Ferocious Fifi hammers Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — Hurricane Fifi struck the northern coast of Honduras today with 130-mile winds, storm tides and torrential rains which left a trail of death and destruction in the nation's worst storm in a century.

Honduran authorities said the death toll is expected to exceed 200, and that in the region around the city of La Ceiba alone, 100 bodies have been counted. They estimated 100 other persons died elsewhere along the coast. Apparently most of the deaths were caused by drowning.

No bail-out

BONN (UPI) — West German Finance Minister Hans Apel has warned his European neighbors not to expect his government to bail them out of financial difficulties.

Apel said Wednesday that while West Germany holds 60 per cent of the European Common Market's foreign exchange reserves, "no one else will be spared the difficult course of adjusting national demands to the performance of one's own economy."

Consumer agency vote due today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., told the Senate today it would be creating a "Frankenstein monster" if it passes legislation to set up a consumer protection agency.

Allen made the remark during a final round of debate before backers of the bill tried for the fourth and last time to end a filibuster against it.

Both sides indicated the matter could be decided by one vote either way when it comes to a vote later today.

Boston cop missed by shot

BOSTON (UPI) — A policeman was shot at but missed as he stood guard outside Jamaica Plain High School today in the Dorchester section of Boston on the sixth day of a court-ordered plan to integrate the city's schools.

It was the first "shot fired" during the tense week the busing plan has been in effect. Police recovered a bullet, but it was not known if the shot was fired from a passing car.

Norway ignores oil user accord

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Norway said today it cannot join 11 other major oil-using nations in the first international agreement on coping with oil crises.

The 12 — the United States, Japan, Canada, Norway and all nine European Common Market nations except France — met to put finishing touches on the agreement after eight months of work. At this last moment, Norway's hesitation threatened to work. At this last moment, Norway's hesitation threatened to work. At this last moment, Norway's hesitation threatened to work.

Visits Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — President Julius Nyerere of the African Republic of Tanzania arrived in Havana Wednesday for an official state visit at the invitation of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

The official Cuban radio reported Nyerere was greeted at the airport in Havana by Castro and other Cuban Communist dignitaries, then escorted into the city in a parade caravan.

Wreck injures claim TF man

TWIN FALLS — Einar Peterson, 67, Twin Falls, died Wednesday — the result of injuries he suffered in a July highway accident.

He died in a local nursing home. Mr. Peterson was injured in a July 28 car-truck accident on US 80 at Rogerson. He was a passenger in the car driven by Lars Ueland, Alberta, Canada. Another passenger in the vehicle, Lydia Anderson, Alberta, was killed in the crash.

According to Idaho State Police reports, the car was stopped, preparing for a turn, when it was struck from the rear by a tractor-trailer vehicle.

Action on set

'Cannon' cameras roll in TF area

By MARILYN ELLIOTT

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Crowds gathered at Shoshone Falls Wednesday afternoon as police and a couple of tough young men with guns stood nearby.

Moments later the crowd broke up and headed amiably across the park where a colored lunch was served beneath the shade trees.

The crowd was composed mostly of technicians and extras for the "Cannon" segment being filmed at the park, with a sprinkling of local sight-seers thrown in. The policemen had patches on their arms saying "Volpone Police."

For the crews, Twin Falls is being transformed into Volpone, Idaho, for the week and William Conrad, star of the series, is saving a young man in trouble from angry townspeople.

Besides about 80 people brought to town by Quinn Martin productions for the two shows being filmed here, some 60 local residents have been hired as "extras" to portray those people who are always hanging around street corners and walking nonchalantly past the stars when you see the show on television.

Monday night some surprised onlookers got their short chance for fame when they were pulled before the cameras to depict an irate mob at the Twin Falls County Courthouse.

The biggest thrill for onlookers is a chance to see stars William Conrad and Ruth Roman in person. The action at the scene is not exciting.

William Ward, director of the show, said there was "a different challenge for every scene. It looks dull, but as a director, anything exterior is not really dull."

Scenes are not shot in sequence so the ending scene may be made before some of the earlier scenes. The crews work on such scenes as an individual piece and for an onlooker no real story is apparent.

Episodes for the first show have already been filmed at the Twin Falls Public Library, the courthouse, a local motel and restaurant, Dierkes Lake and Shoshone Falls.

Strike set for Airwest

By DAVID HORSMAN

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Stewardesses and stewards of Hughes-Airwest-Airline said Wednesday they would go on strike Saturday unless an 11-month contract dispute is settled.

A 30-day cooling off period ordered by federal mediators ends Friday and a spokesman for the flight attendants said the walkout would occur just after midnight if no agreement is reached.

An Airwest official Wednesday would not say whether the Twin Falls airport would lose the airline's services if the strike occurs.

"We'll probably have a curfew, but to what extent we don't know yet," said Larry Litchfield, an Airwest spokesman.

He said the airline has emergency plans for operation under strike conditions, but could not disclose them during negotiations.

"We just can't do that," Litchfield said, because the firm's position in the talks might be compromised.

Airwest is currently training "non-union personnel in anticipation of something that might come about," he said. The firm might replace regular attendants on some flights.

Paul Shoaf, Airwest station manager in Twin Falls, also couldn't predict how a strike would affect service, but he said, "There are so many things that could happen."

"Chances are, they will settle the thing in the eleventh hour," Shoaf said.

Airwest employs 550 flight attendants, including 32 male stewards, in San Francisco, Las Vegas, Phoenix and Seattle.

Jaworski calls Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski has subpoenaed former President Nixon as a prosecution witness in the Watergate cover-up trial of his former Nixon associates. It was announced today.

Nixon has already been subpoenaed by his former No. 3 aide, John D. Ehrlichman, to appear as a defense witness in the trial scheduled to begin Oct. 1.

Jaworski's office confirmed that the subpoena was issued Wednesday night and will be served on Nixon at his San Clemente, Calif., estate by FBI agents.

"He's been subpoenaed to testify," a spokesman for Jaworski said. "We expect him to testify."

The Jaworski subpoena calls for Nixon to appear in U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's courtroom on Oct. 1, even though he may not be called to the witness stand for several days.

Cross replacement set

By GEORGE WILEY

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The landmark cross at Shoshone Falls Park which was burned down during Evel Knievel's visit will be restored by local churches.

Youth groups from the First Christian Church, Twin Falls, will meet tonight to plan for replacement.

According to Rev. Donald Pyle, associate pastor of the church, the effort to replace the cross may involve several churches in the area.

"We are going to put the cross back up," Rev. Pyle said. "I don't know how. We're really going to investigate to see what we can do with it."

Rev. Pyle said the First Christian Church held an Easter sunrise service beneath the cross last Easter, with about 125 persons attending.

"That's why we want the cross back up there," Rev. Pyle said. "We're going to get that started again."

City Manager Jean Milar said to his knowledge the city would have no objection to replacement of the religious symbol on city-owned property.

"Over 20 years ago the City Council authorized the Twin Falls Ministerial Association to install the cross in conjunction with Easter services," Milar said. "I think that the permission that was granted by the council still stands."

Milar said that if any group had an objection to the re-installation of the religious symbol on public property, he felt sure that the City Council would be "pleased to hear their comments and consider them accordingly."

However, Milar added that he knew of no group that might be opposed to the replacement of the cross.

The cross was installed in 1953, Milar said. The cross, long unpainted and uncarved for, was burned through at its base and tipped over by campers gathered to watch Evel Knievel's canyon jump during a night-long party at the falls on Sept. 6.

Evel's earnings continue shrinking

BUTTE, Mont. — Evel Knievel's earnings from his Snake River Canyon jump are continuing to shrink as financial results of the spectacle are tabulated. Associated Press.

According to the Associated Press, the daredevil's earnings, once estimated at as high as $20 million, probably will be less than $3 million. The earnings drop is tied to poor attendance of the event, hundreds of closed circuit television outlets around the country.

Robert Arum, president of Top Rank, Inc., New York, which promoted Knievel's canyon leap attempt, told the AP that less than half a million people paid to watch the jump on closed circuit TV. Arum had originally estimated that as many as 1.8 million people would lay down their money.

"Never in our wildest dreams did we think so few people would watch the event," Arum said after gate proceeds had been tabulated. "We were very, very disappointed by ticket sales."

Arum confirmed that the heavily publicized $6 million or 60 per cent of the gate guarantee to Knievel was part of an effort to publicize the event and that Knievel never had had such a legally binding contract.

Top Rank and Knievel, Arum said, instead have a 50-50 "gentleman's agreement" for sharing profits. Arum said he expected to make about $150,000 from the event, far from the speculated millions.

"But what the hell, we made some money. It was an experience and everyone had a good time," Arum told the AP.

Knievel also confirmed that his earnings would be far less than reported. "What the hell," he told a reporter at his home in Butte, "I'm still alive. I have the blue Montana tag. What do I need all that money for?"

Knievel expressed irritation with those who continue to label his jump a promotional rip-off.

"No one will ever know what I felt getting into that rocket that had crashed twice before in tests," Knievel said. "I never really thought that I would get out of it alive."

Knievel said he is spending his time relaxing and hanging for grouse and elk with friends. He is not sure of his future plans, he added.

He said he may continue stunts jumping on a motorcycle, but emphasizing safety instead of risk. He is not seeking a second attempt at clearing the Snake River Canyon, he told the AP.

Query stirs clash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and a member of his Foreign Relations Committee got into a spat today over whether Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger could be asked to justify covert CIA intervention in Chile.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, asked Kissinger "how can such a policy be squared with our traditional values of the right of self-determination for other people?"

Church also described the policy of CIA intervention that led to the ouster of President Salvador Allende as "one of unfiltered intervention in Chile, designed to stabilize a government that had been freely elected."

Kissinger started to reply, but Fulbright, a lame duck senator who recently has been mentioned for the job of ambassador to Britain, interrupted. He admonished Church that the hearing was intended only to explore the issue of U.S.-Soviet detente and that the committee had decided to deal with Chile as a separate matter.

"I object to this," Church said, looking directly at Fulbright. "I want to know how that kind of intervention can be justified by any moral or international law."

Fulbright leaned forward to reply "That has nothing to do with detente, which is the subject of this committee hearing," he said.

But Church retorted, "It is the practice of this committee to let senators ask questions. I want to know how we can justify our action in Chile with any moral or international law."

Kissinger was allowed to continue his testimony, recalling the conditions under which Allende was elected.

"The United States has been conducting various kinds of covert operations in the postwar era," he said. "The difficulty is that by the very definition of covert operations it is not easy to discuss them publicly."

Church, who discussed the subject with President Ford and congressional leaders earlier in the day, said that although Allende was elected by a definite minority, the "systematically set out to establish a one-party system to eliminate all opposition parties and news media."

Church tried to interject, saying "I will simply make the statement that the present military government in Chile was born in a bloodbath and itself does not allow opposition. I think it is a sad thing."

Fulbright cut him off brusquely by recognizing Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., to question Kissinger on detente.

Percy acknowledged in his news conference Monday that the CIA had been involved in political activities in Chile, but denied they caused the ouster and death of Allende. Church said prior to the hearing that Ford was advocating "the law of the jungle" by condoning such activity.

Both Church and Rep. Michael J. Harrington, D-Mass., said in separate television interviews that the United States had "no business" contributing millions of dollars to oppose Allende, overthrow in a military coup last year.

Church, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, promised to question Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger on the matter at a hearing later in the day.

Church interviewed on the CBS Morning News, attacked the Chile covert activities explanation given by Ford at a news conference Monday night. Ford said that the freely elected Allende government had tried to shut up opposition parties and hostile news media.

"It seems to me that what the President has said is that the only law we really respect is the law of the jungle," Church said. "I can't accept that for the United States."

"I can't possibly justify such an intervention in a small country for any of the reasons that have thus far been given to account for it, — and it contradicts our traditional policy in which we have long professed that we observe the right of self-determination."

Henry outlines detente aims

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today the United States will try to reach agreements with Moscow on nuclear limitations and troop reduction, but opposing using trade policy to change emigration restrictions on Soviet Jews.

"We face an opportunity we really respect is the 25 years, or even a decade ago," Kissinger said in a statement prepared for a Senate Foreign Relations Committee inquiry into U.S.-S.S.S.R. detente. "If that opportunity is lost, its moment will not quickly come again."

"Indeed, it may not come at all."

Kissinger outlined the origins and accomplishments of detente in a 50-page policy statement.

He also promised to strive in the coming months to complete negotiations for strategic arms limitations through 1985.

TF, Kimberly renamed for 'Cannon' episodes

Lou Place, unit production manager for the series, said that any businesses tied up by filming are "brought out" for the time the crews will be there.

