

German Bombers Renew Attack on Russian Capital

Moscow Reports Scores Killed and Wounded, Buildings Damaged In Second Raid

(By The Associated Press) MOSCOW, Wednesday, July 23—Scores of persons were killed and wounded and several houses, a hospital and a school were heavily damaged when a strong force of German bombers attacked the Soviet capital last night for the second night in succession, it was reported today.

A Soviet communiqué said only isolated planes of the 150 taking part broke through the city's defenses. At least 15 German planes were declared shot down by Russian ground batteries. In the second barrage and Soviet pursuit fighters tangled with the Germans in dogfights over the Kremlin.

No military objectives were struck, the Soviets said, and the fires in the capital were quickly extinguished by fire brigades and a civilian crew. The capital was under alarm from 10:10 p. m. (7:10 p. m. E.S.T.) to 2:30 a. m. (7:30 p. m. E.S.T. Tuesday).

Coordination of Soviet anti-aircraft and aerial defense appeared to have minimized the effects of this second onslaught, in the opinion of military observers.

German-Finnish Drive A German-Finnish thrust close to the Russian frontier in the direction of Moscow was indicated by the Red army in a communiqué declaring that it had repulsed the offensive.

Moscow emergency sirens sounded at 10:10 p. m. (7:10 p. m. E.S.T.) to 2:30 a. m. (7:30 p. m. E.S.T. Tuesday).

A big bomb crater in Mokovaya street in front of the United States embassy was the only site where the Kremlin and other public centers were touched.

Civilian fire defense operated in relays throughout the night, ending at 5 a. m. The fire fighting services and the militia who were busy throughout the long attack.

Moscow was quick to shake-off the fires over soot after dawn and the bomb craters had been filled.

KIMBERLY PICKS BUILDING EXPERT

Seattle Man Named to Aid School Heads on Program

KIMBERLY, July 27—Selection of Prof. Thomas H. Cole of the school of education, University of Washington, Seattle, as advisory expert on the advisory expert's work for 15 years principal and superintendent of the Seattle school system.

The choice of Professor Cole after a careful survey of the field and the school was authorized by the board during its Monday night meeting upon the recommendation by Superintendent Thomas H. McKelvey. Cole will be principal and superintendent of the Seattle school system.

Professor Cole will be remembered particularly in this section for his service in planning the Twin Falls public schools building program, and his spring to the aid of the school system also is expected to arrive at the end of the week to examine his duties according to Superintendent, Thomas.

Major problems which will be studied include need for improvement of the elementary building, changes in the high school building and the current program for construction of a new auditorium and gymnasium under the WPA program for construction by a favorable 72 per cent bond election.

Another recommendation presented by Superintendent, Thomas and approved by the board, was the cooperation during the present national defense program in reopening schools on Monday, August 25, to enable students to take a harvest vacation which will be a far more profitable one than the usual vacation which is now being observed because of the number of defense jobs on the coast, and the students will be able to fill this gap.

Constructors will attend the first faculty meeting Saturday, Aug. 23. Meeting with the board Monday and Tuesday, August 26 and 27. Meeting of the district WPA to discuss plans for the school auditorium project, August 29. Quaker, Twin Falls, is architect, and will be in charge of the construction following the survey by the advisor.

GOVERNOR FILLS OFFICIAL POST

Dr. A. P. Schneider, Lawiston, Now Animal Husbandry Director

BOISE, July 27 (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Arthur P. Schneider of Lawiston as state director of animal husbandry, effective August 1, was announced today by Governor Clark, coincident with announcement by Dr. T. A. Elliott's resignation from the same post.

In a letter to Agriculture Commissioner James B. Newberry, Dr. Schneider said he was resigning, effective July 31, to return to private business and to devote more closely to his agricultural interests.

Dr. Schneider will assume his duties August 1. In accepting Dr. Elliott's resignation, Commissioner Newberry said he had "served this bureau faithfully and efficiently and has executed his work with energy."

Elliott will return to his farm near Ontario and continue work with the Western Fur Company.

Thomas Returns From Schooling

Now back from Seattle, Washington, where he has been attending summer school at the University of Washington is L. Thomas, superintendent of the Kimberly school. He will be returning to work with the school board on plans for the new auditorium and gymnasium in the east end community.

While at Seattle, Mr. Thomas observed the progress of the construction and the progress of the work on the jobs and specified operation of defense industries. As an example of this, he noted the construction of a world war, Japan and Italy came under this same plan. And what have they gained but the hatred of all the world and the condemnation of God. These people who have the ability to do better by remaining at home and tending fault with those who go into this war to serve their country, has that privilege here in America. But what kind of a country would it be if we did not have those who will learn to war no more, but who know that the will of God in regard to this world is what?

