

Roosevelt Charts Widening Scope of Lease-Lend Policy

President Holds Out Tacit Promise Of American Aid For All Nations - Resisting Axis

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 14 - As Yugoslavia strove to escape complete axis domination and Turkey maintained a waiting policy, President Roosevelt held out a tacit promise of American help under the lease-lend act today to any wavering nations that decide to resist aggression.

In emphasizing that aid could be extended to countries other than Great Britain, Greece and China, the president did not specify any by name but his comment was in response to press conference questions on the possibility of help for Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Spreading scope of aid to include countries which he called A B C D. Mr. Roosevelt declared that any nation which, not now resting aggression and which might decide to do so would be under the terms of the legislation.

The act itself authorized the president to help any country whose defense he deems vital to the defense of the United States. Efforts to limit the aid under the bill to Britain, Greece and China were opposed by administration leaders in congress on the ground that such amendments would discourage other countries from resisting axis pressure.

Timing significant. The significance of the president's comment was mainly in the timing. Yugoslav leaders, faced with German demands were still struggling for a solution short of the complete invasion from neighboring Bulgaria and Rumania.

Among other subjects, President Roosevelt discussed the European food situation at his press conference today. He indicated the government is in a position of seeking further British concessions on the question of food supplies for unoccupied France.

The American Red Cross has sent one foodship to Spain and unoccupied France and a second is due to leave soon for France.

U.S. DEBT MOUNTS TO $7 BILLIONS

Morgenthau Announces Plans for $1,000,000,000 of Treasury Financing

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) - Secretary Morgenthau today announced plans for $1,000,000,000 of treasury financing which will boost the federal debt to a new record high of $7,000,000,000.

The new issue is to be borrowed $500,000,000 of "new money" through the sale of securities, and to issue $200,000,000 of 1 1/2 per cent treasury notes coming due for payment June 15 next.

Secretary Morgenthau said that the $1,000,000,000 of new money would be used for the army and navy. He said that the government is expected to be about $1,000,000,000 this month.

Details of the new securities were withheld.

House Votes Record Naval Appropriation

Action Follows Warning U. S. Would 'Certainly Be Attacked'

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) - A record-breaking $3,416,585,100 naval appropriation bill was passed by the house today after the chamber had heard a warning that the United States would "certainly be attacked" by the hungry axis hordes of Europe and Asia, unless we powerfully arm ourselves.

Chairman Scruggs (D-Nev.) of the house naval appropriations subcommittee coupled the warning with a declaration that mastery of the sea would be the deciding factor in the current year.

Only brief debate preceded the voice vote with which the house sent the measure on to the senate.

New Combat Ship. In urging speedy approval of the huge fund, the appropriations subcommittee disclosed for the first time that the navy is building six battle cruisers, a fast and powerful combat ship of a type new to the United States fleet.

Obscure titles in the printed hearings accompanying the bill disclosed the new craft would cost $54,300,000 apiece, apparently more than ordnance and armor, and that they would be built by the New York Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., of Camden, N. J.

There was nothing to indicate the exact tonnage of the new ships but the possibility that they might be as large as 27,000 tons was disclosed at public hearings before the house naval committee last week when the ocean fleet was said to be faster than the new craft would be faster than the powerful "miners" of the navy, such as the German "pocket battleship" type.

Long Range Patrol. Chairman Vinson (R-Ia.) of the house naval committee said actual construction of the new ships had begun in June 30, that would be spent on them during the fiscal year ending June 30. That would just about cover the cost of plans.

There was a routine announcement that a decision would be held up until after their talk.

Mr. Murphy said that he expected to submit his report to the committee by the end of the week. He added that he expected to submit his report to the committee by the end of the week.

Fascist Chief Humiliated In Battle Extension Approved Of Defense Penalties

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) - The house judiciary committee gave approval today to a bill extending the defense penalties for interference with the production of war materials.

The bill, which would increase the maximum fine from $100,000 to $500,000 and extend the term of imprisonment from one to five years, was passed by a vote of 376 to 10.

16-Month Goal Set Lease-Lend Spending

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) - Responsible officials forecast today that the $7,000,000,000 lease-lend appropriation would be spent and the weapons delivered to Great Britain and other friendly nations within the next 16 months.

