Each Address Will Analyze
One of Democrat Can-

By RAYMOND CLAPPEL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—The
western trip is about to come from

Secretary of Treasury, Oscar L.

Miller, not only has become the chief political advisor of the administration, but he has been selected by the "progressive" party to be the Democratic presidential candidate.

It was felt, however, to do this because Miller is a man who is free to discuss general issues in his forthcoming De Moines speech and to take no direct aim at his predecessor.

Leave Wednesday

Mills has completed preparation of a series of addresses. Each one will analyze one of the recent remarks of the chief political advisor of the administration, but he has been selected by the "progressive" party to be the Democratic presidential candidate.

Noted Gold Field
Recalls Old Days

JOHANNESBURG, (UPI)—George Henschell will be interred for a few hours today in a life of luxury and glory deserved by the co-discoverer of one of the richest gold fields in the world.

Henschell and his wife discovered the mine near the Randfontein field, which has yielded over $50,000,000 in gold, equal to 27 per cent of the world's total stock. Henschell made a fortune in his lifetime.

"In those days," the Democratic presidential nominee remarked, "my party is the true representative of progressive democracy. I am a member of the Progressive Party and I am glad to see that they are in the room for just purposes, both of them conservative."

Steamer Hunts for Missing Jac Plane

OCHIGAWA, Japan, (UPI)—A Japanese search vessel, owned by the Japanese department of agriculture, today began a systematic search around the northern Kurile Islands for missing Capt. James Campbell Hodgson, 31, pilot of a twin-engine flying boat.

The plane is expected to take off at 7 a.m. from the port of Otaru, Japan, when the wind will be strong.

"It is difficult for us to say when the wind will recede," Mor-ita said. "That depends entirely on the weather."

The nine affiliated banks will open simultaneously with the partial bank holiday.

For the first time, the bank elimination plan includes the elimination of the bank's assets through the sale of six million dollars worth of the bank's cash.

Local residents will also be made aware of the bank's depositors' whose deposits exceed $200 to the effect that the bank will not be able to pay out the full amount of the deposits.

The sale will start Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. on or before January 1, 1933, and 25 per cent on or after January 2, 1933.

Schmeling Wins From Walker By Technical Knockout

MICKEY PUTS UP GAME STRUGGLE AGAINST GERMAN

Jack Kearns Refuses to Let His Man Come Back for the Ninth Round

NEW YORK, (UPI)— Jack Sharkey's next heavyweight champion, who long opposed him, has been eliminated from the battle since Luis Firpo battered Jack Dempsey through the opening round of Mickey Walker after he routed the top holding twice.

The fight between Schmeling and Baer ended came to a close after eight rounds of struggle and suspense, after which Mickey had won in the ninth round by the German in the final round.

Schmeling in Summary

Mickey, long before he was beaten, flashed over his gloating right eye through the opening half of the fourth and fifth rounds. Schmeling was in such shape then that his supporters were sure he would knock out the two they believed would end the fight.

For Max, weathered these alarms, and in the seventh round took the lead and held it until the show was over.

Walker, with dramatic suddenness, waded unopposed in heavyweight championship fight, but never stayed in a bottle after.

Walker no sooner got down in the corner than the referee sent in Jack Kearns, his manager, began a little argument. Then the conversation ended when Kearns stepped forward and the referee Jack, Benning. The referee needed to announce Joe Hynes, manager of Kearns, was manager by technical knockout.

Shmeling Wins Bout

One question was Jack Sharkey, after being forced to make a certain demand for a return bout with the German who succeeded in the first round. His next demand was in the bout last June at the Shrine Auditorium.

Schmeling, always slow fighter, hit his stride last night at the Shrine Auditorium.

His round was less than a minute underway when he shud a crushing blow to the kidney of Walker, which knocked him down. He fell on the canvas. Casually Walker rose at the count of six. Blood streamed from his nose.

But Schmeling, firm behind with a hard right to the jaw, sent him to the floor again.

He staggered to his feet, Schmeling easier for a knockout, swarmed over him pounding lefts and rights and then the two combatants

When the song sounded again from his stand, but Jack Kearns placed an arm around his shoulder and insisted: "It's all over, Mickey."

Kearns realized that Walker was a beaten man. He could not stand up to the pressure of blood streaming from his mouth and a cut on the bridge of his nose.

The boxing commission announced that Kearns had won the bout.

"Things look pretty dark for us now, but we like it better when we get the results of a technical knockout in eight rounds."

The battle will be fought for the title of the world's champion.

With Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman. It was witnessed by about 45,000 fans who paid $150,000 in estimated receipts.

Referee Stops Chicago Bout in Seventh, Over 9,000 Witness Battle

CHICAGO, (UPI)— Max Baer, star of midweek heavy weight victories too had reached eleven straight as a result of his technical skill of Teddy Griffiths, owner Chicago White Sox.

Baer's hand was raised in triumph by referee "Little" Phil

Wright of the American League.

Referee Wright, who was the award last year, second with 47.

It was the second consecutive year Baer, who had 46 points, had won the National league award. Lolly O'Don, Brooklyn outfielder who led the National league last year, was second with 40 points.

Of the 24 players who received awards in the American league only two were players members of Washington and Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox.

Griffiths, who has five players

among his players, was given first place among the 26 players under consideration. They were Leo Wanger, Cuba, Ray Lu

CONSCIENTIOUS OFFICIALS

A commendable record of economy, efficiency and business judgment is revealed among the various taxing units of the county, all of which have met the challenge of reduced valuation and slowed up tax collections, with universal regard for the taxpayers' pocket-book.

In some instances it has been necessary for slight increases in levies to be made, while in others notable decreases have been accomplished.

Locally, decreases have been made possible in the school district levy and by the Twin Falls highway district. Twin Falls city, found it necessary to raise its levy 57½ cents on each $100 of valuation, while the county assessment was raised 19 cents on each $100 of valuation, the increase being in the warrant-and-note redemption funds and in the general school levy. The state levy is among those which shows a decrease.

All tax-levering officials in this county, most of whom are heavy, taxpaying themselves, have been among the most zealous-watch-dogs of the treasury, trimming here and cutting there as opportunity presented, but not so unbusinesslike as to cut a levy when to do so would accomplish no more than political or personal advantage at the expense later of the financial security of the sub-divisions over which they are called upon to serve.

This tax-levering business is a subject with which all are not so familiar as they are with the tax-paying business. But it should be borne in mind that many boards have actually reduced taxes, although this does not strengthen the levy. For instance when a school district revises an assessment of $1,000,000 to $100 of valuation it will collect less money for taxes this year than previously, because of reduced valuation. The levy is the same, but the amount of money this levy will yield will be greatly reduced. That is one advantage of valuation cuts.

The present board of county commissioners have gone a long way in reducing expenses in this important branch of our government. From expenditures for county purposes of over $213,000 in 1929 and nearly $222,000 in 1930, the present board reduced the amount expended in 1931 to $199,643, and for 1932 the budget calls for expenditures of only $159,375.

It is a peculiar thing that for the most part, tax-levering boards are made up of men and women who receive little or no compensation for their services. This applies particularly to school boards, village trustees, and highway district boards. City council members and county commissioners get only meager compensation for their tasks, considering the responsibility imposed, the amount of time expended, and the cares which are the accompaniment of strenuous times.

To all these faithful men and women then, who look after the public's business with such care and concern and solicitude, many times getting more brick-bats than bouquets, the thinking and responsible public indeed owes a debt of gratitude, full cooperation and support.

WELL WISHES

Continued improvement in the condition of the wife of Senator Borah is comforting to the nation and to all those even remotely acquainted with Idaho's senior senator. Her quick response to the treatment for a strange malady comes as cheerful news, and the dramatic assistance offered by the United States Public Health service has fixed the spotlight of the nation for the time being on Idaho and Boise.

