

CARDS AND CUBS FURNISH FEATURE IN SPORT WORLD

Rivals Clash In Chicago In
First of Four Game Series

PAT MALONE TO PITCH

St. Louis Has Three Wins to Credit

CHICAGO, Apr. 18 (UPI)—The Cubs, foremost contenders for the National league pennant, opened a 4-game series here today with a 4-3 victory over the Cards.

Three straight victories over Cincinnati enabled the Cardinals to take a 2-1 lead in the series, but then the Cards won the next two games, the last two leading to the lead by nightfall. If the Cards win they will go into first place, providing the Braves lose to Brooklyn.

Malone Ready.

Pat Malone, who was 20 games and lost nine last season, was second best pitcher in the early part of the season in the box for the Cards. Wild Bill Hallahan, who was 16 games and lost 9 for the Cards, was the most brilliant masterpiece against the Athletics in the world series, was expected to do well here.

Ron Hornsby's playing and managing dominates the Cards during the opening series at least.

He has been the most outstanding cut of four games from the Pirates, and home runs by Hornsby accounted for the Cards' victories. His home run on Wednesday gave the Cards a 6-5 victory, while he hit another one yesterday with a double to give his team a 6-4 win.

Hornsby's Strategy.

In yesterday's game, Hornsby's clever hitting and brilliant fielding and winning run on base in the ninth inning, with Guy Bush, the Cards' right-handed pitcher, sent in Lester Sveenland, a southpaw, to pitch to two left-handed batters. Then the derrick-headed Hornsby, who had beaten the Pirates in the second game, and who again started the game, went to the mound.

It was Hornsby himself who scampered back of second to take Conroy's grounder and threw him out to end the game.

Greater heat resistance! due to the Higher Flash-point of this improved motor oil

ONE of the sensational improvements in Vico motor oil, the result of long research and experiment in our laboratories, is a higher flash-point.

This means that now Vico has greater ability than ever to stand up under the blistering heat inside your motor. It means that no matter how fast and hard you drive, your motor will always be protected by that vital film of oil. Vico, with its higher flash-point, brings a new and greater factor of safety to your cylinder walls, pistons, bearings!

Along with this remarkable improvement Vico also possesses these superior features:

The "oxidation test" has been improved, resulting in longer life for the oil—a cleaner, fresher oil for longer periods of time, with less tendency to form sludge in the crankcase.

Immediate and positive lubrication to all moving parts the instant you start, due to the improved "cold test" of Vico.

You'll have a cleaner, smoother-running motor than ever before, because Vico is practically carbon-free. Vico has always been lower in carbon content than most other oils... now its small trace of carbon has been further reduced!

And with all these vital improvements, you now buy Vico at lower prices. Quantity production, due to increasing demand, makes these new prices possible. Change to Vico. You buy it with the protection of a money-back guarantee.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

Drain your crankcase. Replace with New Vico. Then drain 1000 miles, maintaining the oil-level with New Vico, and if you find that you have not had better performance from your car with less consumption of oil than with the old oil, with any other oil of similar body you have ever used, your dealer will refund the purchase price of the New Vico.

SAN FRANCISCO

IT was one of the early triumphs of radio when, twenty-five years ago at 5:15 in the morning, wireless stations caught a message reading "San Francisco is afire—send marines and dogs."

On Mare Island, directly opposite the city, in San Francisco Bay, the radio station caught this message, and in an inconceivably short time two hundred marines were on their way to the scene of the fire. During the three days and two nights of that terrible conflagration these men performed the heroic duty that the country has learned to expect of the marines, soldiers, sailors and volunteers, in the brave and effective work they did to save life and property in the stricken city.

San Francisco has made a truly remarkable recovery in the twenty-five years just passed. After the Herculean work performed by the marines, business, small over this county, of ours took up the burden, aiding the rebuilding of this great city is due to the courage, patience and progressiveness of commerce and industry.

PROVIDING STEADY WORK

ONE of Jim Williams' recent "Our Own Way" sketches provided material for a good deal of serious thought.

It showed a group of men in a machine shop. They were dancing and hugging one another in glee; for a start from the business office had just come in with the information that a big order had been received, one that would provide the shop with steady work for at least six months to come.

Now it happens that Williams got his joke out of the superintendent's effort to remain calm and unemotional in the face of the good news; but the thing that sticks in one's mind, somehow, is the picture of these workingmen, beside themselves with joy because they know that they are assured of steady employment for the next half year.

It reminds one, inescapably, of the way in which the ordinary man in these days is completely at the mercy of business forces about which he knows very little.

When a man starts out into the world to make his living he more or less takes it for granted that things are strictly up to him, once he has passed his apprenticeship. If he is a good, honest worker; if he gives 60 minutes of reliable work for every hour's pay, if he tends to business and does his job capably—then, he believes, everything will go nicely.

That, to be sure, is the way it should be. But it doesn't always work out that way, and Williams' little sketch is a tragic reminder of the fact.

A man can be the best worker in his trade. He can be conscientious and everlastingly reliable. He can be working for an old established concern that has the reputation of treating its employees with fairness.

But still he cannot be sure of his job. He cannot have that security which is essential to a sense of well-being.

If the order does not come in properly he is out of luck. He is completely at the mercy of economic forces which he cannot understand. A slump in business, originating 2000 miles away, can reduce him to the status of the incompetent and the rebellious unemployed. Neither skill nor sobriety will help him if the plant produces goods that cannot be sold.

