Senate will aid Contras

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday to approve $38 million in non-weapons logistical aid to anti-Sandinista rebels and to repeal a strict prohibition against U.S. support for military action inside Nicaragua.

The aid amendment would provide $14 million this year and $24 million next year, resuming direct U.S. assistance to rebels fighting to overthrow Nicaragua's leftist government.

The Democratic-controlled House, which has led opposition to CIA aid to the guerrilla forces in Nicaragua known as the Contras, is expected to vote on a similar proposal next week.

Reagan, in a statement released by the White House, said the Senate amendment would "provide support for the freedom fighters who are struggling for liberty and democracy in Nicaragua. The Senate has seen that their struggle is ours — that they need and deserve the help of the American people."

He urged the House "to join with the Senate in sending a signal to both the Sandinistas and to the struggling Nicaraguan democratic opposition. The only resolution to the tragedy in Nicaragua is the same course which the Congress has supported in El Salvador — that of democracy, reconciliation and liberty."

The proposal, sponsored by Sens. Richard Lugar, R-Ind. and Sam Nunn, D-Ga., would restrict the aid to food, clothing, medicines and transportation. It bars use of the money to buy weapons, ammunition, and other lethal military equipment.

But the aid could be funneled through the CIA, which trained and supported the rebel force from 1981 until last year.

Nunn refused to rule out the possibility that the amendment would allow providing the Contras with defensive radar gear, as well as possible CIA use of helicopters to fly medical supplies to the rebels fighting inside Nicaragua.

Nunn said that the new U.S. assistance would show that the United States "stands with those who favor democracy" in Nicaragua. But he added that it would also encourage efforts to resolve internal Nicaraguan disputes peacefully.

The amendment contains language urging progress toward a negotiated settlement in the region.

And, as an incentive, it would suspend economic sanctions if the Sandinista government agrees to a cease-fire and to open negotiations with the rebels.

Reagan seeks school prayer ruling reversal

By W. DALE NELSON The Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — President Reagan, concluding a two-day campaign swing for his tax plan, sought recruits Thursday for an "uphill battle" to overturn the latest Supreme Court ruling against organized school prayer.

Reagan's first comment on Tuesday's 5-3 high court decision striking down an Alabama school prayer law came at a fund-raising luncheon here for Sen. Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala.

"I know that there has been a strong push here in Birmingham to help restore voluntary prayer in public schools," Reagan said. "As this week's Supreme Court decision shows, we still have an uphill battle before us. So I hope we can also count on the support of Alabama's entire congressional delegation for our prayer amendment, because it is time it was adopted."

Earlier in the day, Reagan stumped for his tax simplification plan before a group of Atlanta high school students. "We're trying to take less money from you and less from your parents," the president said. In Tuesday's prayer decision, the high court struck down an Alabama law that provided a daily minute of silence for "meditation or voluntary prayer" because the statute violated the constitutional separation of church and state.

The court ruled that public schools providing a silent period for students cannot suggest that they use the time to pray.

It was the high court's first major ruling on the issue since it outlawed school-sponsored prayer in the classroom in 1962.

Before Reagan spoke, Denton presented him with an anti-tax simplification tax. Outside the Birmingham Civic Center, a large group of demonstrators carried similar placards and chanted, "Make Love, Not War."

Reagan's appearance at the Denton campaign fundraiser was the last event of his two-day speaking tour of Oklahoma, Georgia and Alabama on behalf of Republican candidates and his tax simplification program.

PRESIDENT REAGAN Recruiting for 'uphill battle'

In Atlanta, where it was unseasonably hot, Reagan removed his jacket to speak to students in a steamy gymnasium at Northside High School.

As many in the gym wiped sweat from their brows, Reagan joked that as commander-in-chief he has the prerogative of prescribing the proper uniform. With that, he took off his light brown suit jacket and many in the crowd followed his example.

"Someone might say it's odd to talk about tax policy with young people in their teens, but I don't think so," Reagan told the students.

"I know some of you already have part-time jobs, and I know you keep your eye on the part of the check that shows what Uncle Sam is taking out. What we're trying to do is change some of those numbers," the president said.

Mengele's body believed found

By STAN LEHMAN The Associated Press

EMBU, Brazil — Police exhumed a body in this quiet town Thursday that they believe is Dr. Josef Mengele, the sadistic Auschwitz "Angel of Death" who became the symbol of Nazi evil.

Romeo Tuma, the federal police chief in Sao Paulo, said he was "90 percent convinced" that a man who drowned at the seashore in 1979, and was buried as an Austrian, was the doctor whose bizarre medical "experiments" made a shocking page even in Adolf Hitler's book of horrors.

Leading Nazi hunters were skeptical. Three grave-diggers with picks and shovels opened the weed-covered mound in the small cemetery. The coffin stuck in the cavity, which was four feet deep, and police told them to smash it open.

Bones and shreds of clothing were removed by hand. Jose Antonio de Melo, assistant director of the Sao Paulo morgue, held the skull high for the hundreds of onlookers to see.

De Mello said it would be difficult to determine whether the disarrayed bones, placed in a morgue van on a long metal tray, were those of the man who sent hundreds of thousands of people to gas chambers.

"By the looks of things it will take at least 15 days to get a positive ID," he said. He said the teeth were sufficiently well-preserved to allow comparisons with any appropriate dental records.

Transcripts released for Piler lawsuit

By DEANS MILLER Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Threats and management methods that offended district staff are recurrent allegations in the transcript of the Twin Falls School Board's October 15 and 16 hearings regarding the firing of ex-Superintendent Dennis Piler.

The transcripts, filed in federal court in Boise, record the testimony of 11 district employees, a school patron, and Piler himself at the two-day closed hearing.

Piler is suing the school district for alleged violations of his constitutional right to due process when the board fired him in August 1984.

Robert Stuart Junior High School secretary Diane Peavy, Morningstar Elementary School Principal Dennis Sontus, Twin Falls High School vice principals Norman

Thomas and Richard Baun and former assistant superintendent Carl Snow testified before the board that Piler had threatened their jobs and those of others in order to get them to follow him and his orders.

Former school lunch program cashier Bonnie Parsons; Peavy; ancillary services director Larry Watson, and athletic director Al Glanders testified that in meetings with district staff, Piler cursed, was rude, and dis-fended district staff. Piler denied most of the allegations in his testimony, but admits to threatening to fire Parsons and another secretary for allegedly gossiping about board treasurer Jenny Dougherty and for allegedly gossiping that he had fathered an illegitimate child and that he was trying to be the "stud of Twin Falls."

