Reds Widen Counter-Attacks on All Fronts; Germans Announce Dive Bombers Hit Black Sea Base

Red army troops, taking a lesson from German strategy, have cut up several Nazi armored salients on the central front and are advancing steadily to the west at the rate of seven to 10 miles daily, it was reported in Moscow early today.

The Russian counter-drive in the center front, apparently aimed directly at the rubicon, was said to have spread well to the north while Red soldiers and civilians successfully fought against the German besiegers of Leningrad, Kiev and Odessa.

The Soviet morning communique, which declared the stubborn fighting continued along the entire front, gave details of an assault which it said cranked heavy losses from the German tank corps on the central front.

The war report declared German tank regiments were caught in a number of pinners, cut off from the supporting infantry and "systematically annihilated."

The Russians, claiming to have thrown the German tank divisions miles along the central front in a counter-offensive that also had spread well to the north along 400 miles of fighting line, gave every indication last night that they were making enormous gains.

Moscow formally accused Bulgaria, a fellow Slavic country, which had been a sort of European ground for Nazi forces, of permitting Hitler to use her airports and airbases for attacks on the Soviet Union and her soil as a "place d'armes" for German and allied assaults on Odessa, the Crimea and the Caucasus, and said that Bulgaria herself was also preparing to attack the Soviet Union.

Germany's aim to extend German control over bank credit and create controls over selected capital expenditures.

At a press conference today, the treasury chief evaded specific questions about the discussion with the reserve board which he said had been going on "continuously" and declined even to name those taking part.

Asked whether a principal item was the board's proposal last December for expansion of its power to regulate banks, he replied that he said, "we traveled a long way since December."

Axis Craft Warned To Steer Clear of 'Defensive Waters'

President Says Navy Will Protect 'Ships of All Flags' in 'Our' Areas

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 — President Roosevelt announced tonight that he had ordered the navy to shoot first when axis submarines, surface raiders or aircraft are encountered in areas which this country considers vital to its defense.

The president also said the navy would protect not only American ships but "ships of all flags" from attack when sailing "in our defensive waters." This promptly aroused speculation whether a convoy system for those areas was in the making.

"We have not sought a shooting war with Hitler," the president said in a world-wide address. "But neither do we want peace so much that we are willing to pay for it by paralyzing our navy and merchant ships while they are on legitimate business."

And so, he warned: "Let this warning be clear. From now on, if German or Italian vessels of war enter the waters, the protection of which is necessary for American defense, they do so at their own peril."

"The orders which I have given as commander-in-chief to the United States army and navy are to carry out that policy—at once."

Recent days

Before making this historic announcement, the chief executive recounted, one after another, attacks upon American ships which led to his decision to order the navy to shoot first.

On July 1941, he said, "an American battleship was followed by a submarine which for a long time sought to maneuver her into a position of attack."

Senators Deny Gasoline Short

Acting Coordinator Disputes Conclusion; Restrictions Continue

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Blindly disputing a conclusion of a senate committee that there is no gasoline shortage in the east, the defense petroleum coordinator's office notified today that a shortage exists and that rationing measures must continue.

Ralph K. Davies, acting coordinator in the absence of Secretary of the Interior Ickes on vacation, said in a statement:

"Our appraisal of the present and future stock deficiency remains as previously reported and the necessity for public cooperation continues."

The coordinator's office, the addition of restrictions on petroleum stocks on the east coast continues to mean shortage and the necessity for rationing.

The senate committee in a report to the senate earlier in the day had concluded that there was no existing shortage and had recommended that restrictions on petroleum stocks be lifted.

"We have not deemed it a part of our duty," the unanimous report said, "to make a study of petroleum prices, or the question of what hours gasoline stations should operate."

In addition to disagreeing with Ickes' office on the necessity for a gasoline rationing program, the senate group expressed the opinion that in the handling of the petroleum problem unnecessary alarm was created.

"We are of the opinion that this was caused by over-enthusiasm on the part of those charged with the direction of the petroleum situation," their report added.

