

JEROME COUNTY GROUPS PLANNING FAIR THIS FALL

Chamber of Commerce Takes Lead in Sponsoring Exhibition

JEROME, Idaho, plans for a 1932 fair have been worked out following a meeting called by the Jerome Chamber of Commerce at which there were present representatives of the chamber, the Grange of Jerome county, the American Legion and the county fair board.

Frank Daley, president of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting. Those attending were: Guy Humphrey, mayor of Appleton; Guy Lloyd Williams, master of the Pleasant Plains Grange; Joe Brady, master of the Canyon Side Grange; E. M. Gregg, master of Poncha Grange; and also Earl P. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer; W. W. Wilson; R. E. Shawler, directors; Tom Speedy, county agent; John Hinkle, J. G. Lawrence, members of the Jerome Grange; also J. W. Sandberg, Harry "Slim" and Guy Calkins, members of the American Legion.

After some discussion the group of citizens went on record to have a fair, providing it did not use any revenue derived from taxation.

They also passed a resolution instructing the chamber of commerce to make a committee to work in conjunction with the fair board.

The tentative plan is to pay out any prices for entering livestock, agricultural, farm work or other exhibits, except those in connection with the Central Idaho-Pocatello district fair, to have, all local, local organizations, and granges cooperate in the work and management of this fair, and in arranging for exhibits and also for entertainment.

This organization will expect the co-operation and assistance of all public spirited units of the county as it will make the burden if there should be any, very light on each group.

It is the intention to divide the work of the fair into 12 or 15 departments and let some organization "handle one or more departments, according to their ability."

They expect that the fair will cost approximately $100, of which about half of these funds will be raised by the sale of concessions and the other half by popular subscription among the citizens and various business firms throughout the county.

There is not yet definite arrangements for the grandstand, attractions or racing as yet, but the committee is working on the exhibition or company to take charge of the grandstand attractions and pay for the cost of this entertainment out of the revenue derived from the sale of grandstand and bleachers.

The Jerome Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring and promoting this fair with the cooperation of the various units of the county under the supervision of the fair board.

Earl K. Kennedy, who is secretary-treasurer of the Jerome County fair board, will continue his work for the fair and assist the Chamber of Commerce in putting on the 1932 fair.

JOP-KIN ROXY TO KNOW "THE DOOMED BATTALION"

Con. 8 p. m. close between friendship and duty to country?

Such a penetrating dilemma confronts Victor Varlez, featured player in "The Doomed Battalion," which is being shown at the Idaho Theatre.

The gripping story concerns the deep friendship of Italian and German men and their American counterparts who, welded by the ties of friendship, are called upon to sacrifice to the cause of the United States.

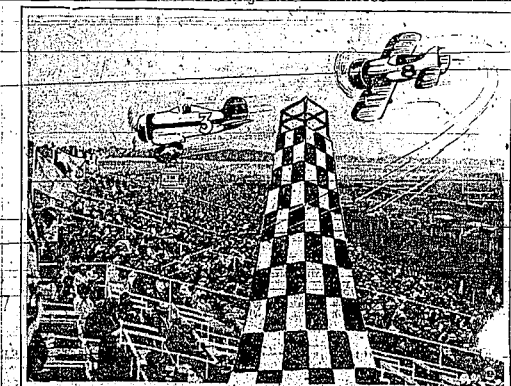

The other feature picture, "The Doomed Battalion," opens in conjunction with the showing of "The Doomed Battalion," which is being shown at the Idaho Theatre.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Aviation's "speedway of the air" will get under way August 27, when the National Air Races open in Cleveland, Ohio. More than 200 speed creations have been designed for participation in the races, and it is expected that speeds of more than 300 miles an hour will be reached.

The country's leading pilots and its international pilots have been brought from other countries to thrill spectators. The above scene shows the crowded grandstands at the Cleveland airport before which planes will cut curves this afternoon.