The Twin Falls-Kimberly area is the only place outside of the Los Angeles area that the Cannon crews will be filming this season. Each year, according to Place, they pick one area for "location" filming that would be suitable series sites.

They first wanted to film two segments in the Magic Valley — one set in a fictitious Idaho town, but nothing in the Magic Valley looks like Georgia.

Instead, Place said, he was given approval to change the "location" to Texas and Kimberly fit the bill. Next week crews begin filming in "Kimberly, Texas."

To do the show on location, Place said, a chartered plane brings up actors and actresses, crew members, production people, a pet dog, called Shadow, and a caterer to provide hot meals on the set, whether the set is at Stoshone Falls or the Twin Falls County Courthouse.

The company brings its own generator for filming equipment and its own portable toilets. Although both the director and production manager say things have gone smoothly in the Magic Valley, they do show an interest in making a television show that viewers rarely think about.

A special firm had to be hired just to investigate names of local people and places and of license plate numbers to ensure that none would be duplicated in the television show. Special cardboard license plates were made for all the vehicles seen in the show.

Every passerby seen on the television show when it airs had to be hired and cued for his part. The four directors and the cameramen have to watch these extras and the background as well as the central action when the filming begins. Everything has to be coordinated.

Crews work sometimes 12 to 14 hours a day. Today they will finish the show on Volcano, Idaho, and Saturday they will begin in Kimberly, Texas. The next Sunday they leave.

Board ignores request TF couple files suit

BOISE (UPI) — The State Endowment Fund Investment board has dismissed a request from the state treasurer that it account for $1.7 million supposed lost from the fund.

Wharry accused Treasurer Marjorie Fucus of neglecting public liability in making the request.

Miss Moon contends the fund suffered the investment loss prior to the board's creation in 1969 and that the board should ask the legislature to make up for the loss.

Pot cancer aid

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — An active agent in marijuana has been found to be an effective antidepressant for cancer patients, researchers at the Medical College of Virginia announced Wednesday.

After a year-long study of 54 cancer patients who took the drug regularly, researchers at the school concluded the agent helped cancer victims adjust to their disease, and in many cases, changed the mood of a patient from dependency and lethargy to one of greater emotional stability.

Patients did not experience the so-called "high," but felt "less depression, apprehension, suspicion and became more self-reliant and more tranquil," said Dr. William Regelson, who is heading the study.

Fatal accident brings lawsuit

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man, his wife and his six children have filed suit for more than $250,000 in district court, claiming negligence in a traffic accident which killed one youth and seriously injured two other persons.

James M. McDaniel and Darlene McDaniel filed the suit along with McDaniel's former wife, Delores Shemwell. In the suit the three claim that R.J. Schutte and Dora F. Schutte, a Twin Falls couple, were negligent in performing a weed burning operation along Highway 30 west of Twin Falls which resulted in a traffic accident fatal to the 13-year-old son of McDaniel and his former wife and which resulted in severe injuries to McDaniel himself and to his stepson Nolan McCarrn, the son of Mrs. McDaniel by her previous husband.

Schuttes were operating a tractor with a weed burner followed by a pickup truck along Highway 30 between Twin Falls and Filer in the spring of 1977 when McDaniel driving west in a small foreign station wagon, crashed into the back of the pickup truck which was obscured by smoke.

The suit alleges the Schuttes were negligent in performing the weed burning in such a way that the presence of their vehicles, moving slowly along the highway, was not apparent because of the amount of smoke flowing across the road. In the suit, the plaintiffs seek:

— For McDaniel and Mrs. Shemwell in the death of their son, Michael McDaniel, $150,000 in general damages and $1,804.88 in funeral costs.

— For Mrs. McDaniel as guardian of her son Nolan McCarrn, $50,000 in general damages and $6,120.52 in medical costs.

— For McDaniel for his own injuries, $43,000 general damages, and $7,288.15 in medical costs.

— For all parties, costs of the suit and relief as deemed proper by the court.

Suit charges negligence

TWIN FALLS — Three damage suits have been filed against the College of Southern Idaho and other defendants charging negligence in last spring's stable fire at Frontier Field.

Horse owners George Juker and Kenneth Kimball filed a joint suit against CSI, the junior college district, the state of Idaho, Clarence and Frances Bowlin, husband and wife, and Frontier Riding Club Inc.

In the suit, Juker and Kimball claim negligence against the college in the operation of Frontier Field, which is owned by CSI. The Bowlins were employed by the college to operate the stables at the time the fire occurred.

Juker and Kimball's action alleges negligence on the part of all defendants in operating a facility unsafe for the housing of livestock and equipment. In a second count, the suit also charges negligence on the part of CSI in hiring security guard William Carlock "then knowing he had a propensity for arson."

The stable fire, which occurred on April 21 of this year, destroyed 17 horses as well as the Frontier Field stables and equipment. Carlock was later arrested by Twin Falls police and charged with arson in connection with the blaze.

In the suit, damages for lost stock and equipment in the amount of $24,500 are sought for Juker, while $26,531 are sought on behalf of Kimball.

In addition to Juker and Kimball's suit, similar suits naming the same defendants have been brought on behalf of David Dellett and Charles Woodland.

In his suit, Dellett seeks $5,531 for loss of stock and equipment.

Woodland seeks $3,000.

All plaintiffs seek court costs and relief as granted by the court.

A new species of dwarfed parrot lamprey has been discovered in Miller Lake near Chemult, Ore. The new species has been named Lampetra minima.

Good example

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford is setting a good example for dieters. He's lost 14 pounds since he became President.

Ford's doctor started him on a routine in early August, designed to drop his weight from 210 pounds to 194.

"I've got two pounds to go," Ford said Wednesday while chatting with reporters at a Washington Press Club party.

"It's the lowest I will have been for 30 years." He does setting up exercises and rides a bicycle machine every morning plus cutting back on some foods.

"Do you ever get hungry?" a reporter asked. "I just keep busy," Ford smiled.

Knieval files suit

TWIN FALLS — Doredevil Euel Knieval has filed suit in Fifth District Court seeking damages in an alleged invasion of privacy through the unauthorized use of his name and symbols.

Knieval filed the suit against Superior Products Co.; Perma Trans, doing business as Reach Studio, and Richard Brroughton.

Knieval, through his attorney, alleges that Superior Products Co. and the other named defendants violated his privacy through the unauthorized use of Knieval's name, photographs and symbols on tee shirts being sold, also without authorization, during the week prior to Knieval's Snake River Canyon jump attempt.

Judge James M. Cunningham issued a preliminary injunction barring the sale of the shirts on Sept. 6, after Knieval's agents filed a $3,000 indemnity bond.

Knieval also seeks damages of $110,000 in the suit.

Aid habit hangs on

WASHINGTON - Gloom. That is about the only adjective that comes readily to mind to describe a recent report from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

spend $606,000 in FY11, $452,000 in Swaziland, and $181,000 in Oman. How did we get into his lunacy? And how do we get out? Foreign aid simply has got to be a habit, says the committee.

JAMES KILPATRICK

The U.S. continues - almost habitually - to dispense hundreds of millions of dollars of weapons in pursuit of such vaguely defined goals as "stability," "balance," and the maintenance of friendly relations.

"Welcome to Our Community!"

Presidential birth

Two bills in the Congress raise the question of Constitutional discrimination in the qualifications set forth for a President.

Those requirements, as found in Article II, Section 1, Paragraph 5, are "no person except a natural born citizen... shall be eligible for the office of President."

The stated qualifications for the Presidency also are effective for the Vice-Presidency, since he must be a person who can succeed to the office, when the need arises, as it did so recently.

A naturalized citizen of the United States cannot become President. Dr. Henry Kissinger, for instance is Secretary of State. After the Vice-President the secretary is supposed to be the second alternate in line for the office.

But, according to the Constitution Dr. Kissinger would be ineligible to succeed since he was born in Germany. One of the bills submitted by Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, New York, has been nicknamed the Kissinger bill because of Congressman Bingham's known admiration for Dr. Kissinger.

He says, however, that the bill is not designed for Kissinger, but rather to correct a wrong.

There is some question among experts as to whether a child born of U.S. citizens, but not born in the country, is eligible for the office.

George Romney, candidate a few years back was born in Mexico. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., mentioned as a candidate several times was born at Campobello Island, in Canada, and Christian Herter, former Secretary of State, was born in Paris.

There are thus several classes of citizens, some of whom may be President and some may not.

There are the natural born, naturalized, and children born of American parents abroad.

There is a possibility that a child born of American parents, living abroad, could not be considered eligible for the Presidency. Yet, at the same time a child born to an ambassador in an embassy might be considered natural born, since the embassy is considered a part of the homeland.

Ironically the Constitution does not bar a child born in the United States of parents who are citizens of another country. Such a child would be considered "natural born."

Sen. Hiram Fong, Republican, of Hawaii, is sponsor of a similar bill. He probably is motivated by the thought that few Hawaiians are eligible, since it did not become a state until August 21, 1959. Alaskans probably would be in a similar situation.

The Presidency is the only office in the nation with the natural born qualification, except that by implication it also would include the Vice-President.

Six Supreme Court Justices in our history have been born outside of the United States, including the noted Felix Frankfurter.

In addition to Dr. Kissinger, there have been four other cabinet officers of foreign birth.

Many of our most noted citizens have been born elsewhere. They might include Alexander Hamilton, who would have been eligible, however, since he was living at the time of the writing of the Constitution.

Albert Einstein, Alexander Graham Bell, the famed Dr. Steinmetz of General Electric Company have all made significant contributions.

There is little possibility of the qualification being changed in the near future. But it does give rise to thought on possible inequities.

Most of the money that would be authorized in the pending bill is for South Vietnam, Cambodia, and Laos. And about the only present thing that can be said on this score is that the bill fixes some guidelines that may cut down on waste and graft.

The $2.5 billion that would be authorized by this bill is only a part of $8.4 billion in total foreign aid proposed for the current fiscal year. We have grown numb to such figures. As individual items, however, the proposals may prompt a few hard questions.

Why are the taxpayers hit for even $70,000 to Ghana? For $100,000 in arms to Liberia? For $50,000 to Mali? For $500,000 to Morocco? It is proposed that we give $300,000 in military aid to Zaire; the sum is equivalent to the total income tax paid by 200 middle-income families.

The list goes on and on. In some fashion - maybe the Congress knows - the American people have been saddled with providing an annual allowance to more than 100 countries. At random, it is proposed that our taxpayers be asked to finance or military aid this year: $2.2 million to Upper Volta, $17.2 million to Afghanistan, $7 million to Nepal, and $232 million to Turkey. Through the Peace Corps, we will spend $606,000 in FY11, $452,000 in Swaziland, and $181,000 in Oman. How did we get into his lunacy? And how do we get out? Foreign aid simply has got to be a habit, says the committee.

Lawyers seek Nixon career punctuation mark

BY HERBERT MITSANG (New York Times Service) NEW YORK - What the United States Congress failed to pursue after the resignation and what no presidential pardon can prevent is now under close consideration in California and New York.

It is to put a punctuation mark - a full stop instead of a dangling semi-colon - on the public and professional career of Richard M. Nixon.

The proceeding would center on the devastating legal and human judgment known as "moral turpitude." This damning phrase is more than a statutory definition; it is a comment on a man's character.

For the past year the state bar in California and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York have been assembling the facts and preparing the cases for disciplinary action against Nixon even while he was president and other attorneys in aid of government accused of involvement in Watergate crimes. A real test is the case of the former president, who resigned when he was about to be impeached, and then was pardoned by another whetingly voted to condemn Ford for pardoning Nixon. Since then the state bar has rejected the Nixon letter because it lacked facts.

Resigning from the presidency is one thing; resigning from the legal profession another. The State Bar of California is an "integrated bar," meaning that no one can practice law in the state without being a member.

The California Supreme Court has final say on disbarment but the state bar, which has now expended some 1,500 man-hours on Nixon and the other Watergate lawyers from California - is not expected to forget the whole thing.

California has a strong State Bar Act, including Section 6106. It reads: "The commission of any act involving moral turpitude, dishonesty or corruption, whether the act is committed in the course of his relations as an attorney or otherwise, and whether the act is a felony or misdemeanor or not, constitutes a cause for disbarment or suspension, if the act constitutes a felony or misdemeanor; conviction thereof in a criminal proceeding is not a condition precedent to disbarment or suspension from practice thereof."

There are two significant points here: First, the lawyer need not be in practice - when in voluntarily voted to condemn Ford for pardoning Nixon. Since then the state bar has rejected the Nixon letter because it lacked facts.