Reaction Varies on Declaration

Washington Comment Ranges from Denunciation to Warm Approval

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Opinion reaction to President Roosevelt's address tonight ranged from the assertion of Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) that it was nothing more than an unauthorized declaration of war to the statement of Senator Thomas (D-Utah) that "driving pinheads off or out of the seas is not war."

Here are some of the comments: Wendell E. Wilkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee. "The president spoke as he should have spoken. He could not yield on such a fundamental right. This is the time for all Americans to rally to his support. No man can say whether this was a declaration of war or whether it was a declaration of hostilities. It is a declaration of hostilities."

Senator Nye (R-N.D.). "Clearly we are going to have convoys irrespective of law and irrespective of President Roosevelt's own promises and assurances. This means definitely that we are nearer to a shooting war than we are."

Democratic Leader Barkley (R-Ore.). "The president has declared war on the American people's problem. It is the duty of the American people to stand with him in his effort to deal with this problem. He has no choice but to do so."

Senator McNamara (R-Ore.). "The president has declared war on the American people's problem. It is the duty of the American people to stand with him in his effort to deal with this problem. He has no choice but to do so."

BRITISH PRESS HAILS ADDRESS

'A Decisive Day in the War,' Declares London Daily Express

LONDON, Friday, Sept. 12 (AP)—The official British response to President Roosevelt's declaration for shooting first in American defensive waters was expected by authoritative sources today to come from Prime Minister Churchill.

These sources declined comment on the official speech, saying it would be left to a "person of equal weight and prominence" as the British are concerned.

Latest editions of the morning papers are optimistic about the war. The Daily Express described the president's address as "a decisive day in the war."

In advance of Roosevelt's speech the Germans feared the worst. They expected the British to keep up the pressure. And as the first flashes of the president's speech reached this office early this morning the fears of the Germans proved to be justified.

CANADA SIGNS STEPS TO WAR

Dominion Comment Expects Hitler to Disregard Warning

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—The immediate Canadian reaction to President Roosevelt's broadcast tonight was that it brought the United States another step closer to actual participation in the shooting war. A year ago the same words would have been hailed as practically a declaration of war against Germany and Italy.

Chandlers in recent weeks, however, have become cautious in their interpretation of presidential utterances, and newspaper comment on the president's broadcast included warnings to the Canadian public to remember that the president cannot pledge the United States to war; that his assurance of American determination to support Hitler and his Nazi forces was not a pledge but an expression of opinion.

It was noted that the president's announcement tonight that any German or Italian warships entering American defense waters "do so at their own peril" was stronger than any of his previous declarations. However, great importance also was attached to his statement that "we have sought no shooting war with Hitler. We do not seek it now." On this point, it was pointed out that "we shall continue to roll out the implements of war to help destroy Hitler and all his wicked crew," as an unmistakable reiteration of the "zero hour" policy.

One view of the essential meaning of the speech was that any shooting war with the United States would be a shooting war with Hitler, and that since it is taken for granted here that he will continue to attempt to reach Britain and her allies it is regarded as more likely now that he will be able to do so.

REACTION VARIES ON DECLARATION

REDS THREATEN TO SPREAD WAR

Pursuing an altered policy of trying to reduce the city without making a frontal assault, German tanks dropped along with their bomb payloads, targeting the citizens' houses. The alternative they asserted, was the utter destruction of the city.

Tanks Break Through
It was admitted by the Germans that one of their Russian tank charges had broken into the main Red line. But these were said to have been repelled with the destruction of 68 out of a total of 100 Red tanks in a single action.

At Velikie Luiki, the Germans were declared to have lost 1200 officers and men, 240 tanks and 3000 heavy and 140 cannon in a violent action that did not interrupt the Russian advance.

In the Ukraine, the Kiev and Odessa approaches held firm. German demands and wounded having fallen before the fighting broke in the town of Zhitomir, the Russian attacking force of the entire Russian army.

