broadcast before Iranian television ceased transmission because of what it said were satellite problems. Iran said it had another half-hour of film but it was not certain when it could be sent to the West.

A foreign agent at CBS, which handled the technical aspects of the transmission, said the problems in Iran and a six-hour delay in the satellite feed may have been due to censorship.

Mohammad Bel Hossen, an Algerian Foreign Ministry official, and Algeria's Ambassador to Iran Abdelkarem Gheraieb said they spent more than eight hours with the 49 captives.

"They looked to us in good health," Bel Hossen said. "As for the morale they were seemed okay — of course, they are wondering about what is going on especially how the negotiations are proceeding and this is the main questions we had from them."

Bel Hossen said they gave the hostages a general idea of what was going on — about the answers and the proposals.

The two Algerians are expected in Washington Saturday to receive the U.S. reply to Iran's demand that Washington deposit $24 billion with Algeria to cover frozen Iranian assets and the edam shah's wealth. Secretary of State Edmund Muskie already has called the demand "unreasonable."

Nabavi, head of Iran's hostages Commission and chief government spokesman, said in an unusually frank news conference that Iran would be willing to consider U.S. counter-proposals to the demand.

"If you were in the place of me ... would you believe a piece of paper signed by the President of the United States?" Nabavi said.

Asked if it were possible Iran would reduce its $24 billion demand for release of the hostages, Nabavi said, "We don't bargain with anybody. We ask (for) our own money and our property and we don't have any bargaining."

Asked what would happen if the United States rejected the conditions Nabavi said, "We'll see what they answer and then we'll decide what will happen."

"We are not in normal conditions with the United States government. So we should have some guarantee that we get the money."

"I cannot find out any other kind of guarantee: but if they propose any other kind of guarantee, okay we can discuss it with the Algerian group," he said.

Unusually warm weather Friday brought record or near-record temperatures to much of Idaho.

It also brought flood warnings in the five northern counties of the state where the St. Joe and Coeur d'Alene rivers were near flood stage. Both rivers are expected to top those levels over the weekend as rain continues and warm temperatures cause snow to melt.

Most of the precipitation Friday was in the northern half of the state with the sun breaking through the clouds in the south. Mid-afternoon temperatures were generally in the 50s, although Twin Falls and Burley reported 40s. Boise and Idaho broke high temperature records for the date.

Little change appears in prospect for the state in the next few days although some showers are likely over the weekend with snow falling at higher elevations.

The warmest temperature in the state Friday was 62 degrees at Lewiston, while Malad reported the coolest, 28 degrees.

Elsewhere in the nation Friday, Riverside, Calif., reported the warmest temperature of 87 degrees, and Glens Falls, N.Y., had the coldest, 29 degrees below zero.

Reagan will push space-laser to kill ICBMs

© 1980, The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — The incoming Reagan administration plans to accelerate development of a space-based laser weapon that could be used to target ballistic missiles launched from the Soviet Union.

The president-elect's Defense Department transition team has told key congressional Republicans that one of its top priorities is to increase spending on the high-energy laser system. It would fire an intense beam of laser light at ballistic missiles as they rise out of the atmosphere on their way to a target 5,000 miles away.

Reagan has told several Republican senators who will be taking over chairmanships of key committees that he would like to improve the nation's defenses against missile attack. Among the senators are John G. Tower, R-Texas, incoming chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Harrison H. Schmitt, R-N.M., the former astronaut who will chair the Senate subcommittee on science, technology and space.

"Gov. Reagan expressed a strong desire to expand our technical base to move the country away from the brink of nuclear war," Schmitt said in an interview. "In particular, he expressed a strong interest in the possibility of developing a laser defense against ballistic missile attack."

Pentagon officials briefing defense industry leaders in New York earlier this month said both this country and the Soviet Union are working on high-energy lasers that could be positioned in space. The lasers could be used not only as weapons against ballistic missiles but as orbiting fortresses in a space war.

Laser weapons have long been touted as a defense against ballistic missiles. But ground-based lasers that would fire at missiles descending toward targets have not proved practical. Laser light cannot penetrate clouds, fog, rain or snow, but in airless space there is no such difficulty.

In addition, a laser beam in space would not lose strength over thousands of miles. A laser weapon could be placed in a space-based battle station in a geosynchronous orbit 22,400 miles above the earth to match the Earth's rotation. Such a weapon would literally hover over one spot on Earth, such as a point in the Soviet Union.

Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., a member of the Senate Intelligence Committee, has said he advocates stepped-up development of a space-based laser weapon in the new defense budget. Said Wallop: "There have been vigorous attempts to gain the support of President-elect Ronald Reagan and some advocates of this weapon are members of his new administration."

Ground-based test lasers have been used to Kirland Air Force Base, N.M., to shoot down drone aircraft, and the Air Force has installed a turret-mounted laser in a KC-135 airplane to see if it can shoot down air-to-air and surface-to-air missiles. It is not known whether these tests have been conducted.

At the present stage of development, laser weapons are at least 10 years from being used in space. Lasers tested so far as weapons are too large and unwieldy to be carried into space and left there. Even the space shuttle, which is due to make its maiden flight in March, is not big enough to carry these weapons into orbit.

Laser scientists hope speeded-up development will allow them to miniaturize laser weapons and their power sources so they could be put aboard satellites that weigh no more than 40,000 or 50,000 pounds. If that can be done, they could be hauled into space by the shuttle and deployed like robot battle stations.

Reagan's budget boss caught in subsidy flap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. David Stockman, R-Mich., President-elect Reagan's choice as budget director who rose to prominence assailing federal subsidies, has pushed for a multimillion dollar Energy Department request by a corporate constituent, an aide confirmed Friday.

An aide to the Michigan Republican said Stockman's office had no comment beyond confirming the contents of a Chicago Sun-Times story describing the congressman's efforts on behalf of Agri Power Inc., a firm seeking to build a big fuel alcohol distillery at Addison, Mich.

Agri Power was one of nine firms selected by the Energy Department Wednesday to negotiate for a share of $1.3 billion in public loan guarantees available to industry for the alcohol fuel production.

"Dave personally did not become involved but a staffer did call to let DOE know that Dave was interested in the Addison people getting a share of the money," the same Stockman aide told the Sun-Times.

The newspaper said Stockman's office earlier helped the company obtain a $7 million Energy Department grant to develop its project.

Edwin Rothschild, director of the pro-regulation Energy Action consumer group, said he would be wary of the new budget maker "given his belief in the operation of the free market, when in practice he lets his staffers lobby for public handouts to private industry."

Stockman, who wrote the GOP energy platform, won respect even from opponents when he opposed the Chrysler bailout on philosophical grounds, even though his state might suffer most from a bankruptcy.

"He has repeatedly attacked public subsidies for the development of synthetic fuels, including grain alcohol. Extolling a free market, he branded government's $88 billion synfuel program a deliberate attempt to short-circuit the mechanism by which the U.S. economy normally allocates capital."

Although he justifies public support for research and development, Stockman has been especially outspoken in his criticism of subsidies for commercialization of well-developed technologies, such as making alcohol.

His appointment as budget director caused anxiety in the budding synfuels industry, other corporate recipients of public subsidies, and the agencies that parcel it out.

Child bleeds to death after hit by sniper

MATHISTON, Miss. (UPI) — A 9-year-old boy was shot by a sniper as he rode in his family's car down the Natchez Trace Parkway Friday and bled to death before the wound could be treated.

The boy's 12-year-old sister also was wounded.

Choctaw County Sheriff Hayes Mills said Tarrell Johnson of Houston, Texas died at the Webster County Hospital about two hours after he was shot.

Mills said a Webster County man, in his late 20s, is being held in the Choctaw County jail on suspicion of murder and aggravated assault. A hunting rifle was found in the man's car.

The boy's sister, Michelle, was also wounded by the bullet, but was not seriously injured, Mills said. Authorities believe the sniper used a .35-caliber hunting rifle.

"We don't believe there was a motive," Mills said. "We just think someone was out there taking pot shots at anybody that came along. It could have been anybody."

The sheriff said the bullet pierced the bottom of the rear door on the passenger's side and hit the boy and girl. Tarrell's mother, Linda Johnson, and her fiance, Kenneth Brinkley, were in the front seat.

After the shooting, the couple drove to the Mathiston police department for help and were escorted to the Webster County Hospital in Eupora, Mills said, because there is no hospital in the tiny town.

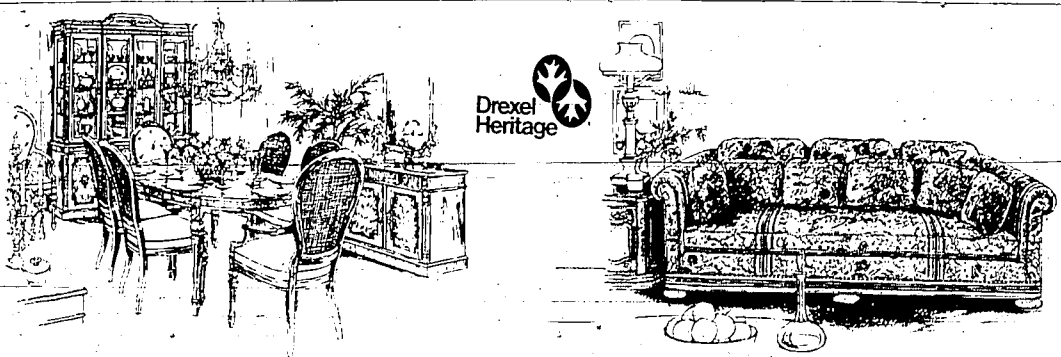

Mills said they arrived at the hospital about 20 minutes after the shooting.