There are two significant points here: First, the lawyer need not be in practice - when in acted in an act of "moral turpitude." Second, the wrongful act does not require prior conviction for suspension or disbarment.

Nixon has also made his move to resign from the New York bar. Lawyers do not have to belong to the Association of the Bar of the City of New York to practice here. Yet the bar association has disciplinary authority.

The fact that the bar association's executive committee unanimously condemned President Ford for premature pardon of ex-President Nixon is another indication that the organized bar here is offended by the idea of an attorney at law deciding for himself that a simple letter of resignation should kill the proceedings by an authorized arm of the appellate division.

Disbarment is the end of the road, professionally. In fairness, there should be an adjudication of facts in a forum of law. Such an ultimate judgment should always be used with caution; it can also be turned against lawyers involved in advocating or defending unpopular clients and causes. And yet, given the due process that is his right, this could provide the missing admission of wrongdoing and the final trial of Nixon's character.

Comment

lawyer in the White House before he could be tried and given the opportunity to refute evidence in a constitutional and legal forum. Against this background, Nixon decided to resign his membership in the California bar, presumably on grounds that he would no longer practice but actually because he feared disbarment proceedings. Two hours afterward, the California bar's house of delegates over-

No regrets for pardon

(Chicago Daily News) WASHINGTON - President Ford has neither second thoughts nor regrets about his controversial decision to pardon former president Richard M. Nixon.

But for the first time he has publicly stated his belief that Nixon may have been guilty of an impeachable offense, citing the House Judiciary Committee's unanimous vote on one article charging obstruction of justice as "very persuasive evidence."

He acknowledged that Nixon was "shamed and disgraced" by his resignation.

In his second news conference, Ford was emphatic in declaring the United States was "not going to have a depression." He called the economy strong, despite the ravages of inflation.

He may come to regret a reply made to a question about the Central Intelligence Agency's involvement in efforts to "de-stabilize" the Chilean government of the late President Salvador Allende. Ford denied, in effect, that everybody does it. He denied, however, that the U.S. played any role in the military coup in which Allende was killed.

Of some 21 questions asked, all but a handful concerned the Nixon pardon. And Ford stood his ground, insisting that while his decision created "many antagonisms" that he anticipated, "he was certain he had acted in the best interest of the nation."

He said he had no "secret" reasons for pardoning Nixon, such as private reports of bad health, and flatly rejected any suggestion he had made a prior deal or arrangement with the ex-president. He said he couldn't be "oblivious" to news accounts of Nixon's health problems, but his major reason was an effort "to reconcile divisions."

His main concern, he said, was to "heal the wounds" in the country. He repeated what he said in his announcement of the pardon Sept. 8, that he wanted to end the "turmoil and divisiveness" in American society.

He said he was told that it was a real possibility that Nixon could be charged with obstructing justice and 10 other possible criminal actions. The "long haul" possibility of a former president "being in the dock" would create tensions that would be diverting and divisive, he said.

"I am still convinced" despite the public reaction that the decision I made was a right one," he declared.

Ford remained calm and self-assured under the barrage of questions, always returning to his conviction that the long-term best interests of the country were served by the pardon.

He said that his staff was attempting to "alleviate any fears" of the special prosecutor's office that the Nixon tapes and papers might be unavailable to it because of the agreement reached with the former president that the material belongs to him.

PETER LISAGOR

In response to one question, he spoke of a "president who was forced to resign because of circumstances involving his administration and he has been shamed and disgraced by that resignation." It was the most precise condemnation of Nixon he had ever made.

Ford turned aside another question suggesting that a special commission with extraordinary powers might be appointed to write the full record of Watergate for history.

He said the "full story will be made available" once the special prosecutor's report is added to the "very well conducted investigation" of the judiciary committee, which came up with "volumes of information."

DC. "You must be crazy, Gabriel. An angel can get killed there."

"I know, it's dangerous. That's why we're offering everyone hazard pay. But this is a very important job, and the future of the United States of America depends on it."

ART BUCHWALD

"What's the mission?" an angel asked. "I'll do it," a deep voice said on the phone.

"We want 10 of you to go to the White House and swear that Gerry Ford did the right thing when he pardoned former President Nixon."

Gabriel replied. "Are you out of your blinkin' mind?" an angel cried. "Why would I want to swear to something like that?"

Gabriel said, "Mr. Ford needs all the support he can get. This pardon thing has him in a box, and if he could get 10 angels to support him it might turn the country around."

An angel said, "Anyone that gets involved in that can of beans has to be benkers."

Gabriel protested, "But we have to show mercy. That's our job."

"Surely out of the many thousands of you up here, there are 10 angels willing to swear that Gerry Ford's decision was the right one."

Gabriel went white. "I'm sorry, Lucifer. I don't think you'd be right for this mission. But I appreciate your volunteering."

"I know more about this thing than anyone else," Lucifer said.

"We're well aware of that. But there are some people who think the Watergate thing was your idea."

"You're always putting me down, Gabriel. You said you wanted 10 angels to swear Mr. Ford was right. Well, I'm offering my services, and I don't even want hazard pay."

"I'm sorry, Lucifer. The Boss wants you to keep away from Mr. Ford."

"Ever since you erased the 10 minutes of tape. He thinks it best that you stay out of the White House."

Lucifer said in disgust, "Boy, you make one mistake around here and no one lets you forget it."

Gem GOP finds campaign funds hard to come by

BOISE (UPI) — Hard times appear to have befallen Idaho Republicans.

"Not only are they finding campaign money difficult to come by in this year of Watergate, but it appears statewide candidates are in short supply, too."

Ford, the first time since the great depression it appears they may not be able to fill the statewide ticket. Although the central committee approved appointment of one possible candidate for treasurer he changed his mind.

"Miss Moon does not think the failure to find a Republican opponent for her necessarily is a threat to the party system. But she concedes, in the past 10 years there has been less stress on the party itself and more of a 'trend to vote for the person instead of the party.'"

"This seems true in her own party. Although some joint appearances of the state and federal tickets are planned in the campaign by the democrats, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Sen. Frank Church are running as a two-man team for the most part. They share the same campaign headquarters — with the governor. Instead of the senator this year, getting top billing.

Republicans, who seem to be underfunded compared with the Democrats in this campaign, have a joint headquarters in downtown Boise to coordinate the state and federal tickets. Rep. Steve Symms and senatorial hopeful Bob Smith appear to have the money they need but other candidates seem to be scratching to get by.

Andrus and Church both had fund-raising dinners. Smiling, affairs, though on a smaller scale, were put on for a couple of statewide candidates. In addition, the Democratic campaign committee is giving or plans to give $1,200 apiece to the candidates for attorney general, lieutenant governor and public instruction superintendent and $200 to the Congressional and other statewide nominees.

Besides this, the Democrats are bringing in three governors to speak at fund-raisers — Georgia's Jimmy Carter at Pocatello Saturday, Arkansas' Dan Claitor at Boise Oct. 11 and Utah's Calvin Rampton at Preston Oct. 25.

Individual GOP candidates — such as the two incumbent Congressmen and the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor — also had fund-raisers. But that may be it for the Republicans in this campaign.

Analysis

Now, State Chairman Robert Livville, Boise, thinks it's doubtful if the GOP will run a candidate for that post this year. This means Democrat incumbent Marjorie Ruth Moon will face only the American Party nominee, Wayne Hunsaker, Kimberly, when she seeks a fourth term Nov. 5.

"This is the first time since 1938 that either of the two big parties in Idaho has failed to field a complete ticket. Even in years when they were confronted with popular incumbents they offered a sacrificial lamb — just in case.

It speaks well either for the stewardship or the political moxie of Miss Moon — or perhaps both — that the GOP cannot find a candidate to oppose her. But it raises questions about what is happening not only to the GOP but to the party system in Idaho.

"I regard it as an honor," Miss Moon said. "(But) I'm going ahead and campaign anyway. I still have an opponent. I'm going to discuss the office — because this is what the election process is all about."

Deserters may escape punishment, Army says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A loophole in the amnesty program would allow deserters to escape punishment without having to perform the 24 months of alternate service required of draft evaders, the Pentagon says.

Under terms of the President Ford's conditional amnesty, deserters have to pledge allegiance to the United States and agree to perform alternate service. Once they have done those things, they get an undesirable discharge.

After certifying that they have completed satisfactory public service work, they can appeal to a military review board for a clemency discharge to replace the undesirable discharge. Once once the deserter gets the undesirable discharge, a Pentagon spokesman said today, the military loses jurisdiction over him and there is no way he can be forced to perform the alternate service.

But critics on the other hand, must complete their alternate service or face government prosecution.

"It's true that once an individual gets an undesirable discharge he can then fail or refuse to serve his alternate service. Because since he's already discharged military jurisdiction over him is terminated," the spokesman said.

"But if he wishes to receive a clemency discharge — part of the requirement for getting clemency discharge may be to attest to the fact he has satisfactorily completed alternate service — he will have to complete that service."

"Because there are no veterans' benefits attached to either type of discharge, and because the clemency discharge marks the recipient as a deserter — the only harm from avoiding alternate service would be the undesirable discharge.

But the spokesman said, "I think a guy trying to find a civilian job is going to stand a far better chance with a civilian employer with a clemency discharge than an undesirable discharge."

The Pentagon said that in the first two days since the conditional amnesty was announced, 80 calls were received from deserters or relatives. The Army clearinghouse for returning deserters at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., said it had received 92 calls as of late Wednesday.

The Bureau of Prisons said all but one of the 84 men serving sentences for draft evasion were released Wednesday on 30-day furloughs, which one official said he thought would become permanent.

The one who stayed, Steven L. Bezich of Chicago, did so on his own, refusing to accept release from an Oklahoma federal reformatory or to take a transfer to his hometown where he could have stayed at a halfway house. He said he would not accept anything but a pardon.

Controls reversal possible

(C) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — Presidential counselor Robert T. Hartmann says a change in economic conditions — and a change in the makeup of Congress — could cause President Ford to reverse his stand against restoring wage and price controls.

The President's statement that he will not seek a return to controls is not "written in stone for all times," Hartmann told a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, the honorary journalism fraternity, Tuesday.

However, Hartmann, who qualified his remarks with the disclaimer that he is not an expert in economics, said that his statement should not be construed as a shift in the administration's position on controls.

Hartmann said he was saying no more than the president already has said.

He said, however, that Ford does not believe that he could get the present Congress to reinstitute controls even if he favored making such a move immediately.

But Hartmann said that Ford already has used all measures he can undertake on his own to curb inflation and will ask Congress to take steps to curb rising prices and costs before the current session ends — and prior to the conclusion of the economic summit meetings.

Solons ask Haig post hearings

(C) Chicago Sun-Times

WASHINGTON — Three senators have called for hearings on the appointment of White House chief of staff Alexander D. Haig Jr. to be NATO troop commander. Hut groups are deemed unlikely.

Senate sources said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., fears that hearings on the appointment would turn his armed service committee into a latter-day Senate Watergate committee because of Haig's close association with former President Nixon, the Watergate crisis and Nixon's resignation.

Sens. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., and Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, nevertheless called on Stennis to convene the hearings, while Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who made a similar request of Stennis Tuesday, called on Haig to appear voluntarily "to clear the air."

Hughes was said by aides to be considering legislation either calling for or requiring confirmation of officers called out of retirement to assume post of "importance and responsibility" such as the NATO job.

Byrd, assistant senate majority leader, said he feared Haig's appointment might "impair military morale."

He said Haig "was undeniably close to (former President Nixon) during the last several months of the Watergate cover-up," though he did not charge Haig with complicity in it.

Byrd said Haig, "able though he may be, cannot disassociate himself from the political tap" that would follow him back into the military. "The impression that he is first and foremost a political general" is reinforced by his rapid rise "over so many other army careers."

Haig was appointed over 240 more senior officers in 1972 to be army vice chief of staff. At that time, he received Senate confirmation, and the Defense Department has argued that the first confirmation eliminated the need for Senate hearings on the NATO appointment.

Turk Cypriot head scorns Soviet plan

NICOSIA (UPI) — Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denkash has scorned Moscow's proposal for an international conference on Cyprus and told visiting Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Lenoid Ilyichov the Turks would not accept a federal state.

President Glafos Clerides, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, told newsmen Wednesday he agreed with Ilyichov on the need for the "withdrawal of all foreign troops from Cyprus" and the need to search for new ways to guarantee the independence of the island state.

"The two men discussed the future of the war-torn Mediterranean island and separate two-hour meetings with Ilyichov, the first Soviet envoy to visit the island since the Turkish invasion July 20.