Diagonal Neckline Gown. PATTERN No. 517. Who could resist the lure of a lovely gown like this? When it can be made at home in a city, and for "practically nothing," cost the opportunity is not to be missed.

The pattern is so simple, and the directions so complete, that even a child could make it. The diagonal neckline is over an interesting, and the resulting effect is a fitting silhouette.

A SOLUTION FOR CHINA'S ILLS

China's ills have long disturbed the world and after nearly 20 years of almost constant revolution and battling, seem just about as far from a permanent solution as they were when Sun Yat Sen first began experimenting with democracy in the Far East.

But there is at least a ray of hope in the suggestion recently made by T. V. Soong, minister of finance and one of the leading figures in China. His suggestion is that the Nanking government start taxing the foreign concessions within China's vast domain and use the money obtained therefrom to promote a stable government, stamp out communism by educational methods, and to promote economic development.

One of China's greatest problems has always been the raising of sufficient money to carry on the work of government. The real reason for this situation has been that the richest parts of the nation—the foreign concessions—paid no federal taxes.

American and British investors in China have no more right to go tax free than have American and British concerns in Argentina or Canada.

And if Mr. Soong's suggestion is finally adopted, a long step forward will have been taken—a step looking to the emergence of China as a greater nation, able to buy and sell more goods, to pay her debts, and hold up her head in world affairs.

NORMAN THOMAS

It all the people who have muttered this year that they were going to vote for Norman Thomas actually would do so there would be a bad case of shakes and shivers in Wall Street next winter.

The high-water mark of the Socialist candidate's popularity probably came around the time of the national conventions of the two major political parties, when everyone realized that there was another contest between the same old Republican and Democratic parties, which looked more alike than ever.

Being forced to choose between Hoover and Roosevelt was another thing that seemed to irk a lot of people after it became apparent that Roosevelt wouldn't be blocked at Chicago. It is probable that both the major candidates were at about their lowest in public esteem, insofar as concerns 1932. And it was then that you heard so many voters saying, grudgingly and as if they expected to shock their later selves terribly badly: "I'm going to vote for Norman Thomas."

Of course a lot of them won't do anything of the sort. Many Democrats who used to profess to despise Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt are getting over it. Hoover's position seems to have improved. Most voters are not of the type to vote for a man when they know he can't win.

But Thomas is going to poll a large vote. Some conservative observers think he will get at least 2,000,000, which would be twice as many as any Socialist candidate in this country ever had before and about seven times as many as Thomas polled in 1928. It was Eugene V. Debs, serving a term in the federal penitentiary for a war-time speech, who got a million votes in 1920.

There are those who think the Socialist vote this year might be multiplied two or three times if it were not for the widely held theory that a ballot for Thomas is just "a vote thrown away."

A vote for Thomas is a protest vote, however, and there are millions of folks who want to cast just that kind of a vote. Most of them will vote for Roosevelt and some of them who vote for Thomas would rather he wouldn't be elected. It is difficult to tell how extensively Americans have actually been converted to Socialism, although it appears that the masses are not flocking to the Socialist party itself in significant numbers.

As compared with what he had in 1928, Thomas is receiving an extraordinary amount of publicity, respectful attention and even favorable comment. The more people know about him the better they like him, regardless of his political program.

It's a long time since a campaign-year found so many citizens willing to take second glance at radical and experimental proposals in economics and politics. So Thomas gets more of a hearing in the last three years than many Democrats and Republicans have come to favor measures which were once sponsored almost alone by the Socialists.

The Socialists, candidates and platforms, come smack-out for what they want. They stand, among other things, for social ownership and management of life necessities—land, natural resources and principal means of production and distribution—compulsory minimum wage laws; prohibition repeal; a five-billion-dollar public works bill; five-day week and sharp reduction in work hours; unemployment insurance; old age pensions and heavy taxes on incomes, inheritances and land not occupied by the owners.

More persons than ever know the name of the Socialist candidate for president in this election:
