OSHA slaps packer with $4.3 million fine

Knight-Ridder Service

WASHINGTON — The Occupational Safety and Health Administration hit John Morrell & Co. with a record $4.3 million fine Friday for safety violations at its meat-packing plant in Sioux Falls, S.D.

The violations were so severe almost half the workers were injured in a single year.

"This case involves an employer who knew about a serious health hazard, saw the tragic toll on its workers and chose to ignore it," said John Pendergrass, head of OSHA.

Hundreds of workers were hurt, some crippled for life, because management refused to make simple changes in plant operations even though Morrell had known about the problems since 1984, Pendergrass said.

Morrell's own records show that 800 of the plant's 2,000 workers sustained serious and sometimes disabling injuries between May 1987 and April 1988, OSHA said.

In a public statement, John Morrell said it considered the latest fine, the largest ever imposed on a single employer, "grossly unfair and totally unjustified."

U.S. red ink hits $155 billion

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The federal budget deficit, after dramatically improving last year, grew in fiscal 1988 to $155.1 billion, the Reagan administration reported Friday.

The administration's final accounting for the budget year that ended Sept. 30 showed that the imbalance between revenues and spending rose $5.4 billion, or 3.6 percent, from the previous year's $149.7 billion deficit.

But Treasury Secretary Nicholas F. Brady, in a joint statement with the White House Office of Management and Budget, said "the underlying trend in the deficit ... remains downward."

The 1988 budget gap was still well below the slow economic growth, cutting into tax collections and producing a deficit as high as $185 billion.

The administration said its mid-summer projection was off because it underestimated spending by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the owned Conrail freight railroad and a one-day shift of military pay from 1987 into 1988 either shrank the 1987 deficit or inflated the 1988 gap.

Excluding the one-time factors, the deficit would have fallen by $31.1 billion between 1987 and 1988, he said.

Red ink for the year exceeded both the initial administration projection of $146.7 billion issued in February and the updated estimate of $152.3 billion released in July. It hit the Congressional Budget Office projection of $155 billion nearly exactly.

However, the deficit was well below initial projections of private economists who feared last year that the October stock market crash would slow economic growth, cutting into tax collections and producing a deficit as high as $185 billion.

The administration said its mid-summer projection was off because it underestimated spending by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the agency that rescues insolvent savings institutions. The board spent $3.1 billion in fiscal 1988, $3 billion more than expected.

The board, in a spate of activity from mid-August through the end of September, rescued more than 60 savings and loans. However, much of the spending doesn't show up on the budget immediately and analysts say assistance to the ailing S&L industry could contribute $16 billion a year to the deficit over the next three years.

There have now been deficits in 27 of the past 28 years, running up a total accumulated national debt of $2.61 trillion. The last year the United States had a budget surplus was 1969, when government revenues exceeded spending by $3.2 billion.

The administration is predicting it will whittle down the budget deficit for the current fiscal year to $145.5 billion, but most private analysts expect

FAA says DC-9s due for checks

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The Federal Aviation Administration announced Friday it plans to order an in-depth inspection of all DC-9 aircraft after uncovering cracks in three planes.

The agency "uncovered a series of small cracks in three DC-9 aircraft," flown by Northwest Airlines and US Air Group Inc., said FAA spokesman Bob Buckhorn. "As a result of this finding, FAA plans to order shortly an in-depth inspection of the DC-9 fleet."

The FAA is awaiting completion of inspections already under way before ordering the inspection of all DC-9 aircraft, he said.

"The cracks, the longest of which was approximately one inch, are located in the uppermost area of the fuselage over the wing," he added.

The announcement came a day after the FAA tightened the schedule for inspection and replacement of 7,200 rivets on almost 300 of the oldest Boeing 737s. The roof of one of those planes, flown by Aloha Airlines, tore off during flight April 28, killing one person and injuring 61.

The agency said the cracks in the DC-9s, manufactured by Douglas Aircraft Co., a division of McDonnell Douglas Corp., were not as serious and "in no manner comparable to the recent cracks discovered in Boeing 737 aircraft fuselage joints," and noted that corrosion was not a factor in any of the crack development.

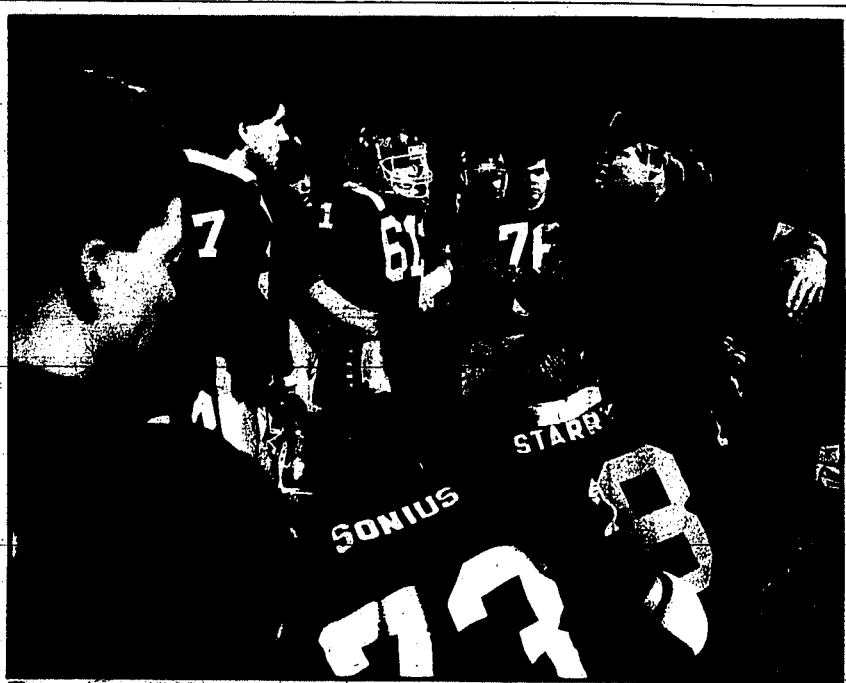

A USAir official said the company was inspecting its fleet of 74 DC-9s and had found several cracks in the aircraft.

"We have found several cracks in the stringers, a joining piece of metal," said spokesman David Shipley. "These cracks seem to be located in the section over the forward emergency exit window and back about eight rows. But we have found nothing of a serious nature. These are not cracks of major structural systems."

The company said only 37 of its aircraft would be included in the inspection.

Officials at Northwest were unavailable Friday night for comment on the FAA's proposed action.

The agency emphasized that the cracks do not mean the passenger jets are unsafe.

Dart, ATV bans win panel OK

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Lawn darts could be removed from the nation's store shelves before Christmas under a ban voted Friday by the federal Consumer Product Safety Commission.

The action does not include a recall of the games already in people's homes, however, which prompted Commissioner Carol Dawson to issue a plea to parents to keep the darts out of the hands of children.

In addition to the ban on lawn darts, the safety agency voted to extend indefinitely a ban on the sale of three-wheeled all-terrain vehicles. It directed its staff to continue to pursue development of a safety standard for four-wheeled versions of the off-road machines.

"The commission today finally did what we should have done a long time ago," Commissioner Anne Graham said. "What limited recreational value lawn darts may have is far outweighed by the number of serious injuries and unnecessary deaths."

The action came as an 11-year-old Tennessee girl lay in a coma after a lawn dart penetrated her brain. Amy Herrin was reported in critical condition at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville.

Over the last decade as many as 6,700 injuries have been reported involving the darts, including 150 to 200 cases in which the dart penetrated someone's skull, the commission was told. At least three deaths have occurred, the agency said.

Friday's vote directed the agency staff to prepare an official notice of the ban by Nov. 4. If the commissioners then approve the legal language, the ban would be published in the Federal Register, taking legal effect 30 days afterwards.

Earlier, the commission voted 2-1 vote to approve safety standards for all-terrain vehicles, which effectively ban three-wheeled versions of the machines.

Last January the manufacturers of the machines agreed to stop selling the three-wheeled ATVs in a consent agreement that won approval from a federal judge in the spring.

The vote extends indefinitely the agreement to halt sales.

Dukakis talks upset, Bush cites prosperity

By The Associated Press

Democrat Michael Dukakis called the dwindling days before the election a political "eternity" with enough time to pull off an upset, while Republican rival George Bush accused him on Friday of wanting to "leapfrog the prosperity."

The Democrat said the race was "tightening up all over the country." And he said that Bush, leading in the polls with 11 days to go, was hiding "in his little cocoon," with advisers afraid to let him engage in news programs' give-and-take while Dukakis has been appearing on many such programs.

Bush, speaking to a group of businessmen in Los Angeles, said that as Americans step into voting booths, they should keep peace and prosperity in mind.

"Peace means you can sleep at night knowing the world will still be there in the morning; prosperity means you can sleep at night knowing that opportunity will still be there in the morning," the vice president said.

Despite a pledge to shun negative campaigning between now and the election, Bush also stayed on the attack, warning that Dukakis "wants to torpedo the prosperity we've worked so hard to achieve."

"I ask you to consider: What kind of morning would electing the liberal governor of Massachusetts bring? Will it be gloomy?" Bush asked. "Will the dark clouds of pessimism and limited possibility obscure our vision?"

Bush also disputed Dukakis' assertion that American families have been able to keep up financially only because more women have been working outside their homes.

"Frankly, that strikes me as sexist — because it implies that women wouldn't work unless they had to," the GOP presidential nominee said.

Bush also spoke at the California Highway Patrol Academy in Sacramento and received endorsements from the California Correctional Peace Officers Association and the International Association of Correctional Officers.

In his remarks there, he said, "You might almost say that the Democratic Party today suffers from a split personality with a rank and file made up of some of the best of America, the silent majority. ... But the leadership, much of it, is a remnant of the '60s, the new left, those campus radicals grown old, the peace marchers and the nuclear

Extra expenses squeezing foster parents out, officials contend

By JENNIFER KAUTH Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Foster parents are a crucial resource that is dwindling because volunteers have had to reach into their own pockets, child protection officials say.

At a Thursday night forum, foster parents told of shopping the sales and buying decor by the case, of replacing hairpray every other day and of trying to keep hairbrushes in the house — expenses that can make state reimbursement inadequate.

