

GRAND CHAPTER OF O. E. S. UNDERWAY

Mrs. Bill Malone, Twin Falls, Presides; Drill Team Performs

MONTPELIER, June 9 (Special)—Grand chapter of Idaho, Order of Eastern Star, officially opened Tuesday morning at the Hotel "Idaho," Twin Falls, worthy grand matron, and Albert E. White, Daughters of the grand patron, and their associate, Mrs. Frank and Mabel and South Sterling chapter are hosts to the chapter.

Twin Falls chapter's drill team opened the Tuesday morning's session with a impressive drill. The drill was performed at the reception honoring the worthy grand matron, grand officer, and their associates, and the 6 o'clock banquet at the Hotel "Idaho," convenient headquarters.

Tuesday's sessions were devoted to the formal opening of the chapter, announcement of candidates, presentation of watercolor and sketches, election of officers, reports and exemplification of ritualistic work.

Mrs. E. A. Neidhart, east coast theater personality, matron and patron, will preside at the ensuing session Wednesday, bringing along the highlight of the evening with the presentation of the ceremony of "Joy's Daughters by Postcard girls and the "Joy's Daughters by Mail girls." An agreeable third messenger and Grand guardian of "Joy's Daughters" during the special luncheon service, will be Mrs. John C. Hightower, Jerome, who will sing the ballad song "A Picnic at the Lake" and one of Wednesday's entertainments.

Thursday Mrs. Malone presents the worthy grand matron's jewel to the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Matilda McElroy, Twin Falls. Mrs. McElroy will present the past grand matron's jewel to Mrs. Matilda. The worthy grand matron and patron will be presented with the past card to which his office entitles him, "Sister-in-Law." Thursday's luncheon will be served in the home of the grand matron and patron, Mrs. Nellie Ostrem, Twin Falls, will ring the closing bell.

Murder Is Hinted In Beauty's Death

LONG BEACH, N. Y.—A young man, who may have been forced into death, passed away after an autopsy revealed that Miss Stacey Faithful, beautiful, 23 year old daughter of a wealthy retired chemist, manufacturer had been injured before she body was washed ashore.

Miss Faithful disappeared mysteriously, after leaving her Greenwich Village rooming house from the home of Mayor James J. Walker, Friday morning. At that time she told her step-father, Stanley Faithful, that she was going to do some shopping.

Dr. Otto Schatzki, after completing his autopsy, stated he believed it was said that Miss Faithful had met death by drowning. He added, however, that her arms and legs showed several injuries, doubtless fingermarks made before death.

Fascists Deliver Note To Vatican

ROMA, June 9 (UPI)—The Italian reply to the Pope's protest against the recent Catholic-Papal front, was answered to the Vatican today.

The note was addressed to Cardinal Pacelli, Papal secretary of state, to Count Cesare De Vecchi, the Italian ambassador, Pacelli informed his "colleague" in the Pope after consulting with his brother, Marquis Francesco Pacelli, who was the Pope's unofficial personal representative, and his relations conducted by Cardinal Gasparri and Mr. Francesco Borghesani-Duci.

Under plans for government control of radio broadcasting the 23 stations in Italy, including Rome and France will be reduced to 16 of sufficient power to adequately cover the country.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST LOWMAN

NEW YORK, June 9 (UPI)—M. L. Lowman, 50, president of the prostitution administrator for this district, announced today that he had filed specific charges against Seymour J. Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prostitution.

Campbell, now editor of the magazine "Repeal" and his charges are based largely on an article written by him and published in the late New York World soon after he received his appointment.

One of the chief charges Campbell makes is that Lowman, before his arrest, sought to "use his influence to cause the New York Brewers and Distillers Association to keep New York City dry."

Lowman, who is president of the National Dry Goods and Clothing Association, was indicted yesterday, June 8, to cease his vigilance in the supervision of certain New York breweries and distilleries, and to keep New York City dry.

Calling the identity of his assailant.

Last night Ondora, who is serving a three year prison sentence for this offense, admitted to Captain William Bright, of the sheriff's office, that he shot Rothstein because the gambler failed to produce money on a $1000 note given to him by Rothstein in connection with running narcotics between New York and Chicago.

Gordon, 26, who was tried and acquitted for the murder, and another man and a woman were in the room at the time of the killing, Ondora said, according to Bright.

THE BRIGHTEST SIDE

The uses of adversity, according to the old adage, are sweet, even if they don't seem so at the time; in the same way, the extremely unpleasant business depression of the present moment is doing the country a good deal of good, although the man who hasn't had a job for six months may doubt it.