These persons indicated that this was the goal of those who drafted the program, and they believed it could be achieved. They said it would swell the federal budget for the next fiscal year to more than $20,000,000,000, making it easily the biggest in United States history, and beating by more than $2,000,000,000 the costliest year of the war.

LABOR SPLIT ON MEDIATION PLAN

CIO Opposes, AFL Endorses Administration Board Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) - The CIO came out tonight in opposition to the proposal by administration labor and defense production chiefs for an 11-member federal board to mediate labor disputes in defense industries.

After William Green, president of the AFL, had backed the plan at a White House conference, William Murray, president of the CIO, made public a memorandum to President Roosevelt which said the proposal was "wholly unrealistic, will not further the program of national defense, and will operate to the complete detriment of labor."

Murray conferred recently with Mr. Roosevelt, but he took no part in the White House conference, said chief executive since the mediation board proposal was formally advanced by Secretary of War Henry Stimson and Director William E. Knudsen, director of defense production.

At a press conference today, Mr. Roosevelt said he might make a decision on this proposal some time next week. He added that he expected to submit his report to the committee by the end of the week.

BLAST WRECKS SEVILLE SUBURB

Powder Explosion Kills at Least 17 Persons and Injures 500

SEVILLE, Spain, March 14 (AP) - From 17 to 50 persons were killed, more than 500 injured and 2,000 left homeless today by a gigantic explosion which destroyed the Santa Barbara powder magazine, wrecked an entire suburb and blasted out doors and windows even in the center of this ancient city.

The Spanish Civil War agency and private reports agreed that 50 were dead, but a government statement issued tonight at Madrid said this figure was "grossly exaggerated" and that not more than 17 were killed.

The explosion was estimated to have destroyed the contents of the magazine, which was a large stockpile of powder.

GOVERNOR SIGNS LIQUOR TAX BILL

Food Stamp Appropriation One of 40 Approved Measures

BOISE, March 14 (AP)—Governor Clark vetoed three bills and signed the 1041 legislature today and signed 40 others, including a measure imposing a 20 per cent tax on the wholesale price of liquor and another providing $100,000 for a statewide food stamp program.

Immediate effect of the governor's signature on the liquor tax measure was that beginning Monday about five cents on the dollar will be added to the consumer's cost in purchasing liquor through state stores.

Meanwhile, Fred B. Davis, superintendent of the state liquor dispensary, said he has received notices from owners of the tax and added they (the wholesalers) will be expected to assume most of the tax burden.

Commenting on enactment of the liquor tax measure, Clark said: "The signing of this bill today means that it goes into effect immediately. We now have an act in effect and no time will be required to call a commission together in order to put this law into operation."

"I do not think the consumer of liquor will feel the increase," Clark said. "Sponsors of the measure said it would return some $1,000,000 annually to the state general fund."

The governor also approved a controversial liquor measure abolishing the 1929 provision requiring collection of no valorem taxes and requiring the segregation to appear on tax notices in dollars and cents.

Food Stamp Program The $100,000 appropriation for the food stamp program will provide a revolving fund. Machinery to place the fund into effect generally is expected to begin rolling in soon as the surplus marketing administration approves it.

The program now is operating in six north Idaho counties and Ada county.

The appropriation, regarded by Clark as "must" legislation, was included in the state budget bill. The lawmakers after the governor had signed a special session might be necessary were it not provided.

Among the measures signed, and which became law, were the following senate bills:

Providing that application for an advance ballot must be made in writing.

Providing that the state may enter into contracts with any of the United States for the maintenance of relations to persons convicted of a crime or who have been paroled.

State Examinations Providing for appointment of an executor to inflict the death penalty at the state prison.

Authorizing state institutions to issue refunding bonds where the indebtedness is for the purchase of a farm truck as one that also hauls products of forested and mines.

Permitting workmen affected with non-damaging ailments to waive compensation on alternative grounds from employment.

Expanding the U. S. department of the interior and the bureau of reclamation from the necessity of giving bonds on permits for construction of irrigation canals.

Providing that any state lands may be leased by the federal government for a term of not exceeding 40 years. Former limit was five years.

Authorizing official dispatches to be sent to the federal government for education of migratory families living in federal labor camps.