The extra expenses that come with being foster parents can reach more than $100 per child per month — and Idaho foster parents don't even get reimbursed for diapers, they complained.

Child protection officials, who organized the meeting to share funding figures with legislative candidates and the public, called on the Legislature to correct the inequity.

According to American Public Welfare Association figures, Idaho consistently places near the bottom of the scale when it comes to reimbursing foster parents for expenses. That makes it increasingly difficult, financially, to shelter the children who have been neglected, sexually abused, abandoned or physically abused in their own homes, said Pharis Stanger, a caseworker with the state's Child Protection Services.

Lobbying efforts last year to increase funding for foster care programs failed, but supporters say they will approach the Legislature again this year.

Idaho ties South Carolina for last place in money allocated to those who care for 2-year-olds. The state ranks second to last for 3-year-olds and third to last in the nation for 16-year-olds.

"We lose good people who would like to help but can't because they can't afford it anymore," said Bob Livingston of Kimberly, a foster parent of more than 15 years.

Foster care children get a $100-a-year clothing allowance and a Medicaid card. And foster parents are reimbursed up to a certain amount for additional costs for each child.

Officials said the agency's new philosophy of trying to keep children with their birth parents unless the children are in danger has not decreased the need for foster homes. They said it takes an average of 12 phone calls to find a place for a child, and some children remain in abusive environments because of the lack of foster homes.

The number of available foster homes has decreased during the past five years — from 128 in 1983 to the 66 homes currently licensed in the Magic Valley.

In addition, some of the volunteer fill-in parents may only be able to afford to shelter children for the first 30 days, when reimbursement payments are higher. Even with the higher payments, however, the foster parents may still be reaching into their own

Gem court won't hear tax case

BOISE (AP) — A divided Idaho Supreme Court has refused to reconsider its earlier decision voiding attempts by the state Tax Commission to collect income taxes on the wages earned by railroad workers on through-trains crossing the Panhandle.

In the 32 ruling issued Friday, Justice Byron Johnson rejected the commission's objections to his original opinion that freed Burlington Northern Railroad workers from Idaho tax liability on earnings while they drove trains between Montana and Washington state.

As in the original May 25 opinion blocking the taxation scheme, Chief Justice Alan Shepard and Justice Robert Baker agreed with Johnson.

Justices Robert Hundley and Stephen Bistline dissented, voting to have the court reconsider the entire matter.

Thousands of Czechs rally in square

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — About 5,000 people defied authorities by rallying in historic Wenceslas Square on Friday, then shouting "Shame!" and "Gestapo!" at police who cleared them with clubs and water cannon.

Powerful jets of water slashed indiscriminately into the crowd, knocking some people over and sending others fleeing down side streets.

The state news agency CTK said 87 people were arrested. Western journalists saw police beating some of the demonstrators with clubs and plainclothes officers twisted the arms of others while leading them to police buses.

Hundreds of police, some with dogs on leashes, swarmed through the plaza to disperse the thousands of all ages who assembled on the 70th anniversary of Czechoslovak independence to demand reform and greater freedom.

Police fired tear gas into a crowd of several hundred people watching from the steps of the National Museum overlooking the square, which stretches for half a mile in central Prague.

Ortega says U.S. resupplied Contras

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — President Daniel Ortega told the nation Friday the United States took advantage of the devastation spread here by Hurricane Joan to resupply the rebels and order 3,000 of them to re-enter Nicaragua.

Ortega charged that the U.S. government "is trying to do as much or more damage than the hurricane."

He accused Reagan of instructing the rebels, known as Contras, to "sabotage and slow reconstruction work and delay the coffee harvest," economically vital to Nicaragua's economy.

In Washington, State Department press officer Anita Stockman denied Ortega's allegations. "No U.S. military aid is being provided to the Contras at this time," she said.

Rebel spokesman Bosco Matamoros said in Washington that the Contras are receiving only humanitarian aid from the United States.

Anti-abortion demonstrators held

By The Associated Press

At least 120 demonstrators were arrested in three states Friday as anti-abortion activists kicked off a weekend of protests calling for pickets or blockades at abortion clinics in 32 cities.

Operation Rescue founder Randall Terry, whose group organized the protests, was among at least 50 demonstrators who were arrested Friday morning as they picketed an abortion clinic in Vestal, N.Y.

Vestal Police Chief Frank J. Croom said those arrested will be charged with resisting arrest and trespassing. Terry could face additional charges, including conspiracy to commit a crime, he said.

In Mary Esther, Fla., sheriff's deputies arrested 34 anti-abortion demonstrators who had blocked the doors of a clinic operated by Family Planning of Fort Walton Beach. Those arrested were among about 120 protesters who converged upon the clinic in the Florida Panhandle suburb.

In Indianapolis, 40 protesters were arrested after they blocked entrances to two women's clinics. Police said they were charged with criminal trespass.

Ohioans demand plant site cleanup

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — People who live near a uranium processing plant that spilled some 200,000 pounds of radioactive dust into the environment went on television Friday, complaining of health problems and demanding the facility be cleaned up.

Cancer and birth defects were among the chief complaints raised on the Phil Donahue Show by people who live near the Feed Materials Production Center, which is in Fernald about 18 miles northwest of Cincinnati.

The plant has been widely criticized since the DOE admitted in January 1985 that at least 200,000 pounds of uranium oxide dust had been released into the atmosphere from the plant during its 37 years of operation.

DOE officials said last week they have no plans to close the plant and have already begun a 10-year, $500 million program to clean up and modernize it.

Fine

Milton Schloss, Morrell's chairman and chief executive officer, said in an interview that he considers the fine politically motivated.

OSHA said that most injuries resulted from the company's failure to give workers a break from repetitive motions that crippled tendons, muscles and nerves in hands and arms.

Workers often were returned to the same jobs within a day after surgery for these "cumulative trauma disorders." The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health recommends 30 to 60 days off after surgery.

Pendergrass said that the incidence of cumulative trauma disorders at the Sioux Falls plants was nine times the manhandling average and 600 times the average in all U.S. industries.

Deficit

less progress.

The flood of government red ink has been blamed for the nation's chronic trade imbalance, for holding interest rates above historic averages and for helping to trigger last year's stock market crash.

President Reagan and congressional leaders last winter struck a budget pact after the crash that has held the deficit almost to the 1987 level. But economists say there won't be additional savings without painful spending cuts or a tax increase.

Analysts also expect the Federal Reserve Board to fight inflation by nudging up interest rates to slow the economy. Higher interest rates will add to the escalating cost of financing the accumulated national debt, while slower growth will cut into tax revenue.

A bipartisan commission on the deficit has been meeting since summer and after the Nov. 8 election will offer the new president its recommendations.

However, Republican nominee George Bush has promised to reject the recommendation if it includes a tax increase. Democrat Michael Dukakis, while promising to consider the report, so far has proposed no tax increases and few spending cuts.

The federal government spent a record $1.064 trillion during fiscal 1988, up 6 percent from 1987. Receipts were $309 billion, up 6.4 percent from a year earlier.

The largest spending categories were the military, followed by Social Security—interest on the national debt and other programs in the Department of Health and Human Services.

Military spending totaled $29.9 billion in 1988, up 2.9 percent from the same period a year earlier. Spending for Social Security totaled $24.2 billion, up 5.8 percent. Interest on the national debt was a record $24.1 billion, up 9.6 percent.

The other HHS programs, including Medicare and Medicaid, spent $139.0 billion in 1988, up 6.7 percent.

france activists." Dukakis wound up a trip to Missouri suggesting his campaign could be struck by the same political lightning that returned favorite son Harry Truman to the White House in 1948.

"In politics, as you all know, 11 days is an eternity," Dukakis said at a morning rally at a Kansas City Baptist church before he flew to Detroit. "There is time to do it."

Truman's name has been invoked by both sides in the campaign, but the late president's son-in-law said Friday the Republicans cannot lay claim to his memory.

Clifton Daniel, who married Margaret Truman, said President Reagan was "talking nonsense" when he said the feisty Democrat would be a Republican if he were alive today.

"President Truman would shoot himself before he became a Republican," Daniel said in an interview with an Iowa radio station.

Dukakis' trip to the Detroit suburbs brought him to within a few miles of the factory where the belated candidate's ride in a tank a few weeks ago — to show his support for building up conventional forces — turned into a public relations disaster. The Republicans even used film of it in a commercial to ridicule him.

"Let me tell you why I was in that tank factory," Dukakis said. "I care about those people. I care about what they're making."

Recalling a remark Bush made while watching Soviet tank maneuvers in Europe, Dukakis said, "I am very concerned when a vice president of the United States who wants to be president comes back from Europe and says to the American people, 'I'd like to bring some of those Soviet mechanics over here to tell American workers what to do.'" pockets to help cover expenses.

His paraphrase of Bush's words brought boos from the crowd in Warren, Mich., where tanks are manufactured.

"Our major emphasis is to work with the entire family," Stanger said. "If we do have to place the child in another home, then our outside goal is to have things rectified within a year. Our optimistic goal is to get the family back together as soon as possible, hopefully within six months."

He said kids are only removed from the home as a last resort, when the abuse does not stop or the perpetrator does not leave.

As many as 90 percent of foster children have been sexually abused, according to officials. There are 88 foster care children in the Magic Valley, and 96 others are under state observation but still at home.

Some children may need refuge for only a month, but some may stay a year or more before a permanent residence is found or the problems at home have been resolved.

Of 66 licensed homes in the area, officials estimated only 50 to 55 can house children at any given time.

"When we need to place a child, when a crisis comes up, we don't have enough flexibility. There's not always a home available," said Dale Wahlquist, a Burley caseworker.

Despite the lack of funding, foster parents at the meeting said they will continue to care for the children who need them.

"I have never met a foster parent who said it wasn't worth it," said Shirley McClellan, a Twin Falls foster parent.

CHATEL APPRAISAL SERVICES

The Farmers Home Administration is soliciting bid proposals to provide chattel appraisals and loan servicing for FmHA loan making functions. Appraisal experience in chattel property is required. Price, while not a controlling criterion, will be an important evaluation factor in selecting a contractor under this solicitation. However, the Government may award this contract to other than the lowest priced technically acceptable proposal if another proposal's technical merit justifies the additional cost. Solicitations will be received at the Gooding County Office, FmHA, 157 Main Street, Gooding, Idaho 83330, until 3:00 p.m., Monday, 14 November, 1988. Givens sets up 2-way telecast in bid for seat in 1st District

By The Associated Press

State Rep. Jeanne Givens is trying a new approach in her bid for Idaho's 1st District congressional seat.

