statement: "If we have the means to meet the added information, such an engineer will be appointed."

Other significant comments by Commissioner Hays include his observation at close of cross-examination as to whether the power company is fully developed such present plans as upper and lower Salmon falls in the form of a dam.

"Doesn't this mean that more power could be developed than at present at this site?" No answer was forthcoming from the power company attorneys, Jess Hawley and A. C. Inman.

Other highlights of the day included a steady procession of witnesses, pro and con, and presentation of a separate case by Alvin H. Reading, "Tendell publisher, who favors the development because of additional taxes that the power company would incur."

Offer Tax Data
He introduced Veldon Sullivan, deputy auditor, who testified that the amount of additional assessed valuation on all four sites involved would be $100,000. This would provide taxes of about $10,000, not including distribution lines nor kilowatt hour tax.

The power company throughout the hearing emphasized that it did not plan to develop at this site four sites, pointing out that the filling in of the site would be done only to be prepared and to expedite preliminary investigation.

In connection with the testimony, Harold R. Harvey, DuPont rancher and one of the protesters, introduced a letter from the Idaho Power Commission and his legal aid, Leo Bresnahan, attorney for the company, who testified that he did not know the workings of this project.

A spirit of levity which prevailed during the first afternoon of the hearing, particularly during closing phases of the hearing.

STRIKERS VOTE TO CONTINUE TIE-UP

A spokesman for the International Harvester company announced that the concern had cancelled plans to reopen two of its four strike-bound plants on Monday.

An official of the CIO farm equipment workers organizing committee telegraphed the CIO vice chairman of the defense mediation board, at Washington that the union would accept any proposed settlement that production be resumed in International Harvester plants pending negotiations. The union asks among other things, wage adjustments.

The board is authorized by the management to say that there would be "no discrimination against strikers." The union asks among other things, wage adjustments.

A strike over working hours and wages collapsed. A district director of the CIO packhouse workers organizing committee said a strike probably would be called early next week, but CBS said tonight Greek planes, artillery and trench mortars caused "serious damage and considerable casualties" to Italian positions today but that no Italians appeared before the Greek lines.

The radio also said repeated Italian attacks Friday night were repelled.

REICH PONDERS SLAV UPHEAVAL

Warning Against Insults Coupled With Statement of Policy

BERLIN, March 29 (AP)—The authorized spokesman of Germany declared tonight that the reich would not be provoked into action against Yugoslavia by what they termed the machinations of British agents or the howls of street mobs in the Balkan kingdom.

Germany, they said, can afford to take her time and weigh in calm leisure the importance of the upheaval which has turned out to be a complex government and east doubt upon Yugoslavia's intentions as to the military pact, which she signed only last Tuesday.

Persons authorized to present official views said that "an anti-German tendency among Serbs subjected to chauvinistic influences is on the increase."

What Germany must know, these persons said, is whether these manifestations are controlled from above or whether they are independent of government policy.

Should it appear that they represent the mood of the German people, it would be a political confusion within the kingdom and if the new Yugoslav government shows by deeds, not words, that it intends to support the tripartite pact fully, Germany may prove big-hearted, as one spokesman put it.

As for Germany's other event of the week, the visit of Yonke Matsuzaka, Japanese foreign minister, the Wilhelmstrasse attitude was that this has brought a complete understanding.

Matsuzaka talked today with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop for the third time. All Wilhelmstrasse sources said the talks were uniformly cordial and that there could be no suggestion of pressure by either side. Matsuzaka goes to Rome Sunday.

Aeronautics Head Lands at Gooding

GOODING, March 29—The first plane to land on the runway of the Gooding airport was that belonging to C. A. Bennett, state aeronautics director, when he brought down his Piper Cub cruiser on the east-west runway last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

He was met by Alva Thompson, who conferred with the director on details of the new field, and praised it for having such natural airport features. Mr. Bennett looked over the work being done by the state aeronautics commission, later taking off for Twin Falls.

The engineer on the job for CAO has reported that the east-west runway will be smoothed next week. The contractor, W. S. Burnett, has already started on the north-south runway, which should be graded completely within ten days.

Death Comes to Filer Resident

Mrs. Ellen Garnett, 67, died at 11 p. m. yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sarah Wynn, Filer. She had resided in the community for the past five years.

She came to Filer from Ewing, Mo., where she was a member of the Baptist church.

Surviving Mrs. Garnett, besides the sister, are a foster son, F. W. Bellwether, Ewing, Mo.; and a brother, Frank Stevenson, Los Angeles, Calif.

Pending funeral arrangements, the body rests at the White mortuary in Twin Falls.

Students Minstrel Show Wins Praise

The minstrel show presented last Friday evening at Twin Falls high school auditorium by the choir attracted a full house with audience members responding to numbers with enthusiastic applause.

Encore number of the evening was given by Preston Heumann, in a wistful solo, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Albertson. Curtain call after their selections were given by Martin Streeby, who sang a bass solo, "Old Man River," Miss Mildred Jennings, who sang "St. Louis Blues" as a contralto solo, and Shirley Walker and Mary Helen Clappier, who gave tap dance numbers.

On the more humorous side, "Frogmarch," one of the end men played by Carolyn McMullin, almost stole the show. Vocal solos were given by Pat Graves and Olive Wells.

Finale program number was "America I Love You," with Allen Murray giving a military tap dance in a red, white and blue costume, followed by a girl's trio singing the song, "A Large American Flag was then initiated from overhead and the entire choir sang.

Chief Gillette Completes Study At FBI School

Police Chief Howard Gillette of Twin Falls was one of 38 officers representing 21 states to graduate yesterday from the federal bureau of investigation national police academy, according to word received here last night from J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

The graduates have completed 12 weeks of training and the classifies to 500 the total academy graduates since 1935.

Ceremonies were held in the great hall of the department of justice building and speakers included Dr. Arthur L. Woods, professor of sociology, University of Utah; Congressman Clinton A. Woodrum, Virgin, and Nelson A. Rockefeller, who discussed coordination of community-civil relations among the American Republics.

Chief Gillette is the third Idahoan to graduate from the academy, and he was preceded by O. J. Shaw, and Forest Kingsbury, Boise.

"I think the F.B.I., through this academy, is doing a splendid job of preparing law enforcement officers throughout the nation to perform their duties better," Chief Gillette said.

How Much Should You Pay For An Electric Refrigerator?

C. C. ANDERSON CO.

Joins With the Oldest Manufacturer in the Business in a New Price Policy that Revolutionizes Refrigeration Value

Last year one manufacturer of electric refrigerators astonished the American public by inaugurating new policies that resulted in greater values in refrigerators, at prices $30 to $60 lower than the year before.

That company was Kelvinator—the oldest manufacturer in the industry.

This year Kelvinator has taken the second step in its carefully planned program of values of 1941. Kelvinators are even lower than last year... as much as $30 lower on some models.

C. C. Anderson Co. agrees with the sound business philosophy in back of these moves and believes they should be brought to the careful attention of our customers. These new values and new low prices mean that housewives need no longer be satisfied with just basic refrigeration but can now afford the extras that mean so much in the daily use of a refrigerator.

The 1941 Kelvinators are literally packed with extras, yet you don't have to pay a fancy price to have them. Typical of these extras is the exclusive new Moist-Master models with a separate set of cooling coils in the walls... with all glass shelves... with a glass-enclosed Cold-mist Freshener for super-moist refrigeration.

Another extra is Kelvinator's exclusive, new 5-Way Magic Shelf that gives in a jiffy 5 different arrangements of the cabinet interior to provide extra room for milk bottles, bulky roasts, melons, etc.

The Stainless Steel Cold-Ban is another exclusive Kelvinator extra. It eliminates over 80 hard-to-clean screwheads.

