

9,000,000 Men In Struggle for Western Russia

Reds Throw Reserves Into Decisive Action; Heavy Fighting on 1800-Mile Front

(By The Associated Press)

The Red armies, fighting desperately to stem the German offensive in the showdown battle for western Russia, reported today that heavy fighting had erupted on every major sector of the front but asserted generally that there had been no substantial Nazi advance.

This claim—covered in the statement of the Soviet command's brief early morning communiqué—there was no important change in the disposition of our troops—was in sharp contrast with the confidence, avowed by Berlin.

Violent Action

Specifically, the Russians announced that there was violent action in the areas of Kiev, Smolensk, this some 150 miles to the southwest of Leningrad, Polotsk and Smolensk, the latter only 230 miles drive of Moscow; Novgorod, Volynsk and the area between the drive on Kiev in the Ukraine; and on the Bessarabian front.

The Germans claim to have consolidated their break-through at the first center by occupation of Smolensk and said that 2,000,000 men were involved in the greatest military struggle of history. They added that the Red commanders were calling up the last ounce of their reserve strength.

Every circumstance suggested that the showdown in the west determining who is to control European Russia, will be fought much longer than the present German offensive in the Ukraine, so broken now in a matter of days.

Of greater importance, however, at least insofar as Britain's prospects were concerned, whether the Reds would fight on, as the Soviet command had intimated, even if they lost the war.

The answer was very apparent to be accepted by informed quarters in Britain.

Last Red Reserves

Germany's day claim to the occupation of Smolensk, the official news agency DNB, which also reported the seizure of Polotsk in the well fortified province of Polesie, on the Russian border province of Bessarabia, was announced the Germans.

The news was the commander's afternoon communiqué, presumably edited by Hitler himself, was more explicit than any other.

"Soviet leadership, throwing the last reserves into battle, tried to stem the German advance by the use of their last reserves and their allies," it said. "On the entire east front a tremendous battle is in progress."

Rescue

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Two-year-old Charlotte Vaughn gave her two-month-old puppy, Perry, a swim in the rain-flooded creek, walked away and forgot him.

The puppy's mother discovered the pup apparently lifeless in the water. Adopting a line from first aid, she pulled the pup out, hummed, Mrs. Vaughn revived Perry, who was lying on his back, under a fruit tree instead of the customary barrel.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Cramblers in this southern Indiana city will be out for national defense.

Justice of the Peace J. W. Stapp tonight instructed authorities to destroy 10 slot machines and put any machines found in the devices into the city's pool of the defense metal.

Impromptu Hunt Bags Cougar

Gooding, July 16—(The Associated Press)—A small stock dog owned by Don Fredrickson of northeast Gooding, gave chase to a 45-pound cougar Thursday evening, treed the cat and held him until Mr. Fredrickson arrived on the scene and killed it with a 22-caliber rifle.

The Fredrickson party, comprised of Don, Mrs. Ray Davis, Mrs. Fredrickson, Mrs. Pete Woody and Mr. Fredrickson, were on a fishing trip along the Rapid river near Swanton, about 30 miles above Stanley, when the adventure occurred.

"Chuck," who rides in style on the cab of the pick-up truck, sighted the animal, and when the machine was stopped, he immediately gave chase. After the cougar was shot and fell from the tree into the gulch, he finished the job he had started.

The cougar was about 100 pounds when it was treed, but no attempts were made to create a disturbance.

Only a handful of pickets were on patrol tonight as about 100 members of the picket line were on duty. No attempts were made to create a disturbance.

Under such a declaration, draftees, national guardsmen and reserves would be retained in the service beyond the year of training for which they were originally inducted. If they are called after a year, Marshall said, it will be a "drastic error" which will increase the danger of involvement in war.

Roosevelt Blacklists Axis-Aiding Concerns

Exports Banned to More Than 1,800 Firms, Individuals in Latin America

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 17—In a drastic move to tighten the economic blockade against Germany and Italy, President Roosevelt today banned the export of vital materials to more than 1,800 firms and individuals in Latin America named on a "blacklist."

