Temporary Nevada nuclear dump clears Senate panel; future murky

WASHINGTON - Legislation to dump nuclear waste in Nevada temporarily cleared the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee Energy and Natural Resources Committee Flhursday, but its prospects remain uncertain. President Clinton already has said he would yet the legislation if it emerges from Congress, and Nevada's two senators said they were confident the measure did not have the two-thrids support to override a veto.

The bill was sent to the Senate floor by a 15-5 vote. It has yet to be scheduled for floor action. "Congress is doing its part to help the federal generation live up to the promise it's made to all or seponatibility for the waste," said Sen. Larry the respective forms of the bill. "Now it's Cailg, Ridaho, a co-sponsor of the bill. "Now it's

The legislation, similar to a bill that passed the Senate last year but languished in the House, would direct the Energy Department to build a temporary dump in the Nevada desert to store high-level nuclear waste until a permanent one can be located and built.

Supporters argue that the government agreed to take waste — more than 30,000 tons of ar— that has been building up at civilian nuclear power plants in 31 states. The gov-Please see NUCLEAR, Page A2

GOP pushes vote on campaign reform

BOISE — A campaign finance reform bill which most Republicans like, Democrate hate and some people say is next to worthless, is headed toward a final vote in the House.

The measure already has cleared the Senate and Gov. Phil Batt supports it, meaning if the bill gets through the House in the final days of the 1997 session it likely will become law. It was approved by the House State Affairs Committee Thursday.

The committee also gave routine approval to a companion bill that would create a new commission to study campaign finances, ethics and lobbysts. It would have five members — two former and most of the committee's attention was on the campaign-finance bill.

"It's a good bill. It has been well thought through and it has been courtessed," said Sen. Evan Frasure, R-Pocatello.

"It's more than a token attempt at reform," Frasure said.

That's what Democrats contended, with their major objections aimed at a section that would require the Idaho Education Association and labor unions to get written permission every year from members to continue collecting checkoff dues for political purposes. An effort to amend the bill failed 13-7 and it seems certain to pass the full House with the GDP majority pushing it. "It is not a perfect bill. There is much yet to be done," said GOP Majority Leader Rep. Bruce Newcomb. "It is a good step in that direction and I am ready to get started."

Rep. John Alexander, D-Pocatello, served notice he would continue his attempt to amend the legislation when it comes before the full House.

DAHO WEATHER SUMMARY

The Associated Press

Heavy rain fell across Arkanasa and the Mississippi and Ohio valleys Thursday while a winter stormbrought freezing rain and snow to the Midwest and the northern Plains.

As much as 3 inches of rain was expected in areas still dealing with flooding along the Ohio River and its tributaries, but forecasters said the new storm would cause floodwaters to rise only slightly.

To the south, thunderstorms brought rainfall at a rate of about 2 inches an hour to Lousignan and northern Florida but no major flooding was reported. A mix of freezing rain and snow was falling across the Midwest and northern Plains.

Mason City, Iowa, was hardest hit with more than a half an inch of ice on the ground. Thunderstorms swept through town early Thursday and produced heavy freezing rain along with small hail and gusty wind. By afternoon, some of the ice had melted but freezing rain continued in the northeastern part of the state.

"This terrible, terrible tragedy was not caused by our military, "Kallstrom said in an interview with The Associated Press." Our military, in particular the Navy divers, are the heroes of this operation — not the culprits."

Investigators have focused on three possible explanations for the July 17 disaster: a bomb, a missile or mechanical failure.

Kallstrom said that it is "technically possible" a terrorist using a shoulder-fired, Stinger-type missile could have caused the tragedy, and he said investigators are examining that possibility. He would not elaborate on where a missile could have been fired from or provide other specifics.

"The outrageous claims of the Pierre Salingers of the world that are unfounded in any facts, absent any rational analysis... do nothing to assist us in trying to find the answers to this horrific event," Kallstrom said.

Salinger offered an expanded version Thursday of his theory that a Navy missile shot down Flight 800. At a Paris news conference, he released a 69-page document and a set of radar images from a video. The tape "completely confirms a missile fired down TWA 800,"

Republican's bill would disclose HIV status

WASHINGTON (AP) — States would be required to alert people to possible contacts with HIV-infected individuals under a bill being advanced by a Republican congressma.

The measure also would create a national reporting system for the virus, require testing of anyone accused of a sex crime, require insurers to disclose HIV test results to applicants and allow disclosure of HIV status of children up for adoption.

Rep. Tom Coburn, R-Okla, said the previsions will protect those who aren't infected and hep those who are learn their states of the protonging treatments.

The proposal "will return sound medical practices to our mation's public health policy and curtail the spread of the deadly HIV epidemic," added Coburn, who also is a physician.

The American Medical Association, which represents doctors, supports the measure, as it has many of the bill's provisions. But the Human Rights Campaign, a gay political group, said the bill would intrude on the authority of local public health officials and do nothing to help a trisk individuals change their behavior. The bill would:

The ruling comes at a time when James and other political figures have railied behind a state judge in Gadsden who has been ordered to stop conducting prayers at the start of court sessions and to remove a carved display of the Zen Commandments from behind his bench.

James has said he would send in state troopers if necessary to support expressions of religious faith in Alabana courtrooms.

Fairgrounds plan needs intense public discussion

Seasonal revenue and year-round ex-penses have long been a problem for the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo. So fair officials are smart to look for ways to bring year-round revenue to the Filer fair-rounde the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo. So fair officials are smart to look for ways to bring year-round revenue to the Filer fairgrounds.