He testified that he told them "forced district staff."

Most of the calls we have been getting are Valley area working at the hotline, said one volunteer on the second day, Monday.

The hotline is intended to serve as a clearing house and referral service for troubled farmers. Volunteers answering the phone are those in trouble to help for both personal problems. For people who are forced of their farm, the hotline can help them find shelter, food, and clothing.

After 3 years, Israel pulls out of Lebanon

ACHZIV, Israel (AP) — Israel's army completed its withdrawal from Lebanon on Thursday, the senior commander said three years to the day after it invaded the country to crush the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"The withdrawal is actually over, but some troops will continue to go in and out," Maj. Gen. Ori Orr, commander of Israeli forces in Lebanon, told The Associated Press at a party for returning soldiers at a seaford park 2 1/2 miles from the border.

The party was held for an engineering unit that had helped dismount Israeli positions in Lebanon. Israel began pulling its troops out Feb. 16 in a multi-staged operation.

Prime Minister Shimon Peres and other senior officials have said some soldiers would remain temporarily to make certain the sensitive area near the border remains quiet and guerrillas do not infiltrate.

Israeli military officials said earlier that troops remaining in Lebanon numbered in the hundreds and most were assigned to help the South Lebanon Army, a Christian-dominated militia of about 2,000 men.

On June 6, 1982, the Rosh Hanira crossing on the Mediterranean and roads throughout northern Israel were clogged with military traffic as Israeli armor and troops streamed in to Lebanon.

Troubled farmers call in New farm hotline gets 'heavy traffic'

By KENNETH A. BROWN Times-News writer

BOISE — The Family Farm Hotline started its first two days with what organizers described as "heavy traffic," receiving more than 200 calls from both troubled farmers and those seeking help.

Max Holloway, a volunteer from the Greater Valley area working at the hotline, said most of the calls were on the second day, Monday.

The hotline is intended to serve as a clearing house and referral service for troubled farmers. Volunteers answering the phone are those in trouble to help for both personal problems. For people who are forced of their farm, the hotline can help them find shelter, food, and clothing.

3rd septuplet dies in his parents' arms

Samuel Frustaci hugs doctor after death of 3rd septuplet

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — A third James Martin septuplet, a tiny boy named James Martin, died Thursday in the arms of his parents, and one of his sisters was said by their father "to be hanging on by a thread."

Samuel Frustaci, fighting back tears, announced the death of his son at a news conference, saying that he and his wife, Patricia, felt "very fortunate that James was able to remain with us for as long as he did. We both were able to be with James at his passing."

The infant died 16 days after birth, of cardiopulmonary arrest caused by hyaline membrane disease — an inability to produce a substance that keeps the lungs from collapsing. All surviving Frustaci babies, born 12 weeks premature, suffer from the ailment.

Frustaci said he saw in James Martin the same "fighting spirit" of another septuplet nicknamed Peanut, 1-pound David Anthony, who died May 21. A girl, Christina Elizabeth, was stillborn when the babies were delivered by Caesarean section May 21.

"We know James has gone to the place from which he came, where Peanut and Christina await him," Frustaci said, pausing as tears overwhelmed him.

Dr. Carole Worcester, director of newborn intensive care at Children's Hospital, also wiped away tears as she told reporters: "Septuplet B died at 11:04 a.m. after a valiant struggle for life. As you know, his chances for survival were 50-50."

Bonnie Marie is still "fighting for her life, with only a very, very small chance for her survival," Ms. Worcester said.

Frustaci said he and his wife were notified two days ago that both babies were in danger of dying.

"Bonnie Marie is fighting for her life," he said. "She's hanging on by a thread. We hope and pray she survives."

Ms. Worcester said James Martin's condition never improved and had worsened considerably in the last few days, when his parents began a vigil at his side.

"He went into complete respiratory arrest in his parents' arms," she said.

Ms. Worcester credited the constant presence of the parents with increasing the baby's life, saying that each time the mother would touch the baby, readings of his oxygen blood saturation would go up 10 percent.

South sizzles for 6th straight day; 4 left dead

ATLANTA (AP) — Churches offered air-conditioned refuge for the poor. Alabama provided fans to poultry farmers, and some merchants ran out of ice Thursday as Southerners baked and crops wilted under a six-day heat wave blamed for four deaths.

But forecasters promised that relief from the 100-degree-plus temperatures was just a few days away.

Southerners huddled around fans and air conditioners, driving demand for electricity to an all-time high for the third straight day, according to the Southern Co., whose subsidiaries serve Georgia, Alabama, northeast Florida and southeast Mississippi.

The six-day heat wave erased or led 21 more records in Southern cities Wednesday.

Bibb County, Ga., Deputy Coroner Jimmy Fain said Thursday that the death of an 84-year-old Macon woman had been attributed to heat. The body of Ola B. Green was found in her home Wednesday.

Earlier in the week, authorities in Georgia, Alabama and Florida each reported one heat-related death.

Churches and emergency agencies in towns throughout the region opened air conditioned rooms and offered refuge to the poor and elderly living in uncooled homes.

Justice Department won't prosecute official

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has decided not to prosecute Everett G. Rank Jr., a top Agriculture Department official who oversaw a 1983 subsidy program that yielded $1.2 million for a farm in which he was a partner.

Rank was admonished by an Agriculture Department official for creating "the appearance of a conflict between your public duties and responsibilities and your private business interests," and the agency scheduled ethics classes for all of its senior officials following the seven-month investigation.

John J. Franke Jr., USDA assistant secretary for administration, told Rank in a letter that "in the future you must exercise more caution to ensure that your actions are always in the best interests of the department

...." The Justice Department said its decision not to prosecute Rank came not because it believed there was no evidence he had violated federal ethics law governing public officials, but because of "several equitable and practical considerations," according to a letter released with other documents to The Associated Press under the Freedom of Information Act.

Dairy farmers get $1 billion in return for no production

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. dairy farmers got nearly $1 billion in payments for not producing milk during a 16-month federal program that ended two months ago, the Agriculture Department said Thursday.

Although the legislation that established the program called for it to be paid for entirely out of assessments on dairy farmers, about $89 million of the cost had to be absorbed by taxpayers, a department report said.

The report noted that while $85 million in payments went to nearly 42,000 dairy farmers, they were heavily skewed toward the largest producers. About 8 percent of the farmers received 35 percent of the money, said the report released under the Freedom of Information Act.

