Aviator Lou Reichers Takes Off for Paris

Daring Flier Believed To Be Somewhere
Near Mid-Atlantic; Weather
Ideal for Journey

HIGHWAY GOLF, N. Y. (UPI)—Lou Reichers, flying the Midwest to Paris, was somewhere near sub-Alaska at 9 p.m. M. S. T. today if all had gone well with his speedy plane which made a perfect takeoff from the sandy beach here five hours earlier.

The ocean beneath him was dotted with a dozen ships in the North Atlantic, some of them there were no reports he had been sighted. His luckless, however, pointed out that he was flying too high to be seen from the ground.

Officially at Indianapolis, Indiana, where he is to make a return, Reichers had been enroute to Paris since May 1, leaving Indy at 3 a. m., Saturday, 7 to 8 p. m.

Today, the air ministry reported

Mid-Atlantic weather ideal for the flier. Strong westerly winds prevailed, and the weather was "fine."

Paris officials ordered the hangar field and the air-route to the Soane valley from Le Havre to Paris lighted tonight.

Conceding something to the storm of multi-partite criticism which has assailed him, Senator Smoot said that with the exception of consideration of tariff bills, the committee work had been non-partisan. The duty of the committee, he said, was to mediate to provide adequate federal revenue and safeguard public credit.

Federal expenditures for the fiscal year will be cut by $100 million, he said. (Continued on Page Five)

SHOSHONE MAY GO TO COURTS TO GET STREET OPENED UP

Possibility of Condemnation Proceedings Loom In Tangle

SHOSHONE (Special)— Condemnation may be necessary to open Greasewood street crossing about which contention has been raging for several weeks; the use of the throughfare, before required, in order to comply with demands of the U. S. Bureau of高級

This is the symbol of negotiations which have been carried on recently, and came to a head at a meeting of the village council this week.

The village trustee, Paul E. Shadrick, who called upon to explain the procedure necessary to force the reopening of the street, the railroad officials having already informed the village council that it could not be opened.

It was estimated the cost of the opening would be $10,000.

In the meantime, the Shoshone

Commercial club is planning a

MEANS MAY ASK TO CHANGE PLEA

Former Federal Agent Claims Innocence In Court At Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gaston S. Meeks, former federal agent, pleaded not guilty to two indictments charging larceny after trial and imprisonment in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean to effect the return of the Lindbergh baby.

J. William Tomlinson, Meeks' counsel, told Justice Proctor he did not want to change the plea and the court gave him until next Friday to decide. Justice Tomlinson will rule on a date for the trial at that time.

Times Readers Receive First Report of Tragic Find in Lindbergh Case

Copy of the Evening Times, carrying the first news of the death of the Lindbergh baby, was in circulation in Twin Falls and adjacent towns late Thursday afternoon, the extra street sales reaching one thousand figures. One young boy sold 100 copies.

The regular edition of the Evening Times left town in press carrying the information that newspaper men had been authorized to copy the story and a conference of "trecentious importance" but papers destined for outlying points could not be held, awaiting delivery, fulfilling its obligation of printing today's news today.

PILGRIM (Special) — The annual luncheon in honor of Pilgrim's Club was given at the M. E. church last week. The dining room was decorated with a bower of blossoms and round tables were set with white cloths, small salt-mats, and as they took their places, Mademoiselle C. Gilligan and E. A. Beale played a plant-due. A spring bouquet formed a centerpiece for each table.

The program was given after the luncheon, and was in the nature of a magazine reading. Among the speakers were Mrs. G. L. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Holahan, and the numbers given were the "Short Story," Mrs. Ann Grayson.

EVERYONE WILL FIND INTEREST IN THIS ANNOUNCEMENT

Everyone will find interest in this announcement because everyone will profit. The housewife will find that a new and better selection of meats is on the market... procurable at her retail dealer's... because this new packing house has entered the wholesale field. Located on our own property, three miles east of Twin Falls, we carefully fatten our stock before preparing it for market. From our modern plant, replete with every convenience for sanitation and saving in labor, will come only the best in meats.

Not only will the housewives of this tract find better meats on the market, but they will also find many new manufactured products entering the retail stores... fine wieners, minced ham, frankfurters, bologna, summer and Polish sausages, the best in open kettle rendered pure lard... all-of-them appearing under the Sunset brand. Watch for them in the markets; we know you will be delighted with them.

