MEDIATORS TAKE HAND IN STRIKE

Federal Agency Intervenes When 37,000 Miners Quit Work

(By The Associated Press) Acting swiftly, the defense mediation board intervened yesterday soon after 27,000 miners struck a "contingent" soft coal mines.

Chairman William H. Davis announced in Washington that the board was taking "jurisdiction" over the dispute which involves the demand of the United Mine Workers (UMW) that union membership be a condition of employment. He said a return to work and said the board would begin hearings on the case Sept. 17.

The so-called "contingent" mines are owned by the steel companies and their output goes into steel production. Affected by the strike were the following steel companies: American Iron and Steel, Republic, Illinois and Tennessee owned by the following steel companies: United States, Bethlehem, Republic, Young, Wheeling, Crucible and Westinghouse Steel and Tube.

Steel Production Threatened Trade circles estimated that steel production would be sharply curtailed unless coal mining was resumed within two weeks.

Meanwhile, a CIO strike at the Lorain, Ohio, yards of the American Ship Building company was called off in Chicago, a fact-finding board began an investigation of the labor dispute which has brought a threat of a strike by 1,200,000 railroad employes.

The Lorain yard, employing 1,100, had been closed since last Tuesday.

The railroad fact-finding board was announced by President Roosevelt, will hold hearings and make a report to the chief executive. It has the authority to report and, under the law, a strike must be deferred until at least 30 days after it reports.

The railroad operating unions are asking a 30 percent increase in basic pay and non-operating unions are demanding increases ranging from 10 to 25 cents an hour. Present scales vary widely among the different railroads and different classifications within unions.

Freat Dues Hike While the mayor of Hazelton, eastern Pennsylvania, anticipates a strike, ready to declare a state of emergency should violence threaten, the United Mine Workers of America in revolt against increased dues spread this week work-places to try more colliers.

About 16,000 hard coal miners now have joined in the movement or have been forced into idleness since the protest started last Tuesday at Nesquehoning in the Panther creek valley field.

The action has halted operations at every collier in the area. Two major ones attempted to reopen yesterday but a mobster from Panther valley rolled through the action and not enough men showed up to permit operation.

RUSSIANS Report Advances

RUSSIANS declared that Germans were being driven back upon Smolensk, on the central front, at the rate of from seven to 10 miles a day, and spoke of using a pincer operation against German tanks in this area. Heavy fighting was indicated in the Leningrad and Kizsona. Germans said their operations were "progressing well" despite difficulties with rain and mud. In the north, the Finns reported pushing to within 40 miles of Petrosavodsk.

NEW ORDER CUTS AUTO PRODUCTION

OPM Decreases 48.4 Per Cent Reduction in December Passenger Cars

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—A sweeping 48.4 per cent reduction in passenger automobile production for December was ordered by the office of production management today, and some government sources predicted that an even deeper slash might be expected for January and February of 1942.

The OPM said in August that the halving of production would be necessary to conserve steel and other strategic metals for defense requirements.

Leon Henderson, director of civilian supply, said that a wholesale displacement of workers which is expected to result from the curtailment was limited to soldiers with an expected increase in the number of jobs for skilled mechanical workers in aircraft engine and other defense plants. Steps are being taken to place the workers in defense jobs and to direct additional defense orders into the communities most seriously affected.

A comparatively light cut, 9 per cent, was ordered in output of trucks weighing under 1 1/2 tons for August, September, October and November. "Bright-work" and other ornamental but non-functioning parts which absorb large quantities of chrome and other defense metals will soon be banned, it was announced, but no date was set for this step. It was indicated that present car makers would be asked to eliminate trimmings voluntarily.

Slash Expected DETROIT, Sept. 15 (AP)—The 48.4 per cent curtailment in passenger automobile production for December was announced today by the office of production management, was about in line with expectations among the car manufacturers.

Sources close to all the car producers said announcement of this kind that each manufacturer could proceed with assembly plant plans as well as with the distribution programs involved in supplying dealers from the limited production volume.

While admitting some initial buyer resistance due to the absence of definite price announcements and opportunities for comparing all the newest vehicles, the car manufacturers and their sales managers generally look for a shortage of new cars to appear in some sections as early as next February.

