Based on these projections, there would be an average of 42 students per classroom in Itwin Falls elementary schools by 2009. John Allen of the Allen Group also said existing failuties cannot provide adequate space and services for the latest federal and state programs.

There are a lot of special programs," Allen said, 'And the older facilities just were not de-signed for those programs. 'He said some of the pro-grams included lunch pro-grams that use gym space and classes for students with special needs.

The planning committee proposed a series of changes to district facilities that would change the face of almost every school building in twin falls. It calls for a second high school, as well as and renovations to expand the existing high school, as well as renovations to two elementary schools and one junior high.

Why do some Christians ob-ject to the term 'holiday tree?
Because it hides the ancient link between the tree and Christianity, found in an origi-nal Christians gospei: And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon shepherds abiding in the field, and the angel said unto them: "I bring you tidings of great joy, On this Christians go forth and smite a mighty tree, a Norway spruce with pleasing boughs, and place it in your home, and adorn it with candles and red balls and was, "lo. Saturnalia" (the first word was pronounced "yo"), which meant roughly, "fio, praise to Saturn." Scholars suggest that the date of Christmas was picked in the fourth century to coincide with the Roman holiday.

No, the traditional greeting

Did Roman pagans complain that Christians were taking Saturn out of Saturnalia! Perhaps, but in those days there were no conservative all-news channels. The pagans in northern Europe must have complained about their traditional Yule solstice festival. As the most divisive domestic issue on the American political scene — especially as a more conservative Supreme Court begins deliberations on its first related case — abortion provides an opportunity for Clinton to demonstrate her stateswomanlike stuff.

Stateswomen, like statesmen, have to be willing to do and say things that are often unpopular, even among their constituents. Clinton intendy has proven herself willing to speak in favor of staying put in Iraq, swimming against the tide of her own party.

Separating herself from her fellow Democrats, she has earned the attention of others who might have dismissed her before. Can she do the same on abortion? It would be risky but enormously brave and right and needed.

Merry Christmas Merry Christmas Merry Christmas HOW CAN WE GIVE YOU FOR TH AND A GUARANTEE 500%

Our hearing aids are supplied directly from the manufacturer. There's no middleman, manufacturing fees, or franchise fees to pay.

Dear Friend.

There's one more thing you need to know. You see, we own both the manufacturing company and the retail hearing centers. My name is Weston Harris, my father is Robert Harris and we own both Harris Hearing Centers and ActivEAR, the manufacturer of some of the finest hearing devices in the world.

What that means to you is:

- · You can save up to 50%. In other words, you can get 2 hearing aids for the price of one. You could literally save thousands - up to six thousand dollars in some cases.
- You can get better hearing instantly with unsurpassed quality. I'll put my ActivEAR hearing aids up against any competitive product.
- You'll get your new hearing aids in days, not weeks or months. (The nice thing about owning the manufacturing company is that I can make sure my customers get taken
- · Peace of mind from a guarantee / warranty that's about 5 times better than most competitors. I mean it. If you have any problems with the fit, comfort, technology, or sound quality of our instruments anytime within six months of your purchase, we will refit you, change out the instrument, switch to any other brand necessary to do whatever it takes to make sure you are thrilled with your hearing. We will also do it at OUR EXPENSE, not yours.
- · I will give you FREE parts on your repairs for 5 years. The standard warranty in the industry is only one year (two if you're lucky).

What you need to ask yourself is: Have you been suffering from hearing loss for any of these reasons?

- · You ask people to repeat often
- · You have a hard time with background noise
- You have a hard time understanding voices on the phone
- · You're not sure if you really need a hearing aid
- You believe your hearing loss is too small to be helped by a hearing instrument
- You've heard horror stories about fit and comfort problems
- You believe hearing aids will make you look like an "old geezer

I can understand that. But if you're willing to give us a chance, I promise that we can make a tremendous impact on your quality of life. I invite you to come to a Christmas open house at any of my ActivEAR Centers on Wednesday December 7th to Wednesday, December 14th. If you'll make an appointment anytime during that open house, I'll give you a FREE hearing test and a FREE video exam of your ears (worth $249.00), so you can see for yourself what your own hearing situation is. Just call any of our stores to set up an appointment. While you're there, my hearing specialists and audiologists will answer any questions you have about any of the issues mentioned above and anything else regarding your hearing, or hearing aids. When you come in, I'll give you a special report from a national consumer organization comparing the top 28 hearing aid brands. You'll see that our ActivEAR & SportEAR brand scores very well among the top instruments available. We are directly connected with the most advanced circuit and component maker in the world to bring you the best quality & technology available for the best prices. Naturally, once your exam is complete we will recommend a course of action. If you don't need hearing help, we'll let you know. (After all, with the extraordinary guarantee and the exceptional pricing I'm offering, I can't afford to sell you something that doesn't fill your needs.) If we believe we can help, we'll tell you that too. We will also give you a price quote up to 50% less than any local competitor on comparable equipment and a delivery timeline dramatically faster than most competitors. With over 48 years of experience under our belts and having served tens of thousands of customers, nothing gives us greater satisfaction than improving your hearing to give you the best possible quality of life. Remember, you can save up to 50% compared to the competition on the best quality hearing instruments you can buy. But you must act before Wednesday, December 14th to take advantage of this special offer, so call now to make your appointment for a FREE hearing exam. I look forward to serving you soon.

