PUC invites utilities to raise rates

By HAL BERNTON
Times-News writer

BOISE — A state Supreme Court decision has curbed sharply the authority of the Idaho Public Utilities Commission to set electric rates and may result in a 14.8 percent rate increase for the Idaho Power Co.

Idaho Power provides electricity for a majority of Magic Valley residents.

PUC President Conley Ward made the announcement at a Friday morning press conference.

Ward said the PUC would authorize all of the state's private electric utilities to file for higher rates as soon as the court's ruling becomes effective, Jan. 3.

And Idaho Power customers could feel the bite of the rate increase as early as February, Ward said.

The effect also would be felt in northern Idaho, where some 52,000 Washington Water Power customers may experience a 7.2 percent rate increase, and in southeastern Idaho, where Utah Power and Light customers could expect a 15.9 percent rate increase, Ward said.

However it is still unclear if — and when — the utilities will file for the full rate increases that Ward has announced the PUC will be forced to approve.

Washington Water Power already has requested a 60 percent rate increase, which now appears sure to be approved by the commission. But spokesmen for Idaho Power and Utah Power and Light told reporters on Friday that they had not decided yet whether to apply for the full rate hikes.

Ward said that it will take legislative action to overturn the state Supreme Court decision and force a rollback of the expected rate hikes. And Gov. John Evans will support such action in the upcoming legislative session, an aide said Friday night.

Ward told reporters that the court decision, announced Wednesday, may force the dramatic rate hikes because it grants Utah Power and Light the right to charge its Idaho customers for the costs involved in building an uncompleted coal-firing power plant.

Ward believes the court decision gives utilities sweeping authority to finance the construction of new plants — such as the ill-fated Washington Public Power Supply System's nuclear plant No. 3 — with customers' money. He says the court decision also will allow utilities to finance speculative land purchases and even uranium mines with customers' funds.

Traditionally, Idaho Power and other utilities have relied on the bond markets and other financial institutions to loan them the money they need to construct new facilities. Once the facilities are operating, the PUC then decides how much of the construction costs can be recouped through rate hikes.

But Ward says that Wednesday's court decision strips the PUC of this review power.

"The ruling severely limits the commission's ability for the foreseeable future; it effectively takes us out of the rate-making business," he said.

Ward says the court order cannot be ap-

Leaders: Law can be changed to curb rate growth

BOISE — Gov. John Evans will urge legislators to pass a bill that would nullify a court decision allowing utilities to charge their customers for unfinished projects, a governor's aide said Friday.

"The Legislature is free to change the state law, and the governor feels that is exactly what the Legislature should do," said Pat Costello, a lawyer who works in the governor's office.

Rep. Ward Chaburn, R-Abbot, says he, too, will support legislation to overturn Wednesday's Idaho Supreme Court ruling, and he predicts that if the Legislature does not act, the customers probably will — through a referendum in the next election.

"I think we have to do something," he said Friday. "If we don't do anything, then the ratepayers would probably put in some sort of voter initiative, but that would be further down the line — and the damage would be done."

Chaburn says the Legislature could overturn the court decision by passing a bill that would forbid the Idaho Public Utilities Commission from approving rate increases for costs incurred by utilities on unfinished projects.

Sen. Laird Noh, R-Kimberly, says he thinks the court decision could have serious repercussions on customers, but he says he needs more time to study the issue before deciding if legislative action is warranted.

Chaburn says legislation dealing with the issue could be introduced in the House State Affairs Committee or possibly the House Resources and Conservation Committee. Chaburn serves as a ranking member of both committees.

If a bill overturning the court decision is approved by the Legislature and signed by the governor, then the PUC could roll back any rate increases triggered by the decision, PUC President Conley Ward said Friday.

And for the homeowner...

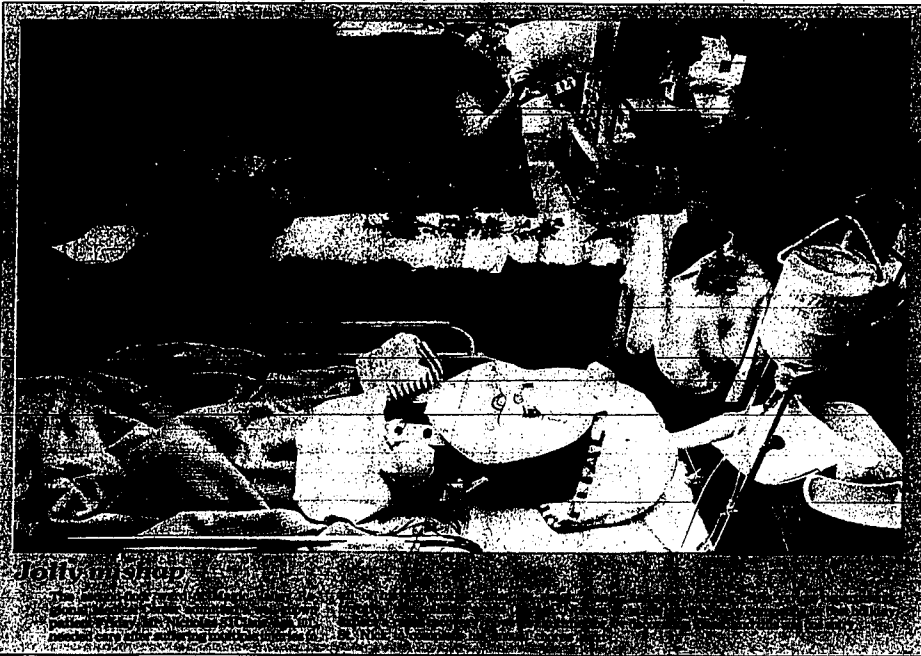

BOISE — The cost of using Idaho Power electricity could jump from $45.75 to about $77 a month for the average homeowner — if the company decides to accept the state Public Utilities Commission's offer of a 14.8 percent rate increase.

For those homeowners who use electric heat, average monthly costs could jump from about $22 to about $34, according to statistics derived from state PUC data.

Farmers who use electric pumps to help irrigate their lands also would have to absorb the 14.8 percent rate increase.

The last time Idaho Power asked for a rate increase was in August 1982, according to company spokesman Larry Taylor. At that time, the PUC passed a 15.3 percent increase, which would have increased corporate revenues by $13.3 million annually, Taylor said Friday.

EPA enforcer irate at dump

BOISE — A top-level Environmental Protection Agency official, known for his role as a "whistle-blower," said Friday he has begun reviewing Idaho's hazardous waste problems because it appears government regulators are not acting aggressively.

"I'm trying to find out what the hell is going on," said Hugh Kaufman, an assistant in EPA's hazardous waste program headquarters at Washington, D.C. "It sounds like a disaster, and no one's really moving on it."

"I'm going to check on the regional office (in Seattle), and find out what's going on. Something doesn't sound right about the whole situation."

Kaufman, who started EPA's hazardous waste program in 1974, won national attention when he testified against former assistant Administrator Rita Lavelle, who has been convicted of perjury.

He said a letter he received recently

Solidarity rallies crushed by police

By WALTER WISNIEWSKI

WARSAW, Poland — Police firing water cannon and swinging clubs fought thousands of demonstrators shouting "Solidarity" Friday in the streets of Wroclaw at a rally to mourn protesters killed under martial law two years ago.

In the Baltic port of Gdansk, Lech Walesa abandoned plans to give a speech critical of the Polish government under pressure of a massive display of force by authorities to intimidate the Solidarity underground.

Police also prevented other protests by the bank and trade union in Warsaw and Nov. 16 with crushing shows of strength.

Witnesses in Wroclaw said street fighting ranged through the town center for more than an hour, with demonstrators shouting "Solidarity, Solidarity!" in the faces of many hundreds of riot police.

"Down with the food rations," the crowd yelled, referring to Polish

Quadruplegic wants to die Judge says woman will live

By CATHERINE GEWERTZ
United Press International

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — A judge Friday denied a quadriplegic's request to starve herself with the assistance of a hospital staff, saying it was the doctors' duty to force-feed the woman to save her from suicide.

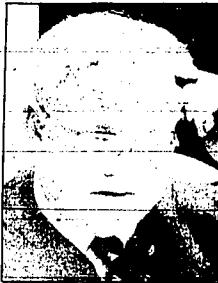

In rejecting Elizabeth Bouvia's request for an injunction to prevent force-feeding, Superior Court Judge John Hews ruled her right to choose whether to live or die was superseded by the interests of the state and society.

"Our society values life," he explained. "The plaintiff is not terminal and her life will be saved by this decision."

"Force-feeding, however invasive, should be permitted. There is no other option. Saving her life is paramount."

Bouvia, 26, filed a complaint in October seeking an injunction to prevent force-feeding so she could die rather than live as a severely disabled cerebral palsy victim requiring constant care. She asked the medical staff to give her painkillers and provide hygienic care.

"She has a right to end her life,"

JUDGE JOHN HEWS
Denying Bouvia's death wish

Hews said, "but not with the assistance of society."

The judge said he hoped Mrs. Bouvia "will realize there is hope in life" and said that if she regains her determination to succeed in life "she could become a symbol" for other handicapped people.

Mrs. Bouvia was informed of the judge's decision in a telephone call to the hospital from her attorney, who said she cried after hearing the news.

The woman, who is confined to a wheelchair and has slight control of one arm, testified during the eight-day hearing that she would try to starve herself and would resist efforts to force-feed her if the court rejected her request.

ACLU attorney Richard Scott said he would appeal the decision, and said he believed Mrs. Bouvia would cooperate with the order in the meantime.

Hews' order was stayed until Jan. 3, to allow time for appeal, meaning the hospital cannot discharge her and must respect her right to privacy, but could force-feed her in an emergency.

Mrs. Bouvia, who entered the psychiatric ward at Riverside General Hospital in September, has been maintaining her weight at 95 pounds on a liquid protein diet.

ACLU attorneys representing Mrs. Bouvia said the key issue in the case was the patient's right to privacy, which they claimed included the right to refuse medical care and chose to die. Riverside County officials argued there was no individual right to compel others to assist in a suicide.

Business inflation tumbling

By DENIS G. GULINO
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Lower fuel and food costs pulled down wholesale prices 0.2 percent in November, virtually assuring that 1983 will be the lowest full year of business inflation in two decades, the Labor Department reported Friday.

Food prices dropped a full 1 percent, helped particularly by sharp turnarounds in fruits and vegetables no longer in scarce supply because of summer drought damage.

Report spurs stocks upwards — D1

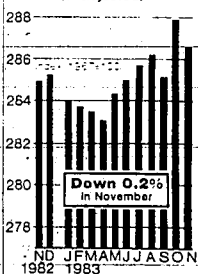

Gasoline and fuel oil went down even more in the latest report with natural gas showing only a slight increase.

"There's a gasoline glut out there," Georgia State University economist Donald Ratajczak said. "Mild weather was a factor."

Especially significant for business was the fact the report showed no change at all for prices of capital

Producer Price Index

For Finished Goods (unadjusted)

The downturn in prices forced analysts to rethink their 1984 inflation outlook, de-emphasizing various threats to price stability that have failed to show up as expected.

"Inflation is going to be lower than expected in 1984," economist Jerry Jasnowski said Friday, speaking for the National Association of Manufacturers.

"The slowing of the recovery, soft oil markets, improving productivity and modest wage costs, the overvalued dollar and the priority businessmen are putting on maintaining market shares are all factors," he said.

"It's back to the drawing boards," economist Ratajczak said. "The dollar has remained strong, which means foreign competition remains very intense."

In a separate report, Federal Reserve System economists said U.S. factories operated at 79.4 percent of capacity in November, the most since August 1981.

The strength of the economic recovery has long been expected to drive up prices, but aside from upward movements in raw materials, from scrap aluminum to cattle hides, the increased demand has not increased prices.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — A black engineer who says he spent 14 months in a Texas prison because he was a victim of racism returned Friday to a back-splashing welcome from friends and family but conceded "it's not over yet."

Lenell Geter, who worked for E-Systems Inc. in Dallas before being sent to jail in October 1982 for armed robbery, left Texas on a flight to Denmark, S.C., Friday where he planned to spend Christmas with his family.

Upon arrival in Columbia, he said his faith in God helped him through 14 months in a Texas prison and he was concerned with rescheduling a wedding interrupted by his incarceration.

"There was some time when I was depressed, but to really feel that way that way to die my faith," Geter said after arriving at Columbia Metropolitan Airport. "I had to eliminate those thoughts in order to survive my environment."

Geter, who was sentenced to life in prison for a 1965 robbery by his friends and co-workers say he could not have committed, spent his time in jail fighting a judicial system he claims is racist.

He was freed on $10,000 bond Wednesday pending a new trial and the next day, a Texas judge waived any travel restrictions, making the homecoming to South Carolina possible.

Nuke bomb explodes in desert

YUCCA FLATS, Nev. (UPI) — A nuclear device with a 20 to 150-kilo yield, code named "Romano," was exploded underground at the Nuclear Test Site Friday morning, the Department of Energy announced.

The blast, which occurred at 11:30 a.m. MST, was delayed for more than two hours because of weather, a department spokesman said.

The detonation was 1,900 feet below the surface of the Nevada desert, 85 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

It was the 18th announced nuclear detonation this year and the 61st announced underground nuclear test since 1961.

Computer smugglers arrested

LUEBECK, West Germany (UPI) — West German police have arrested three suspects in a plot to smuggle U.S.-built computers that can be used for military purposes to the Soviet Union, officials said Friday.

A spokesman for Prosecutor Joachim Boettcher in Luebeck, a Baltic port, refused to identify the suspects or say if they had been charged.

But he said that sweeps by detectives at addresses in Hamburg, Lower Saxony and Schleswig-Holstein this week recovered further evidence, apparently documents, in the case.

Police fire missing executive

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Police stormed a wooded area Friday and freed a British businessman kidnapped 23 days ago by Irish terrorists, authorities said. An officer and a soldier were killed in a wild chase and gun battle that ensued.

Another policeman and a soldier were injured in the rescue, but hostage Don Tiddy, a supermarket executive seized Nov. 24 at his luxury home — was freed "in fine shape," a police spokesman said.

Two men were arrested, one of them injured, a police spokesman in Dublin said. Eight or more were still at large.

Police believed the Irish Republican Army responsible for the kidnapping and gunfire.

Russians fired after blunder

MOSCOW (UPI) — Several top officials in the republic of Byelorussia were fired because of "weak leadership and mistakes" in the sentencing of five innocent people for a pair of murders, a Soviet newspaper says.

The Central Committee of Byelorussia announced the firings this week on the front page of the Communist Party paper, Sovetskaya Byelorussiya.

Nikolai Silyukov, the minister of internal affairs, and his deputy were among a number of officials "released from their posts" because of "weak leadership and mistakes" in the incident, the committee said.