Clerides said he and Ilyichov discussed "the handling of the Cyprus issue before the U.N. General Assembly" and he repeated his acceptance of the Soviet proposal for a broad conference on solving the crisis.

But Denkash told newsmen an international conference would do more harm than good. He said the Turks would press for making Cyprus a federal state with separate regions for Greek Cypriots and Turkish Cypriots.

USSR seeks Egypt thaw

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union secretly has resumed top-level contacts with Egypt in an apparent effort to thaw frozen relations with President Anwar Sadat, a Soviet publication disclosed today.

The current issue of the official English language Soviet News said President Nikolai Podgorny, while visiting Sofia, Bulgaria, earlier this month, met there with Egyptian First Deputy Premier Abdel Aziz Higazi.

Also present was Muhammad Hafez Ghanem, first secretary of the Central Committee of the Arab Socialist Union, the ruling party in Cairo, it said.

Czechoslovakia freedom lacking, woman tells Buhl Kiwanis club

BUHL — "Thank God you can meet like you are doing here today, can pray as you wish and have your freedom."

This Alma Schooler, Buhl, closed her comments on her summer's visit to Czechoslovakia when she addressed the Buhl Kiwanis Club at the R and R Cafe Wednesday noon.

The people in her parents' homeland have plenty to eat, dress well and have adequate housing, but without freedom there are no smiles on people's faces, she said, and there is an undercurrent of tension.

"They say when war comes — not if, but when — the Czech army will be in the front lines," the speaker said. When she urged a cousin to leave his homeland and come to the US he said, "No, I want to be here to fight for freedom."

Ideological differences divide the population, even families, Mrs. Schooler said one "hardline Communist" cousin told her "he'd be in America within two years living off the fat of the land."

"I won't tell you what I told him," the speaker declared.

On the other hand, another relative has been arrested and faces trial for distributing free Bibles in the hospital where she is a nurse.

"I never will hear about the trial until I go back to Czechoslovakia," she said, "for such news never gets out of the country as all letters are read."

She said the 'communist' regime, in an effort to build up the population, currently "subsidizes" childbearing, allowing women to remain at home two years after childbirth. The new mothers also receive 500 crowns per month from the government and also the office or factory where they worked.

If they have another child before the two years is up, they can remain at home another two years.

"What will happen to families when the regime decides the population has grown enough and quits this policy?" she asked. Subsidies for farmers, to encourage tilling of the land, was stopped after "it met opposition" from factory workers.

Family life is the strongest tie there is in Communist countries, the Buhl woman said. All women, except mothers of small children, must work, leaving home at 6 a.m.

Other comments on her visit — her relatives in Prague had never heard of screens for their windows.

— because the government controls television programming, one can see movies without interruption by commercials. But this is followed by long dissertations of "how thankful the people should be that the USSR delivered them from Nazism and capitalism."

— Czechoslovakia is occupied as "surely as if it were at war" with planes, droning overhead and military maneuvers held regularly. Red stars are posted everywhere.

Clyde Cox gave a humorous presentation and Rev. Glenn Waltmann, president, announced a ladies night at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday. Kelth Stoddard, division lieutenant, will install officers.

Served its time

VENERABLE F.H. Buhl school, built in 1908 with $25,000 donated by the town's founder, no longer meets the needs of a modern educational program, according to Supt. Dan Mabe. The building, which houses the junior high school, hopefully can be replaced if voters approve a school bond issue, tentatively set for Oct. 29.

Checking boiler

BUHL SCHOOL SUPT. Dan Mabe inspects the old coal-fired boiler which provides steam heat for the junior high school. Some $2,000 was spent on repairs on the boiler this year and some residents feel the rooms directly above the furnace equipment are not "too safe."

F.H. Buhl school 'not adequate'

BUHL — The F.H. Buhl school building which now houses the junior high school population of this community is outdated.

Supt. Dan Mabe said Wednesday the structure, built with a gift of $25,000 from the man for whom it is named and the town's founder, no longer "meets the need of a modern educational program."

A new junior high school building is planned as the major project of the planned construction program voters will be asked to approve soon. Tentative date for the bond election is Oct. 29. Amount of the issue has not yet been determined, pending further work with the architect.

The original school was built in 1908 and served as "the" school for many years until the high school was built in 1918-1920. Two wings were added in 1949 and the architect is now assessing how they can still be used in the new building program.

The mortar on the oldest section of the 1908 structure is soft and there is considerable trouble with leaky ceilings. The building served as elementary school until the new grade school was built in 1962 and since then has housed the junior high students.

A fire hazard in the structure is the open stairwells which would allow flames to sweep quickly throughout the building, Mabe said. The structure is steam heated from an old coal-fired boiler.

Mabe said about $2,000 was spent on repairs on the boiler this year which he considers "the wrong money down a rat hole." More than $1,000 was spent on roof repair this year also.

Bushels of corn

Green Giant largest Buhl employer

BUHL — Buhl's largest employer is in full swing in the world, according to Jerry Green Giant's seasonal corn pack operation is now about two-thirds complete with truckloads of sweet corn throughout the area heading to the plant for canning and freezing.

The local facility is the second largest corn cannery in the world, employing up to 1,000 persons and is considered by the Department of Employment officials in Twin Falls the largest private employer in Buhl during its seasonal operation.

This isn't the best year the cannery has had, but every day this warm weather continues, it helps mature the late corn, compensating for the cooler August weather which was three to four degrees cooler than normal. "Just say we're thankful for every warm day now," said Joe Fehrenbacher, agricultural superintendent.

If the current good weather holds through this week the plant will come near the "budget" pack for this year, according to Dex Rogers, office superintendent.

The administration of the Buhl facility is a triumvirate, with three superintendents sharing responsibility. Oran Scholl is plant superintendent.

He says production has peaked the last 10 days and while declining to divulge any figures, conceded the average is up about 20 per cent over last year. All Green Giant corn is grown under contract and the price paid to area farmers is up "substantially" this year, Scholl said.

When queried about justification for spiraling prices of canned goods in grocery stores Scholl said,

"Everything is up substantially this year." "Everything" includes the price paid to the farmer, costs of labor, transportation and condiments used in the canning and freezing processes.

The early run at the Buhl plant was not up to anticipated standards this year because of the cool weather and high winds in the first part of the summer which slowed maturity of the early varieties.

This limited the hours of operation in the factory, warehouse, and freezer departments, Mock said. But since Sept. 1 the plant has been processing the corn planted in June and July and these yields are nearer normal.

However, the cooler than average August nights Fehrenbacher referred to, also affected maturing of the late varieties so the pack probably will be extended into early October.

He stressed the entire season operation varies extensively depending upon the weather and any predictions as to length of run are always subject to change. The season run usually extends about 10 weeks, from the last of July to early October.

The plant's labor force is composed of people of varied backgrounds, the personnel manager said, with area housewives forming the "backbone" of the force.

There are also other local Twin-Falls-area residents including Mexican-Americans. The firm currently is housing about 250 persons, both men and women, in its dormitory facilities.

The Buhl cannery was started in 1944 as an operation of the Pict Sweet firm. It was purchased by Green Giant in 1949 and Scholl has been with the firm since its beginning in Buhl.

SLAB recovery area at the Green Giant corn cannery in Buhl is a busy place, with the slab tractor operator pushing the freshly picked corn onto a conveyor belt which carries it inside for canning and freezing. In the background silage, from the corn husks, is being dumped. It is sold to growers and other area farmers.

Fill your sack

HELP YOURSELF to fresh corn on the cob. It's now $1 per paper sack, or $4 gunnysack, but with the paper sack holding an average of 30 ears, it's still a food bargain at today's prices. The attendant at the Green Giant plant operation in Buhl said Wednesday afternoon business was slow — "Most people don't know we're here," he said. The corn dispensing site is located just north of the Buhl cannery. Corn may be purchased from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If they have 16 to 18 high-card points, they don't let such things as a worthless doubleton stand in their way. When they get around to playing the dummy, they aren't likely to come up with complicated squeezes—and end plays. But when it comes to standard, basic good play they are right there.

We watched one of them play today's hand. She took the first diamond and saw that it was up to her to go after hearts. At least we assume that is what she saw, because she called for dummy's device of hearts. Her eight lost to West's queen and a second diamond was led. She won in dummy, cashed the last good diamond since she needed that trick and called for dummy's 10 of

Questionnaires show intelligent women sexier than average

(C) Newhouse News Service SYRACUSE, N.Y. — If it's true that "men seldom make passes at women who wear glasses," they're making a big mistake, says Manfred P. DeMartino, psychology professor at Onondaga Community College. Highly intelligent women, he says, are sexier than women of average intelligence. He has completed a book—"Sex and the Intelligent Woman", based on an eight-page questionnaire filled out by 227 women members of Mensa, an international society for people with genius-level IQ's. The findings, he says, suggest "that it's time to abandon 'Dorothy Parker's infamous line about glasses and passes." "A more correct statement," DeMartino said in an interview, "will be 'men should make passes at girls who wear glasses.' Our findings reveal that not only are highly intelligent women as sexy as other women but in many ways they are more so. "I hope this will help to change the negative stereotype that intelligent women aren't interested in sex and are less responsive than other women. I hope women, in sexual relationships, won't feel they have to hide the fact they are intelligent."

Most of the women anonymously answering DeMartino's questionnaire were Americans, but Mensa has 16,000 members in 60 countries, and returns came in also from Canada, England, Hong Kong, Italy, the Netherlands, New Guinea and Switzerland. Ages ranged from 16 to 61. The sample included single, married, divorced, separated and widowed women. They also took personality tests that measured self-esteem and security. DeMartino found that his subjects have high self-esteem but lower than average feeling of security. The lack of security may be due to the intelligent woman's feeling of discomfort in a society where she still is considered an oddity, he said. He found more happiness in marriages where neither the male nor female dominated the other.

But DeMartino feels the most important finding reported in his book is the intelligent woman's sexuality. Of all the women in the study, 71 per cent are not virgins, as single persons were not virgins when they married.

Alert young lady

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 3-year-old girl has proved to be too alert to fall for dangerous instructions from an anonymous telephone caller.

Police said Tuesday that the caller told the girl he was conducting a survey and he wanted to know what kind of deodorant her family used.

The girl went to the bathroom, obtained the family's spray and returned to the phone.

"Hold the can to your mouth and spray and take three deep breaths," she was told.

The alert girl replied: "What do you take me for?" She hung up.

Police said the girl could have suffered permanent injury or even death if she followed the caller's instructions.

BATTLE OF THE BIRTHDAYS

By Mary Sue Miller

The feminine set constantly decries the look of aging skin. But what does a lady do about it? Skin experts blame poor skin care for premature aging.

In the battle of birthdays, victories have been won on the skin care front. If you are not aware of the following essentials, investigate:

Moisture Products. The introduction of moisture products has created a new line of defense against wither. Although young skins usually have abundant supplies of moisture, it is lost in later years as much from weathering as from aging. Heavy sunbans, inclement wind, furnace heat, and a dry climate are just a few of the gremlins that drain away the skin's natural moisture. Moisturized creams and lotions go a long way to hold the natural moisture on the skin, and to attract moisture from the air.

Emollients (oils). Some products combine oils and moisturizers, notably those for cleansing and bedtime application. The emollient factor works toward a soft and pliable skin.

Hypoallergenic Products for sensitive skins are on the increase. And a boon to those subject to allergies.

Diet. What you eat affects your skin. A diet that helps promote the skin's welfare emphasizes an intake of protein, unsaturated oils, fresh fruits and vegetables. Do you know that many cosmetics contain proteins and vitamins, and should be applied as a supplement to diet?

Abby

Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter Susie is marrying a man from Oklahoma. (I live in Arkansas.) We want Susie to be married in our church with her friends and family present. This Okie she's marrying wants to be married in his church in Oklahoma, where there will be only strangers to Susie.

The reason he wants the wedding in Oklahoma is because his mother is old, sick and can't travel. She's a widow, and he's her only child. I think it's nice of this Okie to be so considerate of his mother, but is it fair to us? Susie is ready to give in, and I don't think she should.

I planned on having the whole wedding taped and taking lots of pictures to send to this Okie's mother which would be almost like being at the wedding.

I want your opinion. SUSIE'S MOM

Mother objects

DEAR MOM: Although weddings traditionally take place in the bride's church, the groom's reasons for wanting to have it in Oklahoma seem reasonable to me. Why not let the bride and groom work it out?

And Mom, I sense an element of hostility here that goes deeper than the question of where to have the wedding. For openers, you could quit referring to your prospective son-in-law as "This Okie." Okay?

DEAR ABBY: I am a man in my last year of college. My parents are divorced and I live with my dad. I am on good terms with both of them, but there is something about my father that bugs me.