The information had been requested by Public Voice, a Washington consumer advocacy group for food and nutrition policy.

Next week the House dairy subcommittee is tentatively scheduled to begin drafting dairy provisions to become part of an emerging overall farm bill. The panel's chairman, Rep. Tony Coelho, D-Calif., reportedly will sponsor the industry proposal, including the so-called "paid diversion" provisions.

Balu Natarajan, 13, gets it right to win the Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-year-old Illinois boy, who often speaks his parents' native Indian language at home, won the National Spelling Bee on his third attempt Thursday by correctly spelling the word "milleu."

"I did not feel I would win, but I knew it would not be easy," said Balu Natarajan, an eighth-grader from Bolingbrook, Ill., with an interest in basketball, computers and baseball cards. "I was optimistic."

To capture the $1,000 prize, Balu, sponsored by The Chicago Tribune, spelled 16 words in 13 rounds. Before "milleu," he got "farrago," a word misspelled by runner-up Kate Lingley, 13, Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

Another three-time national bee participant, Tanya Solomon, 13, Kansas City, Mo., came in third, forced out by the word "sylepsis."

Unlike his first two contests, the self-confident Balu said he was able to successfully guess certain words this year to defeat 167 spellers in the two-day event sponsored by Scripps Howard Newspapers.

Two of the words he took a chance on where "rheumatoid" and "diatoriness," he said.

Asked what was his hardest word, Balu replied: "The last one." When the announcer posed "milleu" to Balu, he asked about various pronunciations for the word. Then, he stated the word and spelled it.

To prepare for the contest, Balu said he studied word lists and read extensively. "Hard work" is the key, said the teen-ager. "Keep spelling and keep reading."

"Hard work and a lot of luck," interjected Balu's father, Chanda, an accountant and management consultant who immigrated to the United States from south India about 15 years ago.

"This is a family project," said Balu's mother, Janacky, clad in a sari, the traditional Indian dress.

Although the family frequently speaks Tamil at home, or a mixture of Tamil and English — called "Tinglish" by Balu, Mrs. Natarajan said her oldest son was born in the United States and "is definitely an American."

In addition to Tamil, Balu is learning Spanish, and studied Greek and Latin word roots to improve his spelling.

Charles W. Lewis, 14, Gettysburg, Pa., was one of the five finalists. Like Balu and Tanya, Charles was attending his third bee. His downfall came on "obvolute."

Last year's runner-up, Amy McWhirter, 14, St. Joseph, Mich., was forced out on the seventh round by "thiazide."

Mary Mangold, co-director of the bee, said the event lasted longer than previous contests in part because of the record number of participants.

The spellers, selected from up to 9 million students nationwide, were also well prepared, she said.

7 hurt in prison disturbance

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Seven possible broken jaw and another of prison guards were injured Thursday when about 35 inmates tried to pick a fight with a guard. The guard was beaten in the face, said Dan Wrennan, a spokesman for the Michigan Department of Corrections. The guard suffered minor injuries, but no other guards suffered minor injuries, authorities said.

A single warning shot was fired from one of the prison turrets, but no inmates were injured, said Robert Mills, a supervisor with the Michigan Department of Corrections.

Deliberations begin in Klan case

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — A federal jury began deliberating Thursday whether racism or hatred of communism led Klansmen, neo-Nazis and law enforcement officers to conspire to allow a 1979 anti-Klan rally to erupt in violence.

The case sought not to be decided because this person is a communist or that person is a member of the Klan," U.S. District Judge Robert Merhige told the jury pondering the rally survivors' $48 million suit.

The jury began deliberating at 1:38 p.m. after receiving more than two hours of instruction from the judge. They recessed for the day at 6 p.m. and were scheduled to resume deliberations Friday.

Closing arguments in the 13-week case ended Wednesday night with plaintiffs' lawyer Lewis Pitts asking the six jurors to reject the notion that blacks, civil rights advocates and communists are "so unobservant of constitutional rights that it's O.K. to kill them."

4 MOVE members buried

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Funerals have been held for four of the 11 members of MOVE killed in the May 13 confrontation and fire, according to a MOVE spokesman and family members.

Several MOVE members joined relatives last week at the funeral for Conrad Hampton Africa, 36, said Sandra Camacho, a cousin of the deceased.

During the non-traditional service, at a cemetery in suburban Glenside, "one of his friends sang 'Oh Danny Boy,' his favorite song," Ms. Camacho said. She said, "Everybody who had something to say just said it."

MOVE spokesman Gerald Ford Africa said family members had buried the bodies of three other MOVE members: Theresa Brooks Africa, 26, Rhonda Harris Africa, 30, and Raymond Foster Africa, 49.

Honor SALT II terms, NATO allies tell U.S.

ESTORIL, Portugal (AP) — NATO allies urged the United States on Thursday to keep honoring the unratified U.S.-Soviet SALT II treaty as a symbol of nuclear arms control, sources close to the foreign ministers' meeting said Thursday.

The Atlantic Alliance ministers also exhibited little enthusiasm for President Reagan's project to develop a missile defense system in space, said the sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz asked for the allies' views on SALT II at the outset of North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in this coastal resort just west of Lisbon. SALT II sets broad limits on strategic offensive nuclear weapons systems.

Hans-Dietrich Genscher of West Germany welcomed the current U.S.-Soviet arms talks, which began in March in Geneva, Switzerland, as "a change for drastic reduction" of nuclear weapons.

He and other European ministers said during the closed meeting that the West should do nothing to jeopardize the chances for success in Geneva, the sources reported. They said that included ignoring the SALT II treaty, according to the sources.

An Italian official quoted Giulio Andreotti as saying SALT II is a "symbol of the validity of arms control" and to abandon its terms would be "counterproductive" even if the Soviets were violating them.

A British official said Sir Geoffrey Howe, the British foreign secretary, told the meeting that ignoring the treaty would call into question the West's sincerity in advocating arms control.

"It is very important not to throw away the very rule against which the Soviet performance could be judged," the official quoted Howe as saying.

Sikhs crowd Indian temple in honor of fallen militants

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — About 20,000 Sikhs crowded into the Golden Temple on Thursday to denounce the late Indira Gandhi and pay homage to the Sikh militants killed one year ago when she ordered the army to invade the shrine.

"We will face bullets on our chests but we will form Khalistan" — an independent Sikh nation, chanted many of the Sikhs at the largest anti-government rally inside the sacred temple since the army assault last June 4-7.

