ROOSEVELT FACES CRUCIAL TEST IN EASTERN STATES

Results in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Are Eagerly Awaited

GOVERNOR STEADILY ADDS DELEGATES

Tammany Machine, However, Refuses to Endorse Him As Candidate

BY RAYMOND CLAPPEE

Associated Press Correspondent
NEW YORK, (UPI)—The election of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt toward the Democratic presidential nomination is spreading discouragement among Tammany leaders in New York, who once thought they had him stopped.

This vote-gathering process has been an outstandingly successful one, but just now delegate in state convention or primary contests in North Dakota, where a delegation from the state's only "independent" (Aladdin Bill) Murray of Oklahoma was elected. No other candidate has picked up a single delegate outside his own state.

April 26

What probably will be the decisive factor in the election of Roosevelt, the former political partner of Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, "fights it out" in primaries in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Smith, showing this far, has been disappointing to his friends, though the only actual contest between Roosevelt and Smith has not yet taken place, and his campaign months in advance, whereas Smith allowed himself to be run into a dead-end fight with no real chance of victory.

Roosevelt, however, seems to have many different, particularly Massachusettess, ways of doing things. It was one of the early signs of the new administration that he had joined the powerful state organization behind him. Roosevelt has chosen an organization thrown to him by the Tammany machine, and Roosevelt would expect to lose part of the Massachusetts delegation. They are more conservative than Roosevelt, and probably would mark the right of Roosevelt, favorite home might be the Tammany machine, which would do much toward saving the "wop" Roosevelt movement from the twilight deathbed which threatens it. Failure in this regard would probably mark the end, and psychologically, the right of Roosevelt.

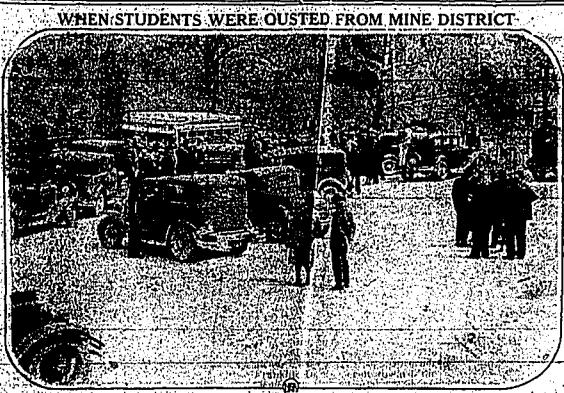

Tammany, however, is providing the road map for Roosevelt's campaign, and Roosevelt has no choice but to follow it. There will be no endorsement of Roosevelt by Tammany, but there may be a definite, if inconclusive, endorsement of Roosevelt by the Tammany group.

OVER 70,000 MEN IDLE IN NATION'S CHIEF COAL FIELDS

Miners Go On Strike As Result of Latest Wage Dis-agreement

CHICAGO, (UPI)—The first day of April for members of the United Workers' miners' union, which is still holding out little delegation to the coal regions of the West Virginia panhandle, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana, miners here said, was probably the last day of this strike. Today faced unemployment due to wage disputes between United Miners and Mine Operators.

There were 44 miners here on strike, about 25,000 miners in the West Virginia panhandle, was called to start tokyo. The workers called a mass meeting at Bellmore, N. Y., and their official announced miners in districts where would probably begin tomorrow with non-union labor, throwing out of work approximately 6,000 miners, and over 6,000 others.

The "polla" closed on the debate issue last night, the government said, and Mrs. Clinton, to have received 19741 votes for her "dry" talk while Hatchet, the wet, received 18,000, and, today, after a count of ballots cast, 57,000 in all, the result was that Hatchet, the "wet," had been definitely mentioned as a prospective vice-presidential candidate, had today definitely expressed himself in favor of a general national law.

Speaking before the Jackson League last night, the government said, "We'll uphold the state income tax, but denied he was entitled to "entitle" erat, that it would be a "right" property tax increase this year. The filing, however, was unequal and unjust and should be repealed."

