Fodder beets

CSI project tests alcohol yield prospects

By LARRY SWISHER
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Idaho's greatest weapon in the fight against dependence on foreign oil may be the fodder beet, a project at the College of Southern Idaho hopes to show.

At the same time, the high-yield beet has the potential of becoming a new cash crop for southern Idaho farmers, college President Dr. James Taylor says.

The man who is heading the project at CSI, Jack Sowards, professor of energy, agrees.

Compared to other crops, fodder beets could provide much greater amounts of alcohol because of their high yields, Sowards said.

"In favorable sites, they produce outstanding tonnage," he noted.

A relative of the sugar beet, the fodder beet is new to this country but is grown extensively in New Zealand and Brazil.

Over the winter, the CSI project will test the ability of the beets to produce alcohol by fermentation and distillation. The project is funded partly through state and national energy agencies.

The first of the beets were delivered to the campus early last week from experimental plots near Aberdeen, and students started work on building a fermentation tank.

The reason fodder beets are not used by sugar processors now is the greater difficulty of extraction of sugar from them, Sowards said he understands. When they are used for alcohol production that may change.

"We're hoping to extract 100 percent," he said.

Sowards and a group of CSI students will periodically ferment and distill batches of the crop, test his advanced process for extracting the sugar from the beets, and measure their storability.

Most of the work will be done by sophomore students studying alternative energy and biochemistry and by work study students, for whom openings are available.

The group will test four to six varieties of fodder beets, which were grown with seed from the Netherlands.

Even if the project succeeds, special strains of fodder beets may need to be developed for Idaho to meet such factors as disease, climate and growing season, Sowards said.

The Aberdeen plots yielded 68 tons per acre, according to data given at a gasoline symposium in Spokane last week.

Although the sugar content was lower than the 14 percent hoped for, Sowards estimated the beets would produce 11 tons of sugar per acre if all the sugar can be extracted.

That in turn would produce about five tons or 1,500 gallons of alcohol, he said.

Quick tax slash given fresh push

By United Press International

Two of President-elect Ronald Reagan's top advisers Sunday boosted a lame duck tax cut, and the man in line to become the new Senate majority leader agreed.

Campaign Chief of Staff Ed Meese and the campaign chairman, Sen. Paul Laxalt of Nevada, said in separate network interviews Reagan would be pleased if the lame-duck session of Congress that convenes Wednesday passes a cut in levies.

Senate Republican leader Howard Baker of Tennessee said he will work in that direction, but expects House Democrats to stall such action during the special session.

Baker appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Meese on NBC's "Meet the Press" and Laxalt on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Reagan campaigned on a platform calling for a 10 percent cut in taxes next year and a similar cut in the next two years. The Senate Finance Committee has approved a one-year plan, but its bottom line — a total $39 billion in tax cuts next year — has much in common with the Reagan proposal.

Meese said Reagan would like it if the Finance Committee version were enacted this year. Then Congress could work on modifying the bill next year to meet the exact specifics the president-elect wants, he suggested.

Reagan wants to "get the tax cut legislation on the books now," he said, and build from there.

"If (Kansas Sen.) Bob Dole as the new chairman of the Finance Committee wants to proceed with the package, as Governor Reagan indicated ... then God bless," Laxalt said.

Laxalt and Meese emphasized that if the lame-duck session does not pass a tax cut, they expect Congress to immediately begin working on one when it convenes next year.

"My position is that I will support ... president-elect Reagan in passing a 10 percent tax cut for next year as soon as possible and as soon as is practical," Baker said.

But he said he expects Democratic opposition in the House during the lame-duck session and does not think a bill will pass until January when the new Congress arrives.

Laxalt and Meese said no decisions have yet been made on specific Cabinet posts, or whether a Democrat will be offered one, but the president-elect hopes to have the entire Cabinet selected by early next month.

Meese indicated Reagan will work with black leaders and try to alleviate their concerns about his administration, but also wants to "get away from the conventional wisdom you have to have busing, you have to have quotas in order to solve problems."

Reagan arranged to go to his ranch in Santa Barbara, Calif., Sunday for a week of briefings, meetings with advisers and reflection after attending services at Bel-Air Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles in the morning.

Tough stance needed if U.S. spending cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress must show a willingness to take some unpopular steps to cut spending if Ronald Reagan is to carry out the people's Election Day mandate, the new Senate budget leader says.

Reagan, who swept a Republican election to power when he won the White House, can only keep his promise to control federal spending if Congress works with him, Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M., said in an interview.

And Congress must be willing to make unpopular legislative changes to what the people have asked Governor Reagan to do, he said.

Reagan "isn't going to be a miracle man if laws are on the books and people here won't want to make changes," the senator added.

Domenici, a proponent of cutting spending and balancing the federal budget, will take over the chairmanship of the Budget Committee in January from Ernest Hollings, a moderate South Carolina Democrat.

One of Domenici's top priorities will be strengthening America's defense capability. He plans to cut everywhere, but the Pentagon budget, which he hopes to beef up beyond increases already made under Hollings.

He would not detail where he wants cuts made, saying he prefers to see

Reagan's budget recommendations first. But he said a 2 percent across-the-board cut, exempling the Pentagon, would be one way to start.

"A 1983 balanced budget with a good tax-cut program and keeping the military tread line up is do-able," he said. "It's not all pie in the sky."

The task will not be easy, he added, but it can be done. Domenici has favored cutting social programs in past sessions, arguing some welfare programs have grown much faster than they should.

The role of the congressional budget committees should be enhanced somewhat under a Reagan administration, since those panels set the limits of overall government spending.

Depth of earthquake center reason damage was slight

EUREKA, Calif. (UPI) — A major earthquake which rumbled through northern California and southern Oregon caused relatively light damage, probably because it was centered deep in the earth and just off the coast, scientists said Sunday.

"Aftershocks" continued Saturday night and early Sunday, but they were smaller than the 6.2 magnitude 7 1/2 jolt which struck at 2:27 a.m. Saturday, shaking several homes off their foundations, rupturing power and gas lines, and caving in a freeway overpass.

Geologists on the scene said the quake was a "deep event" centered under the waters of Humboldt Bay.

But Dr. Bruce Bolt, director of the University of California's seismographic laboratory at Berkeley, said it has not yet been established how far under the earth's surface the movement began.

"Earthquakes there can be deeper than in the central part of California," he said. "This one may be about twice the depth. It could be 10 miles deep."

Bolt said the quake showed that disastrous damage need not occur in a major earthquake. "This quake brings out the point that where construction is done with earthquakes in mind, you don't get so much damage."

He said the area around Eureka has "more earthquakes than any part of the state, and most of the weak structures were already gone."

Bolt said the occurrence of the large tremor does not change his prediction of a major quake for the coastal area farther south.

It did not relieve any of the tension building up on the San Andreas fault, which destroyed San Francisco in 1906.

"The San Andreas fault ends well to the south of there," Bolt said. "We don't know which fault this earthquake was on. There is a complicated network of faults in that area."

U.S. response coming

By United Press International

The Washington Post reported Sunday that the Carter administration is preparing to respond to Iran's demands for release of the hostages with proposals that will meet the spirit if not the letter of Tehran's position.

Asked about the report, a State Department spokesman said there was no indication when a U.S. reply would be sent. State Department spokesman John Trainor said Friday the United States was "at the point of decision" on its response to Iran's four conditions for freeing the hostages.

Union sources said the nation's largest labor coalition, Solidarity, will call a nationwide strike within 48 not to interfere in Iranian affairs, drop all legal claims against Iran, free its frozen assets and return the late shah's wealth.

The Post said the proposal was under study by senior officials but had not been given to President Carter for final approval. Citing unnamed informed sources, the newspaper said officials hoped Carter would approve the response early in the week for transmission to Iran.

While Haseo Chih of Staff Jack Watson, interviewed by the Cable News Network, said President-elect Ronald Reagan would be consulted on decisions affecting the hostages but he would not have veto power.

There were no new developments to indicate that release of the captives, held for 372 days, was any closer.

Tension rises in Poland as union threatens general strike

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Poland closed its borders to foreign reporters Sunday with the country's largest union threatening a nationwide general strike at midweek to protest government attempts to rewrite its constitution.

The possibility of a general strike was underlined as workers converged on plants and factories carrying sleeping bags and sacks of food for a long stay.

In Gdansk, site of the summer shipyard strikes, two television crews were ordered out of the country and Warsaw airport American and Austrian reporters were refused entry.

Diplomatic sources said foreign journalists already in the country were ordered to report to the police visa sections this morning. A foreign ministry spokesman said only correspondents permanently accredited to work in Poland would be allowed to enter the country.

The government, stepping up its major propaganda campaign against labor unrest, condemned strikes as a tool of political pressure and threatened to purge Communist party members who strike.

In a related development, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced in a Warsaw-dated dispatch that Polish and Soviet troops were holding joint maneuvers to perfect the "combat readiness" of both armies.

Union sources said the nation's largest labor coalition, Solidarity, will call a nationwide strike within 48 hours if the Supreme Court today rejects its appeal for complete independence.

Despite a hardening attitude by the government, Solidarity leaders Sunday reaffirmed they would accept no concessions on the court issue and sent a letter to Premier Jozef Pinskiwski supporting wage demands by two unions staging a sit-in for three days in Gdansk.

At issue in the court battle is a paragraph in the union charter reaffirming the supremacy of the Communist party in Polish affairs. Two weeks ago a lower court officially recognized the labor coalition but rewrote its charter to include the controversial paragraph.

In a Polish PAP news agency dispatch Sunday, party secretary Jozef Grzelak condemned the use of a strike for political pressure, calling it a "flagrant abuse of this right."

"Instead of serving as a means of defense against mistakes and deformations, it becomes a tool directed against socialism," he said.

The statement was particularly ominous in light of a statement last week by Communist party chief Stanislaw Kania that the nation would consider an attack on socialism an attack on the existence of the country, and it would be defended as such.

The union argues that the reference to the party politicizes the union and robs it of independence. But authorities charge that the labor coalition, which says it represents more than 8 million workers, is already political because of its size and influence.

Nationwide swing to right ahead for U.S.?

By CLAY F. RICHARDS
United Press International

Analysis

WASHINGTON — The election of Ronald Reagan and a conservative, Republican-controlled Senate could mark a nationwide swing to the right unknown in modern America.

Liberals who think they only have to hold their breath for four years until events swing back to the left should worry. There are more vulnerable Democratic senators from conservative states with their jobs on the line in upcoming elections.

Even longer range, Republicans now control at least one house of the legislature or the governorship in nearly 70 percent of the states — moving up heavily in the 1980 election in an area where Democrats have dominated.

The Republican surge on the state level is critical as legislatures use the 1980 census figures to draw the lines that will determine congressional reapportionment for the next decade.

The census will have another conservative impact on Congress. The population has shifted from the generally liberal northern industrial states to the generally conservative Sun Belt — away from Democratic House seats and creating new Republican ones.

Republicans hope next year's reapportionment will bring a GOP majority in the House by the 1982 elections. They won 33 seats this year more than cut in half the Democratic margin.

The first test for the new conservative guard comes before it even takes office. The lame duck Congress convenes Wednesday and conservative incumbents may have to fight off last-minute liberal attempts to spend money.

Republicans using filibusters and parliamentary maneuvering probably will block any legislation in the lame duck session except for the second budget resolution — which they consider important — and perhaps some appropriations bills.

It is likely Congress will approve funding at 1980 levels for those departments, agencies and programs, most of which which have not received appropriations.

Prospects are that some major bills which had, at least, a chance if Carter had been re-elected will die. That includes criminal code reform, enforcement powers for open housing laws, a "super fund" for chemical waste cleanup and probably Alaska lands.

And dozens of Carter appointments awaiting Senate confirmation — including federal judges — will be left languish so Reagan can make his own nominations.

The 97th Congress, responding to Reagan, may well push through try to — constitutional amendments outlawing abortions and permitting voluntary prayers in schools. Both have been blocked in committee by Democrats.

Many social programs will be targeted for cutbacks or held at present levels and efforts may be made to shake the Occupational Health and Administration, the Legal Services Corp. and other agencies conservatives have attacked over the years. Some may be junked altogether.

Another target may be the $6 billion revenue sharing program. Republican governors and mayors like the money just as much as Democrats, but it is an obvious big chunk of money that can be cut by conservative waste watchers.

National Health Insurance is dead. Labor legislation that will die includes not only labor law reform, but common situs picketing and attempts are expected to establish a two-tier minimum wage.

There may be speedup of MX missile system development and money for weapons system.

The drive to balance the budget may even include a constitutional amendment.

Reagan and Congress will have to work together to achieve Reagan's campaign pledge of disbanding the Education and Energy Departments — both of which were added under Carter. Reagan has said he will appoint secretaries of the two departments until Congress can transfer what he termed their legitimate duties back to other agencies.

