Donald Nelson Works Out Complete Schedule of Requirements in Effort To Solve Shortages of Materials

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The supply priorities and allocations board instructed its executive director, Donald M. Nelson, tonight to work out a complete schedule of the military and civilian requirements in an effort to solve the problems of shortages of materials and of expansion of production facilities.

The board announced the action, which it termed a detailed planning of the defense program, after bringing to a full report the expansion of civilian industries which would require large quantities of defense materials.

Simultaneously, the government moved to obtain vast new supplies of aluminum and magnesium for the defense effort by financing the construction of three new plants.

Both the military production schedules and the statements of civilian requirements are to be broken down into schedules of the raw materials, labor and machinery needed for their production.

The schedule which Nelson will compile will include procurement needs of the army, navy and the air force, and include also such goods as are to go to Great Britain and other lend-lease countries.

Both the military production schedules and the statements of civilian requirements are to be broken down into schedules of the raw materials, labor and machinery needed for their production.

Although construction of additional facilities would have provided plants capable of producing 8,000,000 pounds of aluminum, 15,000,000 pounds of chrome plated nickel steel, 4,000,000 pounds of stainless steel and 14,000,000 pounds of zinc, the board found that their immediate

Germans' Big Guns Batter Leningrad; FDR Drafts Speech

Request Hinted For Repeal of Neutrality

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Roosevelt returned to the capital tonight amid speculation as to the probable content of his radio message tomorrow night.

The president authorized an announcement in advance that the speech would be of "major importance" and one legislator said he believed the chief executive might ask for repeal of the neutrality act.

The law, enacted in 1939, forbids American vessels to carry goods or passengers to belligerent nations, requires belligerents to obtain the consent of the United States before traveling on belligerent ships except in accordance with presidential recommendations and prohibits the arming of American merchant ships.

Shooting Order Slighted Mr. Roosevelt's address tomorrow night undoubtedly will touch on the delicate relations between the United States on the one hand and Germany and Japan on the other.

Originally planned to speak 15 minutes, he is expected to use 25. The address will follow closely up on the sinking of the Secca, 305 Seafarers in the Red sea and last week's attack upon the destroyer Greer, near Iceland, by a German submarine.

Most observers looked for a strong statement from the chief executive and an announcement of actual steps taken to safeguard American ships and lives upon the seas—possibly including order to the Atlantic naval patrol to sink on sight any Axis war vessels found in the zone between the United States and Iceland.

Delays Rail Strike The chief executive gave all his attention today to work which he had put aside for a few days, finding in a measure of relief from his sorrow over the death of his mother on Sunday, a day after he arrived at Hyde Park for a week-end visit.

His first action was to issue a proclamation which in effect will delay a strike which threatened to stop the nation's trains and "deprive the country of essential transportation service" at a time when (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Roosevelt Envoy Talks With Pope

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 10.—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal envoy, began his important exchange of views between the president and the Vatican today in two long private conferences with Pope Pius XII and Luigi Cardinal Monteleone, president of the Holy See.

There were indications that war and peace aims figured heavily in the talks.

Taylor declined to disclose what was said in the audiences. From other sources, however, it was learned that "the welfare of the people of various countries" was the keynote of the talks.

Some observers suggested that Mr. Roosevelt may be seeking to enlist the pope's aid in conciliating the position of Catholics, particularly in the United States, in which the United States and Britain have pronounced Russia, whose atheistic tendencies have long been denounced by the church.

Moscow Claims Thousands of Nazis Slain

(By The Associated Press) Soviet field fortifications blocking the German advance on Leningrad were reported today to have been destroyed by intensive Stuka raids but there were other indications that the ancient czarist capital city's situation had improved.

Adding a note of mystery to the already bleak picture of bitter fighting in the German-Russian front was the breaking off of telephone communication between Moscow and Leningrad.

Morning newspapers in the Hungarian capital Budapest reported that "wasn't answer" telephone operators advised would be called. It was claimed that the German location did not answer calls.

Authorized German sources in Berlin said they knew of no startling political developments in Hungary.

Planes Over Geneva The Associated Press bureau in Bern, Switzerland, also was unable to contact correspondents in Budapest. Representatives of the Italian news agency and of the New York Times had made connections several while dictating stories of military developments in Hungary.

Reports from Geneva said air-planes were heard over the Swiss city three times early today leading to the supposition that the British were resuming air attacks on Italy which have been suspended since the summer.