Brinkley "tried to put pressure on the boy's leg, but he didn't know how to do it and couldn't stop the bleeding," Mills said. "It was a big wound right through the main artery and he just lost too much blood."

Mills said he was not sure if the Mathiston police officer on duty performed first aid on the boy or girl. The Mathiston police could not be reached for comment Friday night.

All the occupants of the car, and the suspect, were white.

MONSTER TIME

The day after Christmas is a devil of a time to take over a monster role, but that's what happened to DAVID DUKAKIS, who now is playing the title role in the $1.2 million Broadway production of "Frankenstein." He replaces William Converse-Roberts. The show, in previews and opening Jan. 4, is the first modern Broadway production based on the Mary Shelley novel. And, by way of incidental intelligence, Dr. Frankenstein's first name was Victor.

CHRISTMAS CROSSING

This year George Washington crossed the Delaware by bridge. For the first time in 28 years, the party re-enacting Washington's Christmas Day, 1776 crossing of the Delaware couldn't go by boat. The boats to be used were encased in half a foot of ice and drought had dropped the river water level to 4 1/2 feet. Washington, played by Prince Grace's brother, John B. Kelly, walked across by bridge from Washington Crossing, Pa., to the Hopewell, N.J., side.

CAGNEY HONORS

Television viewers get front row seats Dec. 27, thanks to CBS, to the tribute to Jimmy Cagney that was part of the Kennedy Center Honors program. ## JAILHOUSE CHEER

Anybody can bake cookies — but it takes someone like Henrietta Froehlic to bake 5,000 of them. "Nette" Froehlic, 75, did it again this year for 270 inmates of New Jersey's Union County Jail. Sheriff Ralph Froehlic said the inmates didn't talk much about the Christmas boxes. "But, sometimes you can see more than you can hear," he said. "You have to look at their eyes. You have to see. The silence is much more impressive than if anyone would say anything."

NO FALSE ALARM

The fire trucks rolled on Christmas morning in Brisbane, Calif., but for once it wasn't the signal for holiday tragedy. Instead it was the eighth-floor fire department singing carols. "Usually when you hear that truck go by, you get really worried about which of your neighbor's house is on fire," said Andrea Smith. She said after the surprise wore off, many of the residents joined the fireman in a caroling parade through the community.

Homeowner's furniture is moving all by itself

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — The owner of a house where things have been mysteriously tumbling around discounted a suggestion Friday that a ghost could be involved.

But said he has started strapping down the furniture. "Things just take a notion, whenever they want to turn over, they turn over," said Henry Shelton.

Among the items that have gone crashing to the floor during the past week were a 300-pound china cabinet, a wardrobe, a chest of drawers and a large easy chair. Shelton said he had no explanation for the incidents.

"I bought (the house) in '45 and moved in it in '46," he said. "I've been here ever since and last Friday night the potted plants started falling." Building inspectors, as well as a researcher for the Institute of Parapsychology, have examined the house but can offer no explanation. The events fit what parapsychologists call the "pollenest" phenomena, in which objects fall — move — or fly through the air without explanation.

Shelton said he has been strapping wires across some of the bigger pieces and placing smaller objects on the floor. After the china cabinet fell, Shelton's wife, Ida, put what remained of her unbroken dishes in her car.

He discounted the idea that the ghost of a relative was involved, noting that no one in his family had died violently and that the most recent death in the family, his sister, occurred more than eight months ago.

Polishing punctuation good idea for women

Item No. 977B in our Love and War man's file on definitions comes from a petite French actress called Mistinguette who said: "A kiss can be a comma; a request mark or an exclamation point. That's basic spelling every woman ought to know." Remember that, young lady. Polish up your punctuation.

Q. Where in the Bible does it say, "God helps those who help themselves?"

A. Isn't in the Bible. One Algernon Sidney first said that. Another common expression that's usually thought to be biblical but isn't: "All hell broke loose." From Milton's "Paradise Lost."

DRINKING

Lot of heavy drinking in Japan, true. But few Japanese over there ever complain of hangovers. Those of Japanese ancestry in this country do indeed get hangovers, however. Numerous scholars who study such matters continue to insist the hangover is more mental than chemical. Maybe so, don't know. But there are those...too...who contend it's the speed of the drinking rather than the volume that brings on the hangover. Almost all Asians who drink do so in a measured manner regardless of how much they put away.

Who makes most of the decisions around your place, you or your partner? Let's say one of you is pretty talkative, the other a more silent type. Recent research suggests the fiction boys are wrong when they neglect the glibly talkative to give all the judgment and authority to a close-mouthed hero. Actually, people who talk the most in real life tend to make the most decisions.

NAME

A fictional fellow named Mr. Mayer is the president of a tobacco company. And he hires an advertising agency to come up with a trademark for a fancy new cigar. The agency orders its creative talent to originate a moniker that will sell. And one young genius there suggests: "Mayer Rat Tail." How long do you suppose this bright spark would keep that job? Not long, not long. Still, one cigar with that name more than 100 years ago was an immediate and complete success on the market.

If you turn off the lights every night at the tropical fish tank, the fish will grow fatter and bigger, I'm told. Whatever fish do that's akin to sleeping they prefer to do in the dark, evidently.

Gunshot death believed self-inflicted

BOISE — A Jerome man died Thursday at St. Alphonsus Hospital of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound early Christmas morning, according to Jerome County Sheriff's deputies. Jeffrey G. Waugh, 23, died at 2:10 p.m. of a single gunshot wound to the head, said Chief Deputy Larry Webb. Sheriff's officers were called to Waugh's residence seven miles northeast of Jerome shortly after 2 a.m., Webb said. The victim was transported to St. Benedict's Hospital.

Holiday buying continues

By RON ZELLAR
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The mood was Christmas past, but there were no ghosts in Twin Falls cash registers Friday.

The pre-holiday buying boom continued almost unabated, with several stores estimating new receipts at 50 percent above last year's day after Christmas.

There were the usual returns and exchanges. Slippers too small. Sweaters too large. An occasional appliance with no cord in the box.

But there were also new purchases — lots of them. The Paris clothing store downtown was clearly one of the busiest places in town. But hardware and sporting goods shops, even jewelry stores, enjoyed spinoff business as well.

"This Christmas has been super, and you can quote me," said a busy Blake Hanks, manager of Jensen Jewelers in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center.

"We've had much more after Christmas shopping," said Tom Ashbrenner, manager of Prices Hardware and China.

Large garbage cans seemed to be selling well in several department stores.

Merchants said the clothing exchanges were pretty routine, mostly wrong size rather than changes for style or color. "We get back about 7 percent of what we sell — Christmas or any other time," said

Organized confusion may describe the day after Christmas as shoppers exchanged, returned and bought new merchandise at The Paris in Twin Falls

Pete Ford, manager of the Twin Falls Bon Marche.

A shoe salesman said men who are guessing often buy footwear for their wives that is too big, while women choose shoes that are too small. Pondering that for a moment, he declined to be quoted.

Bob Rowe, manager of Hudson's Shoe Store, said he sells a few slippers but relatively few women's shoes for gifts. He did get back a $210 pair of men's cowboy boots, however. "You don't like to see that," he said.

"But it's something you have to live with."

Most merchants have no time limit on gift exchanges. A few allow returns only for credit on other merchandise. Others allow cash back with a receipt, and exchanges for any line carried by the store.

The Paris has perhaps the most liberal exchange policy in town, offering to take items purchased from other stores in exchange for its men and women's clothing.

"I tell them what I'll give them for it, and 90 percent of the time they take it," said Paris owner Earl Faulkner, who said he has no trouble peddling the Brand-X returns.

Faulkner said only about 15 percent of his Friday business involved merchandise exchanges.

Three Burley teens injured in accident Christmas night

BURLEY — Three 16-year-old Burley residents were injured, one critically, when their car left the road west of Burley Christmas night and crashed into a concrete culvert.

Ollie A. Hale, 18, was taken to St. Anthony Community Hospital at Pocatello, where he was reported in critical condition with spinal injuries Friday evening.

Idaho State Police said driver Dean Harrell was heading east on State Highway 30 at an excessive speed at the time of the accident, about 8:45 p.m.

Harrell and the third victim, Renee Anderson, were in fair condition at Cassia Memorial Hospital Friday.

After the driver lost control on a curve, the car left the road, struck a culvert, flipped end-over-end and then rolled, ejecting all three occupants, police said.

Just before the accident, a Cassia County sheriff's officer had turned around intending to catch up to the Harrell vehicle and pull it over, sheriff's officers said. But he was not in pursuit and did not turn on emergency lights, they said.

Because of his involvement, the officer requested that the accident be investigated by the state police. ISP officer Robert Conner said the investigation was not yet complete.

Boy died helping father with chores

PAUL — A 4-year-old Paul boy killed Wednesday night in a farm accident, was helping his father with the evening chores, according to Mimodoka County sheriff's officers.

Matthew Kraus, son of Jerald and Kathy Kraus, died shortly after being injured when a farm feed truck driven by his father backed over the boy.

