Revolutionary New Oil tested against 5 other big brands. 6 new cars Destroyed to prove Economy and Protection.

The oil that recited off an amazing 13,398 miles on one regular fill in the Death Valley, was proved to be an oil of the 17th degree—an oil of new high character... Hence its name: CONOCO N70 MOTOR OIL.

This dramatic test, supervised impartially and Officially Certified, was simple, yet harsh. 6 identical new cars were taken to Death Valley—where the heat hits record highs. 6 of these cars were each assigned a different widely-known, highly advertised motor oil. The sixth car used New Conoco N70 motor oil.

Each car was broken-in on a brand assigned by lot. Then one 5-quart fill of the same oil went into the engine case—kept under lock. The cars were driven 57 miles an hour until oil failure cracked up each engine—utterly wrecked it! All of this under imperial official scrutiny, as was every step in the test, right on through the dramatic finish.

Why This Astonishing result was possible New Conoco N70 motor oil contains a Conoco-organized synthetic (U. S. Patent 2,118,123) called Thieline inhibitor. An inhibitor in motor oil acts pretty much as an inhibition acts on you. Inhibition helps you keep your muscles many actions. And so Conoco's Thieline inhibitor helps Conoco N70 oil... prevent pollution that otherwise comes from normal operation. And that's your aid against a dirty engine with inferior lubrication.

Bears 'T' Attack Against College Grid Stars

Record Throng to Witness Football Clash at Chicago

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, champions of the professional football world, turn their explosive model "T" attack against the college all stars Thursday night before the season's first sell out crowd at Chicago.

With 32,000 tickets sold and 5,000 free seats provided for service men, a record throng will pack Soldier field on Chicago to witness this eighth annual battle of collegiate and professional football.

The Bears will try to win the field roughly 2 1/2 to 1 favorite because they will present the same line up with one exception, that slaughtered the Washington Redskins, 77 to 0, in the championship game of the professional season last year.

Carl Snavely, head coach of the all-stars, gravely shaking his head, summed up the prospects by saying: "What may happen is a matter of mystery and conjecture."

The mystery has all the star coaching staff of George S. Wood, assistants have to coordinate the technique of play, players of the professional game, including Indiana's Ed Ruchlicki, Purdue's Dave Macklin, Stanford's Stan Standlee and Minnesota's George Franck.

The conjecture: How long will it be before the Bears' vaunted technique blitzes a team through the all-stars in an effort to duplicate the rout of Washington in the 1930 pro finale?

The Bears will play on the "T" formation and man-in-motion system that raked havoc in their 1930 championship victory in the field of George McAfee, Bill O'Sannick, Ray Nolting and Sid Luckman, who was named one of the seven all-stars.

In the previous seven games, the college all-stars were defeated by the Green Bay Packers 8 to 0, in 1927 and Washington, 25 to 1, in 1928. Two games resulted in ties.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 27 (AP)—Kirby Higbe cooled the Cincinnati Reds tonight for his 18th triumph as the Brooklyn Dodgers' pitcher. He pitched a complete game, allowing only two runs, three hits and one error in 9 1/2 innings. He struck out 10 batters.

The league leaders collected all their runs in one of Vander Meer's nine innings on the mound. Brooklyn tapped him for counters in the first, third, fourth and seventh innings.

For Vander Meer's fault control over the game was a double down the left field foul line and moved to third on an infield out. Harry Lagogian, who had a high, deep foul in back of first base and Frank McCormick, running back over the ball over his shoulder. Reese, waiting no time, streaked home with the first run.

Vander Meer's faulty control cost the Dodgers a 2-0 lead in the first inning. The first two batters, Drew Reese, the first two batters, drew walks. Then Billy Herman dropped a short fly ball over the ball over his shoulder. Reese, waiting no time, streaked home with the first run.

Reese's line double, Elsie Walker's sacrifice and Mickey Owen's fly sent in the first three runs. In the fourth, and Walker's single with two on base, sent in the fourth run. Then Herman's home run Lavagetto with the last run.

Higbe, headlined, issued three hits and no runs in seven stanzas. But the Reds broke through with two in the eighth on a short fly to right and a double, a single by Mike McCormick and Lonnie Frey's double.

In the first half of the second, the Reds lumbering catcher, who was hit after Jimmy Gleason, decided to start the crowd with a clean slate off second base. It was a force play on Reese.

Philadelphia's record boosted the Dodgers' home attendance to 10,704, the highest in the league. The Cincinnati Reds, who had a record of 10,704, the highest in the league.