No alarm was sounded in Geneva, however. German military reports told of five bombing attacks which allowed a number of Soviet anti-aircraft and artillery positions about Leningrad, cleared away field fortifications and caused extensive damage at the city's water works.

The Germans receded measurably, however, from their earlier claim that the city was imminently doomed and suggested that they might try to storm it after all but probably would attempt to reduce it slowly by gunfire, bombs and starvation.

Death Traps It was acknowledged in Berlin that the Russians were still "choosing from all barrels" and that such hard-won positions as the Nazis had been able to occupy were now with the waiting death hidden in thousands of Russian land mines in one instance, at the town of Schellachburg, 21 miles to the east.

Movies Accused of Seeking War

Willkie Held to Witness Part in Senate Investigation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Senator Clark (D-Mo) contended in testimony before a senate subcommittee today that the motion picture industry was a "monopoly controlled by a half dozen men who were determined to plunge this nation into war."

Clark's testimony drew from Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee and counsel for the film industry, an assertion that the Missouri senator had failed to produce any evidence of propaganda and was seeking to "prejudice the public with his monopoly charge."

Willkie received an earlier appeal to the committee to suspend further hearings until it had seen the motion picture objected to by Clark and Senator Nye (R-Ind), co-author of the investigation proposal.

For the second time in as many days Chairman Clark (D-Ind) of the senate interstate commerce subcommittee hearing the testimony refused to permit cross-examination of witnesses by Willkie. Senator McFarland (D-Ariz), a member of the committee, asked that Willkie be permitted to question the Missouri senator after he had completed reading a prepared statement.

Clark ruled that Willkie could appear as a witness later if he chose.

Willkie said the industry was under investigation by the justice department from 1935 to 1940 with the result that an agreement was entered into under the auspices of a federal court "which completely satisfied the department of government charged with enforcing the anti-trust laws."

Clark named men whom he said ruled the industry and were responsible for "propaganda."

"Up near the top of the list," he said, "I will put the men who control the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company. They are the men who control

Searching Party Finds Boy's Body

EXAMMETT, Sept. 10.—A two-day search for Marvin Lee Hultine, who would have been five years of age Sept. 27, ended today when the boy's body was found lodged in brush on the edge of the Farmer's Co-op Irrigation ditch about six miles southwest of here.

CROP PRODUCTION HITS HIGH MARK

Aggregate Harvest Estimated as Largest in Any Season Except 1937

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The agriculture department reported today that despite August drought conditions, aggregate crop production this year was expected to be nearly 2 per cent above last year and substantially larger than in any previous season except 1937.

Prospects for corn declined slightly during August but wheat production estimates were increased to give the nation its second highest crop on record. Corn production on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions was forecast at 2,252,900,000 bushels, a drop of about 60,000,000 bushels from the 1941 estimate included 68,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, 43,240,000 bushels of durum and 229,000,000 bushels of other spring wheat.

This year's crops of barley, rice, grain sorghums, dry beans, dry peas, soybeans and commercial vegetables

PROGRESS SLOW ON TAX MEASURE

Joint Conference Committee Fails to Reach Accord on Major Disputes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—A joint conference committee worked today to adjust Senate-house differences in the record-breaking revenue bill but broke up without agreeing on any of the major controversies.

The $2,850,000,000 measure approved by the senate will raise an estimated $307,500,000 more than the bill passed by the house. It includes a provision, estimated to yield $300,000,000 annually, lowering personal income tax exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $500 to $750 for single individuals.

At the conclusion of today's conference, senate members said they were hopeful that a complete agreement could be reached tomorrow despite the slow progress of the first conference. They said that while the joint group had agreed on a number of minor items, there were still several provisions of the lowered exemptions or of the senate changes in house corporation laws.

were expected to exceed production in any previous season. The department expects the fruit crop to be close to previous records and probably to exceed them.

The department said production of feed grains this year would be above average but hardly equal to prospective feeding requirements. As a consequence, some further progress may be made, the department said, in raising stocks accumulated in recent years.

Record Livestock Production

The department expects the aggregate of feed grains this year would be this year, six per cent under the 1940 crop but one per cent above the ten-year average production was predicted.

The 1940 crop of 4,600,000 bushels from the Aug. 1 forecast, attributed to improved conditions in New York, Pennsylvania, North Dakota, Colorado, Oregon, and California.