Radium Poison Menaces Lives of Over 100 People

Many Suffering After Use of Radiophiles' Say Dr. F. B. Flinn

NEW YORK, (UPI)—More than 100 radium users suffered "radiation sickness" from radium poisoning and are in danger of the death suffered yesterday by a radium expert, James Cox, Gov. Murray and McAdoo also answer questionnaires.

The first case died last Saturday. Other patients Flinn reported have been so frightened by their death that they have refused to seek proper medical attention. The disappearance of the radium solution.

The number naturally endangered by the disease, may reach the hundreds of others patients reported by Flinn, a Pittsburgh physiotherapist who has been taking the treatment.

"Radium" has been on sale for radium users, especially those in medical institutions, since Dr. Flinn's statement, which pointed out that it is almost impossible to diagnose except in advanced stages and after consultation with an expert.

NOTED DEMOCRATS CLAIM BALANCING OF BUDGET VITAL

No Higher Duty Exists In Opinion of Newton D. Baker, Cleveland

OF FIRST IMPORTANCE SAYS GOV. A. C. RITCHIE

James M. Cox, Gov. Murray and McAdoo Also Answer Questionnaire

(Copyright 1932 by Titled Press)

NEW YORK, (UPI)—Democrats prominent in the field of politics, some of them present or past potential contenders for the presidency, went on record today strongly for balancing of the national budget, as being the most important task of the government, economy paralleling higher taxes.

Answering a questionnaire of the Titled Press, to their respective offices, for their opinions on necessity for such balancing, the group including former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, Gov. William G. McAdoo of California, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Cleveland, and several senators and congressmen, all agreed on the need for balancing.

Charles Nichols, brewer, bid $100 in a bridge game without a quid pro quo, for the benefit of the National Budget Fund.

He was not asked to pay his share of expenses. As the ninth straight bridge trick was lost, Nichols collapsed unconscious.

Physicians who received him in their homes, however, were not paid for their services.

The game ended with Nichols' death.

Other players Flinn reported have been so frightened by their death that they have refused to seek proper medical attention.

Dr. Flinn, a radiophiles' spokesman, said, "I am afraid that the number of cases will increase rapidly if the radium solution continues to be used."

He said that the disease is almost impossible to diagnosis except in advanced stages and after consultation with an expert.

House Removes Sales Tax Plan By 235-160 Vote

Proposed Method of Helping To Meet Expenses Defeated; Increased Surtax Also Turned Down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A record vote of the House today definitely discharged the general sales tax method of balancing the budget. A proposal that the House insert the provision in the new revenue bill was defeated. It previously had been defeated in committee of the whole.

The vote was 235 to 160.

The House also reversed its former action by voting to eliminate from the bill increased surtax provisions contained in the Swing amendment. The House's action eliminated $17,000,000 from the total budget.

6 Years Ago Tomorrow and Every Day Since

It was six years ago tomorrow that the first O. P. Skaggs System Store was opened to the public. On that day a reputation was established for selling all the best-known qualities and brands of foods at prices that were seldom any more, but often less, than other dealers' "Specials." For six years the O. P. Skaggs System has consistently followed this original policy. Today, hundreds of thousands of people are our customers, largely because our foods are always the best—for transactions dependable—and our everyday prices the lowest to be found.

Join Us in Celebrating Our Sixth Birthday

You are especially invited to visit our store tomorrow and our regular big stock of high-quality foods and to celebrate the event with us by taking away a lot of the most unusual bargains you have seen during your entire lifetime.

Here Are Only a Few

Here are some of the items specially priced for tomorrow. You will find many more big bargains throughout the store. Come early, as some stocks will not last all day. Two-pound glass jar of best peanut butter tomorrow only 22¢; Full quart jar of Best Foods Salad Dressing—or full-pint jar of Mayonnaise or Relish Spread for 22¢; 10-pound cloth bag sugar, birthday price, 48¢; one-pound Schill's Coffee tomorrow 32¢; O. P. S. Jell Powder, the ideal dessert for 25¢; 100 pieces of candy tomorrow only 22¢; 25-cent box of California Sun-Care Prunes only 98¢; medium size sweet juicy oranges tomorrow 12¢ per dozen. Great Wedding Cakes, quick cooking premium oats only 10¢ per package tomorrow; O. P. S. Coffees, 1 lb. can, tomorrow only 20¢; 3 lbs. can only 98¢. (Note: Closing out this brand of coffee at big sacrifice.)