But the filer fairgrounds.

But the fidea they are pursuing – a $7 million, taxpayer-built expo center poses more risk than opportunity. They need to back up and gather more information before presenting any plan to Twin Falls County voters.

An expo center does presenting arrangements, the proposed facility could shelter crowds ranging from 2,500 to 8,000 for various events. It would let the community enjoy entertainment and trade shows that existing accommodations can't handle.

But the $7 million price tag is a roadblock, especially when compounded by a short timetable for winning public support.

Fair leaders originally had considered holding a bond issue election in 1998. But they switched their focus to August '97 when they learned bond payments for the county jail were about to end. They hope to sell taxpayers on replacing the expiring jail tax with an expo center tax.

For the owner of a $100,000 home, the center would cost about $15.50 a year for 20 years. Those payments would be a bit is smaller than the current jail payments - so taxpayers could approve the expo center and still see taxe decline.

Fair leaders hope that arithmetic will-help sell their proposal. But what fair leaders see as a window of opportunity may really be a trap, enticing them to burn energy and community good will on an insufficiently researched plan.

Though the tax-replacement idea can be a useful incentive for voters, it won't sell a project on its own. Any project must be persuasive on its own merits.

So far, this one isn't. Fair officials have not demonstrated a community need for this facility. Nor can they predict its benefits.

Fair Manager John Pitz guesstimates that the expo center would be used about 15 days each month, clearing maybe $70,000 a year. That money would surely go a long way toward maintaining and upgrading the fair-grounds' aging facilities.

But $70,000 is only a 1 percent annual return on the taxpayers' $7 million investment. No private investor would take that deal.

Of course, direct revenue is only a investment. No private investor would take that deal.

Of course, direct revenue is only a part of the hoped-for benefits from an expo center. It presumably would at tract visitors, who would spend money on hotels, meals and other services.

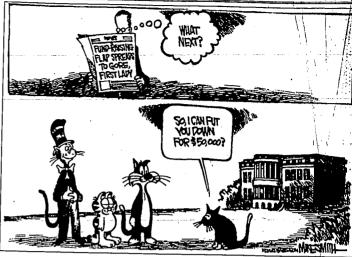

But fair officials have no estimate of those presumed benefits. And even if they had one, would Twin Falls County homeowners and farmers pay additional property taxes to benefit hoteliers and restaurateurs?

Rather than rush to an August election that probably will fail, fair officials should give themselves ample time to measure community desires on this issue. Do Twin Falls County tax-payers want to invest in an expo central than the state of the county tax-payers want to invest in an expo central than the state of the county tax-payers want to invest in an expo central than the tracellar for the state of the county tax-payers want to invest in an expo central than the tracellar for the county tax-payers want to invest in an expo central tracellar than the tracellar trace payers want to invest in an expo center? Do they think attracting ice shows and livestock expos would be worth the expense? Is the fairgrounds the best location?

best location?

An extensive community dialogue should be the first step. A professional study of potential economic benefits should come next, followed by more community dialogue. Only then should fair officials float a specific proposal.

All of this will take much longer than fair officials have in mind today. But it has a better chance of success than a harsty timetable dictated by political opportunity.

Fuel jobbers were especially critical, claiming that every fuel tax increase makes Idaho diesel fuel less competitive, so truckers fuel less competitive, so truckers

Gooding police solve recent car burglaries

GOODING - The Gooding Police Department has solved at least seven of its recent car burglaries.

Police Chief Paul Brown said a 15-year-old male was apprehended Sunday evening and confessed to being responsible for the crimes Charges are pending.

The youth's confession to the first car burglades surprised Brown, as the youth had been on house arrest that week on surrelated charges, he said with the state property that the suspect sole and additional property that the suspect sole and additional property that the suspect sole and additional property that was never reported to us," Brown said.

Rowerer, the youth did not confess to being involved in the vehicle vandalism that cocurred two weeks upo. The Gooding Police Department is asking for community help to solve that crime.

Also, Brown remainds parents, "Parents of piventles involved in criminal activity can be held liable for the crimes committed by their children." Mayone missing property can be commented by their children."

Anyone with information should call Gooding police at 9348345. Anyone missing property can call the police department to claim it.

Like the rattlesnake, the idea of an official state vegetable isn't popular with legislators who contend the bill wastes time and unnecessarily disappoints children.

Josie Gott's fourth-grade class at Jerome's Horizon Elementar, for its proposal to prociaim the potato idaho's official vegetal on Elementary School hasn't given up hope

The House passed the measure, House Bill 232, by a vote of 54-15. The bill is now languishing in the senate committee with slim chances for revival, Rep. Maxine Bell, R. Jerome, the potato bill's sponsor, said Thursday.

The committee may debate the bill today, but if they don't, chances are it will be left to rot, she said.

Gott planted the seed after an Idaho history textbook pointedly noted that the potato is not an official state vegetable. Her fourth-graders have been checking the bill's progress on the Internet at school.

"The kids are kind of on edge, it is kind of a watting game," Gott said.

Bell said she has been the ear of every politician she can think of who might support the measure. She hopes the committee will debate the bill instead of ignoring it totally. "At least that gives the children closure," she said.

Nevertheless, Gott has braced her students for defeat.
"I told them this is a democratic society and you're going to have some people who are for your idea, and some who lew home for your idea, and some who think it is not worthy, but you did what you could and you did your best," Gott said.

This winter afternoon, Colunga is preparing for the dinner hour and making tortillus – she makes and sells 10 dozen a day. Her Syear-old daughter plays with a non-Spanish-speaking customer. Colunga switches from Spanish to English as fast as a blink.