The accident occurred at 5:20 p.m. during evening chores in a feedlot near the family's home southwest of Paul.

The boy was transported to Cassia Memorial Hospital in Burley by his parents, where he was pronounced dead on arrival of multiple head and abdominal injuries, officers said.

The son regularly did small tasks for his father during morning and evening chores, they said.

QUESTION...

I will soon be sixty, and will therefore qualify for a widow's pension under Social Security. How much will I receive?

ANSWER...

A widow may start receiving reduced Social Security benefits at age 60 if she has no children under 18. However, if she waits until she is 65 to start drawing benefits, she will receive a monthly allowance of exactly the same amount her husband would have received at 65.

If a widow begins drawing her benefits before she is 65, her monthly check is less than 100% of her husband's annuity. At 60 her allowance would be 71.5% of her husband's benefit, and range upward to 94.3% at age 65. A widow's benefit based upon her husband's earnings, can never be greater than her husband's would have been if he were living.

Motor group to fight ton-mile highway tax

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Motor Transport Association calls the state's ton-mile tax unfair, but truckers who evade the fee bring unfavorable public opinion on the whole industry.

The group claims 370 members, including all of the major carriers operating in Idaho, and it has pledged to convince the Idaho Legislature to kill the ton-mile tax.

The tax is collected quarterly through truckers' reports of how many miles they travel carrying how much weight. It hasn't been touched by Idaho lawmakers in more than 20 years, and today's legislators aren't overly excited about either keeping or killing it.

Directors of the association say dishonest truckers easily can dodge their full share of the tax by not reporting all the miles they drive. State officials acknowledge they don't have the manpower to audit all the carriers to make sure they're paying.

The tax, equivalent to a 6 cents-per-gallon fuel tax, hasn't been raised since 1962, and attempts to do so in the Idaho Legislature last winter brought a strongly negative reaction from the IMTA.

Claude Abel, director of the group, said then and now that a boost of the tax would further penalize trucking firms and individual truckers he says have been paying all their ton-mile taxes.

He said state auditors keep close tabs on meter by carriers to see their entire fleet is paying the tax, but it is more difficult to keep track of all the smaller carriers, many of which he said keep inadequate records.

Abel said no one knows, least of all the state, how much of the tax isn't being collected.

"It's reported on the honor system," he said, and when a trucking firm is caught with a discrepancy between actual fuel mileage and the figures in its records, "it gives the industry a bad name."

About 10 states have repealed their ton-mile taxes within the past dozen years, and now only seven states use the method, Abel said.

Another reason the IMTA opposes the tax is because private vehicles with load ratings up to 30,000 pounds, and farm vehicles to 20,000 pounds, are exempt from the tax.

Although Abel's group can't stand the tax, it doesn't believe it should be repealed during the 1981 Legislature. Abel said careful study must be given to ensure that alternate taxing system would be better than the ton-mile tax.

"I don't think they'll get rid of it this year," he said, "it's not the time for some damned half-way job. We should do it right. We hope to survive another year and then do it right."

The IMTA has been studying a taxing method which would be levied as a registration fee on all vehicles, based on weight. Thus, Idaho would have a two-level vehicle tax — registration and fuel — compared to the present three-level system involving registration, fuel and the ton-mile tax.

To give the state the same amount of revenue it now collects, registration fees under the new system would be increased significantly. But the IMTA said its study of weight ratings and roads use will take several more months before estimates will be made.

Several members of the Legislature's transportation committee feel an across-the-board increase in all the highway taxes will be proposed next session to give the state

Transportation Department some of the $5.9 million extra it says it needs to keep the state's roads from crumbling.

Abel said the association would support a tax increase, but only if the ton-mile tax is the major tax paid by Idaho truckers.

The state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel is 9 1/2 cents per gallon. It hasn't been raised in four years.

Abel complained that the trucking industry has been suffering from what he called a public misconception that truckers' taxes haven't been raised in many years while the gasoline tax has been hiked several times.

Sagebrush Rebellion backers delighted

Reaction varies to Watt's nomination

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Even though James C. Watt says there's no need to turn federal land back to the states, sagebrush-rebellion-readers say they're delighted with his nomination to secretary of interior.

Meanwhile, Utah's major elected officials expressed at least qualified support. But environmentalists said they fear Watt falls to comprehend both their views and land policy law.

Watt has said if federal management is improved, there'll be no need to turn over lands to the states as advocated by the sagebrush rebellion.

San Juan County Commission Calvin Black, a leader of the Sagebrush movement, has long maintained states have an inherent right to control land within their boundaries. He has said that whether the federal or state government would manage it best is immaterial.

Nevertheless, Black said he was "probably as happy" about his (Watt's) appointment as the environmentalists were about Cecil Andrus' appointment four years ago.

"I expect he will make a major difference," said Black. "I think he has an extremely analytical mind. I think he can see a problem and weigh the alternatives and make a decision. He's a very decisive person."

Sen. Orrin Hatch, sponsor of a sagebrush-rebellion bill in the Senate, called the choice of Watt "an excellent appointment."

Hatch said Watt will take a different approach from Cecil Andrus. Hatch predicted Watt will balance environmental needs with the need to use "our earth resources to serve us and to help this country maintain its political, economic and industrial strength."

An aide to Sen. Jake Garn said the senator does not believe Watt will preside over rapping of the environment. Rep.-elect James Hansen said he's sensed frustration among persons responsible for energy development in Utah, and Watt should have a chance to try to remove barriers to that development.

Gov. Scott Matheson's office said the governor is impressed by some of Watt's management concepts and generally supports allowing a President to choose his own subordinates.

Rep. Dan Marshall, a member of the House Interior Committee, said Watt, head of the Mountain States Legal Foundation, has taken anti-environmental stands but predicted the committee would be able to work with the proposed new secretary.

But Jim and Valerie Pissot, co-chairmen of the Utah Audubon Society, question whether Watt, white pushing for resource development, would give heed to environmental projects, including BLM studies, the Alaskan Wilderness and the Birds of Prey refuge in Idaho.

Mrs. Pissot said Watt has indicated he doesn't entirely favor the Federal Lands Management Act (FLPMA), which states that federal policy from now on is to retain rather than dispose of the public domain. "So how's he going to manage preservation under the guidelines of FLPMA?" she asked.

Bill Hargraves, treasurer of the Utah Wilderness Association, said Watt has been quoted as saying the concept of multiple use does not include wilderness. "That is a basic misunderstanding of what multiple use is," Hargraves said.

Utahns protest application by Air Force for water

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — State engineers say they received "a stack of protests a mile high" from Utahns protesting an Air Force application for water in the proposed MX deployment area. They must then determine if approval of the Air Force application would interfere with prior requests for water from other groups or individuals, Hansen said.

Hansen said, to his knowledge, no prior applications have been received.

"In Utah, the Air Force has applied for water from various creeks and rivers equating a stream flow of 51 cubic feet per second," he said.

The state engineer said the request appeared to be a little high for the military's actual requirements.

"We will attempt to pare it down to something more realistic," Hansen said.

before any decision on the Air Force application can be made.

McKay happy with years in Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Gunn McKay, D-Utah, who is dismantling his Washington office so his Republican successor can take over next month, says his best work in Congress came in the area of synthetic fuels legislation.

"I never thought, when I was milking cows in Huntsville, that I'd one day be sitting in Congress, having an effect on the world stage. But I did, and I think I accomplished some things," said McKay, surrounded by boxes of papers destined for shipment to Utah State University.

"I can say we did the best we could," the Democrat said. "I am honored that so many of my fellow citizens voted for me last month. I just wish a few more had."

McKay said a synfuels bill sponsored by the Utah and Pennsylvania Rep. Joseph McDade was probably his finest piece of work on Capitol Hill. The bill set up a $20 million fund to explore alternative fuel sources.

The bill will help the United States ease its reliance on overseas petroleum, reducing the nation's balance of payments deficit and cutting inflation, he said.

McKay said President-elect Ronald Reagan's toughest job will be to deal effectively with the energy crisis.

"It touches everything," he said. "If you can solve that, you can stabilize everything else."

But the First District congressman has his doubts the Reagan energy policy will be any more effective than that implemented by President Carter.

"He can't do it," McKay said. "He can't arbitrarily produce more oil, no matter what he says about incensing the oil companies."

McKay said he and his wife Donna plan to return to their home in Huntsville, at the top of Ogden Canyon.

"But I'm not all of a sudden going to run away," he said. "I might run for the House again. I might run for governor, although that's at least four years away. Senator Hatch might be vulnerable one of these days."

"The state has so honored me that I feel grateful," McKay said. "After being here 10 years, I am looking forward to going home to Huntsville."

FAA official opposes noise plan

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI) — A Federal Aviation Administration official has objected to a noise abatement plan proposed by the National Park Service in Grand Teton National Park.

John Wesler, director of environment and energy for the FAA, said some elements of the plan infringe on FAA authority and are "misdirected."

Wesler, in a recent letter to park superintendent John Stark, suggested a meeting of "staff experts" from the two agencies to settle areas of authority "and to revise the plan accordingly."

Wesler said the park service consulted regional FAA officials during the early version of the plan, but the FAA "hasn't taken a formal position on the plan as published, and we specifically don't concur in several provisions in the plan."

The noise abatement plan has been highly controversial because it would ban Boeing 737 jet flights into the Jackson Hole Airport, which lies within Grand Teton park's boundaries.