The dismissals came three weeks after the national newspaper Izvestia reported the errors at length and criticized Byelorussian officials for "carelessness" and "indifference to people's fate."

Izvestia said Nov. 26 that two local inspectors were murdered in July 1981 and their bodies thrown into a lake after they spotted a pair of poachers.

Five people were arrested in the murders. Later, Byelorussian officials ignored investigators who argued the five were innocent.

Reaction

The concept of the roll-back bill already has won the support of the Idaho Citizens Coalition, whose director, Al Fogberg, has denounced the court ruling.

"It is apparent that the court was not fully aware of the havoc its decision could cause," Fogberg said Friday. "The court missed in a paragraph the argument of the PUC staff attorneys that took up to 20 pages to present."

"The worst part of this decision is that in the future, it eliminates any risk from investment in the company securities and removes responsibility from the company's management for holding down the cost of construction

A PUC fact sheet, released Friday, states that in the wake of the court ruling, a 14.8 percent rate hike for Idaho Power would be justified by the company's $283 million investment in the still uncompleted Valmy II coal-fired plant in Nevada, the Cascade hydroelectric plant in Idaho and various other corporate investments.

In years past, Idaho Power has never asked the PUC to pass on construction costs before a plant was in operation, according to Jim Taney, a company spokesman. And until the Wednesday ruling, Taney said Idaho Power had no intention of passing on these costs in the future.

But in the wake of the ruling, Taney said that the company may face pressure from its stockholders to take advantage of the rate increases offered by the PUC.

"The ruling might put a utility between a rock and a hard place," Taney said.

Ward said that the 78 percent increase the PUC may grant Washington Water Power can be attributed, in large part, to the utility's participation in WPPSS plant No. 3, which has been mothballed by the federal Bonneville Power Administration.

and not more remedial action," Kaufman said.

Idaho's EPA Director Lynn McKee declined comment on Kaufman's remarks, and agency officials in Seattle did not return calls seeking a response.

Kaufman said he was not satisfied with EPA test results that showed no contamination to wells on nearby private property. He said it may take years for pollution to migrate from the site.

Regional EPA officials fined the company $150,000 last month for illegal burial of liquid wastes in disposal trenches at the Grand View site. The agency also set a tentative fine of $50,500 for illegal handling of shipments of PCBs, a chemical that has been banned by Congress.

Kaufman, in a telephone interview, called the fines "small amounts" and said Enviroserve should be forced to take remedial action to prevent contamination of groundwater.

Regional officials ordered the company last month to adopt a series of measures to ensure liquid wastes would not be buried until they are solidified.

Mostly cloudy over Nevada, with a chance of rain or snow today and Sunday. Highs in the 30s; lows in the 20s. Variable cloudiness over Utah through Sunday with scattered showers of rain or snow above 4,000 feet. Highs near 40; lows in the 20s.

A weak Pacific storm system will graze Idaho over the weekend, but its passage could bring a surge of colder air into the state.

The southwestern part of the state appears likely to receive the most rain or snow showers, depending on elevation. A mass of cold Arctic air is dammed up against the east slopes of the northern Rockies, and some of that air has begun to slide over the Continental Divide from Montana.

There is a good chance this Canadian high-pressure area will bring dry, colder conditions to all of Idaho by early next week.

Even though that frigid air hasn't reached Idaho by Friday morning, Stanley reported 24 below zero for the state's lowest recorded temperature. Other minimums included 14 below at Fairmont and 11 below at Dixie. Near-zero readings were also reported at Salmon and Challis, but elsewhere lows were in the teens and 20s.

Friday's warmest reading in the state was 46 degrees at Emmet, but most places were in the 30s and 30s. At Sun Valley, however, the 3 p.m. reading was 18 degrees.

The extended forecast for the Magic Valley and southern Idaho calls for temperatures to moderate toward milder, with only a few snow showers at times on Monday through Wednesday. Highs will be from 15 to 25 in the east and from 25 to 35 in the west on Monday, then in the 20s in the east and 30s west by Wednesday. Frost will be from zero to 15 below in the east, through the teens in the west on Monday, rising to the teens in the west and from 15 to 25 in the west by Wednesday.

Elsewhere in the nation Friday, the warmest temperature reported was 78 degrees at Hialeah, Fla. Record lows in Florida, and the coldest was 24 below zero at Bismarck, N.D.

Lebanon cease-fire is broken

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Lebanon's warring factions reached a new cease-fire accord Friday, allowing Beirut airport to reopen for the first time this month. But new fighting erupted swiftly between Lebanese troops and Druze Moslem militias.

The cease-fire followed two days of talks in Syria among the leaders of Lebanon's factions, including the Lebanese government and the Moslem militias that have been battling the Lebanese army since September.

Hours after the new truce came into effect, the army said it came under fire from Druze rebels trying to infiltrate their lines.

Official Beirut radio said the Druze attack, launched in darkness, came on the key ridge overlooking the capital where the Druze have fought the Lebanese soldiers entrenched in the village of Souk El Gharb.

The radio said the Lebanese army and nearby Kabr Shioun simultaneously came under brief but heavy sniper and rocket-propelled grenade fire.

However, there were no other major violations of the cease-fire, which allowed the nation's only airport to reopen for the first time since Nov. 30 and gave the beleaguered Lebanese capital a needed pre-Christmas boost.

The U.S. Marines based at the airport reported calm. But the precariousness of the truce was underscored by official Beirut radio reporting six shells fell near the runway an hour before the 5:30 p.m. takeoff of a flight to Saudi Arabia.

Ships set for PLO evacuation

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (UPI) — Greek ships steamed toward Tripoli Friday to evacuate Yasser Arafat's trapped guerrillas and a Red Cross ship was readied in Beirut for a dawn mercy mission to pick up 100 wounded fighters.

Palestinian rebels and Arafat loyalists exchanged rocket and mortar fire for several hours in the morning, but calm returned in the afternoon, residents reported in Beirut. Arafat and some 4,000 of his guerrillas have been besieged in Tripoli by Syrian-backed rebels opposed to his 14-year leadership of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Under terms of a cease-fire agreement Nov. 25, Arafat agreed to evacuate his loyalist fighters from the Mediterranean port 42 miles north of Beirut.

Israeli gunboats, which fired on Arafat's men three times in the past week, were silent Friday as the PLO fighters prepared to leave for Tunisia and North Yemen.

In Athens, the Greek government said it had obtained guarantees the five Greek ships chartered for the evacuation would not be attacked. The fear of attack was prompted by the Israeli attacks, including one Thursday.

"All the conditions for the safety of the crews, the ships, and the Palestinians have been secured," Greek government spokesman Dimitris Maroudas said.

Terrorism threat triggers response

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government, guarding against a terrorist bombing similar to the one that killed 241 Americans in Beirut, has imposed unprecedented security around the nation and at U.S. outposts all over the world.

The security measures, the most stringent in American history, include the use of ground-to-air missiles at the White House, new concrete fortifications at the State Department and possibly the Pentagon, searches of vans and vehicles entering the Capitol grounds and tight restrictions on access anywhere.

Swat teams, bomb squads, police with specially trained dogs, and patrols are on an increased "alert" status.

Nor are the security precautions limited to the nation's capital. They are being imposed at embassies and consulates around the world and in many cities around the country, including San Francisco, which hosts next year's Democratic national convention.

'Bonnie and Clyde' hit

DALLAS (UPI) — A pair of daring bandits, dubbed "Bonnie and Clyde" by lawmen, have hit 14 rural Texas banks in the past 13 years and gotten away with about $1-million, the FBI said Friday.

"These people are professionals and they've been hitting banks successfully since 1970, an incredible record," said Dallas FBI agent Darrel Shaver.

He said the man and woman make their getaways in stolen cars, equipped with police radios and homemade bullet-proofing.

"We located their last car and found a thick metal plate in the back seat," he said. "The couple had already fired some practice shots at it to make sure it worked. There's never been a case quite like it in the Dallas FBI division."

The pair robs only small country banks — an estimated 14 — in northcentral Texas and only in towns without a police force, he said.

"They've only been chased twice," Shaver said. "Both times they escaped in a second car waiting for them in some isolated spot."

Often they customize their holdups.

Grenada action upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration Friday released more documents captured in the invasion of Grenada and a preliminary report saying the island was on its way to becoming a heavily armed Cuban and Soviet satellite.

Grenada's total active and reserve military force would have totaled 10,000 persons — more than 10 percent of its total population, a preliminary report by the State Department, Defense and State said. It said most of the arms came from Russia or Cuba.

So far, five military agreements have been disclosed in the three batches of documents released by the State Department. Three were with the Soviet Union, one with North Korea and one with Cuba. The State Department said Friday. "There are written indications of additional military agreements with Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia."

Under the five agreements and other published documents, Grenada would have received about 10,000 rifles and other infantry weapons, plus 130 artillery pieces and assorted armored vehicles and patrol boats.

At the time of the U.S.-led invasion, according to the State Department, there were 900 Cuban, Eastern European, North Korean or Libyan diplomats or advisers on the island.

The new set of documents contain more evidence of the internal political tension and turmoil that led to the overthrow, imprisonment and death of Prime Minister Maurice Bishop.

Importing of textiles tightened

By DONALD H. MAY
United Press International

WASHINGTON — The White House Friday announced it will tighten up existing U.S. controls on imports of textiles and clothing from the rest of the world to prevent sudden increases.

The plan, approved by President Reagan after series of high-level meetings with advisers, was being relayed to leaders of the domestic textile industry. If the industry approves the plan, it is expected to refute an unfair trade case against China, which it has temporarily withdrawn.

The United States already has extensive import quotas on textile products, but they do not directly apply to about 40 percent of the thousands of products that make up textile trade.

There has been a procedure to clamp down on the products that are not directly covered when they begin growing particularly fast. This is done by a U.S. Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements, which has authority to call countries in for "consultations" in such cases.

The gist of the new plan is that the committee now will be given explicit criteria for deciding when, in official jargon, "a presumption of market disruption or threat thereof" exists. When the committee makes such finding, import levels are frozen during a 90-day consultation period and thereafter can be kept under control.

Under the White House announcement, the committee will make such a finding against a particular country and product when it finds:

- That the particular imports have grown more than 30 percent in the past year or exceed 20 percent of U.S. production, and.
- That they equal one percent or more of U.S. production.

Officials said what happens under the existing quota system is that an exporting country works up to its quota in a particular product and then changes the product to one not directly covered.

Poll: Race a dead heat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American approval of President Reagan's performance has slipped in recent weeks and he and former Vice President Walter Mondale are in a virtual tie among registered voters, two polls showed Friday.

The Harris Survey found that Reagan's approval rating has dropped since the Oct. 23 Grenada invasion to the point where the public is evenly split on his performance.

The Washington Post-ABC News Poll showed Mondale continues to be the clear front-runner for the Democratic nomination, holding a wide lead over Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, and strengthening his standing as a challenger to Reagan.

The Harris poll, taken Dec. 8-13 and published in The New York Times, said 49 percent of the public believe Reagan is doing an "excellent" or "pretty good" job as president while 31 percent say his performance is "poor" or "only fair."

In a Nov. 9-14 Harris Survey, 52 percent gave Reagan favorable ratings while 47 percent were negative. The Oct. 28-31 survey found 56 percent positive and 42 percent negative.

The Washington Post-ABC News Poll, taken Dec. 9-13 and based on interviews with 1,506 people, shows Mondale with 47 percent of the support of registered voters and Reagan with 49 percent.

One month earlier, the poll found Mondale trailed the president, 44 percent to 50 percent.

Military loans turn to gifts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration plans to move toward making foreign military aid in the form of outright gifts rather than loans that must be repaid, State Department and White House officials said Friday.

The officials mentioned Israel and Egypt as the first countries to benefit, but State Department spokesman John Hughes said, "It could be applied to the security assistance program worldwide."

Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth Dam told the Voice of America:

"We plan to move toward grant aid for other countries, for example Egypt. It's a response to the debt burden of countries which can't pay it back. This is nothing special for the Israelis."

"There will be in the U.S. program of aid to Israel more emphasis on grants than in the past year," said White House spokesman Larry Speakes.

Speakes said the matter was discussed during top level meetings during Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's visit to Washington two weeks ago.

Iran stamp commemorates U.S. hostage crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Post Office Friday denounced the Iranian government's issue of a stamp celebrating the 1979 takeover of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Postmaster General Bolger termed the stamp, which depicts a blindfolded American hostage with a burning U.S. flag in the background, as "repulsive, a vicious distortion of a criminal act by Iran, and an insult to all Americans."

The stamp bears the legend in English and in Farsi, the official language of Iran: "The takeover of the U.S. spy den."

A letter bearing the new stamp showed up this week at the foreign students office at Sacramento State University, with a request from an Iranian citizen for an application for admission to the school.

"I think it is disgusting," said Kathy Whitaker, an employee at the school office. "I just think it's terrible. I think we've put up with enough. This is not very nice."

Although international agreements do not allow a country to refuse the mail of another nation, Bolger said individuals can refuse delivery of any mail bearing the offensive stamp by marking the letter "refused" and the Postal Service will gladly return it to Iran.

He also said that following consultation with the State Department the Postal Service issued a sharply worded protest through the Universal Postal Union to the postal administration of Iran and all other 166 member nations.

EPA unveils chemical plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency unveiled national standards Friday aimed at reducing air pollution from benzene, a common but highly toxic chemical that can cause acute leukemia in adults.

The complex series of regulations announced by the EPA, however, got a mixed review from a national environmental group that originally sued the government to force action on benzene. As a result, key parts of the policy are likely to be challenged in federal court.

The regulations, to be formally proposed this spring, will restrict benzene emissions from a wide range of operations including petroleum refineries, chemical plants and the steel industry's coke oven byproduct recovery plants.

The agency also announced it will propose to withdraw earlier standards for three small sources of benzene — maleic anhydride plants, ethylbenzene and styrene plants and benzene storage vessels. The EPA argued only 3 percent of benzene emissions come from these sources and that enforcing the regulations would not "appreciably reduce" the pollution.

The regulations were drawn up in response to a lawsuit filed by the Natural Resources Defense Council. David Doniger, a senior attorney with the group, expressed "strong reservations" about the EPA's plan to withdraw the three minor standards, saying their cost to industry is negligible.

Benzene, a major industrial chemical, is derived mainly from petroleum. A small amount is produced as a byproduct of coke ovens. Most benzene is used to produce other industrial chemicals, which in turn are used to make a wide range of products such as nylon, plastics, insecticides and polyurethane foams.