Take a Lot of Time, and Look Around Good

There are two reasons why we are extremely anxious that you come to our store and get some of these big bargains tomorrow. One is that we want to extend and express our appreciation of the patronage of our regular customers. The other is we are anxious that a lot of strangers see our store, take a lot of time and look around good, see our shelves which carry our everyday saving prices, and take away some of these birthday, unusual bargains. We know such visitors will come back often. Come early tomorrow and bring your friends.

STATEMENT LISTS ASSETS OF BANK

News in Brief

OUT OUR WAY

Receiver House Reveals Twin Falls National's Finance Condition.

Statement of the financial condition of the Twin Falls National bank made public Friday by J. H. Hanse, receiver, reveals assets and liabilities in the amount of $21,914,566. However, no statement is forthcoming as to when or in what manner the bank will be liquidated. "It is impossible to say anything definite at this time," Hanse said.

Total amount of liabilities subject to a dividend is $207,760.81, including taxes and interest.

Assets of the trust are listed at $174,014.47, representing the total amount coming into the hands of the receiver. In this is included a sum of $10,000 which with the capitalization of the bank when it closed its doors last November, left the latter amount $10,351.47.

Remaining assets uncollected total $269,633.71; the difference between this figure plus the cash on hand or an amount approximating $100,000 is being held pending final settlement.

The report reveals that there are "unsecured proven claims against the bank in the amount of $15,158.31 and $15,241 in unproven unsecured claims."

A warrant was issued in probate court Thursday charging extortion against the bank in the amount of $10,000. The latter amount was settled out of court.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jeanne L. Chapman, sister of Mrs. Anna M'Kay, Filer, will be held Saturday at the Methodist church at Filer at 2 o'clock. Dr. J. D. Gifford, Weiser, officiating. The woman, who is in charge of the veterans' interment, will be in Filer cemetery beside the grave of Mrs. Beaton's brother, who died a year ago December.

Mrs. Beaton, a graduate nurse, died last Wednesday at a Lewiston hospital. She had at one time been a nurse at St. Luke's Hospital, Twin Falls county general hospital. The body will arrive Saturday, and will be received at the Drake mortuary.

Peter Sardis, 28, was the first to die. He had been convicted of the killing of his stepson, a boy named Eddie. He had been convicted of the murder of Frank Pendleton, an Elkhorn, La., grocer, in a hold-up.

SCHOOL-GIRL IS VICTIM OF FLU

GEORGE (Special) — Carol Pfeifer, 12, a student of the and Pioneer schools, Jerome, remained in the hospital Saturday night because of influenza-like heart disease.

She is the third member of the fifth class who has been ill since the start of school. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton and Laural, and her sisters, Laurene and Norma, her grandmother, Mrs. Agnes, arrived from Nebraska last Monday.

This body was taken to the White mortuary at Twin Falls.

TAX RECEIPTS IN

1932 EXCEL 1931

Favorable Increase For First Three Months, Reports County Treasurer.

Favorable increase in tax payments at the office of Cora E. Stevens, county treasurer, was revealed by that officer Friday in announcement that tax receipts for the month of March this year totalled $21,553.29, almost twice the same total a year ago when they were $17,063.89.

Each month this year has shown a consistent increase in payment over the corresponding month of 1931. It is known, total receipts for the first three calendar months of this year, Mrs. Stevens reports, are $75,370.15, compared with $67,367.00 collected in 1931, or an increase of nearly $9,000.

Idaho taxes this year make up $62,439.12 of the total, while federal taxes are $11,837.00, state taxes $10,437.00, and local taxes $10,514.11. Last year the receipts were divided: delinquency $14,395.64,

THE DIGEST'S POLL.