Order for Money Held Fraudulent

Day Walker doesn't work for the Utah Construction company any more, it developed after he gave an order to Ralph Holt of Holt's Drive-In in Twin Falls for payment of $15 last Aug. 30.

Walker was found guilty in probate court in Twin Falls yesterday of a charge that Holt preferred of obtaining money under false pretenses, and Judge C. A. Bailey released him under probation for 60 days.

Holt testified Walker gave him the $17 order on the construction company in settlement of a $15 account, and took $2 in cash. The order was returned to the merchant with a note that Walker was no longer in the company's employment.

STRIKE EXTENDS TO SWANKY HOTEL

San Francisco Dispute Forces Convention to Dance to Records

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15 (AP)—San Francisco's hotel strike spread to the swanky Mark Hopkins atop Nob Hill today and forced delegates to the 30th annual California State Hotel association to dance to records.

The orchestra declined to go through 200 pickets surrounding hotel entrances, but the delegates refused to cancel tonight's dinner dance and orchestra recording.

The Mark Hopkins was the sixth hotel to be struck in a dispute which began two weeks ago when the hotel employers association and the unions broke off negotiations. Child labor was closed along and hiring halt. Twenty-eight hotels are members of the association, but members previously had been placed around only the Empire, Keystone, Federal, Edison and Biltmore.

George D. Smith, manager of the Mark Hopkins, said only half of the hotel's approximately 275 employees walked out. He said he would keep the 10-store structure open with the use of non-striking employees who would "step in." Smith said no strikers breakers would be hired.

The Day in Washington

(By The Associated Press) President Roosevelt told congress that exports of American war supplies under the Lend Lease program totaled $109,447,970 up to the end of last month. He said that the flow of goods would accelerate until it became a "torrent, signaling this isolationist tyranny which seeks to dominate the world."

Decision of the neutrality act was discussed at a conference between the president and legislative leaders.

The navy department disclosed that joint army-navy plans had been worked out for censorship of international communications but that they did not comport compulsory censorship of press matter.

December production of passenger automobiles will be cut 48.4 per cent as compared with last December, the office of production management announced.

The $3,253,400,000 tax bill was agreed on by a senate-house conference committee and house leaders will seek approval by that branch of congress on Tuesday.

A double bond in the Mississippi plant of the outbreak-curer Kentucky has given that state about ten square miles of territory that cannot be reached without passing through Missouri or Tennessee.

SERENE AND CONFIDENT

Developments in the war that affect the United States are being met with a calm sequence that seems to be pointed to one but eventually, find the American people in a mood of serene confidence.

But this calmness that is characteristic of the American people today is not the stupor of defeatism. It is a confidence that is founded in universal conviction that, come what may, the republic will triumph over all obstacles and its enemies will fall ignominiously.

But certainly it cannot be said that the reaction of the people of this country to war developments indicates a low national morale. Low national morale would be indicated if the people were jittery and excited and wavering in half a dozen directions.

Efforts to eliminate waste offer definite aid to the rearmament program, according to the National Retail Dry Goods association, which offers specific suggestions to bring this about.

Consumers, says the association, can help by buying carefully. Keep what you buy. Do not return goods except if imperfect or wrong size.

As a matter of tradition, those who enter to the interests and needs of Americans during the summer vacation period have proceeded upon the theory that their offerings must be light, even to the point of being frivolous.

As far as impudence with America's material aid to the United States is concerned, the attitude of the Americans is quite as disturbing and disappointing to the American people as it is to anyone else.

Words and more words urging the United States to all-out fighting participation in the war come with increasing frequency from those who speak for British interests. Some would have the United States start shooting and actually declare war on Germany.

Almost everybody has been reading "Berlin Diary" by a woman from England. "You Can't Do Business With Hitler" and other authentic news works dealing with the world revolution, of whose stirrings Americans are becoming more intimately aware.

Most of Europe's troops, those of Germany especially, are provided with highly concentrated foods that will last several days in an emergency. In one phase of Uncle Sam's defense program the same idea is being developed.

Three complete meals, contained in tiny boxes weighing a few ounces each and easily slipped into a soldier's pocket are among the condensed foods being tested by the United States army.

The nation includes a vitaminized "pop" label, a fruit cake/fluid of dehydrated apricots, peaches, prunes and raisins and a cracker containing special foods that will not spoil. These have 3,111 calories, weigh less than two pounds and are packed in airtight, moisture-resistant cartons, one for each meal.

