Anderson said Monday. By seeing the customer, it's easy to take a plate number." He has another advantage, too, in curbing gas theft. Almost everyone who buys the from him uses a special charge card to be used just at his station. That pretty much ensures he'll get paid.

But for most other station owners around Twin Falls, drive-off gas theft has become a run-away problem. The 80 to 70 percent of people who use debit or credii cards aren't contributing to the problem. It's a small percentage of people who should be paying cash but decide instead to race off — their ands full— without paying.

The otwners of Oasis Stop 'N Go estimate their chain will have lost $25,000 in drige-off gas thefts by the end of 2004 if something lish done. By necessity, that cost is passed onto the honest customers, said owner Troy Willic.

Children in military families often have more support than others who move often, said Russell Rumberger, a professor of education at the University of California, Santa Barbara.
His research in California found students who changed high schools even once were less than half as likely to graduate than other students, even when controlling for other factors. They also were more likely to have trouble making friends and less likely to participate in afterschool activities, Rumberger found.

transportation so each could stay enrolled at one school. Along the Hudson River north of New York City, many Hispanic migrant families move in during the year to make a living by harvesting apples, corn, onlons and other crops. State workers seek outchildren in these families, direct them toward school and nutoring and ensure parents know their rights. Most school districts respond well, said David Sokolove, coordinator of the Mid-Hudson Migrant Education Outreach Program. "We don't want a school to see these kids as invisible, to think that their job is just to house them." Sokolove said. "We want them to get the same priority the year-round children get." Schools, under pressure to make yearly progress under the No Child Left Behind law, have a cushion when it comes to student mobility. They only count the test scores of students who have been with them for a full academic year.

The same is true for school districts and states. The idea is that schools should not be judged on the progress of children they have had little time to teach.

of the milliary trial of Osama binLaden's driver Monday, saying his status as an enemy combatant had to be determined by a competent tribunal.

It was the first time a federal court has halted proceedings ahead of trials before U.S. millitary commissions, which had been resurrected from World War II, at the Gountanamo Bay
Naval Base.

A U.S. District Court judge in Washington halted the trial of Yemen, in a lawsuit filed by his lawyers.

"Unless and until a competent tribunal determines that peditioner is not entitled to protections afforded prisoners of owar under Article 4 of the Geneva Convention ... of Aug. 12, 1949, he may not be tried by military commission for the offenses with which he is charged," U.S. District Judge James Robertson said in his ruling.

Bipartisanship isn't 50-50

Bipartisanship is one of those warm and fuzzy, politically correct notions that brings goose bumps to the League of Women Voters and newspaper editorial writers. In the abstract, few would argue with the virtue of political opponents forging shared solutions to agreed-upon problems. And it would be a shame if the partisan warfare that, stailled real progress and dominated Washington the past two years during the campaign is allowed to reappear. The stailled real progress and dominated Washington the past two years during the campaign is allowed to reappear. The stailled real progress and dominated Washington the past two years during the campaign is allowed to reappear. The stailled real progress and oversees its production. Assistants get to decide less crucial items, like garnishes. That's the reality for President Bush as he charts his second term, confronting the ruism that, as a larne duck, hispolitical clout ebbs away steadily as time passes.

Second-term presidents who have achieved major accomplishments have almost always done it in the first part of that tenure. While Bush signaled that he will try to play nicer with the remaining Democration on Capitol Hill, that should be understood in the context of his being focused on his agenda.

Post-election, Bush spoke of earning the trust of the millions of John Kerry woters. But it would be nalive to expect Bush comen among them possed only embracing Kerry proposals against which he campaigned. And no one with a brain can reasonably expect that he will be any more open to compromise on many of the issues that made his first term so division.

Conservatives must not compromise hristians, in politics as in evangelism, are not against people or the world. But we are against false ideas that hold good people captive. On Nov. 2, this nation rejected liberalism, primarily because liberalism has been taken captive by the left. Can someone please explain why the price of gasoline went up 10 cents overnight within the past two weeks here in Twin Falls?

I drove to Bolse this past Sunday (Hallowen) and bought the same gasoline at a station just off the freeway, the same exact gasoline I buy here in Twin Falls all the time, and it is 12 cents per gallon less.