EPA officials declined to name specific areas that would benefit the most from the regulations, but said they will have the greatest impact on regions with heavy concentrations of petroleum refining and chemical and steel production. This would include such states as California, Illinois, Indiana, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

VA hospital floods; 242 evacuated

DENVER (UPI) — A water main burst Friday, flooding the basement of the Veterans Administration hospital, knocking out water and heat during bitter cold, and forcing the evacuation of nearly 200 patients, including 17 in critical condition.

The 242 patients were transferred to 18 other hospitals by bus and ambulance. The scene took on the appearance of a field hospital as patients were wheeled out with attendants carrying plasma and intravenous bottles alongside.

None of the patients suffered from the 2-1/2 hour evacuation, which began about 1 a.m. MST in 15-degree weather, hospital officials said.

Hospital Director Carlton Smith ordered the evacuation because he feared eight feet of icy water in the sub-basement would cause a steam pipe to burst, or possibly the boiler to explode. Patients also were evacuated because all the water and heat had been shut off in the building.

Smith said investigators had not determined what caused the water main break, but that it might have been due to some construction.

Roy Hackathorn, 63, a realtor from Colorado Springs, who was admitted to the VA hospital Wednesday, said patients were advised Thursday night of the water main break.

"I went to sleep about 10:30 (p.m.) and at 12:45 we were awakened," Hackathorn said from his bed at nearby University Hospital. "They said they were going to evacuate the entire hospital. It kind of surprised me."

Hackathorn said patients were given blankets and most were put on heated buses. Authorities said others were taken by ambulance, 17 of them in critical condition.

"We were told earlier in the night that we didn't have any fire protection," he said. "Later there was no water at all and then there was no heat. Finally, some of the electricity failed."

Cold blasts into the Plains early

By United Press International

A wintry blast Friday hit the Plains ahead of schedule — but with a vengeance — shattering low temperature records in North Dakota and Texas and confounding Southern commuters unused to driving in up to 9 inches of snow.

A broken water main forced Detroit Edison to shut off 95 percent of its downtown steam heat system and a similar problem in a Denver medical center prompted the evacuation of patients.

Upper Michigan, already buried under 4 feet of snow, braced for more.

A cold Canadian air mass that settled into the Plains sent temperatures nosediving to 24 below at Blomark, N.D., where residents were warned of dangerous 40- to 60- below zero wind chills. But hardy residents said the bitter cold was not a problem.

"People in North Dakota are used to this," said Darrell Doyan of Bismarck. "We've got a saying up here that 40 below keeps the riff-raff out."

The daytime highs never peaked past zero and lows of 30 below were forecast.

The rapid formation of ice on the Missouri River near Bismarck caused an ice jam that swelled the river. Ice jams were also reported along the Platte River in southwest Nebraska.

The 1 below at Amarillo, Texas, set a record.

"Winter's coming in with a vengeance a few days early," said forecaster Bill Sammler of the National Severe Storms Forecast Center.

Winter officially debuts Thursday at 5:30 a.m. EST.

Even colder weather was forecast for the weekend, Sammler said.

A surprise autumn snowstorm blasted the South with 9 inches of snow at Foreman, Ark., 8 at Denison Dam, Texas, 7 at Nashville, Ark., and 6 inches at Wichita Falls, Texas, and Marietta, Okla.

Some Dallas schools were closed and others opened late.

A 30-car pileup on U.S. 287 near Canyon, Texas, tied up traffic for an hour.

One truck driver said he swerved to keep from hitting the cars stopped behind the accident, but he hit a concrete barrier, jackknifed the rig and plowed into a small truck, two cars and two semis.

Judge decries spy-case deal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A federal judge Friday denounced a deal prosecutors and defense attorneys made to save accused spy James D. Harper from the gas chamber if he is convicted of stealing defense secrets in California's Silicon Valley.

"The government and the defense counsel have gotten together and decided this is not a death penalty case," U.S. District Judge Samuel Conti told government prosecutors and defense attorney Jerrold N. Ladar. "I see nothing in any of the statutes to lead me to believe the death sentence is inapplicable."

Judge Conti said he would research the law himself to make an independent judgment of whether death is a possible punishment. If it is, Harper would be entitled to the benefit of two defense attorneys and a list of the jurors hearing the trial scheduled to begin April 13.

Harper, 49, of Mountain View, is accused of stealing highly sensitive defense secrets from his now-dead wife's Silicon Valley employer and selling them to Polish agents for about $250,000.

The Poles, in turn, delivered the information to Russian KGB agents who won commendations from Soviet leader Yuri Andropov for securing the material, an FBI affidavit said.

Last week a federal grand jury indicted Harper on nine criminal counts, four of which are punishable by life in prison or death.

But Ladar explained a 1972 Supreme Court opinion rendered the death penalty invalid.

Police prank out of hand

ADDISON III. (UPI) — Village officials said Friday they are not amused by police practical jokers accused of firing blank pistol rounds at citizens, including a police reporter who suffered powder burns from one of the shots.

The Police Commission in the Chicago suburb of about 30,000 held its third public hearing on the matter Thursday night. Hearings are expected to resume next month.

"It's really a shame this got to this point. It's gotten to," said acting village manager Anthony Larocca. "It's embarrassing ... there's no other words to describe it."

Adison Press reporter Tim Bryers, 28, is one of at least two residents who said police officers of firing blanks at them from their service revolvers.

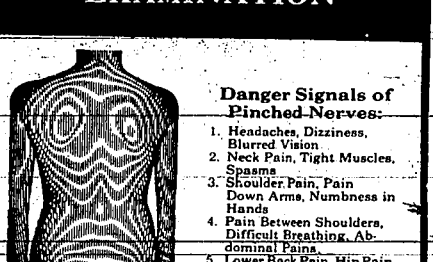

The commission is also investigating reports that officers fired blanks in a fire station and a television station.

Bryers, who visits the police station routinely, said he was joking Oct. 10 with officers who pretended to be angry with him for not bringing them a newspaper.

One of them, Sgt. Guy Hoffrage, left the room, he returned, "screaming at me with his revolver drawn." Bryers said. "I knew it was a prank. I just had that feeling. Then I saw the explosion from the gun," he said.

"The backblast from the barrel of the gun burned my hand," he said. The officers said he insisted first that Bryers was at the hospital the next day to have the burns examined.

'Yankee traders' hit a wall

By IRA R. ALLEN
United Press International

WASHINGTON — President Reagan launched a pet program Friday to use business, labor and both political parties as "Yankee traders" to sell democracy around the world.

In formally announcing creation of the National Endowment for Democracy, an outgrowth of a speech he made 18 months ago to the British parliament, Reagan said, "It offers hope to people everywhere."

But at the same time, he said the bipartisan group, numbering among its directors America's political and commercial elite — will not try to foist American institutions on the rest of the world.

"We're not trying to create imitations of the American system around the world," he said. "There's no simple cookbook recipe for political development that's right for all people."

The non-profit corporation set up under an act of Congress will get $13.8 million from the government — $13.8 million for labor, $2.5 million for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, $5 million for use by private organizations and $5 million each to the Democratic and Republican parties.

Reagan said the idea struck him before addressing Parliament in June 1982 when he realized: "In my adult lifetime the world has been beset by 'isms,' and we remember one of those 'isms' that plunged us into a war. And it suddenly dawned on me that we with this system, which so apparently works and is successful, have just assumed that the people would look at it and see that it was the way to go."

"Then I realized that all of those 'isms,' they also are missionaries for their cause and they are out worldwide trying to sell it. And I just decided that this nation — with its heritage of Yankee traders — we ought to do a little selling of the principles of democracy.

An embarrassing snag has developed, however. Former presidential candidates John Anderson and Eugene McCarthy, who oppose government funding of political parties, have moved to thwart the endowment. Anderson, originally a Republican, and McCarthy, originally a Democrat, along with ex-Libertarian chairman Edward Crane filed incorporation papers under the name National Endowment for Democracy on Nov. 17, one day before the filing of the group Congress intended to get the money.

The Anderson-McCarthy group claims to be the only legally qualified recipient of the $13.8 million, which a spokesman said it does not want to use.

"We are the endowment named in law," said spokesman Kent Guida. He charged the District of Columbia government was trying to cancel the group's certificate of incorporation. The group named by Reagan claims to have earlier reserved the National Endowment for Democracy title.

Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said the congressionally sanctioned endowment is "going ahead despite this legal squabble" and he did not know of any White House request to the city government to revoke the certificate.

Intense battle leaves 77 dead

By United Press International

El Salvador's army regained control of the slopes of a strategic volcano from leftist rebels after a major battle in a northeastern province, army sources said Friday. At least 37 guerrillas and 40 soldiers were reported killed.

Military officers said three days of heavy combat ended late Thursday when government troops recaptured Cerro Cacaahuatque, a 4,900-foot volcano located 60 miles northeast of San Salvador in Morazan province.

The fighting began Tuesday when 3,000 guerrillas overwhelmed troops of the 350-man Tecana Battalion. The soldiers held out for 11 hours before destroying a strategic army communications relay station to prevent it from falling into rebel hands, military officials said.

The fighting spread to at least four towns on the slopes of the volcano but army officials said Friday the situation was under control with some 9,000 troops deployed in the region.

Army sources, quoted in the capital's Proceso Grafica newspaper, reported troops found the bodies of at least 37 guerrillas and said the Marxist-led rebels suffered more than 100 dead and wounded in the area since Tuesday.

The guerrillas' clandestine Radio Venceremos earlier claimed 100 army troops were killed and 65 wounded.

Africa threatened by famine

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — A ceaseless drought plaguing parts of Africa threatens famine for some 150 million people in the continent's least developed nations, a senior United Nations official said Friday.

"Out of the 24 African countries affected by the drought, 22 are seriously in trouble with a severe crisis in food production," said Sadig Rasheed, a social commission director for the U.N.-sponsored Economic Commission for Africa.

Speaking at the end of a three-day meeting of international drought experts, Rasheed said much of Africa has been gripped by drought for the past 14 years, save a one-year break in 1974-75 in nine sub-Saharan countries.

As a measure of the severity of the drought, Rasheed noted the Akosombo dam on the Upper Volta river in Ghana has lost two-thirds of its water, halting the hydroelectric generators that supply 65 percent of the electricity needs of Ghana, Benin and Upper Volta.

However, the food crisis has been wrought by the drought's sharp effects on agriculture and food production.

"About 150 million people in 22 African countries are facing catastrophic food shortages because of the drought," said Rasheed, who is from the Sudan.

"The scale of human suffering is dreadful. It is a very gloomy picture throughout Africa."

Residents leap from night fire; 17 hurt

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — Fire surged through an old downtown apartment building Friday, injuring 17 people — including three men who suffered broken bones when they leaped from flaming second-story rooms.

Several residents suffered serious injuries, and the men who jumped out of the blazing building sustained broken bones when they hit the freezing ground outside, authorities said.

About 30 people were left homeless by the fire, which was believed to be arson-caused and erupted at about 4:20 a.m. Residents fled from the old Starlight Apartments on Main Street as fire crews from Blackfoot and surrounding eastern Idaho communities were summoned to the fire.

Ben Call, assistant administrator at Bingham Memorial Hospital, said 17 people were treated for fire-related injuries. Seven victims were hospitalized and the others were released after receiving treatment, he said.

The most seriously injured person, Robert Smith, 49, was taken by helicopter to the University of Utah Medical Center's burn unit at Salt Lake City. He was listed in critical condition, suffering from second- and third-degree burns over 55 percent of his body, hospital officials said.

Listed in serious but stable condition at the Blackfoot hospital was Karen Lewis, 35 — Her 3-year-old daughter, Sabrina, was in stable condition, receiving treatment for smoke inhalation.

Other victims, all in stable condition, and their injuries were Thomas Lewis, 62, smoke inhalation; Floyd Colby, 47, broken leg; Fred Fahrenbamb, 34, compound ankle fracture; Thomas Jay, 23, fractured pelvis; and Damon Delacruz, 39, smoke inhalation.

Fire Sgt. Lyle Martin said an arson investigator from Pocatello was called to the scene of the blaze, which gutted the interior of the brick-front building.

When firefighters and ambulance crews arrived, the entire front of the apartment building was engulfed in flames, Martin said.

The blaze was under control by mid-morning, the sergeant said.

No damage estimate was available, and Martin said the building would be closed until an investigation into the fire's cause was completed.

People left homeless by the fire will be assisted by county welfare agencies, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, officials said.

Conservatives fail to achieve signature goal

BOISE (UPI) — A conservative organization has missed its self-anointed deadline to hand over 10,000 protest petition cards to Gov. John Evans, but a spokesman says the group's drive against budget hikes will not be abandoned.

Rep. Michael Strasser, R-Nampa, said Friday the Idaho Conservative Political Action committee had collected 500 to 600 cards signed by people who want the Democratic governor and the Legislature to halt state tax and spending increases.

In a fund-raising letter mailed in November, Strasser — writing for the conservative group — said the organization planned to dump 10,000 protest cards on Evans' desk Wednesday, hours before the governor announced his annual budget proposals.

"That was the goal, but we're not going to hit it," Strasser said Friday. "It's possible we'll still get three or four thousand."

Strasser said his group underestimated logistical problems in mailing the petition cards and receiving the signed cards back from sympathizers.

"We're still working on getting the cards back," he said.

Parole-system change asked

BOISE (UPI) — State Corrections Director Al Murphy says he wants to revise Idaho's parole system and begin charging probationers fees to offset costs of the program.

Murphy said he will ask the 1984 Legislature to allow the Corrections Department to hire 30 additional employees, most of them parole officers.

Some of the new workers would assist parolees in finding and keeping jobs, and two would be assigned to collect the fees, he said this week.

Under the proposal, parolees would be classified according to risk and the state would be able to conduct increased monitoring and supervision of former inmates, the official said.

He said a former inmate now sees his parole officer once or twice a month.

Court deals blow to car recalls

By SPENCER SHERMAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON — A federal court ruled Friday that auto makers cannot be forced to recall cars that are more than 5 years old or have more than 50,000 miles on them, a decision that virtually destroys the EPA's emission control program.

The court decided that, by definition of Congress, a car has an effective life expectancy of only five years or 50,000 miles. It ruled manufacturers cannot be forced to repair cars that are legally obsolete.

By its own admission, the appeals court said the Environmental Protection Agency's current recall program "may be rendered useless" because investigations into emission defects take years and industry lawyers can tie up recall orders for several years on top of that.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, voting 2-1, said the EPA acts beyond its authority when it orders manufacturers to repair emission problems in old cars.

EPA spokeswoman Martha Casey predicted the decision will have a "great effect" on the recall program, but Joseph Cannon, assistant administrator for Air and Radiation, said options are still open for saving the program.

Another agency spokesman said the decision could backfire on the auto industry if Congress can be convinced to amend the Clean Air Act to extend its definition of the useful life limit of cars to 10 years and 100,000 miles.

