Reagan taps Meese, Baker to posts

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan Friday named James Baker III as chief of staff and long-time aide Edwin Meese to a new Cabinet-level position of "counselor to the president" in a restructured Reagan White House.

Meese told reporters late Friday after meeting with Reagan that he and Baker will "both report directly to the president."

Asked if other aides or Cabinet members would have direct access to Reagan, Meese told reporters: "No — just the two of us."

Meese said Reagan wants him to work on policy matters and handle liaison with Cabinet members. He said he and Baker will be responsible for putting pending decisions "in the proper form for Reagan."

Meese's appointment to the new post of counselor to the president raised questions on rank. But a Reagan aide said there is no question that "Meese is in a higher position, a very heavyweight position," compared to Baker.

The aide said Reagan effectively had created a position above chief of staff, but Baker still will exercise "tremendous power" within the White House.

Both Baker and Meese will be members of the National Security Council.

Meese said it was not surprising that he and Baker were named to that panel — usually reserved for the president, vice president, Cabinet members and chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. "If you're involved with the policy aspects, you've got to know what's going on," Meese said.

Reagan agreed, telling reporters NSC membership "goes with the jobs they both have."

Meese, 49, was Reagan's chief of staff during Reagan's two terms as governor of California and in the campaign and is directing the Reagan transition. He will be responsible for Cabinet administration, the White House domestic policy staff and NSC staff operations.

Baker, 50, has fought Reagan more than he has worked for him. He managed Vice President-elect George Bush's campaign against Reagan for the presidential nomination, and was a top Gerald Ford campaign aide in 1976.

But after Reagan won the nomination this year, he appointed Baker as his "senior adviser," and Baker was Reagan's chief negotiator with the Carter camp on the presidential debate format.

Baker will handle congressional and press relations as well as White House staff and general administration.

Boise man may take Andrus' post

By DAVID MORRISSEY
Times-News writer

WASHINGTON — Boise businessman Peter Johnson, a former president and chief executive officer of the Trus Joist Corp., is one of six persons being considered for the post of Interior Secretary by President-elect Ronald Reagan, the Times-News has learned.

Johnson, in Washington Friday for a meeting with Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, was chairman of the "Businessmen for Reagan-Bush" Committee in the Pacific Northwest states. He now is a private business consultant.

McClure is also a key Reagan supporter and will soon become chairman of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee. That is the committee which will consider most issues where the Interior Department has jurisdiction, ranging from energy development to public lands questions.

If Johnson receives the Interior Secretary appointment, he would be the second Idahoan ever to serve in a president's cabinet. The first was Democrat Cecil Andrus, present Interior Secretary under Democrat Jimmy Carter.

Johnson was also vice chairman of Gov. John Evans' Management Task Force during 1979 and 1980.

That was a group of private businessmen who conducted a 10-month efficiency study of Idaho government.

The group, charged with finding ways to "cut the fat" from state government, eventually issued a report containing 212 recommendations. Johnson and his task force members said these recommendations could save taxpayers some $19 million while improving state government efficiency.

The idea for the Idaho task force originated in California, where it was successfully employed several years ago by Reagan when he was California governor.

During this year's presidential campaign, Reagan said he would bring private businessmen into the federal government who could both reduce government while running it efficiently.

Sources told the Times-News no final decision on choosing an Interior Secretary had yet been made by Reagan. In addition to Johnson, the Times-News has learned that five other persons, all Republicans, are so far being considered for the job. They are:

- Sen. Ted Stevens of Alaska.
- Gov. Jay Hammond of Alaska.
- Connecticut businessman Malcolm Baldrige.
- New Mexico Congressman Manuel Lujan Jr.
- Arizona Congressman and Minority Leader John J. Rhodes.

Area wilderness land dropped in new study

By RON ZELLAR
Times-News writer

BOISE — The Bureau of Land Management has eliminated more than half of the Magic Valley lands originally included in the agency's wilderness study inventory.

Bob Buffington, state director for the BLM, said Friday he has determined 818,000 acres of BLM land in Idaho contain wilderness characteristics and 1.12 million acres do not merit further consideration.

In the Shoshone and Burley districts, Buffington designated 14 areas for further wilderness study and decided 22 others did not merit further attention.

The Petticoat Peak and Lower Salmon Creek units were named wilderness study areas in the Burley District, while six other units were removed from the study.

Wilderness study areas named by Buffington in the Bennett Hills Area of the Shoshone District are: Gooding

City of Rocks A and B, Little City of Rocks, Black Canyon and Deer Creek.

Study areas remaining in the Monument Area are: Shale Creek, Sand Butte, Raven's Eye, Little Deer, Bear Den Butte and the Shoshone unit.

Sixteen areas were removed from further study in the Shoshone District. And the boundaries of all 12 areas left in the study were modified in response to information provided by the public, said Rob Helle, Shoshone District wilderness planner.

Helle said the Gooding City of Rocks unit received the most public comment, and was divided into two parcels after respondents objected to the possible closure of a jeep trail running north and south through the unit.

Roughly 2,240 acres also was removed from the southeast corner of the two City of Rocks units due to mining activity in the area, he said.

Copies of the final list of wilderness study areas can be seen at BLM offices. Individuals who believe wilderness study areas on the final list do not possess wilderness characteristics have 30 days to protest Buffington's decision.

Helle said BLM officials must then attempt to determine for each unit whether the wilderness characteristics identified in the inventory are worth more than development opportunities which would be lost if Congress approves wilderness designation.

Congress required in the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 that the BLM complete the inventory and make wilderness recommendations by no later than 1991.

Four other units in the Shoshone District were previously designated wilderness study areas. Action in these units was accelerated due to grazing and mining conflicts, Helle said.

The four are the Little Wood River and Pioneer Mountains units near Hallett, and the Black Butte and Grey Rift units near Carey.

After years of debate

Huge Alaska lands bill was 'suddenly' approved

By DAVID ROGERS
© 1980 Boston Globe

WASHINGTON — House Interior Committee Chairman Morris Udall talked to Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. early in the afternoon, and almost on the spur of the moment it was decided to move forward with the bill that evening, Udall telephoned Senate minority whip Ted Stevens of Alaska, asking him to make some calls, including one to Alaska Rep. Don Young.

Republican Rep. Thomas Evans Jr. of Delaware checked with the Reagan transition team to get its clearance, and back at the Interior Committee, Udall talked with his ranking Democrat, Rep. Phillip Burton of California, who was still cool toward the legislation.

Stevens was worried that Rep. James Weaver of Oregon might bolt, and he asked Sen. Paul Tsongas of Massachusetts to speak to his fellow Democrat and former classmate — in the House. Tsongas said he would, but before he could, it was over.

Nine years in the making, the Alaska Lands bill cleared Congress Tuesday night in the space of less than 30 minutes, and right to the end, nothing but superlatives seemed to fit its extraordinary history as one of the most controversial environmental laws ever to be adopted by the nation.

It has been called "the conservation vote of the century."

After bouncing back and forth for years between the House and Senate, the legislation finally broke free on a unanimous consent request and voice vote that seemed to belie the bitter debate that had come before.

"It was one of those strange experiences when different groups decided to do the same thing for entirely different reasons," Udall Thursday said. "In less than 30 minutes, I was able to do more than I had been able to in years before."

Like Alaska itself, the bill is giant in size, filling hundreds of pages and more than doubling the national park and wildlife-refuge acreage in the entire country by putting a total of 104 million acres of federal land into conservation areas.

As long promised, the legislation makes final Alaska's own selection of 98 million of the 105 million acres able to in years before."

Not only Saturn, but Titan as well

Voyager I's trip past Saturn was worth two worlds, scientists say

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Voyager I's reconnaissance of Titan, the king of moons, produced a scientific harvest as important as a single mission to another planet, project scientists said Friday.

The Titan reports, added to the probe's revelations about Saturn and the hundreds of rings whirling around it, yielded a scientific legacy that will keep researchers busy for years trying to understand the sixth planet out from the sun.

"With the suddenness of a bursting balloon, the total scientific spectrum has become available to us," Dr. Eyle Broadfoot said as the 1,800-pound spacecraft left Saturn far behind and cruised toward the far reaches of the solar system.

Researchers piecing together the rapidly expanding volume of reports from Voyager were clearly entranced with the probe's Titan discoveries.

Voyager flew within 2,500 miles of the cloud-shrouded moon-planet that has long fascinated Earth-based observers.

"There have been two encounters, one with Saturn and one with Titan, and that's important to appreciate," said chief scientist Edward Stone.

"Titan is of the size of Mercury and it has an atmosphere," he added. "In fact, it's even larger with 1 1/2 times as much atmosphere in terms of what we might learn as an encounter with Venus or Mercury."

Broadfoot, of the University of Southern California and head of Voyager's ultraviolet studies, said the spacecraft looked at Titan late Tuesday from behind, with the sun in front of the satellite. From that angle, it was like watching the sunset from your backyard.

He said Voyager instruments spotted at least three layers of the nitrogen-rich Titanian atmosphere, with the thickest at the top about 300 degrees below zero. The first haze level lies about 120 miles above the surface and the third about 350 miles up.

The hazes are believed to result from the photochemical action on hydrocarbons, the same process that produces smog over the Los Angeles basin.

Dr. Darrell Strobel of the Naval

Research Laboratory said very complex molecules called polymers are apparently being produced in Titan's "air," possibly creating the reddish-brown haze seen over the Saturnian moon.

Geologist Eugene Shoemaker said the other moons of Saturn apparently are cratered and ice and most of them are heavily cratered, bearing the scars of the birth pangs of the solar system billions of years ago.

The exception, he said, is the moon Enceladus, the seventh moon from the planet, which has an apparently smooth surface.

"We cannot be sure about this, but we suspect it is really different from the other bodies," he said.

Generally, the Saturnian moons are "much colder at the surface than the Galilean satellites of Jupiter" and also much colder inside," he said.

Mimas, the sixth moon from Saturn, shows a large crater, the result of an impact that was severe enough to have torn the moon apart, Shoemaker said. The crater covers a full one-fourth of the moon's diameter and apparently has caused cracking in the icy crust on its opposite side.

U.S. considers Poland aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Carter administration is considering more agricultural credits and other aid to support Poland's struggling economy. But a request for $3 billion in emergency loans is unrealistic, U.S. officials said Friday.

Poland has a hard currency debt of $21 billion to Western nations and much of its exports go to pay interest on the figure. Its agricultural economy is highly dependent on feed grains, and a grain shortage and high meat demand could force farmers to slaughter their herds.

By United Press International Today is Saturday, Nov. 15, 1980 day of 1980 with 46 to follow.

Thongas succeeded by winning an amendment on the floor to establish strength, and then used this strength to force a compromise in private negotiations.

Two elections helped to set the political climate for approval. Gravel, who had advocated no bill, lost in the Alaskan Democratic primary in August, and his defeat strengthened Stevens' ability to risk a compromise.

Penalties under the law include a maximum one-year prison term and $1,000 fine, or both, for possession or sale of paraphernalia for sale.

An attorney for the business group said his firm plans to file a motion Friday to be allowed to remove the few paraphernalia items remaining on his store shelves before the law took effect.

Graves said he would have a difficult time removing his diminished stock of paraphernalia. He said he has been reducing the stock since July 1, in anticipation of the law.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

Altogether, 43.6 million acres of new national parks are established under the law, along with another 53.6 million acres of new wildlife refuges.

The speaker said, "Yeah, why don't you try this one," said Udall Thursday. "I was surprised but said I'd give it a try."