Timothy production was estimated at 25,580,000 bushels, Colorado, 13,470,000; Washington, 8,285,000; Oregon, 8,440,000; and California, 11,000,000.

The department forecast a sugar crop of 12,222,000 tons, representing an increase of more than 200,000 tons over the August prediction.

Estimate of sugar cane production and seed remained unchanged from the August forecast of 3,600,000 tons. The Aug. 1 forecast of beet production was 6,740,000 tons, indicating a decrease of 100,000 tons by states for 1941 included: Montana, 804,000; Idaho, 885,000; Utah, 234,000; Colorado, 822,000; and Oregon, 128,222,000 bushels, predicted on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions, represents an improvement of about 12 per cent over the 1940 yield.

Condition of Idaho's crop was better at present than in 1940, with indicated production of 2,340,000 bushels.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Salt Lake City Pioneer league baseball club defeated an All-Star aggregation from the Utah industrial production of 2,340,000 bushels, indicated production of 2,340,000 bushels.

Driver Held After Three-Car Crash

Glenn Metcalf of Piler is in the county jail today awaiting a probable charge of drunken driving when he was involved in an automobile accident last night at Curry at the first intersection east of the railroad crossing, according to Sheriff Warren W. Lowery, who investigated the wreck.

Metcalf was traveling east and bumped into the rear end of a machine belonging to John Mendicino of Piler, who was driving west to cross the road and crash into John Gray of Rogerson.

Mr. Gray and his brother Bob Gray were treated at the hospital for minor injuries. The following conditions indicated last night. The cars were damaged to the extent of $500.

Four Men Named In Jerome Draft

JEROME, Sept. 10.—Announcement was made this week by Clerk Ford C. Beadal of the Jerome county draft office, that he had received a call for more men from this area to be inducted Sept. 24 for selective service.

Names of the following men have been selected: Walter Roy Boyer, Cecil Rex Hayes, Elmer Harris Henderson and George Lynn Williams.

One transfer will be indicated. His name is Archie LaHue Andrews, from Harrison, Ariz.

Decline Noted In Enrollment

Total Twin Falls public school enrollment at the start of the second week of school was 2,342, indicating a decline of 78 students from this area to be inducted Sept. 24 for selective service.

This decline falls to bear out earlier predictions in some quarters that enrollment would suffer a serious drop because many workmen have moved away to take defense jobs.

Comparison of the attendance figures for the two years, on figures up to noon on the first day of the second week is as follows: total, 2,342 last year; 2,417, elementary school enrollment, 1,123 the year; junior high, 918 this year, 873 last year; high school, 1,201 this year and 1,441 last year.

REPORTERS AGAIN

For several days one of the wire news services has been supplying signed dispatches from the Russian war to its newspapers. While the reporter dates his dispatches from Russian headquarters on the so-and-so front, and everything he writes is subject to censorship, it brings back memories of other days and other wars, when the war correspondent was a personage of glamor and romance and adventure.

More than on reporters going to Iceland, imposed by President Roosevelt when he ordered the occupation of that country has been removed by Washington following disclosure that pictures and news of the American boys were being appearing in London newspapers.

A couple of Washington columnists, who lean toward war, claim that the navy department tried to get a seal commission to appoint a seal for navy for navy. In the United States, but that the senate committee turned the request down after secret hearings in which many naval big shots tried to sell the idea of censorship to the committee.

But to return to those signed dispatches from the Russian front—or rather, from the headquarters at the Russian front—the guy who writes them is a London newspaper man. He has already outwitted the censors and tipped off his boss to important developments in an apparently inoffensive dispatch about the weather. A war correspondent who hasn't been tipped off by the censors is a man of no account.

ARMIES ON THE FRONT

Although it doesn't mean much.

EXCEL IN DURABILITY

The answer to the question often asked, "How are America's planes doing in the combat zones?" seems to be that they are more than holding their own in the testing laboratories of modern war. They are doing a time noncommittal on their performance, but recently have shown a tendency to praise the manner in which the product of America's aircraft factories is taking hold.

The basis for this praise is an all-inclusive statement might be premature, but all indications are that America's warplanes, type for type, are at least as good and probably better than those built abroad. There may be occasional errors of their fire power or other features. But one quality seems to counterbalance everything else and that is their durability. They can take punishment, which is the prime requisite of aerial warfare.