Indications that the Japanese government was moving to place its military units in the oil fields were removed only by the most obstinate of a possible reconciliation with the United States, stood at the forefront of yesterday's diplomatic developments.

This was suggested by the establishment in Tokyo of a new national defense academy under direct command of Emperor Hirohito and the Japanese government.

The report was made by Mrs. John M. Provon of Lewiston, state president. She also reported on the 1940 national convention at Nashville, Tenn., and urged as many Idaho War Mothers as possible to attend this year's national convention at Montpelier, Sept. 20-22.

Another development of great importance was the receipt by the United States of information that Germany had broken into France and Spain to work out joint plans to hold west Africa against any British or American effort to obtain bases there.

On the western front, the German military action reported was an overnight British air raid on northern Italy, which new four-engine bombers made the 1200 mile round trip over the Alps with what their pilots termed perfect ease and safety.

RUSSIANS PRESS UPON SMOLENSK

Restoration of Dnieper Defense Line Deemed Red Army Objective

By KIRK E. SIMPSON
Interpreting the war news close Russian movement of war-battered Smolensk, strategic key in the center of German lines in the Soviet, is admitted from Berlin.

Pierce fighting, the Germans reported, is taking place less than 40 miles northwest of the city. Presumably, that means the northern wing of the three-pronged Russian counter-attack aimed at recapture of the Smolensk road and rail junction is now somewhere in the vicinity of Yartovo, and more than 100 miles west of Vyazma, which Berlin only two days ago had claimed was captured.

What has happened to the German panzer spearhead reported at Vyazma several weeks ago has never been indicated. If the Russians are more than 80 miles west of Vyazma along the north bank of the Dnieper river, however, it is now clear that the German tank the Vyazma spearhead has been either defeated or is in a lesser position.

It is not only a and lesser menace to German control of the Smolensk communications key, however, "Three railroads run east and south from that point. The red counter-attack appears to be directed to its goal and well beyond Yelna on one line while on the third, connecting Smolensk and Bryansk via Rodov, the Russians are reported only 100 miles from Smolensk.

If that is true, Nazi advance forces which Berlin reported were north of Rodov in January appear to have been cut off from Smolensk. And with Russian forces also attacking in the General region, it is said also to be astride the Rodov-Rogozhki railroad, Nazi advance forces, Rodov and Bryansk via Rodov, at the apex of the Smolensk-Bryansk triangle seem in deadly danger.

Smolensk is only part of the Russian strategic conception. What seems the Russian objective in the center is restoration of the Dnieper defense line, and campaigning, and also to recon the Vitebsk-Nevel gap. It is still problematical, however, whether either can be done, or Nazi preparations for winter campaigning eastward of the great Dnieper bend can be checked by the counter attacks in the center.

Burley Chamber Pushes Airport

BURLEY, Sept. 11.—Burley Chamber of Commerce directors met Monday in regular session at the National hotel.

Principal subject confronting the chamber at the present time is the airport project. A discussion of improvements, including design and erection of a hangar together with plans for an administration building took place following a visit here of Dean Miller of Boise, state WPA administrator, and Louis Robert, WPA engineer, both of whom conferred with Mayor L. F. Holtz and city council members relative to the airport. The WPA officials instructed the city council to go ahead with plans and specifications and later such plans and specifications will be submitted to the WPA for approval.

An inspection of the airport was also made by Paul Morris, regional airport engineer, upon his return home from attending the recent district executive conference at Boise.

It was reported by Mayor Holtz that Dean Miller had advised since the plans for the project are underway, that the city incorporate in them the lengthening of one of the runways to approximately 5,200 or 5,300 feet, which he said, would comply with all army regulations.

CANNERIES BUY IDAHO'S PRUNES

Oregon Processors' Purchases Lift Threat of Market Glut

PAVETTE, Sept. 11.—Representatives of two Idaho Ore. canneries were purchasing prunes in Puyette and Boise valleys today, lifting a threat of a glutted market, and removing the need for purchases by the surplus marketing administration.