Judge David Bazelon wrote the majority opinion in the ruling, which could be appealed to the Supreme Court.

Blaine schools' computer program rated one of nation's best

By DAVE LEWIS
Times-News writer

HAILEY — The computer program in the Blaine County schools is one of only 10 programs throughout the country to be cited for excellence by a national school administrators group.

The Blaine County program was named "exemplary" by the National Association of Secondary School Principals in the group's November issue of "Curriculum Reports."

The program, developed by Wood River Junior High Principal Dennis Dempsey, was praised for its curriculum for all levels of students — from kindergarten through high school — and its training and classroom applications.

Information from which children learn. He says this is not a bad development because the computer allows the student to be an active participant in the learning process, which is the way they learn best.

More and more learning will be done elsewhere than the schools, with the home as the primary setting, he predicts. Schools, however, will not be replaced because they are important for socialization and learning about society, Dempsey says.

Within that setting, Dempsey says, teachers' roles will change from lecturers to being more of facilitators between the computer and the student.

He says teachers — good teachers — still will be important to the system because the computers will be only as good as the teacher handling the class.

"That's still the key," he says.

provides $20,000 for the purchase of equipment. Additionally, in three years, $25,000 to $30,000 has been raised through grants and about $10,000 from special-education funds.

The courses of study were developed by teachers, with some help from students. Each student, from kindergarten to high school, gets some exposure to computers sometime during the school year, Dempsey says.

Each school has a minimum of four or five computers, he says. Because of donations from parents, Hemingway Elementary School in Ketchum has the most.

Most of the computer work is concentrated in the junior- and senior-high schools.

Dempsey, who came to the Blaine County system in 1981, says a probable reason for the honor is that the program includes the practical use of computers for classroom work, not just for training purposes.

"We're a lot further down the line than most schools," he says.

And the Blaine County program is built so it can keep growing on the basis that is now in place, he says. Dempsey foresees the time in the near future when classrooms will have computers for individualized help.

However, he also foresees the time when computers will change the role of the teacher and the nature of education in the United States.

Dempsey says the computer will become, in the not too distant future, the primary source of

He says some parents have the notion that computers will save the schools. But, he says, it still will be the teacher who makes it all work.

Dempsey spearheaded the school district's development of the computer program, but emphasizes it was a cooperative effort among teachers, administrators, parents and students that has pulled it together.

"He says the school board has been supportive of the program and has provided funds to purchase the equipment. At the same time, the district has obtained grant money to add additional equipment to the program.

However, Dempsey says the amount of money spent on the system is meager compared to some programs across the country.

Each seventh-grader is required to take a computer literacy class, and programming classes are available in both the secondary schools. The classes are in such demand that students are being turned away, Dempsey says.

This year, he estimates, 200 junior-high and 90 high-school students will take the training classes.

While training students on the computer is one thing, applying the training to practical applications is another, Dempsey says. Therefore, each teacher is able to schedule time in the computer labs to give students a chance to apply what they learn to their school work.

Ex-ambulance owner will not seek service

Coroner says he's out for good

By DAVID MOFFAT
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Speculation continued Friday as to how permanent ambulance service will be provided in Twin Falls County in the absence of Twin Falls Emergency Medical Services.

Among major occurrences, county Coroner Cloyce Edwards, the former owner of Magic Valley Ambulance Service, issued a statement, saying he has no intention of getting back into the business.

And Dennis Brodigan, the owner of the now-defunct Emergency Medical Services, said he believed county residents would be served best if Magic Valley Regional Medical Center were to provide the service on a permanent basis.

Brodigan went out of business at noon Thursday, saying he was losing too much money.

CLOYCE EDWARDS
Wants to stay "retired"

In the absence of his company, the Twin Falls County commissioners have ordered Magic Valley Regional Medical Center, the county hospital, to provide temporary service.

The hospital is doing this from its annex, using former Brodigan employees and three ambulances registered in the Idaho Falls Fire Department.

The change has not affected ambulance service in other counties, in particular, Jerome County. There, Brodigan's service was taken over Oct. 1. Ambulance service in Jerome County is being run by St. Benedict's Hospital, under the management of Gerald Ostler.

Edwards had promised a press conference for Friday, but in the absence of his attorney, he released only a printed statement.

In it he said he is "retired" — and "does not intend to re-enter the ambulance business in Twin Falls County or any other county."

Edwards' company had provided the only ambulance service in Twin Falls County for 14 years, until the commissioners granted Brodigan a license to compete in 1981.

Brodigan subsequently bought Edwards out for $80,000 the following summer.

The only other individual with a current Twin Falls County ambulance-operator license is Carl Miller, who owns Valley Regional Medical Services in Shoshone, with his wife, Cynthia.

Miller received his license from the commissioners on Nov. 21. But Commission Chairman Ann Cooper says this was to provide patient transfer.

Kimberly teachers don't agree with new state attendance law

By VICKIE DRAPER
Times-News correspondent

KIMBERLY — A vocational agriculture teacher and a coach in the Kimberly School District agree about the new 90 percent attendance law — they don't like it.

George Powell, instructor of high-school agricultural teacher, Jim Sorensen and junior-high teacher and coach George Arrossa to give their opinions about the new law, which will go into effect next year, at this week's school board meeting.

"I don't like it. It penalizes the good, active student," Arrossa said. "The real problems are the kids who don't do a thing. If they're not involved with anything, they're not involved in the classroom, either."

Arrossa said the law would not affect junior-high students, although they "do miss probably more than their share."

On the high-school level, Arrossa said participation in track uses more school time than any other sport.

He said the only way to cut down on time out of school for sports is through tournaments. And he said the only way to cut tournaments is to shorten the season, which must be done by the Idaho High School Activities Association.

Sorensen reported on what impact the law will have on the Future Farmers of America program. Although this program is voluntary, it is encouraged by the school and held during regular school hours, he said.

"It's the lab for vocational agriculture," he said. "It gives every student an opportunity to use their minds on a competitive level. It also leads to school scholarships and career selection."

Sorensen said three possible effects of the 90 percent law would be the:

Some buyers pay $150 for Cabbage Patch Kids

By BOB FREUND
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The Cabbage Patch Kids craze has appeared again, this time sending shoppers at the F.W. Woolworth store in Twin Falls into a frenzy of buying.

The scarce dolls also were accompanied by another surprise companion, the elusive Care Bear.

Forewarned by a radio announcement Thursday night, a crowd of 150 was waiting outside Woolworth's in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center by opening time Friday morning, said store manager Jim Maslanak.

"Between 8:25 and 9:30, we sold all 57 Cabbage Patch dolls... and about 50 Care Bears," he said.

At least two buyers in the back of the line were willing to pay $185 for the doll; the manager said. The store was charging the standard retail price of $4.99, but it had placed a $150 price tag on second dolls to discourage multiple purchases.

"We had one girl grab three of them," Maslanak said. "She grabbed them and said them to other customers waiting (in line) for $150." Then, "the other people had to pay the store for them, too."

Maslanak said there was little trouble with the crowd. But some of the buyers obviously were more interested in turning a buck than in taking home a cute doll, he said.

After the short sale was finished, "people were still milling around," he said. "They just bought them to resell them."

The Care Bears were snapped up a little slower, but they also sold out in a few hours. Also a sought-after toy, the Care Bear is rivaling the popularity of the Cabbage Patch Kids in many parts of the country. They are priced at $19.99, retail.

The shipments from Woolworth's warehouse brought in only a portion of an October order of more than 200 of each type of doll, the store manager said.

Woolworth's in Twin Falls had stocks of both before the shortages and huge demand were reported nationwide.

On the Friday after Thanksgiving, shoppers grabbed 72 Care Bears before noon, he said.

"If you're wondering, don't expect to get a second crack at either doll at Woolworth's in the near future."

"We're not anticipating any more Care Bears or Cabbage Patch dolls," Maslanak said.

Others will be auctioned to benefit area charities

GOODING — Six celebrities are in protective custody in the Gooding County Jail.

And four other celebrities are living in "foster homes," rumored to be in the Twin Falls area.

The 10 are the highly sought-after Cabbage Patch dolls.

They all will be auctioned off or raffled to raise money for charity.

Six of the dolls will be sold at auction next Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Lincoln Inn in Gooding.

In Twin Falls, the Blue Lakes Mall will raffie off four dolls — donated by Woolworth's — next Saturday at 9 a.m.

Four area charities will have booths set up at the mall, beginning this morning, to sell raffle tickets for a suggested donation of $1 apiece.

Mall manager Jerry Hillman says she thinks

"baby" Lucas Orville will find a good home, and as a result, the Foster Parent Association will raise some money to make Christmas a little bit happier for area foster children.

Proceeds from the sale of the other three dolls will go to the Easter Seal Society, the Special Olympics and a new hospice organization.

The guardian of the little rascals in Gooding is Sharon Holland, who operates The Corner Closet, a T-shirt shop in Gooding.

How the six arrived in Gooding is a secret that Holland isn't disclosing, except to say they were escorted into town by Christmas elves.

"Two of them arrived Monday and four came Wednesday. That's all I can say."

Deputies at the Gooding County Jail say the six are cooperating fully and haven't even complained about jail food.

A merry Christmas committee of 18 men and women has been formed. Gooding to handle the transfer of the dolls to their new owners and to collect the money raised, which will be given to the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City.

"It's going to be our way of saying 'Merry Christmas to the children at the hospital,'" Holland says.

A no-host cocktail party will open next Wednesday's auction in Gooding. Tickets will be sold for other gifts and an admission fee of $10 also will go to the Shriners. Local talent will provide entertainment.

"We're not anticipating any more Care Bears or Cabbage Patch dolls," Maslanak said.

BLM alters sale terms; Jackpot sale on again

By DAVID MOFFAT
Times-News writer

JACKPOT — A late January date soon will be announced for a second attempt to sell 80 acres of federal land off U.S. 93 in Jackpot, according to the Elko District office of the federal Bureau of Land Management.

The auction will be held under new land-sale guidelines, issued last month by the BLM, according to David Vandenberg, an Elko District real-estate specialist.

The BLM first attempted to sell the land, which is north of Barto's Club 93, at a public auction on Sept. 19.

Cactus Pete's casino offered the high bid, $256,000, at that time. But because this did not exceed the BLM's minimum acceptable figure, which was set on the basis of an appraisal, no sale was completed.

After the sale, several groups complained about the BLM's sale procedures, however. A new BLM policy of keeping the government's minimum price secret drew particular fire.

This policy has been changed, as part of a directive from the assistant secretary of the Interior Department, Garrey Carruthers.

The new policy requires disclosure of the minimum price 30 days before a sale. It also requires that all bids be sealed, not oral.

"Letting potential buyers know in advance what the minimum acceptable bid will be for the property offered — helps people better judge whether the public some difficulties."

This is an about-face from the BLM's previous position, which was that publishing the price might hinder its ability to get fair-market value for federal land.

Vandenberg says everybody on the mailing list for the first sale will be notified of the appraised value 30 days prior to the second sale.

They also will be informed of all other special rules pertinent to submitting bids, he says.

One hurt in three-car mishap

TWIN FALLS — One driver was injured in a three-car accident Friday evening in Twin Falls, at Third Avenue East and Third Street East.

According to police, Diane Gull Parrott, 64, of 731 Elm St. N., in Twin Falls, was taken to the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital after her vehicle collided with one driven by Lou Swartz DeLeon, 56, of 303 Second Ave. W. in Twin Falls. Officers said the woman suffered minor injuries.

DeLeon was traveling east and Parrott was southbound. Officers said DeLeon failed to stop at the stop sign and pulled into Parrott's path. DeLeon's car then rolled over with one driven by Ruby Marie Roberts, 61, of Route 4, Twin Falls, who was stopped at the stop sign.

Jerome meeting to start sooner

JEROME — The Jerome City Council meeting scheduled for this Tuesday will begin at 5 p.m., rather than the usual 8 p.m.

Mayor Ralph Peters says the meeting is expected to be a short, with only several minor on the agenda. The council meets at City Hall.

Murtaugh postpones meeting

MURTAUGH — The Murtaugh City Council has postponed its regular meeting until Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 7:30 p.m.

At that time, the city's accountant will be on hand to discuss the budget.

Twin Falls class plans reunion

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls High School graduating class of 1978 will hold its five-year reunion on Wednesday, Dec. 28.

The event will be held at the Turf Club in Twin Falls, from 5 to 11 p.m., with dinner at 7.

Classmates are asked to call Shelley Hatfield, at 734-5863, for reservations by Monday, Dec. 26.

Financial aid to be discussed

TWIN FALLS — High-school seniors and their parents can learn how to apply for financial aid for college on Jan. 5 at 7:30 in the Twin Falls High School cafeteria.

Financial aid for vocational schools, as well as colleges and universities, will be discussed. The emphasis will be on how to fill out the forms used to apply for grants, work-study programs, loans and other forms of aid.

David Perkins, a financial-aid officer at the College of Southern Idaho, will present the information.

The event is open to students and parents from outside Twin Falls, as well.

Driver fined for no insurance

JEROME — Stephen R. Oronz, 23, of Wendell, whose vehicle struck and injured a 7-year-old Jerome boy a week ago, went to court Thursday and pleaded guilty to failing to have insurance.

Oronz was not named for the accident, in which Steven Jackson darted across South Lincoln Street and into his path on Dec. 8. Oronz was not able to stop because of icy street conditions, according to police.

The child was unconscious after the accident and was hospitalized for two days.

However, Oronz will be fined $200, plus costs, on the insurance charge and sentenced to two days in the county jail.

Police seek witnesses to fatality

JEROME — Police in Jerome are seeking additional witnesses in the continuing investigation of a double fatality in the city on Wednesday night.

Two elderly residents — Thelma Yingst, 80, and Rice Thomson, 83, both of Jerome — died when they were struck by a car while crossing Lincoln Street North.

Officers said Friday that it still has not been determined in which direction the victims were walking, but he said officers are assuming they were in the crosswalk when they were hit by a pickup truck.

Police Chief Darryl Cameron is asking that anyone who witnessed the accident, or who was at the scene at the time, call police at 334-4313.

He said a blood-alcohol test given the driver of the vehicle, Alma William Mollinex, 54, of Bellevue, showed no evidence of alcohol.

No charges had been filed against Mollinex by late Friday, but police Capt. Mito Alonzo said he expects a decision to be made Monday.

Following a meeting Friday with Jerome County Coroner Gerald Oster and Jerome County prosecutor, police said that no inquest or autopsy will be held.

Cameron said Yingst and Thomson were both wearing dark clothing, and it was dark and raining at the time of the accident.

The driver told officers he did not see the couple until they were directly in front of the hood of his truck, and he told officers he believed they were looking away from him.

Officers said they found no brake marks at the scene.