S.C.I. NINES CLASH AT JAYCEE PARK

Jerome and Shoshone, top clubs of the South Central Idaho league, will open their pennant series under the lights at Jaycee park in Twin Falls tomorrow night in a game honoring Jimmy Bellis, the miniature golfer star whose baseball playing days have been ended by illness.

The clash will get underway Friday night at 8:20 o'clock. The proceeds will be turned over to Bellis who returned recently from a hospital where he had been found to be suffering from arthritis of the spine.

The game starting for the Shoshone team in the S. C. I. league Bellis made his professional baseball debut with the Twin Falls Cowboys last year. The popular little outfielder, who was a hard-hitting player until a hand injury forced him out of the lineup. He later collected five homers which doctors say will prevent further participation in baseball.

Whitely Jenkins is slated to pitch for Jerome while Shoshone's choice for the arduous task lies between the veteran Jim Hansen and young Jags Bartholomew, the kid mound star who has been named as a doubleheader at Jerome next Sunday.

Schulmerich to Join Cowboys Next Week

The big guy the fans really will come back to Jaycee park next week. Popular Wes Schulmerich, the Oregon oil man and tourist camp owner who clouded and clouded his way into the hearts of Magic valley baseball followers in 1929, the year the Cowboys capped the Pioneer league, has agreed to perform in his own colorful way here September 4, 5 and 6.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is also planning a special event in honor of Manager Andy Harrington. A game with Boise September 3 will probably be designated as a tribute to the Cowboy skipper.

President Joe Donahue and his fellow members of the 20-30 club completed arrangements for the appearance of Schulmerich during the fall home series of the season. The Salt Lake bees will oppose the Cowboys.

Schulmerich, former major leaguer and a natural entertainer, will be signed as a coach for the series. He will be on the field from start to finish of each game, cutting capers at every opportunity. Wes, a great hand to turn almost any play into a three-game series.

Rickey Slated to Take Over Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Evening Ledger says that Branch Rickey, vice president of the National League, will become president of the Phillies next season. "If" and when present plans are carried out, Rickey will be installed within the next six weeks.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, is reported to be responsible for the move to install Rickey as head of the National League ball-club, the newspaper said. Rickey's contract with the Cardinals organization expires at the end of the 1931 season and he has been reported it will not be renewed.

Gerry Nugent, who now has control of the Phillies, has denied he intends to sell the club, but the newspaper said he had been approached and already has set an undisclosed price.

Three Ex-Champions Leave U. S. Amateur Golf Tourney

Form Gets Beating In First Day of Match Play

OMAHA, Aug. 27 (AP)—The first day of match play in the national amateur golf championship has come to be known to the trade as "black Wednesday. Black, they said, has no shadings.

But it was something blacker than a black Wednesday storm that swept the Omaha field club course today and put out of the 45th tournament three former champions and all but a handful of players of established reputation.

In the course of two rounds of 18-hole matches, which reduced the field from 61 to 16, the following stars were shut out to the slinkines: In the first round—Buck O'Connell, winner last year but beaten decisively by Lou Jenkins, a 24-year-old caddy from Portland, Ore.; Johnny Pletcher of Gustonville, 1920 champion; Johnny Goodman, who had been expected to go far on his home course but went only 20 holes; Mario Gonzalez, likewise Brazilian manager who was the winner's entry and had looked like a real contender; and Charley Yates, the Georgia soldier boy who won the British amateur in 1929.

In the second round—Skip Alexander, the qualifying-round leader from Burlington, N. C.; Wilford Bookert, 23-year-old son of a Gary, Ind., Negro preacher, decisively defeated the durable Clarence "Red" Burman of Baltimore tonight and registered his seventeenth consecutive victory.

Wardie, a semi-finalist in 1940; Art Dowling, who went to the amateur round the year before; Rodney Hill, another highly-rated amateur, and Freddy Hancock, Jr. the string-bean former Walker Cupper from New Orleans.

With form taking such a tremendous beating, there were only four among the 15 survivors who have well-established getting reputations. Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., whose chances of repeating his 1925 victory look better and better, was at 7 and 6 over Alex. Welch of Jackson, Ill., and then was taken to the 17th for a 2 and 1 victory over Otto Gruber of Ithaca, N. Y., semi-finalist in this year's interstate championship.

Harry Dole, of Dallas, runner-up in 1928, was in last month's western amateur, but Jim Lewis of Toledo, by a moderate 4 and 3 margin and won right of ten holes to trim Matt Zandala of Haines, Neb. 3 and 8.