Harold A. Brock of Portland, Ore., SMA purchasing agent, said the canners were offering $2.20 per ton for No. 1s and were signing up crops expected to total 2,000 tons.

Earlier in the week growers had appealed to the SMA to purchase 2,000 tons at $25 per ton to stabilize the market.

As a result of the new development Brock said the SMA would not purchase prunes in this section. He expressed confidence the canneries would take care of the remainder of the crop.

American railroads expect to have 1,617 available freight cars during the peak of 1941 season in October.

Hagerman's CCC Camp Dismantled

HAGERMAN, Sept. 11.—The Hagerman CCC camp which was built and opened here in October, 1935, is being dismantled. The camp just held its full quota of two hundred boys ever since with the exception of one year when the men were transferred to Shoshone. Harvey Hoff was superintendent of the camp until last May when he resigned to enter the lumber business.

The camp consisted of several buildings, the kitchen, dining hall, infirmary, officers' recreation hall and bunk houses.

An army officer was in charge of the men while they were in camp and the superintendent supervised their working hours. An educational officer was in charge of recreation and their educational work. Lieut. Ralph Jolley was first officer in charge. Lieut. Joe White, who succeeded him, was commanding officer after the longest period. Dr. Luther Thompson has served in camp longer than any other physician. He finally resigned to practice in Gooding. He was also county health officer.

Bob Butler, mechanic, Roy Swartz and Arthur Campbell have served with the CCC as foremen ever since it was organized here. Wallace Hostwick was foreman until he was promoted to superintendent at Three Creek in 1938.

Spike camps have been kept at Clover Flat, at Castle Ford, Indian Cove and Schuler creek.

The CCC boys have a ball, under supervision, 175 miles of road, mostly over the desert, and ten recreation areas.

GOVERNOR SCANS FARMS' FUTURE

Surface of Idaho Agriculture Possibilities Unlapped, Clark Avers

POCATELLO, Sept. 11.—Although agriculture already is Idaho's basic industry farmers have not yet tapped the surface of our capacity or our possibilities," Governor Clark said today in a speech in which he urged increased food production for defense.

Clark spoke at the opening of a food processing unit operated by the Taltrow-Purina company.

"The more conscious of the value of the fighting man and the worker in the factory, today are becoming more and more conscious of the man who produces food," the governor said.

"In fact, the whole world today is conscious of the American farmer, because he more than ever before holds the bread basket of Democracy."

Clark will address a Memorial convention of War Mothers tomorrow at Montpelier and spend the Mackay luncheon Saturday.

None who have visited PILSEN will ever forget its beer

The great, sparkling beer brewed in the old City of Pilsen — to drink it was an experience.

Brilliantly light and lively, it fairly bubbled with good cheer.

It had an aroma and depth of flavor. Even the shortest sip of Pilsner was thirst-quenching... pleasurable satisfying.

Have you considered the taste and life of old Pilsner as something gone forever? Perish the thought! For we've a brew pronounced by many who knew Pilsner best, as the twin — the very equal — of imported!

This beer is Brown Derby Pilsner. Produced of hops chosen for delicate flavor and of finest malt. And checked through each step of its brewing by our own careful quality control.

We invite you now to try this true-to-type Pilsner at our risk.

TONIGHT, take home some Brown Derby Pilsner — enough for your family and a few friends. Cool. Then everybody drink deep of this Pilsner goodness. Unless you find Brown Derby Pilsner a true Pilsner — unless it satisfies you in every way — return the empty bottles to the store where you bought the beer and they will refund your full purchase price.

SHAKE UP TO ... by Kelley Ross

A TALK WITH CLINT Chapter 23 Wrenched myself free and reached for the light. My hand met something hot and unyielding.

"It's Hain, Clint and Alice." "As soon as I find my damn flashlight ..."

I wondered where he had popped from and immediately remembered that this was the same man who had come onto the balcony.

"There was a startled grunt as Nicky awoke at his cubbyhole in the next room. Clint sent him over for a flashlight, then said to me, 'Where's Joe?'