JUST THINKING THINGS OVER The day the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock marked an epoch in the history of the freedom of the human race.

Just that time on we have advanced, sometimes with faltering footsteps and many backslides, but we have advanced. Looking back to the era of the Pilgrims we can see the tremendous progress.

We invented more useful gadgets and when Europe denied us they were used to our advantage. We made our own medicines and other chemical products.

We in America started out on a shoestring and despite our small beginnings we have made progress that has provided gainful employment for millions of people.

All this is something to be proud of and those of us who realize our fortunate circumstances are overjoyed that we are here.

There is a peevish chatterer, who never knows when to stop his chatter, but he is generally not taken care of when he is bothered, or knowing.

The trend of the present national administration is creating a class hatred complex that should never exist. There is no need for a class hatred.

It is just as wrong an idea to administer all our laws and propound all our policies as it is to do the same thing in favor of capital or any other social or commercial group.

FINLAND OPENS WAY FOR PEACE

Possibility Seen for Removal of One of Russia's Foes

BY KIRK L. SIMPSON
Reporting the War News

One significant aspect of peace talk emanating from Finland is that it is so close to the opening in Moscow of three- or four-Russian-British conferences. This raises the possibility that political-diplomatic developments stemming from the Moscow meetings may even more immediately effect in aiding Russia than the expected Anglo-American commitments to accelerate the flow of armaments to the Soviet.

Finland's readiness to discuss peace formulas with the Russians is clearly indicated by the statement of Valno Tuomi, cabinet member and powerful leader, stressing "good hopes of peace in the nearest future." Although insisting that Finland was not prepared to desert her Nazis, he contended that his country had no more but "defensive" purposes and was not in any way aligned with the Nazi "dictator," "new order" as far as "the great war" was concerned.

No Confidence in Kremlin

Tuomi's most significant utterance, however, may prove to be his statement that the Finns do not have the slightest confidence in the Kremlin rulers and that "since the Soviet will insist that its country will not make a peace with her (Russia) without an ending."

There is a double loop-hole there for the Moscow conference to consider, a treatable peace deal between Finland and Russia under British-American auspices and backed by Russian guarantees. London and Washington as well as Helsinki would remove the first obstacle mentioned by Tuomi. Moreover, the Finnish view that Germany is certain to master Russia in the near future, under a change in the light of the Moscow meetings, which are designed to force adequate Anglo-American help for Russia.

As a matter of strict fact, the Tory and the American press are reporting on Russian sounds like lip-service to the Finnish-Nazi alliance, but are openly plotting to be unfaithful to the Finns. There is an obvious effort to convince, not London and Washington, but the Finnish public opinion that Finnish-German war cooperation is a strictly limited matter, and a move of defensive expediency on Finland's part.

Pledge to Poles

Whether Finland's stated intention of halting her armies at the moment her own frontiers are satisfied could end hostilities so far as Finland and Russia are concerned is a matter of some interest from Nazi capture or "scorched earth" Russian destruction is problematical. And the commitment to restore ravaged Poland if and when Hitler is defeated allows for a president who has not put out his finger.

From the evidence of the war in the east it has been reasonably clear that Finland had limited purposes in accepting the Nazi alliance. It is clear that Russia and the United States would be little concerned with the Nazi-Soviet basis beyond the line when Russia is reclaimed from Russia. There now are strong indications from official and other sources that Hitler is dissatisfied with Rumanian war effort. The Ostessa signed Rumanian public opinion is beginning to balk at sending armies beyond Rumania to aid in a Nazi conquest of all Russia.

Alcatraz Officer Nips One Escape

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15 (AP)—John E. Bayless, sentenced from Missouri for bank robbery, attempted to escape from Alcatraz penitentiary today but was caught before he could swim from the island.

Bayless, the warden said, was with a garbage crew, picking up refuse around the island. When officers noticed he was gone from the line, they sounded an alarm and one guard, pointing ahead, saw the inmate climbing over rocks through the water.

"Bayless didn't get a chance to swim," Warden Johnston said. "He came back quietly when he heard the officers yell. He is now in custody with no more harm than bruised shins and a wetting."

Bayless was sentenced to 25 years in Alcatraz for robbing a national bank in the western Missouri district.