Colunga is a busy woman. She now has a phone, adding to her orders. Next month, a liquor license is expected to come her way. Her cafe serves 40-60 meals daily, on average.

As far as cultural differences, she's glad everyone dines together at her restaurant, where the lights are too bright and the tables too close for much testatant, and the tables too close for much division.

She hopes the closeness spills over to the community.

"There's good in all of us, bad in all of us, that's simple," said Colunga, disturbed by inkings of prejudice against her cultural brothers and sisters. The Wood River Valley, especially Bellevue, has experienced an influx of Hispanic growth in the last 10 years.

The U.S. Census Burean has no clear data on the valley's growing Hispanic population, but the Blaine County School District – through its English as Second Language program – has a pulse on its growth, school flicting say. There Father Tom Keller holds Spanish mass every other Friday. The church also hosts English classes throughout the year. Several Blaine County teachers are bilingual. Bellevue's marshal is Spanish-speaking, but no member of valley police forces is bilingual. Colunga said she was surprised last Christmas, when the holidays rolled around. Tamales are a festival treat, but her Anglo customers eat them all year long, she said.

Local leaders vow north-south cooperation

TWIN FALLS - The mother of all local public meetings was called to order Thursday afternoon and, by the time it was over, the cities and counties of Jerome and Twin Falls had pledged to work together.

Specifically, the four local governments signed an agreement "to enhance a positive working relationship ... and benefit the region while protecting our individual concerns."

Local politicians from both sides of the Snake River gathered for the ceremony at the College of Southern Idaho. The venue was fitting because the college is supported by taxpayers from both counties and is a nexus for students from even farther afield.

Twin Falls City Councilman Gale Kleinkopf, who acted as master of ceremonies, described the setting as "neutral, common ground."

"Some of the issues we have to deal with don't stop at county lines or city limits," Kleinkopf told the assembled dignitaries. Regional cooperation on water-quality protection, economic development, trunsportation and recreation are prime examples, he said.

User fees coming soon to Milner Recreation Area

BURLEY - Beginning June 1, visitors can expect to pay a fee to fish, picnic or engage in other recreational activities at Milner Historic Recreation Area, about nine miles west of Burley.

The Milner area was one of only two places in the state and 17 in the nation selected for a three-year test project. The other Idaho recreation area is the

South Fork of the Snake River, east of South Fork of the Snake Kwer, east of Idaho Falls.

User-fees will be collected and spent on maintenance and improvements at the recreational areas.
Tom Dyer, manager of the BLM's Snake River Resource Area, told the Cassia County Public Lands Committee that the arrangement is unique.
Typically, user fees are put into a nationwide fund. But with this pilot project, the fees will be retained and reinvested at Milner. By collecting fees, the BLM hopes to improve the area and keep it open to public use. Daytime user fees will be 33 per vehicle, while overnight camping will be 55. Annual passes will sell for 525, and seasonal passes will cost about 512 during fall and winter months. Fees will be collected at a pay box.

Representatives from all four entities - collectively known as the Magic Valley Discovery Task Force - will meet quarterly. Members agreed to treat one another with respect, courtesy and dignity as they discuss mat-interest.

In a brief speech to the crowd,
Twin Falls Mayor Jeff Gooding proudly noted that his Magic Carving the valley into political subdivisions has "forced us to think parochially, not regionally," Gooding said.

"We can't just think of our little piece of the pie," Gooding said.

No more water, sewer lines without DEQ approval

By Steve Koehler Times News correspondent

WENDELL - City administra-tors and a state Division of Environmental Quality represen-tative met Monday with Wendell City Superintendent Paul Isaacson and the city crew to discuss cor-rect procedures for installing new-water lines. The marching orders were clear. "Water and sewer pipe does not go in the ground until it's approved by DEQ," said Gity Engineer Scott Bybee, "Period."

Greg Misbach of the DEUS 1 Min-Falls office. Misbach, Bybee and water pro-ject manager Rob Hegstrom met-with Isaacson after a Feb. 20 meet-ing in which residents complained to state officials about public health concerns over the city's water line installation procedures.

Hegstrom said Monday's message went to the crew and fanacson.

Kerby formally announces candidacy

Kerby, formally announces candidacy

BOISE — Promising to involve teachers, administrators and trustees in policy making, New Hymouth Schools Superintendent Ryan Kerby for maily launched his candidacy for state schools superintendent Thursday. He joins state Rep. Roal Black of Twin Falls as Republicants challenging incumbent GOP Superintendent Anne Fox in the May 1998 originary election.

Kerby said he had not been able to talk with Fox about his complaints with her administration.

Kerby said that if elected he would take advantage of the experience and expertise of other education professionals and school board members while seeking more cooperation with the business community. Fox has been criticated for allegedly paying little attention to concerns about how she runs the Education Department and to how her policies affect local schools.

BLM compromises on Owyhee event

CALDWELL — A motorcycle racing group and the Bureau of Land Management have called a truce in a three-month conflict what organizers feared would ruin a weekend event in Owyhee County.

Bill Walsh of Caldwell, president of a local dirt-like racing club called Dirt Inc., claimed the BLM arbitrurily rejected portions of his proposed 100-mile course for Sunday's race.

The "Rabbit Creek National," sponsored by the Southwestern Idaho Desert Racing Association, is one of Idaho's biggest dirt blike races. It is part of a seven-race series in the West sanctioned by the American Motorcyclist Association.
BLM officials said they approved most of Walsh's course, but rejected the proposed use of several environmentally sensitive areas where research showed motorcycle trails formerly did not exist.

