VICTORY ELUDES HITLER'S ARMIES

Developments Force Fuehrer to Strike Again on East Front

By KIRK E. SIMPSON Interpreting the War News President Roosevelt's grim almost-on-sight order to the American navy has centered attention on Hitler himself. It is conceivable that Hitler himself is now immediately concerned with the campaign against the seas than with western war developments. That Hitler is now admittedly far off schedule due to a Russian resistance that has made a mockery of the first blitzing war bulletins issued from Hitler's own headquarters is also conceivable. He has been Nazi preparations to lay siege to Leningrad, Kiev and Odessa. Hitler has lost before his troops after more than 80 days of the bloodiest fighting in history but little convincing evidence of impending decisive victories. Russian armies, described by German news agencies as crackling up, instead are battering the war-worn Nazi forces before them at Smolensk. Thus far Napoleon's road to Moscow has proved too tough for Hitler. The distance that the French grand army bogged in 90 odd days, took an entire month and even transport, is twice or more that covered by Hitler's motorized legions in the same time. There are growing intimations that German quarters, however, that a further formidable attack will be made before winter sets in. Berlin communications contain at least 60 days of lightning weather remain before snow and sub-zero temperatures break the way on the eastern front for virtually six months. Presumably the 60-day limit applies only to the Black sea flank. The first frosts are already reported in the north. The German army, even from some points in the north-eastern section of the long battle line. All conventional tactics of the Nazi are offensive, although Russian successes have been greater than a defeat. In any event, it now seems clear that German capture of Leningrad could produce no decisive results in Russia for Hitler. He must try something else. If he waits until spring, all the lower reaches of Russian rivers will be frozen and the ice and snow will be too hard to break. This is also true in the steppes of the Ukraine and White Russia in the center. He must strike again now.

Prospects for Strong Idaho Football Crew Brighten

Men From State Normal Schools Bolster Vandals

Dean Lewis, Albion Transfer, Helps Schmidt's Line

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 13 (AP)—Coach Francis Schmidt sent his University of Idaho football squad through the first scrimmage of the practice schedule today to see how well his charges had assimilated early lessons.

The team worked out yesterday in the heavy mud of MacLean field. Moving out of Heale stadium, the Vandals started to reach top shape for the Idaho-Idaho homecoming contest Sept. 27.

With a healthy crew of transfers from Idaho's normal schools, prospects for a strong crew are brightened. A weak spot at left guard was bolstered by 220-pound John Corbett from Lewiston Normal and Lew Lewis, 190-pounder from Albion Normal. Lewis also is a capable center.

Only weakness at present is at quarterback. Schmidt long has planned to reach for Tom Sabin, a left halfback spot. Pete Hecimovich, who arrived late for the practice session, was the only letterman in the position until George Nixon, halfback last year, was shifted to the job this week.

General strength of the team is better. Schmidt worked all summer on a deceptive offensive drive intended to get the ball handled a great deal and passed around considerably.

Likely starters so far are Veto Bertone, right end; Tom Sabin, left end; Vic Aeschbacher, center; Bill Fiedman at tackle, and probably Corbett and Lewis in the guard jobs. The backs will be selected from Dale Glavin and Fred Nichols in the right side positions; Ray Boy or Howard Hanson at left back, either Rudy Peterson or Bill Micklich in the fullback spot and Hecimovich or Nixon at quarterback.

Mangrum Retains Lead in Tourney

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP)—Twenty-six year old Lloyd Mangrum, youngest member of the Montegut Beach Club, getting himself in a lead in the second round of the $5,000 greater Atlantic City golf tournament.

After a dazzling 65 which put him in the lead yesterday, he followed through with a 69, three under par, today to retain the lead with a 134 total.

Meanwhile most of the field found conditions tougher today. Fred Hays, bettered 70 in the first round, but only cracked the mark today, while others felt the effects of a stiff wind in the afternoon.

Lester Little, former American and British open champion from San Francisco, moved into a second by, followed by Jack Peterson, an outsider from Manchester, Vt., each with 138. Little added a 70 to his first round 68 while Peterson tied 67 to his previous 71.