Coinciding with issuance of what was called "the proclaimed list of certain blocked nationals" deemed to be acting for the benefit of Germany or Italy, the president set up virtually an economic warfare committee to supervise the plugging of trade leaks through American countries to the axis.

On this committee are the secretary of state and the administrator of export control and the coordinator of commercial and cultural relations through Latin America.

At the same time Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, announced to the inter-American financial and economic advisory committee, the United States will prohibit the export of new government securities to Germany, Italy and Italy since President Roosevelt "froze their assets and those of their European counterparts in the United States on June 14."

The president by proclamation today made it clear that he has no intention subject to export control to any of the persons or firms listed, although those attending local reporters merely that there was "nothing to say" when they left the White House.

As far as the United States was concerned, the government stood on the sidelines, although the United States had hoped any decision reached in Tokyo would result in the strained relations such as to make for maintenance of peace in the Pacific.

Until the day of the new government was complete, officials here could not be certain whether Japan would embark on new military ventures independently or in cooperation with its Axis partners, or would try to restore the strained relations with the United States and Great Britain.

POLICE QUELL DISORDERS AT PLANE PLANT

Workers Moving Through Picket Lines After Riots Injuring Six Persons; Dispute Goes to Mediators

By The Associated Press

Employers of Air Associates, Inc., at its plant in New York City, planned to enter through picket lines after police quelled riots which injured at least six persons. Dispute earlier had reached mediation mediation board by labor department.

Steel workers at Great Lakes Engineering company, River Rouge, Mich., went on strike last night for higher wages and requiring 30-day cooling off period.

Conciliators attempting to settle week-old CIO strike at Chicago American Car and Foundry company plant announced they had an unsuccessful and dispute was referred to Washington.

BENDIS, N. J., July 17 (AP)—Workers tonight moved freely in and out of the plant of Air Associates, Inc., scene of a riot in which six men were injured at the start of the day shift.

The clash occurred when pickets of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union, attempting to prevent workers from passing through the plant gates. Police used tear gas and demonstrators hurled stones.

Only a handful of pickets were on patrol tonight as about 100 members of the picket line were on duty. No attempts were made to create a disturbance.

Under such a declaration, draftees, national guardsmen and reserves would be retained in the service beyond the year of training for which they were originally inducted. Washington Prepares to Meet Any Development in Pacific

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Waiting cautiously for Japan to show what course it intends to take, the United States prepared today to meet any development in the Pacific growing out of a change in Japanese policy.

President Roosevelt went over diplomatic reports from the Japanese and submitted a conference for an hour with members of the navy high command.

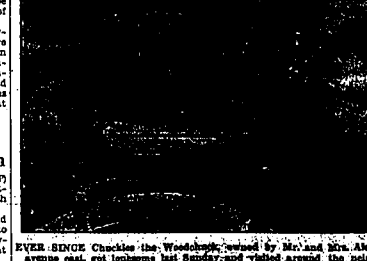

There was speculation that this second conference was concerned, at least in part, with the Far Eastern military situation. It was indicated, however, that the conference was concerned with the Pacific situation.

Draft Lottery Sets Order of Call for 750,000 Americans

Draftees Draw Numbered Pink Capsules From Famous Gold Fish Bowl

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 17—Thin, erect selective trainees, drawing numbered pink capsules from the famous old gold fish bowl, tonight determined the order in which 750,000 other young Americans, just turned 21, will be subject to call into the nation's growing army.

Washington dignitaries drew a few numbers, of course, but the draftees started the job, when Secretary of the Navy Knox yielded first place in the line to them, and they carried it through to a snappy and efficient conclusion.

Staff Sergeant Robert W. Shackleton of Fort Dix, N. J., extracted the first capsule from the bowl—number 106. With Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, deputy director of selective service, standing at his side, and the other draftees huddled about him, Sergeant Harry J. Clark of Fort Belvoir, Va., drew the last number—60.

As with last fall's lottery tonight's drawing was held in the department of auditors, presided over by speakers who explained as the names of the trainees were announced and laughed at the oddities of the draw.

One of these was the number 600, which was the number of the first number to appear on last fall's lottery, 158, was the 775th number called.