U. S. Regulations Designed to Keep Futures Markets Open CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) - M. Merrill, chief of the commodity exchange administration, told producers and grain brokers today that new regulations designed to keep futures trading will remain open.

Mr. Merrill, who is charged with administration of governmental authority in regulating trading activities on these markets, said the changes have no seemingly paradoxical problems.

He said that the institution of futures trading in farm commodities will continue in this country. It is too old and too soundly established as a pricing and insurance medium to be abandoned.

However, it is fruitless to argue that the futures trading system is not subject to change. The whole machinery of marketing must be adjusted to fit the present as well as the future.

Edward R. Shark, 40, Auto Service Owner, Dies of Pneumonia

BUIH, Sept. 11.—Edward R. Shark, 40, owner of Shark's Auto Service company and resident here since 1905, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Twin Falls county general hospital following 10 days' illness of pneumonia. He became ill a week ago last Sunday, but responded to a call for his weaker side, and his condition became increasingly serious. He was admitted to the hospital last Saturday.

The body rests now at the Evans and Johnson funeral home pending completion of arrangements for funeral services.

Born Jan. 15, 1901, at Delta, Colo., a son of Charles and Cynthia Shark, Mr. Shark came to Twin Falls in January, 1908, and had made his home here since that time. His father established the family home and died the following year.

Mr. Shark attended public schools and took one year's business course in Denver. He was employed by the Buih highway district for five years, and then in 1924 he embarked upon his own business. He operated first a battery and ignition works and in 1929 he purchased the W. W. Motor company business. In 1930 he bought the site of his present business, and in 1930 he erected the building in which the business has since been housed.

On Sept. 21, 1928, he married Mrs. Charles Edward Shark, who was attending the hospital last Saturday.

He was a member of the Buih Presbyterian church, having been baptized by Rev. M. Van Pelt, now first district chaplain at Fort Lewis.

He was lately interested in Boy Scout affairs and was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Besides his wife and son, Joe is survived by his mother, Mrs. John J. Seybold of Buih; one brother, James Shark of Buih, and one sister, Mrs. H. K. Bowler of Buih.

He leaves also three uncles and aunts: Leo Slesinger, Buih; Ed. Slesinger, Delta, Colo.; Mrs. Dickie Dale, Twin Falls; Mrs. Mary Shark, Buih; and Mrs. Bill Eason, Piler.

Others introduced at the meeting were Edward B. Rogel, high school coach; M. G. Doolittle, Buih basketball coach; and John B. Flitt, assistant basketball and football coach.

Wheelchair Sought By Dramatic Class For All School Play

"Wheel chair, wheel chair, who got a wheel chair?" is the current chant of Twin Falls high school dramatic class members, according to Miss Florence Ross, instructor, who last night issued a plea for the desired item.

Reason for the request is the all-school play, "Magnificent Obsession," in which a wheel chair is used in the necessary props. Efforts to date of the production fail to find a chair of this type have been futile. Miss Ross said that anyone having information that might lead to such a chair contact the high school or some member of the class.

The play, written from the famed novel by Lloyd C. Douglas, definitely offers an inspiration for living, and an education, an entertaining love story and characterizations as thoroughly natural as those of the people next door, or just across the street, according to Miss Ross.

Shift in Foreign Policy Stressed

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 11 (AP)—Former United States Senator Rush D. Holt said last night that if the United States achieves national unity "the 20 per cent in this country who want war had better come over on the side of the 80 per cent who do not."

Addressing a public meeting sponsored by the American First committee, the former West Virginia Democratic senator charged the present national administration is following "a policy which is making Americans as pawns for European politics."

"Once we were told to hate dictators," Holt said, "but not now. We've got a dictator on a bed-fellow. And you remember how in 1940 we were told to love Russia and love Finland? Now we're told just the opposite. Perhaps the government soon will build a bulletin board, on which will be posted every day the nations we are to hate and love."