BRITISH CLING TO HOLIDAY CUSTOM

People Still Take Friday to Monday Off Despite Epithet

By EDY GILMORE
By Cable to AP Feature Service

LONDON—Two years of war have brought bombs, death, destruction and suffering but they haven't done away with that cherished institution, the British weekend.

The government argues against it, the newspapers urbane against it, the patriots proclaim against it, but the people still take their Friday-Monday holiday, arguing that long hours of war work in the city air entitle them to it.

Last spring hundreds of buildings caught fire and many were ruined because volunteer fire watchers had left London unguarded for the weekend. To make matters worse, the firemen and demolition workers who had to clean up the damage were severely injured by slights from the country.

Everyday I found hotels in half a dozen cities so crowded that no rooms were available. Fortunately, one proprietor offered me a couch in his parlor when he discovered I was an American.

I have seen the Thames river near London in frock of the boats that have had to be formed. There were long lines in front of the rowing rental establishments. At a private party on a smaller river, the water was swarming with boats, big and little. Some were power boats, although gasoline is short.

No Luncheon at Cricket

The crowd at a large cricket match that it is impossible to fight your way in for lunch. People are always waiting on weekend days because all seats except first class are occupied. Once I had to stand for 20 minutes because even the first class sections were full.

There are almost always run out of fuel early Saturday afternoon. Tobacco stores are out of cigarettes and staves dry of milk.

Conditions at London's biggest outdoor swimming place resemble those at Long Island. One weekend recently I decided to go to Newbury for a routine racing meet. The special train to the track was packed 15 minutes before departure. "There's so much business," said the station master, "that we're running another special."

The words that Great Britain and neighborhood movies are packed. Even $2 and $2.50 seats are well taken. On the night Walt Disney's Fantasia opened all the seats except one box were sold and people were waiting in a long line.

Supervisor Named Of Weiser Forest

WEISER, Sept. 15 (AP)—J. G. Kooch, assistant supervisor of the Idaho national forest, has been named supervisor of the Weiser national forest in succession to John Rappaport, it was announced here today.

The new supervisor is expected to return to the office here September 20.

For 10 years he was a district ranger in Targhee national forest. For the past five years he has been stationed at McCall. He became assistant supervisor of the Idaho national forest there in 1939.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY FOR TOWN HALL

Letters to Prospective Members Outline Offerings

With the Twin Falls Town Hall season scheduled to open September 25 when High Wilson, career secretary of the society, will address the audience, officials last night were busy with the preparation of a membership roster.

Secretary Vivian Carlson yesterday dispatched to former members invitations to renew their memberships for the approaching season, and these letters outlined the many advantages to be found in Twin Hall attendance. Emphasis was placed on the benefits of the town hall program, which includes a list of speakers for which contracts have already been completed. The total list is expected to include eight lectures.

President Loyal I. Perry last night announced that the membership price of $5 pays for the entire program, so that the individual cost is only 10 cents per speaker.

The letter sent out by Secretary Carlson points out that "These of us who live in the Magic Valley do not often have the opportunities to hear the best of the speakers from other parts of the country. Twin Hall has brought us many of these speakers and we are sure you will find them to be even better noted figures. The excellent program secured. Town Hall has many members in this section is an indication that the town hall program is being used, at least in some measure, in this much needed contact."

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—Henry Ford's defense effort, a project totaling $100,000,000 for the production of tanks, is heading rapidly into the mass production stage. The 78-year-old manufacturer demonstrated this to a group of several hundred news and trade paper editors and writers at a public showing of new model automobiles.

In the new $12,000,000 aircraft engine plant, not yet completed, the big 18-cylinder Pratt & Whitney radial six-cylinder engine is being shown. Others were seen in test cells, undergoing both preliminary and final tests.

At Willow Run, near Ypsilanti, Mich., the publishers and editors were shown through the big plane factory, described as potentially the largest in the world, in which Ford will build both sub-assemblies and complete consolidated B-24D bombers for the United States.

SOUTHERN IDAHO LISTS NOMINEES

Shoshone Meeting Prepares to Elect New Officers at Jerome

SIOGHONE, Sept. 15.—Nominees of a slate of new officers, headed by C. A. Edmonson, Abilene, for the Shoshone Association, met for business during tonight's monthly meeting of Southern Idaho, Inc., in Shoshone, which is the local chapter of Commerce as host.