Memorial Hospital administrator steps down

WEISER — Dr. Philip Krueger, a Boise genecologis, has resigned as administrator of Memorial Hospital only a little more than three months after being appointed. Krueger became interim administrator on Nov. 20 and was offered a one-year contract in December. But the hospital's board of directors issued a statement this week saying based on smilt concerns it had become clear "that difficulties encountered with scheduling administrative and surgical duties were insurmountable."

The College of Southern Idaho is hosting Festivention '97 – a mega-sized drama festival/convention being stuged March 19-22 by the Rocky Mountain Theatre Association. This is the first time the group has ever set up (work)shop in Twin Falls.

CSI drama instructor Tony Mannen, along with a lot of volunter help, is heading up arrangements for the festival, which has been themed "Idaho Spudacular." He needs an office full of charts and timenables just to keep up.

These are the Backstage Theatre's "J.B.," the Main Street Players' "Elecmosynary, the Cheyenne Little Theatre Players' "The Boys Next Door" and Grantstreet Theatre's "Independence." It's not easy for a theater group to get a show accepted at this festival. Lots of companies try, but five state representatives select only a few to package in among the other long-weekend festivities.

This is a high-speed event.

And, if you're not tired yet, you can call the college and check out the line-up for the Festivention's Youth Festival. It's jam packed with workshops and performances by and for students, who must register to attend. The Youth Festival runs concurrently—with everything else—all day March 22.

based at the College of Southern Idaho.

Those who want to attend workshops must register at the Eagles Nest in the Taylor Building.

Anyone may register, but participants who are not members of the Rocky Mountain Theater Association must pay membership fees in addition to registration fees for the events they wish to attend.

Events open to the public that do not require registration are nightly performances at the Twin Falls High School Roper Auditorium and community theater plays at O'Leary Junior High School all day March 22.

Evening performances are $5 a show or $15 for all four. The March 22 community theater performances are $3 a play or $10 for all four. Tickes

St. Patrick's Day Parade hits the road

By Denise Turner Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Monday's the day to get your Irish up.
"We never know how big it's going to be, but we usually have quite a few local Irish show up," said San Thomas, organizer of the I1th annual Twin Falls St. Patrick's Day Parade. "Car clubs and other local groups love-this thine." is thing."

Between 60 and 70 entrants, ranging from floats to high school bands, are expected to form up at East Five Points at 11:30 a.m. The parade starts at noon.

"There's no entry fee or registration

Thomas co-founded the parade in 1986 with Tim Jones, former proprietor of Dunken's Draught House in downtown Twin Falls. It was a rag-tag affair in the beginning, but it quickly picked up interest. "We have a lot to people enter year after year," Thomas said. Twin Falls insurance agent Doug Neville is this year's grand marshal.

ZAP MAMA "7" (Luaka Bop/Wamer Bros.) 4 stars I don't recall who coined the old adage that writing about music is like dancing about architecture, but it really hits home when trying to describe what's so marvelous about Zap Mama. "Listen and see" is too pat a response, so I'll try putting my praise into words. Zap Mama is the performing moniker of Marie Daulne, a woman of Belgian and Zairean lineage who blends the sounds of several continents in her music. "7" is actually her third album, ds of several

but it's a tremendous leap forward for Daulne, who wrote, arranged and the bulk of this multicultural end the bulk of this multicultural the series of the hardy tropical port of call outside Asia and gleaned a little bit of the native music of each to holp express her ideas and emotions. The African stylings are both traditional and contemporary, complemented by rap, reggae, funk, soul and the blues. What could have been a mere grab bag of influences instead becomes a moving experience, both emotionally and physically, thanks to Daulne's superior songwriting and adept production skills.

While some may maintain Eurocentric white men (and the occasional angry white woman) rule the rock universe, I believe the brilliant blending of many musics will be where true genius wateriges in coming years, and the vanguard of the movement.

Uz "Pop" (Island) 3 1/2 stars Somewhere along the line, "popular music" turned into "pop music" and became an all-encompassing description for all things unclassifiable rock, country, R&B, hip-hop, disco, punk, funk and, now, electronica. At its most effective, pop is a dialogue between the past and future that defines, and is completely of, the moment. So what else could U2 have titled its latest stab at great-moment. So what else could UZ have titled its latest stab at greatness?

Like all visionary-slash-chameleonic arrists, from David Bowie to Neil Young to Prince, UZ have remained creatively restless, and seek to reinvent themselves at every turn. This time, the group tapped into their techno-trance-ambient roots that have percolated since "Zocropa" and "Achtung Baby." "Pop" was recorded with Howie B, the guru of Britain's undergound deejay culture. Lyrically, Bono is at his provocative best, spraying out timages of God, sex and the gutter like a volley of keyboard beats, or Kaleidoscope strole lights bouncing off a disco ball. The book's central parable is the rise of Geffen from enterminent industry wannabe in the mailroom of the William Morris Agency to exalted status as billionaire mogul, philanthropist, and partner in Dreamworks SKG with Steven Spielberg and Jeffrey Katzenberg.

It's an ascendancy that Goodman portrays as representative of the victory of commerce over art. Indeed, Geffen's currance into the Los Angeles music seene as a manager of singer-songwirters Laura/Nyro and Jackson Browne is described by Faul Rotch-hild of Elektra Records as "the beginning of the end of the love groove in American music.... This is a powerfully evocative book, filled with vivid imagery that strikes with the force of shrapnel. Alyssa Bresanhan's sensitive reading is full of feeling and sensual awareness for the poetic rhythms of this rich, dark novel.

