(Continued from page one)—The sound of the guardmen's bugle as they marched past us this morning was the sweetest music we ever heard.

For 29 hours, we had been under fire. We had gone. We were hungry. None of us had slept. The water from the boiler—all we could get—had been all we had to drink since we started some of his fire sticks.

If the national guard hadn't rescued us, we probably would have starved to death. We had been here, expecting trouble for days but when we came to work Tuesday, thought it'd "bother any man to be here." We had no idea of our escape or a revolver or rifle. When we came up from the lower shafts that afternoon, had brace.

Several Wounded

The pickets were all around us and they laid down a barrage. We rushed to our stations and returned to our posts. One guardman was wounded and I saw several of them firing on us, fall to the ground.

That was just the start. Bullets kept whistling about us for hours. We didn't fire too much because we had no gun. If we did, we knew our ammunition would run out.

We threw hand-made dynamite at ours. It worked but when we reached there, wouldn't have been much chance for us.

Terrible Gun Fire

When the airplanes started to fly over—rarely—afternoon, we knew it was time to leave. Instead it just went. Apparently the pickets were out to get us. So the traps came in. They started early all the ammunition we had left to drive them off. They started to shoot closer.

We looked for the attack at the top of the hill. It was there we reached there, wouldn't have been much chance for us.

United States Team Increases Enormous Margin Over Rivals

Score Sheets Place America in Front of Big Field.

TOLAN TRIUMPHS

By STUART CAMERON

United Press Staff Writer
United States, (UPI) — The United States track and field team steamed onward today to continue the enormous margin of triumph over the world's modern Olympiad.

While there was a point score in the international relay race, the American nation keeps one, and the unofficial system, used to the United States, as well as the first, and the Irish Free State, and Great Britain, each picked up some European nations, each picking up America well into the lead.

The United Press score sheet shows the United States, with 24, Dublin, second, with 24, the United States had seven firsts, and the Irish Free State and Great Britain each won three. Three men's track were listed for today.

Japan, with its brilliant relay record, was second, with 18, and Italy, which should be able to capture eight laurels in the top step and jump, was third.

Matti Hennik, favorite of Finland, holder of the world's unofficial javelin throw record of 223 feet, 10 inches, and holder of three national records, Penttila and Sipala, were the stars in this classic event.

But the United States had double trouble, as Karpis, Cunningham, Cunningham, Norman, Paeske (Holloway), Jr., of Harvard, and Frank Clegg, of Cornell, all in the 1,500 meters, and these six men at least promised a serious battle with John Edward Lovelock, of New Zealand, and the winners of Italy, winners of the second and third heats, Cunningham won the first heat.

And the field ergas reached its fifth day, with new record performances coming in almost nonstop, and record breaking events.

Two events were decided at Olympic stadium yesterday and they were record performances in each.

Tolman-Wins Again

Most excellent was the 200-meter final, won by Eddie Tolman, in 21.2 seconds. Tolman explained the big performances of Hall of Argentina, and Joubert of Germany, in the trials, as being due to the fact that the world mark, for a 200-meter around 17.5.

America made its second clean sweep in the 200, for George Simpson of Ohio was second, and Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, third, and the two Americans beat the two others when George Baling of Iowa flashed home first, with Percy Beard of Alabama, and O'Brien of Ireland, third in the 110-meter, high hurdles. Tolman's time of 14.6 equaled the official Olympic, but he did not break an amateur record, as he did in the semi-final tests.

Tolman, Champ

"These short performances by the Americans," said Tolman, "the United States colors up each of the three honor marathons over the archipelago, and the Americans have no patriots, spectators, or athletes thrill."

There was also a record performance in the 400-meter, P. T. Fenton, contest. Lenk Miller of Stamford became the champion. He finally crossed the bar at 44.

No Wonder Neighbors Shudder — Here's How Woman Fights Zoning Law in Residential Community

For five years Mrs. Daniel A. Warren of Glen Ridge, N. J., vainly pleaded for a change in the zoning law which would permit her to lease her home or a store or apartment house. When her appeal was denied she took the law into her own hands and painted a glistening yellow with bright blue traps. Shuddering neighbors and a worried burglar soon began wondering what can be done about it.

Pilot Recovers After Jungle Rescue

A life-time of terror and physical struggle had been packed into his 11-day Mexican-jungle adventure, but Clarence McElroy, shown on crutches, was only halfway to safety when he was admitted to Mexico City's Hospital. The lone aviator had been flying to Honduras when his plane crashed and his companion was killed. Rescuers found Mr. Elroy injured and starving after more than two weeks of searching. His son, Richard, is the pilot's brother, Richard, who went to Mexico City to greet him.

New American Liner in Home Port

With gaudy flying colors to adorn her deck, the American liner SS America, which had been chartered for the Pan American flight, has arrived in New York and here is shown making her first appearance in New York harbor. She is the fastest cabin liner on the sea, the largest passenger vessel ever built, and the largest ship ever to have crossed the Atlantic. Built in 35 days for transatlantic service, pride of imperious ocean liner in 35 days for transatlantic service. President Franklin D. Roosevelt, world's largest aircraft.

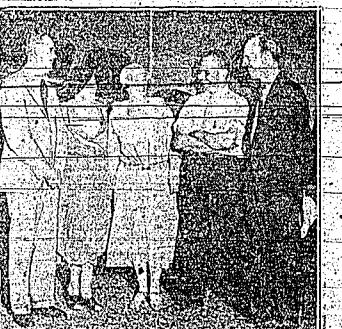

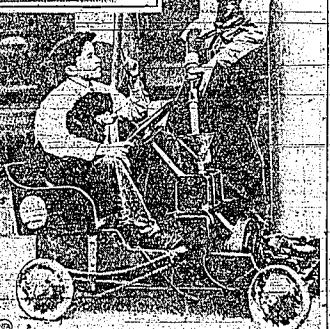

They Retraced Washington's Travels

"Ay Tank Ay Go Home!"

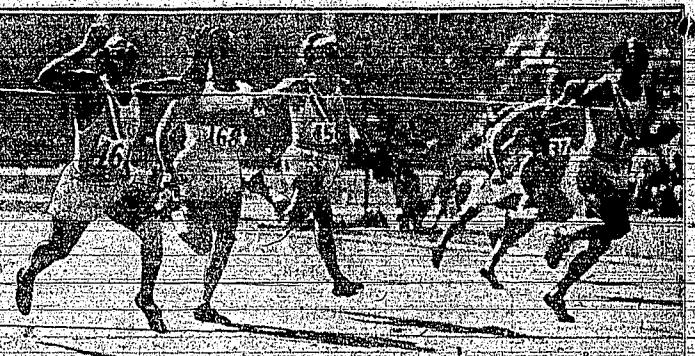

An odd-looking machine for moving passengers about instead of for land and in little work about mobile Stanley McCarty of Seattle, Wash., the above "speed wagon" that makes 12 miles an hour and runs indefinitely on a gallon of gasoline. Stanley is shown above in his father's service station getting the old bus refueled.

In a single day they followed by airplane the route of all the famous figures of the nation's history. The first stop on the "Ghosts of History" 2,600-mile flight undertaken as a feature of the Washington Bicentennial celebration, was Mrs. Anna Mulhall Washington, center, a great-great-granddaughter of the first president, to whom she is the tip-top descendant. Standing behind her are Lt. Col. Richard Alvarado, Mrs. James DeBoltte, Miss Washington, Major Jimmy DeBoltte, pilot, and A. P. Maple, a passenger on the flight representing the Aeromarine Club, Canada.