Rowlett rejected a motion Friday to delay implementation of the law. The request had been made by the Progressive Businessmen of Idaho Inc., pending the outcome of an appeal of Rowlett's ruling to the Idaho Supreme Court.

The businesses contend the law's definition of paraphernalia is unconstitutionally vague. The state contends the law provides an adequate definition of paraphernalia by requiring law enforcement to prove a suspect intended to use the items for drug abuse.

The law, passed by the 1980 Legislature and signed by Gov. John Evans, defines paraphernalia as being virtually anything used in connection with illegal drugs, such as scales, balloons, spoons, water pipes, hypodermic syringes, roach clips and smoking masks.

Ex-POW says

Garwood wore VC uniform

ROBERT GARWOOD says torture drove him mad

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (UPI) — A former POW who swore an oath of revenge against accused Marine turncoat Robert Garwood took the stand as the first witness at Garwood's court-martial Friday and said he had seen Garwood wearing the uniform of the Viet Cong.

Chief Warrant Officer Francis G. Anton, who once said he told a dying comrade in Vietnam he would one day repay Garwood on his comrade's behalf, said the Marine private not only adopted the uniform of the enemy and carried one of their guns, but that he also stood guard over fellow American prisoners in a jungle POW camp.

Garwood is the only Vietnam-era serviceman to be tried as a traitor.

Earlier Friday, in opening statements, Garwood's lawyers said they would show the 34-year-old defendant from Adams, Ind., was driven insane by torture "too terrible to believe" after his capture by the Viet Cong on a lonely road outside DaNang in 1965.

They said psychiatrists would testify Garwood was unable to understand his conduct by the time he encountered other Americans, such as Anton, in the late 1960s.

The prosecution said it would rely on the testimony of former POW's.

"Gentlemen, they were there," Maj. Werner Hellmer told the court-martial panel of five Marine officers, all of them Vietnam veterans.

Garwood spent nearly 14 years with the communists before returning to the United States in March 1979. He arranged his own repatriation, reportedly by smuggling a note to a foreigner in Hanoi saying he wanted to come home.

He is accused of desertion, collaboration with the enemy, making propaganda statements, and assault on American prisoners. He could be sentenced to life in prison if convicted.

"The first time I saw him (Garwood), he was escorting a couple of prisoners," Anton said during direct examination. "He had a big pack on his back, a pistol belt, and was wearing a plih helmet."

He said a camp officer, identified as Mr. Ho, told the POWs that Garwood was to be spared.

Did ether help kill children?

ATLANTA (UPI) — Two of the 15 Atlanta black children who have been slain or disappeared during the past 16 months may have been subdued by ether or chloroform, officials said Friday.

Both children were found with minor abrasions on their noses and upper lips, injuries which medical officials say often happen when chloroform or ether comes in contact with skin.

In addition, neither body bore any marks of violence, leading to speculation the victims were sedated before they were slain.

In a related matter, the missing persons bureau disclosed Thursday it is investigating the disappearance Monday of Patrick Rogers, 16, but warned officials have not determined whether the black youth's case is related to the 15 being studied by the special task force.

John Feege, assistant medical examiner, said he did not smell ether or chloroform during autopsies on the bodies, but said there was a possibility the boys regained consciousness before dying, breathing away the fumes.

Feege said ether and chloroform of varying strengths can be bought openly in an "alarming number of places" and it would be difficult for police to trace sales.

LA in 2nd day of wildcat strike

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Trash collectors, mechanics and other municipal employees in the nation's third largest city stayed off the job for the second day Friday in their wildcat walkout. Some workers were back on the job.

Civilian employees in the city jail were back at their posts, officials said, and many of the white-collar workers who picketed Thursday returned to their desks.

But many blue-collar employees — especially those who collect the tons of garbage that accumulates daily in Los Angeles — continued to stay home.

About 5,600 employees, roughly 20 percent of the city work force, defied a court order and threats of jail and fines Thursday in the walkout.

City administrative officers were attempting to determine exactly how many workers were out, but the process was complicated because many of the employees work a four-day week, 10 hours a day, and normally take Friday off.

The unions are seeking a 10 percent pay raise retroactive to July 1. Mayor Tom Bradley denounced the strike as illegal and said the city would not budge from its offer of a 9 percent increase retroactive to July 1 or a 10 percent hike that's not retroactive.

MX site may be named in impact study

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — A recommendation on where to site the controversial MX missile system will probably be contained in a draft Environmental Impact Statement to be issued next month, Air Force Col. Bill Sims said Friday.

The basin area of Utah and Nevada is considered the most probable location for the 200-missile system, and the high plains region of eastern New Mexico and west Texas is the only other option under consideration. Another alternative is a spill, putting part of the system in both areas.

Hearings have already been conducted in Utah and Nevada, and a similar hearing is planned in Austin, Texas, next week. The extensive Nevada-Utah hearings probably raised all the issues about the system, Air Force officials said, but the new hearings were scheduled to discuss the system and see if any other issues surface.

Adamson will die in gas chamber

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — John Harvey Adamson, convicted of first-degree murder in the car-bomb death of reporter Don Bolles four years ago, Friday was sentenced to death in the Arizona gas chamber.

His execution date will be set later by the Arizona Supreme Court. He could become the first to die in the Arizona gas chamber since 1961.

In an attempt to avoid the gas chamber, Adamson had offered to tell all he knew about the alleged scheme that led to Bolles' slaying in a Phoenix hotel parking lot on June 2, 1976.

But Superior Court Judge Ben Birdsall said the court found two aggravating circumstances and no mitigating circumstances of sufficient circumstantial evidence to call for leniency.

Birdsall noted that Adamson planted the bomb that killed Bolles for a promised $10,000, and said the crime was committed in "a cruel, heinous and depraved manner."

Defense lawyer Greg Martin indicated Adamson would appeal the sentence.

Bolles, an investigative reporter for the Phoenix newspaper, died 11 days after he was lured to a rendezvous at a central Phoenix hotel and started to drive from the parking lot.

As he lay dying beside the smoldering wreckage of his car he blurted out Adamson's name, "Mafia" and "Empire," a reputedly mob-connected race track operation.

His death led to an investigation of organized crime in Arizona by the Investigative Reporters and Editors Association.

At the pre-sentence hearing, Adamson pleaded for life imprisonment. His voice wavering, he said he underwent "misery, humiliation and personal hell" testifying as a government witness in various trials since the Bolles' killing.

The former dog breeder said testifying against people who were once close associates is "a personal punishment far greater than any court could impose. And there is no immunity from the most powerful emotion of all — regret."

Jury sentences baker to the electric chair

LIVINGSTON, La. (UPI) — A jury Friday sentenced a bakery worker to death in the electric chair in the sex-slaying of an 11-year-old boy.

Prosecutors said George Brooks, 38, of Baton Rouge, who has a ninth-grade education, did not pull the trigger to kill Joseph Owen last year, but said the man did not try to prevent his homosexual lover, James Copeland, 20, of shooting the Baton Rouge youngster.

The defense called no witnesses in the trial and admitted Brooks participated in the grisly murder, but they failed to persuade the jury to return a second-degree instead of first-degree murder conviction.

The men were accused of abducting the young Owen on July 7, 1979, sexually abusing him then taking him into Livingston Parish where he died of two shotgun wounds to the head.

One of three gunmen who hijacked a Belgian school bus

School bus hijacked—students are rescued

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — An ex-shipper and two minors hijacked a bus at gunpoint Friday, kidnapped 18 children and their teacher and drove 100 miles to Brussels, where they were outwitted and overpowered by police.

All of the hostages were safe, police said. The hijackers, who had been demanding radio time to broadcast what police said was an appeal "for social justice" to the nation, were not immediately identified.

But officials said two of them were brothers and minors while the other was a 21-year-old man who called himself Elvis and had a record of shoplifting. Police said they were armed with a dagger and a Winchester rifle with a sawed-off barrel.

The bizarre and terror-filled journey across Belgium began in the eastern town of Vleissalm near Luxembourg where the youths hijacked a bus and forced the driver to proceed to a Catholic high school, where they kidnapped the children.

It ended 10 hours later in the corridors of the Belgian national radio station, where police overpowered the hijackers after tricking them into thinking their demand was about to be met.

Police said the youths rode the bus to the end of the line and then pulled a gun and a knife on driver Alexandre Lejeune after the other passengers had gotten off.

They forced Lejeune to drive to the nearby Sacred Heart high school, where they stopped a group of teenage children and their history teacher and ordered them aboard the bus by firing a warning shot in the air, police said.

From there they drove northwest to Brussels, about 100 miles away, and pulled up outside the headquarters of the national radio and television station, where they demanded air time to broadcast their message, police said.

Heavily-armed police in bullet-proof vests surrounded the area and began negotiating with the youths, who also carried a box that they claimed was filled with explosives.

In the course of the tense talks, the hijackers released one teen-age girl and fired off two shots, although police said no one was hurt.

An agreement was finally reached to allow the youths into the station to broadcast their message. They emerged from the bus with their hostages and walked across the parking lot to the entrance of the station.

Inside, special plainclothes police were waiting for them, braced for a rush attack.

As the youths herded their captives down the hall, several of the plainclothesmen tried to separate the hostages from their captors. The attempt failed and one shot was fired, although no one was hurt, a police spokesman said.

A few minutes later, the police tried again. This time the hostages made a break for safety and dashed into a nearby room. The youths were overpowered and arrested.

Crowned Thursday night Miss World quits

BERLIN (UPI) — Gabriella Brum, the 18-year-old blond beauty who won the Miss World contest, resigned her hours-old title Friday and flew home in a huff to Berlin because of newspaper reports she had posed nude for her 52-year-old boyfriend in the United States.

Kimberly Santos of Guam, the runner-up in Thursday's contest, became the new Miss World automatically. But Miss Santos, a 19-year-old brunette, already was flying to San Francisco aboard a Pan American jet and did not learn the news immediately.

Miss Brum resigned after winning the Miss World title in London late Thursday because she didn't wanted "to go along with the racket surrounding a Miss World and to put up with it for a whole year," her stepfather said earlier.

Miss Brum quit in anger early 14 hours after she was chosen from a field of 68 international beauties vying for the Miss World title at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Contest organizers said the reasons for her resignation were not immediately clear although it appeared that the West German beauty was furious at British newspaper reports that quoted her boyfriend 52-year old Hollywood film producer Bruno Zellenbaum, as saying she once posed "in the nude for him."

Kania and Walesa meet on economy

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Communist Party boss Stanislaw Kania met union leader Lech Walesa for the first time Friday in an unprecedented encounter that underscored the new and rising power of Poland's "independent" labor movement.

Sources within Solidarity, the large labor coalition Walesa heads, said the meeting was at Kania's request.

The sources said the party boss and the 37-year-old electrician discussed a continuing sit-in in Gdansk by health service and educational workers and other labor matters.

"It was a good meeting," Walesa said after the 90-minute encounter. "I was surprised by the sincerity of the first secretary. We both raised our own problems from our own sides," he said.

First word of the meeting came in a brief dispatch by the official news agency PAP, which said Kania "received Lech Walesa in the Central Committee building" to discuss the "socio-economic situation and matters of how the independent unions can contribute to the country's progress."

It was the most significant aspect of the meeting was that it took place at all. Analysis said it showed that the labor movement — and particularly the Solidarity coalition — was being recognized as a powerful and independent force in the only East Bloc nation where workers have won the right to strike and to form independent unions.

The meeting followed a spate of commentaries in the state-controlled press that criticized the Communist Party and hinted at more changes in the Party structure.