An amendment to the Interior Department's appropriations bill providing the park service from implementing the plan "at service began at the airport last week.

Cause of plane crash unknown

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (UPI) — Investigators sought Friday to learn the cause of a plane crash that killed a Utah couple and their nephew on a flight from Carson City to Salt Lake City.

Lander County Sheriff Thomas Beebe said the pilot radioed the plane was crashing Wednesday night.

The wreckage of the single-engine craft was found Christmas Day in Buffalo Valley, 25 miles south of Battle Mountain. Investigators found the bodies of David Colcord, 29; Kraty Colcord, 27, and Bill Grayson, 13.

The Colcords were from Salt Lake City and Grayson was from Centerville, Utah. They had been visiting Grayson's father in Carson City.

Beebe said the cause of the crash was a mystery. The weather was generally good over the area. The pilot gave no indication of the problem in his emergency radio message.

A team of Federal Aviation Administration investigators went to the crash site today.

Bruins rip Nampa five

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News sports writer

TWIN FALLS — The third quarter is becoming a happy time for the Twin Falls Bruins.

They exploded for 26 points in that period Friday night to blow past Nampa 82-55 and into the finals of their own Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Bruins will meet the Borah Lions at 8:45 tonight after Wood River, a 60-31 loser to Borah in the opener, meets Nampa for the consolation prize at 7 p.m.

It took the Bruins a while to overcome Nampa's height advantage but from the early second quarter on the momentum started building. It crested about midway through the third period when a succession of steals and rebounds were converted into a series of fast break buckets. The Bruins blazed for 17 points in the last three minutes of the period to run off to a 39-point lead at one stage.

"Up and down, up and down," said Coach John Astorquia afterward, referring to the fact that when the ball is going through the hole, a team starts sparking everywhere on the court.

"We wanted to start conservatively because we'd heard Nampa kinda liked to run and with their height advantage we didn't want them to get their fast break going. We wanted to start increasing the tempo about midway through the first quarter but we couldn't get it done. They kept getting the offensive rebounds and we were losing all the loose balls," he said.

Then in the second quarter we started hustling better. In the third quarter it was a matter of us picking up more turnovers and getting more possessions. The kids did a great job running...running the break under control...and we had some great passing.

Astorquia said tonight's game will be a lot like playing a mirror. Both teams like to pressure defensively. Both like to post guards inside. One would think the two coaches had attended Twin Falls High School, been head bottoms since 1959 and graduated the same year. Which Astorquia and Coach Kirk Williams did.

"We're very similar teams both in what we like to do and physically. But they've got the horse underneath," Astorquia said.

"We don't want to come out and starting blowing up and down the court against them. I definitely feel that we can't win unless we are under control, especially with our fast break. That's the way we'll try it tomorrow night."

Borah wins—A10

The victory over Nampa saw the senior guard triplets hitting on all cylinders. Gary Krumm, Lars Hovey and Clay Mechem led the team in scoring and assists and Hovey had his best night on the boards.

His back-to-back buckets early in the fourth quarter staked Twin Falls to its first 30-point lead at 71-41. Krumm was at his best in the early going, hitting 14 first-half points, mostly from outside — and keeping the Bruins in contention. Mechem played his usual game of hitting on medium range jumpers, and stealing passes and rebounds.

When the score hit 71-41, the three had 55 points among them. Krumm had seven assists to go with his 23 points and Hovey had eight assists and 21 points. Mechem wound up with 15. Senior Greg Scherer, who had three steals, scored 10 points in his first starting role.

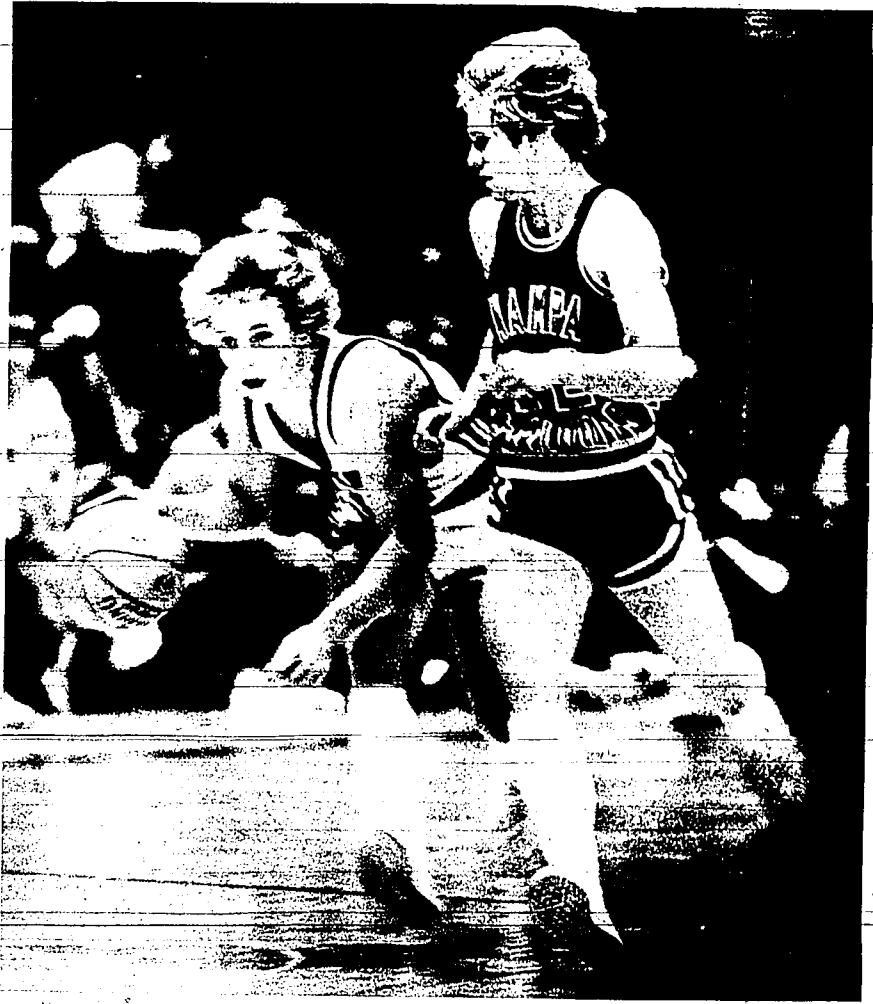

For a while, however, Twin Falls had no answer for 6-5 Todd Garlie who dominated the boards on both ends. Nampa worked hard at getting the ball to the lanky senior and he responded with seven first-quarter points. But Nampa couldn't get away from the Bruins, although Garlie, Clarence Weiting and Jack Morris needed offensive points to give the Bulldogs a 14-10 lead.

Krumm then hit two bombs to put it into a tie.

The lead changed hands to open the second period before Mechem, Krumm and Steve Galley sent Twin Falls ahead to stay. After Morris hit a pair of Nampa free throws, Krumm, Hovey and Mechem closed the half with two field goals each to burst the Bruins into a 38-25 lead. And that just warmed them up for the third period, although Scherer shared that spotlight by getting eight of his 10 in the break-away quarter.

Pitt hopes to ride Gator win to No. 1

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Pittsburgh Coach Jackie Sherrill wants more than just a victory over South Carolina in the Gator Bowl Monday night.

He wants a media extravaganza on the crest of which Pitt will try to ride to its first national championship in four years.

Only by playing physical, emotional and dynamic football before a nationwide television audience (ABC) of 40 million people at prime time (7 p.m. MST), in Sherrill's opinion, will third-ranked Pitt (10-1) stand a chance of winning the national championship.

"Of course, first things first. Pitt, which is heavily favored, must beat 18th-ranked South Carolina (8-3), not an easy assignment under any conditions.

And, to make things even easier for those voting in the national polls, Sherrill wouldn't mind if Notre Dame (9-1) upset No. 1 Georgia (11-0) in the Sugar Bowl and Oklahoma (9-2) surprised No. 2 Florida State (10-1) in the Orange Bowl, both on New Year's Day.

Even before the kickoff in Jacksonville's creaky football stadium, the script for the "Glamor" bowl looks as if it were written in Hollywood.

Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers, of South Carolina, who averaged 6 yards per carry in an amazing net rushing yardage of 1,781 this year, will be pitted against Hugh Green, Pitt's defensive end, runnerup for the Heisman, winner of the Lombardi, Maxwell and UPI College Player of the Year awards.

Bowl outlooks — A11

Add to that Pitt's Mark May, winner of the Outland Trophy symbol of college football's best offensive interior lineman, and a host of other top-notch players and it is not difficult to understand why the game is considered the best possible TV fare.

Pitt will feature a passing game, led by quarterback Rick Yoccano, a senior who has broken the school record for career passing yardage with 4,064 yards; and sophomore sensation Dan Marino, who has passed for 14 touchdowns this year while starting in only five games.

South Carolina, on the other hand, will run, run, run. Rogers, the straight-ahead tailback, scored 14 touchdowns this year. His poorest performance was 108 yards rushing against Wichita State, a game South Carolina won, 73-0, with second strings.

Despite the great individual players who will be on the field, Sherrill noted that "Hugh Green and George Rogers are not playing each other — it's Pitt versus South Carolina."

"If we can't keep him (Rogers) from carrying the ball 40 times, we might be in trouble," said the Pitt coach.