How can there be that much difference in price when we know the gasoline has to be transported further to Bolse than hore in Twin Falls. It is and less per gallon in Bulls.

Are media culpable in comforting terrorists?

Conversely, highly judgmenal language is used when describing counterrorism: 'murder' and 'assasshaution' have been popular when describing Israeli tangeting of terrorist chiefiains, bombers and dispatchers, even when no civilians are harmed. How to justify these choices? Medla organizations allego professional objectivity. The leuters news agency has ar-gued that 'terrorist' is an 'emotive term' unbecoming to 'impartial journalists'. The Canadian broadensting Corp, takes a similar view: 'Terorist' is a subjective term, while 'miltakes a situation view: terrorist is a subjective term, while "militant" is an objective one.
These rationalizations are based on the assumption, will-committed on behalf of an approved cause cannot be terrorist. The platitude is well known to execute in an account of the mans terrorist is another's freedom fighter. In fact, being a freedom fighter, however defined, does not foreclose on the possibility that one is a terrorist. The isneali terrorism scholar Boaz Canor has put it well: "When you deliborately choose to attack civilians, you cannot say any more," alm not a terrorist because I am a freedom fighter, Maybe you are a freedom fighter, but you are also dell-nitely a terrorist."

Why, therefore, do the media persist in santitizing terrorist and tainting counterterrorism and tainting counterterrorism and tainting counterterrorisms and tainting to the state state and tainting to the attacks matters less than the Identity of the parties carrying them out. This Illegitimate practice started with the media disfavoring Israel and favoring Palestinians, It has not stopped there.

The same media outlets that include this practice also the fend it vigorously. Thus, when Can West Global Communications Corp., Canadas Iargest newspaper chain, altered news agency copy to restore the word 'terrorist' to reports describing terrorist acts, Reuters, a leading purveyor of euphemistic reportage on terror, complained.

Revealingly, the global managing editor for Reuters, David Schlesinger, observed that naming terrorists as such could 'endanger its reporters in volatile areas.' As journalist lonathan Tobin wryly observed, 'Reuters is worried that the people it wont call terrorists will terrorize them... The resultant bias dictates a spurious moral neutralism that "actually favors terrorists."

Without Tv'or the Internet, the hideous broadcasting of appeals from innocent hostages of Iraql terrorists, followed by their televised merelless beheadings, could not succeed as a tactic to wage spechological warfare against the West. This, of course, redoubles pressure on they don't.

Far from reviewing gravely the journalistic ethics involved, media outlets, particularly in Europe, compete for the distinction of being the first to break the gruesome images of exhibition killings. This only ensures the taking of more hostages and thus the taking of more inotages and thus the taking of more innocent lives.

Clearly, the media fail in their mission when they allege superior detachiment while in reality they become obliging accompliees of terrorists. Terrorists might well continue killing, whatever the nature of the reportage. But they should receive no help from journalists. And if they do, the media cannot expect lumuntly from criticism.

This material should be approached with an open mind, studied carefully and critically considered. A lawyer for the school district, Linwood Gunn, said the sticker was meant to "encourage critical thinking" and said it did not imply that evolution was wrong.

Gunn said it was silly to consider the stickers a promotion of religion.

But U.S. District Judge Clarence Cooper asked Gunn why it is necessary to have a sticker clarify evolution as a theory. Wity put a sticker on the book when that's already in the book?

Gunn replied that school board members, were simply, trying, to accommodate all views.

TWIN FALLS.— More than likely the city will be hiding a zoning enforcement officer in the not-too-distant future.

The Twin Falls City Council discussed the possibility Monday at its regular meeting. The subject came up as members discussed plans to improve the looks of Twin Falls through developing regulations for such things as signs, landscaping, special promotional events, weed control and building designs for businesses. Some counce mentage areas Twin Falls is losing its aesthetic appeal.

"We've got the most beautiful city in the state of Idaho," said Councilinan Dennis Maughan." It's important not to let the degradation continue."