The major impact Reagan may have on history concerns Supreme Court appointments.

Five of the nine justices are over 70 — Chief Justice Warren Burger, 73; Harry Blackmun, 71; Thurgood Marshall, the court's only black justice, 72; William Brennan, 74; and Lewis Powell, 73.

If Reagan does appoint justices who strictly adhere to the GOP platform, it is possible the court could overrule its landmark abortion decision.

Other areas that could be affected are women's rights, personal privacy, criminal law and the amount of government involvement in private lives.

One Republican goal — defeat of the Equal Rights Amendment — is out of the hands of Reagan and the Senate and in the hands of the states. But with no national leadership pushing for its passage, and a generally more conservative tone across the nation, its chances too are diminished.

Which birth date is right?

Gossips question Nancy's age

NANCY REAGAN
... is she 57 or 59

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The age of first lady-to-be Nancy Reagan, 57, or is it 59? — has caught the attention of capital gossips.

In Sunday's Washington Post, columnist Maxine Cheshire reports an apparent discrepancy between the birthdate put forward by Mrs. Reagan in a campaign autobiography and records at Smith College, her alma mater.

In "Nancy," published this year as part of Ronald Reagan's successful drive for the White House, Mrs. Reagan says, "Life began for me in July, 1921, in New York City." Her collaborator Bill Libby further specified July 6, 1923.

However, Ms. Cheshire said July 6, 1921, is the birthdate listed on records at Smith. Alumnae records say Mrs. Reagan enrolled in 1939 at the age of 18, and was graduated in 1943, she said.

The columnist quoted a Reagan press aide as saying, "According to her, it's 1923 — not 1921. I have to go by that."

Ms. Cheshire commented that if Mrs. Reagan's accounting of her age is accurate, she "would have been a precocious 16-year-old when she entered Smith."

Begin arrives on U.S. visit but he won't meet Reagan

NEW YORK (UPI) — Israel Prime Minister Menachem Begin began a five-day private visit to the United States Sunday but, contrary to his hopes, he will not meet with President-elect Ronald Reagan.

Begin arrived at Kennedy Airport at 3:35 a.m. MST and immediately departed for the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in midtown Manhattan. An Israeli official said the prime minister would meet today with Gov. Hugh Carey and Mayor Edward Koch.

The visit by Begin initially had been designed to try to remove obstacles in the Mideast peace talks, but officials said that progress on the issue of autonomy for Palestinians was unlikely because Jimmy Carter is a lame-duck president.

The two men, however, will meet Thursday.

After Reagan's hands-off victory, Israel's top diplomats were ordered to use whatever contacts they have in the White House camp to set up a meeting

... private journey

"To the best of my knowledge at this time, there will not be a meeting with Reagan," Begin told reporters before his departure.

He said he understood Reagan's position that such a meeting would be improper before the president-elect is inaugurated Jan. 20.

The Israeli leader also raised the possibility that a meeting among President Carter, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and himself may take place after Reagan's inauguration — apparently as a tribute to Carter for his contributions to the Camp David peace accord.

Official sources said Reagan's win likely will halt the 17-month-old Palestinian autonomy talks and perhaps even cause a change in their format and objectives.

Sources also said they have not ruled out the possibility that Carter, Begin and Sadat will go ahead with planned summit before the end of the year.

Conservative think tank offers defense advice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan scored points during the campaign by promising Americans he would beef up military spending.

Now a conservative think-tank, among others, is offering him advice on how to do it.

Although Congress has long been working on President Carter's defense budget for the current fiscal year and will receive his plans for fiscal 1981 before he leaves office, it is likely Reagan and the new Congress will come up with their own plan.

Carter's final budget for fiscal 1981 — which started in October — called for defense spending of $171.5 billion.

The question in defense and foreign policy circles is how much higher Reagan will go to meet his pledge of making America second, to none in national security.

A conservative think-tank whose members they will have an inner track in the new administration is preparing to offer detailed advice right away.

The Heritage Foundation said it will present a 154-page report to the Reagan transition team next week. It was prepared by former government officials and congressional staffers similarly with defense policies.

In the report, the foundation said the United States must spend on defense an additional $35 billion a year over what Carter has proposed — for at least five years.

"The extra $175 billion over the next five years will consume a little more than 1 percent of the annual Gross National Product, bringing the defense share to a little over 6 percent," the group said. "This is still less than a decade ago and less than one-half the level of GNP devoted to defense by the Soviet Union."

The report said the United States is rapidly moving toward a state of military inferiority — raising the danger of war," mostly because Carter has failed to keep up with the Russians.

"The Carter approach of trying to persuade the Soviets to forswear gaining an advantage in face of a U.S. example of unilateral restraint has been totally discredited," it said.

To make up for such problems, the report recommended:

- A revised fiscal 1982 budget with increases of at least $35 billion.
- An immediate supplement of $15 billion to $20 billion for the second half of the fiscal 1981 defense budget.

A comprehensive defense plan for fiscal 1982 to 1987 to carry through the next two administrations.

It said a hike in military pay should get top priority to keep good people in the service. Heritage said military personnel should get increases of at least 10 percent over inflation for fiscal 1981 and that level should be sustained thereafter at a cost of $5 billion a year.

The report also recommended that Reagan stress his commitment to defense by spending his first days as president visiting the Pentagon and other military symbols.

Organization given top priority

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan said Sunday his top priority this week is to begin setting up his administration so it can "hit the ground running" in January.

Reagan was interviewed by reporters as he left the Belle-Air Presbyterian Church Sunday morning before arranging to go to his ranch near Santa Barbara for a week of briefings, meetings with advisers and reflection.

Asked what his No. 1 priority will be this week, he replied, "The top priority right now is the transition — to set up our administration and be able to hit the ground running."

Reagan also was asked if he was surprised by pledges of cooperation coming from top congressional Democrats.

"No," he said. "Because I think there's a great desire on the part of many people in and out of government to help correct the things that are wrong."

"I'm most grateful for all the help that has been offered."

Reagan, dressed in a green plaid suit, and his wife, Nancy, were applauded by church goers when they were welcomed by the Rev. Donn Bloomer.

"Why are you so excited this morning?" the minister jokingly asked his congregation.

Reagan and his wife sat near the aisle of the fourth row from the back of the church. They exchanged pleasantries with hundreds of well-wishers who lined their path from the church driveway into the worship service itself.

Sunday vote proposed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. Mario Blaggi, D-N.Y., proposed Sunday that Election Day should be changed from Tuesday to Sunday with voters around the country casting ballots at the same time.

Blaggi said turnout in the presidential election last week was the lowest in the country's history, with 52.3 percent of eligible voters casting ballots. Western states had the weakest turnout.

The fact that the president conceded before polls in Western states closed hurt voter turnout in the West, and "may have cost at least one congressman his election," Blaggi said.

Blaggi's bill would set voting nationwide from noon to 9 p.m. EST.

That would put voting hours in the West from early morning until the evening.

The new voting hours would be on a trial basis for six years beginning with the 1982 elections.

Blaggi cited turnouts as high as 90 percent in some West European countries that have Sunday voting with uniform voting hours.

The early projection of a Ronald Reagan victory discouraged voters from going to the polls, Blaggi said, and resulted in the loss of at least 500,000 votes in Western states, and may have cost Congressman James Cormann, D-Cal., his job. Cormann lost to his Republican opponent "by 500 votes."

Regulation lid sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan's task force on regulations is recommending a one-year moratorium on all new federal regulations, it was reported Sunday.

Murray Weidenbaum, head of the task force, said a series of proposals has been submitted to Reagan urging the new administration to declare a moratorium, as well as changes in rules governing environment, energy, consumer safeguards and worker safety.

In an interview with the Washington Post, Weidenbaum said the moratorium would assure a needed "breather" from federal regulations.

The newspaper said other task members also are urging the Reagan administration to change the approach of the Environmental Protection Agency and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to consider the economic consequences of regulations on companies.

Murphy, Thompson on trial today on Abscam charges

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reps. John Murphy of New York and Frank Thompson of New Jersey, both resoundingly defeated for re-election, go on trial today on bribery and conspiracy charges stemming from the FBI's Abscam sting.

Both men have denied allegations they shared in two $50,000 payments from FBI agents posing as representatives of bogus Arab sheiks in exchange for agreements to help the Arabs enter the United States.

Murphy and Thompson were the first committee chairman indicted as a result of the FBI undercover investigation of political corruption — code-named "Arab-scam" or Abscam for short — and the first congressmen to stand trial together.

Two others, Rep. John Jenrette, D-S.C., and Michael "Orzie" Myers, D-Pa., were convicted and both were defeated in re-election bids last week — with Myers running again even though he was expelled from the House by his colleagues. Three other congressmen, including a senator, face trial.

Murphy, 54, defeated last week in a bid for his 10th term, is one of the nation's most investigated congressmen, but was never before prosecuted. He said he looked forward to the trial.

"I want to get out of the bullring of politics and into the calm of a courtroom," he said.

Thompson, 62, like Murphy a Democrat, was defeated after 26 years on Capitol Hill.

The trial will feature videotaped evidence that allegedly shows the congressmen being bribed by undercover agents.

Murphy chaired the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. Thompson heads the House Administration Committee. They were required to give up the chairmanships after being indicted.

REP. JOHN MURPHY
...ready for trial

REP. FRANK THOMPSON
...says he's innocent

Thompson and Philadelphia lawyer Howard Criden are accused of accepting $50,000 in Washington on Oct. 9, 1979 from undercover agent Anthony Ameroso, who poses as a representative of wealthy Middle Eastern businessmen sometimes referred to as Arab sheiks.

Ameroso and FBI informant Melvin Weinberg made a second payment to Criden and Murphy in New York on Oct. 20, 1979, the indictment states, in return for Murphy's official help with the immigration matters.

The indictment also charges Murphy with planning to solicit the Arabs' investments in shipping ventures that he would aid as chairman of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Criden, who allegedly brokered the bribes, was convicted of bribery and conspiracy with former Myers in the first Abscam trial. He won a stay of his next trial last week while a federal appeals court considers his motion for dismissal on grounds that the new charges constitute double jeopardy.

Murphy, a tough-talking Korean War hero and West Point graduate, has weathered a string of investigations by the Internal Revenue Service, on whether he reported all his income; the House Ethics Committee, on whether he took money in the South Korean influence-buying scandal; and the Security and Exchange Commission, which looked into his oil-company connections.

Newspaper articles suggested misconduct in his dealings with the shipping industry, the late shah of Iran, Anastasio Somoza, the assassinated president of Nicaragua, and the son of mob boss Carlo Gambino.

Doctor opposed McQueen surgery

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Mexican doctor who treated Steve McQueen of a controversial cancer clinic near Tijuana claims he advised the actor against the surgery he underwent three hours before dying of a heart attack.

McQueen, who starred in "The Great Escape" and "Sand Pebbles," died early Friday in a Juarez, Mexico, clinic following three hours of extensive surgery to remove massive tumors extending from his intestines to his neck.

Dr. Rodrigo Rodriguez, director of Plaza Santa Maria Clinic south of Tijuana, who earlier announced that the growth of McQueen's tumors had been halted, told the San Diego Union Saturday.

"We (the treatment doctors) all met to discuss the possibility of surgery" situation (Oct. 30). We were with him about a couple of hours. Finally, he said 'OK, I'm going to think about it and I will let you know.'"

Rodriguez said he told McQueen, "It's up to you. I don't think you should do it."

Mrs. Nellie Toffel, McQueen's first wife and the mother of his two grown children, has bitterly denounced Rodriguez and other doctors at the clinic who treated the 59-year-old actor with laetrile, intravenous injections of animal cells, vitamins, an organic diet, coffee enemas and rubdowns with castor oil.

Mrs. Toffel, who remarried after her divorce from McQueen, termed the doctors at the clinic "charlatans and exploiters," adding:

"What bothers me is that all the publicity surrounding Steve will convince other innocent people to be misled into going down there for laetrile and other unproved cures."

Rodriguez said he opposed the surgery because he felt that McQueen's body had been making progress against the cancer. "I wanted to take advantage of that and keep going in that direction."

"He was in pain, but nothing that you could say was really killing him," Rodriguez added.

But Mrs. Toffel said because McQueen died of heart failure after his operation, "they (the doctors) can say he died of a heart attack instead of cancer."

Rodriguez said Dr. William D. Kelley, the former Texas orthodontist "who designed McQueen's unconventional treatment, recommended Dr. Cesar Santos, the surgeon at the Santa Rosa Clinic in Juarez who operated on the actor before he died."

The Santa Rosa Clinic is not connected to the Plaza Santa Maria Clinic in Tijuana where he had been receiving treatment.

Help finally sent to 102 Haitians

MIAMI (UPI) — Bahamian government officials said Sunday they were unable to rescue an estimated 102 starving Haitians marooned on a remote island on the southern fringe of the Bahamas because they were too busy transferring other jailed Haitians to their homeland.