JUST what the implications of the current literary

Digest poll are will perhaps vary among persons according to their prohibition convictions. Either the poll is "all wet" or else there is a tremendous national dissatisfaction with the present enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment.

As has frequently been declared in these columns it must not be lost sight of that Idaho is legally dry and was among the first of the sisterhood of states to so declare itself. Idaho has statewide prohibition. The Eighteenth amendment could be declared unconstitutional tomorrow and it would little affect this state, for we have our own statutes in the matter and doubtless will retain them indefinitely.

But whether we are for or against prohibition, a sane study of the vote now being revealed is not out of place and compels analysis:

To date every state in the union is voting wet in the Digest poll, Kansas alone excepted. In that state the dry vote is 50.7 per cent, while the wet vote is 49.3 per cent—which makes it practically unanimous as far as the nation is concerned. Whether or not the vote adequately and fairly represent public opinion is the important thing.

Does it include both men and women?

Do those voting come from all walks of life?

What percentage of the votes are duplications (more than one voted by the same person)?

How many votes are cast by persons other than to whom the ballots are mailed?

Do the names come from telephone directories or from city directories, in many instances antiquated?

The questions immediately raise the point of whether the problem of prohibition is as serious as the vote indicates. That is what the American public would like to know.

It is possible that in these United States the sentiment is approximately three to one against prohibition as this week's total vote of 956,863 dry to 2,758,767 wet indicates.

Can you believe that Idaho voters are actually two to one for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment as the vote of 2,284 dry to 4,232 wet announced this week reveals?

In the slang of the day, there is something "screwy" about the poll. The most ardent wet could not hope these percentages to actually exist among the electorate. Yet that is what the poll reveals.

Of course the count has a long way to go yet. Reputedly twenty million ballots were sent out. To date only 3,715,000 votes have been reported on. And the dry vote is increasing slightly with every report, starting out at first with 15.85 per cent of the total vote and this week reaching 25.75 per cent of it.

The unprincipled reader must conclude that either the poll is unreliable and thus a damaging bit of propaganda against a constitutional measure, or it is a true index of public opinion and in consequence evidence of a startling revolt against the law and a fore-runner of its eventual elimination or modification.

Idaho, sitting on the sidelines, cannot be undisturbed by its implications.

Frankly this newspaper is unsympathetic with such polls. The danger of them is too great to be permitted uncontrolled. Granted that the Literary Digest is perhaps conducting the balloting in an honorable manner, the very nature of the stunt renders it subject to abuse by unprincipled propagandists. The fact that results are tabulated and published previous to the completion of all the balloting in itself renders the vote unreliable for there is no discounting the fact that the late voter is influenced in his judgment by the trend of early voting.

The presidential poll fostered by the same magazine is open to similar criticism, for it permits of a national ballot previous to legal election, carried on at great expense and with care and there certainly is a possibility that many voters are unconsciously affected by the straw vote in a desire to be on the band wagon.

The magazine claims the polls have repeatedly forecast actual election results from which it might well be concluded that the legal election is an unnecessary institution serving only as a confirmation of the commercial enterprise of the publication, which after all is more interested in the venture as a circulation scheme than in its accuracy.

Additional arguments against such a huge unofficial poll on grave national problems will occur to the reader. One is that it demoralizes personal opinion and tends to make us a nation of sheep. It raises issues where before there might be tranquility. It fosters double-voting, it includes the votes of minors, and other unqualified persons who cannot vote in legal general elections, it discourages candidates and defeats some of them before they get a good start, and even if a true index of public opinion, it does not necessarily reflect the intentions of the voting public, which you must not forget totals only about fifty per cent of the eligible vote. Worst of all, especially in case of national presidential poll, it must contri-

Adam McElwain, a Wind River player, and brother of Mac McElwain, is erecting a building on the opposite corner from the bank. The building will be 20x30 feet. Mr. McElwain traversed the old state route and little dreamed that either he or his son would have a home within the scope of action now, everywhere apparent.