Monday night, she will use the satellite television facilities at Boise State University in a two-way telecast to much of the district. Viewers on cable systems in southwestern Idaho and the Coeur d'Alene area will be encouraged to call in with questions for Mrs. Givens, who is running against Republican incumbent Rep. Larry Craig.

Meanwhile, Craig scheduled stops in seven small western communities as part of his 17-day motorhome tour of the district. Craig has been on the tour around his congressional duties since Oct. 17 and planned to hit Horseshoe Bend, Banks, Smiths Ferry, Cascade, Donnelly, Lakefork and McCall on Friday.

In the 2nd District, Gov. Cecil Andrus and other Democrats were on hand in Boise as Democratic incumbent Rep. Richard Stallings launched his "Victory of the Express" bus tour. He's the last of four congressional candidates to start campaigning in that manner.

Stallings planned visits to eight communities before winding up in Twin Falls for a Friday night Twin Falls County Democrat fundraiser.

Givens campaign manager Mike Brush told a news conference it will be a "novel and unique" way of trying to reach 1st District voters. The telecast will originate from the Simplot-Micron Technology Center on the BSU campus.

Center business manager Anne Fisher said to her knowledge, it's the first time the satellite "up link" facilities will be used in an effort to reach large numbers of voters. She said the facilities are available to any candidate, but Mrs. Givens is the only one who asked.

She said the campaign will be charged technical costs, which Brush said would total about $4,500. Because of technical problems, Brush said, the program will be telecast over cable systems at Lewiston and Moscow one day later, Tuesday night.

Callers will not be able to question Mrs. Givens directly, but will be encouraged to call questions in to the Micron center. An operator will field them and a Boise broadcaster will decide which ones will be handed to Mrs. Givens to answer.

The debate over Idaho's lottery proposal continued to warm up.

On Thursday, Consider, the coalition battling against having a state lottery, announced it has collected nearly $500,000 in contributions. Pro-lottery forces say they have only a tiny fraction of that amount, but still expect to win the vote.

Sen. Mike Blackbird, D-Kellogg, a lottery backer, responded Friday that it appeared Consider's officials believe that because 10,000 supporters have contributed to the anti-lottery drive "that they have been given a mandate to set the moral standards for one million Idahoans."

Blackbird said he rarely finds himself in agreement with Republican presidential candidate George Bush.

"But in his last debate, Bush said you can't legislate morality. I concur with George Bush and on Nov. 8, Idahoans are going to make that point for once and for all to Consider, that we set our moral standards and not Consider," Blackbird said.

County operating law changes in works

BOISE (AP) — A special legislative committee has compiled a package of bills updating the state's laws governing county operations, including a provision that could stir up Idaho's newspaper industry.

The House-Senate Committee on County Law Recodification was striving to avoid any confrontational issues as it put the package of bills together on Friday for presentation to the entire Legislature next January.

The bills generally consolidate laws on county operations and the responsibilities of their officers, recite outdated statutes and modernizes provisions of others including the amounts of fees, interest rates and spending limitations.

But one provision would also repeal the long-standing requirement that county commissions publish their proceedings.

Kootenai County Commissioner Robert Haakenson, presenting the proposal on behalf of all county commissioners, conceded it bordered on the kind of substantive change Committee Chairman C.A. Smyser, R-Parma, has been trying to avoid.

Instead of the full proceedings, Haakenson said the counties would publish detailed quarterly financial statements and make available every month a report on all commission actions.

The joint committee voted 5-1 to recommend the change.

Idahoans want duty on shingles to stay in effect for full 5 years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the Idaho congressional delegation are asking the Reagan administration for assurances that the five-year duties on Canadian shingles will be followed.

In a letter to U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter, Republican Sen. Steve Symms and Rep. Larry Craig said a recent split decision from the International Trade Commission raising questions about whether the schedule will be carried out.

Two years ago under pressure from Northwest officials, the administration imposed a 35 percent duty on Canadian shingles and shingles brought into the United States under a plan that would gradually phase the duty out over five years. But Symms and Craig claimed there are signs the duty will be terminated now and that fear "has caused havoc in the forest products market in Idaho."

"Some mills have had to lay off employees because buyers are withholding orders, pending the president's decision."

Reagan is expected to make a decision on the duty's future by early December, but the two Idaho lawmakers asked that the administration's silence on the issue be broken.

"The uncertainty of this situation has caused demand to drop drastically, simply because the duty next year, might, or might not, be zero," they said.

Judge's ouster sought

POCATELLO (AP) — A group calling itself the Committee to Restore Judicial Integrity is pressing for the ouster of a Bannock County magistrate involved in a controversial country-club crow-shooting incident 17 months ago.

Committee Chairman Paul DesFosses, a former Internal Revenue Service agent and government whistleblower, said Friday that Magistrate Howard Armstrong has misused his position through ticketing, unfair decisions and illegal influencing of other judges.

But Armstrong denied the allegations, contending DesFosses is carrying out a personnel vendetta against him.

DesFosses called for Armstrong's defeat at the polls on Nov. 8 when the magistrate faces a "yes-no" vote on whether he should be retained for another four-year term.

During the news conference DesFosses held on the courthouse steps, Pocatello Chief of Detectives Lynn Harris informed DesFosses that he was violating electioneering laws by campaigning too close to an absentee-ballot polling place inside the building.

DesFosses claimed he had been told by the state attorney general's office his action was legal.

Agency delays hydro hearings

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — The Idaho Department of Water Resources has postponed two hearings scheduled for next week on the city of Idaho Falls' proposed Shelley Hydroelectric Project.

The hearings, set for next Thursday and Friday, were postponed Thursday, about a week after the city requested an extension.

The city said it needed more time to complete research on the controversial project before the Water Resources hearings. The department agreed and set no new dates for the hearings.

John Wallace of Twin Falls finishes registering to vote Friday afternoon at the Twin Falls County Courthouse. He said this year will be only the second time he has voted since 1960. He said he was "wild and reckless" for a few years and didn't think his votes counted. His attitude has changed since. "As far as I'm concerned this is a great country and maybe it will make a difference," he said. "Friday was the last day to register for the November general election.

Businesses lose estimated $25,000

Police recover counterfeit checks

By KEN ARMSTRONG
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Police have recovered a bagful of counterfeit United, Frozen Foods payroll checks, but before area businesses lost an estimated $25,000 by cashing similar forgeries.

Last week, a Twin Falls Highway

District employee found a bag holding 142 counterfeit UFF payroll checks on State Highway 93 near Rogerson, said Tim Qualls, director of the Twin Falls Department of Public Safety. The forgeries — almost exact replicas of the standard UFF payroll checks — had been signed but not cashed.

Similar checks were cashed last week by grocery stores in Twin Falls, Buhl, Jerome, Burley and Rupert. Altogether, those businesses lost roughly $25,000, Qualls said.

In Buhl, seven checks were cashed for between $1,500 and $1,600, Buhl Police Chief Les Cochran said.

Police believe the forgeries could stem from a massive counterfeiting operation that has run loops around

Walker asks Symms to apologize to Michael Dukakis' wife for rumor

The Associated Press

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Republican Sen. Steve Symms has again been asked to formally apologize to the wife of Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis for spreading an unfounded rumor that she had burned an American flag.

"Slandering one's patriotism stains both the American flag and the flag of the state of Idaho," Lloyd Walker, a local Democratic leader, said Friday in a letter to Symms.

Walker issued his demand for an apology to Kitty Dukakis a day after he and Symms appeared on a Twin Falls radio station and the discussion turned to the senator's comment this summer that he had been told a picture would surface showing Kitty Dukakis burning an American flag during a Vietnam War protest in the 1960s.

The Dukakis campaign denounced the statement, denying the charge, and Democratic Gov. Cecil Andrus formally apologized to Kitty Dukakis on behalf of the state of Idaho.

Symms has not apologized for spreading what he admitted was an unfounded rumor. He has only said he accepts the statement that she never burned a flag.

It was much the same when the issue came up again in Twin Falls, although the senator said "it probably

'Slandering one's patriotism stains both the American flag and the flag of the state of Idaho.'

—Lloyd Walker

was an inappropriate comment."

Symms said his comment was blown out of proportion, maintaining that he never accused Kitty Dukakis of flag-burning.

"What I said was true, it has been alleged," he said in the radio talk show exchange with Walker. "That is a true statement. That is not a secret. A lot of people have said that."

He denied that the campaign of Republican nominee George Bush had anything to do with his original comment. But he also went on to say that while Kitty Dukakis has never burned a flag, "I never heard her criticize the people that did."

"You remember when Barry Goldwater ran for president, the national media, everywhere Goldwater went, tried to make him denounce the John Birch Society and its members," Symms said.

"And to his everlasting credit, he wouldn't denounce people that he considered well-intentioned or patriotic. But yet I have not heard the media once ask Mrs. Dukakis if she's ever condemned the anti-war crowd during the Vietnam War."

Walker said that after reviewing the transcript of the talk show, he again realized the embarrassment felt by the citizens of Idaho after Symms' initial comments.

"I ask you to take the stain off the American flag and Idaho's flag by an apology to Mrs. Dukakis and to the people of Idaho," Walker said in his letter. "Please, senator, no more of such hurtful gossip."

Local Democrats made their mark on national policy, party leaders say

The Times-News

TWIN FALLS — Their numbers may be small, but Magic Valley Democrats made their mark on national policy this fall, party leaders said at a Twin Falls County party fundraiser Friday night.

"Idaho will no longer be the national dumping ground on a temporary basis for waste," said 2nd District Congressman Richard Stallings. "You may not be aware what an impact you've had in this valley — on state politicians, national politicians. The Department of Energy is taking note and waste management is moving up in priority."

At hearings this spring, Twin Falls County Democrat activists were among the most outspoken critics of a proposed Special Isotope Separator, which would refine tritium for weapons. And most county candidates signed a letter to Democrat Gov. Cecil Andrus this fall calling for an advisory vote saying no to SIS until radioactive and toxic waste at the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory is cleaned up.