But it won't make any sense to pass ordinances for enhancing the appearance of the city if there isn't someone enforcing them, council members said. City Manager Tom Courtney said at one time, Twin Falls had a part-time person who followed up on zoning violations. But during the past few years.

National Park last winter to do the same this winter. Continuation letters will be sent soon to providers, Yellowstone spokeswoman Cheryl Matthews said Monday

The winter season is set to open mid-December. Beginning this winter, the Park Service plans to allow up to 720 guided snowmobiles each day into Yellowstone and 140 snowmobiles in neighboring Grand Teton National Park and on the parkway that con-nects the two. Nearly all have to meet standards as cleaner, qui-eter machines.

The plan would be in place through the winter of 2008-07.
For the west entrance, typi-cally the busiest, each of the eight operators would be al-lowed to guide up to 50 snowmobiles a day, Matthews said.

Council will decide on noise ordinance

BURLEY - The Burley City Council is scheduled to meet onight to hear a final reading of a proposed noise ordinance. The ordinance is aimed at curbing a variety of noises, such as car sterees, loud exhaust or repetitive horn honking that are audible more than 50 feet from the source. Violators would be subject.

to a $100 fine for the infraction.

Previous readings of the ordinance have generated extensive public comment, predominantly in favor, and some concerns about its scope. Originally conceived as a way to silence car stereos with thumping bass that travels into people's homes and rattles windows, some have questioned whether the ordinance is trying to do too much. Following: the final reading tonight, the council could vote to adopt all or part of the ordinance.

Other agenda items include a contract for use- of, the city's ethanol plant, asbestos removal and road maintenance. The council meets at 7 p.m. at City Hall.

The meeting is open to the public.

Prisoner dies when his head is caught in closing prison doors

DRAPER, Utah (AP) – An inmate at the Utah State Prison was accidentally killed when his head was crushed by his cell door, officials said.

John J. Gardner, 27, was standing inside his cell looking down the hallway as the doors of his cell began to shut Thursday, according to results of an investigation released by the Salt Lake County Sheriff's Department.

Gardner's head was caught inte doors as they closed, and he died at the scene from massive head injuries, the sheriff's office said Monday.

The doors were being shut manually, and the officer closing the doors was 150 feet away, and around a corner, prison spokesman Jack Ford suid. The inmate was in the cell farthest from the officer.

The officer first shouts out that the doors are being closed, which starts about 10 to 15 seconds after that call. Ford said inmates like Gardner, who had been there at least 30 days, know what the closing of the doors sounds like and should know to get out of the way. It was not immediately known how long it takes for the doors to close, but Ford said it does "take awhile."

It is believed this is the first

Stocks end mixed after profit-taking Union official reviews

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors turned to profit-taking Monday, leaving stocks mixed after nearly two weeks of solid gains. Another drop in oil prices limited the market's losses. With the major indexes up between 6 percent and 7 percent since Oct. 25, analysts said some selling was expected, though earnings and economic fundamentals remain sound. Some investors were hedging against an anticipated hike in benchmark interest rates following. Wednesday's Federal Reserve meeting.

"We had such a beautiful confluence of events last week, with a smooth election, with Bush winning a second term, and with Friday's outstanding jobs report," said Joseph Keating, chlef investment officer at AmSouth Asset Management. "Now we're seeing a very lealthy pause as investors start op plan for the long term, as opposed to last week's knee-jerk reactions."

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 3.77, or 0.04 percent, to 10,391.31-It was the fourth straight gain for the Dow, and the ninth in the last 10 sessions.

Broader stock indicators were mixed. The Standard & Poor's 500 index was down 128, or 0.11 percent, at 1.164.89, and the Nasdaq composite index inched up 0.31, or 0.02 percent, to 2.039.25.

grocery chains' offer

DENVER (AP) — The fate of negotiations affecting dezons of Colorado grocery stores and more than 17,000 workers could be decided within days after anational union official reviews the grocery chains: last offer, the union said Monday.

Joseph Hansen, president of the United Food and Commercial Workers International, abruptly suspended employee voting Friday on the proposal from Albertsons, Safeway and King Soopers.