Big oversize Crispers, recessed Polar Light, Vegetable Bin for dry storage and glass-covered Meat Chests are just a few more of the extras that can be yours with a 1941 Kelvinator.

Yet even the higher-priced models cost no more than you would have paid a few years ago for an unequipped refrigerator.

These beautiful new 1941 Kelvinators are on display in our store right now. We cordially invite you to come in and inspect them.

Prices for big 6 1/2 cu. ft. models, start at $119.75

MODEL S-6, fully equipped, with Magic Shelf, Stainless Steel Cold-Ban, Vegetable Bin, Oversize Crisper $144.95

BRITAIN AGAIN AT REICH BACK DOOR

New Military Government of Yugoslavia Holds Major Key

By E. C. DANIEL
 BERN, Switzerland, March 29 (AP)—Twenty-three years after the successful Salonika campaign of 1918, the British army again is knocking at Germany's back door and hoping that Yugoslavia, which holds one of the keys, will aid in the opening.

What the new military government at Belgrade will do with the key is a major uncertainty.

The last remaining non-axis powers in eastern Europe, if they joined forces, could challenge Germany with the greatest aggregation of military strength since the fall of France.

Allied "quarters have estimated that as many as 4,000,000 men might be available for the fray on the British side.

The value attached to Yugoslavia by both sides is reflected in the urgency of German demands to know the Belgrade government's intentions and the jubilation with which the British acclaimed the Yugoslav coup.

Danube Objective

In order to obtain a foothold on the continent for a blow at Germany, British must, in the opinion of many strategists, gain access to the Danube valley.

The vital points leading to or along this route are: first, the Danube head in Europe, second, the rebellious Turkish ally, key city, Niš, on the Morava river; second Niš, on the Morava river, key city of southern Serbia, Belgrade; third, the Iron Gate, control of which is shared by Yugoslavia and the Germans in Rumania; and finally, Vienna, gateway to old Austria.

Belgrade, where the new government is cautiously developing its role, three historic routes for military forces and migration converge; the Danube itself; the railway from Istanbul through Sofia and Niš to Belgrade, followed by a trunk railway; and the Morava and Vardar valley route linking Salonika and Belgrade.

Having overwhelmed the Italians in Africa, the British are ferrying many of their veteran troops—approximately 300,000—across the Mediterranean to Greece.

Extending Lines

If Yugoslavia should go to war against Germany, the British, Greek and Yugoslav armies, presumably would attempt to polish off the Italians in Albania and possibly attempt a drive up the Vardar valley to clash with the Germans while holding the Sirmia line against attack from Bulgaria.

If Turkey should join such a venture, Germany might find herself harassed from three sides.

Obvious hazards appear in the remoteness of such antilegendary from England's home base and the known effectiveness of the German forces already in Rumania and Bulgaria.

On the other hand, the German army itself is stretched along a 600-mile supply line.

Presumably British strategy would be to knock this line, which depends largely on precarious pontoon bridges across the Danube and on the rocky Balkan railroads.

A frequently mentioned British strategy would be to try to force the Germans to fight in mountain terrain, where their wanted mechanical equipment, which covers the plains of Poland and France, would be at a disadvantage.

The Serbs would abandon the Croatian plain, and the Greeks?

SURROUNDED by uniformed policemen, a demonstrator is hustled from the scene outside the McCormick Works of the International Harvester company in Chicago where clashes occurred as A. F. of L. employees continued to work despite the opposition of CIO strikers.

would desert the Thracian lowlands. Conversely, the Germans' one scheme, while pushing into Croatia, Thracia and possibly European Turkey, would be to develop the vital Danube route with every resource while cracking at concentrations and landing ports by air and harassing the British navy in the Mediterranean.

German pilots reported attacking the British fleet in the Aegean near Crete, 400 three bombs hitting one large warship.

SPURT PREDICTED IN FARM EXPORTS

Lend-Lease Act Expected to Double Outgoing Flow of Crops

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The agriculture department in its first official estimate, said today that the lend-lease act might more than double the present rate of farm exports, now moving at a low level of $20,000,000 a month. The rate in normal times, has about $5,000,000.

"The bulk of the anticipated increase, the department said, will go to Great Britain. Plans for making food available to the British under the lend-lease legislation are to be laid before President Roosevelt next week by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and Sugeen General Thomas Parran of the public health service.

Committees likely to be affected, the department said, include dried fruits, dried vegetables, evaporated and dried milk, cheese, pork products, hard canned goods, corn, wheat, corn sugar, eggs and tobacco.

The department said there were a number of forces operating to improve foreign market aspects.

"Of the establishments on a more regular basis of direct shipping between the United States and other countries of Europe, the granting of a $5,000,000 food-relief credit by the Export-Import bank, the expansion by the War Relocation Authority of its international food program, and the relaxation of the British blockade in favor of certain shipments.

"The more important than any of these, from the point of view of

Utah Infant Dies In Nevada Crash

ELY, Nev., March 29 (AP)—Clara Fawcett, 8-month-old Salt Lake City infant, was killed and four others injured when the car in which they were riding tumbled over on an accident road miles north of Ely, Nev., today.

The injured are E. F. Jorgensen, 60; Mrs. E. F. Jorgensen, 52; grand-children of the infant, Mrs. Billy Fawcett, 33, the infant's mother and Jorgensen's daughter; and another daughter, Mrs. Helen Iron, 22. All reside at 62 Hollywood avenue, Salt Lake City.

Extent of their injuries was undetermined, but Dr. Irvin Jorgensen says that treating the patients at a hospital here, said all would probably recover.

Jorgensen, who was driving, said his automobile skidded on wet pavement and rolled over twice.

Another daughter, who was unjured, was unjured.

For the City's Good ELECT THESE THREE MEN!

LEM A. CHAPIN
Candidate for Mayor

PAUL R. TABER
Candidate for Councilman

LEONARD AVANT
Candidate for Councilman

They'll Give You an Efficient, Progressive and Business-Like City Government

When you go to the polls Tuesday to elect a mayor and two councilmen, remember that these three men—Lem A. Chapin, Paul R. Taber and Leonard Avant—have not only demonstrated their qualifications as city officials previously, but are pledged to a sound and progressive program for the general betterment of Twin Falls in the event they are elected.

During a previous administration they demonstrated their ability to work together harmoniously and in keeping with the people's wishes, and their record was one of outstanding accomplishments, brought about through their cooperation with the city's various organizations. Significant, too, is the fact that these achievements were not accompanied by extravagances of any kind.

Purchase of land for the city airport, beginning of construction on the city's new 7,000,000-gallon storage reservoir, the installation of a new flush line for the waterworks, the basebal traffic signals, the city library, and an extensive street improvement program were among the accomplishments that can be attributed to their previous administration as a result of their cooperative efforts with various organizations.

Now, looking to serve as city officials once more, these same men have another worthwhile program, one which past performance indicates will be carried out so far as possible. They are pledged wholeheartedly to getting a modern airport for Twin Falls and stand ready to work with the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce which has announced the airport as its foremost project for 1941. They will attempt to work out some solution to the city's inadequate storm sewer system and will endeavor to install a much needed auxiliary supply line from the waterworks to the city. Street and recreational improvements likewise will be extended wherever possible. So far as business-like financing will permit, they will attempt to secure all Federal aid available for public improvements, bearing in mind at all times the importance of such work to those who are dependent upon the WPA.

Moreover, these men stand ready, eager and willing to cooperate in every way feasible for the city's good. After serving the city 10 years as finance commissioner and one term as mayor, Lem Chapin's record is sufficient proof of his ability as an executive, and if elected with the other two men on his ticket, there is every reason to believe that he will give Twin Falls an excellent city administration.

