MAP THAT TOLD PROGRESS IN ORIENT

It was the huge map of China which Stanley Hornbeck, head of the Far Eastern Division of the State Department, is shown bearing to the White House, that President Hoover and other high officials studied at their important conference on the Chinese-Japanese crisis. From this meeting emerged orders to send American troops and marines from Manila to Shanghai for the protection of American residents of the Chinese city.

SHE'S LIKE VENUS!

"It's not difficult to figure out why admirers claim Miss Oly Sokolova is the most perfect beauty queen in all the world. Her form is almost an exact duplicate of the statue of Venus de Milo. At the left, you see Miss Sokolova in a 1932 bath suit, while at the right she poses as Venus. Her arms, of course, have been touched out of the picture."

In the center and right background is another building which had partially collapsed in the quake. On the southern coast of Cuba, Santiago is 140 miles southeast of Havana. The Spanish "Villa" tried to slip out to sea, but was overwhelmed by the American fleet under Admiral Sampson and the entire crew captured.

Hoover Reviews Grave Situation in the Far East

AT LAST A PLACE TO PARK!

"An excellent trim these days,"
President Hoover is thought, ful and grave as he receives newspapermen to discuss the critical situation in the Far East. The newsmen, respectfully attentive, take notes as the President talks, fingering antique coins in his pocket which he has carried for years, possibly as lucky pieces.

This splendid and timely sketch of the President of the United States reviewing maneuvers at the White House was made on the spot only a few days ago by George Clark, NEA Service staff artist, nationally-known creator of "Sidle Glances." The critical situation in the Far East was under discussion at this conference while Clark made the rough sketches for this graphic drawing.

Fourty-eight automobiles can be parked in a space no larger than that taken by an ordinary two-car garage by means of this novel parking machine installed in downtown Chienko. The machine is an endless chain of platforms, and the platform on which the desired car is parked is brought to the ground for unloading. The structure stands 105 feet high, weighs 60 tons and occupies a ground space of 16 by 21 feet.

MECHANIZED CIVILIZATION

PROFESSOR CLIFFORD C. FURNAS, of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, repeated the other day the old prediction that civilization will eventually become so thoroughly mechanized and intelligently operated that the ordinary man will have a working day only two or three hours long.

Hand-in-hand with this, he said, will come steady employment and high wages, with annuity provisions which will protect the sick and the aged. He added that this forecast is no pipe dream but a sober prediction based on "an engineer's consideration of various scientific and sociological facts."

It is a charming vision, certainly; and it is one of the things that make the present depression so hard to endure. To stumble along with unemployment, poverty and hunger in a world which has the capacity for achieving such a Utopian scheme of things—is it not a painful and ironic mockery?

DUTY

[N]A section such as this, which, in line with all other sections has undergone a distressingly grave economic upheaval, and with farmers and business men as well, in a rather hectic financial morass, it is not at all queer, and certainly nothing to rave about, that inevitably this condition would sooner or later be reflected in our national, state, county and local taxing units.

It is manifest that if taxes are not paid by those who owe them, no particular criticism may justifiably be leveled at public officials for this failure. Their duty, in common with that of the individual is to shoulder their problems and face their responsibilities, and the public's duty is to loyally cooperate in overcoming difficulties.

Public officials are not gifted with second-sight, neither are they seers. They could not anticipate a year ago, for instance, that this country in 1932 would be in the throes of the worst panic in history, that agriculture would be paralyzed, that banks would be closed, or that the unemployment and indigent poor problems would amount to what they have. In fact, they were given assurance by the President of the United States, no less, and by the Republican party that these things would not, could not happen.

