There was pality growth in the number of U.S. jobs for the second straight month, and the total actually would have declined if not for the hiring of temporary census workers.

"The report indicates the bottom dropped out of the labor market in April. Is speaks more toward a possible recession than a rebounding economy," said Allen Sinni, chief economist at the Boston Co.—Added Hobert Pederick of the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago:
"I don't think we can say the economy is toppling over a cliff, but it is not showing any signs that it's backing away from the cliff, either, so there's that danger."

In April, the civilian jobless rate, as measured by a household survey was up from the 5.2 percent registered in March. Before that, the unemployment rate had held steady at 5.3 percent for nime months.

The last time the jobless rate reached 5.4 percent was January

Court upholds dismissal of lawsuit

Court upholds dismissal of lawsuit beaus one side refuses to provide requested information to the other is an extreme step, but it can be justified in some cases, the Idaho Supreme Court says.

The court on Friday unanimously upheld 1st-District Judge James-Michaud's action dismissing a 1984 lawsuit filed by 15 individuals against the Lumbner Production and Industrial Workers Union, various councils and union officials.

The Supreme Court, in a decision written by Justice Charles-McDevitt, also ruled that the plaintiff's appeal was unreasonable and ordered it to pay attorney fees and costs to the union.

The lawsuit was filed in 1984, in 1985, the union and its officials filed a request for information, called interrogatories.

The district judge in 1987 ordered the plaintiffs to supply the information, within-one-week or-risk dismissal of the case; Information, within-one-week or-risk dismissal of the case; Information was supplied, but Michand ruled it was findequate, a decision upheld Friday by the Supreme Court on appeal.

The court noted that in many cases, the plaintiffs answered-questions only by saying they were "not applicable."

State wants well owners on city water

Tatle Wants Well Owners on: City Water BOISE (AP) — The state is urging all Garden City residents with private wells to hook up to the municipal water system because of a potential health threat from groundwater contamination. As an incentive, Garden City plans to drop its $400 hookup fee for people whose wells are contaminated, said Richard Cummings, public works director. About 70 homes in town have private wells, lie said.

So far, the state has found significant levels of the solvent-tetraelhoroethylene in five private wells, said Rick Maliary of the state Department of Environmental Quality.

"For people with private wells, their best bet is to hook up with Garden City water," Mallory said.

Labor Party wins local British elections; Tories not shattered

LONDON (AP) Britain's Labor Party rejoiced Friday in sweeping local election victories, but Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher took comfort that the results were not as devastating to her Conservatives as expected.

And some analysts predicted Mrs. Thatcher was now more secure against possible challenges to her leadership of the Conservative Party. Millions of voters protesting soaring home loan rates and an unpopular new local tax descried the Conservatives in the nationwide-local vote-Thursday.

But while pre-election polls showed Mrs. Thatcher with a 20-point deficit, the actual swing against the government was only 11 percent. Share prices rose on the London stock exchange, reflecting relief by hig business.

In the most important trend for Labor, the party posted significant gains in the prosperous and heavily

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — There are almost as many good story lines in the 116th Kentary Deby as there are 3-year-olds.

So when they go to the post at Churchill Downs on Sanutagy.

Trainer Laz Barrers will try to foresee a perfect ending for Mister Frisky, who is trying to become just the fourth colt to wist the Derby with a perfect record.

Nell Howard, trainer of Summer Squall, hopes it's finally Pat's Derby Day. Pat Day in the winningest jockey at Churchill Downs, but has failed to win the Derby in seven tries.

Trainer Bobby Frankel would like to visit the winner's circle with Pendleton Kidge, who has never been to a winner's circle.

Debble McAnally hopes it's a golden moment for Silver Ending, whom she plurshased-for 5,1500-as-a-yearling- and trained by her husband Ron.

Reactor restarts won't affect INEL work

States News Service

WASHINGTON — Plans to re-start three nuclear reactors at the Energy Department's Savannah River, S.C. weapons plant won't affect the agency's efforts to research new reactor technology—at the Idnho—National—Bignicering—Laboratory, a DOE spokeswoman said Friday.

Energy Secretary James Watkins said carlier this week that all three Savannah River reactors would be back in business—by the fall of 1991.

The reactors, which have been shut down for safety reasons since 1988, are the nation's sole source of tritium, a radioactive gas used in nuclear warheads. But DOE spokeswoman Catherine Kaliniak said friday that the agency still is looking to replace the three aging Savannah River reactors with "new production reactors," which the department believes could produce tritium with less risk to safety or the environment. The existing Savannah River reactors are more than 30 years old and are increasingly unreliable. INFL is one of three candidates the DOE is considering for the tritium-producing new production reactors. Watkins this week reaffirmed his department's commitment to the concept of 'duality,' which proposes building two new production reactors in different parts of the nation using different technologies so that the agency will not again find itself without any active source of tritium. Tritium decays at a rate of 5.5 percent annually-so-the-extended shutdowns at the Savannah River reactors are considered a threat-to-the-viability- of the U.S. nuclear-weapons arsenal. INEL, Savannah River and the Hanford Nuclear Reservation in Washington state are the three sites being considered for two new production reactors.