Stories are coming through of American bombers getting back to England after being all but blown to bits by anti-aircraft fire. The reports are continuing under conditions that would put other planes to rest. Britain is still talking about the exploit of the Bismarck and stayed with it until it had been broken to bits by the British patrol for three days at a stretch without landing.

Mainly responsible for American plane quality is the fact that manufacturers refuse to release planes until they have the best possible construction. They do not ship monthly production has not reached predicted totals, although August output of 1,854 planes was indeed formidable. Not only was this an increase of 394 planes over the July production, but the total number of planes put has been reached of almost 20,000 planes a year, with the program just getting under way.

CHANCE FOR RAILS

Railroad managements today must recall that old saw about an ill wind, etc., in the face of motor car production curtailment and talk although diminishing—about gasoline rationing in the east. The railroads are seen in the distance with their passenger cars generally, a come-back of their passenger business.

bad financial showing was the fact that the railroads had to maintain elaborate passenger services while their national toll of airplanes. The rails have made little progress toward recovering the passenger traffic they lost, yet they are forced to go on maintaining service including terminals, properties constructed at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars.

The railroads have staged a miraculous recovery in freight traffic, due to defense production of the motor ships. They are confident that if their passenger business likewise comes back, over to the extent of meeting the costs of preserving service, it would come very near to restoring the roads to their former financial position.

The plan in this reasoning appears to be that it ignores the labor factor.

Other Points of View

"WE PLANNED IT . . ." This administration has prided itself on its superiority to previous administrations. It does not operate haphazardly, but devotes itself to long-range planning. In fact, it refers to itself as the new deal because it is a definite break with Republicans, and a definite break with the past.

A large part of the United States is suffering a housing shortage. The government has taken steps to deal with it. It has ordered the construction of new housing units. It has also taken steps to deal with the housing shortage in the cities.

REPUBLICAN PARTY MANIFESTO

If thinking citizens will seriously reflect upon the details of the policy and the results of the democratic processes here at home at which the United States would have already arrived had there been no opposition to "New Deal" measures, and criticism, it will stimulate increased demand that the Republican party continue and expand its patriotic function of the opposition party in the coming era.

There is no other party or group in America which is capable of meeting the obligations and the challenge, the cause for which it preaches will soon perish. If the Republican party is to survive, it must be reorganized on the two-party system. It will be a policy of dilatory action as the administration is of the same kind.

BLONDES TO THE FRONT

There's something strangely strange about blonde hair. When a revival preacher of the more primitive persuasion works a backwoods community, he notices that the blonde girls in the pews are more conspicuous than the brunettes. Women may leave their seats to go to the front.

An incident in the current news is reminiscent of the blonde hair. It is the blonde hair. Some imaginative Washington journalist published a dispatch saying that the army was in need of blonde hair. The army is in need of blonde hair.

IGNORING THE PEOPLE

A bit of home front news. The last thing Sherwood Anderson wrote before his untimely death in March, is reprinted in the September edition of the Reporter Digest. Anderson found that many authors, musicians, poets and painters he met, had a certain common quality. It was the quality of ignoring the people.

WAR AND STYLES

Churchill Sees Nazi Policy Change in Acts Against U. S.

By KIRK H. SIMPSON Interpreting the War News. Whatever else can be read into Prime Minister Churchill's first war progress report to parliament in London, it is a more definite statement of definitely cheering in British ears for several reasons. It is a statement of definite cheering in British ears for several reasons.

The mounting number of "shoot-down" reports from the British fleet and the Italian U-boats and aircraft had already implied a major change in the policy of the Atlantic as to what the president planned to say. Churchill strongly implied, however, that in these incidents in the Atlantic and in the Red Sea he saw a new policy in the making.

Aside from references to increasing German-American tension, however, the Churchill report was strikingly a sharply contrasting picture of the war scene since the launching last winter of the "New Deal" against Germany.

PRUNES OFFERED TO GOVERNMENT

Idaho Growers Propose Market Stimulating Deal for 2,000 Tons

PAYETTE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Submitted to Washington for approval today was a market-stimulating proposal for purchase by the surplus marketing administration of 2,000 tons of prunes at $2 per ton.

Frank H. Arata of Payette, chairman of the Idaho prune growers committee, said the $25 quotation, which is a "low price" and would be paid in full by the government, has been accepted by Harold A. Brock of Portland, Ore., S.M.A. purchasing agent, that prospects for approval of the proposal were favorable.