Business men and community leaders will appreciate the investment in this institution, the firm faith-the founders hold for this tract. This large, modern building houses one of the finest plants in the state and stands ready to serve this and the surrounding community in a fashion creditable to a metropolitan institution.

True our institution will not afford work for hundreds, but add our bit toward the many steps bound for business recovery.

Our investment is made in this tract because we know that the future holds much. Our experiences here are all foundation for such a faith.

Work is in progress now at this new plant; stockmen will find us ready to receive livestock either here or at our Kimberly yards.

Combining all the features, it simply means that a new enterprise has entered the commercial field, a new payroll has come to Twin Falls, a new production and manufacturing agency will bring to this community finer and better meats and meat products.

Here's a tip to already wise shoppes . . .

Don't fail to ask for Sunset Meat products . . . you will find them just a little bit better. The finest in quality, but without exorbitance in price. They may be sold reasonably because they are manufactured at a reasonable cost in our modern plant. Try Sunset meats . . . ask for them . . . we know you'll like the quality.

A NATION'S SYMPATHY

A WAVE of horror has swept over America as the result of the revelation Thursday afternoon of the fate meted to the child of the beloved Lindbergh couple—a horror akin to that which sees in the circumstances of the death a desire for revenge.

Out of the inhumanity of the event will come some good no doubt. It will result in an awakening against criminals and their nefarious workings which would destroy the moral fibre of the nation.

A crueler crime can hardly be conceived of; and insult was added to injury in the ransom racket worked since the actual kidnaping of the child more than two months ago.

There is much which can be said of the shocking incident, but its lesson seems apparent to all: that there can hereafter be no compromise with criminality and that this menace must be fought as we would fight any other national enemy.

While an aroused nation contemplates the crime of crimes, all is not hate and vengeance.

The country today bows in sympathy to the beloved family, expressing kindliest solicitation for their welfare and urging them to be brave in their sorrow, just as countless other parents of more wayward station, are called upon daily to bear up under the pain of a grief just as great, perhaps, as is the Lindberghs.

WHAT A PRODIGY MISSES

CHILD prodigies, generally speaking, are more to be pitied than admired. Joanna Xenos, 7, who went from the first to the eighth grade of school in the one year that she has attended the Chicago public schools, undoubtedly has a superb intelligence quota. But just the same, she is decidedly out of her class. Having such a swift mental development it would be even more cruel to keep her confined in a primary room than it is to let her take the place with those her age, as far as her mind is concerned.

The pity rests in the fact that now, and then, child, by some strange mental freak, gets cheated out of childhood because he is too bright. In after years, when his normal contemporaries have caught up with him no one will care that he was a very bright boy or girl as a child. He won't either.

He will just remember that he missed out on hide-and-go-seek and jumping ropes and marbles because his mind kept thinking about the law of diminishing returns and calculus or something else that children have no business being bothered with, anyway.

A WAY TO END GANGS

THERE are many potential government, military, and scientific leaders hiding behind the masks of gang leaders, according to experiments conducted by Dr. W. H. Coyley of Ohio State University.

Dr. Coyley, psychology expert, studied 20 criminal leaders and 20 criminal followers at the Illinois State Penitentiary, Joliet, Ill.; 20 non-commissioned officers and 20 privates from Fort Sheridan, Ill.; and 16 student leaders and 16 student followers of the University of Chicago.

He found certain traits predominate in leaders of all three classes that were missing in the followers. These traits were: self-confidence, finality of judgment, "drive" or lack of inhibition and speed of decision.

Education, it seems, holds the answer to why two men with the same qualities follow different paths—one to public fame and the other to public defamation. Education will cure the flaws of adverse environment. Once the brilliant mind of a leader is directed along the right path, it is quick to acquire fame.

DID THESE ENDOWMENT FUNDS ASSIST LEGITIMATE FARMERS?

