HOUSE APPROVES CONSIDERATION OF PATMAN MEASURE

Two Big Obstacles Remain In Path of Bill Demanded

Both of Major Committees

L. French, voted "ay" on the resolution to consider the Pat-man bonus measure, according to

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The shock troops of the bonus expeditionary forces marched up Capitol Hill through the rain today and won their first major victory when the House, on its second vote, approved consideration of the bill of the Patman bill for immediate payment of $5,400,000,000 to discharge the government's obligations to the veterans.

The vote was 226 to 175.

The house advocates failed to get a two-thirds majority their success in forcing a vote on the Patman bill showed that they had the support of the majority over the presidential veto that certainly would follow the bill's submission to the white house.

One More Step

Immediately after passing the motion to demand a vote on the bill another roll-call was taken on adoption of the rule itself. This was another step in the involved process of getting the bill to bring about a direct vote on the bonus bill.

The House unanimously confirmed the motion by a vote of 216 to 163, the rule which makes the bonus bill the order of business tomorrow. The rule limit debate for four hours.

Forty-nine veterans from the flooded state of Anacostia park beleaguered over the gallery rails as the procedure of discharging the rules committees from further consideration of a specific resolution for discharge of the bill was being set the way for a referendum on the Patman bill tomorrow. Already the troop had run down through the the floor.

POCATELLO, I.D. (UPI)—South-

yesterday with the moni-

A sudden terrific downpour on East mountain, 15 miles south of

and that actually held up traffic on the Yellowstake highway.

Highway crews were clearing away a half mile of mud and

Bambino Equals 1927 Mark With Twenty Homers

NEW YORK (UP) — Babe Ruth is blasting out home runs this season at the same merry clip that enabled him to establish an all-time record of 60 in 1927.

The Bambino at Cleveland yesterday drove out homers No. 10 and 20, contributing to the New York Yankees' 13 to 5 victory over the Indians.

It was the Yankees' fifth-annual game, and Ruth's 10th win. The Babe made his 19th and 20th home runs in his team's 52nd game and against Cleveland.

Al Bat 188 Times

The yesterday's four-bangers placed the "sternly" eight circuit drives ahead of his number for 32 games last year.

Ruth has been at bat 188 times, and driven in 29 home runs.

Yesterday's show placed him only two runs behind Jimmy Fox of the Boston Red Sox, Athletics, who leads both leagues.

The Yanks' scoring was started by Ruth's eleventh home run and with Sewell's hit in the eighth, Ruth again led the field in the ninth inning with Sewell again on base. He came off with two runs, and in the fifth inning, so that he had 10 walks, knocked home half dozen runs.

Tigers Trim 3's

Detroit replaced Cleveland in fourth place in the American League by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 10 to 3, and the Indians, 11 to 3, in their doubleheader.

The St. Louis Browns were both in a double-header, from the Washington Senators, 5 to 3, and 6 to 6, in the first game. Carl Mays limited his former Wash- ington team to 7 hits.

Chillicothe Whizards defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 1, in a sleepy game.

The Chicago Cubs, Indians and Detroit also won in the National League by beating the Boston Braves, 5 to 3, in 13 innings.

Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Indians, 10 to 9, in 12 starts, when Philadelphia's Phils beat them, 6 to 1. St. Louis at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at New York were washed out.

Metcalf Hailed As Greatest Sprinter Since Days of Charley Paddock

CHICAGO (UP) — Ralph Metcalf, Marquette Negro sprints today was hailed in midwest track and field circles as the greatest sprinter since Charley Paddock was in the prime of his career.

Breaking three world records in one afternoon, in one afternoon, in the National Collegiate A. A. meet at Stagg Field, Saturday, Metcalf accomplished more than any other sprinter since Paddock.

Here's what Metcalf did: 100 yards, 109.5, equalling nearest world's record; 200 yards, 210.4, ten-tenths of a second faster than the world's record made by Paddock in 1921.

220 yards, 220.5, one-tenth of a second faster than that of Hank Roland Locke's world's record made in 1926.

At a speed of 109.5, three-tenths of a second under Locke's world's record.

holder in the 100 yards, Frank Helms handbook and demand thorough going-over of the facts.