It is this simple fact, that is the most damning accusation yet leveled against our economic system. Somehow—and the worst of it is that nobody seems to know exactly how—it has to be changed. We must have conditions in which an honest, capable and industrious worker will always be sure of steady work and a steady income. Williams' sketch reminds us how far we have to go to reach these conditions.

A VICTORY IN DEFEAT

THERE is something to admire in the conduct of former King Alfonso of Spain in the recent political upheaval which brought about his overthrow.

Since 1923, Alfonso has waged a desperate fight to save his throne. He established a dictatorship. He used every political trick he could devise, and when it comes to quick thinking, there are few more clever than he.

Even when election returns showed tremendous Republican gains throughout the country, and defeat seemed inevitable, the king kept up the battle.

But when he had exhausted every peaceful means and realized that further defiance would throw the nation into bloody civil warfare, the king quit.

For even defeat, Alfonso's thoughts were for his subjects, something that is extremely rare in kings. And to a real man to put thoughts for others above those for oneself.

Glorified Symbols of Jazz Favored at Dance

Symbols of jazz and modern melody created a setting of animation and originality for the ninth annual Tri-C ball Friday evening at Danceland. Described as a jazz sports ball, it was a triumph of imagination and a delight to the guests. The younger sports costumes worn by the boys and girls were an interesting departure from the more formal and conventional attire.

ONE DEAD, FOUR HURT IN BATTLE

Churches Exchange Musical Programs

KIMBERLY, Apr. 18 (UPI)—The church of the Holman Community church with a service at the Kimberly Methodist church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whitney were present at the church at their country home to 21 miles away where he was serving preceding the fatality which occurs went to Marion Hill, wife of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson for the women, Mr. A. J. Wilson and R. G. Wilson for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wilson, Mrs. Ethel Wood and Miss Hazel Ward have returned from a visit West Africa. Little Miss Dorothy Dill, who has been away all week at the Wilson home has returned to Aberdeen.

The boy was given by the women a goodly present given an enjoyable as well as remunerative affair.

J. W. Smith, 32, pipe line worker, succumbed to his burns in hospital here Saturday night.

Claude Upchurch, part owner of the new gasher, was one of the victims of the blaze. He was alive when he was found by his son, H. Gray, vice-president of the Sabine Pipeline company, suffering from burns, but died Saturday evening in a long-term hospital. His condition was serious.

R. C. Hobom, about 35, a blue collar worker, was a first victim in the hospital, according to E. T. Greene, a tank owner, was in a Tyler hospital, critical, it was learned.

Flash of Flame

The fire started early last night, with such suddenness that none of the victims were certain as to exactly what caused it.

Gray, told attendees at the Longview hospital that just as he was getting ready to go to bed, he heard a sharp crack, was masking a connection, stimulated else of the ground, and gritted to a derrick beller, 160 ft. above the ground, he realized. The flash of flame, he said, spread instantly to the latter.

Another report was that the explosion occurred when a workman carelessly struck a match to light another cigarette.

REFUGEES TELL HARROWING TALE OF REBEL FIGHT

Survivors Say Sandino's Men Chopped Bodies After Slayings

TWO OF DEAD RETURNED

Citizens Blitter at Alleged Lack of Protection

ABOARD S.S. CEFALIA, in Mississippi river (UPI radio) Apr. 18—American refugees were returning to America, still told after their long exile, to return to their homes. Twenty two of them were women and children, grief-stricken at the loss of loved ones and reparation from their families.

The flag of the Central rescue steamer of the Standard Fruit Company, which had been captured by rebels, was flying over the ship. The properties were the object of the insurgent attacks near Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, where the rebels entered the mouth of the Mississippi on their way to New Orleans. The bodies of two of an American crew, Captain James Hartley Petey of the Marlin, and William T. Seiter, Jackson, and their wives accompanied his body.

BEAN TARIFF HEARING Postponed To Fall

Publishing of the following statement in a local newspaper Thursday of this week, has resulted in a generalization before Congress, that the bill introduced by Senator Hartley Petey of the Marlin, and William T. Seiter, Jackson, and their wives accompanied his body.

The refugees were forced to run from the rebels, who had taken them from the cruiser Andrade, filled to land, and gave protection to American sailors, and M. V. Vargas, returning to New Orleans yesterday.

H. Davis, refugee, told me that General Sandino was in a party with General Andrade but American citizens there were not. American citizens there were not.

John W. Lloyd, 18, told of being taken from the cruiser Andrade, and his other party to come to Washington at this time, the tariff hearing was postponed until next fall its hearings date adequacy of the existing tariff on beans.

During the winter, a widespread demand went up from western bean growers for an embargo on imports of beans, and the fact that the Orient was being down-beamed at American ports at far less than the cost of production.

"Inasmuch as the embargo could not be, had been growers asked for a tariff, and the tariff was not the result of the free trade provisions of the Smoot-Hawley act. To accommodate them, the tariff commission recommended that the tariff be increased, but postponed the hearing to a date to be announced later.

Inquiry to Senator Borah and the tariff commission reveals that no request for the postponement came from Michigan and other eastern growers.

Mrs. Maude Ahern, Clarksville, Iowa, told a gruesome story of bodies of all but two of the rebels who had been captured by rebels. "Part of the bodies were not found. The heads of four men killed in the first outbreak were found in a box, and the bodies of the dead bodies lying nearby."

Mrs. Ahern said she had unapologetically told the American people that she was aware of the inhumanities of the revolutionaries.