Sincerely.

- P.S. Please allow me to make this offer even better...
- 1. If you opt for our AE Premium 100% Digital Model, you'll get 3 years of loss and damage insurance, instead of the standard I year warranty.
- 2. I'll also include a year's worth of FREE BATTERIES.
- 3. If you buy the AE Premium model during the open house, I'll also include FREE LIFETIME SERVICE OF: • retesting of your ears • reprogramming of your hearing aids
- cleaning, adjustments and minor repairs.

The Colis had a brief scare saidy matter.

The Colis had a brief scare Sunday when Manning tripped while backpedaling and appeared to limp off the field after the second series.

But he returned, played the rest of the game and didn't appear fazed as he three for 324 yards and two touchdowns.

Dungy's biggest concern, aside from a major injury, is that giving his starters too much rest before the bye week could halt the Colst' continuity. They lead the NFL in scoring, rank second in points allowed, have won I it in a row at the RCA Dome and have cruised to coven wins by at least 17 points in their last 16 games. And with the playoffs nearing, neither Dungy nor the players want to do anything that could break it up now.

Eastern Conference playoffs.
That summer, Riley w Eastern Conference playoffs.
That summer, Riley sent three players to Los Angeles for O'Neal — part of three championahips with the Lakers. Van Gundy coached the Heat to a second consecutive season of a 17-win improvement, getting them to 59-23 and guiding them to the Southeast Division title and to the East flank. Riley went to Los Angeles on a recent road trip for three resons, two being to visit a hip replacement clinic and for a meeting with city commissioners in Malibu to gain approval for a home he plans to build. The third reason, he said, was a final pitch designed to keep the coach. But he couldn't change Van Gundy's mind.

"I have an obligation to this franchise and to Micky," Riley said, referring to team owner Micky Arison. "I am going to definitely put off my hip re-placement surgery, without a doubt."

Activists shift focus to dissuading businesses from hiring illegal immigrants

Associated Press writer

LAKE FOREST, Calif. — The white van eases into a liquor store parking lot and is swarmed by 30 Hispanic day laborers who begin intense pioh negotiations with the driver. Within seconds, another wave of people descend on the van. Mostly white and middle-age they snap pictures as they cite federal labor laws.

"If you hire illegal workers, we'll put you hire illegal workers, we'll put you her lilegal workers, we'll put you her lilegal workers, we'll put you her lilegal workers, we'll put you her illegal workers,

But these people are not legal," re-torts protester Gerry Nance, handing the driver tax and employment elighili-ty forms. You must check all this to be sure.

The driver shakes his head and drives off. The would-be workers return to the wall of the liquor store, disappointed but hopeful the protesters will leave so they can hook a day's wages. Frustrated by the federal government's response to illegal lumipation and worried that undocumented workers are depressing wages, conservative immigration reform groups are broadening their focus from the U.S. Mosulten California. Texas, Illinois, Virginia and elsewhere.

Ex-Telemundo head plans movies for U.S. audience

Knight Ridder News Service

MIAMI — Jim McNamara started tailor-making telenove-las for U.S. Hilspanics as president of Telemundo — now he's launched a new company to produce movies with the same strategy.

"I feel there's a huge marker out there," McNamara said-from the Coral Gables, Fla. office, of Panamax Films, "There are there full-blown Hispanic TV networks out there, cable and radio, but it doesn't make sense that there are really no commercial features, in the mix." Especially because Hispanics tend to be avid movie fans.

Especially because Hispanies tend to be avid movie fans. According to Scarborough Research, 34 percent of Hispanies report going to the cineman the past week, compared with 19 percent of non-Hispanies whites and 17 percent of particular to the past week, and they are 21 percent more likely to see a film within two weeks of its release.

normalize trade in beef."

Since finding mad cow disease in a Washington state helfer in December 2003, the U.S. confirmed a second case in lune in a Texas-born cow. Japan has confirmed 21 cases of mad cow disease.

Mad cow disease is the common state of the common state of bowing pongiform succeptable pathy or BSE. a degenerative nerve disease in cattle.

In people, eating contaminated meat products is linked to a rare but fatal disease called agriant Creuzfeldt Jakob disease. More than 150 people have died of the disease, mossly in the United Kingdom, where there was an outbreak in the 1960s and 1990s.

Renewal absolutely really has no interest whatsoever in owning or being any part of anything that happens inside the slost, said agency board member Shawn Barigar. "So maybe... the best suggestion here is to be rid of them and give them to someone who at least has the passion to do something with them."

Through the new Preservation Twin falls lnc., they want to raise money privately and through grants to develop a park and interpretive center using the silos and surrounding property, Ternangne said.