After looking into the troubles arising from industrial stagnation, the Twentieth Century Fund of New York, has concluded that philanthropic organizations can no longer satisfy themselves with meeting needs as they arise; instead, they must realize that their first obligation is to reduce the need for philanthropy, and that they must do what they can to help adjust our business and industrial organization accordingly. In its annual report, just issued, the association remarks:

"Insofar as the philanthropy of today can assist in the solution of our economic problems, it can contribute more fundamentally than ever before to the material and spiritual welfare of the individual—which has always been the object of intelligent giving. Only by such basic improvement, in fact, can the need for charity ultimately be reduced."

Now this may be nothing more or less than plain common sense, but it is a new way for a philanthropic organization to talk, and it is indicative of the changed public attitude that has developed since the depression began.

People are beginning to realize that something fundamental must be wrong with our economic order if a depression like the present one can engulf it, and people are beginning to insist that the defect be set right. The nation is not going to be satisfied much longer with a process of mudfling through.

If we have an economic system that produces periods of distress every few years, we shall insist that the system be changed, instead of being content to devise relief measures after the damage has been done. We shall continue to be philanthropic, but—as the report of the Twentieth Century Fund points out—we shall face the fact that philanthropy, by itself, is not enough.

This changed attitude, which is becoming more evident day by day, is important. The self-satisfaction of the past half dozen years has done us a great deal of harm. It is time that we got into a different frame of mind.

GOOD NEWS FOR SAILORS

IF THE DEPRESSION has done nothing else, it has at least helped out the sailors in the United States navy a little bit. Due to the fact that the constant use of holystones wears out wooden decks and makes costly replacement necessary, the Navy Department has ruled that hereafter holystones will not be used, except occasionally to remove stains and spots.

The layman may not understand, but the sailor will tell this as a real boont. "The holystone, which keeps decks white and glistening in true naval fashion, is one of the meanest things to operate imaginable." After spending half an hour on his knees, wearing the skin off of his knuckles and getting a crack in his back by holystoning some obscure corner, the sailor usually begins to wish he had never enlisted. If economy, born of the depression, has banished the holystone from the daily routine, the sailor's life is going to be a whole lot sunnier!

CAPABLE FLYERS

THE most interesting thing about the great aerial demonstration recently staged by the Army Air Force was the fact that it was carried through to a conclusion without a fatality. This was despite the fact that the planes flew nearly 2,000,000 miles, and that the law of averages called for at least six deaths. This speaks volume both for the planes used and for the men who flew them. The planes must have been excellently designed and built, and their engines must have been in first-rate condition. And as for the pilots themselves—one can only marvel at the skill and reliability shown by the army's flyers.

RICHARD GLAVIN

THE death of Richard Glavin, prominent Salmon tract land owner and official, removes an important figure in the history of that project.

He has carried the brunt of many legal fights in the interests of himself and fellow-settlers and throughout his career there displayed perseverance and a sense of fortitude which doubtless set an example for less courageous.

How rich the Salmon tract is all under cultivation, as it eventually shall be, and its early struggles shall have recorded, the name of Richard Glavin, along with those of many another hardy pioneer, will be written in its pages of history, and deservedly so.

It is reassuring to learn now from the Associated Press that one year ago Vern E. Russell, reputedly murdered, was still alive. Russell, a "forlorn Buhl, Idaho girl," bit the dust for several months as a baby in Connecticut. Idaho supplies plenty of principals to the stories of her own without the necessity of going out of the way to fasten additional ones on the locality.

WILLIAMS and the DIAHES

The DIAHES lived in a small house on the south side of town. They used the same bathtub.

The difficulty was that both families wanted to use it at the same time.

First Charles Wilson, 40, descended in the entrance used by Mrs. Diahes. Then his son, Jim, burst promptly, tore down the obstruction and went up and out again.

Then both families sought to enter at the same time. Jim, the son, refused to let go.

Then Dan Diahes entered the Wilson entrance.

Wilson, according to the Diahes, closed the door, and then began shooting through it.

For Jim, for Jim, for Jim, for Jim, for Jim, I started shooting right back," Dan told John Evans, deputy sheriff, in explaining why he was seriously hurt.

Dan was held in jail.

Society and Club News

Bride of June
Is Supper Guest

Entertains Card
Club At Luncheon

Mrs. H. E. Jones and Mrs. D. C. Dugan entertained Mrs. Clara Hall with an early and pointed bridge supper Monday evening at her home in the garage on 26th and Main. At home.