There was a five-way tie for next position among Bert Johnson of New Hampton, Pa.; Vic Orsi, P. O. A. champion from Dezel, N. J.; Ben Hogan of Iericho, Pa.; J. Burnes of Rockville Centre, N. Y.; and Horton Smith, of Pinehurst, N. C., all had 139.

Son of Man o' War Defeats Whirlaway by 4 1-2 Lengths

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 13 (AP)—The big buck ran again tonight on 60th Rhode's Kentucky farm for another son of Man o' War won today — and War Relic did it the hard way by beating the great Whirlaway in the $25,000 Narragansett Special.

The tremendous final drive that made Whittly both windy and famous failed as the three-year-old War Relic went away to sweep under the wire four and a half lengths out from to stun the crowd of 50,000, which had made Warren champion the odd-on favorite.

Bill Robertson, who had brought Whittly home ahead in his last three outings, said he had no doubts — Whittly just was beaten by a better horse today.

Gomez Leads in American League

Veteran Pitcher Tops List With Record of 14 Wins, 4 Losses

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ed Barrow and Joe McCarthy, guiding lights of the New York Yankees, are delighted news that they have found a glib young fellow last winter.

This 31-year-old veteran, one Vernon (Goby) Gomez, told his bosses he was not washed up and that they should give him one more chance to pitch with the Bronx Bombers.

At the present reading he is the red hot pitcher of the American league on won-lost records through Friday's games. Lefty has won 14 and lost four, a remarkable comeback.

Ted Williams, the Red Sox center, batted only .200 last week, dropping him one percentage point to .410. If he can maintain his mark through the week he will be the first American leaguer to top 400 in 1941.

Cecil Travis, Washington, is second with 387 followed by Joe DiMaggio, New York, 356.

NBA's Charges Amuse Promoter

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—It's all very confusing to Promoter Mike Jacobs that the National Boxing Association is blasting the ring monopoly for the same practices he himself has been promoting in N.Y. states have been using for years.

At the same time, Mike is wondering why the state boxing commissions of N.Y. states are so active to him when they want him to bring a big fight into their back yards, and then turn right around and start screaming about nothing when they get off by themselves.

Exceed for those serious side-light on the situation, Mike goes along with the rest of the leading sports writers in getting a laugh out of the how the NBA kicked up at its convention at Winston-Salem, N. C. early this week.

The chief charge made by the fight fathers was that boxing promoters fight to contracts for exclusive promotional rights to their services for periods of time Mike is a fanatic monopolist.

"Well, am I the only guy doing that? Mike asked today, and immediately replied the answer: "I'll tell you right now you'll find the same thing in a lot of other places."

Sports Trail---

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—The National Basketball Association has taken the holding job of putting together a list of the best players in the world. It's a job that admits it's no cinch. We have been a nation of riders and alterers, and the youth of today has gone soft, nerveless and not with stand.

Kelly, a champion oarsman and all-around athlete in his day and night, was the school's first swimmer. He was appointed by President Roosevelt to direct the physical training program under civilian direction.

The idea of such a program was Kelly's. The president called him to Washington.

At the time the president had lost 33 per cent of the young men summoned for the draft would be found physically unfit. Kelly says, "I thought that was a little too high, but it has turned out 45 per cent have been found unfit."

"I was appointed to this job about three weeks ago, and right now we are operating on civilian defense funds. A bill was introduced to appropriate $500,000 just for this work, but before it was acted upon the sponsor died. I expect it will pass eventually."

"We have a pretty good idea of what we will do. We will operate out of the school's gymnasium and other organizations, arranging extended physical training, including strength, hiking, cross-country, for girls, and other activities to build up the physiques of our young men and women. They are in all regions under the civilian defense program and the appointment of Kelly and a woman to direct this program in each region.

The first major move to attract attention to the program will be in November. A week before Armistice Day we will start a civilian defense fund. A bill was introduced to appropriate $500,000 just for this work, but before it was acted upon the sponsor died. I expect it will pass eventually."

