

RUSSIANS SCORE IN BIG RETREAT

German Believed to Have Underestimated Red Staff Work

By KIRK L. SIMPSON
Interpret the War News
It is much too soon to conclude that Hitler's big gamble to the east has definitely bogged down in mud and blood in western Russia. There can be no doubt, however, that the Nazi propaganda organ, six weeks ago, has back-fired in its author's face.
There was never much warrant for believing that the Nazi high command had actually had set with a time table. Distances involved were too vast, roads and rail communications too meagre and difficult. Red army manpower too great, and the traditional elan of the Russian people, fighting on their own soil, too well proven in history for Germany to rely on its own misjudged the scope of their task.
Yet German propagandists emphasized that six-week schedule and at the last week of the first five weeks of the Russo-German conflict, the Red army staff seems to have achieved military miracles. Whatever the final outcome, the Russian retreat from western buffer outposts to the Stalin line is likely to go down in military history as a defeat rather than a defeat.
The bulk of the Red armies deployed in buffer territory from the Baltic to the Black sea made good their escape, great as were their losses. They fell back on a front of thousands miles long and effected a retirement averaging 300 miles or so in depth in order to fight again. There is no parallel in military history for a successful retreat of that scope. It speaks volume not only for the morale of Russian soldiers, amply proved by German accounts of "fanatic" led resistance, but for Russian staff work.

Homemakers Challenged to Aid In Nutrition Defense Project

Declaring that it should be a challenge to any homemaker to provide her family with a well-balanced diet containing a sufficiency of the right kinds of foods, Miss Norma Barnes, head of the nutrition defense project, recently announced that the determination of the life span, one's outlook on life, his disposition and the way he feels and reacts, Miss Norma Barnes, head of the home economics department at the University of Idaho, southern branch at Pocatello, told members of the Rural-Urban group that they should become more conscious of the nutrition problem.

Vacation Camp Committee Has Final Meeting

Following the meeting of members of the southern Idaho Women's Vacation camp committee yesterday afternoon at the Twin Falls public school building, the committee, conducted by Mrs. Roy J. Evans, chairman, during the afternoon session it was announced that a county nutrition defense committee would be set up at the near future. Details will be announced.

During her address, Miss Barnes explained the workings of the nutrition defense committee that has been organized at Pocatello, and emphasized the fact that although we have an abundance of food, we are not a well-fed nation.

Dr. Ella Woods, home economist with the agricultural experiment station at the University of Idaho, Moscow, was present and explained the "score card" set by the nutrition defense project, and how it is possible to check and see if a person is getting the right amount and kind of food.

Diets recommended in this card as a food "must" in the daily diet are a minimum of meat, serving of another protein food, two servings of vegetables, one serving of fruit, one serving of bread and butter.

She stressed that need to use the natural foods in our diets, and pointed out that diets that are already good can be improved.

Trifled and flannel speaker at the meeting was Dr. W. H. Haverston, head of the bacteriology department of the University of Idaho, who discussed some of the problems of canning and emphasized the need of having pressure cookers checked every year.

He pointed out that all vegetables and meats should be canned in a pressure cooker in order to destroy botulism organisms, and discussed the danger of botulism poisoning. The need of keeping pressure cooker valves thoroughly clean as a safety precaution was also emphasized.

Long Shot Defeats Whirlaway in Arlington Classic

Attention Trims Turf Champ by Length and Half

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Whiteway buried his marvelous record today in the graveyard of turf champions—the $60,000 Arlington classic.

This famed Chestnut colt, victorious in the Kentucky derby, Preakness and Belmont stakes, was defeated by Attention in an upset which stunned a swarming, nine-steered crowd of 43,000.

It was Whiteway's first defeat in seven starts. He had not lost since charging home to victory in the Kentucky derby last May.

Attention, having been second placed in the race, collared the second place Turf Champ after finishing a mile and a half longer than Whiteway by a length and a half. Dismaggo was third, six lengths back of the gallily-strutting Whiteway.

In defeat the potential three-year-old champion of 1941 John Galambatos, Johnson, finished Twenty Grand and others who fell before the stretch charges of long stride in the chestnut's favor. Galambatos won this event in the last five years.