Lem A. Chapin, Paul R. Taber and Leonard Avant will appreciate your support when you go to the polls Tuesday.

Senate Committee Approves $4,389,284,174 Army, Navy Supply Bill

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The senate appropriations committee today has given its approval to a $4,389,284,174 army and navy supply bill, providing funds for a sharp increase in the annual output of aircraft.

The army now is turning out aircraft at the rate of 7,000 yearly and expects that total to increase to 12,000 yearly by October. The committee eliminated from the measure a house-approved provision which would prevent army and navy purchases of Argentine canned beef, wool and other foreign products.

Army and navy appropriations bills have passed the house. The senate committee added a total of $15,474,100 to the house-approved measure.

The army would get $4,089,767,254, the lion's share of appropriations projected in the bill. The navy is receiving $205,416,820. Included in army funds was money to purchase 4,750 medium and heavy bombers for which Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, told the committee there was imperative need.

One Item Neglected In Mayor's Summary

Editor The News—I read Mr. (Uncle Joe) Koehler's abili of four to one in the Thursday morning News and failed to find any mention of the project for which Mr. Koehler took all the blame for, insuring there namely the U. S. H. A.

Three hundred thirty-one thousand dollars of federal money to be spent here our Uncle Samuel is needing all the sticks he can possibly conserve for national defense. Besides the $231,000, there will be expended local contributions of $33,100, as the government supplies 80 per cent and the balance is invested locally, and besides that the citizen taxpayers have to pay the $100,000 per year on government property from now on, in perpetuity.

With the numbers of empty houses, stores and apartments seen here now, is it logical to believe that we need 80 new houses to be rented by the government, with the additional taxes, to be paid by the present and future taxpayers?

Deep down in his heart, I cannot conceive that Mr. Koehler is very proud of this "achievement," because it does not help the "down and outer" or the man of low income, or those on the W.P.A. or P.W.A. that Mr. Koehler harps so much about always wanting to help.

Hence, why such extraordinary silence, Mr. Koehler?

SLAYER CONVICTS BID FOR PARDONS

Lyda Southard Among 217 Idaho Prisoners Seeking Clemency

BOISE, March 25.—Three convicted murderers who better than have spent 10 years in prison 25 are among the 217 Idaho convicts applying for clemency at the April meeting of the pardon board beginning Wednesday. One of them is Lyda Southard, Twin Falls prison slayer.

Seventy-seven-year-old Charles W. Moore, holding petty "bank-robber" maker, is number 14,474. Hege, 52, prison breaker, is the third.

Mrs. Southard, a housekeeper for some previous wardens at the prison but now doing only an occasional "wash," has served 10 years, Moore, 23 years, 11 months.

Three other convicted murderers are on the calendar and one is a woman, Della Young, convicted of attempted forgery in Goshute county and serving 1-14 years 810-soldier at a previous conditional pardon.

Half Prison's Population Secretary of State George H. Curtis, board secretary, explained the roll was longer this time because many cases on the January calendar were continued. The list is more than half the prison's population of 300.

Mrs. Southard, a popular woman of 29 when admitted from Twin Falls county Nov. 9, 1921, is married 49 years and became most estranged from 10 years to life on conviction of poisoning her husband. She is credited in 1921 by climbing over a prison wall.

Three months later she was transferred, but because she had gone to Denver, Colo., and married again. The marriage was dissolved.

Moore, 51 when sent to prison, shot to death Deputy Sheriff Gene Taylor of Blaine, Kan., in an attempted jail break in 1911. In previous pardon applications, Taylor's name was listed as being of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Hege, sentenced to life in the state prison in Gooding county in 1917, was 23 when he first got out. For 22 of his 24 years wearing stripes he has been a truant.

Blackie Miller on 164 Walter "Blackie" Miller, who pleaded guilty to killing Ted Brewer J. Terry in an attempted holdup near Burley in 1917, also seeks pardon.

Another "lifer," he escaped while in a trust in 1914 and was returned to prison later. He has served 13 years.

L. A. Verbeck, who declared his estranged wife to death with a hunting knife on a Custer county ranch, is seeking clemency after serving 10 years of his life term. He pleaded guilty.

Blacksmith, outside the walls now, Verbeck is 64.

SCENE SET FOR CITY BALLOTING

Registration Total to 5,717 as Books Close

Closing of registration books at 9 o'clock last night found 5,717 voters recorded as qualified to cast their ballots in Tuesday's municipal election, officials announced.

Largest ward registration was that for No. 2, according to Chief Registrar W. H. Edridge, who pointed out that 2,166 voters are signed in that section. Other registrations by wards are No. 1, 2,041; and ward No. 3, 1,470.

Officials anticipated that the vote in the forthcoming election will exceed that for all previous city balloting in 1939. The 1939 total was 3,161 and in the subsequent runoff it was 2,355. Two years earlier, in 1937, the balloting was 3,623.

Major for a two-year term and two councilmen, each for a four-year term, are to be elected.

Candidates for mayor are Joe-K Koehler, incumbent; Len A. Chapman, former mayor, and Reese M. Williams.

Candidates for the council are Paul R. Tuber and Leonard F. Axtell, incumbents; Len A. Chapman, former councilman; T. T. Greenhalgh, former councilman; and Eugene Scott.

Consistent objectors to bearing arms will receive their first opportunity to enter such a group for a week and ambulance operation April 10 when the next draft group leaves, according to Captain James H. Coleman, Jr., chief clerk of the Twin Falls area No. 1 area.

Authorization has been received from Colonel Norman B. Adkinson, district service executive officer for Idaho to send men in class 1-A-O, which is for those who are conscientious objectors. They will be accepted as volunteers.

Besides this group, there is the type objecting on religious grounds to any service connected with combat, directly or indirectly, and they will be placed in projects of national moment under the civilian program. Only one such total objective is listed for Twin Falls area.

New Vein Tapped At Mullan Mine SPOKANE, March 29 (AP)—A diamond drill probing a mountain in the Wallace-Kellogg mining district of north Idaho tapped a "vein" of two feet three inches in width which assayed 194 ounces of silver to the ton, President Morris Pearson of the Merger Mines corporation announced today.

The Sunshine Consolidated mine near Kellogg announced the tapping of a silver-copper vein that was in diamonds drill operations, but the value of the strike was not disclosed. This vein was located on the 3,100-foot level.

The merger strike, made in the nearby Murray district, was at the 2,000-foot level, Pearson said. A second hole has been started to intersect the vein 60 feet below the point reached today and "should give a more definite idea of the value," he added.

Idaho University Trio Dominates Collegiate Meet

Laume Erickson, Ted and Frank Kara Triumph Before Crowd of 5,000 At Penn State College

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Paced by the University of Idaho, boxers from the west carried off half of the eight national collegiate championships in hard-fought finals before a crowd of 5,000 in Penn State's Recreation hall.

Idaho, winning three individual titles, captured the unofficial team championship with 15 points, two more than the runner-up, Louisiana Institute of Lafayette, La., the runner-up. Penn State and Wisconsin tied for third place with nine points.

The individual champions were: Ted Kara, Idaho, 140 pounds; Frank Kara, Idaho, 127 pounds; Gene Rankin, Wisconsin, 125 pounds; Elton Tolson, California; Aggie, 145 pounds; Rodney Searles, Louisiana State University, 155 pounds; Laune Erickson, Idaho, 165 pounds; Paul Scally, Penn State, 175 pounds; and Louis Campbell, Southern California, 185 pounds. Ted Kara's title was his second straight national 129-pounder. He also won the 127-pound title two years ago to become the tournament's first three-time champion.

Erickson was the only other success in the 129-pound class. He won the 135-pound title two years ago, but did not compete last year.