His account is a fascinating mix of confession, context, catharsis and counter-punch — some would say rationalization and revisionist history.

He is clear-spoken, tough-talking, a little cocky and sometimes fed-up angry. He has made the national broadcast circuit, contrice with Oprah, conspiratorial with "Dateline," combative with former O.J. Simpson lawyer Alan with "Dateline," combative with Gorner O.J. Fuhrman, born in Tacoma, Wash., and raised by a single mother who moved to several small Washington and Nevada towns, says he is ashamed and sorry for those audio tapes. But he insists they were the words of a fictional character he was creating for a screenlay project and ing for a screenplay project and should have been irrelevant to both his character and Simpson's guilt.

It was trying to give Hollywood the gritty street-cop talk, he says. Well, is this the way they talk? No, he says.

No, he says.

New parenting guide fills in where some other books leave off

By Carey Quan Gelemter The Seattle Times

You tell your boys that you don't approve of weapons, but they're determined to pretend they're determined to pretend they're determined to pretend they're the total warmen's bodies, but your daughter's beset by Rabiemania.

Your child wants to know why its playmate has two mens and no dad, why a homeless person is sleeping in a doorway whether someone's brown skin means he's dirty.

In addition to these "contemporary" issues, you're also dealing with such "old fashioned" bugaloos as your child whining, dawdling or, in general, pushing your buttons while they're push-

Perhaps you've searched through your arsenal of childrearing books for answers. You may have found—a friend of mine swears it's a maxim—that any answer you find is too vague or dogmatic, or your books disagree with one another.

Now here comes "Becoming the Parent You Want to Be; A Sourcebook of Strategies for the First Five Years" (Broadway Books, $20). Focusing on child development and behavior, it has some strengths that fill in where some other books leave off.

But the age-old name game is taking a few twists in the 1990s.
What does it say about our culture that the unknown actress Renee Zellweger insisted on keeping her tongue-twisting name when she was chosen to costar with Tom Cruise in "Jerry Maguire"?
Through the changing patterns of names, authors Justin Kaplan and Anne Bernays chart the shifting tides of culture in their new book, "The Language of Names: What We Call Ourselves and Why it Matters" (Simon & Schuster, 522).

* "Last Orders," by Graham Swift (Vintage, SI2) — Winner of Britain's prestigious Booker Prize, Swift's accomplished novel follows four ordinary men — an undertaker, an insurance agent, a car dealer, a produce trader — as they leave a London pub on a pillgrimage to the seaside to scatter the ashes of a fifth man, the butcher Jack Arthur Dodds. Three of the men have known Jack since World War II; the fourth is his foster son. Each, in turn, tells his story as it touched on Jack's, and it is through this chorus that Swift poignantly illuminates ordinary lives.

Thanks for a valuable addition to this column!

DEAR ABBY: I have been thinking about writing to you for a long time to share a memory about my mother, who lived to be 39-cars old.

State of the last seven years of her light with my husband and me. Every mid raining we had breakfast together and read the newspaper. Our wronte column was "Dear Abby"

One morning I glanced up and saw a small curl of smole rising from the section of the newspaper she was reading. I thought, "Abby must have a hot article in her column today!"

The source of the smoke soon became apparent. Mother's eyesight was poor, and she was using a magnifying glass to read. The sun was shining through the window and the angle was just right for the rays to pass through the magnifying glass on the paper. She was so engrossed in your column that at first she didn't notice the heat was burning a hole in the newspaper!

B.I.G. trouble: Street murders are tearing apart the world of rap

NEW YORK (AP) — When he visits California, rap arist Havoc of Mobb Deep is careful about who is a round him. Tension between East and West coast rappers is a reality this Bronx resident can't ignore.

"We're walking targets. because we're rappers, we're entertainers. We've got to be careful," said Havoc, whose album, "Hell on Earth," topped the rhythm and blues charts. The shooting deaths of Tupac Shakur and The Notorious BLG, have left many rap musicians on edge.

St. Joseph's guards gobble up Pacific

SALT LAKE CITY. – St. Joseph's renaissance season turned ragged Thursday, but the Hawks had enough savvy – and good fortune – to plow past Pacific, 78-55, in a West Regional opener at the Huntsman Center.

St. Joe's backcourt of Rashid Bey and Arthur Davis supplied the savvy, hitting 15 of 27 shorts and scoring 41 points. Pacific, a school that hadn't been to the NCAA tournament since 1979, supplied the good fortune. The fourth-seeded Hawks should not expect any such largest from Boston College, a 73-66 winner over Valparaiso, in a second-round matchup Saturday. While Davis, a freshman, hinted that St. Joe's problems stemmed from NCAA anxiety, his coach, Phil Marrelli suggested otherwise.

The game was not without incident. Reserve St. Joe guard Terrell Myers dropped Pacific's Tim Bowman at midcourt with an elbow to the face in the final 32 seconds of the first half. The fool went uncalled because the two players trailed a fast break that ended with

"We normally don't run this early," said Buhl coach Tom Chivers. "But we wanted to force the team and the coaches to get focused early. This is a baptism by fire."