Sikh extremist leader Joginder Singh, who presided at the rally, called Mrs. Gandhi "the destroyer of modern India" and members of the crowd shouted that the Sikhs accused of assassinating the prime minister were martyrs.

In New Delhi, the prosecution opened its case Thursday in the trial of three Sikhs charged in Mrs. Gandhi's slaying last Oct. 31.

Singh urged Sikhs at the rally to buy weapons and worship them in the tradition of Sikh gurus.

Federation bans English soccer clubs

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — The International Soccer Federation on Thursday banned English clubs from world competition indefinitely because of the Brussels soccer riot in which 39 people died.

of the federation, said the sanctions are a worldwide extension of the ban imposed Sunday by the Union of European Football Associations. The union, European soccer's governing body, barred English teams from playing on the continent for an indefinite period.

Wheeler-Brinton

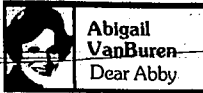

RUPERT — Wayne and Norma Wheeler, Rupert, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Mark Brinton, son of J. Emerson and Eva Brinton, Idaho Falls. Wheeler is a graduate of Minico High School and Brigham Young University and has filled a mission for the LDS church in Arizona. She is a teacher in the Minidoka County School District.

Brinton, a graduate of Idaho Falls High School, attended Idaho State University, graduating from BYU. He also served an LDS mission in Michigan and is employed as a certified public accountant with Reincke and Mayes accounting firm.

The couple will be married June 14 at the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City. A reception is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. June 15 at the Acoquia ward.

Last year's advice on Dad still applies

DEAR READERS: Next Sunday (June 16) is Father's Day. Many believe Father's Day was invented by the merchants who saw a way to play on the sentiments of the buying public and stimulate business — after all, almost everybody has a father. (Look what Mother's Day has done for the florists, greeting card people and retail merchants!) Regardless of whose idea it was, it's a good one that has taken hold, and continues to bring joy to dear old Dad.

Abigail VanBuren Dear Abby

I was encouraged to run it annually, so here it is: DEAR ABBY: The week before Father's Day you wrote: "Don't give Dad another tie, shirt or wallet; give him something he will cherish forever — a letter telling him how much he means to you."

Last year, my Father's Day column brought a surprising number of requests from editors of church bulletins, newsletters and other publications asking permission to reprint it. Many readers wrote to say that they had put my suggestion to use, and found it more appreciated than any gift they had given Dad.

Well, I composed a letter on the bus overnight every morning, typed it on my lunch hour and mailed it to my father in a beautiful card that evening. He was actually my stepfather, but he had been more of a father to me than my real father. I knew it would mean a lot to him, especially since he was in the hospital at the time.

Thank you so very much for making me put my thoughts of love and gratitude on paper. If this letter helps just one person to do what I did, it was worth writing.

—NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: A number of years ago, we bought a home in a nice, quiet, high-class neighborhood. Now one of our neighbors has made it look like a cheap flea market! She has one yard sale after another, which brings a lot of people in front of my house as well as hers.

Believe me, she doesn't need the money. The traffic is annoying, and so is the noise. And it looks terrible!

Last summer she started selling vegetables from their small backyard garden, with signs all over the yard. Now I think this is really tacky!

I am annoyed! What can I do outside of filing a complaint with the city? I am told by other neighbors that this enterprising neighbor manages to stay just within the law.

—LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: If your enterprising neighbor manages to stay within the law, there is nothing you can do. Ask a lawyer if a yard sale qualifies as "an attractive nuisance."

DEAR ABBY: What should a woman do when a man gives her an engagement ring while proposing marriage, and she doesn't like the ring? Don't get me wrong. I love the man, but I don't care for the ring. Must I wear the ring the rest of my life and not let on that I don't like it?

Or should I ask him, as tactfully as possible, to exchange it for a style more in keeping with my taste?

I've heard several opinions. My mother said she'd kill me if I opened my mouth.

—CONFUSED IN QUEENS

DEAR CONFUSED: Be honest with him. Tell him you love him and know he wants to please you so if it's possible to exchange the ring, you'd like to go with him and select one more in keeping with your taste. And tell your mama that Abby says if you're old enough to take a husband, you're old enough to make your own decisions.

—LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

Danger of fast pulse depends on its cause

DEAR DR. LAMB: For several years I have noticed that my pulse rate ranges from 100 to 120 beats a minute.

Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

I've heard from doctors that an average person's heart rate is 75 to 80 beats per minute. I take my pulse at the wrist and it is over 100 any time of the day or night, whether I'm sitting, standing, walking or reclining in bed at night.

I'm female, 27 years old and presumably healthy. Is this dangerous for me now or in later life?

DEAR READER: How dangerous a fast pulse is depends entirely on what is causing it.

You expect your heart rate to speed up with exertion or even with excitement. But otherwise a healthy adult's heart rate should be 80 or less. We usually say up to 100 is normal, but that's not true of healthy individuals who are physically fit and in optimal health.

Cigarettes often increase a person's resting heart rate to 10 to 20 beats a minute. A heavy smoker might have a rate such as yours. A heavy coffee drinker may have a fast resting heart rate, too.

I found a number of otherwise healthy pilots who had fast heart rates from the coffee and cigarette habit.

Poor physical condition also can contribute to a fast resting heart rate. Remember that physically fit individuals tend to have a slow resting heart rate, often 60 or below.

Anxiety can cause a fast resting heart rate, too. If a person reasonably fit has no bad habits and no health problems, but still has a fast heart rate, anxiety should be considered.

If none of these apply, then you should think of various diseases which can cause a fast resting heart rate. A possibility is an overactive thyroid gland. I remember a young medical student who heard me say that exercise would slow your heart rate so he ran and ran, but still had a fast resting heart rate.

He then asked one of the doctors about his condition and had checkup which found an overactive thyroid. So yes, if good habits and being physically fit do not result in a more normal resting heart rate, one should certainly look for underlying and unrecognized medical problems. I'm sending you The Health Letter, Special Report 22, which will help you understand your problem. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper to Box 326, San Antonio, Texas, 78292.

DEAR DR. LAMB: In one of your recent columns you said only a sexual partner of a patient with herpes also gets genital herpes. Can this disease just develop in a person as cold sores do on the mouth?

Also can a person be a carrier of genital herpes and not actually have any symptoms?

DEAR READER: I've news for you. Lip herpes doesn't just develop. It is a contagious disease and it is the result of kissing someone who has lip herpes. Figures vary but as many as 90 percent of the population has antibodies to lip herpes. That should not be surprising considering how common kissing is in our society and it occurs so early in life.