House Bills Signed House bills signed included those: Dividing counties into two classes for the purpose of officials salaries, $3,000 for one and $2,000 for the other.

SOCIAL SECURITY SPREAD PROPOSED

Roosevelt Indicates Action to Bring More Persons Under System

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—A suggestion that the social security program be expanded over a period of years to increase the number of beneficiaries and the money they receive came today from President Roosevelt.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt said that a formula for revising the method of distributing old age benefits to states was being prepared and indicated that definite recommendations on both matters could be expected in the next few weeks.

At present, more than 53,000,000 social security accounts are in operation, of age security, old age and children and other phases of the program are outstanding. The average monthly payment for retired workers is about $27.72; widows 65 years or older average about $20.45.

The social security board reported recently that there were no "unauthorized" benefits being extended old age and survivor insurance to groups not exempt including agricultural employment, domestic service in private homes, employment by non-profit educational and charitable organizations and federal and state government employees not already provided for.

The board said a study also was being made of the feasibility of extending the system to "at large" employed population.

The objective of the formula now being prepared, Mr. Roosevelt said, would meet a situation wherein old age benefits in some rich states were three to five times greater than in the poorest states. The chief reason, he said, could be made not by penalizing the rich states but by the federal government, taking on the extra load necessary to increase the aid in the poorer states.

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Idaho members of congress were assured by Undersecretary of Interior Wirtz that Idaho projects would be protected under any plan the department might be called on to administer for development of power and reclamation in the north.

The development of Wirtz said power development may go hand in hand with construction of reclamation projects and under consideration for Idaho, because projects from power sale are essential in irrigating projects.

"We were assured that Idaho's Wirtz would not be overlooked," said Senator Clark (D-Idaho), who attended the conference with Senator Thomas (R-Idaho) and Rep. Dwyer (D-Idaho), Rep. Whipple (D-Idaho) was absent, being in New York City on mining business.

Usury Charged in Appealed Lawsuit

IDAHO FALLS, March 14 (AP)—The Lee Loan company today appealed a ninth district court $175,400 judgment entered in Bonville county probable court on a usury complaint.

Plaintiff in the action, according to Probate Judge Fred Wilkie, was Finton Lloyd of Idaho Falls, who brought the action on four counts charging excessive interest rates.

Pointing out that the state law provides a maximum interest rate of eight per cent per annum on loans, the plaintiff contended that he was charged 176 per cent interest on one note and 125 per cent interest on three others. Judge Wilkie said: "Evidence and that the appeal was entered on a point of law and is a complaint."

$15-$25 rentals to be charged would be permitted to take advantage of the program. Mr. Weisberger now is serving as a director of the National Farm School of Buck, Pa., and the United Jewish Synagogue of San Diego, and is president of Temple Beth-Israel of San Diego.

WOOL RATE CUT BENEFITS IDAHO

Saving of Many Thousands of Dollars Sighted for Producers

BOISE, March 14 (AP)—Reductions on wool rates saving "many thousands of dollars" to wool growers of this state were announced today by Secretary W. H. Joy of the Idaho Wool Growers' Association.

Joy said the rate would be put into effect immediately by the United States railroad April 20, 1941 and would place a charge of $2.34 per hundredweight on all shipments of wool from each Idaho market.

"The wool market rate and export rate of wool from Idaho, Oregon, Utah, the secretary added."

He pointed out that the rate on wool from Idaho is $2.34 per hundredweight, from Kentucky and Idaho $2.26 and from Idaho $2.14.

The Idaho Wool Growers' Association, through its secretary, C. C. Clark, the United States Wool Bureau, has been working to reduce the rate on wool from Idaho for several months with a view of bringing about the exact parity which exists in the wool market elsewhere.

He said Idaho shipped more than 10,000,000 pounds of wool in 1940. Joy added railroads, in cooperation with the U. S. C. C., were now offering rates of $1.18 from northern Idaho points by rail, late and rail to Boston, compared with the prevailing rate of $2.02 from Boston.

The $2.14 schedule is the same as that for wool from New York and Philadelphia via Kansas City, Mo., to Chicago, Texas and by water to Liverpool.

Joy said the rate would be superior than that through other wool shippers and commented there was a need of bulk movement of wool, the price of which "might drop" tomorrow.