At the same time, the question of Poland's critical food shortages — one of the factors that provoked last summer's labor unrest — continued to dominate the headlines.

Food Industry and Purchases Minister Jan Zaleski issued a statement to the official news agency PAP saying Poland has virtually halted all food exports to counteract the growing shortages.

Prime Minister Jozef Pankowski blamed the food shortages on the "extremely poor harvest" this year but said it was also aggravated by "panic buying."

Israeli inflation hits 130%

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Israel grimly announced the biggest monthly jump in its triple digit inflation rate in three years Friday and officials predicted the annual inflation rate would soar beyond 130 percent for 1980.

The latest runaway figures for the Israeli economy showed that prices rose by 11 percent last month alone. It was the biggest monthly jump in three years and meant that prices had more than doubled in the first 10 months of the year.

Salaryed workers responded to the announcement with a demand for immediate compensation.

Treasury officials said inflation has been running at an annual rate of 170 percent over the past few months.

Israeli citizens are protected from raging inflation by an economic system that links everything from savings accounts to insurance policies and salaries to rises in the consumer price index.

Reagan aide says Soviets expectant

MOSCOW (UPI) — A senior foreign policy adviser to Ronald Reagan said Friday the Soviet Union understands the SALT-II treaty will not be ratified in its present form and is looking to the president-elect to break the deadlock in superpower relations.

Brent Scowcroft said three days of talks with Soviet officials convinced him the Kremlin views its U.S. relations as "seriously bad" and would welcome any overtures from the new administration.

Scowcroft was a member of a delegation, headed by former U.N. Ambassador William Scranton, that visited Moscow at the invitation of Soviet foreign affairs specialists.

Scowcroft, who is believed to be Reagan's top choice to become director of the National Security Council, said: "What I'll take back is that they feel U.S.-Soviet relations are seriously bad. But they are prepared to discuss those relations and try to see where we go from here."

The delegation members said they repeatedly made it clear to the Soviets that SALT-II would not be passed in its present form.

But they said there was no indication that the Soviets would be willing to renegotiate the treaty, or abandon it and begin negotiating SALT-III, as Reagan has insisted.

While Scowcroft said he found "no reluctance to begin contacts and start discussions," he added that the Soviets will wait for Reagan to make the first move.

"Since we are the ones refusing to ratify SALT, I believe they presume that therefore they believe it's up to us to make the first gesture."

Scranton told reporters the group told their Soviet hosts that the invasion of Afghanistan last December was the major cause for the deterioration in relations, and also warned that Soviet conduct in Poland would be closely watched.

"The U.S. stressed how devastating was the effect of aggressive Soviet behavior and what a devastating effect this has had on current relations between our countries," Scranton said.

The Soviets, he reported, complained about zigzags in U.S. foreign policy.

"How, they asked us, can meaningful progress be made if the United States changes its line of view every four years or more frequently as has been the case in the past," Scranton said.

Bryant tolerant now of gays

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anita Bryant, whose crusade against homosexuals stirred bitter protests in gay communities across the nation, now says she has changed her mind and believes in "live and let live."

In a candid interview in the December issue of Ladies' Home Journal, the singer and former Florida orange juice publicist said the traumatic events leading up to her divorce hooked her on pills and wine and pushed her to the edge of suicide.

In the interview, the first since she divorced her husband-manager Bob Green, Miss Bryant said of her former fundamentalist viewpoint toward gays, "The answers don't seem so simple now."

"I'm more inclined to say live and let live, but don't try to force it or try to legalize it," she told the Journal. "I guess I can better understand the gays' and the feminists' anger and frustration."

"As for gays, the church needs to be more loving, unconditionally, and willing to listen to these people in human beings, to minister to them and try to understand," she said. "If I had it to do over, I'd do it again, but not in the same way."

"I could see that a lot of people got involved in the crusade who had a personal vendetta about gays," she said. "They harbored hatreds. They were as wrong as the gay extremists were."

In the interview, Miss Bryant describes her struggle in trying to cope with a crumbling marriage as well as hide it from the public.

"Bob was jealous of every man we met," she said. "He'd say things like, 'You just looked at that man and lit up like a Christmas tree.'"

"I was always so embarrassed, I felt like a caged animal, smothered, stymied and I saw that he was miserably, too."

She said in 1976 she kicked a Vallum habit. Two years later she became dependent on sleeping pills and wine, and contemplated suicide.

When asked about her husband's charges that she was unfaithful, Miss Bryant said, "I want to be honest with you. I can't say that I'm totally innocent. I guess when there's a real yold in your life and your marriage has become rotten, you fantasize a lot of things."

She said her church had not addressed itself to women's problems.

"Fundamentalists here head in the sand. The church is sick right now and I have to say I'm even part of that sickness," she said. "Some pastors are so hard-nosed about submission and insensitive to their wives' needs that they don't recognize the frustration — even hatred — within their own households. Some of them are going to be shocked to wind up in my boat."

Col. Sanders hospitalized again

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Col. Harland Sanders, 90-year-old living trademark for Kentucky Fried Chicken, was in critical condition in a hospital Friday with pneumonia.

The colonel, whose double-breasted snow-white suit, white hair, goatee and portly form have made him an internationally known symbol, was admitted to Louisville Jewish Hospital a week ago with kidney and bladder ailments.

"He was responding well to treatment for that condition when he developed pneumonia," KFC spokesman John Cox said.

Earlier this year, Sanders was hospitalized with a rare type of leukemia, which physicians were treating successfully.

He left the hospital near the end of that treatment and returned to his home at Shelbyville, Ky., 30 miles east of Louisville, when he got "hungry for some of my wife's cooking."

Defendant regrets Nazi party role

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — One of the six avowed Klansmen and Nazis willing to die for their people in the shooting deaths of five Communist Workers Party members said Friday he never should have joined the Nazi Party.

Roland Wayne Wood told reporters he joined the Nazis because he believed that was the best way to fight communism.

He and the other five defendants are accused of murdering the five communists during a Nov. 3, 1979 "Death to the Klan" march staged by the CWP. The jury deliberated for the sixth day Friday.

"I still oppose communism and I guess I will the rest of my life," said Wood, who claims he acted in self-defense. "My tactics were wrong."

Wood said he now believes education instead of direct confrontation is the best way to deal with communism. Wood said he is interested in returning to normal life as quickly as possible once the verdict has been reached.

"If my prayers are answered and I'm able to return to my loved ones, I'm going to thank God and no man," he said.

The jury of six men and six women began deliberations Nov. 7.

Jurors begin their deliberations shortly after 9:30 a.m. each day and stop shortly after 5 p.m. when they return home.

Superior Court Judge Donald M. Long has cautioned them against trying to rush their deliberations, saying haste often makes it more difficult to obtain a unanimous verdict.

Tape shows little damage at TMI site

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (UPI) — An edited color videotape shows no significant structural damage to the building housing the Three Mile Island nuclear reactor that was disabled 20 months ago by the nation's worst-ever nuclear accident, officials said Friday.

The production crew took footage of the reactor itself, but did not include it in the six-minute videotape because of insufficient lighting during the shooting, said Gale Hovey, a vice president of plant operator Metropolitan Edison Co.

Hovey, who entered the sealed-off structure as part of a 12-man entry team Thursday, said it might be 1962 before another camera could be inserted into the reactor's broken core to learn its condition.

Met-Ed released the videotape to television stations.

Hovey said the videotape would be used by Met-Ed engineers planning the six-year decontamination of the Three Mile Island facility and for scientists analyzing the most serious commercial nuclear accident in U.S. history.

The videotape showed no indications of major structural damage, but did show telephone and communications wiring that melted under high temperatures during the March 28, 1979 accident.

Hovey said lower-than-expected radiation levels in the containment building suggested the accident was less severe than anticipated. But, he added, further analysis showed 90 percent of the uranium fuel rods inside the reactor were broken in the accident.

Angry women mark rape sites

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Bright red signs proclaiming "A Woman was Raped Here" have been spray-painted at about 150 places around this city of 100,000, home of the University of Michigan.

The signs are the work of about 70 angry women, who said the signs were painted at spots where women reportedly have been sexually assaulted in the past two years.

Prince chases foxes, press chases 'Di'

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, celebrated his 32nd birthday Friday chasing foxes while reporters chased Lady Diana Spencer, the 19-year-old blonde who may become his bride.

Charles left the Royal Family's country estate at Sandringham, 105 miles northeast of London in an automobile pursued by a press car. But police pulled up the press car while the prince drove on to join Leicestershire's Quorn foxhunts.

"Prince Charles is spending a purely private day," said a Buckingham Palace spokesman. "He has no public engagements today and none over the weekend."

Friday was also the 7th wedding anniversary of Princess Anne and Capt. Mark Phillips and it was thought Charles might visit his sister's Gloucestershire estate.

While speculation mounted that he was about to announce his engagement to Lady Diana — who friends said spent the night away from her London apartment — Britain's most eligible bachelor toured a farm Thursday with reporters and photographers noting his every comment.

"There's nothing like spending the day before your birthday surrounded by muck," the Prince of Wales said, eyes twinkling, as he surveyed techniques for converting animal manure to methane gas.

Other Fleet Street reporters and photographers spent the day following Lady Diana through Harrods, the department store.

Diana — described by one tabloid as "fresh, friendly and unsophisticated, well-bred, well-spoken and well liked" — was as unforthcoming about her plans as Charles.

Lady Diana is a member of an ancient English family that became linked with the Marlborough family, ancestors of Churchill, in the 16th century when Anne, daughter of the first duke of Marlborough, married Charles Spencer.

A spokesman for DeBrett's Peerage said this made Lady Diana a sixth cousin once removed of the late Sir Winston Churchill.

Although well-informed sources cautioned the excitement was premature, the British press seemed certain that the next King of England would use a private party Friday night at his $2.4 million country home to renounce his busy, bachelor schedule for marriage.

Wounded police dog to be given medal

AGAWAM, Mass. (UPI) — Rags, a police dog seriously wounded while saving his master's life, will be given the police department's Medal of Honor at a Saturday ceremony expected to draw police and their dogs from around the state.

Rags, a 4-year-old German Shepherd, suffered spinal injuries when he was gunned down Nov. 3 while protecting Police Officer Norman Nardi from two black men who shot at the patrolman in darkened parking lot, then escaped away in a station wagon.

Police said Nardi remained unharmed because of the dog's quick response which distracted the assailants whose gunfire shattered the windshield of Nardi's cruiser before hitting Rags as he leapt from the vehicle to attack the gunmen.

Almost $5,000 in contributions has poured in from around the country for a reward to be used for information leading to the conviction of the two suspects, Police Officer James Lucardi said Friday.

Since the accident, hundreds of get-well cards, letters and poems have come to Rowley Memorial Hospital in Springfield where Rags is recuperating on a water bed donated by a local store. Officials are unsure if the dog will be permanently paralyzed.

One family sent Rags a St. Lazarus religious medal, explaining in a Snoopy card that St. Lazarus is the patron saint of dogs. Another gave the dog a food basket containing dog bones.

Police Chief Stanley Chmielewski has said even if Rags doesn't recover completely, he will still be an important member of the police force.

"We're not going to let the dog be put away. We'll try to rehabilitate him," Chmielewski said earlier this week. "He'll be our mascot forever."

Next time, know who the owner was

CHICAGO (UPI) — On Sunday's Frank DiNunzio's house is a busy place.

At times, as many as two dozen men pull into the driveway for an afternoon of fun.

