Proposed changes include increased involvement by county commissioners, giving them final say on rezoning requests and development plans.

The city and the county now operate, under an agreement wherein the city makes recommendations about development in the area of impact and the county appropries them. The arrangement stems from the problem that the county doesn't have the staff required to deal with all the potential issues.

Many area of impact residents say they are negatively affected by city decisions, and they object to the current arrangement in part because as county restdents, they can't vote for the city council members whose actions affect them.

Some residents grew so fus-traced with the process that they hired an attorney though they

Parents sue over school drug test

T.F. family claims policy violates daughters' rights

By Chad Bakhvin Times-News write

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls family has taken its fight against the school district's drug testing policy to court.

Joe and Denise Stanzak, whose daughters Danielle and Anastasia are Twin Falls High School students, contend the school's pollcy of random drug testing for students in extracuricular activities is too broad and violates students' rights.

"The school district has created a policy that causes substantial harms to its students, wrote joe Stanzak, an attorney who is representing his family in the case. "The policy discourages from participation in student activities individuals who would otherwise benefit from experiences outside the strictly academic curriculum. Exclusion of students from these artivities will seriously include the strictly included the strictly included the control of students from these artivities will seriously included the drug testing policy after the U.S. Supreme Court voted 5-4 in June 2002 that students in public schools who "volunteered" for any extracurricular activities could be randomly drug tested. The rationale was that student safety supersedes student privacy issues.

"The Skancola Sangue in their lawsuit — filed in 5th District Court in Twin Falls — that Anastasia's refusal to sign a form consenting to random drug testing has harmed her grade in seminary and the refusal to sign the consent form." Anastasia's grade in band class, an academic passent form." Anastasia's grade in band has dropped from an A to a C. the lawsuit say. She has A's in all of her other classes.

In addition, the lawsuit contends that Anastasia received a falling mark on the Direct Witting Assessment because her chosen essay topic was "Random Drug Testing in Schools." She had always passed that test, which is graded by teachers, before

Zoning changes
The designation R1 43,000, which allows for one-scre lots with septic tanks and wells, would be phased out.

"It is a little bit problematic for us," said Labra Orton, the city's Danning and zoning director. That's not a very realistic zone with water quality issues.

Other enses would be permanently designated agricultural.

"There are octual arease we feel never should be developed," orton said. The area south of Low Line Canal, for example, serves as a water recharge zone for the city.

Such areas could continue to be farmed, he said.

A new subtransation interface zone would function as a transition area. "When the city moves out to it, it can be rezoned," he said.

Wilderness issues ripen for Boulder-White Clouds

Por a variety of reasons, I resolve many of the long standing and thorny land use, recreation, and wilderness designation issues in central Idaho. Its time to put these old debates to rest and move ahead to a stronger, more secure economy in the rugged, beautful and productive heart of Idaho.

ful and productive heart of Idaho.
Since my election to Congress, one of my highest priorities has been to resolve wilderness conflict issues in central Idaho. I realize the answer is not to create wilderness conflict issues in central Idaho. I realize the answer is not to create wilderness and walk away. That would only magnify the land use conflicts we already face. The solution is to first create an integrated economic deseignment and recreation plan that addresses the needs of the people who live and recreate in central Idaho. If we to this, then maybe legislation could more forward that would include wilderness as a component of the people include wilderness as a component of the people in the property of the property of the property of the property of the people in the property of the property of the people in the property of th cincinders of water as a component.

This is not the first attempt to solve the Boulder-White Clouds management Issue. Sen. McClure and extended wilders white worked together to find a wilderness compromise. Rep. Stallings and then-Rep. Crapo each made the description of the solution o strictions and conflicts, have forced all parties to reconsider the need for a compromise in the Boulder-White Clouds. We are now presented with a unique opportunity in which we can reach out to parties and find a long-term solution. We have a rare opportunity to control our own destiny by crafting legislation that fits the needs of central Idaho.

During the past year, my staff and have met with some of the groups that would be impacted by possible legislation. These meetings included Ouster County's past and present commissioners, mnchers, nowmobilers, off-road whick users, outflitters, conservationists and others. What I have heard has made me believe we can find a positive, reasonable of the Boulder-White Clouds also made me realize there are four main components that would be addressed in any legislative package.