Idaho's Gas Tax Receipts Decline

BOISE, July 27 (AP)—June gas tax receipts declined 20 per cent from a year ago, and the department of law said today.

Every other month this year has shown a decline in gas tax receipts. On last month's sales, $131,605.57 was collected as compared to $162,264.22 collected in June, 1940.

Since Jan. 1, the gas tax bureau has collected $2,515,264.45, all of it used for road construction, compared to $2,528,211.76 for the first six months of 1940.

JAYCEES RECEIVE PARLEY REPORTS

Twin Falls Delegates Emphasize State, National Affairs

Reports emphasizing the need for legislation in state and national affairs were presented during yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce by delegates to last Sunday's quarterly state meeting at Vetsler.

With President Royal Perry introducing those reporting during the gathering at the Park hotel, also were reported on the state and national sessions at which Twin Falls was selected as the site for the next quarterly meeting to be held October 12. In conjunction with announcement of this selection, comments Perry pointed out that every effort will be made to extend all facilities and courtesies to visiting Jaycees.

Also urged was a Twin Falls representation at the national convention to be held in Dallas, Tex. Lacey appears.

Harold Lacey in his report told of the importance of the state organization as a coordinating agency through which the Junior Chamber of Commerce may become a recognized force toward development of the state. He also outlined the duties of the national director and state vice president, who drive primarily to sound out the opinions of Jaycees throughout the state in representing them at national events.

Wayne Hancock reported upon public relations work of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce, which it is taking in seeking to influence legislative action. An effort is being made to secure state-wide anti-fireworks ordinance, as on the present city ordinance, fireworks are sold just outside the limits of municipalities.

He also told of the report by Robert H. Warner on the traffic problem inaugurated by the Twin Falls Jaycees and adopted for state-wide observance by the Idaho organization.

In a report on national activities, Charles Allen emphasized the need for representation of the Jaycees at conventions through displays upon their facilities and resources, as well as through displays.

Tom Sline and Howard Wiseman also reported briefly, and Sline urged that the local group obtain its share of benefits from the state organization.

Thomas outlined how members may assist organization officials by preparing reports upon projects and by planning projects in advance so that there will be adequate opportunity for preparation. He also reported that the present fund is approximately $250 in the reserve fund and $200 in a separate savings account to promote the next state celebration. In the general fund is $45.

Final feature of the meeting was showing of motion pictures by Bud Palmer, representing the Standard Oil company, and his collection of striking portrayals of big game in Africa.

U. S. ACTION HITS JAPANESE SHIPS

Government Discloses Restrictions on Panama Canal Traffic

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—A drastic restriction on foreign shipping through the Panama canal was disclosed officially today, and Japanese vessels apparently were affected most by the action.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said that all shipping agencies have been notified of an order by canal authorities restricting or prohibiting transit of merchant shipping for the time being to permit urgent repairs.

Whether all shipping was affected was not revealed, nor did Welles indicate how long it would take to complete the repairs.

A group of Japanese ships, after a week-long wait at the canal for transit from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was sailing southwestward, apparently on the long route home-ward around Cape Horn.

One Japanese vessel, displaying a cable from Tokyo saying that the canal was closed, huffed and puffed at other ships moving through.

A Tribute To The PIONEERS
If endless leagues of wasteland put a barrier in the way, you bravely cut a path through the wilderness. If your Promised Land, when first you beheld it, was a scorched and sterile desert, you touched the soil to life by the magic of your irrigation. If the savage Redskin assaulted your defenseless camps, you appeased him with kindness. If you lacked the implements with which to build your idealized civilization, you devised with your own hands the makeshifts that served you. If adventurers in the Rockies said you could not build a habitation in this wild and untamed region, you blasted their predictions by conquering the frontier and making the valleys of Desert to blossom!

Orchard Still Pays. A handful of murderers were pardoned during the current year by the board of pardons. But Orchard, 33 years behind the bars of the penitentiary and probably the best example in the state of sincere reform, obtained no even a hearing on his petition for release.

Britons Rely on Home Guard To Delay German Invaders

NEW YORK WHIRLIGIG. By E. Burton Heathly. BRITISH MILITARY MACHINES from England report that in the first days after the disaster which culminated in the evacuation of Dunkirk, the British and disgraced British expeditionary forces were being ferried back to the continent.

CONTROL. New York commodity traders are agog over rumors that the administration is planning to establish what would amount to a virtual monopoly control over all important raw materials. The reports are linked with others, more specific, that the commodity markets here are to be closed down in the near future.

SACRIFICIAL. The British home guard is not, like our, an organized military force for police duty. Existing in the United States, a British man above the age of seventeen who has not been in military service is recognized but no more than semi-official body remains one of the island's most important in invasion-defense planning.