But DiNunzio, 27, said Friday he just tells them to get lost — they're trespassing on private property now.

Before DiNunzio and his wife, Pate, rented their ranch style home just outside Chicago last January. But what they didn't know at the time, was the house had been the local brother.

DiNunzio said friends have suggested he just put up a sign reading, "No longer a whore house."

"Touch people in My Name."

"In the night of January 28, 1976, I witnessed the miraculous healing of a good friend while praying for him in his hospital room. Later, God spoke to my heart, telling me to step out in faith and touch people in His name... and that it would be His touching them, not mine."

Since that night I've seen God heal spiritually, physically and emotionally sick people time and time again. I've seen prayers answered and lives changed.

All of us have needs that can only be met by God. And I believe that God wants to meet those needs.

Come and let me pray for you — believing and expecting God to touch your life.

What's what

All that extra power and they had trouble

Houdini was the escape artist, Blackstone the magician, and Dunnington the mindreader. Just read an account, purportedly true, that he had dinner together in New York City once. And afterwards outside, Dunnington found he'd mistook his car key and didn't remember where. Blackstone couldn't figure out how to get the car open. And Houdini tried but failed to pick the lock. This tale is a bit flat, but I repeat, claim it is really happened. Maybe so.

"Bi-monthly" has got to be the most exasperating word in English, what? Means occurring every two months. Also means occurring twice a month. You just don't know which.

Am told there's no hard fact in any history book that proves the old story that Abe Lincoln had a love affair with Ann Rutledge.

WHO SAID IT?

Q. Wasn't it Winston Churchill who said, "If it's not broken, don't fix it?"
A. Pretty close. What Churchill said was: "When you've got a thing where you want it, it's a good thing to leave it where it is." But who did say, "It's not broken, don't fix it?"

Q. If a child appears to use both hands equally well, how can you tell whether that youngster is right-handed or left-handed?
A. Give that small one a big piece of paper and a couple of pencils to draw simultaneous circles with both hands. The hand that draws the most orderly circle shows where the real preference is.

Q. How people actually die of Black Widow spider bites?
A. One out of every 25 so bitten dies. The Black Widow is indeed the most venomous of all spiders.

SHOE SHINE

You'd think the men started shining their shoes centuries ago simply to keep them clean. But that's not quite right. Spanish gentlemen on horseback initiated the shiny shoe. As a sign of rank, the shoe-shine indicated the man rode above the dust where lesser men walked. If the military were to stick to tradition, the cavalry would shine, but the infantry would grease.

The otrich is ideally put together to survive sandstorms. The abrasive sand swirls close to the ground. It blasts at their legs, but rarely as high as their heads. Some scientists who study such matters contend there's a reason for the death of every species, and for the survival.

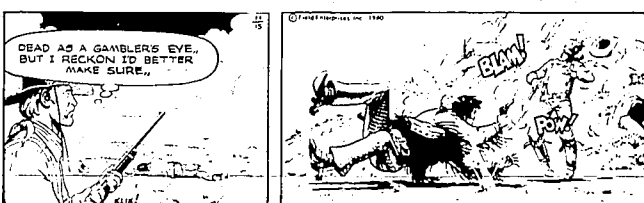

How many words can you come up with—like bitter-sweet—that cancel themselves out?

City wants to return airport zone to county

By MARTY TRILLHAASE
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS—Twin Falls city and county officials plan to alter the city's area of impact, thereby bringing the airport zone back into the county's jurisdiction.

Officials plan to also redefine the boundaries of the area of impact for the cities of Kimberly and Twin Falls in order to eliminate a half-mile-wide gap between the two cities.

The changes will require a series of public hearings before the city and county planning and zoning boards, the county commissioners and the Twin Falls City Council, said Ed Woods, county zoning administrator.

When the area of impact was finalized last year, land extending two miles from the airport approach path was included in the city's area of impact. The zone, required by the Federal Aviation Administration, was placed under city jurisdiction because officials believed the city engineering department was better equipped to administer compliance with FAA regulations. The action sparked some controversy since residents of that area said they did not want to be included under the city's zoning jurisdiction.

Officials said they have since found the county can administer the area as it does most of the land surrounding the airport, adding the present situation has proved difficult to administer.

"Apparently, it's just too awkward to have that part of it cut out of the airport zone," Woods said. "We haven't had any cases yet, but we can see . . . that it would be very awkward to have some of it in the city jurisdiction and the county doing the rest of it."

One complication stems from the fact that while land under the county zoning jurisdiction can not be divided beyond a 20-acre limitation, land under the city's zoning can be divided into parcels as small as one acre.

Community Development Director Lamar Orton said. Officials also plan to change the area of impact boundaries, moving them up to the section line. The original boundaries were set back one-quarter mile from the section line, resulting in a half-mile gap between Kimberly and Twin Falls which was administered by the county zoning administration.

The changes will require revisions in the city's comprehensive land use plan and zoning ordinance, Orton said. Since state law provides the plan can be amended in six-month intervals, city officials are also planning to amend the plan to allow professional office buildings along Fillmore Street, north of Caswell Avenue and Falls Avenue. This change would allow the use of the Harbor House as an office building, a proposal presently blocked by the plan.

Proposed changes in the zoning ordinance include allowing businessmen and developers to provide required improvements over a period of time, and establishing zones for single-family, one-acre divisions; single-family, 8,000-square-foot divisions and small neighborhood businesses.

Sewer rates irk manager

FILER—Twin Falls County Fairboard Chairman Raymond Johnson questioned the proposed new sewer rates in Filer this week, saying the fee fell from $85 to $44 a month for the fairgrounds was a little steep.

Johnson attended the Wednesday night meeting of the Filer City Council that included the second reading of an ordinance covering a proposed new sewer fee schedule.

Johnson said he is at a loss to understand the basis for the fairgrounds charge. Rates are proposed at about 70 percent more than present fees in order to cover local funding for the long-planned sewage treatment facility improvement.

Council members explained the fairgrounds is estimated by the city to be equal to about 20 homes. Residential properties will be paying $7.25 if the sewer fee ordinance is adopted. On the basis of 20 homes this would be $145 each month for the fairgrounds. Residents now pay $4.25 per month.

Johnson said two years ago the fairgrounds paid $25 and it was then increased to $35.

He also explained that except for the five-day fair, and probably about 20 to 25 other days of the year, the fairgrounds have only two full-time residents and a couple of employees on the grounds.

The new rate schedule increases schools from $12.75 per month to $21.75 per month. During nine months of the year there are some 300 students at the high school five days a week and about the same number of grade schoolers in the elementary building.

Johnson pointed out the taxpayers are obligated to pay the fairgrounds costs as well as the school's expenses.

Council members agreed to reassess the situation to see if an adjustment should be made.

Filer Police Chief James Trenham proposed a city "garage sale" for Dec. 13 at the Filer city shop east of City Hall. He said there are items in the police department that are no longer being used and he is checking with other city departments for similar surpluses.

He suggested the sale of police department items be used to help him obtain new uniforms for officers.

Trenham said Thursday sale proceeds would probably go into the city general fund and then be allocated back to the departments that contributed the surplus items.

Overland Elementary School Principal Sherryl Kniep, back, watches an unidentified driver run a red light as students wait to cross the intersection

Scene of recent accidents

Petition calls for traffic light near Burley school

By LINDA CATES
Times-News correspondent

BURLEY—A traffic light at a Burley intersection where two children have been injured in recent weeks is the subject of a petition circulated by a local elementary school principal.

Sherryl Kniep, principal of Overland Elementary School, has more than 400 signatures on a petition seeking a new crossing light at the Eighth Street and Overland intersection adjacent to the school.

Kniep would also like to have the speed limit lowered. However, she has not included this request in the petition because she received word from the state Department of Transportation's district highway office in Shoshone in September. It assures her the limit would be lowered from 35 to 25 miles per hour.

That assurance has not been met, though, because a highway office speed check in early October resulted in a recommendation to keep the 35 mph limit.

"It would create more of a traffic problem," said District Highway Engineer Howard Johnson. "The bulk of the traffic is traveling in groups. If some slowed down, a bigger traffic hazard would result."

Kniep had the petitions already under way when a student was injured there on Oct. 21. Shelly Papp, 8, received minor injuries when she was hit by a car while in the crossing.

Thursday, another student was injured at the same crossing. David Woodall, 11, was released Friday from Cassia-Memorial Hospital after treatment for a broken left leg.

"Do they have to wait until someone gets killed to do something?" asked Larry Woodall, father of the injured boy, who favors an overhead walkway across the intersection.

Burley city engineer Leon Bedke is not in favor of the walkway. He said the problem can be solved without an expensive overwalk. Bedke said there are plans under way for new lights in the Burley downtown district which include replacing the light at Overland and Eighth streets. The new light, he said, could be equipped with a push button control for pedestrians. However, it may be a year before this plan is implemented, Bedke said.

Kniep and several other concerned citizens will attend Monday night's City Council meeting to voice several requests. They will ask for a reduced speed limit, a new light with a push button for crossing control and a crossing guard on duty before and after school.

Kniep asked unsuccessfully for a crossing guard last March. She says she feels the insurance liability problem has stopped progress on the guard issue.

State highway officials from the Shoshone district office will also attend the council meeting. Any changes in the crossing must come from the district, City Clerk Bud Brinegar said.

The city police have been helpful in evaluating the problem and recommending possible solutions, Kniep said. They worked with her last fall in an effort to find a solution.

Friday, a Times-News photographer witnessed the problem first-hand while photographing the intersection in question, when a motorist drove through the red light without stopping.

Sun Valley will support airport

SUN VALLEY—The Sun Valley City Council voted unanimously Thursday to contribute $46,000 to help expand the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

Tourist traffic to and from the Sun Valley area has been hampered recently by difficult and unreliable transportation connections. Lengthening the runway is part of the work taking place.

The Federal Aviation Administration will pay 90 percent of the total project cost, the Idaho Department of Transportation 5 percent and local government the balance.

When Twin Falls officials had trouble coming up with their share, Sun Valley officials were approached. The operators of gambling casinos at Jackpot, Nev., also were approached.

Under the plan approved Thursday, both Sun Valley Co. and Elkhorn Associates Ltd. will contribute an additional $7,000 each to bring the total amount to $60,000. Sun Valley Mayor Richard Heckman also is part owner in the Elkhorn complex. Some local residents feel such a situation may represent a conflict of interest.

Other concerns expressed at the Thursday meeting include the fact that an expanded Twin Falls airport may benefit only those connected directly with the tourism industry, although Sun Valley taxpayers will be contributing. Also, the remainder of the resort area, including Ketchum, will benefit from the project, but did not contribute.

In response, Ketchum Mayor Jerry

Seiffert stated his city does not have the budget surplus enjoyed by Sun Valley.

The Sun Valley-Ketchum Chamber Resort Association will poll its members Monday. Should the group approve the measure, voluntary contributions will be sought.

In return for its monetary aid, the Sun Valley City Council will get two of six seats on the airport administration board. Also, the airport's name will be changed to the Twin Falls-Sun Valley Regional Airport-Joelin Field. Republic Airlines, which recently purchased Hughes Air West, has announced plans to market the Twin Falls-Sun Valley ski connections heavily to Midwest and West Coast winter sports enthusiasts.

Castleford cancels breakfast at school

CASTLEFORD—Castleford students will have to eat breakfast at home or do without, the school board has decided.

As a trial program began at the recent lunch supervisor, breakfasts have been offered at school for about three months. The school board voted this week not to continue the program. Superintendent Ed Schenk reported.