The first component is the would be addressed in any leg-islative package. The first component is the need for economic develop-ment in Ouster County, Custer County is larger than three states, yet has just over 4,000 people. Unfortunately, it is burdened with a high proportion of public lands with more than 95 percent of the county's 3.4 million acres administered by federal agencies. One only needs to speak to the county commissioners to realize that his grossly disproportionate public ownership causes a sever strain on their resources. Simply put, the county's tax base, or more specifically the lack thereof, is inadequate to support the services required for such an expansive county. I think it is important to note, the county's citizens and taxpayers are supporting those who recreate in the area by maintaining roads, law enforcement, search and rescue, medical aid and other services, infrastructure and facilities.

The second component is ensuring our ranchers, outfiters, miners and others who are permitted to operate on Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management lands in the Boudler-White Clouds can continue to maintain their livelihoods. They need an opportunity to remain as viable and sustainable operations so the third component can continue their traditional wan of the truditional wan of the trudit areas deemed non-suitable for wilderness and designate wilderness taking into account the recommendations of the Forest Service and BLM. In addition, in order to protect the forests, communities and homes in the Stanley area, we need to look at the emergency removal of buy, killed "red trees" before the forests are reduced to ashes.

While these four components will be central to resolving the Boulder-White Clouds Issue, there are many other issues and groups that will play a part in the ultimate resolution. In the coming months I will be reaching out to these groups and the public to discuss how possible legislation may affect them. Finally, it is important to remember that resolving old battles and moving to a strong future requires the active and constructive participation of the interested parties. The old approach of sacrificing the needs of one group to benefit another just won't work. It mover did. What we must have is give and take, a willingues to find a reasonable compromise that addresses all those who care about the Boulder-White Clouds and depend on the area for their livelihoods and enjoyment. In the end, we need support from the people of Custer County, their elected representatives and the users of the area. With that support, I am confident that we can strengthen the local economy, preserve great recreational opportunities, protect a treasure of Idaho and bring an end to the decades old debate.

war. I watched some of the 9/11 restimony, and it made me sick, outraged and damn mad.

This commission is a disgrace to the American people. This bunch of ill-mannered stuffed shirts are spending millions of our tax dollars to find out what? The stupidity of these people is beyond belief. They are subverting our government and giving aid and comfort to the enemy. I'm embarrassed and ashamed to think we have these kinds of people in my government. All they are going to find out is what we already know. I hope most people can see what this really is. If is a politically motivated witch hunt! This is not the kind of image we should be projecting to the rest of the world.

I lived and fought through when we way to the life and when every one in the United States suffered. The war effort diectied every man, woman and child. I worked in an aircuff inctory for 55 cents an hour and nine of us rode to and from work in one car.

Latter, I was able to get into the Army Avation Cadet program. After 16 months of very strenuous duty, starting at 5 a.m. and ending at 10 p.m... I graduated from flight school. Everything was rationed, You couldn't buy eggs, butter, ham, sugar, shoes, times, new cars, and most other things we take for granted these days. Gasoline was 20 to 30 cents per guilon: If you had a ration stamp, you could buy into gallons.

I spent the rest of the war flying airplanes. I ended up flying heavy cargo planes, delivering supplies to the Chinese in support of their desperate struggle against the Japanese.

So, people, wake up and count your bessings, It could be a lot worse. I know.

However, if you want to see shum, take a look at the corner of Midway and Vakima streets, comer of an old hotel no longer in use. Now we're talking slum city. My second concern is with the safety of the children of anyone walking. Since this subdivision would be in the Filer School District No. 413, the students would have bus pick-up. The committee is studying, the science behind the plan. Allred, who rectires in June, said the plan will benefit few unless it improves the Silver Valley economy, which has suffered since the mine, shut down in the early 1908.

He said efforts are bringing in commerce, such as the Eagle Crest residential and recrudinal development at the said of silver Mountain.

A lot of economic activity is being generated, Allred said. We're just getting something going.

is to improve the environment for public health and water quality. The state also seeks to settle federal court cases against mining companies over pollution.

Titigation is taking up a tremendous amount of resources that could better be put into the ground, the said.

The lidah congressional delegation helped secure $850,000 for the academy review. Cleanup of the basin must be based on sound science and a solid, locally driven cleanup plan, Crapo said.

We want you to understand the impacts of your decisions on the local people here, the local critics assalled the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's effort to protect human health by scrubbing mine wastes from yards and public areas in the upper basin. The total cost of the 30-year cleanup, including ecological restoration, is $339 million.

Phil Cernera, restoration co-ordinator for the Coeur d'Alens Thie, said he's wornied the plan will not do enough, since lake Coeur d'Alens is omitted from the Superfund cleanup.