Frank Knox, the secretary of the navy, had been scheduled to draw the first number but when his name was called he announced he would prefer to "step aside" in favor of one of a group of officers to whom a much humbler part in the drawing had been assigned originally.

Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, in charge of the proceedings, said that the order of the draftees' call was not a matter of precedence or honor among them. Staff Sergeant Robert W. Shackleton of Fort Dix, N. J., drew the first number in the departmental auditorium and gave Hershey a sweeping in.

HOPKINS SITS IN BRITISH COUNCIL

Roosevelt's Special Representative Files Atlantic for Session

LONDON, July 17 (AP)—Henry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's over-seer of the lease-lend program, attended a meeting of the British war cabinet today—an extraordinary appearance which informed quarters called a history-making event.

The parliamentary correspondent of the British Press association referred to it as "an interesting precedent" adding:

"The prime minister evidently decided that in wartime rare time-formalities must be flung away and that it was a useful thing for the ministers to have a first-hand talk with Mr. Hopkins—who is known to enjoy the absolute confidence of President Roosevelt—than there was no reason why he should not be present at the cabinet meeting."

"Everything that happened here is of course secret but it would seem an obvious guess that Mr. Hopkins' presence in the cabinet on the crucial situation which it is his special province to study."

Drawing Assigns Sequence Numbers for Registered Youths

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—By way of following up on the 21-year-old who registered for selective service July 1 I can get an approximate idea of where he stands in the line to service. This is how to use it:

Each registrant has been assigned a serial number. The column lists these serial numbers in numerical order from 1 through 750,000. Below this column is the serial number assigned to you.

Opposite your serial number is a column which contains the sequence number. This number was determined by a lottery which may be called the number of draws made from the gold-fish bowl before your serial number was reached.

This sequence will determine roughly when your serial number will be called. The fact that you will not determine it exactly, because your local board may call you in a different order than the ratio of your serial number to the total number of registrants.

For example, if your serial number is 100,000 and the total number of registrants is 750,000, you are 100,000 out of 750,000. This means that you are 100,000 out of 750,000.

For example, if your serial number is 100,000 and the total number of registrants is 750,000, you are 100,000 out of 750,000.

JUNIOR I. O. O. F. INSTALLS HEADS

Program Institutes New Unit for Youth in Twin Falls

Formal installation of the new Junior Order of the I. O. O. F. today took place last night before about 60 persons at the Twin Falls Club.

Present at the ceremonies were a number of high officials of the senior lodge to conduct the proceedings. Robert Goddard was installed as chief ruler; Martin Perennette as deputy ruler; George Goff as treasurer and Jim Williams as accountant.

With John E. White as advisor, other junior members are Dick Reiz, Don Nefer, David Dingham, Bill Stephens, Burnett Howard, J. Gordon Ham, Edson Fisher and Frank Goodwyn.

Seven I. O. O. F. members were also taken into the Junior Order. They are Clyde Hieck, John E. White, Robert Nelson, Ernie Campbell, W. Harold Metz and P. E. Alford. As well as T. J. Lloyd, transfer from Burley, and George W. Smith, transfer from Pocatello. High officials present for the ceremonies included: Frank Martin, past grand chief, Burley; J. W. Horne, grand secretary, Caldwell; C. D. Rubin, past district commander, Caldwell; George J. Schuler, past grand master, Burley; George Leth, grand warden, Burley; T. J. Lloyd, past grand master, Burley; J. W. White, district deputy grand master, Burley; Sam Westler, district president, Burley; C. R. W. Williams, past grand patriarch, Twin Falls.

His Number First for Area

"THAT'S QUITE A SURPRISE" was the only comment Wayne Leonard Turner, Twin Falls, could make when notified by the New York photographer last night that his draft serial number of 98 was the first number to be drawn in the lottery at Washington, D. C., that was applicable to Twin Falls area. Mr. Turner, who registered last July 1 in the sign-up for 21-year-olds, is shown here with the registration card he received at that time. The first number to be drawn in the lottery yesterday was 190, but, since the highest serial number for Twin Falls Area No. 1 in the new registration is 125, it took the second number, 98, to apply to this area. (News Photo and Engraving.)