Miss Irene Costello was the prize for high score. Miss Hall received a bouquet of flowers, $10.00, a guest, intimate friends of the house, who were hidden in the affair.

Quantities of peanuts decorated the long tables, which served a portion large and three small tables. The large table had as a centerpiece, a seven-branched candelabrum with candles in crystal holders, covered the smaller tables.

CALENDAR OF CLUB AND LEAGUE EVENTS

The Paul State Grand Council will meet at the home of Mrs. H. E. Jones, 26th and Main, Saturday evening, June 11, at 8 o'clock.

Community church ladies' Aid Society will meet in the church parlor Wednesday afternoon, June 11, at 2 o'clock. Members are asked to bring quilts and carpet pieces.

The R. C. A. club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. S. Scott, 26th and Main, Saturday, June 11, at 2 o'clock for a potluck supper.

Members are requested to wear house clothes, which include a red dress and sandals. The picnic is for members only.

The Gem State Club will be entertained by Mrs. Andy Jensen, June 11, at 2 o'clock instead of the regular meeting day. The business session will be held at 8:30 a.m. luncheon, followed by a social hour, invited to begin at 9 o'clock.

The Women's Council of the Christian church will meet at the church parlor Saturday, June 11, for an all day meeting. Camp will leave the church grounds at 10 o'clock. Each family will be asked to bring a dish, service and a covered dish, also, gorp, rags, needles and thread.

ENTERTAINMENT

Mrs. Cora Johnson, who was graduated this spring from the University of Iowa, has returned to Twin Falls to care for her father, J. N. Jensen, and her sister, Miss Myrtle Jensen, who accepted a position with Waddington, D., to attend the commencement exercises. Miss Cora Jensen, who has improved in speech and deportment, will be in charge of the class presenting the commencement play, "Berkeley Square." Miss Jensen is a member of the American Players, and Whitney Literary Society.

GUILD MAKES STUDY OF GOVERNMENT

The government of the United States was discussed by the University members of the University Guild at the home of Miss Crystal Kelly, Miss Nuttie Hale, Mrs. L. E. Gustav, and Mrs. G. L. Johnson, June 11, in the basement of the home of Mrs. Elsie White, the legislative, and Miss Agnes Whitehead, the executive.

The English translation of Gustav's book, "From Day to Day," was reviewed by Mrs. Joslyn, Miss Kelly scored refreshments.

PLANS YEARS THIRTY TO COAST AND COUNTRY

Miss Alice J. Shaw, resident of Twin Falls for the past 21 years, has rented her residence, 325 Fourth avenue north, and is moving with her husband, Paul Howard, to Los Angeles, Fresno and Stockton. Later she will go to her former home, Pa. for a while. She expects to be away from Twin Falls about a year.

Boots and Her Buddies

HEY! NO FAIR!! LOOK
OUT! OW!

A pilotless plane, planing downward from a height of 6000 feet, crashed through the roof of a Washington house, leaving the engine shown here. When the plane, which Paul Howard, citizen of Twin Falls, was flying, exploded, he fell from the plane and plunged towards the house, breaking Francis into the water, causing him to hold onto the saddle.

PAJAMAS FOR THE HOSTESS

Three Power City men, A. H. Schell, Cotton T. Luman and Al Hook, who were fishing on the Snake River, were pulled from their boat and rushed immediately to the spot and dazed repeatedly by the spray. Another group of four men, who were pulled from the boat, were pulled towards the bank, dragging Francis into the water, causing him to hold onto the saddle.

MINDOKA MEN SELL WOOL POOLS

Wool Delivers To Be Made
To Paul and Rupert
At June 12 and 13

HOPERT, June 9 (Special) — The Mindoka County wool pool sold their wool to Shoshone and a number of Chinese buyers at a price of 12½ cents per pound, lots being opened Thursday night, June 4. There were 1,000 bales, each weighing 100 pounds. This price is very low, but seems to be all the present market will warrant and seems to be about right.

The wool will be delivered at the Oscar Nelson warehouse in Paul, Oscar, June 12, and the remaining purchases in Ringer June 13.

The second, lamb pool, of the Mindoka association will be opened June 13, and the price is expected to be 12½ cents per pound, lots being 1,000.

There were about 1,600 buyers represented in the sale.

The next pool will be shipped June 16.

O. E. S. Entertains; Matron To Meeting

FILM, June 9 (Special) — Members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Helen H. Hennemeyer, matron, presiding, A. Henn, worthy matron presiding, a social hour followed the meeting.