Watching the Kara brothers tonight was their mother, Mrs. Anna Erickson, of Twin Falls. She received an ovation from the crowd as she appeared at the ring-side at the conclusion of the bout, the announcer in introducing her to the four-night fight. Mrs. Kara has seen her sons in four years.

Coaches Present Trophy. Coach Fred Smith, who presented the trophy to the winners, the John S. Larowe trophy, presented by the coaches to the four winners.

Scally's victory in the 175-pound class was the first time since 1938 when Ashby Dickerson, West Virginia, carried off heavyweight honors. Trailing the four leaders in the 175-pound class were Louisiana State University with eight points and Wisconsin with seven. Other contenders included California, Florida, Iowa, West Virginia, West Virginia and Lock Haven, Pa., Teachers, two each; Superior, one.

Defeat Louisiana Fair. The Kara boys, first brothers in the tournament's history to win titles, faced Southwestern Louisiana Institute rivals in the finals, Ted outpunching Harold Harper and Frank outpunching Edwin Carner.

The other champions crowned were Gene Rankin of Wisconsin, who defeated Leo Coffman of Washington State in the 125-pound final bout; Elton Tolson of California, a conqueror of Penn State's Bobby Baird, in the 145-pound final; and Frank's home in Superior, Wis., who took the first time, 175-pound title.

Superior boxing ably carried both Kara boys to their titles against rugged, hard-hitting opponents.

Louisiana fighters. The Kara's sharper attack and stronger defense was the deciding factor.

The Rankin-Coffman bout was a disappointment, with both boys fighting in cautious long-range style that produced little hard punching.

Tolson punched too many times for Baird and was defeated in the welterweight final. Baird gave the south his first championship by outpunching William South of Wisconsin in the 157-pound final.

Baird, native of Lake Charles, La., rocked Roth with a two-fisted attack on the head and suggested the Wisconsin mistake with a crushing right to the jaw in the third round.

Wins Brunting Battle. Erickson retained his 129-pound title in a bruising battle with Sanders of North Carolina. Erickson, Salt Lake City, handed the cleanest, hardest punches and Sanders' inability to cover up effectively after his man's first punches at the champion decided the fight.

Scally outboxed mid-weighting Fred Spillberg of Washington State in the light-heavyweight bout.

The hard-hitting Campbell of Southwestern Louisiana Institute won the heavyweight crown with a right-handed back that was too much for Gates Kimball of North Carolina.

Cubs Ship Bryant To Texas League. LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—Franklin City Bryant who has been losing a score arm since his injury in 1938 season, was shipped to the Texas League today by the Chicago Cubs.

In four full seasons as a Cub, Bryant won 37 games and lost 19, plus 19 in the team's 1938 pennant-winning drive. Since then he had been out of the team.

Bryant was greatly displeased with his release. Tulsa said he would have liked to stay in the club. Manager Roy Johnson before deciding whether to give up baseball.

Heavyweight King Returns to Scene Of First Triumph

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP)—Joe Louis' joyful wild dance here for his sixteenth title defense here one week from Tuesday.

To meet fight fans his championship match with Tony Musto "his second at his last another stop on his 'fight-or-month' parade.

But to Joe it will be more like another homecoming.

It was just seven years ago next week that the Brown Bomber, known as "the Louis," Detroit, Negro Golden Glove heavyweight, came to St. Louis to win his first major national title and start his sensational climb to fame and fortune.

Plating his eight-year-old, the silver-faced 19-year-old kid won the national A.A.U. crown and started the heavyweights all over the country.

This tournament was staged in the same St. Louis arena where Joe will engage Musto, squat Chicagoan, April 1.

Spectators boos Louis in two tournament matches because they thought he was setting up an opponent just when they were ripe for the kill. But they didn't know Joe was fighting under the handicap of a broken right in one hand and both under both arms.

He won his first and third bouts on technical knockouts, the second by default and the championship by a knockout over the St. Louiser.

He floored Salski with a right hand punch for the count of nine and when the Chicago boy got up, Louis hit him with another right. The referee didn't even bother to count 10.

It was a rare combination of a "splendid boxer and terrific puncher" with a left hook that splits KO when it lands, commented Bill McGowan, veteran Post-Dispatch critic, on April 7, 1934.

I surely said a mouthful that time," McGowan laughs now.

Cardinals Great, Says Club Chief

'Everything Looks Fine,' Declares Sam Breadon on Return from Camp

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP)—Sam Breadon was home today with the song of the Red Bird in his heart. To the victory chorus, you'd think it was the time of the pennant-winning St. Louis Cardinals.

"Everything looks fine," warbled the club president on his return from training camp. "It's a great ball club, but we've had in a long time and I believe you'll see something."

How about that infield which Manager Billy Southworth has been switching like a woman, selecting an Easter bunny?

"It's just a question of getting the best combination," Breadon replied. "They're all good and Billy is having a tough time deciding which to play and where. But that'll be all ironed out before the season opens."

And the outfield? "The outfield? Oh, the outfield!" continued Breadon with crescendo. "The best in either league. Yes, sir."

Yankees Pin Hopes on Rookie Duo

By DILLON GRAHAM Sports Editor of the Post Service ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Spring training is in full swing and the Yankees' eyes are turned to a pair of rookie infielders.

A year ago the Indians broke up their previous infield setup and trusted their chances to recruits at the college tryouts. "Hot" account was given to them. Their youngsters, Lou Doudreau and Ray Priddy, came through only a game out of first place.

New York has elected to risk its fate blind on the shoulders of a Kansas City pair, Phil Rizzuto and Gerald Priddy. It is a combination works as effectively as the Doudreau-Mack duo did. The Yanks will be serious contenders.

It's pretty hard to imagine any two rookies having the sort of freshman success that the Cleveland club did. They not only made up a great fielding pair, but they hit hard. Doudreau drove in more runs than any other Indian.

Yes, Rizzuto and Priddy have better minor league records than Doudreau and Mack boasted. White Doudreau and Mack hit just below .300 in the minors, both Priddy and Rizzuto were well above that mark in the American association.

Priddy The Third Man Rizzuto was the third best hitter in the American association with .347. Priddy, hurt by a last month slump, finished with .300. Priddy is more of a power hitter than Rizzuto.

They form a unit and Jeff Campbell, under 200 and each pretty husky sort of Jeff. Rizzuto looks like a bat boy. He weighs less than 160 and stands only 5'8". Priddy is nearly six feet tall and weighs 185. Both are right handed hitters.

Phil and Jerry are roommates and have been playing together for a year at Norfolk and the last two years at Kansas City. Rizzuto has been a lead-off man but that's where Manager Joe McCarthy has him in the lineup. Priddy is a hard-hitting fellow Rizzuto is hard to pitch to and gets a lot of walks. McCarthy thinks that Jerry because he is bigger and more robust, may make a better major league hitter. Neither has ever batted over .300 and each thinks he can at least touch that mark in the majors. McCarthy will be satisfied if they hit .250.

Gordon Shouff FR. Joe Gordon, who replaced Babe Doolittle, looks good at first base and Red Rolfe seems to have recovered his old time form at third.

So McCarthy is well pleased with his infield. Joe DiMaggio, the league's top hitter and best outfielder, will be in his first A.B.C. contest the highest game of the present event with 229 score in the final game of his career. It gave him a singles total of 655.

Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Ties Lawson Little for Second Place

BY BILL BONI ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 29 (AP)—Throush Lawson Little, the national open champion, held two of the 12 best golf shots of his life, he couldn't pick up any slack on Ben Hogan today and the field reached the halfway mark of the $5,000 "Land of the Sky" open golf tournament with Hogan still in front by four strokes.

Hogan and Little played together through the chilly blast that buffeted the Blumore Forest Country club course, and made accurate gauging of approach almost impossible. Each had a 72, two over par, to give Hogan a 36-hole total of 140 and Little a 144.

A blond darkhorse came through to the 144th for second place. He was 23-year-old Joe Kirkwood, Jr., handsome son of the veteran trick shot specialist.

Book of Little and Kirkwood, with a great chance to place well up in the money on tomorrow's last 36 holes when Hogan will try to repeat, came Sammy Byrd of Ardmore, Pa., the former Yankee outfielder was right in there with a 74 for 145.

Minor Changes in Hoop Rules Loom

Committee Reports Sentiment for Additional Rest Periods

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP)—The "fire wagon" type of basketball which has been in vogue for a few years, might be replaced by a new rule-maker breaks when the national basketball committee of the United States and Canada meets next Sunday and Monday at Kansas City.

H. V. Porter, committee secretary who left today for Kansas, said that while comment from various groups does not indicate any desire for radical changes in the regulations, there is some sentiment for an extended period of rest following the regular season.

Porter said certain rule adjustments made during the regular season have been favorably received without any interruption by a charged time-out.

JEROME CAPTURES SIX OF 11 TITLE FIGHTS

Tiger Scrappers Walk Off With Team and Individual State Ring Championships

Shelley Finishes in Second Place as High School Boxers Battle Before Crowd of 1,300 at Filer

FILER, March 29.—Jerome collected six individual titles and the team championship at the Idaho invitational boxing tournament here tonight to give the south central district its third state high school athletic crown of the year. Just a week after Burley and Peshonone quintets returned from the Boise tournament with Idaho's top basketball honors, Coach Tommy Beall's Tiger scrappers blasted their way to victory in tough competition before a crowd of 1,300 in Filer's high school gymnasium.

Shelley emerged from the meet with the runner-up trophy, four scrappers from the eastern Idaho school triumphing in tonight's program in 11 weight divisions. Kimberly, with one victory, completed the list of title winners out of a starting field of more than 80 boxers from 13 schools.

Four Knockouts

For thrills and slam-bang action, the scrappers put on by Coach Emerson of Kimberly was the headliner. The Northsiders knocked out son down twice in the opening round, and twice in the early moments of the second round. The second round ended, however, Emerson rallied and had his box backing up under a strong closing blitz. He slugged Lou to the third frame. Bishop took the decision over the name Kimberly led.

One of several close decisions awarded by the referee went to Russell Benton, Shelley 10-9, pounder, Alex Kinsfather of Jerome routed a strong closing blitz by Victor, but Benton received the title on the strength of his showing in the first and second rounds.

In a clash between little fellows, Reinhold Flaher of Jerome fought toward the end to edge Veri Hendricks, Sugar City. They sparred in the 22-round bout.

Jack Sage of Shelley led through all three rounds to defeat LeRoy Sinker for the 100-pound crown. Clyde Markson of Peshonone, Idaho Hughes, Kimberly in the first round and wound up with the verdict, although battling was the most even terms in the last two stanzas.

Vernon Hall became the second Jerome winner of the evening when he outpointed Harold Damon, Rigby, in every round.

Holloway Wins

The 132-pound division featured effective punching by Lymon Holloway. The Jerome mite fought out all three rounds and had Don Park of St. Anthony in a bad way at the final bell.

Olbert Hall of Jerome took all three rounds from Eddie Jolly, Filer. The host team dropped the next match, but it was on split decision in favor of Billy Butler, Kimberly, over Lyle Spencer.

After leading the fight against John Norris of Kimberly, Shelley's 164-pound ring artist, Martin McCullough, reversed the situation to win the last two frames and the title.

William Ehler, Jerome heavy weight, was declared the victor over David Lemmon, Mountain Home's one finalist, by an extremely thin margin.

Presents Trophies

Team trophies were presented by Earl Ramsey, Filer superintendent, and tournament manager, to Coach Beall of Jerome and to Headcock of Shelley. Individual title winners were awarded golden gloves; silver gloves went to Jay Parker, Filer.

The three-day tournament attracted a total attendance of 3,000. Results: 62 pounds—Reinhold Flaher, Jerome; 65 pounds—Veri Hendricks, Sugar City; 70 pounds—Jack Sage, Shelley; 75 pounds—LeRoy Sinker, Filer; 81 pounds—Russell Benton, Kimberly; 87 pounds—Russell Benton, Kimberly; 93 pounds—Alex Kinsfather, Jerome; 100 pounds—Clyde Markson, Shelley; 105 pounds—Harold Damon, Rigby; 111 pounds—Vernon Hall, Jerome; 117 pounds—Harold Damon, Rigby; 125 pounds—Lymon Holloway, Jerome; 132 pounds—Eddie Jolly, Filer; 140 pounds—Ray Butler, Kimberly; 147 pounds—Lyle Spencer, Kimberly; 154 pounds—Clarence Bishop, Jerome; 164 pounds—Martin McCullough, Shelley; 175 pounds—John Norris, Kimberly; 182 pounds—William Ehler, Jerome; 200 pounds—David Lemmon, Mountain Home.

Baseball Banter

BY JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, March 29.—The Yankee's sale of pitcher Steve Stovall to Washington shows that the baseball bigwigs never get too angry with each other to do business. A few weeks ago President Ed Barrow of the Yanks and President Clark Griffith of the Senators were New York sneaking Babe Dahlgren into the American league on a waiver list that included Joe DiMaggio and other stars.

The day the Cubs demolished the White Sox 18-1, owner P. K. Wright was holding from a box "Which might mean he should see more games." Newspaper men still are getting the Clevelanders in the room after ball games, although Coach Vili, who established the rule has departed. —Mike McCormick, who hit 300 for the Reds last year, was being trying to make himself "friendly" boxer, but by today is giving it up.

The St. Louis Browns, who drew exactly 99 paid admissions for one of their regular home games on a Saturday night, are thinking about shifting to Florida next spring. —The Indians are moving out of Fort Myers. The Pirates aren't altogether satisfied on the coast, where Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland and St. Louis are thinking about shifting to Florida next spring. —The Giants may quit Miami and the Dodgers are flirting with several cities.

Michigan Retains Swimming Crown

Wolverines Take Four Individual Titles and One Relay

EAST LANSING, March 29.—Michigan, turning on the heat when points were needed most, tonight won its eighth consecutive National Collegiate Athletic association swimming championship in a 14-10 to the finish with Yale.

Taking four individual titles and one relay in the two-day classic the Wolverines piled up 61 points to beat the Ohio State team. The ability of Earl Clark, only double winner of the meet, was a factor in high and low-board diving, tied with Wayne university of Detroit for third with no points.

The outcome of the meet actually was decided before the final event, it was just as well for Michigan's peace of mind because Yale, which had drawn a scare into the Wolverine camp by pulling up unexpected points, won the final event, the 100-yard free style relay, by a touch from Michigan.

Wyoming Anglers Welcome Opening Of Trout Season

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 29.—Thousands of Wyoming fishermen were completing preparations today to welcome the opening of the fishing season Tuesday.

Officers of the state fish and game department gave assurance that the trout will be plentiful. Because of an open winter and an early warm spring, the state's fishing streams and lakes are accessible and in excellent condition. Most highways have all been cleared of snow.

Fishing hours are from 4 a. m. to 9 p. m. The total catch in one day and the maximum possession is limited to pounds. The creel limit is 20 fish except on one limit, which is 15 regardless of weight.

Badgers Triumph Over Washington Staters, 39 to 34

KANSAS CITY, March 29 (AP)—Wisconsin pulled the Washington State defense out from directly out front. Ron Low Lead. The Badgers could score before the Cougars were out in front, 10 to 8, for their only time in the scene, immediately after having prospects the Cougars went into a three-minute attack.

