KENNEDY SETS WAR AID LIMIT (Continued from Page One) protection and declared that when the limit was to be drawn should be determined by President Roosevelt, together with trained army and navy experts.

They know best what we can afford, and American citizens will trust their judgment. They have taken care to keep the war aid limit and that means defend it against any attempt to raise it.

Kennedy declared that "under our policy" we could "lose the British war effort" if we allowed "anything that doesn't make war inevitable."

He said aid to England is part of a constructive American policy to assist America, and that "we should go to the very limit in our assistance, but not to a point which would hamper our production."

Many Americans, Kennedy said, feared that Hitler would declare war on the United States if the aid continued to aid Britain. "Don't forget," he said, "that Hitler will declare war on this country or will make an attack, only when he thinks that such action is in his very best interests. This country certainly has committed suicide and is unable to justify it."

There will be no American intervention in this war, Kennedy said, "unless we are attacked." He said "the American people do not want to go to war. They will go to war if they see it is their only way of staying out of war."

Approval Given Aerial Hunters

Trek Home When Ship Hits Rocks

Although their plane was forced down by minor trouble into the lava rock seven miles north of Shoshone, the aerial hunters trekked two hours of this section filled to tell the story—even though their feet were sore the several days afterwards.

Although the impact damaged the ship, it did not turn over.

The delicate operation shortly became dark and the two men had to huddle to pick their way through the lava rock, adding to difficulty of the homeward trip.

Manuel Lisa and the Fur Traders

Lewis and Clark returned to St. Louis from their thrilling trip to the Pacific Ocean in September, 1806. They brought with them stories of the intrepid fur traders, they had met as they came down the Missouri River, and of the fine game regions and beaver streams in the wilderness through which they had passed.

The result was a great impetus to fur trading.

In the Spring of 1807 Manuel Lisa, who had organized the Missouri Fur Company, went to the mouth of the Big Horn River and established Fort Manuel from which he sent out traders and hunters to secure furs. He also urged the Indians to trade their furs for beads, cloth, tobacco, guns and other similar items.

Lisa's company, as well as companies organized by John Jacob Astor, and General William Ashley, put fur trading on an organized business basis, and this was probably the first business conducted in the wilderness west of Missouri.

Paralleling the growth of this territory is the development of communications. First the smoke signals of the Indians, today a telephone service which enables anyone, anywhere, to talk with almost anyone, anywhere else, quickly, inexpensively and satisfactorily.

Manuel Lisa and the Fur Traders

Lewis and Clark returned to St. Louis from their thrilling trip to the Pacific Ocean in September, 1806. They brought with them stories of the intrepid fur traders, they had met as they came down the Missouri River, and of the fine game regions and beaver streams in the wilderness through which they had passed.

The result was a great impetus to fur trading.

In the Spring of 1807 Manuel Lisa, who had organized the Missouri Fur Company, went to the mouth of the Big Horn River and established Fort Manuel from which he sent out traders and hunters to secure furs. He also urged the Indians to trade their furs for beads, cloth, tobacco, guns and other similar items.

Lisa's company, as well as companies organized by John Jacob Astor, and General William Ashley, put fur trading on an organized business basis, and this was probably the first business conducted in the wilderness west of Missouri.

Paralleling the growth of this territory is the development of communications. First the smoke signals of the Indians, today a telephone service which enables anyone, anywhere, to talk with almost anyone, anywhere else, quickly, inexpensively and satisfactorily.

Last November, the first division of the National Railroad Adjustment board ordered the engineer reinstated.

The railroad's position is further complicated in that the portion of its system over which the engineer is entitled to run is within a state which makes it a criminal offense for a railroad to knowingly continue the employment of an engineer who has been found guilty of intoxication while on duty.

This whole matter seems to call for a real investigation. An engineer who is drunk on duty is a public danger.

PIONEER LEAGUE VOTES ON EXPANSION PLAN

Colorado Cities Meet Headline With Petitions

Pueblo and Denver Announce Tieups With St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs

Directors of the Pioneer baseball league today are considering whether to accept or reject the petitions of Denver and Pueblo for admission to the Idaho-Utah six-tube loop. Pueblo not under the wire Saturday evening when George Newton advised Jack Halliwell that a tieup had been made with the St. Louis Browns and that Pueblo is ready to go. Newton promised details later. Denver got a San. decision when Edna Romney announced a tieup with the Chicago Cubs and improvements for Merchants park.

Today Halliwell had sent out wires to Pioneer directors—two-thirds of whom must be in attendance in order to include the new members—asking immediate vote on the proposal. A tie vote would mean defeat as Halliwell will not vote in the plan.

The vote is being taken as that Halliwell may file a schedule master who must coordinate the playing dates for action at the league meeting in Ogden, Feb. 9. Cowboys' Trip $1,600 When Halliwell and Art Routsong visited Denver and Pueblo in December they outlined very briefly to be taken by those cities to qualify for membership in the league. It appeared then that a low railroad fare could be secured but Halliwell has been informed that the possible rate is 17 cents per mile, and that Portelto and Idaho Falls transportation costs for three cities would be about $1,400 each. Twin Falls and Boise would be about $1,800 each and Ogden out of state. Halliwell will pay about $1,200 each. Directors favoring expansion believe increased revenues will more than offset added expenses.

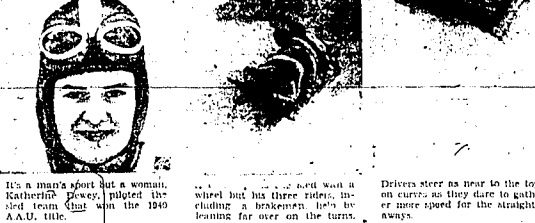

Appears Close The Twin Falls baseball club will probably vote against the plan to include Denver and Pueblo in the Pioneer league this year after a meeting of the local fans here tomorrow. Carl Anderson, business manager, said he would go on record against expansion unless proponents could show that the league would be strengthened by adding two more clubs. He is wanted to hear clubs of opinion from the directors before sending the Twin Falls vote to President Jack Halliwell.

Here's Something Not to Try on Junior's Sled

AP Feature Service A favorite sport in the snow country is bob-sledding—fast, thrilling and dangerous. Experts run down hilly, winding, mountainous, curving, whirling around corners, and zig-zag turns sometimes hitting 60 miles an hour. One of the trickiest slides is on Mt. Van Hoeyberg, near Lake Placid. Riders push off and the sled slides along ice-lined ditches with snow flange. It covers the mile route in 75 seconds. Riders generally are 200-pounds, for weight means speed. A two-man sled hits an "S" curve. Burly athletes above the track keep the sled from inclining the sled.

It's a man's sport but a woman, Katherine Pewee, piloted the sled team that won the 1940 A.A.U. title.

Drivers steer as hard to the top as they dare to gather more speed for the straight-aways.

Weber Defeats Albion Normal

Ogden Cagers Win 38 to 23 With Scoring Drive in Second Half

OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 18 (AP)—Weber college basketball under Coach E. C. Weber, defeated Albion Normal, 38 to 23, in a half-time game of the Albion Normal five from Albion, Idaho, Jan. 18 to 23. Chills anted up points off the backboard in play and another four from the foul line to lead all players. Weber's coach, Red Swenson, put in everyone but the girls' pep club after the game was on. Gardner clanked up 11 points for the Wildcats to follow Childs. Top scorer for the visiting team was Tom Sawyer, who netted nine counters. Last week Weber was defeated by the Albion cagers. Two Weber players were named personal fouls in the late minutes of the game.

Forty Shotgun Enthusiasts Sign for Memberships

With construction of a modern skeet and trapshooting layout as their goal, scattered enthusiasts of the Twin Falls area began signing for memberships yesterday for the first step in reorganization of the old Twin Falls Rod and Gun Club. Homer Saxson and C. A. Bailey, officials in the organization which has been inactive the past 10 years, and L. V. Rodrick, past president in the close of the first day of the membership campaign, that 40 individuals had signed, and that the number would probably be doubled in a few days. The clubs extensive program will be discussed at officers elected at a meeting in Judge Bailey's office in the courthouse Jan. 28. It was decided at the meeting, attended by Twin Falls, Bull and Jerome sportsmen, that the club should be reorganized as a club already drawn up. A clubhouse will be erected and new skeet and trapshooting equipment will be installed. The 28 members of the old Rod and Gun club three miles north of Twin Falls, according to plans already drawn up. Upon completing work on the new layout, the club will review the club's membership of the club. A number of competitive events, including Idaho's first state skeet and trapshooting championships, will also call for the formation of women's and junior-groups of trap and skeet shooters. Rodrick, one of the new group joining members of the old organization, announced that charter membership fees have been set at $10.

Draft Hits Few Major Leaguers By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—The fact that baseball has made a practice of paying its young men a handsome wage now promises to pay dividends and enable the national pastime to escape any mortal hurt by the operations of the draft. President Ford Pick of the National League said today. "The great majority of our players are married and have families to support," said Pick as he looked out from behind a mass of draft data he had obtained from the individual club, of his credit. "By the time they reach the age groups ball players are making enough money to marry, and that's usually the first thing they do. "For the present I'm afraid the major leaguers are going to be the most seriously affected. Most of their young stars are single and without dependents. But, of course, if the draft continues for a few years, we will feel the effects more very acutely. If, ever, can begin their peak after being away from the game a year, at least some of the fellows' who held out for a season and then their come back over was as good as gone."