An odd cliche, especially at a meet where fans huddled under heavy blankers like Iditared groupies and hot cofee was a treasured commodity. "I should have made an industrial-size pot of this stiff," said a member of the Bull staff over a mug of cappucino. "I could have made a killing." Nathanael Castle of Gooding made a killing." Nathanael Castle of Gooding made a killing in the meet, lapping the latter half of his competition in the 3200 meter run to take first place with a recorded 10.59. That technical came barely more than a minute after St. Joe's assistant Matt

After Pacific cut an 11-point deficit to one, St. Joé's put the game away with a barrage of three-pointers. Boy (22 points on 9-for 15 shooting) and Davis hit three-straight threes around Myers' technical to open a 58-50 lead.

An athlete who loses consciousness momentarily should not compete again for at least a week, and one who remains unconscious for several minutes should stay on the sidelines for two weeks or more, Thurman said.

If an athlete is knocked unconscious a second time, regardless of how long after the first time, he should stay out at least a month, he said.

Trainers must assess any athlete who might have a head injury, and an athlete who seems confused, diray or unsteady must be examined by a physician, Thurman said. If the problem doesn't clear up within 15 minutes, the athlete should not be allowed back in the game. Bradley scores 31, swats Celtics DIALIAS (AP) - Shawn Bradley scored a season-high 31 points and blocked a potential pareying show with 33 seconds left as the Dallas Mavericks handed the Boston Celics their sixth straight loss, 109-107 Thursday night.

The Mavericks took a two point lead, their first of the final quarter, when Michael Finley knocked the ball from rookie Antoine Walker near midcourt and went in for an uncontested dunk with 93 seconds left.

Bradley then blocked a layup attempt by Walker.

The Celtics had one last shot, but Walker's 3-point attempt from the left wing bounced off the rim at the buzzer.

The 1995 team showed remarkable poise, dispatching its opponents with cool efficiency. Sor far, this one has done the same. The Huskies (360), the nation's only unbeaten team, are winning by an average of 17 points.
"I think we still have the same kind of attitude we do every year heading into the tournament," Wolters said. "It think Practices have shown that. They've been very competitive and aggressive. We couldn't ask for anything more. I think we're in the right mindset now entering the tournament."

American consumers spent freely in February, fanning inflation fears

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Debt-burdened American consumers spent freely last month, increasing the chances the Federal Reserve will push interest rates higher to forestall inflation.

And American strade deficit soared to its second-worst performance ever last year.

A grab bag of reports, issued Thursday by government agencies and a trade association, on the whole depict a robust conoliny maintaining its momentum into the spring, analysts said.

Fear of a monetary tightening pushed up interest rates in bond markets and sent stock prices lower, with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks lesing more than 100 points by midalternoon.

Retail sales rose a strong o.8 percent to a geasonally adjusted $213.2 billion in February after shooting up 1.5 percent in January, the Commerce Department said. The January, the Commerce Department said, The January figure more than doubled an earlier estimate of a 0.6 percent gain.

Both department stores and auto dealers reported strung gains.

Consumer confidence is high, analysts said, because of a vibrant job market. The Labor Department stores and was week to 307,000, the lowest level in more than two years. The four-week moving average of claims, at 310,250, was the lowest since 1989.

European trading partners and Japan, controlled a saleary deterioration last year in the ordest and surrent account deficit, the tondest an easure of U.S. foreign trade. Consumer demand in the United States fuelled import growth while lackluster fuelled import growth while lackluster demand overseas restrained exports.

The current-account deficit jumped 11.4 percent to $165.1 billion, just short of the all-time record of $167.4 billion set in 1987, in addition to trade in goods and services. Consumers' buying binge came even though the percentage of Americans falling behind on their credit card bills jumped at the end of 1996 to the highest level on record. The American Bankers Association said credit card delinquencies dimbed in the fourth quarter to a record 3.72 percent of all accounts, up from 3.48 percent in the third quarter. And the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. said earnings at the nation's 2.922 commercial banks int am all-time high of $52.4 billion last year, up 7.59 percent from 1955. Savings institution carnings slipped 7.9 percent 55 billion. The combined total of bank and $82.1.

Dow nose-dives more than 160 points as worries mount

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

NEW YORK — The Dow Jones industrial average tumbled Thursday to its fifth-biggest point drop ever as inflation and interest rate worries intenslife, triggering a broad selloff in the stock market.

The Dow lost 160.48 points, or 2.28 percent, closing at 6,878.89. The blue-chip barometer's plunge was led by Philip Morris, which slid the equivalent of 37 Dow points amid renewed worries about health-liability suits against the tobacco industry.

Even so, the Dow's drop was hardly the work of an isolated few of the Dow's 30 components, only AT&T showed a gain for the day. Similarly, broad stock measures also fell sharply, with the Standard & Poor's 500 list losing about 1.8 percent. The session represented "a broad sweeping setback which reflects a general desire to lighten up on equity exposure," said McChael Metz, vice president at Oppenheimer & Co., asserting that much of Depenheimer & Co., asserting that much of the market's record-serting rise has been the product of momentum investing, which produces a company's financial performance. Fixer issued for browser's security flaws

SEATTLE (AP) — Microsoft had posted a single patch, or program repair kit, to fix all three security bugs found over the past week it its Internet Explorer Web brown its Internet Explorer Web browser.

Without the patch, an unscrupulous Web site operator could take advantage of the flaws to wreak havoc in someons else's computer, sending instructions to run programs secretly, send electronic mail under the other operator's name, or dam age software stored on a hard drive.

The patch was posted late Saturday at the Microsoft Corp. official Web site and can be downloaded for free. The flaw affects Internet Explorer versions 3.0 and Internet Explorer versions 3.0 and Windows NT 4.0 operating systems.

market for programs to browse the World Wide Web on the Internet.