He said the lake is the largest repository for heavy metals from the mine tailings in the

"There's no game plan for it," he said. "Water quality will continue to be violated and fish will be contaminated after 30 years. The science is clear, it is the will of the people that's uncertain."

Wolf biologist faces charge | Senior seminar focuses CODY, Wyo. (AP) - Criminal trespassing charges have been filed against a federal wolf recovery official and another man who were found with four wolves on a private ranch. The men may have inadverently landed their helicopter on private land Feb. 14 to place radio tracking collars on four wolves that had been tranquilized, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials have sald. Park County Attorney Bryan Storie said biologist Michael Jimenez of the Fish and Wildlife Service officials was sald.

Jimenez of the Fish and Wildlife Service and Wesley Livingston of Hawkins and Powers Aviation, each faced two counts: trespassing and placing or depositing objects upon the property of another, more commonly known as littering, according to a statement released through his office.

Both are mis maximum penalties of up to $750 in fines and up to six months in Jail, he said.

Acting principal gets permanent job

BURLEY - For the first time since December, Burley High School has a permanent principal, but 'few will notice a change.

Cassia County School Board members Tuesday hired acting Principal Jeff Harrah as the permanent principal. Assistant Superintendent Bob Pavlock-said Harrah will be on a one-year contract.

Harrah was named acting principal in December after former Principal Doug Bailey quit for personal reasons. Harrah had served two years as assistant principal when he took over, Pavlock sald.

On Friday neither Pavlock or school district officials could pinpoint Harrah's salary. District Business Manager Pam-Wade said she wasn't sure if a contract had yet been drafted.

Harrah's salary before he took over as acting principal was 599,128, and Bailey's salary was 599,108 when he resigned.
Board members reviewed other candidates before selecting Harrah for the job, Pavlock said.

Harrah previously taught math and coached basketball at Oakley High School.

Hansen Brings Legislative Experience to Inexperienced Senate:

With the retirement of Senate members and heated races statewide many experts feel that 30% to 40% of the Idaho State Senate could have new representation this election cycle. This leaves a real lack of institutional memory and a shortage of leadership. It is important that the Republican Candidates bring the experi-ence and leadership to the Idaho Senate. Randy Hansen has served in the Idaho House of Representatives and under-stands the Senate rules. He has served on the Joint Finance and Appropriations Committee, Judiciary and Rules, and Health and Welfare Committees. Most important he already has the established relationships with the existing members of the House and Senate so that he can get a consensus on tough issues. Randy knows what it takes to make a constituent's idea

Speaker of the House Bruce Newcomb stated, "Representative Hansen was one of the best legislators I have ever seen. We wish he were coming back to the House but we understand that an open seat gives him the chance to serve in the Senate. Had Randy stayed in the House of Representatives, I am sure that he would be the next Speaker."

Idaho needs strong leadership and the Magic Valley needs Randy Hansen in the Senate, Vote Randy Hansen for Senate May 25th.

Engineers: Utah buildings 'will just flat-out kill you' in quake

SAIT IAKE CITY (AP) — Utah is shoring up its marble state-house against an overdue earthquake, but legislators said they couldn't afford to fix another known deathrup — the busy University of Utah library, which is expected to "pancake" on itself in a quake of magnitude 5.0 or greater because of a fatal de-self in a quake of magnitude 5.0 or greater because of a fatal design flaw.

The debate underscores the dangers in this city, where officials say two out of every three buildings are considered dangerously unsafe even from modernate ground shaking, And geologists for years have warned this mountain basin is due for a powerful jolt, one that returns with fair regularity about even 1,300 years.

One leading advocate for building safety says this city's aging stock of unreinforced brick and masonry buildings looks a lot like San Francisco's before the 1906 eartinquake devastated much of that city.

"I'll be very candid with you." Lawrence Reaveley says when asked to describe the earthquake hearnts here. Reaveley, who is chairman of the University of Utah engineering department, goes on to describe accascade of peeling, buckling and collapsing buildings that "will just flat-out kill you.

"The streets and sidewalks become the most dangerous place' because of falling debris, lead.

The library is considered so menacing the Federal Emer-gency Management Agency stepped up April 5 to help pay for earthquake bracing that the Utah Legislature had refused to fund only weeks before. But FEMA offered only $2.5 million and the Legislature still has to come up with the rest of the $45 million for structurar "apairs, which could take until next year or longer.

which could take until next year or longer.