WHEAT STAGES SLOW ADVANCE

Market Responds to Reports of Increased Industrial Activity

By FRANKLIN MULLIN—CHICAGO, March 14.—Wheat prices moved upward in a creeping way today, but the reflected strength in certain other commodities and general expectations of increased industrial activity and tighter requirements under the terms of the loan.

Wheat traders had nothing definite on which to base purchase orders for this reason, buying was not on a large scale and was rather timid.

What tipped about 3/4 cent at the start, later steadied and at one time advanced 1/2 cent to 1 1/2-1/2.

CANADIAN SCANS INVASION THREAT

Military Expert Deems Home Defense No Great Problem

OTTAWA, March 14.—A new book, "The Military Problems of Canada," written by a military expert, published by the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, declares that the danger of a successful invasion of Canada from Europe or Asia is extremely remote. Even if Britain should be defeated, Canada, therefore, is not a great strategic most of her military effort on aid to Britain, rather than home defense, the author says.

The writer, C. P. Stacey, assistant professor of history at Princeton university and an authority on Canadian military history and affairs, now is in London as a general staff officer. His book takes into account the military experience of 1918 and stresses the vital importance to Canada and British Empire.

Invasion Barrier
Because of difficulties attendant upon the defense of Canada against aggression, means simply defense lines of fortifications and adjacent regions.

The two oceans which, in the case of Canada, are the natural barriers of a highway that a barrier to wind-propelled warheads, have become a really formidable barrier to invasion from the north.

The ship-of-the-line of Nelson's day, Mr. Stacey writes, is not capable of action at an almost unlimited distance from its base, and could remain at most a few days. Propelled by the wind, it had no problem of fuel supply, and no complicated machinery resulting in periodic overhaul in a well-equipped dockyard.

Now, however, even a single rail car with comparatively small fuel requirements, cannot remain in the open for long without resistance from friendly allies or bases.

The history of war since the technical revolution of the mid-nineteenth century offers no example of successful invasion executed across an ocean or a considerable body of water. The only instance to such an operation during the great war was the Dardanelles campaign, and the experience was a failure.

Army Transportation
Even if the modern army were to undertake in modern times, as the author does not believe it would, "when they were able to move their troops, it derives from their own ports to friendly ports in Europe, across an ocean dominated by the allied naval superiority."

At these sites, leaving those springs as nature made them and as nature loving citizens and visitors wish to have them remain.

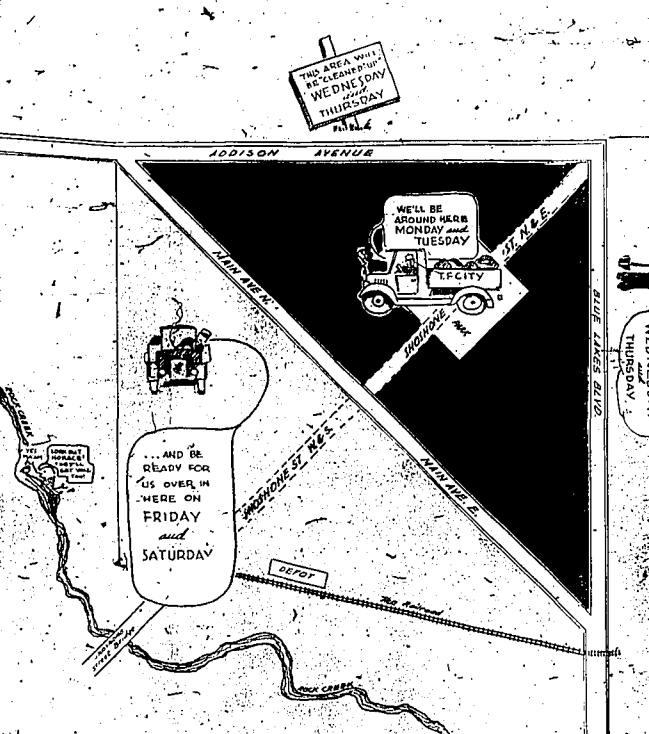

There are two great highway systems that have their junctions here, and the great Pan-American highway is proposed to come here. This junction will eventually be a 12,000-mile road, extending from Alaska through the United States, Mexico, Central America and South America, and affording great possibilities in tourist traffic.