The accident occurred at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday at Lincoln Street North and First Avenue. The victims died at the scene.

Yingst lived in an apartment on the west side of the intersection, and it is believed they were walking toward Thomson's vehicle, which was parked across the street from the apartment.

Fire hits four Ketchum condos

KETCHUM — A fire in a Ketchum condominium complex early Friday destroyed four units that were undergoing remodeling.

The fire, in the Olympic Village condominiums in west Ketchum, burned a common wall and destroyed support beams common to the units, said Bill Miller, the Ketchum fire chief.

At about noon Friday, Miller said he had not determined the cause of the blaze because the water sprayed on the fire was still frozen. Temperatures in Ketchum dropped to near zero early Friday morning.

Miller said the fire apparently started in a lower unit, then spread to the common wall of two lower and two upper units in the multi-story complex of eight condominiums.

Nineteen Ketchum regular and volunteer firefighters answered the alarm at about 12:21 a.m. They were later joined by about 10 Sun Valley volunteers, who helped by refilling air packs for the firefighters, Miller said.

Although firefighters were hampered by having to dig out a fire hydrant to get water to the blaze, it was under control within 45 minutes, Miller said.

Miller estimated the fire destroyed 100 percent of the unit where it started and about 80 percent of the other three units. However, he did not have a monetary estimate of the damage.

The units were being remodeled and were unoccupied at the time of the blaze.

Ambulance

from nursing homes and to fulfill a contract with the College of Southern Idaho for an ambulance at rodeos.

Brodigan, however, says he believes "going back to private enterprise would be a regression."

He says the current economic profile of Twin Falls County makes it impossible for a completely private service to survive and provide superior service.

One of two things would have to happen for this to change, he says.

The county commissioners would have to grant a sizable subsidy. This would have to be more than the $700 a month Edwards received when he provided the service, Brodigan says.

Or, the number of ambulance calls would have to increase, which would take an improvement in the economy and probably a large increase in population, he says.

Brodigan admits that his position on the matter is much different than when he started his business in October 1981. At that time, he said he could provide a better service than Edwards' at less cost.

Since then, he has learned a few things about the ambulance business, he says.

And he now says that for the good of the county, the commissioners should get off the private industry " merry-go-round."

The future trend is for hospitals to provide ambulance service — "for good reason, because it works," Brodigan says.

Any other private company "will meet the same fate I did." Quality service is just too expensive for a private company to provide, he says.

For starters, it must be staffed at full strength around the clock.

Brodigan says a hospital has the base from which to offer this. It also does not have to make a profit.

In addition, Brodigan says, hospitals are eligible for 50 percent matching grants from the state to buy equipment.

The best solution, he says, would be the creation of a special ambulance district.

This is the solution that has been adopted by other large counties in Idaho, he says. Such a district may be funded by a special tax levy, outside the limitations of the One Percent Initiative, he says.

IS IT WRONG FOR A FUNERAL DIRECTOR TO ENJOY LIFE? Through the years, the funeral director has been passed off as some one different. He never smiles or has any fun. He always speaks in hushed tones. He perennially wears a just pressed black suit. The truth, of course, is that we're people, just like you. You have the same interests and habits and faults as other people. And maybe that's what makes us good funeral directors: we understand your feelings in a time of loss because we feel the same way in our own time of loss.

He said it also would be difficult to hold the activities in the evening or on weekends. He gave several reasons why:

- Many involve businessmen who are reluctant to open after-hours.
- Some districts do not pay their instructors for Saturday activities.
- It would take the instructor away from his family.
- The program cannot compete with sports on an equal time.

- The students would be away from home in the evening.
- And working students would not be able to attend.

Wendell student wants to build ice rink

By TERRELL WILLIAMS
Times-News correspondent

WENDELL — Residents of Wendell may soon get to do some free ice skating.

Eret Thackeray, a Wendell High School student, asked the school board Monday for permission to build a skating rink on school property.

He suggested putting it at the high school football field so it could be lighted at night. He also suggested it could be put on a strip of grass by the new gymnasium.

Thackeray, who had discussed the rink with fire chief Keith Hosack, reported that water is readily available at both sites. He also suggested that be noted, students could sell hot chocolate and snacks to pay for the lights.

Other expenses, such as building a border around the rink, would be minimal, the student said.

Although board members praised Thackeray's plans, school superintendent Glenn Gilbertson said school liability insurance would not cover activities on a school-sponsored ice rink.

"We're presenting a somewhat hazardous condition," Gilbertson said, predicting the school would have to buy more insurance.

The North Side

The superintendent recommended Thackeray ask the city recreation district to sponsor the rink since the district, which sponsors the city swimming pool and parks, may already have the necessary liability insurance.

"It sounds like a great idea," Gilbertson said. "It just isn't as easy as it sounds."

The board also recommended Thackeray use an empty lot near a street light to locate the rink.

Thackeray agreed to seek sponsorship of the rink from the recreation district.

In other business: Larry Allhus, father of four children who ride school bus No. 5, complained about the service of that bus.

Allhus said children have been riding the bus standing in the aisle and sitting on steps by the door. There is not much discipline, he charged, and bigger children "rule the bus" and are allowed to intimidate the younger ones, including the Allhus children.

Allhus said he had called parents of other young children who ride the same bus.

"I decided to look into it before I raised a stink," he said. "I found most of the small children have complained to their parents."

Allhus said his complaints to bus contractor Dick Eaton were useless.

"I would just like a little more discipline on the bus and a little more safety," Allhus said. "Dick Eaton should be open to parents calling."

Eaton, along with bus driver Jim Lynch, gave the board letters from parents of other children on Bus 5 and board member Clayton Pope asked the letters were "convincing" in favor of Eaton's service.

"There's just no one else that complains about there but you," Eaton told Allhus.

Lynch said he had a discipline problem with the Allhus children. They stand in the aisle, he said, because they refuse to sit in their seats.

"I asked them to quiet down and they didn't, so I sat them down on the steps," the driver explained.

"This one (Allhus) boy has created quite a lot of problems."

Board President Jim Campbell, commending Eaton's good reputation, recommended that Allhus, Eaton and Lynch discuss the matter among themselves and try to work out the problem.

Party seeks candidates

HAILEY — Candidates for a vacancy on the Blaine County Board of Commissioners are still being sought by the county's Democratic Central Committee.

Committee Chairman James Donart said the committee met Tuesday but did not have a quorum and did not take any action on choosing candidates as a replacement for Commissioner Dan Mackey, who is resigning this month.

Donart said the committee is still seeking candidates for the position and will meet Tuesday to make its selection. He said interested candidates would appear before the committee at that time. The meeting is scheduled for noon in the Blaine County Justice Center in Hailey.

He also said those who are interested should submit a resume to his Ketchum office, at 137 First Ave. N., in advance.

The central committee of the same party as the departing commissioner will select three potential candidates for the position and will submit their names to Gov. John Evans, who will make the final decision.

Mackey announced his resignation from the board last month because of business and personal commitments that were interfering with the time he could devote to the commission.

Twin Falls youths continue tradition

By PAT MARCANTONIO Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — It has become a Christmas tradition in Twin Falls. For more than 20 years, youths from the First Christian Church have donned familiar costumes and taken their places "with some barnyard animals in a small shed outside the church.

This finished product is a living Nativity scene. The small production can be seen beginning Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the church, located at 601 Shoshone St. N.

It will continue each night through Saturday, and for a half-hour following next Sunday's Christmas worship service.

Lee Schmidt of Twin Falls has coordinated the project for more than 10 years. He says he does not know how it got started, but he supposes that the church wanted to do something for the public on Christmas.

"And it is for the public," he says.

In the shed, junior-high and high-school students from the church portray Mary, Joseph, the three wise men and two shepherds. Each night, different teenagers participate. At their side is a donkey and sheep, also real. Only the baby Jesus is played by a doll.

Finding the actors for the scene is no problem, Schmidt says. Locating the animals, however, is. This year, Archie Quessell and Dan Norris, both of Twin Falls, are loaning their livestock.

Overall, Schmidt says, it takes a few months to work out the details for the project. The details continue each night, as the stage is set up and struck, the animals checked into place and removed, and the lights turned on and off.

And like a play, the display at the church has gone on each night of every year, with the exception of the Christmas of 1974. That year, the shed had been stored in a barn that was struck by lightning. It burned and so did the shed, Schmidt says. There was no time to build another.

Little has changed with the scene over the years, although some of the costumes have been upgraded.

But the years have brought good memories for Schmidt. He recalls one little boy who knelt before the baby Jesus. Other viewers have brought the teenagers hot chocolate to ward off the cold — and it does get cold, often, he says.

The students do move around a little. Little has changed with the scene over the years, although some of the costumes have been upgraded. But the years have brought good memories for Schmidt. He recalls one little boy who knelt before the baby Jesus. Other viewers have brought the teenagers hot chocolate to ward off the cold — and it does get cold, often, he says.

The Nativity scene makes Christmas a little more special for Schmidt and those who participate.

"So much enthusiasm goes through me just because I'm doing it and from the reaction from people who see it."

We need news sooner this week

The Times-News encourages any church in the Magic Valley area to submit information for our listing of church services.

Because Christmas and New Year's Day fall on Sunday this year, the weekly religious page will be a 9-page paper for the next two weeks. Therefore, the deadline for news about church services has been moved up one day — to Wednesday noon.

As usual, typewritten or plainly printed information is best. And provide full information — complete names, times, locations, day and date. Include the name of the community — we serve many — and a phone number to call if more info is needed.

If you have questions about church news, call 733-0981 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., and ask for Glenda May or Dr. Jan Klunkey.

BILLY MARTIN
What, again?

NEW YORK — Billy Martin, sent packing by George Steinbrenner twice before, was sent upstairs to the front office as "top advisor" Friday when he was relieved of his duties as manager of the New York Yankees for a third time and replaced by his old buddy, Yogi Berra.

Berra, who has been a member of the Yankees' organization for 30 years and served as Martin's first base coach last season, was given a 2-year contract. Steinbrenner said the remaining four years of Martin's managerial contract, at $450,000 per year, will be honored.

Steinbrenner made the announcement in his Yankee Stadium office less than an hour after leaving the midtown office of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Steinbrenner was the principal party to a hearing in which he faces another possible suspension by Kuhn for remarks he made about American League President Lee MacPhail's handling of the George Brett pine tar incident.

Steinbrenner insisted repeatedly that Martin was not being fired. Martin was being "shifted," Steinbrenner said, moved upstairs where he is to assist in all trades and player evaluations as well as participate in the Yankees' expanding minor-league program.

"My relationship with Billy Martin never has been better," Steinbrenner said. "My friendship has never been stronger. We've never been closer as friends. I talked to him by phone today and I talked to him yesterday. Billy congratulated Yogi. He said we made an excellent choice."

Steinbrenner added, however, he did think Martin would have liked to manage another year.

"But he accepted it beautifully," he explained. "You tellas (newsman) will write that Billy has been fired. I don't like to talk about firing. I don't think Billy has been fired. I think what has been done is in everyone's best interests."

Martin's lawyer, Eddie Sapir, attended Steinbrenner's news conference and backed up the principal owner's remarks.

"This is a great opportunity for Billy," Sapir said. "This isn't like he's been fired, see you later. Sure this is disappointing to Billy, but we just talked to him over the phone and he thinks the naming of Yogi is an excellent choice. He says whatever is best for the Yankees, that's what I want."

No matter what terms Steinbrenner uses, the switch represented his 11th managerial change in 10 years. In those changes, eight other managers were involved besides Martin, and one of them, Gene Michael, was among those present at the news conference today. Also present were second baseman Willie Randolph, catcher Rick Cerone, coach Jeff Torborg, outfielder Steve Kemp and announcer Phil Rizzuto.

Michael, it was announced, will replace Don Zimmer as third base coach next year and Torborg will return as pitching and bullpen coach. Roy White will coach at Berra's prestigious first base spot.

Steinbrenner revealed he had previously offered the Yankees' managerial job to Berra but had been turned

No. 1 Bulldogs serve notice with big win over Glenns Ferry

By CHRIS HAFT
Times-News writer

KIMBERLY — Compensating for a struggling offense with suffocating defense, the Kimberly Bulldogs defeated Glenns Ferry 46-32 in a Canyon Conference opener Friday night.

Both teams shared a marked inability to put the ball through the basket. The Bulldogs made just 15 of 52 field-goal attempts (29 percent); the Pilots 10 of 50 (20 percent).

"We played in spurts," Kimberly Coach Rich Thompson said. "There would be brief times when we looked good offensively. Then there would be stretches of three or four minutes where we went bananas."

Glenns Ferry's ineffectiveness exceeded Kimberly's. The Pilots began each of the last three quarters with costly dry spells. They failed to score their first basket of the second quarter until 6:06 had elapsed; in the third period they went 5-49 until getting a hoop, and in the fourth quarter, they remained fallow for the first 4:15.

The Pilots' problems were manifold. During one second-quarter stretch, they turned the ball over on three consecutive possessions. In the third period they missed four layups. "If we could have made some of those it would have helped," Coach Gordon Brown said dryly.

Mostly, however, it was the Bulldogs' man-to-man defense that stifled Glenns Ferry.

"Their pressure defense took us right out of our offense," Brown said. Noting that the Pilots' roster included just three seniors, Brown observed, "We're really just a JV ballclub. But even that's not an excuse. They just took us out of the ball game."

Thompson readily admitted Kimberly's defense outstripped its offense. "Defensively, other than the fouls, we had more consistency there," he said.

The Bulldogs, 3-0, began to make their defensive presence felt in the early second quarter. Entering that period with a 16-10 advantage, Kimberly increased the bulge to 21-10 as its swarming pressure induced Glenns Ferry giveaways. The Bulldogs might have settled matters before halftime had they not gone scoreless over the quarter.