FEMAS contribution "adds credibility to the importance of this project," says Arthur. Parry—Brown, a partner for Reaveley Engineers & Associates. Ti would be hard for the Utah Legislature to totally ignore it.

Legislators said they didn't want to go deeper into debt to pay for the library at the same time they were bornowing heavily to overhaud the Utah Capitol, which also is at risk of collapsing from a moderate temblor. The Capitol is being empired this month for four years of work that will include lifting the 67500-ton statehouse on a set of shock absorbers. The entire project will cost $200 million. Earthquake-resistant buildings are supposed to stand up and stay mostly inact. But engineers don't guarantee they'll remain open for occupancy or uscable after a quake.

"If we can get you out of the building without killing you, we're happy," says Reaveley. While geologists have long moom Salt Lake City was vulnerable to an ancient rhythm of immense earthquakes, they have only recently begun to understand how savagely the ground can shake when it happens.

The Wasatch fault here last lipped about 1.284 years ago and the four most recent prehistoric quakes ranged from 1.270 to 1.442 years. For experts who determined those dates, it's as lose to clockwork as geology gets.

Prisoner population grows to new high

OROFINO (AP) — The state's top prison official is warming that the number of limates is increasing again after holding steady for the past 18 months.

As of Friday, Idaho's prison population reached a record 6,085 limates, an increase of 255 over the past six months, Department of Correction Director Tom Beauclair told the Board of Correction at its meeting on Thursday.

Increasing convictions are responsible for the jump, he said, and could lead the department to again start sending prisoners out of state.

Who clashed with the black-clad millida on Friday was unclear. News reports offered conflicting accounts. Some agencies said U.S. soldiers were involved in the battle, while others reported that Spanish and Salvadoran members of the coalition cume under attack and fired back, killing five Iraqis. At coalition headquarters in Baghidad, a U.S. miliany spokes woman said early Saturday that they had no field reports of any coalition clashes Friday in either Kufin or Najat.

Al-Sadr's supporters — including Samni Musilers. who usually oppose Shiltes and their clerics —

France worries about heat

ADOUL IREAL

PARIS (AP) — The sun is out and the jonquils are in bloom. But as spring arrives in Paris, the dearmer weather has raised questions about whether. France is ready for another heat wave like last summer's stezler that killed 15,000 in this country. Retirement homes are tyring loc equip, themselves with fans, and air conditioners, but the costs are out of reach for some. Adehpa, an association of retirement home managers, says the government is all talk and no new money — forcing them to shoulder an average of $18,000 to $24,000 to install cooling systems for individual morns: "With three months to go before summer, were starting to praine," said spokeswoman Agnes Lafarque. Agnes Lafarque. "The problems we face are the same as those last year."
Record temperatures were recorded in many major European cities last August, with readings in France over 104 degrees. Most of the deaths were in France, with the heat wave one of the deadiliset weather phenomena in decades. Many causses were given for the staggering toli: staffing shortages at retirement homes, government aloofness, the sudden heat spile and families on vacation who left elderly relatives at home.

In recent days, French media have reported almost daily on subjects such as the summer forecast, a sunge in purchases of air conditioners, and heat-wave preparations at retirement homes.

HIV scare shuts down some porn productions

LOS ANGELES (AP) – An AIDS scare prompted adult marke companies to halt production and bar dozens of performers from the set after two actors tested HIV-positive. At least 45 actors and actresses were under a voluntary work quarantine and about a dozen companies were adhering to a voluntary two-month moratorium until new HIV tests are completed, industry experts said.

completed, industry experts said.

"It's very scary," sald Mary Carey, a porn star who ran for governor of California last fail. This is kind of a wake-up call for everybody."

Carey said she had not worked with the infected actor but as a precaution, she was cancelling a lesblan porn shoot. The last industry HIV scare was in 1999, when a male actor tested positive for the disease. He no longer performs and no other actors were infected. Before that, a male actor infected two women in 1998.

Anonprofit health group was trying to identify performers who had sex with the two HIV-infected actors as well as a "second generation" who slept with their movie sex partners.

Dr. Jonathan Fielding, director of public health and health officer for Los Angeles County, said the agency did not consider the HIV case a threat to public health "at this point."

'I think in general, they've done an appropriate job in terms of the quiarantine measures taken," he said. However, he said, the discovery shows that screening programs are not perfect and the only way to prevent AIDS "is not to have unprotected sex."