Always is a word which doesn't apply to medicine. So I'll say that genital herpes is almost always from genital contact.

I don't think you need to worry about getting it from the toilet seat or casual contact with inanimate objects. The virus can't survive very long and it is more likely to be transmitted if friction causes a break in the skin.

Yes, a small percentage of the people can shed the virus and be contagious even if there are no blisters or signs of activity.

Center to sponsor childbirth course

TWIN FALLS — A prepared childbirth course for parents expecting in August will begin June 13 at the Magic Valley Regional Medical Center.

The Lamaze-based series of seven classes will be held at 7 p.m. Thursdays in the second-floor conference room. The fee is $25.

The course, which is designed to prepare parents for childbirth and early parenting, includes films, slides and physician question-and-answer sessions. The expectant mother is asked to wear comfortable pants and bring two pillows. A support person is encouraged to attend.

Registration is required. To register or to obtain more information, call 737-2120 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Early detection can prevent serious problems and will give you peace of mind.

Singer likes imageless image

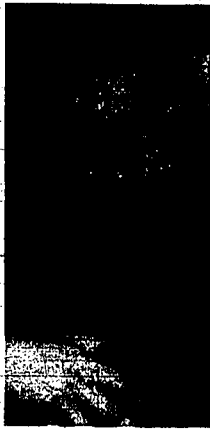

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Not having an image has become the image of singer Phil Collins, the laid-back Cabbage Patch Kid of pop music.

The British drummer of Genesis who has turned his talents to singing is currently enjoying a red-hot solo career. "I made a pact with myself never to be too calculated. Not bothering about image suddenly means you've got to be careful you're not bothering about it," he said.

Outside Radio City Music Hall, third stop on his American tour which ends July 2, tickets were being scalped for $100 each. Inside, excited fans screamed.

"Against All Odds" and "One More Night" have enough momentum and noise of the band to carry them. "If Leaving Me Is Easy" is a very quiet song which relies almost totally on mood. "You get people shouting out every time I stop singing. And last night someone was practicing a bird whistle," Collins said in an interview. But he'll keep singing the quiet songs. "I shall persevere," he said. "They will have to listen eventually."

PHIL COLLINS
Pop's Cabbage Patch Kid

For an interview, Collins — whose current Atlantic album is "No Jacket Required" — wore a Rolex watch, casual shirt and slacks, wrestling shoes and several days' growth of beard. He has worn "proper shoes" twice in the past few years — when he married American Jill Tavelman last summer in a small English church and at the Academy Awards this year where his title song for "Against All Odds" did not win.

for the song at the Grammy Awards, he was on stage in Brussels wearing sneakers.

He isn't sure whether his beard is three or four days old. "I've had beads coming and going for many years now. I could shave when I get back from a gig when I don't feel like it or in the morning when I don't feel like it. When it starts looking dirty, I shave."

"I should have shaved today. I went to the Brooklyn Bridge to do a video for 'Take Me Home.' We're doing a line in cities around the world. It'll be spliced together. Continually of my beard over four months is hopeless. I can't possibly worry about that."

Collins joined Genesis as drummer in 1970, in time for its third album, "Nursery Crime." When lead singer Peter Gabriel left in 1975, the demise of Genesis was widely predicted. Collins became vocalist. He still drums on albums; Chester Thompson is tour drummer. "Genesis is reaching more people each time we come out. Even after 15 albums, it is still growing."

Previous solo albums include "Face Value," 1981, and "Heel-to-Toe Must Be Going!" in 1982. After the second, he decided he had enough songs to tour. It was successful but nothing like this time. Collins attributes the current success to "Easy Lover," the song he did with Phillip Bailey, and "Against All Odds," which both rose to No. 1 in the United States. He also produced Bailey's "Chinese Wall" album.

to No. 1 in the United States. He also produced Bailey's "Chinese Wall" album.

"I never dreamed I would produce records; it is such a responsible gig," he said. "When it came to my own record, 'Face Value,' it was so personal I didn't want anybody else to do it."

At 59, Davis is still the Picasso of jazz

By RICHARD HARRINGTON
The Washington Post

NEW YORK — His sketches are scattered haphazardly around the soft gray, airy Fifth Avenue apartment, overlooking Central Park and within spitting distance of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The artist — small, sinewy, exuding inner strength and but a challenge — is sitting through layers of drawings, the detritus of late-night energies.

"My maid makes everything disappear," complains Miles Dewey Davis III, two days past his 59th birthday. His voice is rough and raspy yet strangely muted, very much like the trumpet he wields as elegantly as Pablo Picasso did his brush. Finally he finds the sketch he's looking for, a swirl of shapes that could be dancers or ghosts or shadows or melodies. The problem now is figuring out which way it hangs. Unsigned, it offers no clues.

"It could go either way," Davis shrugs. After shuffling it back among the others, he sits down at the glass dining table, picks up half a dozen flow pens and begins to fill a sketchbook with spare strokes of color and rolling contours.

Davis' comment about art that "could go either way" is not a bad metaphor for his music. It has in fact gone many ways. Independent of commercial considerations or audience approval. It was Duke Ellington who first compared Davis to Picasso, two men connected by constant artistic flux, oblivious to tradition, and unsympathetic artistic and social climates.

But not even Ellington led so many seminal ensembles of players who would themselves become influential figures, ranging from John Coltrane, Sonny Rollins and Bill Evans to Herbie Hancock, Return to Forever and Weather Report. Even the new young trumpet lion, Wynton Marsalis, is patterned on a long-age Miles Davis.

This year happens to be the 40th anniversary of Davis' recording debut (with Charlie Parker), but, typically, he is not looking back. He has little use for the past, does not listen to the classics — "Kind of Blue" or "Miles Smiles" or "Sketches of Spain" or "In a Silent Way" or "Bitches Brew" — all of which are milestones in the evolution of modern jazz, tracing Davis' personal journey from the incendiary bebop movement of the mid-'40s to his initiation of cool jazz at the end of that decade, past the hard bop and orchestral jazz of the mid-'50s, the advent of modal improvising around 1960, the seed-sowing for jazz-rock fusion in the late '60s and funk-jazz in the early '70s.

What's what

What's the first thing you do after you notice a cockroach has touched your bare skin? First thing the cockroach does is go off and clean itself thoroughly.

If bearded men frighten you, maybe you're afflicted with that ailment called "pogonophobia." It's not so uncommon. Children's stories of yesteryear frequently portrayed villains as men with big black beards.