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—A bit of encouraging news came to the Cardinals tonight on the heels of their setback in the deciding game of the series with the leading Brooklyn Dodgers when outfielder Terry Linderberger has been out of action since the first game.

The Redbird captain and center-fielder has been out of action since Aug. 20 when he was hit in the head at Boston by one of southwest hit Johnson's pitches.

SOPHOMORE FLASH MAY BE STARTER FOR VOLTS

By HARRY P. SNYDER
AP Feature Service
KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—If Tennessee's Volunteers can find their usual place in the football world this fall, sports writers may find that the name of Bobby Sellers fits snugly into a big, black headline.

Bobby, who was the boy wonder of 1939 when he scored 225 points for his Kingsport, Tenn. high school team and made the folks forget about Chicago's Bill De Corcoran as shooting for a tailback assignment.

For a sophomore to aspire for this post on a Tennessee team is almost like a beginner aspiring for the job of secretary of war.

Well Recommended
Tennessee's recommendations include 125 pounds of ovaloid fitness, long arms with ham-like legs, a 5-foot, 11-inch frame, and a burning desire to follow his brother Ed Cifers, an end who graduated last spring, as a Vol volunteer.

For three years the fans in upper East Tennessee have been talking about what would happen if Bobby had donned the Orange.

"They talk proudly and loudly—almost wildly—when consulting him with Tennessee games as Bobby's Doodie. Gene McEver and Benjie Feathers.

Soon, now, they'll be able to check up on their predictions.

"It's a big, strong boy, all right," says John Barnhill, successor to Melroy Boyd as head coach of the Vols. "We'll use him a lot, but this is a tough league we're in and he'll probably not be in the line late in the season, maybe when he'll be at his best."

That indicates that "Darryl" doesn't expect the dark-haired, 19-year-old to slip right up from the freshman ranks to take up the center job guarded as one of the toughest in the south.

Hard Runner
"It's a hard, loud, shifty runner with a class of kick," says Barny. "He's a triple-threat man but we don't expect him to do the job at hand."

DODGER FARMS PRODUCE 10 MEN FOR BIG SHOW

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New Special Service — Larry MacPhail has purchased a permanent well may be for Brooklyn this year by shopping around at the better places and had a closer look at the Dodgers.

From here on the Dodgers are going to pluck the peaches from the tree. It's taken about three years to do it, but MacPhail now has his minor league orchards set out for the future, and about 10 young men are ready to make the jump to the big show next year.

When MacPhail came to Brooklyn the Dodgers had a farm system which could be called a farm system only with polite license. One minor league club was owned, and there were working agreements with two more clubs.

The first year he didn't do much about the farms as it was a tough enough job doing something about Brooklyn. When finally he did get a chance to look around, he hired a couple of indolent young fellows, began adding a club here and

Brooklyn's Ace Right-hander Notches 20th Victory

Dodgers Take 1-0 Win Over Cardinals in Brilliant Duel Between Wyatt and Cooper

Two Baggies by Walker, Herman Decide Battle

By J. H. ANDERSON
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Brooklyn's doubling Dodger beat a fighting Cardinal team 1 to 0 today behind the superior right pitching of Whitlow Wyatt to bound two games ahead in the nerve-racking National League pennant race.

Confesive two-baggers by Dixie Walker and Billy Herman in the eighth—the first hits of stout-hearted Mort Cooper's perfect one of the most spine-chilling games ever played in Sportsman's park.

For extra innings Cooper held the Dodger slugger helplessly, although three walks in the sixth pulled out the first run in a spot. But his courageous pitching was no greater than that of the Brooklyn ace right-hander who notched his 20th victory. Wyatt ran into his first tight spot in the fifth when Creepy Cooper's double—the first hit of the Cards—and Fee Wee Reiser's error placed runners on second and third. He struck out Hank Strutz out Mancuso and Cooper and made

Thirteen
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Although he pitched only three hits, there were too many 13's today for Cardinal pitcher Mort Cooper. He pitched 13 pitches, 13 balls and 13 strikes. He was wearing uniform No. 13 on Sept. 13. Cooper has won 13 games.