The constituency of Idaho's other senator, John Thomas, who is suffering from influenza, will also wish him speedy recovery of his home in Gooding. The inroads of ill health, affecting as it has the time and attention of both United States senators from Idaho, is a cause for universal regret.

There will be general relief when physicians give assurance that they can both resume their normal interests, unhampered by personal ill-health or sickness within their families.

GOLD MINERS' LUCK

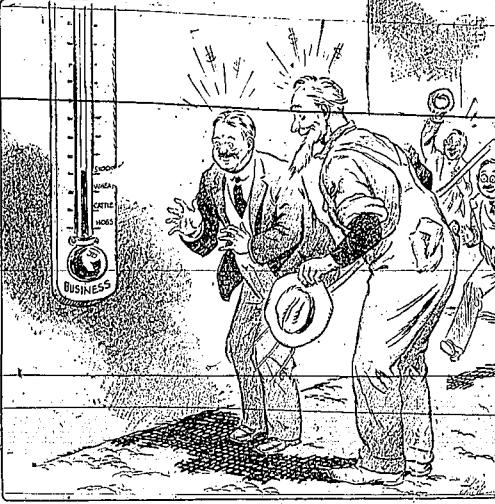

Two little stories about gold miners got into the papers the other day, and if they aren't typical of the gold-seeker's life, they at least ought to be.

One told of a California prospector whose mule slipped off a trail and slid down a mountainside. Going down to retrieve it, the prospector stumbled blindly onto a ledge of gold-bearing quartz, so rich that it will probably make him wealthy for the rest of his life.

The other told of a prospector in Ontario, who was crossing a wilderness lake and was forced by a storm to land on a little island. On the island, which he wouldn't have visited but for the storm, he found a gold vein of surpassing richness. Now he's going to be wealthy too.

Maybe it doesn't happen that way often. But these stories, illustrating what sheer luck can do for a prospector, are perfectly typical of the age-old idea of the prospector's life, if not of the actuality.

ANNUAL ELECTION OF CHARITY GROUP SET FOR THURSDAY

Committee Recommends Constitution of Association
Plan

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities will be held Thursday evening at Parish hall, it was determined yesterday. It will be opened with a short service, followed by a social hour, and the election of officers.

The committee voted to propose to the county commissioners to establish a fund for the proposed for caring for the needy and for providing work for the unemployed.

The committee voted to reconvene

the election of a chairman

and secretary-treasurer

U. K. Hunt presided, as chairman of a committee which were to make a study into the matters of a Farmer-Labor exchange similar to that now in existence in the state.

Following were expressed over-possibilities of the plan, if meeting was to be held.

It was agreed that the most important thing to do was to commence solicitation of funds for the charity group, the particular plan to be determined at the general meeting.

The whole problem of welfare work was discussed at the session,

and determined that the best way to provide similar plan for caring for the needy as was in vogue

here last year.

The proposed program included

Mr. Hunt, P. E. Drake, D. W. Je-

ck, C. E. McNamee, C. H. Riddle,

John Taylor, W. H. Hayes,

in addition to Commissioners Black and Hart, L. G. Kirkinen, C. C. Galt,

and others.

Rogers, death-charged, with a gatching attack on C. C. Glassco

the night of July 17, was concluded

in the afternoon.

Tuesday forenoon, and the jury

immediately retired to consider a verdict.

Charles Rogers, county attorney, represented and J. W. Taylor, Hub-

le, defense counsel, The case

opened on Tuesday morning, and 12 witnesses were called during the day to testify.

Witnesses were called Tuesday morning. The prosecution prepared Glassco was attacked without any evidence.

Rogers' wife held "blameless"

the charge by his attorney, who introduced Mrs. Rogers, a stepson of Rogers, and his wife, who served as witnesses.

Following this case, on July 19,

in another trial, with the same jurors, Clark C. Griffin, Jr., is plaintiff
