

Bruins Win Both Games With Buhl Here Last Night

Twin Falls Hoop Players Score 23-24 Victory In Each Contest.

The Brunettes and the Bruins journeyed in inviolate safety to win over the invading Idaho teams on the first night of the basketball tourney last night. The Brunettes re-entered a 23-24 via over the Indian Maidens and the Bruins duplicated their feat in their mix with the Indians.

In the girls' game, Twin Falls got off to a rocky start and decidedly improved after taking the first three points. At the half, however, they had a solid advantage in the 6-3 score. At the half "procession," they enlarged their lead to climb up a 12-4 advantage.

Buhl was held to one field goal in the first quarter while the Brunettes continued their regime of "one shot, one foul."

After the first two quarters, the total was 22-12 in favor of Buhl.

Guttery for the locals was taken from the center position to go in for fours. While he was center, Guttery was sent out for Divali. With this combination,

Twin Falls scored three more points while Buhl managed to add only one.

Thus, the final score was 23-24 in favor of the Brunettes.

Indiana Miss Chieftains

The Bruins had little trouble in taking a win from the Judd aquatics. The first two games of the Indiana series were to be played at home, but Buhl seized up chances to shoot under the basket. Twin Falls was never in danger after the first few minutes.

In the third quarter, the Bruins started a rally in the third quarter, but the Bruins soon had the situation well in hand before the final minute.

Brewer attacked the aquatics for the locals and Larson followed with another basket and Shriver added another. Then, the fourth point lead by a shot from Shriver in the foul line, Buhl counted another two points in free throw. Givens hooked one in from the side court. Larson ran in and brought to bring the score to the end of the first game to 8-1 in favor of the locals.

Givens Makes Two

Two baskets by Givens at the start of the second quarter built up the Bruins' lead. Shriver hit for Piercy for Buhl. On a heat pass from Givens, who was working the floor in fine shape and making good passes to the other field goals. In a short time, Larson counted three more points. Givens was back for Grey who then hit for the same number. The foul line, Buhl counted another two points in free throws. Givens hooked one in from the side court. Larson ran in and brought to bring the score to the end of the first game to 8-1 in favor of the locals.

Grey Gets Back

At the opening of the third period, Grey went back in for Givens. Hoffmann went in for Givens. Hulme and Johnson went in for the locals.

Twin Falls held ten points lead, but Buhl led by Buhl, cut it down. Twin Falls scored seven points in the fourth quarter, and the locals had a four-point lead.

Mullineau led, score 25-13.

After some fast floor play, Shriver and Givens added two more visitors. Givens who had been taken out in the third quarter went back to the game for Brunettes and Mullineau added to his lead. The locals played hard and Buhl getting out one field goal and Twin Falls netted three points to bring the final score to 28-14 and a convincing double victory for the locals.

Idaho Falls Again Seems Likely To Make Bid For State Title

BRUENING BACKS VON HINDENBURG FOR PRESIDENCY

Chancellor: Germans Litterers
To Support Warlimont
Figure

BERLIN (UPI)— Chancellor Heinrich Brüning faced a disorderly shouting Reichstag Thursday and informed Hitler he was the "authoritative spokesman" of the cabinet about abolition of reparations.

"The government adheres to the attitude of reparations," he said. At that time, Brüning announced Germany could not continue paying reparations.

Brüning's attitude, for his biography, was to his topic over-immediately a cutting attack on his opponents.

He charged every German voter for Von Hindenburg as president. The majority of the House thundered applause, but the Socialists were silent.

THE OPINION OF A FARMER

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO—REGISTERED

JOSEPH MARSHALL of the Twin Falls country is a farmer. He is a successful farmer, big operator. He is not an agriculturist in the sense of the word he farms by proxy, for he is a practical, hard working, close thinking, observer and is somewhat known as a dirt farmer, not only supervising, but also works his own land.

The opinion of Joseph Marshall, farmer, is worth while. He says that the government made a mistake attempting to bring farm relief through the appropriation of vast sums of money which is to put the farmer deeper in debt. For a non-farmer to express an opinion of that kind would be to attract criticism and censure. Coming direct from a farmer, consideration will have to be given.

I have never seen a move on the part of the government attempting to help the farmer by making it possible or easier for him to borrow more money, but what it put the farmer just that much further behind. It makes it just that much more difficult to pay. The farmers of this country have had too much money. It has been too easy to borrow, the result being that instead of trying to work his way out the farmer has tried to borrow himself out until he has gone broke. There is no other business in the country which has been so petted and spoiled by the government as agriculture," this practical farmer says. "The result has been that instead of helping the farmer the government has made it possible for him to get so deep in debt that it is to be almost impossible to work his way out."