Should you sit idle by this most opportunist to attract to southern Idaho our share of the past tourist and business? With the new mechanical age there will be more and more people touring. Sun Valley is spending enormous sums in attracting tourists here, and it is up to us to appreciate the value of these natural attractions and to fight for their preservation. A concerted effort in this direction will result beyond the fondest dreams.

To those responsible for the actions of the Idaho Power company, build your additional needs on basic river proper. Leave us our scenic wonders, and let us all work together for a bigger and better, more interesting Idaho.

A. S. JENSEN, Twin Falls.

Here's Aid to Spring Clean-Up Preparedness

THIS SKETCH of the city will assist you in preparing for a visit from trucks in Twin Falls' annual spring clean-up campaign which opens Monday. As arranged by Charles P. Larsen, street and water superintendent, collections will center in distinct sections of the city on different days of the week, March 17 through 22. As shown above, trucks will pick up rubbish and other articles Monday and Tuesday in the area from Addition Avenue and Washington to Addition and Main Avenue east, as well as Main Avenue east to Washington. Then on Wednesday and Thursday, that section north and east of Addition and Blue Lakes will be covered, while Friday and Saturday will find activities shifted to the area south and west of Main Avenue south and west. Superintendent Larsen urges that all residents place rubbish in alleys at the rear of their homes whenever possible. (News Sketch and Engraving.)

Value of Canyon's Scenic Sites Stressed
Editor, The News—At the outset, I want it understood that I appreciate very much the excellent service rendered by the Idaho Power company, and that I want to continue as a private citizen, as a large group I have contacted feel the same way, but they are almost unanimously against the power company's plan to develop four hydro springs along Snake River.

The Idaho Power company is asking permission to complete its development of the rest of those multiple springs, the result of which would be the complete destruction of the natural beauty of the area. It is not only to build and allow this colossal mistake, a mistake I do not believe the company would ever make if it understood.

This development will forestall all future plans of or action to stop the canyon. Few among the citizens realize the area is a national monument. It is not only to build the necessary dam-complexities would derive from such a project, but also to build a dam. There is a plan to build a good motor road through this most interesting and scenic district, beginning in the vicinity of Blue lakes and continuing down the valley to Hagerman. There is no scenic wonder of the type in the world, so why should the last of Idaho's wonders be destroyed?

Another familiar with Shoshone Falls and Thousand Springs before they were developed, and who has seen the ugliness of the hydro-electric developments which now take their place.

The Idaho Power company is a monopoly by the grace of the citizens of Idaho. With this monopoly comes great responsibility to build for the betterment and not to exploit and rip off their natural resources and ship them away to fill the coffers of Wall Street.

In the name of common sense it would seem, in the light of all that is happening in the world, and the rapid social changes in our country, that a monopoly could see the signs before it is too late. This financial colossus has all the major aids needed on the river proper and should make such developments as needed.

CROPS PUBLICITY TAX HELD VALID

Potato, Onion Advertising Not Affected by Veto of Another Levy

BOISE, March 14.—(Idaho) potato and onion advertising tax of one half cent per hundredweight is constitutional and will be in effect as usual despite a recent opinion of Attorney General Bert H. Miller which held void a proposed tax of 50 cents per car on produce shipped to Boise. Agriculture Commissioner J. B. Newport said tonight.

"There has been considerable misunderstanding regarding this matter," said Newport. "The attorney general held that house bill 183 is unconstitutional for the reason that it violates an interstate commerce clause of the federal constitution."

"Mr. Miller has informed me, however, that his ruling in that instance does not affect the existing advertising tax. Present regulations regarding collection of the advertising tax will be changed at an upcoming commission meeting Monday to make certain the regulations conform with law."

House bill 183 called for a 50 cents per car tax on produce to finance the produce office of state director of fruits and vegetables.

The director would have been empowered to work for adjustment of freight rates and generally aid producers and growers in marketing their produce.

On the basis of Miller's opinion, Governor Clark vetoed the measure. "I have received many telegrams," explained Newport, who is also chairman of the advertising commission, "inquiring as to whether or not Mr. Miller's ruling affected the advertising tax in the same manner. He has assured me that it does not, and that the advertising tax is valid in the same category."
