CARDINALS RISE IN STANDINGS BY DEFEATING REDS

Flint Rhom Hurts Beautiful Game; Braves Subdue Philly Team

NEW YORK, (UP)—The world Champion St. Louis Cardinals have pounded their way back into the first division of the National League, after plumbing the depths of the cellar and seeing-sawing about in the second division since April 15.

Their 7 to 6 shutout over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday boosted them into fourth place. It was their fourth straight victory.

Flint Rhom's sixth pitching century helped drop the Reds to fifth position, and in the three days previous masterly hurling by Bill Hallahan, Sylvester Johnson and Harry Dean aided the rebound.

Philadelphia's first straight victory, a 4 to 1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers, was scheduled.

In the American League, three home runs by Detroit downed the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 7, and the Cleveland Indians won their first game in a week, 3 to 2, over the St. Louis Browns.

Yesterday's hero Ray Worthington, left fielder, who won a game for the Braves by driving in three runs with a homer and a timely single.

Great Blue Grass Classic Attracts Throng of Turf Lovers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UP)—Derby hour approached for Louisville today and the vanguard of the great throng which will crowd Churchill Downs Saturday for the running of the great American horse race classic started arriving.

Race talk increased. This year for the first time in many years there was no outstanding favorite as the various three year olds were put through their paces on the 1 1/4 furlong race Saturday afternoon. There was east, west, division, weathering, crapping, up as the possible entries are all most equally divided seasonally.

Kentucky hurried to the entries of Col. E. R. Bradley hoping that the new state country would return a winner.

COLLEGE TRACK TEAMS TO MEET ON BURLEY FIELD

New Records Likely To Be Established In Contest on May 14

ALBION—Field and track records for the annual Southern Idaho Junior College conference meet, slated at Burley on May 14, will undergo a severe strain to remain intact. If several performances to date this season can be repeated.

Albion normal, College of Idaho (Garding college), Hieses and the Southern Branch, U. of I. will be entered in the meet with the Postville and Caldwell squads an favorite to garner the largest share of honors. From the showings that the eastern Idaho teams made in the U. V. U. Invitational meet recently several records should be broken.

Maker of Burley should better the present high jump record of only 5' 2 3/4 inches since both he and Penoyer of the Southern Branch have gone over the six foot mark. At Provo the Peacocks squad lopped 9 seconds off the standing record—with their mile relay team. The Albion team under Coach M. J. Jacobs set two records off of the record two weeks ago in the 400 yard relay and the 200 yard relay.

Burley and Smith of the College of Idaho stand a chance to break both the shot put and javelin records while Jacoby for Gooding, Idaho, has a pole vault record, established recently of 11 ft. 9 1/2 inches or six inches better than the conference record. Nonly all the schools chance to take first place in the event.

Straining every muscle, J. C. Hall of the University of Florida and Carl Stone of Colorado University came neck and neck down the stretch in 100 meters race in the Decathlon. But Stone was in a good lead and broke the tape with Hall, inches behind, as the picture indicates.

FAMOUS MUSICIANS IN HARMONY AGAIN

Arturo Toscanini, famed conductor, gained more than gratitude when he came all the way from Italy to New York for a benefit concert for unemployed musicians. He also ended the eleven-year friendship with Gullis Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company. The celebrated pair once had been enemies and enemies, but had become reformed by 1927. Here, however, you see them in arm of Gatti-Casazza, left, made possible by Toscanini, right, as the latter returned to Europe.

RECORD SHATTERED IN PENN RELAYS AT PHILADELPHIA

JUNGLE TERRORS KILL STUDENT

A message from the South American jungle reports the death of Thomas J. Walsh, Jr., 26, shown in lower picture, a chemist for a mining company in Peru. The report was sent by his companion, Harold Ford, top, who buried his colleague after five weeks of terror in the jungles. Walsh went on a water white on a mining expedition in lands never before visited by white men. Walsh, a Chicagoan and a graduate of the University of Illinois, died of fever and sprained after a series of misadventures in which the explorer's boat was wrecked and supplies ran out. Ford, a former West Virginian, struggled alone until a friendly Indian guided him to civilization.

The supreme court ordered a new trial. Now McWilliams awaits the return of Darrow from Honolulu to aid him in his new fight for life. The conductor was shot during a robbery.