Jimmy Brown roll to Dolph Camilli at first.

Except for five passes, not a Brooklyn player reached first on Cooper for seven frames. The right-hander who was out of action more than a month in the latter of the season for a clipped bone operation seemed needed to perfect one which is every pitcher's dream. Then it faded quickly.

Johnny Hays, firstest of the Red Birds, tried hard to nab Walker's long throw to deeper center which cracked the spell, but it could not be reached, and when Herman hit the first field ball it was all over. The game was watched by 23,951 paying customers.

Survey Indicates Yanks No Better Than Even Choices

BY GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Charley Keller's cracked knick, the latest and worst of a series of misfortunes that have befallen the Yankees in the closing stages of the pennant race, make it fairly certain that the American League champions will be no better than even choices against whichever club they face in the world series, the Dodgers or the Cardinals.

The opinion represents a modest survey taken among players of the Detroit Tigers, currently performing here; among baseball writers who have followed both leagues closely all season; and even among biweekly-the-bottle Yankee fans. It agrees, that, with Keller's big bat, the

Red Sox Tighten Hold on Second Place With Victory Over Browns

Boston Wins, 7 to 2; Chicagoans Lose to Athletics

BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox strengthened their grip on second place in the American League today by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 2, for their fourth straight victory.

The Browns, coupled with Chicago's 3-1 defeat at Philadelphia, stretched Boston's lead to three games. The two teams open a three-game series here tomorrow.

The Browns jumped away to a 3-0 lead in the second inning on singles by Roy Cullenbine, Joe Judge and John Fenchel. But Boston saved up the ball game with five in the third, knocking out Elton Auer, the St. Louis starter.

A pass to Johnny Peacock, Wilson's single and another walk to Don Di Maggio tilted the game with one out. A foregotit tied the score. Then Manager Joe Cronin's triple drove in two more runs, and a pitch to Ted Williams and Jimmy Pate's single added two more.

PIONEER SERIES OPENS IN OGDEN

McCormymen Get Chance for Revenge, Against Pennant-Winning Blaseans in Finals of Shaughnessy Clashes

Ogden's opportunity to save injured feelings comes today in the first game of a playoff series with the Pioneer League titlholders, the Boise Pilots.

And first money of $500 might be expected to sooth a lot of feelings.

The series, the Pioneer League's final post-mortem, will open in Ogden, and will run to five games if necessary. The teams will move to Boise for Tuesday's game.

Ogden entered the finals of the Shaughnessy affair by defeating the Salt Lake Bees Friday.

Boise, however, had some difficulty in its encounter with the Bees. The Reds took a four run lead in the second inning but were unable to maintain it against a Bees barrage of two in the third, three in the fifth and one in the sixth.

They finally tied the score in the seventh, and both teams went scoreless until the tenth when Dale Layton's home run came in with the winning run.

The 60-40 victory of the push money will give the loser of this week's series $400.

Dodgers and Cards Agree to Play Series in Case of Tie

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ford Pick, National League president, called off a conference today with officials of the Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers to discuss playoff procedure in event the season ends in a tie, so all that is needed is the approval of the commissioner.

"All the information is being forwarded to Mr. Landis' office in Chicago."

In the event of a tie, the teams would play a best two-out-of-three series, the site for the first game being selected by a flip of a coin. The second and, if necessary, the third game would be played at the home park of the other team.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

Chapter 35
THE FIVE

Seven people were killed in the "five" first said, "six of the audience and one member of the company ... the juvenile. His body was found in his dressing room. And they found the door locked from the outside. There was an inquest, of course, and the coroner's verdict was death by some person or persons unknown. There was a scrap of evidence, there never was, and the case went untraced. There was a witness, Eve North, who said she saw the door locked."

"But, Jeff, why? Why did he do that?"

"He was rather reticent about the matter. I developed a notion when you still living. No one knew about that woman and Clint Bowers but the juvenile. He tried to kill her, but he worked on both of them, and when neither could meet his demands he threatened exposure. And he meant it."