The first flaw was found more than a week ago by a student at Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Worcester, Mass Another one was discovered Thursday by a student at the University of Maryland in College Park, Md.

The third problem was reported Friday by students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Microsoft's repair efforts should avert any significant damage to the company's effort to catch up with Netscape, the leading Web browser, said Dan Kusnetzky, director of the client server environments program at International Data Corp. in Framingham, Mass.

He and David Fester, product manager for the Internet platforms division at Microsoft head-quarters in Redmond, noted that bugs also have been found in Netscape browsers.

"Clearly, it means that the industry needs to come together to better address this sort of problem. these security concerns," Fester said.

Mandy Patinkin goes all out for Quasimodo

The last time the character Onasimodo was seen, he was animated ... but it's much tougher for an actor to play the part in live action

Mandy Patinkin last summer's Disney cartoon version of the classic Victor Hugo tale "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," he has the title role as the deformed and tormented Paris bellringer in Sunday's new TNT offering simply titled "The Hunchback." Salma Hayek ("Desperado." "Fools Rush In") plays Esmeralda, the gypsy queen he worships, who also attracts the different-minded attention of both Dom Frollo (portrayed by Richard Harris) and Gringoire (Edward Atterton). Filmed in locations including Prague and Budapest by director Peter Medak ("Romeo Is Bleeding"), the story was adapted for television by John Fasano ("Tomb-stone," "Judge Dredd"). "When I was asked to do the piece." Patinkin recalls, "I said, 'Sure. You don't even have to pay me.' We needed to jump on the makeup thing right away. I happened to be in London at the time, doing Arthur Miller's 'Broken Glass' (which was shown last fall on PRS' Masterpiece Theatre'), and the makeup artists for this also were there. They had made Robert De Niro up for Kenneth Branagh's 'Frankenstein,' and we immediately started doing castings of my face and back, because they had to get that lead time (to create the needed prosthetics before filming began).

Cover story

Patinkin also prepared for his "Hunchback" stint by watching past screen renderings of the story: "I centered on two, one being the. Lon Chaney version and the other being the Charles Laughton one, I flew in my exercise coach, Paul Jurison, and we analyzed them. I told him I didn't want to do the Chaney movements, because they were too monster-like; instead, I wanted to do it very much like Laughton, very child-like and innocent. My trainer said.

OK, here is what it's going to cost you physically to do that ... and it's going to be a lot.'

"He designed a training program for my Patinkin continues. "I would walk around in squats, with 50-lb. weights in my hands, for hours. That got me in condition to an extent, but nothing worked like being in that position on the set for 12 hours a day. I continually had to do stretches after every single take. weekly television. The former Seattle Seahawks linebacker also known as "The Boz" parlayed his rugged image into several action movies and he's using it again in "Lawless," an adventure series premiering Friday on Fox. Bosworth stars as John Lawless, an ex-Special Forces operative whose combat and surveillance skills make him the person sought by troubled people in Miami's South Beach area when regular law-enforcement channels can't help them. Glenn Plummer ("Speed," "Up Close and Personal") plays his wise-cracking, helicopterflying pal and partner, trays Plummer's mother. Nearly every Bosworth acting project has cast him as a Special Forces veteran, and while that's a convenient occupation for someone with his physique and strength, he claims he doesn't take it lightly. "In my preparation for all the work Pve done in the past films, I have not only had training before I got there, but I've also had technical advisors on the set," he reports. "These guys have

ALL MY CHILDREN

Erica was saved, but the baby was missing. Maria recalled seeing her child's birthmark, then lamented she may never get to hold him. Pierce told Brooke he may have shot Christina. Adam's ring, meant to persuade Liza to give him a divorce was mistakenly sent to Gloria, who assumed Tad planned to propose. Back at the lake, Erica found the baby with Esther, and got her to give him back to her. Hayley recalled Tanner removing her camisole in the cave. Next Week: Erica sees Maria and Dimitri embracing, and makes a decision about the haby.

ANOTHER WORLD

Carl asked Rachel to forgive his faults for their child's sake Gary thought he heard Grant call the man in the "Jake" mask, Hal. Matt was upset about Carl being in Rachel's life. Michael kicked Donna out when he learned she "encouraged" Sharlene to leave. Carl was unaware Rachel was ioining in the "gaslighting" of Grant. Sofia sensed Matt was saying goodbye. Next Week: Jake feels he'll soon be back with Vicky.

AS THE WORLD TURNS

(March 13 and 14 were preempted for NCAA Basketball.) Holden showed the jailed Lily the revealing wedding photo. At Mike's urging, Pilar gave David a statement incriminating Diego. Later, as she tried to find evidence on Diego's computer to help Lily, Pilar made a shocking discovery. Cal told Emma jealousy over Connor made him to try to implicate Mark. Margo told Hal she or someone else may have used her gun in the murder. Memories of the rape sent an upset Emily to Diego's hidden casket. Next Week: New "evidence" could cut two ways for Lily.

BOLD AN D BEAUTIFUL

(March 13 and 14 were preempted for NCAA Basketball.) Lauren learned Stephanie and Eric reconciled. A shocked Ridge learned Brooke gave Grant control over Forrester's. After getting the news from Clarke, Sally mused about Grant's life expectancy. Sheila paid Curtis to help her get Maggie out of James' life. Michael saw Stephanie take a gun out of her briefcase. Next Week: A gun goes off, and someone falls down.