Sherrill downplayed the importance of the point spread, saying what will convince those who vote in the national football polls is the quality of play.

"It depends more on how the game goes," he said. "If it turns out to be a sloppy game, that won't make a good impression. If it turns out to be a physical, emotional and interesting game, it doesn't have to be that way (a big win for Pitt)," he said.

Rogers said South Carolina will have to establish its passing game, something missing from its offense this season, if it hopes to upset Pitt. Gamecocks coach Jim Carlen bemoaned his team's "inconsistency in passing" and its leaky defense since losing free safety Robert Perfolto to an injury.

"The whole hype is that Pitt has got to win for the national championship," Carlen said. "If they beat us bad, people will say, 'well, that's just South Carolina.' If we win, we won't end up any higher than 15, 14 or 13 because of our lack of tradition."

"But this is the most important game our school has ever played in," he said.

Top-rated Wildcats drill for annual clash with Irish

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The top-ranked University of Kentucky moved its practice to Louisville's Freedom Hall Friday in preparation for UK's annual meeting with archrival Notre Dame.

The evening practice at the 16,613-seat Freedom Hall normally the home court for the University of Louisville — was closed to the public but Coach Joe B. Hall agreed to let UK fans into the arena for this morning's practice.

UK's open shooting practice preceding the Notre Dame game annually attracts about 10,000 fans.

The game tonight against Notre Dame (5-1 and ranked 11th), will provide the toughest challenge to Kentucky (6-0) since the beginning of the season when the Wildcats beat two Big 10 powerhouses, Ohio State and 16th-ranked Indiana.

Since then Kentucky has beaten Kansas and both of its opponents in the UK Invitational Tournament, Alaska and Alabama. Birmingham in a performance which didn't meet Hall's demanding standards.

"We didn't play particularly well in the UKIT and we'll need a much stronger effort against Notre Dame."

Playing at home before 22,835 fans against Alabama, Birmingham, UK managed just 22 baskets from the floor, a season low like the 52 shots attempted from the floor by the Wildcats.

Bucks fall again Case, Nittany Lions maul Schlichter in second half comeback

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — It was bargain day at the Fiesta Bowl Friday with fans seeing two games for the price of one.

Ohio State, the nation's 14th-ranked team, won the first convincingly but 10th-ranked Penn State was even better in the second and won going away 31-19.

The Nittany Lions — led by end Frank Case, the defensive player of the game — didn't let the Buckeyes' past their 27-yard line in the second half, held them to zero yards in the third period and shut down quarterback Art Schlichter, who had been just short of perfection in the first half.

Schlichter connected on 15 of his first 22 passes for 244 yards and three touchdowns to put the Buckeyes on top 19-10 at the half. In the final 30 minutes, he completed only 5-of-13 passes for 58 yards.

Despite the strong second-half turnaround, Penn State coach Joe Paterno claimed the Nittany Lions made no major changes.

"I thought we played okay in the first half," Paterno said. "I thought the offense played well. Our defense was hurt on one play in the first quarter, the weak side curl, and then the open-field drill in the second quarter."

"Our defensive coaches made some adjustments at halftime to take away these two plays."

Penn State tailback Curt Warner, the offensive player of the game, said the second-half rally was nothing new for the team.

"We've been in those situation before and we never lost our poise and we didn't today," Warner said. "We knew if we came out and starting pounding them, we could win."

Perhaps Ohio State coach Earle Bruce summed up the post-season classic best.

"We played very well the first half, and they played very well the second half," Bruce said. "The third quarter really changed the game. We got rushed, and we didn't have time to

Joe Paterno celebrates following come-from-behind win

Blackledge engineered the second half comeback, putting together scoring drives of 84, 77 and 85 yards.

Blackledge to Kevin Baugh and Mike McCloskey.

On the last play of the third quarter, Blackledge hit Brad Scovill on a 30-yard pass, giving Penn State a first down on the Ohio State nine. Two yards later, Williams carried four plays for the touchdown. The comeback was capped by a 37-yard run by Booker Moore with 45 seconds remaining.

Ohio State's only threat in the second half ended when the Buckeyes elected to go on a fourth-and-three situation at the Penn State 32 and Ohio State quarterback Art Schlichter was thrown for a 15-yard loss.

Both teams scored in the opening three minutes of the game. On Penn State's first play from scrimmage, Curt Warner burst through the line and galloped 64 yards for a touchdown. Ohio State retaliated with an 85-yard drive, ending with a 25-yard touchdown pass from Schlichter to Doug Donley.

Schlichter had two other completions, both to Gary Williams, and Calvin Murray carried twice during the drive for 40 yards. The conversion kick went wide, leaving Penn State with a 7-6 lead.

After the quick scoring, the teams settled down to a defensive battle until Schlichter led the Buckeyes to two touchdowns during a four-minute span late in the first half.

He engineered an 84-yard drive by completing four passes, including a 33-yard scoring strike to Williams. Schlichter also converted a third-and-one situation early in the drive with a two-yard run.

A fumble recovery by Ben Lee at the Ohio State 23 launched another 77-yard drive, which ended in a 19-yard scoring pass to Donley. As the first half ended, Penn State marched to the Buckeye 23, faked a field goal on fourth down and got a first down on the Ohio State 16.

However, a procedure penalty settled the drive and the Lions had to settle for a 38-yard field goal by Herb Menhardt.

The loss was Ohio State's fourth in its last four bowl appearances.

Texas Tech drops Huskies in 2 OTs

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Senior forward Ben Hill scored 32 points Friday night, including 10 after regulation play, to lead Texas Tech a 96-85 double-overtime victory over Washington in the opener of the Pillsbury Basketball Classic.

College roundup

Hill scored the Red Raiders' first six points of the first overtime and came back with their first four in the second extra period before Tech tied the decision from the free throw line.

Tech rode its board strength to a 49-35 halftime edge but watched as the Huskies went on an 18-5 scoring binge midway through second half and pulled to within 65-65 with 8:49 left in regulation.

Clarence Swanegan scored 17 points and Jeff Taylor 15 in support of Hill. Andra Griffin led Washington with 27 points.

The score was tied four times in the early going, the last at 12-12 at the five-minute mark. The Red Raiders then scored 21 of the next 27 points, including 12 in a row, to open a 33-18 lead with 7:01 left in the first half.

Minnesota 95, Yale 54

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Ben Coleman scored 15 points to lead four Minnesota players in double figures and help the Gophers roll to an easy 95-54 victory Friday night over Yale in the Pillsbury Basketball Classic.

Minnesota will meet Texas Tech, a 96-85 double-overtime victory over Washington, for the tourney championship Saturday night. Yale will face Washington in the consolation game.

The Gophers, 5-1, led by as many as 43 points late in the second half on the way to their 13th victory in as many Pillsbury starts. Yale fell to 0-4 on the year.

While Coleman led all scorers, teammates Trent Ducker added 14 points, Mark Hill 12 and Bruce Kaupia 11. Tim Dealman was high man for Yale with 12.

Arizona 87, Santa Barbara 58

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Ron Davis and Robbie Dosty scored 16 points each to lead Arizona to an 87-58 victory Friday night over UC-Santa Barbara to advance to the final of the Copper State Classic.

Arizona will meet Lamar University Saturday night in the championship final. In the opening game of the tournament Friday night, Lamar downed Grambling 89-82.

The Wildcats were playing for the first time since a fight in a practice last week resulted in the indefinite suspension of reserve forward Greg Cook and the loss of starting center Dave Mosebar, who quit the team.

Arizona moved out to a commanding 47-31 halftime lead and then ran off 18 straight points midway through the second half to put the game away.

Arizona, which placed five men in double figures, held the Gauchos scoreless over nine minutes during that span to stretch a 55-43 lead to 75-43 with 6:49 remaining.

St. John's 66, Penn 58

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forward Curtis Redding scored 19 points and St. John's overcame foul problems Friday to defeat Penn 66-58 in the opening round of the 29th ECAC Holiday Festival Tournament.

St. John's will play the winner of the Iona-North Carolina State game, played as the second half of a double-header, in Saturday's final round.

The victory was the 1,200th in the history of St. John's. Only three other schools — Kentucky, North Carolina and Kansas — have recorded more than 1,200 wins.

St. John's center Wayne McKay on the bench with four fouls early in the second half. Redding took command of a 40-40 game by hitting a free throw and a 15-foot jumper in a 9-0 surge that gave the Redmen the lead for good.

Oklahoma 53, Bradley 52

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Oklahoma's Bennie Goodridge hit two free throws with 44 seconds remaining in overtime to give Oklahoma a 53-52 upset victory over Bradley in the second of the Illini Classic Friday night.

Mark Smith scored 18 points and James Griffin added 14 to pace Illinois in an 84-54 victory over Ohio University earlier in the evening.

The Sooners will meet Illinois in the finals of the Classic tonight. Bradley, which was favored to win the first round and advance to the finals against rival Illinois, will instead be playing Ohio in the consolation game.

Goldwire, who was fouled by Bradley's Hasan Houston in the final minutes, made his free throws but Bradley still had two opportunities to win the game. Houston missed two long-range shots, the final one coming on a 17-footer at the buzzer.

Purdue 53, Georgia Tech 45

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Freshman center Russell Cross scored 18 points to lead Purdue to a 53-45 victory over Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl Classic basketball tournament Friday night.