Dad has a steady girl friend who spends the night at his place quite often. That's his business, although I feel a little strange witnessing this kind of setup. I sure wasn't raised that way. Both Mom and Dad were a little on the prudish side, and taught me that sex is a private matter.

What I really object to is the way Dad and his girl friend carry on in front of me. Lots of fondling and kissing, and touching in a most intimate way. This goes on while we are having a three-way conversation, so it's not as if I intruded on their privacy.

I've told Dad that I find this sort of thing embarrassing and have asked him not to do it. Nothing changed. How can I let him know that I mean what I say? He respects your advice. CROSSED OUT

DEAR GROSSED: I doubt that Dad will change his behavior to please you, so unless it's his house, and you've old enough to do so, find separate digs and quietly move out. Well, him it's time you lived alone. (True.) Avoid futile confrontation and remain friends.

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem I cannot confide in anyone else. I am a woman, aged 23. I have never had a complete physical examination in my life. To be honest with you, I just can't go through with anything like that. The thought of a gynecological examination throws me into a panic.

For the last couple of months I haven't been feeling well. I know I should see a doctor for a complete examination, but I've made three appointments and cancelled them all at the last minute due to this fear of embarrassment.

I hope this doesn't give you the impression that I am childish or stupid because I'm not. I am a college graduate and consider myself to be fairly intelligent. Please advise me. HUNG UP

DEAR HUNG UP: Consider seeing a woman physician, although a competent male physician would surely put you at ease immediately. Make an appointment today and no more stalling.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SONNY IN SANTA BARBARA": Be careful in your selection of a "new broom"—you might get one with a witch on it.

Miss Askew, Becker wed

WENDELL: Joy Marie Askew and James Barrett Becker were married at 8 p.m. Aug. 4 in the Church of the Nazarene with Rev. Carl Wilde, Gooding, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Askew, Wendell, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Becker, Gooding.

Donna Lynn Hillis was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kayleen Shaffer, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Larry Askew, sister-in-law of the bride; and Leslie Isaacs.

Pete Goodman, Gooding, was best man. Ushers were Ken, Mike and Pat Becker, brothers of the bridegroom. They also served as emcees.

Following a wedding trip to Sun Valley, the couple lives in Gooding.

The bride is a graduate of Wendell High School and is employed by Farmers National Bank.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Gooding High School and has served four years in the US Air Force. He is employed by Skaggs Furniture, Gooding.

Jerome census planned

JEROME — A special census will be conducted in Jerome to determine the amount of growth the city has experienced since the 1970 census.

A letter from John E. Tharaldson, regional director, Bureau of Census, Seattle, Wash., was read to the City Council Tuesday night in the letter Tharaldson said James Hancock had been selected to supervise the special census. Hancock is expected to arrive in Jerome Sept. 30 to make final arrangements and to test prospective census takers.

The census is expected to cost the city $243. However, Tharaldson said it will cost the city more if the population is found to be significantly greater than the 6,000 the estimate was based on.

The 1970 census listed Jerome as having 4,883 people. Mayor Charles Hancock said it is estimated the present population is closer to 5,000.

The figure is based on the number of new sewer and water hookups the city has had to provide," Hancock said.

He said the city is conducting the census because the amount of revenue sharing funds, gas funds, highway user funds, liquor funds and sales tax revenue the city receives is based on population figures.

The city has originally requested the county to participate in the special census in order to have a complete population figure for Jerome County.

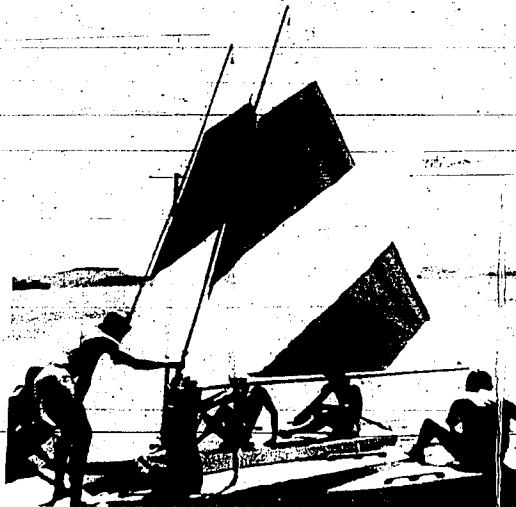

John Van Orman, county commissioner, said the county commission considered the possibility of having a county census, but after thorough investigation found the county could lose funds.

"We were told by the revenue sharing office that adjustments of funds to counties can be made only if all counties in a state have a special census conducted," Van Orman said.

Robert L. Hagan, deputy director, Bureau of the census, said in a letter to the Times-News that population data used by the Treasury Department in the most recent allocation of funds under federal revenue sharing legislation are derived from the 1970 census.

"It is our understanding that the results of special censuses for individual places will not automatically be substituted for the 1970 census data by the Treasury Department for revenue sharing calculations," Hagan pointed out that the office of revenue sharing of the Treasury Department has indicated that adjustments in population data may be made only if all entitled government units in a county area are covered by special census at such time.

In a letter from Arthur L. Hauser, office of revenue sharing, it is stated that if a county-wide special census were taken, which provided special census data for all localities in the county, the updated populations could be used for these places.

Jerome turns down MVCG

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News writer

JEROME — The city of Jerome will not financially participate in the Magic Valley Council of Governments (MVCG).

The City Council agreed Tuesday night to accept a membership alternative from the MVCG which provides that the counties pay the entire assessment with the option to retain the present executive board or reduce the board to eight county commissioners. The council unofficially agreed the board should be comprised of the eight county commissioners.

The alternative was drawn up by the MVCG after Jerome, Twin Falls and other city municipalities within the eight counties served by MVCG refused to pay the 10 cents per capita assessment on the city, stating double taxation as their reason.

A majority of the MVCG council had tentatively agreed to the membership alternative whereby the counties would pay the assessment on a per capita basis, with the cities and special purpose districts paying a membership fee. The membership fee would cost Jerome $100 per year, based on population.

Mayor Charles Hancock said the $100 could be raised to $150 next year if the census to be conducted in Jerome showed a great population increase.

In other business before the council, a total of $54,907 in building permits were approved.

Included was the application for the Idaho First National Bank building, totaling $27,000. The new bank building will be built on South Lincoln by early spring.

Charles Ireton, manager of the bank, said the new building will be 60 by 60 feet with Watson and Maxey retained as architects for design of the bank. Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, has been awarded the building contract.

An increase in the insurance on the city library from $100,000 to $313,000 prompted the council to decide to take a complete survey of insurance carried on city property.

The council will meet with the city's insurance company before the budget is set for next year.

Marilyn Bragg, city clerk, told the council that Idaho Cable Vision paid over $12,000 on its franchise this week.

Chief of Police Howard Dufalls told the council he may have to submit a bill for wiring and some welding in the city jail cell, noting that a prisoner presently in custody has torn out electrical wiring and the chains which hold the bunk in place in his cell.

Ed Evans, city works director, reported that 74 blocks of Jerome's streets have been sealed and chipped this summer. The streets are being striped.

An executive session was requested by S.N. (Shorty) Weeks, councilman, to follow the regular meeting. Weeks did not say why he wanted the executive session.

Bond money invested

HAILEY — The Blaine County School District decided Monday night to invest the school bond sale of $4 million in Idaho.

The bonds approved by 89 per cent of the voters this spring for the completion of a new high school and additions to each school in the district were sold two months ago.

E.F. Hutton, Portland, Ore., has offered the board of trustees an interest-free 11 per cent if the money were available for use out of the state. However, assistant Supt. Ray Jefferson said the Bank of Idaho would offer 11.42 per cent.

The board decided it would be in the interest of the state to leave the money in Idaho. About $3 million will be invested—the other million used for short-term—construction costs.

The board voted down a request by the district principals to pay civic club dues and state and national organization dues. The board felt if the principals were interested enough in the clubs they would join on their own.

In other action the board awarded the second lowest bidder the contract on a new building for the district buses.

Richmond Construction, which was awarded the contract, bid $62,215 for a 2,100 square-foot frame structure compared to $25,582 bid by J.B. Tracy. The board also voted 2-1 to construct a frame rather than timberlock building.

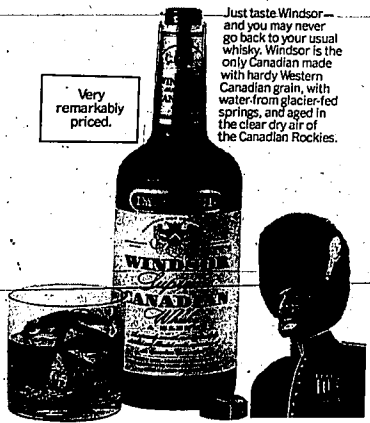

The new building will sit about one quarter of a mile southwest of the high school building site.

Don Wisdom, specialist with Engineering, Inc., Boise, explained the electric heat pump system for the high school to the board. According to Wisdom the entire heat pump operation would cost about 25 cents per square foot compared to 35 cents for most other heating setups.

Wisdom explained a small pump would sit in each room of the building and could be taken out by one man although the unit would have to be repaired elsewhere. The system works on a piping system carrying heated water to each pump from a central boiler.

He said installation of the system could run from $2.75 per-square-foot to $4.50 per-square-foot depending on contractors and area being built in.

Inflation hikes medical taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taxpayer expenses for elderly Medicare and indigent Medicaid patients will increase by at least $4.3 billion next year because of rampant inflation, the government announced today.

The disclosure of startling increases in federal spending, over which the government has no control, was made in a Department of Health, Education and Welfare background paper at the latest in a series of Ford administration conferences leading to a Sept. 27-28 economic summit here.

But the meetings today and Friday at HEW are markedly different from the previous six sessions in at least one respect: The government will ask poor people what effect inflation is having on them.

Among the eight congressmen, government officials and 180 representatives of organizations expected to attend were executives of such vocal and often critical groups as the National Welfare Rights Organization and the National Council on Senior Citizens.

However, establishment organizations like the American Hospital Association, National Education Association and the United Way of America dominate the invitation list.

Black leaders have called their own "counter-summit" on inflation here this weekend. HEW prepared four background papers for participants to guide the discussion at its meeting.

Excerpts from each:

—On health, which draw the most attention at the meeting because of skyrocketing doctor and hospital costs, HEW says—report—that federal Medicare spending will increase by more than 25 percent, from $11.3 billion in fiscal year 1974 to an estimated $13.3 billion, in fiscal 1975. Medicaid expenditures will rise from $7.7 billion to over $7 billion.

—On education, HEW poses the problems of inflation-created cutbacks in school services and of lost careers and productivity when "inflation upsets the plans of families to finance higher education especially where a savings program has been constructed."

—On income security, HEW raises the ominous spectre of increased unemployment among male and female heads of low income families as a result of inflation and asks: "Can or should work relief programs or public service employment programs serve a role in alleviating unemployment hardships?"

—On social services, HEW reports that since young and disabled workers in particular will be hard hit by any economic slowdown, their needs for job placement and other services will increase. "Since 1972, the cost of living has risen 17 percent as measured by the conventional Consumer Price Index, but by 20 percent for poor families and by 20 percent for aged families," the paper concludes.

"Within 1973, the January to July increase in the conventional CPI was 6 percent; for the poor it was 7.5 percent, and for the aged it was 7 percent.

Pope Paul ailing

CHICAGO — Pope Paul VI has an ailment "in the shoulder and the head," finds it hard to walk and "doesn't see very well," the Vatican's apostolic delegate to the United States says.

The Most Rev. Jean Jadot said Wednesday he last saw the Pope at the end of June and he was "in good health, but is feeling his age." The Pope is nearing his 77th birthday anniversary.

After serving in Laos, Malaysia, Singapore and Africa, Belgian-born Archbishop Jadot was named apostolic delegate a year ago by the Pope.

Medics seek diabetic drug guards

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Doctors—who have treated diabetes with oral antidiabetic drugs at major medical institutions told Congress today of their apprehension at the widespread reliance on these prescription drugs by physicians and their patients.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson's subcommittee on monopoly heard testimony Wednesday that the use of such drugs was increasing in this country, despite medical studies seriously questioning their safety and effectiveness.

Leary's son, pals denounce informing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The son of Dr. Timothy Leary said Wednesday that his father was capable of telling preposterous lies and would inform on anyone—even the innocent—to gain his freedom from state prison.

Jack Leary, 24, Berkeley, Calif., joined several of his father's longtime friends in a news conference to discuss the elder Leary's role in testifying before a U.S. District Court grand jury in Chicago on narcotics and underground terrorist organizations.