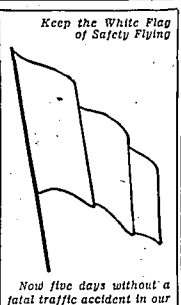

DRAFT LOTTERY ASSIGNS ORDER

(Continued from Page One) —abandoned in the interest of order—there were 800 numbers to be drawn in all—and a succession of men representing various veterans organizations drew one number each. The drawing was turned over to the detachment of draftees. They had been brought here especially for this purpose and had been chosen because they had already won the chevrons of a non-commissioned officer for the future.

Colonel Hershey started the proceedings with a brief speech in which he said that the ceremony was "symbolic of American democracy" and that the draft registrants, new and old, constituted America's hope "for protection now and security for the future."

Each of the men who registered on July 1 was assigned a district registration number. In some of the smaller districts, these registration numbers ranged, say, from 1 to 100. In the largest district, an area near Baltimore, Md., the numbers ranged from 1 to 501. Therefore there were 603 capful-encased numbers in the gold fish bowl tonight to cover the men who registered July 1. Plus 129 "safety numbers" to cover any late registrations. The numbers were drawn electronically as serial numbers.

Chicago Warns Grain Shippers

CHICAGO, July 17 (AP)—Grain shippers to the Chicago market were warned by electric and warehouse operators not to ship wheat to this market for storage under government loans unless they had made arrangements for space.

The grain marketing committee for the Chicago area, which issued the warning, said there is a temporary scarcity of space here. The unusual congestion is a result of large stocks of wheat and corn held in storage in connection with the government loan program, together with a record breaking crop year of old grain.

MARSHALL POINTS TO AXIS SPREAD

(Continued from Page One) rent increases are limited voluntarily. Defense officials said a new program for a substantial increase in tank production was being drawn up at OPM.

The OPM announced that tires and sub-machine guns are being turned out at a rate of more than 2,500 a day. Robert P. Patterson, the under-secretary of war, announced that more changes in the high command of the army were in prospect, following the drastic shake-up of yesterday.

The navy, said that keels were laid at the rate of a ship a day in the forty days that ended July 10. Twenty-two ships were launched during that time.

The power commission, trying to forestall a power shortage, called for an intensification of conservation efforts in the northeastern section of the country.

Patterson also announced that the army had reached a peace-time peak of 1,477,000 men, and said that substantial detentions had been planned on a new light bomber which he said was superior to any five bombers in Europe.

THINGS MEN LIVE BY

Framed mottoes and Scriptural quotations for the living room walls are out of date, but from time to time it is worth while for a man to take stock of his own ideals.

In a radio message opening the New York City drive to raise money for the United States Red Cross, the speaker said he will try to fill the new recruits' leisure time with profitable recreation.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. broke down his reserve to enumerate "the things that make life most worth living."

To command further respect and admiration, for America's searching for life with which to express their convictions of what the new world should be founded on.

"I believe in the supreme worth of the individual and in his right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"I believe that every man implies a responsibility; every opportunity, an obligation, every possession, a duty."

"I believe that the law was made for man and not man for the law; that government is the servant of the people and not their master."

"I believe in the dignity of labor, whether with head or hand; that the world owes no man a living but that it owes every man an opportunity to make a living."

"I believe that thrift is essential to well ordered living and that economy is a prime requisite of a sound financial structure."

"I believe that truth and justice are fundamental to an enduring social order."

"I believe in the sacredness of a promise, that only the surest and the best are good as his bond, that character—not wealth or power or position—is of supreme worth."

"I believe that the rendering of useful service is the common duty of mankind and that only in the pursuit of life and the subduing of selfishness consumed and the greatness of the human soul set free."

"I believe in an all-wise and all-loving God, named by whatever name, and that the integrity of the highest faith is the only basis of wisdom and usefulness and to be found in living in harmony with His will."

"I believe that love is the greatest thing in the world; that it alone can overcome hate; that right can and will triumph over might."

and then. Even after giving weight to the increased cost of production by the war itself and to other factors, such as the material increase, the tax factor remains the prime one.

Other Points of View

HENDERSON BRAYS SOME SHARPS BUT MOSTLY FLATS

To laudacious Leon Henderson's squeal that "only by sweating blood and in the face of material difficulties will we be able to win the war," it is a reckless charge, for and in the face of material difficulties.