Hansen has the authority to review a contract before members reject or accept it. He said he interrupted the voting, which began Now, 3 and was to end Thursday, because the offer could hurt employees elsewhere.

"The supermarket chains could hurt employees elsewhere.

"The supermarket chains bargaining with Local 7 in Colorado are large national corporations. Consequently, their proposals have national amifications for our members." Hansen said Monday in a statement.

Hansen said Monday in a statement.

No strike could occur unless the workers rejected the contract. If Hansen had not stepped in, a walkout could have begun as soon as the last yotes were counted on Thursday.

Local union spokesman Dave Minshall said workers in Colorado Springs had voted to authorized a strike and he though Denver voters would have done the same.

The chains called the most recent offer their best and final Safeway and Kings Soopers spokesman Pete Webb said the companies were surprised when Hansen halted the contact vote.

"Were just going to see what results for the rest of the week," he said.

"Hansen could decide to restart or cancel the voting after the finishes his review. If he ends, the voting, he would seek to reopen negotiations, union spokesman Jill Cashen said.

Minshall said workers hope the postponement would lead to a better offer from the grocery chains.

The two sides disagree on employee health care premiums and wages. The companies claim they need to cut costs to compete with nonunion chains such as Wal-Mart. King Soopers and Safeway had said they offered annual 30-cent is in health panies as based on employee.

RadioSHARK does for AM/FM what TiVo did for TV

By Ron Harris Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO - Call it TWO for the radio. A new S70 device called Ra-dioShark lets you record your favorite AM and FM radio shows to your home computer and enjoy them later either from the desktop or a portable device.

The RadioSHARK is seen Wednesday in San Francisco. RadioSHARK acts like TiVo for the AM/FM airwayes, allowing for easy-as-pie time acts like TIVo for the AM/FM alrwaves, allowing for easy-as-ple time-shifting so music and talk show programs can be recorded to the home PC and enjoyed later from the desktop or a portable device.

The time-shifting panel can be toggled from the main screen and, similar to Tivo for television. RadioShark records a rolling timeframe of audio. You can specify the length of that timeframe 30, 60, or 90 minutes, etc.) and you're only limited by the size of your hard drive. Thirty minutes should suffice for most casual radio listening, and the most recent half-hour will always be accessible. That 30 minutes of time-shifting requires 32.7 megabytes of available hard drive space. Like the song you just heard on an FM station? Rewind it and listen to it again with RadioShark.

The software did have some minor drawbacks. The "seek" station button worked in both AM and FM modes, but for some reason, only the FM frequency mode showed me the new station Id just discovered. In AM mode, RadioShark found additional stations and played them fine, but it still displayed the old station frequency Id left seconds earlier.

The Media Player first reaches out to an Internet database that includes information about each CD, such as album tide; artist, song name, playing time, file size, genre and several other bits of data.

Music Iovers enjoy these spreadsheet databases because they let owners sort their collections in various ways, such as artist name, playing time, etc. So when you have fed the last of those CDS into the computer, you can download the Power-

It's the first time in almost 50 years

Sure, Kansas often grabs a spot in the upper-half of the Ap proseason college basketball poll, but the school hasn't been No. 1 since a player named Wilt Chamberfaln suited up for the layhawks in the 1950s.

Kansas stood atop The Associated Press' Top 25 on Monday, the 13th straight season the layhawks have been ranked 11th or higher in the first poll.

The Jayhawks received 25 first-place votes and 1.697 points from the national media panel, edging Wake Forest, which had 22 first-place votes and 1,680 points.

The Demon Deacons were the first of three straight Atlantic Coast Conference teams in the poll, and six teams from the league were in the Top 25.

Wayne Simien leads four starters back for Kansas, which lost to Georgia Tech in the NCAA tournaments regional fi-nals last season. The Jayhawks were ranked No. 1 for one week last season and they have been ranked No. 2 in five of the last 12 ranken No. 2m live of the last 12 preseason polls.

"I hope we're never going to be satisfied and our veterans understand they've got to go play. It's nice, but it means nothing in the big scheme of things," second-year Kansas coach Bill Self-said.

Self said.