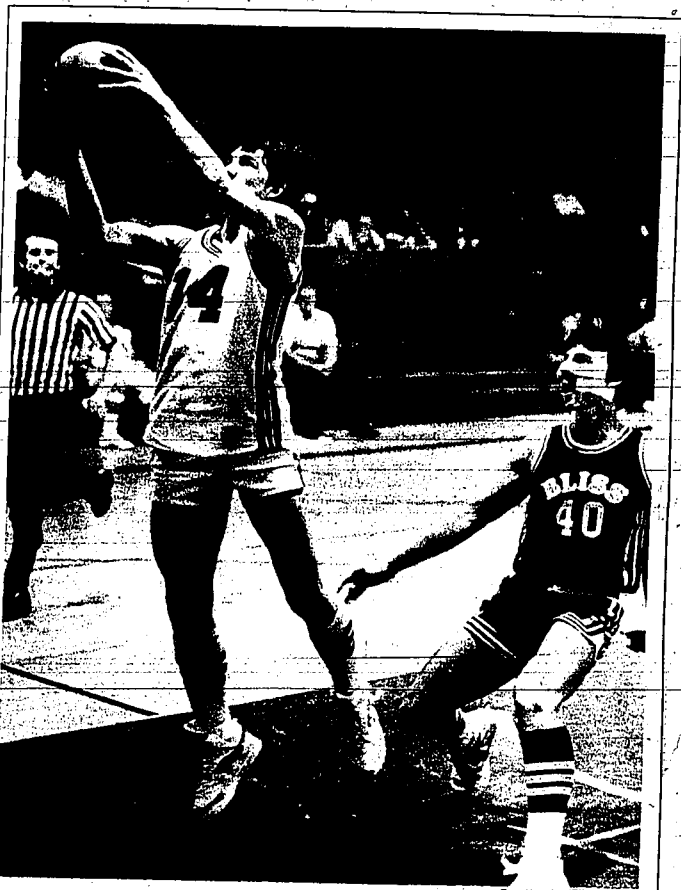

Late in the third quarter Glenns

Ferry remained relatively close, 27-16, when the Bulldogs mounted what Thompson labeled as one of their most productive offensive bursts. Brett Wright made both ends of a one-and-one with 1:50 left, Tom Ferrall banked in a turn-around jumper at 1:02 and Brent Atkinson followed in his own missed layup with eight seconds remaining to give Kimberly a commanding 15-point lead entering the final period.

Kimberly's Scott Livingston led all scorers with 12 points, followed by teammate Tim Ferrall with 11.

Castelford's Steve Zamora scores on a fast break in the Wolves' victory over Bliss Friday

Solons run amok over No. 2 Filer

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News writer

GOODING — Before the crowd had all filtered in Friday night, Gooding sophomores Brian Darcy and Todd Simis had shot the Filer Wildcats into submission.

Darcy hit seven points and Simis collected two three-pointers and a commercial field goal as the Senators jumped in front 19-4 in the opening eight minutes. But the teams played the rest of the game anyway, the Senators collecting a 70-47 victory.

It was simply a matter of intimidation as Gooding, perhaps the tallest if not the youngest team in the state, unlimbered its long arms underneath. Filer's game plan evidently was to take it to the tall timber inside and while that strategy got a few hits, it didn't force many fouls—what it did force was a lot of traveling calls as the shorter Wildcats inside tried to extricate themselves from the forest of trees.

Filer was called a minimum of 10 times for walking with the ball, but it overs it could ill afford against the Senators.

But Filer Coach Lloyd Gray wasn't certain Gooding was as dominating as the score indicated. "Yeah, our plan was to take it against their big men as much as we could," he confirmed. "But I think the big difference in the game happened earlier this week. (Filer center Elmer) Peters has been sick all week and (point guard Ben) Sackett sprained an ankle Tuesday. This is the first time he's walked on it since I think if we had been healthy it would have been a little closer."

Although Filer appeared out of it early, the Wildcats remained pesky. In the second quarter it climbed back to within nine points on several occasions and left at intermission behind 22-18.

In the first minute of the second half the illusion of a game appeared again as Greg Jarolimick hit a field goal and Gregg Add added a charity to pull the Wildcats to within one.

But Gooding's other tall sophomore, Swen Swenson, then moved centerstage to blunt that rally. He hit four straight points with a tip and a turn-around inside shot. Simis interrupted briefly with a three-point jumper before Swenson added a third field goal.

After Filer picked up two points from Jarolimick, Swenson wound up a nine-point burst by converting on a three-point play on the offensive glass.

CASTLEFORD — Alan Sample poured in 24 points Friday night and teammate Steve Zamora added 15 more as top-ranked Castleford breezed to a 61-30 victory over Bliss in the first round of the Castelford Invitational boys' basketball tournament.

In the other opening-round game, Wells, Nev., outlasted Hansen 67-63.

The Wolves, Idaho's top-ranked Class A-4 team, wasted little time against the Bears, expanding a 15-7 first quarter lead into a 33-11 halftime advantage.

Rich Owen scored 10 points for the Wolves, who improved their season record to 3-2.

In the earlier game, Hansen's Steve Elman — who had 16 points to his credit at the time — fouled out with one minute left to play, d.m. At 5 p.m., the Twin Falls Christian Academy will play the Wells junior varsity.

Elman had scored nine points in the fourth quarter and teammate Doug Larsen scored 10 of his 12 points in the final stanza to bring the Huskies back from a halftime deficit.

Tonight, Castelford will meet Wells for the tournament championship at about 8:30, while Hansen and Bliss will face off in the consolation game at about 8:30

Poised Bruins protect top ranking with big win at Nampa

NAMPA — Andy Toolson poured in 20 points Friday night and Jason Meyerhoefer added 16 more as the No. 1 ranked Twin Falls Bruins took a 64-48 non-conference prep basketball victory over Nampa here Friday night.

The Bruins took advantage of an unsuccessful attempt by the Bulldogs to control Toolson defensively.

"They went to a triangle-and-two and tried to zone with three," explained Bruin Coach Jerry Sackett. "It really hurt them, and I think it kind of broke their back psychologically. We got up by 12 and 14 points after that."

The Bruins led 41-22 at the half, and the Bulldogs never got closer than 12 points in the last 16 minutes.

"I thought the kids played better than we did last week (in the Bruins' 74-49 victory last Saturday)," said Astorquia. "We certainly played better on a consistency standpoint."

Twin Falls also did a much better job of controlling the game, Steve Halley, who scored 16 points and had a bunch of rebounds against the Bruins last week, was limited to 12 points Friday night and fouled out late in the game.

"We had Andy fronting Halley this time, and he was really frustrated," explained Astorquia. "He couldn't get

Skiing

Area's 'near-record snowfall makes for ideal fall skiing

TWIN FALLS — Ski resorts are reporting only the best in ski conditions for the weekend with several resorts offering record snow depths for this early in the season.

Woody Anderson, owner of Pomerelle and Magic Mountain, said both resorts have what may be all time records for December.

"We have been so busy digging out every day that I haven't had time to research the records," Anderson said.

At the present time, Pomerelle has 114 inches at the top of the ski runs and 90 inches at the lodge. He said this is the most December snowfall he has seen in the ten years he has operated Pomerelle.

At Magic Mountain, Anderson said, measurements show 78 inches at the lodge and 97 inches on top of the runs. He said he has never seen this amount of snow at the resort and former owners say as far as they know he has never seen it in December with the possible exception of the winter of 1948-49.

Twin Falls Highway District manager Floyd Dayley who has been involved with snow removal at the resort for many years said this winter is about on a par with the 1948-49 season thus far. That year, he said, the ski resort did not operate because highway crews could not even meet emergency road clearing needs in the valley. The resort owner spent the winter plowing roads to reach isolated farms and ranches for emergency assistance.

Pomerelle reported no new snow Friday for the first day in more than a week. However Anderson said it gained six inches of new snow Thursday while Magic added eight inches. Both report excellent skiing and newly cleared roads and parking areas.

Night skiing was cancelled Thursday at Pomerelle because of drifting at the base of the canyon "will be very bad" and there was very little wind at the resort but he received a call from the highway department asking that he clear the area because of the storm.

Sun Valley, where last winter proved a record snow year, reports almost as much snow this year. Terry Greason of the Sun Valley sport desk said currently the resort has 68 inches at the top of the mountain and all lifts are now open. The River side of the mountain opened Friday for the first time this season.

Greason said Sun Valley area had the greatest snow depth in 60 years last season.

"It looks like we are pushing that same direction again this year," he said.

At Soldier Mountain reports show 45 inches at the lodge and 94 inches on top of the ski slopes.

All resorts report roads are clear with bus service to Magic, Pomerelle and Soldier for the weekends. With the beginning of school vacation next week, resorts "will all be operating on a daily basis."

Big plays lift Miami

MIAMI — Reserve safety Mike Kozlowski returned interceptions 35 yards and 38 yards for touchdowns on a 58-second span in the fourth period Friday night to lift the Miami Dolphins to a 34-14 victory over the New York Jets.

The victory gave the Dolphins a 12-4 record and the home-field advantage in their first NFL playoff game on New Year's weekend against Pittsburgh, Denver, Seattle or Cleveland. Kozlowski was playing for starter Lyle Blackwood, who injured his left ankle earlier in the game. They were Kozlowski's first two interceptions of the year, and he raced untouched down the right sideline with both of them.

The scores put the game out of reach after quarterback Don Strock and kicker Ugo von Schamann had given the Dolphins a 20-14 lead over the Jets early in the fourth quarter. Strock threw two touchdown passes and von Schamann contributed field goals of 49 and 20 yards.

It also marked the Dolphins' fifth straight victory, their ninth in the last 10 games and their fifth in a row over the Jets, who finished the season at 7-8. It was the first time in 10 years the Dolphins won 12 games during the regular season.

The Jets kept it close, trading scores with the Dolphins through the first three quarters. But von Schamann put Miami ahead to stay with his 49-yarder late in the third quarter and added a 20-yarder with 10:44 left in the game. Then came Kozlowski's two touchdowns which came with 9:39 and 8:38 left in the game.

Strock had opened the scoring by flinging a 29-yard pass to Mark Duper but the Jets came back to tie it late in the first period with a 29-yard pass from Richard Todd to Freeman McNeil.

The Dolphins took a 14-7 halftime lead on Strock's 2-yard touchdown pass to David Overstreet but the Jets tied it again on a 5-yard halfback pass from McNeil to Martin Barber midway through the third period.

Von Schamann had come up with a sore leg in practice Wednesday and there had been some doubt whether he would be able to kick Friday. He had missed a 39-yarder in the second quarter when it hit his own linemen in the back.

McNeil's touchdown pass came when he robed to his right and flipped the ball over the heads of two Dolphins defenders to Barber for the touchdown that made it 14-14 with 6:44 left in the third quarter.

The play finished off an 80-yard drive that consumed more than five minutes.

Top-ranked Kentucky rolls to easy victory in own tourney

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Melvin Turpin scored 14 points and Sam Bowie contributed 13 to lead top-ranked Kentucky to a 66-40 romp over Wyoming Friday night in the opening round of the Kentucky Invitational.

Kentucky opened a 15-7 lead on a free-throw by Kenny Walker with 10:14 remaining in the first half. Walker had 10 points in a half that he held that eight-point margin three more times before pulling out to a 28-17 advantage with 1:08 left until halftime. At intermission, they led 31-21.

The Wildcats went into the second half with a 33-21 lead on a pair of free throws by Bowie. During the first nine minutes, two Wyoming players fouled out — Jamal Hoosey and Tony Martin, who had six points each.

Kentucky raced to a 43-29 lead on a jumper by Bret Bearup with 10:30 left. Over the next three minutes, the Wildcats scored seven straight points to pull out to a 50-29 lead and never looked back. Kentucky's biggest lead was 31-14 in the final margin.

Wyoming, 3-2, was paced by Tony Brown and Troy Washburn with 12 points each.

Leading 55-44 with 15:30 remaining, the Cougars used a 12-2 surge to pull within 57-56 with 12:21 to go. Brigham Young led 60-56 two minutes before finishing pulling ahead 64-53 on a basket by Mike Smith.

The one-point lead changed hands twice before the Cougars put the game away at 75-72 on a free throw by Scott Slawson with 1:08 left.

Also scoring in double figures for BYU, 3-2, was Brett Applegate with 17 points, Smith with 14, Chris Nikchevich 12 and Sinek 11.

Leading the attack for VCU, 4-1, were Mike Schlegel with 22 points and Calvin Duncan with 27.

each in the opening half. Center Mike Reddick led the Hatters with 10 points in the first half.

The Cougars grabbed the lead for good at the 11:21 mark of the first half on Anderson's 8-foot jumper for an 18-17 lead. Only the outside shooting of Hatters' guards Hernandez and Tim Shuler, with eight points each, kept the halftime score close.

Houston scored 13 straight points to open the second half and led by as many as 30 points. The Hatters could not get an effective inside offense and lost their leading scorer when Reddick fouled out with 18 points midway through the second half.

Guard Lynn Myrick, averaging 16 points per game for Stetson, could only connect on four free throws in the game.

The Mustangs will play Centenary, a 75-60 winner over Arizona State, in the final Saturday night.

SMU took a 46-37 halftime lead, but the Mustangs watched the advantage dwindle in the second half and had to rely on Moore's heroics to hold on.

John Harris led New Orleans with 28 points. Kevin Lewis added 17 for SMU, and the Mustangs' Larry Davis and Carl Wright each had 14.

The win boosted SMU to 6-1 on the year while New Orleans dropped to 4-4.

In the earlier game, Willie Jackson scored 27 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for Centenary. Centenary led by 44-30 at the half and increased the lead to 62-44 with 5:25 left. The Gentlemen, 3-4, shot 50 percent for the game and 61.1 percent in the second half.

Arizona State shot only 36.6 percent from the field for the game but held an edge in rebounds, 53-34.

Jim Deines led the Sun Devils, 3-3, with 13 points and eight rebounds. Tom Schmidt added 12 points for the Gentlemen.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI) — Tom Sewell scored 26 points and Jerry Everett added 24 for Lamar in a 91-61 victory over Northern Arizona Friday night in the first game of the Evansville Holiday Tournament.

Host Evansville played Georgia Southern in the second game.

Lamar led 31-23 with 7:30 to play in the first half. Sewell then hit three straight baskets and the Cardinals pulled away.

Sewell had 16 points in the first half, as Lamar, 5-2, took a 45-28 lead at halftime. Everett added 13 points and a game-high six assists, all in the first half.

The Lumberjacks, 4-3, were led by David Allen with 12 points and Mike Elliott with 11.

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — Freshman guard Bruce Dampole scored 12 points and Yvon Joseph collected 10 points and 10 rebounds to lead Georgia Tech to a 67-56 triumph over Pepperdine Friday night in the opening round of the Casaba Club Classic.

The Yellow Jackets, 3-1, advanced to take on the winner of Friday night's contest between host Pacific and Central Michigan.

Georgia Tech blew the contest open in the second half with hot shooting from the field. The Yellow Jackets hit 50 percent from the field.

John Salley and Scott Petway each contributed 10 points for the winners. Dwayne Foles and Grant Gondezick each had 14 for the Waves, 4-2.

Theismann's prestige on the line today

By United Press International

Washington quarterback Joe Theismann's fortunes after the New Jersey Generals of the USFL may become the biggest bargaining factor in improving his contract with the Redskins.

It would help tremendously in salary negotiations if Theismann could lead Washington to the NFC East title by beating the New York Giants Saturday and then carry the 'Skies to their second straight Super Bowl championship.

At an estimated salary of $315,000 this year, Theismann is one of the lowest paid quarterbacks in the National Football League.

