INSURGENT BONUS SEEKERS REVOLT AGAINST LEADERS

Police Hurry To Capital When Veterans Take Steps To Persuade Senators

OFFICIALS' EFFORTS OPPOSED BY ARMY

Food Fund Running Low, Ex-Service Men Advised; 55 Return Home

WASHINGTON, (UP)—An insurgent band of 500 veterans revolted against their leaders today and marched on the Capitol in an attempt to convert Senators to the Patman bonus bill.

Thirty-five metropolitan police hurried to the Capitol to reinforce the regular force.

W. W. Waters, commander of the Bonus expeditionary forces, left Anchorage for the capital in an attempt to prevent possible disorders.

The Senate already has defeated the Patman bill, calling for immediate payment of $2,000,000,000 in bonuses.

Edward Williams of Johnson City, Tenn., took command of the unit after they arrived at the capital.

Williams had hoped to have 15,000 men on capitol hill before evening.

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The main forces of the bonus army held their positions on the capitol hill, but efforts of authorities to start them on a homeward retreat.

Police Superintendent Lehman told the veterans that their food fund was down to $3,000 and that contributions had fallen off to almost nothing.

Commander Walter Waters of the bonus army retorted that "we might as well starve here as at home."

Waters admitted slight defections from his forces. Fifty-five men started home yesterday. But he said he still had about 400 left, and recruiting officers now at work in various sections of the country would bring new supplies of food and new troops to the 12,000 or more still here.

LONDON, (UPI)—A World War hero who walked away from a stone wall his bondsmen accompanied a holdup, was hanged today because the youth's gun discharged accidentally and killed his victim.

Prospectors Lured By Visions of Gold

SEWARD, Alaska, (UPI)—Gold fever gripped two separate groups of prospectors over unknown Yukon trails today.

Visions of wealth and affluence were revived with a reported strike at Nizka, 80 miles south of Fairbanks. A group of 100 gold-seekers, estimated to assay between $15,000 and $50,000 a ton, was displayed here by Tom Bascom and Dave Powers, local prospectors of the big district.

News of the discovery spread rapidly. Telegrams and telephone calls from all parts of the country seeking information poured into this northern city. Prospecting parties formed overnight. A few, however, were held up by the Alaskan law for the district immediately after the announcement.

Meanwhile, the Bascom and Mitchell exploration party in south-eastern Alaska may be forced to have started mining the day after.

French Leaders Refuse To Be Pessimistic; Twenty Attend Meeting

By SAMUEL DASHIELL United Press Staff Correspondent

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, (UPI)—A delegation of Frenchmen, led by the minister of finance, came to Lausanne yesterday to "negotiate" young Franklin D. Roosevelt's little policies. Now it has been announced that the American delegation will attend the meeting, which was attended by more than 20 French and German ministers and experts.

French Optimistic

Count Schweizer von Kroischitz, German finance minister, clearly implied Germany is unable to pay future reparations, even after extensive negotiations, and now nothing new is in effect, but the French refused to be pessimistic.

Herrford told newspapermen the conference developed a good attitude toward the proposed terms.

"We are devoted to a lengthy exposition of Germany's financial and economic condition by Von Kroschitz," he said.

Belgium Presents Plan

The Belgian delegation announced it had presented to Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald a plan for reorganization of German public utilities to help assure the monetary stability of the Reich. It provides for organization of a state-owned bank, probably under the Bank of Central and Eastern Europe. A reform of tariff systems would be attempted.

Reason Why Grain Should Rise Told As Price Declines

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—As the price of wheat continues to fall, the Department of Agriculture continues to give reasons why it should rise.

The department, in this week's report on wheat prospects, emphasizes that although its bulletins report are based on the outlook for the world crop, while the strength of the bears at Chicago is based on local conditions and fear of worse to come.

New Tax Is Factor

Unofficial comment is to the effect that the new tax on futures transaction is the present factor that has run the bulls to cover.

Another bearish factor pointed out by the department is "the tendency for European countries to tighten their restrictions in importation in anticipation of the harvest of their own wheat crop."

Wheats Crop Smaller

After the new crop is harvested, the department says, "the world wheat supply is distinctly smaller" than a year ago, the department summarizes, the local market.

"The United States is about to enter the new crop year with the prospect of a winter wheat crop about 377,000,000 bushels smaller than that of last year."

ROOSEVELT TO LOSE BLOCK OF 35 VOTES

If Roosevelt Fails

Tammany Reported Supporting Baker Or Ritchie

FACTIONS FIGHT

CHICAGO, (UPI)—

Tammany apparently ditched Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today, and there arose hints that a third-party might come from the bitter fight now waging in the Democratic convention ranks.