Smith also asked the agency for $15,000 to get the park project started, and he said the agency's inaction on the silos has already led to the loss of federal grant money, and could cost more. His group needs a decision — preferably deeding the silos to Preservation Twin Falls Inc. — by the end of the year because of grant requirements, he said.

Cliff Askew, a scuba instructor, asked Urban Renewal to fund a $18,970 study of the silos to determine whether it's feasible to put a scuba facility inside. This would be a dire destination, it really would." Askew said, it would be unique in that it would be an aboveground, freestanding dive tank. A similar facility has been put in a former missile silo in Houston, he said.

Ackew was tepid about the possibility of his group building its attraction inside a leased facility. But, he said, as owners they'd work with preservations to me aesthetics like restoring historic signs and painting the exterior.

"We would even put a bag of four on hir. Askew said.
For his part, Smith said: Tont think his proposal conflicts at all with historic preservation."

A date for their return to the agency has not yet been set.

Violence continues in Sydney, raising fears it could spread

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Violence spilled into a scono night Monday as scores of youths drove through predominantly white suburbs of Sydney, smashing windows of cast, homes and stores and raising fears of spreading racial unrest, Prime Minister John Howard called the violence "skeening," but denied it was rooted in racism. Arab community leaders said the unrest would heighten racial tensions as cell phone text messages warned of retribution by the Arab community and attacks by neo-Nazi groups.

Carloads of youths tore through the suburbs Monday night, attacking vehicles and throwing bottles through the suburbs Monday night, attacking vehicles and throwing bottles through two save proted injured and skt arrested, there appeared to be more damage to cars and stores than on Sunday.

Family returns chair from Lincoln's box to theater

WASHINGTON — Inside the box at Ford's Theatre where President Abraham Lincoln was assassantact, most of the furnishings are carefully chosen replicas: the heavy gold drapes and tassels, the red. gold and white floral carpet, the presidential rocker.

tial rocker.

But last week, the National Park Service got hold of the real-thing. A carved-back, cane-seat parlor chair that was in the presidential box the night Lincoln was shot by actor John Wilkes Booth — perhaps the one Mary Todd Lincoln was situding in was donated to the government by a Virginia family that had kept the artifact for 140 years.

This is a fabulous thing we've been given. We're very exited about it," said Gloina Swift, the Park Service's curator for Ford's Theater.

After the assassination darkened the theater in 1865, the government bought the structure and turned it into a three-story office building. One of the workers dismaniling the theater claimed his boss had told hint to take anything he wanted out of the presidential box. He removed the parlor chair and gave it to the Virginia family, where it was handed don't be the state of the control of the

The family, which Swift said has asked to remain anonymous, tried to sell the chair to the Park Service in the 1950s, when the theater box was being reconditioned as a historic site. The agency didn't have the cash to buy it and made a replica instead, Swift said.

The current martiarch of the family told the Park Service recently that ownership of the chair was weighing on her.

"All her firends told her sale is crazy, that she should sell it on eBay. Swift said. But she said that giving it to us felt like the right thing to do."

Historians checked the chair for authenticity the age, markings, style, material and documentation all checked out. And it perfectly matches the chair that Mary Lincoln is sitting on, as well as one empty chair, in a sketch of the assassination in Frank Leslie's Blustrated Newspaper, the period's paper of record.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE®

Bobby Wolff

"If an ordinary person is silent, it may be a tactical maneuver. If a writer is silent, he is lying." — Jaroslav Seifert

In four hearts, West's spade jack wins the first trick, and the defense continues spades, forcing declarer to ruff, What should South do now?

South do now?

If he plays on clubs before drawing trumps, East will win his club ace and lead spades, thus letting West get a trump promotion with his doubleton trump. Since East has a trump trick to come, that results in the contract being defeated. ited.

defeated.
Alternatively, declarer might draw two rounds of trump and lead a club to the king and ace.
Alas, East wins his club ace and plays a third trump. Result: misery, again plays a third trump. Result: miscry, again.

To bring home his contract, declarer must ruff the second spade, draw two rounds of trump ending in dummy, and play the low club
from the North hand.

East must duck perforce, or else declarer has his 10 tricks, so the club queen scores. So far so good, but what now?

The key is that declarer has scored a club trick without losing the lead, so the hand becomes very simple now. Declarer crossest to the diamond king and ruffs a spade, then takes three rounds of diamonds, ending in dummy. If East ruffs in at any point, declarer has the rest, bar the club ace. So East discards, and now South has last the rest, bar the thin act. So East discards, and now South has nine tricks in the bag; four dia-monds, two hearts, the club queen and two ruffs. At this point declar-er leads the last spade from dum-my and ruffs in hand for his 10th trick, conceding the last two tricks to Fast

ANSWER: Double for takeout. ANSWER: Double for takeout. Your partner is marked with spade length here, but the odds are that he will have at least three cards in one of the red suits. It seems worth the risk to try to find an eight-card fit or to put the opponents a level bith. push the opponents a level high-er.