Whiteway, ridden by a strange jockey, Alfred Eichenauer, ran a true race without any excuse for his defeat. He did not bear out on the stretch turn as sometimes is his habit.

Whiteway got away poorly in last place in a field of six. He moved up to fifth in the three out of four and was second to Attention in the mile, only a head back, at the stretch close as he entered the stretch.

Attention, owned by Mrs. Parker Corning of Albany, N. Y., ran the mile and a quarter in 2:07 4-5.

The sum of $44,000 was burned up by Whiteway's loss. The much was bet on him to win and $2,100 to place. Attention returned $210 to win and $42 to place while the place price on Whiteway was $16. No show tickets were sold.

It was a six-horse race at the start, but in the last quarter mile was strictly between Attention and Whiteway, and it was Whiteway who won.

Dave Straus' Daily Trouble, co-owned with Dushvackner, was fourth. Edwin Starnes, Jr., and Royce Martin's Our Boole last.

Riggs Wins Coveted Trophy

SEA BRIGHT, N. J., July 26 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, a veteran of all the world's tennis classics at 23, wrote a new chapter into the records of the historic Sea Bright Invitational tournament today and did it with the ease of a true champion.

By polishing off the former Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., in straight sets 4-6, 6-4, 6-0, the 20-year-old national champion became the first player in the tournament's 54-year history to win the coveted Sea Bright singles bowl for the fourth time—an achievement which surpassed such stars as Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards and Fitzhugh Wenzel.

It took the smother-working Californian little more than an hour to dispose of the 20-year-old Schroeder.

BOBBY RIGGS who had established himself as the king-killer of the tournament by upsetting national champion Don McNeill and Wayne Sabin in his march to the title. Riggs, whose string of triumphs here was started in 1927 and was interrupted in 1939 by Francis Parker, held the upper hand from the moment he opened the match with a blistering service.

Weary from his grueling five-set struggle yesterday with Sabin, Schroeder was unable to gear himself up to the spectacular net game which carried him into the final.

The women's doubles championship went to Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York and Margaret Osborne of San Francisco. They scored a 6-4, 6-7, 6-2 victory over the California team of Pauline Bay and Dorothy May Bundy, winning the last four games in a row with great work at the net.

Ogden Park to Seat 5,000 for All-Star Game

.286 Hitter Sets A. L. Pace For Homers, Runs Batted in CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—While the batting figures of Ted Williams and Jimmie Foxx averaged .400 and .371, respectively, this week in the American League averaged eyes turned to a hitter who below the 300 mark but is leading the loop in home runs and runs batted in.

It's Charley Keller, New York left fielder, whose current .286 average is far behind the pace set by Williams and Foxx.

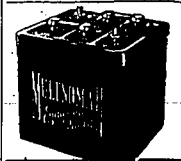

Keller's figures for home runs read like this: Keller 23; Dismaggo 22 for runs batted in, Keller 69; Dismaggo 54. Keller knocked out five circuit clouts in the seven-day period.

Others in the top ten were Dick Cullentine of St. Louis, 25; Dick Clobber of Philadelphia, 24; Sam Chapman of Philadelphia and Gene Cronin of Boston, both 23; and Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees, 21.

Lou Bourque of the Cleveland Indians, crowded out of his lead in doubles week ago by Dismaggo, regained a tie with the Yankee Bomber, each having 29.

Red Keller of Cleveland still headed...

ed the league's pitchers, although he failed to add any wins to his 10 total of a week back, and suffered his fifth defeat.

Kimberly Club Stars Post Victories in Boise Tourney

BOISE, July 26 (AP)—Rain held up play in the annual Boise city tennis tournament today with a result that championship matters scheduled to be settled Sunday may depend largely upon a third party—the weather man.

Before a late afternoon storm set in, Art Walker of the Kimberly tennis club, two-tourney singles champion, advanced against the top seed by defeating Bob Packard of Boise, 6-2, 6-0. Walker will meet the winner of a postponed semi-final featuring Bob Packard of Kimberly and either Paris Martin or Harry Arban of Kimberly.