When they did not discuss it before the vote, board members were probably concerned the schools were taking on too many obligations that belong to parents, Schenk said. "From previous conversations, that seemed to be the general consensus," he said.

Up to 55 students a day had been eating a minimum breakfast at school under the trial program, for which the state makes reimbursement. Financially, the school district ended the 1979-80 year with a general fund balance of about $28,000, Schenk said.

The accounting firm of Evans and Condie presented its annual audit to the board, which concluded the district's financial condition and operations were sound.

Schenk said the large fund balance was a carryover from previous years and unexpended funds. It did not reflect certain outstanding projects and will probably be mostly eaten up this year by rising expenses, he said.

On another subject, Schenk said the board directed an effort be made to hold junior high school activities after school to avoid losing class time. Basketball games, for example, would be at 3 p.m. whenever possible instead of earlier in the day.

In the valley

Dam bonds going quickly

TWIN FALLS—Bonds paying for replacement of American Falls Dam nearly were sold out Thursday after they went on sale.

The $21.1 million raised by the sale of the bonds will be used to pay back loans used to finance the rebuilding of the dam. The money was needed in addition to the $18 million federal reimbursement given to the spaceholders in the dam who arranged the project.

Ed Smith of Ed Smith and Associates in Twin Falls, a distributing agent for the bonds, said by Friday only about $20,000 worth of bonds remained to be sold. He said some major financial institutions bought the bonds, which pay 11 percent interest and have maturity dates ranging from 1982 to 2021. The interest is tax-free to Idaho residents, Smith said.

Jail escape short-lived

TWIN FALLS—A Kimberly man made a short bid for freedom about midnight Thursday when he leaped through a window in the county courthouse shortly after being booked.

Sheriff James Munn said Rick Dean Harmon, 28, was arrested by Kimberly city police and was brought to the courthouse for booking. The man needed medical attention and was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for treatment and returned.

As deputies were preparing to place him in a holding cell in the sheriff's office fingerprint room, Munn said, he leaped through a Venetian blind-covered window and to the ground outside, shattering the glass as he went. Munn said Harmon didn't receive a scratch from his escape attempt.

Maybe it was the cold night air or too many police in the area, but a few minutes later Harmon walked back into the sheriff's office, ready to face justice, officers said. County deputies and Twin Falls city police had converged on the courthouse area to pursue the escapee.

Phone, booth both stolen

TWIN FALLS—Twin Falls police were wondering Friday who would need a telephone booth and pay telephone.

Raymond McGraw of Mountain Bell told officers that someone during the past two weeks thieved, when a hack saw, had cut off a steel pole, taking only the top three feet, along with a telephone booth and the attached pay telephone.

Police said the booth was removed from in front of the gymnasium at the Twin Falls High School. Value of the equipment was valued at $2,650 by Mountain Bell officials.

Fund-raising fraud in Rupert

RUPERT—Rupert police are cautioning Minidoka County residents about a fraudulent fund-raising scheme in the name of the Minico High School Drama Club.

Police said some teenagers have been soliciting donations funds from residents, when in fact the club is not raising funds at this time.

Officers ask any residents solicited to report the incident to them immediately.

Guerra receives sentence

TWIN FALLS—A tearful Lisa Guerra, 19, of Twin Falls, was sentenced Friday morning to six months in jail to 10 years on each of four counts of delivery of cocaine.

Judge Phillip Becker retained jurisdiction in her case for 120 days, which allows him to consider her sentence again if she has completed a satisfactory 120-day sentence at the state detention center at Cottonwood. She was to be taken immediately to Boise to be turned over to the state Board of Corrections.

Guerra was convicted last month in a week-long jury trial on four counts of selling cocaine to a state narcotics agent last August. She has been in custody in Twin Falls city jail since her arrest Aug. 26.

Tyler Street Baptist offers finance seminar

TWIN FALLS — Doug Anderson of Chicago is conducting a personal two-session finance seminar at Tyler Street Baptist Church this week. The second seminar will conclude today from 9 a.m. to noon.

The seminar will consider three areas of individual - offered finances: an understanding of the nation's economy, with an explanation of the inflationary-recessionary cycles, and how money operates in an economy; a biblical understanding of how God views money; and practical guidelines for establishing family budgets, becoming free from debts, and establishing short-range and long-term goals.

Mr. Anderson serves in the Home Missions Department of the Baptist General Conference. He has established their Capital Funds program, drawing upon years of experience in the business world.

An open invitation is extended to all to attend. The cost of the materials for each couple is $10.

NEW YORK — Despite late profit taking, the Dow Jones Industrial average climbed to its highest level in nearly four years Friday.

It advanced in an attack on the magical 1,000 level during the third business session in Wall Street history. The 71,630,000 shares traded on the New York Stock Exchange eclipsed the 69,940,000 shares traded Thursday to become the third largest turnover in the exchange's 109-year history as the so-called Reagan rally continued.

The Dow Jones managed to gain 3.93 points to 986.35, the highest level since it finished at 986.87 on Jan. 10, 1977. It gained 53.93 points for the week. The largest weekly gain was 73.61 points the period ended Oct. 11, 1974.

The Dow had been up more than 9 points to around 992 before gains taken cashed in on their gains. The attempt at the 1,000 level came eight years after the Dow crossed the 1,000 level for the first time, finishing at 1,005.10 on Nov. 14, 1972.

Observers said the market surged this week behind Ronald Reagan's victory over President Carter because Wall Street believes the Republican will increase defense spending and call for tax incentives for business to boost production.

Also there is widespread belief that interest rates are about to peak even though the Federal Reserve late in the day raised the discount rate it charges member banks for loans to 12 percent from 11 percent. The move had been expected.

The Dow transportation average rose 3.38 to a record 391.96. The New York Stock Exchange index gained 0.38 to 78.96 and the price of a share increased 19 cents. Advances topped declines 874-694 among the 1,944 issues traded at 4 p.m. EST.

Composite volume of NYSE issues listed on all U.S. exchanges and over the counter totaled 80,809,860 shares, up from the 75,316,200 traded Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange index rose 4.04 points to 352.21 and the price of a share increased 23 cents. The National Association of Securities Dealers' NASDAQ index of OTC issues gained 1.51 to 201.76, an all-time high.

Energy issues showed some strength amid speculation that the Reagan administration may try to deregulate natural gas prices.

At 4 p.m., Texasco was the most active NYSE-listed issue, up 1/4 to 44 1/2 in trading that included a block of 100,000 shares at 44%. Texasco has large natural gas reserves. So does Superior, which gained 7/11.

LTV, which has been in the spotlight all week as a defense issue that is likely to benefit from Reagan's policies, was the second most active NYSE-listed issue, up 1/4 to 18 1/2 in trading that included a block of 400,000 shares at 18 1/2.

IBM, which has attracted attention since it introduced a new large computer on Wednesday, was the third most active issue, up 3/4 to 71 1/2. Diamond Shamrock (ex-dividend) was fourth, up 1/4 to 35 1/2 in trading that included a block of 685,000 shares at 35 1/2.

Mobil Corp. gained 1/4 to 79 1/2. Analysts were mildly encouraged over the company's report of drilling in the Hibernia field offshore Newfoundland.

American Broadcasting Co. surrendered 1/4 to 31 1/2 after a block of 700,000 shares at 31 1/2. Pennney shed 3/4 to 22 1/2 in trading that included a block of 500,000 shares at 22. Norton Simon jumped 1/4 to 17 1/2 after a block of 220,000 shares at 17 1/2.

On the Amex, advances topped declines, 359-314, among the 855 issues traded at 4 p.m. Volume at that time totaled 10,700,000 shares, compared with 10,610,000 traded Thursday.

Gulf Oil of Canada was the most active Amex issue, up 3/4 to 18 1/2. Houston Oil & Minerals (ex-dividend) followed, up 1/4 to 45 1/2. Amtdahl was third, up 2 1/2 to 34.

Abscam mistrial requested

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. John Murphy's attorney requested a mistrial Friday because a key prosecution witness passed a cup of water to the jury foreman during proceedings at Murphy's Abscam bribery trial.

The motion came at the end of the first week of the trial of Murphy and Rep. Frank Thompson in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn.

Just after the jury was excused by Judge George Pratt, Murphy's attorney Michael Tigar, stood up and made the motion for mistrial. Pratt said he would make a ruling on the mistrial request on Monday and said he may have to discharge two jurors involved in the incident.

Murphy's wife Kathleen, was hastily sworn in as a witness and described observing FBI Agent Anthony Amoroso passing a cup of water to the jury foreman, Anne Mullen. Mrs. Murphy called the incident to Tigar's attention.

Pratt called the "gesture" by Amoroso "inappropriate."

Mrs. Murphy said an "exchange" between Amoroso and Mrs. Mullen resulted in the agent pouring a cup of water and passing it to her. She passed it to the second juror, Robert Prout, Mrs. Murphy said.

"I spent the entire day trying to undermine this witness in the eyes of the jury," Tigar told Pratt. "It bears directly on the system I was trying to serve all day."

The defense established that Amoroso did not hand over the $50,000 payoff to Thompson as the agent had done with two other congressmen tied to Abscam — Rep. Michael Myers of Philadelphia, who has been convicted, and Rep. Raymond Lederer of Philadelphia, who is awaiting trial.

Amoroso said on a videotape that "it will give Mr. Thompson the briefcase," which contained the money. As it happened, Thompson later picked up the briefcase and handed it to Criden.

The defense tried to show that Thompson was unaware the briefcase contained the money. The defense said the agents were angry after a first meeting with Thompson and Criden because Thompson had expressed no interest in the money.

The lawyers pointed to a videotaped conversation between Criden and Amoroso in which Criden suggested that Thompson be told at a subsequent meeting that the briefcase contained only documents.

"Did you ever mention the sum of $50,000 to my client?" Amoroso was asked.

Amoroso said he did not.

Copter search scours 'Triangle'

MIAMI (UPI) — Coast Guard, Air Force and Navy aircraft and at least a half dozen private planes scoured the Florida Straits Friday for a helicopter which disappeared two days ago with three network news TV technicians and a pilot aboard.

The search extended through the Bermuda Triangle, from the Florida Keys to Andros Island in the Bahamas and northward to Melbourne, Fla. Coast Guard spokesman Greg Robinson said 14,000 square miles of the Gulf Stream were under scrutiny.

A surface search by the 210-foot Coast Guard cutter Vigoroso, also continued. The cutter began its search soon after the helicopter was reported missing Wednesday night.

Aboard the missing Bell-Ranger helicopter were NBC cameraman Randy Fairbairn, 31, Dan Cefalo, 33, a freelance TV sound man employed by NBC, Joseph Dalisera, 52, an ABC video technician, and pilot George Snow, 45, of Boca Raton, Fla.

Fed hikes discount rate to 12%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board Friday raised the fee it charges on loans to member banks from 11 percent to 12 percent and announced a 2 percent surcharge for large institutions that borrow often.

In a brief announcement, the board said it will increase the discount rate by a full point "in view of the current level of short-term market interest rates and the recent rapid growth in the monetary aggregates and bank credit."

The new rate becomes effective Monday.

The board said the surcharge above the basic discount rate will apply to borrowing at the so-called discount window for institutions with deposits of $500 million or more.

It will be charged when the banks borrow in two or more successive weeks in a calendar quarter or when borrowing takes place in more than four weeks of a calendar quarter.

By raising the discount rate, the Federal Reserve is signaling its intention to follow a tough anti-inflation policy.