Bill Kallis, a spokesman for the Bahamian government, said a Bahamian boat would leave Nassau, this morning to pick up the refugees, stranded for 30 days on the tiny island of Cayo Lobos, 20 miles north of Cuba. The Haitians will be returned to Port-au-Prince, the Haitian capital.

A U.S. Coast Guard patrol pilot first sighted the refugees Oct. 9 on the lighthouse key.

Woman miner's injury may have saved life

MADISON, W.Va. (UPI) — Sandra Gail Workman was hospitalized 2½ weeks ago when she injured her back while working in the Ferrell No. 17 mine — an injury that may have saved her life.

She was not released from a Charleston hospital until Friday, the same day that a methane gas explosion ripped through the mine killing five men she worked with on the "hoot owl" shift.

"If I had had come out of the hospital a day sooner, I probably would have been with them," said Miss Workman, 25, who has been a miner for three years.

The bodies of the five men were removed from the mine late Saturday, nearly 21 hours after they were discovered 9,000 feet inside the Westmoreland Coal Company mine. Rescue efforts had been hampered by an accumulation of the potentially lethal methane gas.

Albert Jordan of the state Department of Mines said Sunday a joint investigation of the explosion by representatives of his department, Westmoreland, the United Mine Workers and the Mine Safety and Health Administration would begin as soon as the area was properly ventilated.

"When they had the explosion it blew a lot of ventilation controls in that area," Jordan said. "We have to restore ventilation before we can investigate."

The victims — all from southern West Virginia — were Howard Williamson, 39; Carlos Dent, 39; Fred Pridemore, 26; Herbert Kinder, 22; and Howard Gillenwater, 28.

Miss Workman, who was hospitalized with a work-related back injury Oct. 22, said her dead colleagues were easy-going but they were not careless.

After the joint investigation is completed, a parole hearing date will be scheduled.

Railroad worker suspended

DOBBS FERRY, N.Y. (UPI) — Conrail said Sunday an employee responsible for routing trains has been removed from duty pending the results of an investigation of a train collision that injured 120 people.

The employee was not identified. Conrail previously had attributed the crash to "human failure."

If the investigation determines the employee was culpable for the crash, he would then face charges that could lead to his suspension without pay, a Conrail spokesman said.

The spokesman said the employee was working in a control tower in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., when a 106-car Conrail freight train collided with an Amtrak passenger train on its way from Niagara Falls to Grand Central Terminal.

Hungry pet python kills 7-month-old girl asleep in crib

DALLAS (UPI) — A 7-month-old infant was severely bitten and crushed to death by an 8-foot-long pet python that crawled into her crib, authorities said Sunday.

Police said the huge reptile, which escaped from its glass cage in the living room, was due for his biweekly feeding — a hamster — and was probably hungry.

The asphyxiation process may have taken five minutes or longer, authorities said, and the snake prevented the baby from screaming by squeezing the breath from her lungs.

The victim was Toni Lynn Duboe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eugene Duboe, who purchased the snake as a family pet a year and a half ago in California. Their 5-year-old daughter Jessie was sleeping in a bed in the same room, but escaped injury.

Mrs. Duboe discovered the infant Saturday a short time after the snake struck. She notified her husband, who found the snake curled up on a wooden shelf above the baby's crib.

Authorities said Duboe became hysterical, grabbed the 7-pound python and wrestled it into his bedroom. He stabbed it with a knife, then shot it with a .25-caliber pistol, then partially severed the head with a kitchen knife and threw the snake back into the room with the dead child, where police found it.

The Dallas County medical examiner's office ruled "death by traumatic asphyxiation" and said the child's body bore "countless" face and head bite marks.

"The smothering aspect answered my questions about why the parents didn't hear the child cry," said a spokesman for the medical examiner's office. "She couldn't. As the victim tries to breathe, the snake squeezes tighter and tighter around the body."

Medical examiner's field agent Bill Lene said puncture wounds on the baby's face and head matched the snake's fangs. He said pythons leave no bruises on their victims. They smother by tightening their coils each time a victim exhales, preventing inhalation.

Dallas police homicide Sgt. Gus Rose said Duboe informed officers he fed the python a hamster every two weeks.

"He said it had been two weeks since it was last fed," Rose said. "It could have been hungry and probably was."

Police described Duboe as "deeply grief-stricken" and said his wife also was hysterical.

The python apparently escaped during the night by using its strength to nudge aside a board covering its terrarium — a 4-foot-long glass case — and slithered into the child's bedroom.

The snake was a reticulated python — so named because of its hinged jaws which drop open, allowing large mammals to be swallowed.

An expert said the python, which feeds nocturnally, had poor vision, able to distinguish only the broad outlines of victims. He said its acute sense of smell and a heat-sensing organ in its head may have led it to the crib.

In zoos, rules require one handler for every meter of python because the reptile is enormously strong.

Pathologists said the infant's face and head were covered with "dozens, maybe scores" of needle-fine punctures and one series of bites was l-shaped, indicating the python may have shaken a large portion of its mouth over the child.

Boy, 3, isolated all his life, victim of lymphatic cancer

Little Ricky talks with attendant in his germ-free chamber.

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Ricky, the 3-year-old boy who spent his life in a germ-free isolation chamber because his body couldn't fight off disease, died of cancer Sunday, a Duke Medical Center spokesman said.

The boy's body will be returned to his parents in Ohio for burial. Funeral arrangements are incomplete at present, but a memorial service has been scheduled for 9 a.m. today at the Duke Medical Center chapel.

Ricky — his last name has never been revealed — was born with Severe Combined Immune Deficiency, a hereditary condition that left his body without any ability to combat the millions of disease organisms one encounters daily.

The youth was kept alive at Duke by keeping him in germ-free environment. Another boy has been kept alive in Texas under similar circumstances for the past nine years.

Duke Medical Center physicians tried seven times to transplant fetal liver tissue, containing the disease-fighting kinds of white blood cells he couldn't produce on his own. The treatment worked on Ricky's older brother Jamie, who also had been born with the immune deficiency.

Dr. Robert H. Buckley, Ricky's primary physician, said the boy died of lymphoma — cancer of the white blood cells.

"The illness from which he died is relatively common in patients with Severe Combined Immune Deficiency," she said, adding later that persons with Ricky's condition are over 10,000 times more likely to get cancer than are normal people.

"If his immunity system could have been corrected adequately, it is possible that he could have lived a relatively normal life."

Ricky's condition brought him widespread publicity, including coverage on network television news shows and his picture in National Geographic.

Reinhold Aman, who heads an operation he calls the Malcoctia Society, says Americans have grown soft in using harsh words. Twice a year his society publishes the International Journal of Verbal Aggression, with articles on "Old Irish Insults" and "Israeli Soccer Cheers and Jeers." Aman told Newsweek magazine Jews are the top verbal aggressors. Example: "May you have three shiploads of gold and it should not be enough to pay your doctor's bill."

BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE
To most people it's salad dressing, but to soap opera star Nancy Anderson, mayonnaise is a hair conditioner. Many beautiful women use unconventional grooming aides, as revealed in "Mark Traynor's Beauty Book" (Doubleday). For all-night dancing, disco owner Regine charges her batteries with tea.

SMALL CHANGE
Police in Nice, France, sped to a bank where the alarm system had been triggered. There they arrested Jean-Luc Dautreville — for a trying to steal the equivalent of a quarter. Dautreville had walked up to a bank maintenance worker and said, "Give me one franc (25 cents). This is a holdup." The would-be victim ran inside and told the manager the bank was about to be robbed. The manager hit the alarm, the police came and

IN THE SWIM
Once upon a time it was Mao Tse-tung and his historic swim in the Yangtze. Now, it seems, Brazil's President Gen. Joao Baptista Figueiredo has taken the plunge. During the recent birthday party of one of the general's sons, a gossip columnist has reported, Figueiredo challenged a young man to a swimming race, 100 meters freestyle. The 62-year-old general managed a dead heat against his 30-year-old opponent, but the latter was awarded victory on the grounds he was tired from a previous race, whereas Figueiredo started out fresh.

MATCHED MULES
Syndicated columnist Ann Landers has mellowed on marital breakups — maybe because she's had a divorce of her own. "I used to tell people that if you marry, it should be for life; no matter how rotten it is," Miss Landers said at a taping of the "John Davidson Show." "Now, I feel that we all have a little day around our feet. If it doesn't work, I don't think that you should hang together like a pair of matched mules."

Lawyer believes college dropout will never go on trial

SOMERVILLE, N.J. (UPI) — The lawyer for a college dropout accused of shooting her parents to death said Sunday he "fully expects" the young woman will never be tried by a jury for the crimes.

Attorney John Trombadore said Greta Suits, 21, is currently undergoing tests at Trenton Psychiatric Hospital and may be kept at the facility following a civil commitment hearing Nov. 18.

Ms. Suits was charged with the Oct. 9 slayings of her parents, George and Lisbeth Suits, whose bodies were found in their car in the driveway to their rural Bernards Township home.

The young woman had tipped local police to the killings by calling authorities from a North Carolina motel to ask about her parents. After her arrest and return to New Jersey, Ms. Suits, a 5-ft-tall college dropout, told authorities she believed she was the Messiah.

The Nov. 18 hearing is required to determine if Ms. Suits should be kept in the hospital or returned to Somerset County Jail.

Alien handling may improve

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — The Reagan Administration will improve the handling of Mexican illegal aliens in the United States, Mexico's top expert on illegal emigration predicts.

Jorge Bustamante, director of the Border Studies Center of Colegio de Mexico, the Mexican government-sponsored think tank, said President Carter failed to achieve enactment of any of his proposed immigration reforms.

Bustamante said he expected "significant and positive changes" under President-elect Ronald Reagan.

Bustamante, attending a symposium in Tijuana on the illegal alien problem, said the removal of Ray Marshall as U.S. secretary of labor could clear the major roadblock to U.S. immigration reform.

"Ray Marshall has had a negative view of 'undocumented workers', Bustamante said. "He has seen them as the cause of many problems. I would think the change in government would signal the chance to deal with reality rather than myths."

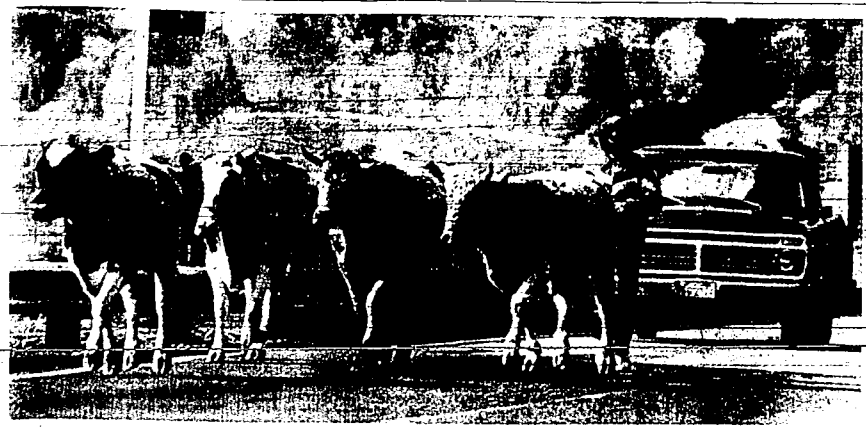

During the campaign, Reagan called for legalizing the status of Mexican illegals already in the country. He later modified his stand and called for the granting of temporary work visas under a policy agreed to by Mexico and the United States.

Panelists at the symposium noted that Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., will relinquish the chairmanship of the powerful Judiciary committee to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. Any proposed immigration reforms would have to clear that committee. A select commission, heavily stacked with Democrats, is to present Reagan's proposed changes next March.

The Carter Administration's proposed reforms which died in Congress included amnesty for long-term illegal residents; sanctions against employers of undocumented aliens, worker identification cards for all American citizens (to protect Americans of Mexican descent from federal agents rounding up suspected aliens); and a better-up border patrol.

Dr. Wayne Cornelius, an expert on illegal immigration from Mexico, said the United States will continue to need cheap, unskilled foreign workers until the year 2000 to maintain a modest 3 percent economic growth rate. He said as many as 15 million more foreign workers may be needed during the next 20 years.

Fancy uniforms may be mothballed

CEDAR CITY, Utah (UPI) — When President Richard Nixon outfitted White House policemen in gaudy uniforms several years ago, people laughed the costumes right into mothballs.

But not everyone thought the uniforms with their medieval tunics and plumes looked ridiculous. Dean Eugene Woolf of Southern Utah State College believed they would look great on a marching band.

Woolf wrote the government and suggested the costumes be donated to the school, which was badly in need of new band uniforms. Several years later, the General Services Administration unexpectedly honored the request and doled out the uniforms to Southern Utah and other schools which made similar pleas.