After the rest of the Cougars' shot their backs to the Wisconsin boards and forced the Badgers to shoot from out in front. Washington State gradually crawling up until the count was 24 to 22. But Wisconsin revived and the ball game was over except for the clock. A trophy, so huge it needed two men to carry it, went to Wisconsin, with watches and gold and silver miniature basketballs were awarded the individual players.

The Badgers, in turn, sloped all the farwesters but Kirk Gebert, junior guard, who collected 21 points in the victory over the Pacific coast the crowd was last year by Indiana university. Wisconsin, who hit Johnny Kotz and Gene English, splitting the rebounds off both boards, built a 21 to 17 advantage at the half.

Tight Defense. So effective was the Big Ten team defense that Washington State was held without a single point for nine minutes in the first half and started another scoring drought of more than five minutes in the period after the rest.

The Badger better who is tough that only four of the nine players Coach Friel sent into the fray got baskets and of the four, only two got more than one.

Coach, who was with his one-handed push hitting the rim 10 times in 24 shots.

Enthusiasm, Wisconsin's great center, tied Lindheim in knots and had time enough to pour 13 satires down the key.

Wisconsin started with a rush and had boosted its total to 6 before men fought the last beat in the United States under the London prize ring rules?

Champion Scores In Sports Quiz

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—Joe Louis knows his sports.

The heavyweight boxing champion scored a quiz audience last night with the readiness and accuracy of his answers, particularly about horse racing.

One question he answered with little hesitancy was "name the Kentucky derby winners of 1927, 1933, 1939 and 1940."

"War Admiral in 1927," replied Joe. "Lawin (he stumbled slightly on the name) in 1933, Johnstown in 1939 and Calumet in 1940."

Another question was: "What two horses were in the 1939 Kentucky derby?"

"Secretariat and Bold Ruler," he replied.

MURTAUGH

YESTERDAY: At first the plane trip to Heart's Haven, on an island off the North Carolina coast, was a simple matter. But Eve and Gina, and the three young men who were to accompany them, were in a situation, and the two older women—all of them went when the plane took off. Just now young Jim Millard and Eve have been questioned by some- one. The question is who pulled the trigger.

Chapter 13
Work on the beach
It was at breakfast the next morning that Julie noticed, with happy satisfaction, that Neil Rowan was fascinated by Eve. "Pootin' led" was the word she used to describe it. She repeated it mentally as she looked at the smiling girl. Eve was passing the toast, was being purposely awkward and taking time that her fingers brushed the girl's.

It was right all along, sooner or later Eve will have to acknowledge it herself. The truth of her own tightness was too pleasant to be dismissed at once. Julie looked up her self-satisfied smile. "You're really in a bit of a fix this morning," he remarked. "Almost as if they were worried."

"Well, I'm not for one," remarked Julie with a smile. "This island is really in the middle of the sea. It's a bit of a situation of time before some things adjust themselves."

"And Mrs. Jackson was just being silly with her talk of moans and groans. Everyone knows that the wind plays odd tricks in a place like this."

"I certainly do." Gina interrupted suddenly. "I woke me up during the night. I don't know what it was, but I'm sure it was something that sounded like 'Drowsed'."

"Oh, I don't know. I didn't try to sleep. I knew it was something that sounded like 'Drowsed'."

Arrangements were made by the Moose woman to have a child care and training class meeting April 2, and business chosen for the meeting were Mrs. Mary C. Chiving of Piler, Mrs. Zetta Randall and Mrs. Annie Smith. It is planned at that meeting to take up knitting for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Rose Wilson and Miss Lane Jane Rudy, members of the high school faculty, were special guests. Next meeting will be April 10, when three new members will be initiated.

Original telegram was her brother. Meanwhile, a Los Angeles businessman, the father of a 10-year-old daughter, had provided $10 to buy her a ticket on an airplane plane to Chicago last night as she could arrive in time for her mother's supposed funeral at Newcastle today.

The girl and two youths with whom she had driven here from Newcastle were picked up on a charge of stealing a bottle of milk after their meager funds were exhausted.

Series Ends—Concluding a series of no-hostess luncheons, the Pioneer Bridge club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Turner. Honors at cards went to Mrs. David Announced—Mr. and Mrs. David Moyes have received word of the birth of a son to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larson of Payette. The infant, David Wayne, was born March 22.

Conita Solanta—Soloists for the country, Conita Solanta, "The Tradition Song" by Fred B. Jolliffe, have been selected as follows: Mrs. J. H. Coulter, Francis True, Scott Egbert, Mark Dayley, Faye Webb, Genevieve Cullen, Grant Bates, Annabel Mayberry, Robert Lee, Betty Ann Beasler, Beatie Goodman, Vivian Heistbeck, Mae Egbert, Clair Perkins and Eva Goodman. The cantata will be presented in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. April 7, and is being directed by L. E. Turner, with Mrs. Turner as accompanist.

The Literary Guidepost

By JOHN SELBY

"I SAW ENGLAND," by Ben Robertson; (Doubleday, $2).

It should have been obvious that the real story of the blitzkrieg over Britain would be told by an outsider, and not by a British writer. It is the old matter of perspective.

Some of our favorite names in fiction have been called by the name of Ben Robertson. He is a very revealing title for a book—such a title could only the story of such a battle? Anything should be anticlimactic.

Just the same, Mr. Robertson has caught a catchiness in the name of the book. "I Saw England" is as good a reportage as one is likely to find, reporting on the new school in which the reader is asked to trust the reporter, and to forgive him the job of forever breaking the flow of his narrative by inserting unimportant "authorities" in his statements. Not that authority is lacking in the book. There is plenty of it.

Mr. Robertson writes to England about the time of Dunkerque. He writes through the close of a brilliant day in the final days of the war, and known for decades, he was a little unimpaired man of England.

He did not know, as he did not know, how low he and his English friends might sink.

Mr. Robertson shows how he saw how the original title of the book was shown by citing bits of statistics, but almost altogether in terms of his own personal observations.

They had reached the long ramp that led from the shore to the building built out over the water.

"Do you want to wait here while I go see if it's safe?" asked Brett.

"Oh, I want to come, too. If it's possible, I can stay any night."

But the ramp proved fairly steady, and when they entered the lounge-house a moment later they found it in surprisingly good condition.

The building, which was one of the one large room from which steps led down to the boat landing below, at the water's edge. What surprised them most was to find the room furnished after a fashion.

There were beds and a table, and on the shelves along the walls were dusty books in many piles, as if someone had been in the room and had lived there, or at least stayed overnight.

A bunk stood in one corner, with a few worn blankets heaped upon it. An old stove was built into a wall behind a pile of boxes. Beside it stood an empty oil can.

"This room looks as if it had been occupied recently," observed Eve.

Brett strode across the room and picked up a paper bag that lay on the shelf. He drew out from it the remains of a sandwich wrapped in waxed paper.

"This sandwich is an relic of early Colonial days," he admitted. "I think somebody brought it here this week."

"What does it mean?" asked Eve.

"That's what I'd like to find out," said Brett grimly. "I don't think when I do find out it will be a matter for the police. Let's get going."

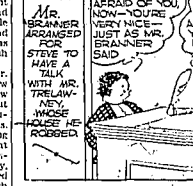

"Where?" asked Eve.

"Brett took the tin from the pocket he carried through the door and back across the ramp. The trip to the house was made in silence. Brett

Buhl Rotarians Slate Election

BUHL, March 29—Dinner meeting of Rotary club was held Thursday evening. John M. Barker was the main speaker, giving an interesting report on his trip to Connecticut where he took a five weeks' course in insurance, and of the trip that he and his bride took following the insurance school to Washington, D. C. and other points of interest.

At the regular luncheon for club directors, the following were nominated: Club President, Ed Parish, C. L. Walbright, Gail Samuels, Joe Elgert, Jack Tingley and C. D. Daring. Election will be held in one month.