By RAYMOND CHAPLER United Press Staff Correspondent

CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS, CHICAGO, (UPI)—Tammany has decided to throw Franklin D. Roosevelt overboard; according to apparently reliable information today.

The last hope that the "wigwams" sizeable block of around 35 votes would support Roosevelt appeared to go glittering when John F. Curry, Tammany leader, announced he would fight abolition of the two-thirds rule to the "last political ditch."

Roosevelt forces want the rule abolished, so they can nominate Roosevelt with a majority.

Switch to Baker

Associates of Curry also indicated that the Tammany bloc ultimately would go to Newton D. Baker, but before that would be Governor Albert C. Barnes.

AT THE TURN?

General Dawes is out with a statement which is significant from two standpoints.

One is that he is on record, ostensibly as an administration spokesman, with another "just around the corner" prediction for good times.

The other is that he practically coincides with Governor Roosevelt in his belief that conditions have to change from the bottom up, and not from the top down.

We can dismiss the roseate nature of his prediction and give consideration to the Roosevelt thesis which he apparently accepts, for he voices the sentiments of millions of Americans when he declares in a prepared statement:

"Coming as I do from my work at Washington on the R. F. C., where one gets in its fair perspective the general business situation of the country, I believe that we have reached the turning point in the depression."

"It is the smaller business enterprises with low overhead expenses that seem to be showing improvement; but in time the larger ones will necessarily follow."

"The recovery from the depression will start from the bottom up, not from the top down. That is what past experience shows."

Commenting on this statement a coast paper declared that at last the big shots are beginning to understand. The word that used to come down from there was, "Make the big corporations prosperous, and they will make the masses prosperous." That propaganda has been broadcast in many a presidential campaign, and, sad to tell, many a poor and toiling citizen, fooled by the politicians, has spread that absurd slogan.

Still deciding where the recovery will begin, Mr. Dawes said: "It is the average man and the average man's business that is the main factor in the situation. His business in the aggregate is enormous."

"We know Dawes is right in his contention that business must start from the ground up; let us hope he is also correct in his prediction that "good times are just around the corner."

BE HOLD!

(Oregon Journal)

Three-million-dollars-a-year for Oregon motorists to pay in the new "balance-the-budget" federal tax law!

And Oregon folks have this oppressive tax to pay probably because of stupid administration and rotten legislation more than by reason of the depression. We had Mr. Harding, then Mr. Coolidge, and now Mr. Hoover. And here is one gigantic waste of money exacted from taxpayers:

For the year ending June 30, 1931, $18,790,765 was paid steamer lines for carrying only 28,103,600 pounds of mail. The cost to the government was at the rate of more than 66 cents per pound. This monstrosity was perpetrated in the name of "subvention."

And here are some payments under this frightful expenditure of tax money: The American West African steamship line carried 138 pounds of mail for which it received $87,862.50. Get the figures—$87,862.50 for carrying 138 pounds of mail, or $660.62 cents a pound!

The Mississippi Shipping corporation was paid $100,792.50 for carrying 161 pounds of mail, or $3,776.11 a pound. Get those figures—$3,776.11 a pound for carrying mail! At usual rates, the cost would have been $95.68. The subvention, or subsidy, amounted to $607,696.82, or $3774.1 per pound of mail carried.

The South Atlantic Steamship company carried 74 pounds of mail for which it received $363,022.50, or $4,905.71 per pound. Under standard mail-carrying rates the cost would have been $32.56. The subsidy on 74 pounds of mail was $362,989.94, or $4,905.27 per pound of mail carried.

But the prize subsidy-grabber, however, says the Salem Capital Journal, "was the Tampa Inter-Ocean Steamship company. It carried 85 pounds of mail for which it was paid $438,775. It cost the taxpayers of the country to deliver that 85 pounds of mail the gigantic sum of $5,162.06 a pound."

The pretense for these absurd subsidies is, of course, to keep American lines plying to remote ports. And while we do that we destroy our chances to get business from those ports, by Hawley-Smoot tariffs.

Such are the stupid business operations carried on at Washington in these days of Hoover prosperity—$5,162.06 paid a steamship company for carrying one pound of mail!

Three million dollars a year for Oregon motorists to pay to balance the national budget!

Once in the days before self-government, the king told his minions how much money to collect from his subjects on which to go to war!

Editor Idaho Evening Times:
Sir: We are going to hear a lot in the next few months of what your party has done, and of what your party will do. If you have any party with definite aims, let me know.