It is a good sense, however, to recognize that Henderson sprinkles some meaty statements amid his hysterical ranting.

To the extent that he forces industrial disruptions, he is right. An armament drive calculated to gobble perhaps 100 billion dollars can't help producing striking economic effects.

He is right in the sense that the war is a national emergency and the potential might of this nation's industrial plant, he errs.

More interesting cases lie beneath headlines and the feasibility of this nation's foreign industry is to adjust itself to serve smoothly both defense and civilian needs.

First of all the fact that the U. S. relies on imports of many strategic materials—and stock piles of these are running low—means that the nation's industrial plant, he errs.

LINDBERGH ASKS PROBE OF RECORD

Willkie Criticizes Administration's Attacks on Dissenters

NEW YORK, July 17.—Differences between Charles A. Lindbergh and the Roosevelt administration flared again today when the flyer, in a letter to President Roosevelt, declared he had no connection with any foreign government and that he had no right to an apology from Secretary of the Interior Clegg, a constant Lindbergh critic.

"Mr. President will willingly open my files to your investigation," Lindbergh said. "I will willingly appear before any committee you appoint, and there is no question of my activities now or at any time in the past, that I will not be glad to pass."

In regard to a decoration he received from the German government, Lindbergh pointed out it was received in America, not in Berlin, in the presence of the American ambassador. He requested that your ambassador to that government."

Commenting on the Lindbergh letter, Wendell L. Willkie told reporters the administration would discontinue "a constant, bitter attack on individuals, committees and all others who may disagree with it."

"Nothing contributes more to democracy than such attacks," Willkie said, "and the growing suspicion among many sincere people that the defense program is being used as a blind for the accomplishment of political ends and the promotion of novel and untried social experiments."

Willkie expressed the opinion democracy should function under orderly and thoughtful discussion, and not by "adolescent name-calling."

While House Secretary Stephen Early said that Lindbergh's letter had not come to his attention and that he wouldn't comment if it had.

Tokes took a press conference he believed that if Lindbergh "were an outstanding American" he would have returned the decoration "long ago, regardless of how, when or where he got it."

Tokes said in an address here Monday night that Lindbergh's "partisan words are to encourage Hitler and to break down the will of his own fellow citizens to resist Hitler and Nazism."

The secretary referred to Lindbergh as "the knight of the German eagle" and criticized the flyer's attitude toward the Nazi invasion of Soviet Russia.

Lindbergh said if the statements made by Tokes were true, and he had any connection with a foreign government, the American people had a right to be fully acquainted with the facts.

"On the other hand," he added, "if his statements and implications are false, I believe that I, as an American citizen, have a right to an apology from your secretary."

FARMER'S SONS AWARDED WAGES

Supreme Court Holds Kootenai Man Must Pay Three Sons' Claims

BOISE, July 17.—A Kootenai county district court judgment awarding three brothers compensation for work performed on the farm over a period of 1939.

The brothers, Elmer, Harold and Virgil Peterson, filed suit in Kootenai county to collect money they claimed their father, John N. Peterson, owed them for work performed on the farm over a period of 1939.

In the original case the boys claimed their father ordered them to leave the farm when they objected to a woman he had employed as housekeeper following death of their mother, Elsie Marie Peterson, in March, 1935.

The brothers said their mother individually sold as executor of their mother's estate. Today's unanimous opinion of the supreme court, written by Justice James P. Allred, affirmed the district court judgment awarding the boys $1,000, increased and modified in part the amount against him as executor of the estate.

HEARTY HOME LOON

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

YESTERDAY: Well, though Luella felt, perhaps it was the sort of "act" that you would expect of a big city. But she did not really believe it. What was the matter, Luella, you said, "I'm not a home loon."

CLIPPER 13
Date With Marie
Luella searched Henry's face. "But don't worry about Tommy being gone. I'm sure he'll be back in a few days."

"Why the recent?" Henry said, "Because you've talked about her so much. I'm sure she'll be back in a few days."

"What sort of wife?" he asked. "I know the sort I mean," said Henry. "The sort of wife who wants her husband telling her every minute of her life."