Prunes were shipped to the S.M.A. today by the Idaho prune growers committee, members of which expressed confidence the transaction would stimulate the market. The deal would extend from Boise valley through the Payette valley. Arata said the S.M.A. had agreed to purchase a more pruned variety. All the fruit is to be canned.

The $25 price represents a rate per bushel of about 62 cents.

Flowers . . . And More Flowers

BECAUSE pretty young misses never fail to "add to" a picture, Miss Karen Kramer of Castleton, who was standing on all eyes before the mammoth flower exhibit at the Twin Falls county fair at Elko, was invited to pose for the News photographer yesterday morning. She is pictured with a tiny part of the most beautiful and water-resistant of blossoms which are exhibited this year at the fair. Mrs. John S. Felthous of Twin Falls, a co-sponsor of the show, reports this year's display greater than any before, and attributes part of the increase to the increased classification of flowers. Miss Kramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kramer of Castleton. (News Photo-Engraving).

Three Girls 'Parade' Themselves to District 4-H Style, Revue During County Contest at Fairgrounds

A clear blue sky overhead, enhanced by the Stars and Stripes waving from the judges' stand at the fairgrounds, formed the only decorative background note for the Twin Falls county girls' 4-H style dress revue yesterday afternoon at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds at Filer. A bus was their spotlight and their stage was a wooden platform arranged beside the juvenile building on the grounds. But the girls were wearing the proudest gown on the entire scene.

They were accomplishing something they had looked forward to all summer, and their audience included parents, who were proud that their daughters could participate in the event, and club leaders, who had guided them in their work throughout the summer.

One at a time, ninety-nine girls paraded and paraded across the stage and when they were through, approximately a third of them were called to repeat their performance. At the third call, seventeen girls returned; the fourth line included fifteen "blue ribbon" first winners. At the final event, three girls were named to represent this county at district 4-H fair at Jerome next week.

Finalists in the review were Miss Clara E. Gardner, first winner, of the M. E. Gardner's club of Twin Falls, who modeled a blue and white dress of wool, with a new shade of brown accessories; Miss Carol Louise Sanderson, fifth place, member of Mrs. Evelyn Tate's Kimberly club, who modeled a pink orrany party dress worn over a pink satin under-slip; and Miss Elsie Annis of Twin Falls, who modeled a deep wine wool dress, with which she wore white and brown accessories.

Johansen-Burks Nuptials in Elko Told to Friends

Four Hundred Take Part in 'Co-Ed Rally'

PROOF of the quality of stock at the Twin Falls county fair is indicated in the aged bull division. In which Don Fleura Forward Darky, held here by his owner, L. A. Hansen of Twin Falls, ranked first for the first time in his career—old history to top the blue ribbon. He took second prize in the contest, losing to Lindell Royal Observer, of the Ada County—Bull association. (News Photo and Engraving.)

Defeat finally comes to the greatest of champions—even bulls. Don Fleura Forward Darky, 10-year-old Jersey bull of L. A. Hansen of Twin Falls yesterday won his first red ribbon after competing for several years in fairs throughout Oregon, Utah, Washington, California and Idaho without ever failing to win first prize.

The pure black bull, which resembles famed Ferdinand, has been named grand champion in most of the fairs in which he has competed and took that honor at the Chasin county fair in Burley last week. Today there is a new champion—Lindell Royal Observer, property of the Ada County Bull association.

SHOP TRAINING PLAN APPROVED

Electrical Course Considered for Twin Falls Program

Final specifications for the arrangements made between the Keweenaw Vocational Institute and the NVA and Twin Falls school district, co-sponsors of a program for mechanical shop training, have received final approval of the Boise office and have been forwarded to national headquarters at Washington, D. C., according to word received here by H. H. Ibsdahl, member of the advisory committee.

The general outline of the plan for training about 40 to 50 youth at their last regular meeting to submit to the people the proposal to transform the present water-works system into a dual system, with domestic water to be supplied from a new deep well, the cost of the project to be financed through a bond issue, which would be repaid with the earnings of the water works system, without increase of taxes. The amount of the bond issue was tentatively set at $100,000.

Action of the board followed a report by J. W. Bouton, connected with the Raymond J. Briggs engineering firm of Boise, who has been conducting a survey for several weeks. Bouton's report covered probable costs of revamping the present plant, with new pressure filtration facilities, as well as building the dual system. Cost of operation of the systems was estimated to be about the same.