Whether this law was intended as an act of statesmanship, or as a means of getting re-elected, let me know. Let me know whether over party politics, let's all agree that not all the acclamations in my party are angles, nor all the good people in your party devils.

The word "party" means different things to different people. To some it means a political party, to others it means a religious party.

The letter writer asks:

What does your party mean?

You and I might voice our opinions, but I am sure that most of them can't afford to talk about their party.

You may be a member of the party, but I am not.

NOXIOUS WEEDS TAKE ATTENTION ON MANY FARMS

Bureau Head Describes Various Methods Of Successive Control

Newspaperman, in company with J. P. Hunt, head of the county bureau of noxious weeds, and Harvey S. Hale, county extension agent, Thursday afternoon paid a visit to a number of farms in the county to witness the control of noxious weeds damage to a nearby area.

Methods of weed treatment were explained and results demonstrated, and a number of farmers of the treated weed growth complained.

The weed department this year under Mr. Hunt's direction, not only continues its educational work in the application and the eradication of the weeds by furnishing corrective methods and advising to the farmers the best way to go about to rid farms of this growing menace.

Practices Clean Cultivation

"Clean cultivation" is without doubt the quickest, cleanest and most effective method of controlling the weeds," declared Mr. Hunt, who himself is a farmer and a large taxpayer.

"The other practical methods are these: One is the application of carbide sulphur at an approximate cost of $300 an acre, and the other is to burn the weeds in roasting the ground," declared Mr. Hunt.

But the problem is an annual one and is receiving serious attention constantly not only by county officials but more particularly by the extension agent, who is in universal agreement that the work must be pursued in order to keep effective control of noxious weeds in Twin Falls county.

tion of the problem, the use of chemicals to be auxiliary to the control. Every acre of land is damaged by weeds and the value of the land in value, the taxes of neighboring lands and other properties are increased. Thus the burden is also the responsibility of all, and not alone by the particular farmer or owner affected.

It is realized that noxious weeds are spread by birds, cattle, deer and animals carrying the seed. It is my opinion, weed growth is spread more frequently by these methods than water.

Farmers generally are alert to the problem, are highly sympathetic in the program for the elimination of weeds, even at the green expense of crops. A continuation of this attitude will be the salvation of the farming."

In emphasizing the advantages of successive control, Mr. Hunt, like his predecessor, cited the case in particular, where there is a patch of morning glory, thickly growing, which covers an acre. He stated that to eradicate it, it would require two hours a day, twice a week, over a period of three months, at a weight mean of 100 pounds per acre of the farmer's time, as against $100 for spray or $300 for carbon.

But the problem is an annual one and is receiving serious attention constantly not only by county officials but more particularly by the extension agent, who is in universal agreement that the work must be pursued in order to keep effective control of noxious weeds in Twin Falls county.

GETS PENAL TERM FOR FOWL THEFTS

John Tracey Sentenced To Serve From One To 10 Years

John T. Tracy, confessed chicken thief, was sentenced by Judge W. A. Baileck in district court Friday at 2 p. m. to serve from one to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Vernon McCowan, 18, charged with burglary of the residence of Mrs. R. H. Sulkin, was to enter his plea at that time. Tracy, revealing the verdict, said the trial was unusually well conducted.

The use of spray appears to attain more certain results at one-half the cost, but the effect is to penetrate the soil to a depth of 10 inches and rob it of its fertility for a season or two. The spray, however, apparently is more effective than the herbicides, which penetrate the material through the foliage permeates the plant and goes down into the roots.

The use of material is important. In that last season, in the use of the spray machine, the material was applied at the rate of 400 gallons per acre, while previously the department was applying about 500 gallons of material at hour. Hunt's contention is that the larger quantity was wasted and more damaging to the land.

One advantage of the use of the spray material is that it is less expensive than the use of the high cost herbicides, but great care is used in its application and no accident have occurred under Hunt's management.

Particularly appropriate for the use of spray are arid, arid, fence and ditch, hard to cultivate and where there is little or no soil available, even if possible.

Four Noxious Weeds

Principal noxious weeds, this year, will be the common knapweed, Canadian thistle, white top (hoary grass) and perennial night shade.

Careful selection of the tract appear to be particularly susceptible to one kind of a weed or another and last year, it is estimated, no less than 100,000 acres were because of maximum seed growth.

The contention of the department is now that the annual, winter, noxious weed, is the greatest, even if possible.