"Bowers never thought of killing the man to protect himself and the woman. He wasn't a murderer ... not in the way you mean. He thought there was no way out."

"But, then between the acts that night he broke out in the theater. It was none of Bowers' doing. A blight behind the southwest caused the one person could not act. The flames swept through the carpenter and scenery and in a moment the theater was a mass of overpowering smoke."

"Bowers slipped a net cloth across his face and rushed to the dressing room. He found no one in any of them but he reached the floor. And there he found his blackening friend groping hysterically. His hands were groping for him, apparently, but he wanted a moment too long; the smoke had got him."

"Bowers took one look at the man and stopped. He instead of leading him to the door and the door was gaining headway; the entire theater would surely be demolished. No one would ever know that the door had been locked. No one would have seen him to it. So Clint Bowers turned the key ... and rushed out of the theater."

"He was wrong on both points, of course. Eve North, trapped in her dressing room at the other end of the hall, had been sleeping on the floor before she slipped into unconsciousness, overcome by the smoke. Bowers hadn't seen her, hadn't heard her gasp for help."

"And consequently Eve was left to burn ... almost to death. The fire got to her in time, but they didn't know it. The door was too late. And they did discover that the door had been locked."

"Next ..."

"I don't know if Eve ever knew why Bowers had killed him. But she did know that the door wasn't to present the police with a motive. Bowers had been in the theater plenty; she had been an eyewitness to the murder. But Eve never talked. Perhaps her own fear kept her quiet. Or perhaps, even then, she was saving her knowledge for a little later use."

"Jeff stopped long enough to beckon the waiter. "Five got to have another drink, my throat's parched. That damn fire!" He asked for another and he had it. "Five," he said, "water. How now was it?" he asked. "I wasn't listening to myself."

"She knew Bowers had killed a man and she got quiet."

"When she got out of the hospital, despite her cough back and forth, that so few knew about she took up her career again. She became famous and wealthy, the darling of the early twenties. Then she started talking, her looks were going, her youth fading, and she went to the rougher crowd. She was down, out."

"Yeah, poor Eve, she had to resort to blackmail, a very extreme type of blackmail, by then Bowers was the white-haired boy of the American theater. She simply said to him, 'You produce for me, darling, or else the whole world will know that young man locked another young man in his dressing room in the Detroit theater fire. Write me in Detroit.'"

"He could produce for her."

"Exactly. He produced for her and started her, and raised her, and financially and artistically. It must have torn him to pieces to do all that one Broadway producer and five French translations after all the beautiful stuff he had been producing for her. He had to do it. The theater was his life. Some people talk that happen to their lives. Why, Hilda?"

"Go on, darling."

"Well, finally it got him. It was either Eve or her. Either she would be accused it would be Eve. He told her that he looked for a play for two years that would give him a chance to kill her. Finally he found Green Apple. It was perfect. It had drinking scene exactly in the right place. But Green Apple had forgot to put the flowers on the table. Eve the trouper reached the glasses instead of the flowers, and Carol, not Eve, got the poison. Bowers dropped the poison into Eve's glass just before the curtain went up on the third act. And what he must have done some thing that Carol got it ... and when the play turned out to be a hit. He told us that Eve had figured out the plan was meant for her, he would have let her live because Green Apple would've made enough money to him back where he could produce of plays, too, the kind he wanted to do."

"I suddenly remembered. 'When you saw her to talk to her about the acts the second night.'"

"Yeah, that was the first time Eve heard about the poisoning."

"And Clint was in the hall; he heard you and Eve; he realized then that Jeff nodded. 'Right. When I asked her to talk to her about the acts the second night, she had changed the glasses, given Carol the poison. The man was meant for her to know that Bowers was out to get rid of her.'"

"Why didn't she run? For her life?"

"I don't know, Jeff said. 'The shock. She thought she was produced by the twenty people backstage. But Bowers could have had her dead within thirty minutes. She couldn't have had the whole show canceled again in 30, or at the theater again. And when the places were called she took her place on stage as she had been doing for twenty-five years. She had no choice. Her first attack had been planned for months. This had to be done in a hurry."