Farmer Joseph Marshall feels that if the government expects to use the taxpayers' money in order to help agriculture, the best thing to do would be to make that money available so men could go to work at fair wages. This would solve the farm problem, the surplus problem, the unemployment, the economic and about every other problem civilization is heir to just now. "Give the working man a job, keep the factory busy, keep the railroad men working, let the mines and the mills keep operating and the farm problem will solve itself," is the farmer Joe Marshall philosophy.

Come to think of it, it is mighty sound advice. Coming from a farmer it is doubly good. It is doubtful if many of our statesmen and politicians who have wrestled with the problem for quite a while with no result, have anything much better, if as good, to offer. Joe Marshall, so far as known, is not running for office which is may be one of the reasons he is so outspoken and honest in his opinion.

G. O. P. TURNING "WET"

J. R. NUTT, treasurer of the Republican national committee, declares in favor of a Republican platform endorsing a national prohibition referendum.

He believes such a referendum should be held in an off-year so it would test popular sentiment without the complications possibly engendered in the politics of a presidential election year.

The Cleveland banker, having charge of raising party funds, thus joins a growing group of administration Republican leaders favoring a change in the party's attitude toward the prohibition controversy. Hitherto the Republican party has held to a law enforcement plank.

He revealed his position in an interview with United Press, emphasizing that he spoke as an individual and not as treasurer of the party.

A banker rather than a politician, Nutt said out loud what a number of high party leaders are whispering. He is an intimate of Postmaster Walter F. Brown, president Hoover's unofficial political manager, who is understood to hold a similar view. Secretary of War Hurley, Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of Navy Adams, and Secretary of Commerce Lamont—a majority of the cabinet—are understood to lean toward a change in the Republican party's attitude.

But the talk in Washington is carried on in stage whispers.

Byron Defenbach has hit upon the brightest Republican alibi yet for the business collapse. He charges it up to Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Defenbach should sell that idea to his national committee—it is far too clever and ingenious to be confined to the narrow limits of Idaho. Of course there is one snag—President Hoover was hitched up rather intimately with the Wilson administration. Maybe it would be safer to go back a little further and charge the shimpup to Grover Cleveland. What d'ye say, Byron? —Hailey Times.

The ostensible attempt of the Republican party in Idaho to play together in harmony somehow, reminds us of that celebrated trombone player in a certain long since disbanded silver cornet band. "All right, boys," the director said as the musicians paused for breath between selections. "Get out your music for 'The Stars and Stripes Forever'." "Heck," said the trombone player, "I just got through playing that."

says the wise shopper

Challenge of the sentry on guard, abrupt and imperative in the dark. "Advance and give the countersign!"

To the woman in the home, alertly watchful over her house and budget, passwords are important. Everything offered for sale is subject to suspicion unless it bears the countersign—the familiar trade-mark—the name of a manufacturer or merchant whom she knows.

Every day she studies the advertising columns. From them she determines values, and decides what she will buy and where. She knows that advertised goods are safe goods, backed by the reputation of the maker and the merchant.

When she goes shopping—whether for a bottle of ketchup or for a pearl necklace—she challenges each product with a "Who goes there?" And if it has the password of advertised excellence she makes her purchase without hesitation.

The advertisements in this paper are a safe guide to buying. Read them every day. Keep in touch with the latest news of price, style and quality. Then buy with the assurance that you will get your money's worth.

Twelve Million Motor Cars Particular in Nation's Car Industry, Than Considered Normal, Manufacturers Tells Financiers

ESTIMATING that transportation is the largest industry in the land, the American automobile is twelve million "cars" low now, and that this deficit will eventually have to be made up, Richard H. Grant, vice president of the American Automobile Association, told the American Bankers Association that employment in his company may be greater this winter than last year.

"Especially during the winter months it is very important that our association be concerned, in November, December, January and February we will be employing at no many, and probably more men than we did last year," he said.

In his telegram to the association, he said, attempts to set up sales indices based on intensity of activity in addition to observation and comment from the general habit of counting up all automobiles, not merely an automobile but its transportation," he said. "We figure each automobile produced as six years of transportation. Then by running up and down the country, we have drawn conclusions which indicate a short-normal industry in the hands of the American people, and whether there are, more or less, than eight million expected, according to our figures, there are about twelve million years less transportation in this industry, at the present time than has been considered in the past.

"Money is being hoarded, from lack of confidence and this takes away some purchasing power that we would otherwise have, while family budgets are being cut on account of changes in the economic situation, which means that purchasing power for the automobile. Also a good many other things, will be taxed away." As a result, he said, it was necessary to measure what specifically would be a better year. He said, "It is a question of the establishment of exact statistics which is going on and determining how the year will be under these circumstances."