"Really?" Luella was tired, she said, "I'm sure she'll be back in a few days."

"No, Luella, as though she could sense it, if you ask me," he snapped. "I think our parents and grandparents had the right idea, Good Heavens!"

Marie the Helper
Henry did go up to Marie's apartment on the Monday evening. He returned from the reactor yachting party. He stayed until after midnight. He had some business to do, he said, and he was eager to perfect the songs, excited over the possibility of having them used in radio, and still finding himself frequently wondering, as he had done before, if he had not been loved by his wife and another woman at one and the same time.

"It was wrong, I'm afraid, to tell Marie in his arms, the kiss they had shared out on the extension road, and that Marie was in Marie's disturbing nervousness."

"Of course you know," she was saying, "I'm sure she'll be back in a few days."

"I keep hoping they are," Henry replied. "But I've got my fingers crossed."

"Golly, darling!" said Marie. Henry looked about them, feeling a little sultry, feeling like a small boy playing hockey from school. For he and Marie were in a cocktail lounge of a small West side hotel.

"It had found it necessary to be in that neighborhood in order to examine a piece of property, and since it was late afternoon, he had called Marie on sudden impulse and asked her to meet him for a cocktail. He explained that he wasn't going back to the office, but straight home to dinner. They would save time for a drink and a talk. Presently, they went on to the bar."

"I made me very happy," she said, "having you call me. I like the way you've been talking to me."

"I'm sure she'll be back in a few days," he said. "I'm sure she'll be back in a few days."

on renting apartments and selling them. He was in and year out, until you're an old man, all right out."

"That's what you have to do, Henry," he said. "You have to do it right after the reactor and Everett. The job they have in mind for you is a real one."

Grasshopper Planes Termed Valuable Add to U. S. Cavalry

FORT BLISS, Tex., July 17.—"Grasshopper" planes, the kind a person can learn to fly in 10 hours, was high praise as a valuable add to the cavalry today and Major General Louis P. Swift assigned them a definite job in the first cavalry division's desert maneuvers which begin tomorrow and continue 10 days.

In an official critique of the two-day exercise in which headquarters perfected administrative practice in the field, General Swift said a grasshopper performance was turned in by 10 light, two-place commercial planes which were flown by civilian pilots as messengers between command posts.

The two top days the planes—Piper Cubs, Aerocaps and Taylorcraft flown from eastern factories—have been landing almost any place between the unnumbered mounds of sand topped by desert vegetation, where command posts were established.

Builders of the planes declare that the army should have some with every regiment, because of their low cost of about $2,000 equipped with two-day radio and because of the ease with which men can be taught to fly them.

One of the companies manufacturing the small planes at the rate of one every 20 minutes. It was pointed out that one such ship requires about 300 man-hours of labor, compared with the "hundreds of hours" required for the regular observation planes that cost the army about $15,000 each.

"TIME ON THEIR HANDS," by C. Gilbert Wrenn and D. L. Harley, that the whole picture is recreational.

"If you drive through certain municipalities in the West and especially in Pennsylvania or Ohio steel towns, for example, you will find everywhere an automatic number of youths standing around with nothing to do. There are not necessarily any jobs in these towns, and are merely killing time until bedtime."

"This is in spite of the fact that the American Youth Commission points out in a report called "Time on Their Hands," that we have 20,000 movie theaters, 17,000 daily radio programs, 6,000 public libraries, 1,200 state-owned outdoor recreational areas, and 100,000 acres of national parks and forests."

"For it is obvious to the authors of "Time on Their Hands," C. Gilbert Wrenn and D. L. Harley, that the whole picture is recreational."

"The enormous growth of commercial recreation has also helped, and better transportation, through which small-town and farm youth readily reach urban centers in another factor. So is the prolonged period of economic dependence. The changing attitude of the religious and cultural number of activities now considered proper for women, and changed standards of living have also disturbed the picture."

"Of their survey, the authors have arrived at three major conclusions. They believe that in recreational planning for youth, the determining factor should be the needs of youth, and not the function of the parent."