Andrus denied the request, but this month banned more shipments of radioactive waste into Idaho for temporary storage until the DOE has long-promised permanent storage sites ready.

"I'm glad our own governor is here with us and making national headlines," said county Democrat Chairman Ken Pedersen.

Republican candidates have responded with some "We're leaping trying to get on the right side of that issue," he said.

About 150 Twin Falls Democrats — and a few Republicans — ate chili and bid for a mountain bike and Democrat memorabilia at the Friday night fundraiser.

"It's marvelous to see a two-party system in the Magic Valley," Stallings, ending a day-long bus tour and rally, said. "Anytime there is a monopoly in any system, business or politics, there are problems."

While Democrats are in the minority here, they can at least take comfort in knowing they are part of a majority in Congress, he said.

"That's why it's important that he be returned to Washington, D.C.," he said. "You can do so much more as a member of a majority party."

The next session will be particularly important for the Magic Valley as a new farm bill is written, he said.

State Party Chairman Conley Ward and local candidates also spoke. And the local Democrats honored some of their own. Charles Sather was named Democrat of the year. Ulahwiti was recognized for her work getting the Precinct 6 polling place moved back within the precinct and Mel Martin was awarded a plaque for his work running the county headquarters.

Drug Task Force seeks donations

TWIN FALLS — Drug enforcement authorities are seeking public donations to buy a narcotics-detecting dog trained to sniff out the Magic Valley.

These days, the price tag affixed to a professionally trained narcotics dog is at least $3,000, said Pat Touchette, member of the Magic Valley Drug Task Force.

"Their seizure rates with a good dog are phenomenal," said Touchette, a deputy with the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Office. "We've lost drugs before — walked away from a search scene having left more behind than we seized."

The task force receives federal funds, but no money was appropriated for equipment this year, Touchette said.

The dog could be used in a variety of settings, including ports of entry, buildings where authorities had a search warrant, in schools and as an educational tool in drug programs, Touchette said. All Magic Valley law enforcement agencies would be entitled to use the dog.

"A good dog can pay for itself in a matter of weeks," Touchette said. People interested in donating should contact Touchette through the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Office.

Officials release crews from fire

MALTA — Officials Friday began paring down the number of firefighters assigned to a 800-acre blaze that has been brought under control in the Sawtooth National Forest east of here.

A Bureau of Land Management crew was released from the fire Friday morning, dropping the number of firefighters to 66 from 100, Sawtooth spokeswoman Barbara Todd said. Officials expect that number to dwindle to 40 today.

Firefighters contained the blaze, started Wednesday morning by a vehicle that caught on fire, by 6 p.m. Thursday, Todd said. The fire, near Antelope Springs in the Sublett Division of the forest's Burley District, has burned mostly sagebrush and grass.

Sawtooth officials have asked hunters to stay clear of the immediate area for the next couple of days.

Police detain juveniles

TWIN FALLS — Police Thursday took into custody a boy and girl accused of stealing men's and women's cologne by depositing three bottles of the smelly stuff down the front of the boy's pants.

The boy, 15, and the girl, 14, both from Jerome, were taken into custody a little before 1 p.m. at Pay Less Drug Store, 1139 Addison Ave. E., according to police reports. Police recovered two bottles of Lady Stetson cologne and one bottle of Wild Musk cologne.

In another case about four hours later, police detained a 13-year-old Jackpot boy accused of shoplifting from Shopko, 1649 Pole Line Road

Use caution with checks, businesses are told

By KEN ARMSTRONG
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Demand identification, and if the face on the ID doesn't match the person pushing the check, don't cash it.

Seems simple enough, but, according to area law enforcement officials, too many businesses ignore that and other check-cashing advice. And that's when they get burned.

"A lot of businesses feel you're being unfriendly if you ask for identification," said Les Cochran, chief of the Buhl Police Department. "They have to get over that."

"It has to be a matter of business, not whether you're going to hurt someone's feelings."

Law enforcement agencies have a checklist they say businesses should run down before cashing a check. Items include:

- Demand identification with a picture, whether it's a driver's license, military ID or state ID. Make sure that the face and physical description match the person passing the check.

- Some law enforcement agencies recommend that businesses accept only an Idaho driver's license. For additional protection, a business can demand a check-guarantee card.

- Write down the person's Social Security number and date of birth. Also, jot down the person's physical characteristics. Police recognize that most businesses consider this too great an inconvenience, but doing so would give authorities a physical description if the person is using a fake ID.

Guidelines issued by the Twin Falls County prosecutor's office state that prosecutors won't even pursue a check-forgery case unless the victim either knows the check-passer personally or made a visual comparison between that person and his ID.

Be wary of large purchases, particularly such "hot items" as video-cassette recorders and portable video recorders. Also, be aware that a lot of bad checks are passed on the weekend when businesses can't call the bank to verify a check's validity.

If the check-holder and ID don't match, hold the ID and call police.

"If there's anything hinky, come to us right away," said Alan Smith, sergeant with the Cassia County Sheriff's Office. "The sooner you do, the better off you are."

"Hinky" is police jargon for anything suspicious.

Even as law enforcement agencies ask businesses to protect themselves, they realize that caution can only be stretched so far. For example, Twin Falls officials once asked businesses to get fingerprints from all area businesses. If one business chooses not to ask its customers to honor a requirement, then other stores are placed at a competitive disadvantage.

Tim Qualls, director of the Twin Falls Department of Public Safety, said the success of any system designed to ferret out forgers hinges on the cooperation of all area businesses. If one business chooses not to ask its customers to honor a requirement, then other stores are placed at a competitive disadvantage.

Western law enforcement agencies for the past eight years. Activities of that forged ring, believed to be based in Los Angeles, have been traced to Arizona, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

According to reports published in California newspapers, the counterfeiting operation — sometimes called "The Hispanic Ring" — works like this:

A group of men, all believed to be Mexican nationals, will cash counterfeit payroll checks at check-cashing establishments, grocery stores and liquor stores. Checks are usually cashed on weekends, when businesses cannot call banks to verify a check's validity.

Armed with fake identification, these men are often disguised as migrant farmers or construction workers, depending on whether the payroll check lists a food-packaging or construction company. They keep about half the amount of the check, with the rest going to the ring's organizers.

To avoid suspicion, checks are usually made out for amounts smaller than $500. Many of the checks cashed in the Magic Valley were for around $250.

Police believe the men who cash the checks are undocumented aliens recruited in Los Angeles. About 100 of them have been arrested, but so far investigators have been unable to tag any of the ring's organizers.

Officials suspect that the printing press used to produce the counterfeit payroll checks is in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Police here believe the counterfeiters who cashed the UFF checks have since moved on, possibly to Oregon. The Los Angeles-based counterfeiting operation rotates its targets, often following the harvests like migrant workers.

Neighborhood park in the works for residents of Jerome subdivision

By DENISE TURNER
Times-News correspondent

JEROME — A neighborhood park is in the works for the residents of Jerome's Keen Subdivision.

Area residents are invited to view a proposed design for the Candlelight Neighborhood Park at a meeting set for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the courthouse basement. The sponsoring organization is the Jerome Recreation District.

"We have been thinking about this park for a long time," Recreation

District Director Mike Pepper said. "We were hoping to get some federal funding, but we found that, when it comes to this kind of funding, there is a lot of competition for a small amount of money."

The Recreation District has decided to take on the $30,000 project anyway, explained Pepper, who added that he has already received a $2,000 pledge from the U.S. West Telephone Co.

The proposed park, according to Pepper, is a two-acre passive area for people living in the subdivision.

There would be a playground, picnic shelters and half a basketball court.

Pepper said he hopes the park can be finished the coming summer. Anyone interested in the park can attend the meeting or contact him, Pepper said.

Those who would be served by the park include a 75-home section of Jerome on the east side of South Lincoln. "We haven't yet had time for much feedback about this project, but, in talking with people around town, I sense a feeling of support," Pepper said.

Child injured in hunting accident listed in stable condition

TWIN FALLS — A Jerome child whose left foot was shot in a hunting accident earlier this week was listed in stable condition Friday.

Joshua Lehman, 5, was taken to Twin Falls by ambulance Wednesday following an accidental shooting about 15 miles northeast of Richfield, Lincoln County sheriff's officials said. He was first taken to the Magic Valley Regional Medical Center, then transferred to the Twin Falls Clinic & Hospital.

Sheriff's officials said Lehman was accidentally shot about 11:20 a.m. by his mother, Julie, 31. The two were deer hunting at the time.

Gooding woman, son die in rollover accident

WENDELL — A Gooding woman and her 4-year-old son were killed late Thursday night when they were thrown from a car that rolled twice north of here.

Candy Webb, 21, and her son, Jeramie, were pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, Gooding County Sheriff Robert Aja said.

The accident occurred around 11:40 p.m. on State Highway 46, approximately four miles north of Wendell, Aja said. Webb, driving a 1979 Mercury four-door, was northbound when the car went off the right side of the road.

Webb overcorrected, sending the car into a broadside skid across both lanes of the highway, Aja said. The car hit a rock embankment and rolled twice.

The mother and child were both ejected from the car, Aja said. Neither was wearing a seat belt.

The accident is still under investigation.

Lukens to stump for Watkins in Twin Falls Tuesday

TWIN FALLS — Republican Congressman Donald "Bud" Lukens, R-Ohio, will stump for 2nd District Congressional candidate Dana Watkins Tuesday in Twin Falls.

Watkins and Lukens will shake voters' hands at the Magic Valley Mall from 4:45 to 6:30 p.m.

"Mr. Lukens is an aggressive, fiery spokesman for human liberty around the world," Watkins said.

Idaho to receive $6.5 million from Forest Service

TWIN FALLS — Idaho received about $6.5 million in interim Forest Service payments earlier this month.

Each year states with Forest Service facilities receive 25 percent of the funds collected by the Forest Service for timber sales, grazing, recreation, minerals and other uses. The money is to be used for schools and roads.

The interim payment represents 75 percent of the estimated total payment. Idaho's total estimated payment for 1988 is $8.7 million. The money was divided among counties and sent out in early October, according to the state Treasurer's Office.