West Side tops Kimberly to gain A-3 finals

By MARV CLEMONS
Times-News sports editor

POCATELLO — A pair of headaches ended the bid of the Kimberly Bulldogs to gain the finals of the state A-3 football playoffs Friday night.

The first was a physical headache that took junior quarterback Rocky Eller out of the game under doctor's orders. The other was a 165-pound speedster named David Todd who romped for 132 yards in pacing West Side's Pirates to a 39-0 decision.

West Side thus moves into the state finals next week against the winners of Saturday's meeting between Homedale and Prairie. The Pirates, with an enrollment of 125 students, making them the smallest A-3 school in the state, carry a 10-0 record into that one and enhanced their playoff statistics to two games to 81 points for, zero against.

The Pirates, converting two David Koller interceptions into touchdowns and capping the effort with a 49-yard gallop by Troy Reid, piled up a 30-0 halftime advantage and Kimberly was never able to recover.

But it was midway through the first quarter that Coach Gordon Hogan realized how desperate the Bulldog situation had become.

Eller informed the coach he had a splitting headache. But the information the junior signal-caller had been having them every day in practice bowled the coach over. At halftime, a doctor looked Eller over and recommended he not play again.

Afterward Eller noted "I got hit pretty good against Fruitland and every day this week I've been getting headaches about halfway through practice...but they'd go away five minutes after practice."

The youngster, pepped-up-for-the-playoffs, didn't tell the coaching staff, thinking it would be okay the next day or the next day.

It sounded like an echo when Hogan and assistant George Arrossa heard of the daily headaches. "We had no idea he'd been having them," both said.

That left sophomore Kevin Holcomb to leap into the breach. The youngster, who plays line defensively, had participated in few plays all year and, of course, hadn't worked at the offensive position all week. "It was a tough place for Kevin to break in," Hogan noted.

It was a bruising game with seven Bulldogs ending the night with injuries.

The Pirates boomed to a touchdown on their first possession, moving 68 yards in six plays before Todd swept in from the 20. After a punt exchange, Kimberly fumbled a drive away at the West Side 33. The Pirates then moved to the Kimberly 29 when Dave Overacre thwarted that drive with an interception — but only momentarily.

Three plays later Koller picked off a pass and romped 62 yards into paydirt on the last play of the first quarter.

It was a replay — nearly — seven plays after the kickoff when Koller picked off another Kimberly pass and appeared headed for another touchdown. The Bulldogs dragged him down at the 29 but West Side still made it pay off.

The touchdown came on a 17-yard strike from Paul Smart to Todd. Then with 1:29 left in the half, Reid opened the coup de'grace with his 49-yard scamper.

In the second half, West Side added a safety when an errant pitchout into the end zone resulted in CSI Young having to eat it there. With just over a minute left in the game, Benny Turnbow capped the final Pirate drive with a two-yard burst.

With the game disintegrating on the field and the sideline, Kimberly did come up with a stout effort, holding West Side out of the end zone after a first and goal at the four. Rich Crothers, Dave Pullin, Pat Ferrell and Mike Morales made the final defensive stop at the four on fourth down.

"They did that for pride if nothing else. It showed them what Kimberly had done all year," Arrossa said.

From his view in the crowd's nest high above the field, Arrossa fingered West Side's superior speed as a major problem.

"We were getting the same size hole we normally were getting in the past two years," he said. "But instead of getting 15-20 yards on these we were getting three because their line and linebackers were so quick at closing the hole."

West Side Coach Craig Gladwell noted "obviously the outside run was the big play for us early and it opened up the inside. It was a good first half for us. I'm disappointed in the second half and I think the kids felt that way too. But we're proud to shut out a team like this. Our defensive has been tremendous all year."

Gladwell said football brings out the best in Todd. "We have other people in the school faster than him in track but he carries the pads much better," adding the youngster has been clocking a 4.8 in the 40-yard dash in pads.

Minico's fastbreak beats Buhl 54-34

BUHL — The Minico girls cranked up their fast break in the first quarter Friday night and rolled to a 54-34 decision over the Buhl Indians.

Minico's break seemed to unsettle the Buhl girls and the problem became greater for the Indians when Kerry Easton, one of their top rebounders, ran into early foul trouble and had to go to the bench. Without Easton, Minico controlled the boards even more and the Spartan outlet passes stoked the fast break.

By the end of the first quarter the Spartans had piled up an 18-6 lead.

Minico pushed its margin to 15 points at halftime.

In the third quarter Buhl seemed intent on making a game of it, coming up with their best effort and scoring 14 points.

But the Spartans were a picture of consistency, hitting 12 points in each of the final three quarters.

Buhl's point-production sagged to five points in the fourth period as Minico moved to its final margin.

Minico showed good scoring balance, although Karl Easton and Lori Despain got into double figures with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

Trish Hudson paced the Indians and all scorers with 18, most of them from the outside.

Girls basketball Boise' second half rally overcomes Twin Falls 41-36

BOISE — The Twin Falls girls watched a six-point halftime lead dwindle away in the second half as the Boise Braves fought back to record a 41-36 win Friday night.

The Bruins, in their season opening game, could only manage 12 second half points and allowed 22 defensively in the losing effort. The Braves, who defeated Emmett earlier in the week, picked up their second win of the young season.

The game took on a football look rather than one of a basketball game. "The change in the game was so sudden, in the first half we were playing fairly well. Well enough to hold on to a small lead anyway," Anderson said. "But in the second half, it was awful. We just couldn't get the ball into the basket. Nobody was able to do anything with great skill on either side of the court for us."

Both teams are still a little anxious for the season and things just got out of hand. Both teams just played a rough, physical ball game.

Senior Kelly Krahn poured in a game high 17 points on seven field goals and Shelby hit for nine points to lead the Bruins. Jill Kesting led the Braves with 15.

After taking a 12-8 first-quarter lead, Twin Falls stretched it out to six points before the intermission. However the Bruins came out of the locker room as an entirely different team.

Shoshone belts Richfield 47-25

RICHFIELD — Jana "Carroway" poured in a game-high 17 points Friday night as the Shoshone Indians spoiled Richfield's 1980 season debut, 47-25.

It was the second win in as many starts for Shoshone.

Hagerman tips Wendell 28-25

HAGERMAN — Sherri Millican scored 15 points and the Hagerman Pirates ruined the basketball debut of the Wendell girls and Coach Jack Lancaster 28-25 Friday night.

Milligan dominated the game inside for the Pirates and helped Hagerman into a six-point lead going into the final period. She fouled out in the final period and Wendell quickly closed the gap.

"We didn't mind seeing the clock run out," Coach Tim Ross said afterward.

Speed, depth build CSI girls' cage outlook

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News sports writer

TWIN FALLS — Increased team quickness and depth are two of the reasons CSI girls basketball Coach Lloyd Hardesty believes the 1980-81 corps can secure the regional tournament berth for the home court.

And he isn't overlooking the fact that this team has the best scoring potential of any he's ever had.

Every place Hardesty looks he sees pluses — even the schedule which he describes as easily the toughest in the Magic Valley girls have ever undertaken.

"I think we're getting closer to my goal all the time — although I'm getting a little older, too, and that may catch up with me — but it still my goal to win nationals with a nationally-ranked Magic Valley girls," the coach said.

"At our first team meeting I told them I expect the regionals to be here because I don't want to travel," he said. "This is a tremendous bunch of girls. We started with 29 girls coming out and they cut themselves to 19. After that I had to make the decisions and I'll tell you it was one of the toughest things I ever had to do. It really hurt me to see those last six go because in other years they would have made the team in a breeze. I originally had planned to keep just 12 but after making the first five decisions, I just couldn't find anything to really separate the last two. So we're carrying 13."

"The most improvement we're showing is in team speed and depth," he said. "That's basically in the guard line but overall the team is quicker. For instance Jill (Dixon of Valley) at 5-9 is by far the fastest inside player we've ever had here."

"And I've really been impressed and amazed by the maturity our sophomores have shown. I've been under the impression that girls mature at an earlier age than boys but this bunch of sophomores just is much more mature, showing more confidence and playing a lot better," he said.

"In the past I've felt that a large number of the incoming freshmen have shown a fundamental level comparable to boys in the eighth, maybe ninth grade. The freshman class this year shows a fundamental level a year to a year and a half better. I think it's very indicative that high school coaching is being steadily upgraded and the high school coaches are learning you can demand and expect more from the girls. They aren't powderpuffs. They can and will work and they can and will learn the game," Hardesty said.

Concerning outside shooting, Hardesty noted "With the exception of Michelle (Durkin) we didn't have any consistent outside punch last year at all. This year we have four or five girls who can shoot."

"That's going to open our game up considerably from last year when about 75 per cent of our scoring came inside," Hardesty then added with a wide grin "and we've still got that inside punch with Nikki (MacRae), Cheryl (Crothers) and Penny (Brown)."

"If there is a problem area it is in height. MacRae, at 5-10, is the team's tallest."

"I'm sure we'll play a lot of teams taller than us but going against those six-footers didn't bother us last year and we ended up out-rebounding most of them...with hustle and position," the coach said.

"And we think that while the schedule is longer and tougher than ever before, it will better prepare us to reach and win regionals," he continued.

"For instance, we're playing Utah State twice. Utah State doesn't have a jayvee program so we'll be going against a lot of the same girls who had Utah State ranked fourth or fifth nationally among NCAA teams last year. It's probably not feasible for us to believe we should win both games. But the key is to play them respectfully. If we can do that, we'll learn a lot and the games will pay off later in the season," he said.

The roster is a close split with six sophomores and seven freshmen. The difference is most of the height is found in the sophomore class.

MacRae, a Minico product, returns with leading scorer and rebounder credentials from last year. Another Heyburnite, Penny Brown, who cracked the starting lineup after the season had started, is 5-8 and Crothers, Kimberly, is 5-7.

Laurie Larsen, 5-6, and Michelle Durkin, 5-2, Betty Mont, duo, are considered guards although Larsen has played a lot of wing. Lori Garrison, 5-7 from Jerome, also is considered a swing player.

Dixon, top gun of Valley's team the past year, is the tallest freshman at 5-9 and Karen Harr, Twin Falls' leading scorer a year ago, is listed as a forward at 5-6.

Shoshone contributes its four-year star guard Barbara Bertrichoa, 5-4, and Karen Magoffin, 5-7 forward. Melissa Barter, 5-6 forward from Butte, gives CSI its first brother-sister basketball combination. Brother Chris played for the Golden Eagles three years ago.

Tammy Jarolimiek, 5-3 who cracked the Piner variety starting lineup as a sophomore at tournament time, and Lori Hart, 5-4, who joins former Butte teammates Larsen and Durkin, round out the roster.

Coach Hardesty notes with the depth and quickness available, he will increase his demands for more full-court defensive pressure and predicts a season of wholesale substituting.

"The fight for gaining and hosting regionals will wage among North Idaho, Flamingo, Kootenai, Riggins, Trethew Valley and CSI. They will meet Home-Home for the first time this season with the two best records advancing to regionals. The eastern division's best record will host regionals and that is Coach Hardesty's first goal.

The CSI girls' schedule includes:

Nov. 20-Madras State at CSI, 6 p.m.; CSI at Utah State, 7 p.m.

Dec. 21-Nath State at CSI, 6 p.m.; CSI at Mountain Home, AFJ, 1 p.m.; CSI at Boise State, 8:15 p.m.; 19-Big Bend at CSI, 6:30 p.m.

Jan. CSI at Idaho State, 7 p.m.; CSI at Eastern Utah, 3 p.m.; CSI at Snow, 6 p.m.