The Southern Utah Thunderbird Band made its debut wearing the uniforms this weekend at a homecoming parade and football game — and once again, the controversial livery may be headed for mothballs.

Music Director Joseph G. Lamoureux said what appeared to be a cheap way to outfit the band has turned into a small nightmare.

To begin with, the GSA cut off all the brass buttons before it shipped the uniforms; and it didn't send the right livery.

"We had to pay $500 to have them cleaned and buy new brass buttons," said Lamoureux.

EPA looks into smelter shutdown

DENVER (UPI) — The regional office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has begun an investigation into the closing of Anaconda Corp.'s smelter and refinery at Great Falls, Mont.

The investigation was requested by Local 88 of the Carpenters and Joiners Union, Local 29 of the Aerospace Workers Union and the International Union of Operating Engineers. Investigations into pollution control-related closures are authorized under Section 321 of the Clean Air Act.

Roger Williams, regional EPA administrator, said EPA representatives expected to meet with Anaconda officials for the first time next week, and hoped the investigation could be completed by the end of the year.

"I say 'hope' because this is the first 321 action in our six-state Western region," he said. "It's important to anyone involved that it be done right."

Slippery manure tangles traffic

ARLINGTON, Wash. (UPI) — Cars slipped and slid all over Highway 530 and the motorists held their noses because Gary Graber dumped more than a ton of liquid chicken manure on the road.

Graber, 47, was driving about four miles east of Arlington on the way to his farm Saturday — his dump truck loaded with the fertilizer — when the tailgate suddenly popped open.

The liquid spilled onto the roadway and into highway culverts, covering a quarter-mile of pavement.

Unsuspecting motorists slipped on the gooey mess for three hours before the Arlington Heights Volunteer Fire Department managed to wash it off the road.

"There've been times when I've deserved notoriety, but not over chicken manure," said the ruffian farmer. "My neighbors are already mad at me."

Clerkships may assist in obtaining doctors

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI) — Clerkships for medical students may be one way to encourage physicians to practice in Wyoming, the dean of the University of Wyoming College of Human Medicine says.

Dr. John Corbett said a poll was recently taken of all 465 Wyoming doctors to determine their receptiveness to the idea of a medical student clerk.

Eighty-two percent of the doctors who responded to the poll thought that having the students work with them would be good for the students, the doctors and the state, Corbett said.

Wyoming currently ranks 49th among states in doctor-population ratio.

"There are several purposes behind the program," Corbett said. "The major purpose is to have students associate with Wyoming doctors so that they can understand the professional and personal advantages of a Wyoming medical career."

Clerking would allow a student to participate in all medical activities with his assigned physician, from patient care to record keeping, Corbett said.

"It's particularly important for us to maintain the interest of the approximately 120 students from Wyoming who attend medical school — under contract to Craigmont and the University of Utah," Corbett said. "We'd like to encourage them to return to Wyoming to practice."

Corbett said the students would be paid a stipend through college grants.

"We hope that we help resolve our doctor shortage by providing educational opportunities for medical students in their formative years while lessening professional isolation of the medical community by involving doctors more extensively in the process of education," Corbett said.

Plane crash kills 5

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UPI) — A single engine plane carrying five persons radiated Walker Field with landing plans and minutes later crashed into the rolling farmland, investigators said Sunday.

The plane went down Saturday, killing all five persons on board. The identities have been withheld pending notification of families, but three were from Grand Junction and the plane was on a flight from Long Beach, Calif.

Capt. Ken Clark of the Colorado Civil Air Patrol said searches from the Mesa County Sheriff's office were unable to find the site during an overnight effort, but planes went up at dawn and spotted the wreckage 4 miles northwest of the airport.

Idaho Falls man dies in rollover

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — An Idaho Falls man was killed and his companion seriously injured early Sunday when the car in which they were riding swerved to avoid a deer and rolled 300 yards west of Idaho Falls on U.S. 20.

Dead at the scene of the accident was Dave Driver, Gregory W. Roof, 25, of Idaho Falls.

His passenger, John Negu, 26, Pocatello, sustained serious neck injuries and was taken to Riverview Hospital in Idaho Falls. He later was transferred to St. Anthony Hospital in Pocatello.

Speed limit may go up with Reagan

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — The election of Ronald Reagan as president should mean the end of the 55 mph speed limit, state Sen. Cal Taggart, R-Bighorn, says.

"Reagan said he's going to keep his promises to us," Taggart said. "I'm quite sure you'll see the 55 mph speed limit go down the tube."

Taggart and state Sen. Dick Sedar, D-Natrona, led a revolt against the 55 mph speed limit in the 1979 Legislature. The senate approved a bill to raise the limit to 65 mph by a 20-10 vote.

But a bill died in the house when members became worried the state might lose over $30 million a year in federal highway money. House members also expressed concern over the safety factor and energy conservation.

Taggart, chairman of the senate's Transportation and Highways Committee, however, said the issue is states' rights.

"There are other ways to conserve fuel," he said.

Jim Adsett, director of the Governor's Office of Highway Safety, said he does not expect a return to the 70 mph speed limit.

"I don't think they'll go that far," Adsett said.

Gooding trucking firm draws fine

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Basterrechea-Distributing, Inc. of Gooding has been fined $3,000 by the Federal Highway Administration for violations of federal trucking safety regulations.

The trucking firm was charged with failure to have a current medical examiner's certificate and an employment application in a driver's qualification file, failure to give notification of a fatal accident to the FHWA as soon as possible, failure to report an accident within 30 days and failure to maintain an accident register.

Firewood cutting takes sharp jump

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — The U.S. Forest Service says firewood cutting in its Northern Region, which includes North Idaho, jumped from 185,000 cords in fiscal 1979 to 513,000 in fiscal 1980.

Most of the wood was cut in national forests in Montana where about 329,000 cords were taken and in North Idaho where 184,000 cords were cut.

The region also includes North Dakota and part of South Dakota, but those states accounted for only a few hundred cords of firewood.

Dear Abby

Necklace loss upsetting

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My whole family is so frustrated and upset we don't know what to do, so we're writing to you. My sister, who is a cheerleader, was told to come to school prepared to have her picture taken with the other cheerleaders.

Mom gave Sis her 14-karat gold necklace to wear because she thought it would look nice for the picture. She gave Sis orders not to take it off. The necklace was a Christmas gift from Dad and cost $30.

Well, just before the picture was taken, the woman in charge of the cheerleaders' pictures told Sis she wasn't allowed to wear the necklace for the picture. Sis said she wasn't allowed to take it off, so this woman took it off her and held it while the pictures were being taken.

After the pictures were taken the woman couldn't find the necklace. She said she must have dropped it. All the cheerleaders helped Sis look. The lady also looked, and so did the photographer. Nobody could find it.

When Mom found out about it she was heartbroken. She went to the field, got on her hands and knees, searched for 2½ hours and couldn't find it. Then she called the lady in charge. She just said she was sorry, but all she could give Mom was $15 toward replacing the necklace. Who is responsible for the necklace? We are totally lost. Can we sue this lady in small claims court?

think you will understand what it means.

DEAR MILTON: I understand perfectly. Your Momma and my Momma must have gone to the same school. And for those who require a translation, it means: "A healthy person you GIVE. A sick one, you ASK."

DEAR ABBY: NEEDS A BREAK, the wife and mother who wanted a week's vacation alone at the beach, is doing things backward.

Instead of going to the beach by herself, and then having to spend three weeks cleaning up the mess at home made by her husband and children in her absence, she should send THEM to the beach and have a glorious, restful week at home.

For my birthday present one year, my husband took my children camping for three days. I had a great time, doing exactly what I wanted to, when I felt like it, and I was as glad to see them come home as they were to see me again.

We were all revitalized and appreciated each other more after that.

Martin-Kidd

OAKLEY — Mrs. Claudie Martin of Oakley and Thurman Kidd of Burley exchanged wedding vows in a home ceremony Nov. 1.

The ceremony was conducted by Bishop E. LaMar Sanders at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Adams in Oakley.

That evening, the newlyweds hosted the dance at the Burley Senior Citizens Center, where they had met.

The couple will reside in Oakley where the new Mrs. Kidd has lived all her life.

Freedom theme

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Pope John Paul has chosen "Freedom" as the theme for the 14th World Day of Peace, which will be marked by Roman Catholics on Jan. 1, 1981, the Vatican's Permanent Observer to the United Nations has announced.

"By choosing this theme, Pope John Paul II invites all people of good will to place freedom at the service of peace, reflect on the nature of true freedom, to claim it, promote it and defend it," the U.N. Mission said.

Boots differ greatly in how they fit

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Family Editor

NEW YORK — Western boots and fashion boots differ greatly in fit, says author Sandra Kauffman.

Mrs. Kauffman thinks most people don't know about that difference and department stores don't know how to fit cowboy boots.

"The boots should feel comfortable," she said in an interview, even though "they're supposed to slip a bit in back — the heel will go away from the foot. The snugness of the instep keeps the boots on."

"As they break in, she said, the back will stop slipping a little.

"Make sure the lining is leather. Real leather conforms to the foot.

"All Western boots should have a steel arch," she said, but the only way a consumer can find out is by asking the sales person.

Wear lightweight socks for trying on boots, she said, not nylon stockings.

"If you're going to use them for riding, never get half soles. They will curl up and that is very dangerous for riders."

Mrs. Kauffman devotes the first chapter of her recent book, "The Cowboy Catalog" (Pulter, $22.50 hardcover, $10.95 paperback) to boots, including what to look for when you buy them and how to take care of them.

A pair of well-made cowboy boots is an investment, she said. Good dress boots can be bought for as little as $90, she said, but the prices can run into thousands for handmade ones.

With care, she said, they should last 20-30 years.

Western boots should not require breaking in, Mrs. Kauffman writes: "If your boot does not feel good the moment you put it on, it isn't right for you."

If you buy boots for riding, synthetics such as neoprene and neolite are your best bets for soles, she writes.

Rubber doesn't wear as well; leather soles tend to be slippery on floors and pavement and spongy materials cling to the stirrups.

If you like fancy riding boots, she suggests choosing them for pattern and color, but "steer clear of rings, straps, buckles, bangles and other fancy trimmings that catch on equipment and cause accidents."

"Every generation had its own style of toe," she said. Pointed toes started showing up after World War II. The original cowboy boots had narrow but stubbed toes.

A dozen different heel styles are pictured in her book, including an extreme underslung, or tapered, type. Many people find it difficult to walk in such heels.

Householders doing jobs themselves

By DORSEY CONNORS
© Chicago Sun-Times

What with labor costs soaring, people who formerly relied in professionals are now becoming do-it-yourselfers.

However, warns the National Safety Council, there are hazards in fixing things around the house, especially when you are a complete amateur. The NSC suggests investing in a few items of protection.

When working with chemicals, protect your eyes with goggles. Use safety glasses if there is any danger of flying particles from the job you're doing. The goggles will also protect your eyes from drips or splatters of paint, as well as from paint and plaster chips.

Use disposable, porous paper masks when sanding or sweeping up dust. This type of mask does not keep out toxic vapors. For these jobs, you should rent or buy a respirator.

Wear rubber gloves when mixing dyes, working with paint or varnish remover, handling pesticides, working on trees or shrubs that have been sprayed, rubbing grout into cracks or using oven cleaners.

Cushioned knee pads can prevent injury for any job that requires that you kneel, such as laying tile, refinishing floors, etc.

Always double check a stepladder before climbing it. For some jobs, you can eliminate the ladder. When painting ceiling and walls, you can use a long-handled roller. There are roller handles available with threads with which to attach the handle of a floor scrub brush. These items can ward off an injury and a stay in the hospital.

Mediator fails to produce European conference agenda

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — A Swiss mediator appeared headed for failure Sunday in his last-ditch effort to break the nine-week deadlock over an agenda for this week's Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe, diplomats said.

"I'm discouraged," a diplomat from a NATO country said. "We rarely reach agreement until the last minute but there should have been some movement by now."

Although the Soviet Union traditionally holds the line until the last minute in bargaining, Western diplomats said the Kremlin's tactics in Madrid were baffling.

One diplomat said Soviet delegates had "three times endorsed neutral initiatives and each time they turned around and kicked the neutrals in the teeth."

Soviets, was pessimistic over the chances of an agreement and at one point tried to renounce his mission but was persuaded to continue his efforts, sources said.

The leaders of the U.S. and Soviet delegations to the main meeting arrived late Sunday. Former Attorney General Griffin Bell heads the U.S. group.

Western diplomats said the choice of Deputy Foreign Minister Leonid Ilyichov to head the Soviet delegation was not encouraging. One Soviet observer described him as "affable but hard-nosed."

Ilyichov, who was Josef Stalin's press chief and Nikita Khrushchev's cultural commissar, more recently has served as chief negotiator with China. "And he frustrated even the Chinese," a Western ambassador said.