FEDERAL COURT REAFFIRMS OLD WATER DECREES

Judge Bourquin, Butte, Passes
On North Side Water
Case

ROISE — A federal decree re-affirming water rights in 1913 by the fourth judicial district court of Idaho at Twin Falls, involving water rights on the North Side project, was issued Wednesday by Judge George M. Bourquin, Butte, presiding over the United States district court in Boise, says the Idaho Daily Statesman.

The case, originally brought by the United States government against the North Side Canal company, has been a familiar figure in court rooms around the nation since the allocation of water between the north side irrigated lands and the government Minidoka project.

Judge Bourquin, in his decision, upheld the decree of the Idaho court issued in June, 1913, and amended in September, 1926. He ruled that the canal that the United States had substituted as the owner of all rights which the attorney general had awarded the secretary of interior.

Estoppel Rights

The federal judgment sets out 11 water rights, involving storage and natural flow waters of the Snake River. In order of their priority they are: 1, the maximum amount measured in seconds due on each of the rights.

The first right, held by Charles W. Atwell, of Twin Falls, dates from 1889, and involves two second feet of the natural flow of the river.

Future rights awarded the Twin Falls Canal company 3,000 second feet diverted at Milner date for use on lands south of the Snake river, and 1,000 second feet of the river, dated October 11, 1900; the Twin Falls North Side Land and Water company for use in Milner, 400 second feet, dated October 11, 1900; the United States government, 1725 second feet diverted at Milner, for the Minidoka project, dated March 26, 1903. Future water rights add to the amounts decreed the North Side amounts, and the irrigation rights until the North Side is decreed a maximum of 3,000 second feet the capacity of Milner canal. The government's rights are 1,000 second feet more than another 1,000 second feet for Milner project and 150 second feet representing the flow of Marsh Creek, a tributary to the Snake river.

Gives U.S. 2,500 Feet

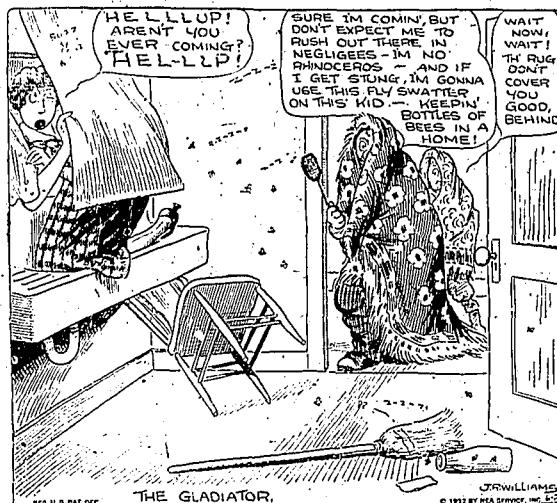

The last of the rights gave the government 2,500 second feet for use at Milner, date to develop power to dig irrigation ditches and the right to use of the natural flow of Snake river in Hill Lake (Walnut) reservoir.

The decree further orders that all stored water, in Lake Walnut and Jackson Lake reservoirs shall be under control of the United States government in reserve and divided in accordance with existing contracts. In case Jackson Lake reservoir is enlarged in accordance with its original plan, water then shall be distributed according to existing contracts.

For Salmon, Irrigation and Rain Irrigation and Canal companies, the Twin Falls Canal company.

The state department of reclamation retains the power to determine between storage and natural flow waters.

"Waterless Mountain"

(A Book Review)

In "Waterless Mountain," the author, Mrs. Lorraine Adams Armer, relates the story of the lost child book of the year. Mrs. Lorraine Adams Armer gives one of the most accurate and understanding stories of the life of a child ever written. She has the ability of making the same deep comprehension of Indian lore that makes her writing famous, prevails in this story.

She and her husband have illustrated the book. Some of the fine wash drawings over appearing in children's books, are enclosed between the covers of the book. Numerous arrested motion, hangs over some of the drawings. Others are complete with vigor and action. Some are delicate and artistic, others are delicate and delightful subjects for a child's bedroom. There is one drawing, "The Sun Beared and the Turquoise Woman," of unusual and lasting beauty.

Probably this book, which admittedly tells the story of Little Brother and his ambitions to become a medicine man, can teach the child more about the meaning of life, including poetry and art, than any contemporary child's book. It is not only an education, but also a pleasure to read.

It is on the shelves of the Twin Falls public library, and is available to library readers.

Read the fine lines of the right hand, reflecting the left, and clasping the index finger of the left. Firmness is necessary for complete control, so if the hands are not strong, the grip will not be strong on the shaft. This grip is used by many leading female players.