GEORGE WASHINGTON IS "INAUGURATED" AGAIN. —IN SHADOW OF MODERN SKYSCRAPERS

Coskedoed hats and powdered, wigs mingled incongruously with silk topers and swallow-tail coats as New York crisscrossed the gap of 143 years to re-enact the inauguration of George Washington. Towering skyscrapers formed a strangely contrasting background, as the photo upper left shows, when the oath-taking ceremonies were staged in a replica of Federal Hall, in Bryant Park. Mayor James J. Walker, in modern formal attire, presented a striking sartorial contrast to "The Father of His Country," portrayed by Kenneth Marchington, at lower, upper right. A Colonial Guard marched again, lower left, proudly bearing aloft thirteen-starred flags. Lower right, you see "Washington" in a heroic pose as he arrived at the foot of Wall Street aboard a Colonial barge—equipped with gas engines. THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

A NEW YORK hygienist the other day attained the front page by remarking that the good old days must have been pretty unhealthful. The old oaken bucket, the old swimming hole, the pies that mother used to bake—all of these, he said, may have been highly enjoyable, but they were "tawdry and unsanitary"—and if modern life has got us away from them it is a good thing.

All of this may be quite true; but the gentleman really ought to pipe down before he raises a great prejudice against public hygiene. Most people, quite perversely, would rather be happy than hygienic; and if hygienists insist on pointing out the sanitary shortcomings in our most cherished old-time memories they are apt to persuade some of us that there can be things considerably more important than hygiene.

A SHOCKING EXPOSURE

(LEWISTON TRIBUNE)

FRIDAY evening a jury of representative citizens of Nez Perce county, after listening to the evidence, found Henry Gusman guilty as charged by the state. One of the indictments returned by the recent grand jury had been weighed in the final balance of a trial jury and found good; the others, no doubt, will be handled and disposed of in the usual course of court work. Bluntly expressed, the defendant was accused of stealing money from the state of Idaho by the device of false vouchers for goods never delivered.

The testimony disclosed a conspiracy originated and directed by Gusman whereby certain employees within the bureau of highways ordered but did not take delivery of repair parts for automotive equipment. Mr. Gusman, it was alleged, collected and divided the spoils. The amount of the peculations is not known but, although only the Lewiston district came directly within the disclosures it is apparent the total may be large.

The partial view given exposes what is, unfortunately, an old, old story—public officials more interested in perpetuating a tenure in office than in performing the solemn obligation of a public trust; an incredibly lax method of doing business; a system of record-keeping so chaotic and dishonest that employees working shilly-nilly without adequate supervision or check; no provision for detecting possible dishonesty in far-flung operations;—this all evidently created a situation where the old method of a thief on the outside and a confederate on the inside could siphon from the public treasury with apparent impunity.

That particular leak has been stopped, but it is not enough. Rumors impugning the motives of those responsible for the exposure, originating through thoughtlessness or design, should now be stilled. The people should be stirred to sweep-graft, corruption and careless performance of duty from the entire state structure. The work has been begun in Nez Perce county. Let it continue with unabated vigor, and may it spread throughout the commonwealth wherever dishonesty and corruption are absorbing public moneys. Idaho is too young a state, too good a state, to suffer from such organized public crime as has become so firmly entrenched in the notorious administrations of some of our older governments.

THE WAY FAME WORKS

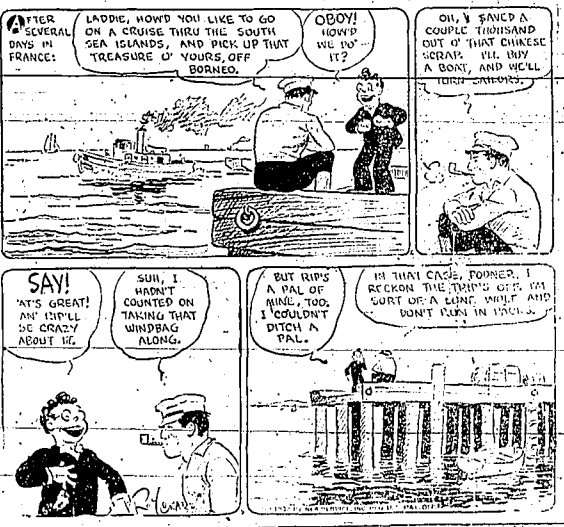

DWIN MARKHAM, the poet, said recently that he wished people would forget, for a while at least, that he ever wrote a poem called "The Man With the Hoe."

All of which, of course, is just another interesting little sidelight on the way fame works. People like to couple a man's name with some outstanding feat. Once they do this the man's fame is secure, and he can bask in the knowledge that he won't be forgotten; but he may eventually find, as Mr. Markham has found, that he will never be given credit for doing anything else. From that moment on he is a one-achievement man.

Consider, for instance, Richmond P. Hobson, whose long public career faded into nothing in the public mind, beside the fact that he sank the Merrimack at the mouth of Santiago harbor during the Spanish War.

Then there are James Monroe, about whom the ordinary citizen knows absolutely nothing except that while president he formulated the Monroe doctrine; and Aaron Burr, remembered solely because he killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel; and Henry Clay, about whom we recall nothing except that he had a pleasing knack of devising compromises; and Stephen A. Douglas, who debated with Lincoln; and Benjamin Franklin, whom many remember only in connection with a certain kite-flying episode.