The victory by Purdue, 6-2, set up a title match Saturday night between the Boilermakers and Florida, a 65-59 win in Friday night's consolation game.

Georgia Tech, now 3-5, meets Jacksonville in the consolation game. The Yellow Jackets, paced by Lee Goza's 11 points and Stu Lyon's 10, led briefly in the first half but trailed 44-20 at intermission.

Purdue outscored Georgia Tech 19-9 in the second half to take a 43-29 lead with eight minutes to play.

Oregon 82, Cal-Fullerton 78

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Guard Barry Walker sank free throws in the final 13 seconds of overtime to lead Oregon past surprising Cal-State Fullerton 82-78 in the opening game of the Pac-West Classic Friday night.

Fifteenth-ranked Utah was to meet Oregon in Friday night's opening round game. First-round action continues Saturday night with fourth-ranked Oregon State playing Northwest and Rhode Island meeting Princeton.

Oregon, which led by as many as 11 points in the first half, saw the fiery Titans come back late in the second half. Victory Green tossed in a pair of free throws with 21 seconds left to play to tie the score 70-70 and send the game into overtime. Green had missed his first free throw but a lane violation on Oregon gave him a second chance.

Lamar 88, Grambling 82

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Mike Oliver and Alvin Brooks combined for 48 points to pace Lamar to a 88-82 victory over Grambling in the opening round Friday night of the Cooper State Classic.

Lamar will meet Santa Barbara in the second half of the double-header. Oliver had 18 points in the first half to carry the scoring load for Lamar. Brooks picked up the slack in the second half, scoring 19 to finish for 20 points on the night and put Lamar in command.

Grambling was hurt by the loss of forward Robert Williams, who scored 16 points, before fouling out with 5:43 remaining.

Borah's Ron Talbot knocks away a crumble attempt by Wood River's Tracy Reynolds

Wolverines turn ice cold, Borah takes runaway victory

By LARRY HOVEY Times-News sports writer

TWIN-FALLS — When the other team can't score, it's easy to win.

Borah discovered that situation Friday night, blowing past the ice-cold — and probably intimidated — Wood River Wolverines 60-31. The result moved Borah into the Twin Falls Invitational finals against the host Bruins at 8:45 tonight while Wood River meets Nampa in the consolation final at 7 p.m.

The luckless Wolverines didn't score for the first 3:14 of the game, fell behind 8-0 and then flurried into a brief lead by the end of the opening period. But those 14 points almost equaled what they could muster the rest of the way.

Their doom was sealed when they managed just one free throw in the second period and fell behind 30-15.

Borah Coach Kirk Williams couldn't find much to say about the game. "We didn't know anything about them and didn't know what to expect. They had some size. But when you can't score a field goal, you can't beat many people," he said.

Wood River's Dan Gillett agreed. "We're embarrassed," he said with a wane smile. "We couldn't have beaten our jayvees tonight."

"The kids were really tight. I felt they had the feeling they were out there playing — and saving — to themselves what we are doing playing BORAH," he said. "Yes, I think the name definitely did intimidate us."

The Wolverines will be looking at a taller team in Nampa in tonight's consolation finals and Gillett said his Wolverines wanted a respectable showing against the Bulldogs.

"We play a lot better than we did tonight," he said. "I know we're going to play better tomorrow night because we just can't play any worse."

Borah came out in a pressure man defense that had the Wolverines off balance in the early minutes. Meanwhile, Rob Warwick hit a scoring flurry, piling up six points in taking one Lions out for a 6-0 lead. With 4:46 left, Kip Brower broke the scoring ice for the Wolverines. Lee Ritzau hit a follow shot. Jeff Birchler scored inside and Brower hit two quick jumpers. With two minutes left in the quarter, Wood River held a 10-8 advantage.

The teams were tied at 10 and 12 before a pair of Scott Stewart free throws gave the Wolverines a 14-13 lead.

Borah's Jim Stappeler opened the second period with a bucket and 5-11 guard Jon Oliver went inside for five points. Steve Thomas added two quick field goals and the Lions were coasting at 29-14.

Sobers powers Chicago

RICHFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — Ricky Sobers came off the bench to score 17 points, including six of Chicago's final seven, to lead the Bulls to a 100-96 victory Friday night over the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The Cavs, who took the lead with 3:24 left in the third period, opened up a 57-47 advantage with 4:14 left but the Bulls reeled off eight straight points and a layup by Sobers tied the score 95-95 with 1:10 left.

Sobers then put the Bulls on top 97-96 with a driving layup with 57 seconds left.

NBA roundup

After Mike Bratz's basket gave the Cavs a 98-97 lead with 45 seconds remaining, Sobers hit a 20-foot jumper, 18 seconds later — to put Chicago ahead to stay. Bobby Wilkerson hit a foul shot with four seconds left to give Chicago its two-point edge.

Malone scored 10 points during the last seven minutes of the first half, when Houston outscored Detroit 21-9 to take a 56-45 halftime lead. Detroit held a 31-25 advantage after the first quarter.

Maus 119, Nuggets 111

DALLAS (UPI) — Abdul Jeelan, who came into the game in the fourth quarter, scored 20 points in the final period Friday night to propel the Dallas Mavericks to their fifth victory of the year, a 119-111 decision over the Denver Nuggets.

Dallas led 65-32 at the half but a 14-point spurt by Alex English in the third quarter brought Denver back to an 89-81 tie after three periods.

Warriors 110, Jazz 109

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Lloyd Free scored 28 points, including Golden State's final eight, and Purvis Short led all scorers with 31 in the Warriors 110-109 win over the Utah Jazz Friday night.

Free kept the Warriors just ahead of the Jazz, hitting a pair of baskets with 1:35 and 1:15 left in the game, and then sinking four fouls shots in the final 10 seconds.

Lakers 116, Pacers 114

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Jamaal Wilkes scored 33 points, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar added 22 and the Los Angeles Lakers thrashed a last-minute Indiana rally Friday night to post a 116-114 victory over the Pacers.

Indiana trailed for the first 46 minutes by margins of up to 18 points before rallying to take its first lead with 7:58 remaining in the game on a pair of free throws by Billy Knight.

Wild Card Playoffs

Team comparisons

Cowboys wary of 'big play' Rams

DALLAS (UPI) — It was the big play that brought Los Angeles a playoff victory over Dallas last year and it was a series of big plays that sent the Rams sailing to a 38-14 rout of the Cowboys two weeks ago.

So the big play will be something the Cowboys will be trying to prevent Sunday in the NFC wild card rematch between the two teams.

"They will probably get a long pass during the game," said Dallas coach Tom Landry. "It's how many they get that is important. And it's also important what they are doing while they are not making the long pass."

In the Cowboys' recent humiliating setback against the Rams, Los Angeles gained a season-high 517 yards with quarterback Vince Ferragamo hitting 15 of 25 passes for 275 yards and three touchdowns and running back Jewell Thomas, in his first pro start, gaining 147 yards on 16 carries.

"I would have to say a lot of things are going to have to change," Landry said. "They ran when they wanted to and passed when they wanted to in that game. Basically that was our fault more than their's."

The game may well come down to which team Dallas is better job rushing the passer, something Landry is called to do consistently against the Rams.

"You've got to respect their front four," said Los Angeles coach Ray Malavasi. "They do an excellent job. In their Philadelphia game (a 35-27 Dallas victory last Sunday) the defense put pressure on Ron Jaworski."

"We will have to do a great job of keeping them out of there. That will be a key for us, too, putting pressure on their quarterback. I'd say the team that keeps people off the quarterback is going to have a lot of fun."

The Rams were scheduled to arrive in town late Friday with a workout planned Saturday in Texas Stadium.

And Dallas has that one-sided loss still in its mind from two weeks ago. The Cowboys are pleased they don't have to go back to Anaheim.

"Normally, if a team is mentally ready to play and are concentrating on a high level, it doesn't make any difference where you play the game," Landry said. "It doesn't say that a home town advantage isn't good."

"You are in your own surroundings and you have your own fans with you and that can be important. It's just that from our experience over the years we have won a lot of great games in the playoffs away from home and lost some at home."

Dallas and Los Angeles have met in the playoffs in four of the last five seasons and in all four of those games the visiting team has won.

Raiders remember Stabler's talents

By KEVIN LAMB
© 1980 Chicago Sun-Times

OAKLAND — Quarterback Ken Stabler, tight end Dave Casper and nickel back Jack Tatum return to Oakland Sunday for the first time in powder blue uniform. Houston got the two to beat Pittsburgh in championship game, now faces Oakland in wild-card game instead.

All looked more ferocious in silver and black, but all played key roles in Houston's season. Casper, because of high draft-choice cost, may play key role in Oakland's future.

Stabler cost Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini, who lost job after injury permitted Jim Plunkett to have fabulous midseason spurt.

Plunkett has tailed off, but defense has kept Raiders near top, allowing more than 17 points in just two of last nine games, never more than 21.

This is Houston's third straight wild card game, Oakland's first playoff game since 1977.

Raiders have lacked early-season AFC rushing leader halfback Kenny King last two weeks. Oilers miss offensive left tackle OLT Leon Gray.

When Houston has the ball

Earl Campbell runs often and well, frequently from a one-acre backfield. His 1,394 yards rushing, effectively in 14 games, have been surpassed only once. Double tight-end lineup could give problems to free safety Burgess Owens, right linebacker Rod Martin, neither accustomed to playing on tight end's side. But left linebacker Ted Hendricks is one of best Raiders led in defending rush but ranked near middle in total yards, points allowed.