All expressed fears Leary would touch off a federal witchhunt which would result in the arrest of many innocent persons.

"My father finds lies easier to tell than the truth," young Leary said. "It wouldn't surprise me if he made up the most preposterous things imaginable. Once he gets going he doesn't know what is true and what is not."

Leary is serving a term in Folsom Prison for marijuana possession and escape from a state correctional institution.

His son also said he would be surprised if his father testified about him or his sister. "He has already implicated my sister in his escape," the son said.

Minidoka High School sewer line delayed

RUPERT — Minidoka County school officials do not expect to have to close Minidoka High School because of its sewer problems.

Dr. Darrell Hatfield said Thursday the culinary water at the school is being tested daily and no contamination has been found since school began.

The school has been closed several times in recent years because of its sewer and water problems. The school is currently trying to have a sewer line built from the high school to Rupert. The project has been delayed by Idaho Health and Welfare Department and Environmental Protection Agency regulations.

Money for the project has already been provided by an emergency bill they passed last spring. Bids have been opened for the project.

Galley Construction Co. of Boise was awarded the project contract with a bid of $117,000.

EPA officials told school administrators this week that the project had not been approved by either agency and that construction cannot begin before approval is given.

Hatfield said, "I don't see any immediate problem." He said the conditions at the school should be better with lowering of sulfur in the area. He said that if school officials believe that if they can get through the first two or three weeks of school, they should be able to keep the school open for the rest of the year.

He said the school is presently carrying on a water conservation campaign. Among other measures, no showers are allowed. Hatfield said he did not know if the water system could bear up under the pressure of normal water use. He said, "We hate to chance it." He said that school officials fear that one incident of sewer failure would cause closure of the school.

Hatfield said the problem with getting approval from EPA and HAW seems to be "they passed the buck back and forth." He said if the agencies would "just tell us what to do, we'd do it."

Part of the problem of getting agency approval is that the sewer line would be too close to the existing Minico well.

Samboree planned at TF fairgrounds

FILER — The Good Sam Club Samboree for the state of Idaho will be Friday through Sunday at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds at Filer.

Newell Clark, Blackfoot, state director, will be in charge of the meeting.

Over 100 recreational vehicle owners and Good Sam members are expected to attend from Idaho and the neighboring state of Washington.

Rupert sewer sludge brings complaint

RUPERT — The City Council Tuesday received a letter from the Minidoka Irrigation District demanding an end to the dumping of sludge from the Rupert sewer treatment plant in its main drain.

The main drain runs from Rupert to the Snake River Canyon. The letter cited several problems with the dumping of sludge in the drain. MID officials claim that they can't supply enough water to their customers on the lower end of the drain because sludge builds up in the bottom.

City officials found a 1918 contract in their files Tuesday night which permits the dumping of the sludge. The dumping is currently permitted by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The action by the city may have to be continued until construction of the new secondary sewer treatment plant is completed in 1976.

Prisoner locked in car

CINCINNATI (UPI) — A policeman in suburban Evendale has had a prisoner locked in the trunk of his cruiser for a week, but the officer hopes he will escape.

Officers tried dismantling part of the roof and removing the back seat to undo the snake's hiding place.

Parental recipe lacking

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A good, clean-living youth, a football player or Boy Scout, has just as much chance of winding up a dope addict or alcoholic as his lawless peers, according to a UCLA researcher.

"Never before have I been involved in a study whose results turned out to be so far off from what I expected," said Dr. Forrest S. Tennant.

He studied the family and moral histories of 5,000 American soldiers in Europe in 1971 to determine the relationship between youthful character traits and later alcoholism and drug dependence.

The study was submitted as his doctoral thesis to the UCLA School of Public Health.

He said he began the study figuring that clean-living youths — who belonged to the Scouts, went out for athletics, cared for pets and were interested in wholesome group activities — would be less likely to become alcoholics or addicts.

"There is no such relationship," he said, the study showed.

Only three factors of the 107 factors studied, he said, made a difference: Those who began drinking at home before age 15 were more likely to become alcoholics, a churchgoing background lessened the possibility of becoming a drug abuser, and moderate smoking made children less likely to take narcotics later on in life.

Those spanked three times a week or more, however, in spite cases were more likely to turn to dope.

He was hoping to come up with a kind of recipe for parents, but it didn't turn out that way," Tennant said.

GM rotary due in April

DETROIT (UPI) — The long-awaited General Motors rotary engine, with fuel economy close to 30 miles per gallon, will debut next spring in a sporty four-door version of Chevrolet's new sporty Monza 2 plus 2.

Chevrolet General Manager F. James McDonald told newsmen Tuesday that emission certification tests for the rotary engine, the first new powerplant to reach the production stage in decades, will start in October. Production will begin in winter with introduction possibly as early as next April.

While McDonald refused to talk fuel economy, GM President Edward N. Cole confirmed that the engine would get between 32 and 34 miles per gallon at a steady 30 miles an hour in a 3,500 pound car. The Monza 2 plus 2, with its small 4-cylinder engine, weighs 2,765 pounds.

At a steady 70 m.p.h., the rotary engine car has obtained 21 to 23 m.p.g., Cole said. The only car now sold in the United States with the rotary engine is the Japanese-built Mazda.

GM will make the final $5 million installment in December on a $20 million contract to develop the Waukegan rotary engine. Its program originally called for introduction in the Monza this fall, but was delayed because of fuel economy and durability problems.

Bonnie, Clyde recalled

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Bonnie and Clyde roamed the southwest in a fast Chevy or Ford roadster, robbing mostly small stores, shooting it out with lawmen, their escapes getting closer and closer each time.

As often as not, the man driving the car for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker was J.C. Sullivan, who dodged bullets along with them. Sullivan also drove getaway cars for other glamorous bigtime gangsters, including "Pretty boy" Floyd and "Machine Gun" Kelly.

Sullivan, now 67, remembers those days well. He ran from the law, chauffeured gangsters around in stolen cars and gambled away his wife's meager household funds. And, Sullivan says, "if they weren't bigtime gangsters at all, just petty thieves. Their glamor, he said is a myth created by Hollywood.

"They didn't have the ingenuity to rob banks," Sullivan said in an interview with UPI.

"Clyde was a likable fella and he had a real personality," Sullivan said. "If he could've turned his energies into the right way he could've been something."

Sullivan said he drove for the Barrow gang only when he needed money badly because he didn't care for them.

"Clyde knew where I lived and he'd call me up and say: 'I'm in the old Ford and I'm bringing it through,' and that would be my cue," Sullivan said.

"I could see the trap that Bonnie was in. She started with him and after they robbed a place or two, she couldn't turn back. She really cared for Clyde — she loved him," Sullivan said.

"As far as she is concerned, I don't think she ever shot at anyone and I don't think she ever smoked a cigar" as in the movies, Sullivan said. "She wrote poetry and she had a good mind."

Three times Sullivan went to prison. He escaped twice. But all the time, he said, "I was scared."

"I knew they would hunt me up and chase me down sooner or later," he said. "It was bound to happen. No one evades the law as I had done for long and get be."

So about 30 years ago, he quit. He said he was "frustrated with the dark side of living."

He became a christian and started a program called "Nu-Way" to help paroled prisoners learn skills and get jobs. He became a leader in the Baptist Church.

"My mother is a christian and she read the Bible to me at home and this stayed with me whenever I laid down on an old, hard prison bed," Sullivan said.

"People who get into crime don't realize the awfulness of it and the fear and the dread and how you can bound into it. Every man out there who is wanted is Clyde — they walk in fear and dread."

Guards' drink spiked

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Three San Quentin Prison guards became ill after sipping coffee and tea spiked with a hallucinogenic drug. It was disclosed Tuesday.

Administrative Assistant William Nyberg said, "Somebody slipped them a Mickey" during Saturday's visiting hours. He added a prison doctor told him the drug might have been LSD.

One correctional officer went home ill while another began "acting strangely," Nyberg said. The third guard did not complain about bizarre feelings until Sunday, the spokesman said.

All three officers suffered a recurrence of the symptoms on Monday and were sent to their personal physicians for treatment.

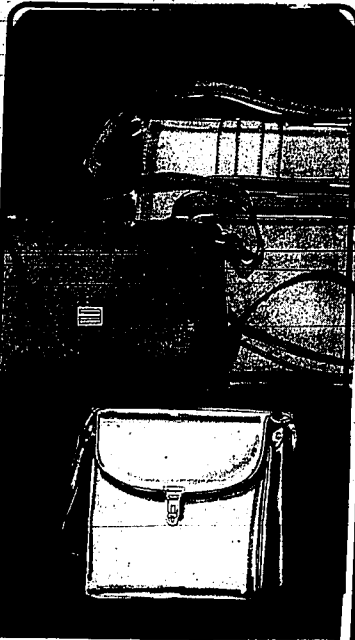

Nyberg said two of the men had been drinking coffee while the third had a cup of tea. He added they had left their cups unattended in the visiting area for a short time.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (UPI) — Craig Benjamin Stewart, 22, St. Anthony, died Wednesday.

Death probed

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls sheriff's deputies today were investigating the death of a Twin Falls man.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the death of Carl Edward Mugridge, 46, whose body was found Wednesday afternoon by a Twin Falls Highway District crew beside a county road south of Twin Falls, was apparently the result of self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Corder said Mugridge's body was found next to the Shoshone Basin Road beside an abandoned car. The car, Corder said, had been spotted as early as last Monday, but no body was seen because of the terrain and tumbleweeds in the area.

Corder said Mugridge had gunshot wounds to the head and a 20-gauge, double-barreled shotgun was lying on the body.

Pinson was arrested Aug. 9 by Multnomah County Sheriff's deputies in Portland, Ore., and returned to Twin Falls to face the charge.

Sheriff Paul Corder said Pinson is charged with taking a rental car under false pretenses from Dollar-A-Day car rental, Twin Falls.

EPA-prohibited herbicide shows up on Idaho spuds

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Traces of an herbicide prohibited by the Environmental Protection Agency has turned up on Idaho potatoes at processing plants.

Officials of state and federal agencies conceded to the Lewiston Morning Tribune Wednesday that large acreages of Idaho potatoes were sprayed with the suspected herbicide sensor.

But the officials said they were unable to identify the growers involved or the location of the fields.

The chemical was approved for experimental use on potatoes in Idaho last year but not since.

The Tribune received a report that about 30,000 acres of potatoes in Idaho were sprayed with the forbidden herbicide this year, but the officials were unable to confirm the report.

William Fretzel, consumer safety officer for the EPA in Boise, said the reported illegal use of the chemical has been under investigation by the EPA, the Idaho Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration and the Idaho Potato Commission.

Joe Stegner, pesticide officer for the FDA, confirmed that the matter is under study.

"So far as we know," he said, "fields have not as yet been harvested. We don't know as yet what acreage is involved, and we haven't identified all the fields in question."

But, Harold Geren, director of EPA in Idaho, said the residues of herbicide has been found on potatoes coming into Idaho processing plants this year. If any spraying was done with the herbicide, it is in violation of EPA regulations, he told the Tribune.

"If the charge is true, you could expect some enforcement action, but I couldn't say today what form that would take," he said.

Stegner said it has not been determined yet if sensor is hazardous to human health, but indications are that the danger thus far would not be great.

Meet asked on power rate hike

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

BOISE — The U.S. General Services Administration Tuesday asked the Idaho Public Utilities Commission to hold a special hearing on the Idaho Power Co. 12.5 per cent rate increase request for 1974.

Idaho Power President James Bruce today called the GSA proposal a delaying tactic. The rate increase was requested by the power company in January and the IPUC has not yet made a decision.

GSA Attorney John Mathews said the purpose of an "evidentiary" hearing would be to question Idaho Power officials under oath about the usefulness of the company's new Jim Bridger plant to the Idaho consumer.

Rate increases based on plant expansion in Idaho are not granted until a new plant becomes "used and useful" to the consumer.

Maintaining that the Bridger plant would not be useful to consumers in Idaho but would bring in additional revenues from other utilities, the GSA argued in a grievance to the IPUC this summer that Idaho Power should be granted almost none of its proposed rate increases.

Mathews contended that the Bridger plant is being used in Idaho. He said that on Friday over one-fourth of the company's load was being supplied by Bridger. Bruce also said that Idaho Power has had to import electricity during September in recent high water years.

But Mathews contended that the plant is not yet in commercial operation.

According to Joe Monroe, who is in charge of the Bridger operation, the plant is still being tested. But he said the plant has been in operation intermittently since Aug. 8, and that up to the company's daily has gone Idaho. This week, however, Bridger is shut down for adjustments, he said.