Stars Defeat Los Angeles Six Games Out of Seven In Coast Series

By United Press

Jacksonville's seven games in their series with Los Angeles' Hollywood Stars today were three games out in front of the second place Portland Beavers.

After winning the first 14 to 1, Saturday night, the Stars built a double header with their fellow swimmers yesterday. Ortman won the first contest, 10 to 3, but the Indians' Tom McNamee failed to stop the Anchors in the night cap and the Stars lost, 1 to 6.

Portland dropped four games in their series with Seattle. The Beavers were swamped, 6 to 1, Saturday and split Sunday's double header with the Indians.

The Yanks' scoring was started by Ruth's eleventh home run and with Sewell's hit in the eighth, Ruth again led the field in the ninth inning with Sewell again on base. He came off with two runs, and in the fifth inning, so that he had 10 walks, knocked home half dozen runs.

Figures Important to Game

And baseball's figures are just as important to the game as the figures who run up and down the canvas and prance across the diamond, even though they are not business. For those row after raw of figures form the skeleton framework which supports baseball and football.

Of course, Master Elias does not do all the work alone, but it is he, and "he alone," who checks and rechecks the figures and receives all the statistics.

For brother Elias is a trifling on the subject of accuracy. When he says a left-handed pitcher has hit by name, he means it.

"There are two kinds of statistics," says Al. "Accurate statistics and worthless statistics. There is no middle ground. You might go along with the accurate statistics, but inaccurate figures are worse than worthless, for thousands of folks depend on them for information.

Accurate statistics are good, but figures eight or right, which I would stake my life on 'em," rather drive a jinny's track, which I understand, is very trying work."

Now They Can Bark About Their Operation

Human beings don't bark a corner on all the so-called "human diseases." Dogs and cats, too, are treated by most of the sameills, and here you see some of them being treated in a New York hospital for animals that is so complete that almost any kind of operation could be performed in it. The Great Dane, at left, was found upon examination to have heart trouble. The dog, upper center, with bandaged head, had been operated upon for cancer of the eye, and the obviously pleased patient next to him had just passed a physical examination with flying colors. The canine inmate in the middle was being given X-ray treatment, and the cat, below, was fastening in the teeth of a chisel, no happy. The dog—on the right had a skin infection, and members of the hospital staff are shown putting him back on the road to health.

FLY IN THE OINTMENT

Opening of Greenwood street crossing at Shoshone has been a moot question for some time, the O. S. L. resisting the move on the expressed grounds that the expense would be prohibitive and that Shoshone business men oppose the proposition.

The current issue of the Lincoln County Journal, Shoshone's newspaper, this week voices what can well be assumed to be the sentiment of the community in regard to the matter, which attitude will find ready acceptance from the other towns and cities on Highway 93, and which should set at rest any representations that there is disagreement among proponents of the opening of the crossing as to the best method to pursue.

The Journal says:

The Village of Shoshone has declared in no uncertain manner its intention to secure if possible the opening of Greenwood street across the Oregon Short Line right-of-way in the Shoshone business district. The Village had been placed in a trying position by conditions which were not of its own making, but it has gone ahead courageously along the course which seems best.

There has been some delay. Following the filing of a complaint against the railroad company May 28, serving of papers on company officials was held up pending a review of the situation by the legal department of the state government. Suggestions as to changes in the complaint were received from the state this week, the village attorney promptly complied with them, a slightly changed complaint was filed, and papers were served upon rail road company officials Tuesday.

As to just how swiftly the action can proceed in the courts is of course only speculative. The problems as to when the crossing will be opened and as to what can be done about the Greenwood street bridge will have to remain unsettled for a short time at least. The most we can do is to hope it will not have to be too long.

One issue is settled; however, and that is that in view of changed conditions townpeople want the street re-opened and are doing all within their power to get it. There would appear to be no further justification for penalizing the town as to the long promised completion of the highways which lead into it from the west, north and south. There is no longer any reason for withholding the oiling on these three highways.

Twenty miles of 93 will soon be under contract in Twin Falls county. Other sections of the highway are rapidly being brought into first-class shape. The railroad company will find its policy of opposition unsuccessful in the end, for it cannot hope to block the opening of the crossing, much less the oiling of the highway on either side of the city.

It is highly desirable that the opening of the street in question be accomplished without delay.