THE following state endowment loans were made to the officers and directors of a now defunct bank in a southeastern county of this state, from April 25, 1922 to December 15, 1923. This defunct bank held second mortgages on real estate involved in these farm loans at the time the following loans were made:

3 loans, president and wife	$ 10,300.00
3 loans, vice president and wife	10,500.00
1 loan, cashier	3,730.00
1 loan, assistant cashier	4,520.00
1 loan, director	4,000.00

9 loans—Total $ 35,050.00

Four of these loans have already been foreclosed, and the state has acquired these lands through sheriff's deeds.

Four of these loans are now delinquent and approximately two years' interest and taxes are due. These loans are subject to foreclosure.

The remaining loan is now in the process of foreclosure.

Of the entire nine loans, only $750 has been repaid upon the invested principal of $33,050.

The records show none of the lands acquired through foreclosure have been resold.

The records indicate mortgagors acquired title to these lands less than 30 days prior to date of mortgage of property to the endowment funds.

Here is another clear-cut case of how our state endowment funds have been used, to aid special interests.

Who will arise to defend this incident?

Letter from Roosevelt

Mrs. T. H. Irwin, whose famous patriotic speech stirred an interest in the Twin Falls community, was advanced to the high position on the occasion of the organization of the Red Cross, in receipt of an autographed letter from Col. John Theodore Roosevelt.

The letter in part reads: "I wish on behalf of Mrs. Roosevelt and myself, to express our hearty thanks to you and your administration for the work you have done and for your attitude."

"I wish our people would have realized that the preparedness we have been preaching would be best met by an increase in our defense," the letter was written after Mr. Roosevelt had read a newspaper article quoting Miss Irwin's address.

METHODS DISCUSSED

PROVINCIAL, WIS., (UPI)—A third-thriving midwest town is planning in Wisconsin. It was indicated when owners of houses and port authority officials were asked about the Wisconsin "Three-centuries Association," which gave last membership of 200. His steamship has been replaced almost entirely by railroads, streetcar, comparatively recent invention.

The Golden Eagle is subscription of the Mississippi.

By a story in the Journal-American, it was said: "The association is in front of the Nodaway-Chippewa hundred yard Westmorland morning, that part of the city was built. The Pike's Peak and Colorado mountains, and would have been built the ditch brook an long earlier. The doctor and a few volunteers averted the danger by digging a trench to carry the water away."

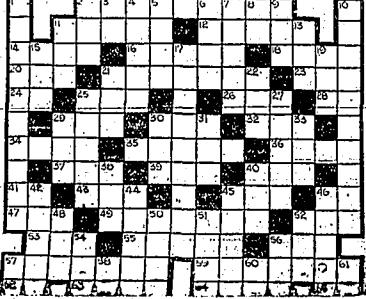

Death's frost motley attack has to obtain houses.

Mr. Foster is removing corns and calluses from both feet for $1.00, located in J. C. Penny block.

DARK HOUSES

Long shot hot on Baker, Young and John W. Davis are now being made by the Inside Democratic crowd.

The situation is clearly developing toward a leadership trip, and most of the delegates lined up or ready to be lined up.

If they go through with their plan,

the results can be stupendous.

It will be a quiet program but it can do damage.

All depends on whether the opposition wants to go far, indications—not that it can.

Baker seems to have the best chance. Roosevelt will have no chance, either as Smith. He looks like he might be able to get together on the Olinian.

The Roseveley, following wendever, never took Young because of his reputation as a redskin.

AMERICAN LEGION ACTS ON VARIETY OF POST AFFAIRS

Ex-Servicemen In Monthly Meeting Plan Details of Events

Important matters occupied the attention at Twin Falls American Legion Post members in session at Legion Memorial Hall Thursday evening.

Plans were made for concluding Memorial day exercises Monday May 23; the Shriners' plan of making car for veterans endorsed; delegates to the state convention at Pocatello were elected; arrangements were made for the Legion's annual picnic and bandy-motorboat Sunday; and a proposed change in the department constitution was endorsed.

Delegates to the state convention were chosen as follows:

John C. Harvey, commander; Hugh O. Keene, adjutant; Ray D. Acee, finance; Johnston, Carl E. Ritchie; John Balch, alternate; and Frank J. Gandy, Nishimura James J., Winterdale, C. R. Heffreath, Kyle M. Water, Roy Ulrich, E. A. Landers, Endicott, founders; Jimmie Principles for department publication were discussed by action of the meeting, which was presided over by John C. Harvey, commander, and C. H. Hendrickson, adjutant.