Pat Abbott, the one-time movie extra from Los Angeles and 1928 finalist, had to go the full 18 holes to beat Johnny Vavra, the Cleveland rival, and took Wierle into camp by 2 and 2.

The fourth "big leaguer" was Ray Billups of Panhandle, N. Y., the one-time Chickering kid who won runner-up to Gladstein in 1929 and Ward in 1929. He whipped another New Yorker, Arthur J. Reardon, in his first time out, and followed that with a 4 and 3 decision over Lloyd Ramsey of Lexington, Ky.

MINE HELD UNDER U. S. LABOR RULE

Federal Judge Overrules Sunshine Company's Contentions.

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—In a far-reaching opinion treating upon various phases of the fair labor standards act of 1938, federal district Judge C. C. Cavanaugh of Idaho held today operations of the Sunshine Mining Company in Shoshone, Idaho, to come under provisions of the act which limit time occupied by employees in traveling from portal to portal in a mine should be considered as part of the working time.

Outgrowth of a suit filed by the mining company in December, 1939, against the act, Judge Cavanaugh, United States district attorney for Idaho, and various mining union officials and members, had rendered his declaratory judgment listing the following considerations:

1. That the 40-hour work week established by the fair labor standards act refers to 40 hours of work, and the lunch period is not referred to and expressed in not to be considered as part of the working time consumed in traveling from portal to portal of the mine as here contended for by the company.
2. That plaintiff (Sunshine Mining Company) the employer, to consider the act, must first determine the time worked based upon the agreed rate of employment with its employees, which is the requirement by the statute of not less than one and one-half times such agreed rate of employment with its employees as employed.

3. That the plaintiff and its employees are producing goods or services and are engaged in interstate commerce under the act.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled further that each party to the action should pay his own costs.

The findings were expected to affect overtime pay claims of many of the mining company's 600 employees as well as to provide a definite court interpretation of the dispute over 50% of mining employees for the time spent traveling to and from their places of employment within a mine.

In applying for an interpretation of the law, the mining company has contended that its employees were not engaged in commerce so as to bring its operations under provisions of the fair labor standards act and had alleged that if the law is applicable to it and if the act is unconstitutional.

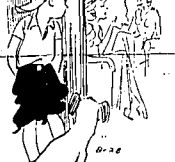

The company further contended that time spent by employees in traveling to and from their usual working places and the lunch period should not be considered hours worked for which the compensation would be payable.

It also was alleged that overtime payments would be calculated "whenever the total compensation paid to the employee exceeds a sum equal to 20 cents an hour, plus one and one-half times his regular wage for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours in any one week."

In his 15-page opinion, Judge Cavanaugh wrote, in part: "The place designated as the portal of the mine on (the company's) premises is the place where the workmen are to appear at BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Production of Albutian winter peas in Idaho this year was forecast by the agricultural marketing service today at 2,700,000 pounds, or 72 per cent more than the 1,550,000 pounds produced last year.

At the same time the service called for a 14 per cent increase in the clover seed in the state which had 4,000 acres. Last year estimated production was 12,000 pounds.

A specified time. The workman offers himself there at a specified time and is under the control and direction of the plaintiff who agrees to designate the place of work and the amount of time provided by it and who created the situation necessary in operating the mine.

"It may be short distance or a long distance from the portal of the mine, therefore such travel time consumed from the time the workman appears at the portal of the mine and the travel time consumed in returning to the portal of the mine should be considered and included in 'hours worked'."

Regarding lunch period, Judge Cavanaugh commented that "before and after the adoption of the wage and hour law the lunch period has been set aside as non-working time and that was recognized by the union who did not consider the lunch period as time worked."

"The act also stated that overtime pay should not be based upon the statutory minimum wage requirement but upon the actual rate of employment agreed and employee, which is the rate and hour rate merely by the statute of not less than one and one-half times such regular rate at which the employee is employed."

County AAA Chairman Announces October 31 Time Limit

Deadline for carrying out farm and range conservation practices under the 1941 AAA reauthorization and range conservation program is October 31, Walter Reese, chairman of the county AAA committee, has pointed out.

"That means about two months' practice in which to round out 1941 conservation plans on farms and ranches. After October 31, all conservation work will be counted under the 1942 program."

Sections of grades and terraces, no terraces, construction of water developments and artificial leveling on range land, and all other land conservation practices are being checked by compliance supervisors and range examiners from the county AAA office now, the committee said.

When any farmer or rancher has completed his 1941 conservation work, the county office should advise him by notifying, so a final check can be made.

Notification will speed the process of making conservation payments to help bear the farmer's or rancher's costs of making the improvements, he said.