"That chance came at Eve's first exit in the second act. And every-thing she would have done if she had waited ten or twenty minutes for her next entrance, leaned up against the door and waited for the door to be locked. She whipped it off to look at it after she realized what she had done."

Clark Suggests Name for Camp

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Camp Chief Joseph was suggested by Senator Clark (D-Idaho) today to the war department as an appropriate name for the 42,000-acre army reservation that may be established near Henry Lake, Idaho. Chief Joseph, a Nez Perce Indian, was the leader of his tribe during the Indian war with U. S. troops in the northwest during the 19th century.

Many military writers have described Chief Joseph as one of the most tacticians and strategists of his day.

"I can think of no greater tribute to a truly great military leader than to name this proposed army cantonment in his honor," Clark wrote Major General Emory S. Adams, adjutant general of the war department.

American Obsessions Named-- Democracy, Education, Politics

CALDWELL, Sept. 13—America has three obsessions—democracy, education and political parties," Dr. James Miller of Portland, board representative for synods of Washington and Oregon, told the Idaho State now meeting at the College of Idaho.

"We in America have faith in democracy, believe it will serve us, but it may become a delusion. If we lose some of our control we will descend into barbarism."

Dr. Miller pointed out that all of our efforts were directed to amend the masses and that "it is not a long step from masses to mobs."

"We have implicit confidence that education will save democracy," concluded the former College of Idaho instructor. "Education won't save democracy—it is an obsession that has become a delusion."

The job and salaries following college graduation should not be the paramount objects of our education system, but education should enrich personality so that personality can give us best to democracy. The teacher is the key to the situation. "We need an increase of Christian teachers," he said.

"We have a naive faith in political parties in America," he concluded. The first three weeks of the Constitution, "we the people," not "we the party," will save American democracy. The Christian duty is to make democracy truly of the people."

In closing Dr. Miller said that

RAINS DAMAGE PALOUSE CROPS

$5,000,000 Loss of Unharvested Grain, Pea Crops Estimated

MOSCOW, Sept. 13 (AP)—The drum of heavy rain on fields of the Palouse country crumpled hopes of all but the most optimistic farmers today that something could be salvaged from unharvested grain and pea crops, valued in excess of $5,000,000.

Only one of September's first dozen days was clear and harvest machinery has been gathering ruts in the fields waiting for the chance to roll. Growers who attempted to harvest during rains found crops too wet for storage.

Field peas were beginning to rot on the vines. Beans, normally later in reaching maturity, were beginning to discolor. Estimators placed the percentage of unharvested peas at 80,000, about 40 per cent of the Palouse country total.

Growers said much of the grain, especially that beaten down by winds and rain, was beginning to sprout in the head and that its only value would be for livestock feed.

CHAPLIN CALLED IN MOVIE QUIZ

Willkie and Nye Accuse Each Other of Injecting Race Prejudice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—A senate committee investigating the alleged movie propaganda for war today called Charles Chaplin, movie comedian, to testify Oct. 1 about his picture, "The Great Dictator," as featuring Wendell L. Willkie and Senator Nye (R-Ore.) each accused the other of injecting racial prejudice into the hearing.

Willkie, counsel for the movie industry, asserted in a statement that he was "shocked" at what he described as the "race prejudice" exhibited by Charles A. Lindbergh in a talk at Des Moines and by Nye in testimony before the committee.

"The talk of Colonel Lindbergh in Des Moines was the most un-American talk made in my time by any person of national reputation," Willkie declared. "If the American people permit me prejudice to arrive at this critical moment, they little desire to preserve democracy."

"I was shocked to hear the same sentiments expressed by Senator Nye in testimony before the committee. He remained unshaken by any of the isolationist members of the committee."

Lindbergh had charged that the "hitch-hiker" and the Roosevelt administration groups were lending this country toward "Nye and testified that the movie industry contained many of foreign birth who were interested in lip-