Stabler won't go deep often, but more serious problem is his AFC-high interception rate. Left cornerback Lester Hayes led league in interceptions, covers wide receiver Mike Ruffin. Stabler still excellent at possession passes. Leading receivers were tight end Mike Barber, Casper, halfback Rob Carpenter, who replaces Campbell on passing downs.

Gray is replaced by 356-pound offensive left tackle Angelo Fields vs. defensive ends Dave Browning, Cedrick Hardman in 3-4 defense that substitutes for passes. Offensive right tackle Morris Towns is beatable vs. sack leader Willie Jones and monster John Matuszak at defensive left end. C Carl Mautz is strong vs. 3-4s, will have Reggie Kinlaw on his nose.

When the Raiders have the ball

Raiders are poor at making first downs, converting third downs, which Oilers stop well. But Raiders rely on big play, one of few teams throwing rarely to backs. Excellent wide receiver tandem Bob Chandler and Cliff Branch caught 10 and seven TDs, respectively, face left cornerback J.C. Wilson and clutch right cornerback Greg Slemnick. Tatum played little vs. run but led team in interceptions, a problem for Plunkett. Plunkett has been sacked often, and defensive right end Jesse Baker, defensive right tackle Mike Stensrud excel at rush vs. aging stars offensive left tackle Art Shell, offensive left guard Gene Upshaw.

If King is limited, halfback Arthur Whittington is extremely fast but blocks little. Leaving burning blitz pick-up and short yardage to dependable fullback Mark van Eeghen. No one allowed fewer TDs than Houston.

—Kicking teams:

The Oilers' Toni Fritsch is the NFL's best at FGs when healthy, but back and leg troubles forced them to sign Chester Marcol as insurance. Chris Bahr is unreliable for Raiders. Houston punter Cliff Parsley's deep kicks were key to 6-0 victory vs. Pittsburgh, but Oilers don't cover well and Raiders' Ira Matthews is fine returner. Ray Guy still blooms punts for Oakland. Hendricks rates with Bears' Alan Page as league's best kick blockers.

Other factors:

Both teams are tough in close games, but the Oilers rank as the NFL's best at 8-3 in decisions by six or less.

Holtz not embarrassed over log as Arkansas meets Tulane

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Arkansas football coach Lou Holtz admits he would rather bring a better record to the Hall of Fame Bowl Classic, but he's not embarrassed.

"We have a good football team and we deserve to be here," said Holtz, whose team takes on Tulane tonight, Alabama went to bowls with a 6-5 record when it was building toward a national championship. If we can't go 10-0 in the Cotton Bowl, we're delighted to be going to the Hall of Fame Bowl.

"I wanted to be in a bowl game because it can be used as a positive factor for next year," he added. "We have a lot of young players and we didn't want them to end up the season with their heads down. If we win the football game, we win everything we have set out to accomplish."

Arkansas' offense is led by quarterback Tom Jones, the younger brother of the Baltimore Colts' Bert Jones. The 6-foot-2, 184-pound sophomore connected on 93 of 166 passes for 1,161 yards this season.

The Razorbacks also feature the nation's leading punter in Steve Cox, who averaged 46.5 yards per kick this season.

Anderson is still the top running back for Arkansas, but only after a trip to the receiving corps for the last regular season game against Texas Tech.

Bill Pierce, a freshman who has started at quarterback and safety this season, will join Anderson and Jones in the backfield.

Arkansas lost its season-opener

21-10 to Texas before reeling off four consecutive wins against Oklahoma State, Tulsa, TCU and Wichita State.

But the Razorbacks found the going tougher after that, losing three straight to Houston, Rice and Southwest Conference champion Baylor. Arkansas' fifth loss came against Southern Methodist.

Tulane, a two-point underdog in the fourth Hall of Fame Bowl, finished the regular season at 7-4. Green-Wave Coach Vase Gibson predicts the game will be a high scoring "street fight."

"I'm really looking forward to coming home," the Birmingham native said. "I've got lots of friends here and it's going to be fun. I just hope I don't look bad in front of my home folks."

"Arkansas is a good team but we came to win," the first-year Tulane coach added. "I think it will be a great game and a high scoring game. You can bet it'll be a street fight."

Tulane is led by quarterback Nickie Hill. The 6-foot-5, 180-pound senior passed and ran for at least 200 yards in each of Tulane's first eight games.

Top quarterbacks to clash as Purdue faces Missouri

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The 22nd Annual Liberty Bowl game today promises to be a try offensive show highlighted by two top-ranked quarterbacks who have passed their way to post-season play.

The post-season classic pits members of two great football conferences, Missouri of the Big Eight and Purdue from the Big Ten. They will go home with the 3-3 record and a likely spot in the Top 20.

"I think both teams should be ranked," Purdue coach Jim Young said Friday. "I'm sure the team that wins undoubtedly will have some kind of ranking."

The Liberty Bowl outcome is likely to hinge on which quarterback gets the hot hand — Purdue's premier been catching Herrmann's touchdown tosses since they were junior high teammates.

The pressure to contain Purdue's precision passing attack will not only fall on the Missouri secondary, Powers said. It will take a team effort by the Tigers.

"You just can't say your secondary has got to play well," said Powers, 23-12 with Missouri. "You've got to have good pressure, good drops by your linebackers and a good secondary effort."

Bradley, a 6-5 senior who was the Big Eight offensive player of the year, keys the Tigers' attack. He completed 55 percent of his aerials this season and is also a dangerous threat to run on option plays.

Flanker Ron Fellows and tight end Randy Gibler beat the Tiger receivers list with a combined total of 59 catches in 1980. Running back James Wilder, who scored nine touchdowns and rushed for 839 yards this season, is a threat on the ground, but Bradley is the fuel that stokes the Missouri offensive fire.

"He is a guy who can make good plays out of broken plays," Young said. "When he goes back to pass, he can turn a pressure situation around."

All Big Eight safety Eric Wright anchors the Missouri defensive backfield. Linebacker Lester Dickey is the Tigers' master tackler with 130 tackles this season.

Purdue, 8-3, is riding a two-game winning streak in post-season play. With Young at the helm, the Boilermakers beat Tennessee, 27-22, last year in the Bluebonnet Bowl and downed Georgia Tech, 41-21, in the 1978 Peach Bowl.

Missouri is also 2-0 in its last two post-season appearances: The Tigers beat South Carolina in the 1979 Hall of Fame Bowl. The year before they dropped Auburn 20-15 in Missouri's only other Liberty Bowl appearance.

Powers said his team needs a steady offensive effort to win the Liberty again.

"We'll have to run efficiently and throw with authority to win," Powers said. "It's going to be a challenge."

Green wants to be a Saint

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Pittsburgh defensive end Hugh Green, winner of the Lombardi, Maxwell and UPI College Player of the Year awards and runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, let it be known Friday he would like very much to play for the New Orleans Saints.

But George Rogers, South Carolina's Heisman Trophy winner, Monday night in the Gator Bowl game, was a bit skeptical about playing for "a loser," although he said later it doesn't matter what pro football team he plays for.

Either Green or Rogers could be selected by New Orleans, the team with the worst win-loss record in the National Football League, in next May's college player draft.

The Saints reportedly will have a high-ranking player scout in the Saints' Monday night to evaluate the play of both blue-chip seniors and help the Saints to make a decision later about which one to pick.

"It will be like going home for me," said Green, who is original from Natchez, Miss., about a two-and-a-half-hour drive from New Orleans. "I want to go home. It will be very challenging for me if EL PASO, Texas (UPI) — Today's nationally televised 48th annual Sun Bowl pits the nation's top rushing offense against a defense known for spectacular last-ditch stands.

And while 17th-ranked Mississippi State has made a name for itself this season with sensational plays, No. 9 Nebraska has grabbed headlines with a week-long controversy over who will start at 1-back for the Cornhuskers.

Kickoff is 11:30 a.m. MST, and the game will be carried on the CBS television network.

All-American Jarvis Redwine of Nebraska, who rushed for 1,119 yards on 156 carries and scored nine touchdowns, was a season-long candidate for the 1980 Heisman Trophy, but Coach Tom Osborne indicated he'd decided against starting the Big Eight rushing leader after his sub-par performance in the Huskers' season-ending 21-17 loss to Oklahoma. Senior Craig Johnson, who rushed for 379 yards on 72 carries for six touchdowns, will start at 1-back.

Osborne said the media had "made much too much out of my decision not to start Redwine."

"It doesn't make any difference who starts Saturday," Osborne said when indicating his choice. "They all will play, and whoever plays best in the first half will probably start the second half."

Starting for the Bulldogs will be Mardy McDole, the All-SEC wingback who averaged 7.7 yards per carry.

McDole is a quick study who spent three years as a split end and was moved to the backfield when Emory Bellard moved down from Memphis State to take over the Bulldogs.

Nebraska's offense led the nation in rushing with an average of 378.3 yards per game on the ground. The Huskers, 9-2, finished second in total offense to Brigham Young's 508.9-yard average.

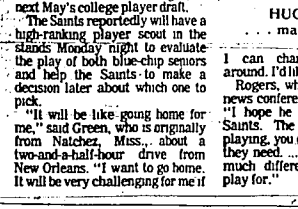

Mississippi State pulled itself together after a humbling 42-14 homecoming game loss to Southern Mississippi and won its last five games to finish 9-2.