Village Attorney C. S. Shaw was directed to prepare preliminaries for the bond election, tentative date for which has not been set. The next official act by the board will be the passage of an ordinance calling for the election. In the meantime the engineering firm will continue the investigation.

Actual training of youths in mechanical shop work will begin about Oct. 1 if specifications are approved by Washington, D. C., officials. The youths would be given plenty of opportunity to get settled in school and to get acquainted with the work. All classes will be at night and the students must complete three hours of theory and four hours of actual work five nights a week for eleven months. They will receive $10 or $12 month salary while in training.

Training will be given in foundry work, electric and acetylene welding, sheet metal work and machine shop work.

Woman Denied Damages Claim

Probate Court Turns Down Mrs. Olson's Suit Against Grocer

Mrs. May Olson of Twin Falls, clerk Thomas Cavender, South Park street, for $200 damages, was denied judgment by Judge C. A. Bailey at the conclusion of trial without a jury in probate court in Twin Falls yesterday.

Mrs. Olson sought damages on account of alleged malicious prosecution of suit Cavender brought in a similar claim to recover $2 he allegedly took from her husband, Ed Olson, whom she has termed an imbecile.

Tral yesterday was in accordance with an order entered by Judge James W. Porter in district court, who previously had sustained a probate court ruling denying Mrs. Olson's claim for charges on account of alleged defamation of character.

Attorney for Mrs. Olson, J. H. Barnes of Twin Falls, indicated appeal will be taken to the district court from Judge Bailey's ruling yesterday.

A cross-complaint entered by Cavender's attorney, O. C. Hall of Twin Falls, asserted claim to judgment for the $3 loan Judge Bailey yesterday received judgment on that phase of the controversy, and will file additional argument by attorneys.

Nominal Damage in Two-Machine Crash

About $15 damage was done yesterday at 2:35 p. m. when machines driven by John H. Jewett, Hagerman, and Harry N. Prather of Twin Falls, route three, collided at the intersection of Third street south and the truck lane.

Mr. Jewett crashed into the side of Mr. Prather's car when the latter was making a left turn off the truck lane. The two machines were going in opposite directions. Damage to the Jewett car was estimated at $10 and $5 damage was done to the Prather machine.

Idaho is definitely against "it," said Corwin.

Corwin said he plans to introduce a resolution at the farm bureau federation meeting here Saturday recommending to congress that the CVA bill not be passed.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If back and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just take a dose of aspirin. It may be a sign of kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the body's natural filters. They filter out the waste products of the body and excrete them in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are not working properly, the waste products will build up in the body, causing backache, leg pains, and other symptoms.

It is important to get your kidneys checked if you have these symptoms. A simple test can tell you if your kidneys are working properly.

How soon should New Car be picked up?

How soon should it knock?

Do you know that these troubles begin, not when your engine starts losing its high compression, but when its high compression becomes still higher?

Few people realize that such increased compression causes knocking sounds—and a sluggish engine—often within the first ten thousand miles.

So, if your engine knocks—or has lost some of that "new car liveliness"—this may very likely be your trouble. Carbon is responsible.

As carbon collects here, combustion space becomes smaller and smaller, and compression becomes higher and higher.

And you can't avoid such carbon deposits completely, regardless of the oil or gasoline you use!

You can go to the expense of having the carbon removed regularly, which will help. Or, for temporary relief, you can have the spark retarded (but you do this, you'll use up more gasoline).

Or you can take a tip from Shell scientists and switch to Shell Premium—a special motor fuel they've created that compensates for the higher compressions which carbon causes. Shell Premium gasoline will provide maximum, knock-free power every mile you drive.

The secret is simply this: Shell Premium gasoline is a blend of finest, clean-burning gasoline fractions and a patented, scientifically prepared anti-knock compound which controls combustion to get utmost efficiency from every drop.

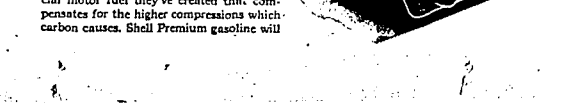

Thus Shell Premium delivers greater power when you want it... gives a new handling ease in traffic. And it delivers top mileage, as well, in new cars and old.

Shell Premium costs 2¢ more than "regular" or about $1.00 a month extra if you drive the average amount. We recommend the difference to you.