It was announced that April 2 is the Rotary-Infra birthday in memory of Mrs. Lucy Parry, now of Gooding, who for many years served the weekly luncheons for the Rotarians and who has been called the club's "Mother." Mrs. Parry will be at her birthday, and Mrs. Pence will be hostess at "best coffee" luncheon of Mrs. Parry. Members of Rotary and of the Masonic and Eastern Star chapters and other friends of Mrs. Parry are invited to call between the hours of two and five p.m. the afternoon of Wednesday, April 2, to join in celebrating her birthday anniversary.

SLAVS STRUGGLE WITH WAR ISSUE

Belligerents Clear Nationalists Out of Balkan States; U. S. Envoys Busy

BELOGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 29 (AP)—Germany ordered all her nationals out of the provinces of the Balkans being invaded by the Hungarians and British women also were advised to go quickly as the new Yugo-Slavian government wrestled tonight with the problem of keeping Yugoslavia non-belligerent.

There were indications that nothing has been settled yet—indications such as abandonment, on Berlin's orders, of the Lithuanian air line to Belgrade, tension in all diplomatic quarters, the resumption of German conversations, uncertainty in the Croat-Serb situation and the rapid departure of foreigners.

Slovenia Wants No War

One thing, however, was certain, General Dusan Simovic, premier of the three-day-old regime which ousted the Yugoslav signers of the axis alliance, is not eager to provoke a conflict with anyone at this time.

Slovenia wants time to reconcile, if he can, widely divergent views on the course he should follow—whether to accede to Nazi wishes and confirm Yugoslavia's earlier participation in the war, or to ally with the new Yugo-Slav army and people who shouted against the Thursday offer of the new, infant coup which put him and young King Peter II in power.

"I cannot hold a long meeting today, but an official statement said 'only budget matters' were discussed."

U. S. Envoys Busy

U. S. Minister Arthur Bliss Lane had a long private conference with Foreign Minister Ninco during the afternoon, having previously conferred with Premier Simovic.

The German legation was said to be taking an extremely serious view of the role of a Nazi-resistant government was cast aside.

Concurrent with Germany's attack on all services of the Yugoslav capital, the Yugoslav government suspended German radio traffic in its section of the country and military operators took over telephone lines in Belgrade.

The premier of Croatia hastened back to Zagreb, his provincial capital, in a report to Dr. Vladimir Macko, the Croat peasant leader, on what he had learned about the Simovic course.

Lid on Belligerency

Macko, who was carried over as premier from the deposed cabinet of Dr. Drazica Cvetkovic, may hold the key to development of Yugoslav status and foreign policy, it depends on how he decides—whether to stay with the Simovic government or go back to the ally ranks.

The Yugoslav government was trying to keep the lid on public feelings with "open" the pro-British newspaper Tribuna and the anti-British cries heard in demonstrations are by no means in accord with the Yugoslav neutrality and to cause difficulties with our neighbors, with whom we wish to remain on terms of peace and friendship.

Three courses are open to Simovic: To renounce publicly any popular pact. Or to declare that he will be done. It would satisfy Thursday's demonstrators but no one believes that would be tolerated by the axis.

To announce publicly, in veiled diplomatic language, that Yugoslavia, desiring the friendship of all, would live up to any pact.

This might displease Thursday's demonstrators, but it probably would be satisfactory to the army. It would not fool Berlin, but it might even bring German interest in the pact.

To go the whole way in agreeing to recognize all commitments entered into by the Simovic government. That is what the axis wants, but it would be satisfied if observers correctly anticipated the Yugoslav army and popular sentiment.

Observers correctly anticipated the course of the most likely Government circles say German-Yugoslav conversations are proceeding along that line.

The men who set up Yugoslavia's new government seem to be resolved that this country will not be another Rumania, Bulgaria or Hungary.

TAKES PLENTY TIME TO SEE MAN IN WASHINGTON

By HIGHBURN ARNE

AP Feature—write writer WASHINGTON—Suppose you should arrive in this town with a noble ambition to tell the army some baseball bats for its recreation program. You hail from a town where every door swings open for you. Secretaries jump at your appearance.

You get into Washington at 9:25 a.m. The job should be done by lunch-time. Think what time the afternoon for sight-seeing. That's what you think. But you have just entered Washington in all-out defense time. The city is bustling with new defense workers.

At the end of the last half of 1940, 100,000 men and women.

To begin with you line up with dozens of other impatient people to catch a cab. Ten minutes pass before an empty puts up in the station.

Then a stranger attacks his head into the taxicab. "Huh," he says with tears in his voice. "I've got an appointment at the White House in exactly ten minutes. Give me a lift!"

"Okay."

The taxi-driver heads that "White House" as he really travels, in and out of rivers of cars driven by government workers.

Your new set gets to the White House gate just in time. And so you say "This car!" You call pulls up into a line at the gate and you wait—until you decide to walk up the drive lugging your bags.

In the lobby there are mountains of baggage to right and left. There are 15 ahead of you at the desk. Your turn comes and the clerk smiles at you gently. There will be no rooms until 6.

Arson Suspect Claimed in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, March 29 (AP)—

Sheriff Martin Baker of Wayne county, Utah, was on his way to Weiser, Idaho, tonight to take custody of Clive Peterson, 29, charged with arson in connection with the firing Feb. 8 of a Los. Utah, home in which a young couple and their 10-year-old child were sleeping.

S. R. Waugh, national board of fire underwriters investigator here said Peterson, who recently moved to Weiser from Loa, had admitted the charge and agreed to waive extradition to Wayne county for trial.

Waugh said the burned dwelling, an eight-room home is owned by Peterson's mother, and that the blaze was started in all but three rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, occupants were asleep when the alleged firing took place.

Sheriff's officers at Weiser said Peterson was being held there pending Sheriff Baker's arrival.

On the third floor, seventh wing, I'll phone for his room number."

She phones. She frowns. She puts down the receiver. "Sorry, but his phone is just being connected. You'll have to wait."

So you chug to the third floor, seventh wing, second bay. A Negro mail clerk, the fifth person you asked, points out a brick, gray-haired woman as the Colonel's secretary.

This secretary also is sad and gentle. The Colonel has had to break all his morning appointments—conference, you know. Can you come back tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. No, wait. At 2:30 p. m.?

You grab the time. Plenty of time now to sign-out. But the sound is gone. You wander back to the hotel lobby and get into stamens conversation with the bell-hop.

Boy! Will you look with attentive eyes again on dear old Grape Haven!

"Oh, Colonel So-and-So," she says. "He moved last night. It's 1237."

Little Animals in Siamese Forests May Be Man's Closest Relative

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

STATE COLLEGE, Penn., March 29 (The Special News Service)—A three-month study in Siamese forests of the gibbon, least known of the apes, showing that this animal may be man's closest relative was announced today at Pennsylvania State college.

Gibbons are little fellows, 12 pounds being top weight. But, this report shows, they have real family life, they all but own property as individuals, and if they are going to fight, they first do a lot of loud talking.

They cannot be said to have a code of morality on the human scale, yet the parallel is remarkably close. The males in closest contact, relative tendency to stick to one mate. Isolated males in what resembled bachelor status were seen, also groups of aged males, who kept together like members of a club.

The family groupings and habits of life approached that of man. The males in closest contact, relative tendency to stick to one mate. Isolated males in what resembled bachelor status were seen, also groups of aged males, who kept together like members of a club.

The property instinct consists of a section of the forest which the male, or the female, defends as his own. It is thought possible that the Siamese gibbon family has lived about unchanged in their present environment for a million years or more.

The report was made by C. R. Carpenter, assistant professor of psychology at the Pennsylvania State college. He studied 80 gibbons, in 21 families, in their native forests.