The Shoulders plan of hospitalization which was approved would provide an alternative for the present system of care in veterans hospitals, making available health and accident insurance in their emergency illness could be treated and cared for at medical institutions and by local physicians.

An invitation for "veterans to attend Memorial day services at the First Christian Church" Sunday May 22, was rebuked, and W. J. Graybill was named by Commander Harvey to be general chairman of arrangements for Memorial day exercises to be held Monday forenoon May 23.

China Bond Races

Changes in the organization of the state department were announced, Jimmie Hendrickson, chairman of the executive committee by district. The provisions were read by Ray D. Acee, adjutant.

E. C. Anderson outlined the best racing program which the post is sponsoring for Sunday May 22, the Bazaar matinee. Tickets may be obtained from the postmaster or racing enterprise.

A report was made by Duncan Johnson revealing the financial results of the boxing season, just closed, in which the bonding fund shared.

It was reported to Wrenstom a month ago by the post in Salt Lake City, Utah, that the national convention of the American Legion which the post went on record as favoring the immediate cash payment of the soldier bonus, while the state committee voted to delay it at home in Salt Lake City, who died Friday at her home in Salt Lake City, her services were held Mother's Day at the St. George Baptist Church.

A year ago the Baptist church of Salt Lake honored Mother Holt at the Mother's Day services. In honor of her death, the church held a memorial service, the mode and the sermon were repeated last Sunday.

Nine of her ten children were in Kentucky at the time of her death.

last year of $3,500,000, estimated to be $1,125,000,000, the deficit already is more than $2,500,000,000. Smoot called for united administration, critics and congressional action.

Smoot indicated he saw small prospect of reducing outlays for veterans.

NOTED CONDUCTOR LEADS JOBLESS BAND

It wasn't a famous orchestra, playing in a great concert hall, that Leopold Stokowski was directing when this picture was taken. Shown here instead and in a characteristically animated pose, the famed conductor leads a band of 200 unemployed musicians in an open air band stand in Philadelphia.

Wool Growers Quit Market Corporation

BOSTON, (UPI)—The Pacific cooperative wool growers' association representing 300,000 west coast growers has withdrawn from the National Wool Marketing corporation and henceforth will operate its crop marketing the King of Kishlak company, old Boston wool firm.

It is composed of wool growers in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Nevada, who produce an average of 100,000 pounds of wool annually.

Son Learns Of Mother's Death

B. N. Holt has received details of the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Smith, 71, of St. George, who died Saturday morning. She died Saturday at her home in St. George. Funeral services were held Mother's Day at the St. George Baptist Church.

OFFICERS TRAIL KIDNAPER BAND OF NEW JERSEY

Condon and Curtis Questioned
In Connection With Recent Efforts

A. Stevens, who earlier New Jersey law may suspend county commissioners or other elected officials if they planned to take charge or merely assist the officials of Hunterdon county, where the body was found, Stevens suspended those officials. In the investigations before the body was found, Princeton was known to exist at that time between the county prosecutors and the state police.

Discovery of the pitiful, mutilated corpse, of the sickly child, elicited a groan from the nation. The yesterday afternoon less than five miles from the Lindbergh home, horrified the nation. It remained all afternoon to wonder whether "playboy" parents hitherto held in check for fear over police action might bring harm to the baby.

Authorities made it plain that a hunt for the kidnappers, conducted in criminal history was already in progress; that no spot on earth would be safe for the child's abductors. An officer in the United States would be on the alert, that foreign police would lend their full co-operation. That the search for the long-sought kidnapper from the tortured parents is spent, it will be traced.

Police were spurred by the almost overwhelming callousness of the crime, indicating either and been committed by a madmen for revenge, or by scarcely human criminals, or by amateurs frightened by violence.

The child for which two men, half-brothers, were searching—perhaps, on the off-chance to know that child's death and to sympathize with the grieved parents. Henry Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., victim of an unknown fiend, is shown in a picture taken last June.

Today a stricken father and mother sadly look back to the time when their home was invaded by a sickly headed little boy. A world outraged by the kidnapping and brutal slaying of the night of the kidnapping itself.