There is no idea that the home guard is to be a great big force. Their function is to delay, when the Germans approach any locality they are to be met by a guerrilla force of the members may be going and doing their best to delay the advance.

Unless advance preparation is made, they may come when restrictions are in force. The average person who produces the magic of light and heat and energy by pressing a button, regardless of the nature of the mechanism.

Here are a few P. C. figures which show the problem more understandable: Nationwide consumption of electricity in 1940 was 14,000,000,000 kilowatt hours, with 60,000,000,000 going into war effort.

With the present rate of production back up each man employed in the producing end of defense industries is expected to be producing 100,000,000 kilowatt hours.

Our Children

by Angelo Patri. A BABY IS NOT ALL. Babies must be carefully, even rigidly, trained as to feelings, naps, and eating and excretion.

It does not mean an overdose of tending which is in fact as the over of the mother's knowledge of the child's mind and body of the child.

In turning from the old way of carrying the baby under one's arm to the new style of carrying the baby in a stroller, many mothers, especially the younger ones, go to the other extreme.

As usual the middle of the road is better. Feeding, exercise, baths, and quiet, quiet, quiet.

It is not more related to machinery than the angels' wings of the airplane. The child's mind is a machine.

SHIFTE IN GERMAN STRATEGY HINTED

Nazis Encounter Serious Snags at Smolensk, Before Kiev

BY KIRK L. SIMPSON
New special devices were used. Four days of what seems destined to be the greatest and bloodiest battle in history furnished the clear clue to what is actually happening along the vast German-Russian front. That is, that the Nazi advance has slowed to a snail's pace.

For the fourth day in succession Hitler's headquarters could point to no new breach in the Stalin line, no new strategic line crossing or railroad junction captured to justify the optimistic claims of the German press. The German front lines had been torn apart and the Red army being isolated into "disconnected groups."

In effect, the German reports confirm Moscow's statement that there has been no important strategic change in the battle area since the Nazis pushed forward to the Smolensk in the first week of the war. On its own reports to substantiate the claim that it had engaged in bitter defensive fighting and even delivered terror blows.

There is an element of conflict within the German battle report which tends to confirm the impression that the Nazis have not advanced to Smolensk and before Kiev. Except for the Smolensk bridge, neither Leningrad, in the north, Moscow in the north-central sector, or the southern sector seems in greater danger than it was a week or more ago when the second great attack was launched.

The Smolensk debt, the most serious threat to the central Russian defense system, has remained static since it was created.

London military opinion, all things considered, is not particularly optimistic. It is not particularly unfavorable to the Russian allies, noting that the German attacks in the Smolensk sector are tending southward.

It may be that the Germans have changed their strategy to attain victory in the area. The frontal assault toward Kiev from Novograd may be abandoned in favor of a sweep southward between the Dnieper and the Dniester that could sweep Russian withdrawal in haste from all the southern Ukraine behind the Dnieper.

Rules Listed for Writers Who Plan to Enter Annual Contest

With the announcement this week of the addresses to which manuscript entries are to be sent for the fourth annual writers' contest, sponsored by the Idaho Writers' League, officials said that plans for the contest are now complete.

Writers' League and all writers or persons interested in becoming writers, who live in Idaho, are eligible for the contest, which is scheduled to close September 1.

Prosy entries, both light and serious verse, and short story manuscripts, to be sent to: Mrs. Dorothy Robinson, 203 North Fourth, Boise. The articles, human interest with a twist, should be sent to: Mrs. Gladys Swank of Lewiston.

League members yesterday pointed out that strict adherence to rules is absolutely necessary in order that manuscripts qualify for the cash awards.

According to Mrs. Martin Veltje, secretary of the league, the sponsor group, entries should be planned for salability, and prospective contestants should study modern markets and trends, since there have been radical changes in the publishing industry.

Cash prizes of ten dollars each were awarded for the best short story and the best human interest article with a western slant, and $25 for the best human interest article. The best entry of light verse and the best entry of serious verse were also awarded.

Qualified, disinterested judges will pass on all entries. The awards and honorable mentions will be made at the close of the annual Idaho Writers' conference to be held at Twin Falls in October.

Rules Listed The league committee asks that the following contest rules be fully observed: Word limit—Stories must not exceed 3,000 words; poems must not exceed 1,000 words; no more than three poems to exceed 32 lines. Light and serious verse must be submitted separately, with the author's name and address in a sealed envelope attached to the manuscript.

If the contestant desires the return of his or her manuscript, the entry must be enclosed, also, entries will be mailed with sufficient postage to insure the entry will be accepted, be carefully weighed. Entries must be superseded, double-enters, on one side of the paper.

Nutrition Meet Speakers Will Relax

AND ENJOY COUNTRY CLUB BEER Mrs. Margaret Hill Carter, district home demonstration agent, announced yesterday that a special meeting of the Rural-Urban group is called for Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Twin Falls public library.