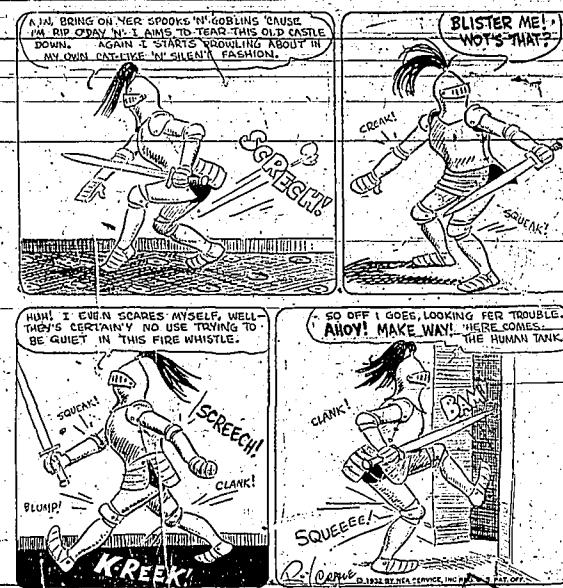

Be it remembered that last year was the most trying year in the history of the county, and that the present administration along with the people generally are now facing the most difficult problems ever confronting such a board in this county. Beset with situations with which all are familiar, the board of county commissioners has had to meet economic conditions varying all the way from that reflected at a budget hearing a year ago when not a soul, scarcely, appeared at the meeting to suggest, protest, or advise, to the present situation when people expect miracles to be wrought in public affairs over-night.

Saddled with a county hospital burden, a health unit, and weed department which the former officials pointed to with pride in only the last campaign and were urged for reelection on the grounds that "they have saved Your Home, Your Farm and Your Children"—assuming the task of operating the county government with these burdens which the people had brought upon themselves either by vote or acquiescence—not one justifiable criticism can be made against the present board, made up of conscientious pioneer citizens, two of them farmers, who have the good of Twin Falls county at heart just as much, and more so perhaps, than have their politically ambitious or patronage-seeking critics, who would make political capital out of the unfortunate situation into which this community has been plunged by starvation commodity prices, closed banks and other regrettable evidences of a panic which could not happen but did!

So do we not sway from your moorings by political buncome. Remember, there is a primary election in the offing, yes, only seven weeks away. The battle has already started and every movement of politicians has a meaning all its own!

This newspaper, as has been reiterated in these columns time and time again, is behind the national administration in every legitimate effort it can and will make to strengthen and bring added respect to organized government, in law enforcement and in the consistent lowering of governmental costs, lightening the general tax burden. It is heart and soul behind the state administration and Governor Ross in saving Idaho from the thundering political pirates who sapped its vitality over a period of years; through endowment fund machinations, by political despotism and by virtue of machine-controlled executives and state legislatures. And likewise it is tooth and nail behind a capable set of county officers and Twin Falls county itself, whom some would besmirch with innuendo, insult, half-truths and slander.

Above all, it will defend to the last ditch the hard-pressed taxpayer who is doing the best he can, and will not willingly permit either him or his county to be needlessly excoriated, especially while they are on the attack.

NEW SEAT OF CHINA'S GOVERNMENT

Seeking at least temporary safety from Japanese shell-fire, the seat of the Chinese government was moved from Nanking several hundred miles inland to LoYang, famous as the ancient capital of China. The picture shows the Lung Ting Temple on the old palace grounds of the Sung dynasty in LoYang.

THE WHIP

is in your hand

When our grandmothers went shopping they were prepared to match their wits against the shopkeeper's. His was the whiphand. Prices were anything the dealer had to pay, plus a profit. And his profits were as elastic as his necessity — or opportunity.

Our grandmothers had a very fine knowledge of woolens, cottons, silks. They used their eyes and fingers in buying.

They tasted and sniffed at foodstuffs. Our grandfathers knew an intimate lot about woods, veneers, stains. They knew leathers and machinery and cutlery. They had to.

Today you can shop with assurance by designating this brand of this and that brand of that, and hardly bother to check the price on the bill when it comes. You can send a twelve-year-old to market with a note and never have a doubt of kind, quality or price — if you buy advertised goods.

Advertising has established standards, established values and established confidence. Advertising forces fair dealing and honest merchandise. It puts the whip in your hand.

Do you read the advertisements?