The layhawks hope they can do even better than the last time they were No. 1 in the presson. In 1956-57, Chamberlain led them to the national chumpionship game, a triple-overtime loss to North Caroline.

triple-overtime toss to translate As for Wake Forest, it has all five starters back from the team that lost to Saint loseph's in the round of 16.

"You see it, you look at it, and you shake your bead, but you can't waste ohe nanosecond to worry about it." Demon Dea-cons coach Skip Prosser said, referring to the lofty ranking, which matches the highest in school history in any AP poll. Georgia Tech and North Car-olina were third and fourth in the balloting. It is the second time in three wers one confer-

But Culpepper, playing without injured star receiver handy Moss, took the Vikings 65 yards on seven plays, with Onterrio. Smith scoring on a 32-yard run with 12-54 left. Culpepper thimself set it up by rolling out for 3 yards on fourth-and-1 from the Indianapolis 43, then scrambling another 10 yards on the next play.

Manning finished with two TD passes to Pollard and one each to Reggie Wayne and Dal-las Clark. Marvin Harrison got to 800 catches quicker than and receiver in Ni! history and set another record when he caught his 664th pass from Manning early in the third quarter — the most ever by any passer-receiv-er combination.

er combination.
The game started with decent defense from two teams that rarely play any, especially from the Colts.
The Vikings had only one first down until less than 4 minutes remained in the first half, but trailed only 14-6 at intermission.

The Colts took a a 14-0 lead on touchdown passes by Manning of 5 yards to Wayne on their first possession, and 10 yards to Pollad on the first play of the second quarter.

But Kelly Campbells 51-yard kickoff return, plus a 15-yard tite-lit penalty on kicker Hunter Smith set up a 42-yard field goal by Morten Andersen. Then Andersen kicked a 23-yarder on the final play of the half after Minnesous's only decent drive of the half, 67 yards on 13 plays.

League goes for third straight crown

By Jim O'Connell Associated Press writer

Associated Pross writer

It's hard not to look ahead in the Big East.

Everyone knows the league is going for its third straight national champion, after Syracuse and Connecticut cut down the last two sets of nets. It has four teams ranked in the preseason top 25. And Syracuses Hakim Warrick and Providence's Hyan Gomes are on any short list of the national best plagers. When the season that starts this week?

Next season is when five.

66 than the season that starts this week?
Next season is when five states this week?
Next season is when five schools from Conference USA join the Big Bast to form a 16-team league that could have nine, and maybe more, teams good enough to make the NCAA tournament. (This current 12-team Big Bast seems strong enough to have at least half the leagues members called on Selection Sunday.
"This happens every year with—this conference: People always want to talk about how we were better or we're going to be better," Syracuse coach! "Jim Bocheim said. "We've always been good-We are good-Wewillbe good. This is a great league." That never changes."

Regional Previews

This is the first in a four part series of regional college bas-ketball previews.

Ituskies coach Jim Calhoun said.
These guys can really pass the ball. This is the deepest and best frontcourt I've ever had.
There are some other pretty good forwards in the league, including Warrick Gomes, Pittsburghs Chris Taff and, Boston Collegés Craig Smith.
Providence coach Tim Welsh heard sirsthand this summer now good one of those forward matchaps is expected to be.

wrong, but name stuck

'Rolling Stone' came out today in 1967 This day in history: The first issue of "holling Stone" came out on Nov 9, 1957, with his first cover boy being john Lennon. The inventor of the ouija board, Charles Kennard, consulted with "the Spirits" to name the toy. The spirits spelled out "Ouija," and explained that it was the Egyptian word for "good luck." They were wrong, but no matter – the name stuck.

RANDOM KINDSOF FACINESS Jack Mingo Erin Barrett

ners. His successor, William Feld, represented himself as the Ouija board inventor and claimed that hed named it that because out and ja meant "yes" in French and German.

Harassment victim can fight back

DEAR ABBY: A female reader. "Humillated in Birmingham," wrote that a vendor had come to her place of employment and made lewd comments to her. After learning that the vendor would be training her on software she'd be using for her recent promotion, she reported the incident to her. superior. Four days later, she was demoted, publicly humillated, and felt forced to resign.