Sharon Mitchell of the non-

He tested positive for HIV on Fidday and a follow-up test on Monday confirmed, Mitchell confirmed that one of about a dozen women the man had sex with in U.S. films also had tested HIV-positive.

Calif. OKs workers' comp bill

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AF) – Handing Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger one of the biggest victories of his new po-litical career, the state Legislature approved an over-haul of California's workers' lifical career, the state Legislanus approved an over-haul of California's workers'-compensation, program, the most expensive in the nation. The bill passed the House 77-3 and the Senate 33-3. Schwarzenegger is expected to sign it quickly.

California's 91-year-old system has some of the national highest insurance premiums for employers and some of the lowest benefits for injured workers. The bill aims to save billions of dollars by imposting stricter limits on medical benefits, setting a higher standard of proof for workers claiming to be injured, and requiring employers and some of the property of the complex of the control of driving employers out of Cal-fornia. Schwarzenegger had made workers' comp reform a center-plece of his administration. Lawmakers acted Friday to meet a deadline set by the gov-ernor, who had vowed to put an even-fougher measure on the Nov. 2 ballot if they did not pass the hill.

California's workers' comp costs have soared in recent years from $6.4 billion in claims pald in 1997 to an estimated $17.9 billion last year.

casinos look for profits

RENO, Nev. – For a decade or more, casino operators in the Reno-Taheo region have been waiting, wondering and worrying about operators to the west; Indian gambling has consumed their attention. With few exceptions, not much thought or investment capital has looked east. Eastern Nevada has been largely ignored – especially the northern part of the state, roughly along interstate 80.

But the rural counties, particularly Humboldt and Elfo, are holding their own in gambling, especially in light of the national economic downturn of the past four years.

DOW edges higher despite rate fears

NEWYORK (AP) - Wall Street closed Friday with a mixed per formance, a fitting end to a bewildering week that saw investors selling broadly on interest rate fears and buying blue chips defensively. Technology stocks again suffered the most from investors anxiety, falling after Nokia released a disappointing earnings report. That sent the Nasdar composite index downward while the Dow Jones industrials and Standard & Poor's 500, beneficiaries of investors' migration toward stalwart stocks, poster solid gains.

After higher-than-expected jumps in consumer prices and retail sailse sailer in the week which fed concerns over a speeding conomy, investors got a bit of a rulef riday. A mix of conomic data gave the market hope that there still might be renough sluggishuess to keep the Federal Reserve from raising interest rates, analysis said.

The Commerce Department from the March, the biggest jump

That means small local casinos can better cater to their loyal base, he sald.

Tibal gambling, which has captured the lion's attention of Nevadas's gambling industry, barely is mentioned in rural northern Nevada.

Instead, talk is about housing shortages in Jackpoi, in northeast Nevada bordering Idaho, and how the little guys there feed off the advertising supplied by Cactus Petes, owned by publicly traded Ameristar Casinos, a Las Vegas company that got its start in Jackpot.

People talk about the surprising number of big rigs that roll through McDermitt every day, illysas Fogel, an attorney and casino enterpreneur who bought a small casino and bar, is acquiring property and dreams of building a truck stop in the crossroads at the Oregon border.

Talk is about plans in West Wendover, at the Utah border, by a New York developer partnering with Wyndham International to make its debut in the Silver State with a splash. The development team plans to float public bonds later this year to finance an $55 million water-theme resort that will not have a casino. If it succeeds in drawing families, as it intends, it will boister flagging casino revenues for the town's five gambling halls. In the towns of Winnemucca and Battle Mountain, in the heart of northern Nevada, the conversation centers on mining lobs gained or lost.

At an Ello Rotary Club huncheon, the head of the Convention and Visitors Authority enfunsiastically shows off a video promoting the counternation of the Convention and Deventures du parallels the states own Wide Open' tourisms cambon the increasing number of 'Washee' Liko and other spots after selling out to Californians and reaping large profits from the sale of their homes that have appreciated greatly in value in recent years.

New businesses, including new casino owners, are betting on these small towns.

"1-80 represents a river of commerce." Holder said. "The importance of that flow of traffic grows everyday.

"We tend to think of Reno as the only damond, or jewel, on that river, and that's false. (The interstate is juging to be more important in the next 15 years.)