At issue was how much time the conference will spend on a review of implementation of the accords on human rights and peaceful cooperation signed in Helsinki five years ago by the United States, Canada and 33 European countries.

Western diplomats said that in deciding whether to go ahead with the conference, Moscow was balancing its embarrassment over human rights and Afghanistan against its chances of winning the conference's agreement on a European disarmament proposal.

The conference will open Tuesday with or without an agenda under the mandate of the last conference held in Belgrade in 1977-78. But diplomats said if the preparatory talks ended in deadlock, there was little chance of the meeting proceeding.

Verbal assaults on Saudis mark Mecca seizure in '79

By United Press International

Iran Sunday accused the Saudi government of arresting more than 130 supporters of Ayatollah Khomeini to prevent an uprising on the first anniversary of the seizure of the Grand Mosque at Mecca by Islamic gunmen.

The accusation came as the Islamic world celebrated its New Year and as the leaders of Iran and Iraq turned to religious arguments to gain the support of Muslims for their side in the 49-day-old Persian Gulf war.

On the war front, Iran reported extensive fighting Sunday on the banks of the Bahmanshir River flanking the border city of Abadan and said its ground and air forces staved off an Iraqi tank offensive into the shell-shattered oil refinery city.

There were new indications that the Gulf war was straining the resources of both Iran and Iraq.

ing in the Sharghih region last year." Sunday was the first anniversary on the Islamic calendar of the takeover by at least 300 Islamic gunmen of the Grand Mosque at Mecca, Islam's holiest shrine which houses the legendary Kaaba, or Black Stone.

On Nov. 10, the armed followers of a little known Islamic cult barricaded themselves inside the mosque with 50,000 pilgrims and held out for two weeks until Saudi troops retook the mosque in fierce gunbattles.

"The regime of Saudi Arabia should know that it will never be able to prevent and forestall the heroic people of the Arabian peninsula from commemorating the anniversary of the last Moharram," Pars said.

Meanwhile with the war stretching the resources of both sides, Iran announced rationing of essential goods and services — most immediately sugar and electricity — and said it would hike the price of gasoline to private motorists in an effort to raise more revenues.

Iraqi President Saddam Hussein called on all Iraqis aged 65 or older to volunteer for the armed services and report — for duty — within 10 days, Baghdad Radio said. The radio did not say what role elderly Iraqis would play in the war effort.

In Iran, Tehran Radio reported the government's appeal to the International Red Cross to investigate Iranian suspicions that its oil minister, Jawad Bagir Fungunyan, was tortured by Iraq after his capture near Abadan Oct. 31.

Quoting an Iranian foreign ministry statement, the radio also said U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim has appealed to Iraq to release Fungunyan, who Iraq says was wounded in an ambush at the time of his capture.

Labor runoff may be close

LONDON (UPI) — The final vote today to choose a new leader for the opposition Labor Party is expected to be a close battle between moderate Denis Healey and Michael Foot, a standard bearer for the left wing, party sources said Sunday.

In the first round of balloting last Monday, former Chancellor of the Exchequer Healey got 112 votes to deputy party leader Foot's 83. To win, 133 votes are needed.

The other two contenders, centrist Peter Shore, with 38 votes and John Silkin with 32 votes were eliminated from the contest. But both said they had advised their supporters to switch to Foot, a standard bearer for the left wing.

Papal visit stirs up furor in W. Germany

HAMBURG, West Germany (UPI) — A mounting controversy over this week's visit by Pope John Paul II has been fueled by objections to the estimated $10 million cost and some harsh Catholic words on German reformer Martin Luther, who split Christianity 450 years ago.

Preparations for the pontiff's five-day tour, which includes stops in Bonn, Munich, Mainz and the village of Altheim, seemingly began on the wrong foot.

The pope will spend his first day in West Germany Saturday on an official state visit in Bonn as the guest of President Karl Carstens.

Vatican envoys proposed John Paul meet — with — Chancellor Helmut Schmidt at a reception Carstens will give for 2,000 people but Schmidt found that unflattering.

A diplomatic wrestling match between Bonn and the Vatican resulted in a compromise — a private meeting between the pope and the chancellor at a castle near Bonn.

It took repeated pleas from Protestant church leaders, representing half of West Germany, to win a one-hour audience with the pope, the der Spiegel news magazine said Sunday.

Liberal Catholics protested the cost of the visit, saying the planned 27 hours of live television coverage by the two state networks turned the papal mission into a media show.

(Ira Ranke-Heinemann, a Catholic theology professor, said the pope's visit to West Germany will cost $10.5 million and "that money could have been better used to save the lives of many starving people in Africa and Asia.")

But it was a thin booklet that set off the most heated debate.

The author of the disputed chapter, Prof. Regimius Baumer, quoted anonymous opponents of Luther in his attacks.

Israelis on strike, halt city

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — A strike by some 10,000 Tel Aviv workers virtually shut down city services Sunday.

Employees demanded the municipality start paying their monthly salaries on time.

Garbage, uncollected since Friday, piled high on the sidewalks. Traffic lights went unrepaired and municipal kindergartens never opened. Elementary schools went without janitorial and secretarial services.

Doctors, demanding higher salaries, have been staging a work slowdown for several weeks, admitting all patients who show up in hospital emergency rooms but releasing few.

Tel Aviv nurses joined in the municipal strike and boycotted their jobs Sunday, making problems worse in the Tel Aviv area facilities.

A skeleton crew of about 700 municipal workers — mainly welfare, medical, sanitation and water employees — were ordered back to work and kept the city going.

The workers have vowed not to return to their jobs until the financially beleaguered city guarantees it will pay their salaries on time each month, something it has failed to do all year.

Tel Aviv Mayor Shlomo Lahat appealed to the cabinet in Jerusalem Sunday to help solve the city's crisis. The cabinet decided to set up a committee to decide within five days where a needed $50 million will come from to help bail out the country's major commercial and cultural center.

Even more crystal clear reasons to save and check at First Security

Border clan backing tale labeled lie

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — A Radio Kabul report that the Soviet-backed Afghan government has won support from one of Afghanistan's largest border clans was denounced as a lie Sunday by Moslem rebels.

In Pakistan, a newspaper reported that an Afghan diplomat had requested political asylum in Pakistan but there was no official confirmation.

The official Radio Kabul broadcast, monitored in New Delhi, said Saturday representatives of the Mohmand tribes at a meeting in Jalalabad voiced support for the revolution that installed Babrak Karmal as president 11 months ago in a Moscow-backed coup.

Afghan rebels in Peshawar, Pakistan, called the Radio Kabul report "a lie."

Diplomats in New Delhi said that if the Mohmand tribe was loyal to Kabul, guerrilla activities would be greatly curtailed.

Giants' late flea flicker, FG shocks Dallas

All NFL division races still hanging in limbo

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — New York learned the cruel facts about intensity against the Philadelphia Eagles a month ago and Sunday the Giants made Dallas pay dearly for their education.

The Giants saw a 163-halftime lead dissolve into a 31-16 deficit against the Eagles four weeks ago and New York Coach Ray Perkins chastised his club for a lack of concentration. Perkins, however, was all smiles Sunday when the Giants made the big plays in a 39-35 victory over the Cowboys that snapped an eight-game losing streak.

"George (defensive end Martin) and I told ourselves before the game we have to play for 60 minutes," said New York defensive end Gary Jeter. "They went up 35-28, but we never quit. This is the best win since I've been here."

"Dallas is a great team, but we made more big plays and that (wide receiver Mike) Friede, I wanna' take him out to dinner."

Phil Simms threw for 351 yards and two touchdowns and hit Friede with a 40-yard pass to the Cowboys' 7 to set up Joe Dane's winning 27-yard field goal with 67 seconds left.

"I did an awful lot of things well out there," said Simms, who helped the Giants end a 12-game losing streak to the Cowboys and dropped Dallas to 7-3. "There were a lot of great catches out there, so I don't know if it was me or them."

Dallas stumbled and faltered late in

NEW YORK (UPI) — NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle may not quite have the parity he seeks, but he certainly has the surprises.

With six weeks left in the regular season, no club that won its division last year is on top this year. And at least two are in serious danger of missing the playoffs.

In the AFC East, New England, 7-2, which didn't make the playoffs last year, holds a half-game lead over Buffalo, which also didn't qualify for postseason play. Miami, last year's division champ, is struggling at 5-5 after upsetting Los Angeles Sunday. The Patriots play in Houston tonight. Cleveland, 7-3, which didn't make the playoffs in 1979, has a half-game edge on the Oilers in the AFC Central entering Monday night's game. Pittsburgh, last season's division and Super Bowl winner, is 6-4.

In the AFC West, Oakland, 7-3, which didn't make the 1979 playoffs, has a surprising one-game lead on division champ San Diego. Philadelphia, with the league's best record at 9-1, holds a two-game bulge over division champ Dallas in the NFC East after the Cowboys were upset by the New York Giants.

In the NFC Central, won by Tampa Bay last year, Detroit, 6-4, leads Minnesota by a game, with the Buccaneers walking the plank at 4-5-1. The Lions and Vikings combined for a 9-23 record last year.

Atlanta, 7-3, finished 6-10 last year, but the Falcons suddenly hold a one-game edge over division and NFC champion Los Angeles in the NFC West.

The division winners all qualify for the playoffs, along with two additional clubs from each conference.

the game when Robert Newhouse was stopped by defensive star Brad Van Pelt on a fourth-and-1 from the Cowboys' 47. Van Pelt, who also notched two of the five interceptions thrown by Danny White, asked to be traded to Detroit last month, but he scarcely hid his glee afterward — answering questions to the refrain of "New York, New York" in the locker room.

"I had forgot what it feels like to win," said the eight-year veteran linebacker. "This is one of the best feelings I've had. I was fooled on Newhouse's run. It was a controlled blitz and I happened to be in the right spot."

Simms' performance, the best by a New York quarterback since Randy

Johnson threw for 372 yards in 1971, overshadowed a brilliant effort by Tony Dorsett, who rushed for 183 yards and two touchdowns for the Cowboys. Dorsett, in his fourth year, also surpassed the 4,000-yard plateau in career rushing.

White, who entered the game as the NFC's third-leading passer, appeared handicapped by a bruised left shoulder suffered three weeks ago, but he offered no excuses.

"There were five different reasons we lost — the five interceptions," said White, who hit 10-of-23 for 155 yards and a touchdown. "There is no way the Giants can beat us if we just play our game. This place is a chamber of horrors."

Dallas, which hadn't lost at the Giants' home since 1970, was penalized 12 times for 80 yards in addition to the four turnovers and coach Tom Landry thought the game was predetermined.

"We just were not destined to win," he said. "The Giants played great, but we gave them the opportunities. When you play a 1-8 team, it's hard to get the team up."

Rookie Gary Woolford's second interception of the game stopped the Cowboys' final drive at the New York 12 with 12 seconds remaining. Simms hit scoring passes of 25 yards to Earnest Gray, 4 yards to converted defensive end Martin and 20 yards to Tom Mullady.

Dallas took its first lead of the game, 35-28, after Aaron Mitchell intercepted a Simms pass and returned it 56 yards to the New York 29. Four plays later, Dorsett burst 13 yards for his second TD of the game.

New York tied it up 35-35 two plays into the fourth quarter on Simms' 20-yard scoring pass to Tom Mullady, set up by Larry Newhouse's 43-yard reception. Robert Newhouse's 29-yard run tied the game 28-28 earlier in the third period.

The Giants, who averaged 10 points per game in their previous eight weeks and entered the game with the NFL's worst offense, grabbed a 28-21 halftime lead built on Dallas mistakes.

Brad Van Pelt's first of two interceptions ignited an 80-yard drive as Simms hit Gray three times for 58 yards, including a 25-yard scoring pass. It was Gray's first score since Opening Day — when he caught four TD passes.

James Jones' 24-yard punt return to the Giants' 29 helped the Cowboys tie the game 7-7. Rookie cornerback Mark Haynes was penalized 18 yards for interference and Dorsett swept left end for the remaining 11 yards. On the first play of the second quarter, Mike Dennis picked off a White pass at the Cowboys' 22 — setting up Heater's 1-yard scoring plunge on fourth down. Dallas answered quickly again as Dorsett burst 56 yards and Newhouse plunged over from the 1 on the second play.

Van Pelt's interception at the Dallas 42 set up New York's next score. On third-and-1, Simms hit Heater for 28 yards and found Martin Blaine in the left corner for a 4-yard score on a tackle eligible play.

White's fourth interception of the half, by Woolford, helped stake the Giants to a 28-14 lead. Simms hit Friede for 48 yards and a roughing-the-passer penalty again. Randy White set up Leon Perry's 1-yard scoring run.

White, who completed 10-of-23 passes for 153 yards, hit Tony Hill for 22 yards before lofting a well-timed 58-yard screen pass to Ron Springs for a touchdown.