At that time three delegates to the state nutrition conference here that morning will be speaking.

Guests at the meeting will hear Dr. W. V. Canada Receives Gift of Money From Alpha Iota

When five Canadian secretaries returned to their homes after attending the annual meeting of the Alpha Iota convention at Los Angeles, they carried with them $250 of good American money, which was given to them by the members of Alpha Iota chapters throughout the United States, according to Miss Mona Fuller, Twin Falls member of the business honorary society, who has just returned from the convention.

And that the sort of "good neighbor" gesture that meant something, according to Miss Fuller, who said she planned that prior to the convention, all chapters of Alpha Iota, which has eighteen thousand members, were invited to contribute to the fund.

That fund was presented to the Canadian representatives at a luncheon given by Mrs. Estel M. Froun of De Moines, Ia., grand president of the "society."

A similar fund is being started as a "home donation" to the USO, the wartime membership organization, by the Twin Falls County wide committee.

At the convention, each chapter pledged its support of Red Cross chapters, USO units and other national defense agencies in their own localities to the South American countries by Dr. Paul Perford, professor of French civilization at the University of California at Los Angeles, who attended the convention.

Miss Madeline Moran, who is attending summer school in Los Angeles, who will present her original convention report at the home of Mrs. Max Phillips, assistant sponsor, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, added that sightseeing trips to numerous points of interest, and an overnight stay at Catalina Island, were also features of the convention.

Men, Women Over 40 Don't Be Weak, Old! Foot Peppy, New Year Younger. Twin Falls Mortuary.

scores a hit with these folks!

Mr. H. L. Dinklacker, pioneer electrical man, lost a pair of valuable glasses, inserted an ad in the Classified Lost and Found column. Within two days his glasses were returned. "I am well pleased with the results."

Mrs. Annie Powers, 546 Second Ave. North, has typical success in using Classified ads. Says Mrs. Powers, "The ad rented my apartment in 3 days. I had a sign on the house but the ad got the results."

Mr. John Clore, local coal dealer, and hunting enthusiast, lost a valuable hunting dog. A Classified ad scored a hit! "I wouldn't have taken a hundred dollars for that dog, but I now have her back thanks to your effective ads," said Mr. Clore.

Mrs. Ray Evans, route No. 1, Twin Falls, sold all her excess black raspberries by using Classified Ads. Says she, "From the first day we put the ad in we were busy answering the phone from morning 'til night. Those ads sure do bring us results."

Mrs. Quinn Wilson, ranch N.W. of Twin Falls, uses Classified consistently during her rush season. Mrs. Wilson said, "We are more than pleased with our results in using Classified. We sold over 700 chickens during the season and while we had the ad running."

Ray Moon, local furniture man, uses Classified every day. He says, "We advertise almost everything in our store in the Classified. For the past two weeks we ran an ad on rug samples. We have been snapped ever since and have only a few left."

Mrs. Shad L. Hodgin, pioneer Twin Falls resident, has a home on Ninth Ave. E. which she rents for income purposes. Mrs. Hodgin says, "My house is seldom empty, but when it is, I always insert a Classified Ad in the 'For Rent' column. It never fails to bring me a good renter."

Elvie Cain, local C. C. Anderson Appliance Dept. manager, says, "Our used appliances have moved faster this year than ever before in the history of this department. We attribute a lot of this success to our Classified Ad which we run every day in the News and Times."

Mr. R. L. Anderson, who resides at 451 2nd Ave. West, Twin Falls, has had excellent results in the use of Classified Ads. "I sold a Hotpoint range by using an inexpensive Classified Ad. We surely had lots of calls."

Miss Nina Hart, a new resident in Twin Falls, wanted employment. She answered a News & Times Classified ad. An interview brought prompt employment. "I'm certainly happy I looked in Classified," said Miss Hart.

Each one of these persons pictured above had an exceptionally successful experience with their Classified Advertising in the News and Times. And they're typical of hundreds of other Magic Valley folks who have sold, leased, rented, hired, purchased or found employment or recovered lost articles through this inexpensive form of advertising. They've enjoyed the one cost coverage of our Magic Valley through these newspapers—but regardless of cost, they've enjoyed—even more—the satisfaction of finding that their advertising "scored" in getting results. You, too, can find this same satisfaction! We suggest you try Classified. Cost—on the word basis—is easy to figure. You're "in" Classified the moment you pick up your phone and call 32 or 38.

Classified Advertising Brings Assured Results Because It's One of Your Paper's Most Popular Features! Everyone Reads Them! Everyone Can Use Them!

Remember! Use full description in the composition of your Classified ad. It will bring better results and the cost is only a few cents more.