NEWMAN'S WAR

Q. What, if anything, did actor Paul Newman do in the military?
A—Radio operator and-gunner-on-U.S. Navy torpedo planes in the South Pacific during World War II.

Q. How many people are electrocuted nationwide every year when their hair dryers fall into their bathtubs?
A. About 30. At last count.

Q. How do you play the violin "collegio"?
A. Scrape the strings with the back of the bow.

STANDARD VIOLINS

Ell Whitney standardized rittle parts so any part of one gun could replace any part of another of the same make. It was a key development in the industrial revolution. Music went through something similar. The modern symphony didn't become possible until violin makers standardized the whole violin family of instruments. So composers could write for any string section.

Daily Horoscope

gain greater benefits, but in the evening avoid friends who are too demanding.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can make arrangements for entertainment far into the future, but count the cost well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get interesting mechanisms for your home so that living can be made easier there. Be kind with kids in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can handle personal matters wisely in the morning, but don't fret over some problem in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use different methods and add value to property you own and gain other assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have good judgment and can think ahead very nicely now, so do so. Forget about gadding about town tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Your intuition tells you how to make the plans that bring prosperity in the future. Resist temptation to step out on your mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will bring out excellent talents through which much success can be attained, so be encouraging and give the benefit of a fine education so that the sky will be the limit here. The latter years will be much slower and more attention to philanthropic work will be given.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, this is one of the most important and opportunity-laden days that you have had in a long time, and you would be wise to get into advanced matters.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Listen to what good pals and interesting newcomers have to say since they have your interests at heart.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Contact any powerful persons of your acquaintance and state your immediate aims and gain their support.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you act in a positive manner, you can easily gain your aims and tonight take any health treatments you may need.

PBS Vietnam rebuttal stirs fairness flap

By MORGAN GENDEL
Los Angeles Times

PHOENIX, Ariz. — One-and-a-half years after airing its award-winning 13-part series, "Vietnam: A Television History," the Public Broadcasting Service is taking a long, hard look at that encyclopedic and, in doing so, it has sparked controversy within its own ranks and drawn fire from television critics gathered here.

The subject of concern is a two-hour program, "Vietnam Op Ed: An Inside Story Special," which will include in its entirety a one-hour film by the politically conservative Accuracy in Media group rebutting the 1983 Vietnam series. Still in production, the special is set to air June 15.

At WGBH-TV in Boston, producers of "Vietnam: A Television History," at first refused to cooperate with the rebuttal show. Some members of the PBS programming staff were "appalled" by the proposal of "Vietnam Op Ed," said PBS Senior Vice President Suzanne Well. And the TV critics, assembled at the Arizona Biltmore hotel Sunday for a four-day preview of upcoming PBS fare, challenged the legitimacy of a program built around the work of a politically motivated group such as AIM.

But Ned Schnurman, former producer of the network's defunct "Inside Story" series who was brought back for this assignment, believes in the project. "PBS can really lead the way for television if it finds a way for audience response to get on the (air)," Schnurman told the critics.

PBS President Bruce Christensen agreed, saying that "Vietnam Op Ed's" examination "of this particular issue is a positive thing."

At a press function designed largely to hype new shows, one that will be followed by similar events hosted by the three commercial networks, PBS' self-analysis stood in contrast to video clips and speeches about ancient Incan wheat and the history of musical comedy.

"Vietnam Op Ed" is, in fact, similar in spirit to "Inside Story," which-for-four-seasons examined the media's handling of major weekly news stories. The show will present opposing viewpoints, interviews with various experts and address the general issue of press responsibility.

But the use of the AIM film as its focus sets it apart.

AIM, a self-proclaimed media watchdog, was among those critics asserting that the WGBH-produced series presented a too-favorable view of the North Vietnamese.

The AIM production, titled "Vietnam: The Real Story" and narrated by Charlton Heston, was commissioned by the group specifically to rebut "Vietnam: A Television History." PBS asked AIM to delete four direct accusations of deliberate distortion on the part of the WGBH producers, which it did.

Peter Rollins, producer of "Vietnam: The Real Story," had no prior credits in documentary production, said Barry Chase, PBS vice president for news and public-affairs programming. Further, both Schnurman and the series production team at WGBH, which compiled a 43-page analysis of the AIM presentation, say that AIM presents some factual information but, mostly value judgments and unsubstantiated assertions.

Why, then, "Vietnam Op Ed's" detractors have asked, should a two-hour special be built around the AIM film? And does it set a precedent, as one TV critic suggested, for, say, a fundamentalist religious group rebutting on the air PBS' upcoming "Creation of the Universe" series?

PG-13 Rating Introduced

A new rating category is in place as of July 1. This new category is inserted between the current PG and R ratings. It is designated as PG-13. Parents are strongly cautioned to give special guidance for attendance of children under 13. Some material may be inappropriate for young children.

The revised five-category system of the voluntary film industry rating program is now as follows:

- G General Audiences, all ages admitted.
- PG Parental guidance suggested. Some material may not be suitable for children.
- PG-13 Parents are strongly cautioned to give special guidance for children under 13. Some material may be inappropriate for young children.
- R Restricted, under-17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.
- X No one under 17 admitted.

All films rated after July 1 will be given ratings under the new five-category system.

Panel looks at cable TV's smut issue

By DAVID CROOK
Los Angeles Times

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — One person's smut may be another person's cable television. That is the heart of an issue that has been with cable for years and remains one of the medium's thornier and more vexing problems.

It also appears to be the only cable First Amendment matter that is worthy of attention on Capitol Hill.

A panel of senators and congressmen here Monday told the cable-TV industry that they have the official interest in the editorial rights of the medium but are deeply concerned about the distribution of adult or pornographic programming into the approximately 35 million homes now subscribing to cable.

"Exercise self-restraint, as much self-policing as you can. The public as a whole doesn't want pornography," insisted Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., powerful chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee that is currently considering a bill that would impose criminal penalties on broadcasters and cable operators who transmit programs defined as legally obscene.

Thurmond was appearing at a session of the convention of the National Cable Television Association.

American pop: global language used everywhere

Baseball books lineup ranges field for fans

By TOM JORV
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Statistics and clichés," slugger-turned-broadcaster Ralph Kiner observed the other day, are "part of baseball." To which his Kiner might have added, "and Roger Angell."