AT APRIL 17 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY — you have been concentrating on what really brings you happiness, and although you have a good idea of what is needed, you may be undeeded on the best path to pursue. If you have made key decisions recently, you might need to switch horses in midstream.
You have a great desire for independence but may not quite know what to do now that you have achieved it.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr. 19): It isn't a particularly exciting weekend, so relamino should be on your agenda. Take a break and get some work done around the flouse while you have the time. Avoid pronouncements and decisions.
TAURUS (Apr. 22-May 20):
Your ability to fore and cherish those, you care about is at a peak, lust being with loved ones can be soothing and calming. It a good weekend to unwind and draw closer to them.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20):
You will need to guard you words this weekend as indecision could undermine your youngest of stocess. The crux of an important matter may have been illuminated, but you need to mull it over a little longer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):
Sometimes it is better to hesi-state than to jump in and find the water is too deep. It is per-fectly all right to take your time about making a decision, and it is OK for change your mind.
PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Lit-tle snags may deter you from making decisions; that might prove the best in the long run. The important thing is that you know what the problem is so you can solve it later next week.

Model Lauren Bush will be spokeswoman against hunger

ROME (AP) — Presidential nlece Lauren Bush has been named honorary, spokes woman for the World Food Program's new student campaign against global hunger. The campaign's substancial to the courage high-stool and college-students to take up the "neglected" cause of ending world hunger—the No. 1 killer in the world today, the Rome-based food agency said Thursday. The campaign's centerpiece will be a new Web late to help students organize fund-nisting drives and information campaigns. Buth, a model and Piniceton University student.

DEAR DISAPPOINTED.

You're complaining to the wrong person. Pick up the brone and direct your dismay at "the great-grandchildren. Remind them that your mother is of sound mind and that isolation can be a killer. One alce thing about nursing homes is the fact that many patients can be taken out of them for a meal or an outing if your grandchildren are not aware of it, be sure to let them know.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has run up telephone bills amounting to $15.000. His credit cands are maxed out on "900" numbers. That's not all — our two children can't go online without something soual appearing on the screen or some one sending an instant message, thinking they are talking to my husband about sex.

When I leave the house, he immediately puts our daughters in their rooms and goes on-line to porn sites or to talk to women. He is taking much needed money from me and our children to get his kicks. I have begged him to stop, but the problem is getting worse. Should I sick to my word and leave him if he doesn't quild — WORRIED WHFE. Yes. Religions fear rift over gays as pastors

LOS ANGELES — Defying their denominations rule against active homosexuals in ordained ministry, three-turheran congregations have appointed two gay men and lesolan to serve as pastors in Hollywood, San Bernardino and Minneapolis.

The Rev. Jennifer Mason, 41, is scheduled to be installed Sunday at Central City Lutheran Mission in San Bernardino, followed by the Rev. Daniel M. Hooper, 56, at Hollywood Lutheran Church on May 2 and the Rev. Iga Wiesner, 30, at Bethany Lutheran Church in Minneapolis on July 25.

The installations are once again focusing attention on divisions within the denomination over how to respond to gay men and lesbians in the clergy. The Evangelleal Lutheran Church of America, the nations fifth-largest Protestant denomination, with 10,700 affiliated churches and about 5 million members, ordains men and women with homosexual orientations, but requires them to be cellbase.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE®

"We listen to it and do not hear it, Its name is The Inaudible." -Lao-Tzu

Without any opposing bidding, this deal would be a tough one to play in six spades. You would probably guess whether to take the diamond finesse or the club finesse. However, after West has doubled one spade, the odds change dramatically. Listen to the implications of the bidding. Since West will have the balance of high cards and presumed club length, both finesses figure to lose, and you may need to take a subtler approach altogether.

Instead, win the heart ace, lead the spade jack to the queen to ruff a heart high, lead the spade to the ace to ruff another heart high, then cash the spade eight and lead the spade five to the six to cash dummy's last trump, any you pitch the diamond nine from hand, watching West's discards the bare diamond king and your four clubs. If West has pitched clubs, run all your club winners and concede trick 13. If West has kept four clubs, he must be down to the bare diamond ace, and you will almost certainly be able to tell from the discards, since West will have had to let go of some high diamonds. Here, for instance, his last discard would be the diamond weers and exit with the diamond. Here said exit with the diamond. Here said exit with the diamond.

If so, simply cash two club win-ners and exit with the diamond king. West will win, but be forced to lead into your club tenace and concede the contract.

ANSWER: Open one diamond. This is one of the rare hands that you should not open with your longest suit, because if you do bid one club, you will be stymied over a one-spade response, since a one-no-trump rebid guarantees a balanced hand. Opening one diamond (or one heart if you prefer, and your system permits it guarantees you a comfortable rebid.