The lowly Giants, 3-11, may be in for another slaughter if Theismann is on a roll. Last week, he threw two touchdowns in a 31-0 victory over Dallas that gave the Redskins a one-game lead over the Cowboys.

All three NFC titles will be decided this weekend. Detroit can clinch the Central Division by beating Tampa Bay Sunday and San Francisco can take the West with a win over Dallas Monday night. There's also a wild card berth up for grabs.

With their 13-2 record, the Redskins have a chance to become the first NFC team to win 14 games in a regular season. A victory over the Giants also will gain Washington the home-field advantage for their conference playoff games.

"For us, this is the game of the year," says Washington coach Joe Gibbs. "If we lose, everything we've done all year will, in all probability, be for nothing."

If the Redskins are upset and Dallas beats San Francisco, the Cowboys will win the division crown. The clubs would finish with the same record, but the Cowboys prevail on the basis of a better division record.

The Redskins need just four points against New York to become the highest-scoring team in NFL history. Houston holds the record with 513 points scored during the 1981 season.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry can reach a milestone if Dallas beats San Francisco. Landry is tied with Curly Lambeau for second place in career-coaching wins at 23. George Halas won 325 games with the Chicago Bears.

There is one other game on tap Saturday. Cincinnati is at Minnesota with neither club having a shot at the playoffs.

In other Sunday action, AFC Central champion Pittsburgh is at Cleveland. AFC West titlist Los Angeles faces San Diego, Denver is at Kansas City, Green Bay at Chicago, Los Angeles Rams at New Orleans, Buffalo at Atlanta, Houston at Baltimore and New England at Detroit.

The New Orleans Saints can erase two stigmas by beating the Rams Sunday. The Saints have never had a winning season in 16 previous years and have yet to win a playoff berth. Now they have an opportunity to overcome these failings. A victory will give New Orleans a 9-7 regular-season record and a wild card entry into the post-season clashes.

"It's hard to measure how important this game is to us," said New Orleans coach Bum Phillips. "But it is something we really need. This would establish the fact that we are good enough to be in the playoffs and good enough to win a big game."

The Saints must stop rookie Eric Dickerson, the NFL's leading rusher, if they expect to accomplish their objectives.

MINNEAPOLIS — The season is over for both the Minnesota Vikings and Cincinnati Bengals but for Wilson, Saturday's game is just the beginning.

Wilson, a third-year backup from East Texas State, will make his first NFL start at quarterback for the Vikings in one of several lineup changes made by Minnesota Coach Bud Grant.

Grant also switched running back Jarvis Redwine for Darrin Nelson, backup RB for the Bengals. McNeill, tackle Curtis Rouse for Steve Riley, guard Brent Boyd for Wes Hamilton and tight end Steve Jordan for Bob Ripper.

"The significance is none," Grant said. "These are all veteran players and it's recognition for their having played well—and practiced well. They've proven they can play."

Steve Dils, who became the regular quarterback this season when Tommy Kravetz went down with a knee injury, is probably happy to watch the game from the sidelines. Wilson will have to face the No. 1-ranked defense in the league.

"They do have excellent personnel and we'll just go with our same game plan," said Wilson, who has not played a single down this season. "I don't look at the change in quarterback changing our game plan."

The Bengals shut down Detroit's offense last weekend and limited the Lions to three field goals in a 17-9 Cincinnati win.

The top-ranked defense, which has held opponents to an average of 37.7 yards total offense per game, won't be a welcome sight for the Vikings, who have spluttered the second-half of the season, losing six of their last seven games.

"They have good team speed, they run well. They don't have any holes," Grant said of the Bengals. "They're on an upbeat. They had a bad start and now they're saying, 'Let's have as good a season as we can have.' They got their act straightened out at mid-season."

The Bengals, who opened with a 1-6 record, are 6-2 in their last eight games — just the opposite of the Vikings.

"I'd like to remember the second half of this year," said Cincinnati Coach Forrest Gregg. "I'd like to erase forever, forever, the first half and last off-season."

Part of Cincinnati's slow start was due to the absence of running back Pete Johnson and defensive end Ross Browner, both out for the first four because of drug suspensions. Browner will be playing against his younger brother, Joey, who was the Vikings' No. 1 draft choice and is used in the nickel-back defense at safety.

Although checking in at 272 pounds, Johnson has compiled four 100-yard games in seven starts, rushing for 118 yards on 28 carries and two touchdowns against Detroit. He tied his own team record of 14 touchdowns rushing with his two scores last week.

Although out of the playoffs, both teams end the game with 7-8 marks and both are aiming at a .500 season.

"I think they're playing as good football as anybody going into the playoffs this year," Wilson said.

"We're both out of the playoff picture but that doesn't mean either side will be playing with anything less than maximum effort," Grant said. "In this game, you play to win — no matter what the circumstances."

Fullerton, NIU still looking for respect

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Northern Illinois University and Fullerton State, two rag-to-riches teams written off as underdogs for their league titles, meet in the third annual California Bowl today.

The defense-minded Fullerton Titans, who captured the FCAA title with a 9-1 league mark, are considered slight underdogs to the Huskies, champions of the Mid-American Conference who finished at 9-2 overall. Fullerton's overall season record was 7-4.

Perennial doormats in the serial wars of the FCAA, the Titans were tabbed in most pre-season polls to finish last.

Instead they surprised everyone, including their coaches. The Titans won their first three games, dropped a non-league game to the University of Arizona, won four more games to clinch the league title and then lost their last three games to Idaho State, Utah and Nevada-Las Vegas.

"We played hard and made things happen," said Fullerton's Gene Murphy, the FCAA Coach of the Year. "In the past, we went out and found ways to lose. This year, it was the other way around."

Injuries contributed significantly to the final three losses but Murphy claims his players' spirits are undaunted.

"Even when we got the dog kicked out of us, we knew, from an emotional aspect, we were successful," Murphy said. "We have some high-caliber kids who wanted to win very badly."

NIU, picked in pre-season polls to finish sixth in the Mid-American Conference, got the season off to an auspicious start by upsetting Kansas 37-34. It was the Huskies' first league title since joining Division I in 1969.

The Huskies are led by quarterback Tim Tyrell, the Mid-American Conference Player of the Year, who passed for 1,290 yards and eight touchdowns and ran for another 539 yards and eight touchdowns.

He has been aided by diminutive tailback Darryl Richardson, a 5-4, 168-pound sophomore who picked up 1,204 yards rushing and scored 10 touchdowns.

The Huskies also can count on some points from kicker Vince Scott, who led the MAC in field goals (17-of-20), PAT conversions (29-of-31) and total points kicked (80).

NIU finished fourth in the MAC in total offense in scoring, piling up 294 points to 104 for opponents.

"We had good balance," said NIU coach Bill Mallory. "That was the key to our season. We were pretty good in all phases of the game. The offense put enough points on the board to win, and the defense was outstanding."

The NIU defense was ranked 15th in the nation, allowing 201.4 yards and 17.3 points a game.

Terps, Vols seek share of spotlight

By BILL LOHMANN

United Press International

ORLANDO, Fla. — The "down home" Maryland Terps and Tennessee Vols will reach for some national prestige today when they meet in the Citrus Bowl.

Both were lost in the national shuffle this season with 8-5 records. Maryland won the Atlantic Coast Conference, but was beaten by probation-plagued Clemson. Tennessee was among the Southeastern Conference also-rans.

But respect for each other runs high.

Citrus Bowl

"Tennessee has great team speed at every position, particularly with its skill people," said Maryland coach Bobby Ross. "I'd rate it comparable to that of Auburn, Clemson and North Carolina."

Vol coach Johnny Majors is equally praising of the 15th-ranked Terps.

"Boomer (Eaton) is probably the best quarterback we've faced all year," said Majors. "They have the most balanced offense we've faced all season.

"And don't underestimate their defense. It's going to be tough," said Eaton of the Vols. "They're just down-home folks like the people at Maryland."

The kickoff is scheduled for 6 p.m. MST in Orlando Stadium before a sellout crowd of 50,000.

Both teams enter the game healthy and both coaches agree a bowl game is no place to be innovative.

The Vols and Terps feature balanced offenses — Tennessee has versatile quarterback Alan Cockrell and speedy Johnnie Jones, while Maryland boasts Eaton and running back Willie Joyner.

Tennessee's defense is a bit more talented than Maryland's. Senior Vol tackle Reggie White is considered one of the nation's best, but the Terps held four opponents to a touchdown or less.

Tennessee leads the series with Maryland, 4-1. The Vols won the last meeting, 26-8, in 1975. In the 1974 Liberty Bowl, the Vols beat the Terps 23-

Ault is 'Sky coach of the year'

BOISE (UPI) — Nevada-Reno's Chris Ault was named Big Sky Conference football coach of the year Thursday, while Wolf Pack cross-country coach Jack Cook was voted the best in his class this season.

Both coaches were unanimous picks in balloting by the conference's athletic directors.

Ault, achieving the distinction for the first time, was honored after guiding the Wolf Pack to its first Big Sky football title with a 6-1 league record.

Nevada-Reno beat Idaho State and North Texas State in the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs before falling in the semifinals to Southern Illinois last weekend.

Ault has a 67-29-1 record in nine seasons at Reno. The Wolf Pack ended at 9-5 overall this season.

The 17-year coaching veteran Cook led Nevada-Reno's runners to their third conference cross-country title in five seasons.

The announcement Thursday marked the third time he had been named league coach of the year. He also has been picked once each as indoor track and outdoor track coach of the year in the Big Sky.

Crum gets 10-year contract

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Basketball coach Denny Crum has signed a 10-year contract through the 1992-93 season at the University of Louisville, the school said Friday.

Crum, in his 13th season with the Cardinals, has taken Louisville to the NCAA Final Four five times, including three of the last four seasons. Louisville won the national title in 1980 sparked by All-America guard Darrell Griffith.

Crum's 16th-ranked Cardinals are 3-2 on the season and face defending NCAA national champion North Carolina State Saturday at Raleigh, N.C.

Part of the new contract weren't disclosed.

"It's gratifying to know that the university appreciates my efforts enough to warrant this kind of commitment," said Crum, a player and assistant under then-UCLA coach John Wooden before he came to Louisville.

Crum underwent a six-hour operation in University Hospital, Newark, N.J., on Aug. 25, 1982, for removal of the tumor, but doctors were unable to remove it because the tumor was too close to vital areas of the brain.

The 5-foot-11, 205-pound back was noted as a runner who concealed head injuries and had a concussion last July 22, 1982, with 3,890 yards. The only Giants with better career rushing totals are Alex Webster, Ron Johnson and Frank Gifford.

Kotar, who played both halfback and fullback, saw action in just seven games in the two seasons before he retired due to a knee injury and separated shoulder.

The 31-year-old Kotar, who attended the University of Kentucky, as a free agent from Pittsburgh in 1974 and he finished first or second among the club's rushing leaders for the next six years.

He suffered a season-ending knee injury in the final exhibition game in 1980 and was sidelined for the final nine games in 1981 with a shoulder separation.

Bears' Plank signs with USFL

CHICAGO (UPI) — Former Chicago Bear defensive back Doug Plank signed a $1 million contract Friday with the Chicago Blitz of the U.S. Football League.

Plank, 30, an eight-season Bear veteran, said he decided to rejoin professional sports when the Blitz assured he would receive compensation if a recurring back injury began to nag him.

Plank decided not to offer Plank a contract last May after learning it was possible, because of the back injury, he could be paralyzed if hit the wrong way.

But Plank said Friday the Blitz's doctors indicated his type of injury is common among football players.

MLBPA blasts Kuhn

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Major League Players Association Friday blasted Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's decision to suspend four players for one year due to drug use, claiming "it is the government's responsibility, not the commissioner's, to administer the law."

Don Fehr, acting executive director of the Players Association, issued a lengthy statement one day after Kuhn suspended three members of the 1983 Kansas City Royals — first baseman Willie Aikens and outfielders Jerry Martin and Willie Wilson — and Los Angeles Dodgers reliever Steve Howe for one year without pay for "use of illegal drugs."

The Players Association said Kuhn's decision would be further examined over the weekend and a determination would be made whether to pursue a grievance.

Howe's suspension will not be reviewed until Dec. 15, 1984, but the other three players will have their case reviewed next May 15, with the possibility of reinstatement.

Michaels will coach Generals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt Michaels, the former head coach of the New York Jets, apparently will be the new head coach of the New Jersey Generals of the U.S. Football League, although his hiring won't be announced until next Tuesday.

A team spokesman said Friday the Generals would announce their new coach at a news conference Tuesday at Giants Stadium.

Michaels coached the New York Jets from 1977-82, posting a 39-47-1 record.

Bucs may sign Tekulke

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are nearing agreement with free-agent relief pitcher Kent Tekulke, it was reported Friday.

The Pittsburgh Press said next week will be the make-or-break week in discussions between the club and their long-time ace, but said Pirates executive vice president Harding Peterson was optimistic.

Petersen, who tried unsuccessfully to schedule talks last week, said the Pirates have "a lot in their offer to the sidearming Tekulke" and "they have come down."

Washington hands Celtics rare setback in Boston Garden

By United Press International

The Washington Bullets led a 12-point third-quarter lead vanish Friday night before rallying in the final minute to snap a six-game Boston winning streak with a 100-93 victory over the Celtics.

The Bullets, who had trailed through much of the early part of the game, took advantage of a 15-point second quarter by the Celtics to take a three-point halftime lead and moved into the best lead of the night with a series of runs in the third period. But Boston came back, overhauling the Bullets on Larry Bird's spectacular three-pointer at the buzzer to end the contest, 107-105. Washington, led by Jeff Ruland's 28 points, kept it close until the final few moments when reserve center-forward Joe Kopicki tossed in five points, his only scoring of the night. Philadelphia 115, Cleveland 105. Philadelphia's Moses Malone and Andrew Toney each tossed in 29 points to lead the Philadelphia 76ers to a victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers.

MLB

It was the 18th straight time that Philadelphia has defeated Cleveland in the spectrum. The Cavaliers last won at the home on Feb. 8, 1976. San Antonio 130, Indiana 83.

ML

In San Antonio, Texas, the San Antonio Spurs handed Indiana its 26th consecutive road loss by thrashing the Pacers 120-92. The Spurs scored 16 points in the second half to lead the Spurs to their fourth straight win.

Mike Mitchell added 17 and Artis Gilmore 16 as the Spurs' starters sat down after three quarters with an 82-63 lead. Milwaukee 105, Dallas 105. In Milwaukee, Bob Lanier scored 25 points and Marques Johnson added 21, including eight down the stretch, as the Milwaukee Bucks snapped a three-game losing streak with a victory over the Dallas Mavericks.

Agee quits board at Allied

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (UPI) — Former Bendix Corp. Chairman William Agee Friday resigned from the board of directors of Allied Corp., saying his efforts to contribute to Allied have "been discouraged."