Carla to Angie's clinic where they learned the baby hadn't been harmed. Zoe told Tracy the mob was watching her. Later, Gino's cronies told Tracy they were trying to protect her. Tracy later learned the mystery key was for a Brooklyn hangout for Gino and his friends. Lorraine got into an accident after Nick berated her for talking to Angie about her visions. A surprise awaited Tracy in Gino's place. Next Week: Alexgets a call for help.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Susan imagined hearing a baby cry and decided to tell John her story in hopes he'll give her child back to her. Jack apologized to Jennifer for killing Peter. Abe urged Hope to believe she still had a chance with Bo. After a priest affirmed the validity of John's marriage to Kristen, (although neither the priest nor Mariena knew John actually exchanged vows with Susan), Marlena realized if she told John the truth about Kristen, he'd be stuck in a marriage with a woman he can't love or respect. Bo and Billie continued their "lovers" act for the person watching them, but Bo reminded her his heart belongs to Hope. Next Week: Ivan asks Vivian to help fill his doctor's "prescription."

GENERAL HOSPITAL

After the sexual harassment verdict, Monica was stripped of her position at the hospital. Jax and Jason rescued Brenda and Sonny. Brenda later told Alan she feared becoming dependent on pain killers. Ned and Keesha's confrontation led to a volatile revelation. Lucky opted to stay with Luke in Port Charles and gave Lesley Lu the Faberge egg before she left for Switzerland with Laura and Lesley. Laura told Stefan never to mention the possibility Nikolas might be his son. Next Week: Jax nearly catches Brenda taking a home pregnancy test.

GUIDING LIGHT

(March 13 and 14 were preempted for NCAA Basketball.) Jenna told Buzz the truth about little Coop. Amanda tried to learn who else knew the secret of her Danny carried the collapsed place in the Spaulding family. A Tony sees an "opportunity."

frantic Alexandra searched for the document, aware that in the wrong hands, it could blow the family skyhigh. Michelle decided to make chances in her life. Annie cracked when she realized her plan to separate Josh and Reva was backfiring. Meanwhile, Josh was faced with an urgent situation. Next Week-Amanda confronts Alexandra.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

Carlo's twin, Mortimer Bern, turned up as Bo's surprise witness and in return for total immunity, revealed his part in Carlo's escape plan, and how Alex killed Carlo. After overhearing Maggie mention her father. Ian told his P.I. to locate the Bishop, Blair learned of Todd's search for a blood marrow donor for Starr. Viki came to the rescue of a snowbound Dorian. But later, Bette let slip to Ben about the jewels. Gregory ordered Eddie to arrest Annie. Olivia almost caught Cole and Caitlin together. Gabi put photos of Paula and Ricardo in a scrapbook, Later, Paula got a hang-up call, and feared she was being stalked. Michael confronted his past. Vanessa later saw him hugging and kissing a mystery woman. Next Week: Cole makes a shocking discovery.

YOUNG AND RESTLESS

Rvan told Silva he's leaving Nina and taking Phillip, Ashley saw Grant with photographs from Kurt's bedroom, and realized he had been Linda's lover. Diane didn't tell Jack of her dinner with Victor. John told Jill he'll take Billy if she marries Keith. Neil was touched when Dru credited him for her success during a TV interview. In Madison, Frank showed Grace his written consent to the adoption of Sharon's first-born child. Back in Genoa City. Sharon refused to give up hope that her baby will survive. Next Week:

John McCook:Ten vears and counting

On March 23, 1987, Bill and Lee Phillip Bell, the creators of the innovative daytime series, "The Young and the Restless introduced "The Bold and the Beautiful" on the CBS Network. Today, there are four members of the original cast still with the show: Susan Flannery (Stephanie Forrester).

Katherine Kelly Lang (Brooke Locan Forrester Chambers), Ronn Moss (Ridge Forrester) and John McCook (Eric Forrester). Over the past decade, the series has grown to become one of the more popular daytime shows both in the United States and abroad.

McCook, who had originated the role of Lance Prentiss on "Y&R" several years earlier, recalls. "When we came on, we were this small boutique soap opera. But the show has grown over the years. Nothing mercurial. Just a fine, steady upward pace. And it's been a rewarding experience to be part of

Asked what surprised him most about the show over the past 10 years. John said, "How popular we've become around the world. We're in some 90 countries, and the appeal of the show in those places is truly phenomenal."

McCook started his show business career in musicals. His rich baritone voice earned him roles in productions such "Showboat. "Carousel." "Man of La Mancha," and "From the Top" with Carol Burnett

He is also a pianist and conductor. "Music remains the constant in my life," Mc-Cook says. "I've been doing this show for 10 years - enjoying every moment. But I've been involved with music for 30.

A critic once said that Sigmund Romberg's opcrettas were actually soap operas set to music.

McCook chuckled. "You could say that about Bizet, too," he said. " 'Carmen' definitely has all the elements of a soap opera.

"And daytime dramas certainly have an embarrassment of emotions, McCook added. "Every day, so many major things happen to the characters. So, yes, any soap would be a perfect venue for someone to compose music to. I guess that's what melodrama means?

Speaking of soap themes like love, romance, passion, lust, and all those other good things, how is that Eric Forrester can be involved with so many women, and no one takes him to task for all that bedding, wedding, wooing and pursuing he's been doing for the past decade? Is he the first Teflon Don Juan of soaps? How does he get

"Because he's so sincere." McCook said. "Eric may be the elder statesmen, but he has more ex wives than anyone on the show, and can come in and out of relationships more often than the young people on the soap. I feel it has to do with his sincerity. He sincerely wishes to have a really wonderful, fulfilling relationship, as opposed to a young stud of a boy who is looking just to score."

away with it?