Idaho's share of the bounty in interim payments is the fourth-largest behind Oregon, with $100 million; California, with $40 million; and Washington, with $28 million.

The Forest Service will determine the actual amount and make final payments in December after 30 days for the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30 are totaled.

Last year the Forest Service returned more than $286 million to the 41 states and Puerto Rico where national forest lands are located. This year the estimated total amount is about $282 million, according to Forest Service Chief F. Dale Robertson.

'Temptation' protest takes violent turn

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A man who identified himself as a top-ranking Christian aide his converted school early Tuesday into the lobby of a theater where he had viewed the controversial film, "The Last Temptation of Christ," police said.

Stanley Watin, 49, of Ithaca, was charged with second-degree criminal mischief, a felony, said Ithaca Police Sgt. David Barnes.

Watin pronounced himself guilty during his arraignment before Judge John Sherman, who ordered Watin held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 cash or $10,000 bail.

Watin, a car salesman, turned himself in to authorities after driving his bus into the front lobby of Park Creek Pictures around 6:10 a.m. The impact knocked down a supporting beam inside the theater, causing portions of the ceiling to fall. The theater's large, plate-glass windows were shattered.

Mormons

Church may proselytize in East Germany

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mormon Church leaders are in East Germany this week to dedicate two new chapels and to meet with government leaders about the possibility of permitting proselytizing by the faith's missionaries.

KBYU-TV, the public television station at church-owned Brigham Young University, reported Wednesday night that the officials of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the German Democratic Republic were to announce an agreement on Friday.

The church issued a news release Thursday saying only that Thomas S. Monson, second counselor in the faith's governing First Presidency, had met with Kurt Loeffler, state secretary for religious affairs, and that other meetings were set for Friday.

KBYU quoted Monson as saying the agreement would permit young East German church members to serve two-year missions in their own country and perhaps in other countries, and the church to use public parks and recreation areas for various programs.

Monson, Elder Russell M. Nelson of the Council of the Twelve and Elder Hans B. Ringer, a member of the First Quorum of the Seventy, were in East Germany to dedicate a new stake center in Dresden and a meetinghouse in Zwickau.

Nearly 30,000 people, including government officials, attended an open house at the Dresden chapel earlier this month.

The church, which has 3,700 members in East Germany, dedicated a temple in Freiberg in 1966. The church has 6.6 million members.

Phillips to speak Sunday

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Calvin L. Phillips, the President of Emmanuel School of Religion, will be preaching at First Christian Church of Twin Falls Sunday at 10:50 a.m.

Dr. Phillips spent 34 years as minister with the South Side Christian Church in Munster, Ind. He has served as trustee at Emmanuel School of Religion, Lincoln, Ill., Christian College and Seminary; Cincinnati Bible Seminary; and Lake Region Christian Assembly; and is a long-time member of the North American Christian Convention serving as President of the Convention in 1981.

Dr. Phillips holds six degrees from four different universities and seminaries.

Useful mother
The mother of Chief Justice John Marshall was buried under a headstone with this inscription: "Mary Randolph Keith, born 1737, she was good, not brilliant, useful, not ornamental, and the mother of fifteen children."
Noah Webster coined only one word — "demoralize."

Daily Horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Emotions are supercharged and hard to handle if interpersonal desires clash. High energy aspects push and impel natural and social events. There is relief later in the evening. Slow down and be calm.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Although homelife activities are accentuated, stay under the covers a little longer, and don't have high hopes for keeping to a schedule.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): There is dissention between family members. Center your attention on home improvements and maintenance projects. Entertain at home.

those earliest traveling traders. It was the Greeks who called them "Phoenicians," a reference to their purple dye, known as "phnix." Romans called them "punic." Israelites called them "Canaanites." But what did they call themselves? Nobody knows.

Hannibal had his men fill baskets with poisonous snakes and sling same at the Roman fleet. Viper bombs. They panicked the sailors. Killed some, too.

It was the late Charles J. Fish who founded the University of Rhode Island's school of oceanography. Good.

DEADLY RUMOR

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Travel may be on your mind, but you feel a bit uncomfortable with the plans. Call ahead, and check it out before leaving.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): One who attracts you is stimulating but lonely. Use your magnetic nature to be helpful. Don't neglect errands for the weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Use diplomatic skills to soothe a mate who feels shortchanged. It is hard for you to understand, but do your best.

VIRGO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You have a lot of energy and nowhere to go. Your plan for the day was foolproof until the phone rang. Readjust the mixed influences for a better day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21): A job you have avoided cannot be put off any longer. Dive in, and ask housemates to help. You can talk them into it easily.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Contact siblings who can help you to solve a family problem. Be a good listener before acting on advice. Save some time to go out.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your plans for the day meet with opposition from children. Your home environment improves today. Parents are contacted.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You feel overburdened with errands. Do what you can, and save the balance of the day to relax at home. Organize a social affair.

If Your Child Is Born Today: He or she will be a prophetic bundle of energy. This youngster will be interested in spiritual, religious and psychic matters and will be in search of the meaning of life, nature and our place in the universe. This is a tall order to fill unless your child is practical.

Reagan calls on successor to continue on his path

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan, declaring his administration is ending at "a portentous time" in East-West affairs, called upon his successor Friday to continue support of Nicaraguan Contra rebels, aggressively pursue Star Wars defense technology and maintain U.S. military strength.

In a speech before the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, Reagan also said the new administration should continue negotiations for arms reductions and "be unafraid to point out the moral wrong of those who would repress liberty."

Reagan did not mention either Vice President George Bush, the Republican presidential nominee, or Democratic candidate Michael Dukakis in his speech.

White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater, however, told reporters that Bush "best represents the peace-through-strength approach that President Reagan has followed for the past eight years."

In a question-and-answer session after his address, the president was asked whether he thought the reforms in the Soviet Union would be replaced by another Soviet leader.

"I think it would be a great setback if anything happened to prevent him from continuing the program he has set forth," Reagan responded. "I hope he can continue and will continue on that path but he does have a built-in structure opposed to him. On the other hand, the people in the street seem to be on his side."

When another questioner asked if he agreed with Secretary of Defense Frank C. Carlucci that American Jews should moderate their criticism of U.S. arms sales to Arabs, the president said:

"I can understand Israel's worrying about what would happen if certain countries that have been so hostile and where this is this state of war are armed and so forth. On the other hand, if we are to be able to persuade these countries to join in a conference to bring peace to that troubled part of the world, I think they have to see us as being willing to be fair and friends of theirs, just as they now see us as ... the best friend of Israel."

"I do think that our judgment should be respected ... when we have decided that we can make a sale of that kind," Reagan said.

Reagan's appearance before the non-partisan world affairs group, his third appearance since he became president, followed a day of campaigning for Bush and other GOP candidates in Arkansas, Missouri and California.

From Los Angeles, the president was traveling to his ranch north of Santa Barbara, where he and first lady Nancy Reagan will spend the weekend before receiving awards from the Simon Wiesenthal Foundation in Los Angeles on Sunday night, was traveling to his ranch north of Santa Barbara, where he and first lady Nancy Reagan will spend the weekend before receiving awards from the Simon Wiesenthal Foundation in Los Angeles on Sunday night.

U.S. wants arbiters to resolve dispute over bugged U.S. embassy in Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department confirmed Friday it will ask outside arbiters to resolve a dispute with the Soviet Union over $29 million in U.S. claims relating to damages and defective construction work on the nearly completed U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

President Reagan announced Thursday that he is recommending to Congress that the building be demolished because the Soviets installed listening devices.

He said a new "American-built" embassy will be constructed.

State Department deputy spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said the United States has invoked arbitration under a "disputes clause" in the construction contract.

"A claim for damages relating to Soviet penetration or the bugging of the new office building has not yet been quantified, pending final building design for the new embassy building," she said.

A State Department source who disclosed the $29 million claim against the Soviets on Thursday said that before the issue could go before an arbitration panel, "We have to show good faith that the Soviets and we have tried to work this out." The source spoke on condition of anonymity.

The claims for the delays and defects are to be negotiated by an arbitration panel in Stockholm, Sweden.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a dispatch from Washington, said U.S. claims that the building is riddled with spying devices are "groundless" and "obviously far-fetched."

Congress will be asked to approve construction of a new embassy built by U.S. workers using American materials.

Trapped whales raise ship questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of Soviet icebreakers to help save two whales trapped in Alaska is emboldening the Coast Guard to again seek presidential approval to add one or more of the polar ships to its fleet.

In what has been a yearly ritual for a decade, the Coast Guard asks the White House for $300 million to build a new icebreaker and budget officials there always say no, most recently as late as two weeks ago.

But that was all before two whales became trapped under Arctic ice a month ago and the United States called upon Soviet icebreakers for help.

"The whales trapped in the ice have raised the spectre of what's wrong with the American icebreaking fleet and the answer is everything," said Kurt Oxley, the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee counsel for Coast Guard and navigation issues.

"With only two, we have to use them sparingly," Oxley said. "With four or five we could spread them out more evenly and possibly have had one up there."

The United States actually has three saltwater icebreakers now. Two are 399-foot sister ships — the Polar Star and the Polar Sea — both built in the 1970s and based in Seattle.

Reagan won't investigate rice import charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first test of a new, tougher trade law, the Reagan administration on Friday rejected a request from U.S. rice farmers that it launch an investigation into charges that the Japanese government is unfairly blocking rice imports into that country.

The announcement by U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter came as something of a surprise because supporters of the petition were hoping the pressure of presidential politics would force a different outcome.

Yeutter called Japan's barriers against rice imports "intolerable." But he said he believed the matter could be better handled through a new round of trade negotiations now being carried out under the 97-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade rather than in direct confrontation.

The administration had rejected a similar petition in 1986.

Papers pull 'Cathy' for being political

By The Associated Press

Complaining that the comic pages are for comedy, not campaigning, editors at a number of newspapers have refused to run installments of the cartoon strip "Cathy" that are critical of the Reagan-Bush administration.

"We don't think the comic pages are the place for political endorsements on behalf of one party or the other," said Richard Halicks, executive editor of the Messenger-Inquirer in Owensboro, Ky.

His paper, which has not yet made its presidential endorsement, said it will not publish any strips that take partisan political stands.