Monroe would not say when the Bridger plant will be operating. But he asked about a Pacific Northwest utility company — as a regular customer — that Oregon plant has been in operation since the utility was built in 1954. "We might well achieve that," he said.

Mathews also questioned whether Idaho Power was selling electricity under a new contract to Pacific Power and Light and co-terminating — this Oregon company — as a regular customer. The evidentiary hearing would be to determine "what was the load on their system exclusive of PP and L," he said.

Evidence supplied the IPUC by Idaho Power shows that the bulk, but not all, of Bridger's production would be supplied to other utilities from September through December 1974.

Bruce said these contracted sales to utilities are subject to change depending on water conditions. Under an adverse water year, Idaho Power would be able to cut down its sales, he said. Power companies need to plan for production to meet the worst, not the optimal, conditions, he added.

On the $14 million transmission line which was unused but included in the power company's plant investment in 1973, Bruce said Idaho Power would receive no extra revenue for the line until a rate increase takes effect. Since no rate increase was granted in 1973, he said, the inclusion made no difference.

However, under present accounting methods including the transmission line in the rate base for 1973 would have added the company's 1974 plant investment by $7 million, bringing in more than $560,000 additional revenues, according to Idaho Power Attorney Tom Nelson.

The line, not operative until May of this year, would have only been included as plant investment for the latter half of 1974, he said.

According to Bruce, the point is moot since Idaho Power still has not been granted a rate increase and over half this year is past. He said the IPUC knew the line did not become operative until May and could remove it from the plant investment for the first half of this year.

Mathews questioned whether the transmission line, coming from Bridger, would be used at all. He said the entire $14 million plant investment, bringing in revenues over $12.2 million at the company's requested 6.65 rate of return, should be taken out of the 1974 rate base. But he agreed with Bruce that inclusion of the power line in the 1973 plant investment base would have brought no additional revenues to the company that year, as had been mistakenly reported in the Times-News.

Burley man charged

ONTARIO, Ore. — A Burley man was charged Wednesday with the murder of a 17-year-old Ontario High School girl whose body was found last Friday.

Jesse Flores, 22, was arraigned here and ordered held in Malheur County Jail without bail.

Flores was the object of a widespread search in Oregon and Idaho since the body of Margarita Jessica Haro was found by a farmer in tall weeds and grass midway between Ontario and Vale, Ore. A medical examiner's report on the girl, missing since Sept. 8, indicated she died of head injuries.

Minidoka County law officers conducted an intensive search for Flores last weekend. Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Jarvis said Flores was in the area but eluded searchers. Officers located Saturday night a vehicle which Flores had used, he said.

It was reported that Flores had returned to Oregon, Jarvis said, and the information was relayed to Malheur County authorities.

California pilot not hurt

HAILEY — Dieter Dengler, Sausalito, Calif., escaped injury Wednesday in the forced landing of his 1937 PT 17 Stearman near the corner of highway 93 and Hailey's Fourth street.

Dengler had landed at Hailey to refuel but when he was unable to get 80-octane fuel he took off again. During his climb the engine coughed.

"I leveled off but by the time the engine started again I was about 300 feet up," he said.

He planned to land on the highway itself but a car was coming so he set the plane down near the road. He estimated damage to the plane at $14,000.

Jerome emergency procedures tested

JEROME — A mock disaster was conducted by St. Benedict's Hospital Wednesday to test emergency procedures.

A simulated boiler explosion at the high school left 10 students with "injuries" ranging from a broken arm to cardiac arrest. Two ambulances and five ambulance attendants were dispatched to the scene where the students lay scattered around the boiler room with their injuries made to look real with the use of red dye for blood.

Ambulance attendants administered emergency medical care before transporting the "victims" to the hospital. Upon arrival there the students were tagged at the entrance by the triage officer, a registered nurse who determined extent of injuries and assigned them either to the intensive care unit, emergency room or minor injury care area.

Each student was treated as if the injury was real so the total emergency procedures at the hospital could be tested and evaluated, according to Fred Maltz, hospital public relations officer.

He said the hospital conducts such procedures twice yearly.

"Delores Hansen, the hospital in-service training officer, is in charge of the program which gives hospital personnel an opportunity to test their ability to cope with a situation like this should it ever occur," Maltz said.

Following the mock disaster, personnel involved met in conference to go over the situation step by step to determine strength and weakness of the operation.

Mock disaster

St. Benedict's Hospital tested emergency procedures Wednesday during a mock disaster. Here victims are being removed from the ambulance for hospital treatment. Personnel involved in the mock disaster met following the test to evaluate the situation to determine strength and weakness of the operation.

Twin Falls entertains Caldwell, Minico invades Capital in South Idaho battles

municipal and Jackpot courses Thursday morning with the pros playing the first two days at many and the last two at Jackpot. A total of 74 pros and 15 amateurs had entered by Wednesday night.

Twin Falls entertains the Caldwell Cougars while the Minico Spartans travel to Capital in Southern Idaho Conference action Friday night.

Twin Falls' chances are rated toss-up while the Spartans will be definite underdogs. Caldwell will bring one of the best backs in the conference in Kent Hollingsworth and a record that really doesn't show its true strength. Coach Dennis Altmquist said of the Cougars.

"Hollingsworth was second in the conference in rushing last year and is there again this season as a team. Caldwell got something like 250 yards against Capital and except for a couple of breaks would have played Capital a lot closer game. They gave up one touchdown on a fumble early and then saw a couple of their good threats killed by fumbles in interceptions."

"It seems a lot of people in the third district figure Caldwell is going to beat us," he continued, "but that will remain to be seen."
"We felt we got our offense untracked a little and we're definitely going to start working on getting outside where our speed can help us," he said. "We felt we did pretty defensively against Idaho Falls because they have an excellent offensive team. They showed us a lot of offense."
Mike Allison, rebounding from a 29-yard effort against Jerome for 169 against Idaho Falls, is pretty well over his hip point. The Bruins have a couple of sprained ankles and junior cornerback Bland may be out for the year with a broken bone in his hand.

When Minico and Capital meet at Boise, three of the top yardage running backs in the league will be on display. Minico's defensive problem is two of them, Val Rivers and Jeff Caldwell, run for Capital.

Spartan Mike Albert, thumper for a 154-yard night against Burley, is average 102 yards per outing.

Surprisingly, Capital hasn't been throwing as much as last year although it returns its quarterback. Still with Caldwell average 7.9 per carry and 224 yards total and Rivers at 308 yards and 6.5 average, passing isn't a real necessity.

Minico's defense faces one of its major two or three obstacles of the year in this one.

Orioles maul Yanks 10-4 and cut deficit to one-half game

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mike Cuellar won his 20th game of the season and Rich Gosline and Bobby Grich both slugged two-run doubles in a seven-run sixth inning, leading the Baltimore Orioles to a 10-4 win over the New York Yankees Wednesday night.

The victory moved the Orioles to within 1/2 game of the first-place Yankees, with the teams scheduled again at New York tomorrow night.

Cuellar became the major league's eighth 20-game winner, all eight in the American League. He has now 520 or more games four times in his career and he has won seven of his eight decisions since August 15.

With the score tied 2-2, New York starter Pat Dobson, 16-15, began the sixth by walking Grich. Tommy Davis' second hit and run single of the game sent Grich to third. He talked on Boggs' Powell's single. Dick Tidrow relieved at this point but Paul Blair's infield hit and a walk to Brooks Robinson forced in a run. Tidrow retired the next two men but walked Al Bumbury on a 3-2 pitch, forcing Powell home.

A's nip Royals on 4-run fifth

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Reggie Jackson lined a two-run single and scored on a wild pitch in a four-run fifth inning Wednesday night that lifted the Oakland A's to a 5-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Ken Holtzman, 19-14, scored his seventh win in his last eight starts but needed relief from Rolfe Fingers.

Indians rally to nip Brewers

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Frank Robinson's two-run homer capped a four-run rally in the sixth inning and sparked the Cleveland Indians to a 6-3 come-from-behind win over the Milwaukee Brewers Wednesday night.

The Brewers led 3-0 when Kevin Tobin, who had held Cleveland hitless the first five innings, opened the sixth by walking Dave Duncan. First baseman George Scott's error on Angel Hernandez's ground ball put runners on first and second and John Lawenstien's double scored Duncan. George Hendrick's sacrifice scored Lawenstien, and Robinson followed with his game-winning home run.

Boston beats Detroit 3-5

BOSTON (UPI) — Fred Lynn, who spent the season with Boston's Pawtucket farm club, clubbed four hits including a two-run fourth inning double Wednesday night to power the Boston Red Sox to an 8-5 win over the Detroit Tigers.

Lynn was helped by Dick McAuliffe, who hit a two-run homer and Rick Barlow, who had three hits, scored a run and knocked in one. Al Kille had three hits, including a two-run homer in the 11th, and now needs four hits in 13 games to reach the 3,000 mark.

Kaat, Chicago stop Twins

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jim Kaat, winless stopper in the majors, continued his mastery over the Minnesota Twins Wednesday night, walking just one and striking out eight as he helmed the Chicago White Sox to a 3-1 triumph.

Kaat, who has four straight wins since moving to Chicago from Minnesota, scattered seven singles in picking up his 10th win against 13 losses.

Texas, Angels split twin bill

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Steve "Hogan" Threw a three-hitter at California and rookie Tom Robinson picked up his first two major league RBI Wednesday night to give Texas a 2-0 win over the Angels and salvage a split of their doubleheader.

In the opener, Bruce Bochte and Joe Leland hit back-to-back homers in the first

W.R.-Jerome, Shoshone-Wendell battles boast title overtones

Wood River travels to Jerome and Shoshone will be at Wendell in two key conference football games Friday night.

Wood River, which dropped a last-minute decision to Mountain Home, has a good chance to defeat Jerome to keep its chance for a championship alive. Meanwhile, Jerome must win to keep pace with Mountain Home in the South Central Idaho Conference.

The other key game comes in the Little Five Conference where both Wendell and Shoshone, along with Glens Ferry, figure to fight it out for the title. However, this conference has had some three-way ties in the past and one separated first and third last year.

"They scare me to death," said Coach Ed Peterson of Jerome about Wood River. "I watched that game (Mountain Home - Wood River) last week and I think they're with them looking real tough."

Going into the contest incomplete SCIC stats show Jerome easily the best defensive team while Wood River ranks third defensively but second only to Mountain Home in putting points on the boards.

Still the posters figure this to be a slugfest match. Prior to the season Wood River Coach Dale Blakeley said the team playing healthiest the longest and getting the most breaks should win. The latter could well establish Friday night's winner.

with the quarterback spot, using four men at the position in the first three games due largely to injuries. Both Peterson and Bitterly could see some action against Shoshone Friday night but Coach Vogl Behrens has backed that injured duo with Tracy Scott, a converted halfback, who performed quite well under Jerome's pressure last week.

Shoshone will bring the biggest defensive line in the conference against Wendell, which can average out about as well defensively as Shoshone but is behind offensive line against defense.

In other action, the Buhl Indians draw a tough assignment of trying to tame Shelley Buhl also, running undefeated in Idaho Falls, regarded as having a real powerhouse. In fact one of their coaches was heard to remark Monday he wouldn't mind playing the Idaho Falls schools. He's wrong there but it does show the confidence Shelley has this year.

Shelley has been scoring a lot of points each outing while Buhl has been able to limit foes to an average of less than one ID per game. Buhl will have to unlimber its offense a little because it should need more than the one and a half touchdowns in each game to be averaging.

"We've been making some mistakes on the bench," Coach John Lund said of last week's game. "But from now on when we find something that works, we're going to use it until they stop it."

Gooding, which has come up with a couple of good wins since an opening loss, will entertain Glens Ferry in what should be a toss up. The difference for Gooding has been the passing of Kevin Durfee and the all-round performances of Todd Mink and Monte Rogers.

Glenns Ferry performed well defensively against Buhl and did a better job of containing the Indians outside than Gooding did in the opener.

Burley, bouncing between wins and losses alternately, will get into its EIC schedule by entertaining the Blackfoot Broncos. Offensive inconsistency has been plaguing Burley but Coach Ray Berryhill has been generally pleased with the overall improvement of his junior-laden outfit, particularly defensively.

Hansen, the owner of a surprise win over Valley earlier, will try to extend his series' win streak to three against Kimberly. The Huskies have been having trouble scoring as have the Bulldogs, who last week saw an apparent touchdown nullified by an inadvertent whistle.