Vikings destroy Detroit

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Minnesota, roaring to its first shutout victory in five years, could do no wrong and Detroit could do little right.

"This is the most embarrassing thing I have ever been connected with since I've been associated with the sport of football," Coach Monte Clark said Sunday after the Vikings mangled his NFC Central Division-leading Lions 34-0. "We didn't block. We didn't execute. We didn't do what we had done in practice. We did little right and a lot wrong. This definitely isn't the same Lion team that has been playing all year long. I just don't know what happened to them out there."

Safety Kurt Knoff returned an interception 67 yards for a touchdown and quarterback Tommy Kramer fired two touchdown passes, including a 57-yarder to Ted Brown, to lead the Vikings to the one-sided triumph.

"We're playing more as a team now and not as individuals like we have been in the past," Brown said, who had one of his biggest days during his two years with Minnesota. "That's what is making the difference in this team, especially today. Everybody wants to win and we see now that we have a chance to win the division. It's just too bad it takes an incentive like that to get this team going."

Coach Bud Grant, whose Vikings have won 10 division titles in 12 years, calls his team's performance "one of the best we have had. It was as good as we have had in a while."

Clark, meanwhile, said the Lions better shape up if they want to stay on top of the division.

"I can't say if the turmoil of the first few days hurt this week or not," Clark said, referring to public differences between Detroit players and management that has stirred up in the Detroit media the past few days. "But I do know we have to execute better than this in order to win the darn thing. We had a chance to sweep the Vikings for the first time since 1962 and we got killed instead."

For the second straight week, turnovers plagued the struggling Lions. Detroit, victim of five

Minnesota linebacker Matt Blair (59) and defensive end Mark Mullanev team up to halt Lion running back Dexter Bussey tumbles and two interceptions in a victory over San Francisco, consistently gave Minnesota opportunities while ruining its own.

"I can't figure it out," Clark said about the problem. "I can't imagine how it could be this bad. It won't be any easier in the weeks to come, either. We got out played all over the place and the teams are just as rough in the weeks to come. I hope this isn't some sort of omen."

"At the half, I thought we had a chance but it was more of the same in the second half. I don't consider using Jeff Kromlo at quarterback except to save Gary's (Danielson) life."

The Vikings defense forced seven Detroit fumbles and collected eight sacks while blanketing the Lions. Minnesota held NFC rushing leader Billy Sims to only 21 yards on nine carries, his lowest performance since entering the NFL.

Kramer, after sifting out last week with a hand injury, completed 22-of-32 passes for 295 yards and no interceptions before leaving the game in the fourth quarter after taking a hard hit.

The Vikings, 5-5, recorded their last shutout in 1975 when they beat Atlanta 38-0. The NFC Central Division-leading Lions, 6-4, have lost three of their last four games, and four straight on the road. Rick Danmeier's first of two field goals gave Minnesota a 3-0 lead midway in the second quarter before Brown's TD reception made it 10-0 at the half.

Kramer found Brown over the middle on the first play after a Gary Danielson fumble. The speedy running back outraced the Detroit secondary after catching the ball at the Minnesota 45.

After Knoff's touchdown early in the third quarter, Rickey Young scored on a 22-yard catch to make it 24-0. Danmeier followed his 27-yard field goal with a 23-yarder early in the fourth period and tight end Joe Senser caught a 58-yard TD pass from backup Steve Dils to provide the final margin.

Brown, who also took a backfield shovel-pass for 34 yards, led the Vikings with nine receptions for 140 yards. He also led Minnesota rushers with 50 yards in 15 carries. Wide receiver Ahmad Rashad added six receptions for 82 yards.

After Detroit lost four of five fumbles in the first half, Knoff picked off a Danielson pass and raced down the left sideline to score.

Denver sneaks by Chargers

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Rob Lytle and Dave Preston each scored touchdowns on short bursts of three and five yards and Fred Steinfort kicked two field goals Sunday to lead the Denver Broncos to a 20-13 victory over the San Diego Chargers.

The loss dropped the Chargers to 6-4 while the Broncos improved to 5-5.

Lytle scored his 3-yard TD in the second quarter to give the Broncos the lead for good, and Preston scampered for the Broncos' insurance score in the fourth quarter.

NFL roundup — B3

Sandwiched in between was Steinfort's field goal kicks of 28 yards in the third quarter and 42 yards later in the period.

San Diego got the final score of the game at 1:26 of the fourth quarter on a 3-yard pass by Dan Fouts to John Jefferson, completing a five-play, 78-yard drive.

The only other Charger scores were two field goals by Rob Bosters of 30 and 34 yards in the second period.

The Broncos capped their scoring with Preston's slapping 5-yard burst into the right side of the Charger line for the TD at 12:53 of the final period. The touchdown ended a seven-play, 51-yard drive that was set up when Steve Foley intercepted a Fouts pass and raced 30 yards to the 50.

In the third quarter, Steinfort kicked a 42-yard field goal at 3:32 to make the score 13-6. Earlier in the third quarter, Steinfort kicked a 28-yard field goal to make it 10-4, finishing a six-play, 77-yard drive that was set up by Rob Nairne on a recovery of a Fouts fumble on the Charger 37.

Craig Morton, who went the distance for the Broncos, was 12-of-24 for 144 yards. Fouts, who was sacked six times by the tenacious Bronco defense, was 29-of-45 for 363 yards.

Despite being outplayed for most of the first half, the Broncos led 7-6 after two periods.

Denver took the lead for the first time with 4:52 left in the second quarter on Lytle's 3-yard run.

The Broncos, who gained only 75 total yards in the first half, compared with the Chargers' 230, began their touchdown drive on the Charger 43 after Larry Brunson returned a kickoff 53 yards to the Charger 41.

Retirement plans halted by some

New coaching changes may help U.S. Nordic ski team

PARK CITY, Utah (UPI) — The U.S. Ski Team cleaned out its coaching staff after a disastrous showing in the nordic events at the 1980 Winter Olympic Games and the move convinced most of the cross country skiers and jumpers to end planned retirements.

With cross country skier Bill Koch and jumper Jim Denney back in the fold, and Walter Matzquist giving the nordic combined to concentrate on ski jumping, the nordic squad should be strong this winter, according to program director Jim Page.

"Fortunately, considerable stability exists with our athletes," says Page. "We have a sound nucleus of pider athletes with good track records in both cross country skiing and jumping. And all are looking toward the FIS World Championships in 1982."

Koch, 25, Guilford, Vt., won a silver medal in the 1976 Winter Olympics. He went into the 1980 Winter Games at Lake Placid, N.Y., with two wins and a second-place finish in major European races. But at Lake Placid, Koch only had one outstanding finish, coming in second on the first leg in the four-man relay.

However, the other three U.S. relay skiers couldn't match Koch's outstanding performance and the team dropped back to finish eighth overall.

Denney, 23, Duluth, Minn., was picked as an Olympic medal favorite following his 10th in 70-meter ski jumping in the 1978 Finnish National Games and his third in the Swedish Games and the pre-Olympics. But Denney managed only an eighth at Lake Placid in the 90-meter jumping.

Mike Gallagher, the new national cross country coach, says the team had returned from several outstanding performances in the early European races and then went into training in Canada to prepare for the Olympics.

"They spent too much time working on distance training," Gallagher said. "By the time they went to Lake Placid, they'd lost the speed needed to stay with the top Europeans and Russians."

Gallagher and Page both say 1981 "will be a rebuilding year. Most of the veterans will skip the early-season races in Europe, concentrating on a U.S. tour and preparing for the major March races in Lahti, Finland; Falun, Sweden, and Oslo, Norway."

"We'll also be spending considerable time and attention this winter on providing better opportunities for some younger skiers who we believe have the talent for international competition."

Other veterans on the cross country team include Tim

Caldwell, 26, Putney, Vt.; Doug Peterson, 27, Minneapolis, Minn.; Allan Owen, 27, McCall, Idaho, and JoAnne Russell, 23, East Wenatchee, Wash.

And the jumping team — with Denney and Matzquist, 24, Post Mills, Vt. — includes veterans John Broman, 21, and Terry Kern, 26, both of Duluth; Jim Maki, 29, Coleraine, Minn., and Reed Zuehlke, Eau Claire, Wis.

Two of the top newcomers are cross country skiers Latt Straley, 20, of Pinedale, Wyo., and Kristen Petty, 15, Townsend, Vt.

Gallagher says Straley has the physical strength to stay with any member of the team, but lacks technical skills. He won one major world junior race last winter and dominated the U.S. men's junior circuit.

And Gallagher says Petty may be the dominant skier on the women's team within a few years. She has three junior national titles and won six open domestic races last winter.

BSU in good shape to win Big Sky title

By United Press International

With only one league game remaining this fall, pre-season favorite Boise State University has clinched at least a tie for first-place in the 1980 Big Sky Conference standings.

The BSU Broncos ran their league record to 5-1 Saturday and their overall mark to 7-2 by defeating Nevada-Reno 14-3 in an almost flawless defensive game.

The victory, combined with Idaho State's 28-21 upset win at Idaho State, all but killed the Vandals' chances of tying the Broncos.

The best Idaho can hope for is a 5-2 Big Sky record and the remote chance of a tie with Boise State — the Broncos lose in two weeks at Idaho State. But, BSU would still be the conference winner, based on its victory over the Vandals earlier this year.

In the only other Big Sky game Saturday, Montana upset Northern Arizona 31-21. While, in non-conference games, Montana State edged North Dakota State 21-19, and Weber State was whipped 50-13 by Utah State. The Broncos defeated Nevada-Reno by limiting — that's right, limiting — Wolf Pack fullback Frank Hawkins to just 133 yards rushing.

Boise State coach Jim Crier said his team didn't concentrate on Hawkins. "We really felt that was the key," Crier said. "Other teams have made the mistake of going for Hawkins, and all of a sudden Reno's other players would run up and down the field on them."

Crier also credited his assistant coaches with reacting quickly to stop the Nevada-Reno running attack. "The defensive coaches did a great job of adjusting. It was the best defensive game we've put together for Reno."

BSU tailback Cedric Minter put the Broncos ahead for good in the second quarter with a 27-yard touchdown run, finishing the game with 124 yards rushing. And quarterback Joe Alton threw a 38-yard touchdown pass to flanker Scott Newman in the third quarter.

Nevada-Reno's only score came in the first period, with Hawkins' 39-yard run setting up a 28-yard field goal by Tony Shaw. But that was all the scoring for the Wolf Pack. Montana tailback Wayne Harper rushed for 151 yards and a touchdown in leading the Grizzlies to their upset of Northern Arizona. The victory was Montana's first conference win this year in six games.

The Grizzlies turned a pair of first-quarter turnovers into touchdowns to jump ahead 14-0, with Harper scoring on a 17-yard run and fullback Rich Burrness on a 3-yard plunge. The other two UM TDs came on runs by Brad Danlic and Mike Hagen.

NAU scored on Scott Lindquist's two touchdown passes — 23 yards to Pete Mandley and five yards to Mike Jenkins — and on Willard Reeves' one-yard run.

Montana State's goal-line defense stopped a 2-point conversion attempt by North Dakota State with just 57 seconds left in the game to beat the Bison.

Ahead 21-7 after three quarters, MSU allowed the Bison to score a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns. But each time the Bobcats scored ND's tries for two-point conversions. Fullback Jeff Davis led MSU with 125 yards rushing.

Weber State just couldn't stop Utah State quarterback Bob Cagliari. The Aggie senior threw two touchdown passes and ran for two more ISU scores in the Wildcat loss.

Roger Ruzek kicked a pair of field goals for Weber State, one in each half. And backup quarterback Rich McKee passed for the Wildcats' only touchdown, on a 12-yard aerial to Scott Zellmer.

Idaho is 3-2 and in second place in the Big Sky standings, while Weber State is 4-3, Idaho State and Northern Arizona both 3-3, Nevada-Reno 2-3, Montana State 3-4, and Montana 1-5.

In overall games, Idaho and Idaho State both trail BSU with 5-4 marks, while NAU is 5-5, UNR 4-4, Montana State and Weber State 4-5, and Montana 3-6.

Next weekend, Idaho hosts Northern Arizona, Weber State is at Idaho State, and Montana travels to Nevada-Reno, in Big Sky games. In non-league contests, Boise State is at Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo and Montana State travels to Fresno State.

Kimberly only area team left in Idaho grid playoffs

The Kimberly Bulldogs, 10-0, snipped Frulland Saturday afternoon 14-8 to become the only team left in the state high school football playoffs.

The Bulldogs, using a tenacious defense in the final minutes of the contest to deny Frulland's first down inside the 10 yard line, advanced into the semi-finals of the A-3 division.

In other weekend playoff action, Twin Falls was eliminated by the powerful Boise Braves Friday night 27-0 at Bronco Stadium, while the Valley Vikings lost a heart breaker in three overtimes to the Pocatello Panthers 29-28.