Other papers that have rejected the "Cathy" installments are the Evansville (Ind.) Courier and The Union Leader of Manchester, N.H. The Daily Oklahoman went further, dropping the strip permanently.

Borah knocks Bruins out of playoff contention

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Two early turnovers turned into 12 Borah points and ended what was expected to be a shootout for the third and final spot for the state Class A-1 Division I high school football playoffs.

After seeing an apparent 48-yard touchdown pass on the second play of the game nullified by a penalty, the Lions converted a pass interception and fumble on a kickoff into 12 points in the first 4 minutes and 18 seconds to dash the Bruin playoff hopes.

The Bruins, who haven't visited the playoffs since 1982, had defensive problems after that, being unable to contain quarterback Tati Autelle, who threw for four touchdowns and scrambled for another 53.

It was a tough loss for the Bruins and second-year coach Jon Jund, although the 6-4 overall record was Twin Falls' best since 1982. And it also maintained Borah's boast of never losing to the Bruins in a regular season game, although Twin Falls won the last meeting between the two in a playoff in 1982.

"Too much Autelle," said Jund of the lanky Borah quarterback. "We didn't do a very good job on containing him. We really missed (linebacker Jim) Rhodes (injured last week against Boise) because he could have given us the pressure up the middle we wanted on Autelle. Without it he had all kinds of time to throw and he also could run out of the pocket."

"Those early turnovers really hurt but really we lost it because we couldn't stop them offensively," Jund said. "But it was a good year, we accomplished some things and had a winning record. Now we're back in the weight room because that's where you actually win games like this."

The difference between this week's Lions against Twin Falls in the 48-21 win and Borah against Highland last week in a 38-14 loss, was measurable from the sideline and stands.

"There were a couple of things," said Borah Coach Wil Overgard. "First, it wasn't a playoff game for us and we were just coming off that big win over Boise. Second, Highland knew it wasn't going to the playoffs and it wanted to send a message to the rest of the state. They confirmed that against last (Thursday) night by soundly beating (playoff-bound) Pocatello 40-17."

Twin Falls' early woes started on its second play when quarterback John Horner threw behind his receiver, who got a hand on it but only managed to keep it airborne long enough for Borah's Lonnie Dorn to make the interception and ramble to the Bruins' 6. "Three plays later a nine-yard pass from Autelle to Pat Fannin got the touchdown but John Erby missed the point after.

On the ensuing kickoff, Matt Rasmussen's fumble was recovered at

Murtaugh-meets Wilder this afternoon

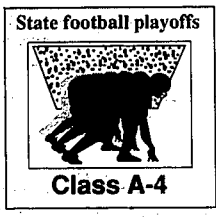

By STEVE CRUMP
Times-News sports editor

WILDER — Wilder's football coaching staff scouted Murtaugh during the Red Devils' 34-6 regular season-ending loss to Oakley last weekend, which was not exactly Murtaugh's finest hour. Red Devil coach Ron Pease hopes his counterparts get an eyeful.

"We're a better football team than we showed at Oakley," said Pease, whose Magic Valley Conference runnerup ballclub will visit Wilder at 1 this afternoon in the first round of the state Class A-4 high school playoffs. "We've just got to get our heads together and prove it."

But Wilder coach Ferris Lynn, whose second-ranked Wildcats were the No. 1 A-4 team in the state until they lost to Fruitland last weekend, didn't come away with the feeling that his first-round playoff game with the Devils today would be a walkover.

"Good size and excellent runners," said Lynn, whose 8-1 ballclub is ranked second among A-4 teams by the Associated Press. "We'll have our hands

Price wrong for Glenss Ferry

By BRAD BRELAND
Times-News writer

GLENSS-FERRY — For the Sugar-Salem Diggers Friday night, the Price was right.

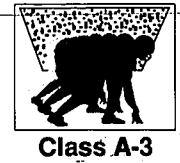

Senior halfback Dan Price found himself at the end of a 41-yard bomb from Jason Williams, and after a two-point conversion from Jared Gutierrez, the Diggers advanced to the second round of the Idaho Class A-3 high school football playoffs with an 8-6 victory over the fifth-ranked Glenss Ferry Pilots.

It looked as if the Pilots would win the game with a little over three minutes left in the game when Duncan Farris hit Ross Kast for what appeared to be a 21-yard scoring strike. But an illegal receiver downfield penalty nullified that play and Glenss Ferry lost the ball on the next play.

At the end of the contest, Pilot Coach Bill Brock stood at midfield with his hands on top of his head, staring in disbelief.

"They got one big play on us," he said. "We just didn't get it done. It's

Gooding, Grangeville meet in Moscow

By STEVE CRUMP
Times-News sports editor

MOSCOW — Like a couple of quarterhorses on a fast track, Gooding's and Grangeville's football teams will stage a sprint here this afternoon through the first round of the state Class A-3 high school playoffs.

"Our overall quickness is good and we have some kids with excellent foot speed, and I know Gooding has the same," said Grangeville coach Craig Cunningham. "We had the option of playing this game in Grangeville, but who wants to waste that kind of speed on a soggy field?"

So this 4 p.m. MDT matchup between the second-ranked and undefeated Bulldogs and the Canyon Conference runnerup Senators will move inside to the Kibbie Dome on the campus of the University of Idaho, on an artificial surface where speed is at a premium.

That suits Gooding Coach Jeff Jeffries just fine.

"The key to beating Grangeville is to stop the reverse and stop the quick pitch," he said. "We're at no disadvantage playing on the turf. We've been there before."

Indeed, Grangeville and Gooding are probably two of the most turf-wise A-3 teams in the state. The Bulldogs have been to the playoffs five of the last six years, and have played in either the Kibbie Dome or Holt Arena in Pocatello in all of those seasons. Gooding has been to the playoffs five of the last seven seasons, and has played on the run in the first half. They brought their defensive backs back, everyone they could, taking four and sometimes five defenders out of the running game.

Rubler worked that advantage, completing four of five passes in the Tigers' first successful drive, including one for the final six yards to Scott Lee to make it 10-0.

Preston ran just three plays on the ensuing possession before having to

Jerome advances to 2nd round of playoffs with 17-7 victory

By RON GATES
Times-News writer

POCATELLO — The Jerome Tigers arrived on campus at Idaho State University Friday for their first-round playoff game of 1988 Idaho high school Class A-2 football playoffs in a style reminiscent of a year earlier.

Denied the early matchup against a Marsh Valley, a team that ended their 1987 season with a first-round defeat in Jerome last year, the Tigers vented their frustrations on South-eastern Idaho Conference champ Preston, holding off Indians 17-7.

It was Jerome's 10th straight victory since falling in last year's quarterfinals of the playoffs and set up a rematch with Eagles, who dropped Salmon 26-6 in Friday's other A-2 playoff opener in Holt Arena.

That rematch is scheduled for 5 p.m. here next Friday, with the winner to advance to the state championship game on this field on Friday, Nov. 11.

The top-ranked Tigers, up just 3-0 at halftime despite Allen Enos' 115 yards rushing, finally got untracked as the second half opened. Quarterback Lon Ruhter, 14 of 26 passing for 213 yards and two touchdowns on the night, drove Jerome 87 yards in 13 plays.

"We wanted to mix it up," said first-year Jerome coach Greg Traynor. "We were great gaining yardage on the run in the first half. They brought their defensive backs back, everyone they could, taking four and sometimes five defenders out of the running game."

Rubler worked that advantage, completing four of five passes in the Tigers' first successful drive, including one for the final six yards to Scott Lee to make it 10-0.

Richfield lays hopes on shutting down Highland's Southern

By STEVE CRUMP
Times-News sports editor

MOSCOW — Call it Richfield's Southern Strategy.

"The key to beating Highland is shutting down Southern," said first-year Richfield coach Shawn Nilsson, whose fourth-ranked Tigers will take on second-ranked Highland in Craigie this afternoon in the opening round of the state eight-man high school football playoffs. "If you shut him down, that's 75 percent of their game."

Southern is Ryan Southern, a 5-foot, 6-inch, 130-pound senior tailback who has led the Huskies to six victories in seven outings this season.

the rest of our players," said Highland coach Darold Johnson. "There are basically nine kids who play for us. If we don't win with quickness and aggressiveness, we're not going to win."

Southern is averaging 17 to 18 yards a tote this year on a team that is averaging 42 points, has outscored opponents 250-85 and averages better than 400 yards total offense. And those numbers may be deceptively low.

"We've only played 19 quarters this season," said Johnson. "Because of the 45-point rule, we've only had one close game, and that was our loss (36-18) to (No. 1-ranked) Garden Valley."

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. MDT in the Kibbie Dome on the campus of the University of Idaho. The winner will advance to the state championship game in Holt Arena in Pocatello in two weeks against North Gem.

Johnson said Southern's explosive needs make both the Huskies' offense and defense more versatile, pointing to his fullback, Tate Vallem, as a prime example.

"Here's a kid who rushed for about 500 yards all season, and he got 180 in his last game," said Johnson.

The Huskies are definitely a big-play type of offense — quarterback Zario Ziegler has completed 75 percent of his passes, has four times passed from more than 400 yards in a game

Eight-man

He has rushed for 600 yards, caught 500 yards worth of passes and kept opposing defenses tackling him where he ain't.

Idaho Falls tops Minico, finishes 2nd straight undefeated season

By The Times-News

IDAHO FALLS — Top-ranked Idaho Falls completed its second straight undefeated season Friday night, collecting its 21st straight victory over the 1-9 Minico Spartans in a Gem State Conference football game.

The Tigers, defending state Class A-1 Division II champions and likely to remain so when playoffs resume next week, jumped into an immediately lead when Brad Foster rumbled 60 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Foster, perhaps the best back in the state the past two years, ran just six times in his final home regular-season appearance and collected 126 yards. That gave him 1,378 yards and 29 touchdowns for the season.

The Tigers added a six-yard scoring pass from Darin Monk to Foster in the first quarter and then got a pair of three-yard scoring bursts from Scott Erley and a 26-yard fumble recovery run by Will Shepard to make it 35-0 at halftime.

Twin Falls

The 21 by Todd Ebberts and three plays that Skeeter Evans went across from the nine. The two-point conversion pass failed.