TAXES
A lot of delight of hand is going on in this tax bill contest. It was particularly noticeable in the tax schedules. Oil and another lot on the second year in remission because they stack up their assets at home. There's even a reason to expect that all four may be in the bill which is passed the Senate. The boys are jangling things around so they can present a united log-rolling front. The result will be close.

The tariff folks thought they had things checked. They counted 51 votes without the lumber crowd. That would be five more Democratic leaders tried to break on the deal. They were in every other conference trying to maintain the historic tariff position of the party.

Those normal rate increases will never stand in the final form of the bill. As fixed by the finance committee they would triple the income taxes of low-salaried men. The trick about that is they will come out of the bill in conference. Garnor and Clegg already have decided privately they will not accept such a proposal from the Senate.

Many such trading propositions are scheduled for enactment in the Senate bill. They will be voted with the bill and they will finally stand. They will be used only for bartering purposes. The bill is held up for four or five days.

The House will not fight the bill in hopes they will get away from it. They do not think they will have helped themselves very much in this session of Congress. They were probably in a better position politically before the session convened.

How much of that is due to the lamentable necessity for tax increases and how much to the Roosevelt-Smith contest is a matter of speculation.

Everybody is talking on the House. It will take 30 days to checkmate a petition, which the House will vote, in the event of the bill were never very good. They look worse and worse.

The National Park Service is the biggest for the biggest tourist facilities are being increased. They figure a good many people are tired of going their way and will try spending their money on vacations. The expense is being curtailed but the change facilities are being extended.

There's an unusual example of a Congressional warning on tax his own hobby. If all the tax provisions were voted down in the Senate there is just a possibility that body may be pushed back toward the rat's nest.

NEW YORK

GLASS BILL
The American Bankers' Association pulled a neat bit of strategy in the announcement on Wednesday that they have the Glass bill in principal. This will not abate their opposition to passage of the bill at the present time, but the statement was designed to disarm the claim of the "forced" opposition.

New York has heard quite definitely that the bill will be edited. The Administration's expert in the House to keep it from getting to the floor of the Senate. This is part of the normal cooperation program. It will probably survive the Senate Glass. It certainly will not annoy the New York banks.

Utile's declaration that the bank community's opposition to the Federal Reserve recommendation for reserve laws on volume of deposits. Most creditable bankers now agree that measures should be taken to prevent a recurrence of the credit incident of the late twenties, but they do not think the Meyer proposal will accomplish the desired result.

BANKING
A close student of banking conditions, who considers the ratio between customer net deposits and loans as an important factor in the stability of bank safety, reports great progress in the ratio for the past few months. This ratio for the whole country increased from 224 to 295 from February 17 to April 29. During the same period, the ratio for the New York district rose from 252 to 329. He recalls this as an encouraging factor.

BUSINESS
Bank debts continue to show a certain improvement in business conditions, so far as published the daily average for April was 16 per cent above that of March on a deseasonalized basis.

You May Not Know that—

This newspaper abandoned this use of dates in the "date-lines" at the beginning of each news account, about two months ago, on the theory that they were useless, expensive, unnecessary and wasted space as well as the time required for their setting.

Their absence has not been noticed by readers, much less by members of the staff, indicating their use, especially in evening newspapers is unjustified by any other reason, than tradition. Most evening newspapers have not using them, as have numerous morning papers, including the Boston Statesman.

"Why bring that up?" —the cigarette trade asks!

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
IT'S TOASTED

For years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Mentor Club Is Luncheon Hostess

Members of the County Women's club were honored by the Mentor club at a three-course luncheon of 50 covers Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Tottel. Spring flowers decorated the room, the luncheon tables had table and bouquets as decorations.

Mrs. Roy Jostin, president of the hostess club, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Walter Deaton, president of the visiting club, responded.

Mrs. Albin Deatley, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Dyer, sang "I'll Sing You a Song of the Spring" and "The Waltz You Show Me." Mrs. J. H. Barrow played "The Music of the Mountains." Mrs. Hoffman's "New Spring Hat" was presented by Mrs. C. I. Smith. Mrs. Walter Deaton presented Roy Jostin, Mrs. Harley Ruyter, played two a cappella solos, "I'd Like to Sit Next to You" and "The Waltz You Show Me." Miss Helen Dond sang "The Cypar Love Song" and "The Rain." Mrs. J. H. Barrow played "The Bird Slugging" were given by Mrs. J. A. Dyer.

R. AND T. CLUB HAS SESSION

Mrs. E. D. Spilberg entertained the R. and T. club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Third avenue north with ten members present. Instead of roll call Mrs. Spilberg read to chapter from "Home of Civilization." The club continued reading the book "The Sun's Altitude." Guests of the club were Dr. Margaret Frost, Gooding, Mrs. J. H. Van Wagoner, Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Sarah Russell. Refreshments were served.