Kaliniak said the DOE will not decide

Kaliniak said the DOE will not decide which facilities will get a reactor until the completion of major environmental impact studies, which may take years. Kaliniak, said the completion of one or two new production reactors could take a decade. In addition, Congress must agree during budget—deliberations—to—fund—the construction of two new production, reactors, not a sure thing in the face of the changing relations with the Soviet Union—and ealls for a moratorium on weapons production.

Kaliniak said the planned Savannah River startup has "no impact or bearing at all on Idaho. Nothing has changed."

H.D. Palmer, a spokesman for Idaho Republican Sen. James McClure, agreed.

"As far as meeting national security needs, (the Savannah River restart) is clearly a relief, but the fact of the matter is that these reactors are old and are being operated beyond their life expectancy," he said.

MURTAUGH - The school district is looking for a new superintendent.

The School Board in a special meeting this week accepted the resignation of Frederick DiazGranados, who will leave the district at the end of the school year and take over the top job July 1 at the New Plymouth School District west of Boise.

DiazGranados, the Murtaugh superintendent for four years, said he is leaving for a number of reasons, including a career move to a larger A-3 school district that offers a higher salary.

"It's alway with mixed blessings that you leave," DiazGranados said. "Even when you've been someplace just four years, you become a part of the community."

Board Chairwoman Georgina Wolverton said the board accepted his resignation with regrets and will begin looking for a replacement.

DiazGranados helped climinate a large deficit, and he will leave the district "in very good shape," Wolverton said.

While in office, DiazGranados said he discovered a $93,000 deficit that had built up over several years.

Market ends climbing

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices capped a week of slow but steady gains with a broad advance Friday, responding to a big surprise in the government's fates report on employment.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 14:19° to 2.710.36, instructing its gain for the week to 65.31 points.

Advancing issues outnumbered declines by Better than 2 to 1 in nationwide trading of New York Stock Exchange-listed stocks, with 1,020 up, 455 down and 480 unchanged.

Volume on the floor of the Big Board carm to 140.55 million shares, against 145.57 million in the previous session. Nationwide, consolidated volume in NYSE-listed issues, including trades in those stocks on, regional exchanges and in the over-the-counter market, totaled 168.14 million shares.

As the day began, the Labor Department reported that the civilian unemployment rate rose two-tents.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE BOBBY WOLFF

Dear Mr. Wollf:
My partner and I use Incoby Iransfer bids (two clubs is Stayman, two diamonds transfers to hearts, two hearts transfers to spades). What is the meaning of a two-spade bid?
Lost Milor, Milwarker, Wis.

Lat Mass, Minester, Wil.

ANSWER: While It is most important to seek major-suit fits, the minors are not to be excluded. Generally the two-spade response to one no-trump shows the minors — a form of minor-suit Stayman — the details of which vary among partnerships.

Dear Mr. Wollf:

I bid two clubs over partner's one no-trump; my LHO doubled to show clubs, and my partner bid two discussed in the minority. The minority The minority ANSWER: Since a pass is always available when there's nothing to say, the two-diamond bid should promise a good diamond suit and probably shows weakness in clubs.

probably shows weakness in clubs.

Our side has a part-score. Does a jump shift by my partner force me, as opener, to bid again even though a pass will complete the game?

ANSWER: A jump shift is generally-treated as at least a one-round force in part-score situations. How else can responder be expected to initiate an intelligent auction aimed at getting to a successful slam?

Dear Mr. Wolff:

Rear-Mr Wolff:
In the old days, a Blackwood response did not show an ace previously shown yia a cue-bid, Does this treatment apply today?

Old-Timer, Metalric, La.

OisTimer, Metaliti, La

ANSWER: In those days a cue-bid was a cue-bid — I.e., it was mainly used to show first-round control. Today cue-bids are used in various other ways (as a general force, to show a stopper or a partial stopper, etc.).
To avoid costly misunderstandings,
most show the true number of aces
regardless of prior cue-bids

Dear Mr. Wolff:
Partner indicated two aces in response to my Blackwood, If I then ask for kings, how many aces do I guarantee in my hand?

All Present and Accounted for, Albuquerque,

ANSWER: You guarantee that the partnership will not lose the first trick to an opposing ace. Therefore, you have two aces. Why probe for a grand slam with an ace missing? With a yould not have been using Blackwood; you should have initiated a cue-bidding sequence.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE BOSBY WOLFF

There is no shame in the accidents of chance, but only in the conse-yences of our own misdeeds

"Why did you lead your singleton trump?" demanded East. "It's generally one of the worst leads, and if picked up my king."
"Your king would have been trapped anyway." offered a kibitzer. "However, the lead did more damage than trapping your king." At most other tables of a duplicate, West chose to lead from his longest suit, clubs. South won, crossed to the diamond ace and ran dummy's high hearts past East, dummy's high hearts past East, picking up the suit with no losers.

packing up the sult with no losers. However, when diamonds dight split, South had to lose a diamond and a spade to score only one over-trick — a normal result.

Against the singleton trump lead, dummy's queen went up and two more lineses followed when East refused to cover either the queen or the nine.

But now this declarer had more information. Why did West lead a singleton trump? Obviously he considered his other choices even less sidered his other choices even less attractive, among them a lead from the diamond queen.

He diamond queen.

He diamond ween with which was a leading the diamond his diamond the diamond vealing opening lead gave South a