HOW COME DEFICIT

(Oregon Journal)

There is a great hullabaloo in Washington, a feverish demand on the part of the president that the budget be balanced. That indeed is a worthy purpose. By all means, it should be done.

But as we look back over these past few years, as we vision the reductions in taxes, particularly on those in the higher income brackets during times of great prosperity, and as we hear the president now talk of higher income taxes diminishing the returns from those taxes, a few reflections are likely to come to a great many people.

They will probably ask themselves what the administration was doing while the deficit was piling up, and why there was a wait for two and a half years—waiting for something—before this feverish request came from the executive mansion that the budget be balanced.

A great many people will probably ask themselves what the "greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton" was doing while the deficit was piling up, when even his superior in the White House was doing.

They will probably ask whether taxes should have been so far decreased when the nation was enjoying great prosperity, or whether they should have been left where they were and debts paid off, leaving millions less for the public to pay annually during this period of depression, and perhaps, even, avoiding the present deficit.

They will probably ask themselves if it would not have been better business of pay off when we could pay than to reduce taxes during prosperity only to be compelled to raise them enormously to meet a deficit when a depression is here.

Whims and Hobbies of Great and Near-Great

Editor's note: This is the last in a series of articles concerning the eccentricities, hobbies and memberships of some of America's famous men and women.

By H. ALLEN SMITH
Editor, Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twin Falls, Idaho, Young rides the subway to his office. Mayor James J. Walker wears a moon-titting pajama with high collar. His Lady wears a nightgown with a white lace border. Lawrence Tibbett has no pockets in his trousers.

Such facts as these were disclosed by the United Press in a survey of the hobbies, fads and idiosyncrasies of famous Americans.

Young's office is in the Equitable building and usually on Saturday evenings he goes to the lounge for a sandwich and a glass of milk. He is an avid collector of rare books and Dr. A. A. W. Rosenbach, one of his close friends, Young always writes "Van Horneville, N. Y." after his name on hotel registers.

Mayo Walker is a night person and sleeps from 12 to 2 a.m. He wears a mask made especially for him. His suits do not always follow the style but are made to suit his taste. He smokes de-ventilated cigarettes and speaks Latin and Greek.

John Larimer loves camping and likes the open. He plays the piano, saxophone, cornet and clarinet. He sends funny telegrams to his friends, such as "I am, dear old friend, about as thin as one day old chicken," etc.

This is the children's night out and I have to stay home with the kids," said Paul Whittemore. He strips down to his undershirt and undershorts and wears nothing else.

Carl Laemmle is out five feet tall and speaks with a German accent. He loves basketball. He has a large collection of baseball cards which his employees write what they think about him. He wears red carrots in his jacket.

Theodore Dreiser constantly folds up and unfolds his hands while in conversation. He walks with an ambling gait and wears house-fitting, uninteresting clothes and wears an easily furnished studio apartment in the heart of New York's theatrical district.

Edith Cowan, on her frequent trips to the United States, never fails to sit on the front step of the general store to chat with people. She is fond of cigars and often smokes in a white jersey holder.

George White, 110 neckties, always wears a bow tie. He wears green suits, black shoes, white silk shirts and black ties. He plays with mechanical toys and likes to sell them. He has sold his boyhood home on a bet that "Birth of the Blues" would be a song hit.

He has sold his home twice and has heavily on the races. He knows all the best kosher restaurants.

Melvin A. Tracy, the Chicago banker, goes to bed with wife in separate rooms. Tracy, a bachelor, rarely patronizes the neighborhood theater. His fellow-townsmen, Senator J. Hamilton Smith and his family, visit Twin Falls the year round, having still more varieties for sun weather.

KIRKLAND (Special) — The Ladies' Pioneer club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. L. C. Byrne, the wife of State Taxed Wright, as their guest. About 200 women, including many of the wives of the double-witch residents here, were interested in the meeting.

They were asked for the name of the place where the first settlers were given shelter, and it was given as Amherst-Stamps.

They found from inquiry that the settlers were to be found in the vicinity of the town of Gilson a few miles north.

Jack A. and Mabel Landerberg spent the week end visiting in Boise.

Arthur Capone, president of the American Association of Tailors, was in Klamath business visitor Thursday.

Henry E. West arrived home Wednesday morning from a business trip to points in Nevada and California. Mr. West left San Bernardino, Calif., just one week previously.