Their substitutes for speech are near human, comprising of sounds and gestures Gestures of friendliness or the opposite are unmistakable, a sort of sign language. For example, in a friendly meeting the hands are held with knuckles forward in a position unsuitable for striking or punching.

Their social range is like human, sound films, taken of their voices in the forest, were played back to the same animals. These gibbon audiences seemed to understand the sounds and talked back to the pictures.

Legal Driver Age Set at 14 Years

BOISE, March 29 (AP)—Idaho's minimum legal age for driving cars is 14 years, in the opinion of abstract Judge Charles F. Koelsch.

Judge Koelsch ruled a 1916 law setting the minimum age 16, had in effect, been repealed by a later drivers' license law under which no license may be issued anywhere under 14 years of age.

Koelsch overruled demurrers of the Continental Insurance company being sued by Lewis Williams, state director of charitable institutions, for payment of a policy on his automobile wrecked last fall when driven by 15-year-old Carol Jean Simms, killed in the crash.

WHY WE TALK ABOUT A SYSTEM INSTEAD OF A MACHINE . . .

Put a hoe in a man's hands, and you have a tool that will do most anything — if you work hard enough, and long enough. That's why they invented implements to do certain special jobs. And when they came the farmer used the best power he had available — animals. They were flexible. But they were slow, and costly.

Then the tractor came. It was powerful. It didn't tire. It didn't eat when it didn't work. But using it in front of traditional implements was exactly like hitching a separate engine out in front of a buggy.

Such a contraption would work, all right. It might look like a good arrangement, if you had never seen an automobile. An automobile is a one-unit machine. Power and control and traction and results are all engineered into one compact, efficient device.

That's exactly the difference between the Ford Tractor with Ferguson System and all other tractors. The Ferguson System makes the power plant and the tool one compact, operating unit, controlled as easily, as accurately as the automobile and with as little actual effort.

The Ferguson System makes it possible for one model — so light that it does not pack the soil — to be economical for anybody to run, and to do all the jobs on the farm your way no matter how tough the going.

Those are strong words. You'll never believe them if you just look at one of these machines standing still. They do look too small for man sized farming.

Ah! But the point is you can't see the Ferguson System do its stuff until the tool is in the ground.

Let us show you on one of our toughest fields just how the Ford and Ferguson System can do your job. It costs nothing to look, little to buy, and you'll save money from the first day you put this machine to work.

CONGRESS EYES LABOR DISPUTES

Government Tests Powers to Prevent or Stop Strikes
BY RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, March 29 (The Special News Service)—The administration seems to be testing its power and ability to prevent or stop strikes in the defense industry. Congress' jurisdiction continues to grow as the situation improves, and improves quickly; may be expected to have taken the same direction.

Two approaches have been taken by the administration. President Roosevelt has appointed a conciliation board under the chairmanship of Clarence W. Dykstra to undertake the delicate task of working out compromises between labor and management when strikes impede defense production.

Many critics have already been made of the plan of operation by the Dykstra board. The administration of the general idea has been plentifully expressed. But there have been few criticisms of the plan itself. It had not been given sufficient power to cope with the situation.

Some assert that this is all wrong. The Dykstra board, according to this view should at first have authority to intervene when and where it chooses "to do so." The plan, they say, is to let the government act as a labor department official, unwilling to admit their own failure, anticipating a call to the board with valuable time lost meanwhile.

As a means of centering public attention upon the rights or wrongs of a particular strike situation, even the critics agree that the new board would be a considerable improvement. Historically, it is a public opinion that was and is strikes for the unions, and it is felt that will the union.

Just what power Knox and Knudsen have to enforce their bold "requisition" to the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company is a considerable question. The provision was much debated when the contract was made, and the decision was confirmed almost at once by the Supreme Court.

Supreme Court in Session at Present
DOUGLAS, Chief Justice, presiding in the five-man supreme court. Idaho is live tomorrow for Federal Reserve Board hearing will be held. Clerk Jay Koehler, who also will make the trip, said the session was expected to take five days.

HOOPER PICTURES U. S. PEACE ROLE

Former President Calls for 'Sanity' in Post-War Dealings

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 20 (AP)—Herbert Hoover said last night that America, pledged to aid Great Britain, "will sit at the world's peace table" when the war ends, and may be able to speak with a "more constructive and warning voice" if the nation does not become further involved in the conflict.

"We have already made three positive appointments with destiny," he declared. "One is that we will all at the world's peace table. Another is that we face the problems of war emotions and war psychosis. The other is that we shall meet the financial, economic and social aftermath of a war."

"If God grants that we become more deeply involved than we are today, we may be able to bring a more constructive and warning voice to the peace table. If our moral reservoirs are not drained by the full passions of war, we may be able to bring a more constructive and warning voice to the peace table. If our moral reservoirs are not drained by the full passions of war, we may be able to bring a more constructive and warning voice to the peace table."

Idaho to Retain Same CCC Camps

COLUMBIA, March 20 (AP)—The same number of Idaho CCC camps are to be kept this year as last year, it was announced today by John A. Nelson, administrator, U. S. Forest Service. The camps will be the same as last year, however, there is a tentative report of a 25 per cent reduction by June, said Nelson.

LOCAL RED CROSS AIDS PRODUCTION

Sewing, Knitting Units Do Their Part for War Victims

Twin Falls chapter's American Red Cross production unit of volunteer needlewomen and knitters has made an excellent showing in the number of finished garments sent to the needy in the Pacific.

These supplies have won safe delivery over the hazardous Atlantic and have been distributed in air raid shelters, bombed ruins of cities, in hospitals and where the distressed have gathered.

Under supervision of Mrs. Arthur Hill for the sewing and Mrs. F. P. Fracken for the knitting, a total quota of 20 dresses for women and 20 boyettes, 18 sweaters for men, women and children and 6 slawias has been completed.

Many hours of effort have been given by more than 100 volunteer workers, who are thanked in the following certificate of appreciation from the Marshfield Postmaster of Reading, chairman of the Women's Voluntary Services of Great Britain:

"The heavy burden which has fallen on us in meeting the constant demands for clothing has been eased beyond expression by contributions we have received from you."

Through staff of experienced field workers, the American Red Cross maintains a careful check of the way the supplies are used, and warns, new clothing made in quiet hours of busy workrooms in America, is found in the front line of battle.

These huge gifts of clothing, which amount to about $7,000,000, have done more than relieve the cold and homeless. The Red Cross garments pouring in a steady flow across the seas are a big factor in maintaining morale and literally weave a bond of sympathy and goodwill between the nations. It was pointed out.

Injured Worker's Claim Dismissed

BOISE, March 20 (AP)—Federal Judge O. C. Cavanah granted today a motion by the Union Pacific railroad for dismissal of a damage suit brought against it by Lloyd Lester Arnold of Pocatello, injured when he fell off a railroad bridge under repair on the Buhl branch.

Youth Objects to Deanna's Nuptials

TULSA, Okla., March 20 (AP)—The announcement of Deanna Durbin's engagement to be married didn't fill in at all with the plans of a 17-year-old Tulsa high school student.

So, federal agents disclosed today, whenever a meeting could be arranged.

Paul turned the note over to authorities. The student was questioned and released after a lecture by Federal Judge Royce H. Savage, who advised him to forget his romance.

He said he had been writing to Deanna for three years and once had gone to Hollywood to visit her but was refused admittance to her home.

road for dismissal of a damage suit brought against it by Lloyd Lester Arnold of Pocatello, injured when he fell off a railroad bridge under repair on the Buhl branch. Arnold sued under the federal employees' liability act, charging the railroad with negligence. Judge Cavanah upheld the road's contention the employee was aware of danger involved in the work and assumed the risk.