12-Mountain Home AFJ at CSI, 6 p.m.; CSI at College of Idaho, 4:30 p.m.; 14-Idaho State at CSI, 7 p.m.; 10-CSI at Idaho State, 9:30 p.m.; 22-Flowers CSI at CSI, 8 a.m.; 21-Snow at CSI, 3 p.m.; and 21-North Idaho at CSI, 6 p.m.

Feb. 3-CSI at Treasure Valley, 5:15 p.m.; 11-Flowers CSI at CSI, 8 a.m.; 21-Snow at CSI, 3 p.m.; 19-Eastern Utah at CSI, 6 p.m.; 21-TVOZ at CSI, 6 p.m.; 23-College of Idaho at CSI, 4 p.m.; 17-CSI at Pocatello, 7:30 p.m. and 22-CSI at North Idaho, 3:30 p.m.

Lack of quality teams cuts bowl speculation

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

This is one year the coaches of the nation's better college football teams aren't really doing much fretting about being invited to participate in a post-season bowl game.

There are 30 bowl spots open and, with second-ranked Southern California and 18th-ranked UCLA on Pacific-10 probation and ineligible for post-season competition, there appears to be a shortage of quality clubs to fill them.

Naturally, there are some bowls that have more prestige than others but an invitation to any bowl is considered a reward for a well done season so there is talk they will be worth winning, if any, about being left out of the post-season parade.

Bowl invitations are to be extended after Saturday's games, but none of the top 20 — with the exception of Southern California and UCLA — will be left out. Of course, not all the bowls will be filled Saturday but the better clubs at least know they'll be going somewhere.

A more important goal for several of the top ranked clubs is the race for No. 1, Georgia (9-0), the only unbeaten team among Division 1A clubs, currently holds the top spot but the Bulldogs are being seriously challenged by Southern California (7-0-1), Nebraska (8-1), Florida State (9-1), Alabama (8-1), Ohio State (8-1) and Notre Dame (7-0-1).

Georgia, which narrowly escaped defeat against Florida last Saturday, faces another tough rival Saturday in Southeastern Conference foe Auburn. The Tigers are only 5-4 but they have a lot of good personnel and figure to give the Bulldogs a tough game.

Georgia has plenty at stake, however. Not only will the Bulldogs hold on to their No. 1 rating, but they can lock up a bid to the Sugar Bowl as the host team if they defeat the Tigers.

"The percentages favor Auburn beating us," said Georgia Coach Vince Dooley. "They have great talent combined with a disappointing season and that makes them the most dangerous kind of team for us upsets."

Foremost in the minds of the Southern California team is the national championship. Since the Trojans can't go to a bowl, they are concentrating their efforts on securing the national title. But, their toughest opposition will come in their last three games — against Washington, Notre Dame and UCLA.

Washington can clinch the Pac-10 title and a berth in the Rose Bowl if it beats the Trojans.

Perhaps the most crucial game on Saturday's schedule, in terms of the national rankings, is the Notre Dame-Alabama clash at Birmingham, Ala. Seventh-ranked Notre Dame has never lost to fifth-ranked Alabama in three career meetings but Irish Coach Dan Devine believes this game will be a hard-hitting affair.

"This one has all the earmarks of a great football game," said Devine. "We're aware that people in Alabama have been looking forward to this game for a long time. And I don't feel that our tie at Georgia Tech or Alabama's loss to Mississippi Tech will take a thing away from it. If anything, it will make both teams come out with even more intensity."

In other games involving the top 10 teams, No. 3 Nebraska meets Iowa State, No. 6 Ohio State faces Iowa, No. 8 Pittsburgh visits Army, No. 9 Penn State takes on Temple and No. 10 Baylor meets Rice. Florida State, ranked No. 4, is idle and closes out its season on Dec. 6 against Florida.

Curly Culp era ends

Davis wanted for this job

HOUSTON (UPI) — In Charley Davis, the Houston Oilers acquired a defensive lineman who has youth, speed, a low salary and peace of mind for the first time in years.

Davis, who was signed in the wake of the Oilers' sudden release of Curly Culp, claimed Friday he played under a succession of five one-year contracts with the St. Louis Cardinals so that he would be more easily traded, preferably to the Houston Oilers.

"I hope there's no animosity because I replaced Curly," he said. "He was one of the first guys to call and congratulate me. Curly is a class act, but I am a class act too. I was all-conference, all-America, and I have a Super Bowl ring."

Davis, 28, is six years younger than Culp. He has more speed than Culp and is expected by Oilers coaches to rush passers better.

Davis will back up the three defensive line positions Sunday when the Oilers play the Chicago Bears in Chicago. He said he was in shape despite having not practiced with a team since Buffalo cut him this summer.

"Most likely I'll play some nickel in passing situations, some short yardage," he said.

The Oilers awaited word whether 11-year veteran Culp would be claimed by an NFL team. If he is, that team will pick up Culp's contract. The departure of Culp ends an Oilers era. He was one of Coach Bum Phillips' first acquisitions in Phillips' first year as Oilers' defensive coordinator in 1974. Before his arrival the Oilers had a 3-1 record; after they are 27-35.

Culp said he asked Phillips to trade him after he was demoted early this season to second-string.

"I guess they treated me as fairly as they could," Culp said.

played on the Pittsburgh Steelers 1974 Super Bowl title team and then was traded to St. Louis.

"I led the team in tackles for down linemen every year I was at St. Louis. But all the time I was there, I wanted to go somewhere else," he said.

He played the two defensive tackle spots in 1975 and 1976, and noseguard in 1977 and 1978. A knee injury sidelined him in 1979.

Davis is a native of Wortham, Texas. He bought a Houston townhouse in 1977 and said he began thinking about playing for the Oilers.

"When I signed yesterday, I went home, threw back my NFL Lazy-Boy recliner, closed my eyes and just wanted to go to sleep. I thought I was in heaven," he said.

Davis said he does not know why the Cardinals released him after the 1979 season. The Buffalo Bills cut him this summer because "they were looking for young guys. There wasn't a spot for me on that team," he said.

Astros aren't sitting still

HOUSTON (UPI) — It's obvious by their six free agent draft choices, the Houston Astros are willing to take a flyer.

For instance, only if the National League approves the designated hitter would no-field Rusty Staub be of help to the Astros. But they drafted him anyway.

The only way Staub would add anything to the club is if he has fully kicked his alcohol problem, and the Astros apparently are willing to take a chance that he has.

Also, the Astros must feel left-handed starting pitcher Billy Travers, 28, is just now coming into his own, or how else could a 65-68 lifetime pitcher be expected to start a rotation?

Don Sutton, 35, must not be over the hill if the Astros and the nine other teams that drafted him, think he can help them.

The Astros must believe also that catcher Dave Roberts has all-around defensive skills to overshadow his 240 lifetime batting average.

$13 million contract from his former club, the San Diego Padres.

Astros General Manager Al Rosen seemed to have a cautious air regarding the negotiations for Winfield.

"We're not going to do it at the expense of our franchise," he said. "We will exercise good judgment. We're not going to give away the franchise to sign a player."

Rosen said he is banking on Porter, the Kansas City Royals catcher, hitting like he did in 1979. This year he missed the first part of the season recovering from a drinking problem, and when he returned he hit .241.

"He's fully recovered," Rosen said. "We think going to spring training with a fresh slate he has a good chance to return to the production he had two years ago."

Rosen said "absolutely" when asked if the Astros would pursue Sutton, a right-handed pitcher who would be joining a team packed with good right-handed starters.

Drafting Staub, a 300-hit designated hitter for the Texas Rangers last season, seemed inconsistent with Astros management's position on the designated hitter. McCullen opposed it in league meetings last year.

Teams have until Feb. 15 to sign the players drafted before that player becomes available to other teams.

Celtics bury Nets 126-102

BOSTON (UPI) — Larry Bird and Robert Parish combined for 15 points to key a fourth quarter surge Friday night and led the Boston Celtics to an easy 126-102 victory over the New York Nets.

The Celtics held an 83-77 lead entering the final period but ran off a 20-8 spurt over the first six minutes to move to a commanding 103-85 advantage.

Parish, who finished with 22 points and seven assists, started the quarter with a jumper from the corner and then capped an early 10-4 spree with a driving slam dunk to give Boston a 93-81 lead at 8:35 to play.

Parish, who had six of his 18 points in the fourth quarter, then threw in a lefthanded scoop shot and, 90 seconds later, Bird capped the rally with a pair of free throws.

Rookie guard Louie Moore led a late third-quarter rally to bring the Nets to within 81-77, but that was close as New York's last shot.

Boston had five other players in double figures — Cedric Maxwell added 17, Chris Ford 15, Nate Archibald 13, Kevin McHale 12 and Gerald Henderson 10.

Moore led New Jersey with 17 while Mike O'Keefe tallied 15, and Mike Gminski and Cliff Robinson each had 12. Mike Newlin, averaging 20.8 points per game, was held to eight points.

The Celtics are now 10-5 while New Jersey dropped to 7-10.

Pistons 106, Bulls 99

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — Kent Benson scored 29 points to lead six players in double figures Friday night and paced the Detroit Pistons to a 106-99 victory over the Chicago Bulls.

In addition to leading the Pistons' attack, Benson's defensive dominance inside, held 7-foot-2 Chicago center Artis Gilmore scoreless with a single shot in the first half and just six points overall.

The Pistons overcame a one-point deficit after three quarters, hitting 72 percent in the final period to post their fourth victory against 14 defeats.

Ron Lee scored 15 points in leading the Pistons' fourth game, while Terry Tyler and Phil Hubbard each added 17 points for Detroit.

Reggie Theus led the Bulls with 23 points while Larry Kenon added 22 for Chicago.

Bucks 125, Knicks 106

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Sidney Moncrief came off the bench to score a career-high 27 points and Marques Johnson scored 20 Friday night to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to their third consecutive victory, 125-106 over the New York Knicks.

New York had won four in a row, including three on the road.

Milwaukee held an 83-76 lead with 2:50 left in the third quarter, then outscored the Knicks 11-2 — including four points each by Moncrief and Brian Winters — to take a 94-78 lead going into the final period.

Mickey Johnson added 22 points for the Bucks, while Winters had 17 and Bob Lanier 15. Bill Cartwright led New York with 27 points and Mike Woodson had 25.

Milwaukee's Pat Cummings suffered a sprained right ankle in the first quarter and was taken to a hospital for precautionary X-rays.

New York played without Campy Russell and Michael Ray Richardson, both of whom were injured.

Dallas 113, Blazers 106

DALLAS (UPI) — Bill Robinson, Tom LaGarde, Terry Duero and Geoff Huie each scored 19 points to stake Dallas to a 16-point lead and the Mavericks held on Friday night for a 113-106 win over the Portland Trail Blazers.

It was only the third win of the year for Dallas, which broke a 10-game losing streak. Portland, meanwhile, has lost all seven of its road games this year and has an 11-game road losing streak dating back to last season.

Seven straight points, five by LaGarde, allowed Dallas to take an 80-66 lead in the third quarter.

Jazz 117, Rockets 115

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Ron Boone hit three foul shots in the final 20 seconds and Adrian Dantley had a game-high 49 points and grabbed 11 rebounds Friday night to lead Utah Jazz to a 117-115 win over the Houston Rockets.

Houston held its biggest lead of the game, 102-94, with eight minutes remaining. But Utah then outscored the Rockets 27-12 in the final 10 minutes and stayed ahead to the final buzzer.