Boise County's 44-0 victory over West Side Saturday afternoon, and Capital's 44-0 win over Pocatello Friday afternoon, have set the stage for the A-3 championship game. That contest will be held in Pocatello at the University of Idaho High School Stadium, 7 p.m. Friday.

Kimberly, which has a perfect record, will play the first game of an exciting playoff series at Bronco Stadium 7 p.m. Saturday. That game will be the first of a two-game series for the Bulldogs, as they will be followed by the Boise Braves Saturday afternoon 7 p.m. at Bronco Stadium.

The Eagles, 10-0, and attached as long loon, will try to hold off a

Celtics romp past Chicago

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Robert Parish and Cedric Maxwell combined for 42 points Sunday night to lead the Boston Celtics to a 111-105 victory over the Chicago Bulls.

Parish had 19 points and Kevin McHale had 13. Boston's front court dominated the game. Bird connected on his first five field goals and he and Parish each scored 14 points to provide Boston with a 61-56 halftime lead.

Reggie Theus kept Chicago within striking distance, scoring 16 of his 22 points by the half. The Bulls took an 80-79 lead at 3:24 of the third quarter following two free throws by Artis Gilmore. The Celtics then reeled off 15 straight points to assume a 94-80 lead.

Chicago pulled within three points, 102-102, at 11:31. Left on Larry Kenon's layup. But the Celtics wrapped it up on two baskets by Maxwell and one by McHale to give them a 111-102 cushion.

76ers 136, Bucks 121

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Julius Erving scored 33 points and Steve Mix 21 in a second quarter spurt that enabled the Philadelphia 76ers to tie and defeat the Bucks 136-121 Sunday night.

Milwaukee held a 47-46 lead with 8:00 left in the second quarter when the 76ers outscored the Bucks 13-2 — 8 by Mix and 2 by Erving — to move ahead 59-49. Milwaukee came no closer than 6 points, 61-55, the rest of the way.

For Milwaukee, 12.4 Marques Johnson scored 29 points, Mickey Johnson 20 and Bob Lanier 16. Philadelphia's 2.2 shot a torrid 68 percent in the first quarter to take a 36-35 lead and increased their margin to 74-61 at the half. Milwaukee scored the first two baskets of the fourth quarter to make the score 98-87, but Philadelphia outscored the Bucks 13-7 by Mix, to move ahead 109-88.

New quarterback lifts Dolphins past Los Angeles 35-14

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — An injured Bob Griese received a "get well soon" card Sunday from David Woodley.

With Griese sidelined with a shoulder injury, the Miami Dolphins have turned to Woodley, their 1980 eighth round draft pick out of Louisiana State, as their starting quarterback.

Woodley responded with his finest NFL performance against Los Angeles, passing for three touchdowns and scrambling for two more to lead the Dolphins to a 35-14 victory over the Rams.

Woodley completed 17-of-29 passes for 161 yards and carried the ball nine times for 51 more yards.

"It was a situation where Bob and (reserve quarterback) Don Stork got hurt and I was the only one left," said Woodley, downplaying his role. "My winning kind of surprised me because I didn't think I could run against the Rams. It's a spontaneous thing. You can either take the sack, throw the ball away or scramble, and scrambling is what I've been doing."

The Dolphins evened their record at 5-5 while Los Angeles fell to 6-4 and dropped a game behind front-running Atlanta in the NFC West, a division the Rams have won for seven consecutive years.

"I speak at the talent on this team and I'm surprised we're 5-5," Woodley said. "Today we took a good step towards turning the offense around. The more I play, the more comfortable I feel."

Miami coach Don Shula chided those who gave up on the Dolphins earlier this season.

"Everybody was ready to bury this football team," Shula said. "But the thing is, the players believe in each other and the coaching staff believes in them."

"The week, I decided to give several new players a chance to play and I also decided to stay with David Woodley. He has been coming along and improving each week. We have been working real hard with him."

Devin Williams led the Miami rushing attack with 151 yards on 12 carries, the first Dolphin to rush for more than 100 yards in two seasons.

Miami's swarming defense, led by A.J. Duhe, continually held the Rams in check. Los Angeles, playing before an 82,000 crowd, gained just 20 yards in the first half to Miami's 252 and finished with 284 total yards to Miami's 431. The Rams had averaged 375 yards per game through the first nine weeks of the season.

Vince Ferragamo, the NFL's leading passer entering the game, completed 19-of-42 passes for 290 yards and one touchdown. He was intercepted four times.

The Rams pulled to within two touchdowns, 28-14, at 6:47 of the final period on a 33-yard TD pass from Ferragamo to Victor Davis.

Miami's next possession, Terry Robiskie fumbled and Los Angeles recovered at the Miami 33. But Ferragamo's next pass was intercepted by Don Bessille in the end zone with 7:45 left in the game.

Woodley then closed out the scoring with a 2-yard TD pass to Bruce Hardy with 12:22 remaining in the game.

Miami took a 7-0 lead with 4:38 remaining in the opening quarter on a 31-yard TD pass from Woodley to Nathan. Nathan made it 14-0 at the end of the second period on a 5-yard run around left end by Woodley. The second TD was set up by a 65-yard run by Williams to the Los Angeles 4.

The Rams scored their lone touchdown of the half by blocking a punt and recovering the ball in the end zone with 6:23 remaining in the half. Ivory Sully blocked the punt by Uwe von Schamann and Jewel Thomas caught the ball and fell into the end zone for the TD.

Miami took a 21-7 lead with 52 seconds remaining in the half on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Woodley to Nat Moore. The touchdown capped a drive of 81 yards in 12 plays with Woodley completing 3-of-4 passes for 41 yards.

Steelers 24, Bucs 21

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers converted Tampa Bay errors into three touchdowns and a field goal Sunday for a 24-21 victory that overshadowed Doug Williams' three-touchdown effort for Tampa.

Matt Bahr kicked a 48-yard field goal in the first period following a 47-yard drive and Tampa Bay's Dennis Winston recovered a blocked kick in the end zone for a first period touchdown; Sidney Thornton rammed over from 1 yard out after Tampa was called for pass interference in the end zone in the second period and Lynn Bahner kicked a 16-yard field goal for another TD with 3 seconds to go in the half.

The strong-armed Williams had one of his best days in the NFL, hitting Kevin House with a 26-yard TD pass in the first period, Jimmy Giles for 12 yards in the second and Ricky Bell with an 8-yard score in the third quarter.

Williams finished with 21 completions in 45 attempts for 302 yards and one interception. Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw, suffering from a sore thumb, completed 11-of-19 for 100 yards and one interception.

The Buccaneers threatened to score late in the final period, driving to the Steeler 27, before Donny Shell intercepted a Williams pass at the 8.

The victory improved the Steelers' record to 6-4 to keep them one game out of the lead in the AFC Central. It was Pittsburgh's second straight win after a three-game losing streak. Tampa Bay dropped to 4-5.

Bears 35, Redskins 21

CHICAGO (UPI) — Vince Evans threw two touchdowns passes to James Scott and another to Walter Payton — all in the first half — to lead the Chicago Bears to a 35-21 victory Sunday over the Washington Redskins.

Payton, who gained 167 yards in 17 carries, also scored on a 59-yard run on Chicago's opening possession and Roland Harper added a 2-yard TD to help give the Bears an insurmountable 35-0 lead after two periods.

Evans hit Scott on a 40-yard TD midway through the first quarter and a 12-yard score with just 7 seconds left in first half. He found Payton on a 54-yard bomb on the first play of the second quarter.

Evans, who had thrown only four TD passes all season, wound up 11-17 for 200 yards and two touchdowns.

The Chicago defense forced three turnovers in the first half that the Bears were able to turn into touchdowns and improve their record to 4-6, Washington fell to 3-7.

Joe Theismann, who completed 22-of-36 passes for 323 yards, finally got the Washington offense in the second half, throwing for two TDs and running for a third. But the Redskins could not overcome the big first-half deficit.

The 35 points were more than three than Chicago had scored in the first half all season. The 21 points in the opening quarter were the most by a Chicago team since Oct. 18, 1953.

Packers 23, 49ers 16

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Gerry Ellis ran 7 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown to put Green Bay in the lead Sunday and the Packers went on to post a 23-16 victory over San Francisco, handing the 49ers their seventh straight loss.

The win gave the Packers a 4-5 record and kept them in contention in the NFC Central. The 49ers dropped to 3-7.

Ellis' TD came at the end of a 47-yard drive and helped the Packers a 20-13 lead with 14:57 left.

Then, after the 49ers cut the lead to four points on Ray Wersching's 24-yard field goal with 10:39 to go, Tom Birney added the Packers' final points with a 32-yard field goal with 2:16 left.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey had one of his finest days of the season, completing 24-of-33 passes for 244 yards. He completed eight passes to wide receiver James Lofton for 146 yards.

The Packers' other points came on Terrell Middleton's 1-yard run and Birney field goals of 50 and 39 yards.

Besides Wersching's field goal, San Francisco scored on Steve DeBerg's 29-yard pass to Freddie Solomon and Lenell Elliot's 1-yard run.

Falcons 33, Cards 27

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Ray Strong ran 21 yards for a touchdown 4:42 into the overtime period Sunday as the Atlanta Falcons overcame a 24-6 halftime deficit to post a 33-27 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Atlanta won the toss and started the extra period at its own 21. The big plays in the winning drive were a 15-yard pass from Steve Bartkowski to Alfred Jenkins and a 16-yard run by Strong to the St. Louis 24.

Two plays later, Strong burst off tackle and dashed to the end zone for the score that killed the Cardinals' upset bid.

The Falcons now are 7-3 while the Cardinals fell to 3-7.

Bartkowski finished the game with 31 completions in 47 attempts for 378 yards and one interception, while St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart hit 25-of-43 for 344 yards, but was intercepted five times, including one in the final minute of regulation play that stopped a drive at the Atlanta 32.

Browns 28, Colts 7

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Brian Sipe passed for two touchdowns and Charles White ran for two more Sunday to carry the Cleveland Browns to a 28-7 victory over the Baltimore Colts and their fifth straight triumph.

The win gave the Browns, 7-3, a half-game lead over Houston in the AFC Central. The Oilers host New England Monday night.

Cleveland took a 28-13 lead early in the fourth quarter before the Colts came back with two TDs in the final 10 minutes.

Sipe, who completed 22-of-29 passes for 212 yards, threw a 39-yard scoring pass to Dave Logan in the first quarter and added a 12-yard TD pass to Greg Pruitt in the final period.

White scored on a pair of 5-yard runs in the first half.

Bert Jones passed for three touchdowns, throwing 23 and 2 yards to Reese McCall and 5 yards to Don McCauley. Curtis Dickey ran 5 yards to score for the Colts, 5-5. Steve Mike-Mayer missed an extra point and a 39-yard field goal attempt.

Sipe was near perfect the first half, completing 15-of-17 passes as the Browns took a 21-6 lead. Cleveland scored on its first two possessions and never looked back in tuneup for next week's showdown at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland's Mike Pruitt led all rushers with 103 yards on 17 carries. White added 71 yards on 14 carries.

Jones completed 27-of-39 passes for 275 yards and Dickey rushed for 87 yards on 14 carries for the Colts.

Raiders 28, Bengals 17

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Arthur Whittington ran 90 yards for a touchdown with the second half kickoff Sunday and Jim Plunkett ran 4 yards for another score with 5:28 remaining to give the Oakland Raiders their fifth straight victory, a 28-17 triumph over the Cincinnati Bengals that lifted them into first place in the AFC West.

The victory, coupled with San Diego's loss to Denver, put the Raiders in first place with a 7-3 record. All five Oakland victories have come since Plunkett replaced the injured Dan Pastorini as Oakland's starter.

Plunkett completed 19-of-26 passes for 245 yards, but for the first time in the streak he failed to throw a touchdown pass.

Mark van Eggen ran 2 yards and Ken King ran 8 for the other two Oakland touchdowns while the Bengals, who slipped to 3-7 and remained last in the AFC Central, got their points on touchdowns by Dan Ross and Don Bass and a 29-yard field goal by Ian Sumner.

Bills 31, Jets 24

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Ferguson's third touchdown pass of the day, a 33-yarder to Frank Lewis with just six seconds remaining Sunday, lifted the Buffalo Bills to a 31-24 victory over the New York Jets.

Ferguson's dramatic pass came after the Bills had blown a 17-point lead and had allowed the Jets to tie the score with two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Earlier, Ferguson threw TD passes of 16 and 3 yards through a driving rain to rookie tight end Mark Brammer and Roosevelt Leaks plunged 1-yard for another score.

After the Jets had tied the score on Scott Dierking's 1-yard run with 4:10 remaining, the Bills stopped the Jets deep in their own territory and took over on New York's 47 following Joe Cribb's 15-yard punt return with 19 seconds to go.