That winning streak was marked by Franklin on a 21-yard scoring strike with 31 seconds left in the game.

But Venuto's hurried pass to Marvin Harvey of Southern Miss for the two-point conversion left the end zone turf, ending the Gray's hope of pulling off a last second comeback victory in the nationally televised game.

Oklahoma State Coach Jimmy Johnson created a strong rush on Venuto for the missed two-point try.

"The defense was just our regular three outstanding goal line stands. Against Miami (Fla.), the Bulldogs held on the 3-yard line with 4:21 to go on to win, 34-31. They topped Auburn, 24-21, with the help of a goal line stand with less than six minutes remaining. And against Alabama, the Bulldogs caused a fumble inside the 10-yard line to unsettle the Crimson Tide, 6-3.

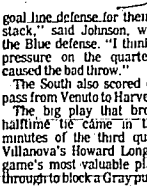

While all that was going on, Mississippi State's offense brought the crowd to its feet with several break-taking plays.

There was, for example, Glen Young's 100-yard punt return against LSU and McBride's 55-yard punt return score against Memphis State and his 62-yard, scoring run against Southern Mississippi.

Spedster feels his injury may have cost South victory

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Auburn speedster James Brooks, who bruised a rib after returning the second-half kickoff, says the No. 23 Blue-Gray All-Star victory if he could have finished the game.

Brooks scored on a two-yard run and returned a kickoff 48 yards to set up a Blue-Gray record 45-yard field goal by Clemson's Obed Arrin. The one-time Heisman Trophy candidate

Dueled Nicklaus in Open

Japanese golfer Aoki Asia's top sportsman

TOKYO (UPI) — Isao Aoki, the man-with-the-magnum-pistol who electrified golf fans by dueling Jack Nicklaus through 3 1/2 rounds of the U.S. Open, was Asia's top sportsman in 1980.

Aoki, a 36-year-old Japanese professional golfer, won the international golf fame in 1978 when he captured the World Matchplay Championship in England but it was his performance last June at Baltusart that thrust him into the worldwide sports stage more prominently than any Asian athlete since Sadaharu Oh started slugging home runs.

Aoki shot three successive 2-under-par 68s to catch Nicklaus for the lead after the third round in the prestigious U.S. Open. Over the years, the only Japanese who has won a golf tournament in the United States was Chako Higuchi in the 1977 LPGA Championship. So the hopes were high in Japan that Aoki might at last break the barrier against Japanese players in the highly competitive U.S. tour.

In a rare occurrence, Nicklaus, acknowledged to be the world's leading golfer in Japan as he is most everywhere, and Aoki had been paired in the first three rounds and they teed off again in the last two in the final round.

Aoki fell behind a stroke on the par-4 second hole when he three-putted for bogey — his first three-putt in four days. Nicklaus took a two stroke lead with a birdie on the third hole but Aoki birdied the eighth and was only one stroke back.

But the tall visitor bogeyed the par-3 ninth hole and never recovered the two-stroke lead that gave Nicklaus. They both birdied the same holes on the back nine, the 10th, 11th and 18th with pars on the other. Nicklaus finished with a 68 for an 8-under 272, breaking his own record for a U.S. Open championship of 275, established on the same course in 1967 and equaled by Lee Trevino in 1968. In addition to the $55,000 first prize, Nicklaus received a bonus of $50,000 from Golf Magazine for breaking a major-tournament record.

Aoki also received a $50,000 bonus for his 274 — a score which would have made him the winner in any of the previous 79 Opens. It was his misfortune to face a determined Nicklaus, who had not won and had failed to make the cut the previous week in the Atlanta Classic.

In July, Aoki had a 284 for a 12th place tie with Britons Sandy Lyle and Nick Faldo in the British Open, which was won by Tom Watson. Again, however, Aoki added some excitement, firing a course record 63 in the third round, on the 36-hole final to Australian Greg Norman.

Aoki's biggest disappointment in a tremendously successful season was his 5 and 4 defeat to Lyle in the World Matchplay Championship in October. Lyle lost only one hole in the 36-hole final to Australian Greg Norman.

But Aoki must have been satisfied in his last event of the year. In four rounds in December with former U.S. Open and World Matchplay Champion Hale Irwin in an International Golf Series, Aoki won the first in Hong Kong, the second in Jakarta, lost the third in Jakarta, and won the fourth in Kuala Lumpur for victory to win $28,000.

Domestically, Aoki earned 60,532,660 yen to be top money winner in the sport in Japan for the third year in a row. He won five tournaments in 1980 for a career total of 35.

Briefly in sports

Eagles fly to warmer weather

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The NFC East champion Philadelphia Eagles are taking wing out of the frigid Northeast for a three days of training in Tampa, Fla., a team spokesman said Friday. The team will pack its pads and leave Monday evening for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers training camp. The Eagles are scheduled to return to Philadelphia Thursday night to prepare for the semifinals of the NFC championship in Philadelphia Jan. 3.

Bills continue drills, await foe

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — Despite not yet knowing who they'll meet in the playoffs, the Buffalo Bills resumed drills Friday after a Christmas break to prepare for their Jan. 3 or 4 postseason encounter. Coach Chuck Knox said the team would also practice at Rich Stadium Saturday and Sunday. The AFC Eastern Division champions will find out who they play after the outcome of Sunday's wild card playoff game pitting the Houston Oilers against the Oakland Raiders.

Kings sign former Cleveland player

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Kansas City Kings Friday announced the signing of free agent John Lambert, a 6-foot-10 forward-center released earlier this week by the Cleveland Cavaliers. The Kings would not release details of Lambert's contract. To make room on the roster, Kansas City waived forward Gus Gerard. John gives us a little more size," said Kings coach Cotton Fitzsimmons. "He can also run the floor and shoot the ball a little bit. He will not only be able to backup the center position, but also the strong forward position."

Indiana favored in Rainbow Classic

HONOLULU (UPI) — Sixteenth-ranked Indiana doesn't have the best record, but the Hoosiers are the choice to continue the Big Ten Conference's recent domination of the Rainbow Classic. Clemson and Marquette, both looking for national recognition, come into the eight-team, four-day tournament which starts today, with 7-1 and 6-1 marks, respectively. Clemson's lone blemish, ironically, was at the hands of the Warriors — by one point, in Milwaukee — so a revenge game in the Classic is a possibility.

Indiana favored in Rainbow Classic

Indiana, on the other hand, starts the tournament with a 6-3 record. But it should be pointed out that the three defeats suffered by Bobby Knight's team were to top-ranked Kentucky by two points, No. 7 North Carolina by nine and No. 11 Notre Dame by four. But to maintain the Big Ten's supremacy in the Classic, Indiana will first have to get by Rutgers, which comes into the tournament with a 4-4 record, Sunday night.

Little to have neck surgery

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — Steve Little, the former St. Louis Cardinals' kicker who was paralyzed in an automobile accident in October, spent Christmas at home but was scheduled to undergo surgery on New Year's Eve. Alan Saunders, public relations director for the Baptist Medical Center, said Friday Little had been released for Christmas but would enter University Medical Center this weekend for neck surgery. Little spent the holiday at his Maumelle, Ark., home. Saunders said the Dec. 31 surgery would attempt to stabilize Little's neck, which was broken in a one-car crash at St. Louis only hours after Little was cut from the professional football team. Spinal cord damage left him paralyzed from the shoulders down. When Little, a former University of Arkansas all-star, entered the Arkansas Rehabilitation Institute Nov. 16, doctors were hopeful his neck would mend without surgery.

Australian, Hawaiian are top surfers

HONOLULU (UPI) — Australia's Mark Richards and Hawaii's Margo Oberg have been honored as "Surfers of the Year" by the International Professional Surfing Association. Richards and Oberg accumulated the most points during the year, as tabulated by the association, to win their awards. Richards recently took top honors in the OI-shore Masters at Pipeline on Oahu's north shore, and Oberg's most recent victory was the OP Women's World Cup of Surfing.

Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Basic bidding rules recap

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

This is our 52nd article on bidding. We have concentrated on standard American as that is the system used by the great majority of players throughout the world. There are other systems. In fact, Alan Sontag uses a very complicated club system with Peter Weichsel, his favorite partner. Such systems work well if you can afford to devote countless hours of study and practice, but don't let anyone fool you and tell you that they are easier to use than standard. They aren't. They are far more complicated.

In standard you can add as many gadgets as you wish. Just bear in mind that your gadget is fine as long as you and your partner don't forget it or let it confuse you.

We recommend these basic rules for bidding:

1. Always open the bidding with 14 high-card points, near-ly always with 13, often with 12 and occasionally with 11. Remember that the strength for an opening bid does not always justify getting in against an adverse opening.
2. The one-no trump opening should show 16-18 or 15-17 HCP, but not 15-18.
3. Use Blackwood and Stayman.
4. Tend to overbid with good hands and underbid with bad ones.
5. Make sure that you and your partners work together. Remember that if your partner loses you do also.

Suggestions for slightly advanced bidding:

1. Use weak two bids with two clubs as the only forcing opening.
2. Use the Jacoby transfer in one of its simpler forms.

It doesn't require much study to use one or both of these conventions, but—almost as common in tournament play as Blackwood and Stayman—