In women's singles semi-finals, champion Helen Martin of Boise defeated Sarah Walker 6-2 and 6-1. In the other bracket, Jo Fox Walker of Kimberly advanced to the finals by defeating Margaret Jennings of Boise, 6-4, 6-2.

In women's doubles, Helen Martin and Sarah Walker defeated Joan Archer and Louise Olanena, 6-1, 6-2, while Jo Fox Walker and Elizabeth Tweedy also gained the finals by winning over Margaret Jennings and Helen Acheson, 6-2, 6-4.

Mixed doubles matches were postponed because of the rain. Weather permitting, finals in all classes are scheduled tomorrow.

Nampa's No-Hit Hurler Loses to Lewiston, 1 to 0

LEWISTON, Idaho, July 26 (AP)—Pitcher Halton of the Nampa, Idaho Junior Legion baseball team threw a no-hit game last night but lost to 1 to 0, to the Lewiston Juniors.

The lone tally came in the first inning when Halton tossed a walk to the man on second, went to third on an error and scored on an infield out.

Two shots back as the field heated out tomorrow's 30 hole final test was big Ben Hogan of Chicago, who duplicated his opening round 79 for a 138 aggregate. At 139 came Ralph Guldahl, twice former national open champion who has been showing signs of checking his slump of the past year. Guldahl has a second round 71.

In the 140 bracket—and in position to put on one of the blinding stretch finishes which has made him a contender for the money through 51 straight tournaments was little Ben Hogan of Haverly, Pa. Hogan had a 23 out today but slipped a stroke over par for a 37 coming in to duplicate his opening round 79. Harry Cooper of Chicago, three times winner of this event, and Jimmy Thinner, long hitter from Chicago, Mead, were also in the 140 class, Cooper on a second round 72 and Thomson on a 75.

Arizona Cowboy Sets New Mark

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 26 (AP)—An Arizona cowboy established a new bulldozing record for the Frontier Days show today and clinched championship honors in both bulldozing and calf roping.

Buck Sorrells of Tucson, Ariz., downed his steer in the final program of the 11th annual show in 13.1 seconds, giving him a three-year average of 12 seconds flat.

The previous bulldozing record average was 12.3 seconds, made by Hub Whiteman of Clarkville, Texas, in 1927.

In calf roping, Sorrells tied his calf today in 22.8 seconds, giving him a three year average of 20.7 seconds. Stub Barstemy of Arlington, Oregon, won the professional bronc riding championship and Frank Sull, Montrose, Colo., won the barbed bronc riding title.

King Torch Wins $25,000 Added Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park

LOS ANGELES, July 26 (AP)—King Torch conquered the mighty Mioland in a head-to-head stretch battle to win the $25,000 added Sunset handicap in a dramatic finale to the Hollywood park racing season.

Sounding down the stretch in the grueling mile and five eighths race, King Torch and Mioland hit the wire together and it took 79 photo to separate their wings for the top purse of $12,500. King Torch was third in the field of nine.

A Get-Away day throng of 38,000 watched the event.

The winner, a sparkling four-year-old chestnut gelding, is owned by movie magnate Louis B. Mayer and was ridden by jockey Johnny Deering, but it was left for his running mate, Mioland, to win the race.

Westrope sent Sir Jeffrey out the strategy that beat C. S. Howard's 1937 champion, King of the Ring.

Westrope sent Sir Jeffrey out to set a record pace while King Torch held behind in the Marathon. Mioland finally overhauled the flying Sir Jeffrey, but it took all he had to do. That was when Clarence Torch began to close the distance to Torch's 100, his turn for home in front, but he couldn't match King Torch's stretch charge. Head to head they roared home.

King Torch, who defeated Big Pebble two weeks ago at a mile and one eighth, paid $12,400, $43,400 and $10,000. Mioland paid $2,600 and King and Wing And, owned by Ed and Wm. J. de Escondido, Calif., paid $3,800.

Investigate Ford Tractors with Ferguson System before you buy!

Last year W. G. Wood of Hansen, route 1, purchased a Ford tractor to use in farming operations that he and his brother, H. E. Wood of Kimberly conduct east of Hansen. As an example of just how well satisfied they were with this new, economical, more powerful form of farm power, they point out that this year they bought another Ford tractor with additional Ferguson System implements.