Ferguson threw 16 yards over the middle to Brammer to the Jets' 31 and with just 12 seconds to go, he threw down the left side to Lewis, who made a juggling catch over his shoulder and stepped into the end zone for the winning touchdown.

The victory was the Bills' seventh against three losses and moved them within a half-game of the New England Patriots in the AFC East race. New England will play at Houston Monday night.

Eagles 34, Saints 21

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Harold Carmichael caught three touchdowns passes for the first time in his 10-year career and Ron Jaworski threw for more than 300 yards Sunday, leading the NFL-leading Philadelphia Eagles to a 34-21 victory over the winless New Orleans Saints.

The win gave Philadelphia a 9-1 record, two games better than second-place Dallas in the NFC East. New Orleans dropped to 0-10.

Jaworski's scoring passes to Carmichael were for 10, 6 and 25 yards. Philadelphia also scored on a 3-yard run by Mike Hogan and on Tony Franklin's field goals of 32 and 30 yards.

Jaworski finished the game with 21 completions in 32 attempts for 323 yards, while Saints' quarterback Archie Manning also passed for more than 300 yards — completing 25-of-40 attempts for 306 yards and all three of the team's scores. Manning left the game late in the third quarter with a bruised hand.

Brooks Williams caught two of Manning's scoring passes, for 24 and 8 yards. Wes Chandler passed the other, a 17-yarder.

New Orleans scored on its opening possession less than five minutes into the game when Williams made the leading grab on Manning's 24-yard pass. But Philadelphia overpowered the Saints in the second quarter, scoring 17 points and taking a 17-14 halftime lead.

Carmichael's three touchdown catches gave him 65, one shy of the Eagles' career record held by Tom McDonald. Manning's second TD pass was the 100th in his 10-year career.

Jaworski fumbled three snaps but recovered all three. He ran three times for a net gain of 10 yards, including a 13-yarder that gave the Eagles a first down and kept alive their second scoring drive.

Philadelphia went ahead for the first time in the game after sacking Manning on the Saints' 27. A short punt gave the Eagles possession at the Saints' 48 and Jaworski completed three consecutive passes, including the 6-yarder to Carmichael to make it 17-14 with 1:10 left in the half.

Jaworski's longest pass was a 31-yarder to Carmichael on the Eagles' first play from scrimmage. His leading receiver was Charles Smith with nine catches for 137 yards. Carmichael caught five passes for 89 yards.

Bobby Scott replaced Manning in the Saints' backfield and completed 3-of-9 passes for 64 yards, but he was sacked three times for a loss of 29 yards.

Chiefs 31, Seahawks 30

SEATTLE (UPI) — Arnold Moragado ran 1 yard for a touchdown with 40 seconds left to cap a 91-yard drive and give the Kansas City Chiefs a 31-30 victory over the Seattle Seahawks Sunday in an error-filled game between AFC Western Division rivals struggling to stay in the playoff chase.

After the Seahawks had taken a 30-24 lead on Jim Jodati's 2-yard run with 4:10 remaining, Steve Fuller completed 6-of-7 passes for 93 yards to place the Chiefs, 5-5, in position for the winning score.

Seattle, 4-6, moved to the Kansas City 43 in the time remaining, but Elren Herrera's 60-yard field-goal attempt on the last play of the game fell short.

Fuller completed 19-of-26 passes for 233 yards, including a touchdown pass of 12 yards to Tony Reed and 11 yards to Henry Marshall.

Linebacker Frank Manumaleuga picked off a Jim Zorn pass and returned it 22 yards for Kansas City's first TD. Nick Lowery kicked a 42-yard field goal in the first quarter for the Chiefs, who trailed 17-3 at halftime.

Larry Brinson ran 22 yards for one Seahawks' TD and Zorn, who was intercepted five times, passed 4 yards to Dan Doornik for another score. Herrera added field goals of 39, 31 and 33 yards.

The Seahawks capitalized on field position and a pair of Kansas City turnovers to score two touchdowns and a field goal in the final five minutes of the second quarter, giving them their 17th-half advantage.

After Seattle took the kickoff to open the second half, Zorn threw one of several costly interceptions that was picked off by Manumaleuga and returned 4 yards to the Seahawks' 12. Fuller hit closely guarded Reed in the end zone on the next play to cut the Seahawks lead to 17-10.

The Seahawks added a pair of field goals later in the third quarter, but Fuller directed the Chiefs on an 87-yard march — capped by his 11-yard scoring throw to Marshall — that made it 23-17 with 12:44 left in the game.

Kansas City took the lead for the first time in the second half with 11:33 left in the final quarter. Manumaleuga made a diving grab of a Zorn pass intended for Doornik, got up and ran 22 yards for the score while breaking two tackles along the way.

The Chiefs, who had four turnovers of their own, helped Seattle get the lead back when punter Bob Grupp dropped the snap from center and was tackled on his own 18 with 6:12 remaining.

In Monday night battle 'Luv Ya Blue' cards to aid Oilers' game plan

HOUSTON (UPI) — The flashy New England Patriots try to discolor the Houston Oilers tonight in a prime-time NFL game which of late has showcased the Oilers and their offensive leaders, Earl Campbell and Kenny Stabler.

Often amidst a sea of "Luv Ya Blue" flash cards waved by their fans, the Oilers have become one of ABC television's hot items by winning five straight Monday games and never going to easily.

The Patriots, on the other hand, bring to the AstroDome encounter one of the poorest Monday records and a heavy respect for the way the Oilers' raucous fans rump up their team.

Patriots head coach Ron Erhardt acknowledges as much.

"The wind (in the AstroDome) depends on how they're yelling 'Luv Ya Blue,'" he said.

Erhardt was more concerned, of course, with stopping Campbell, the Oilers' workhorse tailback who seems to respond to the added enthusiasm of the Monday extravaganzas.

The Oilers are unbeaten on Monday since Campbell was drafted 19th after the team lost its only four previous prime time games. In the five wins, Campbell has rushed for between 89 and 195 yards each game as the Oilers have beaten Pittsburgh twice, Miami twice and Cleveland once.

Campbell said "it makes no difference to me that it's Monday. If I'm worrying about being on TV, I'm just going to mess up."

Oilers quarterback Stabler said his 9-1 record in Monday games was coincidental.

"I can't think of any particular reason why I've had some good Monday night games, it's a coincidence I guess. I know the starting time doesn't bother me. My body clock is pretty messed up already."

Stabler is bothered by strained knee ligaments suffered a week ago, but Campbell is at a peak after gaining 720 yards rushing in his last four games, all Oilers wins.

He will be running against a defense which has allowed an individual opponent to gain 100 yards in a game only twice in the last 33 regular season games.

The game marks Oilers' left offensive tackle Leon Gray's first against his former teammates. Gray was traded by the Patriots to Houston in 1979, and since then he has anchored the Oilers' left side.

"I was in this game any differently than I was in any Monday night game. I want to wish them luck this season and I hope they play well against us because when we beat them, I want to beat them at their best," Gray said.

The Patriots' record was the best in the NFL through nine weeks, and the team's quick strike offense was scoring considerably more points than the stodgy Oilers, a team that will run out of a two-tight-end alignment.

New England spreads things out offensively and utilizes an array of talented receivers. "Three receivers and three running backs each have more than nine receptions this season.

College passers

They performed in an awesome record-setting style this past weekend

NEW YORK (UPI) — There are a few college quarterbacks who know how to pass away a Saturday afternoon in style.

Some of the leading passers in the nation, including Illinois' Dave Wilson, Purdue's Mark Herrmann, Brigham Young's Jim McMahon and Portland State's Neil Lomax shattered numerous NCAA, conference and school records Saturday with awesome displays of pinpoint passing.

Wilson, perhaps, put on the finest individual performance of the year despite his team's 49-42 loss to seventh-ranked Ohio State.

The 6-foot-3, 215-pounder Wilson, embroiled in a legal battle over his eligibility, completed 43-of-69 passes for an NCAA-record 621 yards and three for six touchdowns. Wilson's yardage broke by 50 yards, the previous mark set by Brigham Young's Marc Wilson in 1977. He also tied three other NCAA records; pass attempts (69), set by SMU's Chuck Hixson — also against

Ohio State — in 1968; completions (43), set earlier this season by California's Rich Campbell and total ps (76), set by Mike Striting of Tulsa against Memphis State in 1968.

Wilson's six TDs set a Big Ten record as did his total yardage of 585 yards.

Ohio State quarterback Art Schlichter had a pretty fair day himself, completing 17-of-21 passes for 224 yards and four TDs.

Herrmann, the NCAA's seventh-rated passer, set a Purdue single game passing record with 439 yards and three TDs in only three quarters to carry the 19th-ranked Boilermakers to a 58-13 rout of Iowa.

Herrmann, who completed 26-of-34 passes, broke Mike Phipps' school record of 429 yards, set against Stanford in 1969.

Iowa quarterback Pete Gales broke the Iowa school record with 321 yards passing.

— McMahon, the NCAA's top-rated passer, threw for 464 yards and three TDs to power 16th-ranked Brigham Young to a 41-23 triumph over North Texas State.

McMahon has now thrown 34 TDs passes this season and needs five more in BYU's final two games to tie the NCAA record set in 1969 by San Diego State's Dennis Shaw. The Junior quarterback also extended his record streak of consecutive games with at least 300 yards in total offense to eight as he completed 40-of-50 passes.

And finally there's Lomax, of Division I-AA Portland State. All he did was throw for eight TDs and 311 yards to power the Vikings to an NCAA-record 105-0 rout of Delaware State. Lomax played only 3:57 of the first period, the total time it took Portland State to score its first seven touchdowns. Lomax played part of the second period and just three series in the third quarter.

Just two weeks ago, Portland State erupted for a 93-7 triumph over Cal Poly-Pomona.

Cross country

3 squads favored in Big Sky

BOISE (UPI) — Nevada-Reno, Montana and Weber State have been labeled the favorites to win the Big Sky Conference cross-country championships next Saturday at Boise's Eagle Hills Golf Course.

The Wolf Pack, led by veteran Coach Jack Cook, is the favorite this year because it has the top two finishers from the 1979 league championship team. Nevada-Reno is paced by defending Big Sky champion Jalro Correa.

The 10,000-meters last year in 31:08.8. His teammate, Joaquin Leano, finished second last year.

Montana is led by seniors Tom Raunig, who was eighth in the Big Sky last fall, and Dave Gorton. Montana has run its best in its last two competitions, a dual win over Montana State and a victory in the Boise State Invitational, which was run over the same course as the championships.

Weber State, second in the meet a year ago, has had a solid season behind senior Doug Friedl. The Hooper, Utah native was the individual winner in the Boise State Invitational, covering the course in 28:23.7.

The five remaining teams in the league — Boise State, Idaho, Idaho State, Montana State and Northern Arizona appear to be this season's longshots.

In addition to the Big Sky championship, the Western Athletic Conference also will be competing for its championship on the Boise course.

The University of Texas-EI Paso is again the team to beat in the overall competition this year. The Miners are two-time defending NCAA and WAC champions and feature Michael Musyoki, who for the past two seasons has won the District VII and WAC titles.

The top three teams from the region, along with the top four individual finishers not from these teams, will advance to the NCAA championships Nov. 24 in Wichita, Kan.

Tennis' top duo reaches tennis finals

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Top seed Bjorn Borg and No. 2 John McEnroe won their semifinal matches in the final of the $175,000 Stockholm Open Grand Prix tennis tournament.

Borg dispatched third seeded American Gene Mayer, 6-2, 7-5, and McEnroe knocked out unseeded Bob Lutz of the United States, 6-3, 6-3.

Borg again refused to meet with the press due to his feud with Swedish sportswriters and was assessed another $50 fine.

McEnroe had little trouble with Lutz. The 21-year-old U.S. Open champ lost most of his points on bad serves and sloppy net play.

The doubles final will pit Heinz Günthard of Switzerland and Paul McNamee of Australia against Americans Lutz and Stan Smith.

Günthard and McNamee advanced with a 7-6, 6-2 win over Robert van't Hof of the United States and Leo Palin of Finland. Smith and Lutz defeated American Steve Denton and South-African Kevin Curran, 2-6, 6-4, 7-6.

Portland St. wins 105-0

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A couple of weeks back Portland State's explosive football team ran up a 93-7 victory over Cal Poly-Pomona.

On Saturday night, Portland State topped that act, beating Delaware State 105-0.

"Obviously they (Delaware State) weren't prepared," Portland State Coach Mouse Davis said. "I still say they have a lot of talented football players, and I was betting the talent would make it closer."

"But I'll tell you this, we're going to go in there and play. I don't teach kids to lay down."

Portland State quarterback Neil Lomax, the object of much attention by pro scouts, had another great night.

Lomax, the nation's leading collegiate passer, threw for 311 yards and eight touchdowns.

Portland State scored seven touchdowns in the first quarter, although it had the ball only 3 minutes and 57 seconds.