That's not to suggest that Angell traces heavily either commodified mentioned by Kiner (and in clichés, at all), but there is a connection: Kiner's musing, from a literary point of view, defines the raw material of the game, while Angell's graceful re-creation in "Newark" and his magazine addresses its intellectual aspect.

Angell's journalism and the no less desirable product of Kiner's tandem are as distinct as they can be. Yet they are related, in much the same way that baseball itself is both timeless and urgent, pastoral and frenzied.

This year's spring and summer selection varies in content from "The 1985 Elias Baseball Analyst" and "The Bill James Baseball Abstract" through Daniel Okrent's "Nine Innings" and "Beyond the Sixth Game" by Peter Gammons, to the more lyrical "Fathers Playing Catch With Sons," a marvelous collection of essays by Donald Hall (North Point Press, $13.50), and "The Thrill of the Grass," short stories by W.P. Kinsella (Penguin, $4.95).

To the serious fan, the "Elias Baseball Analyst" (Collier Books, $12.95) has to be the season's most exciting new volume.

Time was the confirmed baseball-watcher could get by with a copy of the current Street & Smith "Yearbook," a recent edition of the hefty Macmillan "Encyclopedia" and a new or even slightly dated Sporting News "Register."

James changed all that in 1977 with the first, privately published edition of his "Abstract." The book, in which James propagates his own "runs created" formula for reckoning a player's value, and yearly devises new methods of statistical measurement, has been distributed by Ballantine Books since 1982.

It's glib. It's funky. And it's everywhere.

American pop culture, like never before, has the rest of the world boogieing and spinning on its head, slipping its thigh and sitting on the edge of its seat — and paying billions for the sheer enjoyment of it all.

A quick global tour one recent Thursday evening — by way of a spot check by AP bureaus around the world — found Jordanians lined-in-to

"Walt Disney" and Australians to Ted Turner's Cable News Network. Chileans stood in movie lines for "Terminator," and Kenyans queued up for "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom."

Disco denizens in Chile rocked to Madonna and "breakers" did the Bronx street dance on sidewalks from New Delhi to La Paz.

The thousands of movies, television shows, music videos, records and tapes churned out by the huge American entertainment industry are becoming a universal language of low-brow culture, understood by millions around the globe and scored by some.

A Soviet commentator, for one, grumbled that the ever-growing reach of U.S. television has an ulterior aim: "All-out promotion of the so-called 'American way of life.'"

A European Common Market study last year found that two out of every three TV entertainment programs in Western Europe were U.S.-produced, in places such as Canada and Mexico, the impact is even greater.

On that Thursday evening, the National Hockey League playoffs were the big TV draw in Canada.

"Dallas" and "Dynasty" also are popular, north of the border, where cable systems plug directly into U.S. networks.

In Mexico's northern metropolis of Monterrey, thousands of "dish" antennas pulled in "satellite-transmitted" television from across the Rio Grande.

Obviously, Madonna's all she appears

By RICHARD HARRINGTON
The Washington Post
(c) 1985, The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — We do not seem to be able to uncover our pop megastars these days without finding out enigmas, a la Prince and Michael Jackson.

Which is why it's nice to have Madonna, Louise, Veronica, Ciccone, around.

With Madonna, what you see is what you get, and if you miss the point, you're missing the obvious. She is the proverbial good time had by all.

But she's calling the shots.

There is precious little mystery about Madonna, even though the details may be sketchy. It's not just that she's a self-proclaimed "Material Girl" living in material world, a pragmatic sentiment frequently dismissed as mere ironic manipulation. It's not that she's reveling in the very fame that threatens to obliterate her charm. It's not even that she seems driven by the desire to amaze.

It's that she is so unashamed of it all.

Two years ago Madonna was just another blip on the horizon. A year ago she was an intriguing presence. Now she's sold to millions singles and albums, had No. 1 pop hits with "Like a Virgin" and "Crazy for You," made a stunning film debut in "Desperately Seeking Susan" and embarked on a national tour that establishes her as the hottest musical-cultural item since Prince, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen and so on, inexorably backwards.

(The only problem with going uphill so fast is that the downhill slide may be much slower. No problem, although her current "Virgin" album makes it look easy. Dripping with self-confidence and cloaked in obliviousness, she seems to the manner born. Her music was originally geared toward urban dance clubs, and there is a facile exuberance to it even now. It is not deep, and certainly not important or meaningful, but it is easily accepted.)

More significant is the fact that Madonna, in true "Outer Limits" style, controls the horizontal and vertical, in a rock tradition that dates back to Elvis Presley, and runs to Prince. Madonna is a relentless self-inventor. But unlike Presley, whose spark was quickly muffled by Col. Tom Parker, and unlike Prince, who is so busy exorcising his demons, Madonna is in total control, and she makes a lot of people — men in particular — uncomfortable.

Her calculations may not endear her to those who are factored out, but the essential truth is that no one has backed Madonna into any corners. Her videos may be sexist or her songs may suggest the triumph of selfishness, but she has chosen them. Her fashions and her performance may be libidinous, but they are not demeaning.

Madonna never suggests she's been had. In either the biblical or rhetorical sense. Like Susan, she does as she pleases, an insouciant, guileless and guileless free spirit. To dismiss her as so much rock 'n' roll kooche-koo is unfair. She's yummy, young, worldly, mobile Madonna — and she's simply going about the business of being herself.

TFA clinic next week

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Area Recreation Society will hold a clinic on June 14, 14:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. The clinic will be held at the Recreation Society building, 1000 N. Main St.

Featured instructors will be: Park Ranger Tom Woodside, Margaret Clark, Steve Galloway, Ellyson Wilson, Valley Park Park, and the Spring Creek Club in Kelowna.

All classes will include instruction on safety, strategy, use of ball machines and a complete limited to eight students per instructor.

Instruction will be available for both men and women. The clinic will be held on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration will be held for both men and women.

Further information can be obtained by calling 336-4400.

Galley to walk on at BYU

PROVO, Utah — Former Twin Falls area school teacher Steve Galley has been invited to walk on the field at Brigham Young University.

Galley, an all-Gem State Conference wide receiver during his seasons at Western Montana College in Dillon, Mont., was selected as an All-Frontier Conference selection. He has made the walk on an LDS mission.

Galley will complete his mission about August and return to BYU camp for walk-ons soon thereafter.

Ore-Ida competitors to return

BOISE (AP) — The 1985 Ore-Ida women's basketball team will see the return of about 20 players from the 1984 team, including 1983 Olympic team member and MVP, Nancy Lieke.

Thompson, sponsors say.