Jimmy Clark Loses To Denver Golfer At Spokane

By HUSS NEWLAND
INDIAN CANYON, SPOKANE, Wash., July 17—Defeat of the tournament favorite and red-hot favorite, Jimmy Clark, provided a thundering climax today to third round and quarter-final matches of the 1941 national public golf championship.

The handful of fans who braved hot, sultry weather to gallery the main attraction of the quarter-finals could hardly believe it, but there was 20-year-old Clark sent to the side-line by an opponent who conceded the shot of a chance to beat the tournament favorite. The score was 2 and 1.

Clark had sailed through three matches, without trouble, and he hooked up with Jack Kerns, an insurance underwriter in Denver and a coming good golfer on the side.

When the 18-hole match ended on the 17th green the applause was from the boys from the Rocky mountain metropolis. It was winning golf all the way. Kerns, in his spot. For the first four holes he was four under par—and a up.

Clark, nevertheless, finished with the best record for the tournament thus far. For 192

All five Twin Falls runs were earned and the Cards were charged with four errors. The Pioneers scored two runs in the second and three more in the seventh.

Riddle Wins 11 Straight for Redlegs But Goes Unnoticed

Hogan Favorite in Chicago Open

BY GAVEL TALBOT
NEW YORK, July 17—This time a year ago, when the Cincinnati manager Bill McKechnie has been named straight National league pennant, Elmer Riddle would have been a gaffer's man.

But Elmer was a year late. The Reds have fallen apart completely since manager Bill McKechnie has been kept busy dodging the pieces and Elmer's fate was sealed at Cincinnati games, the last two of which Riddle has been practically unmentioned.

Yes, there really is an Elmer Riddle. He is a tall, blue-eyed, square-jawed young man out of Columbus, Ga. He admits modestly that he owns 11 victories without a loss, and says "I guess maybe I do all right if my luck holds out."

Elmer joined the Reds late in the 1939 season after serving hitched at Birmingham, Indiana, and other points, and was around all last year without seeing much service except in relief jobs. The Reds, with their pitching staff in a haze, didn't need much of that.

In spring camp this year Elmer still was just another pitcher in a haze, and it actually wasn't until the current season that he was called upon to pitch. He looked around desperately for some help. Since then he has pitched every club in the league except Pittsburgh, and his last six victories have been complete games.

Elmer gives Jimmy Wilson, who was coaching the Reds last season and now is managing the Chicago Cubs, most of the credit. "I guess he's got more to do with me than I give him credit for," he says. "He's smart. I guess he figured out that I was a good pitcher and he changed me, to get a soft curve over the corner now and then. My control's a lot better now than it was. I think I only walked one my last game."

Russets Defeat Salt Lake 5-3

SALT LAKE CITY, July 17—Twin Falls scored two runs without a hit in the ninth inning tonight to defeat Salt Lake City 5-3, and make the rubbers of a Pioneer baseball league series.

The teams were tied at three runs each when the Russians went to bat in the ninth. With two down Steve Jensen was safe on Mel Buckley's error, then scored on second while the second baseman jumped the ball.

Nel Blum found an intentional base on balls to hard-hitting Shelly McConnell. Bob James had two strikes against him before hitting a slow roller to first, who misplayed the ball and the sacks were erased.

Lanny McConnell slammed the ball to Buckley, and the second-sacker, who had been in the lead, was out and Shelly McConnell to second.

Twin Falls scored once in the ninth inning and added two in the seventh. The Reds counted one run each in the third, fifth and sixth.

Tomorrow night the Reds go to Pocatello to engage the tall-tall Cowboys. Idaho Falls has an open date but opens a new series with Ogden Saturday night.

DiMaggio Leads Red Sox to Win

CHICAGO, July 17—Dominic DiMaggio, driving for three runs with a homer and triple, led the Boston Red Sox to a 7-4 victory over the White Sox tonight before 17,427 spectators. Thornton Lee, big Chicago southpaw, failed to go nine innings for the first time in 17 starts this season.

Lee was removed for a pinch hitter after the Red Sox combined him for nine hits, six of them for extra bases in eight innings. He had gone the route in 18 of his 18 previous starts and in the other, against the New York Yankees in early May, pitched nine complete innings before giving way to a pinch hitter.