Agee in June formally stepped down as president of Allied. The two companies merged in January after one of the most bizarre takeover episodes in business history.

Agee had stayed on the Allied board after his resignation as president of the Morristown, N.J., based firm. Bendix is based in Southfield, Mich.

The former Bendix executive told Allied Chairman Edward Hennessy, Jr., in a letter, that he was leaving the Allied board because of "the growing concern I have felt as my efforts to contribute have been discouraged." He did not elaborate.

Toyota November output up

TOKYO (UPI) — Toyota Motor Corp., Japan's leading automaker, rolled out 291,339 autos in November, up 9.5 percent from a year ago, the company reported Friday.

Toyota's performance far outstripped its main rival, Nissan Motor Co., whose auto output for the month posted a slight 0.5 percent gain to 219,470 units, Nissan said in a separate report.

Industrywide, output of all categories of motor vehicles for the month came to 974,602 units, up 5.9 percent from last year's level.

While Nissan's output of completed cars slackened, the company said production of knock-down sets in November soared 61.3 percent from a year ago to 20,480 units. Toyota also reported a 66.8 percent rise in its output knock-down sets, to 13,900 units.

Knock-down sets are unassembled motor kits designed largely for overseas markets.

Toyota's November figure brought the company's auto output for the first 11 months of the year to 3,011,672 units, up 3.9 percent from a year ago, and Nissans to 2,281,959 units, up 2.6 percent.

The total auto output in Japan for the January-November period came to 10,205,564 units, up 3.3 percent.

Salmon mill workers laid off

SALMON (UPI) — About 25 workers at Champton International Corp.'s Salmon mill were temporarily laid off after the completion of Thursday night shift.

The temporary layoff is due to production cutbacks, although the mill will continue to receive available logs and operate its shipping and planning departments, said Rod Bradley, a company official in Missoula, Mont.

"While the Salmon plant has been efficient and cost effective, we have not always been profitable," Bradley said. "Although our people have done an outstanding job of efficiently producing lumber, the existing market conditions and the lack of a continuous log supply have caused us some losses."

He said the company will monitor the timber supply and will inform workers when there is an adequate amount to resume full production.

Dixie cotton offsets decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An uptick in the cotton crop for the South and Southwest has more than offset a decline in the Far West.

That has led the Agriculture Department to raise its 1983 cotton estimate to 7.62 million bales, up 2 percent from last month's prediction.

But the crop was expected to be 36 percent smaller than last year.

Farmers reduced cotton acreage dramatically this year under the payment-in-kind program that promised commodities to those who cut back their acreage. Drought and storms cut output further over the growing months.

The Agriculture Department also reported the nation's orange crop will be 223 million boxes, unchanged from an estimate made two months ago and about the same as last season.

The grapefruit crop was expected to total 63.9 million boxes, unchanged from a November forecast and 11 percent above last season. The lemon crop estimate was reduced by 1 percent to 26.5 million tons, 12 percent larger than last season.

Domestic steel output slips

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Domestic steel production slipped 1.1 percent last week but stood well above depressed year-ago levels, the American Iron and Steel Institute said.

The nation's steelmakers produced 1,681,000 net tons of raw steel in the week ended Dec. 10, down from 1,710,000 net tons the week before, the Washington-based industry lobbying group said.

Steel mills operated at 58.6 percent of capacity, a decline from 59.3 percent.

But both weeks surpassed the dismal 1982 performance, when steel mills ran at only 54.3 percent of capacity to produce 1,014,000 net tons.

So far this year, American steelmakers have run at 55.4 percent of maximum and produced 76,600,000 net tons, up from 48.9 percent and 68,073,000 during the same period in 1982.

Chevrolet to supply vehicles

DETROIT (UPI) — Chevrolet said it has been awarded a $68.3 million contract by the General Services Administration for 12,571 1984 cars, vans and trucks.

The contract calls for 10,663 four door Chevrolet Citations; 1,617 Celebrity sedans and wagons; 48 Impala sedans and 243 vans, pickups and light-duty trucks. The vehicles will be delivered in the first five months of 1984.

More drilling rigs start work

HOUSTON (UPI) — The number of drilling rigs looking for oil and gas in the United States was up again last week.

Hughes Tool Co. of Houston, which keeps up with drilling activity, said the count climbed 42 to a total of 2,746 rigs.

Price report sends stocks up

By FRANK W. SLUSSER
United Press International

NEW YORK — Alled by an unexpected drop in producer prices, the stock market ground out its first gain in four sessions Friday.

Investors remained nervous about high interest rates.

Selected blue-chip issues and some high-technology stocks were leaders in an afternoon rally that almost ran out of steam. Oil stocks eased after Southland's Citgo unit lowered crude prices.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which skidded 8.86 Thursday, gained 5.38 to 1,242.17. But the closely watched average lost 17.89 for the week overall and is down 45.03 points since hitting a record high of 1,287.20 on Nov. 29.

The Dow Jones transportation average rose 4.39 to 586.15 but the Dow utility average lost 0.53 to 181.09.

The New York Stock Exchange index added 0.33 to 83.86 and the price of an average share increased 12 cents. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose 0.72 to 162.39. Advances edged declines 798-770 among the 2,029 issues traded.

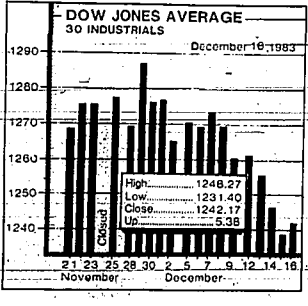

Big-Board volume totaled 21,030,000 shares; down from the 28,300,000 traded Thursday.

Many investors stayed on the sidelines to wait for the Federal Reserve's report after the market closed that showed the nation's money supply rose $5.5 billion in the latest statistical period. The rise was expected.

"The afternoon rally was a matter of bargain hunting," said Barry Berlin of Shearson-American Express. "It was not a broad move and it didn't appear to be really significant."

Berlin said the rally was normal and might continue early next week considering the fact prices had plunged over the past two weeks. But "high interest rates are restraining a large move up," he said.

Stocks spurred at the outset after the government reported producer prices dropped a surprising 0.2 percent in November. According to some analysts, the surprising decline could allow the Fed to ease credit a bit.

Bonds rose following the wholesale price figures. But federal funds rate banks charge one another remained at a high 7 1/2 percent level.

The government also reported factories operated at 79.2 percent of capacity in November, up from 78.7 percent in October.

Composite volume of NYSE issues listed on all U.S. exchanges and over the counter totaled 99,411,690 shares down from 104,789,200 Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange index added 0.03 to 219.62 and the price of a share rose one cent. Declines topped advances 309-288 among the 810 issues traded. Composite volume totaled 7,533,655 shares compared with 8,212,600 Thursday.

The National Association of Securities Dealers Index of OTC stocks rose 0.66 to 276.01.

On the trading floor, American Telephone & Telegraph was the most active NYSE-listed issue, up 1/4 to 63 1/2. AT&T when-issued stock followed, up 1/4 to 18 1/2.

Among the regionals, Bell Atlantic when-issued gained 3/4 to 67 1/2 and U.S. West 1/4 to 58 1/2. Ameritech when-issued lost 1/4 to 6 1/2, BellSouth 1/4 to 54 1/2, NYNEX 1/4 to 62 1/2 and Pacific Teles 1/4 to 57 1/2. Southwestern Bell was unchanged at 58 1/2.

American Express, which rose 1/4 Thursday, was third, up 1/4 to 30 1/2. The stock was jolted earlier this week after Amexco's Fireman's Fund unit said it would have a fourth-quarter loss.

IBM, a 2 1/2-ticker the previous two sessions, rose 1 1/2 to 120 1/2. Hitachi, which has been charged with technology theft by IBM, lost 3/4 to 33 1/2. The company has asked Tokyo University to switch software in a large computer to IBM.

Among the other high-technology issues, Honeywell gained 1 1/2 to 13 1/2, Burroughs 1 1/4 to 49 1/2, Motorola 1 1/4 to 13 1/2 and Digital Equipment 1 1/2 to 70 1/2.

McDermott Douglas, which agreed to buy Hughes Helicopter Inc. for $170 million, jumped 1 1/2 to 56 1/2.

General Motors rose 1/4 to 34 1/2, Ford 1/4 to 40 1/2 and Chrysler 1/4 to 26 1/2. A federal judge court said the Environmental Protection Agency could not order the recall of cars more than five years old or with more than 59,000 miles.

Borg Warner gained 1/4 to 24 1/2 and Eaton Corp. 1 1/2 to 32 1/2. Analysts and these companies should benefit from a pickup in the automobile industry, which is relying more on outside firms for parts.

Southland Corp. added 1/4 to 38 1/2. Southland's Citgo Corp. unit lowered its crude oil prices by $1-20 a barrel because of slack demand.

Among the other oil issues, Ohio Standard lost 1/4 to 40 1/2, Indiana Standard 1/4 to 48 1/2.

Woolworth plans to revamp Twin Falls store

By BOB FREUND
Times-New Writer

TWIN FALLS — The F.W. Woolworth Co. will revamp its store at the Blue Lakes Shopping Center this spring.

The renovation will allow the store to gain more shopping space and to display merchandise in separate departments, store manager Jim Maslaniak said Friday.

The Twin Falls store will become the first in the company's 13-state Pacific region to undergo a drastic facelift, he said.

"It will be a department-store atmosphere with the Woolworth low prices," Maslaniak says.

The project, estimated to cost between $300,000 and $500,000, will begin about Feb. 1, he says.

The store's layout will change markedly. Individual departments for merchandise such as clothing, beauty aids, electronics, sporting goods and housewares will open up off a main aisle, designed to direct customers around the store, the manager says. The departments will be partitioned by "thin walls and many will be carpeted."

Some sections in the current layout will be expanded to stock more goods. Fabrics, apparel, purses, sporting goods and shoes will gain space, Maslaniak says. A plant boutique will feature cut flowers.

Other sections will not survive the renovation. The snack bar will be eliminated. The furniture department will be discontinued, although collapsible types of furniture, such as bookshelves, will remain. Major appliances, such as washing machines and dryers, also will go.

Standard Woolworth's departments, which include candies, housewares, beauty aids and others, will be redesigned.

The store is changing its floor plan to make shopping easier for the customer and to get more efficient merchandising, Maslaniak says.

The renovation is expected to be completed near the end of March, he says.

F.W. Woolworth, which is based in New York, operates about 2,100 stores in the United States and abroad.

Although not a major company, Woolworth outlets, the Twin Falls store consistently ranks among the top 10 in sales in the Pacific region, Maslaniak says.

USSR buys more grain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the second Soviet purchase of American wheat announced this week, the Agriculture Department said Friday Moscow has bought 100,000 tons of hard red winter wheat.

On Thursday, officials announced a sale of 150,000 tons of hard red winter wheat to Moscow.

With Soviets actively buying grain in September and December, their purchases now total 6.7 million tons of American grain, of which 3.6 million are corn and nearly 3.1 million are wheat; and 400,000 tons of soybeans.

Successor to retiring Frye Moore Group picks Humphreys

BOISE — Fred C. Humphreys has been appointed president and chief executive officer of Moore Financial Group.

The appointment is effective Jan. 1.

Humphreys is currently president and chief operating officer of the holding company and also is president and chief executive officer for Idaho First National Bank, its principal affiliate.

Thomas C. Frye, the current chairman, said he feels Humphreys has the qualities necessary to carry out the successful management of the holding company. Frye will retire on June 30, 1984.

"There is no one better qualified to be CEO of Moore Financial Group," Frye said. "With his experience, talent and management capabilities, Fred Humphreys will lead this company to continued success. I will serve as chairman of the board of directors until my retirement and be available for an orderly transition of duties until that time."

Frye became board chairman of Idaho First in 1977 after he chosen president in 1970 and chief executive officer a year later. He held those positions until the holding company in 1981. Moore Financial now operates subsidiaries in Utah and Oregon and has an office in Spokane.

Humphreys joined Idaho First in 1950 and advanced to executive vice president in 1970. A director since 1969, he became president and chief operating officer in 1977 and chief executive officer in 1982. With formation of Moore Financial Group in 1981, he became president of the holding company.

Humphreys has been active in civic, business, charitable and governmental fields and is currently a board member of Intermountain Gas Co., Sunshine Mining Co., St. Albans Regional Medical Center and the Salt Lake City branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

Group legal plans becoming popular

From a mere couple of hundred thousand as recently as the mid-1970s, group legal benefit plans have skyrocketed to about 10 million — an indication of apparently rivalling health insurance policies.

Pioneered by unions, the concept has spread so widely and rapidly that an estimated 50 million of us will be subscribing to the plans by the end of this decade.

The plans are not really new. As far back as the early 1890s, police benevolent associations and railroad brotherhoods offered legal programs to their members. The United Automobile Workers-General Motors contract settlement provides for a 3-cent-per-hour allocation to support an in-house staff of attorneys to service half a million employees and retirees.

As another illustration, the large New York State Teachers Union offers its members, for under $100, the following services by contract, outside law firms: unlimited phone advice and consultation; free legal letters written resulting from phone consultation; reviews of simple documents (leases); a free simple will with annual revision.

An issue cannot be resolved on the phone (80 percent of the inquiries), the members are referred to nearby cooperating attorneys who charge reduced and sometimes capped fees. An attorney may not charge more than $50 for an uncontested divorce, for instance; within this capped rate, the hourly rate is $50, not $75 to $150. Personal injury cases also are handled at reduced fees.

The program is coordinated by the Long Island, N.Y., law firm of Burger, Krasser, Feldman & Kirschner which also maintains quality control of the system and monitors the performance of attorneys.

Employers, insurance companies, credit unions, other organizations have joined unions in offering a variety of group legal benefit plans.

The plans are successful because they fill a need of the public for legal advice. The American Bar Association estimates that 600,000 attorneys in our country serve only 10 percent of the population. Group plans, which emphasize unlimited phone service and reduced fees, are encouraging Americans to seek advice and counsel.

"This access is saving Americans money, time and anguish and is humanizing the legal profession," says Lewis S. Burger, president of Nationwide Legal Services, a marketer and administrator of group legal benefit plans throughout the United States. Burger points out that most of us are intimidated by the thought of writing a will and are totally ignorant of estate law.

"Of the 10,000 households enrolled in the New York State United Teachers Group Plan, more than 4,000 have drawn up a will," Burger stresses. In comparison, the ABA estimates that 90 percent of the general public do not have wills, despite the obvious need.

The time we are approaching when group legal benefit plans will be included in all benefit packages, union or non-union. Employers can afford this benefit and employees will welcome it. In fact, it might cut down on the "do-it-yourself" craze by one phone call by