I am a former human resources manager, Abby, and that woman should know that she was the victim of hostile environment harassment and subjected to retallation.

"Humillated" should create a timeline of the events that occurred, and, then, consult. alwayer or visit her state human rights office. The documentation should include where the harassment occurred, where it coccurred, and specifically what.

DEAR ABBY Jeanne Phillips

lewd comments were made by the vendor. It would also be helpful to note what she did when it occurred, such as telling the vendor that it made her uncomfortable or whether she walked away.
She may also want to locate a copy of the company's harassment policy and any relevant information regarding the promotion and demotion, including if anything was in writing. It should also be noted if anyone witnessed the harassment or the public humililation.

—After-documenting her story—this agency will likely file a complaint on her behalf with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and will—contact her employer to obtain—contact her employer to obtain—their story about what happened. Since it's doubtful an investigation by the company was completed, and "Humillated" was retaliated against, the agency will look unfavorably upon this. "Humillated" may also want to consider what resolution she is looking for, such as being restored to the promoted position and being trained by a different individual.

-SYMPATHETIC IN

DEAR SYMPATHETIC: Thank you for your helpful let-ter. It's one that should be clipped and saved by anyone entering the workforce and anyone who owns a business. Most businesses have sexual harassment policies in writing, but not all do. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Fifty lashes with a wet noodle for specifically recommending a female lawyer to "Humillated in Birming-ham." You dropped the ball. Any decent-attorney, male-or female, should be empathetic and hard-working in pursuing the case. Unless the person hir-ing the attorney is uncomfortable with a particu-lar gender, the gender of the attorney should not be a criteri-

- DENNIS HUGHES,
PLAINFIELD, IND.
DEAR DENNIS: You're right: I was wrong. I apologize for suggesting that a female lawyer might identify more strongly with her situation than a male lawyer. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I, too, was harassed by a vendor at work. The receptionist – a man – witnessed it. He empowered me, and I called the vendor's boss and told him what had happened. It turned out there had been other complaints about the man.

the man.

- CAMMIE IN CALIFORNIA
DEAR CAMMIE: Thank you for pointing out that when harassment occurs, it's often part of a pattern of behavior.

Aries: Show of strength may give you edge

IF NOVEMBER 9 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY... It is entirely possible that in the coming year you will feel younger and more withant than ever. Your imagination is strengthened, so not not is your creativity enhanced but you will also have the capacity to identify with the plight of others. This developing empathy may widen your horizons and enrich your spiritual life. Watch for beneficial people and situations in May or early June that can help you make your most heartfelt desires grow into reality. ARIES (March 21.April 19):A show of strength may be all it takes to get the edge in any competitive situation. Your reflexes are razor sharp and you have the knack of surrounding yourself with the perfect companions to enhance your image.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20):

THE ACES ON BRIDGE®

"In dally life what distinguishes the master is the using those ma-terials he has, instead of looking about for what are more, renowned, or what others have used well."

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

This deal was given to players who had just attended a lecture—on—Making-the-Most-of-ALL-of-Your Assets." The light of understanding seemed to shine from most eyes. But now came the moment of truth — how much had really sunk in?

Six no-trump was the contract, and when West led the heart 10, and when get the test restricted.

all but one of the declarers failed their test. Can you declarers failed their test. Can you do any better? Cover up the East and West cards to give yourself a proper chalto give yourself a proper chal-lenge!

The majority, lured by the dia-mond suit, put all their eggs in one basket. After winning the heart lead and cashing the dia-mond ace, they came to hand with a club and took the losing dia-mond finesse. Back came a heart. Now it was too late to test the spades, and they ended a trick short.

spades, and they ended a treathort.

See the difference if you take your secondary chance first. Win the opening lead in dummy, then play a spade to the jack. This loses to the queen, and back comes a heart, taking out the last stopper in that suit. Next comes the diamond ace, followed by the spade ace. If the spade king does not drop, nothing has been lost, and attention can be turned to the diamond.

But by playing on spades first, the contract is ensured if East holds both the king and queen of spades, or a singleton or doubleton spade honor. Now, when the honor drops, the diamond finesse is no longer needed.