Everywhere in Magic Valley it's the same story — "One proved so successful that I changed over completely to Ford and Ferguson" — or — "My neighbor likes his Ford tractor so well that I decided to buy one."

W. G. Wood really won down that second crop of alfalfa hay running his Ford tractor in high gear.

U. S. CONSERVES SUPPLY OF SILK

Defense Officials Establish Rigid Controls on Commodity

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Defense officials clamped quick controls on silk today as the industry's supply became uncertain due to the freezing of credits by both the United States and Japan.

E. R. Stettinius, Jr., defense director of priorities, froze all silk stocks, requiring an authorization for movement of the commodity except from ships to importers. Mills also were forbidden to process silk or areas of the totals used this week.

Shortly afterward, Leon Henderson, price administrator, suspended the commodity exchange to suspend trading in silk futures and announced that a ceiling on silk prices would be fixed at the level prevailing July 26.

He estimated that stocks of raw silk in public warehouses on July 26 total 52,000 bales, with an additional 25,000 bales in the mills, which have been using about 5,000 bales a week.

Defense officials' interest in silk supplies centers around its use in making parachutes and powder bags.

U. S. FORGES NEW BLOWS FOR JAPAN

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), who has opposed virtually all administration foreign policies, told reporters that "I don't think it necessary to go to war with Japan."

"I don't think it necessary to go to war with Japan," Wheeler said, "but putting economic pressure on the Japanese may tend to halt their aggression in the southern Pacific."

The freezing order means simply that Japan cannot obtain any more American assets without first obtaining a license from the treasury department.

Hence, all shipments to Japan, which have been considerable in the past, could be stopped by simply refusing to issue a license for the conveyance of assets into cash when the purpose was the purchase of oil.

Some critics say that Japanese industry could be brought to a halt by means of a similar embargo on American shipments of iron ore, scrap iron, pig iron, copper, nickel, manganese, molybdenum, mercury, cotton and wool were stopped.

Another factor which excited much speculation was the effect of the freezing order on the Japanese export commodity. Some thought it was highly to be expected that the Japanese would continue to ship silk to the United States if the assets gained thereby were frozen only for the purchase of the things Japan has been importing.

U. S. MOVES TO BOLSTER FORCES

As finally approved, the new version of the bill makes no mention of the possible use of troops outside the western hemisphere. HOUSE RECEIVES HEAVY TAX BILL

A minority report filed by ten Republicans last night said they had no alternative but to support the general objective of the bill. It called what the Republicans called "a major cut in non-defense expenditures."

Defending the proposed mandatory joint income tax return for married couples, the report declared that the bill would result in an increase in divorces or "adversely affect the morals of American families."

"A compulsory joint return in Great Britain has been required since 1914," it said, "and their divorce rate is not as high as in the United States."

Under present law married couples have the right to file tax returns separately.

Tokyo Government Retailates; Selling Way Sweeps Financial Markets

TOKYO, July 26 (AP)—Japan defended her more southward into Indo-China today by exchanging swift blows with the United States and Great Britain in an increasingly economic warfare which apparently caught the Tokyo financial community flat-footed.

Acting in prompt retaliation to the freezing of Japanese assets by the United States, Great Britain and some of the British dominions, the government ordered United States and British funds placed under similar control by the finance ministry.

The freezing of Japanese assets was announced by the Union of South Africa, Canada and the Straits Settlements government at Singapore. Australia announced that she is "taking all steps which economic warfare suggests to be necessary for the protection of Australia's interests affected by Japan's move to the south."

(Authoritative London quarters said all the dominions had been consulted on Britain's measures and that all concurred.)

Although the government acted promptly after Foreign Minister Toyoda and Finance Minister Mamoru Ozura had been received in audience by Emperor Hirohito, Japanese financial quarters apparently were taken by surprise by the severe and concerted nature of the British and American measures.

The raw silk markets and the Tokyo stock exchange were swept by the hammer wave. The Yokohama silk exchange was closed temporarily. Rayon was off three yen (60 cents). The benchmark share of the stock market, Tokyo stock exchange, tumbled to a 10-year low at 94 yen, 30 sen—down seven yen, 20 sen.