Murtough will host Declo in what some figured would be a showdown for the Magle Valley Conference title. But Declo's young troops, hit by injury, already are one down in the league. Murtough, the preseason pick by loop coaches, still hasn't shown the offensive thrust Coach Glenn Richardson-son felt was possible. A change of quarterbacks last week put some aerial muscle in the Devil arsenal, however.

Hagerman, upset winner over Declo, takes that boost to Raft River where Coach Kay Harper and son Rick undoubtedly are planning a pick by loop coaches, still hasn't shown the offensive thrust Coach Glenn Richardson felt was possible.

Bucs top Cards; Reds and LA lose again

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Al Oliver cracked a pair of doubles and drove in two runs Wednesday night when the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Jim Rooker and moved to within one game of first place in the National League East.

St. Louis took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Ted Sizemore singled, moved to second on a walk and scored on Joe Torre's two-out single.

Cardinal shortstop Mike Tyson committed two errors in the fourth, paving the way for two Pittsburgh runs. Oliver pitched with a double and scored when Willie Stargell was safe on Tyson's throwing error.

Dodgers bow to Astros in 10th

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pinch-hitter Bob Watson doubled home Greg Gross from second base in the top of the 10th inning Wednesday night when the Houston Astros rallied for a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Gross led off the inning with a single up the middle off reliever Charlie Hough, the Dodgers' third pitcher of the night. Gross was sacrificed to second by Cesar Cedeno.

Cubs topple Phillies 5-2

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Rick Reuschel, Steve Stone and Ken Frazier combined to hurt the Chicago Cubs to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night.

Reuschel hurled the first three innings then left with a slightly pulled hamstring muscle running out his second straight hit. Stone relieved and went until the ninth when Frazier took over to end the game.

Expos take two from New York

MONTREAL (UPI) — Tim Lincecum pitched two runs while Dennis Blair and Dale Murray combined to shut out New York in the nightcap as the Montreal Expos blanked the Mets, 4-0, and swept a doubleheader after winning the opener, 3-2.

The Expos jumped on loser Tom Seaver for three runs in the sixth inning. Rookie Gary Carter singled to lead off the inning, went to second on a sacrifice by Blair and to third on Larry Lintz' single. Carter scored when Frazier bled the Mets, 4-0.

Aaron collects 732nd homer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Hank Aaron said goodbye to San Francisco with his 732nd career homer and a run-scoring single Wednesday in leading the Atlanta Braves to a 4-2 victory over the Giants.

It was Aaron's 19th homer of the season, which will end his 21-year career, and the RBI single gave him a total of 64 runs batted in this year.

Aaron's solo homer came in the second off Giants rookie Jim Montefusco and he was given a standing ovation by a mini-crowd of 500. He also received a warm hand when he left the game in the eighth inning.

Carl Morton went 7 1/3 innings to gain credit for his 10th victory in 26 decisions, while Montefusco, who left after the fifth, took the loss and now is 2-2.

Hernandez' bat sinks Redlegs

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Enzo Hernandez drove in four runs, two of them with a double in the seventh inning, to spark the San Diego Padres to a 6-5 win over Cincinnati Wednesday night and further dim the Redlegs' hopes of overtaking Los Angeles.

Hernandez, who went into the game hitting .238 and with 29 RBIs, slashed his two-bagger along the rightfield line to drive in pinch-runners Dave Roberts and John Scott and tie the score 5-5. After Glenn Beckert grounded out to get Enzo Hernandez, the Padres' shortstop trotted home with what proved to be the winning run as Johnny Grubb lofted a sacrifice fly to centerfield.

Randy Jones, who had dropped his last eight decisions, got credit for his eighth against 21 losses.

Blazers edge Bell in last 17 seconds

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Quarterback Bob Davis hit Greg Latta with a 21-yard touchdown pass with just 17 seconds remaining Wednesday night to give the Florida Blazers a 24-21 come-from-behind victory over the Philadelphia Bell in a World Football League game.

A small crowd of 10,417, with 8,701 paying customers, watched Florida bounce back from two straight setbacks to hold onto a share of the lead in the WFL's East Division with an 8-4 record.

The lead changed hands twice in the last two minutes. It looked like Philadelphia had put it on ice with a 12-yard touchdown crash by Claude Walls with just 1:14 left.

The Blazers, in trouble late in the game, jumped off to an early start and intercepted four key passes on their way to victory.

On the first play from scrimmage, Florida's Tommy Reamon, a rookie from Missouri, ripped around right end for 55 yards and a first down at the six. Three plays later Jim Strong plunged over for a one-yard touchdown.

Memphis collects seventh win in row

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jim Jennings ran for 182 yards on 30 carries Wednesday night to take over the World Football League lead in season rushing yardage and led the Memphis Southern to its seventh straight triumph 25-7 over the Chicago Fire.

Quarterback John Huarte passed for the first two Memphis touchdowns—222 yards to Roger Wallace and 21 yards to John Harvey. But Huarte suffered a torn calf muscle in his right leg and had to sit out the second half.

Jennings ran his season-rushing total to 879 yards for the WFL lead. Memphis, the league leader in total offense and rushing, picked up 252 yards rushing and 451 yards passing to surpass its season average.

Storm edges Sharks with 2 seconds left

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Booth Luster kicked a 28-yard field goal with two seconds left Wednesday night to salvage a 19-17 Portland lead over Jacksonville in a battle of last-place World Football League teams.

Portland, which had a 16-3 lead going into the fourth quarter, saw it evaporate when Sharks quarterback Kiy Stephens heaved a 25-yard touchdown pass to Kent Swiere with little more than a minute to play.

That gave Jacksonville a 17-16 lead and, apparently, the game.

But Storm quarterback Pete Beathard started Portland off from its own 30 with a 23-yard pass to tight end Bob Christiansen and six plays later Luster kicked the game-winner.

Jacksonville, playing before a record low crowd of 16,041, opened the scoring in the first period on a 48-yard field goal by Grant Grubler.

The Sharks held that 3-0 lead into the third period when, in little more than three minutes, Portland erupted for two touchdowns. Mary Kendricks scored on a three-yard burst and, moments later, Jacksonville was forced to punt from its own end zone.

Joe Wiley took the kick and returned it 46 yards for a touchdown and the extra point made it 16-3.

Football coaches pace up and down the sidelines. Boxing managers fan their fighters between rounds. Horse trainers-leap-up at dawn to time their animals. Baseball managers march out to the mound and yell at the umpire. All this comes to mind because a client averse to labor wants to know if there's any participant sport wherein the participant need not burn up any energy. Certainly, is, Eigon racing. A shipper will pick up the birds, deliver them to a starting point several hundred miles away, then turn them loose at the prescribed moment. They fly with hot hearts, 300 miles a day. Back home, the sportsman in the rocking chair may doze, read a little, sip tea, whatever.

BIRDBRAIN

How we came by that term "birdbrain" I do not know. Relative to its size, the brain of a bird is enormous.

QUICK, without looking at your watch, which is closer to the dial, the hour hand or the minute hand. Odd how we fail to notice such. The hour hand, always.

ANOTHER little known fact about poet Walt Whitman is that although he used "I" and "me" in his own writings with large abandon, he wouldn't read anything written in the first person by anyone else.

COCKROACH

Q. "You said the average female cockroach produces 37 little roaches per litter. So how many liters does the produce?"

A. Seven in the five months of her life.

FAVORITE SPORT in the Philippines is cock fighting. Every village has a pit. Law there permits fights only on Sundays and holidays.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY researchers say they've proved that men are inclined to get angry at things while women are more apt to get angry at people.

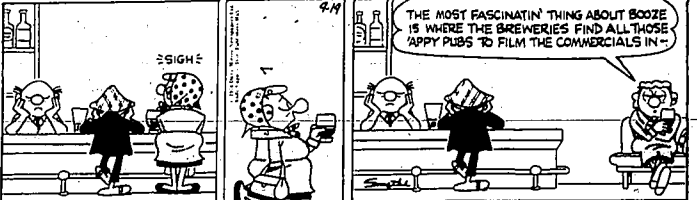

THIS ONE is told about a New York dress manufacturer who invited in 40 buyers to see his fall line. He ordered his assistant: "Go down to Lindy's Restaurant. Buy one sandwich, but make sure it's the most expensive one." The assistant asked, "How are you going to feed 40 buyers on one sandwich?" The manufacturer snapped, "Don't back talk me. Take it down to Irving's Delicatessen and get him to knock off 39 copies."

Overseas food shipment volume increase likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's decision to increase spending on overseas food aid means that volume of shipments in the current fiscal year probably will rise from the current level of 1973-74, an Agriculture Department official said Wednesday.

The least in volume, however, will probably fall short of the increase which officials had planned before the summer drought produced the crop slump in 1974 domestic harvest prospects, the spokesman predicted.

Richard Bell, deputy assistant secretary of agriculture, explained in another interview that the administration originally had budgeted $1 billion in the 1973-74 year for the Food for Peace program, the main vehicle for U.S. overseas food aid since the middle 1950s.

This was about the same amount spent in most recent years and officials initially had expected it would buy a bigger volume of aid than in 1973-74 when the volume declined to the lowest level in nearly two decades.

But with 1974 crops slashed to drought and crop prices up sharply, Bell said officials now estimate it could cost about $1.6 billion to ship the volume of commodities originally planned.

At the State Department, a spokesman for the Agency for International Development said its "self-help" program for developing countries will be more than doubled this year.

The spokesman said the U.S. would spend $675 million as compared to $557 million last year. The money would be spent to help the recipient nations increase their food production and nutritional levels.

Other sources said Ford's decision laid out a "general guideline" under which spending will be allowed to rise above $1 billion, but exact amounts will depend on later quarterly reviews of the crop situation here and abroad.

The source said that while total dollar and volume amounts remain uncertain he now believes "the total commodity flow probably will be up from the 1973-74 figure to what was originally expected."

More Idaho peas

BOISE (UPI) — Estimated 1974 dry edible pea production in Idaho is more than double 1973, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service said today.

It said the increased production is the result of both higher acreage and yield.

The 1974 is estimated by the service at 1,371,000 hundredweight.

While production at this level is far above the last two years, the service said, it would be below the 1968-71 period.

Farm labor force down

BOISE (UPI) — A decline in the farm labor force in Idaho in August from a year ago and the previous months was reported today by the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

The service said farm workers in the Gem state during the week of Aug. 12-14 totaled 53,800. This was 3,000 less than a year ago and 2,000 less than July.

Of the total, family workers accounted for 35,000, down 4,000 from last year's number.

Cool temperatures menace more crops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cool weather is posing a renewed threat to further crops in the drought-stricken 1974 harvest of two vital livestock feed crops, corn and soybeans, an Agriculture Department report warns.

The agency's weekly crop report said subnormal temperatures, continued wet conditions, and heavy rain last week, keeping the development of corn and soybeans at a "slow pace" in most states.

Elmore 4-H units meet

CHANNON, Friday — The regular meeting of the Elmore County 4-H Council and the County Builders will be Sept. 21 at 8 p.m. at the county agent's office.

All leaders are asked to attend. Plans for the county awards ceremony will be discussed.

The Idaho Community Pride Conference will be held Sept. 27-28 at the Riverside Inn, Blackfoot. Lodging and four meals will be financed by donor grants for two official 4-H delegates from Elmore County. Teen leaders who are 14 years of age or older are eligible to attend.

Additional 4-H'ers and leaders may attend the conference at their own expense: $18.50 for youth and $26 for adults. Anyone interested in attending should call the extension office.

NO BULL

FROM SWENSEN'S MARKETS

SWENSEN'S BUY CHAMPION STEER!

Swensen's definitely don't want to get trapped into explaining the difference between a bull and a steer, but since some people may think that Swensen's ads contain a lot of bull almost every week, we want to emphatically state that this week our ad contains absolutely NO BULL —

ONLY CHOICE STEER MEAT

On sale at choice low prices.

World's Greatest BEEF SALE!

GROUND BEEF 66¢ Lb.

The source of all this choice beef is the Annual Twin Falls County 4-H and FFA FAT STOCK SALE held Saturday, September 7, where Swensen's Magic Markets purchased THE RESERVE CHAMPION STEER of the Twin Falls County Fair. Raised, cared for and shown by WADE WILLIAMS, a young FFA Man from Hollister.

This beautiful steer also took first place in the carcass judging contest after it was butchered. Of all the steers at the sale this one had a higher graded and yielding carcass than any other. Steaks, roasts, and ground meat from this champion steer and many other beautiful choice 4-H and FFA Steers.

Swensen's Markets wish to congratulate all Twin Falls County 4-H and FFA members at the stock sale for their achievement and dedication this year. So that everyone can know who the potential livestock producers of tomorrow are, those who participated by raising and showing an animal this year are printed below.