The heart of the world went to the bereaved parents, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., to the Lindberghs, soon to be another sibling, and to her fibrous husband, who has spent tortured days and nights hunting ceaselessly for the kidnappers. A dubious identification was at last effected, to be replaced by mourning.

Mrs. Lindbergh was at home when the news reached her. She was grief-stricken, but held her son from the world, although she was said to be bearing up bravely with the closely guarded sorrow of a house broken into, a child snatched away, a husband grieved, a home that had been planned as a safe retreat in which to rear their child and have their home life.

The baby's body was taken to the morgue at Trenton for a postmortem and police recording. Dr. Charles H. Mitchell, county physician, who examined the body two weeks before the kidnapping, was present for the time being an "unknown" baby but would be released to the Lindberghs as soon as their claim is met.

The baby, today Dr. Phillip Van Ingen, New York physician connected with the Rockefeller Institute, who examined the baby two weeks before the kidnapping, was present for the sake of the police.

At 2:15 p.m. yesterday when a Negro truck driver and his helper "found" the "stolen" in a clump of woods about four and a half miles north of the Lindbergh home, near the tiny hamlet of Mount Rose.

The baby had been killed, apparently by a bullet in the head, and the entire skeleton lay in the woods along 75 feet from the road. An attempt had been made to conceal it in a shallow depression, but the body had been disturbed, and it may have been covered up until the wind and rain of more than two months brought it to light to be easily discovered by the horrified trucker.

The "body lay face down. The sleeping girl was missing. Two sleeping girls had been found, one in the shrubbery and one in the room. The snatched band and diapers were gone. Remnants of the child's blood-stained clothing were found.

The trucker, William Atton, ran back to his truck informed his companion and the police were notified. In an incredibly short time, members of the crew, neighbors, police, fire department, and medical examiner, converged on the scene. The police and medical examiner, and the child's nurse, Betty Gow, then it was Charles, Jr.

RAINS IMPROVE GRAZING LANDS

Sheepmen of Hagerman Valley
Move Bands To Desert
For Summer

HAGERMAN, (Special) — Sheepmen of the valley are beginning to move their sheep out to the desert for the summer grazing. Because of the rains this year, the range here is better now than it has been for the past five or six years.

The shepherds surprised the rest of the high school Tuesday morning, by taking a "snack" day. They went to Castleford to see castle rock.

Mrs. M. Parsons entertained in honor of her daughter, Genia, ninth grade.

Other students invited were:

Irene Lueders, Lydia Werth,

Evelyn Koenig, Barbara Koenig,

Leona Laermann, Olga Meyer, seventh grade; Melvin Opliger, Vernon Lassen, Elmer Nielsen, Irene Phenix, Esther Parsons, Paul Deneen, eighth grade.

They were invited to eat cake with each other.

Shepherd prom will be held in the Hagerman high school gymnasium Friday.

Extensive examinations

were held Saturday.

Students who passed

the "Six Aces" or higher were invited to attend the dance.

DISTURBING THE PEACE

WENDELL, (Special) — Elwin Powers, who lives east of Wendell, was charged before the magistrate with disturbing the peace.

Powers this week and fined $10 and costs on a charge of disturbing the peace. His companion, a minor, was referred to the juvenile court, and sentence was deferred pending good behavior.

SHOSHONE TAXPAYERS

ASKED TO PAY LEVY

SHOSHONE, (Special) — A special levy election has been called by the trustee of Independent School District No. 12 for Monday, May 16, to pay a levy of $10,000 from 1:30 to 4:30 P.M. This election is held for the purpose of determining if the district may proceed with its proposed plan to cover the schools which they are allowed by law to levy for the maintenance and upkeep of the schools.

WHEN YOUR WIFE DRIVES

When your wife drives, when your family rides . . . you want the safest in tires—the best that money can buy. That means GOODYEAR Tires, and this year it means the new GOOD-

YEAR Silent All Weather—the first tire to combine SAFETY with SILENCE, giving noiseless, non-skid traction in the center of the tread where it belongs.

Yes indeed, the best tires—in dependability as well as in value—are GOODYEARS. Don't take our word for it, take the public's. Their word is the reason more people ride on GOODYEARS than on any other make of tire.