Twin Falls actually fumbled the ball away again after an 18-yard completion to Brian Reed after the kickoff but this time the Bruins held and got a break when a bad snap to the punter gave them possession at mid-field.

Twin Falls then rolled to a first down at the Borah seven but a 10-yard penalty and then the fourth turnover the first quarter gave Borah the ball at the 14.

The teams then traded a fumble and punt and three minutes into the second quarter.

Borah recovered an onside kick a yard short so the Bruins only had to go 49 yards for their first score. Keep first down passes to Reed carried to the Borah 10 and Horner sneaked across from the three with 6:49 left in the half. But a long kickoff return got Borah's offense rolling and in 11 plays the Lions rolled to their fourth touchdown, Evans got from four yards again but the conversion kick was wide.

Borah immediately forced a Bruin punt from the Twin Falls 10 and that carried only to the 38. On the second play, Autele and Jason Daniel looked up on a 33-yard bomb that devastated the Bruins 34-7 at intermission.

Any hopes for a Twin Falls rally died quickly in the third quarter — and for the same reason. Forrest Ward fumbled the ball away after a reception at his own 38. On the next play, Autele and Dan Olson collaborated on a 38-yard bomb and Erby converted.

On its next possession, a 29-yard bomb to Ashley Minter completed Borah's scoring.

Twin Falls wound it up on a 68-yard bomb from Horner to Torry Bellinger with 2:04 left in the third and then, after a screen pass interception by John McCall, Horner scrambled out of the pocket for a nine-yard scoring gain. He threw to Steve McLaughlin for the two-point conversion.

In between, Twin Falls had another drive stopped on a goal line interception by Don, his second of the night. That left the Bruins with six turnovers for the night.

Borah's defense did the best job of the year in stopping the Bruin running game, which also might be attributable to Twin Falls' need for game-long catchup. But Horner threw for 288 yards, completing just over one-third of his attempts, for a season high.

Gooding

Astroturf in four of those years. In fact, these two teams met on this field and in exactly this situation just two years ago. Grangeville prevailed, 12-6.

There are several kids on our team and several from Gooding who played in that game," said Cunningham. "We remember (Gooding quarterback) Michael Simis real well."

"I'd compare them to the team we played two years ago," said Jeffries, whose 6-3 Senators made it to state by winning a three-way playoff with Wendell and Valley last Monday. "We stopped them two years ago."

Strength against strength, the best matchup is probably — Coalinga sophomore fullback Phil Rhodes and Grangeville wingback Craig Collins, both burners who run 4.8-second 40-yard dashes and catch the ball coming out of the backfield. Rhodes, who toted the ball for 919 yards and caught passes for 148 more this year, and Collins, who had 547 yards rushing and another 200-plus through the air, give their teams big-play potential.

But more importantly, they typify both ballclubs.

"There's pretty good quickness throughout our lineup," said Cunningham. "Offensively, I like to run the ball, but we have the quarterback and receivers this year that we have been able to pass for more than 1,000 yards. Defensively, we have enough quickness that we can usually shut off the sweeps and still cover the passes."

Cunningham watched Gooding's season-ending 7-3 loss to Wendell a week ago Friday, and it's Simis — not Rhodes — that is his primary concern.

"Simis is impressive because of the things he can do to you," said Cunningham. "He's a good runner, a good signal-caller, who has completed 58, 109 passes in eight games, for 706 yards and five touchdowns. He has that suball type of pass and he rolls left because he's left-handed, which is hard to defend if you aren't used to it. The biggest thing that impressed me about Simis last week is how well he runs the play-action. We don't have anybody in our conference who does that, so it's going to be a big adjustment for our defense not to come up on that."

Defensively, Cunningham singled out Gooding middle linebacker Steve Swamer, a 6-2, 205-pound senior.

"He's all over the field," said Cunningham. "There's not much Gooding does defensively that he's not part of."

On the other sideline, Jeffries is concerned about Grangeville quarterback Craig Arznen, who has completed 57 of 110 passes for 1,027 yards and 12 touchdowns.

"I've seen two films of Arznen, and he's an accurate thrower and float," Jeffries said. "He's beaten the secondary bad because people look at the running game."

But Jeffries doesn't worry overmuch about Grangeville tight end Russell Lindsay, a 6-foot, 4-inch 210-pound senior who is the brother of Boise State tight end Jeff Lindsay.

"Our defensive backs aren't real tall," said Jeffries. "Declo tight end Jeff Steadman and (Kimberly tight end Kelly) Holcomb (both 6-4) are big and we stopped them."

Grangeville's bread-and-butter offensive play, he said, is a reverse.

"It's not a mirror offense," he said. "They stay in a slot-right I set. They run seven running plays out of that. They run the reverse out of that 20 to 25 percent of the time, and they do a good job of it. The other part is a good inside trapping game. The third part is a quick-pitch slot-side."

The Bulldogs use stealth on offense, Cunningham said, because Grangeville can't outmuscle most opponents.

"Our biggest kid is Lindsay, and he's 210," said Cunningham. "We're going to be outsize by Gooding so if we beat them we're going to have to do it with things like traps."

Who knows? said Johnson. "Five years ago I took an 11-man team to Moscow and we played Deary, which at the time had Derek Eggers, who was a great running back. They'd played there before, and we beat them."

"Without practicing inside, it's tough," Nilsson said. "But if there's one team prepared it's us. Our field is in terrible shape."

punt. Jerome scored again with 2 minutes and 5 seconds left in the quarter when Clark Baumgartner deflected for the touchdown. With 10 seconds left in the third, Indian running back Doug Meek was held for no gain on a fourth-and-one play, giving Jerome good position.

But a penalty set Jerome back 15 yards and the Tigers returned the ball to the Indians, allowing Preston its only score. The Indians cut it within 10 points, at 17-7, just 7:49 from the end when Brent Knapp-to-Sid Biggs pass covered 33 yards, capping a 76-yard drive in 12 plays.

In the second quarter, Jerome moved within the 15 (three times, coming away only with Augustin, Guzman's 33-yard field goal.

"We played a good team and there's no doubt they kept us out of our game," said Trenary. "But the guys just wanted to make something happen out there. We're going to have to realize that once we've got the 40, we have to be real conscious of control of the ball and eliminate the mental mistakes."

Glenns Ferry

Starting from their own 29-yard line, a pass interference play gave the Diggers the ball at the Digger 44. A pass to Glen Lent set up the bomb to Price.

"We have to take our hats off to Sugar-Salem. It's a little disappointing," said Brock. "We had our chances. They had the big play and won."

One of those opportunities came with just under four minutes left in the third quarter, when the Pilots capitalized on a fourth-and-11 play when Farris found Hartway across the middle. But Hartway was hit and coughed up the football at the 14-yard line.

Hartway, who ran for 144 yards, set up the Glenns Ferry drive that would lead to what looked like the game-winning touchdown.

The Diggers scored with 1:30 left in the first half on a 49-second drive.

Haacke. It was the only pass that Sugar-Salem picked off against Glenns Ferry.

After the interception, the Diggers were stopped after three plays and Glenns Ferry received the punt and started deep in their own territory with a little over a minute left and the Pilots were out of timeouts.

The fourth came to an end for the Pilots after they failed to convert on a fourth-and-nine play.

"We played pretty well. Sugar-Salem played super. Our defense played super," said Brock.

Glenns Ferry ended its season with a 6-3 record, while Sugar-Salem, now 5-2, moves to the quarterfinals of the state A-3 playoffs against the winner of two days' Home-Idle-Grace game.

Benefit golf scramble is Sunday

TWIN FALLS — The benefit scramble for the Twin Falls High School golf team will be held Sunday morning at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course.

The benefit will begin with a shotgun start at 9:30 a.m. Registration, which is $10 per person, will begin at 9 a.m.

All proceeds will go to the Twin Falls High golf team.

CSI volleyball team wins 2 matches

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho volleyball team dominated Treasure Valley Community College and Snow College here Friday in a pair of dual matches.

Against TVCC, a northern division Region 18, the Eagles dominated 15-9, 15-9, 15-0. CSI won the two-set match against TVCC, 15-12, 15-2.

"I was really pleased," said coach Ben Stroud. "We served and passed well and played good offense."

CSI, now 32-11 and 4-1 in region, will visit Ricks College next Wednesday in a match that will decide which team hosts the Region 8 tournament. A victory by the Vikings will put the regional tournament in Rexburg; if CSI wins, it will force a tying-breaking match to determine the tournament host.

The Region 18 tourney, which will include two teams from the northern division and two from the south, will begin in either Rexburg or Twin Falls on Friday, Nov. 11.

N.C.'s J.R. Reid undergoes surgery

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Doctors were to perform surgery today on All-American forward J.R. Reid of North Carolina after he suffered a stress fracture of the fifth metatarsal bone in his left foot, a school spokesman said.

Reid is expected to be sidelined eight weeks, officials said.

Sports information director Rick Brewer said Dr. Timothy Toft would perform the operation. Brewer said the final decision to operate came by Reid's parents.

The injury has been developing over the last three or four years, Brewer said.

Tigers trade Walt Terrell to Padres

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers traded pitcher Walt Terrell to the San Diego Padres for infielder Chris Brown and infielder-outfielder Keith Moreland and announced Friday they will not offer a contract to infielder Darrell Evans for next season.

Terrell had a 7-16 record for the Tigers in 1988 after missing all of spring training and the first few weeks of the regular season with an ankle injury. The right-hander had a 54-48 record in four seasons with the Tigers.

Brown played in only 80 games in 1988 because of injuries, batting .235 with two home runs and 19 RBI. The third baseman averaged .272 over five seasons with the Padres and the San Francisco Giants.

Boise State, Nevada-Reno vie for playoff spot tonight

By QUANE KENYON
The Associated Press

Either Boise State or Nevada-Reno will be out of the picture for the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs after tonight, and Bronco coach Skip Hall is determined to make sure it isn't his team.

Hall will be faced with the task of continuing a string of last-minute victories when Nevada-Reno visits Boise State in a Big Sky Conference football game.

The Broncos, with 17 freshman or sophomore starters, were picked for the middle of the pack this year.

But Boise has won all three home games this season in the last-minute with a touch-down pass. The Broncos are 6-2 overall and 3-2 in Big Sky, despite ranking low in most of the league's offensive and defensive categories.