MOSCOW, Idaho, Jan. 18 (AP)—A desperation loss by Jim Zimmerman led to a fading minutes net in the basketball game handed Washington State college a 23-23 victory over the Cougars of the Washington State of the first of their four losses. Taking the ball to a toss-in from out of bounds, Zimmerman fired a quick shot from the corner and it

ST. LOUIS BROWNS AIM HIGH THIS YEAR

By J. H. ANDERSON (AP Feature Service) ST. LOUIS (The Browns are a club for first division football, and they are not the American League pennant in 1941. That may sound like the mountains of a crazy man to persons outside the city, but the Browns actually finished last year in 1940 with its record in history. And there's no record on the rose colored glasses of these hot stone additions, and it isn't. Appropriately $400,000 was spent to acquire Johnny Allen, George Carter, Denny Clavin, and Earl Brown. The Browns' veteran pitchers, outfielders, and infielders, led by Manager Fred Haney, was Bill Dickey, fanatically and at bat. Tip Raddick led the team with 36—three of the season and finished fourth with a 241 average. Wally Judnich batted .303; Mack Quinn .279 and Harold Giff. 273.

Draft Count Hurd Of course, it is well to back up a little and remark that the loss of several key men in the draft is a sudden, unexpected wrench or injury to stars, would wreck their club. That could happen to any club. On the basis of the present strength of the Browns and other clubs in the junior circuit, only two or three clubs seem likely to be superior to the Vicks and St. Louis, and possibly Chicago clubs. That is the case of last season the club announced it would sacrifice outstanding players for pitching stars, and it is hard to estimate $400,000 was spent to acquire Johnny Allen, George Carter, Denny Clavin, and Earl Brown. The Browns' veteran pitchers, outfielders, and infielders, led by Manager Fred Haney, was Bill Dickey, fanatically and at bat. Tip Raddick led the team with 36—three of the season and finished fourth with a 241 average. Wally Judnich batted .303; Mack Quinn .279 and Harold Giff. 273.

Annual YWCA Membership Meet Set for January 30

Date for the annual meeting of the Y.W.C.A. membership was announced last evening by Mrs. E. L. Reed, president of the Y.W.C.A. Adult Council. The event, which will take the form of a tea, will be held Thursday, January 30, from 2 until 4 o'clock at the Presbyterian church parlors.

All members of the Y.W.C.A., whether active or otherwise, will attend the session, which was set in January this year instead of April, to begin the new year with a general meeting of all workers.

Resolution to hold the annual meeting in January, instead of April, with all interested women in attendance, was made following the visit here last fall of Miss Helen Plank, National Y. W. C. A. secretary.

Approximately fifty women are expected to attend. Part of that number will be electoral members, those who signified their willingness to serve on different Y. W. C. A. committees and delegates from the girls during the year, and the remainder will be associate members, those preferring to be members of the organization without serving on such committees.

The fifteen members of the Adult Council will also attend.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Reed will announce her committees for the coming year.

Mrs. C. H. Kregel is in charge of arrangements for the afternoon's program.

SELLING ERASES STOCKS' ADVANCE

Average of 60 Issues Unchanged at Close of Trading

Markets At a Glance... NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—The stock market today ended a generally unimportant week with a little activity to break the lengthy slumber.

In liquid markets stocks, railroads and utilities moved up fractions to a point at the start. Prices then faltered and sufficient selling came in just before the close to wipe out advances for most leaders.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 438.10 but the Dow Jones industrial average was up 1.18 to 14,210.10.

The turnover was $410,180,000. The week's secondary performance, on a volume which was the lightest since mid-October, was attributed variously to fresh warnings of war dangers from Washington, the spreading congressional fight over the lend-lease bill and revived fears that the sharp tax increase, due this month, would prompt a move to industrial corporations.

Most of the gains included Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Chrysler, American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Lockheed, Consolidated Aircraft, Chrysler, Westinghouse, Monsanto Chemical, Johns-Manville and U. S. Gypsum.

Stock bonds continued their advance. Commodities were irregularly mixed.

Trend of Staples... NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Associated Press wheat and soybean futures markets continued to decline to 76 1/2 cents for No. 2 soft red winter wheat and 10 1/2 cents for No. 2 soybean beans.

Metals... NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Copper futures for delivery in March advanced 1/2 cent to 16 1/2 cents.

Butter and Eggs... SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Butter, 92 cents per cwt. Eggs, large 24 1/2, medium 23 1/2, small 22 1/2.