Dantley scored 12 of his points in the final period, while Allan Bristow grabbed 10 of his 12 rebounds during the same 12 minutes. Ben Poquette and rookie Darrell Griffith each scored 16 points for Utah — Billy McKinney 15, Boone 12 and Bristow 10.

Moses Malone led Houston with 34 points and 11 rebounds. Robert Reid added 29 points and the Rockets' Calvin Murphy had 19. The Jazz hit 20-of-21 free throw attempts to stay with Houston throughout the game.

Utah is now 12-4 on the season, just one game behind Midwest Division leader San Antonio. Houston remains in third place behind the Jazz with a 6-8 record.

Pacers 118, Bullets 108

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Mike Bullis scored 22 points and Billy Knight and George Johnson scored 20 points each Friday night to power the Indiana Pacers to a 118-108 victory over the Washington Bullets.

Indiana had a 14-point lead midway through the third period, but the Bullets came back to tie the score at 82-82 at the end of the quarter. Indiana regained the lead early in the fourth quarter and kept it the rest of the way.

The Bullets padded their lead to 108-95 in the final quarter after Benton scored on a rebound layup.

Elvin Hayes led the Bullets with 25 points, followed by rookie Wes Matthews with 24.

Oregon St., Northwestern down to last chances

By STEVE HARVEY
© 1980, Universal Press Syndicate

THE COLLEGES
And then there were two: Oregon State (0-8) and Northwestern (0-10). Like victims in an Agatha Christie mystery, winless teams kept falling prey to victory.

The latest to go was TCU (1-8), leaving only the meager Beavers and the Midwinters with self-inflicted shots at the Bottom Ten title.

Of course, Northwestern still must fall to clear one last hurdle Saturday: weakening Wisconsin (2-7).

Oregon State, meanwhile, has mismatches remaining against Oregon, Arizona and UCLA. The latter game is in Tokyo, where the Bruins are expected to take up permanent residence as a consequence of their disappointing finish.

In Berkeley, the uniform of Panther defensive end Hugh Green was retired at halftime Saturday. He played the last two quarters in a T-shirt.

THE RANKINGS

10	Wisconsin (2-7)	2-7

consecutive missed conversions (five, by Stanford and USC), complaints to officials about crowd noise (seven), by Michigan and Wisconsin.

MILESTONE: The Bird Watchers Support Group in Iowa's Kinnick Stadium points out that the Hawkeyes (3-6) have clinched their 19th non-winning season.

It has become such an embarrassment to root for the New Orleans — now known as the Aints — that a local firm is fan named Roger LeCompte is selling paper bags that can be worn over the head to hide one's identity.

Even when the Aints (0-10) took an early 7-0 lead over Philadelphia Sunday, no one was fooled.

All three major networks had projected an Eagle victory within seconds after the opening kickoff. And the Aints conceded defeat early in the third quarter, eventually losing in a landslide 21-34.

Rumors persist that the team will be disbanded next year when Portland State is a 105-0 winner over Delta State joins the NFL.

Rank	Team	Record
1	San Francisco (10-1)	10-1
2	San Francisco (9-1)	9-1
3	Washington (8-1)	8-1
4	Michigan (7-1)	7-1

6. N.J. Giants (2-8), 7. St. Louis (3-7), 8. Toe between the Bays (Green and Tampa) (both 4-5-1), 10. Seattle at home (0-5 in the Kingdom).

CRIMINAL GAME OF THE WEEK: N.J. Giants vs. Green Bay.

FEELING THE PRESSURE?: A few days after Dallas Coach Tom Landry presented Ronald Reagan one of Roger Staubach's old No. 12 jerseys, Cowboy quarterback Danny White had five interceptions against the Giants.

Briefly in sports

DU banquets raise $54,000

TWIN FALLS — The five Magic Valley Ducks Unlimited banquets that complete their run Thursday night, added about $54,000 to the conservation effort.

Twin Falls and Burley held their banquets Thursday night with Twin Falls grossing $17,000 and Burley $13,470. Earlier banquets in Ketchum, Buhl and Jerome had combined for about $24,000.

Steve Antone Jr., of Rupert evidently was the top bidder for the DU special edition shotgun, paying $2,160 at the Burley banquet. Ron Vaneck, a Burley area artist, topped the wildlife painting list, his work selling for more than $500.

Twin Falls sportsman Jay Graybill said the overall goal of duck hunters had been attained with the $54,000 figure, at least $20,000 more than ever was raised in Magic Valley. For a few years, the only banquet was held in Twin Falls.

Graybill noted Twin Falls' attendance was down to about 240 and the funds raised dropped from $21,600 to $17,000 but was more than picked up in the Buhl and Jerome banquets.

Burley chairman Mike Robertson was "extremely pleased" with the results of the Mini-Cassia event. "We will be sending four to five thousand dollars more to DU this year than last year. We had 146 and that's more than you should be able to cram into the Elks here," he smiled.

Hostshot contest slated today

TWIN FALLS — Local competition for the Pepsi-Cola/NEA hostshot basketball skills competition will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m. today at Burley Stuart Junior High School gymnasium.

Terry Miller, city recreation supervisor, said competition is open to boys and girls in 9-12, 13-15 and 16-18 age brackets. Miller said to assure the amateur standing of participants, those members of high school varsity basketball teams will not be eligible.

Local winners advance through seven levels of competition, culminating in national finals.

Gun club sets turkey shoot

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Gun Club will conduct a turkey shoot at 11 a.m. Sunday at the club grounds, located on Washington Street North at the canyon.

Spokesman Ron Pope emphasized that novice shooters will not be required to compete against AFA veterans for prizes.

Prizes again will be beef, poultry or pork.

Bluebonnet Bowl wants Texas

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bluebonnet Bowl President Tex Thornton says he will personally offer the Texas Longhorns an invitation to the New Year's Eve game if they beat TCU Saturday.

If Texas loses, he said, the Longhorns won't be invited. "I don't think Texas will go anywhere if they lose to TCU," said Thornton, echoing what Texas Head Coach Fred Akers has said.

Thornton said he has Baylor and Texas A&M to play after the TCU game in Fort Worth.

Although Thornton said "we do not have Texas locked in," other sources said they do. Thornton is the Bluebonnet's primary emissary, and he extends the invitations.

Reportedly, North Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference is the other team the Bluebonnet Bowl will invite.

Site of title match moved

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Boxing promoter Don Georgino says the planned World Boxing Council featherweight title bout between Salvador Sanchez and Juan La Porte has been moved from Tucson to El Paso, Texas.

Georgino, of Five Star Productions, said the fight will be held at El Paso County Coliseum Dec. 13 because the Tucson Community Center is unavailable that day. It will be televised nationally on ABC-TV.

This will be the fourth time Sanchez has defended his WBC crown. He won the title in the 128-pound class last February at Phoenix. La Porte is seventh-ranked among featherweights.

Jets may use Walker

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — Wide receiver Wesley Walker, a former All-Pro who has been injured most of this season, could be available to the New York Jets for limited duty against the Denver Broncos Sunday.

Walker is eligible to come off the injured reserve list this week and the Jets opened up a possible roster spot for him Friday by waiving free agent defensive back Saladin Martin.

Gem State Conference finals

Bruins placed second on team effort

Statistics indicate why the Skyline Grizzlies won the first Gem State Conference football championship ever offered but didn't place the Twin Falls Bruins in an all-one runner-up position.

Skyline, 5-1, rated at the top in both team offense and defense rushing categories and wound up second in overall total offense. The passing statistics verified that Mahlon Rasmussen was the coach of the Grizzlies. Rasmussen has long shunned the pass as an offensive weapon and this year wound up with the fewest passing yards in the league.

Twin Falls, 4-2, threw the ball even less than Skyline (57-62) but thanks to a couple of long screen plays and one bomb, finished with 102 more yards. The Bruins were second in team rushing defense and fourth in rushing offense.

Ironically, the best total defensive team was Highland which wound up with a 3-3 mark, seconded by Skyline with Twin Falls third. In total team offense, Bonnevill (5-3) was the leader, followed by Skyline with Twin Falls in fifth position.

In another indication that Twin Falls finished second totally on team effort is the Bruins had only two people in the top four in any individual statistics.

Rick Tegan wound up second in punt returns while Greg Scherer was second in kickoff length.

Quarterback Gary Krumm ranked fifth in passing and 10th in rushing. He also was sixth in punting and seventh in scoring.

Senior running back Bob McMillen was ninth in rushing with 318 yards and seventh in scoring with 30 points.

Junior Larry Hurt was eighth in rushing with 389 yards.

Minico Junior quarterback Darel Tracy topped the conference in total passing yards with 858, also threw the most (164) and completed the second most (63). He ranked fourth, tied with Krumm, in TD passes with four but had a more dubious lead with 12 interceptions.

The Spartans had no one in the top 10 rushers although Daren Moon, Bill Schow and Dennis Chugg were in the top 10 among receivers.

Devine won't shift position

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Notre Dame football coach Dan Devine Friday labeled as ridiculous reports that he will delay his retirement for at least another year.

Notre Dame officials also denied the report, published Friday in the Chicago Tribune, that Devine and university officials had met Tuesday night to talk about him continuing his coaching career.

The Tribune, in a copyrighted story by sport columnist David Israel, said Devine's change of heart would be announced at a news conference Saturday after the Alabama game at Legion Field.

More Valley Corner Systems every year, because it's the least costly investment per acre.

It's going to be harder to make farming pay off. It's going to be harder for a lot of reasons.

If anything makes sense, it's to maximize the potential from the land you farm. That's why 1 out of every 10 center pivots sold is a Corner System. And going up all the time.

Nineteen out of every 20 Corner Systems sold is a Valley. We know more about Corner Systems than anybody. We have the Corner System with the proven reliability and water distribution. Before you buy any center pivot, be sure you talk to us.

Valley dominates the field.

CONTEST RULES

- 24 football games are placed in the ads on these pages. Pick the winner of each game (not the score) and write the team name opposite the advertiser's name on the entry blank. The entrant picking the most correct winner's each week will be awarded $35.00. Pick a number which you think will be the most number of points scored by both teams in any one of the weeks games listed and write your answer in the space provided on the entry blank. This will be used to break ties. In the event of a further tie the money will be equally divided between the winning entrants.
- Only one entry per week per person. The contest is open to all except employees of the Times-News and their immediate families.
- Contest entrants are eligible to win only once. Superbowl contest (which will be in January) entrants are eligible regardless of previous participation.
- Entries must be in the Times-News office not later than 5:00 P.M. next Friday or post marked no later than Friday P.M. Address entries to Pick The Winner, P.O. Box 548, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301. (Reasonable Facsimiles also accepted.)

hereby authorized and directed to execute any and all documents and do any and all things deemed necessary in order to effect the issuance and sale of the Bonds, and the execution and delivery of the indenture, and to carry out the intent and purposes of this resolution.

Section 18. This resolution shall be published one time in the Times-News, a newspaper of general circulation published in Twin Falls, Idaho, within the District. For a period of thirty (30) days from the date of such publication, any person in interest may file suit in any court of competent jurisdiction to contest the regularity, formality or legality of any proceeding authorizing the Bonds and the provisions of the Bonds to be issued pursuant hereto, and the provisions securing the Bonds. After the expiration of such thirty (30) day period, no one shall have authority to contest the validity of the Bonds, such proceedings, this resolution, or the validity of the pledges and covenants made in such proceedings, resolution and Bonds and the provisions of their payment shall be conclusively deemed to be legal, and no court thereafter shall have authority to inquire into such matters.