Other nominees are D. A. Lifferson, Jerome, first vice president; N. K. Jensen, Rupert, second vice president; Raymond Averill, Idaho Falls, secretary; and George R. Schwanner, Richfield, treasurer.

Election is set for the next meeting, which, upon the invitation of Gilbert White, will be held at Jerome on the 20th. New officers will be installed at that time. The retiring president is Deane S. Stupple of Kimberly.

The meeting, attended by 39 members, heard reports by Glenn Maxwell, Shoshone, upon the Four-Slates Highway convention at Missoula, Mont., which he attended last week-end. He told the gathering that Allen C. Merritt, Idaho director of highways, was among the leading speakers at the party and that an effort was instituted to bring the next summer convention to Idaho.

Ford's Giant Aircraft Factories Nearing Mass Production Stage

The factory, expected to cost $100,000,000 and produce 3,700,000 square feet of floor space, will employ 40,000 men at peak production next year.

To date Ford has procured orders for $480,000,000 worth of bombers and sub-assemblies. At peak production the projected schedule calls for sub-assemblies for 100 planes and 20 completely assembled bombers monthly at the plant.

One complete Pratt & Whitney aviation engine now is coming from the aircraft factory production line. When peak output is reached 40 a day will be ready for delivery.

Ford indicated today that he was now worried over possible uses for defense factories once the present emergency is over. Asked what would happen if the huge factory at Willow Run and within the Rouge factory area, when fighting planes were ordered to enter are required, he said, quickly:

"Why, we'll go on making airplanes. Ford said the work now being done in aircraft manufacture would give tremendous impetus to flying after the war. He dismissed the suggestion that he cannot be thinking of plans for leaving flight."

"We lug things around too much now," he said.

Following the new model announced was preceded by a detailed explanation of how numerous critical and strategic metals had been diverted to defense purposes by the development of alternate materials. Asserting that the use of alternate materials had in no way lessened the quality of the new models, E. H. McCull, chief metallurgist of the Ford company, said the principal effect of the changes was an increase in manufacturing costs, since some of the materials now used were more difficult to fabricate.

The new Lincoln, Mercury and Ford models will feature more massive front treatment, with rounded hood contour, wide sweeping fenders and wider and lower body design. An optional equipment a new automatic gear shifting device was announced for Lincoln and Mercury models.

It is called "liquamatic drive" and consists of a liquid coupling and an automatic transmission.

Meeting Scheduled With CAA Chief Morris at Seattle, Washington

A conference at which Mayor Joe Koehler will seek further clarification of the proposed Twin Falls airport improvement project will occur here Monday afternoon. At Seattle, the city's chief executive announced during his night city council meeting.

Traveling the background of this latest development in the local airport project, Mayor Koehler pointed out that he received a communication from Lewis Roberts, state director of WPA operations, accompanied by two sets of plans for the airport project. One of these was prepared by the WPA office at Boise, and the other was based upon suggestions by the mayor and city engineer and includes taking in of additional land.

Urges Meeting
In his letter, Director Roberts recommended that an appointment be made with Paul Morris, CAA supervisor of airports at Seattle to arrange for a visit to the site by a CAA official to make recommendations for the final master plan. When this is done, the WPA can accept the project and assist further for the final master plan.

Upon receiving this suggestion, Mayor Koehler wired the CAA supervisor, who replied that an appointment Saturday morning will be satisfactory. Mayor Koehler indicated that the other two sets of plans, as he also plans to visit, are to be reviewed this week-end at Paul Morris' office.

An address by a qualified speaker upon the current defense activities and stamp program will be a highlight of next Sunday afternoon's Twin Falls city employees' picnic at the interglades in Filer. General Chairman O. H. Coleman announced last night.

Arrangements for the speaking place of the program are in charge of Truman T. Greenhill, who is in charge of the picnic. Although the picnic is scheduled for next Sunday, it will be held on Saturday because of a conference at Seattle, Wash., with CAA officials upon the Twin Falls picnic.

Committee chairman on the picnic will meet Wednesday evening at the city hall to check final plans for the gathering of city employees, which will open at 1 p. m. Sunday. Besides a picnic lunch, games and other recreation will comprise activities of the afternoon.

The United States has more than 225,000 miles of underground gasoline, natural gas and oil lines, according to estimates.