OSCAR CERDAS, Ovada's public relations director, says America's best snow machine cyclist also will be competing in the competition as announced and to present awards.

CONNIE CARPENTER (1984 Olympic gold medalist) and SHERRI YOUNG OBERG, a women's world champion, will appear at various promotional events in the area.

BOISE TO SUN VALLEY

Carpenter, 26, of Boulder, Colo., won the 1984 Olympic gold medal in the women's 1000m freestyle.

Pewaukee, Wis. won three gold medals in the 1984 Olympic Games, an Olympic gold medal in speed skating.

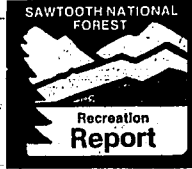

Samaranch: Soviets are coming

BERLIN (AP) — Juan Antonio Samaranch, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Thursday that he expects the Soviet Union and other Soviet bloc nations to participate in the 1988 Olympic Games at Seoul.

Samaranch told a news conference in West Berlin, and we are sure that all socialist countries will participate in the Games.

The Soviet bloc and a number of Soviet-influenced Third World countries boycotted the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, alleging threats to their athletes and violations of Olympic rules by the American Olympic Organizing Committee.

Sawtooth conditions improve

TWIN FALLS — Warming weather conditions are causing recreation conditions in the Sawtooth National Forest to continue to improve.

Only thundershowers, which are predicted for the weekend, should mar recreational activities.

In the Burley Ranger district, Lake Fork, Sublett and Bennett Springs campgrounds will be open, although Lake Forest and Bennett Springs have no water. Lake Cleveland, Brackenburg and Thompson Flat campgrounds will probably open by July 1.

The creeks are clear and the fishing is good in the Sublett Division.

In the Twin Falls Ranger District, all campgrounds are open except Big Bluff and Bostetter, which are closed indefinitely. Water is available at Schipper, Bear Gulch, Lower Penstemon, Upper Penstemon, Pettit and Porcupine campgrounds. Fees will be charged only at Pettit Campground.

Most of the side roads are open, including the ones closed at high elevations. The Oakley-Rogerson Road east from Magic Mountain is still closed.

Most of the trails in the Twin Falls Ranger District are open, although trail crews are continuing to work on Norton Lakes are still partially iced over. The trails are generally clear of snow up to 9,000 feet, but trail maintenance has not started. The Big Wood River water level is dropping, and fishing is improving.

In the Sawtooth National Recreation Area, there are five campgrounds in operation with full service: North Fork, Wood River and Easley and, at Alturas Lake, North Shore and Smokey Bear. Water is being restored to other campgrounds as water quality reports warrant.

Side roads in the area are still wet and muddy. Official road closures, effective through this weekend, are Fourth of July Creek, Fisher Creek, Stays Creeks, Park Creek and Elm Meadows.

The lower trails are still wet, due to recent rains, but hikeable. Trails are still snow covered in the high elevations (above 7,500 feet), especially in shady areas.

For those interested in float boating, the reading taken on the Salmon River June 3 at Sunbeam Dam is 5.2 feet.

In the Fairfield Ranger District, all campgrounds are open. Water is available at Bounds, Canyon, and Pioneer campgrounds; fees are being charged at Canyon and Bounds.

Most of the trails in the district are open, but maintenance crews have not begun work.

Stream levels in the Fairfield District are low, but fishing is good. Conditions are available Monday through Friday during regular business hours by phoning 733-3696. At other times, conditions can be obtained by phoning 733-3250.

the lower Third Fork Trail.

Firewood permits can be obtained at the district office at 1525 Addison Ave. E. in Twin Falls Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Beginning Saturday, they can also be obtained at the trail 1/2 mile north of the Oakley-Rogerson Road turnoff ever Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to noon.

All campgrounds are open in the Ketchum Ranger District, although there is no water available at the Federal Gulch and Sawmill campgrounds. No fees are being charged.

Crews should have completed work on Warm Springs Road by Saturday. All other roads in the Ketchum District are open.

Martina, Evert Lloyd gain French Open final

PARIS (AP) — Two old adversaries — Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert Lloyd — are ready to battle again, this time for the French Open women's singles title.

Saturday's championship match will be a repeat of last year's. It also will be a repeat of their first Grand Slam final confrontation, which took place here in 1975.

In the 10 years since Lloyd beat Navratilova 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 at Roland Garros Stadium, the two have met in nine other Grand Slam title matches. Surprisingly, this is only their third clash in Paris.

The defending champion and No. 1 seed, Navratilova advanced Thursday with a rain-interrupted 6-4, 6-4 triumph over No. 7 seed Claudia Kohde-Kilsch of West Germany. Lloyd, seeded No. 2, crushed 15-year-old Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina 6-4, 6-1.

Ranked one and two, respectively, in the world, Navratilova and Lloyd clashed last year in the championship matches at Wimbledon and the U.S. Open — Navratilova winning both

AN EXCLUSIVE WORLD TELEVISION PREMIERE OF ROBIN HOOD FOR DISNEY CHANNEL SUBSCRIBERS ONLY.

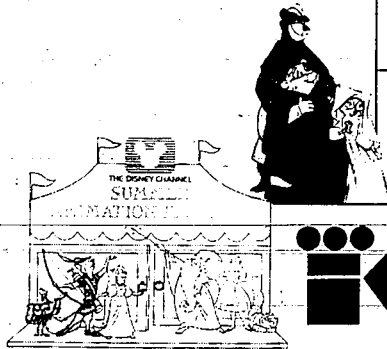

Four years in the making... this Disney animated classic has never been shown on television. Until now.

To join Robin's band of merry men, just call your cable company and ask for The Disney Channel.

You'll see the Disney movies, cartoons and television shows, for sure. And you'll see an astounding array of new shows in the grand tradition of Walt Disney. (The biggest original programming commitment in pay television history!)

Each month, you'll also get The Disney Channel Magazine. This full-size, full-color publication has background articles, program listing, games, activities and quizzes. An $18 annual value, it's yours FREE with your Disney Channel subscription.

SPECIAL Limited Time Offer
 If you subscribe NOW to The Disney Channel, you'll get this Disney Home Theater Package... a $129.95 value... absolutely FREE! You'll turn TV viewing into a neighborhood event with this two-night concert (with original Disney artwork), popcorn for popcorn, and colorful admission tickets for friends and family. The Disney Channel and the great taste of Jolly Time Pop Corns... a terrific combination for Jolly Time Pop Corns available in one microwave packages at your local supermarket. Pop some tonight!