Reno won its first five but has dropped the last two games, both on the road.

Boise State also is chasing Division I-AA's record for consecutive conversions. The Broncos have made 126 straight since 1984.

The record is 128, set by Idaho's 128 straight ending in 1984.

Kickoff time is 7 p.m. Boise State games are not broadcast in the Magic Valley this year, although they can be heard in the western part of the Magic Valley in Boise radio station KBOI-AM.

Big Sky Conference

In an unpredictable Big Sky season, only one thing is for certain this weekend — Idaho's Vandals will continue to hold on to at least a share of the league lead with only one conference loss.

Montana State, also 4-1, hosts Northern Arizona, 2-4, and must win to have a valid shot at capturing the Big Sky.

In other Big Sky games, Montana is at Weber State and winless Idaho State gets one of its last good chances at victory this season, hosting Eastern Washington, 1-6-1.

After a slow start, MSU has won its last two Big Sky games and Coach Eric Solomonson said his offense finally is coming around.

The Bobcats lead the Big-Sky in rushing with 218 yards per game.

"I think we're having excellent progress in the offensive line," he said.

"Our kids are growing up and becoming more mature, becoming more exacting than they were."

Solomonson said he's aware that North

Arizona has a good offense.

"They have a tremendous explosive offense and they scored more than 50 points (54) on us last year."

"We've got to do an excellent job both on defense and also on offense so we can hold on to the football and control the clock," Solomonson said.

Idaho State is 0-7 and Eastern Washington has only a victory over Boise State to show for this season, and the loser of Saturday's game could finish last in the Big Sky.

ISU Coach Garth Hall said there were some good things in last week's 27-7 loss to Northern Arizona, "One of the bright spots was the play of our defense."

#1 UCLA favored against WSU Cougars by 31

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
The Associated Press

If the point spread is any indication, the nation's top college football teams should have their own Oktoberfest this weekend.

College football

Top-ranked UCLA is a 31-point favorite over Washington State, summed it up by saying, "We don't care if we win by one or 20 points as long as we win."

It would be a major upset if No. 8 Oklahoma, playing at home, beats Kansas by only one point. The Sooners are favored by half-a-handicapper.

Washington State-UCLA matches the nation's top two passers under the NCAA's complicated efficiency formula. The surprise is that UCLA's Troy Aikman is No. 2. Washington State's Timm Rosenbach has completed 139 of 197 — 70.6 percent — for 1,883 yards and 18 touchdowns to Aikman's 125 of 188 — 66.5 percent — for 1,708 yards and 19 TDs.

We realize right now that any wrong move could well cost us the (Pac-10) conference championship and the Rose Bowl," UCLA coach Terry Donahue points out. "And, it might be added, a chance at the national championship."

That shouldn't be a problem. Notre Dame owns more victories over Navy than any other opponent and has won the last 24 games to lead the nation's longest uninterrupted inter-sectional series (they've met every year since 1927) 51-9.

The last time Southern Cal lost to Oregon State, in 1967, it also won the national championship. A less than likely, however, probably would be fatal to that happening again.

USC coach Larry Smith says that last week's open date "allowed us to freshen up physically and mentally. We've had success in our first six games, but we've been playing so-so football. We're an average team with a high ranking. Now, we must start proving we belong up there."

"By far, this is the best Oregon State team I've seen since I came into the league," Smith said of the Beavers, whose 3-3-1 record is their best in 20 years. Their offense is moving the football and scoring points and is very balanced, one of the most balanced teams in the Pac-10.

In the 32 years, West Virginia is 1-30-1 against Penn State and 8-44-2 for the series. But the Mountaineers are favored because of their 7-0 record to Penn State's 4-3.

Auburn and Florida are among five Southeastern Conference teams with only one league loss.

Auburn is a seven-point favorite even though it has lost its last seven.

Don Wilson rolls 255 for high game of the week

By The Times-News

TWIN FALLS — Don Wilson had the high game and Roger Graef had the best series in city bowling league action last week.

Bowling Honor Roll

Wilson rolled a 255 in the Commercial League at the Bowldrome, edging John Williams, with a 254 in the Magic Church League at the Magic Bowl.

Graef's precessing 650 series in the Magic Church League was three pins better than runnerup John Irwin, who bowls in the same league.

Scott Jackson rolled a 278 game and a 724 series last week at the Jerome Bowl.

Cathy McGowan had Twin Falls' best women's game with a 245 in the Pioneer League at the Magic Bowl. Gina Julian was the runnerup with a 234 in the Moonshiners' League at the Magic Bowl.

High women's series, a 611, belonged to Nancy Weech in the Ladies' Travel League at the Bowldrome. Bettie Kraus had a 594 in the Magic City League at the Bowldrome.

Lumber shipments increase

PORTLAND (AP) — Lumber production fell, but orders and shipments increased in 12 Western states during the week ending Oct. 22. The Western Wood Products Association said lumber production was 466 million board feet, 12 million feet less than the previous week. Orders were 392 million board feet, 49 million feet over the previous week. Shipments were reported at 389 million board feet, up 19 million feet.

Bank purchase completed

By The Associated Press
First Federal Savings of Coeur d'Alene has completed the purchase announced in March of Ketchum-based Mountain State Savings Bank.

Shareholders of Mountain State will be paid $23.85 per share for their stock by First Federal. They also will receive a $3.80 per share dividend paid by Mountain State effective Sept. 30.

Ron Stocum will remain the president of Mountain State, which will operate as a division of First Federal.

Mountain State has branches in Ketchum, Hailey, Salmon and Gooding, with a real estate lending office in Boise. First Federal has six branches in northern Idaho and real estate lending offices in Spokane, Wash., Phoenix and Las Vegas.

Meantime, Boise-based Northern Engineering and Testing Inc. and a sister firm based in Denver have been merged by their British parent firm.

Northern was merged with Chen & Associates on Oct. 1 to form Chen-Northern Inc., Northern President Richard Kanomasa announced Monday. The companies are subsidiaries of Huntingdon International Holdings PLC.

Simplot spends $7.8 million for stock

BOISE (AP) — Idaho industrialist J.R. Simplot, who also is a director of Micron Technology Inc., spent $7.8 million recently to increase his Micron stake by more than 7 percent.

"It's selling too cheap," Simplot said, "it's a good investment and I'm going to buy all I can afford."

Forbes magazine recently listed Simplot, 79, as one of the 400 richest Americans, with an estimated net worth of $400 million.

Simplot, chairman of the agrusiness-oriented Simplot Co., bought 300,000 shares of common stock between Sept. 20 and 28, according to reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. He also said he bought another 100,000 shares last week Tuesday.

A Micron spokesman said Simplot holds more than 5.5 million total shares, with about 36.5 million shares outstanding.

Micron common stock has been trading in the $19 to $20 range a share in the over-the-counter market.

Spokane plant benefits North Idaho

COEUR D'ALENE (AP) — North Idaho already may be reaping benefits from Boeing's decision to build a manufacturing plant in Spokane. A Hayden Lake company, Unitech Composites, has landed an open order from Boeing that should bring at least 50 new jobs to North Idaho within the next year.

Unitech, which employs 65 people at its Hayden Lake and Post Falls plants, makes a variety of specialty Fiberglas products, including covers for missiles and space shuttle booster rockets.

The order should result in Unitech hiring at least 50 new employees over the next year, said Christopher.

Boeing has announced plans to build a $20 million, 230,000 square-foot plant west of Spokane to produce Fiberglas and plastic ducting and floor paneling for Boeing airliners.

Unitech, which employs 65 people at its Hayden Lake and Post Falls plants, makes a variety of specialty Fiberglas products, including covers for missiles and space shuttle booster rockets.

Trucking firm completes construction

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Roadway Express Inc., a trucking company operating in all 50 states, Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico, has completed construction of its new Salt Lake City area freight consolidation and distribution center.

The Roadway operations moved into the new 38,297-square-foot facility until after grand-opening ceremonies Friday, said Tom Walters, terminal manager.

The new center has 71 loading docks, 28,950 square feet of deck space, and 4,961 square feet of office space, Walters said.

Roadway Express, which is based in Akron, Ohio, entered the Salt Lake City market in 1981 with a leased, six-loading-door facility and a handful of employees.

FARM LOAN SERVICING CONTRACT

The Farmers Home Administration is soliciting bid proposals to provide professional services for servicing Farmer Program loans. Quotations are solicited only from prospective farmers with recent experience in making and servicing of agricultural loans. To meet minimum qualification requirements, prospective offerors must have a minimum of 3 years experience in making and servicing farm production type loans. Experience must have been gained through employment with one or more of the following:

- 1. A commercial bank or other lending institution which conducts a substantial portion of its total business in agricultural lending, or
2. A Production Credit Association or Farmers Home Association or Farmers Home Administration.

Price, while not a controlling criterion, will be an important evaluation factor in selecting a contractor under this solicitation. However, the Government may award this contract to other than the lowest priced technically acceptable proposal if another proposal's technical merit justifies the additional cost. Solicitations will be received at the Gooding County Office, FMHA, 157 Main Street, Gooding, Idaho 83330, until 3:00 p.m., Monday, 14 November, 1988. For further information and/or solicitation forms, please contact the Gooding County Office, 157 Main Street, Gooding, Idaho 83330, (208) 934-4668.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE BOBBY WOLFF

Even if you're on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there. — Will Rogers.

Today's South was on the right track in playing for a crossruff. Unfortunately he failed to notice the caution signal around the bend. Using proper technique, South cashed his side-suit high cards before starting the crossruff. He took the first spade, cashed the club and diamond aces and ruffed a diamond low. A club was ruffed low in dummy and a third diamond was ruffed with the trump eight. This did not survive. West overruffed and returned a trump, putting an end to the party. South was left with only nine tricks, 100 points to the defense.

After ruffing with the three and four of trumps, South should take no chances on being overruffed. And instead of ruffing the third diamond with his eight, he should ruff with a high trump. He continues the crossruff with high trumps, and when his total reaches nine tricks, he has one trump left in dummy (the nine) and one in his hand (the eight). Finally, with the king in dummy, he ruffs a diamond with his eight of trumps, assuring himself of 10 tricks regardless of where the trump 10 might lie.
